First Lady Contest Nominations Sought

Entries are still being taken for Chelsea's Bicentennial First Lady contest. If you can picture yourself as the leading lady in Chelsea's bicentennial production, or know of a perfect candidate, don't hesitate to blaze those qualifications into the Chelsea limelight in the form of a first lady nomination.

If you are still unclear as to the duties of this very important person, please call Pat Dittmar or details at 475-2025. She will explain any questions you may have regarding the contest.

We would like to underscore one of the aspects of this competition which still seems susceptible to confusion—it is not necessary that nominees have a sponsor.

If you are not busy on Monday evening, July 12, and would like to know more about the contest, come to Bicentennial Headquarters at 8 p.m. All first lady contest misconceptions will certainly be cleared up then.

Dexter Caravan Leaves Saturday Afternoon at 1

Chelsea's Bicentennial Caravan of Dexter, starting out at 1 p.m. Saturday, July 3, from the Chelsea High school parking lot, is one high-spirited way to celebrate the 4th of July week-end.

The caravan is once again a competition, this time a face-off between Chelsea and Dexter. Competitors are urgently needed from among the ranks of Chelsea's Brigade and Belles. Don't let our victorious lead in prior competitions melt before the steely concentration Dexter is pouring into this latest competition in hopes of finally squeezing out a victory.

A judge and kangaroo court will preside over the caravan and sentence the losers to their inevitable fates.

Participants in the caravan will be able to partake in Dexter's Bicentennial celebration when they finally reach their destination.

Long Siren Blast Signals Severe Weather Warning

Residents of Chelsea and surrounding areas within hearing distance of the Chelsea Fire Department siren, are reminded that in case of approaching locally severe weather or tornadoes, the "take cover" signal is one long blast of the siren, one minute in length. This signal is given when local authorities judge sufficient reason exists to believe approaching local weather conditions are severe enough to warrant immediate warning to residents to enable them to take protective action.

This warning signal may not necessarily coincide with official weather service "tornado warnings" since local conditions may require an earlier warning to residents, or may warrant no warning at the time of official bulletins. Residents should certainly heed any bulletins received by radio or TV, however, and act according to weather conditions in their area.

The "all clear" signal will be sounded when local conditions

Fluoride Tooth Treatment Given to 150

Chelsea's summer fluoride program ended on a highly successful note, treating a total of 150 children from the Chelsea area.

The four fluoride treatments administered to the children also included teeth cleaning on the first visit. While summer vacations interrupted the treatments of a few children, 140 completed the four-visit series.

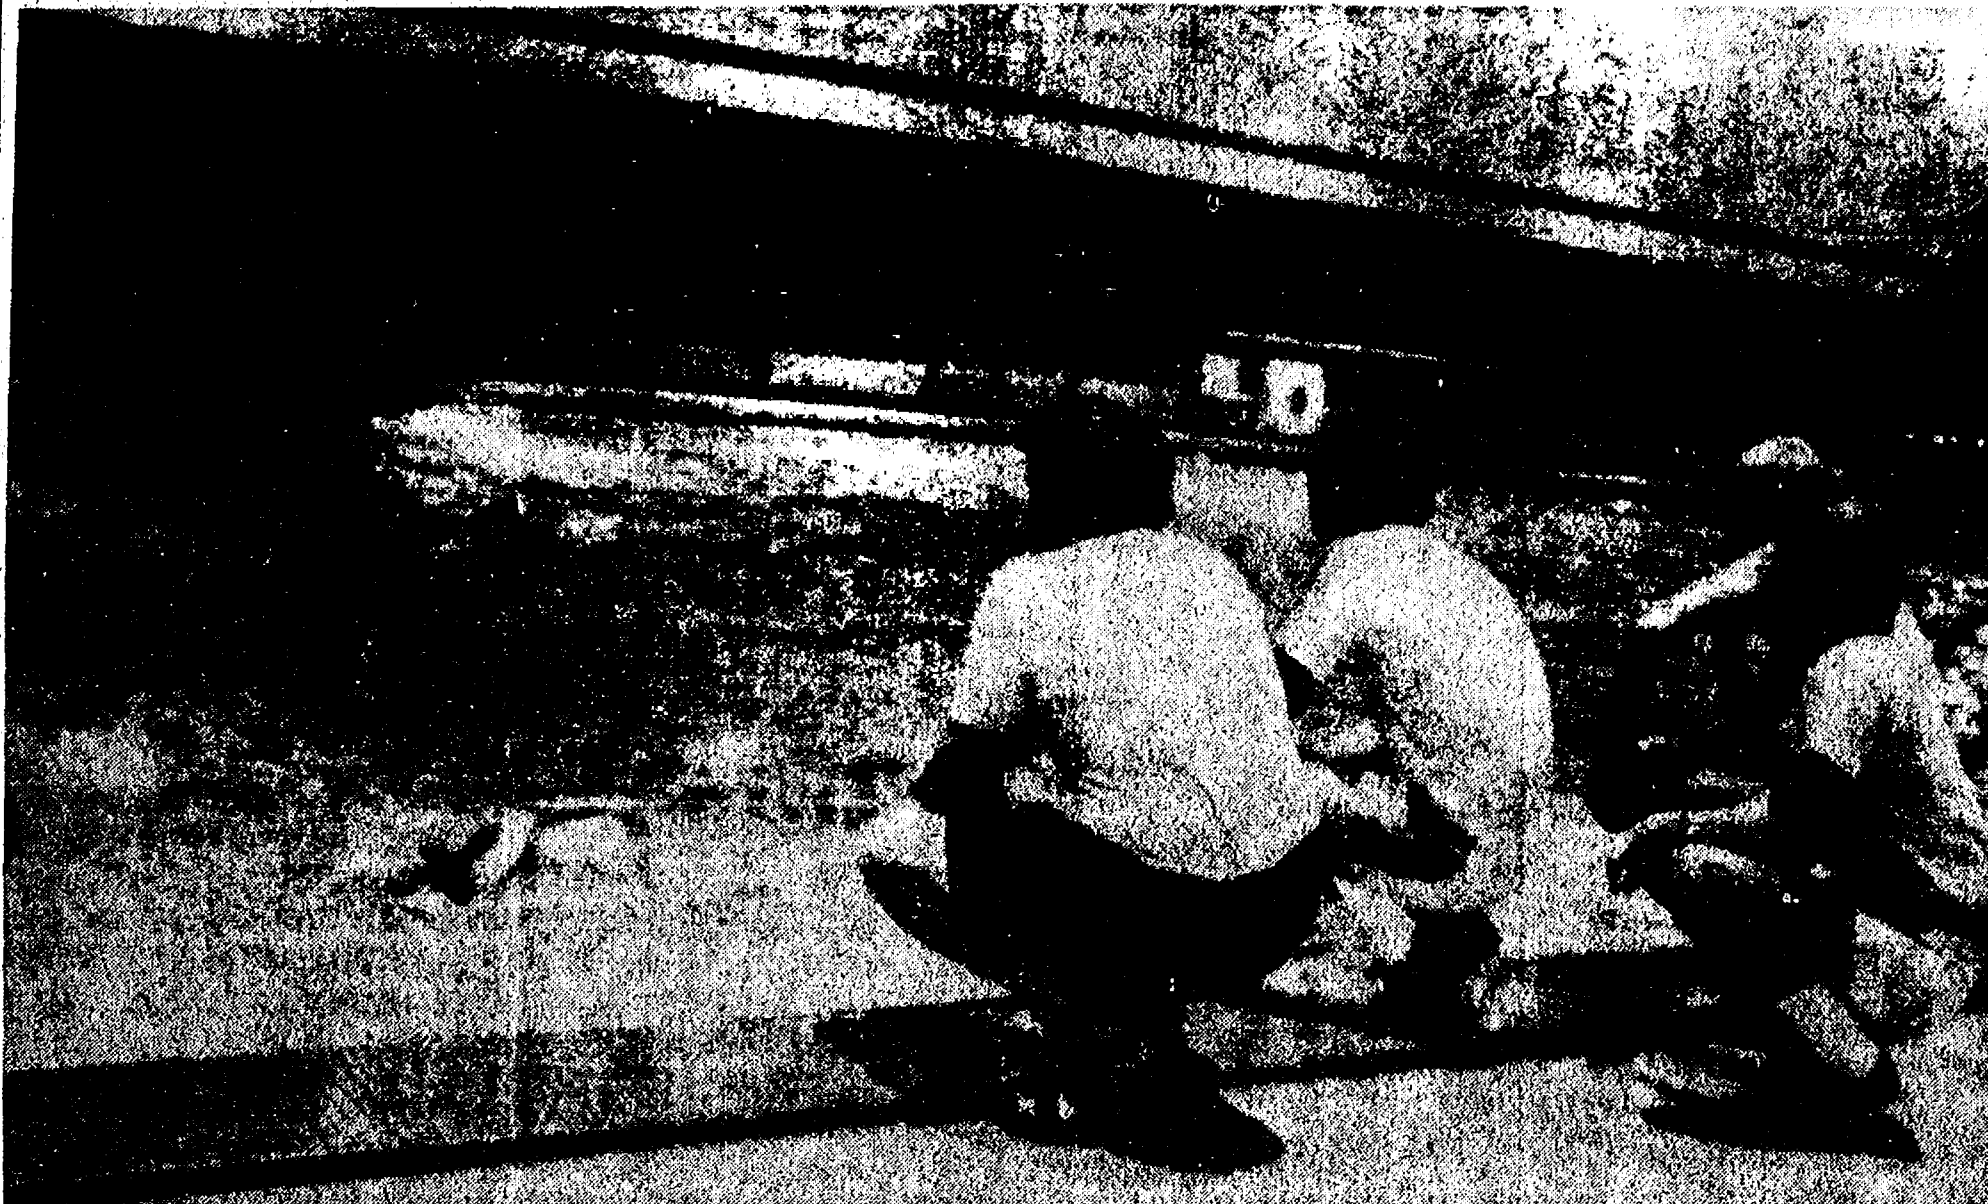

Chairmen Ginny Wheaton and Jeanne Messing expressed their thanks to all who helped, including North and South schools, collecting the registration cards sent home with children, and Beach Middle school for opening the premises to the clinic and allowing technicians to store their equipment there. Special mention must be made of the Jaycees Auxiliary who worked voluntarily during the two-week clinic, and of Dottie Hume who assisted the dental hygienist, Lois Holland of Ann Arbor.

Without their help the clinic would never have materialized.

Need Early Copy For Next Week's Holiday Edition

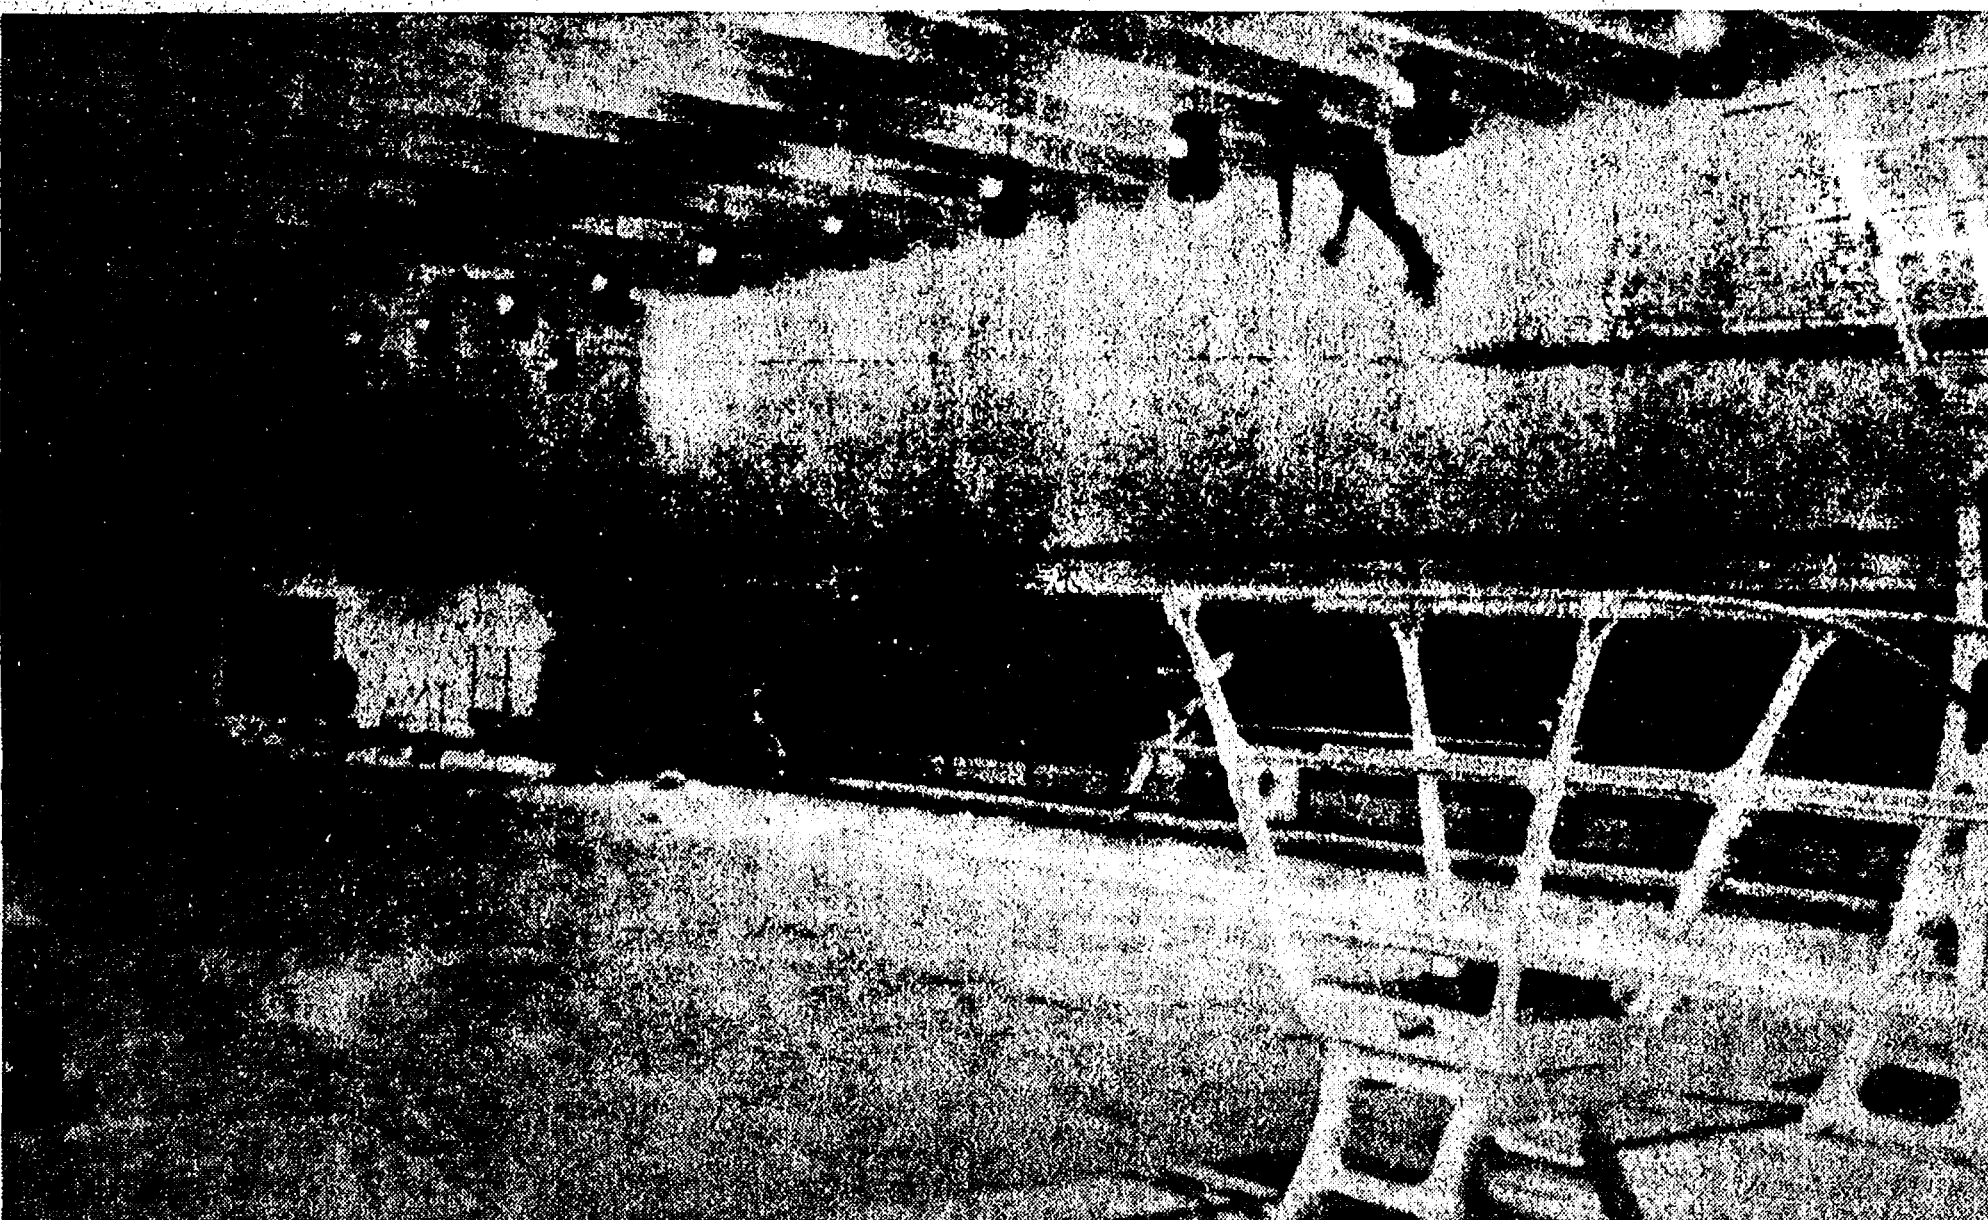

Because of the July 4 holiday falling on Monday, July 5, The Chelsea Standard will have early headlines for next week's edition. All display advertising copy must be in by 4 p.m. Friday, July 2. The standard office will be open on Saturday, July 3, until noon to accept late news copy. The office will be closed on Monday, July 5.

Some late-breaking news and classified ads will be accepted until 1 p.m. on Tuesday, July 6.

Winter; and lifeguard Vic Steinbach. These gentlemen were all on hand to welcome Chelsea residents to the new pool on the opening day, Monday, June 28. Their preparation and resolve, directed toward the initiation of a successful pool program, materialized Monday to an outstanding degree.

AN ENTERPRISING FELLOW takes a dive off the three-meter diving board at the new Chelsea community indoor swimming pool at Beach Middle school. The depth of the water at the diving end is 12½ feet. The pool opened to the public Monday, June 28, giving many youngsters their first opportunity to test their diving skills.

New Swimming Pool Is Big Hit

Chelsea School District opened the new Beach Middle School Natatorium Monday, June 28, with resounding success and approval. Approximately 300 children came to attend lessons, while more than 200 adults and children participated in the recreational swimming.

The pool is open daily from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. for lessons, and 3 p.m. to 5 p.m. and 7 p.m. to 10 p.m. to recreational swimming.

Giant July 4 Celebration Slated Sunday

Once again, Herbert J. McKune Post 31 of the American Legion will host Chelsea's annual 4th of July Celebration beginning at noon on Sunday, July 4, at the Chelsea Fairgrounds, and continuing on into the evening.

This bicentennial year, the event will carry a special meaning. In conjunction with this one-time-only, 200th year celebration of our nation's birth, the Legion will offer a menu they have never before served.

The grilling pits, featuring barbecued chicken, will roast away a total of more than 1,500 chickens. Box lunches containing half a chicken, cole slaw, rolls, and chips will be available for $2.75. Dining facilities will be provided in the Chelsea Fairgrounds Service Center, or the lunches may be ordered to take out if a picnic away from it all is more your style. Beverages of your choice will also be on hand to quench the thirstiest in the valley.

The Legion will be serving up the dinners until the very last chicken is devoured.

Beginning at 7 p.m., an Ice Cream Social will spotlight the event. Bicentennial birthday cake and ice cream will sweeten this memorable day.

And, if you are still in the mood for some excitement now that your hunger has been satiated, more than $1,000 worth of fireworks will dominate the skies at dusk. Bring your friends, relatives, neighbors or even a local hermit who may have forgotten exactly what day it is. The fireworks just may startle him back into the mainstream of life.

This year Chelsea is shooting for the stars with their 4th of July extravaganza. Even if you stay for only a short while, you cannot afford to miss this once in a lifetime chance to celebrate a 200-year-old's birthday. The entire Chelsea area will be one massive party.

Supervising the barbecue pits will be Jim Gaken. John Popovich will organize and direct the 4th of July celebration. Any questions you may have regarding the event should be directed to him.

Tickets Now on Sale For 'Hello Dolly'

Still accompanied by the whooping band that furnished its record-breaking seven year run in New York, "Hello Dolly!" will come swaying into Chelsea High School Auditorium on July 15, kicking its heels high for three performances through July 17, shaking its gaudy feathers and demanding the surrender of audiences to its charm and color—as it has invariably done at thousands of performances throughout the world.

New York critics fell over their shoelaces rushing this musical into the history books by declaring it, first, the best musical of its first season, and then as seven seasons went by, the best musical of its time—1964-1970.

DiAnn L'Roy, director of the show, makes some observations by pointing out that "Dolly" is a first cousin to the central figure of the other great long-running musical of American stage history, "Fiddler on the Roof." Both "Dolly" and "Fiddler" opened in the same year in New York, 1964, and they both broke all previous long run records by continuing for close onto seven years and both achieved extraordinary acclaim all over America and all over the world.

But Miss L'Roy says their kinship is tighter than that.

"In fact," she says, "if you want to make a fortune by writing a hugely successful musical comedy, study these two monumental hits, and you'll see some interesting similarities, though heaven knows they are basically different."

Miss L'Roy says the resemblance of these two hits ends there, because "Dolly" is basically exuberant, farcical with much more bounce and a happy ending. Both Dolly and Tevye keep their sense of humor despite all setbacks but Tevye and his family must look forward to a new life in exile from their homeland, and Dolly ends on an upnote hearing Horace finally sing out, "Hello Dolly!" Kiwanis Honors Johnson

A Chelsea Kiwanian was cited for distinguished service in his Kiwanis office during the past Kiwanis year.

Sam Johnson, president of the Chelsea club, for the 1974-75 year, was one of five Michigan Division 10 presidents confirmed by Kiwanis International to receive the "Distinguished Club President Award."

Antique Farm Tools Sought For Display

The Agricultural Day Committee would like any antique farm machinery available for display during Chelsea's Bicentennial Week. The committee is interested in any equipment used before 1940. It may be either tractor or horse drawn, including any type of planting, harvesting or tillage tool. Any hand tools used for field work would also be appreciated.

The committee would like these antiques for Agricultural Day only or for the entire week if possible.

Persons willing to loan their equipment for display should contact Rod Powers at 475-7545 or any member of the Royal Rural Roosters.

The May-June issue of The Michigan Builder, the state Kiwanis magazine, states, "Past Governor Ernie Hunt is more than pleased to offer his personal congratulations. It takes the efforts of the entire club to stand a president in such stead; yet, it also takes a man with determination and drive above the ordinary to lead his club in such a positive direction. To them goes the high honor. Ernie has asked the lieutenant governor of each of the divisions to arrange for an appropriate presentation, hopefully, with the 1974-75 lieutenant governor on hand. The award consists of a distinctive label button, along with a felt patch for the club banner."

Other presidents for that year in Division 10 who were named for the honor are Iver Schmidt of Dexter, Donald Olson of Ann Arbor, Leo Kujawa of Brighton, and Jesse Knight of Howell.

There are 12 clubs in Division 10 and 20 divisions in the state.

KIWANIS AWARD: Two area Kiwanians exhibit the "Distinguished Club President" letter of citation and distinctive felt club banner patch awarded to Chelsea Kiwanis Club past president Sam Johnson, standing to the right. To the left is James Liebeck, lieutenant governor, Michigan Kiwanis Division 10. The award was presented on the behalf of all Kiwanians to the club president during the 1974-75 Kiwanis year "with determination and drive above the ordinary to lead his club in a positive direction."

BICENTENNIAL BIRTHDAYS: These two men seated together are Chelsea's bicentennial babies, both having been born July 4, 1900. Seated to the left is Ford Merkel, born 74 years ago in Sylvan township. To his right is Harold Eschelbach who lives on a centennial farm bought by his grandfather in 1934. Eschelbach was born on the family farm in Freedom township.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

The fellers had the country's 200th birthday on their minds Saturday night at the country store, and it was Bug Hookum that allowed me to see it. I finally got here, cause the past year seemed as long to him as the entire Great Depression. Everything you read, everything you see and hear has a bicentennial angle to it, Bug said, and we've come up with everything from Yankee Doodle straddle ice cream to red, white and blue "Happy Birthday, America" boxes full of bull semen. Bug said for his money he'd be glad when we get into our third century and settle down.

For once, Mister Editor, everybody felt the same way about Bug's opinion. All the fellers were dead again. Ed Doolittle spoke for all of em when he called Bug's hand on his charge again selling as part of the celebration. Nothing is more American than free-wheeling in the marketplace and telling the world about it is in the spirit of the occasion, was Ed's words. Ed said he would heap ruther see folks having Betsy Ross tire sales than be told what they can and can't do. Free enterprise is one of America's remarkable inventions, went on Ed, and the more of it in the 200th birthday celebration the better.

General speaking, the fellers was for drawing the line on some of the permutations, but they were full agreed that the American way of doing things don't spell out who's going to draw the line. Clem Webster said he felt about deciding good taste in bicentennial things like he does in censoring books. A little censoring is like a little pregnant, and once you got a little you got the whole ball of wax. The same thing works with TV, movies and cars, Clem said, if you can find a market for a product, it's pure American instinct to come up with the product. As for control, Clem went on, you can no more tell a feller he ought not to dress up like Uncle Sam and peddle 25-cent flags for $1 than you can tell a store owner to keep Santa Claus out of his Christmas business.

Turning to international matters Zeke Grubb said he was bothered about that airplane full of Congressmen that went to England to borrow a copy of the Magna Carta, which Zeke said is to Democracy what the Old Testament is to Christianity. Zeke said the trip was for show, that the English wouldn't trust us to take care of their version of our Declaration of Independence, and that they were going to bring it over and guard it while it's here. Zeke said he couldn't figure who'd want it cause we've done more with our guidelines in 200 years than the English have in 1,200.

Mister Editor, the fellers didn't bad mouth the English as much as glad hand Americans. They were full agreed that with all her crazy dreams and half-baked solutions to her own and the world's problems, this still is the greatest country on earth. Personal, I think Zeke's idea of America putting in practice what the English had in mind hits the nail on the head.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

Neighbors Challenged in Anything Goes

Dexter will host the second "Anything Goes" contest in the area and has challenged the communities of Chelsea, Manchester and Pinckney to send over their best men and women on Friday, July 9 at the Dexter High school football field. Eight different events will decide the winner in the 7- to 9 p.m. competition.

Events will include the Community Car, Tarzan the Ape Man, Follow Me Home, Water Basketball plus other zany contests. Each community will have a 12-member team. Special Bicentennial prizes for the event include 75 cents for youngsters under 16; $1.25 for adults and $4.50 family admission. Trophies will be awarded to the two top teams in this hilarious contest. And a special cash award will go to the community with the largest cheering section.

ANNIVERSARY PARTY

Some 33 guests were present at a family picnic on Sunday, June 27 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Troczynski at Bruin Lake. The occasion marked the 49th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Sult of Tucson, Ariz., who have been the houseguests of Mrs. Sult's sister, Mrs. Juanita M. Clark of Dexter-Pinckney Rd., for the past month.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

By Elmer E. White, Secretary, Michigan Press Association

Ban the Bottle?
Ban the throwaway and take a chance on hurting the economy? Or maintain the status quo of the bottle business and take a chance on hurting the environment?

Whichever side you're on, you're bound to hear more in coming weeks on the subject of banning throwaway bottles and pull tabs. Michigan United Conservation Clubs, along with several other state-wide organizations, recently completed what they consider a highly successful petition drive to put the bottle ban question on the ballot.

Petitioners collected some 330,000 signatures. (Only 212,000 were required, but supporters of the drive wanted a cushion to guard against challenges to any of the names they collected.)

Dackers of the idea contend a ban would reduce litter and save tax money that's now spent on roadside clean-ups.

The opposition, meanwhile, which includes the beer and soft drink industries and can and bottle makers, geared up to battle the proposal through a group called the Michigan Council for Convenience Packaging.

Council President Robert B. Healy said his people—who contend a ban could result in lost jobs and problems for the state's economy—would conduct an educational campaign concerning the proposal. They also challenged the petitions in court.

Bottle banning legislation has been under consideration in Michigan for at least the past 10 years.

But lawmakers, sensitive to the strong arguments and interest groups on either side of the issue, haven't taken decisive action on the question.

Cut Abuse

Fraud, abuse, bureaucratic inefficiency—they all lead to a waste of taxpayers' money put into Medicaid funds. Top state lawmakers are looking for ways to stop that waste.

Lansing will host a national seminar on Medicaid cost containment, proposed by the National Conference on State Legislatures, during late July. Representatives from at least half the states are expected to attend.

Options available to stop abuses and insure proper administration of Medicaid programs are among topics to be discussed at the July 23-24 sessions. Such options include:

- Surveillance techniques in detecting fraud and abuse.
- Controlling patterns of overutilization of services.
- Assuring that services go only to eligible recipients.
- Providing less expensive alternatives to institutional care when feasible.
- Experiments with new administration and management forms.
- Promoting alternative health care delivery systems, such as health maintenance organizations.

Reading The Bars

Those little black bars on the package of cereal tell a computer what's going into your shopping bag—and how much it costs. But those bars don't mean much to you when you're trying to compare prices.

So Michigan's legislature recently acted to assure customers will

Stolen Auto Stopped At Mast Rd. Bridge On Speed Violation

While on patrol at the Mast Rd. bridge on June 17, Officer Bill Maloney, Dexter station, Washenaw County Sheriff's office, stopped a car which was exceeding the speed limit on the bridge.

On routine check of the driver's license and registration, the officer discovered the car was a stolen vehicle from Indiana.

The driver, Michael Fahlebeck, was lodged in the county jail pending further investigation.

know just how much most products will cost when the grocery stores they shop in switch from current methods to U.P.C. (Universal Product Code).

The bill, sponsored by Democratic Sen. John Hertel of Harper Woods, was aimed at satisfying questions of consumers who said they still wanted readable prices on goods so they could be sure they weren't overcharged.

Careful!

Michigan's Department of Highways and Transportation warns that there's potential danger on some older roads during the hot weather—especially following several days of 90-degree heat.

The danger is blow-ups, chunks of jagged concrete, some as heavy as 50 pounds, that pop up on the pavement.

Expansion of the pavement causes those "blow-ups."

The department explains that heat causes pavement to "grow," and because of that, engineers have provided "expansion joints" in the roads. But those joints sometimes get clogged with dirt or crack from freezing, water and traffic. And then they don't work and the pavement pops up.

The department suggests that slowing down is the best way for a motorist to approach a blow-up.

Thursday, June 23, 1972—

It finally happened—Chelsea experienced its first armed robbery Friday, June 23 at 4:25 a.m. at the Chelsea Shell station, 1630 M-32. The suspects took $216.05.

Attendant Douglas W. McDonald reported to Chelsea police that he had pumped $4 worth of gas into a 1962 brown, four-door Cadillac containing three black men and went into the station to receive payment from the driver and another man. The third suspect remained in the rear seat in a slumped position. The attendant further stated that he thought the third man appeared drunk.

Inside the station, the driver threatened McDonald with a short barrel, blue steel revolver and forced him into the men's wash room, located on the west side of the building.

While the driver walked the attendant to the wash room, he robbed him of $22 from his billfold. At the same time, the other suspect emptied the cash register of its money.

McDonald was ordered to remain in the wash room for 10 minutes. After waiting the stated length of time, he called police. The direction of travel of the vehicle was unknown.

Chelsea officers Sibert and Browning were called to the station, which they had checked just 10 minutes prior to the robbery.

Thursday, July 5, 1962—

Chelsea Jaycees expressed satisfaction over the fact that approximately 150 Chelsea people took advantage of their seat belt clinic over the week-end. They had expressed disappointment and concern the previous week-end when only 50 Chelsea people took advantage of the community service project while more than 400 from distant points and the Ann Arbor area brought their cars in for installation of the seat belts at a cost of $6 each. There was no installation charge.

The Jaycees' report of the seat belt clinics, held two successive week-ends, states that 1,213 seat belts were installed "for safety minded motorists." The first week-end, June 23-24, 463 seat belts were installed, only 50 of these being for Chelsea residents.

The past week-end, June 30 and July 1, 150 Chelsea people were included among the people who took advantage of the clinic to the tune of 813 belt installations. Jaycees started this challenging project with 300 seat belts, but the demand by the public was so great that the entire 300 and more were installed the first day of the clinic.

Thursday, July 3, 1952—

Residents of an area approximately two miles wide and three miles long, located east of the Chrysler Proving Grounds, have been approached during the past week regarding the granting of 10-year leases on their farms for possible drilling of test wells for oil or gas. The man, who called on a number of people in the area, identified himself as a representative of a Mt. Pleasant oil company. He reportedly stated that it was the opinion of certain oil men that test wells drilled in this vicinity in the past few years had never gone deep enough and it is their belief that oil or gas could be found in pay quantities if the wells were sunk to as much as 4,500 feet below ground level.

The area on which the company representative said he was interested in securing leases, reportedly begins at the north line of the Reuben Lesser farm on the Chelsea-Manchester Rd., and extends to Sager Rd., and approximately three miles east, forming a section containing six square miles.

34 Years Ago...

Thursday, July 2, 1942—

"Life, Liberty and the Pursuit of Happiness." Again the immortal phrases of the Declaration of Independence are ringing throughout the land, as fresh in meaning as the day they were penned, 166 years ago. Today they ring not along for America but for the whole world. The bowed head in Malaysia, cringing before a cruel brown master, the slave people of France, of Norway, of Greece—all may take heart! For the blue print of world freedom which was written on the North Atlantic by the leaders of two great free peoples is in working process now.

And so, with a slave-wear world grown conscious of their eventual deliverance from bondage this 4th of July is a dedication to the future rather than a salute to the past. It marks the rebirth of the Spirit of '76—it is a call to all free men to accept their stern responsibilities and dangers which lie in the path of victory. The explosion of the firecracker is lost in the roar of the 8-inch gun and the demolition bomb. We lay aside for the present the noise-makers of other and happier (Continued on page five)

DELUXE ACCOMMODATIONS: If you thought you had seen it all, look twice at this photo. The contraption attached to the bumper of the car in the background is the latest creation of Bill Humphrey's inventive mind, a dog carrier. Good old Rover can now travel with you wherever you go. Humphrey, of Dawes, W. Va., 20 miles south-east of Charleston, drove to Chelsea to visit his daughter, Mrs. Dennis LeMaster. A second purpose for the visit was to pick up a Beagle puppy from Mr. Davis of Norvell, to be raised at his home in the south. In preparing for his trip, Humphrey was struck with the idea for the dog cage, went ahead with his plan, and constructed the cage out of steel which he welded together. The carrier-cage is bolted to the car through the bumper. According to Mrs. LeMaster, her father "was the main attraction on the highway between West Virginia and Michigan." Standing, left to right, as the dog cage is displayed, are Mrs. Dennis (Barbara) LeMaster, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William (Bill) Humphrey.

ON EMOTION

Chicago—A Maryland psychologist, Dr. Paul Cameron of St. Mary's College, reports that a study he conducted debunks the notion that women are more emotional than men. He said women usually express their emotions more openly than men.

The doctor may now know what is wrong with you but he's confident, at least.

Children's Theatre Workshop Preparing 3 Plays for July 10

Chelsea Players Childrens Theatre Workshop is now completing its second week. The workshop functions to provide participants with an introduction to acting and to the many facets of play production. This is done through classroom instruction and play rehearsals.

The students, aged 9-14, attend two classes each day, then proceed to work on their plays.

Their classes address four distinct categories within the framework of acting. Of these four, two focus directly on acting procedure.

Jeff Daniels, a drama student at Central Michigan University, teaches technique, demonstrating the methods which enable actors to portray a character more effectively.

Michelle McClellan, a junior at Aquinas College in Grand Rapids, examines the basics involved in acting, including the importance of movement and gesture, the use of the actor's voice, and the appearance of the actor on stage. Sets, costumes, make-up, and property construction are explored as "character" extensions of an actor.

The other two classes feature dancing and clowning. Doug Beaumont, a recent Chelsea High school graduate, teaches the dance class with opening instruction in basic dance steps common to musical stage numbers. The remaining portion of the class is devoted to mastering basic square dance routines, the polka, and the jitterbug.

Chelsea High student Neil Cockerline's clowning class begins with a rundown on clown history, followed by instruction in the essential talents of the clown. A professional clown himself, Neil's instruction is transmitted first-hand. Among the clown skills he deems necessary are balloon sculpture, juggling, still walking, magic tricks, clown make-up and pantomime. An examination of the theories behind comedy completes the clown class.

The over-all structure of the workshop is organized to provide one week of instruction by each teacher. The final week is exclusively devoted to play rehearsal. When the children began the workshop, they were divided into three groups and cast in three plays written and directed by the teachers.

Bursley Named to Post on National Education Group

Gilbert E. Bursley, state auditor from Ann Arbor, has been appointed to serve on the National Committee of the Education Commission of the States (ECS), an interstate organization working for the improvement of education. Bursley, who will serve another one-year term, was elected during the ECS annual meeting at San Francisco, Calif., which focused on "The Great American Dream: Education for Work."

The three-day meeting was a working conference of state leaders from across the country to examine key education issues facing the states. Participants analyzed problems in the relationship between education and the work of work, recommending ways to resolve current problems and suggesting how the states and the federal government can implement positive change. The meeting marked the 100th anniversary of ECS, an interstate compact of 45 states, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands that agree to develop a partnership of public officials and education leaders in the states.

Youngsters who exhibit signs of being unusually tense or tired may be displaying signs of undiagnosed hearing losses, according to hearing specialists. Children with impaired hearing frequently have to exert special efforts in order to hear enough to know what is going on around them, the specialists point out.

SOFTBALL CHALLENGE

Green side up, fellas. That's the battle. Green side down. That's the infield. And that's all the help we're going to give you even though we know you need more. The Royal Rural Roosters accept the challenge of the Waterloo Sod-busters to a game of softball and we are sure this contest won't end in a tie. As soon as you Sodbusters figure out which way is green side up, let us know.

The Royal Rural Roosters Rooters Defeat Lilybelles

Royal Rural Rooster Rooters 11, Waterloo Lilybelles 5.

The chickens abandoned the farm yard and the Lilybelles came out of the pond long enough last Tuesday to engage in a softball game that provided an enjoyable evening for all.

Both sides put up a gallant struggle with the hens mistaking the bases for eggs and collecting the larger share. The Lilybelles must have thought the bases were lily-pads and were caught sitting on them several times. A six-run second inning sewed up the game for the R.R.R.'s even though Waterloo held them scoreless the last two innings.

After the game, the Waterloo Lilybelles treated their victors to a beverage at a local emporium.

TUG OF WAR CHALLENGE

We, the Royal Rural Rooster Rooters are delighted to accept the rash challenges of the Crafty Ladies. After winning our recent game of softball, we have discovered that life on the diamond is just as exciting as in the roost and we are prepared to engage you in a softball game on Aug. 1. There isn't much call for tugs-of-war in a chicken coop, but we are willing to give it the old henhouse try and will be present on July 24 for a tug-of-war across Letts Creek. We only hope the Crafty Ladies have their "crafts" handy to pull them out of the water where we are certain they will find themselves.

CORRECTION

In the June 24 issue of The Chelsea Standard, three lines were inadvertently omitted from one of the paragraphs in the article on the party held for six graduating cousins. The paragraph should read "The five cousins from Chelsea were John, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Collins; Debbie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Packard; James, son of Mr. and Mrs. Winston Boyer; Michael, son of Duane Boyer and Mrs. Eileen Brooks; and Lois, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Butler. Further down in the article it was stated Robyn was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Boyer. She is their daughter, not their son. We regret the error.

John Adams and Thomas Jefferson, the second and third presidents of the United States, both died on July 4, 1826, the 50th anniversary of the Declaration of Independence. Their contributions to the American Revolution as well as the contributions of other famous Revolutionary figures, are vividly brought to life in a special Bicentennial exhibition titled "The Struggle and the Glory" at the Henry Ford Museum in Dearborn.

Karmel Lombard, Duane Bycraft Wed at Zion Lutheran Church

Karmel Joan Lombard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick A. Lombard of Montague, and Duane Bruce Bycraft, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Bycraft of Chelsea, were married Saturday evening, June 12, at Zion Lutheran church, Chelsea. The 7 p.m. ceremony was performed by the Rev. John Morris.

The bride chose an empire-fashioned gown of white chiffon. Old lace trimmed with seed pearls accented the yoke and sleeves. The train was cathedral length, trimmed with intricate pleated lace. Her finger-tip length veil had a headband of old lace and seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white roses, stephanotis, baby's breath and ivy.

Diane Lombard, sister of the bride, was maid-of-honor. Serving as bridesmaids were Denise, Diane, Lori and Anita Bycraft, sisters of the bridegroom, Susan McCalla, and Margery Parsons, both of Chelsea. The women were dressed in gingham-check of rainbow colors and carried baskets of carnations and daisies.

Kenneth McCalla served as best man. Ushers were Dan Lombard, brother of the bride, James Bauer, Kenneth Schiller, Richard Halst, Michael Bristle and Patrick Crocker.

Greg Halst was ring-bearer and Anna Erick was flower girl.

Immediately following the ceremony, the couple greeted 400 guests at the Chelsea Fair Center. Mr. and Mrs. R. Alan Bell were Mistress and Master of Ceremonies.

The couple will reside in Chelsea.

Because most hearing losses appear gradually, a person with impaired hearing frequently is not aware of the condition until the loss has become serious and handicapping, according to hearing specialists. This is a primary reason why everyone should have a hearing test at least once a year the specialists add.

Youth Injured When Struck By Train

Eighteen-year-old James Lantis of 1801 Pierce Rd., was taken to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital about 5:30 a.m. Saturday, June 26, after he was struck by an eastbound freight train on the south side of the tracks, 800 feet east of the Cavanaugh Lake Rd. crossing.

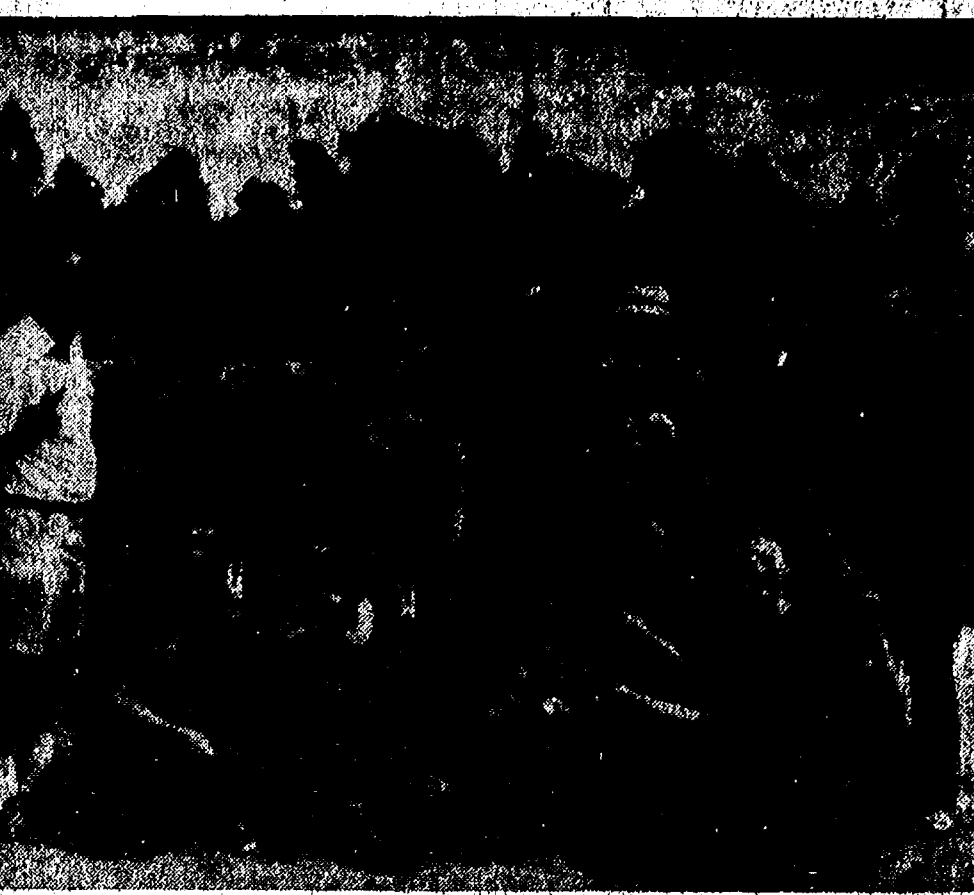

Patrolman Robert K. Browning of the Chelsea Police Department received a dispatch from the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department while on routine patrol, to investigate a report that a train had hit a pedestrian. According to police reports, Lantis apparently was lying next to the railroad tracks, and had raised his head when he heard the train whistle, just before he was struck. Engineer W. C. Jones told officers neither he nor his brakeman, C. R. Gelfand, both of Jackson, saw Lantis before their locomotive struck him near the crossing.

Lantis received severe head injuries on the right side of his head, and was semi-conscious and incoherent when Patrolman Browning arrived at the scene of the accident. Lantis was allegedly intoxicated. Hospital reports state he will lose the use of one eye.

'Anything Goes' Moves to Dexter

The Chelsea Jaycees "Anything Goes" team of volunteers defeated the Dexter team in fun-filled action Sunday, June 20, pulling from behind after the first six events to dominate in the final two, and thus wrap up the victory.

Participants and on-lookers thoroughly enjoyed the comedy of errors relay contests during the afternoon at the Chelsea High school football field. The starring Chelsea challengers will have a chance to defend their title at the next "Anything Goes" contest sponsored by Dexter, and slated as a special Bicentennial event on Friday, July 9, 7 to 9 p.m., at the Dexter High school football field. Competition will have doubled for this rematch, as not only Dexter and Chelsea, but Manchester and Pinckney teams will all vie for the community honor of being "No. 1".

Admission will be $1.25 for adults, 75 cents for children, and $4.50 for families.

Trophies will be awarded to first- and second-place teams, along with a special prize presented to the town with the largest cheering section. Consider it a challenge to your hometown spirit.

While spectator turnout was fair, over-all the turnout was a disappointment to the sponsoring Chelsea Jaycees. Whether the admission price stalled attendance or whether many Chelsea residents simply were not in town, it is difficult to speculate. In any case, the project lost money.

According to the Jaycees, publicity chairman of "Anything Goes," it was too bad (this happened) because a lot of work went into the preparation of the games trying to come up with exciting events, getting a good PA system, and completing the many other tasks that had to be done.

The Chelsea Jaycees "were hoping the community would support this project so the Jaycees could make some money to carry on their other community projects like helping many needy families at Christmas time. Without support of the community on their money-making projects, the Jaycees will not be able to sponsor as many community-aid programs as they would like."

CENTENNIAL TREE: History may sometimes be found right in your own back yard. Case in point is this photo of a granddaddy beech tree. Exactly 100 years ago, in our nation's centennial year, a young man carved his initials, "JEL, 1876" into the bark of the tree. "JEL" stands for John Emory Irwin, grandfather to Chelsea's Don Irwin. The tree is located on Irwin's Sharon township farm which has been in the family for four generations. John Emory Irwin came to the area in the 1830's as an apprentice blacksmith.

D. Murphy's Royals Top Babe Ruth Field

Babe Ruth baseball league now in its second week of action, headlines the Royals as the first-place team. The Royals, coached by Dan Murphy, sport a lot of power as Dave Scrotenboer, Joe Ewald and Steve Dresch each have two home runs. Joe Ewald, 3-0 for the Royals on the mound, blasted forth with a no-hit game recently.

The Pirates, right on the heels of the Royals, trailing by only one-half game, have the league's leading hitter, Al Augustine, who is batting at .686 with one home run. Pitcher Mike Machesky is 2-1 on the mound.

The Athletics, coached by Tom Stock, stand 1-4 in the league. A young team, the Athletics demonstrate a great deal of knowledge of the game, but just have not been able to pull it together yet. The Orioles are 0-5 with Scot Price leading the team, bagging a .337 average and one home run. This year, Chelsea has brought Dexter and Manchester into the league on a trial basis. The early forecast of the season is they will enter the league as good, strong competition.

League leaders are as follows: 1) 1 HR, Augustine (Pirates), .686; 2) 2 HR, Ewald (Royals), .583; 3) 2 HR, Dresch (Royals), .555; 4) 1 HR, Aldrich (Athletics), .555; 5) 2 HR, Scrotenboer (Royals), .470; 6) R. FOSTER'S MEN'S WEAR
Ph. 475-1606 Chelsea, Mich.

NETTIE HALL is totally at home among the more than 400 varieties of plants and African violets she has raised as a hobby since 1954. Sheltering the plants is a greenhouse constructed in 1968. A welcome addition, the greenhouse simulates the natural growing environment of African violets.

Flower-Growing Hobby Results In National Convention Awards

Local Chelsea resident Nettie Hall has loved flowers ever since she was a little girl. And, rather than closet this emotion behind a passive door, Nettie has allowed it to blossom into a hobby she finds both "wonderful and rewarding." Nettie Hall raises African violets.

Presently she boasts of 150 varieties, 425 plants altogether, including 11 miniature begonias, 10 geraniums, and 20 non-African violet species. Her dedication and skill in nurturing the plants to perfection culminated in ribbons of award at both the annual Chelsea fair, and at a 10th annual national flower growing convention in Atlanta, Ga., April 27.

Born in Ohio, Nettie moved to Detroit in 1919 and lived there until 1957 before coming to the Chelsea area. Her hobby, she recalls, became an obsession in 1954, the year before her husband died. Reminiscing, Nettie revealed how her husband offered her unmitigated support of her African violet, flower-raising venture when she first proposed it to him. Today, she regrets he is not living to see the violets they jointly cultivated in bloom.

Nettie was struck with the inspiration to grow flowers on a major scale, one morning while eating breakfast. She was watching the few plants she already had. "I got to thinking about them, and suddenly just jumped up and decided to go get more," she related. At that time, J. L. Hudson's in Detroit was about the only store that stocked African violets, according to Nettie.

From the flower business, she expanded to the leaf business, selling leaves through the mail until she suffered an illness. Her illness affected a set-back in her operations. Unable to properly care for the thriving greenery she had on hand, Nettie lost many plants. But, she refused to quit. Following her recovery, she started in again.

A major turning point in Nettie's success occurred in 1968, here in Chelsea, when she was finally able to build a greenhouse. Prior to that, she had been raising her plants under fluorescent lights on her front porch. The greenhouse reduced the time she needed to administer to the needs of her plants. Thus, in addition to growing flowers, Nettie returned to buying leaves through the mail. She now raises the leaves in pearlite.

Caring for plants is not as tame as one would think, Nettie informed us. She must constantly contend with inherent fire danger. But, even more obscure to a novice's view of her operation, is the very real problem she has with star shine confusing the growth patterns of the plants in her greenhouse. All forms of life require sleep. When the night is overly bright, Nettie's flowers respond just as if it were daytime. Somehow, she manages to surmount the problem, however, as witnessed by her thriving greenery.

Nettie is unique from other mass production flower growers in that she takes a very personalized view of her business. Each of her plants is rewarded with her own special loving care and attention. Most of her plants even have names in honor of the people who originally cultivated the species.

Yet Nettie in no way shirks professionalism. To keep abreast of any new developments in her field, she belongs to a national flower raising group, and receives four to five periodicals yearly, which, she claims, she reads cover to cover. She stores the information carefully, "but I never really do what they say," she confides. Instead she simply trusts the instincts of her remarkable green thumb for prize-winning results in the horticultural category.

Cards of Thanks

THANK YOU
I want to thank everyone who helped me through the long week end of the rocking-chair marathon. I want to especially thank all the rockers and their friends and family for helping me make this such a big success. I feel like I go to know all of you very well and everyone became part of everyone else. It was hard but you were all just great. I also want to thank the Bicentennial band, Kim Longworth and Neil Cockerline for their entertainment. Also Mr. Mills for the school, Mr. Prinzing for the PA system and the custodians. I also want to thank all the judges and floorwalkers, and some I know worked many hours. I want to thank all the Belles groups for donation of food, Red Balough for the watermelon and hamburger parties, Mrs. Bergman for the extra sloppy joes, and Linda Shaw and the seniors that ran the food stand for all those hours. Also the Kiwanis for their sausage house. I also want to thank the Auxiliary police and their wives who helped police the area for us. Also the Chelsea Police and the Home-Vinson Ambulance. And a special big thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Sabo and Mr. and Mrs. Figg and my parents Mr. and Mrs. Schiller. And to Phil Boham for his talk that kept me going on when I was really down. Also, a big thanks to Bev Loucks, who's on my committee, and who stood by me and worked as much as I. Everyone was great. Thanks again.
Wanda Schiller.

THANK YOU

Hunting, Fishing License Sales Top All Records

A record 44 million Americans spent close to $300 million on state hunting and fishing licenses last year, according to state license sales figures released by Director Lynn A. Greenwalt of the Interior Department's U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

"Both figures are record highs," said Greenwalt, "and they show that Americans continue to find hunting and fishing major pastimes." One of every five Americans enjoys the outdoors this way. The figures represent an increase of $26 million in state sales and 600 thousand in license holders over 1974. Since some states do not require licenses for ocean fishing, children under 16, or senior citizens, these figures are considered conservative estimates.

"The revenues derived from these license sales enable states to conduct their fish and wildlife conservation and management programs," Greenwalt said. "Additional funds come from Federal Aid in Fish and Wildlife Restoration programs under which states are reimbursed up to 75 percent of the cost of approved projects."

California led the nation in sales of fishing licenses with 5.9 million licenses, tags, permits, and stamps sold. Closest runner-up was Michigan with 1.7 million sold. Other very heavily fished states were Minnesota, Missouri, Oregon, Tennessee, Texas, and Wisconsin. Wisconsin also attracted the most out-of-state fishermen in the country with 360,000 visitors buying licenses last year. Montana, Tennessee, Minnesota, and Michigan also ranked high with tourist fishermen.

Pennsylvania led all states in the nation last year in sales of hunting licenses with 1.3 million licenses, tags, permits, and stamps sold. California, Michigan, New York, and Texas ranked just below. Montana had the distinction of being the most frequently visited state by out-of-state hunters. Last year more than 127,000 non-resident permits were sold there. Hawaii had the fewest licensed hunters and fishermen.

Michigan State University is the only university with three medical schools granting the M.D. degree (College of Human Medicine), D.O. degree (College of Osteopathic Medicine), and D.V.M. (College of Veterinary Medicine).

In Act 229 of Public Acts of 1963 as Amended, the six months immediately following the sale, the property may be redeemed.

Local Drivers Winning at Auto Races

At the Butler Motor Speedway stock car races in Litchfield Saturday, June 26, three Chelsea area racers topped the field in three separate heats, with driver Fred Worden finishing the day with a first-place prize of six cans of motor oil.

Worden, driving Sportsman 94, started on the pole in the fifth heat of the Saturday race. There was no doubt that the car was running well. He held the lead for 10 laps to cruise to an easy victory in that heat. Later on, in the Sportsman Semi, 94 fought for the lead, but was pleased to finish second.

Late Model 90, driven by Chelsea's Tom Steele, started 10th in the heat race. But, after the first laps, the car ran into some mechanical trouble and was unable to race anymore that evening. However, the week before, Steele manipulated the car with a fine show of skill to come in second in the Late Model Semi.

Sportsman 80, with Ed Hartman in the driver's seat, started sixth in the ninth heat of the qualifying sportsman race. Battling for the lead, Hartman finally gained the edge in the seventh lap and went on to win that heat.

The stock car races are held at Butler every Saturday throughout the summer with time trials starting at 6:30 p.m. and races at 7 p.m. Drivers must circle the field at high speeds for 10 laps in what is perhaps the most grueling circuit in auto racing.

Playground Being Built For Highpoint

High Point opened its doors a year ago to meet the very special needs of the severely and trainably retarded of Washtenaw county.

As the summer program begins, the new facility is still without a playground. A committee of parents and staff has been formed to build a playground of mostly recycled materials. The project will be under the supervision of Playground Clearing House, Inc. for July 23, 24 and 25.

The High Point Playground committee is seeking the support of the community in the procurement of material such as lumber, railroad ties, telephone poles, tires, cable, rope and other miscellaneous items. Volunteer labor to help during the construction, as well as loan of heavy equipment for the project, are also being sought.

A bake sale will be held at Penney's Arborland July 10 to raise funds to help purchase necessary materials. Money donations will also be welcome.

Please contact Zena Welber at High Point, 769-6522.

McKune Library Now Has Many New Books

Summertime is an ideal time to catch up on your reading, whether you enjoy the warm weather in a backyard hammock or prefer the sand of a local beach. To enrich your leisure time this summer, stop by McKune Memorial Library and take home a novel, historical biography, or any other book you find irresistible. McKune Library has just received a wide selection of new books.

A couple of the new arrivals are from the best-seller list including Lillian Hellman's memoir of the witch-hunting, blacklisting years of the 1950's, "Scoundrel Time," and Helen MacInnes' "Agent in Place," another in her long list of international intrigues.

Real life intrigue is explored in "The Fire Came By." On June 30, 1908, the Siberian morning since was shattered by an explosion registering on seismographs as far as Germany, Paris, and Washington, D.C. The initial blast was followed by shock waves, a fire storm, and a black rain contaminating hundreds of square miles. What caused this desolation?

For new parents, the library now offers a number of recent books on raising children. The mother-to-be might be interested in "Childbirth at Home," by Marion Sousa. The author maintains that while it is important for complicated pregnancies and deliveries to be carefully monitored in a hospital environment, pregnancy is not a disease and childbirth is not surgery. In 99.5 percent of all births, intervention is unnecessary. Sousa gives practical information on how to prepare for your baby's birth day, nutrition, exercises, classes, medical supervision, equipment, and more.

Younger women who are trying to come to terms with themselves might find some helpful advice in Andrea B. Eagan's "Why Am I So Miserable if These Are the Best Years of My Life?" Mrs. Eagan professes the idea that "being yourself" isn't any more automatic than playing tennis; you must work at it.

In James Michener's new non-fiction book, he examines all aspects of "Sports in America," the intricacy of financing sports, the intrusion of government in international competition, the importance of media to the survival of professional sports. His portrait of the juvenile sporting world will make you think twice before entering a child in organized competition. Michener argues in favor of better deals for women in sports, and looks at the hypocrisy in many athletic programs in colleges and universities.

McKune Memorial Library would like to remind patrons that many fine novels in large print are available as well as back issues of large type Reader's Digests.

Chelsea Residents Attend Five-Day Piano Workshop

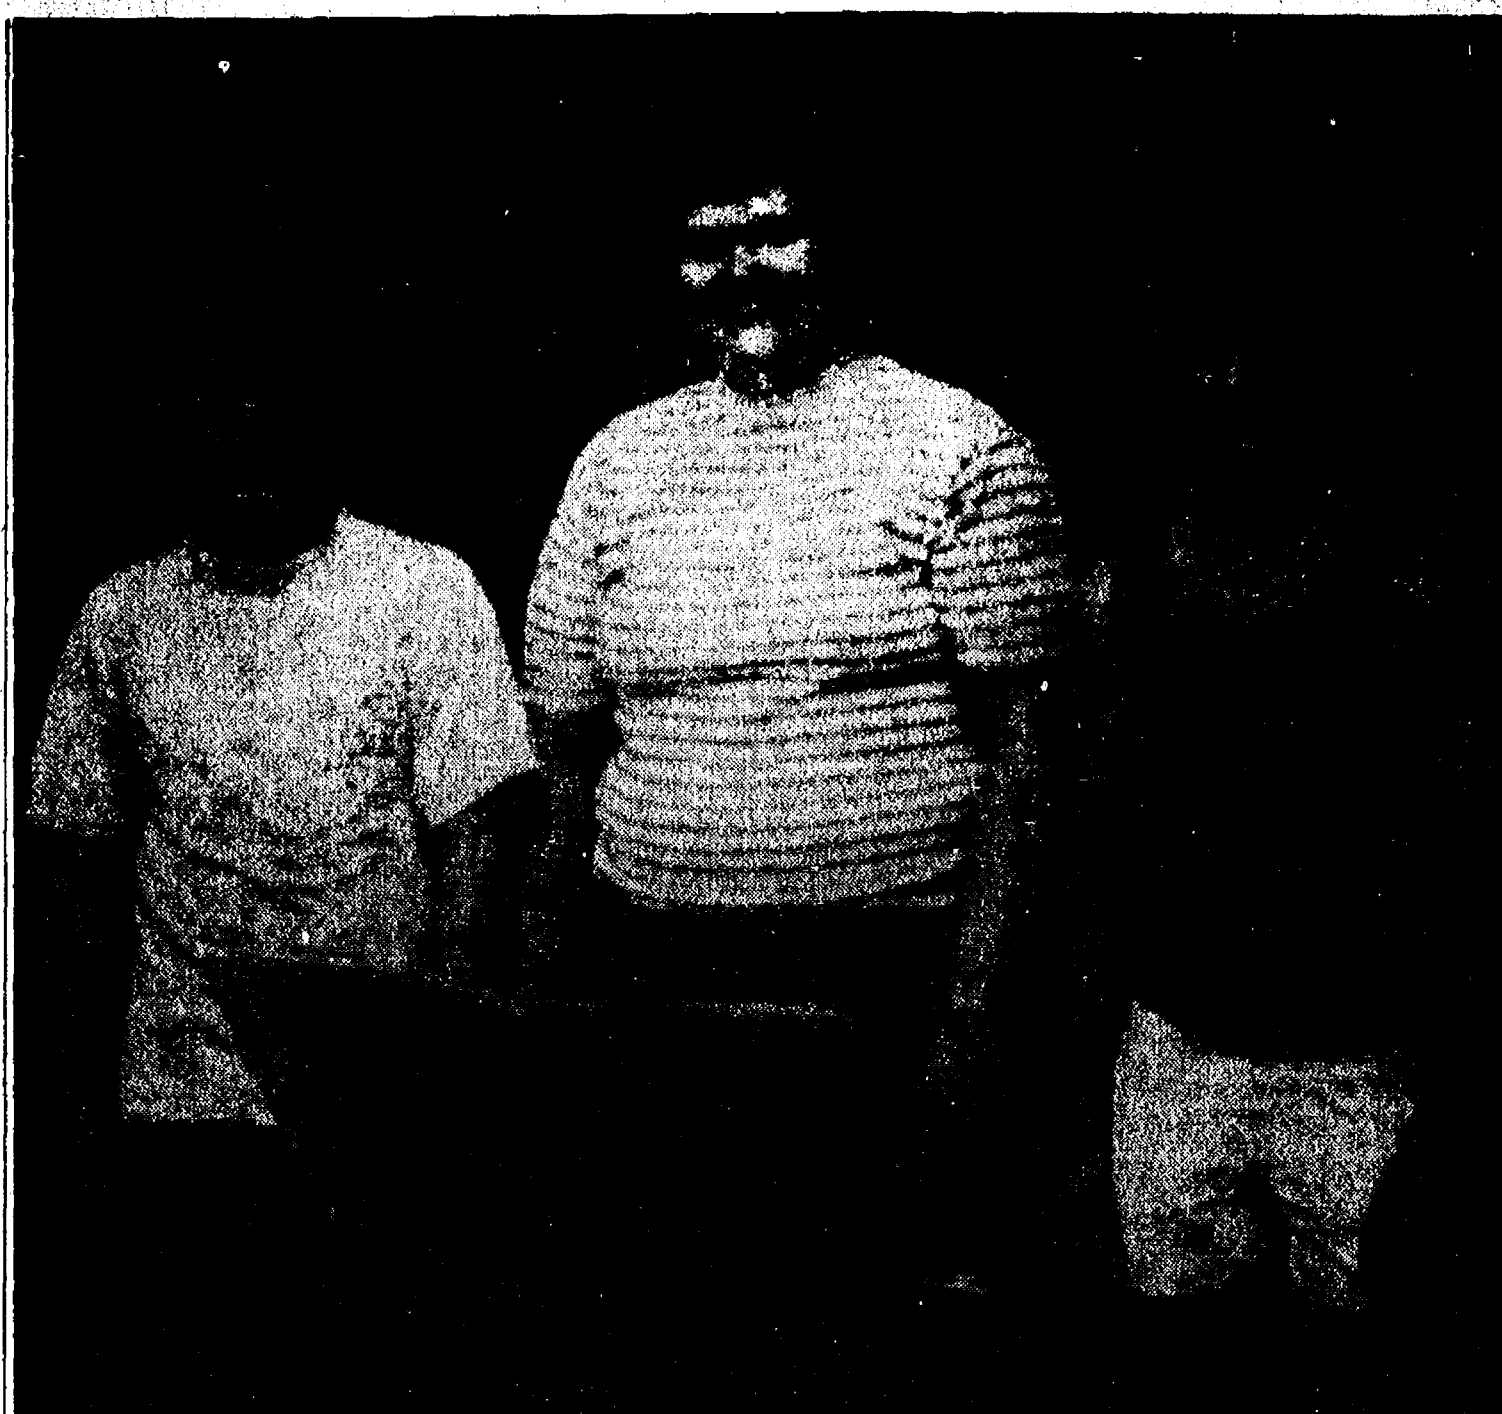

Four Chelsea residents participated in a workshop for piano students and teachers at Goshen College, Ind., June 21-25. Three students, Christine Johnson, 542 McKinley, Mary McCallum, 10 Sycamore, and Bethel Snyder, 1325 Freer Rd., and a teacher, Mrs. Betty A. Rasmussen, 48 Chestnut Dr., were among 27 teen-aged piano students and 25 piano teachers from a total of six states who practiced, performed, and learned new techniques and interpretations from four faculty members.

The workshop was led by John O'Brien, Kathryn Sherer, and Philip Clemens of the Goshen College music faculty, and Marvin Bickens, professor of piano and piano pedagogy at University of North Carolina.

Special emphasis was placed on new teaching materials, group and private teaching, memorizing procedures, and technique for the advancing pianist.

Goshen College is a four-year liberal arts college in Goshen, Indiana. It is owned and operated by the Mennonite Church and has nearly 1,250 students enrolled throughout the year.

The French aviator Louis Bleriot flew across the English Channel from Calais to Dover on July 25, 1909, making the 31-mile trip in 37 minutes. Observers pointed out that this was the first time a visitor had ever set foot in England who did not come by water. The 1909 BLERIOT XI, a companion plane to the one Bleriot flew in his epoch flight, is part of the permanent airplane collection at the Henry Ford Museum in Dearborn.

ATTEND SUMMER MUSIC CAMP: Upstaged by a sheet of musical scores, are two Chelsea area youngsters posing with their camp counselor at Illinois Wesleyan University's 24th annual Summer Music Camp. More than 150 high school students attended the summer camp in Lake Bloomington, Ill., from June 13-26. Left to right are Jeffrey Stirling, 45 Chestnut Dr., camp counselor Margit Gage, 233 Delta St., East Lansing, and Mark Snyder, 1325 Freer Rd. Students participated in two of three large groups—band, orchestra or chorus—in addition to having the opportunity for private lessons and numerous recreational activities. Concerts and recitals were presented in the evenings and on week-ends.

Don Turner Visits Coopers in Montana, Moves on into Canada

Dear Readers:

Since my last report, I have traveled many miles, and have seen and done many interesting things. I hope they will be of interest to you.

If you are in the mood for a bit of humor, maybe I can supply a little of that. I am warning you, I may tell a few hair raisers, as I spent a few days with my old friends, and many of yours. Don and Dennis Cooper, and families. Don Cooper is the Alaska lumberjack who has appeared on the Chelsea Kiwanis Club's Travel and Adventure Series for many seasons.

As I traveled west to Rugby, N. D., I noticed this monument on Route 2 (see picture). Rugby is the geographic center of North America, and any of you who travel this way should stop and take a picture, as I did. Well! It's just to show you where here.

In our bicentennial year, we can thank the "All Mighty" we live in North America. It's still the only place in the world where free enterprise still reigns. This monument placed here in America's grain and ranching center should again remind us that we are the "bread basket" of the world. These wheat farmers and cattle ranchers produce more wheat and meat for our peoples' tables, and for people abroad, than any other spot on our globe.

Stop and think for a while. If it were not for our agricultural technicians, how far would American production be beyond that of foreign lands? So, let me salute agriculture for what it's worth to North America. I don't want to leave out any commodity in this field in our bicentennial year.

From Rugby, I continued on west to Montana, to the Cooper residence in the mountains of western Montana. Spring was just starting there, and I found the Cooper brothers, Don and Dennis, hard at work, trying to do some landscaping on Don's premises. Don had just returned from the film lecture tour and was eager to get a few things planted before he had to leave for more film making.

When I saw what he was trying to do, I thought it was an impossible task. The whole valley for miles, both ways from DeBorgia, where the Coopers live, is one big stone pile. Top soil is so scarce, Don said they sell it by the ounce. I don't know how trees grow in such an environment, but they seem to grow well. The whole area is heavily forested, right up to the Cooper door step. The mountains on all sides make it a real pretty setting. I can see why the Cooper brothers hurry back to the serenity of this place after a long lecture tour to the large cities, south and east.

Don said, "Make yourself at home," so I just rolled up my sleeves and pitched in to help roll the rocks around. After two days of work, the landscaping looked pretty good. Then Don's wife, Ruth, hinted she had a garden to plant. I asked her where she found soil enough to make a garden. To my surprise, she showed me where it was. I don't know where she found the dirt, but as Don's brother, Dennis, strolled by, he made the remark that a person could get sent up to state prison for more years stealing top soil, than he would for robbing the local bank.

Now the size of the garden was such, that I planted the whole thing for Ruth one morning before breakfast. I sure hope it grows! If it doesn't, I am in trouble, after telling them what a great garden I grow back in Michigan.

Don wanted to give me a tour of DeBorgia, and said the easiest way was to climb the mountain in back of his house and just look down on what is left of it. A big forest fire in 1910 burned everything, but the Catholic church. It still stands, but is in a state of disrepair. The women, Betty and Ruth, packed a picnic lunch, and we climbed up to the big spring where DeBorgia used to get its water supply. The view from there is spectacular. The sweet, cold water of the spring was well worth the climb.

Dennis Cooper likes to fool around with an ancient pistol, a Colt 44 ball and cap, dating back to General Custer's time. So, maybe I should mention the big shoot-out I had with Dennis. Ha!

Maybe I had been bragging a bit of my prowess with a pistol. Anyway, Dennis challenged me to a target match, using his old, black powder loading pistol which makes more smoke than a coal burning locomotive. For a target, he placed a quart oil can on a nail keg and we shot at 40 feet. Dennis missed his first shot, but hit on the second. Then, I hit the target twice. The second shot came so close to the first, one could hardly tell it was hit twice. I am sure it was either beginner's luck or a pure accident. Anyway, Dennis said in a real shoot-out, he would be officially dead. So, I am now champion pistol shot of DeBorgia, Mont. (See pictures of big shoot-out.)

Don asked me after the big shoot-out if I had ever considered week-end banking with that ability to shoot. He thinks we could do better at that than in the travelog business. Ha! Ha!

I left the Coopers on May 28 and headed north toward Glacier Head Lake and Glacier National Park. Finding the way closed to Sun Highway via Glacier National Park, I took Highway No. 2 around the national park and crossed the U. S.-Canadian border on Route 89 near a small community, Port of Piegan. Well, I tried to cross, and eventually I did. But, let me tell you of the experience I had at the border.

A very petite young lady was the first customs officer to greet me. Flashing my best smile, I greeted her, thinking, "this will be a breeze." She asked me to please pull over to the parking area. There, I was gone over with a fine tooth comb. The fact I had so many cameras and equipment with me probably spooked the entire force of officers.

I thought at first the Cooper brothers had alerted the border patrol to catch me at the border. But, I don't think they had anything to do with it, as the customs officials didn't say anything about the TV set and silverware I had with me, which was the Cooper's loss. Please strike that statement. I guess I stayed a little too long with the Funny Boys, the Coopers.

But all joking aside, I did have quite a time at Canadian customs. I had to give serial numbers of all my cameras and my hunting rifle, and had to get the U. S. customs officials to sign a statement saying I had left the U. S. with all those cameras. I was told I must declare them when I re-entered the U. S.

This was the first time I had to do this, but I guess I have been lucky, or maybe they are smarter in the out of the way places.

I even had to tell my occupation and life history. I had to show I had enough funds to travel a spell in Canada. And, when I thought I was in the clear, a young woman officer crawled through my camper, peeking into every corner. I told her if I had known I was going to be inspected by a lady officer, I would have tidied up my quarters a little better. I told her I had not dusted for some time, that my windows needed washing, and that I was in the process of spring house cleaning.

She finally had to laugh, and that made me feel better. She said, "No, your rig is not that dirty. In fact, it is too clean for bachelor quarters. I was only looking for the gal that helps keep it that way." Well, with that compliment, I forgave her and the Canadian customs staff.

I finally got across the border and am now heading for Dawson Creek, British Columbia, and the Alaska Highway. More on that later.

No, the customs gal didn't find a chick under the bunk! So, all is well.

Your wandering reporter,
Don Turner.

Douglas Liebeck Recovering from Heart Attack

Douglas Liebeck, of 19820 Ivey Rd., suffered a near-fatal heart attack Saturday, June 12, while working in his office at Triangle Sales. His heart stopped beating, where upon he was rushed to Chelsea Medical Center for treatment.

Physicians there revived his heart, then transferred him to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor. After two weeks of hospitalization and observation, Liebeck was released to consummate his recovery at home. According to his wife, he "is doing really well now, but will require at least a month of rest."

Mrs. Liebeck praised the quick response of those who administered to Liebeck at the time of the crisis. "He was really lucky to get proper care at the proper time," she said.

THE BIG SHOOT-OUT with Dennis Cooper. What a smudge this old pistol makes, but it's quite accurate.

BETTY AND RUTH COOPER climbing the mountain to the big spring. Betty was born in this area and climbs mountains with ease. I call her the "ridge runner." She and Ruth both reached the top ahead of Turner, which, he says, reminded him that he "was a bit out of shape."

REGISTRATION NOTICE

FOR
PRIMARY ELECTION
TUESDAY, AUGUST 3, 1976

To the Qualified Electors of the TOWNSHIP OF SYLVAN
(PRECINCT NO. 1 and 2)

COUNTY OF WASHTENAW, STATE OF MICHIGAN

Notice is hereby given that in conformity with the "Michigan Election Law," I, the undersigned Clerk, will, upon any day, except Sunday and a legal holiday, the day of any regular or special election or primary election, receive for registration the name of any legal voter in said Township, City or Village not already registered who may APPLY TO ME PERSONALLY for such registration.

Notice is hereby given that I will be at Chelsea Drug, 101 N. Main St., Chelsea, any day until Tuesday, July 6, 1976 (by appointment) and on

Tuesday, July 6, 1976 - Last Day

From 8 o'clock a.m. until 8 p.m.
THE 30th DAY PRECEDING SAID ELECTION
And on Saturday, July 3, 1976 - 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.
As provided by Section 498, Act No. 116, Public Acts of 1954
As Amended.

For the purpose of REVIEWING the REGISTRATION and REGISTER-ING such of the qualified electors in said TOWNSHIP, CITY or VILLAGE as SHALL PROPERLY apply therefor.

The name of no person but an ACTUAL RESIDENT of the precinct at the time of registration, and entitled under the Constitution, if remaining such resident, to vote at the next election, shall be entered in the registration book.

Elector Unable to Make Personal Application, Procedure
SEC. 504. Any elector who is unable to make personal application for registration because of physical disability or absence from the Township, City or Village in which his legal residence is located, may be registered prior to the close of registration before any election or primary election by securing from the Clerk of the Township, City or Village in which is located his legal residence, duplicate registration cards and executing in duplicate the registration affidavit before a notary public or other officer legally authorized to administer oaths and returning such registration cards to the Clerk of the Township, City or Village before the close of office hours on the last day of registration prior to any election or primary election. The notary public or other officer administering the oath shall sign his name on the line for the signature of the registration officer and designate his title.

Unregistered Persons Not Entitled to Vote
SEC. 491. The inspectors of election at any election or primary election in this State, or in any District, County, Township, City or Village thereof, shall not receive the vote of any person whose name is not registered in the registration book of the Township, Ward or Precinct in which he offers to vote. (As provided under Act 116,
P. A. 1954.)

Transfer of Registration, Application, Time
SEC. 508. Any registered elector may upon change of residence within the Township, City or Village cause his registration to be transferred to his new address by sending to the Clerk a signed request, stating his present address, the date he moved thereto, and the address from which he was last registered, or by applying in person for a transfer. The Clerk shall strike through the last address, ward and precinct number and record the new address, ward and precinct number on the original and duplicate registration cards, and shall place the original registration card in proper precinct file. Such transfer shall not be made after the Fifth Friday preceding any election or primary election (unless such Fifth Friday shall fall on a legal holiday in which event registration shall be accepted during the next full working day.)

Transfer of Registration on Election Day
SEC. 507. Any registered elector who has removed from one election precinct of a Township, City or Village to another election precinct of the same Township, City or Village and has not received such removal with the local Clerk shall execute a transfer of registration request, listing the new residence address thereon over his signature, with the election board in the precinct in which he is registered at the next ensuing primary or election. The inspector of election in charge of the registration records shall compare the signature thereon with the signature upon the applicant's registration record and, if the signatures correspond, then the inspector shall certify such fact by affixing his initials upon said request. The applicant for transfer, after having signed an application to vote as provided in Section 523 of this act, shall then be permitted to vote in such precinct for that primary or election only. The application for transfer shall be filed with the Township, City or Village Clerk who shall then transfer such voter's registration in accordance with the application. When the name of any street in a Township, City or Village has been changed, it shall be the duty of the Township, City or Village Clerk to make the change to show the proper name of street in the registration records, and it shall not be necessary for the elector to change his registration with respect thereto in order to be eligible to vote.

Daniel J. Murphy, Township Clerk
