Mr. Ray Zor Services Set For Friday

A very close and dear friend of the men of Chelsea has passed on to receive his reward. He was a friend that was first to greet you in the morning and perhaps the last to caress your chin at night.

Mr. Ray Zor has joined the ranks of our dearly departed. Because of this catastrophic event, hearts are bleeding in the Chelsea area. With all due respect, he will be laid to rest Friday, July 23, 8:30 p.m. The service will leave Bicentennial Headquarters, Bicentennial Blvd. (E. Middle) with all the Brothers of the Brigade and Bicentennial Ladies requested to attend the official mourning. Flower offerings will be accepted at Bicentennial Headquarters the day of burial.

While Mr. Ray Zor has indeed left this life, there will be a great day of resurrection, predicted for Aug. 30. It is expected Mr. Ray Zor will once again return.

Twins Win Girls Softball Tournament

The Twins team, coached by Richard Bareis, won the CEA girls softball tournament held Saturday, July 17, at the high school field.

The Twins reached the finals by blanking the Angels, 10-0, off some good pitching by Jennifer Klinge. In the finals, however, the Twins were hard pushed by a highly spirited Athletics team before squeezing out a 10-9 victory and bagging the championship.

The Athletics reached the finals by defeating the Yankees, 16-6, and the Indians, 18-10. The Athletics were paced by pitcher Kim Wood and hitter Teresa Broderick. Other scores from the tournament were Indians 17, Reds 9, and Angels 9, Braves 0.

T-Ball Play Going into Final Week

Now going into its last week, T-ball action was garnished with improvement in the play of many of the teams.

Last week saw Degener pull ahead of Larson, 35-34, the Reds overpower the Bulldogs, 40-16, and Bareis stop Hafner, 24-18. In other action, it was the Indians squeezing by the Yankees, 7-16, Bareis duplicating that marginal win over Degener, 21-20; the Reds defeating the Patriots, 40-25; and the Yankees clinching a victory over the Bulldogs, 40-18.

Search Underway for 7-Year-Old Boy Abducted By His Father

A search is still underway for David R. Siegel, 7, who was forcibly abducted from South school playground by his father, 42-year-old Robert P. Siegel on Wednesday morning, July 14. In an unusual procedure by Probate Court Judge Francis L. O'Brien, a warrant charging kidnapping was issued Saturday, July 17, for Siegel's arrest.

The youngster was carried off struggling and shouting for help as he attempted to escape. Playground supervisors, who witnessed the incident at South school where David was enrolled in the summer recreation program, were told by the elder Siegel, "he always does this" when they questioned David's behavior.

David has lived with foster parents in the Chelsea area since December, 1974, following a ruling by Washtenaw County Circuit Judge William F. Ager that neither of his parents were "capable" of caring for him.

Siegel has been described by police as "a drifter with serious emotional problems." In the past, he threatened David with religion, according to social service records. Siegel was under a restraining order issued by Washtenaw Circuit Court prohibiting him from either seeing David or being in the vicinity of his son. By removing David from the playground, he is guilty of violating the court order.

Police focused their search on the Ann Arbor area Thursday, July 15, but were unable to gain any knowledge leading to the whereabouts of either the boy or pounds. Depending on the grain and condition of the field, he can move along at speeds of from 3 to 5 miles per hour. With the aid of this combine, now in its third season, Trinkle can harvest 30 acres of grain in a 10-12 hour day. The good weather in the past week gave farmers an opportunity to nearly complete their wheat harvesting. Trinkle informed us, "My wheat harvest is nearly all in; I've got about two more good days. Then it's on to oats."

MODERN WHEAT HARVEST: It's certainly not antique binders and teams of mules or horses for Charles Trinkle when wheat harvesting time is at hand. This photo shows Trinkle cutting wheat on N. Lima Center Rd., using a self-propelled, Model 4400 John Deere combine with 13-foot cutting head. He rides in relative comfort in a filtered, ventilated cab, complete with radio. The weight of this huge piece of equipment is approximately 10,000

Wheat Crop Reported 'Good'

The 1976 wheat crop produced by area farmers is presently between 80-90 percent harvested, according to owners of two local grain buying companies, Honegger & Co., Inc., and Chelsea Milling Co. A survey of this year's quality indicates the crop is good on the average. Honegger's, responsible for handling much of the local crop, reports the yield a little below normal, blaming the 40-bushel average decrease on dry weather in the first part of June, and on abnormal frosts in the spring. Reuben Fritz, of 824 S. Steinbach Rd., was the first farmer to appear at Honegger's with a truck-load of wheat.

Dudley Holmes of Chelsea Milling Co., reported his first customers were from the Grass Lake-Stockbridge area "where the soil encourages grain to mature faster."

Generally, Chelsea Milling services farmers from all over southeastern Michigan, and as a result, records the estimation that over-all production is up over last year. Region-wide, the weather which determined the outcome of crops, was unusually good. Holmes claimed, with no heavy rains at harvest time to ruin wheat in its final stages, or to inhibit the harvesting of mature grain. Consequently, "harvesting was quite rapid in the area," he stated.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture is predicting a 4 to 5 percent increase in food prices for 1977, but it remains unclear whether or not this figure reflects the outcome of this year's wheat harvest. Preparations are now underway to begin receiving oats, the next grain slated for harvest.

Farm Machinery Parade Set for Agriculture Day

Parade time is nearing for Chelsea and a special Agriculture Day parade will be held on Aug. 20 to help celebrate Chelsea's Bicentennial Week. The parade will begin down Main St. at 1 p.m. and will end up at the fairgrounds, giving everyone a chance to see all kinds of antique farm equipment, tractors, trucks and other machinery. Teams of horses and mules will be pulling wagons, a steam engine and threshing machines will be joined by marching units, bands and floats.

The parade will center around antique agricultural equipment but anyone who wishes to enter any kind of marching unit, float, band, antique cars, etc., is welcome. If you would like to participate, please contact Paul Whittinger at 475-2037 or Edson Whittinger at 475-8942.

Methodist Home Has New Administrator

Elmer Benson has been named administrator of Chelsea United Methodist Retirement Home, a residential and nursing facility sponsored by the Detroit Annual Conference of the United Methodist Church.

Founded in 1907, Chelsea Methodist Home, located on a 25-acre site in Chelsea, provides services for more than 200 elderly adults.

Benson, an Ann Arbor resident for 30 years, lives at 1950 Alhambra with his wife, Jacqueline. He attended Muskegon Junior College, the University of Michigan College of LS&A, and the University of Michigan College of Pharmacy. He has completed the Michigan State University course in Nursing Home Administration, and is licensed in Michigan as a Nursing Home Administrator.

His past experiences include a tenure of service on the Executive Board of the Michigan Chapter, American College of Nursing Home Administrators, and the Board of Directors of the Michigan Non-Profit Homes Association.

Benson is also a member of Trinity Lutheran church, the Ann Arbor Rotary Club, and has served in several capacities on Washtenaw United Way campaigns.

Previously administrator of the Lutheran Retirement Center, in Ann Arbor, Benson replaces Irving Crisman who left Chelsea United Methodist Retirement Home to accept a similar position in Bluefield, Va.

Shocking Demonstration Slated Sunday Afternoon

A "shocking" demonstration will occur at 1 p.m. Sunday, July 25 behind Polly's. All sensitive souls concerned about witnessing binders and horses cutting down a field of beautiful oats and leaving them to suffer the elements in unprotected bundles, are hereby warned of the impending disaster.

Not only will men from Chelsea be responsible for this massacre, but they will be joined in their abominable act by more men and horses from Napoleon, Manchester, Waterloo and surrounding Chelsea areas.

To make matters worse, the Brothers of the Brigade have been challenged to discover which community group is capable of shocking oats the fastest. Undoubtedly, many innocent little shocks will be mistreated in the process. Chelsea Bicentennial, Inc., will add to the circus atmosphere by selling refreshments to spectators.

Luckily, this will be the last demonstration of its kind, although it will last all afternoon.

However, another atrocity will be committed on Aug. 20 when the same bunch of marauding monsters will separate those poor defenseless oats from their straw with terribly old and out-dated threshing machines. Perhaps if the entire family comes to watch, it will be easier for everyone, so don't miss this last show. They've saved the best for last.

Headquarters Now Open Daily

As of Monday, July 19, the Chelsea Bicentennial Headquarters is open from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Saturday. Ladies' dresses, ranging in sizes from 10 to 16, two styles of coats for men, hats, aprons, bonnets, and vests for men and boys are available.

Felonious Assault Charge Faces Sheriff On Arraignment Here

Washtenaw County Sheriff Fredrick J. Postill was arraigned on a warrant charging him with felonious assault Tuesday afternoon, July 20, at Washtenaw County District Court in Chelsea following a signed complaint action by suspended Deputy Basil Baysinger requesting the "citizens arrest" of his superior at district court in Saline that same morning.

Fourteenth District Court Judge Henry D. Arkison issued the warrant for Postill's arrest after Baysinger posted security for costs of $200, and declared under oath that Postill tried to strangle him with a pair of handcuffs.

According to Deputy Baysinger's attorney, Jack Garris, the move to bring Postill to trial on charges of felonious assault was instituted "in order to get the matter out of the field of speculation and not to allow the incident to become a political matter."

The state attorney general's office informed Washtenaw County Prosecutor William F. Delhey that sufficient grounds existed to justify assault and battery charges against Postill and jail administrator Frank M. Donley but included a statement recommending Delhey "not proceed" in view of the preliminary examination which will be conducted over Baysinger's signed complaint charging Postill with felonious assault. Donley was not indicted in this particular warrant.

The alleged assault involving Postill, Donley, Baysinger and his wife, occurred July 11 at the Chelsea wedding reception of Sheriff's Department Traffic Lt. Leonard A. Dexter. Baysinger has claimed the brawl erupted over his support of one of Postill's political opponents in the upcoming election. Postill maintains the fight occurred during discussion of Baysinger's job performance.

A report by State Police Detective Sgt. Robert L. Pizali, delivered to Prosecutor Delhey on Wednesday, July 14, concluded Postill and Donley provoked the fight with Baysinger, and recommended assault and battery warrants be issued to both men.

Postill continues to deny he was involved in any criminal conduct at Chelsea fairgrounds. "I've got witnesses to back me up, but one happens to be out of town at the moment," he said.

If Postill is convicted on present charges of felonious assault, he faces a maximum sentence of four years in prison and a fine of $2,000. In Michigan, a person convicted of a felony is barred from becoming a police officer.

Kathy McCalla Leading First Lady Contest

As of July 19, the tabulated voter return in the race for Chelsea's First Lady places Kathy McCalla in the lead; Anne Steinaway, second; Betty Koch, third; Susan McCalla, fourth; Wanda Schiller, fifth; Jennie Walz, sixth; Nadine Koch, seventh; Debbie Bergman, eighth; and Beth Clark and Sheila Carr, unreported.

To boost the standing of the candidate of your choice, all you need do is help the contestant with her advance coupon sales of tickets to Chelsea's Bicentennial Celebration. Attached to each coupon will be a vote stub worth 1,000 votes.

Still Room for More in Swim Lesson Series

There is still room remaining for participants in the third session of swimming lessons being offered to area residents by the Chelsea Recreation Department at the new indoor swimming pool. The third session begins Monday, July 26 and concludes on Friday, Aug. 6.

Notification is made of the cancellation of lessons on Friday, July 30. The pool will be closed July 30 through Aug. 1 to allow for certain uncompleted construction needs to proceed without interference.

The fourth and final session of swimming lessons is also filling rapidly, so all interested parties are urged to register as soon as possible. The fourth session will be held Aug. 9 through Aug. 20.

Promenades Scheduled

Get your bicentennial clothes pressed and ready for a dapper stroll down Main St. Chelsea's promenades will be held Friday evenings, July 23, July 30, Aug. 6 and Aug. 13 at 7:15, beginning from Bicentennial Headquarters. (Continued on page eight)

Bicentennial Time Capsule Set for 2076

During a special ceremony slated for 10 a.m. Aug. 21, the Bicentennial Committee will supervise the burial of a sealed time capsule, at the McKune Memorial Library.

This capsule, filled with memorabilia from 1976, will remain buried for 100 years. It will hold such items as photographs, newspapers, souvenirs, magazines, coins and special envelopes containing messages to Chelsea's descendants.

These special envelopes may be purchased by individuals at Bicentennial Headquarters for $3 each. On the face of the envelope an inscription will read, "To the descendants of —," and the sealed message inside will be given only to those persons indicated. Since the envelopes, as well as the capsule, will be sealed and airtight, there will be no deterioration; anything anyone wishes to include in their envelope will thus be preserved for posterity.

In a corresponding ceremony on Aug. 21, 2076, the capsule will be unearthed and opened with the key given this year to the first baby born after the capsule is buried.

If Chelsea persons have any suggestions for articles to be included in the capsule, or wish to purchase a family envelope, stop at the Headquarters in the UAW building.

Grass Lake Man Dies in Auto Crash

David J. Simchak, 34, of 4504 Jacob Rd., Grass Lake, died early Saturday morning, July 17, after the vehicle he was driving ran off the road and struck a tree at Saline-Ann Arbor Rd. near Wagner Rd.

According to police reports, Simchak was southbound when he either fell asleep at the wheel or suffered a heart attack around 2:55 a.m. Officers arrived on the scene at 3:08 a.m., and drove the victim to University Hospital in Ann Arbor where he was pronounced dead.

Simchak was employed by Emory Air Freight at Detroit Metropolitan Airport.

He is survived by his widow, Joan, one son, and one daughter. Other surviving members of his family include his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Simchak of Paulding; a sister, Mrs. Owen (JoAnne) Smith of Wayne; and two brothers, LeRoy and William Simchak of Plymouth.

Frontier Day Will Feature Craft Displays

Chelsea's Bicentennial Frontier Day on Tuesday, Aug. 17, will begin 12 noon at the Chelsea fairgrounds with food and craft booths offering a variety of goods, reminiscent of those practiced skills essential to the well-being of our early American ancestors.

Craft booth displays of quilting, doll-making, crocheting, wood-

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

This is the promising season. We got politicians promising everything from perfection from the flu to a seat on the next flight to the moon. We even got one feller promising not to tell a lie, which is carrying matters beyond the point of no return. The next newscast you hear, we might have somebody promise that if he's elected he won't ever write a book about what he done in office and what got done unto him.

I have learned there are two people in ever politician, the one that wants in and the one that's in. The one that wants in wants the world to know everything about him. The one that's in operates on the mushroom growing plan. He figgers it's best to keep everybody in the dark and feed em nothing but fertilizer. I have yet to find a politician that wants in that don't feel we got to cut down on the size of Government, and I've never known of one that's in that didn't help to make it bigger. I studied this campaigning game up one side and down the other, and I've decided that it's easier for an honest man to get thru the eye of a needle than get elected to office.

Probable, the voter listening to the politician knows the rules of the game. As sure as rain, when the candidate looks the voter straight in the eye, gives him that firm handshake, and asks him for his vote he's going to get a promise. The voter knows that the candidate knows both of em are going thru the motions, so it's general understood that neither one is holding the other to his word. The only difference is that the politician is a professional and the voter is an amateur. I recall some years ago the Liar's Club announced it couldn't take in politicians cause it was fer fellers that lied fer fun, not for a living.

General speaking, I would say the smaller the job the more likely to tell the truth the politician is. First off, he knows if he gets the job he'll be right right there amongst the home-folks doing it. Second, he won't be able to blame everybody else in Congress fer what he's helping do. I recall this feller run fer town council in Georgia once. He got a lot of publicity with the two planks he had in his platform. He wanted the street paved in front of his house, and he wanted the ditch back of his house cleaned out. He lost the election, but the new council was so moved by his campaign plan they paved his street and cleaned out his ditch.

In the early going, Mister Editor, it looked like we were going to have more candidates than voters on the national level. But as aggravating as some folks think the primaries are, they shore have cut down on the choices fer the Democrats. So I would say politics in this country is sorta like a self-cleaning oven I hear my old lady talk about. It may get powerful messed up while it's doing its job, but it has a built-in system that usual gives us the kind of leaders we deserve in the end.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

Judging Candidates
That judicial candidate courting your support come election day—is he truly competent to sit on the bench?

"Few voters are knowledgeable enough as to the candidates' judicial background to know who is qualified," says George B. Bushnell, Jr., president of the State Bar of Michigan.

"Consequently, most elections become popularity contests," he adds.

It's a sad situation, obviously, since there's no assurance at all that the person who wins that popularity contest knows what he is doing.

Bushnell is urging that judges be appointed instead of elected. And he suggests that the appointing be done in one of two ways. Either the governor submits a list to the State Bar for its comments, then makes his appointments from those recommended by the Bar as qualified (as is now done to fill judicial vacancies); or the governor appoints from a list of people recommended by a Judicial selection panel made up of half State Bar members and half public members.

Would such a system work? It does on the federal level, Businell points out. Why not here?

If a change is not forthcoming, he adds, Michigan will lose the "competent, dedicated men and women it needs to maintain the quality of justice."

The state already has lost several experienced judges to early retirement and resignations during recent years, and Bushnell says the number is expected to grow.

Trashy to Tidy
Come fall, and gone will be the clutter. The Michigan Capitol will sport neat basement corridors—where some folks claim they've never seen bare walls because of all the filing cabinets and other debris piled outside of office doors.

At least that's the plan.

House GOP Leader Dennis O. Cawthorne of Manistee won approval of his colleagues this summer to tidy up the mess. The Legislative Council, the bi-partisan committee of House and Senate leaders which oversees the legislature's facilities, authorized construction of uniform storage compartments on the building's ground floor. Cost is estimated at $33,000.

What's happening, in effect, is a sort of pulling in of the walls; the building of new walls so there'll be shelf space right where all the stuff is piled now.

But even storing the boxes and files behind the extra wall will help.

"There facilities, coupled with a strictly enforced edict that no office furnishings or supplies be placed in the hallways, should end once and for all the disgraceful conditions which now exist," Cawthorne says.

Hopefully, he adds, the Capitol, which "should be a source of pride for our citizens and visitors, (but) has been turned into a trash bin... will soon be again worthy of the respect it deserves."

Help for Indians

If you're half North American Indian and can prove it... If you've been a legal resident of Michigan for 18 months... If you're enrolled as a full time student at a public college, university or community college and are academically qualified... You'll get free tuition as of Aug. 1—maybe.

Gov. William Milliken recently signed that free tuition legislation into law, but noted that some have doubts whether the measure is workable.

It may, for instance, not be consistent with equal protection provisions of the U.S. and Michigan constitutions.

Despite the potential legal problems, Milliken said he signed the measure because of its "laudible" intent.

He figured, however, that a better way to help North American Indians might have been to set up a fund to provide either direct tuition subsidies for them or to reimburse state institutions which provide that benefit.

You'll Decide

Looks like you'll get a chance to vote on whether to change Michigan's income tax system.

Backers of a graduated income tax proposal have turned in signatures they say are sufficient to put the question on the ballot this November.

Run For Fun Program Invites All

Like to do a bit of jogging? Or maybe you have aspirations of becoming an Olympic sprinter. Or is track a sport you've been thinking of going out for in high school? Whatever your wishes and needs, the weekly Run for Fun program every Tuesday evening at the University of Michigan's Ferry Field Track will be loads of fun—whether you're a 9-year-old 50-yard dash specialist, or someone a bit older for whom a five-mile run at the end of the evening is the perfect nightcap.

Founded three years ago by Elmo Morales, a former U. of M. track star and now a physical education instructor in local schools, Run for Fun is a non-competitive, supervised opportunity to each week better one's time in various track events—everything from a 50-yard dash, up through gallops of 100, 220, 440, 880 yards, and one through five miles, as well as a one-mile walk, with standards set according to age and sex. Everyone participating in every event earns an attractive certificate, the color of which indicates the degree of achievement—gold, of course, for the best time and working on down through five other classes to a white certificate for the slowest. There's no emphasis on winning, just improving one's time regularly.

The nicest thing about Run for Fun, aside from the non-competitive nature, is its universal appeal. On any evening you'll see children not too far removed from the playpen years running the 50-yard dash, scheduled as the second event of the evening so there's time to get home for their regular bedtime. Later on, you'll see men and women shin-bly-shin in the middle and long-distance events. A participant may enter as many events as feet, heart and lungs permit. On the infield while the runs are taking place, you might find a former Olympic runner like Kent Barnard conducting an informal clinic with intermediate school kids.

Best of all, Run for Fun is free. No charge. Just come prepared with running clothes and some track or gym shoes.

"Aside from the excitement and good fellowship of Run for Fun," says Morales, "there's a deep satisfaction in knowing that the men, women and kids who come out for the events are developing a life-long interest in a very healthy and worthwhile sport."

Run for Fun is co-sponsored by the Ann Arbor Track Club and Ann Arbor Bank & Trust Co. The program continues through Aug. 24 at Ferry Field, S. State St., south of Hoover St., in Ann Arbor.

Area Drivers Dominate Speedway

Chelsea area stock car racers dominated the track Saturday night, July 17, at Butler Motor Speedway in Litchfield as they won four trophies in the Mid-Season Champion Races.

Tom Steele, a consistent figure in the winner's circle, once again did a great job of driving. To prove it, he brought home two trophies. Steele is driver of late model 90, co-sponsored by Steele's Heating and Cooling, and Boyer Automotive of Chelsea.

Steele started on the pole in the 10-lap heat race and carried the lead all the way to the checkered flag. Later, starting eighth in the 25-lap semi, he gunned ahead, kept competition at bay, and came through to win again.

Sportsman 90, driven by Zid Bevard and sponsored by Owens Waterloo Store, started on the pole in the fifth heat. Bevard maintained his lead throughout the race to finish with a first-place trophy. Starting in second place in the sportsman semi, he quickly maneuvered to the lead, held it, and received his second trophy of the evening.

Senior Citizens Usually Find Help at I&R Office

There is a little place, nestled right in the center of the Social Security Administration office, where senior citizens of Washtenaw county telephone with all sorts of queries and dilemmas.

The place, known as Information and Referral (I&R), consists of little more than two desks, two telephones and a few people. But those people, bolstered by the support of the Washtenaw County Council on Aging and the Social Security Administration, work to make the lives of senior citizens just a little bit better.

To do this they bridge the information gap between seniors and the agencies that provide services for them. Many seniors simply do not realize what services are available to them or where to turn when they need help.

I & R has accumulated mammoth files since they opened on April 1, 1973. When a senior inquires about anything from consumer complaints to legal problems, from recreation information to help in the home, from financial concerns to living arrangements, the staff searches and searches until it exhausts all available resources, to return with a reply.

Presently, I&R is staffed by Carol Pratt, co-ordinator, Anthony Scott, outreach worker, and six dedicated volunteers. One of them mans the phone, Monday through Friday, 9 a.m. to 4:45 p.m. The phone number is 863-6600, after hours 1-800-462-8012.

When asked about I&R, Carol Pratt stated, "I&R is a positive service, not only for seniors, but for other agencies who use I&R as a resource of information." She explained that although the service is geared to seniors, any county resident may call and ask for information.

Often the interactions between I&R and its clients are quite successful. And sometimes I&R solves a problem the caller never even asked about.

Take the case of a lady from one of our neighboring communities. She telephoned about a problem with her landlord, who had not returned her security deposit when she moved.

I&R referred the woman to Legal Aid. Later I&R called her back on a routine follow-up to discover the result of the interaction. At that time the lady asked if she was eligible for food stamps.

The woman explained that all her money had gone to medical bills for her heart. She received Supplemental Security Income (SSI), which is granted only in cases of need. Her son-in-law also was struggling to pay her medical bills and still support his family.

This puzzled I&R. Anyone who received SSI should receive Medicaid for medical bills. I&R checked into the case and found that there had indeed been a mistake. Consequently, Medicaid paid her present bills and reimbursed her for the bills already paid.

Mrs. Jean Ling, volunteer, comments on cases like this, "The most satisfaction comes when people call up in deep trouble and you make suggestions, and tell them of people like them with the same problem. You feel them relax and accept that there is some solution to their problem."

Another way I&R assists seniors is by contacting an agency for a client. Often the co-ordinator or one of the volunteers will pre-call an agency, explain the senior's problem and ascertain whether or not the agency can help. Often it takes four or five calls to locate the proper agency.

Anthony Scott works with I&R as an Outreach worker. He goes out into the community and seeks isolated seniors with low incomes who are unaware of I&R services. He also assists people in filling out forms and sometimes suggests procedures seniors might follow to alleviate their problems. He says of his job, "It's nice but it's frustrating, because there are not enough services for seniors living alone."

I&R receives many requests from seniors living alone who want live-in companions. Unfortunately, I&R cannot satisfy many of these requests because very few people wish to leave their homes and move in with an unfamiliar person.

In addition, requests for help with chores in the home are common. These requests may be as simple as a call for someone to defrost the refrigerator for an elderly person with arthritis. Finding a person to provide this service is nearly impossible.

Most seniors will pay for these services. But the majority of people interested in chore service, work for large companies that charge a pretty penny for a day's service. Seniors, living on a fixed income, cannot afford such companies' rates.

I&R originated as a result of a federal directive from former President Nixon. Nixon stated that the Social Security Administration offices should start information and referral services. He did not, however, allocate any funds for the endeavor.

Robert Kehoe, of the Social Security Administration, began the I&R desk in response to the directive. He staffed it with a few volunteers. Soon afterward, the Social Security Administration decided to combine forces with the WCCOA.

Presently, the WCCOA provides staff, telephones, office materials and organization. The Social Security Administration arranged for office space and staff supervision by Mary Carr, of the Social Security office.

Thus far, I&R has been a success. WCCOA estimates that for 1976, I&R will help 3,000 cases over the phone and 1,200 cases in person.

I&R knows they have a good thing going. They hope that more seniors will take advantage of their services. They also wish that any person interested in helping seniors with simple chores will contact them.

If you are a senior with a question or problem, please give I&R a call. Talking can help, especially when the person on the other end of the line knows his business. New ideas and insights can blossom from conversation. And sometimes a friendly voice can make all the difference.

Aug. 2 Deadline For Employers Quarterly Tax

Monday, Aug. 2, is the last day for Michigan employers to report and pay Social Security and withheld federal income taxes for the second quarter of 1976.

"Employers have until Aug. 10 to file Form 941, 'Employer's Quarterly Federal Tax Return,' if they have deposited the entire quarterly tax liability on time in a federal reserve bank or authorized commercial bank," said R. L. Plate, IRS district director.

Employers should use the pre-addressed Form 941 mailed to them by the IRS or obtain copies of the form from the nearest IRS office.

IRS Publication 15, "Circular E—Employer's Tax Guide," is available free from the IRS to provide more information for employers.

SENIOR CITIZEN HELPER: Seated behind her desk, with one of the many reference sources available at the Information and Referral Services Office of the Social Security Administration before her, is Mrs. Jean Ling, who volunteers her time to help area senior citizens with any query or problem they may have. I & R assists seniors with anything from legal problems to financial concerns.

Dexter Township Okays Flood Insurance Plan

A special meeting of the Dexter Township Board was held Tuesday, July 13. The only item discussed was the national flood insurance program.

After considerable debate with HUD and local residents, the board decided to join the national flood insurance program. By this action, the board averted the shut-off of mortgage money which HUD would have imposed on those pieces of property mapped within the flood plain. The property thus designated is limited to the area surrounding Portage Lake and bordering the Huron River.

Area residents may now purchase flood insurance at a subsidized rate. After an elevation study planned for the coming year is complete, the specific land parcels considered flood prone will be reaffirmed. Prior to that final designation, there will be local input and a public hearing.

HUD's appearance at this special meeting demonstrates a reversal of their original refusal to meet with township officials. (See related story in Dexter Leader, July 15.)

The regular July meeting of Dexter Township Board on July 6 had included a discussion on the flood insurance program. However, in reply to the township's request at that time, that HUD send a representative to meet with the Township Board, HUD had refused, claiming they had neither the time nor finances to meet with units of local government. Thus their appearance at the July 13 meeting demonstrated a reversal of their prior decision.

Crafty Ladies Will Host Polka Party

Chelsea's Crafty Ladies will host a polka party for anyone who likes to dance the polka on July 31, 8 p.m. at the Chelsea Fair Service Center. Dancing will last until midnight.

Refreshments will be served and ice will be provided, but everyone is asked to bring their own beverages. Although these bicentennial belles were unable to locate a reasonably priced band, their ingenuity resulted in a selection of some of the best polka records to be found.

Couples will be charged $2, and singles $1 to cover the cost of the food and building. Come high-stepping, in high spirits, and prepared to dance the night away.

Bicentennial Starts With Square Dance

What would Chelsea's Bicentennial Week be without a square dance? The Agriculture Day committee has solved the problem by hiring Luke Schaible's Square Dance Band to play for everyone on Friday, Aug. 13 from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m.

The dance will be held at the merchant's building on the fair grounds so there will be plenty of room for everyone.

Hot dogs, sloppy joes, potato chips and other refreshments will be sold as well as beer and set-ups.

The Kiwanis Kitchen will also be present to take care of the hungry dancers.

Tickets will be $2 per person and are available from all Royal Rural Roosters and Roosters, McCalla Feeds and Washtenaw Crop Service. Tickets will also be available at the door.

Ackley Team Still Leading Little League

In little league action for the week of July 19, Niebauer's first-place team lost to Ackley, 4-2, and tied with Kelly, 3-3.

However, Niebauer's chargers regained some of their opening game momentum to snuff out Schaffner, 1-0, and Mills, 8-0. The lone run against Schaffner was earned by a walk with bases loaded.

The remaining games showed Schaffner 10-2 over Hoffman, Ackley destroying Farley, 15-1, and Ackley shutting out Kelly, 17-0.

Help Tom Minick launch a revolution against crime!

3111 DALE VIEW DRIVE • ANN ARBOR, MICHIGAN 48103 • TELEPHONE (313) 761-7838

Tom
Minick
FOR SHERIFF
REPUBLICAN

To the Citizens of Washtenaw County:

Crime in Washtenaw County has been increasing each year for the last decade. And of the four largest polling agencies in the county, the Sheriff's Department has been the least effective in dealing with crime.

Fact. Attempted burglaries have increased 157%.

Fact. Rapes have increased 58%.

Fact. Armed robbery has increased 25%.

Fact. This increased crime rate has occurred despite a 127% increase in manpower in the Sheriff's Department.

As a Command Officer with the Ann Arbor Police Department, I've learned over the past 15 years that we cannot rely on yesterday's solutions to meet today's growing crime problems. While no one can guarantee a drastic reversal in our crime rate, I believe that new approaches must be undertaken.

First, the suppression of crime in Washtenaw County should be our top priority. For years we have been attempting to lock the criminal out of our homes without success. The time has now come to lock up the criminal instead. Wishing, predicting, and even asking that crime statistics be lowered is a pipe dream until the career criminal is punished rather than returned to the streets to prey upon us again and again.

Second, we cannot afford to wait for ill-defined and long-range social reforms to bring down the crime rate in this county. We must re-establish the principle that criminals are accountable for their crimes. While it is true that man's environment may help to explain a man's crime, it does not excuse it.

And third, we must abandon the idea that more money means better law enforcement. This has been proven false in the past, as evidenced by our spiraling law enforcement budgets. We need a well-managed, effective, and diversified program of crime control. We must restore road patrols and restructure rehabilitation programs without taxing ourselves into bankruptcy. It can be done if we all work together.

If these are the things which you believe, I urge you to help me be elected Sheriff of Washtenaw County. I can think of no better time than our bi-centennial year to launch a revolution against crime.

Cordially,

Tom Minick

State Historical Society Offers Centennial Business Awards

In honor of the Bicentennial era, the Historical Society of Michigan is offering centennial business certificates to all businesses in the state that were founded at least 100 years ago. According to Frank C. Wilhelm, director of the state historical society, the centennial business program is being conducted to encourage Michigan communities to become more aware of their business and industrial history.

"We hope that this program will also increase the interest in preserving important commercial and industrial buildings throughout the state," Wilhelm said. "These structures serve as significant visual links with our past."

To launch the centennial business certificate program, the Historical Society of Michigan is holding a contest to find the oldest business in the state. The Oldest Business in Michigan Contest will locate the oldest ongoing businesses that still pursue their original business or one that is closely related.

Contest winners will be named in three categories: (1) oldest continuously operating business in original building; (2) oldest continuously operating business on original site but not in original building; and (3) oldest continuously operating business relocated from original building and site.

Winners in each category will receive framed certificates from the Historical Society of Michigan and honorary corporate memberships in the society. In addition, the business with the oldest over-all founding date will be presented with a framed pen and ink drawing of its first business office.

To apply for a centennial business certificate and to enter the contest, businesses should send a letter to the Society with the following information:

- (1) name of business, address, and zip code;
- (2) date business was founded;
- (3) Xerox copy or description of documentation to verify founding date;
- (4) contest category;
- (5) name and address of person submitting entry; and
- (6) name of the president or chief executive officer of the business.

All letters should be postmarked no later than Aug. 15. They should be mailed to the Historical Society of Michigan, 2117 Washtenaw Ave., Ann Arbor 48104.

The centennial business certificates will be presented this fall in cooperation with local historical organizations. Contest winners will be announced as soon as the results are tabulated.

Frontier Day Will Feature Craft Displays

working, knitting, smocking and embroidery will be located in the Red Barn. While some craftsmen will feature finished products made prior to the occasion, all will undertake on-the-scene demonstrations of their craft to provide visitors with a sample view of the old-time techniques. A few items will be available for sale.

Food booths will be in operation from lunch time until 6 p.m. Belles groups, local church organizations, and social clubs will sell baked goods, corn on the cob, German pretzels, home-made dry noodles, popcorn, candy, beverages, and much more.

In the afternoon, beginning about 1 p.m., a variety of contests have been slated with prizes for first, second, and third-place finishers. Anyone between the ages of 1 and 100 may participate. Among the events selected, to test the frontier skills of Chelsea's rough and ready, will be a Green Mountain Boys obstacle course, hatchet throw, horseshoe pitch (bring your own shoes and/or horse), gauntlet run, log sawing competition, ring toss, seed spitting contest, taffy pull, and Indian arm wrestling bout. Awards will be presented at 5:30 p.m. at the fairgrounds grandstand.

A special highlight of the Frontier Day celebration will be an afternoon Medicine Show, near the fair service center. The show will consist of several short skits depicting the trials and tribulations of frontier life.

Bicentennial Challenges

The Royal Rural Roosters Roosters have started hearing a lot of racket on a local body of water. Upon investigation, we discovered the Mill Creek Bubbly Belles ringing their chimes and babbling on about playing softball. Not wishing to let a bunch of wet ding-a-lings make rash statements, we, the Royal Rural Rooster Roosters do hereby publicly challenge you to come on shore Aug. 19, and show us how a batter clatters.

We, the "Roarin'" Ruffles do hereby challenge the following Belles groups to events as specified, and hope none of you are too scared to face us or feel you are being trapped or cheated in. We challenge the Whisker Sufferettes to a watermelon and seed-spitting contest July 23, downtown Chelsea; the Chelsea Canoe Association Belles to an inner-tube race July 24, Veterans Park; the Lady Lady Lakers to a tug-of-war July 24, Veterans Park; the Belles of the Nozzle to a water bucket relay July 24, Veterans Park; the Blue Bonnet Belles to a bubble gum blowing contest July 30, downtown Chelsea; the Haystack Cuties to an egg tossing contest July 30, downtown Chelsea; the Wild Wooley Wonders to a Softball game Aug. 1, Chelsea High school; the Babbling Bauer Belles to a horseshoe pitch Aug. 8, Pierce Park; the Country Belles to a croquet contest Aug. 8, Pierce Park; and the Royal Rural Rooster Roosters to crazy baseball Aug. 22, Chelsea High school. Answer these challenges in the paper or call Norene Collins, 475-7387.

There's nothing sweeter than youth, nor anything as truthful.

Bicentennial Notes

The Blue Bonnet Belles are coming to town. This Saturday, July 24, we will take on the Waterloo Lilies in the tug-of-war over Letts Creek at 2 p.m. Later the same day, we are hoping to take on the Star Spangled Belles in the water bucket relay.

The Bicentennial Activities Committee would like to remind the Belles chapters that the 8x10 inch squares with your group name and decoration should be dropped off at Bicentennial Headquarters, or given to Wanda or Bev as soon as possible. The committee is also planning a flea market. If you would be interested in joining the fun, contact Wanda and watch The Standard for further information.

Kidnapping...

Chelsea police, because a ransom note has not yet been received. In November, 1975, Siegel had attempted to seize David in a similar incident at South school, but was prevented from doing so by principal Sylvester Wojcik. Prior to that, and before David came to live with his foster parents, Siegel had taken David from his wife, Mrs. Edith (Siegel) Rodgers, after she filed for divorce. He drove out West with David, stopping in California and Arizona. David's mother went to Arizona to return David to his home.

Chelsea police chief George Meranuck has said, "we don't think Siegel would actually harm the boy, but he is very mixed up emotionally and the thing we fear is David's resistance. He might anger Siegel to violence."

David was looking forward to celebrating his eighth birthday on July 23, according to his foster mother, who has asked to remain unidentified. She expressed the following feelings in a public statement: "I know David is sick about being taken from his home and friends. He had just begun to believe this wouldn't happen to him again. He has had many fearful experiences but is a lovable, appreciative little boy. No one has controlled the situations which have affected him, and when he returns, we all want to help him. He will need adult friends who will be able to offer him their support by keeping an eye out for him." Last Sunday, David's foster parents went shopping for new fall school clothes for David in anticipation of his return.

Agriculture Day

Following the parade, come and enjoy a fine country swiss steak dinner. Boy Scout Troop 465 is preparing a meal of swiss steak, mashed potatoes, beans, rolls and butter, dessert and beverage for only $2.75. Dinner will be served from 4 p.m. to 8 p.m. on Agriculture Day, Aug. 20. Everyone will be served as quickly as possible. While you are waiting or when you are finished you may participate in a hog-calling contest, an egg toss, or other special events. Or, watch an old-fashioned threshing bee and other farm-related exhibitions. These will be going on outdoors before and during the meal, so come to the fairgrounds and plan to spend the day. Be sure to stay for dinner.

Wojcicki Pony Leaguers Chalk Up Perfect Game

The week of July 12 proved to be the week of peak performance for Jim Sprague's Pony Leaguers. After winning their first game, 2-1, against a tough Schroentenboer team, they came back to bounce Sweet's team, 9-7. Sprague's chargers were ecstatic following each victory. The team has been steadily improving week by week to overshadow their season opening loss to Schroentenboer, 17-5. In another highlight of the week, Wojcicki's throwers pitched a perfect game as they combined their skills to shut-out Owings, 7-0, without allowing so much as a single hit or walk.

Bishop Named For Michigan Methodists

United Methodists have elected and appointed a new bishop for the State of Michigan in the person of the Rev. Dr. Edsel Ammons of Chicago. Bishop Ammons was named July 15 at the Jurisdictional (regional) Conference in South Dakota after his election a day earlier. His ministry as episcopal leader for nearly 300,000 church members in the state will begin Aug. 31.

At the same session, Bishop Dwight E. Loder who had served a 12-year term in Michigan was assigned to the Western Ohio Area with headquarters in Columbus, O. Dr. Loder had formerly been the president of U. M. Garrett Theological School in Evanston, Ill.

It is from the newly merged Garrett-Evangelical School that Dr. Ammons comes, having begun his professorship there in the area of Church and Urban studies in 1968. The Chicago area is his home and he served two parishes there before his work at Garrett. He is now 52.

The new bishop was ordained into the Christian ministry in Detroit in 1949, entering the pastorate in the African Methodist Episcopal denomination and then transferring to the Methodist Church in 1957. Mrs. June Ammons and the Bishop have six children and she is now employed at the Health and Welfare Ministries headquarters of the denomination in Evanston. They expect to make their home in the Detroit area, where one of the two conference offices is located. The other is in Grand Rapids, and the bishop will serve throughout the state as chief pastor of nearly 1,000 churches.

Dutch Tourists Entertained

Falling prey to a "dutch treat," Chelsea's friendliness was evident again the week-end beginning July 16 as eight area residents entertained the 17 tourists from the Netherlands, pictured above.

The Dutch citizens, having hosted a high school band director to local residents, Bruce and Karen Galbraith, to confirm Chelsea as a final stop on the group's two-week American holiday.

After a slight delay, incurred by a Canadian air pilot's strike, the trip was on.

Following their visit to Chelsea, the Dutch tourists bussed to Niagara Falls, and then to Toronto Airport for their return to Amsterdam.

Chelsea now has a personal tie to Bergh, an area in southeastern Holland. There is good reason to believe the exchange of visits has not ended, but instead has just begun.

Patricia Spencer Earns All-A Record At Ohio Northern

Patricia Spencer of Chelsea, a junior at Ohio Northern University, was named to the Dean's List in honor of her outstanding scholastic achievement during the 1976 spring term.

A biology major at the university, Miss Spencer completed her last semester with a 4.0 grade point average.

Harvest Fair Plans Are Being Promoted

An announcement and invitation to all area people has been extended by organizers of a local Harvest Fair tentatively being planned for the fall. After reading about other successful Harvest Fairs, it was decided that Chelsea may be an ideal community in which to try out the idea.

Specifically, the idea entails that on a predetermined day (a Saturday or Sunday in October) area people will come together to trade the fruits of their labor. Each person or family will bring their tradeable goods, set up a table or booth, and trade or buy desirable goods their friends or neighbors have brought. The intention is not that of a garage sale - do not bring items which would have no barter value.

Even though the fair is a long way off in the future, an announcement at this time will allow people to begin producing extra quantities of goods with the express purpose of trading them for their goods in a few months. Why not begin dreaming up what you could trade?

The following is a list of some ideas: Produce (potatoes, onions, pumpkins, apples, squash, etc.), eggs, honey, canned goods, pickles, peaches, sauerkraut, tomatoes, etc., jellies and jams, nuts, plants, straw and grains, books, sewn goods (quilts, aprons, alterations, etc.), crafts (pottery, ceramics, leather goods, jewelry, embroidery, Christmas decorations, etc.), baked goods, dried flowers and arrangements, herbs and spices, and services (baby-sitting, house-sitting, wallpapering, etc.).

For information or suggestions, call Linda Ellenwood, 475-7245, and keep watching The Standard for more details.

Proving Ground Tours Offered For Bicentennial

Beginning Friday, July 23, and continuing every Friday until Aug. 13, 5 p.m. to 9 p.m., a special Chelsea Bicentennial shuttle will carry passengers to and from the Chrysler Proving Grounds for a tour of the premises. Anyone interested in a first-hand view of the area, first opened to the public on the occasion of the 1976 Steve Cantrell Cancer Bike-a-thon, is welcome aboard.

Following a tour of the grounds, films will be shown on location. A $1 donation is being asked by the Bicentennial Committee to offset transportation costs. Currently plans are still being finalized with regard to buses. Anyone with information leading to the procurement of suitable vehicles is asked to contact Bicentennial Headquarters.

REVISES INCOME STANDARD

The Labor Department, having overlooked the new tax credit in preparing its annual urban budgets, has revised down by an average of some $200 the income families need to maintain their standard of living.

TODAY'S THOUGHT

By LOUIS BURGHARDT

Old friends are often nudged by nostalgia when they get together. Questions like - "Remember the time we . . . ?" bring a nod of the head and brightened eyes in a flow of reminiscence of former times, places and people. Instant recollections through golden memories often heighten the experiences of by gone days.

Occasionally it happens that that which was bitter to endure in a former day is now, in a later day, sweet to remember. More often however, the memories that never die and grow brighter as years go by, are memories of happiness. Cheerful days are long remembered. Cheerless days are soon forgotten.

In retrospect, man is happier in the present for having been happy in the past. If you want to be happy or make someone happy 24 hours, 24 days, months or years from now - NOW is the time to create the happiness that will be made happier by the memory of it . . . (And incidentally, we are always happy to receive your comment in person, phone or letter . . .) BURGHARDT FUNERAL HOME, 214 East Middle

by William G. MILLER

Question: Is it true that you signed a bill that gives Detroit City more money to bail it out of financial difficulty?

Governor: No. The first bill to pass as part of a Detroit package authorizes the City of Detroit to levy a three-mill garbage tax on its residents, in hopes of generating $14.6 million which the city needs. This bill is a key element in the Detroit aid package which Mayor Young and I worked out together for submission to the legislature. The total package was designed to enable Detroit to help itself, while recognizing that the entire state has a serious stake in the fate of our biggest city. Another element in the package requires the city to make substantial and dramatic budget cuts totaling $46 million, which further underscores the fact that this is a self-help package and not a bail out.

Question: I would like to know when you are going to stop the Indians from hunting and fishing without a license?

Governor: As you may know, there are a number of cases presently in litigation before state and federal courts on the question of the state's right to regulate the fishing and hunting practices of American Indian citizens. Because these rights were established in treaties signed between the Indian nations and the United States Government, they may not be subject to Michigan statute. If that is determined to be the case, then the state would be in violation of the law by attempting to enforce Michigan regulations on Indian fishing.

Until a decision is reached in the appropriate courts of law, the Michigan Department of Natural Resources will enforce the present statute to the best of its ability in those areas of the state where local prosecutors and judges have indicated a willingness to entertain such cases.

Question: The conditions in some mental health facilities in this state are deplorable, and I feel that you as Governor need to take whatever steps are necessary to make mental health administrators correct conditions in some of Michigan's mental health facilities and to restore services and medical assistance to psychiatric patients.

Governor: I have been making, and will continue to make, visits to mental health facilities to determine what measures need to be taken to upgrade the quality of care in the public mental health system. In addition, I have directed the Department of Mental Health to develop a program which documents actual mental health needs, sets standards of performance and then determines budget levels. I intend to push for more funds for the mental health program as the state's revenue picture improves.

Question: I think that the petition drive to put on the November ballot the issue of whether returnable bottles should be available is great. As a kid, my major source of spending money came from the deposits on returnable bottles which I collected off the streets. Do you think the voters will vote for returnables?

Governor: Yes. I do believe voters will vote for returnables, because I think we are all tired of seeing the litter created from bottles and cans on the streets and highways. The Michigan United Conservation Clubs has done a remarkable job collecting more than 300,000 returnable bottles during their five-week campaign, when they needed only 212,000 signatures to put the issue on the ballot. This demonstrates the interest and will of the people. Although it will be a difficult task between now and November, I am confident that we will succeed in getting the non-returnable banned.

Steeb Reunion Held Sunday At Legion Home

Members of the Steeb family and invited guests gathered at the American Legion Home in Dexter for their 26th annual family reunion. Some 86 persons attended the picnic on Sunday, July 18.

The oldest member in attendance was Matilda Klumpp, 86, while the youngest was Robin Ann Groves, six weeks, the daughter of Catherine and Richard Groves of Manchester.

New officers elected are William Steeb, president, and Mrs. Phyllis Steeb, secretary. Eugene Steeb remained treasurer.

Special thanks went to Jack Ritchie for making the arrangements and to Mrs. Carl Stoll for keeping the family records up to date.

Study in 1934 showed trucks handled 51.6 percent of livestock shipments.

"Fairs provide an excellent opportunity for a friendly exchange between consumers and the producers of Michigan's agricultural bounty. There are nearly 50 important crops produced in our state," Ball said.

New Warranty Law Affects Guarantees Made on Clothing

Consumers can expect explicit warranties from clothing manufacturers, according to Bernetta Kahabka, Michigan State University Extension clothing specialist. A new law which became effective July 4, 1975, does not make warranties mandatory, but it does set standards that manufacturers must follow if they offer warranties.

"Formerly, a warranty was considered only as good as the reliability of the trademark or brand name backing it up. The new law makes possible a guarantee of product performance rather than an implication of performance," Miss Kahabka stresses.

Warranties are becoming even more important because consumer products are becoming too complex to be evaluated by consumers.

Look for warranties on products and consider them in your purchase decision because the manufacturer will meet the terms stated in the guarantee. The warranty may involve only one performance factor such as shrinkage. Or the manufacturer may replace the garment or refund you money if the garment proves unsatisfactory in any way, within a stated time period.

This provision of the new law distinguished between "limited" and "full" warranties. A full warranty covers all aspects of fiber, fabric and apparel performance; a limited warranty will not. The act requires that definite performance, whether full or limited, be assured in easily understood language.

"Another requirement affected by the law is the use of the word 'guarantee,'" states Miss Kahabka. "This word will no longer appear by itself on any hangtag or advertisement. It must be accompanied by the word 'warranty.'"

Not all products will be sold under warranty. The manufacturer must be able to justify his expense for research, testing and quality control.

On the other hand, warranted clothing products are not necessarily better than unwarranted merchandise. Many manufacturers maintain rigid quality control programs without giving warranties. However, warranties do give the consumer some concrete evidence that the product is guaranteed.

To protect the warranty, consumers must save their sales slips and warranty tags. Consumers have the responsibility for following recommended care procedure and not misusing products.

Although the law went into effect July 4, 1975, it will take about a year for all the procedures to be set up.

It was a fine year for Michigan apples in 1975 with a 7 percent increase over 1974. Total 1975 apple production was 720 million pounds, valued at $31,950,000. In volume of Northern Spies and Jonathans Michigan stands first in the nation but in total varieties we rank third. Jonathans, McIntosh, Red Delicious and Spies accounted for 72 percent of Michigan's 1975 crop, grown chiefly in Berrien, Van Buren and Kent counties. From the previous year, Northern Spies jumped 33 percent, Red Delicious 19 percent, and Jonathans 12 percent. In apple processing—such as canned and frozen apple products—we rank near the top among apple producing states.

AGRICULTURE IN ACTION

★ Powder Your Nose With a Cow Bone

What's more tantalizing, taste bud tickling, than the sight, sound and smell of a thick, juicy steak sizzling on the grill on a warm summer evening? This, indeed, is the Good Life! Makes you glad you're not a vegetarian. A part of our Good Life, of course, is the freedom to be a vegetarian if that's what you want to be. But even those who have chosen this route as their own personal protest against killing animals may be consuming more than they realize. There's a lot more to a steer than steak, and a lot more to hogs than pork chops. In fact, less than half of these live animals end up on the dinner table.

If vegetarians wash their hair, powder their noses and brush their teeth, they are likely consuming the bones and bristles of slaughtered animals.

The leather in the shoes and belts they wear, the purses they carry, the lard in the baked goods they eat, and the medicine which could save their lives... all contain the by-products of livestock.

If they play the violin, the strings are probably made from an animal by-product. And if they're doctors, their surgical instruments will contain some part of an animal.

The list could go on and on... ink, paints, gelatin, candles, soap, glue, wallpaper, carpet pads, gaskets. Most consumers are totally unaware of how many important products rely on some animal by-product for their existence.

And for those flesh-eaters who savor their steaks, it is the many uses for animal by-products that helps keep the cost of their meat far below what it might be if the by-products could not be used.

A 1,000-pound steer yields only about 440 pounds of meat. Imagine what that steak would cost if the rest of him were not usable!

More than 362,800 GI home loan applications were received by the Veterans Administration in 1975.

Bicentennial Tug-of-War Set Saturday

All of Chelsea is invited to a Bicentennial Tug-of-War slated for Saturday, July 24, 2 p.m. at Letts Creek in Veterans Park. Participants will come from among the local brigade and bella chapters with the chapter chairman as front puller for each team.

Contest regulations specify a weight allowance of 1,500 pounds. You may have as many ladies pulling as you want, as long as their combined weights do not exceed the limitation. All contestants will be required to weigh in.

The use of the fence for leverage is strictly prohibited. Judges will watch closely for violators.

The victors will be the first team to pull the front puller of the opposing team across the middle of the creek. All losing chapters will be penalized with a "swim" in the creek.

Any chapter which would like to issue a challenge to any other chapter is asked to call Karen Steinaway, 475-7610 days, or 475-1943 evenings.

Board of Commissioners
Wednesday, June 16, 1976
Record of Proceedings

EVENING SESSION

An adjourned session of the Washtenaw County Board of Commissioners was held at the Court House in the City of Ann Arbor, Michigan, on Wednesday, June 16, 1976.

The meeting was called to order by Chair Murray at 7:05 p.m.

The Board stood in a moment of silence.

Roll call found Commissioner Stumbo absent.

Comm. Fojtik supported by Comm. Taylor moved that the minutes of the June 2nd meeting of the Board of Commissioners be approved. Carried.

Special Order of Business:

Dr. Dayton Benjamin, Director of the Washtenaw County Council on Aging spoke to the Board and introduced Rev. Henry Yoder who made the presentation to the Board.

The presentation dated June 16, 1976 was submitted and Rev. Yoder read certain paragraphs from the report. The Council on Aging requested funds in the amount of $17,657 for fiscal 1976 and $34,442 for fiscal 1977.

Comm. Fojtik suggested that the Board refer this to the Human Resources and Budget Committees for further study and investigation. Comm. McClary stated that the Budget Committee is currently developing a format that we would like to get requests in so that we can evaluate them fairly. Comm. McClary suggested that rather than referring this to committee, that when the Controller has our final document prepared, since we have given you an allocation in the past, you will automatically receive a copy of that and then you can do the budget outline in a specific format and that will go to our Budget Committee automatically to be discussed and reviewed.

R-6381 Comm. Nielsen supported by Comm. Israel moved that the request from the Washtenaw County Council on Aging be referred to the Human Resources Committee. Discussion. Question was called. Carried. Motion to refer carried.

Sid Baker, President, Southeast Michigan Tourist and Travel Association spoke to the Board. He introduced Mr. Steven Wilson his associate to the Board. They were present tonight to re-open a dialogue with Washtenaw County. It has been a few years since the County has appropriated any money to this organization. He discussed the value the County would receive from belonging to this association. They would like to be considered for an appropriation.

Citizen Participation:
Stanley Dulgeroff from the Criminal Justice Training Center spoke to the Board. He read a statement to the Board concerning the continuance of the Criminal Justice Training Center. Mr. Dulgeroff urged the Board to consider two courses of action which he feels will serve to maintain the Center: 1) honor the budgetary commitment you made to the Center when you approved the 1976 budget last December before $15,000 was removed for the cash match for the federal grant. Replacing the money that will not be used for the cash match will provide the necessary funds to retain the Assistant Director's position which is due to expire June 30th. 2) Allow the present Administrative Board to continue to function for the remainder of the year in its present capacity with full control over the grant and the operation of the Center. Inform them that they have six months to develop a plan for future funding which will remove the Training Center from the County budget.

Daniel Tsang spoke to the Board on behalf of Jim Toy whose communication was submitted at tonight's meeting. (R-6380)

Chelsea Youth Charged as Driver Of Stolen Auto

Washtenaw county sheriff's patrol officers William Holfield and Ronald J. Schebil recovered a stolen car following a short chase at speeds over 75 miles per hour and arrested the driver of the stolen vehicle, Stephen L. Groh, 18, of Ann Arbor and Chelsea, on a charge of possession of stolen property worth more than $100.

Officers said they were on routine patrol early Tuesday morning, July 13, when they saw two cars speed through a sign at Braeburn Circle and Ellsworth Rd., Ann Arbor. A check of one of the cars, a silver 1972 Chevrolet Vega station wagon, showed it had been stolen from a residence nearby, reports said.

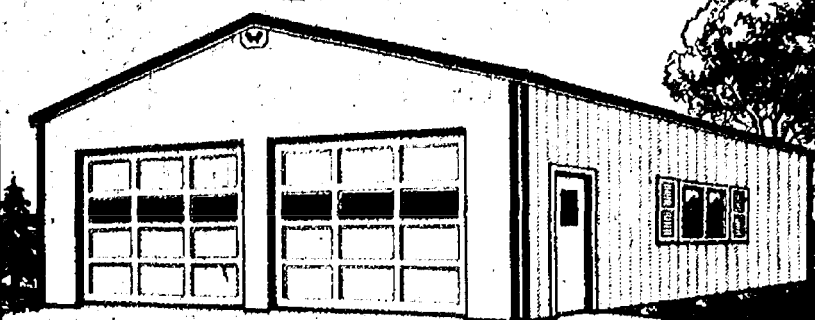

Holfield and Schebil stopped the vehicle at Platt and Packard Rds. Groh was to be arraigned in court the same day.

AN OPEN LETTER FROM FORMER SHERIFF DOUGLAS J. HARVEY

Friend,

Election time is here again. Although I've decided not to run for the office of Sheriff of Washtenaw County, I'd like your support for a man qualified for the job.

His name is Charles L. (Chuck) Broderick.

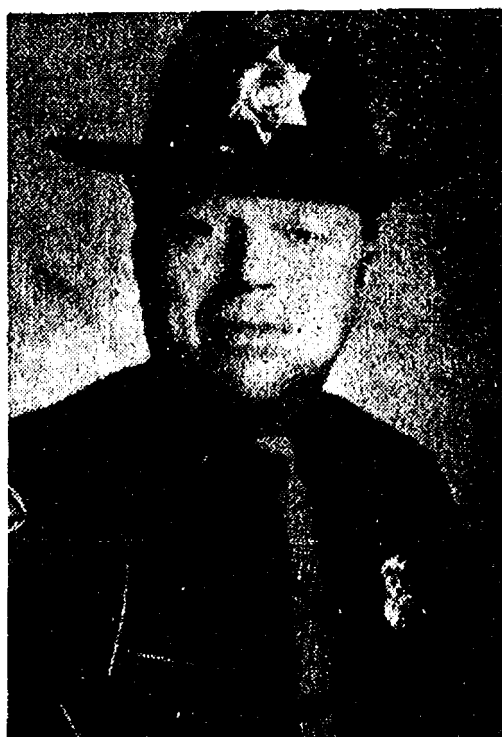

I feel Chuck is the best man for the job for several reasons. He worked under me in several capacities . . . undercover narcotics investigations . . . the Detective Bureau . . . and the patrol rising to the rank of Lieutenant.

Chuck is young, aggressive, and with his well rounded police experience, I feel he instinctively knows what steps need to be taken for your protection.

Please help him and give the man your support. I certainly intend to.

Send your contributions to:
