Mrs. L. Ramp Dies Monday At Hospital

Mrs. Louis C. (Jessie H.) Ramp, 74, of 8051, Washington, Waterloo, died at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor on Aug. 2, after an illness of several months. A retired social worker, she had served as director of Chelsea Social Service from November, 1956 until Sept. 9, 1973, and then as a member of the board. She had previously been employed at the Jackson Bureau of Social Aid. Born Sept. 11, 1901 in Malone, N. Y., Mrs. Ramp was the daughter of Allen and Rose Edmonson Hitchcock. Following her graduation from the University of Illinois, she had done graduate work in the School of Social Service Administration at the University of Chicago and at the University of Michigan. She married Louis C. Ramp on June 6, 1931. He survives. They had lived in South Dakota and Chicago, Ill., before coming to Michigan in 1937. Mrs. Ramp was a member of St. Barnabas Episcopal church, Episcopal Church Women, and had served on the Bishop's Committee of the church. She was also a member of the Woman's Club of Chelsea. Survivors, in addition to her husband, include a number of cousins. Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. on Thursday, Aug. 5 at St. Barnabas Episcopal church with the Rev. Jerrold Beaumont officiating. Burial will follow at Mt. Hope Cemetery, Waterloo. Those wishing to do so may make contributions in Mrs. Ramp's memory to St. Barnabas Church Memorial Fund. Arrangements are by the Burghardt Funeral Home.

PONY LEAGUE TOURNNEY CHAMPS: These Owings team members captured the title in the Chelsea Recreation Pony League Tournament held the week-end of July 31. In the first round, Owings defeated T. Sprague to enter round two against Sweet. Owings scored 12 runs in the first inning to oust the Sweet title contenders from the tournament, ending the game with a final score of 12-5. In the finals, Owings team was pitted against the league champs, Wojcicki. Owings players carried their winning streak right through to the end as they upset the league leaders, 5-3. Seated, left to right in the front row, are John Drew, Mike Ward, Tim Pennington, Craig Hinz, Pete Eisele, Jamie Owings, Jim Herter and Mike Bice. Standing, in the back row are, left to right, Dave Gipson, Ron Lorenzen, Keith Hegadorn, Jeff Lantis, John Rowe, Mike Gipson, and Coach Ralph Owings. Missing from the photo is player Tom Headrick.

Minick Will Face Postill in November Contest for Sheriff

County, township and state results in the General Primary election on Aug. 3 produced some surprises and an unexpected turn-out of voters in some areas. In spite of the charges of felonious assault made against Sheriff Fred Postill, he beat out four other candidates for the Democratic nomination in November with 8,246 votes. Dorothy Hunawill, former Dexter village president, was the third highest vote-getter in the sheriff's race claiming 2,310 votes after a second-place candidate Charles Broderick with 6,358. Lush in Salyer of Chelsea received 1,306 votes and Richard W. Horn, 1,271. In the November election Sheriff Postill will face Ann Arbor police Lt. Tom Minick who won the Republican nomination with 10,415 votes over Fay A. Johnson, 6,397; James B. Taylor, 1,000; and Franklin Craft, 616. The proposition to increase the tax limitation for local parks and recreation went down to defeat by a close margin with 15,731 "no" votes and 15,211 "yes" votes. Two candidates for circuit court judge will be on the November ballot. Henry T. Conlin received 17,911 votes and Shirley Burgoine, 10,073. Arthur E. Carpenter received 4,732 votes in the judgeship race. Margaret O'Connor, Republican, with 1,056 votes will face Theodore J. Van Houten, Democrat, 425 votes in the race for county commissioner in District 3. Van Houten was unopposed, but O'Connor beat out Phil Beach, who received 869 votes and Jon K. Passow with 202 votes. In District 2 George A. Merkel, Republican, received 614 votes and will face James E. La Goe, Democrat, with 511 votes in the November election. Other Republican candidates were Edwin Coy, 571; Thomas S. Roberts, 277; and Pledger Chapman, 148. Incumbent prosecuting attorney William F. Delhey, Republican, who was unopposed received 14,001 votes, and will face Democrat George Steeh in November. Steeh, with 6,668 votes, won a close race over Ronald B. Keys, 6,022. County clerk Robert M. Harrison, Republican, received 13,298 votes and will face Janet R. Klavner, Democrat, who won over two opponents with 5,672 votes. William Gagnon received 4,913 votes and Rose Marie Melton had 4,043. Both candidates for county treasurer were unopposed. Robert W. Breymaier, Republican, had 11,994 votes and incumbent Hilary E. L. Goddard, Democrat, received 10,959. In the Democratic race for register of deeds, Shirley D. Shepherd received 6,270 votes over Denise Ann Israel with 5,553. Shepherd will face Patricia Newkirk Hardy, incumbent Republican, who had 13,024 votes. In the race for drain commissioner, Republican Howard W.

Plans Complete For Aug. 24 Fair Opening

In providing a preview glimpse of the Chelsea Fair, opening Tuesday, Aug. 24, the Chelsea Fair Board has announced that the Merchant's Building is filled to capacity, Ingalls Amusement Co. has promised a bigger and better midway this year, and entries for the Demolition Derby have started to come in, confirming everyone's expectation of more local drivers. The board promises lots of action in the arena every evening. Admission fees to the Fair have been revised by the board and are as follows: Adult Daily (entitles purchaser to entrance and all activities at the Fair for the day), $1. Parking in the lots for the day, Free. Thursday only (daily admission after 4 p.m.), $2. Season Pass (enables holder to park in lots, not on grounds, and enter the Fair any number of times), $4. Exhibitor Pass (allows exhibitors who hold pass and vehicle to park on the Fairgrounds to care for exhibits), $4. Student Season Pass (with high school I.D. card), $2. All children 14 and under admitted free. Features this year include Children's Parade, Tricycle Pull and Queen Contest on Tuesday evening followed by the annual Chelsea, Dexter, Ann Arbor Fireman's Waterball Tournament. Wednesday evening will feature a Pony Pull Contest. Thursday morning is the Antique Tractor Pull, while Thursday evening's entertainment will be the ever popular Demolition Derby. Friday morning the Tractor Pull begins and will continue into the night. The horseshoe pitching contest will be a daytime feature. Saturday's combined Fair and Bicentennial Parade will begin at 1 p.m., followed by the continuation of the Horse Show. The evening may be spent watching the 4-Wheel Drive Speed Pull. Because of the many bicentennial activities preceding the fair, the Fair Board announces that all exhibitors will be issued the same Exhibitor Number they held last year. This will be their own permanent number. Exhibitors are asked to come to the Fair office Aug. 9, 10, 11, or 12 between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. or to stop at the Fair Booth, located in front of Gar-Nett's Flower Shop on E. Middle St., Aug. 13 between 9 a.m. and 8:30 p.m., or (Continued on page three)

Pony League Tournament Won By Fourth-Place Owings Team

Chelsea Recreation Pony tournament was a story of upsets from the opening round. In round one Sweet's Bombers who had lost to Petsch twice during the regular season came back to throttle them, 5-2, on some key hitting and fielding throughout the game. In other round one action, J. Sprague's team upset Schroetenboer, 7-1. Sprague's pitchers limited the opposition to just four hits in the contest. The third game was a narrow 8-4 victory for Owings over T. Sprague. In round two the Sweet-Owings game was one of big innings for both teams. Owings scored 12 runs in the first while Sweet could muster only 5 in the third to give Owings the win, 12-5. Sprague's nine tried valiantly to upset the league champs by jumping to a quick 3-0 lead early in the game. Wojcicki's club, however, held Sprague in check while scoring 7 runs to win, 7-3. The final game pitted Wojcicki against Owings. The contest proved to be another upset as fourth place Owings defeated the league champs 5-3. Owings credited Tom Hedrick as the catalyst for his team's fine play throughout nine runs during the two-day affair. Owings had nothing but praise for his entire club.

Old-Timers Sought For Homecoming

A search is underway in Chelsea to locate the oldest man, the oldest woman, and the oldest married couple of longest continuous residence in Chelsea by organizers of Bicentennial Homecoming Day, slated for Monday, Aug. 16. Awards will be presented to the winners of these three categories in a special ceremony at 8 p.m. at the pageant site, prior to the opening curtain of the bicentennial pageant, "America '76", 8:30 p.m. that same evening. All community assistance with regard to the search should be funneled through Marion Sprague, 475-7290. (Continued on page five)

Final Caravan Goes to Grass Lake Saturday

The final caravan of this 1976 Bicentennial is scheduled for Saturday, Aug. 7, leaving the high school at 8 p.m., bound for Grass Lake. This is the last chance for you, the people of Chelsea to find out what a bunch of noisy people, honking their car horns, actually do on a caravan. There will be Keystone Kops and a Kangaroo Kourt to entertain the people of Grass Lake and invite them to Chelsea. They know that we are coming, so let's give them a good time and they'll all come our way.

First Lady Ball Tickets Now Available

Everyone likes a good dance and the dance committee for the Bicentennial has gone all out to make the First Lady's Ball a good one. Starting at 8 p.m. on Aug. 14 at Bicentennial Headquarters, music by The Researchers will entertain the first lady and her court, along with Miss Paula Taylor from Eufaula, Ala. Miss Taylor is our visiting queen, Eufaula's First Lady. Our First Lady will return the visit as part of the Chelsea's First Lady contest prizes. Advance tickets are on sale at Headquarters, Merkel's, Chelsea Card & Gift, and Heydiauff's at the cost of $15 per couple. This includes snacks, beer, and set-ups and a champagne breakfast at midnight. Be sure to get your tickets today. Nancy Kay Hepburn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Max Hepburn, 1191 Pierce Rd., has been selected to receive the 1976 Wurster-Crowell Scholarship, awarded annually by First Congregational church of Chelsea. Miss Hepburn is an active member of that church, serving in the church choir. She is 1976 cum laude graduate of Chelsea High school, and was profiled in this year's high school edition of "Who's Who in Music." In addition to her participation in two other Chelsea High school plays, Miss Hepburn was student director of the school's most recent production, "Carnival." Miss Hepburn will be attending University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, in the fall.

More People Needed For Pageant Cast

"It's not over yet," according to Chelsea Bicentennial officials. The national bicentennial is scheduled to run through 1984 which was the bicentennial of the actual forming of the United States and the election of George Washington as president. The big observance on the Fourth of July was the actual commemoration of the battle and the beginning of the Revolutionary War 200 years ago. The birthday anniversary of the United States is not until the 1984 date. Chelsea's observance of the Bicentennial is not considered late in coming but early in the actual planning of the nation's real 200th observance of the forming of the United States as a nation. Every one is encouraged to join in the big birthday party for the next eight years. One method of participation is to appear in the gigantic spectacular, "Sounds of America," that will be staged on Aug. 16-17, 19-20, 21. Wednesday, Aug. (Continued on page four)

Final Swim Class Series Now Forming

Friday, Aug. 6 marks the last day of registration for summer swimming lessons at Chelsea's new indoor swimming pool. Anyone interested in participating in the fourth and final session should be sure to enroll on or before that date. In a pool scheduling change, Tuesday night family swimming has been moved from the opening hour of 8:30 p.m. to 7 p.m. With fall fast approaching, school will soon resume. Already coaches are planning practices for their athletes. This year Chelsea High school will sponsor a girls swimming team. Any girl interested in participating on a girls high school swimming team should contact Mr. Reed at the indoor pool.

CAPTURING FIRST PLACE in the final Pony League standings for the 1976 summer season are these ball players coached by Syl Wojcicki. The team finished off the season with an almost perfect record, losing only one of the 12 games they played. Assisted with the advice of an outstanding coach, but basically relying on their natural ball playing talents, Wojcicki's team managed to demolish the threat of all contenders hoping to oust them from their lead. Seated in the front row, left to right, are Monty Wireman, Jeff Price, Kent Noll, Mike Thompson, and Michael Quinn. In the back row, left to right, are assistant coach Gary Bentley, Jon Bentley, Steve Wilson, coach Syl Wojcicki, Kevin Tobin, and Dave Wojcicki. Absent from the photo are team members Joel Krichbaum, Mike Mock, Phil Hoffman, Herbe Pierson, Ted Richardson, and Randy Krichbaum.

DR. M. G. WARNER-DUNLOP has opened an office at 118 First St., for the treatment of cardio-vascular diseases. She will be available for consultation on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays, 8:30 a.m. to 12 noon.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

The fellers at the country store has give up on Congress or the Ford Administration ever coming up with a energy policy, so Saturday night they proposed one of their own.

It was Clem Webster that first come out strong in favor of what the power companies call peak pricing. Clem said that looked to him like a idee whose time come back when air conditioners first outnumbered light bulbs.

So what Clem come up with, Mister Editor, was a peak pricing plan called SWET. He said that stood for Stop Wasting Energy Today, and he allowed he could cut the cost of cooling this country in half.

that use their air conditioners in the dead of winter in the middle of the night one night a week.

General, the fellers saw good and bad in the Webster Plan. First off, Zeke Grubb liked the part about visiting the neighbors, but he would amend that to say leave off the television where folks would have to go back to talking to one another.

As a practical matter, Ed Doolittle said Clem's plan was a good idee carried far. He said folks at home could change their time of cooking and cooling, but there's no way to cut back in all them new buildings that ain't got winders.

Final, the fellers adopted SWET, but Clem said it was watered down by amendments that the cost of cooling the country still would be more than heating it.

Yours truly, Uncle Lew.

Help for Elderly?

You're getting older. Your right isn't as good as it used to be. You can't get around too well. You'd like more than anything to spend the rest of your life in your own home.

But must it be? Senate Majority Leader William Fitzgerald, D-Detroit, and others think there are alternatives.

"Upwards of 25 percent of those in nursing homes right now do not need that kind of care," Fitzgerald said in a speech before the Michigan Hospital Association.

"And if you ask the elderly they will more often than not say they want to stay in their home."

Day care nurses are one answer. "There is a need," Fitzgerald said, "to expand the availability of home health care, and other less expensive alternatives to institutional long-term care by expanding Medicaid reimbursement options."

Such action could cut the Medicaid budget while it also helps older folks who don't want to be institutionalized.

Fitzgerald pointed out that the 5 percent of Medicaid recipients in nursing homes account for almost one-third of the program budget. And, he said, "the size of the elderly population in this state is expected to increase by at least one-third in the next 20 years."

They're Worried

Concern grows in some state government circles over the proposed constitutional amendment to cap the amount of taxes Michigan can levy on its citizens.

Supporters of the amendment aimed at forcing lawmakers to reorder priorities and keep a tighter rein on the state purse-strings—recently turned in petition signatures to put the question on the November ballot.

And opponents fear that a sufficient number of valid signatures could be disastrous. Chances are, some say, that if the question is on the ballot—it will pass.

Taxpayers United, the group behind the petition drive, wants to write into the constitution a limit on the amount of money lawmakers can work with each year—8 1/2 percent of the personal income of Michigan reported for the previous fiscal year, or the average of personal income of Michigan reported for the previous fiscal year, or the average of personal income of Michigan reported for the previous five calendar years, whichever is greater.

Such a system, supporters say, would give taxpayers a handle on spending and help ease the constant increase in taxes.

But those against the limitation warn of complicated fiscal problems that would result from the 8 1/2 percent limit.

They may have a hard time convincing the taxpayers who themselves live on limited funds. And it certainly won't help when some amendment backers start reminding voters about the pay hike—deserved or not—that legislative leaders have mentioned in recent weeks.

Multiplying

Adding 40 more birds to the total population doesn't seem like much. But when it's Kirtland's warblers you're counting, that's a different story.

Michigan—the summer nesting ground of the endangered bird—reports the latest break count at 189 nesting pairs, 20 pairs more than last summer's estimate.

"This upturn may not seem very significant at a glance, but we are encouraged by it," says John Byelich, a wildlife biologist with the Department of Natural Resources.

"In face of the fact there are less than 400 of these birds left in the world, every one of them counts preciously in our efforts to save this species."

The Kirtland's warbler winters in the Bahamas, then moves to northern lower Michigan for the summer.

Nesting grounds, in areas posted against trespassing through Aug. 15, may be found in Crawford, Oscoda, Roscommon, Ogemaw, Kalkaska and Wexford counties.

Harold J. Owings scored a decisive victory in Tuesday's primary election to win the Republican nomination for sheriff in Washtenaw county. According to unofficial returns, Owings had garnered a total of 6,604 votes across the county.

One hundred fifty-five students, five staff, 10 chaperones, and a nurse depart Sunday, Aug. 13 from Chelsea High school for the 8th annual Band Camp which will be held at Camp Maplehurst at Kewadin, near Traverse City. The group will return Aug. 19. Faculty and staff for the camp include Warren Mayer, director; Ronald Harris, director; Steve Weidon, woodwind instructor; Leonard Remy, low brass instructor; and Jim Galvic, percussion instructor.

Larry Adams, an ever alert fireman who lives on South St., smelled smoke Sunday evening, Aug. 6. Going outside to investigate, he found smoke rolling from the eave of the house of Miss Helen Staphis on Garfield St. After turning in an alarm at the Fire Station, Adams joined firemen to find Miss Staphis overcome by smoke inhalation. She was taken to the hospital for treatment. Food left cooking on the stove caused the blaze.

Chelsea Police Chief John Palmer won the Democratic nomination as candidate for Washtenaw county sheriff in Tuesday's primary election by a vote of 2,028 to his opponent's 933. Elmer F. Klump was the losing Democratic candidate. Sheriff George A. Petersen was re-nominated on the Republican ticket as candidate for his third successive term.

Sandra E. Fraser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd S. Flood, 14415 Island Lake Rd., will graduate Sunday from the Ann Arbor Unit of the Mercy School of Nursing, Detroit. Miss Fraser plans to work at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor, following graduation.

At the Village Council meeting Tuesday, Aug. 7, signatures were affixed to a resolution declaring the old post office building as a hazard and insisting that its removal be a top priority within 30 days.

Claire Rowe won the Chelsea village championship and the Williams trophy by defeating Earl Osborne in the championship match at the Inverness golf course. Sixteen players competed in the top flight. In the next flight of 18 players, Robert Devine won from Bill Eisenbeiser and in the remaining flight of eight, Art Wilson won from Charles Lancaster. A total of 40 players took part in the matches.

Hugh Weinberg survived a field of 21 contestants to be crowned the Summer Recreation Program golf putting champion. The record for the six-hole putting course is held by Robert Bertke, with 11 strokes.

Washtenaw county voters elected delegates to the county conventions from candidates they themselves had nominated. This year for the first time, both Republicans and Democrats nominated their county delegate candidates by petition instead of the precinct-caucus method of former years. Republican delegates from Sylvan township are Mrs. Mabel Holmes and Paul Maroney for Precinct I and Leigh Palmer and William Schatz for Precinct II. Democratic delegates from Sylvan township are William Rademacher in Precinct I, and a five-way tie between William Rademacher, Edwin Eaton, Henry Anhemiller, Dona Joseph and Robert Howe for Precinct II. The county board of canvassers make their decision tomorrow.

Pinckney Jaycees Challenging Community

Teams from Ann Arbor, Brighton, Chelsea and Saline have accepted the Pinckney Challenge but Pinckney's championship team may be even stronger than they were at the Dexter "Anything Goes."

Only six of 12 members of the championship team made the new team.

This team was chosen by qualification tryouts during the Pinckney Biennial Celebration.

Team members are Patti Graves, Linda Pote, Sue Kruger, Sue Howler, Art Grigg and Alan Baker from the Dexter championship team and new members Shea Nyak, Bella Wyle, Frank Henry, Dave Charbonneau, Don Wilson and Art Lindquist. Alternates are Carol McGowan and Bud Hadley.

The other communities have yet to accept the challenge and organizers are urging the residents of Dexter, Webberville, Ypsilanti, Whitmore Lake, Hartland and Rowletts to get a team together for this fun event. If anyone in these communities would like to participate please call Dick Howler at 878-8438. Howell, Hamburg and Gregory do not have their teams filled yet so if you live in Gregory call Don Thrasher, 498-2734; in Hamburg call Bev Legit, 229-2341; or in Howell call the Jaycees a 346-7471.

Pinckney Jaycees and Michigan

Aid Patrol hope that each community can get a team together. However, there will be three starting times so the team will only be competing for three hours and can enjoy the festival for most of the day.

Joycee Auxiliary Chapter Celebrates 20th Anniversary

The 20th anniversary of Chelsea's Joycee Auxiliary was celebrated on July 20 with a dinner meeting at the home of Mrs. Anne Steinaway. President of the Michigan Joycee Auxiliary, Vickie St. Lue, attended the event, as well as district vice-president Fran Wiedmayer.

Co-hostesses, Sandy Brown and Alberta Colby, planned a program revolving around the history of the Chelsea Joycee Auxiliary. In conjunction with the program, two charter members were present, Norma Smith and Ruth Guenther. Past presidents who attended were Ruth Guenther, Pat Shodemaker, Dorlene Cozzins, Pat Maroney, Donna Branham, Anne Steinaway, Judy Thalner, Judy Eubanks, and Alberta Colby.

Following the dinner, Sue Zink led the regular meeting which included discussion on such upcoming projects as the taco sales, Helping Hands, Red Ball, the family picnic, and hospital scrapbooks. A highlight of the evening was the installation of new member, Tessie Munroe. The Girl of the Month award for June was presented jointly to Ginny Wheaton and Jeanne Messing.

Business Women's Group Hears Talk on Women in Business

Members of Chelsea Charter Chapter, American Business Women's Association, met Tuesday evening, July 27, for their monthly meeting.

Mrs. Louis Burghardt of Burghardt Funeral Home was the speaker. She gave an informal lecture on the position of women in business as well as in the role of a funeral home director.

Mrs. Burghardt underscored the importance of education for women, stating that many times women find themselves spending about 25 years of their life in a business situation.

"But whether a woman is employed outside the home or within the home she should do what she enjoys."

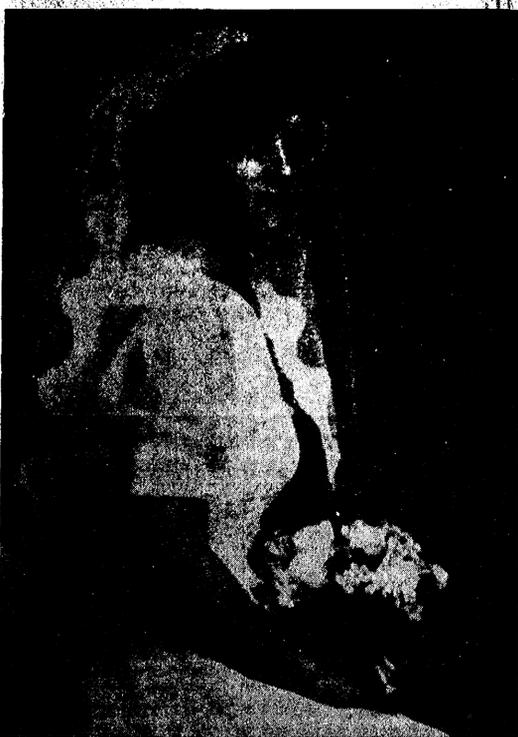

Mrs. Marilyn J. Marsh gave the vocational talk. She is employed with Colligan, Inc., of Jackson. Marilyn described the many duties inherent within the framework of her job, including answering complaints for Colligan soft water, often confused with her company, Colligan, Inc. operates in the fields of sheet metal and air conditioning.

Modern Mothers Study Club Enjoys Annual Picnic

Modern Mothers Child Study Club held their annual summer picnic at Park Lyndon on Wednesday, July 28. Members, guests and their children feasted on an unplanned pot-luck luncheon. Following the meal the children competed in a tug-of-war, sack race, and balloon popping contest. The afternoon was highlighted by rides in Mac Packard's antique fire engine piloted by Gloria Greenleaf.

The picnic and games were organized by Janet Rossi, Sue Kett, LaVonne Harris, Dottie Riemenschneider and JoAnn Carruthers.

Announcements of coming club activities included details of our participation in a bicentennial quilting demonstration on Aug. 17 and a trip to Detroit's Eastern Market on Thursday, Aug. 26. The first meeting in the fall will be Tuesday, Sept. 14 at Pat Whitesall's home.

Mary A. Colby, Kevin Bradbury Wed at St. Joseph Church, Dexter

Mary Annette Colby, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grover Colby, Jr., of Dexter, married Kevin Keith Bradbury, son of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Bradbury, also of Dexter, July 30 at St. Joseph Catholic church, Dexter. The 7:30 p.m. ceremony was performed by the Rev. Fr. Werner, chaplain at University Hospital, Ann Arbor.

The bride entered and departed from the church to the accompaniment of the original wedding march. Betty Farrell was featured as vocal soloist, performing "We've Only Just Begun."

The bride chose a polyester crepe, white, princess-style gown. It had been sewn by the mother of the bridegroom. Her sheer veil was trimmed around the edges with patterned lace, and she carried a cascade bouquet of yellow roses, white carnations, baby's breath and greens.

Serving as maid of honor was Carrie Burzan of Dexter. She wore a bright yellow square-neck dress with lace trim, ties in back, and an embroidered bodice. Her white hat was accented with yellow bands, and her bouquet was a collection of yellow, white and blue tipped daisies, baby's breath and greens.

The bridesmaids were Sherry Stivers of Dexter, Wendy MacFarland of Whitmore Lake, Terri Bradbury of Dexter and sister of the bridegroom, Kim Simonds of Dexter and Gayle Guenther of Dexter. Their gowns were identical to the one worn by the maid of honor.

The bride's mother appeared in a violet, dotted swiss dress with a lace-trimmed cape-like collar. She wore a corsage of white gladiolas and yellow sweetheart roses.

The bridegroom's mother was dressed in a nile green polyester crepe, princess-style gown with long chiffon sleeves. Her corsage was also an arrangement of white gladiolas and yellow sweetheart roses.

Karen Bradbury, 2, sister of the bridegroom, attended as flower girl.

Best man was Timothy Gross of Dexter. Ushers were Paul Lampe, Charles Scully, and Leonard Colby, all of Dexter, Ed Bouillion of Brighton, and Alvin Colby of

Boyce Family Reunion Held Near Plainfield

The 56th annual Boyce family reunion was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Boyce near Plainfield this past week-end. A pot-luck dinner was served on their lawn.

All family members present repeated the Lord's Prayer to initiate proceedings for the annual family meeting, called to order by president Fred Gall of Saline.

It was voted to hold the 1977 Boyce family reunion at the Albert Gall home near Saline on the second Sunday in August.

New officers elected to plan the event are Wesley Gall of Saline, president; Lowell Martin of Mason, vice-president; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Dettling of Dexter, secretary and treasurer; and Leonard Gall and Sally Gall, both of Saline, program directors.

The reunion was highlighted by games and visiting. Attending the event were Boyce family members from Detroit, Redford, Lansing, Mason, Charlotte, Saline, Stockbridge, Dexter and North Lake.

Inverness Ladies Day Golf Results

In a special golf tourney held Thursday, July 29 at Inverness Golf Club, contestants were limited to one club of their choice and a putter, as they attempted to score the winning lows.

First flight winners were Yolaine Carigan, low gross, and Faye Schroeter, low net and low putts. Second flight was captured by Agnes Haselschwardt, who posted low gross, low net, and low putts. In the third flight, Olga McCormick duplicated Mrs. Haselschwardt's triple category victory, finishing low gross, low net, and low putts in her respective flight.

The husband and wife handicap on July 25, fell to Mr. and Mrs. Howard Haselschwardt. Competing for that event's traveling trophy were 38 couples. Following the tourney, contestants participated in a pot-luck dinner, which was highlighted by the presentation of golf equipment prizes to the winners.

If you're in the market for an air conditioner, it's wise to check the EER numbers of the models you're considering. These are the energy efficiency ratings approved by the Federal Government which appear on labels or tags on many of the machines. The higher the EER the more energy-efficient the machine is; and the lower its operating costs. This can add up to considerable savings over a period of years.

Churches Plan Bicentennial Faith Day

Sunday, Aug. 15, beginning with morning church services, each church will celebrate the Bicentennial as they wish—remembering our common heritage in our search for religious freedom.

In the 1:30 to 4 afternoon visitation to the residents of the Methodist Home, each church will bring older church members or see that their older members come themselves for socializing and visiting. Members of the Home will be down to socialize with our Christian community. It will be an afternoon of fellowship with our older friends as they may not be able to attend many of the other festivities planned for Bicentennial Week. Please contact your own church for further details.

For the evening an old fashioned Hymnsing is planned to be held at the High School Athletic Field at 7:30. Old and familiar hymns will be sung with a united church choir. A booklet is being compiled which will have a history and sketch of each church participating. The program will close with the passing of the lighted candle from the oldest member to the youngest member to symbolize the passing of our Christian faith through the coming years.

The plan is to start Chelsea's Bicentennial celebration with a showing of faith which should be the true basis for celebrations in this, our Bicentennial Year.

Former Chelsea Youth Earns Degree in Montana

Lawrence E. Garlick, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Garlick of Superior, Mont., formerly of North Lake, graduated from Flathead Valley Community College, Kalispell, Mont., with an associate degree in applied sciences. His major is in forest technology, and he minored in botany.

Larry is currently employed by the U. S. Forestry Service, U.S. D.A., as a silviculturist working in timber sale reconnaissance. He resides with his parents outside of Superior, Mont., on the Clark fork of the Columbia River. He is a 1974 graduate of Chelsea High school.

The Garlicks moved to Montana following Mr. Garlick's retirement in May, 1974. They had been residents of Washtenaw county for 35 years.

Tomato Plants Become Tired

Tomato plants producing a lot of fruit tend to get rundown and become susceptible to several plant diseases. Michigan State University horticulturists advise protecting tomato plants during late summer with fungicide sprays to prevent defoliation. The plants need their leaves to make food for the plants so they can produce good fruit, the experts explain. The leaves also shade the fruit and so prevent sunscald injury.

Pressure Canner Essential for Low Acid Vegetables

Don't take unnecessary chances with your family's health: process all home-canned, low-acid foods in a pressure canner.

Food specialists at Michigan State University warn that the hot water bath method of canning used for acid foods will not kill the spores of the organism that causes botulism poisoning. With a pressure canner, you can heat the food to 240 degrees F, the temperature necessary to destroy the spores so the organism cannot grow.

For an extra measure of safety, boil all home-canned low-acid food for 10 to 15 minutes, before eating. Never taste such foods straight from the jar.

New Books at McKune Library

McKuné Memorial Library received a Bicentennial surprise! Canada produced a book as a gift to the United States in its 200th year. "Between Friends-Entre Amis" is a book "about Canadians and Americans who live in harmony close to that long thin line known as the international boundary." And it is beautiful!

Thirty-five photographers from the National Film Board of Canada were sent out along the border from Alaska to the East Coast. They took more than 30,000 photographs from which they reproduced 200 of the best in full color. They capture the spirit of the countryside and its people. The photos are enlivened with remarks by persons from all walks of life, famous and common, contemporary and historical.

There is the dry humor of a retired farmer: "The mountains are all right, I guess, but they sure do block the view," as well as the lofty inspiration of Carl Schurg's statement in 1859: "Ideals are like stars; you will not succeed in touching them with your hands. But like the seafaring man on the desert of waters, you choose them as your guides, and following them you will reach your destiny." Don't miss this lovely gift to Chelsea's library.

A fun book to read is "The Inn and Us," by Anne Edwards and Stephen Citron. They bought an 1847 farmhouse in New England with the idea of creating a unique countryside inn which became a mecca for writers, theatre people and adventurers. Follow their mishaps like the time Norman Maier challenged a head-butting contest or the week-end the inn was filled and the wet went dry.

An interesting inside view into a contemporary scene is "The New Muckrakers." This book is about the investigative reporter who have exposed corruption at all levels of government. Who are these men and women? What makes them tick? How did they get where they are today? How do they find their stories? Hear what Leonard Downie has to say about Woodward, Bernstein, Ben Bradlee, Jack Anderson, their peers, and their profession.

While you're at the library browse over our new non-fiction and fiction shelves. McKuné Memorial Library has something for everyone.

Daniel R. White Begins Active Duty With Air Force

The Air Force announces the enlistment of Daniel R. White, 18, of 1639 Farnsworth, Stockbridge, to active duty on July 30.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert J. White of Stockbridge, Daniel is a 1975 graduate of Chelsea High school.

Daniel will begin his tour with the Air Force by completing six weeks of basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Tex. Following basic, he will receive advanced technical training in the General aptitude area and be assigned to his first permanent duty base.

MOVING UP: Emerging from their fourth week of play, this Reds team of t-ball players defeated the Patriots, 40-23, in some stunning action which now puts the team in a position to move up in league standings. They were formerly in fourth position. In the front row, left to right, are Jim Roake, Ron Johnson, Laura Anderson, Mark Mellich, Robbie McDowal, and Chris Zangara; second row, from left, Chris Baker, Ricky Proctor, Craig Miller, Chris Tarasow, Doug Jankoski, Chuck Downer, Matt Steinhauer, and Paula Kuzon. In back is coach John Baker.

T. SPRAGUE'S PONY LEAGUERS finished the season fifth in their league as they just seemed unable to pick their skills off the ground and apply them to the baseball field. Nevertheless, the team had its victorious moments whether or not they managed to defeat their opponents. Throughout the season their game has been steadily improving. The players will most likely be a threat in next year's play. In the front row, seated, left to right, are Scott Haas, Ross Murphy, Scott Dault, Doug Hendricks, Mark Smith, Bob Trevino, and Randy Luick. In the back row, left to right, are Kip Berke, Bill Lamb, Bob Schleede, Coach Todd Sprague, Tom Gaunt, and Steve Haas.

FINISHING THE SEASON THIRD in their league, Schaffner's little leaguers often played ferociously to tally up winning scores, but other times seemed to undergo symptoms often ascribed to the ever-present ball players threat, the mid-season slump. In their last week of play, they quickly advanced over Farley to defeat Farley, 15-5, then lost some steam as they were held from heavy scoring by Kelly's team who ultimately wrapped up that game with a score of 5-1. Left to right in the first row are Greg Stoddard, Kevin Colombo, Mark Bentley, Jim Toon, Lavonne Kruse, Bill Ball, and Brian Donovan. From left, in the second row, are Coach Jon Schaffner, Randy Sabo, Dick Merkel, David Kiel, Eric Schaffner, Ted Merkel, Mark Henson, and Jack Schwerin.

Bicentennial Ball Planned in Saline

Saline Bicentennial Committee is sponsoring a Bicentennial Costume Ball Saturday, Oct. 9 at the Farm Council Grounds, 8 p.m. to 1 a.m. Hot food will be available, but guests are asked to bring their own liquid refreshments. Dave Walters and his 17-piece Saline Community Band will provide live music for dancing.

CONFIDENT INDIANS: Exuding an air of confidence, rightly theirs as first-place team, these Indians just barely squeezed by the Yankees, posting a score of 17-16 in last week's game. Their game philosophy might be labeled mature by some sports enthusiasts who are well aware that it takes only one more run to win. Kneeling in the first row, left to right, are Matt Koenn, Laura Scriven, and Tim Conner; middle row, from left, Chris French, Matt Kemp, Billy Sober, David Mayer, Casey Murphy, Ray Spencer, and Andy Martin; Standing in the back row, from left, Scott Kelly, Joey Gallas, Robbie Rlemenschneider, Jack Allen, and Jeff Larson. The big guy in back is coach Ken Larson.

KELLY'S LITTLE LEAGUERS straddled the line between wins and losses all season to emerge directly in the middle of their final league standings. Their last week of play was a target example of the described malady. Defeated by Farley, 12-5, they then proceeded to turn the tables, ushering in a win over Schaffner, 5-1. In all-star position in the front row are, left to right, Kurt Eisenbelsner, Tony Push, Brent Bauer, Kevin Feldkamp, Alan Roderick, and Tom Schaff. The back row line-up, from left, is Coach Chuck Kelly, Bobby Kelly, Frank Waller, Garland DeYoe, Rodney Satterthwaite, Rick Cook, and Eric Stofflet.

Methodist Home People Enjoy Picnic

Residents of Chelsea's United Methodist Retirement Home participated in a picnic held on the residence grounds Wednesday, July 28. The picnic is an annual event, sponsored by the Methodist Home staff and associates.

This year's theme was "Country Fair," suggested by dietary supervisor Katie Nobach. The dietary staff entered into the spirit of the occasion by dressing in country-style clothes. Waitresses wore long, gingham-checked dresses, two dietary assistants appeared in bib overalls, and even the cooks adopted the look of country chefs.

The menu featured out-doo-erilled steaks, lemonade and chip cakes were served for dessert. In addition to the Home's regular residents, those receiving nursing care and wheelchair patients were brought outside for the festivities aided by youth volunteers and the nursing staff. Nearly 200 of the home's 250 residents congregated in the special out-door dining room specifically arranged for the occasion.

Each summer, residents are encouraged to take advantage of the fine weather and fresh air. To promote this, the Methodist Home staff sponsors out-door watermelon feasts and other special activities. Often, residents are treated to special trips to the Dairy Queen. Recently, 40 people were transported to the Cavanaugh Lake home of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Heydlauff, where they were entertained with boat rides and refreshments.

Currently, Methodist Home residents are preparing a float for the Chelsea Fair. The theme "Freedom of Religion" will be depicted by an old-fashioned church

Schools Get State Aid Payments

Local school districts will be receiving their Aug. 1 state aid payments soon, according to Representative Mike Conlin (R-23rd District). Payments are made to districts for state aid, Title I, Title II, and vocational education, the representative explained, and are mailed by the state six times a year.

Local school districts, and the amounts they will receive are Grass Lake Community Schools in Jackson county, $75,180 in state aid and $2,398 in Title I funds; Ann Arbor City School District in Washtenaw county, $151,510 in state aid and $70,000 in Title I funds; Chelsea School District in Washtenaw county, $84,100 in state aid; Dexter Community School District in Washtenaw county, $26,880 in state aid; Manchester Public School District in Washtenaw county, $62,790 in state aid; Saline Area School District in Washtenaw county, $53,460 in state aid and $2,840 in Title I funds; Whitmore Lake Public School District in Washtenaw county, $75,740 in state aid and $7,533 in Title I funds; and Stockbridge Community Schools in Ingham county, $218,470 in state aid and $1,922 in Title I funds.

Although the August state aid payment to Chelsea School District will not include Title I funds, the state has ratified Title I funding for the district beginning in 1977. To be eligible for a monetary allocation from the state's Title I budget, a school district must sponsor either an experimental or remedial academic program. Chelsea's funding came as a result of its remedial reading program.

School Board Briefs

At a regular meeting of the Chelsea Board of Education Monday, Aug. 2, present were Schafer, Tobin, Stirling, Hodgson, Feepey, Daniels, Superintendent Cameron, Business Manager Mills, Principal Jonkin and Assistant Principal Smith. Several guests attended the meeting.

Meeting called to order at 8 p.m. by vice-president Daniels. Minutes of the meetings of July 19, 21, 26, 27, were approved.

Supt. Cameron reported on the kindergarten enrollment and school assignments.

Meeting adjourned at 11:30 p.m.

VA Mobile Van Coming To Ann Arbor

On Aug. 4, the Veterans Administration of Michigan began a four-week long program of bringing counselors to 13 cities across the state.

The VA counselors will be traveling in a mobile van, following their departure for the state-wide journey from the Detroit Regional Office. They will arrive in the Washtenaw county area Wednesday, Aug. 11 at the Ann Arbor Veterans Administration building, located in the 100 block of St. Main, Ann Arbor. The counselors will be available 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. to answer any questions or problems a veteran may have regarding veteran benefits.

The van is equipped to handle interviews, accept applications, and distribute written material on all aspects of VA benefits, including compensation, pension, education, hospitalization, home loans, insurance and jobs.

This is the van's fourth year of operation in Michigan.

ONE-HALF GAME OUT: In men's softball, these players, representing Walt's Barber Shop in the "A" league slow pitch category, are separated from the first place position in their league by a single tie game. Their final week of play should include some heavy action as they attempt to oust the vigilant leaders, McCalla Feeds. In the front row, left to right, are Gary Olson, Mike French, Jim Lester, Bob Vogel, and Randy Myers. In the back row, left to right, are Chris Collier, Cliff Bellers, Gary Cornish, John Flannery, Tom Kennedy, Dan Wilson, and Clyde Whitaker. Missing from the photo are Walt's team members Roger Myers, Brad Wilson, George Stephens, and Walt Prater.

County Jail Escapee Back Behind Bars

Melvin T. Davis, 24, of Detroit, and an inmate of Washtenaw county jail since March 19, escaped Monday morning, Aug. 2, after he slipped out of prison behind a maintenance crew.

Jail authorities said a broken door buzzer enabled Davis, recently found competent to stand trial on charges of armed robbery and assault with intent to commit murder, to stroll out without attracting the notice of prison guards. Davis had been held under bonds totaling $50,000.

Davis was captured late Monday afternoon after spending the day hopped up at the home of Francis L. Kirwan, a 76-year-old retired painter who lives at 337 S. Ashley St., Ann Arbor, only minutes away from the jail.

"He knocked at my door and asked if he could come in and borrow the telephone," Kirwan explained. Davis asked the person on the telephone to bring him his wallet and money, then proceeded to wait, sipping coffee, while police searched the neighborhood for the escapee. According to police reports, when Kirwan had to leave, Davis asked permission to remain

Pick-Up Truck Stolen Sunday From Dealer Lot

A 1974, 3/4-ton red pick-up truck was stolen from the car lot of Palmer Ford, Inc., 1477 S. Main, between Sunday, July 25, 8 p.m. and Monday, July 26, 8 a.m., police reported.

George Palmer, the complainant, stated the keys to the vehicle are in his possession, which indicates the thieves used another method to gain entry to the truck and remove it from the premises.

Davis was arrested March 19 by sheriff's police in Chelsea after a string of alleged break-ins, a shooting, a robbery and attempted abduction. According to police, Davis allegedly held up three nuns and stole their car, shortly before his Chelsea arrest.

BIRTHS

A daughter, Meagan Marie, to Mr. and Mrs. Dale Robinson of Grass Lake on July 16 at Foote Hospital, Jackson. Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Harvey of Grass Lake and paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Robinson of Weston.

Four Graduate In Floral Design

Four employees of Gar-Nett's Flower and Gift Shop of Chelsea attended a week-long course of instruction in floral design, the week of July 26, offered by Belen's School of Floral Design in Lansing. The employees, Lynn Smith and Lisa Walworth of Chelsea, Connie Moore of Tecumseh, and Glenda Lindemann of Dexter, received certificates of completion on their final day of class, Friday, July 30.

Mrs. Jeanette Otto, owner of Gar-Nett's, was enrolled in the same course, at Belen's 22 years ago.

Where do you want the freezer in your new Amana refrigerator...

on the side? on the bottom? on the top?

Amana gives you a choice

If you want your zero degree freezer on the side, there's the Amana Side-by-Side. Or you can have it on the top or the bottom. They're all Free-O'-Frost in both the refrigerator and freezer.

And every Amana has two independent temperature controls, one for the freezer, one for the refrigerator.

There's a "refrigerator-within-a-refrigerator" that keeps meat fresh up to twice as long as an ordinary meat keeper. In most models. And a high-humidity compartment that keeps vegetables fresh up to three weeks in 22 and 25 ft. side-by-side models.

Come and look at the choices AMANA has for you. Then choose the one you want from gold, avocado, coppertone or white.

Baysinger Files Civil Suit Against Sheriff

Washtenaw County Undersheriff James F. Spickard handed over the findings of an investigation conducted by the sheriff's own department into the July 11 wedding reception brawl at Chelsea fairgrounds, involving Sheriff Frederick J. Postill, sheriff's deputy Basil O. Baysinger, Baysinger's wife, Shirley, and jail administrator Frank M. Donley, to Washtenaw County Prosecutor William F. Delhey, Monday morning, Aug. 2. The report concludes Deputy Baysinger, not Postill, should be charged with assault.

The findings were submitted with a request for a warrant charging Baysinger with assault with intent to do great bodily harm less than murder. Prosecutor Delhey declined to comment on the latest investigation, stating only that he would review it objectively.

Michigan State Police conducted the first probe of the incident and concluded Postill and Donley had provoked the fight with the Baysingers.

One of Postill's attorneys, Neal Bush of Detroit, stated the basis of the latest warrant request, charging Baysinger with assault, is a statement by Lt. Dexter of the Sheriff's Department, a witness never interviewed by state police. Dexter has been quoted as saying he "never saw the sheriff with any handcuffs and at no time, did he see the sheriff strike out, push or hit or do anything to anybody."

Postill's warrant request comes just as the Baysingers filed a civil suit in circuit court charging Postill with libel and slander, assault and battery, and assault with intent to kill and maim, charges all stemming from the Chelsea fairgrounds fight.

The suit, filed by Ann Arbor attorney Jack J. Garris on behalf of the Baysingers, invokes requests for damages and asks the court for a restraining order and injunction against Postill and Donley "enjoining and restraining them from calling, contacting, cursing at, abusing, molesting, beating, striking, harassing, annoying or threatening" the Baysingers either publically or privately.

The six-count civil action includes three assault charges asking $50,000 exemplary damages for each, and whatever amount in excess of $10,000 general damages the Baysingers would be entitled to receive. Two remaining assault counts, those accusing Postill and Donley of libel and slander, and assault with intent to injure, and kill request damages in excess of $10,000 as determined by the court.

The Baysingers are requiring Postill and Donley "to make their answers to these allegations under oath within 20 days from the date they are served" with the suit. No hearing date has been set.

This latest action on the part of Baysinger was instigated by "the delay in further action by Washtenaw County's Prosecuting Attorney," according to Garris, in initiating proceedings to uncover the truth beneath the web of cross-accusations arising from the Chelsea fairgrounds brawl.

In the meantime, the first hearing on the felonious assault charge currently facing Postill and filed by Baysinger, has been scheduled for district court, Aug. 3.

Officers Nab Escaper from Camp Waterloo

Ricky McKenzie, 18, escaped from Camp Waterloo on Clear Lake Rd., Grass Lake, the afternoon of July 25. The subject was last spotted entering a field west of M-52 at Chestnut St.

Chelsea Police Department was notified of the escape by Ronald Watkins, a corrections officer at the camp. The following day, July 26, according to police reports, McKenzie was reportedly seen walking in a field behind Polly's Market. While Chelsea officers Sgt. Lenard E. McDougall and Ptl. David Peebles, joined by Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department Deputy Richard Compton circled the area to keep the escaped prisoner within its perimeter, Watkins entered the field in an attempt to apprehend the man. He maintained radio contact with the circling officers throughout his search. Watkins captured McKenzie, who was found hiding in a tree.

McKenzie came to Camp Waterloo from Flint, after being sentenced to serve time for larceny from a building.

Hearing handicaps have become so widespread today, that the number of those affected by hearing problems exceeds the combined total number of individuals suffering with cancer, tuberculosis, blindness and multiple sclerosis.

A GAS TURBINE-POWERED PASSENGER CAR, shown above, has been built by Chrysler Corp. for the Alternate Automotive Power Systems Division of the federal Environmental Protection Agency. The vehicle is equipped with the company's sixth-generation engine. EPA, Chrysler and other key research organizations are involved in a highly co-ordinated program to make the turbine engine a mass-production possibility for American motorists. Major objectives in this effort are to develop and demonstrate the potential of the turbine engine for low emissions and better fuel economy. The entire project is funded by the EPA. A car, similar to the one above, will be on display in front of the Chelsea Post Office Aug. 6 and Aug. 13, 5 p.m. to 9 p.m. as part of Chelsea's Bicentennial Celebration.

Chrysler Turbine Car on Display

In addition to providing members of the Chelsea community with an opportunity to tour Chelsea Proving Grounds every Friday evening prior to Bicentennial Week, officials at the proving grounds have extended their good will to include the featured display of a 1973 model of a gas turbine powered car, with sixth generation engine, on the Fridays of Aug. 6 and Aug. 13, 5 p.m. to 9 p.m. in front of the Chelsea Post Office. B. J. Ludwig of Manchester is the Chrysler official responsible for providing the display.

The car, one of only 12 currently in existence, will be specially trucked from Detroit to Chelsea for the occasion. Either Elmer Keil of Chrysler or another Chrysler representative will be available at the site of the parked car to answer questions from onlookers.

The car will also be entered in the Bicentennial Parade, along with a 13-year-old Ghia test model which was one of the first 50 originally built by Chrysler. Both the Ghia and the gas turbine engine car were specifically designed to test the theories of research teams at Chrysler as a result of their ongoing program to develop future automobiles with better fuel economy and more advanced safety features.

All car buffs and curiosity seekers are encouraged to take advantage of this unique preview of automotive advancement.

Dale Schoenberg Joins Orientation Sessions at WMU

Dale Schoenberg of Chelsea was among the first half of nearly 2,900 students who will enter Western Michigan University as freshmen this fall to have completed their summer orientation program.

In groups of 160 to 180, they visited the University for three-day periods to confer with faculty advisors, register for classes, take a series of tests, and visit many of the campus buildings. Aiding them in the orientation process were 40 specially trained student leaders.

In addition to the new students, approximately 800 of their parents attended brief sessions to familiarize themselves with the campus and meet MSU's administrators, faculty and staff members. The group of parents is the largest number to ever attend the summer program, according to Norman Russell, director of orientation and assistant for student affairs.

The first day of class for the fall semester is Wednesday, Sept. 1.

By LOUIS BURGHARDT
During the early years a child is frequently asked his or her age. It is one of the first things learned. Birthday cards mentioning an exact age are often seen. Candles on cakes correspond in equal number to the age.
In later years, family records, court records, school records, employment records, Social Security records all mention age. From the birth certificate to the death certificate, age is a dominant concern. In many cases the concern is unwarranted, even absurd. It is ridiculous when either the young or old attach a mistaken importance to the number of candles on the cake. Behavior, ability, achievements, skills, health, attitude and mental outlook are the indicators of a realistic age. For example, in your own case, if you did not actually know how old you are, how old would you realistically think you are? . . . (Your comments are welcome on this or any other thought you read here — and are appreciated.) . . . BURGHARDT FUNERAL HOME, 214 East Middle St., Chelsea, Mich. 48118 Phone 475-1551.

BAREIS TEAM T-BALL players stopped Hafner, 24-18, in a game played Tuesday, July 13. The team which at last report was sixth in the league has been steadily improving and now presents a real threat to any other team on the schedule. In the front row, left to right, are Greg Halst, David Ringo, Bryan Kidd, Steve Rosentreter, Kevin Morris, Andy Box, Chad Romine, and Jon Lane; back row, from left, are Rick Oberg, Bob England, Steve Whitesall, Brian Robeson, David Cox, Mark Bareis, and coach Phil Bareis.

ACKLEY'S LITTLE LEAGUERS finished the season first in their league following a Nebauer upset by Mills' team. Ackley's players reinforced their position in the standings by defeating Hoffman, 12-3, and shutting out Mills, 21-0, in their last week of play. The players performed to capacity for an outstanding season, showing good form both offensively and defensively. Seated in the front row are, left to right, Scott Cheever, Charlie Koenig, Rich Conner, Marty Steinhauer, Eric Cole, and Greg Markle. Players in the back row are, from left, Chris Setz, David Steinhauer, Matt Grau, Matt Erikson, Brian Ackley, and Scott Jones. In the center rear of the photo is coach Bill Ackley. Absent from the photo are team members Jay Marshall, Tammy Jankuski and Andy Kozegi.

Area Residents May Meet With J. Cousteau

Sandra Salsburg, Chelsea area resident and local Jacques Cousteau Society representative, has received an invitation from the Cousteau Society for all interested people to attend the Society's Involvement Day which will be held Aug. 28 in Milwaukee's new exposition center, MECCA from 9:30 a.m. to 9 p.m.

Involvement Day is the third of its kind (the previous two being held in Florida and California)—an effort to exchange ideas and information and encourage citizen participation concerning their future environment.

The invitation is to meet with the famous Captain Jacques Cousteau and his son, Philippe, (who have produced the TV specials "The Undersea World of Jacques Cousteau") and learn what "our young Society has accomplished. To explain what the Society's current and future projects are and to answer your questions."

The day will open with major addresses by Captain Jacques Cousteau and three international speakers known environmental experts in California, besides the experts on our environment, Astronaut Rusty Schweickart spoke of the frailness of earth as seen from space and in the evening Crosby and Nash entertained.

Subjects to be covered by lectures, workshops and meetings include water quality, protection of marine animals, alternative sources of energy, industrial pollution, individual action and other major issues.

There will be continuous film showings of the "Undersea World of Jacques Cousteau," award-winning Society filmstrips, and special interest video tapes with Jacques Cousteau. In addition educational materials being developed by the Society will be displayed.

Not to be forgotten are the children. They will meet personally with Captain Cousteau and Philippe, who will answer any questions about their work, the sea, and the total environment. There will be special children's activity rooms to challenge their creativity: clay modeling, coloring and drawing of large murals, scientific experiments, special films and magic shows.

Involvement Day is not a means of fund raising for the Cousteau Society. Ticket prices have been computed to cover only out-of-pocket expenses.

Chelsea area residents who would like to become Cousteau Society members may write to: The Cousteau Society, 777 Third Ave., New York, N. Y. 10017. Dues are $15 per year.

Members receive periodic posters and newsletters from the Society and Jacques Cousteau. "To save the world, we must first love living in it—and then be willing to get involved." Aug. 28 will be an unforgettable day.

For further information contact Sandra Salsburg, 475 Glazier Rd. Telephone Your Club News To 475-1271

VILLAGE MOTORS: In men's slow pitch softball league standings as of Aug. 3, this Village Motors team was in sixth place. One week remains before final standings are made official, but it may be enough time for these players to overtake a team or two ahead of them. Seated, in front row, left to right, are Tom Lukasiak, Gordie Beeman, Warren Nichols, and Ron Sweeney. In the middle row, left to right, are Dave Lukasiak, Dean Davis, and Dave Alber. Completing the back row, left to right, are Mike McAllister and Jim Lyerla.

Raging Stream Upends, Sinks Canoe for Don Turner, Friends

Watson Lake, Yukon
June 22, 1976
Dear Readers:
Since my last report, I have traveled many more miles and have had many experiences, some really rewarding, and others not so rewarding.

I arrived here at Watson Lake, Yukon, on June 5, meeting my old friends Larry Schnig, Jake Melnechuck, Ian and Margery McConnell, and many others of past acquaintance. Once here, I made even more friends. I have been to Watson Lake a number of times, so coming here is like going home.

On Monday, the 7th of June, we took off for Larry's rustic lodge by float plane from Watson Lake flying service. One hour later, we sat down in front of his lodge in the peace and quiet of the Yukon wilderness.

Larry's lodge is located on Toobally Lake, some 85 miles from the community of Watson Lake. There are no roads to the area, so the float plane is the only mode of transportation to the chain of lakes called Toobally. There are two main lakes, each nine miles long, connected by 13 miles of the Smith River. The upper lake has never been fished except by a few trappers, and have been waiting to try the fishing there for some time.

The pilot of the float plane shuttled me and most of the provisions for a week's stay, to the upper lake where I set to work making camp.

Larry Schnig and his wife, Maggie, accompanied by their small dog, Chico, were to run the "wild" Smith river in an aluminum boat with a 20 h.p. motor. (See photo of Maggie, the dog, and myself.)

They made the 22-mile-run in six hours, clearing the channels Larry had cut through several log jams some years ago. They reported our return downriver would be safe.

The upper lake of the Toobally chain is really beautiful. High mountains are on all sides, and clear, clean water and wildlife appear everywhere. Bald eagles circle in the blue sky, trumpeter swans fly over giving their bugle calls, and loons give their lonely calls at twilight. The sunsets are most beautiful as the sun just dips behind the mountain for an hour or so. One can see to travel all night.

The first two days at the upper lake were warm and beautiful. Then, the weather turned sour. Rain and snow plagued us for the remainder of our stay. On the 11th of June, it snowed all day. The mountains and trees were all covered with wet snow, and there was no comfort anywhere except around the campfire.

We all sat close to the white Maggie, Larry's wife baked bannic, or frying pan bread, a real treat as she has lived much of her life in bush camps and is very skilled in all phases of camp life.

We caught all the fish we needed to eat, lake trout and pike up to 12 pounds. But, I was in hopes of a trophy fish, and no doubt would have taken one if the weather had been better.

On Saturday, the 12th of June, we decided to run the river to the lower lake, a venture which resulted in near disaster. Everything was going well as we ran the white water rapids and jumped a few logs. We felt real secure until we were within one-half mile of the lower lake. A huge log jam had formed some years before, but Larry and I had cut a channel, through one of my other trips. However, the channel was closed by two large trees that had floated out from shore during the week of bad weather we had on the upper lake.

The lakes and river were at flood stage. There is a 30-mile-an-hour current at that point as the whole river pours through a narrow channel. As we rounded a curve in the river, we found no place to go but into the log jam. The bow of the boat rose, the stern sank, and we all made a jump for the logs, hanging on as we watched the boat, motor, and all our belongings slip beneath the logs.

Then, Larry Schnig performed a feat of super-human strength. He risked his life to try and save some of my belongings, trapped in the bow of the boat. Lying on his belly in ice water, he fished them after them out of the bow and hung them on logs. Some, he threw ashore.

Maggie and I were in no position to help him as he was on one side of the chute and we were on the other, where we were prevented from getting close to the boat. We were pleading with him to let the things go, fearful he would become too numb from the cold water and would slip off the log and under the jam. Every time he took an item out of the boat, the boat would slip farther under the huge logs.

Then came Maggie's and my task of crossing the channel to where Larry was. He was on the only log that would support our weight. Although the log was two feet under water, Larry had been using it during his salvaging operation and assured us it would hold. We inched our way over in water up to our knees, finally making the shore.

We built a fire and warmed up before undertaking the long float back to the lodge. 10 miles away, we took what we could carry, and started through the brush to where Larry had left a 12-foot aluminum boat about a mile from the wreck or mishap. Larry had found one of the oars from the boat that sank, and with that and a couple of poles we cut with our pocket knives, we started the long paddle for camp, 9 miles away. It seemed we paddled forever, but finally at 3 a.m. we reached the lodge, dead tired.

During the long paddle that night, I thought many things, one of them being the old saying, "don't ever underestimate the power of a woman." Maggie, with her stick, and I, with mine, could just balance the power of Larry with his oar to keep the boat running straight. She never let up the entire time we paddled that night. We synchronized our strokes as she and I paddled from the same side, and she never quit until someone suggested a break. So, my hat is off to Maggie. If I could find a gal like her, I might consider matrimony. Ha, ha! She was always joking about things when I know that she, as well as Larry and I, were at our lowest ebb.

Well, things went better at the lodge during our stay, and I have many pleasant memories. One exception, however, involved the dog, Chico. We left him to guard camp one day when we made a 10-mile hike to some other lakes. On our return, we found him missing. To this day, we do not know what happened to him. Larry thinks a timber wolf got him as he was a small dog and no doubt lonesome. A timber wolf will lure a dog out of camp and then kill him. We think that is what happened. Anyway, we were all sad that he did not return to camp.

We caught many nice fish on the lower lake, smoking them in the smoke house. Smoked pike or lake trout are delicious when prepared in a solution of brown sugar and salt, and slow smoked in Diamond Willow, which makes for a sweet-smoky taste. I am mitching on a piece now, wishing I could share it with all of you.

Although we had a few harrowing experiences, I have many happy thoughts and cannot blame anyone for what happened. For those who live a little dangerously, I think we have to expect a few bumps. I am sorry I do not have better pictures to add to this article, but the better ones were lost in the log jam.

I must be running along to more adventure, so until I find some, I must sign off.

Your wandering reporter,
Don Turner

THIS IS A VIEW OF THE RAPIDS on the Smith river between Upper and Lower Toobally Lake. This particular spot is known as "the hill," earning the reputation based on the fact that a 20 h.p. motor has difficulty making it up this point in the rapids. Riding in a 14-foot boat, "one feels like being flushed" down the "drain" when passing through here, according to Don Turner.

Bicentennial Pageant Traces U. S. History, Chelsea Area Growth

"America '76" is the great historical spectacular headlining Chelsea Bicentennial Celebration to be held Aug. 16, 17, 19, 20, and 21 at the Jerry Niehaus Memorial Field, beginning nightly at 8:30 p.m.

The spectacular boasts a cast larger than any that has appeared in Chelsea for many years. The theme of the spectacular is based on the founding of America and the Chelsea area's role in its growth along the way.

Advance sale tickets to the historical spectacular are now on sale at a special discount price until Aug. 9. Regular ticket sales and advance ticket exchange will begin on Aug. 11.

To give audiences a preview of what to expect at the Spectacular, the Bicentennial Committee has issued the following synopsis of scenes.

The opening prologue presents the First Lady of Chelsea, the winner of the First Lady Contest, with her court of four runners-up.

The balance of the pageant is a series of episodes.

Episode one has been categorized "the Early Sounds". The Early Sounds presents life in an Indian village centuries ago, showing the living habits of the early Indians, their rituals and customs. The first white man enters the village; he is a priest, and sits in council with the elders of the tribe. Some of the Indian maidens present an ancient ritualistic dance for the entertainment of the visitors. The priest is impressed and gives his blessing to the tribe and moves on down the river, in his canoe to visit other Indian communities.

As more and more white men arrive on America's shore, they press settlement boundaries inland, pushing the Indians farther and farther into unknown lands. Thus the "Trail of Tears Begins."

Episode two focuses on "The Colonial Sounds." Life in the early frontier is rough and rugged but many men seeking business opportunities open wayside inns for the comfort and needs of the early trappers and traders. Sometimes their opinions differ and often their differences become settled by the use of brute force. The women's fancy is turned not to the most rugged individual, but perhaps to the most clever.

"Sounds of Freedom," or episode three depicts Paul Revere sounding the Cry of Freedom on his famous night ride through the colonies. We witness the results of this courageous alerting of the people and the times that . . . "tried men's souls."

Episode four, "Sounds of a Nation Aborning," transfers attention to life in the new-found nation — people's recreation, their attitudes, their fears, and their hopes of creating the fabric that will last forever as a nation. The minuet is presented as an indication of the cultural development of the new citizens in a new land and what they have so far developed.

Episode five features the theme "River Boats." The rivers become the roadways to the new frontier and the lives of the men and the women that followed them were demanding. Nevertheless, life was full and exciting as they pushed onward to their new-found goals.

In episode six, we find the "Sounds of Growing" becoming more audible. In this segment, attention is centered on the Louisiana Purchase from Napoleon and France. Jefferson, Monroe, Lewis and Clark, were all on the move and the Louisiana Territory was ours to explore and cultivate.

Episode seven underscores "Sounds of the Open Roads and Toll Roads . . ." New roads are forged out of the wilderness as better means of transportation are created for the settlers. This era saw the beginning of the toll road, an economical advance in financing the forward progress of America.

The title of episode eight is "Unto This Land". As men work deeper into the vast frontier, the land begins to be surveyed and recorded. Life in the frontier receives the attention of this episode, as does the organization of the nation's first mail service.

"Doorway to the World," or episode nine is the story of DeWitt Clinton and his steamboat, which opens new transportation routes for America. The communications gap became wider and the pony express was initiated.

"Sounds of the Nineties" or episode 10 portrays the Gay 90's when life is good. Everyone relaxed on Sunday with a picnic in the park. The first of the bathing beauty contests started then; the first cars were being driven, not by many, but they did come into being during this period.

Episode 11 embarks upon "New Sounds of the 20th Century." Teddy Roosevelt comes into his own and women's rights are beginning to attract attention.

"Sounds of the Roaring Twenties" dominates the set of episode 12. Bathub gin . . . gangsters and their molls . . . and The Charleston . . . what a part of history to be remembered . . .

Episode 13, "Sounds of the Terrible Thirties," brings in the hard realities of the Depression . . .

ford lines . . . and the WPA . . . The theme of episode 14, "Sounds of the 50's and 60's," reliving Elvis . . . rock and roll . . . the jitterbug . . . now, all a part of our own history.

In episode 15, "Sounds of the Telephone" takes center stage. The future of America belongs to the youth of today . . . if we could only get them off the telephone!

Finally, with episode 16, "The Grand Finale" is reached. The entire cast, in all its grandeur, salutes our nation's future with the presentation of our nation's colors on its 200th anniversary.

Bicentennial Notes

SOFTBALL RESULTS

Depending on to whom you speak, the report will be either a great time or not so great time was had by all who participated in the softball games played Sunday afternoon, Aug. 1.

The heat of that day did not keep the Roarin' Ruffies from defeating the Lacy Lady Lakers, 16-9, or the Royal Rural Rooster Rooters from winning over the Crafty Ladies, 27-17.

In a third game of the day, the Whisker Sufferettes outscored the Bell Bottom Belles to post a 26-13 victory.

While the games may only be a memory now, the village is probably full of aching muscles which exist as living proof the games were really played.

Earaches and infections which are improperly treated or left unattended could be hazardous to your hearing ability. For this reason, summer earaches and headaches should always receive proper medical attention.

SWEET'S PONY LEAGUERS kept up a staccato of steady improvement all season but were unable to overcome their margin of defeat which left them in last place in final league standings. In the third inning of the Pony League Championship Tournament, Sweet's players scored five runs, but were unable to carry this momentum through to the end of the game. If they spend the off-

Mills Spoilers Upset Little League Leaders

The 1976 Little League season closed with the biggest upset of the year when the last place team of Fred Mills defeated the first place Niebauer's by a score of 11-8. The loss knocked Niebauer's out of first place in the final standings.

Girls Basketball Practice Sessions Start Monday

The time has come for Chelsea girls to dust off their gym shoes as basketball practice begins 8 a.m. Monday, Aug. 16 at the Chelsea High school gymnasium. Practices will be held Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 10 a.m. for all girls playing high school basketball this fall.

Physicals are required before starting practice. Any physicals since June are acceptable.

The first game of the season will be approximately one week after school begins. This year, a total of 16 games have been scheduled. Miss Turner will be coaching varsity and Mrs. Bradbury will be coaching the JV's.

Don't expect everyone to agree with you; variety of opinion makes the world interesting.

Mills noted that his fired-up players banged out nine runs before the opposition scored. In addition to their impressive play, Mills' Chargers kept up a shining record defensively throughout the game to hang on to their second victory of the season, 11-8. Mills further commented that for his youngsters, "the win felt like the All-Star and World Series game rolled into one."

In other league action it was Ackley defeating Hoffman, 12-3, and shutting out Mills, 21-0; Schaffner 15-5 over Farley; Farley triumphing over Kelly, 12-5; Kelly turning the tables on Schaffner, 5-1; and Niebauer slithering past Hoffman to win, 8-7.
