Registration of the former residents will take place at Bicentennial Headquarters from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. The guests will then congregate at the Rod and Gun Club from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. for a reception and the opportunity to visit with friends.

Monday evening will be opening night for the Bicentennial Historical Spectacular, "America '76." The pageant will be staged on the Chelsea High School athletic field at 9 p.m. Performances will continue Tuesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings.

The fifth bicentennial day, Tuesday, Aug. 17, will be Frontier Day in Chelsea. Sidewalk Sale, Art Fair Slated This Week-End

Display booths will line the streets along Main, Middle, and Park as Chelsea's 4th annual Sidewalk Sale and Art Fair gets underway Friday and Saturday, Aug. 13 and 14. Hours for the festival will be 8:30 a.m. to 8:30 p.m. on Friday, and 8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. on Saturday.

According to Karen Johnson and Eve Policht, co-ordinators of the event, everything featured in the art fair booths will be hand-made. Some 61 artists will exhibit samples of their craft, ranging from such items as jewelry and pottery to painting. The artists will be located mainly on W. Middle St., Park St. and Main St.

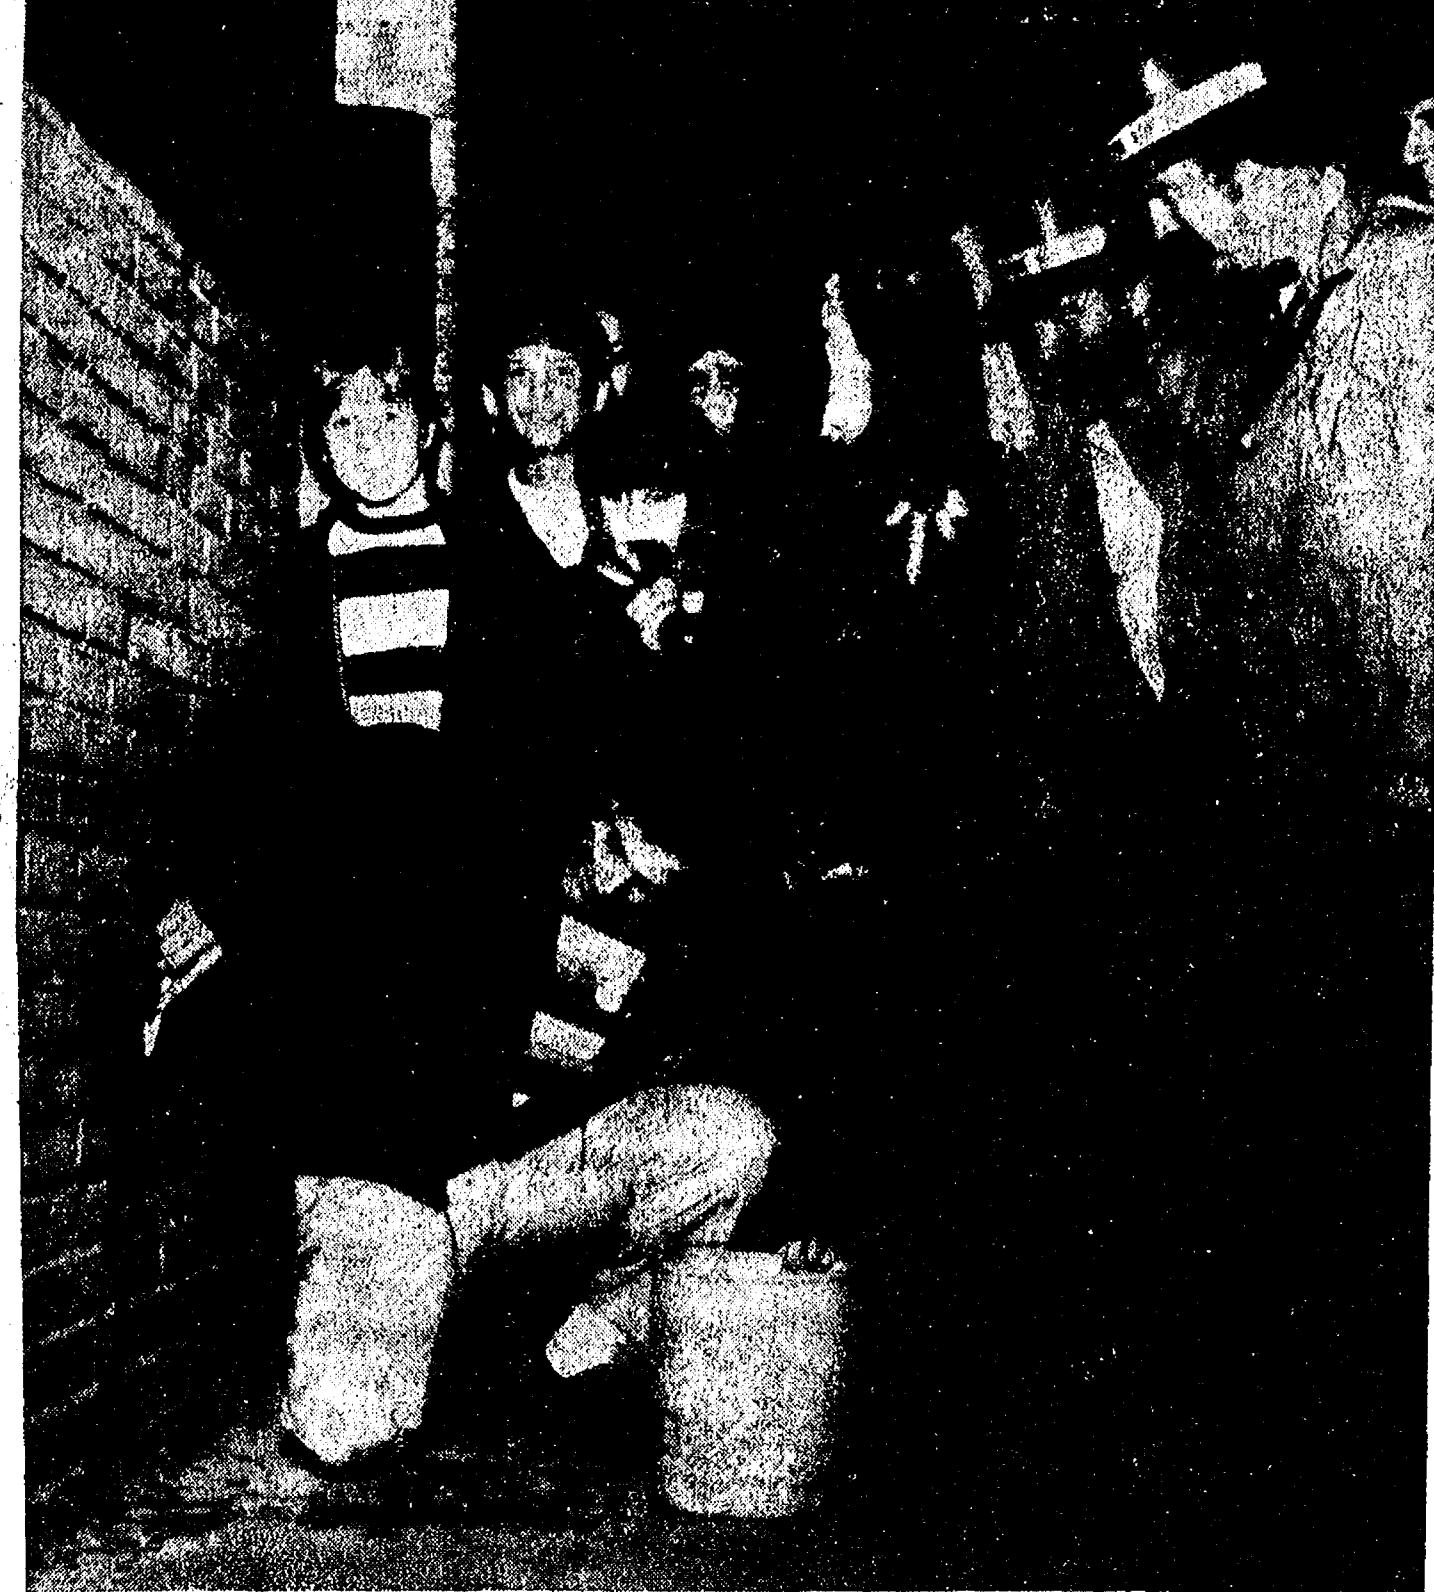

Food booths will be strategically scattered throughout the area, extending down Main St. as far as Bicentennial Headquarters. The most concentrated food section, however, will be on E. Middle.

The variety of dishes to tempt one's palate will include knock-wurst, crepes, home-made potato chips which taste "better than any chips in the store," honey and jacos.

All merchants with shops in the area will have merchandise on sale, both inside and outside of their business locations.

The carnival atmosphere of Chelsea's Sidewalk Sale annually encourages a number of musicians to make appearances. This year, musicians will be playing behind the storefronts, in the parking area. The majority of the bands will be rock groups. Softer music may be enjoyed in front of Nalli's Music Shop.

Organizers of the Art Fair have stressed the fact that all booths displaying goods have been juried prior to the occasion. The event is sponsored by the Chelsea Retail Merchants Association.

KEYSTONE KOPS and a few curious onlookers survey the damage left by a lawbreaker still at large during Chelsea's caravan to Grass Lake on Friday, Aug. 6. Conflicting Testimony, Angry Words Surface In Postill Hearing

"As I recall, I only hit the sheriff three times," sheriff's deputy Basil O. Baysinger testified Wednesday, Aug. 11 before the court in a preliminary hearing before 14th District Court Judge Henry D. Arkison which began Monday, Aug. 9.

"Three separate times?" inquired Neal Bush, Sheriff Frederick J. Postill's defense attorney. "Yes," replied Baysinger.

The deputy further stated he absolutely did not strike the sheriff outside of the Chelsea fairgrounds building where the altercation began, implying that Postill and his jail administrator, Frank M. Donley were the sole aggressors in the July 11 brawl at the Chelsea fairgrounds following a wedding reception for sheriff's lieutenant Leonard A. Dexter.

The preliminary hearing which will decide whether Postill should be bound over for trial on a charge of feloniously assaulting Baysinger with a pair of handcuffs, has been the arena for a cornucopia of statements, some highly conflicting, by witnesses called to testify on behalf of the prosecution.

According to Baysinger's testimony, submitted under questioning by Washtenaw County Assistant Prosecutor Lynwood Noah, Baysinger was approached by Donley and Postill who "wanted to talk to me about things at the jail, they were not specific, and asked me to step outside stating the band was making too much noise to hold a discussion there." Outside, he continued, Donley accused him of campaigning against the sheriff and being disloyal. "Do you have any facts to support this?" Baysinger stated as his reply, then added he received no answer. Baysinger then said he told Donley that as far as he was concerned, Donley was basing his claim on innuendo, at which point Baysinger testified Donley replied Baysinger was "a son-of-a-bitch and liar."

Baysinger then said he attempted to leave following more words from the jail administrator which accused him of giving information about the county jail to Ann Arbor News reporter William B. Trembl. Baysinger testified Donley refused to allow him to go, and the fight began.

According to Baysinger, he finally managed to get away from Postill and Donley and went back inside the fairgrounds building to tell Lt. Dexter what had happened, asking Dexter, "How can you support that son-of-a-bitch?"

More fighting erupted indoors and it was only then Baysinger claimed that he first hit Postill. "The first time you hit the sheriff, where did you make contact?" defense attorney Bush asked. "His face," Baysinger replied. Baysinger stated Postill had not been bleeding before, and could not recall if the sheriff was bleeding afterwards.

Approximately three more incidents of fighting occurred before officers arrived from the Chelsea Police Department. Baysinger testified that at one point Postill had said "stand back, I'm going to blow a hole through this son-of-a-bitch" and had partially removed his gun from his holster.

Other witnesses at the hearing, including William H. Peters, a Ford Motor Co. security employee from Ann Arbor, testified they never saw Postill with a gun and there were other sketchy reports regarding the condition of Postill's apparel during various times of the reported fighting, evidence which could be used to either incriminate the sheriff or disprove the charges against him.

Peters could not remember whether Postill was wearing the jacket to his leisure suit all evening, but testified he picked up what appeared to be the jacket from off the back hood of Postill's car when Postill went to make an emergency police radio call for help, and placed the jacket in the back seat of Postill's car. This was prior to a fight which occurred on a starvel inside the fairgrounds building.

As no one can remember Postill wearing the jacket after that, and the jacket was presented in court with evidence of blood on it, it is possible to assume Postill was hit by someone before the stairwell fight sequence was interrupted by Chelsea police which Baysinger maintained was his first time attacking the sheriff.

In other testimony on Tuesday, Aug. 10, a part-time police officer, Robert Browning told the court that he thought Postill was drunk. "The sheriff's breath smelled of intoxicants, his clothing was in disarray and he was staggering," Browning related, "In my opinion, he was drunk."

Prior to Browning's testimony, Shirley Baysinger, wife of deputy Baysinger and the first witness called on Monday, Aug. 9, stated her husband may have been "tipsy" but "he certainly was not high" although "he had a beer in his hand most of the evening" of the fairgrounds incident.

In swearing out a citizen's complaint and warrant against the sheriff charging felonious assault, Baysinger circumvented the Washtenaw County prosecutor's office. Baysinger's claim that Postill attacked him with a pair of handcuffs was to some extent substantiated in court by Peters' testimony that he "saw Postill apply" (Continued on page five)

1.5 MILLS NOW NEEDED: School Budget Upset By Changes in State Laws

On Aug. 30 voters in the Chelsea School District will vote on a proposal to increase the operational millage by 1 1/2 mills for a period of one year. This proposal comes on the heels of a successful election held in March of this year, which renewed for 5 years the expiring millage last voted in 1974.

President Howard Haselschwardt and Superintendent Charles Cameron were asked to respond to questions concerning the need for additional funds at this time and the reason why the Board of Education failed to anticipate this need when it asked for only a renewal in March.

Haselschwardt stated that the 1 1/2 mills are necessary to our school district's income to replace funds cut by the state that in March we didn't expect to lose.

He pointed out that the state law covering school finances has been changing twice in the last 60 days, both times affecting the Chelsea School District. The first change came in June when the legislature in Lansing amended the law to read that if a school district votes to increase its millage, it will be allowed to keep the additional tax monies and State Aid monies the extra millage will raise. In Chelsea the 1 1/2 mills will generate an additional income of $148,000 in additional tax revenue and State Aid.

Furthermore, Haselschwardt emphasized that by voting yes on this proposal we will force the state to give us more State Aid money because under the present law the only way the schools can increase their income is by increasing the voted millage. When taxes go up because a property owner's valuation goes up, the school district does not gain because the state takes away a dollar for every dollar gained by higher valuations or assessments. However, if we increase our voted millage by these 1 1/2 mills, we are able to keep every additional dollar we receive, plus the state is forced to increase its share also.

When the Chelsea District voted in March, the tax money generated by the additional millage would have been absorbed by the state. This fact is why the Chelsea board decided to ask for only a renewal millage.

The second change in the law came in July when the legislature finalized the State Aid Act for the coming school year. Their decision forced the Chelsea schools to lose $130,000 over a two-year period. The legislature failed to restore $62,000 in cuts the governor had made this past school year (1975-76), and then reduced next year's income $68,000 below the amount anticipated.

Thus the Chelsea School District finished the 1975-76 school year with a deficit of $51,000, instead of a surplus of $11,000 as was expected, had the governor's cuts been restored.

Superintendent Cameron said that all of the staff in the district have worked hard to keep costs at a minimum. In fact, there are only two districts in Washtenaw county that have lower per student operational costs than Chelsea, and seven have costs that are much higher. Cameron stated, however, that he is certain that most residents in the district are convinced we have a well-rounded program and will vote the necessary millage to have it continue. We are especially enthused about the vocational program in auto mechanics, electricity, electronics, and graphic arts now being offered at the high school.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

It ain't the television full of football that reminds us we're well into August, it's them Christmas gift specials we get in the mail. If we act now we can be sure of everything from two pound boxes of 20 kinds of cheese to a do-it-yourself kit for making a six-foot grandfather clock. But we got to hurry, cause these offers is for a limited time.

Americans has lost all respect for the calendar. It use to be the Christmas spirit come around the middle of December. Then it spilled over into Thanksgiving, and with all the summer gift specials I won't be surprised to see folks stringing lights around Labor Day. I reckon it's just a part of the way we live nowadays. Most of us is paying last year's bills, but as soon as the models come out we'll be driving next year's car. They ain't no telling what year's wages we're spending, but if you take in account what the Federal Government owes and what it spends, we must be well into the next century. Like the man said, the hurrier we go the behinder we get, but ever politician keeps saying money is the cure for all evil and he's going to give away more than the next feller.

I brung up this matter of my old lady making up her Christmas shopping list here in the heat of summer at the country store Saturday night, and my report started a discussion of the general ill of the human race. It was Bug Hookum that said it looked to him like the half of the world that is the question is gaining on the half that's working on the answer. For instant, he said one scientist has come out and said that once a alcoholic gets his drinking under control he can start back drinking with no more risk of losing control than any other drunk. But if you think that don't make sense, Bug reported where one church is using grape juice instead of wine at communion because somebody has been draining the cup, and other churches have started giving folks a choice of wine or juice to keep from tempting drunks in the congregation.

Going on about the problem makers and problem solvers, Ed

Doolittle had this clipping where we had our first $100 billion national budget in 1962. It took nine years to get to $200 billion and four more years to hit the $400 billion mark. With Government growing this fast, Ed declared, we still got people expecting the mail service to get better and cost less. Ed said the most amazing word he's heard was that the Government is thinking of making farmers and ranchers put restrooms and water fountains in the fields for their help. But what will top that will be for Uncle Sam to get in the toilet subsidy business, build a surplus and wind up with warehouses full of em.

Then watch somebody buy up the surplus, paint em and sell em back to the farmers as tool sheds and special August Santa Claus dollhouses for their children. The greenbacks grow round and round.

Yours truly,

Uncle Lew.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

'Sunset' Talk

It's possible the myriad of agencies and programs funded by Michigan taxpayers will have periodically to prove their worth in order to stay in business.

That's what "sunset" legislation is all about, and more and more state officials, including Gov. William Milliken, are praising the concept.

Sunset legislation provides that an agency, board or program be given a terminable life of specific duration—two years, for instance. Before that time is up, the legislature would conduct a comprehensive review and evaluation of that agency, board or program would be renewed for another specified period of time.

The governor, in a letter to House Republican Leader Dennis Cawthorne of Manistee, said:

"There obviously is some duplication of governmental programs and agencies. . . . It is also apparent that, after a period of time, many programs become redundant and in some cases totally ineffective. . . . I am interested in a mechanism which would create an incentive for periodic and comprehensive legislative evaluation of existing programs and agencies."

Cawthorne had recommended a study of the feasibility of writing sunset provisions in the 1977-78 executive budget. Milliken directed his staff to work on the idea.

House Speaker Bobby Crim, D-Davidson, also supports the idea. Ready with specifics of a sunset provision is the Michigan Citizens Lobby. Their proposal calls for review of each state program on the books every four years.

"I don't think anybody can say definitely there is tremendous waste in government," says Doug Ross, co-director of the group. "Our research has shown nobody knows. I don't believe we'll really know until we really look."

The Citizens Lobby proposal recommends that:

—No state program, except pension programs and other to which individuals contribute, be authorized for more than four years. Reviews would be held before any program was extended for another four years.

—Programs would be reviewed by function, meaning, for instance, that all education programs would come up for scrutiny at the same time. That way, reviewers could more easily discover any overlapping of duties.

Count Goes On

Chalk up 400,000 miles of pheasant-counting to Michigan's rural mail carriers over the years. And they're adding to that total this month.

Co-operating carriers—about 850 in all—help the Department of Natural Resources measure the number of game birds available to hunters later in the fall. During late July and early August, the carriers tally the number and size of young birds they see while carrying on with their regular jobs.

No one counts every bird in his territory, of course. But the department weighs the carriers' counts with results of the previous year's census and other DNR surveys. That provides an accurate score on whether the pheasant population are up, down or the same as compared with the year before.

That information then is used by the DNR to draw up regulations covering the upland birds. It also has given department game experts a long-range guide to pheasant management.

"Sick Call" Recreated

An 1886 graduate of the University of Michigan medical school, Robert W. O'Dell, presided over "sick call" at Fort Wilkins a century ago.

Today, visitors to the fort, located at the tip of Michigan's Keweenaw Peninsula, can see what the garrison hospital looked like at that time. It has recently been refurbished by the Department of State's Historical Museum staff, which followed accounts of an inspecting officer of the day.

"Garrison Life," another Fort Wilkins attraction, uses artifacts and graphic art to show the daily routine, duties and leisure time activities of the common soldiers who manned this Lake Superior outpost between 1844 and 1846, and again from 1867 to 1870.

The fort will be open to the public through summer and fall, until the close of the color season.

Michigan State University has been selected as headquarters for the International Rehabilitation-Special Education Center under an initial $250,000 grant from HEW. Research, demonstration, training, information exchange, exchange of experts and technical assistance to help the handicapped are among the aims of the center.

Zap Pesky Ants

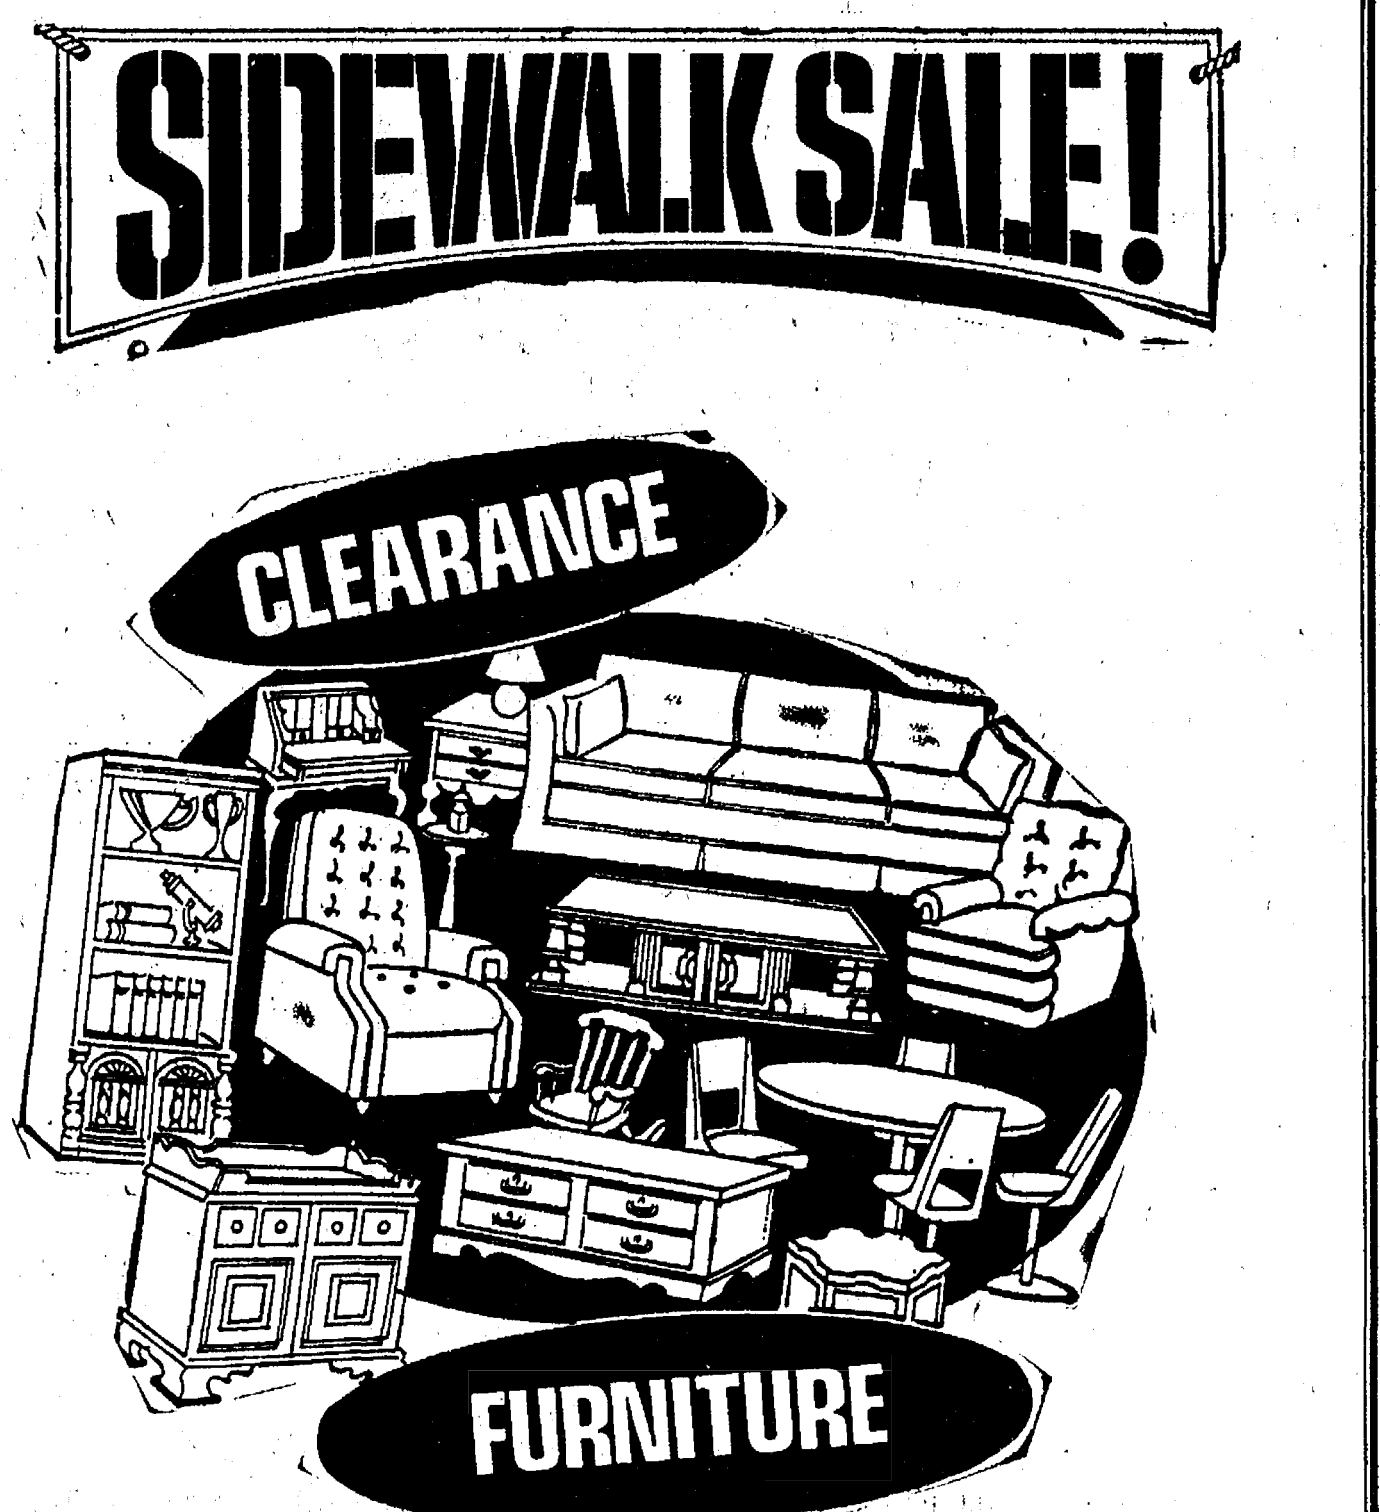

The best way to control ants in the home is to find and destroy their nest, say Michigan State University entomologists.

If you can't eliminate the nest, treat the pathways the ants follow into or through your house to kill the pests before they can get into food storage or serving areas.

Dexter Township Board Approves Road Project

Dexter Township Board held its regular August meeting on Monday, Aug. 2, to appropriate its 1976-77 revenue sharing monies. It was agreed that since this money is given on a yearly basis the money should be spent on a short term project as opposed to one of continuing service. It was therefore decided to spend the money on the Dexter Township Rd. project. This project, when completed, will provide a second paved road, crossing the township, which will hopefully relieve some of the traffic problems on Dexter-Pinckney Rd.

The board also reviewed and gave tentative preliminary approval to the next three phases

Body Found Monday on I-94 Near Zeeb Rd.

The body of a black male, partially covered with a blanket, was discovered Monday afternoon, Aug. 9, by a construction crewman on I-94 freeway near Zeeb Rd.

Deputies Thayer and Shaw from the Dexter station, Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department, were called to the scene about 2:20 p.m.

A suspected homicide, the hands and feet were tied and the throat cut, according to sheriff's reports. The victim possibly had been dead about two days, according to reports.

Sheriff's police are continuing the investigation.

The crew and management of McDonald's of Scio township are joining together to donate their time and energy in sponsoring a Muscular Dystrophy Carnival on Sunday, Aug. 15, 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. To be held near McDonald's on Zeeb Rd., the carnival will feature games and prizes.

More than a million persons in this country suffer from MD an incurable disease. Through the efforts and donations of many people world-wide, research is being done on the disease.

Recount May Be Sought In Dexter Township Vote

A recount will be officially requested in the Dexter township election, according to Nick Holly of Edgewater Dr., who was defeated in the Republican primary election on Aug. 3 for the position of supervisor by incumbent John Tandy in a 212-184 vote.

In a letter to the Washtenaw County Board of Canvassers on Aug. 4, Holly requested investigation into certain "irregularities" that might have occurred in the election. Holly says he feels the voting machines might not have been working correctly, thus not registering an accurate voter count. He says he had calls from some voters that the machines did not work correctly.

Supervisor Tandy says that on two occasions the machines jammed due to a voter error in activating the levers and that both times the error was corrected by an election official. He pointed out that no votes are recorded until the red handle is pulled.

The Board of Canvassers said on Monday, Aug. 9 that they were discussing whether or not to check the machines before they certified the vote. Certification would probably be completed by Tuesday or Wednesday, they said. After that, anyone has six days in which to formally request a recount.

Another irregularity mentioned by Holly was that "each voting machine was read several times and on each occasion different results were announced." He also said that the "results read, prior to the addition of absentee ballots were not consistent with the final tally."

Still another problem which occurred in Dexter township was a delay in opening the polls when the voting machines could not be opened. Tandy explains that a new man was opening the machines that day since the regular man was on vacation. Although he has worked on other voting machines many times, he had some problems in finding the right key to opening these machines.

Many other special events are planned for this 32nd annual

Words Fly in Sheriff Exam

he serrated edge of a pair of handcuffs to Baysinger's throat during a portion of the fracas, the Ford security employee further claimed he saw Baysinger hit the sheriff in the face with a fist, a blow which knocked Postill to the ground.

Baysinger admitted in court that he never told state police investigators about the incident in which he hit Postill. That this act never surfaced prior to the hearing may reflect to some extent on state police reports that tied Postill as the aggressor at all times in the brawl.

Bush, in his cross-examination of the prosecutor's witnesses, demanded extensive recollections of detail and approached the witness stand aggressively. He maintained on Monday that it would only take the testimony of one witness to disprove Baysinger's charges of felonious assault and "that witness," he stated, "is Mr. Baysinger."

Before testimony began, Bush made a motion to dismiss the charge against Postill. Judge Arkinson overruled the motion stating he did not find sufficient ground in Bush's motion to warrant such a decision.

The courtroom then erupted into a scenario bordering on the absurd. Bush moved that all witnesses be excluded from the courtroom which was sustained by the judge. However, Baysinger's personal attorney, Jack J. Garris, who had been subpoenaed by Bush as a defense witness, refused to leave, accusing Bush of using the measure as a tactic to get him out of the courtroom to prevent him from hearing the case.

Arkinson was outraged at Garris' refusal to abide by the ruling of his court and ordered Garris out. Garris attempted to describe his dilemma to the judge again, stating he needed the court's guidance to which Arkinson replied, "I just gave it to you, you've sequestered." Garris finally picked up his legal papers and left.

Resuming the proceedings, Arkinson snapped, "Nobody is going to make a mockery of this hearing." This man (pointing at Postill) is going to get a fair hearing in spite of the whole lot of you (meaning both sides of the legal counsel).

Other witnesses subpoenaed by the defense include Washtenaw County Prosecutor William F. Delhey and Ann Arbor News reporter William B. Trembl. These witnesses are not expected to take the stand until Thursday afternoon, Aug. 12.

Urbanites subjected to seemingly endless crescendo of jack hammers, pneumatic drills, subways, sirens, airplanes and automobile traffic face a noise pollution health threat as serious and far reaching as air and water pollution, hearing specialists report.

Football Practice Will Start Aug. 23

The 1973 football practice season opens Aug. 23 for varsity, junior varsity and freshman teams. Each player must have a current physical exam before he may begin practice.

Players are required to furnish their own shoes. This Saturday, Aug. 14, from 9 a.m. to 12 noon at the Chelsea High school gym, there will be a salesman with shoes for all levels, junior high to high school. Prices will range from $11 to $25.25. If you need shoes, this is the time and place to make the purchase.

The varsity football schedule this year consists of four home games and five away. The season will open with Tecumseh and close with Jackson Northwest as our non-league games. League schedule will include Lincoln, Novi, Brighton, South Lyon, Milan, Dexter and Saline. The junior varsity schedule is the same as the varsity, nine games. The freshmen team has a seven-game schedule.

Coaching staff for the 1976 football season is as follows:

Any high school student wanting to play football who has not received a letter, is asked to call Coach Phil Bareis at 475-7531.

Athletic Dept. To Handle Fair Gate on Commission

Coaches of Chelsea High school, in an effort to better the athletics of Chelsea, are handling the parking of cars and selling of tickets at the Chelsea Community Fair.

Parents and interested persons are asked to donate a couple of hours in helping with this project. Please call Pat Clarke, chairman of the project. Five people per hour are needed to cover the fair entrances plus athletes to help park cars.

For this assistance the Fair Board will pay the athletic department 10 percent of the gate profits. An example of an amount which could be made would be $1,300 for last year, (1975). This year the Fair Board increased the admission price from 75 cents to $1. The coaches hope to realize $1,500 for their project.

If you are willing to support this project please call Pat Clarke 426-8151 or if unable to contact, call Phil Bareis, 475-7531.

Green Mountain Boys Run Scheduled Tuesday

In 1770, Ethan Allen led a group of patriots devoted to protecting their rights as settlers. Primarily, these patriots were opposing the movement on the part of some colonists to redistribute land among a different set of owners. The resistance tactics of Allen and his supporters often required the assistance of fleet-footed messengers.

With this segment of history in mind, Chelsea's Boy Scout Troop 425 has prepared a bi-centennial contest reminiscent of the challenges overcome by these messengers. The contest has been labeled the Green Mountain Boys Run, and is slated to occur in the west section of Chelsea Fairgrounds Tuesday, Aug. 17, 1 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. Everyone, regardless of age, may participate.

An obstacle course has been plotted at the fairgrounds site. Contestants will be required to race around the course against a clock. In fairness to all, the competition will be divided into boys, girls, men, and women, according to age, for a total of 17 categories. Prizes will be awarded to first-, second-, and third-place finishers in all age groups. Over-all, 51 prizes will be given.

A special "open" division will list no age restrictions and will allow contestants to compete for the first-place prize of Bicentennial Medals. There will be a division between males and females. Trophies will be presented to the second-place finishers.

The obstacle course will be run over a cleared path blocked by an occasional market or cannon which the contestant must load or obstructed by a rail fence which the runner will have to climb. The level of difficulty is such that a person from 6 years old and under to 51 years old and over will be able to negotiate it. The Bicentennial Brigade and Belles d'Armes are encouraged to enter the race in a challenge against one another.

An entry fee of 25 cents will be charged. For an additional 25 cents, contestants may enter the "open" class.

For further information, contact J. L. Boyd, chairman, 475-8423.

Although public indignation with unwanted noise dates back to the Roman Empire when citizens complained about noisy chariot riders, it was not until 1972 that federal regulations were passed seeking to limit the rising clamor that characterizes many urban areas.

Control Sap Beetles

What's black with yellow spots on its back, shiny and a fourth-inch long?

If it's in your garden, it's probably the sap beetle.

According to Michigan State University entomologists, the sap beetle or picnic beetle is attracted to overripe or rotting fruits and vegetables. There are no chemical insecticides labeled for use against it. To control it, control the insects that damage crops and remove all damaged or overripe plant materials.

Arm Wrestling Contest Slated on Frontier Day

Along with the other events that will take place on Frontier Day, Aug. 17 at the Chelsea Fairgrounds, there will also be an Arm Wrestling competition.

Rules for arm wrestling will be as follows: There will be two age groups: 14 to 17 years, and 18 years and up. Contestants are to be matched according to weight.

Each contestant must be registered, weighed and given a number at least one-half hour before competition.

Contest will begin with contestants standing on floor with thumbs and wrists interlocked.

Free hand will remain on table behind competitor's elbow. This is not a timed event, there will be no draws.

Come and test your strength at the arm wrestling event. Don't forget the other events that will take place the afternoon of Frontier Day—the Obstacle Course, Hatchet Throw, Horseshoe Pitching, Gauntlet, Log Sawing, May Pole, Seed Spitting and Taffy Pull.

Police Nab Errant Driver After CB Alert

James M. Hanner of Detroit, was arrested by Chelsea Police Sgt. Lenard McDougall on charges of carrying a concealed weapon and kidnapping following a truck driver's CB radio alert to police about 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Aug. 11.

According to police reports, McDougall received the trucker's CB call "requesting a Snokle" to look out for a drunk driver westbound on I-94 and "all over the highway." Moments later, McDougall stopped a brown 1963 Chevrolet on I-94 near the M-52 overpass.

Approaching the vehicle, McDougall asked the driver for his license and registration. While Hanner, the driver, fumbled for his license, a 13-year-old girl jumped out of the vehicle and ran back to McDougall's patrol car. She told police she had been abducted and assaulted in Detroit, then taken to the Chelsea area. "He has a gun," the report quoted the girl as whispering to McDougall.

McDougall called for help from Washtenaw County Sheriff's Police and returned to the stopped vehicle to investigate the girl's report that Hanner was concealing a gun. Following the girl's instructions, McDougall found the revolver under a seat cushion. The weapon was not registered. A passenger, Tony Martin, of Detroit, was asleep in the back seat. He was questioned by police and later released. Hanner was held overnight in the county jail pending arraignment.

Railroad Worker Injured Monday

An accident on the north side of the railroad crossing at Main St. in Chelsea on Monday, Aug. 9 resulted in what appeared to be a broken right ankle for Harlan Hughes of 5800 Hinkley Rd., Stockbridge, a Con-Rail trackman working on the railroad tracks at the time.

Police reports state Donald Leatherman of Jackson was backing a motor truck about 11:15 a.m. when the rear wheel hit a railroad tie, causing it to flip up and land on Hughes' ankle.

Hughes was transported by police to Chelsea Hospital.

Wolverine Lounge Takes League Title

In the men's "B" League Slow Pitch Softball Championship play-off Tuesday evening, Aug. 10, Wolverine Lounge won the title, defeating Ganja Oil, 9-7.

Wolverine Lounge took the early lead, heralding a score of 7-0 in the fourth inning. However, by the end of that inning, Ganja Oil had collected five runs to tighten up the score, and continued to apply pressure on the champs, staying within one or two runs of Wolverine throughout the balance of the game.

Season records for both teams at the conclusion of Tuesday night's game stands at 12-2, Wolverine Lounge, and 10-4, Ganja Oil.

Jim Herter Wins Beef Showmanship Award at Jackson Fair

McCalla Feeds Wins Tourney, League Titles

McCalla Feeds collected two first-place trophies last week by winning both the Village Slow Pitch Tournament and the "A" Slow Pitch League Tournament.

In the Village Slow Pitch Tournament on Sunday, Aug. 1, teams from both "A" and "B" leagues competed through double elimination rounds. McCalla Feeds suffered only one loss over-all, and that was to a strong T & R Pallet team. McCalla had beaten T & R earlier in the tournament, only to meet them again in the finals. Reversing the outcome of the two teams' earlier contest, T & R overpowered McCalla in this second match, forcing both teams into a play-off game. In the play-off McCalla Feeds regenerated their forces to win once again.

Following their Sunday victory, McCalla Feeds was again in the running on Friday, Aug. 6, this time for the "A" league slow pitch title. In this last game of the season, McCalla's faced Walt's Barber Shop, the four-time league champs. The two teams entered the playing field with only half a game separating them from first place in the final league standings.

McCalla Feeds took an early lead in the opening inning, only to have Walt's surge ahead later in the game. At the onset of the sixth inning, the game was tied, 5-5, and remained that way until the bottom of the seventh when McCalla's scored the winning run.

TODAY'S THOUGHT

By LOUIS BURGHARDT

You have heard the saying, "Today is the first day of the rest of your life." As long as we have life, each and every one of us must live within the confines of time - day by day. It is a precious possession. We can use it or we can waste it. At this very minute a life is being changed somewhere by some one, for better or worse. A hope is being born, a dream is being shattered. Pleas are being heard, accepted and rejected. Things happen every day.

This very minute, a part of today, will soon be gone. It can never be replaced. It can be used to advantage to bring happiness or it can be shunned aside to cause regret and faded hopes in tomorrows to come. Yesterday is gone. There may or may not be a tomorrow. But we do have TODAY. A decision right now to write a letter, make a phone call, pay a visit, or whatever - can mean a lot to you and others on this - "The first day of the rest of your life." . . . BURGHARDT FUNERAL HOME, 214 East Middle St., Chelsea, Mich. Phone 475-1551.

Confused about savings interest rates?

Wondering if your savings program is right?

Stop in, let's discuss it.

Truthfully, the way some financial institutions quote rates on savings is confusing to us, too. We could fill this ad with copy concerning the rates Chelsea State Bank pays on regular savings and on time savings. We could try as hard as we could to make it clear. But, again it could confuse you. May we suggest instead, you stop in and ask us for our savings rates. Ask how they're computed, compounded, etc.

You'll discover, we're sure, the INTERESTED bankers pay as good as anybody around. Just ask us.

The first automobile to travel coast-to-coast under its own power arrived in Newark, N.J., from San Francisco on Aug. 31, 1903. 61 days by a one-cylinder 1903 Packard named "Old Pacific." At the wheel was Tom Fetch, Packard's plant foreman, who made the journey to prove that the automobile was more than a rich man's plaything; it really could be driven great distances. That very car—the "Old Pacific"—is now among the 200 historic, antique and classic automobiles on display in Henry Ford Museum.

Registration Underway For PP&K

On Friday, Aug. 6, registration began for the 1976 Pont, Pass & Kick competition in the showroom of Palmer Ford. In making the announcement, Lyle Christwell, sales manager of the dealership, said: "We're looking forward to a big local PP&K competition at Jerry Niehaus Field on the evening of Sept. 20. We hope all the youngsters 8 through 13 years of age in this area will come in to register and take part."

Christwell pointed out that PP&K—throughout its six levels of competition—is free of any charge, and that youngsters need only have a parent or guardian accompany them to the showroom to register. "Our competition here will have 1st-, 2nd- and 3rd-place trophies for contestants in each of the six age groups, or 18 trophies in all," said Christwell. "Increasing each entrant's chances of winning is the fact that youngsters compete only against others in their own age group."

"Of course there is no body contact in PP&K. It's punting, passing and place-kicking for distance and points, just as the name says. First-place winners in each age group in our competition will go on to the Zone competition. And from there, top winners go on up the ladder through District, Area Division and National Finals," he said.

This year, the National Finals will be held at an NFL Divisional Playoff game in December.

The Ford dealer further explained that each entrant, upon registering, receives a free PP&K Tip Book. In the 1976 edition, there are competition tips by NFL stars Ray Guy, Ken Anderson, and Tom Fritsch. The Tip Book also includes complete PP&K rules and helpful conditioning exercises for contestants.

PP&K registration will close at Palmer Ford Sept. 18.

This is the 16th anniversary year of PP&K. From its inception the youth activity has been sponsored by the Ford dealers of America in co-operation with the National Football League. In that time more than 12 million youngsters have taken part in PP&K, making it one of the largest youth activities.

Michigan State University scientists pioneered in the development of machines for harvesting. Today, 75 percent of Michigan's crops of cucumbers, cherries, blackberries and grapes are machine harvested.

Nancy Dickerson, prominent national correspondent, reports for Detroit Edison:

"Here are some air-conditioning tips that will keep you from getting hot under the collar this summer."

Detroit Edison is a concerned participant in America's crusade for conservation. The wise use of energy plays one of the most important roles in that effort. But it requires a working partnership between those who supply energy and those who use it. Here are some ways you can help conserve energy and save yourself some money the rest of this summer.

You can dial up and hold your costs down.

Don't overcool your home. That's a wasteful use of energy. And expensive. For the most comfort and the most efficiency, set your thermostat no lower than about 10 degrees below the outside temperature. If it's 85 degrees outside, then set your thermostat at about 75 degrees. Otherwise your air conditioner has to work extra hard and your costs go up and up. In a typical house, you can save about 5 percent in operating costs for every degree you move the thermostat up. So, if your house is going to be empty for a few hours, move your thermostat up 5 more degrees and pocket the savings.

Staying comfortable this summer can be a breeze.

When the sun beats down, the heat in your attic builds up and it can be like living under an oven. An attic exhaust fan will get the hot air out and let the cooler night air in, and take the strain off your air conditioner. Good attic insulation works wonders at keeping your home cooler in summer and it will pay off again by saving on heating costs next winter. And don't forget light-colored shingles reflect heat. Whatever you do to keep heat out of your house saves money in air conditioning. Window fans work, too.

Shades of the past.

Before you had air conditioning, there were things you did to keep comfortable, like pulling down the window shades and closing the draperies on the sunny side of the house. That's smart. Because a bare window lets in as much as 35 times more heat than an insulated wall.

So do the same now and you can reduce your air-conditioning costs by as much as 12 percent. Shade your windows from the outside with ventilated awnings or trees and save even more—up to 22 percent of your air-conditioning operating costs.

Maintain your cool.

If you want your air conditioner to take good care of you, keep it clean. This means changing or washing the air filters often. Also, vacuum the inside coils and keep outside coils free of debris. Clean registers and return ducts regularly on central air-conditioning systems, and keep the cooling drain open for free condensate flow. And don't block air flow with furniture or draperies. Your owner's manual lists other maintenance tips. Follow them and keep cool all summer.

Buying a new air conditioner? Maybe the most important numbers aren't on the price tag.

First of all, it's important that you get the right size unit (BTU's). Your salesman can help on this if you tell him the length and width of the area you want to cool. Another number that's important is the EER number. This stands for Energy Efficiency Rating.

MODEL NUMBER
VOLTS	CYCLE	PHASE
115	60	1
COOLING BTU/HR	AMPS	WATTS
BTUs		WATTS

You can figure this out yourself. Just divide the BTU number by the number of watts. For example, a unit that delivers 6400 BTU's with 800 watts has an EER rating of 8. (800 goes into 6400 8 times.) The recommended EER number for any air conditioner is 8 or more. You may pay a little more, but you'll save on energy costs in the long run.

Detroit Edison has a folder, "How to stretch your air-conditioning operating dollar." Pick one up at any customer office and start saving, or write to: Customer Relations, Detroit Edison 2000 Second, Detroit, Michigan 48226

★ Basic Economics Lesson Forgotten

One of the major problems of our nation is the economic illiteracy of most of its citizens. You can have a PhD behind your name and still be an economic illiterate. In fact, a kindergarten sometimes has a better understanding of economics than a degreed intellect. He knows, with a mind yet uncluttered by the complexities of our system, that when he sets up a lemonade stand, the money he receives from his sales to people who want his product can be spent for something he wants.

If he has an economically-astute mother, she will make him pay his "production costs" rather than "subsidizing" him. He learns that the amount of time and effort and salesmanship he puts into his venture has an effect on total sales, as does the quality of his product (his competition down the street cut down on sugar and puckered up customers switched to his stand), supply and demand, weather, location and timing.

In a relatively simple exercise, he learned basic economics. He learned that we produce in order to enjoy the fruits of production.

Then he grows up and somewhere along the line, he forgets his economic lesson. He grumbles because the government takes a big chunk out of his paycheck; yet he consistently votes for candidates who advocate costly welfare and social "reform" programs. A national health insurance program sounds great to him. "Protection" by the government from all the evils and temptations of life is his due. Strangely, he doesn't relate his tax dollars as payment for that protection.

He thinks government-created jobs for the unemployed is another great deal . . . and later, he'll wonder why an even greater chunk of his paycheck is handed over to Uncle Sam and why he has less and less to spend on those things he wants even though he's earning more. Something's wrong somewhere.

He's forgotten that valuable lesson he learned many years ago . . . that jobs are created by the need for greater production to fill the desire for — and the ability to pay for — greater consumption.

If the little boy had created an unneeded job at his lemonade stand for the girl next door, he would have had to charge his customers more than they could afford to pay and his enterprise

Daniel Foytick, Jr. Completes Air Force Basic Training Course

Airman Daniel D. Foytick, Jr., whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Foytick of 13425 Old US-12, has been selected for technical training at Sheppard AFB, Tex., in the Air Force medical service field.

The airman recently completed basic training at Lackland AFB, Tex., and studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special instruction in human relations.

Airman Foytick, a 1975 graduate of Chelsea High School, attended Washburn Community College.

Scio Township Offices Entered By Burglars

Because of a break-in at the Scio township offices on Aug. 12 when burglars rifled files and desks and attempted to break into the vault, the regular board meeting has been changed to this evening, Thursday, Aug. 12.

After sorting through the scattered papers and records, township officials decided no records were taken. Between $10 and $15 was stolen from the desks, but no other valuables were missing.

The thieves couldn't get into fireproof vault, but did a good job in damaging the door. Only records are stored in the vault, and no money is ever kept there, notes an official.

Install room air conditioners on the shady side of your home. They'll use less electricity than they would if they were on the sunny side.

would have died. He hired her because there was more demand for his product than he could fill himself. He knew his economics. But then he grew up and forgot . . .

ANOTHER RATTLESNAKE: Observing the coiled 29-inch Massasauga rattlesnake he shot with a .22 rifle Thursday evening, Aug. 5 is Chelsea High School 10th grader Bob Gray, right, alongside his brother, Walter Gray, a 5th grader at Chelsea's North school. The reptile has nine buttons on its tail. Responding to the continuous barking of his dog, Bob went outside to find the snake lying along the garage foundation. Under the outdoor yard light, he walked up to it and put a bullet through its head. The University of Michigan has requested the dead reptile for a current study they are conducting on this particular species of rattlesnakes. The Gary family resides at 3250 McKinley Rd., overlooking Four Mile Lake. Says Bob, "No, I didn't know it was a rattlesnake when I walked right up to it and put a bullet through its head."

CROSS-COUNTRY BIKERS: Resting alongside the bicycles they rode from Everett, Wash., to Chelsea are Paul Dent of Bethesda, Md., left, and Glenn Swanson of Denver, Colo., right. The two men are graduates of Princeton University and were roommates throughout their college careers. Dent is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Max Kalmbach of Lyndon township. The duo plan to continue cycling all the way to the Atlantic coast of New Jersey where they will dip the front wheels of their bicycles in the Atlantic Ocean.

Soap Box Derby Slated Sept. 25

Chelsea's Bicentennial Soap Box Derby will be held Sept. 25 at 1 p.m.

Rules governing the competition state that all cars must be self-propelled and able to fit on a snowmobile trailer. There are no weight, wheel, or height restrictions.

Two divisions will be open to entrants, a senior and a junior division. Derby sponsors are the "Basement Savers."

For more information regarding the competition, contact Ray Sabo, 475-1227.

Government estimates conclude 40 million people are exposed to noise levels potentially damaging to their hearing ability and another 14½ million have hearing loss problems serious enough to warrant medical attention or hearing amplification.

Life is hard to those who make it hard.

Cyclists Visit M. Kalmbachs on Cross-Country Camping Trip

Two Princeton graduates and roommates, Paul Dent of Bethesda, Md., and Glenn Swanson of Denver, Colo., started from Everett, Wash., June 21, and rode bicycles cross-country, stopping en route to visit friends and relatives.

They spent last week-end with Dent's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Max Kalmbach of Lyndon township. The duo left Tuesday morning, Aug. 3, to continue their trip, heading for Port Huron. From Port Huron, they will ferry across Lake Huron, traverse portions of Canada to arrive in Buffalo, N.Y., and enter the final leg of their journey which will include a stop at Princeton, N.J., ultimately ending when they dip their front wheels in the Atlantic Ocean off the New Jersey coast.

Throughout their travels, the two men have been doing their own cooking and camping, when not staying in the homes of friends and relatives. Their campsites have been in parks and campgrounds.

The cyclists have been averaging about 100 miles per day, although one rainy day they managed to cover only 53 miles. However, upon descending a mountain one other day, they logged a record of 140 miles.

Casualties thus far have been one flat back tire and five blow-outs for Dent, and one flat front tire for Swanson. The difficulties were the product of their travel on secondary roads which were very rough.

Home Ec Clinics Feature Drying Fruits, Vegetables

On Wednesday, Aug. 18, at 10 a.m., home economists with Michigan Consolidated Gas, Ann Arbor, will demonstrate principles of drying fruits and vegetables.

The program is another in the series of two-day "Preserve to Conserve" canning and freezing clinics being conducted in the Company's Consumer Services Department, 211 E. Huron St., Ann Arbor.

Up-to-date methods for other less conventional food preservation techniques, such as salting, smoking and preparing spiridre fruits, will be discussed. Recipes for cooking with these preserved foods will be provided to all who attend.

On Thursday, Aug. 19, at 10 a.m., the final program in the series will review basic canning and freezing information and demonstrate the latest recommended methods for water bath processing and pressure canning Michigan's seasonal produce.

Instructions on freezing will include how to select packaging materials, blanching of vegetables, and how to pack fruits with and without sugar. A variety of home-made jams, jellies, preserves and pickles canning and freezing will be on display. Program folders and guidebooks will be distributed. Door prizes will be drawn at both programs.

The clinics are free and reservations for one or both programs may be made by calling 769-5151, Extension 214 or 215.

Paul Wood Admitted to MSU Honors College

Paul Wood of Chelsea was among 82 Michigan State University students who were admitted to the Honors College summer term.

MSU's Honors College is open to students who have attained sophomore standing with a high academic average and have shown commitment to both breadth and depth in the undergraduate studies.

Academically, these students are in the top five percent of the student body.

The Honors College is designed to give superior undergraduates an opportunity to develop an academic program designed specifically to their own interests and goals.

Wood, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Wood, 646 Flanders St., is a sophomore majoring in political science. He is a 1975 graduate of Chelsea High school.

Bicentennial Notes

BEARD CONTEST

A caravan from Manchester will arrive in Chelsea about 7:30 p.m. Friday, Aug. 13 to be guided to the Chelsea Fairgrounds for a bicentennial beard-judging contest. Competing for the honor of sporting the harshest chin will be many fine fellows from the Chelsea community. Prizes will be awarded, and all bushy faced gentlemen are encouraged to enter the contest.

TICKET EXCHANGE

Ticket exchange began Wednesday morning, 10 a.m., Aug. 11 for all advanced ticket coupon holders. The coupons may be exchanged for tickets to any night of Chelsea's Bicentennial Celebration. An additional 50 cents will assure ticket holders of a reserved seat at the event of their choice.

According to the two men, high winds and rain were their only inhibiting factors, causing them to lose one and a half days of travel. Reactions of the people they encountered on the road ranged from very friendly in the West to a more antagonistic attitude from truck drivers in the East. Some of the truck drivers rove very close to them, they said.

Tim Welshans Attends State FFA Leadership Meet

Tim Welshans represented the Chelsea chapter at the fourth annual Chapter Presidents' Conference held at Michigan State University Aug. 2 and 3. Nearly 100 chapter and regional officers participated in the conference designed to prepare chapter officers for their leadership roles during the coming year. The conference was conducted by the 14 state officers of the Michigan Association of FFA.

The conference theme, "Journey With FFA," focused upon state and national activities, public relations, and leadership development. Activities were designed to provide leadership opportunities for all conference participants.

The Chapter Presidents Conference was sponsored by the Michigan Association of FFA a 10,000 member organization of vocational education students preparing for careers in agriculture.

Tim, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Welshans of 12773 North Territorial Rd., will serve as president of the local FFA chapter during the 1976-77 school year.
