School Millage Discussion Set For Monday

Howard Haselschwardt, Board of Education president, Monday night announced a public meeting to discuss the coming millage election scheduled for Aug. 30, in which the school district is asking for approval of a 1½ mill increase in operational funds for the coming school year. He stated that the meeting would be held in the high school cafeteria, Monday, Aug. 23, 8 p.m.

Haselschwardt urged all parents and interested citizens to attend. He, on the Board, are very concerned that the voters know the facts concerning the urgent need for Chelsea Schools have for this millage increase. Haselschwardt stated, Board members and administrators will be present at the meeting to answer any questions and to discuss any and all school affairs.

In order to assist in placing the facts before the public, Superintendent Cameron has prepared several questions and answers that were discussed at Monday night's board meeting with citizens who have formed a committee to assist in passing the millage. He urged residents of the district to attend the public meeting on Aug. 23, so that they may ask questions directly of the board members.

Cameron stated that every possible effort has been made to hold down spending. The 1½ mills are necessary to continue the present school program and to operate within a balanced budget.

Q. When and where will the millage vote be held?
A. Aug. 30, from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. at the Beach Middle school.

Q. Why is the School Board asking for 1½ more mills for operations?

A ROYAL OCCASION: It was a perfectly royal occasion as Chelsea's First Lady, Kathy McCalla, was greeted by Eufala, Alabama's Heritage Queen, Rhonda Benson, during Monday's Bicentennial pageant performance. Miss Benson presented Chelsea's newly crowned First Lady with a bouquet of flowers following announcement of the contest winner. Left to right are Kathy McCalla, Rhonda Benson, Barb Krichbaum, and Dick Harvey. Mrs. Krichbaum and Harvey represent Chelsea's Bicentennial Committee.

Kiddies Parade At 6 Opens Five-Day Event

The Chelsea Community Fair Children's Fair Parade has been changed from 5 p.m. Tuesday, Aug. 24 to 6 p.m. due to traffic problems, parade organizers have stated.

The annual event, sponsored by the Kiwanis Club, kicks-off opening day for the fair. Among the marchers will be members of the Chelsea Police Department, the Chelsea Fire Department, and the Beach Middle school 7th and 8th grade bands.

Children entering the parade are asked to meet at the Municipal Parking Lot at 5:30 p.m. Judging will begin at that time. Youngsters' entries will be judged in categories of ages 3-5, 6-8, 9-12, and a miscellaneous group. First, second, and third prizes will be awarded in each division.

Criteria for judging the participants will include originality in self decoration, and in tricycle, bicycle, or wagon decoration. Horses, pets, and two-wheel motor vehicles will not be allowed in the parade. All powered units in the parade must be operated by an adult.

Kiwanis members will supervise the older children while parents are requested to accompany the younger ones.

FBI Enters Search for Kidnap Victim

The FBI has officially entered the kidnapping case of David R. Siegel, 8, missing since July 14 when he was forcibly abducted from South school playground by his father, 42-year-old Robert P. Siegel, Chelsea Police Chief George Meranuck stated Tuesday, Aug. 17. The local department's month-long search has failed to uncover the boy's whereabouts.

David has lived with foster parents in the Chelsea area since December, 1974, following a ruling by Washtenaw County Circuit Court Judge William F. Agor that neither of his parents was "capable" of caring for him. The elder Siegel was under a restraining order issued by Washtenaw Circuit Court prohibiting him from either seeing David or being in the vicinity of his son. Probate Court Judge Francis L. O'Brien issued a kidnapping warrant for Siegel's arrest on July 17 following the July 14 abduction.

While it was suspected at first that Siegel had fled to the Cincinnati, O. area, police have declined to comment on their leads regarding Siegel's current presumed location. An alert posted on LEIN (Law Enforcement Information Network), which stretches nationwide, has thus far failed to provide investigators with information leading to Siegel's apprehension.

Time Capsule To Be Buried Saturday

Charles Cameron will act as master of ceremonies for the burial of Chelsea's Bicentennial time capsule on Saturday, Aug. 21, 11 a.m. at McKune Memorial Library. Speaker for the occasion will be Dennis Petsch.

The article will be buried on the south side of the library and will remain there until it is unearthed 50 years hence or in 2026. The first baby born in the Chelsea area following the ceremony will hold the key that will unlock the capsule.

Envelopes are currently on sale at Bicentennial Headquarters. They may be purchased by area residents and filled with jewelry, photos, family trees, newspaper clippings, coins or family keepsakes for inclusion in the capsule. All articles will be preserved in a wax seal for the full 50 years and distributed to the person whose name appears on the outside of the envelope when the capsule is opened in 2026.

A limited time remains before burial so anyone wishing to include a family envelope with the other capsule contents should be sure to buy one now.

Postill Hearing Continues Today

Attorneys for Sheriff Frederick J. Postill filed a motion in 14th District Court Wednesday, Aug. 18, stating they will ask for a dismissal of charges accusing Postill of attacking his deputy, Basil O. Baysinger, with handcuffs.

The motion, labeled a "motion to dismiss for prosecutorial misconduct," will be defended by lawyers Neal Bush and Laurence C. Burgess when Postill's preliminary hearing resumes today before 14th District Judge Henry D. Arkison. The attorneys allege that the county prosecutor's office concealed statements Baysinger made to police about the July 11 fight at Chelsea fairgrounds.

Specifically, the defense charges the statements in question were favorable to Postill's claim that he never attacked Baysinger with handcuffs.

The attorneys are referring to a signed statement Baysinger gave to Detective Sgt. Robert L. Piziali of the Jackson State Police post following the fairgrounds incident in which Baysinger never mentioned Postill's use of handcuffs.

The hearing resumes following four days of testimony last week from 22 witnesses, the last of which was Postill himself. While under oath, Postill denied he provoked a fist fight with Baysinger or that he tried to strangle him with a pair of handcuffs.

Washtenaw County Assistant Prosecutor Lynwood E. Noah requested the one week delay Thursday, Aug. 12, saying he needed the time to bring another witness to Michigan from Wisconsin although he had stated Wednesday, Aug. 11 that his case rested. Noah added he would try to enter into evidence a taped radio interview with Baysinger made by WAAM, through which Noah hopes to prove his contention that the sound of Baysinger's handcuffs was heard.

Rick's Market Broken into By Burglars

Harold W. Rickerman, owner of Rick's Market, 20940 N. M-52, was the victim of an early morning break-in which occurred at the grocery store Saturday, Aug. 14.

According to Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department reports, the thieves gained entry by breaking a front window about 4 a.m. They absconded with a 150-pound floor model safe containing $300 in cash, a Colt detective pistol, ammunition, 3 TV lenses, some blank checks, and miscellaneous items. Also taken was a blue, 1974 F-150 Ford pickup truck used commercially by market personnel. It was recovered later the same morning, some distance away from the break-in.

Sheriff's deputies Daniel Cook and Gerald Evans reported the only physical evidence at the scene of the crime were broken pieces of plexiglass, possibly marked with the fingerprints of the thieves.

No suspects have been named in the incident.

A week earlier, burglars had broken into the same building but were unsuccessful in removing the safe. The only items reported missing at that time were stock from off the market shelves. To gain entry in this attempt, thieves had cut a hole through a back wall of the building, using either

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

I saw by the papers the other day where this letter writer was saying what a happy life a chicken leads in one of them giant commercial houses where they get stand and eat till they get big enough to get eat. He called it "The Short Happy Life," but I would agree on just the first part.

It seems to me, Mister Editor, that we're forever trying to make someone or somebody happy on our terms. I bet if you took that matter up with the chicken, it'd rather be out walking in the grass and scratching up a bug than standing jam-packed with nothing to do but eat. I don't know how far chickens get into this kind of thing, but I figure being waited on wing and foot takes away his respect for himself.

The feller's chicken letter reminded me of a year or so ago when I was swinging a bush hook in some hedge back of the house and I accidental hit one of my old lady's pet ducks. She lets all her pets run loose on the place, and she was mighty tore up about her duck. I about cut one of his legs off, and I split the webbing in a foot. She got the bleeding stopped and then she called the vet and ask him how to doctor a duck. He listened to what happened, and he said the best treatment would be to let the duck look after himself. If we took him in and hand fed him, the vet said, he wouldn't ever try to use that bad leg.

I was surprised that my old lady followed his advice, but it worked. We watched that duck drag the leg around a while, but afore long he learn to hobble on it and he learn to guide himself with his tail so he could swim with one foot. Now he's back the leader of the bunch. He can't get around quite as quick as them, but they go where he says go. If a duck can do it, I figure a chicken could, and there might be a lesson for us.

Actual, Mister Editor, I ain't so shore all the progress we're getting in Government service ain't a lot of hand-feeding crippled ducks. At my age I ain't likely to see another 20 year but from the promises out of Washington and the predictions out of scientists, this is going to be a interesting old world by 2000. Now that we got a machine on Mars, see by the papers where we'll have colonies up there by the end of the century. I reckon it'll be good to give them Mars colonists a rough time like the ones that first come over here, cause if at the Government programs keep building, Americans on earth I'm going to be like the chicken with out a worry.

Serious, it looks like we always got to have a challenge, but a heap of the time we get beat at our own game. We might come up with a chicken that can't cackle, is all drumsticks and breast and lays soft-boiled eggs salted in the shell, but we'll still have trouble with people. We still can't figure why City University of New York went broke and had to close. After all, it had been taking students free for 125 year and paying teachers the highest wage in the country.

Yours truly,
 Uncle Lew.

Computer Becoming Part of Modern Living

Computers have now joined death and taxes as inevitable fates of mankind, says Harry G. Hedges, Michigan State University professor and chairman of computer science.

More than half of MSU's 44,500 students enrolled in 325 MSU courses last year which used the computer wholly or partially.

"Every educated person should know something about the computer—how it works, how it affects our lives, how it is likely to affect people's lives in the future," says Hedges.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

Patients Protected

Michigan folks might be even better protected from those few incompetent doctors who may be practicing in the state. That's the aim of legislation signed into law recently by Gov. William Milliken.

The measure increases the authority of the Medical Practice Board to monitor Michigan doctors. It will help assure the public that "doctors are performing their duties in accordance with the highest professional standards."

Most Michigan doctors are highly skilled professionals, the governor pointed out. "And," he added, "this law will help remove from their ranks those few who are not competent to practice medicine."

How will that be accomplished? Among other provisions, the law allows the board to start its own investigations and it establishes a procedure for hearing complaints. In addition, it requires review of a licensee's file when information on about malpractice, medical society disciplinary action, substantiated complaint, revocation, suspension or limitation of hospital privileges, or notice of felony conviction reaches the board. It also requires the board to decide within 60 days of getting such information whether or not it will begin disciplinary proceedings.

And it calls for the board to report suspensions, limitations or any action against doctors to the Department of Public Health and Social Services, malpractice insurance companies, professional societies, and appropriate license health facilities.

The bill is a revised version of one Milliken vetoed earlier this year.

Rush for Children

Urging every man, woman and child in Chelsea to hasten the day of victory by salvaging needed scrap materials, Village President Alfred D. Mayer pledges full support to the local salvage campaign. "Every 50 pounds of steel means another 105 mm. shell; a discarded doorknob will help make dozens of cartridge cases; 25 tons of steel will make another tank," he stated.

Many Chelsea residents were badly frightened Monday afternoon when an army plane passed over the village at a very low altitude almost taking the caps off chimneys and practically brushing the rooftops. It is expected that village officials will register a complaint with proper army authorities in an effort to have this practice discontinued.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Visel, Mrs. George Brettschneider and Mrs. Mina Trolz narrowly escaped injury last Wednesday afternoon when the car they were riding in stalled on the Main St. railroad crossing. When the railroad lights began flashing to signal an approaching train, the occupants abandoned their vehicle. An alert engineer noticed something wrong on the tracks and brought his engine nearly to a standstill before striking the front end of the stalled car.

Moon Day Ahead?

With the mysteries of Mars a little less mysterious these days he thoughts of colonizing space may also seem a little less fantastic.

A Lansing shoe salesman, Dick Christmas, thinks human space exploration is far from far-fetched, and he thinks people should celebrate July 20, the day man first landed on the moon, as a special holiday.

Efforts to make "Moon Day" an official holiday in Michigan has far have failed, although Christmas reportedly has spent some $3,000 contacting state and federal officials around the country trying to round up firm support for his idea.

Thanks to Ball

Crop production in the Republic of Tunisia is up—thanks in part to recommendations from the director of Michigan's Department of Agriculture.

Director B. Dale Ball proposed more efficient use of irrigation in that country when Tunisians asked for suggestions during an agricultural export trade mission to the Mediterranean country three years ago.

This summer Ball received Tunisia's second highest medal, the "Medal of the Republic," in appreciation for that farming assistance.

Caught Him!

Would you believe a 40-pound, 5-ounce northern muskellunge? Or a 31-pound, 8-ounce brown trout? Or a 22-pound, 1-ounce Atlantic salmon?

Sound like the tall tales of the fish that got away. But these fish were caught, in Michigan, this summer, and set three of the six records tallied by Michigan fishermen for 1976.

The splake record was broken twice this season. First, a fisherman pulled in an 11-pound, 8-ounce specimen of the brown trout-lake trout hybrid. Then just about four weeks later, another fisherman landed an 11-pound, 10-ounce splake.

The sixth of the record breaking fish takes was a 32-pound tiger muskellunge.

If your present plan is terminated by your company, you can "roll over" all of your accumulated retirement dollars into an IRA account at Ann Arbor Federal Savings. All participants in the IRA plan can deposit $1500 per year or 15% of compensation, whichever is less, in a retirement account at Ann Arbor Federal Savings. Deposits and interest are tax deferred until retirement at which time you will probably be in a lower tax bracket.

Alter of 701 Island Lake Dr., Saturday, Aug. 14, in the University Lutheran Chapel, in Arbor. The 5 p.m. ceremony was conducted by the Rev. Alfred Heips and the Rev. William Kel-

Mr. Alter graduated from Chelsea High school and will attend the University of Michigan School of Natural Resources as a senior in the fall.

Ann Kalmbach, Rodney Abdon Are Wed at Methodist Church

The bride was given in marriage to her father.

For her wedding, she chose a floor-length gown of tulle with a long train, trimmed in white lace, and carried a bouquet of roses and greenery. The bride's hair was styled in a bun, and she wore a white veil. The ceremony was held at the First United Methodist Church of Chelsea, where the Rev. Marvin H. McCallum performed the 6 p.m. ceremony before 150 guests.

For her wedding, the bride chose a gown of tulle under sheer nylon net with a three-layered lace ruffled bodice, an empire neckline and long sheer sleeves. French lace encircled the neckline, then flowed down the back of the gown to a cathedral train dotted with lace and sequins. Her waist-length veil was trimmed in sea pearls and a band of lace. She carried a cascade bouquet of miniature white roses, white-blue carnations, and baby's breath.

Mrs. Thomas Williams of Lansing was matron of honor. She wore a light blue dotted-swiss ankle-length dress with daisies and blue streamers in front. A scooped neckline in back and front offset the gown's long, puffed sleeves. She wore a headpiece of daisies with blue streamer trim, and carried a bouquet of light blue daisies, white carnations and baby's breath.

Mary Kalmbach, sister of the bride, attended as a bridesmaid. She was attired in a costume identical to that of the matron of honor.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Kalmbach appeared in a full, floor-length, woven egg-blue sleeveless dress with an empire waist and matching jacket.

Ronald Bush of Chelsea was best man. Ushers were Gary Scrippler and Robert Waller, both of Chelsea. Following the wedding, a reception was held at the UAW Hall of Chelsea, hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Marston. Mrs. Marston is the bride's sister. Mrs. Ronald Bush attended to the guest book, while Mrs. Gary Scrippler poured the punch, and Mrs. Robert Waller served the cake.

The newlyweds honeymooned at Cedar Point. The bride wore an aqua-colored pantsuit with co-ordinated halter top for the journey. The former Miss Kalmbach is a 1975 graduate of Chelsea High school. Mr. Abdon graduated from Chelsea High school in 1973 and is currently employed by Federal Screw Works.

The couple resides on S. Main St., Chelsea.

Jane Oesterle, Richard Kessler Wed Saturday at St. Paul Church

Jane Elizabeth Oesterle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph M. Oesterle of 6005 Sibley Rd., exchanged marriage vows with Lee Richard Kessler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard L. Kessler of St. Louis, Mo., Saturday, Aug. 14, in St. Paul United Church of Christ, Chelsea. The Rev. Ralph J. Ratzliff performed the 6:30 p.m. ceremony before 200 guests.

The bride wore a white chiffon-ette gown with a chapel train. The bodice of her dress was designed of beaded, re-embroidered Alencon lace and matched the lace edging of her finger-tip veil which was supported by an Alencon lace camellia cap. Her flowers were a cascade arrangement of white sweet-heart roses, miniature carnations, and ivory streamers.

Deborah A. Weiss of Chelsea was maid of honor. She appeared in a floor-length blue sleeveless scoop-necked gown, covered with a three-quarter length figured chiffon cape in muted shades of blue. Her bouquet of white roses, miniature carnations, and baby's breath was anchored in a white lace ring, accented with blue straw flowers and sweetheart ivy streamers.

Bridesmaids were Brenda Seitz of Chelsea, Jacqueline Colp of South Bend, Ind., and Barbara Bruemmer of Ann Arbor. Their costumes were identical to that of the maid of honor, although their bouquets had been arranged to omit the blue accents.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Oesterle chose a floor-length honeydew-colored chiffon with a Grecian draped bodice and flowing back panels.

Mrs. Kessler wore a floor-length coral-colored chiffon with a cape which formed long sleeves at the cuff.

Pamela Kessler, sister of the bridegroom, attended as junior bridesmaid. Her floor-length gown of blue dotted swiss featured a ruffled cape. She carried a colonial bouquet of white daisies, baby's breath, and ivy.

Best man was Craig Kessler, brother of the bridegroom. Assisting him were ushers William Bueche of Berkley, John Clay of Saline, and Douglas Stahl of Bloomfield Hills.

The marriage was celebrated at a reception following the ceremony at the Holiday Inn West, Ann Arbor. Chris Kessler, sister of the bridegroom, was in charge of the guest book. Mrs. Darrell Williams cut the wedding cake.

The former Miss Oesterle is a 1970 graduate of Chelsea High school. She attended Western Michigan University where she was affiliated with Pi Omega Pi, a business fraternity. She is currently employed by Parke-Davis, Ann Arbor.

Mr. Kessler is a graduate of Andover High school, Bloomfield Hills, and attended Western Michigan University where he was a member of Beta Alpha Psi and Beta Gamma Sigma. He is employed by Burroughs Corp., Detroit, as a market analyst.

The newlyweds will reside in Romulus.

Booklet Gives Food Facts About Mich.

The 1976 edition of Michigan Food Facts has been published by the Michigan Department of Agriculture.

B. Dale Ball, director of the Michigan Department of Agriculture, said the booklet reports on about 50 crops grown commercially in Michigan, lists the state's rank in comparison to other states, and identifies major growing areas.

Colorful Michigan food crops are pictured on the cover of the 16-page booklet. Inside, there's information about five food products in which Michigan leads the nation, 22 in which the state ranks fifth or higher, and more than two dozen more.

In 1975, Ball said, Michigan farmers received $1.7 billion for their products, a four percent decline from 1974's record year. "With addition of processing, marketing and transportation, the value of Michigan's agricultural industry amounted to approximately $5 billion," Ball explained, "to maintain agriculture's place as our state's second largest industry."

Copies of the 1976 Michigan Food Facts are available without cost from M.D.A.'s Information division, Lewis Cass building, Lansing, 48913.

200 Years Ago

By Professor Robert E. Brown

The day was Tuesday, July 2, 1776, and the "American Revolution" was over, according to John Adams. What do we mean by "Revolution"? he asked. Do we mean the American War for Independence? No, "the real American Revolution" was a "radical change in the principles, sentiments, and affections of the people" toward Great Britain and in the union of the colonies achieved by the Declaration of Independence. As long as the British governed the colonies justly, he declared, Americans were loyal subjects. But when Americans discovered that the British intended to destroy their lives, liberties and properties, as well as their civil and religious institutions, loyalty turned to hatred. This change in sentiment and the union of the colonies were completed on July 2 when Congress passed the resolution for independence, and thus the "American Revolution" was over. All that remained was the War for Independence.

On July 3, John Adams wrote the following to his wife Abigail:

"Yesterday the greatest question was decided which ever was debated in America, and a greater, perhaps, never was nor will be decided among men. A resolution was passed . . . that these United Colonies are, and of right ought to be, free and independent states."

The second day of July, 1776, will be the most memorable epoch in the history of America. I am apt to believe that it will be celebrated by succeeding generations as the great anniversary festival. It ought to be solemnized by pomp and parade, with shows, games, sports, guns, bells, bonfires, and illuminations, from one end of this continent to the other, from this time forward, forevermore."

The "American Revolution" was the world's most unique successful popular revolution — if, indeed, it can be called a revolution. It did not follow the format of popular revolutions before or since; it was not sudden; the antagonists were not neighbors but were separated by 3,000 miles of ocean; it was the British rather than the Americans who instigated change; there were no violent differences among the revolutionists over the goals of the revolution; there was no "Terror"

Research Sheds Light On Power Blackouts

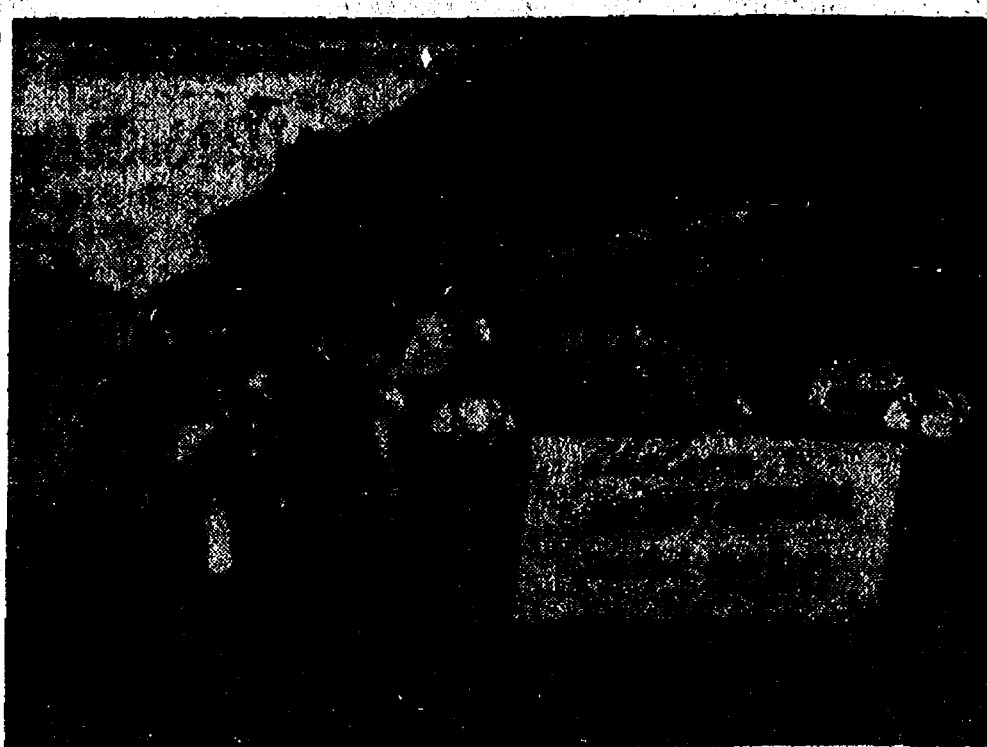

Many power blackouts may be more preventable because of a research project underway at Michigan State University.

Selective monitoring of the internal operations of a power system could prevent serious blackouts, says Robert A. Schlueter, associate professor of electrical engineering and systems science.

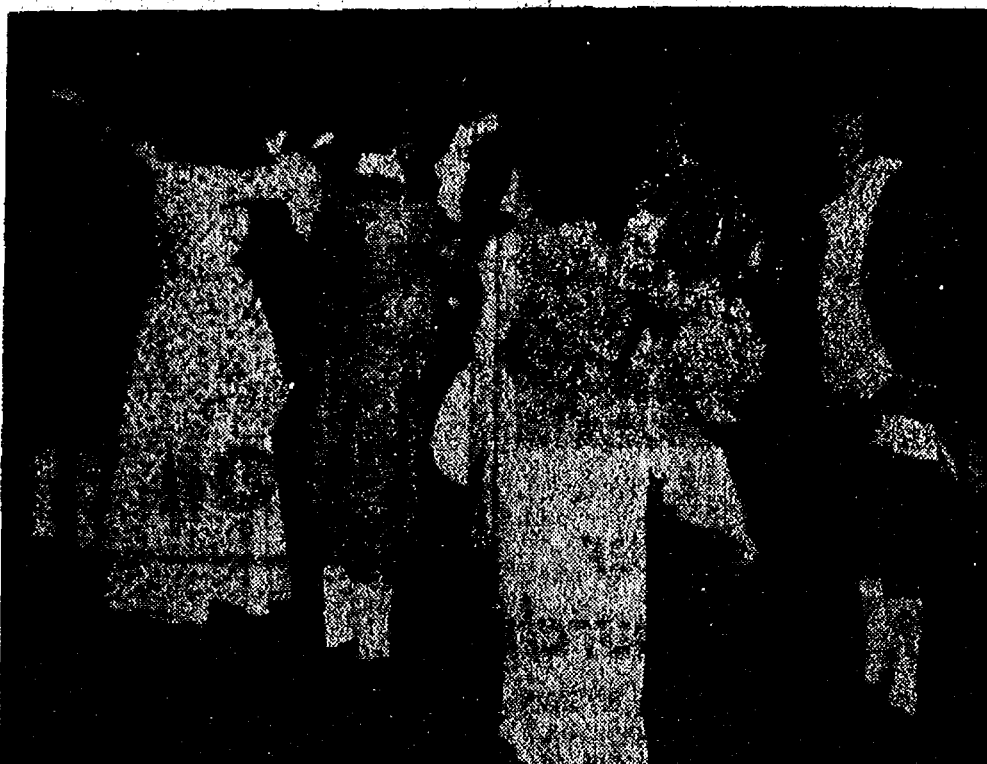

His research is aimed at understanding why large groups of generators function or "swing" together as if they were a single unit. This would allow monitoring of a single generator in each coherent group, thus cutting monitoring costs. Consumers Power Co. of Michigan is supporting the research with a $20,000 grant.

The Counseling Center at Michigan State University has one of the largest staffs in the country—50 persons—and is considered one of the most effective centers for training students and interns.

Bluegrass Lawns Need Regular Watering To Withstand Heat

If you don't want your bluegrass lawn to turn brown in the heat of the summer, you're going to have to water it.

Bluegrass is a cool season grass, explain Michigan State University turfgrass specialists. If it doesn't get at least an inch of water a week, it goes dormant—brown—in hot weather. Soaking to a depth of 4 to 6 inches infrequently is more effective than frequent, light, surface waterings, the experts advise.

Lee DeForest, the "father of radio broadcasting," was born on Aug. 28, 1873. At the age of 16, he decided to become an inventor, but it was not until after receiving his Ph.D. from Yale that he got into the field of wireless telegraphy, wire telephone, radio-telephone, sound-on-film talking motion pictures and television and radio therapy. Visitors to Henry Ford Museum in Dearborn may see many examples of DeForest's inventions as well as a number of early radios and televisions which trace the history of communication.

McKune Library Receives Kellogg Foundation Grant

McKune Memorial Library has received a grant of $700 from the W. K. Kellogg Foundation of Battle Creek. The money will be used to tie the library into a state-wide informational program over a two-year period. The Foundation has provided more than $1,500,000 in grants for this purpose, according to Dr. Russell G. Mawby, Kellogg Foundation president.

The McKune Memorial Library will be co-operating with the Huron Valley Library System, an organization of 13 public libraries headquartered at Washtenaw County Library.

The Ann Arbor Public Library and the Ypsilanti Area Library have each received grants of $5,000 and the Washtenaw County-Huron Valley Library System received $9,000. Member libraries have agreed to participate in a centralized program that will provide computer based cataloging services through the Ohio College Library Center of Columbus, O. The grant funds will also provide in-service training and strengthening of the system reference and inter-library loan retrieval.

Dr. Mawby emphasized that "voluntary integration of library services and the application of modern technology are promising means of adding to the kind, quality and speed of information provided to library patrons. The Kellogg Foundation is confident that when the network system is in place, first class services will be available to every citizen utilizing library resources."

School Millage Answers

aid, which will simply make up his unexpected shortage and provide some funds to offset rising costs.

Q. Why didn't the board ask for the 1 1/2 mills in March when the renewal millage was voted?

A. There are two reasons, actually. First, in March the 1 1/2 mills would have been absorbed by the state by a corresponding reduction in State Aid. However, in June the legislature changed the law so that districts young increases in millage retain the extra tax dollars. In fact, when a district increases its millage, the state is forced to increase its State Aid money also. Secondly, it wasn't until July that the legislature passed the law that resulted in the $130,000 shortage of funds.

Q. What does the school do with the money it receives from higher valuations on property?

A. State law says that every dollar schools receive from valuation increases is offset by a dollar subtracted from State Aid money. Only when a school district is willing to increase its millage, do the tax dollars increase that district's income. However, when a district is willing to increase its State Aid since the state's share is based on the millage in that district.

Q. Have the new buildings completed this past year made the extra millage necessary?

A. The new buildings cost money to operate and maintain, but these facilities were necessary to relieve overcrowding in the schools and to provide the vocational program that has been so badly needed in our district. Fortunately, federal funding for five additional employees has cut actual dollars spent by the district to maintain the new buildings considerably so that out-of-pocket maintenance costs are not significantly higher than a year ago.

Q. Doesn't the Chelsea School District have extra funds from the last school year or aren't there some more budget cuts that can be made?

A. Because of a reduction of $62,000 in State Aid last school year, our district finished the year with a deficit of $51,000. No school bus purchases have been included in next year's budget and many budgeted amounts have not been increased for the coming school year, despite rising costs. The budget has absolutely been cut to a minimum. Any further savings would require a cut in the school program.

Q. How many more tax dollars will the 1 1/2 mills mean to the average property owner?

A. Perhaps the following chart can best answer that.

Value of Property	Assessed Valuation	Tax Dollars
$20,000	$10,000	$15
$40,000	$20,000	$30
$60,000	$30,000	$45

Q. Should this millage vote fail will the School Board return to the voters again with the same proposal?

A. A change made in the state law within the past three weeks would allow a millage vote until Oct. 31, but since school begins Sept. 1, the board must make many decisions immediately after the Aug. 30 election. State law does not allow a budget to be adopted that is not in balance. The board feels the voters will support their schools by approving the necessary funding on Aug. 30.

Q. When was the last increase in millage voted the Chelsea School District?

A. In 1974 the voters approved the current operational millage of 24.72 mills. Almost every district in Washtenaw county has been asking for more millage to offset rising costs. The other requests have ranged from 1 1/4 to 7 1/2 mills.

Q. How do Chelsea's costs of operation compare to other districts?

A. Only two districts in Washtenaw county have lower costs of operation per student. The other seven districts are all higher than Chelsea.

70th Division Reunion Brings Together Former Enemies

From Aug. 5 to 8, local resident, Bill Pierce, attended a reunion of his old World War II Division, the 70th Infantry Division (Trailblazers). The reunion was held at a local motel in Perryburg, O., a suburb of Toledo. 119 veterans of the division attended, plus three Germans.

Mr. Schellenberg, Mr. Meyer and Mr. Gottenstrotter were guests of the 70th Division Association. These three Germans were part of the Waffen SS Sixth Mountain Division (Nord) whose assignment a late December 1944 and early January 1945 was to stop the advance of the 70th Infantry Division in the Vosge mountains of Alsace-Lorraine in eastern France.

This was the first meeting of the Americans and Germans since they looked at each other through the sights of their guns almost 32 years ago. Several hundred Americans and Germans were killed and wounded in the area of Wingen and Philippsbourg, France during the fierce fighting that took place between Jan. 1-15, 1945. Pierce was seriously wounded in Philippsbourg on Jan. 3, 1945.

The reunion consisted of two business meetings, to include the election of new officers for the next two years and the selection of a site for the next reunion, to be held west of the Mississippi in 1978. Also a luncheon, two banquets and dance and on the final day memorial services for those of the division who had given their lives.

On Aug. 6, Mr. Gottenstrotter, one of the visiting Germans, gave an after-dinner speech, thanking the association members for inviting them to the reunion and commending the 70th Infantry Division for the unit's fighting ability and their valor. He further stated that he and the German people hoped to keep the good relationship and friendship that now exists between our two countries.

Mr. Gottenstrotter then presented two members of the association with the crest of the Sixth Mountain Division (Nord). James Lassiter of Woodbridge, Va., received the award for all his research and making this meeting possible, and Wallace Cheves, former battalion commander, now of Miami, Fla. This is the first time this award has ever been presented to other than a German.

The guest speaker then extended an invitation to all members of the 70th Division Association to come to Germany and attend the annual reunion of the Sixth Mountain Division who have their reunions in southern Germany every September. The Sixth Mountain Division has a membership of about 3,000. About 20 members of the 70th Division, including Pierce, signed up to attend the German reunion to be held in Germany in 1977.

On Sunday, Aug. 8, a Memorial Service was held for those men of the Division who were killed during the bitter fighting of 1944-1945. The present day 70th Division Color Guard was present during the Memorial Service. The association's chaplain, Mr. Kyle, gave a moving talk on the past and hopes for the future. With the low rolling of drums, Wallace Cheves, vice-president of the division association, read the names of 30 members of the association who had died in the past two years. Then he read approximately 100 names of members of the division killed during the war. These names were given by members present at the Memorial Service. Pierce gave the names of two members of Company C, 275th Infantry Regiment, 70th Infantry Division.

As was explained by the association's president, the 70th Division actually had 876 killed in the war, but only those names given by members who were present at the Memorial Service were read. The three Germans carried a floral wreath forward and placed it at the foot of the 70th Division colors in memory of all those killed and missing in action. In conclusion Taps was played.

Pierce said this reunion will stand out in his memory for a long time to come. He attended the division reunion in 1974 held in Overland Park, Kans., and will be looking forward to attending the Germans' reunion to be held in Germany in September 1977.

Some comments made by members of the 70th Division Association were, "It was kind of spooky at first," "Most of the German were drafted just like most of the Americans were," "They (the Germans) were top-notch fighters." All agreed the reunion was very much a success and the German and their families were made to feel welcome during the four-day get-together.

Pierce says the 70th Infantry Division Association has a membership of a little over 450 members. Because of the publicity during their reunion in Toledo, 17 new members signed up. Also two former members of the Sixth Mountain Division, now U. S. citizens, flew in from Columbus and Cleveland, O., to attend the get-together. Some 65-70,000 men served with the 70th Infantry Division during WW-II.

Anyone interested in the 70th Division Association may contact Bill Pierce at the Sylvan Hotel in Chelsea. Pierce is a life member of Veterans of Foreign Wars, Chelsea Post No. 4076, life member of Washtenaw County Chapter 13, Disabled American Veterans, and life member of Chapter 79, Military Order of the Purple Heart.

Senator Bursley Rated Tops By Environmentalists

In a compilation of 16 votes on conservation issues conducted by the Michigan Student Environmental Confederation, Senator Gilbert E. Bursley (R-Ann Arbor), had the highest rating of all Republican legislators.

Senator Bursley a long-time supporter of environmental legislation and co-sponsor of the Environmental Protection Act (PA 127 of 1970), scored 92 points out of a possible 100. The average voting scores in the Senate was 61, with 54 in the House of Representatives.

The issues selected by MSEC for examination in the House included sand dune mining regulation (HB 4038); traffic speed limits; both 1975 public transportation bonding and 1976 re-enactments; SEMTA reorganization and taxing (SB 1375); aerosol spray control (HB 4340); and amendments to the Environmental Protection Act (SB 1003); oil royalty land purchases (SB 1258); tax reverted land sales (SB 1413); and voluntary public school sex education (SB 399).

Senator Bursley noted that, "relatively little environmental legislation passed during the 1975-76 session. Most of the effort by environmental groups was devoted to combating bad legislation. Hopefully, the tone of that can be changed in the fall session led by the ballot issue to place a deposit on beverage bottles."

Finally, Senator Bursley indicated one of his priorities in the fall and winter sessions will be to have a full debate by both the education committee and the full Senate on SB 483. This bill would require the Department of Education to establish guidelines and promote better environmental education in Michigan schools.

Thomas Edison received a patent on his Kinetoscope, a forerunner of the motion picture projector, on Aug. 31, 1887. His first motion picture machine was a peep show device in which the film ran between a light source and a magnifying lens. The pictures, viewed through a microscope, were generally unsatisfactory. By 1894, however, enough improvements had been made to open a Kinetoscope parlor on Broadway. Early Edison Kinetoscopes are displayed in the communications section of Henry Ford Museum in Dearborn.

Revenues Up Again for Michigan Highway Fund

Michigan fuel tax revenues have continued to increase as motorists have escalated their travel over Michigan's highways in record numbers, the State Highway Commission reported Thursday, Aug. 12.

Receipts from state gasoline, diesel fuel and liquid petroleum gas totaled $101,767,466 in the three-month period that ended June 30. This figure is up $5,406,462 or 5.6 percent from the comparable quarter of 1975.

A record of 4,301,924,200 gallons of gasoline were taxed in the 12-month period ending June 30, topping the previous 12-month-high of 4,285,823,455 taxed gallons set in the 1972-73 fiscal year.

Partially offsetting higher fuel tax collections in the April-June quarter was a decline in weight taxes, or license plate fees, paid by Michigan motorists. Revenues totaled $24,377,047, down $3,714,795, or 13.2 percent from the same quarter last year.

The decrease followed sharp gains in weight tax receipts in the previous two quarters as motorists moved earlier than usual to buy Michigan's new red, white and blue license plates marking the nation's bicentennial.

Fuel and weight taxes go into Michigan's Motor Vehicle Highway Fund, which is divided among the Department of State Highways and Transportation (44.5 percent), the 83 county road commissions (35.7 percent), and the 331 incorporated cities and villages (19.8 percent).

Distribution is made after deductions financing various grants are withdrawn, including 1.25 percent of the gas tax revenues for the State Waterways Fund, one-half cent per gallon of gas taxes for the state General Transportation Fund, and $3.5 million annually for the retirement of Machinac Bridge bonds.

The net $116,533,350 available for distribution is an increase of $2,225,441 or 1.9 percent over the same quarter of 1975.

The Highways and Transportation Department is receiving $51,879,591 as its quarterly share. The counties are receiving $41,620,256 and the municipalities $23,033,503.

The 1976 second quarter distribution amount to Washtenaw county is $892,639 compared to $954,686 for the same period of 1975. The $892,639 figure for 1976 is actually an increase over last year's allotment even though the totals appear to reflect the reverse. The incongruity is the result of a move to postpone the addition of interest acquired over the 1976 fiscal year to the third quarter, Charles Fischer of the State Highway Commission explained. In 1975, interest for that fiscal year was added on to the distribution amount in the second quarter.

Within Washtenaw county, the following cities and villages will receive the corresponding distribution amounts during the 1976 second quarter: Ann Arbor, $384,462; Chelsea, $14,504; Dexter, $7,133; Grass Lake, $5,549; Manchester, $8,098; Pinckney, $4,751; Saline, $16,693; Stockbridge, $4,540; and Ypsilanti, $30,607.

Postill Hearing ...

singer's voice on tape will support Baysinger's claim that Postill had wrapped handcuffs around his throat in an attempt to strangle him.

When recalled to the witness stand last Thursday, Aug. 12, Baysinger testified with regard to the statement he gave Piziali, "I don't think it unusual that I might leave something out of that statement. At the time I was scared, running for my life. I thought I had mentioned the handcuffs in there, but I know I said I had been choked and couldn't breathe."

Girl Scout Council Seeks Adult Leaders

Free training. Community service. Outdoor recreation.
These job benefits now being offered to volunteers by the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council in its fourth annual recruitment drive being conducted here Aug. 16 to Sept. 16.

The organization now serving more than 17,000 girls annually in 600 troops in Washtenaw, Livingston, Western Wayne and Northern Monroe counties is seeking to enlist an additional 70 troop leaders, 60 assistant troop leaders and 14 volunteer supervisors called troop service directors.
Fathers of girls, mothers of boys, husband and wife teams, career women and parents are invited to apply, according to Huron Valley president Mrs. Frances Bauer of Plymouth.

One of the most valuable things Girl Scouting offers its adult members is training," Mrs. Bauer said. "Many people I talk to feel that to join you have to know how to build a campfire, or paddle a canoe. That's nonsense. Everything one needs to know to do his job well, we teach you."

Free courses in outdoor and program skills, and group organization, child development, and methods for fostering girl initiative are taught by psychologists, group dynamics specialists and experienced Girl Scout adults. During the 1976-77 school year, six 2½-hour training sessions are planned for new leaders and 12 special interest sessions for advanced leaders. Volunteers also have training from support teams of other volunteers, Council staff members and parents. "No one ever works alone," Mrs. Bauer emphasized.

Qualification for positions as troop leaders or assistant leaders include good health, an interest in girls, and a schedule which permits one weekly meeting plus preparation time, a monthly conference with other neighborhood troop leaders, and training courses of one's choice. Having transportation is also helpful although most troop assignments are made by neighborhood.

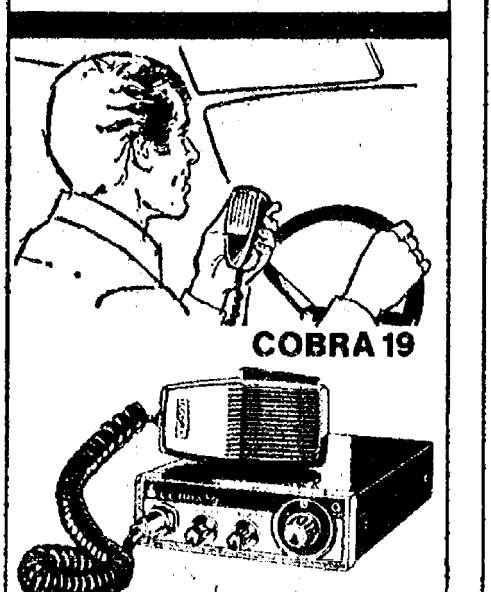

Leaders are assigned by preference to Brownie Girl Scout troops (age 6 to 8) of up to 15 girls, Junior Girl Scout troops (age 9 to 11) of up to 20 girls, Cadette Girl Scout troops (age 12 to 14), and Senior Girl Scout troops (age 15 to 18) of up to 25 girls.

Prospective troop service directors are required to have an interest in and talent for management and adult guidance. Troop service directors are responsible for recruiting, assisting and counseling adult leaders for 5 to 10 troops for assigning girls to troops and for acting as liaison between the Huron Valley Council and community organization of the area.

Individuals interested in learning more about these positions may call the Huron Valley Council at 483-2370 or write to Box 539, Ypsilanti.

Amelia Earhart became the first woman to fly nonstop across the United States on Aug. 24, 1932, setting the women's transcontinental speed record as she went. Her flight, from Los Angeles, Calif., to Newark, N. J.—a distance of roughly 2,600 miles—was accomplished in 19 hours and five minutes. A Lockheed Vega airplane once flown by Miss Earhart, and similar to the one she used in her historic transcontinental flight, is part of the transportation collections at Henry Ford Museum in Dearborn.

FAITH DAY: Communal feelings were especially strong Sunday evening, Aug. 15 when Chelsea residents gathered at the high school athletic field for a Bicentennial Hymnsing. Among those pictured in the front row is Mrs. Lydia Heller Zahn, Chelsea's oldest woman of longest continuous residence. Many residents of the Chelsea Methodist Home participated in the evening's activities which ended with a candle-lighting ceremony.

Bicentennial Faith Day Observed By 15 Churches

Approximately 1,100 people were served by the Chelsea Methodist Home Sunday, Aug. 15, as they congregated there to celebrate Chelsea's Bicentennial Faith Day. Ice cream and cake were served by residents and visiting transpired most of the afternoon. The home's Heritage Room was open to the public.

In the evening, a Bicentennial Hymnsing was held at the Chelsea High school football field, attended by 650 to 700 people. Robert Schneider led the hymnsing and conducted the special choir from St. Mary church. The main choir was composed of representatives from each of the 15 churches in the community. The Rev. John Morris led the invocation and conducted the offertory.

A candle-lighting ceremony, presided over by Mrs. Annabell Closson and the Rev. Gerald Parker was the highlight of the evening. The main candle in the center of the field was approached by the oldest member in each of the 15 parishes. They lit their candle and passed it down a line of church members to the youngest member present from that particular church.

Mrs. Ron Harris was organist for the evening and Mrs. Clare Warren led the combined choir. Chairpersons for Faith Day were Mrs. Ron Borders and Mrs. Paul Closson.

Leaders are assigned by preference to Brownie Girl Scout troops (age 6 to 8) of up to 15 girls, Junior Girl Scout troops (age 9 to 11) of up to 20 girls, Cadette Girl Scout troops (age 12 to 14), and Senior Girl Scout troops (age 15 to 18) of up to 25 girls.

Parks Proposition Probably Going Back on Nov. Ballot

Washtenaw county voters will most likely have the opportunity again, in the November General Election, to voice their opinions on a County-wide Parks and Recreation Program. At Wednesday's (Aug. 11) meeting of the County Ways and Means Committee, the 15-member board voted to recommend that the County Board of Commissioners place the request for a ½ mill levy for park purposes back on November's ballot. The County Parks proposal was defeated in last week's August Primary by a very narrow margin, convincing the Ways and Means Committee that the issue deserves another chance. Out of approximately 31,000 votes cast on the Parks proposal, the unofficial returns indicate the levy was defeated by less than 300 votes.

Robert R. Gamble, director of Washtenaw County Parks, outlined the Parks Commission's reasons for returning to the voters in November. He stated that the next opportunity for a vote on a county-wide issue is Aug. 1, 1978. "By that time," Gamble said, "many of our key park sites will be lost to private interests."

Since voter support was very strong in areas well-informed about the Parks Plan, the Parks Commission feels the next few months will allow time to inform many more residents of the proposal and, in turn, receive their approval in November.

The Ann Arbor-Ypsilanti area as well as most of the quickly urbanizing townships supported the Parks levy which called for five to six new parks including a beach, bikeways and recreation activities for senior citizens, teenagers and families.

A successful vote in November would mean the possibility of up to $200,000 in matching federal funds next year for park acquisition. Without the passage of the levy, according to Gamble, Washtenaw county will continue to forgo these Land and Water Conservation Fund monies.

Sound Management Needed for Successful Political Campaigns
Sound management of a political campaign won't guarantee a winner, but it can help, says Dr. Harold M. Sollenberger, accounting department chairman at Michigan State University.

Sollenberger notes that few candidates are experienced business managers and they seldom seek out competent financial managers to handle campaign finances. Lack of controls, says the MSU professor, can mean embarrassment to the candidate because of reports of real or imagined improprieties.

A difficulty plaguing most campaigns is the undisciplined attitude toward spending money, states Dr. Sollenberger. Competence can help restore trust and integrity in the political process, he says.

Silence is an undisplayed virtue.

RUNNERS-UP: These Ann Arbor Centerless players finished the 1978 regular league season in second place as they lost the fast pitch league title to Chelsea Merchants in a play-off game held Thursday, Aug. 12. The team made a rousing comeback in the bottom of the seventh, coming within one run of the Merchants before hitting a line drive to the Merchants' pitcher for the final out of the game. Front row, from left, are Dan Randell, Jih Tichnor, Herb Hinz, Phil Boham, and Bill Pidd. Back row, from left, are Gary White, Jack McClear, Dennis White, Calvin Poe, manager Wilbur Beeman, and Oren Wireman. THESE ZION LUTHERAN team members had difficulty in putting together a tight game this season, finishing last in the men's fast pitch final league standings. However, the team saw steady improvement and technique progression, although the players seemed to concentrate most on their defensive playing. Kneeling in the front row, from left, are bat boys Mark Lesser, Steve Grau, and Mike Barels. In the second row, from left, are Reuben Lesser, Loren Heller, Jerry Kuhl, and Duane Bycraft. In the third row, from left, are Ken Schiller, Dale Koch, Jerry Herrick, Jeff Van Riper, Bob Koenig, and Doug Schoenberg. Absent from the photo are team members Lloyd Grau, Phil Barels, Bruce Galbraith, and Dale Schoenberg.

Hunter Safety Course Offered By Rod & Gun

Chelsea's Rod and Gun Club is sponsoring a hunter safety course for boys and girls from 12 to 18 years of age beginning in the fall. Upon completion of the course, participants will receive a certificate of verification, required by state law, which will permit them to purchase their first hunting license. Also at the end of the safety sessions, the youngsters will receive a patch in recognition of their accomplishment.

To register for the hunter safety class, applicants must fill out an enrollment card available by contacting any of the following: Group leader Marvin Schiller, 475-2941; Jack & Son Barber Shop, 475-1535; George Padgham, 475-3812; or John Miller, 475-2884.

In addition to the junior hunter safety course, an adult class will be offered. All interested adults should follow the same registration procedure described for juniors.

Shortage of Food

The world may be only one or two years away from a universal food shortage, predicts Michigan State University Food Scientist Georg Borgstrom.

Addressing the recent Congress of the International Federation of Home Economics in Ottawa, Canada, Dr. Borgstrom said "Each year we place our hopes in the next harvest and the entire world is almost entirely dependent on it (in supplies) for 25 to 30 days." the weather, with only a true but-

ALL AROUND CHAMPS, these Chelsea Merchants ball players not only finished the season as the Chelsea men's fast pitch softball league titleholders, but also captured the district title in a two-week long tournament which ended Sunday, Aug. 15. They are now entered in the regionals and won their first round game played Tuesday, Aug. 17 in Adrian. Front row, from left, are

Merchants Win Fast Ball Title

Chelsea Merchants and Ann Arbor Centerless finished the 1978 regular league season with identical 13-1 records, following an exchange of defeats earlier in the season which forced both teams to enter into a play-off game on Thursday, Aug. 12, to determine the league champs.

Merchants took an early lead in the second inning when pitcher Dick McCalla hit a ball over the centerfielder's head to score one runner and himself. The Merchants added another run in the third, while Centerless put themselves on the board with a run of their own in the same inning.

With the help of Craig Houle's home run and the hits of other Chelsea Merchants players, the Merchants had increased their lead to 5-1 by the seventh inning.

Ann Arbor Centerless refused to succumb to the pressure generated by their opponent's four-run lead and provided plenty of excitement

Merchants Softball Team in Regionals

For the past two weeks, men's fast pitch teams from Chelsea have been competing in the 1978 District M.A.S.A. Class "D" Fast Pitch Tournament. Of the eight local teams entered in the competition, seven won their first round games. The only Chelsea team to be eliminated in first round action was Ann Arbor Centerless who lost to another Chelsea title contender, Hackney-Bennett Installation.

Two other local teams progressed to the quarter-finals where they were forced to face one another as rivals. Chelsea Merchants, who had won the Chelsea league title Thursday, Aug. 12, once again displayed their superiority by defeating Jiffy Mix of Chelsea. The Merchants then knocked out Big Daddy's of Saline to enter the finals.

In the finals, Chelsea Merchants played Basil-Cowhy Construction of Ann Arbor, and won the game 5-3 to clinch the District title. The Merchants will be competing in the Regionals this week to be held in Adrian and Ann Arbor. They will play at Vet's Park, Ann Arbor at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Aug. 19 on Diamond No. 3. If necessary, another game will follow at 9 p.m.

HAY BARN FIRE: This barn, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wahl of Clear Lake Rd., was partially destroyed in a five-alarm fire which began Friday, Aug. 13, when the structure was hit by lightning. Friends and neighbors helped to keep damage to a minimum during the course of the blaze by carrying out smoldering bales of hay which had been stored in the barn. Neighbor John Klink came the rescue with a crane Saturday morning to prop up the roof left hanging over a burned out lower story.

Two Barns Destroyed By Fire

Two barn fires were reported over the week-end, according to Chelsea Fire Chief Jim Gaken. The first occurred Friday, Aug. 13 at approximately 6:30 p.m., and severely damaged a barn located on the property of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wahl, 4015 Clear Lake Rd. The fire started when a bolt of lightning hit the structure, full of baled hay at the time. One end of the barn was completely demolished, but firemen credit residents in the area with preventing further damage as they acted to move most of the smoldering hay out of the barn to keep the fire down. Wahl says about two-thirds of the 6,000 bales of hay was destroyed.

Fire trucks from Chelsea, Grass Lake, Leoni, Napoleon and Summit township responded to the alarm in tankers hauling water.

On Saturday, Aug. 14 at about 1:40 p.m., Chelsea firemen were summoned to the home of James Haller, 18594 Grass Lake Rd., where a barn fire of undetermined cause was in full progress.

The blaze had already consumed the roof of the barn when the firefighters arrived. Although they worked relentlessly to bring the flames under control, the barn was totally destroyed.

Listed as lost in the blaze were saddles, hay, and some furniture which had been stored in the barn following a previous fire which damaged the Haller home about one month ago.

Earl Schmitke Gets Passport To Astronaut

Detroit Metro Airport Assistant Manager Earl Schmitke, who resides in Chelsea with his family, earned a customer service award for the Detroit facility when he arranged to have spaceman Colonel James Irwin's passport flown to Irwin in London after the astronaut discovered he had left the vital document at home in Colorado Springs, Colo., as he prepared to board his transatlantic flight to London in Detroit.

Irwin, who was urgently expected in London for an appearance on a British television program, could ill afford to wait for his passport in Detroit. Consequently, Schmitke arranged to have Irwin accepted for the flight on the basis of Irwin's military ID card and cleared it with the Heathrow passenger duty officer in London.

Meanwhile Colonel Irwin's secretary had been contacted in Colorado Springs and forwarded his passport to Chicago, where it was put on BA 570 to arrive in London just 24 hours after its owner.

A gratified Colonel Irwin later wrote to Schmitke: "Who would ever guess that a man who had been to the moon would forget his passport for England?"

Scio Township Hall Again Broken Into

The Scio Township office building on Zeeb Rd. was broken into for the second time in a week on Wednesday, Aug. 11. The office personnel were just recovering from a break-in on Aug. 4 when the vault was tampered with and papers and files strewn about.

In the latest break-in the thieves walked off with several typewriters, two calculators, an adding machine and about $3 in cash from a desk drawer.

Entry was gained by breaking a window. The thieves apparently walked out the front door when they were finished.

Township officials have reason to suspect the same persons were involved in both break-ins. More and better precautions are being taken to prevent further break-ins.

McKune Library Lists New Books

As the reopening of school approaches, parents may soon find themselves with a few spare hours ideally suited to the pursuit of reading. The new arrivals at Chelsea's McKune Memorial Library not only offer a contrasting choice of topics, but a intriguing enough in themselves to warrant at least a cursory examination by anyone interested in keeping abreast of the latest literary trends.

Out of the deluge of self-improvement, psychotherapy, and therapy books being published these days, comes a refreshing, common-sense approach to life by Dr. Herbert Holt. "Free To Be Good or Bad," Dr. Holt feels that many people who favor therapy shopping as a pastime, have no problem greater than plain boredom. He maintains that most people are capable of self-realization through the trial and error of living. He believes that only in the real world, through honest relationships with others, can a person truly find personal meaning.

"The Lady and the Law" is about the life work of a female lawyer who was the only woman in New York's Fordham Law School class of 1922. Fanny Holtzmann first broke into the highest of circles in the entertainment field, then served the more noted families of England in a legal capacity before finally achieving inroads into the global political arena. Her victory over MGM in Russia's Rasputin family libel suit is considered a landmark in legal story. Her approach to a client case was direct: "I don't follow precedent. I establish it." During the UN's founding session, she was appointed special counsel to the Republic of China. Her most cherished achievement was winning key votes in favor of the creation of Israel at the UN in '47. Among her clients are friends Ms. Holtzmann counts Norward, Fred Astaire, Gertrude Lawrence, Dwight Eisenhower, W. Somerset Maugham, Louis Bromfield, and others.

The People's Republic of China many times have you read how well the system is working? No crime, no dissatisfaction? I do not think information seems overrated, read "Prisoner of Mao." Mao Tse-tung lived in China, born of a Corsican father, a Chinese mother, and carrying a French passport. Because he had worked with the U. S. military before 1949, he was jailed in various Chinese labor camps for seven years as a counter-revolutionary. When France recognized China in 1964, he was released from prison and allowed to leave the country. In the process he also left his wife and children behind. He has written a balanced book, neither bitter nor vindictive, in which he chronicles his experience. He speaks matter-of-factly about the hunger, cruelty and process of thought reform that he endured. It's a unique book in the sense that this type of first-hand information about the Chinese system was formerly non-existent.

Raycon Corp. To Build EDM Units in England

Raycon Corp. here has reached an agreement with Beaufort Engineering Co. Ltd., in England to establish a joint venture to manufacture and sell electrical discharge machines there.

John Check, president of Raycon, who was in England for the paper signing activities yesterday, said that the new venture, named Raycon Beaufort Ltd., will be headed by a board of directors composed of Norman Hill, owner and managing director of Beaufort Engineering, Gary Rupert, vice-president and general manager of Raycon, and himself.

Check said that the new venture will enable Raycon to improve its penetration of the British market for EDM machines and establish closer relationships with its customers in England.

Under terms of the agreement, Raycon will ship EDM machine elements and designs to the jointly-owned firm, which will assemble and sell the EDM machines to British customers.

Check also said that Raycon has broken ground in Ann Arbor for a 20,000-square-foot addition to its EDM machine manufacturing facilities next to the company's headquarters plant, and plans to occupy the new building late this fall.

He also revealed that Raycon has developed a new toolroom EDM machine that's larger and has more capacity than the company's current line of R-20 machines, and intends to unveil the machine at the International Machine Tool Show in Chicago in September.

Agr. Day Will Feature Threshing Bee

Chelsea's Bicentennial Agricultural Day will be celebrated with a threshing bee at the fairgrounds Friday, Aug. 20 from 1 p.m. until dark. Oats and wheat will be threshed using antique farm machinery operated by steam engines. Other pieces of equipment, powered by teams of horses, will provide spectators with a glimpse of pioneer farming methods.

While at the demonstration, visitors are invited to remain for a country dinner featuring Swiss steak. It will be served by Boy Scout Troop No. 465 at the Fair Service Center from 4 to 8 p.m.

The use of carpets, drapes and insulation can be effective in helping reduce the noise levels found in many modern homes.
