Postill Will Stand Trial in Circuit Court

Washtenaw County Sheriff Fredrick J. Postill was bound over for trial Thursday, Aug. 19, on charges of felonious assault with a pair of handcuffs brought against him by suspended deputy Basil O. Baysinger in the aftermath of a brawl involving the two lawmen and Postill's jail administrator, Frank M. Donley, which erupted at a July 11 wedding reception at Chelsea fairgrounds.

In the meantime, Postill countered by filing a $500,000 civil lawsuit against Baysinger for criminal assault Tuesday, Aug. 24, after twice failing to secure criminal warrants for Baysinger's arrest from the county prosecutor's office, Washtenaw County Prosecutor William F. Delhey had also refused Baysinger's request for a felonious assault warrant against Postill. That decision forced Baysinger to opt for a citizen's arrest warrant.

Postill's latest civil action seeks $500,000 for personal injury and $200,000 general and punitive damages for Donley.

In a press conference Monday, Aug. 23, Postill further revealed plans to bring criminal charges against Baysinger for assault, and suits against several witnesses who Postill claims gave false testimony at his preliminary hearing. Postill did not name the witnesses.

Postill's method in laying the criminal assault charges against Baysinger will be through a citizen's arrest warrant, the same as Baysinger.

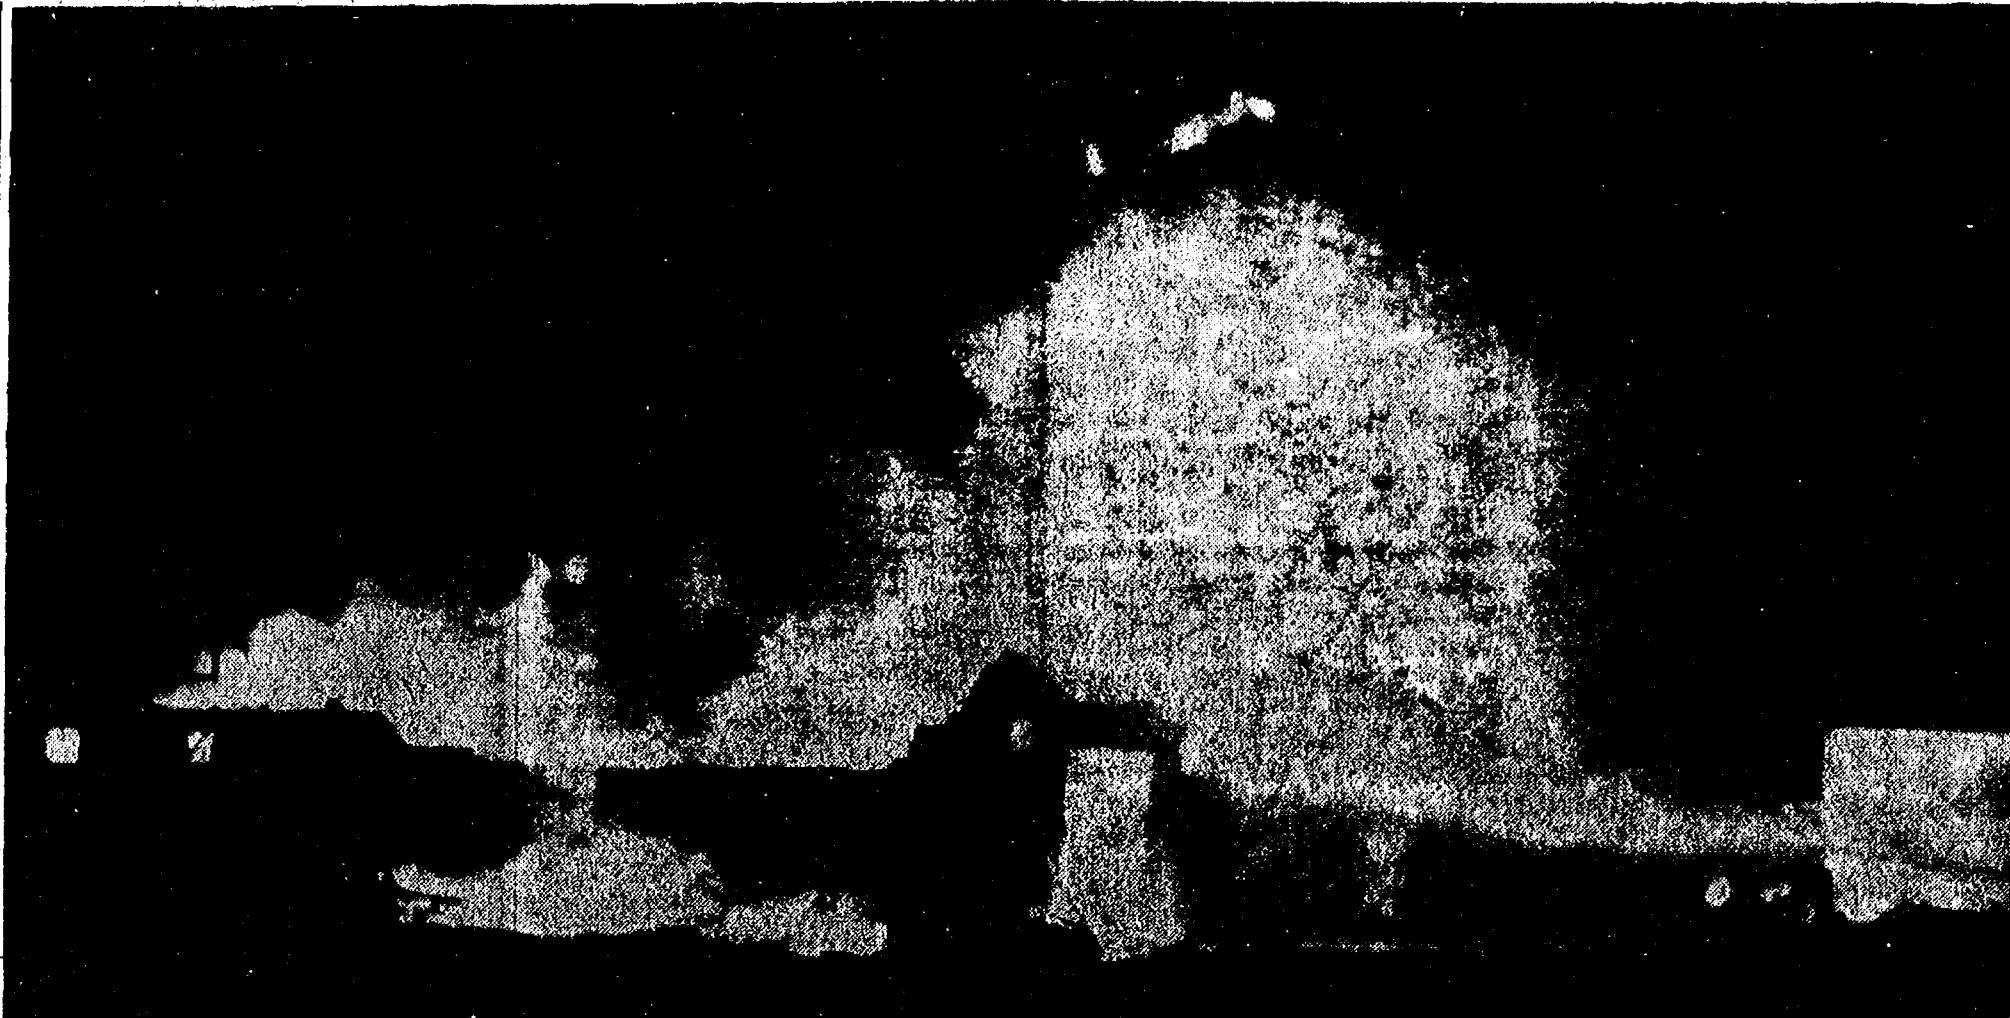

The ruling ordering Postill to stand trial on felonious assault charges was handed down shortly after noon last Thursday by 14th District Court Judge Henry D. Arkison following 4½ days of a preliminary examination.

Arraignment for Postill was set for Sept. 2 in Washtenaw County Circuit Court.

Arkison prologued his decision by airing his impressions gathered from the testimony of more than 23 witnesses brought before the court during the course of the hearings. "I honestly don't know who started the fight," Arkison stated, and assured the participants in the courtroom sessions that "making findings of some of the things brought out in testimony would certainly be proper."

Arkison further revealed that he based his decision to bring Postill to trial mainly on the testimony of three men, Baysinger, William H. Peters, and Marvin Bell. All were guests at the wedding reception.

RAGING INFERNO: Flames and smoke billow into the air as a storage and processing building, owned by Mr. and Mrs. James Gaunt was destroyed by flames. The fire, which occurred Monday evening totally destroyed the 100'x60' structure and threatened other nearby buildings.

Fire Destroys Storage Building At J. Gaunt Gladiola Farm

Chelsea Fire Department investigators are continuing their probe into the cause of a fire which completely destroyed a 100'x60' cement block storage and processing building on the property of Mr. and Mrs. James Gaunt, 6151 Sibley Rd., Monday evening, Aug. 23.

According to Chelsea Fire Chief Jim Gaken, no injuries were reported as more than 24 firemen from Chelsea and Dexter fought the blaze for nearly five hours after responding to an alarm received at the Chelsea station at 8:46 p.m. At times, flames from the fire shot from 50 to 70 feet into the air, while black smoke poured from the structure's burning tar and asphalt roof. During the height of the blaze, the heat transmitted into the surrounding area was so great, that water from fire hoses evaporated before hitting the building, a spectator reported.

In addition to Chelsea's four fire trucks, three from Dexter were summoned to the scene by a call for mutual aid from Chelsea Fire Chief Gaken. As they attempted to bring the flames under control, five tanks of water were used, the water supply of two fire trucks exhausted, and firemen at one point were forced to replenish their water supply by pumping water from out of a nearby creek.

The fire began in the middle section of the cement block structure which had been used as a gladiola bulb storage unit by the Gaunts until the summer of 1970. Because the storage process had demanded regulated temperatures to remain effective, special fuel oil furnaces and tanks, and a natural gas hook-up, had been installed inside the building. As they were consumed by flames, they fed the inferno.

Also lost were two riding lawn mowers, a chainsaw, and two gallons of gasoline.

Throughout the fire, firemen had feared the flames would spread to other structures which surrounded the storage building. However, a house trailer, standing only 10 or 12 feet away, escaped unscathed as "did a barn full of hay, a three-car garage, and house in which Gaunt's mother currently resides. The barn, garage, and house were from 20 to 50 feet away from the blaze.

School Millage Election Set For Monday

Monday night a gathering of citizens from the Chelsea School District met with the Board of Education and Superintendent Cameron to discuss the board's Aug. 30 request for 1½ additional mills for operations.

Howard Haselschwardt, board president, opened the meeting with a statement stressing the urgent need in the Chelsea schools for this additional income. The board has made every effort to cut spending wherever possible in order to assure a balanced budget for the coming year. However, according to Haselschwardt, the only way this will be possible is with the passage of the 1½ mills.

Several rumors circulating within the community were discussed. The parents' main concern seemed to be the shortened school day. (See article regarding new schedule elsewhere in The Standard.) Because the lunch period at the elementary schools will be reduced from an hour to 30 minutes, the actual loss in classtime will be only five minutes.

The new schedule eliminates study halls at the high school and provides a first-hour teacher planning period at all schools, from approximately 8:10 to 8:45 a.m. At the middle school, teacher-student contact time will be reduced by only five minutes because the teachers will have only one other planning period during the student's day, instead of two. The parents were reassured when it was pointed out that this first hour planning time could also be used to schedule parent-teacher or student-teacher appointments.

Superintendent Cameron observed that many people have complained that tax reform is needed in the state, with less taxation of property. Any reform, of course, must take place in Lansing in the State Legislature. He expressed the hope that voters in the Chelsea School District will recognize the importance of this election to their school's program, and will not let their feelings concerning tax reform influence their vote.

Four questions seemed to stand out at Monday's meeting. Why do we need the 1½ mills after renewal millage was just passed last March? Won't the additional funds be kept by Lansing for redistribution to other districts? What effect does the Sylvan township reassessment have on this election and, how much will the 1½ mills cost the taxpayer in actual dollars?

During the course of the evening Haselschwardt and Cameron responded that the State Legislature passed a law in July of this year that reduced the income of the Chelsea School District $130,000 below what had been guaranteed just 13 months ago. The 1½ mills will produce $148,000 in added income which will replace the shortage and provide some additional money to help offset rising utility costs. This same State Aid Act passed in July provides that income generated from additional millage voted in a school district will be kept by that district. This was not the case in March when just a renewal of previous millage was asked.

Increased assessments or valuations result in extra tax money, but the state takes away one dollar for every dollar schools receive because of increased property values in the district. The only way a district can increase its income is by increasing its millage.

School Opening Set Wednesday, Sept. 7

School time schedules for 1976-77 have been changed from last year. The morning bus run will be 35 minutes later than it has been previously. The afternoon bus run will be approximately 10 minutes earlier.

All Chelsea Schools, North and South Elementaries, Beach Middle School and Chelsea High school, will open their doors at 8:40 a.m. and classes will start each day at 8:50 a.m. The elementary schools and Beach Middle school will dismiss students at 3:10 p.m. High school students will be dismissed at 3 p.m.

In order to assure the elementary students the same amount of class time in a shortened day, lunch periods will be reduced from an hour to 30 minutes, a net loss of only five minutes. At the beach school, teachers will spend the same number of periods with the students because during the body of the class day the teachers will have only one planning period. There will be no hot lunch program the first three days of school. When hot lunch service resumes on Tuesday, Sept. 7, the cost will be 45 cents. Those desiring milk may purchase ½ pints for 5 cents starting Sept. 1.

Elementary students in Grades 1 through 5 should report to their respective schools at 8:50 a.m. on the first day and locate their classrooms by checking class lists posted on classroom doors.

Kindergarten students will report to their respective elementary schools on the schedules that parents received in the mail. Students in grades 6, 7, and 8 should report to the Beach School Cafeteria at 8:50 a.m.

Students in grades 9 through 12 should report to the Chelsea High School gymnasium at 8:50 a.m., Sept. 1.

Opposition Heard to Sylvan Township Rezoning Request

At the conclusion of a public hearing Monday, Aug. 23, the Sylvan Township Planning Commission moved to submit a rezoning petition to the Washtenaw County Metro Planning Commission for review and recommendations. The petition calls for properties presently zoned recreation-conservation to be redistricted agricultural.

The petition affects land located south of Cavanaugh Lake and west of its intersection with Musbach Rd., extending to Lehman Lake, and in the northwest corner of the intersection of Cavanaugh Lake Rd. and Musbach Rd. Petitioners for the change are Alice S. Miller, John C. Pierson, and Robert W. Riemenschneider, all property owners within the described location.

The county planning commission will have 30 days in which to complete their examination of the proposed zoning change. The petition will then be forwarded back to the Sylvan Township Board for a final decision.

Of the more than 50 property owners present at the hearing who will be affected by the zoning change, more than half voiced their opposition. In stating his reason for contesting the action, Dale Fisher explained, "I am basically against the rezoning petition because that land was put in that zone as part of a master plan. Nothing has happened to change that land except for its proposed purchase by land speculators who want to develop it."

The master plan to which Fisher refers is a zoning map of the area established in 1974 by a commission of planning experts. Michigan state law requires townships statewide, to establish such a plan and adhere to its zoning regulations. Area residents who are resisting the rezoning on those grounds, plan to challenge the proposal at the county level.

At a township planning commission meeting held earlier in the summer, an attempt at two other reclassifications of the recreation-conservation district were both voted down by a two-thirds margin.

The major effect of the current proposed zoning change, verified by officials of the Sylvan Township Planning Commission, would be to allow an increase in land development. To build on property zoned recreation-conservation, at least 10 acres are required. The potential builder would also have to apply for a conditional use permit. Property zoned agricultural, requires only a 2-acre minimum for purposes of construction.

Should present property owners wish to sell any of their land, they (Continued on page eight)

Giant Parade Tops Off Agriculture Day

"Gigantic" was the reaction of one spectator to Chelsea's Agriculture Day Parade held Saturday, Aug. 21.

Leading the parade down Main St. were the American Legion flagbearers, followed by the Chelsea Bicentennial float carrying First Lady Kathy McCalla and her court.

For the next hour, more than 20 antique cars and at least 20 horse or tractor drawn wagons displayed antique farm equipment including plows and binders. Threshing machine brought up the rear of the procession which continued out to the fairgrounds, where they were immediately put to work.

More than 10 Bicentennial groups entered various "floats" ranging from a straw-covered pickup to an "out house." Four wagons of long-time area residents were scattered along the way along with a group from "America '76" in full costume.

Three horse-drawn covered wagons participated in the parade, including one from Norvell and one from Jackson county, that made the trip to Valley Forge earlier this year with the Bicentennial Wagon Train.

There were saddle horses, baton twirlers and eight "farm animals" throwing coop cleanings on the crowd. The Brigade Band made two appearances in the parade and provided the entire day's musical entertainment.

After the parade all the participants were served refreshments provided by the Royal Rural Roosters. Many stayed to witness the oat threshing and buzz saw exhibitions, utilizing much of the equipment in the parade.

Tentative Settlement On Teacher Contract

Negotiators from the Chelsea School District and the Chelsea Education Association, represented by Charles Kelly, reached a tentative agreement on a one-year contract for educators in the Chelsea School District Monday, Aug. 23, at 4 p.m., following more than 24 hours of deliberations which began Sunday, Aug. 22.

The agreement, which covers the period from July 1, 1976 to June 30, 1977, affects 135 teachers currently employed by the Chelsea School District. While officials of the school district did not reveal the specific terms of the agreement, Chelsea School District business manager Fred Mills stated the tentative contract included provisions governing staff wages, hours, and teaching conditions.

Mills further conceded that the terms of the agreement are dependent upon the outcome of the local millage vote to be held Monday, Aug. 30. Should the millage fail, he believes negotiators may be forced back to the bargaining table.

The Chelsea School Board and teachers in the Chelsea School District are scheduled to meet Tuesday, Aug. 31 for ratification of the tentative contract agreement.

PIONEER STYLE STRAW BALING: Spectators gathered at Chelsea fairgrounds on Agricultural Day Friday, Aug. 20, to watch this antique baler owned by Willard and Walter Blumenauer of Manchester, bale wheat straw as it was done 50 years ago. Paul Bollinger is feeding straw into the baler.

Dwight Smith Named Acting CHS Principal

Dwight Smith was appointed acting principal of Chelsea High School in a motion passed Monday, Aug. 16 by the Chelsea School Board.

Smith, who has served as assistant principal at the high school for the past year, will assume the duties of principal Charles Lane. Lane will be absent from his post until he sufficiently recovers from the effects of a heart attack suffered earlier in the summer.

Youth Day Observed Last Wednesday

Chelsea area youngsters gathered at South school for a morning of field day games and activities Wednesday, Aug. 18, as the village celebrated Bicentennial Youth Day.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

The fellows got to discussing inventions in general and scientific progress in particular Saturday night at the country store, and natural they wound up making expert judgments of the state of the world and the human race.

Ed Doolittle, for instance, said it was a mystery to him how we can do so much in one area and where IBM has come up with a so little in another. He had saw where IBM has come up with a way to record everything about everything on one plastic cone the size of a cornucopia, but we're still voting for President and Vice President the way we was 200 year ago. Actual, Ed said, we don't vote for the Vice President, cause the President picks him, and we don't vote for the President cause he's elected by the Electoral College. So picking the man for the most powerful office in the world, and the one that is jest a heartbeat away is out of our hands. We're told it would be to big a job to vote on these people direct.

Actual, broke in Clem Webster, it's that we like out politics of fashion. A candidate might buy a minute of television so his face can be seen all over America. Clem said, but he'll be making the same hollow promises 25 folks heard from the courthouse steps 100 years ago. In politics, Clem went on, we don't want the facts, we want the figures. When we see a lady with a girdle on that's a figger, he said, but without the girdle we're looking at the fact. We allus want to be told things the way we want them to be, no the way they are, was Clem's words.

Contrary, Zeke Grubb reported where doctors now are using the baby cord to make new arteries and saving legs that has lost circulation, and science has figured a way to get the pure protein out of the baby afterbirth to use as a hair treatment. We may not be moving very fast in politics, allowed Zeke, but we're going some when we recycle our own throw-away parts.

Farthermore, went on Zeke, we're making progress in smoking. He had saw where Israel has come up with some items that may change our smoking and smelling habits. They got a special kind of lettuce that tastes like tobacco in cigarettes and burn three times as long. If that ain't enuff they are exporting an underarm deodorant that works for two weeks right through baths. But Zeke said we can depend on American know-how to figger out that lettuce is hazardous to our health and that a 14-day deodorant violates our constitutional right to stink.

It was Bug Hoblum that put the stopper in the jug of scientific progress. He reported where a Stanford University doctor said laughing is dangerous to health, and he didn't crack a smile while he said it. Laughing puts a strain on the breathing cycle, the doctor said, but Bug was of mind if we can't laugh at ourselves we might as well quit breathing.

Yours truly,

Need Regular Watering
To Withstand Heat

If you don't want your bluegrass lawn to turn brown in the heat of the summer, you're going to have to water it.

Bluegrass is a cool season grass, explain Michigan State University turfgrass specialists. If it doesn't get at least an inch of water a week, it goes dormant—brown—in hot weather. Soaking to a depth of 4 to 6 inches infrequently is more effective than frequent, light, surface waterings, the experts advise.

Meter Message

Acres; the amount of land a person could plow in a day with a yoke of oxen.

Mile: the distance covered by 1,000 double steps of a soldier of the march.

Foot: the length of someone's foot (a good-sized someone).

Learning to use measurements based on those criteria is "hopelessly out-dated when people are walking on the moon," says Dr. John Porter, state superintendent of public instruction.

So, this fall, metric education becomes a standard part of math and science studies in Michigan schools.

All math and science textbooks must contain the metric system as the dominant form of measurement, says a decree from the state Board of Education.

The metric system, organized according to multiples of 10, is based on the meter (slightly more than a yard), the liter (slightly more than a quart) and the gram (1,000 equal about 2.2 pounds).

To help students understand the system, the state's education forces will provide "metric trunks"—footlockers packed with metric educational material such as measuring cups and rulers—to the 22 regional educational media centers. Those centers will make the material available to local school districts.

Further evidence of education's interest in metrics is found on a "filler" news release from the Department. It includes this point: "During an average year, Michigan school buses travel approximately 95 million miles (153 megameters)—further than the distance from the Earth to the Sun."

At this time, the United States is the only industrialized nation in the world, and one of only a handful of the 150-plus nations of earth, that have not converted to the metric system, Porter says.

But there are moves afoot to change that.

Many manufacturing companies are switching to metrics when they develop new products, says Malcolm E. O'Hagan, president of the American National Metric Council, a group dedicated to helping in an orderly change to the system.

In addition, Congress has passed and President Ford signed a measure creating a U. S. Metric Board to work on conversion problems.

Life by the yard is hard, but life by the meter is sweeter, says metric advocate.

Fowl Help

Jackknives, ducks, wild geese and other waterfowl may play an important part in preserving Michigan's valuable wetlands from destruction by land development.

Under legislation signed earlier this summer by Gov. William Milliken, hunters of those birds as well as waterfowl, coots, gallinules and rails must purchase a special waterfowl stamp. That's in addition to a small game license hunting stamp.

The Michigan stamp, featuring the profile of a male wood duck, will cost $2.10. Of that amount, $1.90 will be used to inventory and purchase Michigan wetlands.

The remaining portion of stamp revenues will be equally divided to finance an evaluation of the wetlands program and for administration, according to the Department of Natural Resources.

Ferry Needed

Do away with car ferry service across Lake Michigan and dire consequences may be the result for the state's economy.

Such is the report from Sen. David Plawewski, D-Dearborn, who co-chairs a special legislative committee on railroads. That committee has been looking into all aspects of rail service in Michigan.

"Michigan cannot afford the rail service cutbacks, including car ferry service across the lake, that have been proposed," says Plawewski. Both the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, which serves Ludington, and the Grand Trunk Western car ferry service, which operates out of Muskegon, have abandonment petitions pending before the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Plawewski's committee expects to make recommendations soon to the state Department of Highways and Transportation on how the state can best maintain car ferry service.

TO PROTECT WILDLIFE

The Supreme Court has upheld the government's authority to use its broad power over public lands to preserve endangered species of wildlife.

Amelia Earhart became the first woman to fly nonstop across the United States on Aug. 24, 1932, setting the women's transcontinental speed record as she went. Her flight, from Los Angeles, Calif., to Newark, N. J., a distance of roughly 2,600 miles—was accomplished in 19 hours and five minutes.

A Lockheed Vega airplane once flown by Miss Earhart, and similar to the one she used in her historic transcontinental flight, is part of the transportation collections at Henry Ford Museum in Dearborn.

testified he saw Postill first strike Baysinger in the face with hand cuffs wrapped around his knuckles. And later put them around Baysinger's neck using the chair, linking the two metal bands together as a choking device.

Peters, a Ford Motor Co. security employee, had testified he saw Postill apply the serrated edge of handcuffs to Baysinger's neck while Baysinger testified Postill had attempted to choke him with the handcuffs, although he had failed to mention handcuffs in his report of the incident filed with Jackson State Police Post Detective Sgt. Robert L. Piziali the day after the shooting.

Arkison stated he felt the testimony of Baysinger, Bell and Peters "was more relevant" than that of Postill who denied ever attacking Baysinger with handcuffs. To qualify this judgment, Arkison said "because of drinking that night and blows which may have caused a concussion, the sheriff's recollection may not have been as good."

Although originally scheduled for Sept. 30, Postill requested his arraignment date be moved up. Postill faces re-election in November. If convicted of the felony charge, Postill faces maximum penalties of four years in jail and a $2,000 fine.

According to Michigan law, he would also be forced to resign. After the hearing, Postill said he felt he would be cleared of the charges "with no problem." His attorney, Neal Bush, said he personally can't wait for this to go to trial "because he is certain Postill will be vindicated.

Postill, who claimed Baysinger's motivation was political in bringing charges against him, pointed out that he had been cleared of two other allegations, one accusin him of mistreating prisoners in the county jail and another of misusing inmate funds, and that his third attack, charging him with felonious assault, was part three in a three round bout.

Convenience Foods May Be Cheaper

It may come as a surprise to you, but starting from scratch isn't always the cheapest way around your kitchen. Depending on the convenience food you choose, it may be more economical than your home-made version.

Last year, the U.S. Department of Agriculture completed a 12-month survey on more than 160 convenience foods. The study compared the cost of the convenience foods with the ingredient costs of comparable home-prepared items. For the results, send for a copy of For Convenience Sake. It's free from the Consumer Information Center, Dept. 36, Pueblo, Colo. 81009.

Here are some of the results to think about when you make up your grocery list:

Prices of some fresh vegetables can give you a good reason for using the processed kinds. When fresh vegetables are in season, they can be economical, but you need to compare carefully the prices of the fresh, canned and frozen varieties. Canned or frozen peas, lima beans and spinach cost only half as much as fresh. And, some of the fresh fruits cost more than their convenience "twins."

Making orange juice from the frozen concentrate is considerably less expensive than making it the old-fashioned way by squeezing oranges by hand.

But, if some of these results make you want to cast off your mixing bowl and measuring cups, HOLD IT. Because when you enter the world of main dishes, convenience foods are often more expensive. Frozen beef, turkey and seafood dinners, sweet and sour pork, and pizza cost considerably more than your home-made specialties. But, spaghetti made from a package mix or canned is less expensive than made from scratch.

For Convenience Sake (free) is one of over 250 selected federal consumer publications listed in the catalog, Consumer Information. Published quarterly by the Consumer Information Center of the General Services Administration, the catalog is available free from the Consumer Information Center, Pueblo, Colo. 81009.

School Election... (Continued from page one) come is by voting additional millage. Therefore, the Chelsea Board had no choice but to request the 1 1/2 mills if the school program is to be continued within a balanced budget.

President Haselschwardt pointed out that the Sylvan township reassessment will not be affected because the millage request is for one year only. The reassessment is for the following year, 1977-78.

Superintendent Cameron said the actual cost to each taxpayer will be $1.50 per thousand dollars of state equalized valuation. For example, if a property is valued at $40,000, the assessed valuation should be 50 percent of value or $20,000. This would mean $30 added tax.

All voters in the school district are encouraged to vote. The poll will be open from 7 a.m. to 9 p.m. on Monday, Aug. 30 at the Beach Middle school.

Mrs. Lee Salesky

Melodeen Huffman, Lee Salesky Exchange Vows in Jackson Church

Melodeen A. Huffman, daughter of Mrs. Phillip Westfall of Grass Lake and Mr. Homer Huffman of Jackson, exchanged marriage vows with Lee Salesky, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. Salesky of Southgate, in Sycamore Baptist church, Jackson, Saturday, Aug. 7. The 1:30 p.m. double ring ceremony was conducted by the Rev. Charles Berry.

At the conclusion of the nuptials, the couple was joined together in a traditional unity candle-lighting ceremony.

As she approached the altar on the arm of her father, the bride wore a floor-length organza gown, self-designed and fashioned, featuring a lace edge V-neckline, fitted bodice, and a full skirt which ended in a ruffled-edged, chapel length train. Her floor-length veil of tulle was attached to a lace and satin cap, made from her mother's wedding veil. She carried an arrangement of carnations and baby's breath.

Pamela Blair of Jackson was maid of honor. She was attired in a blue gown. Accenting her costume was a large brimmed hat with flowing streamers, and she carried a nosegay of summer flowers complementing her gown.

Sheila and Lorrie Huffman served as bridesmaids along with Deanne and Kathy Westfall. All are sisters of the bride. Their powder blue dresses of polyester were also fashioned by the bride, and featured a V-neckline, empire waist, and long fitted sleeves. Their hats and nosegays were similar to those of the maid of honor.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Westfall wore a floor-length blue polyester jersey with matching accessories. Mrs. Salesky, the bridegroom's mother, wore a jersey print with silver accents. The bridegroom presented each with a white orchid corsage.

Nadine Adkins of Norvell was the bride's flower girl. She appeared in a blue dress with a flowered overlay designed for an apron effect. A circle of flowers was worn in her hair and she carried a basket of flowers. The bridegroom's nephew, Alfonso Consiglio of Southgate, was ring bearer for the wedding ceremony.

Best man was Tim Salesky, brother of the groom. Ushers were Tim Kramer of Jackson, Steven Roy, and Burt Westfall, brother of the bride.

Honored guests at the wedding were the grandparents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Smith of Scottsburg, Ind., and Mrs. Hazel Smith of Grass Lake; and grandmother of the bridegroom, Mrs. Salesky of Southgate.

A dinner reception for 200 guests was held at Brooklyn Legion Hall following the wedding ceremony. Attending were guests from Ohio, Indiana, Grass Lake, Dearborn, Jackson, and Chelsea.

Earlene Wollett of Michigan Center tended the guest book, and Mrs. Charlene Rupert decorated and served the three-tier wedding cake.

The former Miss Huffman is a 1974 graduate of Napoleon High school, Jackson, and Jackson county's 1974 Junior Miss. While attending Eastern Michigan University, Ypsilanti, she was affiliated with Sigma Nu Phi sorority. She is currently a junior at Michigan State University.

Mr. Salesky is a 1973 graduate of Southgate High school, now stationed with the U. S. Navy in Norfolk, Va. He is serving as an electrician's mate.

For her honeymoon trip, the bride chose a white pant suit with melon-colored accents. Upon their return, the newlyweds will reside in Virginia Beach, Va.

Volunteer Group Helps Residents of Methodist Home

Residents of Chelsea United Methodist Retirement Home have been the recipients of a service program this summer, developed by a group of volunteer girls from Chelsea who have given several hours of their time daily to benefit physically handicapped members of the home family.

The girls have read books and other printed materials to residents, have written letters for them, and played table games with patients, in addition to taking handicapped residents outside the building on pleasant days to enjoy the beauties of nature surrounding the Home.

The volunteers are under the direction of Dianne Robbins, a student at Central Michigan University majoring in recreational therapy.

On Tuesday afternoon, Aug. 17, a group of the Youth Volunteers organized a pet show in the Methodist Home picnic area for the pleasure of all residents, but particularly for the pleasure of those confined to wheelchairs. Rabbits, dogs, a cat, hamsters, and a parakeet were among the variety of animals presented.

Mary Beth Allen, G. L. Milliken, Jr., Wed at Chelsea Methodist Church

Mary Beth Allen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kellie Allen of 121 Wilkinson St. married Gerald Louis Milliken, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Milliken of 527 Lane St., Saturday, Aug. 14 in Chelsea United Methodist church. Two hundred guests attended the 7 p.m. candlelight ceremony conducted by the Rev. George Q. Woerner.

Vocalist Susan Leach sang "Color My World" and "Sunrise, Sunset," accompanied by pianist Pat Salyer as the couple exchanged their marriage vows. Mrs. James Gaunt was organist for the occasion.

For her wedding, the bride chose a white polyester organza gown with a full circle skirt and chapel length train. Her split neckline bodice was trimmed in re-embroidered lace, which matched the lace trimmed cuffs of her bishop sleeves and hemline. Baby pearls adorned the headpiece of the bride's lace edged, waist length veil. Around her neck, she wore a single strand of baby pearls given to her by her maternal grandmother. She carried a bouquet of white daisies, yellow sweetheart roses, white miniature carnations, and baby's breath. White lace and satin streamers completed the arrangement.

Karen Milliken, sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor. She appeared in a yellow dotted swiss gown and wide brimmed yellow hat. Her bouquet of yellow and white daisies, yellow and white rosebuds was accented with yellow and white lace streamers.

Serving as bridesmaids were Barb Bleeca, Kim Dresch, Lori Bycraft and Paula Bauer, all of Chelsea. Their gowns were identical to the one worn by the maid of honor. All carried bouquets of yellow and white daisies and a baby's breath with white and yellow lace streamers.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Allen was attired in a pale blue polyester gown with matching blue shoes. Her costume was distinguished with a single white orchid corsage.

Mrs. Milliken, the bridegroom's mother, wore a pink sleeveless polyester gown with a matching capelette. On her shoulder was a corsage of white rosebuds.

Shawn Managhan was a flower girl for the occasion. She carried a petite bouquet of daisies and wore a yellow daisy in her hair. Shannon Darrow served as ring bearer.

The bridegroom's best man was Bob Bentley. He was assisted by ushers Harold Allen, brother of the bride, Les Sharp, Mark Houle, and Dave Biesion.

Following the wedding, a reception in honor of the newlyweds was held at Chelsea Rod and Gun Club. Kay LaRoe, the bride's cousin, cut the wedding cake. Daniel Darrow, cousin of the bridegroom, maintained the guest book.

Upon their return from a delayed honeymoon to northern Michigan, the couple will reside on East St.

Letters to the Editor

Editor:
To all residents of the community: The most famous words from the mouths of children this time of year are "I'm bored" - or "there's nothing to do." The new swimming pool has eliminated some of it now, but these past few weeks when the hard-working Bicentennial Committee was begging for young people to participate in the stage production of the "Sounds of America '76," where were the "bored" and "nothing to do kids"?

Needing 50 teen-agers to help complete the original cast, less than 20 kids finally came. Needing 50 adult couples for various scenes, less than 15 cared enough to come (others too tired, too busy, or didn't want to get involved). Needing 50 Scouts-12 beautiful Girl Scouts and Brownies came in uniform. Four complete episodes were completely scratched from the pageant before starting for lack of people who cared enough to get involved for their community. Junior Steinaway, (who really cared to be involved) needed much praise, as a main character, having to play four different important roles. Also the two ladies from the Methodist Home family the covered wagon owners who came 40 miles each night to help out, the pet rooster, horse owners the little children, stage hands and the entire cast and narrators who for many long hours, night after night, gave up many evenings to this community, need a big hand of approval. Oh, you say you were too busy, too tired, or plain didn't give a darn for the whole Bicentennial? Maybe you need to evaluate your priorities as did the entire cast and crew, for the sake of Chelsea, our community, in which we all took pride this year of 1976. You had your chance and you say you could have done better? Where were you then, when you were really needed?

A special thanks goes to Vern Otto, who was everywhere trying to help preserve the past for the future memories ahead.

A member of the '76 cast
Martha.

Public Announcement

Superintendent Charles S. Cameron today announced a free and reduced price meal policy for Chelsea School District school children unable to pay the full price.

Local school officials have adopted the following family size and income scale to assist them in determining eligibility.

FAMILY INCOME ELIGIBILITY SCALE

Total Family Size	A Free Meals and Milk	B Reduced Price Meals
1	$ 3,680	$ 3,681- 5,730
2	4,830	4,831- 7,530
3	5,980	5,981- 9,320
4	7,130	7,131- 11,110
5	8,190	8,191- 12,770
6	9,240	9,241- 14,410
7	10,200	10,201- 15,910
8	11,150	11,151- 17,390
9	12,010	12,011- 18,740
10	12,870	12,871- 20,090
11	13,730	13,731- 21,430
12	14,590	14,591- 22,770

Each Additional Family member	860	1,340

Children from families whose income is at or below those shown are eligible for meals free or at reduced prices. In addition, families not meeting this criteria but with other unusual expenses due to unusually high medical bills, shelter costs in excess of 30 percent of income, special education expenses due to the mental or physical condition of a child, and disaster or casualty losses are urged to apply.

They may do so by filling in the application forms sent home with a letter to parents. Additional copies are available at the principal's office in each school. The information provided on the application will be confidential and will be used only for the purpose of determining eligibility. Applications may be submitted any time during the school year.

In certain cases foster children are also eligible for these benefits. If a family has such children living with them and wishes to apply for such meals for them, they should contact the school.

In the operation of child feeding programs, no child will be discriminated against because of his race, sex, color or national origin.

Under the provisions of the policy, the school principal will review applications and determine eligibility.

If a parent is dissatisfied with the ruling of the official he may make a request either orally or in writing to Fred A. Mills, Business Manager, whose address is High School Administration Building, for a hearing to appeal the decision. Hearing procedures are outlined in the policy. A complete copy of the policy is on file in each school and in the office of the Superintendent where it may be reviewed by any interested party.

Agricultural Day Parade

THIS REPRESENTATIVE COLLAGE of floats entered in the Agricultural Day parade in downtown Chelsea Saturday, Aug. 21, is a pictorial record of the creative abilities put to use by Chelsea area residents in producing an extraordinarily splendid and colorful display. Rampant bicentennial imaginings, coupled with months of hard work and the power of an idea, resulted in a vivid portrayal of Chelsea's bicentennial spirit. With Agricultural Day, Chelsea commemorated America's humble beginnings, and paid homage to our nation's founders, who were sowers of America's first seeds.

★ They Even Took Her Bull Away

With the arrival of June Dairy Month, it seems a good time to evaluate man's treatment of the cow. This "foster mother of the human race" turns herself inside out to please man, converting inedible plant materials into nature's most perfect food. And yet, if her milk production falls below assigned quotas, man ships her off to hamburger heaven. Today, the dairy industry supplies more than 25 percent of all the meat eaten in America.

Mechanized dairy farming has replaced much of the tender loving care formerly given to cows. First, the warm, familiar hand of the dairy farmer was replaced by the automatic milker. Then, along came artificial insemination with the local vet making barn calls to save bulls' traveling time.

Man has prodded and pushed and analyzed and psychoanalyzed cows. He has improved their breeding and feeding techniques, investigated the effects of temperature and played music to milk by (his choice or her's?). Cows have been fed everything from corn cobs to newspaper pulp to orange peels. They can utilize energy and protein sources that human cannot, and convert them into nutritious milk and meat.

Man is now investigating ova transfers, making methane gas from manure to ease the energy crisis, drying cow pies for fertilizer or fuel, and using chlorophyll to make a sweet-smelling feed for the cow that started the cycle.

Man has been unfair to the cow in developing language, too. "Cowbane" is a poisonous plant; a "cowbird" lays its eggs in the nests of other birds; to "cow" is to intimidate, and to be a "coward" is to show disgraceful fear.

Even though there isn't any record of cows mooling their displeasure with man's treatment, let's remember to pay tribute to this very unique animal during June Dairy Month. If you can't take a cow to lunch, do the next best thing. Drink milk and make her happy.

would be required to sell in at least 10-acre parcels under zoning regulations governing a recreation-conservation district.

With agricultural zoning, they would be permitted to sell up to four parcels under 10 acres. According to a state plat act, following a property owner's sale of four lots under 10 acres, he would be bound from any further sale of parcels under four acres for 10 years. At the end of 10 years, he would regain the eligibility to repeat the action.

While some property owners residing in the rezoning area have responded positively to the inherent increase in property values which rezoning would generate, others feel the value increase would not outweigh the negative aspects of the consequent increase in taxes.

As the controversy over the rezoning issue builds, land developers have nevertheless already begun lining up properties for purchase, and have surveyed and platting the land into lots, pending the outcome of the rezoning petition.

Summer Swim Series Serves Nearly 10,000

The summer learn-to-swim program at Chelsea's new indoor pool ended Friday, Aug. 20 with participation and success, the program's key words. Nearly 1,500 Chelsea area youngsters and adults benefitted from the six-hour-a-day, five days per week lesson program.

Participants in the organized summer recreation swimming program, slated to end Friday, Aug. 27 numbered close to 8,000. Between the two programs, 9,000 to 10,000 people made use of the new facility this summer.

The pool's summer schedule will conclude this week with a free competitive swimming clinic. Between 60 and 100 swimmers are currently receiving competitive swimming instruction daily.

In next week's issue of The Standard a copy of the fall pool schedule will be released. The schedule will be structured in a similar manner to the one offered this summer. No programs will be deleted and there will be additions.

Chelsea Student Attends Summer Debate Workshop

Julie Prohaska, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Prohaska of 14580 Stoffer Ct. and a junior at Chelsea High school, attended the eighth annual Summer High School Debate Workshop at the University of Massachusetts, Amherst, Mass., Aug. 8-22. The workshop was sponsored by the University's Department of Communication Studies and the Debate Union.

Seventy-six students participated in intensive discussion, research, and coaching sessions exploring the 1976-1977 high school debate topic on nation-wide penal reform. Courses in communication theory, argumentation theory, and debate skills helped prepare the students for the annual interscholastic debate competition.

Members of the staff workshop were Professor Ronald J. Matton, Director of Debate at the University of Massachusetts, Professor A. Tenney Williams, Assistant Director of Debate at Emporia, Kansas State University, Betty Anderson, Fargo South High school teacher, Fargo, N.D., Jack MacMillan, debate director at Cornell University, N.Y., Robert Stover, and Ellen Hoffman, debate coaches at the University of Massachusetts, and John Cross of the University of Massachusetts debate team.

MORE THAN 22 CHELSEA AND DEXTER FIREMEN, aided by seven fire trucks, fought a blaze on the James Gaunt property, 6151 Sibley Rd., for nearly five hours Monday evening before they finally brought it under control. The intensity of the heat from the flames, fed by oil tanks and a natural gas outlet, prevented firemen from a closer approach to the building.

Dexter Township Vote Recount Slated Tuesday

Dexter township election results will be recounted on Tuesday, Aug. 31, according to the Washtenaw County elections office.

The recount was requested by Nicholas Holly, a candidate for the office of township supervisor. His opponent, John Tandy, incumbent supervisor, won the election by a 212-184 margin.

Holly's request for a recount cited possible malfunctions in the voting machines. He said he received several complaints from voters, including the jamming of the machines when voting, different totals reported from the machines, and a problem in opening the machines on election day.

A recount in the county drain commissioner contest is also expected. The final tally shows Thomas Blessing, 5,396; Ronald Allen, 5,329; and Thomas Blecher, 4,027. Allen has asked for the recount.

VFW Members Entertain VA Hospital Patients at Picnic

Chelsea VFW Post 4078 and their Auxiliary co-sponsored a picnic for 25 Ann Arbor VA Hospital patients with Ann Arbor VFW Post 423 and their Auxiliary, Wednesday, Aug. 19. The picnic was held at Dexter-Huron Metropolitan Park from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Attending from the Chelsea Post were Commander Byron Smith, Junior Vice-Commander Kermit Sharp, Sixth District Junior Vice-Commander Mac Packard, Tom

Collinsworth, and hospital chairman and chaplain Bill Pierce. Representatives from the Auxiliary were President Betty Smith, Mary Kniss, and hospital chairman Gertrude O'Dell.

Ann Arbor Post participants were VAVS Representative Fred Benz, Sam Otto, and Gordon Packard, and Auxiliary members President Ruth Otto, Edna Lutz and Helen Hafner.

Contributing to the picnic, although unable to attend, were Bessie Sharp, who donated baked beans and a cake, and Lucy Platt, who also volunteered a cake. Chef Kermit Sharp grilled hot dogs and sampled his cooking to ascertain its suitability for the patients.

The patients spent the afternoon relaxing by the Huron River, strolling around the park, and playing cards. As the day progressed, some of the patients and hospital staff challenged four "old men" of Post 4078 to a game of lawn bowling or bocce. Members accepting the challenge were Byron Smith, Mac Packard, Tom Collinsworth and Bill Pierce. The hospital team downed the "old men" by a score of 21-19 in an exciting and close game.

Dexter Village Flags Stolen

Dexter's new American flag and Bicentennial flag which fly over Monument Park were stolen from the flagpole on Tuesday night, Aug. 17.

The two flags had been donated to the village.

At the Village Council meeting on Aug. 23, council members approved the purchase of a new American flag which will be lighted at night.

Sheriff's police report that the deputy was on his way to lower the flag that evening when he was called out on a personal injury accident. When he returned, the flags were already gone.

It's easy to make promises.
