

Postill, Minick Trade Barbed Charges in Heated Debate

A capacity crowd of 127 persons filled the basement meeting room of Chelsea Lanes Tuesday evening, Oct. 5, to witness a stormy debate between Washtenaw County Democratic incumbent Sheriff Frederick J. Postill and his Republican challenger, Thomas Minick, sponsored by the Chelsea Jaycees.

The largely pro-minick audience listened while Postill opened the debate, claiming the role of sheriff has changed with urbanization, creating a demand for new approaches to law enforcement. The more traditional Minick responded it was time the sheriff's department went back to the basics of law enforcement.

Both Postill and Minick were unabashed in outlining their widely polarized programs to implement an effective and efficient sheriff's department. Both drew upon factual resources to defend their positions and traded barbs when the figures clashed.

Postill retaliated Minick as unsuitable for police administration, charging "it takes more than being a simple police officer" to run the sheriff's department. Postill holds one master's degree and is working on a second.

Minick retaliated, accusing Postill of being unable to deal with his subordinates, alienating all other police forces in Washtenaw county, and behaving more as a salesman than a law enforcement officer.

Both agreed the three major problems facing the county are armed robbery, breaking and entering, and larceny, but offered contrasting solutions. Minick stated suppression of hard drug traffic was a priority in his strategy to reduce crime, and promised to work assertively in that area. Postill felt entrapment of drug dealers was a waste of public funds, that drug dealers were often involved in other illegal activities, and that arresting them on charges that would stick was a more efficient method of eliminating the problem.

Postill cited his record as proof of his ability to perform his job. Among the distillation of statistics he laid before the public, Postill stated he has more than tripled police cars on patrol, and has increased the number of officers in his department from 33 to 75. This was done at the lowest overall cost to taxpayers out of all county police departments, and with the aid of federal grants resulting from contracts for police protection which he initiated with townships, he revealed.

Postill compared his department's policing record to that of the Ann Arbor police, stating the sheriff's department closed 17 percent of its burglary cases while Ann Arbor police fell behind the county force with only 11 percent.

Postill's armed robbery arrest clearance figures outdistanced those of the city police by more than half, 76 percent to 37 percent.

Minick, who attempted to criticize Postill for exhibiting a lack of professionalism, accused the sheriff of condoning prisoner brutality. However, his reference to two incidents behind prison walls instead implicated Minick in a violation of the terms of prison confidentiality.

Postill's response to the incidents was to say the prisoner who had been denied medication had been found stashing away 50 pills for an apparent suicide attempt, while the inmate who had escaped three times and robbed two nuns was put in chains and solitary confinement to discourage escape. "I do discourage escape, and I discourage prisoners from assaulting officers," Postill said.

On the matter of contracting for sheriff's department protection, Minick allowed he would make his department available for protection contracts. "We don't want to muscle in on local police departments," he stated, "let the people more a moral issue than a political one he added."

Postill's reply was "all money is political," and that the government will not grant funds to police departments with a staff of less than 20. Contracting enables county law enforcement agencies to receive financial assistance from the government by operating under a larger law enforcement structure.

Postill also said advisory boards in the various contracting communities have been established to provide community input.

Minick, who outlined his plans to increase road patrols in the out-county areas, was criticized by Postill for decreasing protection in higher crime areas with the intended maneuver.

Judging from the audience reaction, Minick scored points when he charged Postill with an inability to deal with his subordinates. He pointed to the current warring between the sheriff and the department's Teamster Union employees, and denied Postill's past public accusations that the disharmony is a result of union politicking.

Postill responded by reiterating his charge that the Teamsters are trying to take over law enforcement in Washtenaw county. Postill charged the Teamsters are asking for a 40 percent pay raise for Ann Arbor police in an attempt to win the department's loyalty and gain control of the department. Postill also tied the Teamsters to organized crime, saying Teamster Local 214 President Joe Valenti, the union's principal organizer of police agencies, was an alibi witness for Charles "Chucky" O'Brien, who has been connected with the disappearance of Teamster President James R. Hoffa.

Minick, who dismissed Postill's attempt to link organized crime to the Ann Arbor police department as a "fishing expedition" by the sheriff, admitted he did not even know what the Teamsters were asking at the bargaining table although he was a Teamster himself.

Minick pursued his attack on Postill's inability to deal with his subordinates, taking issue with Postill's reply to a statement asking why he was running for reelection. Postill had answered, "I feel in the next four years I will have eliminated a lot of the trash I inherited as personnel." Postill later substantiated the statement, saying he was referring only to a few people, and that most of his deputies are hard-working officers who made his department statistics what they are. "What a way to address subordinates—trash!" Minick commented.

As the debate ended, and the crowd began to file away, a random survey of the audience reaction ranged from "No comment, I'd vote for Minick any day," to another Chelsea resident's comment, "I'd say it was close and Postill really hurt himself with that statement about trash. However, if I were to score it, I'd say Postill won 51 to 49."

Bulldog Grid Machine Stalls Against Novi

Following several pre-season scrimmages and a two-game season warm-up, the CHS Bulldogs were locked in the doghouse by Novi's varsity gridders in their league opener Friday, Oct. 1. The Wildcats packed it in 20-0 against the Chelsea challengers.

Chelsea's defense played a fine first half, according to Coach Phil Bareis, keeping the Wildcats at bay as they forced Novi to punt three times. The Bulldog's offense, unable to move with consistency, gave rise to the problems.

Quarterback Jeff Powell, subbing for injured Tony Houle, attempted to reduce the problems by playing a fine game. He completed three of 12 passes for 54 yards, and netted 33 yards rushing to lead the Chelsea offense.

Novi's first touchdown came in the second quarter on a 37-yard pass with only 34 seconds remaining in the first half. They returned to score on a 40-yard pass in the third quarter, and climaxed the scoring in the fourth quarter with a 45-yard touchdown run by Novi quarterback Randy Wroten.

The Bulldog defense was led by linebackers Tony Robards and Mark Smyth, and defensive guards James Bollinger and John Push. Defensive halfbacks John Adams and Mike Check made key plays for the Bulldogs.

Chelsea will challenge conference leader Brighton in their next game on Friday, Oct. 8. Heavy rivalry is anticipated as Chelsea will attempt to gain a foothold in the conference race by defeating the Brighton powerhouse.

Homecoming Week Fun Starts Monday

The CHS Senior Class will kick-off Homecoming Week Monday, Oct. 11, as they undertake a full day of activities under the banner of Teacher Appreciation Day.

The day will commence with a coffee and doughnuts session for teachers from 8 a.m. to 8:30 a.m. Students will then make themselves available for a variety of tasks, from cleaning blackboards to taking surprise quizzes. It will be the seniors' day to be pampered on Tuesday, when underclassmen will be required to perform favors for seniors during classroom time.

Special daytime events will continue as Homecoming Week progresses to Wednesday and Thursday. On those days, classes will compete in two singular dressing contests. Wednesday, students are asked to arrive at school dressed in the "craziest" outfits they can muster up. Thursday will witness a nostalgic return to the 50's as students attempt to recreate the "bobby socks and saddle shoes" image of that era.

On Friday, a show of school spirit is expected to peak, with students coming to class wearing school colors. A morning pep rally will preview the day. At the pep rally, each class will perform a skit with a homecoming theme. They will share the stage with the CHS cheerleaders who will lead off the rally with group skits of their own.

The evening schedule of events welcomes spectator support from the community, Senior Class representatives stressed.

Monday evening, Homecoming Week will be initiated with a VW stuffing competition between freshmen, sophomores, juniors, and seniors, commencing at 6:30 p.m. on the CHS practice field. Immediately following the contest, preliminary Powder Puff games will get underway. The senior girls will line up against the freshmen girls, while the junior girls will face the sophomore girls.

Tuesday night will be devoted to a series of field day type activities, beginning with an obstacle course race between classes on the practice field at 7 p.m. Then, the Homecoming Queen candidates will be featured in a three-legged race on the track to be followed by a wheelbarrow race. A tug-of-war between classes over a huge mud puddle on the practice field, will climax the evening.

The Powder Puff finals are scheduled for Wednesday evening, highlighted by a car smashing contest at half-time. As the crescendo builds towards Homecoming Day on Friday, students will snake dance in the high school parking lot Thursday evening, generating an appetite for cider and doughnuts, and the ensuing pie-eating contest which will be held along with bobbing-for-apples to complete the Thursday night agenda.

On Friday night, Chelsea will have its day of reckoning, as the Bulldog gridders team up to face South Lyon in their Homecoming Game. During half-time the class winner of Pep Week will be announced and presented with the spirit prize. The evening will crest with the crowning of the 1976 CHS Homecoming Queen.

Cross-Country Team Now 6-1 For Season

The CHS cross-country squad ran full strength against Dexter Thursday, Sept. 30, to pulverize the visiting warriors on their home course at Inverness, 17-42. Capitalizing on their momentum, Chelsea returned to a rugged Willow Run course on Tuesday, Oct. 5, to knock the wind out of both Willow Run and Dearborn Robichaud, although handicapped by the loss of two leading runners who were temporarily out due to illness.

Dave Dawson recorded his personal best time against Dexter, taking first with a time of 16:40. On his heels were Rick Haller, second, 16:51; Phil Frame, third, 18:54; Dean Thompson, fifth, 17:30; and Morris Johnson, sixth, 17:35.

Chelsea's JV score against Dexter was 20-41, making it the Bulldogs' third consecutive win without a loss. Leading the way for the home team was Steve Kvarnberg, first, timed at 19:10. Close behind were Mike Beedenbender, 19:21; Brian Herrick, fourth, 19:37; Mark Shippy, sixth, 19:44; and Jim Fitzsimmons, seventh, 20:11.

Following their landslide victory over Dexter, Chelsea cross-country coach Pat Clarke remarked, "We're starting to come as a team. Our performance against Dexter was outstanding, particularly considering we didn't rest before the meet. We're now getting ready for our dual meet of the year against league champions Brighton, who have consistently won every major invitational they have entered."

Apparently part of Chelsea's preparation strategy included stretching ahead of Willow Run, 23-34, on Tuesday. In the meet, Rick Haller (Continued on page five)

United Way Campaign Starts Oct. 18

A planning committee headed up by Pat Borders and represented by Marge Robbins, Anne Feeney, Dave McLaughlin, Gerry Dresselhouse, Art Stoll, Sharon Hodgson, and Kathy Frisinger have been meeting to plan the 1976-77 United Way Campaign. This year's campaign will run Oct. 18-29.

This year's area chairmen are as follows: residential, Charlene Balistrere; rural, Marian Klemmer; schools, William Chandler; commercial, Barbara Merkel; professional, Jeanne Riemschneider; industrial, Gerald Ringer; organizations, Glenna Kargel.

This year's goal is $32,063.

Shuttle Bus Service Begins Next Monday

Beginning Friday, Oct. 8, a new Chelsea telephone number, 475-9494, will be in service, linking area senior citizens and handicapped adults to a village-wide and selective rural shuttle-bus service under the authority of the Chelsea Area Transportation System (CATS).

The first day of operation will be Monday, Oct. 11, with daily service hours, excluding Thursday, from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. On Thursday the bus will operate from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.

The bus, which arrived in Chelsea Tuesday, Sept. 28, will operate on a reserve call basis requiring a 12-hour advance notice. Afternoon transportation may be reserved the same morning, whereas morning transportation must be arranged by the afternoon of the preceding day. All rides will be on a first-call, first-serve basis, and riders are urged to book return trips at the same time starting trips are reserved. Calls will be taken daily during the week from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m., and from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m.

The CATS shuttle will transport residents 62 years of age or older, and handicapped persons 18 years of age or older throughout a 54 square mile service area. Operation within the village limits will be 4 1/2 days per week, while areas east of M-52 will be serviced Monday and Wednesday, and areas west of M-52 on Tuesday and Friday.

Areas mapped for service include almost all of Sylvan township and a large portion of Lima township. Boundaries are defined as north to the northern most boundary of Sylvan township, south to just beyond Scio Church Rd., east to Lima Center Rd., and west to Loveland Rd. In a recent flyer distributed throughout Chelsea by CATS, Lima Center Rd. was mistakenly identified as Baker Rd.

Bus fare has been set at 25 cents per passenger per trip, or a total of 50 cents for round trip service. However, service will be free for the balance of October.

The bus, a high-topped van specially equipped with a hydraulic lift to accommodate wheelchairs, has room for six seated passengers and two wheelchairs. Riders will be picked up at their front doors and taken anywhere in the service area.

CATS, which represents seven community organizations pledging financial support to the project, requested and received federal and state grants to subsidize the shuttle service. Sam Johnson, past president of the Chelsea Kiwanis Club, filed the grant request in 1974 on behalf of the Kiwanians and supporting organizations.

Instrumental in initiating the program was Chelsea resident, Eva Carpenter, one of the first proponents of a Chelsea transportation system for the elderly and handicapped. As a symbolic gesture of appreciation, she became one of the first residents in the area to ride the bus, shortly following the vehicle's arrival.

Presently, groundwork is being laid for a connecting service to Ann Arbor. CATS is working on a proposal in conjunction with the Ann Arbor Transportation Authority to provide tie-up service beginning the first week in November. When the service is finalized, a public announcement will be made to that effect.

Chelsea's new shuttle bus will be on display Oct. 8-9, at the corner of Main St. and Middle St., for all residents who wish to view it.

Girls Swim Team Shows Great Promise

The CHS girls swimming team opened their season against Class "A" power Jackson High school Thursday, Sept. 30, only to sink to defeat, 58-113.

Chelsea stroked ahead to two first-place and two second-place finishes against their experienced opponents, although their only prior competition had been in intrasquad meets. Chelsea swimmers consistently turned in personal best performances.

Leading the way for the Bulldogs were Shelly Springer with two firsts and a second; Patti Hume, two seconds and a third; Michelle Kamyssek, a second, third, and fourth; Karen Dresch, a second, third, and fourth; and Shannon Springer, two seconds and a fourth.

Other second-place finishers were Shella Tarasov, Kim Wood, and Jan O'Berg.

Jaycee Barbecue Scheduled Sunday

For 20 years, Chelsea Jaycees have had chicken on the menu for their annual fall barbecue, but so far no one has complained about the lack of variety.

Once again this Sunday, Oct. 10, Jaycee chefs Hank Ortrbring and Jim Gaken will serve up culinary masterpieces of barbecued chicken, dinner rolls, potato chips, and cold slaw, boxed for those who wish to proceed from the barbecue site to an afternoon of color-touring.

Jaycees will provide those interested in the autumn colors of the area with maps and poster routes of the Waterloo and Pinckney Recreation Areas.

A total of 1,500 chicken dinners will be available at a price of $2.75 per dinner. Proceeds from the annual barbecue finance Jaycee community service projects.

United Way Hears Needs of Agencies

Each spring the United Way of Chelsea spends two evenings listening to presentations by each of its 14 recipient agencies. At this time the individuals on the Budget Committee hear the group's dollar request and a capsule description of the function of each agency.

The Committee was unanimously impressed with the work of Catholic Social Services of Washtenaw county. Through some of its 250 volunteers they are available at least by phone 24 hours every day. They provide counseling for families and individuals under all kinds of stress. They provide concrete services, such as food and clothing, to 25 percent of its recipients. Some problems are economic, but others such as problem pregnancy, emergency housing, foster child placement also require immediate attention.

There is "a Special Foster Parent Program, unique in the state, consisting of foster homes which care for teen-agers whose life style and behavior are such that they do not fit into the available foster homes. Such adolescents require care and treatment in a setting where there is a greater acceptance, understanding and tolerance of the child's differences than is available in the average home."

Historical Society Begins Fall Program

The Chelsea Area Historical Society will meet Oct. 11, 8 p.m., in the Congregational church meeting room to initiate its 1976-77 program of activities. Each member is asked to bring a photograph of his or her own home, or possibly a family home, which may be left with the Society.

The photographs will be catalogued and placed on file in the Historical Room at McKune Library for the benefit of posterity. Homeowners will be asked to provide information about the home at the meeting, including the name of its original owner, date of construction, present owner, and date of purchase. New homes should be included as these will also be considered older homes some day.

At a recent meeting, the program committee reviewed plans for the coming months. Members decided to concentrate their efforts towards determining which Chelsea structures might qualify as historic sites. Plans are under way to establish an Historical Sites Commission in Chelsea, and this information will be essential.

The committee attempted to obtain an outside speaker for the October meeting, but because Oct. 11 is officially Columbus Day, many establishments are not doing business. Therefore, the persons invited (Continued on page two)

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:
The fellers started out on the weather at the country store Saturday night, and they worked their way around to prayer. It turned out they was in water over their heads with both topics, so it was a good thing they let politics rest or they would of gone home even worse confused.
Zeke Grubb had this report where scientists say the long dry spells in much of the world this summer may be part of a major shift in world weather. The cold areas are warming, deserts are gitting rain and new deserts are popping up, like in England. One professor figgers if all the ice up north melts, the oceans will rise and all of Florida and a big slice of all our coast will be under water in 75 year. A feller could buy up land in the right places now, wait 75 year and make a killing selling ocean front lots, was Zeke's idee.

Most parts of this country have been extra dry this year, Zeke went on, but Europe is having the worst drought in 250 year. We need water fer life, Zeke said, and fer treating sewage. He had saw where towns with low water supplies was using more flavoring than ever before. They stir the peach and apple blossom smells in with the treated sewage to keep folks happy, cause the lower the water the more the stink. Zeke said this move is as practical as painting a rotten ladder so folks won't mind climbing it, he could see the problems, city folks have with equif water.

There's still life in England, reported Zeke, even though they ain't much water. And, probably, he said, folks have to keep a stiff upper lip on account of the sewage. Of all Europe, this report said, England was faring the worst in the drought.

The fellers had been doing some reading on England's thirst, and it was Clem Webster that told where the English people had ask their Archbishop of Canterbury to pray for rain. Clem said the Archbishop wouldn't do it, allowing that in the first place it wouldn't do any good, and in the second place if his prayers worked it would just mean more work fer him.

From what he could make of it, Clem went on, the Archbishop ed to speak were on holiday, and unwilling to make the trip. With the exception of October, speakers scheduled for ensuing monthly meetings are: Nov. 8, Professor Kingsbury Marzoff, Ann Arbor, on Identifying Domestic Architecture; Dec. 13, Sam Breck, Ann Arbor, on "Trains, Trolleys, and Depots"; Jan. 10, Lydia Muncie presenting an Oral History; Feb. 14, Wiston Stevens, Kempt House, Ann Arbor, with a slide presentation of significant Ann Arbor structures.

The society, which is looking forward to an interesting series of meetings, wishes to extend an invitation to all Chelsea area persons, members or not, to attend the monthly meetings.

CRITICAL-BRIDGES*
A County-Wide Concern....A County-Wide Solution
42 Critical-Bridges*
Bridges are the crucial link in our primary and secondary road system. This November voters in the county will make a decision whether or not to improve the Critical-Bridges at the starred locations on the map.
Why A Millage
A one-half mill levy for five years is being proposed because of:
1. Bridge Conditions: The physical condition of the 42 Critical-Bridges identified on the map does not meet today's standards.
2. Declining Available Revenue: No money presently comes to the Road Commission from property taxes or the county General Fund. The major source of revenue, The Michigan Motor Vehicle Highway Fund, is insufficient to finance both road construction, road maintenance, and a Critical-Bridge improvement program.
3. Federal Matching Funds: Federal allocations are available for bridge improvements but local dollars must be provided.

What's cooking in Michigan...

by Carl B. Olson
Michigan Department of Agriculture

With crisp weather signalling the beginning of fall, what better time to go to your local city or farmer's market to enjoy the rich and bright colors of Michigan's harvest season.

This trip to the market is a treat my wife and I reserve for Saturday mornings but most markets are open several other days during the week. They range in size from the huge Eastern market in Detroit to open tailgates in pick-up trucks in parking lots, it all are fun.

If you haven't tried it yet, do so should be cautioned, however, at many people find it habit forming.

A part of the "neatness" of the trip to a farmer's market is the opportunity to see a real farmer, the same person who grows the food behind the counter. It also offers a chance to ask questions about how the product got to the market and I have yet to be refused a reply.

Why not look especially for Michigan produce and make a "ner" "event" from your collection? It's an excellent time for fresh lettuce from the fields as well as tomatoes and, in my mind, that stands for salad. Additions? How about slicing a few onions in, adding to the flavor. Cucumbers, a few carrots, and sliced celery and you've got all the basics. Pour on the dressing and toss.

My biggest problem has always been buying too much. It's just too tempting to see all that fresh produce and not buy "a couple of heads of this and a bag of that and a pound of what's over there."

When we first started our Saturday morning forages into our local market, we ended up with our arms full of small bags of fruits and vegetables. We don't do that any more. No, we don't buy less. We just start with a large shopping bag from home because we know we're going to buy more than we really need.

Try it, you'll like it. In fact, maybe I'll see you there.

Wackenhut-Pfaus Vows Spoken Friday at Zion Lutheran Church

Sharman Ruth Wackenhut, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lorenz F. Wackenhut of Chelsea, exchanged marriage vows with William Edward Pfaus, son of Mrs. Clarence Pfaus of Manchester, Friday evening, Sept. 24, in Zion Lutheran Church. The ceremony was conducted by the Rev. John R. Morris.

During the wedding service, Mrs. James Jones, organist, accompanied Mrs. Jody Maule, who sang "Follow, Me" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride approached the altar wearing a white satin gown with a "v-neckline, chiffon sleeves, and a full skirt with a chiffon overlay. The bodice and sleeves were trimmed with lace and pearls. The cap of her fingertip veil was accented with lace and pearls to match the gown, and she carried a bouquet of baby blue carnations, stephanotis, and baby's breath.

Susan Osepski of Chelsea was maid of honor for the occasion, while Mrs. Christopher Lentz of Manchester, and Sandy Waters of Ridgeway attended as bridesmaids. They were all dressed in identical blue gowns of crinkle texture, with lace trim along the bodice and skirt. Miss Osepski wore a matching blue bonnet with white lace and carried a blue hurricane candle. The attendants were attired in white bonnets and carried white hurricane candles.

Robert Roehm of Ann Arbor was best man. He was assisted by ushers Gary Stoll and Christopher Lentz, both of Manchester.

Flower girls were Kim Wackenhut, the bride's niece, and Dawn Weatherax, her cousin. They wore matching blue and white dresses, and held baskets of blue and white carnations and baby's breath.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Wackenhut appeared in a brown and cream-colored polyester gown with a sheer, gold, brown, and white print over jacket gathered at the waist in a pop-

Mrs. Pfaus was dressed in a soft, mint green polyester gown with a matching jacket.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Farm Council Grounds, Salline. Mary Ann Detling and Paula Detling cut and served the wedding cake, as Mrs. Debbie Ganzhorn and Vicki Lara poured punch and coffee. Gail Wackenhut, sister of the bride, was in charge of the guest book. Musical entertainment for the occasion was provided by The Roamers.

Upon their return from a honeymoon to northern Michigan, the newlyweds will reside on Bethel Church Rd., Manchester.

The former Miss Wackenhut is a 1975 graduate of Chelsea High school, and is employed by Eastern Michigan University.

Mr. Pfaus is a 1972 graduate of Manchester High school, working for Double A Products and A & G Weldmayer Farms in Manchester.

Motor News Story Lists Chelsea Fall Color Outstanding

Chelsea's brilliant display of fall colors is cited as a major tourist attraction in Automobile Club's Michigan's October Motor News magazine.

"Although there are many places in Michigan to enjoy fall scenery, the Chelsea area is outstanding," Auto Club's 1.2 million reader-members are told in an article entitled "Where the Color Is."

Motor News suggested that a Chelsea area fall color tour also include Ann Arbor, Dexter, Stockbridge and Plymouth.

Truck Flips, Spills Load of Pigs In Dense Fog

A truck load of 185 pigs, on their way to market, had an unexpected taste of freedom early Sunday morning, Oct. 3.

According to the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department, Danville, Ind., driver, Allen Black, 22, was hauling a trailer load of hogs on eastbound I-94 east of Fletcher Rd. when the vehicle ran out of control in the dense fog.

The trailer bounced onto the shoulder and as Black struggled to return it to the roadway, the entire rig flipped onto its side, spilling loose pigs from the wreckage.

Police arrived to find Black had escaped serious injury, and proceeded to recapture his squealing load.

With the return of the school year parents of school-aged children should see to it that their youngsters have their hearing ability tested, hearing specialists say. All too often a child who appears inattentive, pre-occupied, disobedient, withdrawn and even stupid, is suffering from an undetected hearing loss, they add.

United Way Board Hears Agencies...

(Continued from page one) other community agencies are constantly requesting Catholic Social Services homes for their own children or are referring children to C.S.S. for placement. This has resulted in close relationships between C.S.S. and such agencies as the Dept. of Social Services, Juvenile Court, and the Police, Child and Family Service as well as the ado-

Consumers Guide To International Air Travel Offered

Are you finally getting to take the trip abroad that you've been dreaming about and saving up for? How exciting! When you go, you'll want everything to flow as smoothly as possible, including your airline arrangements.

If the trip you're planning isn't a charter flight, the Civil Aeronautics Board has a new booklet to help you know what to look for when planning your scheduled flights and ironing out any problems that might arise. For your free copy of Consumers Guide to International Air-Travel write to the Consumer Information Center, Dept. 40, Pueblo, Colo. 81009.

To stretch your travel budget as far as you can, keep in mind that many international flights allow free stopovers along the way to the most distant point on your trip.

Also ask about discount fares. Most of these have restrictions — length of stay, accommodations included, travel on only certain days of the week — so you have to check the specifics very carefully with the airline or with your travel agent. And you have to pay attention to these restrictions. If you don't, the fare goes back up to the regular cost for the trip. That could mean the difference of a couple of hundred dollars, depending on the discount.

When you buy your ticket, remember that they are sold subject to change. You have to pay the fare in effect on the date your trip begins. If the fare increases after your reservations are made, or after you get your tickets, you'll be charged the additional amount.

You've got to buy your tickets within the time limits set by the airlines. If you don't pick up or pay for the tickets within the time limit, the airlines can cancel your reservations.

Be sure to check your tickets as soon as you get them. And, have any error corrected right away. Don't wait until you arrive at the airport to correct the mistake. It could cause you to forfeit a special fare.

Check-in time can vary from airport to airport. Be sure to ask the airlines or your travel agent for the check-in time on your flights. Failing to check in on time can result in cancellation of your reservation.

Girls Swimming Team Improving...

Coach Reed expressed pleasure over the times of his swimmers, and the way they raced. He added, "You cannot teach kids to race, that is more natural instinct."
Based on the team's performance Thursday, Reed stated he now feels he may qualify as many as eight girls for the state championships if they continue to work harder, listen, and gain experience.
The girls' next meet will be at home Tuesday, 4 p.m., against Woodhaven. Another will follow at home Thursday, 4 p.m., with Milan's state champions.

Turner Finds Beautiful Spot in Washington's Olympic Park

YACHT BASIN: Among its many facets, Vancouver is best remembered as a modern, bustling port city. This is a view of Vancouver's Yacht Basin, as seen from Stanley Park.

THE BEAUTY OF BUTCHART GARDENS, some 13 miles from Victoria, B. C., are hard to describe. Flowers and shrubs were first planted in 1904 by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Butchart to hide the ugly scars of a limestone quarry. Today, the 30-acre site is one of the most attractive spots in the Pacific northwest, with thousands of varieties of plant life. At night, the gardens are illuminated and create a fairyland effect one will never forget.

VANCOUVER SKYLINE: Dominating the Vancouver skyline as one looks across a lagoon in Stanley Park, are these outlines of highrise apartments and office buildings. Vancouver is a subtle mixture of natural beauty and man-made achievement.

Dear Readers:

Today I greet you from the Hoh campground in Washington's Olympic Park.

Since my last report, I have covered a number of miles and have seen many sights. I hope the photographs accompanying this article will explain where I have been.

I continued on from Banff National Park in Alberta, through Yoho Glacier and Revelstoke National Parks on the trans-Canadian highway. From there I traveled to Vancouver, B.C., on the Pacific coast of Canada.

Vancouver is a big, modern city, and quite colorful. In Vancouver, Stanley Park is a real point of interest, with walking distance of the downtown area. This 1,000 acres of woodlands, with its nature trails where wild-life feeds from your hand, was dedicated in 1889 to the use and enjoyment of people of all colors, creeds, and customs. It is a must for anyone visiting the area (see pictures of Stanley Park).

Vancouver boasts so many points and things of interest, one could spend a week here and not see and do all that there is to do.

From Vancouver, I rode the ferry to Vancouver Island, landing at Nanaimo, and drove to Victoria, B.C.; the capital city of British Columbia. Victoria is clean and colorful. Vancouver Island started out as a crown colony of Great Britain but joined the Canadian Federation and became part of British Columbia in 1866. However, it is still very much like England.

There are many interesting things to do and see at Victoria, such as a visit to the Parliament buildings, with their statues and well-kept grounds. The large new museum is well worth a few hours of one's time just to learn about the native Indians and their way of life. I can't begin to describe it all in this article, but one point of interest some 13 miles from the downtown area of Victoria is Butchart Gardens. Don't miss it if you are in the Vancouver-Victoria area.

Butchart Gardens were started by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pim Butchart in 1904 to hide an ugly scar on their estate left by a limestone quarry. Mrs. Butchart's hobby was to plant flowers and shrubs to hide this 30 acres of ugliness.

Today, it is the scenic wonder of all the Pacific northwest. There are thousands of varieties of flowers and shrubs in this garden, and it is so immaculately kept, one doesn't wonder it employs more than 150 grounds-keepers. The garden is lit at night to form a fairyland one will long remember.

One can ride a ferryboat from Victoria to Port Angeles, Wash., across the straits of Juan de Fuca, if you don't mind a long wait. I waited eight hours to get aboard the ferry. It is not generally as crowded other times of the year, but I attempted my crossing in the heart of the tourist season.

While I was waiting, I saw a sign in the lobby of the Empress Hotel across from the ferry dock, saying "Kiwanis meets today." So, I attended, and it was the Victoria downtown club, with a membership of 110, a real lively bunch of fellows. I was given a small banner for being the farthest from home and attending their club.

Entertainment was the Kiwanis Band from Regina, Saskatchewan. The band consisted of a hundred members, made up of boys and girls, from ages 8 to 18. The band has a full-time leader, and I must say, they are well trained and produced some real music. They were all in uniform that resembled the Royal Canadian mounted police dress uniform, "real red colorful jackets."

The Regina Kiwanis Band travels quite a bit through Canada and parts of the U.S.A. They are well known for their concerts in most of Canada and the western U.S.A.

I got aboard the ferry at 3:30 on July 27, and came here to Olympic National Park. I am sitting in what is known as a rain forest with huge, moss-covered trees of many varieties on all sides. It is damp and chilly as the fog is coming in off the ocean.

Olympic National Park is unique in that it has so much contrast compared to other parks. It changes from ocean, to rain forests, to alpine meadows, to glaciers above the meadows. Rain forests are dense growths of large trees, covered by thick

Britisher Hanged

Major John Andre was convicted and hanged for treason on Oct. 2, 1780. The British officer had been apprehended by three patriots two weeks before while on his way toward the British lines. In one of his boots were found detailed plans of the key American defenses at West Point and a pass signed by West Point's commander, General Benedict Arnold. Andre's mission was to negotiate the betrayal of West Point. He paid for his misdeed by death; Arnold escaped. Henry Ford Museum's Bicentennial exhibit, "The Struggle and the Glory," in Dearborn, includes a letter written by Benedict Arnold just a month before Andre's arrest in which Arnold reveals his plot to betray West Point.

mass where the sun never reaches. The forest floor is covered by numerous species of ferns and vines. Everything is damp and green with a 157-inch average rainfall per year making tree growth extremely rapid. Some of the Douglas fir, Sitka spruce, and the hemlocks, reach a height of 300 feet, and are eight to nine feet in diameter. Several are about 300 years old.

It is quite hard to get good pictures in a rain forest. I traveled miles over the trails of Hoh Rainforest, some of that distance with the park ranger who gave guided tours every day, and other times I joined the scores of people who came here to see the natural beauty of the area.

I must be running along toward Crater Lake National Park in Oregon. I will report on that area next.

Your wandering reporter,
Don Turner.

★ Gridders of the Week ★

JOHN PUSH (72), senior tackle for the CHS varsity football squad, moved to Chelsea as a freshman to begin his football career. He first saw action on the freshman team, putting to use the traditional football skills he acquired from his father, who also played football in high school. Push, who has always been a tackle, likes the position because "you're in the middle of everything, there's the chance to do a lot of hitting on defense." Speaking on Chelsea's past performance this season, Push commented, "We have to get our offense together, we have to find the line, one that will go out there and block." He feels one of Chelsea's problems this year is a lack of experience on the offensive line, as a majority of the senior veterans graduated last year. The key game this season, according to Push, is with Brighton this Friday. "If we beat Brighton, we have a good chance for the conference title," he stated. While football demands hard training and a struggle to improve, the grueling preparation meets its reward on Friday nights when the game comes around in Push's opinion.

"It's worth it all on Friday nights," he divulged. He receives a lot of support from his younger sister, Nanette, a CHS freshman, who attends the games. Push is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Push of Old US-12.

MARK SMYTH (69) is a 5'10", 182-lb. guard, now in his second season on the Bulldog's varsity squad. The CHS senior began football in 7th grade on the intramural team, and moved from the backfield on the JV squad, to his present position when drafted for varsity. Smyth made a key play in the Portland game two weeks ago, when he intercepted a pass to aid the team in its push to victory. A bit more pessimistic than his teammates, he claims, "By the looks of it now, Brighton will be conference champs unless we get our offense together." The proposition may not be altogether unrealistic, according to Smyth, since Chelsea has shown improvement on the field during practice this week. Football dominates the gridders' daily scope of interests. It has been that way since Smyth first went out for sports in junior high, liked football best over-all, and kept with it. Family support is especially strong from Smyth's younger brother, Chris, a CHS junior and also a guard on the varsity squad. Key assistance during a game comes from Leon Brown, "because he's there all the time," he further explained. Smyth is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roger L. Smyth of Waterloo Rd.

RICK DAVIS (79) has had a rather tumultuous career in football since he initially entered the sport as a freshman. The 6'3", 176-lb. center missed playing his junior year, re-entered the field with high expectations this season, only to be benched with a knee injury. While Davis feels the Bulldogs need to do better than they presently are doing, he believes "they should come out ahead if the offense is strengthened." Football has been something he has liked to play ever since he was young, the gridders claimed. Davis, has a sister, Laurie, currently attending Beach Middle school, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Davis of S. Main St.

set a new school record, just a second ahead of Phil Frame, who also broke the old CHS record.

Chelsea's number one runner, Dave Dawson, was prevented from making the contest an all-out sweep by the Chelsea harriers, as he was forced to sit out the meet with a bruised foot. The Bulldogs also missed the support of Scott Beyer, a key varsity runner, who was nursing a cold for four days.

Second-place Rick Haller's record time on the Willow Run course was 15:55. Also placing for the Chelsea win were Phil Frame third, 15:56; Dean Thompson, fifth, 16:21; Morris Johnson, sixth, 16:40; Chris Minick, seventh, 16:58; and Steve Kvarnberg, moved up from the JV squad, ninth, 17:48.

Thompson, Johnson, Minick, and Kvarnberg all set personal best times in the meet.

In the triangular dual on Tuesday, Chelsea downed Dearborn Robichaud, 18-41. Leading the way for Chelsea was Rick Haller, first. Other Chelsea finishers were Phil Frame, second; Dean Thompson, fourth; Morris Johnson, fifth; Chris Minick, sixth; and Steve Kvarnberg, seventh.

According to Coach Clarke, number one JV harrier, Steve Kvarnberg, "has been knocking on the varsity door," and in view of his performance Tuesday, will probably become a permanent varsity fixture.

Chelsea now stands 8-1 over-all. The squad will run against South Lyon Thursday, Oct. 7, at Inverness.

Testimony Sought from County Women Victims of Physical Abuse

Washtenaw county women who have been the victims of physical abuse are invited to testify at a public hearing in Detroit next week. Professionals who come in contact with this problem are also invited to testify.

The hearing will be held in Room F, MacGregor Center, Wayne State University, on Thursday, Oct. 14, from 2 to 5 p.m. and from 7 to 9 p.m. It is one of five hearings sponsored in the state this fall by the Michigan Women's Commission to collect information and identify the needs of victims of this kind of assault.

The sponsors "welcome personal testimony from victims of physical abuse and have made arrangements to assure their anonymity if they wish to appear in person," according to Patricia Cuzza Silea, executive director of the Commission.

The Commission will appreciate receiving written copies of all testimony. Women who wish to share information but who cannot attend may send it to the Michigan Women's Commission, 230 N. Washington, Lansing 48933. "All written material will become part of the record and will be considered in any recommendations the Commission may make," Silea says.

Women who have further questions may contact a member of the Washtenaw County Advisory Committee's Health Task Force at 665-5610, afternoons, until Oct. 14.

Girls Varsity Lose Against Novi, Mason

CHS Girls varsity basketball team played to an early lead in their Southeastern Conference debut at Novi, Tuesday, Sept. 28, only to lose their momentum in later quarters, as Novi's defending league champions moved in to counter Chelsea's surge and garner the victory, 43-34.

Instrumental to Chelsea's loss was the team's failure to keep up their rebound performance. Novi capitalized on the weakness for the conquest.

High scorers for Chelsea were Penny Collinsworth and Lori Miles with 8 points each. Shelley Warren followed with 7. Kim Moore and Nanette Push 4 each. Teresa Breza, 2, and Karen Keiser, 1.

Returning home to play against Mason on Thursday, Sept. 30, the Chelsea cagers ran into another slump, losing their third consecutive game of the week to non-league Mason, 37-44.

Although the game was close throughout, with Chelsea behind by only two points in the final quarter, the home team was unable to position for dominance, and fell behind. The cagers are now 1-3 for the season.

High scorer for Chelsea against Mason was Penny Collinsworth with 12 points, supported by Shelley Warren, 9; Lori Miles, 7; Sue Heydlauff, 4; Karen Keiser, 3; and Nanette Push, 2.

CB Radios Stolen from Locked Cars

Chelsea Police Department has issued a public warning to CB owners in the area to take added precautions in protecting and guarding their property, following the theft of two CB radios from vehicles parked outside of Chelsea Lanes late Saturday evening, Sept. 30.

Both 23 channel radios were valued between $180 and $200. To gain entry, thieves forced the left side vent of a 1975 Chevy Blazer, owned by Gary L. Bice of Grass Lake, and pried open the left side door of a 1974 Buick station wagon registered to Edwin Greenleaf, owner of Chelsea Lanes. Officers theorize wire cutters, a pry bar, and screwdrivers were utilized to remove the radios.

Although Greenleaf's Buick had been parked under lights and was highly visible, no suspects were reported as seen in the area all night.

Thursday the team travels to Saline and will also play Dexter in a double dual.

Then on Monday they will finish the league matches in a meet with Brighton and Saline at Inverness. Tuesday the Conference Meet will be held at Green Oak Golf Course at Willow Run.

JV Gridders Ramble Over Novi, 29-12

Novi's junior varsity gridders never escaped the Bulldog grip as Chelsea ravaged the Wildcats, 29-12, Thursday, Sept. 30.

Although Novi was first to score on a 60-yard run in the opening quarter, Al Augustine crossed the goal line on a four-yard run for Chelsea, kicked for an extra point, and put Chelsea in the lead, 7-6.

Chuck Young returned a punt 65 yards to score again for the Bulldogs, and close down the first quarter, 13-6.

Chelsea dominated again in the second quarter as Bob Ball barreled through the Novi line for one yard and a touchdown.

Novi attempted to close the gap in the third quarter, scoring on a 30-yard run to make it 12-19. However, the Bulldogs roared back as Chuck Young scrambled for a 35-yard touchdown run. At Augustine ran home two more points and Chelsea rested at 27-12.

Dan Gerstler blocked a Novi punt late in the third quarter, forcing the ball to fly out of the end zone for a safety and two more points.

Both teams played to a draw in the fourth quarter to end the scoring at 29-12 for another Bulldog victory.

Leading tacklers for Chelsea were Al Augustine, 7; Shawn Murphy, 6; Scott Powers, 5; Ben Kincer, 5; Dan Gerstler, 5; Bob Ball, 5; Lucas Lovely, 4; Scott Price, 3; Chuck Young, 2; John Labarbara, 2; Bill Moore, 2; and Doug Clark, 2. For Novi, Tom Barrett, Tom Bareis, Steve Marriott, and Gary Thornton, 1 each. Outstanding tackles were performed by Bart Bauer and Doug Clark.

Offensively, Chelsea rushed for 283 yards, twice the yardage gained in the team's first two games combined. According to Coach Jon Schaffner, the offensive line of Jeff Eibler, Scott Powers, Dan Gerstler, Lucas Lovely, John Labarbara, Ben Kincer, Scott Price, and Bill Moore opened up nice holes for the backs to run through.

Chelsea will return to the field to face undefeated Brighton, in a home game scheduled for 7 p.m. Oct. 7.

Retirement Party Slated for Lima Township Treasurer

Hilda Pierce of Jackson Rd., Lima Township treasurer for many years, will be feted at a retirement party in her honor, Sunday, Oct. 17, 1-4 p.m., at Lima Township Hall. The public is invited.

The search for truth in government is a field of endeavor that is not too often overworked.

Frosh Gridders Romp Over Michigan Center

The passing of John Dunn and Mike Wood, and some fine runnings by Sam Picklesimer helped the Bulldog freshmen coast by Michigan Center by a score of 12-14 Tuesday night.

Dunn had touchdown passes of 25 yards to Wally Soltysjak and 20 yards to Mike Killelea and hit each with an extra point.

Wood threw a 22-yard TD strike to Brad Knickerbocker and Picklesimer scored on runs of 8, 40, and 34 yards.

Leading this offensive charge was the line anchored mainly by Karl Bell, Dan Rowe, Dave Morris, Keith Stillion and Andy Weir.

The defense, not to be outshone, also turned in a fine effort. The Cardinals scored on a one-yard run just before half-time and added six more on a 52 yard pass late in the third period.

The Bulldog defense scored the first points of the game when Mike Killelea trapped Michigan Center's quarterback in the end zone for a safety. Picklesimer also played a strong defensive game, intercepting two passes. Randy Risner and Mark Cole also snatched Cardinal passes away.

Stalwarts in the defensive line which kept Center's backs tied up all night were Dan Rowe, Tom Gilbreath, Tom Houle and Steve Hawker.

In spite of a number of penalties against the Bulldogs, it was a fine over-all team performance. Coach Bainton, obviously pleased with the results, praised the team's efforts. "We had a chance to give all our players quite a bit of playing time and they responded with a fine performance. This was without a doubt an excellent team effort."

The freshmen played Brighton at home Tuesday, then go to South Lyon on Oct. 12 and host Tecumseh on Tuesday, Oct. 19. The latter game was originally scheduled for Wednesday, Oct. 20.

Anger is a human trait. It has been a part of man since the beginning of time and since it is a natural emotion, any one can get angry at times. Many references to anger and wrath are seen in the Bible.

It is a mental agitation however that should be controlled because it is harmful. Any doctor will tell you anger causes blood pressures to go up. Release of uncontrolled anger can only give temporary satisfaction and that is certainly a high price to pay for probable shame and regret.

No one can completely extinguish anger. It is as natural as tenderness, sorrow, fear or joy. Because anger takes a heavy toll in mind and body, moderation is needed as a matter of self concern. Jefferson once said, "When angry, count ten before you speak; if very angry, count a hundred." It was a good rule to live by in his time. It still is! . . . Here's what Cliff Taylor believes we must do:

1. fight crime vigorously and grant paroles cautiously.
2. create good jobs in the private sector, not government make-work jobs.
3. maintain our military strength to discourage aggression.
4. reform the welfare system to eliminate cheating and to help the truly needy.
5. enforce our present gun laws, and not further intrude in the lives of law-abiding citizens.

If you agree with him, you ought to vote for him.

Area Dairy Leaders Boost Co-Op Month

Local dairy farmer leaders of Michigan Milk Producers Association have joined a state-wide effort to build a better understanding and appreciation of farmer co-operatives.

The campaign is being conducted primarily during October, which traditionally has been recognized as Co-op Month in Michigan and elsewhere throughout the nation, according to Steve Bristle, president of the Saline Local of MMPA.

"We think it's important that everyone have a clear understanding of what co-ops are and what they are for," Bristle said. "For example, we find that not everyone realized that farmer co-ops are owned and controlled by the farmer members they serve."

Among other things, co-ops enable farmers to purchase supplies and services and to market their products with increased efficiency, Bristle noted.

"By helping to boost their productivity and efficiency, co-operatives help family farmers compete and stay in business," Bristle said. "Obviously, that's important to us. But it's also important to consumers because the family farm still is the most efficient food producer and the type of operation that's depended on for most of our agricultural production."

"We hear a lot these days about big corporations being involved in agriculture and to some extent they are. In Michigan, though, and especially when it comes to dairy farming, the family farm still is the most important," Bristle added.

Many agricultural economists and other experts have predicted that the survival of the family farm hinges on the continued effectiveness and strength of farmer co-operatives, Bristle said.

Bristle urged anyone wishing to arrange a program related to Co-op Month or anyone wanting additional information to contact Diane Horning at 428-8610.

Physical Exercise, Conditioning Clinic Slated

The Ann Arbor Recreation Department is sponsoring a Physical Exercise and Conditioning Clinic on Thursday, Oct. 7 and 14, 7:30 to 10 p.m., at Pioneer High school, 601 W. Stadium Blvd.

The clinic is open to all adults—teachers, coaches, parents. It will consist of slides, demonstrations, discussions, questions, and answers. A $2 fee will be assessed.

The objective is to make participation and coaching better and safer through current knowledge and understanding of the nature of conditioning, training, and exercise. The practical application of research findings will serve to eliminate inappropriate exercises and to build a conditioning program designed to make a positive contribution to the participant's fitness level. The clinic encompasses programs and activities to meet the needs of youth and adults, male and female.

Registrations will be accepted by mail at 2250 S. Seventh St., Ann Arbor 48103.

THE "BIG YIELD" TOP FOUR FROM GREAT LAKES HYBRIDS

No one knows better than you — in farming, profit is the name of the game. The better your yield, the bigger your profits. So plant the seed corn tested and proven for yield and profits — GREAT LAKES HYBRIDS!

3102 (90 day) A performance record that's hard to match; out-yields many hybrids of later maturity.

4122 (95 day) New breed, mid-season single; unequalled seedling vigor, standability and yield.

407-2X (95 day) Tops hybrids of 10 days longer maturity; takes to higher populations and fertility programs.

5802 (107-109 day) High population, full-season single. Excellent yield, standability and disease resistance.

Consult your '77 GLH Catalogue for more proven and profitable varieties.

Introducing the 1977 Dodge cars and trucks.

If Dodge hasn't got your new car, nobody has. Your local Dodge Dealer has just raised the curtain on the new '77 models. And Dodge has never looked better. Whatever kind of new car you have in mind, Dodge has it. Spacious. Sporty. Even downright sexy. If Dodge hasn't got your new car, nobody has!

Royal Monaco Brougham. It's still a big country. There's still a big Dodge! For '77, Dodge still gives you a full-sized car with full-sized room and full-sized comfort. Monaco. More room for the money. Dodge introduces the luxurious car that's not too big outside, but has room for six inside. Pickups that have got it where it counts. As usual, Dodge brings you the pickups that have a lot to offer when it comes to price and payload. Sportman. Great for kids and cargo. Whether you're planning on moving passengers or packages, Dodge Sportman has the room you need.

Welcome to the new Dodge cars and trucks for 1977.

In the zany spoof on the Washington scene, Dale plays the leading role—that of presidential candidate John P. Wintergreen. Wintergreen runs for the top office using the campaign slogan, "Put Love in the White House." The Gershwin musical, featuring a cast of 52, is the most elaborate production staged at EMU in 20 years. Junior Achievement Program Starting Brand new businesses will open up in Chelsea beginning Monday, Oct. 11, as the Junior Achievement Program gets underway and high school students start running their own small corporations at the Chelsea JA Center, located at Beach Junior High school.

Organized and operated completely by teen-agers, JA companies are run like miniature corporations. JA members meet one evening a week from 7 to 9 p.m. at the center. They sell stock, elect officers, select, manufacture and market their company's product and learn the principles of salesmanship, leadership and business. Each JA company is made up of some 20 high school students and is sponsored by a major business concern. Under the expert guidance of professionals from business and industry, students get first-hand experience in business. Contests and social events are held throughout the year and local competition can lead to national recognition and scholarships.

Interested high school students are encouraged to visit the first JA meeting on Monday, Oct. 11 to see what's happening.

One of the reasons hearing loss problems have become so widespread in recent years is because so few Americans actively seek to safeguard their hearing ability, hearing specialists point out. Avoid prolonged or continuous exposure to harmful noise and protect your hearing, they urge.
