Choral Concert Slated Monday At High School

A choral concert has been scheduled for Monday, Dec. 13 in the high school auditorium at 7:30 p.m. Appearing on the program will be both the Beach School Choir and the High School Choir.

In addition to these groups, two new organizations will be making their debuts. The Womens Ensemble composed of Cathy French, Theresa Ahrens, Sue Leach, Kathy Treddo, Tammy Puglisi, Julie Proaska, Michelle Gauthier, Chris Heck, Sally Vaughn, Suzy Pfeiffer, and Tracy Cattell will perform three selections. This group will be given a more exciting name later on, explained DiAnn L'Roy, director of choirs. Miss L'Roy also said that the Women will be available to sing for community groups.

The other new group is a men's double quartet composed of Dennis Petch, Doug Foreman, Jim Stewart, Bart Bauer, Mike Tressler, Mike Rybka, Bob Ball and Rick Brandel.

The choirs will sing a varied program including Christmas music. The High School Choir will close the program with Gustave Holt's composition, "Christmas Day," with Sue Leach, Mike Tressler, Kathy Treddo and Tammy Puglisi singing solos.

LaVonne Harris and Pamela Wilson will accompany the choirs which are all under the direction of DiAnn L'Roy. The concert begins at 7:30 and is open to the public at no charge.

Some 220 members of the 7th, 8th, and 9th grade Chelsea school bands, along with the CHS Symphony Band, will present "Sounds of Christmas," a holiday concert Thursday, Dec. 16, beginning 7:30 p.m. in the Chelsea High School auditorium.

Directing and conducting the program will be Steve Bergmann, 7th grade and high school band director, and Warren Mayer, 8th and 9th grade band director. The duo will be assisted by Mary Ann Opp, Chelsea schools student band teacher from Eastern Michigan University.

Selections to be performed include a Christmas Carol Suite by the 7th graders; a medley of seasonal tunes such as "Let It Snow," "Scool Room Jingle," and "Up on the Housetop," followed by a flute feature by the 8th graders; traditional holiday music by the 9th graders; and Bach's "My Jesus, Oh What Anguish" by those at the high school level.

The spirited Christmas collage of harmony will conclude with a sing-along to inspire audience participation. No admission will be charged for the concert although free-will donations will be accepted.

seated in the center between the two women standing; vice-president Marie Colombo, seated to the right of Mrs. Dittmar; and secretary Lois Shively, seated to the left of Mrs. Dittmar. At the conclusion of Tuesday's meeting, Mrs. Dittmar announced plans for the group's February meeting which will be a four-way bargo pillow-making demonstration to be conducted by The Needlepoint Tree of Ann Arbor. Anyone interested in attending is asked to call Mrs. Dittmar, 475-2025. The meeting will be held at the home of Marge Daniels. The January meeting of the guild has been cancelled.

were Jeff Dils 15 points, Carl Simpson 13 points, Jon Riemschneider 7 points, Jim Stock 4 points, Mike Wade 3 points, and Vince Salver 2 points.

Jon Riemschneider and Mike Wade did an outstanding job on the boards, gathering in 11 and 8 rebounds respectively. Everyone played an outstanding game on defense forcing Saline to take outside shots and forcing them into making many turnovers.

Boys Swim Team Wins Over Inkster

The boys varsity swimming team started its 1976-77 season with an 86-77 win over Inkster High school. The Bulldog swimmers took first and second in the 200-yd. medley relay, the first event. That gave them a 12-0 lead which they never relinquished. Swimming on the medley relays were Henri Vanderwaard, Jim Dowhall, John Daniels, John Oesetle, Chip Stafford, Doug Pichlik, Steve Heydlauff and Dan Peterson.

Other Bulldog winners were Jeff Rudd 200 and 500 freestyle and Henri Vanderwaard, backstroke. Others who performed well were Scott Prohaska, Tim Stubbs, Jim Leach and Dave Steinbach.

The swimmers will have their first home meet this Thursday at 7 against Ecorse in the Beach school pool.

Dana Corp., UAW Agree on New Contract

Dana Corporation and the UAW reached a tentative agreement "in principle" on a new three-year contract at about 12:55 p.m., Dec. 6. The announcement was made jointly by Mac Lantz, Dana's vice-president of industrial relations and Don Rand, administrative assistant to UAW secretary-treasurer Emil Mazey, director of UAW's Dana department.

The agreement, which covers more than 8,000 workers in 20 facilities throughout the U.S., including Chelsea, was worked out by company and union negotiating committees after more than three weeks at the bargaining table in Indianapolis, Ind.

In addition to those in Michigan, plants covered by the new agreement are located in Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Pennsylvania, and Wisconsin.

Terms of the settlement will be made public after local units have ratified the contract. The agreement includes a substantial wage increase as well as provisions for a wide range of improved benefits covering all workers.

Poster Contest To Publicize Blood Drive

As part of their annual Blood Drive, Chelsea Jaycees are sponsoring a Poster Contest, open to area youngsters in kindergarten through 12th grade. The youngsters are invited to direct their imaginations toward designing a poster suitable for use in publicizing the drive.

All entries must be received by Saturday, Dec. 11, to be eligible for judging. This year's panel of critics will be Jim Brady, contest chairman, and Bill Tudor, Jaycee president.

Posters should thematically illustrate some aspect of the benefits of donating blood. Students are asked to submit their entries to their respective school art teachers. Teachers will forward them to the Jaycee judges.

Contest winners will be determined at the regular Jaycee meeting on Monday, Dec. 13, 8 p.m. at Chelsea Lanes. Posters are required to show the Jaycee name as Blood Drive organizers; the date of the drive, Dec. 18; the time, 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.; and the place, Chelsea's UAW Hall.

Other information which may be included is that donors must be no younger than 18 years of age, no older than 65, and all must be in good health.

Washtenaw County Red Cross personnel will staff the Jaycee blood-donation clinic. This year's goal has been set at 125 pints, slightly over last year's net donation figure of 121 pints.

Persons who give blood will receive cards attesting to the amount given and to their individual blood type. All blood donors are privileged to receive free blood should they fall victim to an accident requiring blood transfusions.

For information or an appointment to give blood, call Dave Monroe, 475-7130, or Al Sheffield, 475-2081.

Petition Forces Referendum on Coltre Zoning

Amid waning controversy over the Miller-Coltre properties rezoning issue, representatives of the Cavanaugh Lake Area Taxpayers Association (CLATA) acted to solidify their commitment toward intelligent land development planning within Sylvan township, by filing a petition on behalf of the organization with Dan Murphy, Sylvan township clerk Wednesday, Dec. 8.

The petition, signed by 180 residents of unincorporated portions of Sylvan township, asks that the township board's Nov. 9 decision to rezone the Coltre property from recreation-conservation to agricultural be submitted to residents for approval or rejection. The parcel of land in question contains an estimated 50 acres.

To deliver the matter into the hands of voters for reconsideration, 8 percent of the 1,780 registered voters in the area were required to sign the petition, or a calculated total of 143.

Choices now facing the Sylvan Township Board are to either place their resolution of the Coltre property issue on a special election ballot, or to extend a moratorium on the vote until the next scheduled township election in August, 1978. Because of the prohibitive cost of a special election, the board plans to select the latter alternative.

CLATA's move to petition a referendum vote came within 24 hours of the township board's latest review of the Miller property rezoning proposal, conducted during their regular monthly meeting Tuesday, Dec. 7.

The board concluded the review by passing a motion, made by Fred Pearsall, to send a revised version of the Miller property rezoning proposal to the Sylvan Township Planning Commission for review. According to the terms of the revision, the new proposal asks all acres north of Cavanaugh Lake Rd. on the Miller parcel of land be redistricted from recreation-conservation to agricultural, while those acres south of Cavanaugh Lake Rd. remain in the recreation-conservation zone. The motion was seconded by Reuben Lesser, Sr.

Recommendations from the planning commission on the revised proposal, which affects approximately 125 acres, are expected at the next township board meeting on Jan. 4.

Wrestlers Lose By One Point To Howell

After a cold start, Chelsea grapplers sauntered past Pinckney, 39-26, but failed to overtake Howell as they staged a tremendous comeback for a 30-31 finish in Thursday's opening double dual, Dec. 2.

Squaring off against Pinckney, the Bulldogs fell behind, 0-12, as Dan Wilson and Scott Dalton were pinned in their first competitive tryst on the mats. Then, Chelsea took over as John Bullick scored a pin at 112 lbs. Mike Young, at 119 lbs., scored a 3-1 win; Joe Merentette, at 126 lbs., won his first varsity match with an 8-6 decision; and at 132 lbs., Mike Young pinned for a win at 1:14.

Captain Jim Stahl followed with a pin at 138 lbs.; Rick Beeman, at 145 lbs., scored a first period pin; and George Menge at 155 lbs. earned a 7-2 decision.

Bruce Bennett was leading, 6-1, in his match when he was guilty of an illegal move and was disqualified at 165 lbs. At 178 lbs. Todd Headrick scored a 10-1 decision win; Steve Marriott, wrestling at 191 lbs., lost by a pin in the third period; and heavyweight Leon Brown wrestled to a 2-2 draw.

"In all, we performed quite well considering it was our first match," said Coach Richard Bareis following the season opener.

Against Howell, Chelsea was outmaneuvered by one point. At 98 lbs., Tony Wisniewski fought hard, only to fall victim to a third period pin. Dalton, at 105 lbs., was also pinned, and at 112 lbs., Bullick lost a close 5-6 decision.

Chuck Young, at 119 lbs., scored a 4-0 decision win, but Al Dalton, wrestling at 126 lbs., lost by a pin. At this point, Chelsea was behind 21-3, but came roaring back as Mike Young pinned his opponent at 132 lbs.

Closing in on Howell, Stahl defeated a tough opponent, 9-5, and Joe Branham, at 145 lbs., scored a close 1-0 decision win. Interrupting the impending sweep, Menge lost on a 3-12 decision at 155 lbs. Then, Brian Van Reesema, wrestling at 165 lbs., scored a third period pin.

CHS Debate Teams Compete in Plymouth Invitational Tourney

Following a mid-season respite, Chelsea High debaters rejoined the debate circuit last Saturday, Dec. 4, to participate in the Plymouth Invitational Debate Tournament at Plymouth Salem High school. Under fire was the national debate topic of penal reform.

Arguing swingside for the CHS varsity were Tammy Puglisi and Barb Hinderer, who finished 2-2 in their division. The swingside force encompassed two rounds of affirmative, and two rounds of negative debate.

The varsity team defeated Belleville and Royal Oak Kimball, but fell to Caro and Plymouth Salem. Debating on the JV squad for Chelsea were affirmative proponents, Anne Schabtle and Kathy Slater, while upholding the negative were Andy Anderson and Julie Prohaska. The JV team also split their record for the day, closing 4-4 in their class.

"I was pleased by the work of all teams, especially our top-finishing novice group," said Chelsea High debate coach Bill Coelius.

Chelsea's front-running novice team of Bev Simon and Bruce Stubbs, affirmative, and Beth Flanagan and Steve German, negative, took the second-place team trophy in their division with a 7-1 showing. Some 28 teams competed on the novice level.

In further novice action, individual honors were conferred upon Bulldog debater Tim Stubbs, who received a fifth-place trophy for his performance against a field of 112 debaters.

K. OF C. DONATION: William Harvey (far left), Chelsea Knights of Columbus financial secretary, presents a $1,319.24 check to Father Germano Pegoraro (second from right), Director of St. Louis school. The donation, which will be used to benefit some 75 boys at the school, was collected through a Tootsie Roll drive sponsored by the K. of C. With the two men in the photo are, from left, Charles Smith, Jr., Jim Gaken, Maynard Paertner, and Don Doll. Missing from the group are Jerry Hammerschmidt and George Merkel, co-chairmen of the drive.

K. of C. Nets $1,319 in Candy Sale To Benefit St. Louis School

Chelsea Knights of Columbus, Council No. 3092, recently presented a check in the amount of $1,319.24 to Father Germano Pegoraro, director of St. Louis school. According to Fr. Pegoraro, the contribution will be used to purchase scholastic materials and blankets for the school's 75 boys.

The donation represented proceeds of a local Tootsie Roll drive conducted by the civic group. All Knights of Columbus councils in Michigan undertook a similar drive netting more than $300,000. The money was consequently distributed to mental retardation programs throughout the state.

In accepting the Chelsea K. of C. donation, Fr. Pegoraro said, "In such difficult times for everyone, especially for schools and institutions, St. Louis school is very grateful to the Knights of Columbus for their donation. We express our deep appreciation to the council and the community for supporting mental retardation programs."

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

The agender worked around to women during the session at the country store Saturday night, and the topic turned out to be good for the fellers. Most of em had some hard words that had been bottled up since their old ladies first started dropping hints about what they didn't want for Christmas. In Ed Doolittle's case, that started about the middle of September.

Ed said usual when his old lady says no she means no, but when it comes to Christmas presents what she means is anybody's guess. Fer sure, Ed allowed, when she says she don't want nothing she means she wants somethin, but she don't intend to buy it fer herself. It takes a heap of reading between the lines to get anywhere in this husband game, was Ed's words, and Christmas is the time you got to do more of it than ever.

Actual, declared Clem Webster, his problem at home was not so much what to get for his old lady at Christmas as it was how to answer all her questions about what to give everbody else. Clem said as sure as he set down with the paper after supper fer the past month, his old lady would commence with her shopping list. He said he can't tell if she's talking to him or about him half the time, but when she peeps over her glasses around the paper he's hiding behind, he knows he's supposed to say somethin. Clem said he's got to be more careful with his "yes, dears" since last year when he agreed to take fruit to shut-ins when he thought he was okaying a can of pipe tobacco fer one of his old lady's brothers.

Bug Hookum said Clem had spoke fer him. Bug said he's having the devil's own time trying to help Jimmy Carter line up his cabinet and keeping one ear open to his old lady at the same time. Bug said wimmen seem to function better where everthing seems to be happened at once, like at them "blue light" sales in discount stores. Men has got to have quiet, to do their serious thinking. Bug said he was working on the best man fer Secretary of Agriculture the other night afore he was interrupted, but he has decided Carter ought to go with the strong, silent type.

General speaking, the fellers were agreed with the doctor that said the other day that wimmen live longer than men because they express their feelings and don't let tensions build up. They throw tantrums and have hysterics, this doctor said, and git all the bad twice out of their systems. Course they can do that without getting batted down. If a man tries letting off steam to lengthen his life somebody's liable to shorten it.

Personal, Mister Editor, what I can't git over with wimmen is their hope. You can't keep em down. I see where Madame Chanp Ki Shek, that must be older than any of us, said she had to hurry home from a hospital here so she could git back to work on "the

Work on Energy

Because Michigan is operating from what Gov. William Milliken has termed a "potentially precarious energy position," folks might do well to think about ways to conserve rather than consume.

Michael Dively, director of Michigan's Energy Administration, says "we must change peoples' attitudes about how they live and their unchecked consumption of scarce energy resources."

Better home insulation, more efficient automobiles and changes in building codes together could save as much as 20 percent of the total energy consumption, he contends. Results of a home insulation promotion and financing program appear to bear out that contention, at least in part.

A Public Service Commission report says that since the fall of 1973, insulation has been added to 200,228 Michigan homes—saving enough gas to heat another 35,372 homes.

"The payback to the average residential customer who installs insulation in an existing home is quite substantial," notes Commission chief Daniel Demlow. "Not only does the customer benefit by a more comfortable home, he or she also saves considerably on heating bills."

Consumers aren't all energy conservation-minded, though. A recent informal survey asked if people would drive less if it would help lower the cost of fuel. More than 52 percent of the respondents said yes. But another 48 percent said no.

In line with the cost question, Federal energy administrator Frank Zarb says that if the United States does not drastically increase its energy-producing capacity, prices in heating fuel and gasoline will skyrocket in the next 10 years.

Meanwhile, think about wood chips, the wood debris that's left to rot on the forest floor and the waste that's burned by lumber industries.

Dively says use of such wood could help ease the state's energy shortage. Researchers at Michigan Technological University, Dively says, found that at current costs, wood chips have almost twice the energy content per dollar as coal, and three times the energy content per dollar as oil.

"Since most of Michigan's electricity is generated by burning coal and the state has no useable coal resources, wood energy should not be overlooked as a possible alternative to coal," Dively says.

Churt Proposal

Calls for taking politics out of the state Supreme Court selection process are nothing new. But as he adds his voice to others protesting the partisan nature of court selection, Republican Sen. John Toepp of Cadillac says he's about to do something constructive.

Toepp wants to do away with the present system of party nomination and what's referred to as "non-partisan" election on a statewide basis.

He'd replace that system with open elections in seven one-man, one-vote districts. Thus, a candidate would have to spend campaign time in only a part of the state instead of the whole.

Under the Toepp plan, candidates for supreme court posts would file in their individual districts, making it onto the primary ballot by collecting 39,000 signatures or by posting a $500 filing bond. The two top vote-getters in each district primary would make it onto the November general election ballot.

So concerned with the idea of doing something about the current justice-election process is Toepp that he says he is prepared to help put the question on the ballot

Letters to the Editor

All letters to the Editor must be signed. However, the writer may request that his name be withheld from print.

Dear Lima Township Residents,

At the Dec. 13 Lima Township Board meeting, we will appoint three new members to the Board of Review. The function of the Board of Review is to review and correct the 1977 Lima Township assessments made by the Lima Township assessor. Since I feel that there are people in the township who would like to participate in township government who I am unaware of, I am asking that you who are interested submit your name to any township board member for consideration. The most necessary qualifications are that you be a township property owner, that you are fair and honest, and that you have a real concern for the people of Lima Township. The Board of Review meets for about five week days during the month of March. You will be paid at some rate yet to be determined by the Township Board, but it will probably be about $30 per day.

At the January or February Lima Township Board meeting, we will fill a vacancy on the planning commission caused by the expiration of the term of one of the members. Instead of automatically reappointing the member I feel that in view of the strong interest in township government that currently exists in Lima Township, that other interested people be given the opportunity to participate in decisions which will affect their future. I am asking those people interested in serving on the planning commission to submit their names and a short letter stating their reasons for wanting to be on the Planning Commission. The qualifications necessary for this position are that you be a property owner in the township, and that you be interested in the future of Lima Township. Please submit your name to any Lima Township Board Member.

Sincerely yours,
Wally Buslier,
Trustee for the people of Lima Township through an initiative petition drive if he can't get the required support from legislative colleagues.

Trees Planted
More than 8,800 acres of tree plantings completed during 1975-76—all by private land owners. And that, says Agriculture Director B. Dale Ball, indicates the strong support of individuals for conservation programs.

Ball noted also that tree plantings covered 10,200 acres of land for that time period. Michigan Soil Conservation Districts planted about eight million trees and shrubs as part of their programs.

What's Cooking In Michigan

Next time you have dinner guests, why not "butter 'em up" with a delicious sauce made from, of course, Michigan Grade A butter. These butter sauces can go on almost anything you serve, from little cocktail appetizers to fish and meat courses to dessert itself.

Try making an interesting curry butter by adding one tablespoon of curry to one stick of softened butter. Mix well, spread on trimmed bread and add sliced ham or chicken. Cut into quarters and serve as an hors d'oeuvre.

Having steak or other beef that's been barbecued? Why not mix ½ teaspoon salt, teaspoon white pepper and one teaspoon chopped parsley to ¼ cup butter. Then add, stirring constantly, ¾ to 1½ tablespoons of lemon juice. Let your guests put it on the meat themselves.

Let's see, I also mentioned fish dishes. Make a dill butter by combining ½ cup softened butter, two teaspoons dill weed and one teaspoon onion salt. Mix well and serve over that trout, salmon or other fish you've prepared. If chicken is the main course, blanch ¼ cup almonds, crush them and add to ¼ cup softened butter. Mix well, serve over the chicken and it's instant almondine. Dessert? Combine ½ cup butter, 1/8 teaspoon cinnamon and a dash of salt in a saucepan, heating until the butter melts. Blend in ¼ cup honey and remove from heat. Stir in ½ cup whipping cream and one teaspoon grated orange peel. Serve warm over ice cream and tell everyone it's honey butter sauce.

If you're watching a week-end football game and want something a little different, melt ½ stick butter and ¼ cup grated cheese together over low heat. Pour this slowly over about two quarts of freshly popped corn, tossing it thoroughly before serving. I think I said you should try Michigan Grade A butter sauces the next time you have guests. Why wait?

50th WEDDING ANNIVERSARY: Mr. and Mrs. James A. Robards of 511 Taylor Lane, will be honored at an Open House Sunday, Dec. 12, on the occasion of their 50th wedding anniversary. The event will be hosted by their family, 2 to 5 p.m. at Chelsea Fair Center. The couple married Dec. 11, 1926. Both are life-long residents of Chelsea. Before his retirement in 1939, Mr. Robards was employed by Central Fibre Products Co. Mr. and Mrs. Robards have six children, 21 grandchildren, and three great-grandchildren.

Choose Christmas Toys For Children Carefully

Choosing Christmas toys carefully can help prevent injury to children, says B. Dale Ball, director of the Michigan Department of Agriculture.

MDA's Consumer Protection Bureau enforces the toy safety law which is part of Michigan's Hazardous Substances Act, the director said, but consumers are the final watchdogs and should be alert when shopping.

George Whitehead, deputy director, Consumer Protection Bureau, said, "A thermal, electrical or mechanical toy found to be hazardous by the federal Consumer Product Safety Commission comes under the definition of a banned hazardous substance. It's the department's responsibility to license all manufacturers and distributors and to register all retailers of the toys in the states and keep them advised of those that have been banned. Presently Michigan has few manufacturers so efforts are in the registration of retailers."

Debaters...

Chelsea High's second novice team consisting of Jim Owens, and Darrell Crawford on the affirmative side, and John Koepel, and Tom Severn on the negative, finished the day with a 4-4 record.

Chelsea will regroup for their second, two-round league meet Wednesday, Dec. 15, beginning 3:30 p.m. at Chelsea High. Competing for all-league trophies along with Chelsea will be varsity, mixed novice, and novice teams from Ann Arbor, Greenhills, Saline, Novi, Napoleon, and Brighton.

Also on Chelsea's upcoming debate schedule is the Novice State Qualifying Championship Tournament to be held in Grand Lodge Saturday, Dec. 11. Along with 85 to 88 Michigan schools, Chelsea will be sending a novice squad to compete for one of 12 top places. The 12 finalist teams will then be eligible for the state novice debate championships in January.

The four-lane span stretches for five miles over the Straits of Mackinac and is considered to be the longest suspension bridge of its type in the world, according to the Travel Bureau, Michigan Department of Commerce.

"What's cooking?" in Michigan

by Carl B. Olson
Michigan Dept. of Agriculture

With Christmas coming, you may remember the old adage about it being better to give than to receive and get ready now to give something from your kitchen.

For that matter, it could be a family project, especially for the youngsters around the house. Help them make "Spritz" as Christmas gifts for other family members or their own special friends from school or the neighborhood.

In a mixing bowl, cream 1 cup of good Michigan Grade A butter. Gradually add 1/2 cup sugar and beat until light and fluffy. Then beat in 1 egg and 1/2 teaspoon of either almond extract or vanilla, depending on your flavor preference. Gradually blend in 2 cups sifted all-purpose flour.

Now, here's where the fun comes in for the younger set. Fill a cookie press, that's the gadget that looks like a huge hypodermic, with the dough. With some practice, the child should be able to form circles, shapes and even letters on a chilled and lightly buttered cookie sheet.

Bake in a preheated 350 degree oven for 8 to 12 minutes or until they are just golden. Depending, of course, on the size of the shapes and letters made, the yield should be from 7 to 8 dozen cookies. Decorate before baking with colored sugar crystals or maraschino cherries, which, incidentally, probably came from one of Michigan's millions of cherry trees.

As with any rich cookie, these freeze well and will keep as a gift if stored in an airtight container. They are quite fragile, so line any box or tin with wax paper or foil and layer the cookies with either the foil or wax paper.

Just because I've recommended that youngsters might enjoy making the cookies, don't panic. Almost all of the cookie baking at my house is done by my wife. The "Spritz," though, I've tried, and if I can do it, any self-respecting young person can, too.

CHS Girls Swim Team Sends 4 to State Meet

The Bulldog girls' varsity swimming team entered four events in the state high school swimming championships and broke school records in the 200-yard medley relay with a team composed of Michelle Kamyssek, Karen Dresch, Shelly Springer and Sheila Tarasow.

Shelly Springer, who missed placing in the 50 freestyle by .13 of a second, ended up 15th and Sheila Tarasow bettered her time by .9 of a second in the 50 freestyle.

The girl splashers qualified two divers for the state meet. Karen Dresch ended up 34th out of all the state's divers and Cathy Voita 30th. The team's 400-yard freestyle relay team ended up breaking the school record by 13 seconds. Participants were Sheila Tarasow, Shannon Springer, Patti Hume and Shelly Springer.

The girls will now join the swim club and work out the remainder of the year in hopes of improving for next year.

Any high school boy or girl wishing to join the swim teams may still do so.

Washtenaw County Walkers' Guide Lists Hiking Trails

The Ecology Center of Ann Arbor announces publication of "Footloose in Washtenaw, A Walkers' Guide to Ann Arbor and Washtenaw County." The book fills an evident local recreational need as it outlines 23 loop hikes and walks with the aid of maps and photographs. It is available now at the Ecology Center, 417 Detroit St., Ann Arbor and at local book stores.

The book is arranged in two complementary parts. A brief introduction with useful background information opens each part.

Part I describes walks in outlying natural areas. These include walks in or near Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority Metroparks (Hudson Mills Park, Delhi River Walk), State Recreation Areas (Pinehills, Waterloo, Brighton, Highland), and university forest preserves or botanical gardens (Saginaw Forest, Stinchfield Woods, Matthaei Gardens, Hidden Lake Gardens). All these walks are located within one hour's drive of downtown Ann Arbor, and most are within 15 miles.

Part II describes urban walks, within the city limits of Ann Arbor. There are walks in familiar central areas (downtown, campus), neighborhood tours (Old West Side, Burns Park, Lower Town), and rambles through parks and natural areas (Arboretum, Eberwhite Woods, Argo Pond).

The book ends with a "thumbnail" summary of the distances and highlights of each walk, and a bibliography of other local guides and maps.

Approximately 20 Ecology Center volunteers reconnoitered, researched and wrote the walks. Donald H. Gray, Professor of Civil Engineering at the University of Michigan and a former member of the Ecology staff member, coordinated and edited the material. A small group of contributors provided publication funds.

A principal value of this unusual guidebook is that it collects in one volume many local walks which are at present either not well known or described only in obscure publications.

The book sells for $3 per copy and is available at the Ann Arbor Conference and Visitors Bureau, 207 E. Washington St., Bivouac on State St., Centricore, Logos, Borders, Little Professor, University Cellar, and the West Side Bookshop as well as the Ecology Center for $3.50 per copy.

The first tests in orchard spraying for controlling fruit disease in America were conducted at MSU by Levi Rawson Taft in 1888.

Less Salt Marked For State Highways

Lansing—There's going to be less de-icing salt used on Michigan's state highway system this winter.

That's the pledge—and word of caution—from the State Highway Commission, which is determined to reduce the amount of salt for reasons of cost and the environment.

"Salting has been an effective and relatively inexpensive method of removing light snow and ice from our highways," said John P. Woodford, director of the Department of State Highways and Transportation. "However, with a 13 percent increase in the cost of salt this year, coupled with increasing environmental concerns, we must and will reduce our salting operations."

Woodford said new and improved snow removal equipment and procedures, developed by the Department of State Highways and Transportation over the past several years, will permit use of less salt while maintaining safe winter-driving conditions.

Woodford warned, however, that the motorist public must recognize that winter driving conditions may be hazardous at times. Whenever possible, motorists should postpone their trips until after storms are over, he said.

Woodford said highway maintenance forces will begin snow removal operations as soon as and as fast as in previous years, and will continue to salt or sand hills curves and intersections. General salt applications during storms, however, will be reduced, especially on highways with low traffic volumes.

This will be the fourth winter the Highway Commission's modified bare-pavement policy will be in effect. In an effort to reduce fuel consumption and to hold down fast-rising costs, the Commission in 1973 implemented a policy to reduce winter maintenance on the state's less-traveled highways.

Under this policy, all 9,400 miles of state highways will be kept plowed and passable at all times during snow storms. However, the payment of highways having average daily traffic volumes of less than 3,500 vehicles will not be kept entirely bare if they become snow-covered in the late afternoon or night.

The policy provides for continuation of the 24-hour, bare-pavement policy on the 3,200 miles of state highways carrying average traffic volumes of more than 3,500 vehicles a day. This includes nearly all freeways and many other heavily traveled highways.

Contributions To Library Are Deductible

McKune Memorial Library can always use additional funds which make it the fine public service facility that it has always strived to be.

Perhaps it is not generally known that gifts to public libraries in Michigan qualify for the same state income tax credit as gifts to the state's colleges and universities. 50 percent of any gift to a public library in Michigan, to a maximum deduction of $100 on a single tax return and $200 on a joint return may be used to reduce the amount of tax due. This of course, is in addition to including the gift as a "contribution" when you itemize your deduction on the federal income tax return. Thus you can make a contribution to your local library at very little net cost to you.

Library Board members suggest you consider helping your McKune Memorial Library this year by making a contribution.

It's Time for Americans To Curb Energy Appetites

By Frank G. Zarb
Federal Energy Administrator

We can curb our energy appetites when we try... Here are some ways we can conserve:

If 1,000 homes were to add storm windows, caulking and weatherstripping and upgrade their insulation in walls, ceilings, and floors, enough energy could be saved to supply gas energy for the needs of perhaps 500 more homes.

Practice more energy conservation in the use of home appliances. Appliances such as heaters, furnaces, air conditioners, refrigerators, and freezers account for about 22 percent of the Nation's energy consumption.

This consumption could be reduced if, when making purchases, consumers inquire about the energy efficiency of these appliances. In many cases now, energy efficiency labels are attached to new appliances to help consumers in their purchasing decisions.

By curbing our energy appetites, we can save money. For example, a homeowner who spends $300 to have insulation installed in an uninsulated attic may be able to recoup these costs in reduced energy consumption within 2 to 3 years.

Afterwards, the reduced energy consumption continues year after year even though the costs have been paid off.

To cite another example, some room air conditioners use almost half the energy used by other models. The wise purchaser, being careful to note the differing energy efficiencies of air conditioners, will buy the more efficient unit, even though the initial outlay may be more than the cost of less efficient air conditioners.

These additional costs, however, may be entirely offset within one or two cooling seasons, depending on how much the air conditioner is used. Again, once these costs are paid off, the energy savings will continue for many years.

In addition to saving money, we need to think constantly in terms of a conservation ethic in this country, because there simply are not enough fossil fuels to meet ever-increasing demands. We have necessarily had to import more oil and gas to satisfy our needs. In fact, during 1976 we are importing 1 percent of the oil we use each day. But as we discovered during the 1973-74 embargo, these supplies are unreliable and they are expensive.

The message in all this is simple. If we all decide to take steps to conserve energy, we can save money, we can greatly reduce our increasing dependence on Middle East oil imports, and we can lessen the possible environmental degradation associated with bringing on added supplies of domestic fuels.

Cager of the Week

PETE FEENEY (10), co-captain of Chelsea's varsity basketball squad, moved from Detroit to Chelsea with his family four years ago. Since that time he has been playing basketball for Chelsea schools, continuing a competitive career on the courts which first began when he was still in 4th grade. The 6'10", 150-lb. guard recalled his best game ever, one played against Milan last year. "In that game, I scored 20 points," he said. Yet, that astounding total was not enough to clinch the match for the Bulldogs. "They were really good, they beat us," the cager explained. Of his team's performance in their first two games this season, Feeney declared, "So far, neither game was very good," but he added, "we should go into Christmas vacation with a few wins, possibly four." "I think we have a lot of potential, we have the talent to be competitive, so it's up to us how we'll place in the conference," he concluded. Feeney, who is a self-described "sports freak," started playing basketball on a serious level because, "I liked the sport more than any other," he revealed. Two qualities of the sport which continue to reinforce his interest are the game's inherent "comradery and competition," he stated. Along with basketball, the CHS senior is also on Chelsea High's tennis team. His other activities include membership in the Key Club and National Honor Society. Feeney has three brothers, two sisters, and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Michael Feeney of Park St.

In the third period both teams had some good chances for goals. Chelsea had some golden opportunities but the puck bounced everywhere except into the net. With two minutes left in the game Chelsea again had a two-man advantage but failed to score.

Rep. Roy Smith Plugs Proposed Tax Reform

Thursday evening, Dec. 2, some 25 area taxpayers met with Roy Smith (R-Saline) at Chelsea High school to participate in a discussion of House Joint Resolution M, Smith's proposed constitutional amendment that would reduce the public school operating cost burden carried by residential and agricultural property tax classes, while still ensuring local control.

Attending the meeting were property owners from Ann Arbor, Chelsea, Dexter, Dundee and Manchester.

School Board Briefs

At a regular meeting of the Chelsea Board of Education Monday evening, Dec. 6, present were Haselschwardt, Daniels, Tobin, Hodgson, Feeney, Stirling, Superintendent Cameron, Business Manager Mills, Principals Smith, Conklin, Wojcicki and Benedict and assistant principal Schave. Several guests also attended the meeting.

Meeting called to order at 8 p.m. by President Haselschwardt.

The minutes of Nov. 15 meeting were approved as read.

The 1976-77 athletic budget was discussed in detail.

Several members of the Athletic Boosters Club were present and discussed the athletic program and their plans to be of service to the entire athletic program.

President Haselschwardt read a letter from Dr. William Hawks, president of the Chelsea Boosters Club, Inc., transmitting the $7,021.28 balance of the funds raised by the Boosters Club to the board.

The board accepted, with gratitude, the check from the Chelsea Boosters Club, Inc., in the amount of $7,021.28 and once again thanked the club members and community for their efforts in support of the extra-curricular program.

The board voted to allocate the $7,021.28 on the following basis: athletic fund, $5,271.28; band program, $1,750.

Further discussion followed regarding the athletic budget for 1976-77. The board approved an athletic budget of $17,227.

The board met with the administrators to discuss contracts for 1976-77. No action was taken.

Meeting adjourned at 12:20 a.m.

STOCK CLEARANCE SALE NOW

According to Smith, under the new bill, taxes on an equalized value of $20,000 would drop from $356.20 to $336.80 in the Chelsea School District. Of this amount, $159.40 would be earmarked for debt retirement.

The amendment further asks for a 2 percent increase in personal income taxes which would replace the current 24.72 mills levied for educational operating costs. The increase would require a taxable income of $25,000 before one would assume a larger portion of the cost of education.

At the meeting, Smith also revealed the 11-point conclusion of a study on educational financing. Resolutions of the study include:

1. There is general discontent with the property taxpayer, boards of education, school administrators, and educators alike.

2. There are vast discrepancies in the valuations of both residential and industrial properties, statewide.

3. There is a vast difference in the area of "cost per student," 100 percent difference.

4. Over 90 percent of the people polled preferred a flat-rate income tax that would be earmarked for education.

5. There is a 60-40 split on the question "Should this tax support higher education?"

6. There is a 60-40 split on the question, "Should each school district be allowed to vote on and up to 5 mills for local enrichment programs?"

7. There is a 95-5 preference for an educational tax reform bill to be written by a Citizens Group and put on the ballot by petition.

8. The only legislation being worked on in Lansing is Roy Smith's Resolution "M" which has support, but not enough to get on the ballot. The drawback appears to be that it calls for the possibility of a graduated income tax, and would allow it.

9. Over the next 10 years the property owner will assume 100 percent of the responsibility for funding education.

10. Within 10 years the graduated income tax will be in effect regardless.

11. Absolutely nothing is going to happen to change this situation unless Citizens Groups are formed throughout the State of Michigan to effect such changes, either to support Resolution "M" or draft a bill which would have state-wide appeal.

Richard J. Long Participates in Navy Training Exercise

Navy Data Systems Technician Second Class Richard J. Long, son of Mr. and Mrs. George J. Long of 7423 Dexter-Pinckney Rd., participated in Exercise "Computex 1-77."

He is a crewmember aboard the guided missile cruiser USS Wainwright, homeported in Charleston, S.C.

"Computex 1-77" was a two-week exercise conducted by the U.S. Second Fleet off the coast of northern Florida. The exercise was designed to provide training in surface, anti-submarine warfare and task group operations. Nine U.S. Navy ships, the Coast Guard cutter Gallatin and a German frigate, FGS Moelders, took part in the exercise. The combined task group was under the tactical command of Rear Admiral Bruce Keener, USN, commander of the Second Fleet's Cruiser-Destroyer Group Two.

A 1973 graduate of Lake Michigan College, Benton Harbor, with an associate of science degree, he joined the Navy in February 1973.

General George C. Meade came to Caseville as a civil engineer for the United States Government. When the Civil War erupted, General Meade was called into service and in 1863 troops under his command won the decisive battle of Gettysburg, according to the Travel Bureau, Michigan Department of Commerce.

CHUCK BRODERICK (89) has been an end for Chelsea football teams since he first began playing football in the 8th grade. A newcomer to the varsity squad, the CHS junior tied for Most Valuable Lineman his freshman year, and was again voted Most Valuable Lineman while playing junior varsity football. Both awards attest to his skill on the field which was best demonstrated in Chelsea's JV game against Saline two years ago. "Everyone said I made a good catch in the end zone during the Saline game," the 5'11", 150-lb. griddler began. "There were only a few seconds left in the first half, I knew I jumped up quite a bit for the ball, and ended up diving with it for a touchdown." He added, "Coach (Jon) Schaffner liked the play." In the same game, Broderick also played some defense and finished with his still-standing personal best number of tackles. But, he stated he likes playing split-end above all other positions because "I love catching passes." This year, Broderick revealed, he had planned on a good season but it failed to happen. "The passes kept flying over my head," he said, "and I kept running into people." Broderick's explanation for Chelsea's disappointing performance this season was "offensive line breakdown." "We had all the talent," he acknowledged, "but just didn't get it together." In his opinion, the team's best game was against South Lyon. "By the time we reached that point in our season, we didn't have a whole lot to shoot for, so we went for the Homecoming game," he recalled. While Broderick failed to offer a team prediction for next season, he did state good talent was returning. "I don't know about the team," he continued, "but personally I'm shooting for All-Conference next year." Broderick, who also plays baseball for Chelsea High, has four younger sisters. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Broderick of Scio Church Rd.

BOB BURGESS (68) is a second-year veteran of Chelsea's varsity grid team. After beginning his career as a tackle while playing football in his freshman year, the CHS senior was transferred to the position of guard. For Burgess, the change was well received because, "as a guard, I'm more towards the center of the line where everything is happening." "From the center, you get to pull," he explained. The 5'8", 170-lb. griddler played his best game against Dexter this season, "even though we didn't win." According to Burgess, the team's best game was against South Lyon "because everyone was up for them, it was everyone's best effort." Theorizing about Chelsea's cold play on the field this year he stated, "The magic ingredient, that particular quality which makes team members play as a team, wasn't there this year." However, Burgess expects that to change next season. "Chelsea has talent, and now experience, so the team will have a good chance at winning the conference title in 1977," he optimistically predicted. To cement this view he added, "If you look at the all-conference team this season, you notice almost all are seniors, which means other teams will be losing most of their good players." In football, Burgess "likes hard-hitting and the opportunity to share in a team effort." He acquired a taste for the sport while playing football in neighborhood games as a child. In addition to grid activities, Burgess is a member of National Honor Society, and the International Club at Chelsea High. He is also an Eagle Scout. He has one brother and one sister, and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Burgess of Taylor St.

JEFF SWEET (86), an end for the Bulldog gridders, began playing football for Chelsea in 8th grade, but interrupted his ascension through the freshman, JV, and varsity football ranks by opting for a sojourn with the CHS cross-country squad in 10th and 11th grade. "I decided I needed a change," was the 5'10", 143-lb. griddler's reply when asked what prompted the switch back to football. As a newcomer to the varsity squad, Sweet did not play in all of Chelsea's games this year. Nevertheless, the CHS senior's performance was sprightly and aggressive when put in the field. According to Sweet, "Portland was Chelsea's best game this season because it seemed like we had everything together." He predicts Chelsea should have a good team next fall based on the varsity's learning experiences over the past few months. "A lot of juniors will be returning," he said, "and they should know what they're doing." Sweet could easily be described as an all-round athlete, since his participation in CHS sports extends beyond football to include basketball during the remaining winter months, and track in the spring. Chelsea fans can watch for him in low hurdles competition. Sweet has an older brother, and is the son of Robert A. Sweet and Dorothy Sweet of Arthur St.

November Traffic Death Toll Down Over Last Year

Michigan's November traffic death toll numbered 142, which was 19 or almost 12 percent less than 161 in the same month last year, according to provisional figures of the State Police traffic division.

The month's total also was 39 less than the average of 181 for November in the five years 1971-75. High November toll of 283 was charged to 1968 while the low of 77 occurred in wartime 1942.

The November deaths include 21 that occurred in accidents during the state's four-day Thanksgiving holiday period. This was five more than charged to that period in 1975.

Despite the November reduction and decreases in other months, the accumulated total for 11 months this year is 1,754, which is an increase of 103 or about six percent more than 1,651 in the corresponding period last year. Delayed death reports will add slightly to the provisional counts for November and the 11-month period.

Based on information available now, Michigan's year-end traffic death toll may end up below 2,000 for the third time in three years. The final count for traffic deaths in Michigan in 1975 was 1,811, which was the lowest total for the state in the last 13 years.

Lori Van Riper Joins U-M Youth Band

Lori Van Riper, a CHS sophomore, was recently selected for membership in the University of Michigan Youth Band and Wind Ensemble, the U-M School of Music announced recently.

Sponsored by the University's music department, in conjunction with U-M Extension Service, the ensemble was organized in 1973 to provide a broad and stimulating musical experience for musically talented high school age youth.

The Youth Band Wind Ensemble rehearses every Saturday morning throughout the academic year on the University of Michigan campus under the direction of Professor Thomas L. Dvorak. High school students come from approximately 35 schools in over 25 cities throughout Michigan to perform each Saturday.

Membership in the ensemble is open by audition only to students who are recommended by their school music directors and who are currently enrolled in grades 9-12. Miss Van Riper was nominated for the honor by CHS band director, Steve Bergmann.

Besides playing opportunities in chamber wind groups and large band, youth band members receive group master classes in instrumental performance from graduate students and faculty at the University of Michigan School of Music.

A broad scholarship program involving advanced study at Interlochen Arts Academy and the University of Michigan, is a further beneficial outgrowth of membership available to Youth Ensemble participants.

Miss Van Riper is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Van Riper of Chestnut St.

What To Do When You Can't Pay Your Bills

"Getting into debt is usually painless. Getting out probably won't be, but it is not impossible."

With this realistic assessment, the Michigan Consumers Council begins its new brochure, "What To Do When You Can't Pay Your Bills." The brochure gives practical, detailed advice to consumers who are swamped with debts.

"It's easy today to get into debt," Executive Director Linda Joy said. "That's why we've designed a brochure for consumers who feel on the brink of pushing the panic button. It offers a step-by-step action plan to regain financial control."

"What To Do When You Can't Pay Your Bills" advises consumers on the basic methods of getting out of debt. They range from how to contact the creditors or how to file bankruptcy. The brochure also includes tips on mortgage payments, utility bills and budget planning.

"We hope this brochure will not only give indebted consumers helpful information, but will also relieve some of the hopelessness and frustration of the situation," Joy said.

The Council also has a brochure "How To Sue Someone in Small Claims Court." In small claims court, consumers can take a company or individual to court—without an attorney—if their complaint is less than $300.

For free copies of the two brochures write to the Michigan Consumers Council, 414 Hollister Building, Lansing 48933.

Lesley Clark Joins in 'Y' Conference

Lesley Clark, a CHS senior, was one of 200 students attending the recent fifth annual COSMOS International Week-end at Alma College, Alma. COSMOS, sponsored by the State YMCA of Michigan, was arranged to promote a parley on world problems between Michigan high school students and foreign exchange students.

Co-operating with the State YMCA in organizing the event were 4-H clubs and Youth for Understanding. The program began with a film festival designed to give background information on the countries represented to those in attendance.

Other features of the program included an exercise led by Fred Carow, a Traverse City high school teacher, to explain the world food crisis; a debate between members of the Alma College debate team on the topic, "Should the United States Withdraw from the U.N.?", the design of self-created versions of Utopia by students during that part of the program entitled "Cosmic Culture"; and a cultural fair.

To teach co-operation, the students were involved in an egg sale to raise money for YMCA world service, and the conference ended with a mixed media worship service Sunday morning.

In addition to American students from Michigan, countries represented at the event were Japan, the Philippines, Germany, France, Switzerland, Brazil, Venezuela, El Salvador, Sweden, Chile, Finland, Norway, Denmark, Belgium, Holland, and Costa Rica.

With the score 30-25 in favor of Chelsea, heavyweight Tom Bareis lost in a third period pin. Calling the dual "a good evening's work," Coach Bareis nevertheless cautioned his team "needs a lot of improvement and conditioning before we are ready to compete with some of the teams we have on our schedule." "Our wrestlers are performing aggressively, and that's a good sign," he added.

Biddy Basketball Has Need for Coaches

On Dec. 4, the Chelsea Recreation Council's biddy basketball program had its first registration day. On Dec. 11, at 9:30 a.m. there will be a second registration day at Beach Middle school for all those youngsters between the ages of 7-12 who could not be present at the first registration.

This Saturday the boys and girls already registered in biddy basketball will also meet at Beach Middle school from 8:30 to 11:30 a.m. to practice basketball fundamentals. Last Saturday there was a good turnout of boys and girls who were interested in learning more about basketball and having fun. Because of this good turnout there is a real need for interested adults to coach. Coaching is vital to the success of any recreational program. If you are interested in helping youngsters between the ages of 7-12, please call Bill Westcott at 475-8518.

THE IMPORTANCE OF LOCATION

Any realtor will tell you that the three most important factors concerning the value of a house are: "Location, Location, and Location." Unfortunately, most home buyers ignore this important advice.

Location is especially vital when buying a house for maximum resale value. Statistics say that you will be reselling your home long before the final mortgage payment is in the mail. Therefore, take a long, hard look, not only at the present, but the future prospects for the community and immediate neighborhood.

Select a location where raw land and house values have an increasing price trend. Especially check into the zoning laws for any unfavorable change which could cause a depreciation in the value of the neighborhood and the resale price of your home in the future.

Remember—you can remove, replace or remodel a house, but you can never change the location. So choose carefully.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at FRISINGER REALTY CO., 935 S. Main St., Chelsea, Phone: 475-8681. We're here to help!

Unsung Trainers Are Important To Success of Football Team

An often overlooked component of Chelsea's grid machine are the football trainers who function to keep the Bulldogs units in optimum working order. Sharing training responsibilities this year were two CHS students, senior Rick Brandel and junior Jeff Kiel.

The two coalesced to form an indefatigable force, each taping an estimated 10 to 12 strained ankles daily and tending to a range of injuries from toe blisters to bruised ribs.

"We're not doctors or anything," stated Brandel, "we just look at injuries and if they seem serious, we refer the players to Dr. Bruce Stubbs, the team physician."

Beyond just examining injuries this season, the trainers bandaged hypertense ankles, knees, and elbows, using between eight and 10 rolls of athletic tape following a single regular football practice session. The duo also relies on a heavy prescriptive load of ice and whirlpool baths to cure ailing wrists, elbows, and miscellaneous joints.

"Basic first aid is helpful in everyday cases of scratches and bruises," acknowledged Kiel. "But we use a lot of tape," Brandel continued. "The training room needs constant replenishing. Using eight to 10 rolls of tape per day, with only 32 rolls per case, at a cost of $28 per case, our supply doesn't last too long," he related. "Should taping fail to alleviate the pain of overstressed muscles, 'we keep a freezer full of ice,' the trainer explained. Between athletic tape and ice, the two can prevent minor injuries from inhibiting the performance level of Bulldog team members.

The most severe injuries treated by the duo this past season occurred in late summer when temperatures remained near the 90 degree mark. One of these mishaps developed while the Bulldogs were attending football camp.

According to Brandel, a Chelsea griddier "was running in the heat of the sun, constantly drinking heavily salted water to prevent dehydration, when he suffered a heat stroke." The heat stroke, in turn, initiated a mild concussion, causing the victim to lose energy for a week. However, by Chelsea's opening game, the griddier was fully recovered following remedies administered by the trainers.

A second instance requiring their skills occurred when a football player mistakenly took an overdose of muscle relaxers. Both trainers responded with immediate aid, and aborted a potential crisis by summoning a physician.

Muscle relaxers, along with dexatrin, are occasionally distributed to players suffering from over-exertion. But, salt tablets and vitamin C are more commonly prescribed, both Brandel and Kiel confirmed.

Expertise in treating anything from pulled ligaments to a torn knee cartilage is rarely self-taught or casually acquired, the trainers explained. Both enrolled in a four-day special seminar this summer at Bowling Green University in Bowling Green, O., to supplement their training knowledge.

Four instructors, all student trainers for the Bowling Green football team, demonstrated injury-treating techniques and held classroom sessions to teach those in attendance, the proper response to symptoms of the most frequent injuries. Brandel and Kiel practiced taping innumerable muscles from 7 a.m. to 9 p.m. daily, according to Brandel.

Neither Chelsea trainer expects to pursue his athletic training interest beyond high school. Brandel revealed "there are only two colleges nationwide which offer a major in the field." "Once you complete the degree requirements," he stated, "you are faced with hard work, long hours, low pay, and limited advancement opportunities."

Brandel, who moved to Chelsea with his family in July, 1975, served as a football trainer for three years at his former school in Charleston, W. Va. He has been a CHS trainer for the past two years, operating in that capacity simply because he enjoys football and being part of Chelsea's grid team. Allergies and hay fever prevented active participation on the field.

"Football is 95 percent of it," he declared. "Being a team trainer is a full-time job during football season," he continued, adding, "while I sometimes wish the season would last longer, the job would not be quite so special if it did."

Kiel began as a trainer for the CHS Bulldogs three years ago, after being asked to assist the team by Richard Bareis, a football coach at the time.

Both Brandel and Kiel agree the job demands organization, but stated they "get plenty of help from football managers and crews, who are all willing to help with the work."

In addition to his activities as a trainer, Brandel is Student Council president and a yearbook photographer at Chelsea High. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne F. Brandel of Hickory Dr.

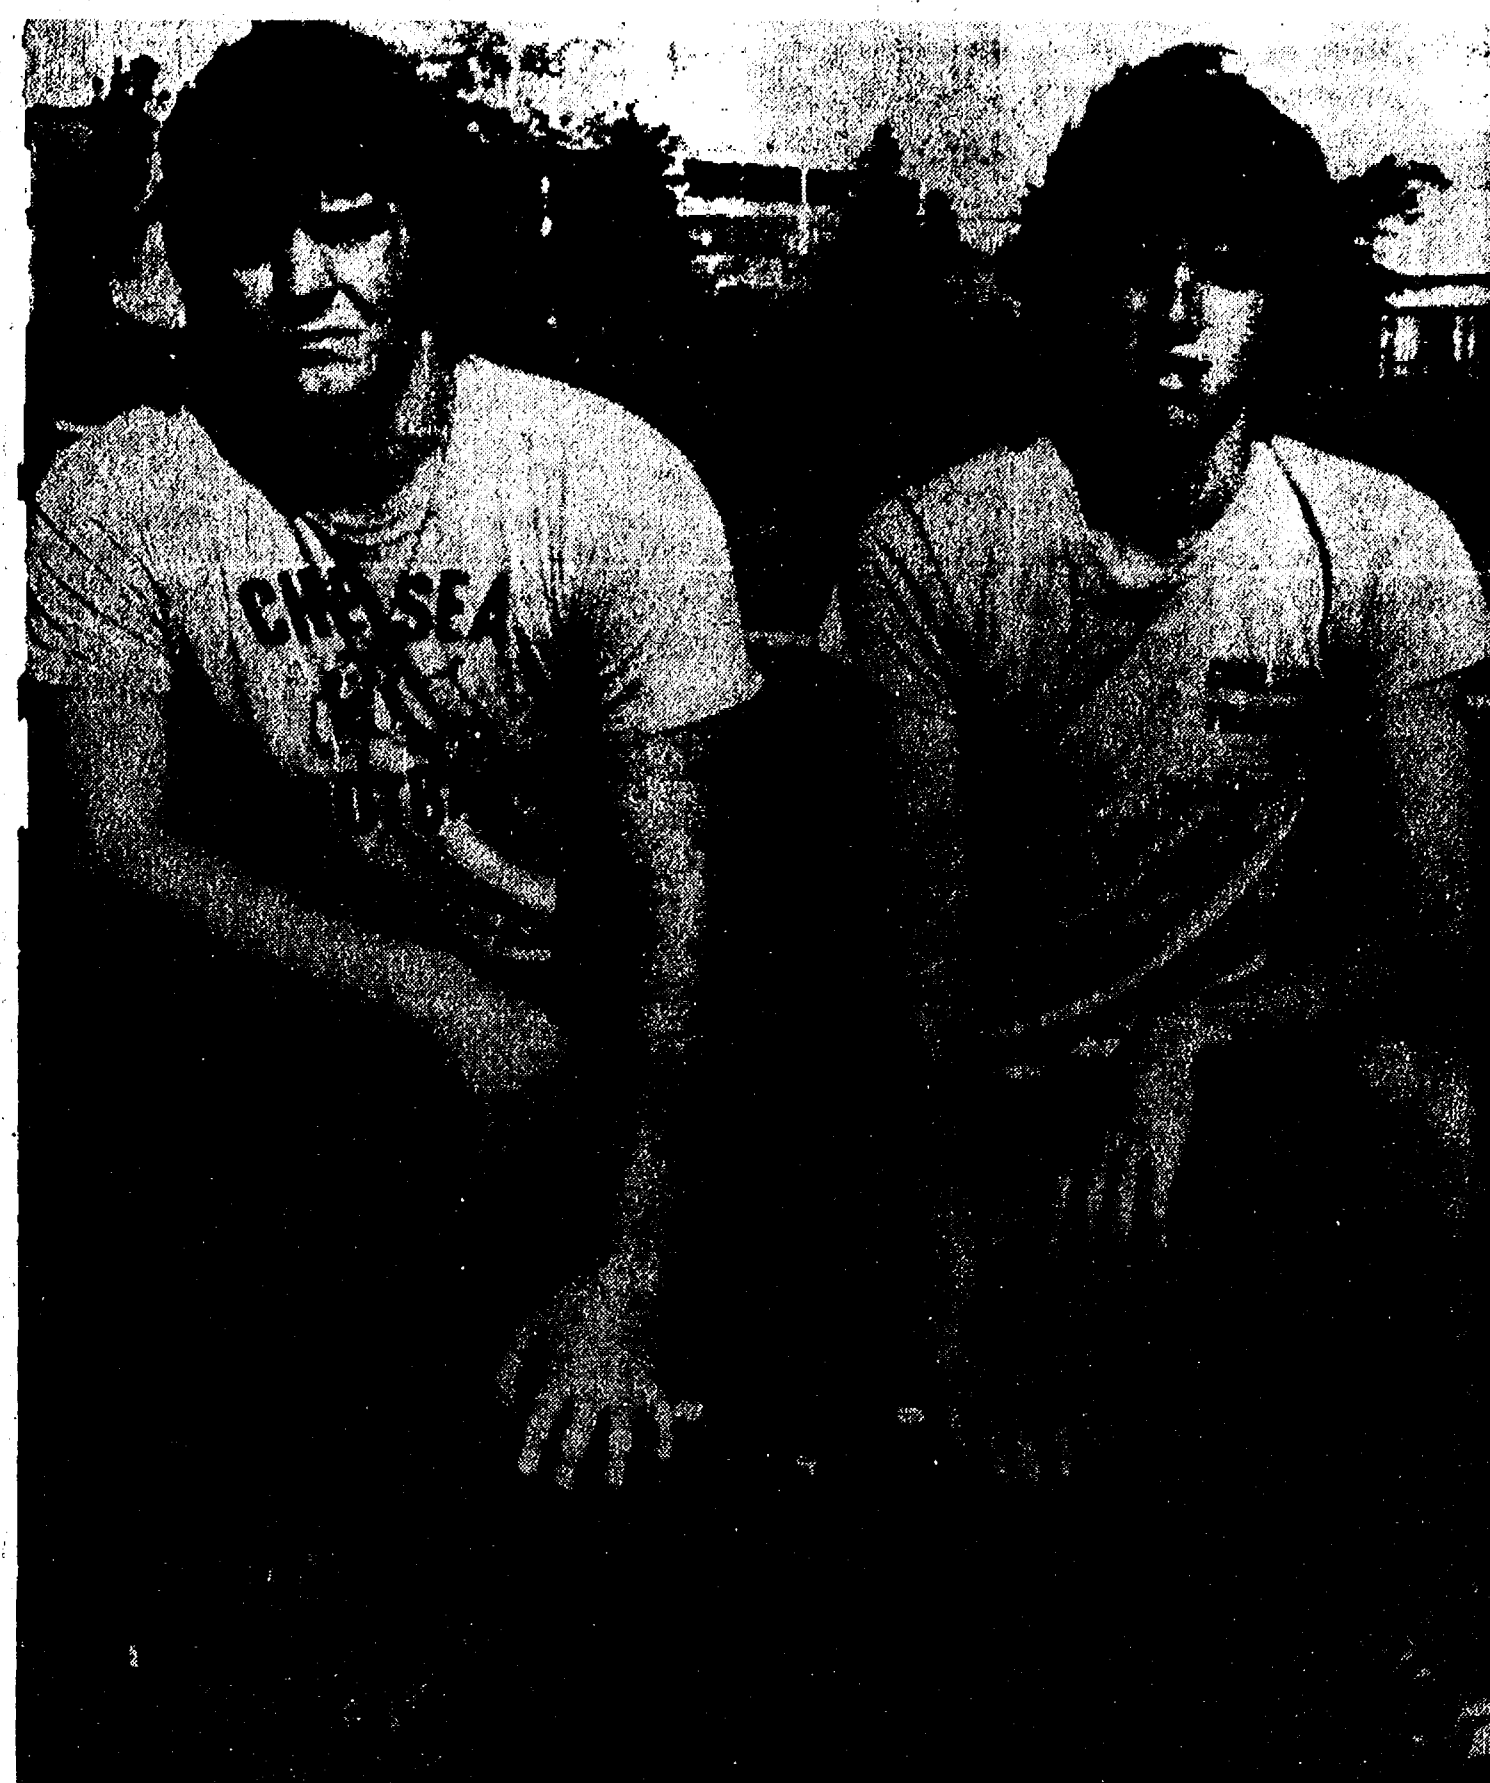

Kiel, who will return to his job as trainer next season, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald S. Kiel of Waterloo Rd.

Historical Society To Hear About Depots

"Trains, Trolleys and Depots" will be the program presented by Sam Breck at the Dec. 13 Chelsea Area Historical Society meeting. The meeting will begin at 8 p.m. in the downstairs meeting room of the First Congregational church.

The Program Committee will serve refreshments and hopes for a representative turnout. Since Chelsea has such a well-restored depot of its own, this program should prove interesting to both members and guests.

The Society has been researching the possibility of obtaining a site to sponsor. Various programs on Michigan barns, identifying architecture, anticipated programs on Victorian restoration, and on Ann Arbor's Kempt House are aimed toward educating the membership to recognize structures worthy of protection and restoration.

During the Society's December meeting, the nominating committee plans to present a slate of officers for 1977 to be followed by an election.

Volunteers Needed To Handle Dispatch Phones for CATS

Volunteers are still needed to handle dispatching phones for Chelsea Area Transportation System (CATS) in the Chelsea United Methodist Home.

The Methodist Home has donated office space to centralize the service.

Interested persons who can volunteer a few hours are asked to call Louis Burghardt, 475-4774; Stan Johnson, 475-7472 and 475-7366; or Betty Koch, 475-8582.

First Heavy Snow Hits Area Monday

A four-inch accumulation of snow fell on Washtenaw county over the past week-end, causing hazardous driving conditions and more than a few headaches for area motorists.

Apparently Chelsea drivers heeded travelers advisory warnings, as no accidents were reported in the village area within the 24-hour period beginning Monday, Dec. 6, according to the Chelsea Police Department.

Locally, Monday's snowfall was this winter's heaviest to date, weather bureau spokesmen disclosed.

County-wide, more than 50 accident reports were received by the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department following the area's first disabling dump of snow on Wednesday, Dec. 1.

TODAY'S THOUGHT

By LOUIS BURGHARDT

John Adams, our 2nd President, was a plain spoken man. A not too widely publicized quote of his follows: "Posterity! You will never know how much it costs the present generation to preserve your freedom! I hope you will make good use of it. If you do not, I shall repent in Heaven that I ever took half the pains to preserve it."

Through the years, our nation has survived local wars, a Civil War, global wars, economic disasters and periodic political scandals. Many people believe our nation has thus far justified the risks our founding fathers assumed, the dangers they faced, their unremitting perseverance. But, questions are being asked. Are we doing everything we can to safeguard and advance the heritage they gave to us? For example, with our almost reckless spending through many years, looking out for ourselves while disregarding the financial burden we pass on to our children's children, are we being genuinely honest with them — and ourselves? What sort of heritage are we really leaving? Is this not a serious question? . . . BURGHARDT FUNERAL HOME, 214 East Middle St., Chelsea, Mich. Phone 475-1551.

Report of the Chair

Corporation Counsel, Robert Guezel spoke to the Board about the Super X Building in Ypsilanti. A draft of a Land Contract was submitted. The City Council has given the Mayor the authority to enter into this contract. The problem is that we would like to get title as soon as possible. This agreement is acceptable to the City of Ypsilanti except that they cannot guarantee obtaining the two properties at $50,000. Suggestion by the City is that we delete any reference to the purchase of the two properties and continue to attempt to purchase them at a later date. Discussion ensued on these two properties. Tom Fegan, Planning Director spoke to the Board re: parking facilities near the site which would be available.

76-0507 Comm. Kuebler supported by Comm. Hansen moved for the acceptance of this land contract with the deletion of (i) under (c) page 2 and (iii) under (b) page 2 and authorize the Chair to sign. #### Motions, resolutions and new business:

Comm. Walter spoke to the Board; bring up a matter that we ought to be thinking about and see if first of all we are interested in doing it and second then see the wheels in motion. As we know yesterday, the County parks millage passed and although we can't levy that until the year 1977, it would seem to me not unreasonable if it's possible to see if we can issue bonds to cover the 1977 operating for that and then re-pay them out of the 1978 proceeds from the parks fund. Would like to request Corporation Counsel to research that issue and give us a report at the next Ways & Means.

Comm. Murray stated she thought the Parks Commission would be dealing with that. This millage is under the control of the Parks Commission and not the Board of Commissioners.

Comm. Shultz supported by Comm. Murray moved that the resolution authorizing payment of claims commencing with the last previously approved claim and continuing through the date of October 22, 1976, be adopted.

Comm. Hansen moved to amend the resolution to eliminate on page 0286 Account 101-275.00-850.00 Michigan Bell Telephone Company in the amount of $80.62. This is the amount that the County has spent in long distance calls to Willis, Michigan. Michigan Bell Telephone Company continues to refuse to put that one exchange in free telephone calls to Ann Arbor. Comm. McClary supported the amendment. Question was called on the amendment: YEAS: 7. NAYS: 8. Motion to amend lost.

76-0529 Roll call vote on adopting the original motion: YEAS: 14. NAYS: 1. Motion carried.

Chelsea Young People Win Praise in Theatre

The plant of theatre in Chelsea has blossomed into rising acting careers for two local residents who recently headlined the casts of two newly opened productions.

Currently on stage in David Story's Broadway theatrical, "The Farm," is Chelseite Jeff Daniels, while appearing in Ann Arbor's UAC Musket-M.M. Production's revival of "Camelot," which ended Nov. 13, was Pat Knickerbocker, known locally for her performances with The Chelsea Players.

Daniels plays the role of Arthur a prodigal, pampered son, in the family play which opened Oct. 1 at the Circle Repertory Company in New York, N.Y. Describing his response to "The Farm," Mel Gussow, New York Times theatre critic wrote, "With deep understanding and affection, it illuminates the forces beyond love that hold people together."

Gussow, who is reputed to be among New York's toughest critics, gave a somewhat salted-down review of Daniels' New York stage debut. In a one-line appraisal, he wrote, "... Jeff Daniels does not quite convince us of the son's sensitivity; he is supposed to be the family poet." Although tempered with reserve, this review was far from the usual lambasting criticism Gussow has leveled at a number of actors in the past. More publicity for Daniels came in an article written by Paul Gardner, published in the Theatre Section of the Sunday New York Times, Oct. 3. The article, which traced the origins and playbill series of the Circle Repertory Company, included a still from the group's current production of "The Farm." Daniels, as Arthur, was in the forefront of the photo, and was identified by name in the caption.

Daniels' latest involvement under camera lights has included starring in a commercial for Mutual of New York Life Insurance Co. The commercial is scheduled to be aired in the New York area during televised games of American and National Football League games and play-offs later this season.

A CHS graduate, Daniels left for New York this year following a stage offer from a Circle Repertory Company agent who had watched his performance in a play at Quirk Theatre on the Eastern Michigan University campus.

Daniels, who was an EMU student when the offer was made, interrupted his college education to take advantage of the outstanding opportunity to advance his professional acting aspirations in the nation's theatre capital.

Miss Knickerbocker, who still resides in Chelsea, played the role of a mystery character, Morgan Le Fey, in the 10-performance run of Lerner and Loewe's musical, "Camelot" in Ann Arbor, Nov. 4-7, and Nov. 10-13.

According to Mardy Medders, director of M.M. Productions, co-producer of the musical, "a multi-talented cast was selected to express the musical masterpiece, 'Camelot.' Those chosen demonstrated excellence in all three aspects of the musical theatre stage including singing, acting, and dancing.

The 22-member "Camelot" cast was directed by Paul J. Hustoles, veteran of more than 70 stage productions, and was choreographed by Ann Arbor guest artist in residence Sylvie Pinard Lambert, and Marcia Milgrom. A specially formed, 27-member orchestra, was guided by the baton of conductor Dill Murrell.

In the words of one reviewer, "Hustoles ventured into a totally creative directing concept with Pat Knickerbocker, the mystery character."

Miss Knickerbocker, who has also appeared with the Clark Players in Jackson, lists roles in the following musicals among her most recent credits: "Madame Dubonne" in "The Boyfriend" and Abigail in "1776," both Clark Lake Players productions; Huddle in "Fiddle on the Roof," Dolly in "Hell Dolly," and Mother Abyss in "The Sound of Music," all Chelsea Players productions; and a role in "Mame," produced by the Saline Players.
