Chelsea Stores Report Holiday Sales Increase

Specialty items, gimmicks, and traditional gift selections characterized the largest volume of holiday sales for downtown Chelsea merchants and retailers according to a survey conducted by The Standard last week. Contrary to national economic trends, the consensus of reports from Chelsea merchants placed the flow of business somewhere between "improved over last year" to downright "bustling."

Among the local shops faring well this season was Nalli Music on E. Middle. According to manager Jan Otto, "we did much better than last year with organs and biggest seller." And, she added, "we weren't even open evenings this year." All ages of people bought musical instruments she stated, citing an instance where one customer purchased an organ with the intention of beginning a musical career at the age of 70. Nalli's also sold extensive quantities of Christmas sheet music. "I think business was good this year because customers get friendly and personalized service in Chelsea," Mrs. Otto theorized.

According to Eve Poirier of Chelsea Card and Gift on Main St., "this year's sales were up over last year." Her largest selling items were bright metal candle arrangements. In addition to offering a wide selection of merchandise to shoppers, Chelsea Card and Gift provided customers with a background of Christmas music for the past month to promote holiday cheer. Apparently, the hospitality was welcomed as Mrs. Poirier had shoppers from "as far away as Detroit, a surprising number from Ann Arbor, and many from Dexter, Stockbridge, and Jackson areas."

Karen Johnson of Karen's Boutique reported her largest volume of business came early in December. At that time, she had a discount sale in progress. Customers drew candy canes from off a Christmas tree to determine their rate of discount. The range was between 10 percent and 40 percent off any item in the store. In her estimation, sweaters were the favorites of Christmas shoppers.

Holiday sales at Country Craftique on Main St. were described as "excellent" by owner Phyllis Nye. In greatest demand were yarn and craft supplies, although Mrs. Nye speculated her many customers from Jackson, Grass Lake, Munith and Stockbridge may have been drawn to Country Craftique by the store's well-earned reputation for having "the largest supply of calico in the county." Beginning in January, Country Craftique will expand into fabrics, patterns and notions.

"At Dancer's, consumer response during the Christmas season was really good," manager Mari Hurst acknowledged. "It was a toss-up between men's and women's apparel," he continued when asked to name his top-selling item. Within those categories, "night wear, sweaters, and men's jackets" crossed the counters most frequently. As a holiday promotion, Hurst ran specials each week during the holiday season, even marking down prices on everything in the store. He denied feeling any competition from shopping malls and business districts in Ann Arbor. "People shop small towns because, if anything, we're more competitive price-wise. Customers don't have to fight crowds, and they get better service."

Mostly local shoppers patronized Mervyn's this Christmas according to Marvin Mervin, Mervyn's manager. With plans to move to a new location in January, Mervyn's is looking for a new location in the Chelsea area.

framed pictures" accounting for most of the store's holiday sales. Bargain hunters were offered specials on "La-Z-Boy recliners, carpets, and other selected items. Traditionally, business does not peak at Christmas time for Mervyn's as "it is usually not the time of year people make major home redecorating decisions," Mrs. Mervyn admitted. "They're too busy planning for the holidays," she concluded.

Both Alan and Jaynor Johnson of Village Books of Chelsea stated business was "bustling" at their downtown bookstore on Main St. Mostly local customers purchased over 100 copies of Alex Haley's "Roots" in the hardcover version. "This year's book buying trend was more towards non-fiction," Mrs. Johnson continued, "with Erma Bombeck one of our best selling authors." Large gift books were also quite popular, led by the highly acclaimed "Wyeth at Kuerner's" pictorial art collection. The constant stream of customers through Village Books during the holiday season "accounts for an estimated one-quarter of the bookstore's annual gross," Mrs. Johnson reported, "and makes us feel like we're a part of everyone else's Christmas."

A double stock order of single-atty press hamburger fryers and a gadget for quick-roasting hot dogs "old out at Gambles over the holidays" according to co-owner Sam Johnson. Other Christmas gift favorites were crock-pots, toys, and (Continued on page six)

Fairgrounds Zoning Change Requested

Chelsea Fair Board president Earl Heller spoke before the Dec. 21 meeting of the Chelsea Village Council to request a review of the Fair Board's proposal to rezone Chelsea Fairgrounds property from agricultural to a new fair district. According to Heller, the change would facilitate management of the property by allowing the Fair Board to grant special use requests without the delay and complications inherent in the zoning ordinances currently governing the use of agricultural districts.

Walk-in Clinic at Hospital Opens Jan. 1

Chelsea Community Hospital will open a Walk-in Clinic on Jan. 1, hospital administrator Willard H. Johnson announced Wednesday. The new clinic is intended for routine medical care and for persons who may not have a regular personal physician or whose personal physician is not immediately available.

Emergency situations will continue to be handled by the hospital's 24-hour Emergency Room. Hours of the Walk-in Clinic will be Monday through Friday, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., and Saturday and Sunday, 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. No appointments are required for the Walk-in Clinic as service will be on a first-come first-serve basis. Patients wishing to utilize the Walk-in Clinic should use the emergency entrance of the hospital.

Four Cars Pile Up Sunday On Icy I-94

Icy road conditions resulted in several minor accidents in the Chelsea area over the Christmas holiday week-end, the Chelsea Police Department reported Tuesday, Dec. 28.

According to police reports, a two-car collision on Old US-12 near Freer Rd. at 1 p.m. on Sunday, Dec. 28 failed to injure either driver and caused only minor damage to both vehicles.

In the mishap, Phillip Mainstone, 28, of Saline, was driving a 1969 Ford pick-up. He was stopped in the eastbound lane, waiting for traffic to clear. Driver of the second vehicle, a 1976 Ford, was Elizabeth Marie Farner, 18, of 222 South St. As Miss Farner approached the truck, she attempted to stop, but instead slid on the icy pavement and struck Mainstone's vehicle. Neither driver was cited in the incident.

An hour later, at 2 p.m. on Sunday, Dec. 28, a four-car chain reaction collision occurred in the eastbound lane of I-94 at Kalmbach Rd.

In the accident, the car driven by Memarie Walter, 30, of 801 McKinley, collided with a car driven by James Ebrite, 28, of Kalamazoo. Ebrite lost control of his vehicle on the icy road, causing the car driven by Kenneth Adkins, 16, of Dearborn to hit Mrs. Walter's car. Adkins had been unable to avoid the Walter auto because of treacherous road conditions.

Traveling behind Adkins, was Herbert Mims, Jr., 20, of East St. Louis, Ill. Mims attempted to swerve away from the pile-up, but lost control of his vehicle because of the icy road. He also hit the car driven by Mrs. Walter. No injuries were reported in the accident, and no passengers were riding in any of the cars involved.

Presently, all special use requests must be presented before an appeals board of the Village Council. The appeals board then rules on the request.

Village administrator Frederick Weber stated Tuesday, Dec. 28, that the Fair Board's proposal had been forwarded to the Village Planning Commission for recommendations. A decision is expected on the rezoning proposal at the February meeting of Chelsea Village Council.

Gregory Man Dies in Crash

Edward J. Oesterle, 24, of 5239 Bull Run Dr., Gregory, was killed Thursday night, Dec. 23, when he lost control of his vehicle which rammed a tree.

MRS. JOHN HAFER, whose recipe for cranberry sherbet recently received attention and awards from Better Homes and Gardens magazine, stands in the very spot where she has often prepared the dessert for her family. Mrs. Hafer submitted her recipe to a cranberry dessert contest sponsored by the magazine last June. Since publication of her accomplishment in the magazine's December issue, she has been beleaguered by requests for the recipe from friends near and far. Above the stove is a certificate of endorsement presented to her by the magazine.

Better Homes & Gardens Accepts Dessert Recipe

Mrs. John Hafer, a fourth-grade teacher at North school, recently received a $10 check and a certificate of citation from Better Homes and Gardens magazine for a cranberry sherbet recipe she entered in a contest sponsored by the magazine last June. In addition to the awards, her name was published in the December issue of Better Homes and Gardens along with other contest winners.

"Every month, the magazine prints a list of recipes they want by category," Mrs. Hafer began as she started to unravel the story behind her entry. "They usually offer a choice of two, and last June one of the requests was for cranberry dessert recipes."

"Cranberry sherbet is a tradition in our family. While I don't know who in the family originally made up the recipe, it was passed on to me by my mother," she continued.

The dessert is a favorite of two of Mrs. Hafer's children. Both were instrumental in encouraging their mother to submit it to the contest. "It was a first for me," Mrs. Hafer admitted. "I had never sent in a recipe before, although I had often read through the magazine's list of categories in demand."

After several months had passed, and still no word of contest results had been forthcoming from the Better Homes and Gardens staff, Mrs. Hafer had nearly forgotten about the contest.

"Then in November," she said, "my husband brought in the mail and I noticed an envelope from the magazine. I thought it was probably junk mail and almost threw it out. Then I saw it had been sent first class, so I thought I had better open it. Was I surprised when I saw the check! It had been such a long time since June."

Winning recognition from Better Homes and Gardens for her cranberry sherbet has relegated Mrs. Hafer to near celebrity status among her friends. "I'm getting Christmas cards from those out-of-state, all asking for the recipe."

to most of the parents of the 30 students in her fourth-grade class. "Those that ask," she quickly added, "Her fame is undoubtedly widespread, as the magazine is well circulated throughout the country."

And, the honors are not yet complete. As the property of Better Homes and Gardens, Mrs. Hafer's cranberry sherbet recipe is also quite likely to appear in the next edition of the Better Homes and Gardens Cookbook, as well as in the magazine some day.

Mrs. Hafer sees nothing unusual in her recent accomplishment. "As the mother of three children and a housewife for the past 25 years, I've had to do a lot of cooking," she explained.

What will she do for an encore? "Well, last month they asked for jams," she replied, mulling over the thought. "I'm considering sending in a jam recipe."

Mrs. Hafer moved from Ohio to Chelsea with her family eight years ago, and currently resides at 8912 Werker Rd. To those with a hankering for cranberry sherbet, she has stated her recipe is available upon request.

Mrs. Donald Bacon Dies in Ann Arbor

A prominent civic leader and longtime community college advocate, Mrs. Jerry Houghton Bacon died Sunday, Dec. 26, in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor. She had been ill for the past month.

A resident of Barton Hills for the past 20 years, Mrs. Bacon was 77.

Mrs. Bacon served on the State Board for Public Community and Junior Colleges from its founding in 1965 to the time of her death. She was also president of Bacon Industries and Bacon Development.

Mrs. Bacon was the widow of Donald H. Bacon, long-time owner of Central Fibre Products Co. of Chelsea. He died on July 4, 1970. Prior to his death, the couple had resided in Detroit and Tucson, Ariz., before moving to Ann Arbor.

Born in Tustin on March 8, 1899, to John C. and Lulu Bradley Houghton, Mrs. Bacon was a graduate of Wayne State University, Detroit. She had taught in Detroit public schools and at Wayne State University from 1919-1926.

In her lifetime, she had gained recognition as the first woman member of the Detroit Housing Commission from 1932-1936; the first woman member of the Michigan State Commission Study for Community and Junior Colleges in 1961; and the first woman member of the Constitutional Board of Community and Junior Colleges where she served two terms beginning in 1963 to the time of her death.

Mrs. Bacon was also a member of the Musical Therapy Board, United States Veterans Administration Hospital, Ann Arbor, and of the Olivet College Woman's Auxiliary Board.

Survivors include one daughter, Mrs. Kelley (Sally) Rollings of Tucson, Ariz., and four grandchildren. A son, Donald H. Bacon, preceded her in death in 1948.

Cremation has taken place with arrangements handled by Staffan Funeral Home. Memorial contributions may be made in the name of Jerry H. Bacon to Chelsea Community Hospital, or to the Donald H. Bacon Scholarship Fund, Olivet College.

Battle Against Inflation Rated Worst Threat

By Babson's Reports, Inc., Wellesley Hills, Mass.

Although surrounded a year ago by fears that the then young business recovery might peter out, the staff of Babson's Reports went ahead and issued a reassuring forecast calling for further economic progress in 1976. At the same time, however, we warned that there would not be a return to outright boom conditions because of the absence of such vital ingredients as massive business capital outlays, positive inventory accumulation, and aggressive consumer demand. In retrospect, 1976 did chalk up additional progress, even though economic conditions were indeed a mixed bag. As predicted, consumer spending lacked vigor during much of the past year, capital spending for new plant and equipment was hesitant, and business inventory policies were cautious.

1977 Outlook Promising

As 1976 bows out and 1977 makes its debut, studies conducted by the Research Department of Babson's Reports indicate that the upbeat in economic activity can be sustained during the coming twelve months. The post-recession revival which began in the spring of 1975 is still far short of maturity. In fact, it should have enough vitality to extend its life span beyond the average length of cyclical recovery-expansion phases seen in the past. There have yet to develop the major economic imbalances which have signaled such reversals before.

Strength in the First Half

In the 1976 Forecast, we looked for economic strength to be concentrated early in the year, and indeed the most impressive year-to-year gain was registered in the first quarter. As of now, it appears likely that in 1977 the high point will occur in the second quarter, owing principally to the probable extra thrust from strike-hedge inventory accumulation in the face of Big Steel labor talks.

Year-to-year gains are expected in the second half of 1977 over the like 1976 period, but the shape of business progress will be influenced by the steel industry's labor negotiations. Protracted work stoppages could depress production readings for a month or two, but even then business activity for the second half should be able to hold above the prior year. Admittedly, however, the advances over a year ago will likely be more moderate in the second half than for the first two quarters of the approaching annum.

Light Overcast Ahead

While over-all prospects for 1977 are favorable, the economy will not be free of trouble spots. One of the most important will be the dampened but still unquenched fire of inflation, which in recent years has wrought havoc with public confidence. Part of the inflation potential is the economy's vulnerability to rising energy costs from a hike in OPEC oil prices and the possibility of even higher prices for domestic natural gas. There will also be pressure on industrial wholesale prices in the wake of climbing wages and other operating costs.

In addition, the labor front will be active again. Besides the steel industry, the railroads and some construction groups face contract negotiations. On the international scene, there will be military and monetary points that must be carefully watched.

Gross National Product

U. S. gross national product (GNP)—the value of goods and services produced—in current dollars should be able to score an increase approximating 12% over 1976. This is not widely at variance from the rate of expansion scored by GNP in 1976 over 1975. Because of the pattern of year-ago growth during 1976—sizeable margin in the first quarter, but disappointingly modest gains in the ensuing three quarterly periods—the GNP in 1977 may well score its widest improvement during the second quarter.

In terms of constant dollars (ex inflation), the nation's real GNP will move ahead at a milder pace. The rate of inflation is expected to account for about half the GNP in current dollars, which means that the real GNP may increase by only about 6% over the deflated GNP of 1976. Although such an increment may seem moderate, it would actually represent a respectable annual rise in terms of the economy's historical rate of growth.

Strength from the Private Sector

A vital feature of the outlook for 1977 business is the likelihood that the bulk of the anticipated upthrust will stem from the private sector of the economy. Consumer expenditures for personal consumption should be in the forefront of the rise in the GNP. Over much of 1976, consumers have been reluctant to buy, but the staff of Babson's Reports looks for some loosening of purse strings in the year ahead.

There should be good support from residential construction too, especially since multi-family units have showed signs of a rebound in the latter days of 1976, whereas most of the comeback in home building had previously been borne by single-family units. Spending on services, long in a well defined up-trend, should continue to move higher.

There will be increased government spending, but this will not bolster demand for goods substantially as much of the rise in outlays must be allocated for wages, climbing prices for supplies, and debt service.

Inflation Will Remain Worrisome

In 1976 some progress was made in the task of braking the inflation rate. Much credit must be accorded the food sector, which benefited from another bumper output of agricultural products. In the second half of 1976, however, (Continued on page four)

Village Council Grants $5,000 to Bicentennial

At their Dec. 21 meeting, Chelsea Village Council passed a motion to contribute $5,000 to the Chelsea Bicentennial Committee to help reduce the committee's $15,000 debt incurred as a result of Chelsea's Bicentennial Celebration last summer.

According to village administrator Frederick Weber, the action came following the council's promise made earlier in the year, to support Chelsea's anniversary celebration with a grant. When approached for a loan by the Bicentennial Committee in August, the Village Council had refused to issue funds on that basis, stating they were not a lending institution.

By conceding the funds via a grant, the council avoided accusations of financial misappropriation.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Ed Doolittle's daughter that works in the city spent Christmas week with her folks and, as usual, she came home with some unusual gifts. One item I took notice of when we stopped by Ed's house Sunday was his square egg maker. His daughter brought him a set of little plastic boxes you squeeze eggs in, put em in the icebox for a few minutes and they come out square. The idea is to have boiled eggs that roll off your plate, Ed said.

I was thinking that put the stopper in the jug of crazy gimmicks, but there's still one better. Pet rocks went over big, and I saw where this fellow made good money selling $13 billion the Treasury had shelled. He boxed up the bills and claimed that each box held remains of several thousand dollars. Folks will buy anything they think somebody else might buy, or if they think they can get a bargain. You advertise someone for a quarter each or three for a dollar, and you'll have people buying a dollar's worth of the quarter ones whether they need whatever you're selling or not.

Practical speaking, the best gadget I heard of all year was the pedal-powered television set rigged up by the feller in Illinois. He got worried about his children flopped in front of the TV all the time, so he used a car battery and a bicycle to work out a generator. When the kids want to watch TV they got to crank enough electricity to make it work. This way, the father figgers they are at least getting exercise in the deal. He reported they like it.

I mentioned some of these gadgets to my old lady and she was concerned about everybody watching TV so much. She had saw where some expert figured the average child has trouble keeping straight what is real and what ain't on TV. By the time a child is 14, this doctor said, he has seen 18,000 murders on TV and he's not sure how many were on the news and how many on cops and robbers shows. She said she wasn't ready to say TV violence leads to real-life violence, but it can't do children any good to set and stare at anything day after day.

Mister Editor, my old lady is a woman that knows her own mind. Speaking of TV she said one commercial galls her. It has this feller complaining to his wife about "ring around the collar" cause she uses the wrong soap. My old lady says the problem wouldn't be if the feller would wash his foot neck.

It was good to hear her strong opinions. Usual, wimmen are wish-washy on issues, except when they talk to one another about how to keep men in line. I saw where a woman in Florida told the judge she killed her husband to keep him from running around. That woman knew her mind, and I figger her remedy will work ever time.

And they make up their minds on marrying. You see em in swim suits that don't go near the water, and you see em in golf outfits that

MICHIGAN MIRROR

By Warren M. Hoyt, Secretary, Michigan Press Association

Old to New
Recycling roads will help save natural resources, like the heavy petroleum that's used as the base for asphalt.
So, the conservation-minded Department of State Highways and Transportation is planning one of the biggest recycling projects in the country—and the first on a major state highway in Michigan.
"By recycling the existing asphalt pavement, we hope to prove the merits of a technique that will result in a substantial savings in cost, energy and natural resources," says John P. Woodford, department director.
How does one recycle a road? The department has been studying and testing different methods in recent years.

The one to be tried out this coming spring—on a 10.5-mile section of I-75 in Cheboygan county—involves pulverizing the top five inches of pavement, mixing it with a small quantity of new asphalt and recompacting it to a uniform density and level. Then a thin wearing course overlay will be applied to the recycled pavement.
This section of roadway was selected for the experimental recycling because it needed resurfacing, and because that area of the state is "sand country," which naturally provides a good base of 25 inches of sand under the middle and top courses of the freeway.

Waterless Land
Black flies and mosquitoes faded early

Waters were warm for would-be swimmers.
And, as the experts put it, three years of picnic weather were wrapped into a single summer.
Thus was the situation in the Upper Peninsula this past summer, called the driest in that territory since the City of Marquette began keeping records 104 years ago.

But, as the Department of Natural Resources reports, there's a hope that the summer of '76 doesn't repeat itself.
The dryness led fire control specialists to say conditions were comparable to those preceding the Thumb fires near the turn of the last century. The recent Seney blaze in Schoolcraft county burned 112 square miles and suppression costs exceeded $7 million—the largest figure ever recorded in the United States.

Other dryness problems included a disastrous wild berry crop and a sparse crop of fall mushrooms. In addition, some feeder streams which usually produced good late season catches of brook trout were bone dry, and some fish were lost when they were trapped in isolated pockets.

Sno-bile Country
More registered snowmobiles than the entire country to the north—that's Michigan's boast. Secretary of State Richard H. Austin, who is reminding snowmobile owners that registration is generally required, says the state's more than 375,000 (registered) snowmobiles "rank among the world leaders in the registration and use of the popular winter vehicles."

Austin points out also that there are "likely some half-million" of the vehicles in Michigan. Folks with new snowmobiles may register them for the year—the last of a three-year registration cycle—for $3 at any field office of the Secretary of State.

The only snowmobiles exempt from Michigan registrations are those operated exclusively on land owned or under control of the snowmobile owner.
—machines used in special events under permits issued by government units which have jurisdiction.
—those used in safety education and training courses.

Late 'Shot'
Swine flu would have a tough time making headway in many areas of Michigan.

The state's Public Health Department reports that as of early December, six counties—Lapeer, Mackinac, Mecosta, Grand Traverse, Roscommon and Mason—had immunized 50 percent or more of the population.

"What's cooking?" In Michigan

by Carl B. Olson
Michigan Dept. of Agriculture

New Year's Day at our house is not a time for doing anything too elaborate. It's a time to contemplate the coming year, to review the one just passed and, perhaps, just to consider the night before.

More important, it's a day to watch the bowl games on television. Fortunately, my wife likes to watch football as much as I do and neither one of us wants to be in the kitchen any more than necessary.

The secret for successful sustenance during what has to be the longest football day of the year is to make something that's simple, stays hot all day and is readily available.

To fill the role I would make two nominations. Either fix up a large pot of steaming hot chili or some hearty Michigan navy bean soup.

Let's make the famous House of Representatives bean soup this year. Take two pounds of dry Michigan navy beans and cover with water in a large pot. Bring them to a boil and cook for two minutes, then remove and let stand for one hour. This way, you don't have to worry about soaking them overnight because, after all, who wants to be soaking beans New Year's Eve?

Using the same water, add a smoked ham hock and, if necessary, some more water. Simmer slowly for four hours until the beans are tender. Add a little salt and pepper to taste. When finished, mash the beans lightly to cloud the water. Then, just leave on low heat and go back to dip the soup out often.

I could tell you that the Michigan Department of Agriculture reports our state's crop is number one in the nation and that the 1975 crop was 450 million pounds valued at $131,850,000.

But, let's face it, who wants to think about that with all those football games to watch?

Doll-Dressing Award Won By Local Woman

Mercedes DeLaTorre of 524 Lane St., Chelsea, was awarded an honorable mention in the Nationality Dress category of the 7th annual Ann Arbor Federal Savings' Dress-A-Doll contest early this month. Some 300 entries had been submitted by residents of Washtenaw and Livingston counties.

Mrs. DeLaTorre's prize winner was dressed in traditional Mexican costume. It took her exactly two weeks to design and sew the complete outfit, she stated, adding, "I was really surprised, I never expected to win anything with all the beautiful entries."

Along with a certificate of commendation, Mrs. DeLaTorre received a $5 check from the bank for her efforts. "The only reward I had expected was the pleasure of

Serving as matron of honor was Mrs. Marilyn Clem of Somerville, S.C., sister of the bride. Bridesmaids were Ann Wright of Flint, step-sister of the bride, and Ellen Garber of Ann Arbor.

John Wilder of Yale attended as best man. Ushers were John Ruhlig of Dexter and Frank Zesulka of Pinckney.

Following the wedding, a reception was held at Jackson Country Club, Jackson.

Business Growth Seen

prices of industrial commodities took a turn upward. Though the fever of inflation has been dramatically lowered from the heights of 1973 and 1974, it has not been completely beaten into submission. The tempo of inflation during 1977 is expected to average around 6%, showing little change from that of 1976. While there is still considerable under-utilized productive capacity to militate against a sharp resurgence of inflation, a downward tendency in food prices will not be notable in the year ahead.

Furthermore, increases in wages and operating expenses will be reflected in price mark-ups, tempered only by the limiting factor of competition. Hence, in public psychology, inflation will undoubtedly continue to be a dark threat. Such concern could become greatly aggravated if government spending and expansion of the money supply should be emphasized in an effort to solve the serious unemployment problem.

Industrial Production

During much of 1976, industrial output trended upward. But some hesitancy was seen in the late summer and early fall due in part to the auto strike and the deceleration in the economy. The pause in the recovery of industrial activity, however, should be supplanted by renewed vitality during the first six months of 1977.

The outcome of labor talks in the steel industry and the magnitude of strike-hedge inventory accumulation will, of course, determine the profile of the production curve in the second half of the year. A long strike would hurt industrial output, but the absorption of steel inventories during the stoppage would result in a rebound after the strike. On the other hand, if a walkout were brief or entirely averted industrial production should be well maintained, although upward momentum would probably be checked until stockpiles were digested.

For much of 1976, year-to-year monthly comparisons of industrial production showed substantial margins of gain over 1975 simply because the early portion of 1975 saw industrial output in a sharp slump. While the remaining months enjoyed a rebound, production rates were still well below the 1973-1974 peak range.

Year-ago comparisons in 1977 will reveal more limited gains, but the net result for the full year should be an increase of about 4% over 1976. This will not match the expected climb in the real GNP, because the production index does not include services—and make-work programs to reduce the jobless ranks will doubtless emphasize service-type employment. Still, industrial production will move into new high ground, at least during the first half of the new year. Among the stronger lines should be autos and trucks, motor vehicle parts (both original and replacement items), aluminum, fabricated metal products, lumber and forest products, computer and peripheral equipment, home furnishings, and minerals extraction (assuming no protracted coal mine strike).

Change in Inventory Policies?

During parts of 1973 and 1974, businessmen unwisely stockpiled inventories in anticipation of higher prices and possible shortages, and at a time of already brisk demand. This demand sustained business at a peak level some six months or so, but when the inevitable correction arrived, virtual panic liquidation precipitated the painful recession of late 1974 and early 1975. Since then, inventory policies have been wary.

Until recently there has been little incentive to do much in the way of forward buying. After all, consumer demand has been indecisive and spotty, prices have ruled on the weak side, and there has been more than enough productive capacity for most items. But some inventory accumulation is likely, much of this in steel and ferrous-based products as a hedge against a possible steel strike. Stronger consumer demand and the upturn in industrial commodity prices will also encourage forward buying, though we doubt that inventory accumulation will be carried to excess.

More Support from Capital Spending

Economic observers who have been skeptical of the lasting power of the current business recovery point to the lack of vibrancy in business investment for new plant and equipment. This is not an abnormal development, however, during the early-to-middle phase of an economic cyclical expansion. At such time, the fact of ample under-utilized productive capacity forces management to focus on the activation of existing facilities. Not until the surplus productive capacity diminishes will budget allocations for new capital equipment become markedly more liberal.

While there are still differences of opinion as to how much surplus productive capacity actually exists in the economy, the rate of industrial output has certainly reached a level where management thinking turns increasingly to the matter of hiking capacity and making over-all operations more efficient. The fact is that 1976 has experienced some pickup in orders for capital equipment, though on a spotty basis.

During 1977 we expect business capital outlays to advance approximately 10% over the 1976 average. Much of this will be the result of purchases of new equipment rather than large-scale construction of new plants or additions. Environmental protection requirements will continue to capture a significant share of business capital expenditures. So, there is little likelihood that 1977 will see a capital spending boom of the type that nurtured the periods of economic upsurge in the 1950s and 1960s, even though President-elect Carter's game plan for revitalizing the economy will likely incorporate some measures to stimulate business capital investment.

Corporate Profits

Business profits in 1976 scored a sizable increase over the year before. This reflected generally favorable raw materials costs, selected price increases, and high levels of operations. We anticipate another good increase in 1977, but the tempo of advance will doubtless be considerably slower than that of 1976. On the strength of the projected further climb in business, a 10% gain in business profits for 1977 over those for 1976 should be attained. This will appear pale compared with the estimated 25% rise for 1976, but there will be plenty of room for more liberal dividend disbursements in the coming year now that corporate liquidity has been materially improved. It is more than likely, however, that the biggest year-ago gains in corporate profits will occur in the first two quarters of 1977.

Another Busy Labor Year

With the spotlight on the steel industry's negotiations over new union contracts, 1977 promises to be another year of brisk activity on the labor front. Though not quite as numerous as in 1976, major labor pacts expiring in 1977 will still involve close to 3 million workers. In addition to steel, other sectors facing contract talks include communications, aluminum, clothing, and facets of the construction field. There could be trouble in the coal fields again, with a repeat of the wildcat walkouts of 1976. And in-fighting for the top spots of several unions could produce some unwanted work stoppages.

Despite labor's support for President-elect Carter in the 1976 presidential race, there will probably be a strong appeal from the White House for moderate, non-inflationary demands in contract talks. But union negotiators will almost certainly press for all the traffic will bear in direct wage increases and a wide variety of fringe benefits.

Every winter a heavy snowfall is followed by deaths from heart attacks due to over-exertion. If you're over 40 and don't exercise regularly, think twice before grabbing a shovel. And if you have heart disease, don't shovel snow without your doctor's permission. For more information, contact the Michigan Heart Association.

Christmas Business Good in Chelsea

Christmas tree lights. "It seems like everyone's fears of an energy crisis initiated two years ago, disappeared this season," Johnson said as he surveyed his depleted stock of both indoor and outdoor Christmas lights. Throughout Gambles, all departments were doing well although Johnson was unable to compare this year's volume of business with previous years because final figures had yet to be tabulated.

Across the street from Gambles, holiday sales were reportedly brisk at Chelsea's major appliance store, at one of Chelsea's major appliance stores, Heydlauff's. "Optimistically speaking, we did very well," said owner George Heydlauff. Those shopping for gifts at Heydlauff's inevitably selected either a microwave oven, a television set or a stereo. While Heydlauff's prices remained fixed on all

Building and Construction
From a low point in early 1975 of a seasonally adjusted annual rate of well below a million units, new private housing starts commenced a recovery which continued during 1976. The climb was erratic and fell far short of the feverish peak range in excess of two million units marking parts of 1971-1973, but the late summer and fall weeks of the past year experienced notable strength. With mortgage money adequate to ample and with mortgage interest rates far less prohibitive than they were in the credit crunch not too long ago, Babson's Reports forecasts another rise in new housing starts for 1977, aided by the perkier pace of multi-family housing construction late in 1976. However, with high building costs, burdensome property taxes, and restrictive conservation, environmental, and zoning regulations acting as strong deterrents to large-scale speculative building, it is unlikely that 1977 can reach the 2-million-units mark for the year as a whole. A goal of 1.8 million starts seems more realistic at this juncture, compared with about 1.5 million for 1976. Industrial and commercial construction will make only modest gains in the coming year.

Farm Outlook
American agricultural prowess was again displayed in 1976 by the third best crop year on record. This was surpassed only by 1975's peak and the second-best effort racked up in 1973. Going into 1977, there will be good carryovers of most farm commodities. This would seem to imply planting curtailment and/or changes in the crop mix of plantings in the coming year, but the steadily worsening world food gap suggests government pressure and incentives to sustain all-out effort in food production. This may well take the shape of some plan for a food bank.

Washington-Foreign Affairs
The new Administration will have a favorable initial rapport with Congress, but how long the honeymoon lasts remains to be seen. Differences in the degrees of liberalism between President-elect Carter and members of Congress as well as divergences among Congressmen themselves indicate that the platform of the Democratic Party cannot be taken as fait accompli. Initially, efforts will be made to spur consumer spending—probably through a $50 tax rebate—and to create jobs. Since most other objectives will take time, national health insurance, reorganization of the government, and a national energy policy may not materialize in 1977. One good thing, however, is that there should be less political rhetoric poor-mouthing the economy in such a way as to upset consumers and investors.

Chelsea Youths Named to WM Honor Society

Among the nearly 60 Western Michigan University students recently initiated into Phi Eta Sigma, a freshman honor society, were two Chelsea residents, Brian D. Smith and Steven D. Bennett. Both became members of the national organization by earning a grade point average of 3.5 or better out of a possible 4.0, while carrying 12 hours or more of classes during their first semester at Western Michigan University.

Never an old year ends without warm thoughts of our trusted friends. Our sincere appreciation.

Employment - Personal Income - Wages
1977 prospects for employment and personal income favor new record levels for both of these vital economic sectors. Employment in manufacturing and services should be augmented by a quickening in the building field which has been lackluster over the past two years. The average factory work week should lengthen somewhat. Thus, with improvement in wage rates and salaries, the outlook for personal income in 1977 is for a climb of some 12%. Transfer payments and investment income should also provide some uplift. But net after taxes will not rise commensurately with gross personal income. Also, unemployment will remain a sticky problem, around 7%.

Consumer and Government Spending
Total consumer spending is expected to rise stronger in 1977 than was the case in 1976. While this will be due in part to higher prices, the unit volume of purchasing should also be up by a comfortable margin. Increased employment and rising income levels will make public confidence more positive. Consumers, however, are extremely sensitive to the threat of inflation, and rising prices could bring about spells of resistance.

Public expenditures at all levels of government will increase in 1977, a result of both inflation and a plethora of assistance and social programs. State and local governments will be forced to make some trade-offs because of budget and debt squeezes, plus mounting demand by irate taxpayers for spend-

Stock and Bond Outlook
Babson's Reports looks with optimism on stock and bond prospects for 1977. Good stocks are available well below historical peaks, and the odds favor a spate of dividend increases. The basic uptrend of the Dow Jones Industrial Averages should resume, and new high ground be reached. A reasonable range for the DJIA appears to be 1200 on the high side and 850 on the low side for the year. While bond prices have rallied in 1976 and interest rates may rule moderately higher in 1977's latter half, the income-oriented investor can tie down some good yields in quality bonds, especially at this time. For growth and appreciation portfolios, Babson's currently favors better quality commons and convertibles in such fields as computers, electronics, insurance, drug and hospital supplies, savings and loans, fuel and energy, trucks, and building supplies.

... A Great Year.

1976 saw the nation's industrial picture one of renewed activity. 1976 saw America set new records in total employment. 1976 saw the rate of inflation lowing and real personal income rising.

Not everyone found 1976 one of prosperity, that's true. We still have a strong unemployment picture. We continue to operate our factories at less than full capacity. Prices continue to rise.

All in all, though, we have reason to be thankful. We're at peace. We're learning to love one another a bit more.

At Chelsea State Bank, 1976 was an excellent year. We grew in total deposits. But, most important, we grew in the number of people we served.

What better enjoyment can we seek than to serve more and more Washtenaw County area people?

At Chelsea State Bank your happiness is our happiness.

Real Estate

By PAUL FRISINGER

OPPORTUNITY KNOCKS . . . NOW!

When it comes to making a good real estate investment, if there was ever a good time to buy — that time is NOW!

From all indications, the real estate market has bottomed and is on its way upward. The mortgage market has turned around and adequate funds are now available. Although mortgage interest rates have become more favorable they are not expected to ease upward. The supply of good housing will diminish in the next 12 months. Last year's output of 1.16 million was the lowest in 29 years. This year's production will be somewhat higher, but will not meet housing requirements. Demand will outrun current supply. When this happens, prices always rise.

Real estate has always been a sound investment and the best hedge against inflation. Its value historically increases faster than the cost of living. With all these factors falling into place, if there was ever a good time to buy real estate — that time is NOW!

Three Matmen Place High in Novice Meet

Three Chelsea High matmen captured high-placing honors in the Ann Arbor Pioneer Novice Wrestling Tournament last Tuesday, Dec. 28. The field of competition featured some 20 Class A area high schools.

Winning third-place in the 105-lb. bracket was sophomore Bulldog Dan Wilson. "Wilson's performance was simply outstanding," Coach Richard Bareis said following the meet. "He lost his first round, only to come back in two consolation matches to take third-place honors. He did a fine job all the way through." Wilson won in an overtime match with an Adrian grappler by a 2-0 decision. That final contest was his fifth wrestling bout for the day.

Taking fourth place in the tournament was freshman Bulldog Chris Umstead who wrestled at 126 lbs. Umstead overpowered three opponents before losing in the finals by a p.n. According to Coach Bareis, the grappler "wrestled very well to make the finals while still a freshman."

Chelsea sophomore John Whitaker was the third Bulldog to place in Tuesday's meet. Wrestling at 145 lbs., he finished the day in fourth place. Whitaker was on the mats five times before he was finally eliminated in the consolation finals by a 7-4 decision. "Whitaker was also outstanding," Coach Bareis asserted. ## TODAY'S THOUGHT

By LOUIS BURGHARDT

The tune of Auld Lang Syne so frequently heard on New Years is probably the oldest custom attached to the "old times." It is a good custom unaffected by changing times from one year to another. Every New Year poses problems unheard of in the past and the fact that we have problems should give us a challenge — and hope.

Shortages in many things, especially in energy, indicate the extent of past mistakes. But the past is over with. The present exists. The future is coming. And both the present and the future reflect the need, the absolute necessity to change the changing times.

This thought is beautifully expressed by an unknown author — "Another year behind us, into the toils of time, Another year will find us, Far upward in our climb . . . So, friend set high your banners, unfurl your colors bright, — Your march is ever onward, Success shall crown the fight" . . . To which we add a personal hope — with the help of God, may you all have a Happy, Healthy and Prosperous New Year . . . BURGHARDT FUNERAL HOME, 214 East Middle St., Chelsea, Mich. Phone 475-1551.

Report of the Chair:

Have talked with the Parks Commission and they have given us two potential dates for a meeting with HCMA and we are to choose one. It has to be in the evening because of the Park Commission members. The dates are either Thursday, December 2nd or Tuesday, December 7th. What is your pleasure? Board voted by show of hands. Chair will tell Mr. Gamble and the Parks Commission that the Board has picked Tuesday, December 7th. We will notify you where the meeting is to be held. Tuesday, November 30th Mr. Gamble will be getting notices to you by law when you are going to be acquiring land, an application is now before the Department of Natural Resources for the acquisition of the beach and we have to have a public hearing on this land acquisition and the Parks have set Tuesday, November 30th for that. Those that can attend please do.

Geraldine Creeth gave a report to the Board on the first half of the blood bank. One hundred twenty-two employees came to the Ann Arbor Inn yesterday to donate blood. Eighty-eight turned out to be eligible. We have something like 20 picks more which we are hoping to pick up Friday when we are holding our second blood bank in the gymnasium at the Service Center.

Chair Murray introduced two people in the audience to the Board: Comm. Margaret O'Connor who will be replacing Comm. Brederick and Comm. Larry Minick who will be taking Comm. Hansen's place.

Chair Murray talked with Judge Ager yesterday about the procedure for choosing the new director for the Pre-Trial Release Program. Evidently in 1973 when the director was chosen, there was a committee of the President of the Bar Association, the Prosecuting Attorney and the Public Defender. I talked with the Personnel Director and Corporation Counsel about this and it was the procedure that was followed under the grant. The Board of Commissioners could do this selection if they prefer. In talking with Judge Ager I suggested to him a compromise which he felt was agreeable that we have those same three people and then allow two Commissioners to be on that selection committee and that they present to the Board of Commissioners not less than three nor more than five names; that they don't rank them and that the names be submitted after they have been screened to the District Court Judges and Circuit Court Judges and then we will choose one of the names. Is there anybody who would like to move this procedure so it can begin and Personnel can post the job.

76-0539 Comm. Nielsen supported by Comm. Israel moved to approve this procedure. Roll call vote: YEAS: 14. NAYS: 1. Motion carried.

76-0540 Chair Murray appointed Comm. LaFertie and Taylor to serve on this committee.

SUMMARY OF CLAIMS November 17, 1976
FOR BOARD APPROVAL November 17, 1976

County would lose its leadership in this particular area and I have talked with several of the regents of the University and one of the problems with the County using solid waste as fuel is the cooperation of the University and using this product. It's the only big user in the County and I would like permission of the Board of Commissioners to allow Mr. Price and me to send a letter to the University regents asking if we could be put on the agenda so they could understand what our study is, what sort of cooperation we need from the University and to talk with the City of Ann Arbor about our program.

76-0576 Comm. McClary supported by Comm. LaFolier moved that we authorize the Chair of the Board and the Director of Public Works to write a letter to the City and the University. Discussion. Question was called. Carried. Roll call vote: YEAS: 14. NAYS: none. ABSENT: 1. Motion carried.

At Physical Plant Committee they had a motion to ask that I appoint a committee to proceed working with a similar committee from the City of Ann Arbor to begin discussion of the block across from the County Building as to possible joint City-County uses and I would like to appoint the following:

76-0577 Comm. Walterhouse, Murray, Kuebler and Taylor. Chair reminded the Board of the Huron Clinton Metropolitan Authority meeting to be held on December 7th at 7:30 p.m. in Room 117A.

Chair extended the sympathy of the Board to Comm. Ellis for the recent death of a sister.

76-0578 Comm. Ellis supported by Comm. Shultz moved that the resolution expressing sincere appreciation for the many contributions that Jesse A. Rutherford has made to both young and old in his community and for all of those of Washtenaw County and expressing a sense of deep loss to his family of Jesse A. Rutherford in his untimely passing, be adopted, carried. Comm. Nielsen moved for unanimous consent. Motion to adopt carried.

Chair Murray stated she has received a letter from the Assessor's Equalization Guideline Committee requesting a meeting with a committee of the Board of Commissioners to discuss the Washtenaw County Board's unanimous decision regarding 1977 Equalization Guidelines. They suggested the dates of December 6th or 7th as possible meeting dates. Chair Murray stated she has set up a meeting for December 8th at 10:00 a.m. in room 117A. She asked how many Commissioners would be able to attend. Comm. Nielsen, LaFolier, Bredermiz, Kuebler and Fojtik all stated they would be able to attend.

Comm. Walterhouse spoke to the Board. The Accommodation Ordinance Commission is supposed to hold a meeting on December 7th as set by the statutes. The chair of that Commission will be out of town and he requested that this meeting be postponed until next week which would be December 14th. The contracts with the Ann Arbor Chamber of Commerce and the Ypsilanti Chamber of Commerce are to be brought before the Board of Commissioners on the 15th. Comm. Walterhouse asked if there were any objections to changing this meeting from the 7th to the 14th. Corporation Counsel stated that the appointments to the Accommodation Ordinance Commission expire on December 31st as well as the contracts. The Chelsea Kiwanis Club is also requested contract. The contracts will not go through any committee of the Board, but will be presented directly to the Board of Commissioners on December 15th. There was no objection from the Commissioners. On December 15th the Board will be appointing two Commissioners and two members at large to this Commission.

Reports of Standing Committees: Comm. Kuebler supported by Comm. Nielsen moved that the Budget Committee Report dated November 16, 1976, be accepted. Motions, resolutions and new business: Comm. Israel spoke to the Board: there has been recent allegations on whether or not one of our appointed Road Commissioners is residing within the County. Nothing in the State statutes say that a person has to live within the County. I definitely feel that if we have someone on the Road Commission that does not reside in the County, they are not representative of the constituents who elected us to appoint these people. The allegations have been made against Comm. Fred Schwall. I would like to have a resolution having Corporation Counsel check into the residency of this Road Commissioner. Have him submit a notarized affidavit of his residency as required under State law for voting.

Comm. Israel moved that we get from this person a residency affidavit. Motion was supported by Comm. LaFolier.

Comm. Walter asked Corporation Counsel what would be the appropriate steps for us to take. What would constitute reasonable evidence and can we request of the Road Commissioner some sort of statement of residency or lacking that could we begin removal proceedings. Corporation Counsel stated that the Board appointed him and they have the right to ask him those questions. Residency has different meanings for different functions such as voting. A person may retain residency in more than one place. Comm. Taylor asked by Corporation Counsel if the proper procedure would be to establish by resolution a residency requirement before we go into this matter any further. Comm. Walter stated that the law is very clear on elected Road Commissioners in that they must be residents of the County and maintain residency in the County during their term of office. Question was called on ending debate. Carried.
