

Lima Township Turmoil Boils Over at Monday Board Meeting

Political turmoil in Lima township reached a new level of discord Monday evening as township residents aimed heavy fire at Chelsea village officials and Lima township supervisor Robert Musolf during a regular meeting of the township board. More than 80 township residents sat through the two-hour session of heated debate.

Nearly unanimous criticism was levied against Chelsea officials for their lack of co-operation with Lima township in matters pertaining to the Chelsea Village sewer expansion project. A letter from the Village of Chelsea requesting a review of Chelsea's year 2000 sewer service in Lima, by April 15, was challenged by former Lima township Clerk Leila Bauer.

Mrs. Bauer stated three prior requests by Lima township for dated agreements and information on the new Chelsea sewer system had not yet been acknowledged by Chelsea officials. Suggestions were made by residents that perhaps the Village of Chelsea had something to hide.

One Lima resident, David D. Bacon, stated that because the effluent from Chelsea sewers flows through Lima township, Chelsea's effort to increase their effluent through the township was not a light matter with township residents.

"This matter is as important to us as it would be to them if we put a dam across Letts Creek and told Chelsea to take care of their own effluent," Bacon said. "Their correspondence doesn't consider that we're downstream from them."

An attempt by Supervisor Musolf to table action on these comments until two vacancies on the board were filled, was greeted by general disorder. "If you don't comment or review the sewer system by April 15, what then?" one resident asked.

Township attorney Peter Flintoff interjected at this point to say he would assume responsibility for providing Lima with the sewer information previously requested by mail. "Why don't you give me the letter—then I'm going to leave for the evening," Flintoff said. When asked why Chelsea hadn't responded sooner, Flintoff replied, "They goofed." "Three times they goofed?" inquired Mrs. Bauer. "Yes, I'd have to say so," Flintoff replied.

The board then returned to the problem of filling the two township board vacancies. Earlier in the evening the board accepted the resignations of Clerk Bauer;

Lima Township Planning Commission Vice-Chairman and Deputy Clerk, Donald Bauer; Deputy Clerk, Jeanette Herrst; and Trustee, Wallace Fusilier.

Fusilier resubmitted his resignation to the board Monday evening after he received notification from Flintoff that his original resignation, addressed to the people of Lima township as opposed to the township board, was not legal.

Treasurer Jean Tilt, appointed recording secretary for Monday's meeting, voiced "deep regrets" over the resignation of Clerk Bauer. Her statement received a round of applause from those in attendance.

Because publicity regarding the board's decision to appoint two board member replacements was not widespread throughout Lima township, the board moved to table filling the vacancies to allow interested candidates time to file resumes with the board within the next 10 days. A special meeting will then be held for new board member selections.

A motion was made by Mrs. Miles, a Lima resident, to hear firsthand "why the resigning board members wanted to resign." Since both former board members were present, the motion was accepted.

First to speak was Mrs. Bauer. She stated she resigned because "in all of her six years as township clerk, before Musolf became supervisor, the board never had any problems or differences they couldn't iron out for the benefit of the township." That was no longer the case she stated.

"Musolf misled the public right off," she said, "saying he wanted local control during his campaign. However, his first move was to ask for outside assessors. He also stated he was a life-time resident of Lima. In fact, he moved here from Freedom township."

"Musolf also kept harping on work not completed by Wally (Fusilier), such as splits not on the tax roll when in fact a good percentage were done," she continued. "He claimed nearly 120 remained outstanding when there were only about 20."

Several more comments regarding conflict between Musolf's personal interests and his duties as supervisor were followed by an attack on his skills as township leader.

"After board meetings where members of the board would make and approve motions, Bob (Musolf) would go around telling township residents that either the meetings or motions were illegal," Mrs. Bauer said.

"Another time, he requested a copy of my minutes which had not yet been approved, saying he wanted to use the minutes to remember old or tabled business for the next board meeting. Instead, he used the minutes to call other board members and ask if the motions recorded in the minutes had in fact been made that way because he didn't remember them," she added.

Mrs. Bauer concluded her statement of reasons by outlining an alleged impropriety made by Musolf with regard to township budget planning and his reaction to an assessment error.

"After the entire board worked together to prepare a budget for the new year, Musolf went to the Washtenaw County Corporate Council to try to alter our determination on spending of federal revenue sharing funds to his advantage of getting an outside assessor," she said.

"The assessment error was made when county assessors mistakenly added 192 feet to the dimensions of a family member's home, according to Mrs. Bauer. "We brought a blueprint of the home before the Board of Review, stamped and approved by the County Planning Commission. Musolf said he would remeasure the home. However, when he came to do it he forgot his tape measure."

"He said that as a building contractor he could measure the width by counting the blocks of brick. He did find one error, but didn't measure the length where the second error was later found, making the total error 192 feet."

Area Townships Hold Annual Public Meets

While internal matters of political concern varied from township to township at their annual meetings last Saturday, budgets for the new fiscal year and salary rates for township officials received the attention of residents in all local townships across-the-board.

ance for Sylvan's four officials. Fire protection funds in the new budget were raised from $11,000 to $18,000. Supervisor Schoenberg said the increase was due to a consolidation of all fire insurance costs to one policy which will effectively give residents much wider coverage at a better cost than would otherwise be possible. A one-mill tax levy imposed last year was voted to be continued in 1977 by township residents. (Continued on page four)

Sylvan Township

An orderly gathering of about 50 township residents aired their views on financial recommendations within the township, generally bypassing discussion on recent controversial rezoning actions by the board.

However, $5,500 was appropriated for the hiring of a consultant or consulting firm to review the township's current zoning ordinance. Supervisor Donald Schoenberg said this action would reflect the township's zoning classification perogatives and not necessarily those of the county.

Burton & Schultz of Ann Arbor was suggested as a possible firm to do the work because they have done village planning and consulting for other area townships.

Completion of a revised assessing system reduced the 1977-78 township budget by about $1,000. The new budget calls for $148,911 in expenditures.

Township officials received no salary increases although residents voted nearly unanimously to insure $450 for one year for insur-

Bulldog Sluggers Defending SEC Title

Beginning at 10 a.m. this Saturday, Chelsea High's varsity baseball team will mark its season debut with a double-header at Manchester. The Bulldogs will return to the sandlot as defending champions, following their SEC title win with a 12-2 league record and 16-5 over-all record last year.

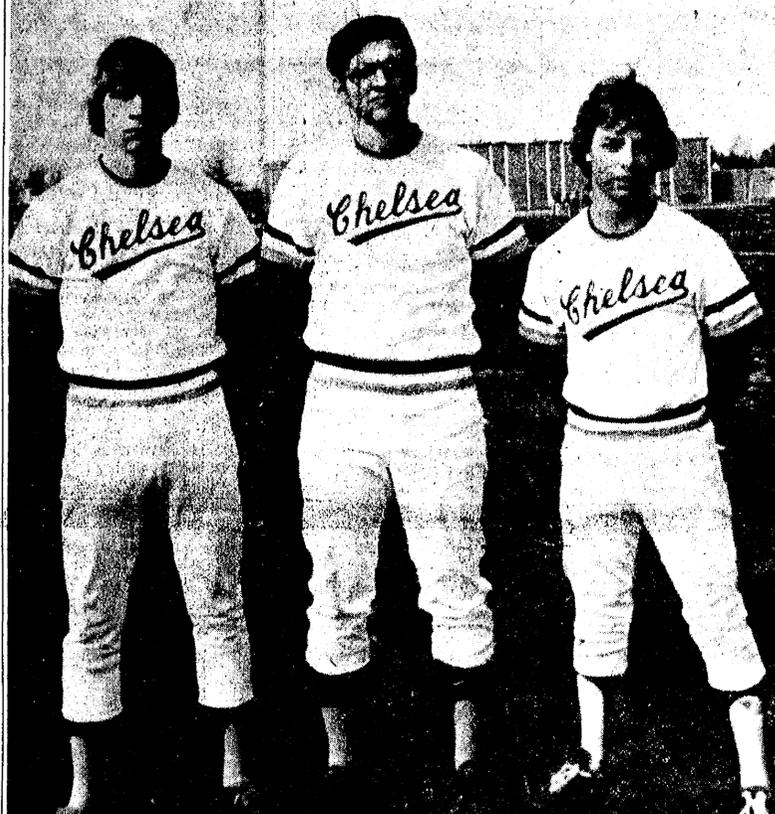

The 1977 varsity team is under the direction of second-year Coach Paul Terpstra, who stated his intention to continue Chelsea's winning tradition.

Returning to the Bulldog varsity baseball squad this season are 1976 first team all-conference catcher Don Nadeau, and second team all-conference second baseman, Anthony Houle. Other senior members of the team are pitcher and first baseman, Don Morrison, who posted a 4-3 record last year; and Mike Check, last season's starting left fielder.

Other returning varsity players are pitcher Kurt Owings, who had a 3-1 record in 1976; third baseman, Chuck Broderick; and shortstop, Joe Ewald.

New on the varsity squad this season are third baseman Don Aldrich, second baseman Steve Check, outfielder and pitcher John Daniels, outfielder and pitcher Ken Jenkins, outfielder and pitcher Jeff Powell, first baseman Dave Schrotenboer, catcher and outfielder Phil Steinhauer, and shortstop Mike Sweeny. Assisting as team managers will be Steve Myers and Mike Galbraith.

"The major task this year is to find replacements for three of the infield positions—first base, shortstop and third base," said Coach Terpstra. "Another important job is to find a third starting pitcher to back up Morrison and Owings." (Continued on page five)

Churches Plan Special Holy Week Services

Many churches in Chelsea will begin their annual Easter observance of Christ's crucifixion and resurrection with a Community Good Friday service at Chelsea Baptist church, from 1 p.m. to 2:30 p.m., Friday, with the Rev. Carl Schwarm and the Rev. James Stacey presiding. Theme of this year's service is "Cross-Bought Benefits."

An interlude at 1:35 p.m. in the two-part, one hour and 15 minute service will allow participants to arrive or depart according to personal schedules.

Pastor Schwarm of First Congregational church will address the congregation during the first portion of the service, while Pastor Stacey will speak during the latter portion. Pastor Schwarm's topic will be "Because of Calvary" and Pastor Stacey will discuss "A New and Living Way."

The Community Good Friday service has been planned with support from the Chelsea Ministerial Fellowship.

Special music for the service will feature Norman O'Conner of St. Paul United Church of Christ, and a quartet from Chelsea's First United Methodist church. The Rev.

Marvin McCallum of First United Methodist church and the Rev. Ira Wood of Chelsea United Methodist Retirement Home will also participate in Friday's traditional service.

A nursery will be provided for those parents with young children. Other Good Friday services will be conducted at the following churches: Our Savior, Lutheran, 7:30 p.m.; St. Thomas Evangelical Lutheran, 1:30 p.m.; St. Mary Catholic church, 1 p.m.; Liturgy and Holy Communion, 8 p.m.; Stations of the Cross; and Zion Lutheran, 1:30 p.m., Holy Communion.

Holy Thursday or Maundy Thursday services will be held at most of the churches with communion in the evening.

St. Mary Catholic church will hold an 8 p.m. Vigil of Resurrection service on Saturday.

Easter Sunday services at St. Thomas Lutheran, St. Paul United Church of Christ, Our Savior Lutheran, First United Methodist, Zion Lutheran and the Congregational church follow a schedule of sunrise service, followed by an Easter breakfast and worship. The "Services in Our Churches" column in The Standard should be consulted for exact schedules.

CHS Forensics Team Sweeps District Tournament Competition

Chelsea High forensics team members dominated the competition at the District Forensics Tournament held at Napoleon on March 30. In addition to Chelsea, five other teams were entered in the event, including Saline, Jackson Northwest, Jackson Parkside, Jackson High School, and Napoleon. Chelsea swept the field, taking nine out of 17 possible positions," said Coach William Coelius. "We captured more honors than any other team there."

Chelsea's nine top-finislers will advance to regional competition slated for the end of April. Four other third-place category winners from Chelsea were named district alternates to the regionals.

Taking top honors for the Bulldogs were Tim Stubbs, 1st, and Doug Foreman, 2nd, Humorous Reading; Gayle Albrecht, 2nd, Informative Speaking; Liz Schwarze, 2nd, and Tammy Puglist, 3rd, Serious Reading; Julie Chapman, 2nd, Storytelling; Kurt Ratzlaff, 3rd, Radio News; Julie Prohaska, (Continued on page six)

Easter Egg Hunt Slated Saturday

The Easter Bunny will arrive in Chelsea Saturday morning, April 9, to host the annual Jaycee Easter Egg Hunt. As usual, he will hop atop a Chelsea fire truck for a quick ride to the CHS Athletic Field, where he will make his appearance promptly at 11 a.m.

Prior to his arrival, he will have hidden more than 100 dozen eggs in nesting spots throughout the athletic field area.

In a slight variation from last year, children will be divided into five age groups to hunt the eggs. This new arrangement should even out the competition, according to Jaycee spokesmen. The five divisions will be toddlers, pre-schoolers, kindergartners, first graders and second graders.

Rather than the usual gift certificates, Easter Egg Hunt winners will receive Easter baskets filled with goodies. Children are reminded to bring their own containers to the hunt to hold their collected eggs.

Jaycee chairman of the event is Bob Smith.

CHANDLER A. ROGERS

C. A. Rogers Dies Monday At Hospital

A former Sylvan township justice and acting municipal judge of Ann Arbor, Chandler A. Rogers, 91, of 52 Cavanaugh Lake, died Monday, April 4, at Chelsea Community Hospital.

He was born in Clifton, Tex., on July 7, 1885, to David and Magdalena Felt Rogers. He married Ethel R. Rogers, who preceded him in death in March, 1975.

Mr. Rogers was a graduate of Detroit College of Law, and had been secretary-treasurer and director of Federal Motor Truck Co., Detroit, for 37 years before his retirement in 1951.

Shortly thereafter, he moved to the Chelsea area where he served as Sylvan township's last justice of the peace, from 1959 to 1957, when he retired from office.

In 1974, Mr. Rogers was honored for his 50 years of practice in law by the State Bar of Michigan. He was also a member of the Washtenaw County Bar Association at that time.

Long active in state Republican politics, Mr. Rogers assisted former Michigan Governor George Romney in reconstructing the state constitution.

Among his many personal and civic achievements, Mr. Rogers was a 32nd degree Mason; past-president of the National Association of Credit Management; and a member of the Chelsea Kiwanis Club.

Survivors include a daughter, Rosetta D. Downs of Mammarella, N. Y.; a son, Jack C. Rogers of Rubicon, Wis.; seven grandchildren; and five great-grandchildren.

Private funeral services were held April 6 at Burghardt Funeral Home. Interment followed in Oak Grove Cemetery. (Continued on page three)

MITCH ZINK

Mitch Zink Named JC District Director

Mitch Zink, a member of the Chelsea Jaycees for the past eight years, was elected 1977-78 Director of Jaycee District N-2 on March 23 during Michigan District Elections at Inverness Inn.

As the district's new director, Zink will act as overseer and liaison for the exchange of information between the state Jaycee organization and local Jaycee chapters in Ann Arbor, Chelsea, Dexter, Cassidy Lake, Saline and Ypsilanti.

During his many years of Jaycee membership, Zink has held a variety of local Jaycee offices. He served three terms as Chelsea Jaycee director; two terms as chapter vice-president; one term as chapter president, 1975-76; and is currently Chelsea Jaycee Chairman of the Board.

He resides at 13362 North Lake Rd., Gregory with his wife, Sue, who is currently president of the Jaycee Auxiliary, and their two children, Eric and Trevor.

Two Petitions Are Filed for School Board

Only two candidates for the two-seat vacancy on the Chelsea Board of Education have filed petitions as of Tuesday, according to Chelsea schools business manager, Fred Mills. The two candidates are Earl Heller of 20640 Sager Rd. and James Stirling of 45 Chestnut St.

The two-member vacancy was created when current board members Howard Haselward and James Stirling decided not to seek re-election upon expiration of their four-year terms in June.

Prospective candidates still interested in running for school board office are again reminded (Continued on page three)

Jaycees Elect New Officers

Tuesday evening, Chelsea Jaycees elected a new slate of officers for 1977-78. The newly elected officials will assume their respective posts on June 1.

Among those elected are Bob Ponte, president; Hap Baker, administrative vice-president; Bob Baker, internal vice-president; Bob Smith, external vice-president; Dave Sweet, secretary; Bruce Messing, treasurer; and Toby Freeman, director.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Spring has sprung and the sap has riz, and fer sure the voice of the turtle dove ain't the only happy sound around these days. Like Solomon says, the winter has past, flowers have appeared on the earth and the time for singing has come. The price of heating oil is a bad memory, and sure enuff, young men's fancies now turn to hitting .300 and holding out for more money next year.

All over the country folks seem to be in a bright frame of mind, like they've been let out on parole and they got a job to go to. I was talking with this feller the other day that goes around promoting music shows at schools, lodges and wherever he can draw a crowd, and he allowed there is more general interest and attendance this spring than any year he recalls, and he's been at it fer 25 year. He had stopped by the country store to put a poster in the window, like he does ever time he's through, and he was in a good mood, which he usual ain't. He said he didn't know whether the easing of winter's grip or President Carter liking his kind of music had more to do with folks coming out, but he was grateful fer all favors.

The fellers was talking about the state of the nation Saturday night, like they do ever week, and Clem Webster touched on this grateful idea. He said his old lady already had laid down the law about him going to church with her Easter. Clem said he goes with her more often than not anyway, but she has gone all out this year, with a new outfit from head to toe. Clem told the fellers he would be mighty pleased to go with her, cause when you're feeling grateful, the Almighty is a good place to start. Clem figured the special effort his old lady went to this Easter is her way of showing gratitude, and he was full in support of her.

Thinking of Easter and the reason fer it, Ed Doolittle said he still don't know what to make of a item he saw out of London. An old feller died over there and left his entire $44,000 estate to Jesus Christ. But the money was to go to the Lord only if He comes to rule on earth in the next 80 year, and only if He can prove who He is. Ed said he hadn't saw lately how many already has laid claim to the money, but fer sure whoever is in charge of seeing to the terms of that will is in trouble. There are some who believe Jesus rules now in the lives of folks, and once or twice a year some group announces when the second coming is coming. The more he thought about it, Ed said, the more he figured that's what the feller in London had in mind, to keep folks thinking about it.

Mister Editor, the fellers are full agreed that at their age ever Saturday night they can git together is a bonus. And they say spring is a time fer special rejoicing. Last week, they were trying not to think of the work their wimmen has got lined up fer them in the yard and garden. Last week, as Bug Hookum said, was a time fer accenting the positive. Uncle Lew.

Potholes Herald Spring
Potholes are more than an irritant, say state highway officials, who predict that this year's bill to fix the chuckholes on Michigan roads will reach a record $3 million.

Credit that to the record cold winter, they say.

Besides the $3 million, it will take a few more million dollars to fix the damage to county roads and city streets.

"It's literally money down a hole, but it has to be spent," says Tom Wiseman, chief maintenance engineer for the State Department of Highways and Transportation.

Heralded as the worst in a century, the winter that's past was one of the best for potholes. They occur when water trapped under the road surface freezes and expands, lifting up the surface. Then with spring, the water contracts leaving a bubble that cars quickly push in to form the potholes.

Highway engineers guess that potholes will be particularly prevalent this spring on Interstate 75 in Wayne county, I-94 in Macomb county and I-96 in Oakland county.

Dexter Township Trims $35,080 from Budget

Only 12 township residents attended Dexter township's annual meeting last Saturday and voted to raise the annual salaries of township supervisor, clerk and treasurer each by $500.

The proposed 1977-78 budget for Dexter township was also presented. The new budget calls for an expenditure of $93,720, trimming $35,080 off last year's budget of $128,800.

Budget cuts which produced the lower figure included elimination of the township's traffic enforcement program, and reduced funds for road expenditure and community participation programs.

The traffic enforcement program, which had been partially funded by the federal government, was cut because of increased costs. The only alternative to the cut was to increase taxes and those present did not favor this alternative.

The large expenditure on roads budget were increased to compensate for rising costs.

In final business at the annual meeting, those in attendance approved the first and third Tuesdays of each month, 7:30 p.m., as regular meeting dates for the Dexter Township Board.

Seafarer Plans Spurned

After two days in the Upper Peninsula where the hottest controversy is over Project Seafarer, Gov. William Milliken made a surprise early decision to veto plans for the underground communications grid.

Just three days earlier, Milliken had said he would wait for a report from the National Academy of Science on the health impact of the project. Then, he said, he would express the will of the people—which has consistently and resoundingly been against the project.

But Friday, March 18, Milliken formally said "no" to the Navy's plans in a telegram to Navy officials. Aides said it was clear to the governor that the people of the U.P. would not change their minds, and that the Navy had its heart set on Michigan.

Earlier, on March 15, new Navy Secretary W. Graham Claytor, Jr., told Milliken by letter that Seafarer was vital to national defense and the U.P. was the best place for it. He told Milliken it had "an extremely high priority."

Milliken was assured several months ago that he would have veto power over the project, but it's not clear whether that will hold up.

Navy officials say Seafarer, planned to allow communications with submerged submarines, has been studied for seven years and found to be safe for humans and the environment. Its installation already has been blocked in Texas and Wisconsin.

Webster Township Is Conducting Mid-Year Census

Webster township is currently conducting a mid-year census to find out how many people are now living in the area. Enumerators wearing name tags and carrying identification will be going from door to door merely to take a head-count.

Area residents are reminded to make sure that anyone coming to the door claiming to be an enumerator is wearing an official name tag and carrying proper identification before answering any questions.

So the lawmakers, members of the Senate Business Committee, have vowed to scrutinize every appointment Gov. William Milliken makes, to the Barrier-Free Design Board and others.

The legislators have gotten complaints from constituent businessmen who said that the board required them to: provide an elevator to handball courts, provide an elevator or other means for handicapped persons to use a pedestrian overpass and provide a ramp to a stage at a Grand Rapids topless go-go joint.

"There are some things here that wouldn't make sense to a 10-year-old kid," fumed state Sen. Michael O'Brien, D-Detroit.

Members of the board responded that they had given some exemptions, but the law was the law.

Girls Track Team Downs Stockbridge

Brisk weather failed to cool the hot performance of Chelsea High's girls track team last Friday as they swept past Stockbridge, 89-36, in their season opener.

Leading the way for Chelsea was senior sprinter Susan Frisbie with a double win in the 100- and 200-yard dashes. Frisbie also ran a leg on Chelsea's first-place 880 relay team.

"The cold temperature and wind contributed to slower times, but the girls ran well for their first meet," said Coach DiAnn L'Roy. Several freshmen made successful debuts by scoring points, she added.

CHS freshman Gayle Beyer set a new school record in the two-mile run with a time of 13:53.4.

Top-finisiers for Chelsea in field events were: Shot Put—2nd, Annette Gaken (30'8 1/2"); 3rd, Lori Miles (28'10 1/4"). Discus—1st, Annette Gaken (86'6 1/2"); 4th, Shelley Warren (73'5"). Long Jump—1st, Colleen Collins (43'3"); 2nd, Kathy Treado (43'4"); 4th, Penny Collinsworth (42'3"). High Jump—1st, Treado and Shelley Warren (4'8").

Placing for Chelsea in distance runs and sprints were: Two-Mile Run—1st, Gayle Beyer (13:53.4); 4th, Donna Bauer (16:32). One-Mile Run—1st, Penny Collinsworth (6:16.9); 2nd, Tracy Cattell (7:19.6); 880-Yard Run—1st, Shelley Warren (2:40.7); 3rd, Sue Heller (3:01); 4th, Jackie Lamb (3:05.5). 440-Yard Dash—1st, Angie Merkel (1:06.9); 2nd, Theresa Hoffman (1:07.3). 220-Yard Dash—1st, Sue Frisbie (28.6); 3rd, Colleen Collins (30.0). 100-Yard Dash—1st, Sue Frisbie (12.9); 2nd, Debbie Honbaum (13.1); 4th, Laurie Hastings (13.5).

Scoring for Chelsea in relay events were: Mile Relay—Schardein, Warren, Hoffman, Merkel (4:39.1). 880 Relay—1st, Schardein, Collins, Merkel, Frisbie (4:54.3). 440-Yard Relay—Miles, Kim Slater, Treado, Honbaum (56.7).

No hurdle races were run as a recent fire at Chelsea High school destroyed the school's hurdles.

ALBERTA COLBRY

Alberta Colbry Elected to JC Auxiliary District Post

Alberta Colbry, member of the Chelsea Jaycee Auxiliary, was elected vice-president of District No. 28, Michigan Jaycee Auxiliary, during the Auxiliary's Spring District Elections in Milan, March 29.

Her new responsibilities as District vice-president for the 1977-78 year will include acting as an information liaison between the State Auxiliary and local Jaycee Auxiliary chapters in Chelsea, Dexter, Ann Arbor, Ypsilanti, Saline and Milan.

Mrs. Colbry is currently completing a term of office as secretary of District No. 28, Michigan Jaycee Auxiliary, for the 1976-77 year. Prior to that, she served as president of the Chelsea Jaycee Auxiliary.

Mrs. Colbry lives at North Lake with her husband, Norm, and their two children. Her husband is currently Jaycee District director, and a member of the Chelsea Jaycees.

Two Chelsea Students Named to Academic Honors List at CMU

Central Michigan University's fall semester Honors List includes two students from the Chelsea area. Honors students were chosen from the top 10 percent of each academic class.

Named to the list are Tim A. Eder of 19699 Old US-12, a CMU sophomore; and Jennifer Rady of 840 N. Main St., a CMU freshman.

To qualify for honors, a student was required to complete 12 or more letter-graded hours of on-campus credit during the semester, and have a grade point average of 3.5 or better. In all, 1,048 CMU students made the honors list from a total of 16,004 enrolled during the fall semester.

Rebekah Lodge Plans Several Spring Events

With the advent of spring, Chelsea Rebekah Lodge No. 130 has intensified its activities with plans for several community-oriented projects in coming months. Two regular meetings will be held on April 5 and 19, 7:30 p.m., to complete preparations for these projects.

A bakeless bake sale is in progress under the direction of Mrs. Nina Lehmann, chairman, and an all membership rummage sale is slated for May 5-6, with Mrs. Lina Reule and Mrs. Jo Hochrein as co-chairmen. Members are to call either of the co-chairmen to schedule working hours or for pick-up service.

The day-long 12th District meeting will be held April 28 at the IOOF and Rebekah Lodge will son. Chelsea's Rebekah Lodge will be responsible for presenting a report on the Big Star Children's Camp near Baldwin. Mrs. Dorothy Keizer is chairman of this assignment.

During a report on membership at the group's March meeting, it was announced that Mrs. Leila Weir is at home, recovering from a broken hip.

Meeting committee for March included Mrs. Evie Hale, Olla Voelm, Elsie Hinz and Jo Hochrein. Mrs. Dorothy Paskuiet, Carrie Dunlap, Eulahlee Packard and Flora Weber have been appointed to April's meeting committee.

Birthdays to be celebrated in April include those of Mrs. Edith Hoffman, Dortha Meppeyans, Lucille Olson and Doris Smith. PNG Club will meet April 12, 7:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Evie Hale. Members are to bring white elephants for a silent auction.

Sannes, Rentz Engagement Told

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Sannes of 223 Lincoln St., have announced the engagement of their daughter, Kathryn Louise, to William A. Rentz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Rentz of Pinckney.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Chelsea High school and is employed as a library clerk at the University of Michigan Graduate Library. Her fiancé is a graduate of Pinckney High school and is employed by the Plant Operations Department of the University of Michigan.

A wedding date has not been set.

MODERN MOTHERS

On Friday, April 1, 18 members and guests of Modern Mothers Child Study Club traveled to Fairlane Towne Center in Dearborn. After spending the morning shopping, the group boarded the "people mover" for a shuttle trip to the Hyatt Regency Hotel. The hotel's revolving Rotunda restaurant provided a pleasant atmosphere for lunch after which members returned to Chelsea or additional shopping.

TROOP 676-

On Tuesday, we embroidered our pictures. We thank Mrs. Ghent, Mrs. Stoker, Mrs. Dunlap and Mrs. Likavec for their much needed help. Linda Mullison brought treats to our meeting. Kelly Ghent and Crystal Porath were the Brownie leader's helpers. Have a happy Easter vacation. Kelly Ghent, scribe.

TROOP 82-

Monday we made candy, played a game and practiced a play and a poem. Alison Hepburn, scribe.

TROOP 169-

At our Monday night meeting of Troop 169, Mrs. Joanne Weber showed us how to do Ukrainian egg dying and gave her finished egg to Mrs. Spalding, our Brownie leader. Then we played three games—Wonderball; Doggy, Doggy; and 7-Up. We also made Easter decorations out of plastic eggs, Easter grass and bunnies. Stacy Thams brought home-made peanut butter ball candy for treats. Stacy Thams, scribe.

TROOP 247-

We are doing a play in our troop. It is called Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs. It is really a nice play. Lots of mothers and some teachers are coming to see it. I have the first line in the script. We like the play. Trisha Mattoff, scribe.

Townships Hold Annual Meetings

Lima Township

Hotly-charged debate colored the issues under consideration by some 80 Lima township residents attending their annual meeting. Supervisor Robert Musolf proposed that $15,000 be budgeted to hire a firm to reappraise all land parcels in the township.

He stated more than 800 properties need to be reassessed because they are under the 50 percent market value assessments as required by state law.

Musolf said he had bids for the reappraisal work from two firms, one in Ann Arbor and one in Lansing.

Treasurer Jean Tilt said the township did not have the $15,000 in the treasury to pay for the reappraisal.

Suggestions were made that a local person or firm do the re-assessing. Others suggested township officials do the work.

Residents requested that a five-member board act on the reappraisal recommendation. The board is currently functioning with only three members following the recent resignations of one trustee and the township clerk.

The board has 45 days in which to appoint replacements for the vacancies until the next general election. Otherwise, the governor can call a special election to fill the posts.

Residents recommended a 1.16 mill levy to operate the township and a township levy of one percent as collection fee for taxes.

Residents also recommended that the $6,603 in federal revenue sharing funds, and the $5,024 in Federal Title II funds be spent for road repairs. Another recommendation suggested the board establish guidelines for a separate salary for supervisor and for supervisor as township assessor.

A proposed 1977-78 budget of $97,340 was recommended for approval, up from last year's budget of $71,102.61. Additional road repair plans and fire protection were cited as the source of the budget increase.

Township officials received no pay raises.

Dexter Township

The proposed 1977-78 Dexter Township budget is $93,700, a decrease of $35,100 from last year's budget of $128,800. Clerk William Eisenbeiser said an $11,000 cut was made in the new road work budget; a $1,000 community participation budget was eliminated; and a $13,000 allocation for a selected traffic enforcement project was shaved from the new township budget.

However, $500 pay raises were voted in by residents for Supervisor John Tandy, Clerk Eisenbeiser, and Treasurer Lorinda Jedele. Their respective salaries are now $3,500, $4,500 and $4,500.

Lyndon Township

Residents approved a 1977-78 budget calling for $80,414 in expenditures as opposed to $87,110 in 1976 and $39,000 two years ago.

A federal revenue sharing fund of $8,000 received by the township will be used for road repair and construction.

Residents agreed to donate $700 to the Chelsea Recreation Department as part of a cost-sharing project with other townships in the Chelsea area. The zoning inspector's annual salary was raised from $500 to $900.

Freedom Township

Freedom township residents approved salary increases for the supervisor, clerk and treasurer. The pay boosts increase individual salaries as follows: Supervisor David Meinhart, from $4,000 to $4,600; Clerk Rena Girbach, from $3,000 to $3,300; and Treasurer Walter Heiber, from $3,000 to $3,300.

A proposed 1977-78 budget of $70,182 was recommended for approval, up 10 percent from last year.

Residents recommended using road funds to improve the other half of Schneider Rd. The new allowance for road improvement expenditures matched road fund figures in last year's budget.

Sharon Township

Sharon township's proposed budget for 1977-78 will climb $4,000 from last year's budget of $38,800. Last year's budget was up $3,800 from 1975.

Also, the new fiscal year will continue last year's one-mill tax levy aimed at raising $11,000 a year for township road improvement. The levy was passed in 1976 for a five-year period.

Other budget expenditures for the township either held steady or showed some increase.

Scio Township

Residents approved a 1977-78 general fund budget of $234,750, up $26,750 from last year's budget of

Lima Board Meeting Erupts

To all of these criticisms, Musolf's only response was "you can come look at the record, I have nothing to hide." He reiterated that response when Fusilier said, "I found it impossible to work with Bob (Musolf)," as the reason for his resignation.

Treasurer Tilt ended the discussion by asking Musolf what he wanted from the township board. "I want honest, fair, considerate and aggressive government," Musolf replied. "The township board wants the same," Mrs. Tilt answered.

In other township business, the board moved to table all payment of bills until a new clerk was appointed, and resolved to act on the problem involving a fire truck owned mutually by Sylvan and Lima townships "before something happens to the fire truck." Wheels to the truck are currently missing.

Supervisor Musolf announced county plans for a tax tribunal meeting to be held April 11, 2 p.m. at the Washtenaw County Courthouse. He stated it was a meeting to discuss current tax protests as was originally implied, but a meeting for people who wished to protest past property assessments.

Suggestions were made that the township study the possibility of finding a new township attorney. Residents felt that Flintoft may have a conflict of interest as attorney for both Lima township and the Village of Chelsea. When the meeting adjourned, most of those in attendance continued to mill about discussing meeting proceedings. One long-time Lima resident and farming community member, was asked if she thought the meeting was representative of current political opinion in the township. "Yes," she replied. "I thought the discussion here tonight was very representative of the township's mood."

The 1976-77 Metropark Map, illustrating the location and facilities of the Metroparks, also shows major roads and freeways throughout the counties of Wayne, Macomb, Oakland, Livingston and Washtenaw. It is available "free" at any Huron-Clinton Metropark office. (This Metropark Map has a red cover). To receive a copy by mail, send 13 cents in postage and your address to: Metropark Map, Dept. SP, in care of Huron-Clinton Metroparks, 3050 Penobscot Building, Detroit 48226.

$258,000. Included in the higher budget are salary increases for township officials.

Both the supervisor and clerk received a $1,000 raise, making their respective salaries $15,000 and $13,000. The treasurer received a $2,000 salary increase for a $12,000 salary total, and trustees received $600 increases for an annual salary of $1,600 each.

Township millage will remain at 1.16 mills.

Supervisor Robert Jones outlined township goals which include a committee study of fire protection, zoning ordinance enforcement, possible hiring of a township engineer, and a possible sheriff's patrol contract.

Webster Township

Approximately 33 persons attended Webster township's annual meeting and voted $500 annual raises to Supervisor Don Zeeb, Clerk Wana Balduz, and Treasurer Margaret Mynning. The raises put their annual salaries at $5,800, $4,740, and $4,740, respectively.

A one-mill tax levy established last year was renewed and will be aimed at improving roads and aiding fire department operations.

The new proposed budget is more than $13,000 under the $87,993 budget of 1976. The township proposes $74,310 in expenditures for 1977-78.

It was voted to conduct a mid-year census of the township. The last census was the national count in 1970.

Fire Destroys Home on Madden Rd.

Cecil E. Lauderbaugh returned to his three-story home at 5151 Madden Rd. Tuesday night, March 29, to find fire had totally consumed the former structure. While property damage remained extensive, no injuries resulted from the blaze.

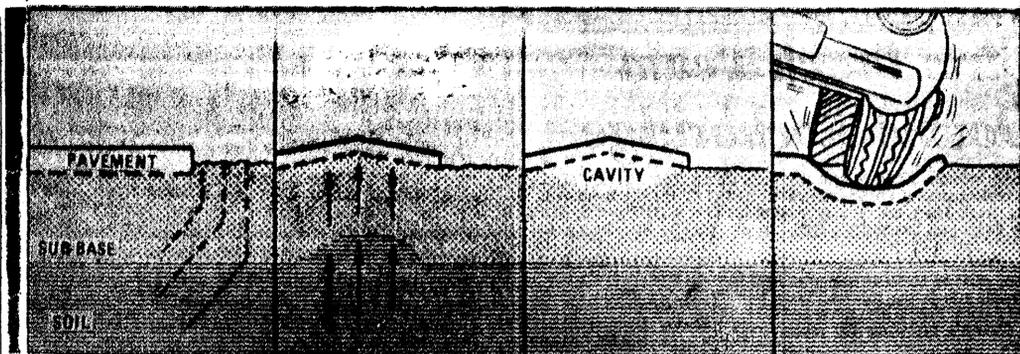

According to the Dexter Fire Department, the fire was first reported by a United Parcel Service delivery man who noticed smoke coming from the house when he attempted to deliver a package.

About 25 firemen in five fire trucks from Dexter and three more from the Chelsea Fire Department, responded to the alarm. They fought the blaze for more than three hours.

"The house was completely engulfed in flames when we arrived," one Dexter fireman reported. "We had a hard time getting close because the heat was so intense."

Following an investigation, Dexter Fire Department officials concluded the fire was started by an undetermined cause.

ANATOMY OF A POTHOLE: After snow or rain, moisture seeps into the soil below the road surface. When temperatures drop below freezing, the moisture freezes, the ground expands and rises and pushes the pavement up. When temperatures rise, the ground returns to normal level before the pavement does, creating a cavity. When cars drive over the cavity, the surface cracks and falls into the hollow space. Thus another pothole is born.

Spring Potholes To Cost Millions in Repairs

Potholes. Every spring they appear on roads and highways, jolting drivers, passengers, cargo and pocketbooks.

This year, the roadway surface repair tab on state highways alone is expected to reach a record $1 million. So says Tom Wiseman, chief maintenance engineer for the Department of State Highways.

The cost on county roads and city streets will be millions more. Wiseman believes that because of the unusually deep frost penetration in Michigan's record cold winter, the spring crop of potholes could be greater than normal.

"It's literally money down a hole," he says. "But it has to be spent."

Few motorists would argue that it is money well spent. Aside from the safety hazard of potholes, repair costs can be weighed against the $25 or so a motorist might pay for a front end alignment and wheel balancing when his car slams into a deep pothole.

Potholes—they're also called chuckholes—have been the bane of road travelers almost from the time the wheel was invented. They occur when water trapped under the road surface freezes and expands, then thaws and contracts. The soft wet cavity remaining gets pushed in by passing wheels, leaving a hole. The more water under a road and the more freezing and thawing, the more potholes.

Michigan, with many varieties of water-holding clay soils and many periods of freezing and thawing, particularly in spring, is ideal pothole-spawning ground.

The key to stopping potholes is good drainage and good surfacing to keep water out of the sub-base of the road. In short, the better the road, the fewer the potholes.

Michigan's 1,665 miles of freeways, constructed with elaborate drainage systems and reinforced pavement nine or ten inches thick, have fewer potholes than lightly paved or unpaved roads. As freeways age, however, even they are subject to potholes. All 9,400 miles of state highways are paved. Of the 88,000 miles of county roads in Michigan, 52,000 are still unpaved as are 2,000 of the 18,600 miles of city streets. During spring thaws, many turn to mud and some become impassable, in effect turning into giant potholes.

Weight restrictions are imposed in late winter and in spring to protect roads from damage by heavily loaded trucks. To determine frost depth, engineers use vertical rods filled with liquified chemicals that turn blue below freezing. Permanently buried under the road surface, these are checked regularly through the spring to determine when the frost is gone.

To keep highways passable during spring thaws, maintenance crews fill potholes with bituminous patching material that usually is replaced or supplemented later in the year. The road surface maintenance bill on state highways for the year ending last June 30 totaled $2.8 million, with half going into potholes.

State maintenance engineers expect Interstate 75 Freeway in Wayne county, I-94 in Macomb county and I-96 in Oakland county to be hard hit by potholes this spring. Other state highways showing more than their share of potholes include I-75 Business Loop in Sault Ste. Marie, M-123 north of Newberry, M-156 north to M-34 in Lenawee county, M-125 from the Ohio line north to Monroe, M-11 (28th Street) in Grand Rapids and US-24 (Telegraph Rd.) in Oakland county.

New Members Join Medical Center Staff

Dr. Paula Kim and Barbara Lipshutz are the two newest medical staff members at Territorial Family Medical Center, 8477 North Territorial Rd.

Dr. Kim, a Board Certified physician in family practice, joined Dr. Michael Smith, Dr. Marguerite Shearer and Dr. Jerry Waldyke in group practice at the Medical Center on Jan. 13. Prior to that time, she had practiced medicine in Chelsea for 1 1/2 years.

Originally from New York, Dr. Kim graduated from the University of Virginia School of Medicine, Charlottesville, Va., in 1975, following a three-year term of residency in family practice at Oakwood Hospital, Dearborn.

A member of the American Academy of Family Physicians, Dr. Kim treats both children and adults. Services available at Territorial Medical Center include a minor surgery, minor orthopedics, and specialty care in obstetrics, pediatrics and internal medicine.

Barbara Lipshutz also joined the Territorial medical staff in working as a physician's assistant. A native of Iowa, Lipshutz received her BGS degree from the University of Michigan in 1972, and her BS degree as a physician's assistant from Mercy College, Detroit.

After a two-month preceptorship at Territorial Medical Center, she passed her National Board Examination for Board Certification and was hired by the center as a full-time employee. As a physician's assistant, Lipshutz is authorized to examine patients, do medical histories and physicals of patients admitted to hospitals, determine and write prescriptions according to a law passed this year, and generally administer routine health care.

In all of these capacities, she is responsible to the physician with whom she is working. She is prohibited from opening an independent practice.

"I chose to do this over medical school," Lipshutz said. "It fulfills a real need in our health care system by providing quality health care to the benefit of both doctors and patients."

The concept of a physician's assistant is fairly new in Michigan, with only two colleges or universities throughout the state offering the program in their curriculum. These two are Mercy College and Western Michigan University, Kalamazoo. Both have patterned their programs after the first physician's assistant program which began in 1965 at Duke University.

"Physician's assistants not only respond with emergency care, but also function as medical practitioners," Lipshutz explained. "Our responsibilities include preventive medicine, counseling, health maintenance and patient education."

Central Michigan University students come from all 83 Michigan counties. CMU draws its sister institutions in 48 counties. The metropolitan counties of Oakland and Wayne send CMU the largest number of students. CMU also draws heavily from other counties with large metropolitan populations.

OH BOY! AN AMBULANCE: Facially expressing a variety of reactions to their view of a Horne-Vinson ambulance standing by at Chelsea Community Hospital are these eight North Elementary school students, who toured the hospital last Friday. The tour was arranged through Operation Outreach, a recently established hospital program designed to reduce the fear of hospitals among kindergarten children. With the children are two Horne-Vinson Ambulance Service representatives, who were on hand to answer questions.

What's Cooking In Michigan

I'm beginning to know what it's like never to have cooked before and being asked to whip something up for dinner. Why am I learning to cook all over again? I bought my wife a microwave oven.

When we first installed it on the kitchen counter, which I admit was too small before we put the oven on it and is almost non-existent now, we were afraid even to turn it on.

That was followed by several hours of just watching water boil in a clear glass tumbler. It is almost magical to see water boil in about two minutes and then be able to reach in and pick up the glass, which remains cool to the touch.

We soon graduated to potatoes (which bake in only six minutes) and bacon (which takes a little over two minutes). Not at all intimidating and nothing to justify the expense or the loss of valuable counter space.

If you are a new microwave owner, you may have the same feeling of frustration we experienced. What to do? Read the instruction book which came with the oven and then visit your local library. Look in your newspaper to see if local appliance dealers are offering microwave cooking demonstrations. Check with your local school system to determine if they offer a microwave cooking course during the evenings. If a course isn't available, you might convince them to offer one soon.

While my experience with the microwave is still minimal, I do know that fresh Michigan vegetables will be great. Carrots, onions, asparagus, squash, and other vegetables should taste as though they were just picked because they don't get overcooked in boiling water. I'm really looking forward to Michigan fresh vegetable time which usually begins in early May with asparagus. This summer look out, farmer's markets, here I come.

he added, Candidates for this position include Daniels, Ewald, Jenkins and Powell.

According to Coach Terpstra, the conference outlook reflects good balance with several teams figuring to fight it out for the title. Leading contenders are Brighton, Dexter and Saline. Other teams which will be tough to beat are Milan, Novi and South Lyon, the coach predicted.
"The Bulldogs hope to be in the thick of the race," he acknowledged. "Contingent upon a good showing are a solid defense, good pitching and timely hitting."

DEATHS

John C. Klink, Jr. Dies at Nursing Home Following Lengthy Illness

John George Klink, Jr., 61, of 18028 Bush Rd., died April 3 at Auron View Lodge, Ann Arbor, following a lengthy illness. He was born Feb. 6, 1916, in Chelsea to George and Mathilde Keck Klink.

A lifelong Chelsea resident, Mr. Klink enlisted in the United States Navy on Nov. 12, 1940, serving on the U.S.S. Medusa until his honorable discharge on June 20, 1945. He had been employed by the Washtenaw County Road Commission for 21 years.

At the time of his death, he was a national life member of the Pearl Harbor Survivors Association, and a member of the Pearl Harbor Survivors Association, Motor City Chapter No. 2.

He also belonged to Olive Lodge No. 156, F&AM; Olive Chapter No. 140, Royal Arch Masons; and was a life member of Washtenaw County Chapter 13, Disabled American Veterans (D.A.V.). Mr. Klink attended St. Paul's United Church of Christ.

Survivors include three brothers, Fred Klink of Waterloo, Carl and Albert Klink of Chelsea; two sisters, Mrs. Raymond (Louise) Altenberndt, Jr., of Chelsea, Mrs. William (Pauline) Hawkins of Ann Arbor; and many nieces and nephews. He was preceded in death by one brother, William, on April 22, 1971.

Funeral services were held Wednesday, April 6, 10 a.m. at Staffan Funeral Home with the Rev. Ralph J. Ratzlaff of St. Paul's United Church of Christ officiating. Burial preceded by a military graveside service, conducted by Herbert J. McKune, Post No. 31.

Memorial contributions may be made to St. Paul United Church of Christ.

Area Youths Win Bowling Tournament

Two Chelsea area youngsters, Harvey Morell, 9, and Donald Collins, 9, won the "Peanut Boys" division title in the Michigan Youth Bowling Association's Holiday Doubles Tournament this year. Their total combined score was 1,322, a more than 50-point advantage over the runners-up. The tournament was sponsored locally by Chelsea Lanes.

For their winning efforts in the December-January tournament, the boys will be honored at a banquet in August, where they will receive trophies along with other division winners. The event will be held at Roma Hall in Bloomfield township.

Morell is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Morell of 605 E. Main, Stockbridge, and Collins is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Collins of Bohn Rd., Grass Lake.

Special Olympians Volleyball Team Qualifies for State

Chelsea's Special Olympians volleyball squad blazed its way to the title spot in the Washtenaw County Special Olympians Volleyball I Tournament last Thursday, defeating second-place High Point and third-place Dexter for the victory.

As a result of their performance last week Chelsea will represent Washtenaw county at the Special Olympians State Volleyball Tournament in Mt. Pleasant on April 20.

High scorers for Chelsea in the county finals were Steve Lawrence and Chris Williams. Supporting their efforts were teammates Matt Schindler, Lori Brown, Ryan Sweeney, Leonard Carlson, Sue Armstrong, Kathy Young and Glenn Passow. Second team players were Theresa Murphy and Linda Alber.

"We're hoping for a gold medal at the state meet," said Chelsea coach, Nancy Oswald. The meet will be held at Central Michigan University.

HOSPITAL TOUR: While teddy bears and toys may not litter hospital rooms like they do children's bedrooms, there are reasons for the difference. This group of North Elementary kindergartners learned Friday. The children were introduced to the purposes of a hospital and various hospital equipment while touring Chelsea Community Hospital last week. With the children in the photo are two kindergarten mother volunteers and a hospital technician, who was available to answer questions.

Elementary School Children Given Tour of Chelsea Hospital

When children enter a hospital for the first time, they often fail to understand the purpose of their visit. They do understand they will be separated from their parents and the familiarity of home.

To help youngsters further grasp the meaning of a hospital visit, and to reduce their fear of the unknown, Chelsea Community Hospital recently established a new program, Operation Outreach.

Under the auspices of this program, more than 75 kindergarten children from North Elementary school toured the hospital last Friday, in groups of 10, from 9:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m.

Visits to several vital departments in the hospital were included on the tour. Among those departments were the Emergency Room, X-Ray, Dietary and Recreational Therapy. Throughout their tour, the children were encouraged to ask questions.

A follow-up tour for junior high school students has already been arranged for the fall of this year. This second tour will be aimed towards helping junior high school students understand how Chelsea Community can meet their present and future needs, according to Jan Wessinger, director of hospital volunteers.

The student hospital tours supplement an existing program at Chelsea Community Hospital whereby community groups may arrange a hospital tour for their members.

Tuesday evening, March 29, Dexter Kivanjans toured Chelsea Community Hospital as part of the community group tour program.

"Our hospital tours are part of a total effort to have the public better understand the role of Chelsea Community Hospital within the health delivery system," Will Johnson, hospital administrator, explained.

Weather Warning Signaled By Siren

With the severe spring storm season again approaching, Chelsea residents are reminded to familiarize themselves with the local "severe weather" or "tornado warning signal," village officials announced Tuesday.

The "take cover" signal is one long blast of the Chelsea fire siren, lasting one minute, and repeated at 10-second intervals. This signal is given when approaching weather conditions are severe enough to warrant an immediate warning to residents to take protective action.

The "take cover" warning signal may not necessarily coincide with official Weather Service "tornado warnings" since local conditions may require an earlier warning to residents, or may require no warning at the time of official bulletins.

However, residents should certainly heed any bulletins received by radio or television, and act according to conditions in their immediate area, village officials explained.

The "all clear" signal will be sounded when local conditions have cleared and no longer appear a threat. The "all clear" will be a series of siren blasts, more than three in number, for a period longer than 10 seconds. This signal of 10 seconds duration is to avoid confusion with the standard fire alarm signal of two siren blasts.

Two Chelsea Students Receive Scholarships At Western Michigan

Two Western Michigan University sophomores from Chelsea, Steven Bennett of 8215 Beeman Rd., and Brian D. Smith of 7676 Werker Dr., were among 74 paper science and engineering students at WMU to receive winter semester scholarships from the Paper Technology Foundation there.

Individual stipends range from $270 to $1,011 and are renewable annually throughout a student's undergraduate career if satisfactory classroom performance is maintained. The total amount awarded by the Foundation for the winter semester was $32,608.

Along with 90 corporations, some 200 alumni and individuals are Foundation members. Major portions of their dues and contributions are directed toward the scholarship fund.

JC Jelly Sale To Aid Special Olympians

As part of a state-wide Jaycee service project, Chelsea Jaycees will sponsor a Jelly Sale on behalf of Chelsea Special Olympians during the next two weeks. Student volunteers from Chelsea High's special education class will conduct the sale, selling 600 jars of jelly at various locations throughout the community.

Proceeds from the Jelly Sale will be used to send local Special Olympians team competitors to Mt. Pleasant in June, where they will be entered in the State Special Olympians Tournament. Each participant is required to pay a $35 registration fee. Because 20 local students are involved, Chelsea's Special Olympians team must raise a total of $700.

Additional proceeds will be used to pay for transportation, uniforms and upcoming camp fees.

Anyone wishing to help Chelsea's special education students with their efforts in the Jaycee Jelly Sale is requested to contact the Chelsea Jaycees or CHS special education director, Nancy Oswald, at 475-9131, Ext. 49. Students will deliver any jelly sold, directly to a purchaser's door.

Community groups which would like more information on Chelsea's Special Olympians program are directed to contact Miss Oswald, who has a slide presentation on Special Olympians activities available upon request.

In accordance with provisions governing the state-wide Jaycee Jelly Sale service project, all proceeds from the sale must benefit one of three groups—the National Institute for Burn Medicine, special education programs, or the campaign against Reyes Syndrome. Each local Jaycee chapter may choose to support any organization falling within the three listed groups as their individual beneficiary.

Home Meal Service Needs More Drivers

Home Meal Service of Chelsea is again in need of drivers to deliver hot meals to home-bound and handicapped residents. Several new Home Meal Service beneficiaries are currently unassigned to meal delivery routes because of an insufficient number of volunteer drivers.

If interested residents are unable to serve as regular drivers, they may apply as substitute drivers, according to Mary Ann Merkel, spokesman for Home Meal Service. Prospective volunteers are asked to call Barbara Branch, 475-7644, or Carolee Hoffmeyer, 475-8014, for more information.

Each new driver for Home Meal Service of Chelsea is briefed on meal delivery procedures before receiving a route, and will work with an experienced driver until ready to work the route alone. The time spent on meal deliveries by regular drivers is approximately one hour per week.

LET HOUSE CUT TAX BILL

Your home should be, besides your nest of dreams, an income tax saver. From the moment you take title to the day you turn over the keys to the next inhabitants, you are endowed with opportunities to minimize your tax bill.

While you own the home, your two major annual deductions are property taxes and the interest on the mortgage. These can be considerable deductions. Keep in mind that it doesn't matter whether you pay property taxes directly or through an escrow account held by the bank. In either case, you deduct the sum actually paid to the local taxing authority.

Also, using part of your home for business purposes constitutes a deduction for that portion of the home expenses used for the business. It is based on the square footage of space used for business. However, it must be used exclusively for business.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at FRISINGER REALTY CO., 935 S. Main St., Chelsea. Phone: 475-8681; evenings 475-2621. We're here to help!

McKune Library Story Hour Is Favorite With Youngsters

Ordinary folks may not know Cruella de Ville, but the mere mention of her name any given Wednesday morning, Oct. 10, through February in McKune Memorial Library, is enough to send chills down the spines of 20 children or more. It was during the library's weekly Story Hour that the children discovered how wicked Cruella had plotted to make a coat out of 101 Dalmatians.

Happily, there were many other cheerful Donald Duck and Mickey Mouse episodes to balance out Cruella's fiendish tendencies, according to Story Hour's Joann Weber. Mrs. Weber was the local individual who conducted the winter hour-long excursions into the realm of fantasy. Beginning at 10 a.m., heroes and villains alike launched their forays into the hearts and minds of their young audience.

Even with sleet and snow raging through the village, participating children would beg their mothers to bring them to Story Hour, Mrs. Weber said. Along with an assortment of Disney tales, the three-year-old to six-year-old youngsters were entertained by finger plays, records, and special holiday parties. At the end of each session, they received cookies and suckers.

Mrs. Weber, a resident of Chelsea since 1964, volunteered to act as storyteller three years ago when illness forced her predecessor, Katherine Bernath, to terminate a lengthy stay of service. Although various area women had irregularly tried their hands at Story Hour in the early 60's, Mrs. Bernath is generally recognized as founder of the program at McKune Memorial Library. A storyteller for 10 consecutive years until 1974, Mrs. Bernath retained interest in the program until her death in 1975. In memory of her contribution, the Library Board recently dedicated a special room at McKune in Mrs. Bernath's name.

"I had taken my children to Story Hour every year when Katherine was the reader, beginning with my first-born who is now 11, and my second-born who is now 8," Mrs. Weber recalled. "Katherine stopped just when my youngest was old enough to attend. I wanted to see Story Hour continued so my youngest would also have the chance to experience it."

What was spawned by inspiration, has since become a highly meaningful part of Mrs. Weber's life. "I feel my role as storyteller is what I'm supposed to do," she said.

A lack of formal training in pre-school education has yet to put her at a disadvantage with the youngsters. "I never have to raise my voice, and all the children call me Joann," she revealed.

"I don't answer the phone when Story Hour is in progress," Mrs. Weber added. "The children tell me the phone is ringing, but I tell them that this is your time. Usually, no one has ever said that to them before."

In addition to quietly listening to stories, children at Story Hour do stretching and bending exercises that eventually become games like jack-in-the-box and jack-out-of-the-box. Other activities this year included special finger plays thematically associated with Christmas and snow, and a Valentine's Day party.

However, not all of Mrs. Weber's program ideas are as well received. Play with puzzles and puppets eventually got to be too much and had to be eliminated.

All books read to the children are a part of Mrs. Weber's personal collection. She subscribes to a Walt Disney book club and receives two new books every week. "I tell the children they are not real stories, but that doesn't affect their interest. They still find them exciting," she said.

A regular audience of preschoolers, numbering anywhere between 14 and 26, would seemingly invite behavioral problems to the casual observer. "Not so," claims Mrs. Weber. "Occasionally there are problems with children who don't know how to play with others, but I try to involve them personally by directing specific questions towards them, or having them sit near me."

Ultimately, Story Hour gives youngsters a chance to be with other children which they might not have otherwise unless they attended nursery school, Mrs. Weber stated.

"The only time I had anyone cry was when a little boy, not quite three years old, noticed his mother was gone," she continued. "He started to scream, 'I want my mommy!' The other children were a little upset by his screaming, but they continued to behave well. I took the little boy aside and told him he was hurting our ears by screaming. When he stopped temporarily, I told him I was grateful he was so understanding. Another mother stayed with him until his mother arrived."

Mrs. Weber explains children should be at least three years old before coming to Story Hour, and they should also be basically toilet-trained.

The response of area mothers to Story Hour and its storyteller, Mrs. Weber, is probably best summarized by a comment Mrs. Weber perpetually receives from the mothers. Particularly in February, when Story Hour ends, they tell her, "We wish you could have it all year."

The notion of year 'round Story Hour is food for thought, according to Mrs. Weber, but she also feels the option of having more time during the summer to spend with her husband, Paul, still ranks as a runaway favorite.

And besides, in summer weather, even Mickey Mouse could have trouble competing with the neighborhood "swimming hole."

LIBRARY STORY HOUR: Walt Disney characters are unparalleled crowd pleasers if this group of youngsters, covered with smiles, is a measure of crowd reaction. The children are regular participants in Story Hour, conducted every Wednesday morning during winter months in McKune Memorial Library. Storyteller Joann Weber shares an illustration from a current Disney adventure with the boys and girls in the photo. Other Story Hour activities include listening to records and watching finger plays.

JV Baseball Season To Open Saturday

Saturday, April 9, will be opening day for the Chelsea junior varsity baseball team as they play a doubleheader against Manchester here, beginning 10 a.m.

Spring training and practices have been in session for the past five weeks, and the Bulldogs anticipate a winning start to their season, according to Coach Tom Neumeyer.

When asked how spring practices have progressed, and how prospects look for the season, Coach Neumeyer replied, "We've had some spirited practices indoors and are anxious to get out on the field and show our capabilities."

"Our biggest handicap at this point is the short amount of time spent on the diamond due to poor weather conditions," he added.

"However, this is a problem that has affected our opponent as well. Our non-league opener with Manchester should sharpen our skills for the league opener, April 19, against a tough Brighton baseball club."

Trackmen Compete in Spartan Relays

Chelsea High school boys track team competed in the Spartan Relays at Jenison Fieldhouse on the Michigan State Campus last Friday.

Once again Matt Heydlauff was the only member of the team to score as he took a second in the pole vault behind Manchester's Mike Forner. Both vaulters cleared 14', but just as in the Huron Relays two weeks ago, Forner had fewer misses and came out the winner.

The meet involved approximately 75 predominantly Class B schools from all over Michigan. However, neighboring Manchester, a Class C school, won the meet on the outstanding performance of three individuals.

Man Dies in Grass Lake House Fire

State police identified the charred remains of a man recovered after a house fire in Grass Lake late Saturday night, April 2, as Ojars Risgin, 45, of 12880 E. Michigan, Grass Lake. Positive identification was made from dental records of the victim.

Grass Lake fire officials, who responded to the blaze at about 11:45 p.m. Saturday and found the body, reported that Risgin, owner of the house, was only to be pronounced missing at that time. Risgin was vice-president part-owner of Dynamation Corp. in Ann Arbor. The company manufactures electronic gas detecting equipment.

Cause of the fire which totally destroyed the renovated Victorian home is still under investigation.

AGRICULTURE IN ACTION

By Michigan Farm Bureau Staff Writer

Farm Group Has 'Show and Tell'

If you took a poll of farmers today regarding their major concerns, chances are number one would be control over their business by people who do not understand agriculture...

Farmers realize the pressures that affect agriculture. Consumers want a major say in these decisions, and pleasing the majority of voters is what gets politicians back in office again...

weather, labor problems, high production costs, fluctuating markets, and most of all, the myriad of laws and regulations that are expensive, inefficient, and incentive-destroying for the farmer.

The city people were enchanted with the baby chicks, awed by the huge tractors with their huge price tags, and appreciative of the free samples of potato candy. But it was the communications—person to person communications—between farm and city people that really brought her class for a tour of the agricultural displays.

Glorious Michigan Spring Starts To Bud

New Volumes Listed At McKune Library

If your New Year's resolutions included a promise to read more books, expand personal horizons, and join the informed ranks of Chelsea's citizenry, McKune Memorial Library can start you on your way.

Recently the library acquired a plethora of interesting, non-fictional works, including John Dean's "Blind Ambition," the author's personal account of the Watergate affair which shattered the nation in 1974...

tive personality. Playful parents do not surround their children with toys, but can play-communicate on the spot. From birth to the age of 13, the Sutton-Smiths demonstrate what children are likely to be doing at every different level and offer suggestions for ways in which parents can stimulate play at these stages.

A few of McKune's newest novels are John Gardner's "October Light," Taylor Caldwell's "Ceremony of the Innocent," Kurt Vonnegut's "Slaughterhouse-Five," and "Farmer," by Jim Harrison, a new Michigan author.

A very good handbook for parents is "How To Play With Your Children," by Brian and Shirley Sutton-Smith. They feel that play is emerging as a key factor influencing a child's development on social, psychological, and academic levels.

Some people found McKune's former policy too limiting because they wished to help buy books, but felt $8 was more than they could contribute. Hence, the Library Board has opened a new Memorial Book Fund which accepts donations in any amount.

New Lodge To Be Built at GS Camp Crawford

Huron Valley Girl Scout Council has announced plans to construct a $112,000 lodge at Camp Crawford, a 50-acre campsite on Crane Rd., south of Ypsilanti.

added: "It will also be heavily used as a training center for our 3,000 adult volunteers."

Construction will be made by the promise last week of a $55,000 capital funds grant from the United Foundation of Detroit according to Mrs. Jo Stevens, executive director of the council.

Design contracts were signed March 24 by council representatives and Ann Arbor architectural firm Donald D. MacMullan & Associates following presentations by four area firms to the council's Camp Maintenance and Development Committee headed by Leonard McCoy of Ypsilanti.

Architectural drawings are scheduled to be completed by early summer, with ground-breaking by midsummer and completion planned for early next year, Mrs. Stevens said.

Plans will also incorporate ideas from drawings of what a camp should be submitted by Girl Scouts over the past six months.

The $55,000 grant is to be funded by a capital funds drive being conducted by the United Foundation of Detroit this spring in which only Wayne, Oakland and Macomb county companies, corporations and foundations will be contacted.

Of this year's $55,000 award, $40,000 has been allocated for the Camp Crawford structure, with the remaining going for improvements at Camp Hilltop in Ann Arbor and Camp Linden.

"For our Girl Scouts in the eastern part of our Council area, Camp Crawford is our most convenient campsite. The new lodge will make it possible for the camp to be enjoyed year-round," Mrs. Stevens added: "It will also be heavily used as a training center for our 3,000 adult volunteers."

Watchdogs Destroyed in Kennel Fire

At least 30 guard dogs who survived a kennel fire Saturday night, April 2, owe their lives to the efforts of two local men, Les Sharp of Chelsea, and Floyd Shultz of Waterloo.

Sharp and Schultz were traveling along Jackson Rd. about 8:30 p.m. Saturday when they noticed smoke coming from the kennel area of 4-Star Command Dogs, 3540 Jackson Rd., Ann Arbor.
They stopped to investigate the source of the smoke and found the kennel on fire.
Together with a third unidentified passer-by, Sharp and Schultz pulled down a fence to release several of the penned animals, and then jumped another fence to pull down a board which had prevented another group of dogs from escaping the blaze.

"We carried several more dogs out of the fire," Sharp said. "Only one dog whose face had been badly burned, attempted to attack any of us." That dog was placed in a cage until help arrived.
At least 14 dogs were destroyed by smoke or flames, according to the Dexter Fire Department which had been called out to fight the blaze. Dexter firemen responded with three fire trucks. They were assisted by the Chelsea Fire Department, which sent out a water-tank truck and crew to help subdue the flames.

As many as 47 dogs were believed to have been in the kennel area when the fire started. 4-Star Command Dogs trains and sells watchdogs to private businesses and homeowners. Cause of the fire is still under investigation.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Governor:
As a homeowner and taxpayer of the Chelsea School District, I would like to express concern about the policy of holding back or denying state aid to the Chelsea School District.

During the years of 1975 and 1976 state aid was denied our school district amounting to $82,000 per year. For the 1977 school year our state aid is being held up, causing the school district to borrow another $82,000, so that financial obligations can be met.
This amounts to $186,000 plus interest.

Another area of concern is the method by which property taxes are assessed. A large percentage of the property owners in the Chelsea School District have experienced considerably larger assessed evaluations on their property. This increase in assessed evaluation could cause a loss of state aid to this district amounting to approximately $250,000 more for a total of $436,000 during the past three years.

This situation leaves the taxpayers with the choice of voting in more school taxes or turning down millage requests for operational expenses. The school board is faced with balancing a budget while not knowing where the funds are coming from. Consequently the students of our school district are the ones who receive the blunt of the situation.

It is my opinion that a large percentage of taxpayers are reluctant to commit themselves to higher taxes because they see no end, or even a slowing down to the merry-go-round tax increases which they have experienced during the past few years.

The taxpayers also realize that the state is not living up to its obligations to the school districts.
Funds were allocated in the 1975-76 state budgets for state aid to the school districts, but the governor disapproved legislation which was providing these funds.

This has resulted in a loss of funds to our school district (which we were not able to recover), resulting in cancellation of all extracurricular activities for some 600 students.
The parents of children involved realized the worth of such programs and with the support of the Chelsea Booster Club, local industry, and local business, $50,- 000 was raised to finance extracurricular activities for the 1976-77 school year.

The cost of this program amounted to approximately $83 per student. When consideration is given to these figures $83 is not very much compared to what it costs to rehabilitate a young person addicted to drugs. We need extracurricular activities to avoid such problems. Young people active in sports and musical programs do not have excessive time to waste and get involved in problem situations. Students involved in extracurricular activities are usually better students.

In summarizing, we need to realistically evaluate our situation.
We need help from those who are capable of providing help, and we need the support of our government to correct a deteriorating condition (our local school system).

1. First of all, speedy action is needed to provide funds presently being withheld.
2. Steps must be taken to avoid denying of funds and the holding back of funds in the future.
3. Leadership must be provided by the governor's office so that both parties can work together to provide a realistic tax system in this state.

4. I would like very much to be able to talk with representatives of your office concerning this situation and I am sure that a delegation from Chelsea could meet with the governor any time that it would be convenient for him to discuss the tax situation in this area.

Sincerely yours,
Gale DeSmyther.

To the Editor:
This letter is in response to the recent letters concerning the schools policy on parking on public streets. The point is not whether it's right or wrong to park on public streets when the school has a parking lot. The point is that the school board, Mr. Chandler, or anyone else at the school has no authority whatsoever to ticket or suspend students for parking on public streets.

They have no control over any thing that isn't on school grounds.
As a matter of fact they have no authority to issue tickets when someone violates a rule on school grounds. They are not police officers, therefore they cannot issue parking tickets. This is absolutely asinine!

It is totally ridiculous that the School Board ever adopted such a policy. Not only is it ridiculous, it's totally illegal. They are actually suspending students if they don't comply with an illegal policy.

Anyone who knows anything about the law at all knows a school can't issue a $2 parking ticket for parking on a public street. It's time the people of Chelsea learn just exactly what the school is doing. Instead of teaching students, they're running around playing policeman.

It's time we start electing responsible people to the school board and get rid of the few lunatics and self-appointed dictators that have been there much too long.
Brian Owings.

Packards Attend Testimonial Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. Mac Packard represented Chelsea VRW Post and Auxiliary No. 4076 at a testimonial dinner jointly honoring the Rev.
Harvey Ellsworth of Lansing VFW Post No. 701 and Commander of VFW District No. 6, and Mrs.
Rose Mikewitz of Erie VFW Auxiliary No. 3925 and Auxiliary President of District No. 6. The event was held at Erie last week-end.
Co-hosting the affair were VFW Post and Auxiliary Nos. 701 and 3925. Special recognition was given to past and present commanders, VFW presidents and Department officers, followed by a program on the VFW Children's Home at Eaton Rapids.

During testimonial dinner ceremonies, Mac Packard was honored as Present Junior Vice-Commander of his local District, which has 28 Posts from the Lansing to Monroe areas. The Packards were overnight guests of Mrs. Thelma Coulino of Erie.

Ask Project COPE

QUESTION: I recently read that at least 50 percent of all deaf children are first wrongly diagnosed as mentally retarded. I also have two friends whose children were discovered to have large hearing losses when they were past three years old. In both cases, a family friend noticed that something seemed wrong and that their speech development was behind and suggested that the children's hearing be examined. Pediatricians had never suggested hearing evaluations and had shrugged off the slowness in speech, insinuating that the mothers were being over-anxious. What can be done to detect hearing problems early? Are there signs in infants that parents can look for?

ANSWER: A child's most important learning will take place between birth and four years of age. The child learns to communicate — first, to understand what people say and then, to talk. To do this, a baby must have usable hearing. If you think that your baby has a hearing problem, tell your doctor immediately. The child should have his ears examined by a physician and an audiologist should test hearing acuity by machine. A baby's hearing may be tested at any age. It is vital that a child with a hearing loss receive proper medical help and special training, if needed, as soon as possible. Your school district's special education director can advise you about where to find an audiologist and about other special services.

You can do some simple tests to find out if your baby has normal hearing if you know what to look for. Here are some basic guides. As weeks go by, if your baby can't do most of the things listed, DON'T WAIT. He may have a hearing problem.

Birth to 3 months—Is startled by loud sounds. Is soothed by mother's voice.

3 to 6 months—Enjoys rattles or sound toys. Imitates his own noises. Turns eyes and head to search for location of sound. Responds to mother's voice.

6 to 10 months—Responds to own name, telephone, a voice even when not loud. Understands "no," "bye" or other common words.

10 to 15 months—Can point to or look at familiar objects or people when asked to do so. Imitates simple words and sounds.

15 to 18 months—Follows simple spoken directions. First words are on their way. Many more words come by 18 months.

(Project COPE is a federally funded program which is being operated during the current school year by Special Education Region V for Chelsea, Manchester, and Whitmore Lake School Districts. Its aim is to inform the community about the special problems and needs of preschool children. Those who have questions, concerns, or who wish to refer a child for diagnostic services can contact Ellen Eagan, Project COPE Director, at 475-9131, extension 50 or Dr. DeYoung at extension 48.)

Vice-President Mondale Will Address Democrats

Vice-President Walter Mondale will give the keynote address at the Michigan Democratic Party's April 16 Jefferson-Jackson Dinner in Detroit.

Honorary chairperson of the 1977 Jefferson-Jackson Dinner is Senator Don Riegel. Don Tucker, Oakland county attorney and former legislative counsel to Senator Hart, is serving as general chairperson, aided by ticket co-chairpersons Sue Freund and George Gore and program book co-chairpersons Gail McKnight and Phil Mastin.

Tickets for the dinner, which are available to the public are $37.50 for a single and $75 for a couple and may be obtained from the Party's Metropolitan Office, 1535 E. Lafayette, Detroit 48207, (313) 965-3041 or from local Jeff-Jack chairpersons.

"It will be an exciting event, and certainly a memorable one," Winograd commented. "We invite anyone who would like to hear the Vice-President and to honor Phil Hart to join us April 16 in Detroit's Cobo Hall."

According to State Chairman Morley Winograd, Mondale will lead the Party's Tribute to Phil Hart, former U.S. Senator who died in late 1976.

"We are certainly looking forward to welcoming the vice-president on his first visit to Michigan since the '76 campaign," Winograd said. "We are pleased that he wishes to join us in honoring Senator Hart."

Speaking of Hart shortly after his death, Mondale noted, "He was one of the finest people I ever encountered, a man whose decency, integrity, courage, and gentleness earned him the respect and affection of all who knew him."

In addition to the 7:30 p.m. dinner, a discussion of the 1965 Voting Rights Act will be conducted during the afternoon of April 16. Nationally noted Democrats will direct a re-examination of the bill which Hart felt to be his most meaningful Senate accomplishment.

Washtenaw Bike Riders Guide Now Available

"Bike Rides in Washtenaw County" published by the Washtenaw County Parks Commission is now available through local bike shops. The new guide offers maps and descriptions of more than 20 bike rides in both urban and rural Washtenaw county.

Funded by the Urban Area Transportation Study Committee, "Bike Rides" consists of a heavy-weight pocketed folder containing 10 small maps and one large county map. Each of the small maps features a bike route recommended for pleasant bicycling. Descriptions of distance, surface conditions and traffic, terrain, points of interest, rest and refreshment, as well as names of nearby bike shops are listed for each ride. The large map locates the general area of each of the individual rides within the county. "Bike Rides" also provides historical highlights of the county's small villages.

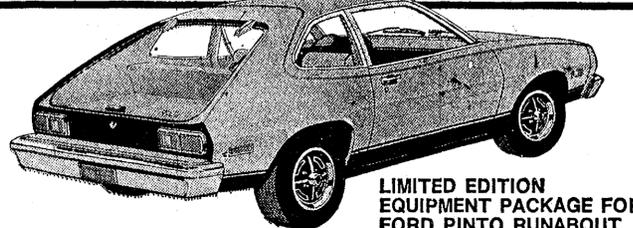

Washtenaw County Parks and Urban Area Transportation Study are making these guides available to residents free of charge. The Parks office at 2355 W. Stadium, Ann Arbor, as well as the following bike and hardware stores are distribution sites for the popular brochure: The Pedal Centre on Plymouth Rd.; Campus Bike & Toy on E. William; Ann Arbor Cyclery on Packard; All Sport Bicycles on Washtenaw; Kolin's Cycling Center on E. Hoover; Schaefer Sporting Goods on Michigan Ave., Ypsilanti; Hackney Hardware on Main St., Dexter; Hornet Bike Shop on S. Ann Arbor St., Saline; and Gambles on Main St., Chelsea.

Those who would like to have a Guide mailed may write WCP-ARC at P. O. Box 645, Ann Arbor 48107 enclosing 25 cents to cover postage.

On ACT (American College Testing Program) tests taken in 1975-76 by 86,000 Michigan students, Central Michigan University was the second most named Michigan school when students indicated their top three choices.

School Board Briefs

At a regular Board of Education meeting Monday, April 4, present were Haselschwardt, Daniels, Feeney, Tobin, Stirling, Schafer, Hodgson, Superintendent Cameron, Business Manager Mills, Principals Conklin, Wojcicki and Benedict and Acting Assistant Principal Schave. Several guests also attended the meeting.

Meeting called to order at 8:10 p.m. by President Haselschwardt. The minutes of March 21 and 28 were approved as presented.

Martin Tobin was appointed as the board delegate to the biennial election for Washtenaw Intermediate School District Board of Education members.

Walter Hamilton, chairman of the Citizens Advisory Committee, presented a preliminary report to the board regarding their findings in studying the school system. The committee will present a full report to the board on April 18, and it will then be reported completely in The Standard and the newsletter.

A discussion of a millage election was held with representatives of the Citizens Committee.

The board directed the Business Manager to seek approval from the County Elections Committee to set May 23 as the date for a Special Millage election.

The board went into executive session at 9:53 p.m. and was called back to order at 10:45 p.m.

A resolution was adopted to exclude Mike Seyfried from the high school for the remainder of the 1976-77 school year, that restitution be made for the destroyed piano and that an Educational Planning and Placement Committee be formed, as provided by law, to determine what educational program is best for Seyfried in the future.

Two other juveniles were excluded for the 1976-77 school year.

A discussion was held regarding the possibility of pink slipping some teachers at the end of the school year because of possible financial problems.

The board went into executive session at 11:34 p.m. to discuss personnel. The meeting was called back to order at 12:50 a.m.

Meeting adjourned at 12:50 a.m.

Youth Killed In Pinckney Break-in

An 18-year-old youth is dead and two others in custody following a shoot-out between a Livingston County Sheriff's Deputy and three suspects during a break-in at Pinckney High school late on the evening of Sunday, April 3.

According to the Livingston County Sheriff's Department, the shooting occurred when deputies answered an alarm at Pinckney High school on M-36 and were confronted with a breaking and entering in progress. Deputy Ronald Craig Cooper was wounded by one of three fleeing suspects but returned fire, mortally wounding one of them.

A 16-year-old juvenile was apprehended at the scene by Cooper and the other deputies. Cooper was then hospitalized and is listed in stable condition at St. Joseph's Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor. The Livingston County Sheriff's Department stated that a 17-year-old youth was taken into custody at 8 a.m. Monday following the incident.

Candidates Sought For Lima Board

Lima township Supervisor Robert Musolf has requested that anyone interested in serving the township either as clerk or trustee should send a resume to Trustee Harold Gross, Treasurer Jean Tilt, or to the supervisor's office within the next 10 days.

A public meeting to select the two new board members will follow.

Vacancies for township clerk and trustee were created following the recent resignations of Trustee Wallace Fusilier and Clerk Leila Bauer.
