Lima Residents Seek Return To Normalcy

Lima township's inability to pursue business matters of mounting importance because of a two-member vacancy on the township board, and concern that Lima Supervisor challenge the appointment policy for vacancies with a costly election because of his inability to work with Lima's two remaining board members, drew the most comment at a special meeting in Lima township Monday evening.

Approximately 40 residents attended the meeting in Lima Township Hall, after many failed to receive notice that the meeting had been formally called off the previous day by Supervisor Musolf, who cited personal business conflicts as his reason.

Without the supervisor, a quorum of board members was not present, and therefore an official meeting could not be held. However, virtually everyone present remained for nearly 1½ hours of discussion before adjourning at approximately 9:30 p.m.

It was the opinion of the people that there was important work ahead for the township, namely matters of voter registration, Board of Appeals appointments, renewal of Washtenaw County Road Commission contracts, approval of the township budget, the payment of township bills and a decision on the Green Trailer Court proposal.

Names of the seven candidates seeking appointment to the two township board vacancies were then announced. Candidates for township clerk include Arlene Bareis, Betty Koch and Ray Nusca, while candidates for trustees are David Bacon, Robert Heller, Martin Merkel and Robert Wirtz.

Although state law provides for an elective process to fill township board vacancies, appointment is an equally feasible alternative and

North School Open House Slated Tonight

Parents, students and teachers will constitute the throng expected to gather at North school tonight for the school's annual Open House and Art Show, 6:30 p.m. to 8 p.m. The event will feature the artistic accomplishments of all elementary grade students currently attending the school.

As a special attraction, kindergarten through 5th grade rooms will be completely decorated in various artistic themes. Along with meeting many of the student artists in person, parents will be able to reacquaint themselves with North school teachers on an informal basis.

According to North school principal Robert Benedict, the event will conclude with refreshments served by the school's room mothers.

Daniel Gaunt Granted Law School Award

Some 200 University of Michigan law students were given a variety of awards in Ann Arbor Friday, April 15, during the U-M Law School's annual honors convocation. Among the award winners was Daniel E. Gaunt of 6151 Sibley Rd., a fall 1976 law school graduate who specialized in civil procedure.

Gaunt received a Lawyers Co-operative Publishing Co. Book Award, conferred annually upon those students having the highest grades in certain Law School courses.

Other award winners included members of the Order of the Coif, a national legal honor society; winners of various scholarships and academic prizes; finalists in the Henry M. Campbell Moot Court Competition; and editors of the Law School's legal journals, the WHITE CANE WEEK: Emphasizing the need for community support of programs for the blind are three Chelsea Lions Club members who prominently display symbols reminding the public of White Cane Week, April 21-30. White Cane Week is observed annually throughout the state, and is a time when Lions Club members solicit funds to finance Leader Dog Schools and the purchase of white canes for the visually impaired. Chelsea Village President Don Wood joined Michigan Governor William Milliken in issuing a proclamation declaring this week as White Cane Week. From left are Jeff Marklow, Larry Shepherd, chairman of White Cane Week, and Dale Cook.

Chelsea Lions Club Promoting Their First White Cane Week

With a proclamation of support from Chelsea Village President Don Wood, Chelsea Lions Club members launched their first annual White Cane Week, Sunday, April 24, joining Lions Clubs throughout Michigan in the statewide observance.

A proclamation dictating state support of White Cane Week was also delivered by Michigan Governor William G. Milliken earlier this week.

White Cane Week, which is scheduled to end Saturday, April 30, is a time when Lions seek to acquaint the public with its obligations to the more than 16,000 blind people in Michigan. Included in this effort is widespread exposure of the public to the law protecting persons using either Leader Dogs or White Canes.

Chelsea Lions have also been selling miniature white canes throughout the village to raise funds for several projects which benefit the blind. Among these projects are the Leader Dog School; Welcome Home for the Blind; and aid to the sight-handicapped through eye examinations and the purchase of eyeglasses.

Chairman of the Chelsea Lions Club White Cane Week benefit campaign is Larry Shepherd.

The idea of white canes for the blind is credited to George M. Bonham, who in 1930, was president of the Lions Club of Peoria, Ill. His idea was inaugurated by the Peoria Club at Christmas, 1930, when the club presented white canes to the blind of that city.

That act was brought to the attention of other Lions Clubs, and at an international convention of Lions in Toronto in 1932, presentation of white canes was adopted as an international movement.

In 1936, the movement was brought to the attention of the Michigan State Legislature, and the state legislature drew up and passed the White Cane Ordinance, giving the blind person with a white cane the right-of-way. Many other states have passed similar laws requiring all vehicles to stop when they see a person with a white cane.

School Board Asks 4.4 Mills For Operation

On Monday, April 25, the Chelsea Board of Education met in a special session. The meeting was called to present the board's reaction to the report recently submitted by the Citizen Advisory Committee, and to finalize the millage request for the special election being held on May 23. The board will ask for a 4.4 mill increase for school operating costs.

Board members agreed that a millage should be requested that would provide sufficient funds to meet the following objectives:

1. To replace more than $250,000 in school programs and community services cut from the operating budget over the past three years because of losses in state aid and the failure of recent millages. This would include, among other things, the return to public funding of the school's extra curricular activities and the lifting of the recent restrictions placed on community use of the school buildings. Three teaching positions lost due to the austerity budget would also be replaced.
2. To purchase five new buses. No new buses have been purchased by the district since the fall of 1975. The normal replacement rate for buses in the past has been four per year. The improved inspection and maintenance made possible by the new bus garage is lowering maintenance costs and is extending the usable life of buses. Even a well maintained vehicle, be it a family car or school bus eventually becomes too costly to be kept in safe running condition. Five of our buses are reaching this point.
3. To replace textbooks. Our tight budget over the past three years has not allowed us to replace old and outdated text books as needed. State law requires that public schools provide students with adequate textbooks. We are behind in this area.
4. To provide adequate teaching supplies. Expenditures in this area over the past three years have failed to keep up with inflation.
5. To improve the discipline and control in the high school. The locker room building has been a trouble spot in high school for many years. Its design and location makes supervision difficult, if not impossible. The Citizens' Committee proposes relocating the lockers in the halls of the main complex. The board agrees. The public address system in the high school does not allow for two-way communication between the main offices' and individual classrooms. Such a two-way system will allow for the rapid communication of the whereabouts of students at all times. This will eliminate the problem of unsupervised individuals wandering the halls during class, a situation that has contributed to the vandalism problem.

6. To make the salaries of the Chelsea teachers competitive with those in other schools in the county. Chelsea teachers have the dubious distinction of being among the lowest paid in the county. "If the number of requests for resumes received by the administration is any indication," says School Superintendent Charles Cameron, "many of our finest teachers are seeking employment in other districts and in industry where their services are more highly valued."
7. To improve the maintenance and appearance of the school buildings and grounds. Cost cutting measures initiated over the past three years have contributed to a decline in these areas. The appearance of our school buildings is a source of community pride. The citizen committee feels this should be a priority item and the board agrees.
8. The Citizens' Committee survey showed that many of the district's citizens felt that the counseling in the middle and high schools was inadequate, and that two counseling positions should be added. The board agrees.

"These are some of the major areas where funds raised by the additional millage would be used," says Board President Howard Haischwardt. "The board feels there are no frills in these proposals. They are necessary to allow the school district to do an adequate job of meeting community needs."

The proposals would require an additional 4.4 mills for operation. The total increase in taxes to each property owner would be less. An increase in the assessed value of property in the district does not result in additional dollars for school operation. However, the same increase in assessment does provide additional funds to retire the bonds on various building projects. The increase in the assessed value of property in the district in the past year will allow the district to lower the debt retirement millage by 1.15 mills. Thus the total

Two Qualify for State Forensics Meet

Pitting their oratorical skills against contestants from six Michigan districts, members of the Chelsea High forensics team emerged from regional competition at Brighton last Saturday with two state championship qualifiers and three place-winners from a total of eight entries.

Finishing in the top three to qualify for the state championships on May 7 in the University of Michigan's Frieze Building, Ann Arbor, were Julie Prohaska, 2nd, Women's Orator; and Doug Foreman, 3rd, Humorous Reading. Also placing from Chelsea were Gayle Albrecht, Informative Speaking; Tim Stubbs, Humorous Reading; and Julie Chapman, Storytelling.

"We had a pretty good showing against other teams in one of Michigan's strongest regions," Chelsea Coach William Coelius said in assessing his team's performance. "Because our region is so strong, our state qualifiers have an excellent chance to place among the top six finalists in the state championships."

Round one in the state tournament will begin at 9 a.m. The day-long competition is open to the public.

Girls Hosting Chelsea Relays Saturday

With only two days remaining before competition begins in the 2nd annual Chelsea Relays to be held here Saturday, April 30, members of the CHS girls track team are down to perfecting the finer points of their strategy. Their aim is a championship in the 10-team meet.

Schools to be represented include 1976 defending champion Saline, runner-up Chelsea, Brighton, Dexter, East Jackson, Jackson Northwest, Jackson County Western, Mason, Pinckney and Tecumseh. Field events are slated to begin at 1 p.m. with running events to follow at 2:30 p.m.

All field event competition will once again be structured on a two-person relay format. The combined total of the best throws and jumps of both relay team members will decide places in each event.

Running events will all be relays which will include the shuttle hurdles, two-mile relay, sprint medley, 400-yard relay, 880-yard relay and mile relay.

Viewers will be charged an admission fee of 50 cents per adult, and 25 cents per student.

NORTH SCHOOL ART SHOW: Putting the finishing touches on each artistic "tour de force" which will be on exhibit tonight during North School's Open House and Art Show, are members of Mrs. Mary Coulam's 4th grade art class. Parents, teachers and students are all expected to attend the event. The children seated and standing,

PBB Quarantine Hits I. Kozminski Herd

Michigan's PBB problem wound its way into the local community when state agricultural officials announced the quarantine of the 229-animal dairy herd owned by I. Kozminski, on the Jack Rose Farm, 4678 Peckins Rd. Kozminski, through his wife, refused to comment on the situation.

The quarantine was imposed after the results of tests conducted by state officials 2½ months ago, showed a few animals in the herd had PBB levels in excess of federal guidelines.

Quarantines are imposed when any cow in the herd produces milk containing more than .1 ppm (parts per million) of PBB (polybrominated biphenyl), a toxic fire retardant which was accidentally mixed with dairy feed four years ago. Since that time, about 600 herds have either been quarantined or destroyed.

The .1 ppm figure indicates the cow may have a tolerance level in meat above .3 ppm, which is the maximum contamination level allowed for safe human meat and milk consumption, according to Food and Drug Administration guidelines. During a quarantine, milk may be sold if it is under the safe level, but cattle may not be

HEADS STATE ASSOCIATION: Seated behind a desk perpetually piled high with important school business matters is Fred Mills, Chelsea School District business manager. Mills was elected president of Michigan School Business Officials, a professional state association, during the organization's annual convention in Grand Rapids, April 20-22.

Mills Heads Michigan Schools Business Managers Association

Fred Mills, 37, business manager of the Chelsea School District, was elected president of Michigan School Business Officials, a 550-member professional association, during the group's annual convention in Grand Rapids, April 20-22. His one-year term is effective June 1.

Mills has served on the professional association's board of directors for the past five years, and was president-elect for the 1976-77 year. He has been business manager of Chelsea schools since 1966 after beginning his career as a teacher in the local school system in 1963.

Upon receiving his bachelor's degree in math from Eastern Michigan University, Mills continued his education, earning his master's degree from the University of Michigan's Public School of Administration. Since that time, he has taken graduate courses in business management and accounting from both the University of Michigan and Michigan Technological University.

Mills resides at 228 Washington St. with his wife, Vonetta, and their two sons.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

It's true that I keep bringing my barber less hair to cut and he keeps going up on his price, but the high level of conversation I get out of him is a benefit I got to consider. Use to, all he could talk on, and he didn't quit talking on, was fishing and baseball. Now he can fill your ear with editorials on everything from the Dow Jones average to the Carter Administration's policy on farm price supports. I figure part of the reason behind the upgrading in his information is that he gets $8 for a razor-cut trim the young fellers like, and his wife runs a beauty parlor. Put together, that means he has money to put in stocks and bonds, and there ain't nothing that'll hold a man's attention better than what's happening to his money.

Anyhow, Mister Editor, I was in town Saturday morning getting my ears lowered and stuffed with the latest word on where to have your gall bladder out. It seems the barber put money in a chain of nursing homes and found out later the chain also has surgical centers in several big cities. He got to flogging his money and he found the nursing homes and the surgery places are built around the Medicare program, that 90 per cent of their business is with Medicare patients. He learned that all the surgery is done in big eastern cities, where the charge for an operation like removing a gall bladder runs three times what it does in the South and West. His stock is growing, he said, and the reason is the company knows to do business where the money is.

Not that the barber's tip will do me any good. The only stock I ever put money in was a few head of beef calves, and I lost money feeding them out. The real good that come from my haircut was the ammunition I got for the Saturday night session at the country store. The fellers was fuly impressed when I laid that item on em about how Medicare will pay $1,000 for a gall bladder in New York City, and only $300 in Findlay, Ohio. But Ed Doolittle, as usual, had done his homework. He said Congress is studying a national fee scale for Medicare, and it is finding some sharp differences in the cost of providing medical service in different parts of the country.

Other than Ed's Medicare follow-up, the session was like them hoop skirts wimmen use to wear. The fellers covered everthing and toucheded nothing. They're like politicians on television that git in two minutes of campaigning between the headache remedy commercials. It's all part of the package, but it don't hold your attention.

For instant, Zeke Grubb's contribution was that the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration spent $27,000 studying why prisoners want to escape from prison. So I figure I got my money's worth at the barbershop. I'm like my old lady that spends two hours in the beauty parlor and comes out three times what it does in the South and West. His stock is growing, he said, and the reason is the

Plawewski is Postage Prince
 A state senator pushing for limits on lawmakers' mailing privileges was the top spender on postage in the Michigan legislature last year.

The PSC on a 2-1 vote, gave Bell authority to collect $37 million more annually from customers. That's on top of a $22 million more annual rate hike the company got in November while the PSC was pondering its final decision on Bell's total $178.2 million request.

Although the total $59 million Bell won from the PSC is only about a third of what it asked, the PSC left open a door that will mean another certain boost in bills this fall.

It told the company that when it renegotiates a wage contract with some 20,000 employees, it can come back and charge customers almost automatically for the higher expense.

Customers with one-party basic service will pay 35-47 cents more next month than they did this month. But come fall, that increase could be duplicated again.

In the past 11 months, Bell has been given permission to raise rates to collect in excess of $100 million more each year.

Delinquent Youth Err Quickly

These are the statistics: More than half of delinquent male youths released from state institutions get in trouble again with the law within a year.

This is a partial solution, says Dale Shears, co-ordinator of the office that evaluates the state's youth institutions: IOBS.

"If you're not an academic kid, the work world is the only thing, and if that's not there, then there's nothing there," says Shears.

"When you're a poor kid from a poor family, and you don't have job skills, the temptation to turn to illegal means is strong."

He's suggesting legislation to help those young people into the job world.

His numbers show that 30 percent of male youths are arrested again within just 30 months after their release from state institutions, and 52 percent are arrested after a year—most for felonies.

Tornadoes that ravaged the Michigan communities of Augusta, Comstock, Olivet and surrounding areas left an estimated $4.5 million in damages, mainly to homes and crops. Gov. William Milliken has sought federal financial aid.

A bill that allows police wiretaps in major heroin and cocaine investigations has won House approval. It still needs the Senate's okay.

A measure that would again let adult motorcyclists ride without helmets is pending before the House.

 "Michigan Law Review" and the "Journal of Law Reform."

Featured speaker at the convocation was Peter O. Steiner, president of the American Association of University Professors (AAUP) and a professor of economics and law at U-M. Speaking on "Legal Success and Legal Failure," Steiner told the future lawyers that "the services of lawyers, judges, process servers, are vital to the workings of a market system... not dismayed if you are but the lubricant, the grease, of commerce."

Among changes in this year's honors convocation, the National Bank of Detroit Estate Planning Award was renamed the "National Bank of Detroit-Alan Polasky Estate Planning Memorial Award" in honor of the late U-M law professor.

Trucks carry 99 percent of livestock to market.

Records show that Sen. David Plawewski, D-DeARBorn Heights, spent $29,334 on newsletters and other mailings—three times the average spent by his Senate colleagues.

Plawewski is sponsoring a bill in the Senate to limit the amount of mail lawmakers can send out in the three weeks before an election.

He doesn't think his own record is excessive, saying those who spend little on postage must not be answering their mail.

The Senate's lowest spender was Harry DeMaso, R-Battle Creek, who rang up a meager $574.71 in 1976.

House members cannot exceed their self-imposed limit of $10,000 a year.

Flea, Craft Market Set For May 7

The corner of S. Main St. and old U9-12 W. will be transformed into a stalking grounds for bargain hunters and art collectors on Saturday, May 7, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. when the Chelsea Jaycee Auxiliary Flea and Craft Market gets underway.

Organized as a benefit for the North School Playground Improvement Fund, the market will feature an assortment of treasures in booths obtained at a nominal donation fee by area clubs and individuals. All booth donations will be turned over to the playground fund, while proceeds from the sale of all items will be kept by the group or person selling the items.

"The perfect location for this sale will give people a chance to sell their items and make some money, as well as provide these people with an opportunity to donate to the playground fund," an Auxiliary spokesman explained.

Spaces for either a single or double booth are available and may be reserved by calling Lou Tudor, 475-9362, or Sandy Meyer, 475-1277, co-chairmen of the event. All area clubs and individuals are welcome to participate.

Tests which showed some of Kozminski's herd contaminated by PBB, also indicate there is now a new outbreak of PBB contamination in Michigan. Of Michigan's total of 15 quarantined herds, two are in Washtenaw county. The second quarantined herd is owned by Dale Lindemann of Dexter.

Contamination of each cattle owner's herd resulted when animals in the herd either ate some PBB contaminated feed from a grain elevator or were acquired from an already contaminated herd.

Ask Project COPE

QUESTIONS: My sister recently gave birth to a baby girl who is practically blind. She and her husband are still very upset and don't know where to go for help. They have no idea how they will raise this child or what they should be doing. Can you help?

Answer: First of all, your sister and her husband will want to keep their baby under the care of a good ophthalmologist (medical doctor specializing in treatment and diseases of the eyes) so that he can keep observing the baby's condition and give the child the benefits of new methods of treatments if some should arise. Public health nurses at the Washtenaw County Health Department can make home visits and can give you more information about vision problems and about the child's health and development. The nurses also have contact with many agencies and professional staff who may be able to help.

Next to securing good medical care for the child comes early attention to his learning environments. Parents can call their local school system and ask to speak with the Director of Special Education so that they can express their concerns and make a referral for services. Parents may also call the Washtenaw Intermediate School District Office at 769-6522 and speak with Margaret Marquez, program supervisor of the physically handicapped, about receiving services. Both the Intermediate School District and the local school district personnel will work together with parents to help provide programs and support. For children 0-3 years of age an educational consultant, skilled in problems of the blind and partially sighted, can come to the home regularly to offer parents help in "setting their child to develop as normally and fully as possible. For 4- and 5-year-olds, there are nursery school-like classroom settings which can help a child grow further. When a child begins school, there continue to be educational aids and services offered.

It is most important that a handicapped child receive the right attention early. The schools stand ready to help any child with special needs from birth through 26.

(Project COPE is a federally funded program which is being operated during the current school year by Special Education Region V for Chelsea, Manchester, and Whitmore Lake School Districts. Its aim is to inform the community about the special problems and needs of pre-school children. Those who have questions, concerns, or who wish to refer a child for diagnostic services can contact Ellen Eagan, Project COPE Co-ordinator at 475-9131, ext. 50 or Dr. DeYoung at ext. 48.)

Youth Rams Side of Sheriff Patrol Car

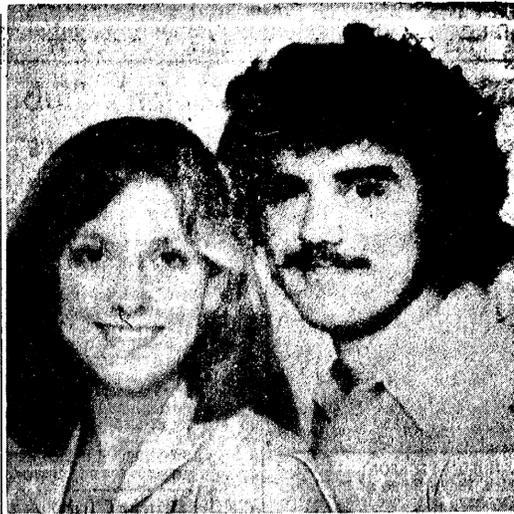

An 18-year-old Chelsea youth was ticketed for a double violation of the traffic code Saturday, April 23, when the car he was driving slammed into the side of a Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department patrol car, injuring two sheriff's deputies.

According to police reports, the accident occurred about 9:30 p.m. Saturday. The patrol car was northbound on M-52 when Randy Sweeney failed to stop at the stop sign at the end of the exit ramp off I-94 at M-52. His vehicle struck the patrol car on the right side, which in turn left a four-foot trail of skid marks.

Sweeney and a passenger in his car, Michelle Sarbach, 18, also of Chelsea, were not injured in the incident, nor was a passenger in the patrol car, Donald Coltan, 25, of Dexter.

However, Deputy Richard Foster, 37, driver of the patrol car, suffered minor injuries, and his partner, Deputy Paul Wade, 27, was transported to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor, where he was admitted for treatment of serious injuries. He has since been released.

Sweeney was cited for failure to yield the right-of-way, and for defective equipment after an examination of his vehicle by sheriff's deputies revealed the car had no brake control.

HELLER-TAYLOR: Mr. and Mrs. Donald C. Alber of Jackson Rd., Dexter, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Carol Ann Heller, to Robert Leland Taylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Taylor of Fairfax, Va. The bride-elect is a graduate of Eastern Michigan University. Her fiancé currently attends Michigan State University. A June 25 wedding is planned.

New, Improved Container Now In Use By Home Meal Service

After experimenting with a new container used to store hot meals prior to their delivery to Chelsea Home Meal Service subscribers, directors of the meal service program decided to purchase the containers based on their improvement over the service program's older models. Economically, the new containers are available at nearly half the cost of those they will replace. The newer models are also constructed in a more compact size, keep meals warmer, and hold eight complete meals as opposed to six, which was the maximum held by the old containers.

Lt. Gov. James Damman Speaks in Manchester

The Farmland and Open Space Preservation Act of 1974 has enabled farmers to protect more than 150,000 acres of farmland from increases in local property taxes, Lieutenant Governor James J. Damman said.

Voluntary participation in the Act, to the beginning of 1977, has led to some 900 development rights agreements between farm landowners and the state, Damman said.

Damman's remarks were contained in an address given before the Manchester chapter of the Future Farmers of America on Monday evening, April 25.

"Farmers currently hold title to slightly less than one third of the total land area of Michigan. They actually produce crops on about two thirds of these holdings—thus the agricultural product of Michigan currently occupies approximately 7 million acres," Damman noted.

"It is obvious that this resource allocation to food and fibre production fulfills an essential need," Damman said, "and that the interests of agricultural land ownership must receive careful consideration in any land use management policy."

Damman said that while the Farmland and Open Space Preservation Act of 1974 has been functioning as intended, "much remains to be done in land use policy. . . . The rights of private farmland ownership must be recognized, just as the dependency of all citizens on products from farms is acknowledged."

"Acceptable mechanisms for serving public interest in land use, while maintaining equity for those who own and farm land, are not easy to achieve," Damman cautioned. "Several bills now in the legislature are directed to land use management, and will be followed carefully by the Executive Office to insure that fairness and equity

How many times have your children asked you about the future? How many times have they imitated firemen, policemen and doctors? These games are fun, but what happens when a child is suddenly a senior in high school and cannot play games anymore? Careers become serious business, as student decides "what to do." Chelsea Jaycees, with the help of area businessmen and Chelsea High school, are attempting to make career decisions easier. On Wednesday, April 27, a number of senior high school students were placed in various professional and business offices in the Chelsea area as part of the Jaycee Career Day program. The students spent anywhere from an hour to a complete day working, or observing others at work, in the career which interested them most. They were able to ask questions, and more importantly, to see for themselves what a daily routine was like in that particular occupational field. Practical experience, as opposed to books or lectures on careers gave the students a first-hand glimpse of the assets and drawbacks of each particular job. In order to make Career Day a success, the Jaycees sought help from various community business firms including Chelsea Community Hospital, the Chelsea Police, Dygert & McClear Co., Chelsea Lumber Co., Parke-Davis, Ann Arbor Federal Savings, Merkel Home Furnishings, Huron Valley Optical, Chelsea Milling, Chelsea Pharmacy, Foxy Lady, Gar-Nett's Flowers, Lane Animal Hospital, R. A. Steger Accountant, Chelsea's Chrysler Proving Grounds, MDSI and Staffan Funeral Home. Other business offices were contacted, but students chose to experience jobs available only in these few business establishments. According to the Jaycees, response of the Chelsea community to their project confirmed a Jaycee belief that the community does care about its students and young people. Area Churchwomen To Be Honor Guests at May Fellowship Day

Area churchwomen will be honored guests at May Fellowship Day, a celebration sponsored by Church Women United on May 6. During a noon luncheon at St. Paul United Church of Christ, wives of clergymen, mothers, secretaries and others in full-time Christian service will be recognized by members of their respective parishes.

A special program has been planned. A special program following the luncheon will consist of a panel discussion on Christian needs in the community and possible solutions to these needs.

The Rev. James Stacey, pastor of Chelsea Baptist church, will moderate a panel which will include Linda Ormsby, director of Social Services; Sam Johnson, knowledgeable in the needs of senior citizens; Joan Brown, clinical worker in mental health; and Pat Stirling of Church Women United.

As a result of the panel discussion, it is hoped a solid plan for community action may be formulated. Local churches, with assistance from the Ministerial Fellowship and Church Women United, will then be able to work together to implement the plan.

The public is invited to participate in the Fellowship Day luncheon and discussion, a parley of concern to all. Those attending are asked to bring individual table service and a dish to pass. Beverages will be provided.

Baby-sitting will also be available, with children to bring their own sack lunches.

Fair Board Meeting Notes

The regular meeting of the Chelsea Community Fair Board, held the third Thursday of each month, was called to order April 21, 8 p.m. by President Lloyd Grau.

Present were L. Grau, president; E. Keezer, board secretary; K. Poljan, treasurer; E. Heller, fair manager; R. Leach, fair secretary; R. McCalla, G. Herrick, A. Stejnaway, P. Merkel, R. Poljan, F. Sweeney, H. Trinkle, J. Merkel, III, and F. Renton, board members.

Others present were J. Wellnitz, Janet Schulze, Tim Schulze and Dave Nicewicz.

Absent were G. Heydlauff, vice-president; R. L. Esser, Jr., H. Gross, R. Haist, C. Staphish, K. Bradbury, J. Klink, C. Koenn, and P. Frisinger, board members.

Among other things, the Fair Board is deeply involved in preparations and timing of events for the Chelsea Community Fair to be held Aug. 23-27.

Through lack of volunteer help, originally threatened the horse show this year, community response cleared the way for continuation of the show. The 1977 horse show will be under the capable management of Merle Sibley.

Anyone interested in helping with the fair is asked to call Ruth Leach, 475-7329, or Earl Heller, 475-7078.

economically advantageous. Because a number of well-qualified candidates had submitted applications for the vacancies, it was felt an election was unnecessary.

Reasoning against an election, residents attending the meeting pointed out that an election was a time consuming and expensive process. An election could involve more than four months of preparation and approximately $3,000 in costs before the required waiting periods, gubernatorial actions and the actual election were carried out.

It was felt equally rewarding results could be obtained more efficiently by making appointments to the two board vacancies at the regular May 2 meeting of the Lima Township Board. Such action would insure an end to added delays and costs in conducting township business.

A straw vote was taken to gauge public opinion as to whether to proceed with an election. No hands were raised.

In other action Monday evening, residents stated they felt the political turmoil currently afoot in Lima township "was more a clash of personalities than a clash of issues," and then applauded the two members who were present for attending the meeting though it had been cancelled.

"We're happy to see that at least some board members are concerned about what is going on in our township," one resident stated.

The meeting ended on an orderly, friendly and open note with many residents vowing to attend the May 2 board meeting, where they planned to make their demands for a normalized and responsible local government known.

Real Estate

By PAUL FRISINGER
REALTOR

INGREDIENTS FOR INVESTMENT

Housing prices have gone up steeply since the mid-60's for two basic reasons. First, the shortage of new savings made it difficult to finance private housing, and the number of new housing units built each year was far below that what it should have been. Since there is a steady growth in population, this puts pressure on our housing reserves and prices rise.

Second, there have been inflationary increases in the labor and materials costs that go into building a house. In most urban areas, land values continue to go up each year, too. Historically, real estate values have always increased faster than the cost of living. Thus, it is an excellent inflation hedge.

So here are the ready-made ingredients for a good investment. We all need housing of some kind, and according to the experts, the price of housing will continue to go even higher, though perhaps, not as dramatically as in the past few years.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at FRISINGER REALTY CO., 935 S. Main St., Chelsea. Phone: 475-8881; evenings 475-2621. We're here to help!

Track Team Romps Over Novi, 104-53

Chelsea's boys varsity track team successfully opened its Southeastern Conference dual meet schedule Thursday, April 21, by crushing Novi, 104-53, on the Novi track. The victory raised Chelsea's season record to 4-1 over-all and 1-0 in the conference.

In reviewing his team's performance, Coach Bert Kruse said, "Our victory was simply a case of having far more over-all strength and depth. Novi has two or three very good individuals, but lacks the over-all talent to seriously challenge most teams."

"We were impressed with the improvement of our relay teams, as well as the usual strong performance of the distance runners and field events competitors," the coach added.

Rick Haller and Randy Sweeney were double winners for Chelsea. Haller won the 880-yard run in 2:06.8, and the mile in 4:49.3. Sweeney's victory in the high jump came as he cleared the bar at 5'9". He also took the 120-yd. high hurdles with a time of :17.1.

Other good performances were a 10:28.8 two-mile effort by Phil Frame, only .7 off his own record. Coach Kruse predicts Frame will "knock that time way down in this week's meet." Freshman Bob Ball's throw of 127'2" in the discus was only a foot off the Chelsea school record.

Chelsea trackmen will travel to Brighton today for the biggest dual meet of the season. Starting time will be 4:30 p.m.

"Brighton, exceptionally strong in the distance runs, has been coming along in other events, especially the relays, and will be difficult to beat," Coach Kruse said. "We will need a strong effort and a bit of luck to stay with them. If we get some good weather along with Brighton's excellent new track, we should have very good times and performances by both teams," he concluded.

JAWS DEMONSTRATED: Providing viewers with a first-hand demonstration of the capabilities of Chelsea Fire Department's new Hurst "Jaws" tool, is fireman Larry Adams, right. In only minutes, Adams was able to pry open the jammed door of the station wagon pictured above. In a real emergency situation, the efficiency of this tool could mean the difference between life and death for accident victims trapped inside a demolished vehicle. The tool features several attachments including a set of jaws for spreading metal or steel, and scissors for cutting through either substance.

The jaws may also be placed on two ends of a chain to bend metal or steel after being attached to both sides of the piece. The tool is operated by a 5 h.p. air-cooled engine running a portable hydraulic compressor, and can exert a maximum force of 12,000 pounds. Looking on in amazement as Adams demonstrates the tool is Bud Hanked, left, also of the Chelsea Fire Department. Members of the Kiwanis Club of Chelsea were invited guests to view the amazing demonstration of the new tool Monday evening.

ABWA Makes Boss of the Year Award

Doug Truax, manager of publishing at the Institute of Social Research, Ann Arbor, was recognized as Boss of the Year by the Chelsea chapter of the American Business Women's Association during the group's first annual Boss Night at the Flaming Pit, Ann Arbor, Tuesday evening. About 42 ABWA members and their bosses attended the event.

Truax was nominated by ABWA member Suzanne Morrison, principal secretary to the publishing division at ISR. She joined eight other members in submitting a candidate for one of the association's highest honors.

The candidates were judged by a three-member panel which included Beverly Peebles, Roy Clements and Mary Barinoff.

Boss Night, perhaps the single most eloquent statement of the ABWA creed, celebrated the close and loyal relationship ideally shared by employer and employee.

For the occasion, members appeared in formal attire, mingling in a convivial atmosphere which was heightened by a decor of miniature top hats before each place setting, to underscore the "We Tip Our Hats to Our Bosses" theme.

Serving on the Boss Night committee were ABWA members Edie Brooks, Suzanne Morrison, Ella White, Shirley Schneider, Doris Sannes, Delphine Bolanowski and Donna Williams.

Following dinner, a summary of the association's history was delivered by Mrs. White. Then, guest speaker Robert Ponte, a practicing attorney in Chelsea, was introduced by Mrs. Schneider.

"I am particularly pleased to speak before the ABWA here tonight as I appreciate the need for community sponsorship of women in business," Ponte began. "It's good to see support as demonstrated by the presence of so many bosses."

Ponte explained the implication of two recent acts, passed by the Michigan State Legislature, on women in business. The two acts, the Open Meetings Act and the Freedom of Information Act, were described by Ponte as relating to an individual's responsibility as a citizen.

Of the Open Meetings Act, Ponte said, "The act doesn't necessarily mean we'll have better decisions by governing bodies as a result of public input, or that these bodies will take in everything the public has to say, but it does lead to public confidence in public bodies."

Ponte added that the second act, the Public Information Act, gave individuals an opportunity to see how political decisions were reached because these decisions were often based on statistical information now available to the public.

"The act also gives the public more information to use for personal decisions and as a source of input into governmental bodies."

An individual can make sure governmental bodies are relating to information they need, regarding decisions which affect our personal lives," Ponte concluded.

After a question and answer period on Ponte's address, ABWA members listened to vocational speaker Doris Simms, who explained her duties as a medical transcriber. The thrust of her speech was to encourage secretaries to specialize in their field, citing work as a medical secretary or legal secretary as good examples of specialization.

The nearly three-hour dinner meeting then concluded with a benediction by ABWA member Betty Koch.

An independent shopping survey in over 25 major U.S. cities shows this 16hp Wheel Horse garden tractor averaged $224 less than this IH1650
$310 less than this JD300
Compare these three quality, brand name 16 HP garden tractors. Wheel Horse, John Deere. And International Harvester. Each is known for its performance and dependability.
Now compare prices. An independent shopping survey taken in January, 1977, among dealers in over 25 major U.S. cities specifically showed, the average of the actual quoted prices for the John Deere 300 was $2630; International Harvester 1650 was $2544; and Wheel Horse C-160 was $2320.
In some instances, I.H. and J.D.'s average actual quoted prices were comparable or lower than Wheel Horse.
Prices do not include local taxes. Some prices were higher, some lower. Check your local Wheel Horse Sales Inc. dealer for his prices.
Consistently, Wheel Horse delivers price, performance and dependability that are hard to beat.
Why pay more when you can own a Wheel Horse!

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor, We are concerned with the situation on the Chelsea school buses. The discipline on the buses is very lax.

We feel that there should be volunteer monitors on each bus, because of the fact that the drivers cannot handle driving and disciplining at the same time. Their mind should be on driving so that there aren't so many near accidents when the drivers look up to see what's going on near the back of the bus. The safety of the children is in jeopardy.

On most all the buses here in Chelsea, the rules are not being enforced when they should be. Here is a list of rules that some of the students riding the buses are doing (which aren't to be allowed) fights, spitting, screaming, yelling, throwing objects, eating, moving around while the bus is in motion, hands out the windows, taking seats apart, and smoking cigarettes and dope. Students at all age levels are involved with these situations. Can the concerned public take action to provide better and more supervision? Concerned Students of Chelsea High.

Summer Softball Leagues Organizing

Final plans are now being made for the 1977 Men's Adult Softball Leagues. Again this year, the Recreation Department will offer three leagues including Fastpitch League; an "A" Slowpitch League; and a "B" Slowpitch League.

Fastpitch games will be played on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday nights, beginning the week of May 29.

Slowpitch leagues will begin that same week and their games will be played Monday, Tuesday, and Thursday evenings.

An organizational meeting for all teams wishing to enter the Chelsea leagues will be held on Wednesday, May 4, 7:30 p.m. in Room 118, Chelsea High school. Each team must have one representative present at the meeting.

Information concerning the 1977 season has been sent to all managers of 1976 teams. Any new team or former team which has not received the information is requested to contact Sam Vogel, 475-7831.

Sluggers of the Week

KURT OWINGS, a Chelsea High junior now playing his third year on the varsity squad, began sharpening his natural talent for baseball as a little leaguer many years ago. The 6'2", 165-lb. pitcher occasionally doubles as a first baseman although he prefers, and plays, most games from the mound. A left-handed batter and thrower, Owings narrowed his sights on baseball as his principal sport because, as he said, "I enjoy the competition, and going against other schools. It increases the field of talent against which I can measure my skill." According to Owings, Chelsea's chances for a league title this season depend on the outcome of Chelsea's game with Dexter this Friday. "If we beat them, we can beat anybody in the league," he said. Because of rain this past week the Bulldogs have lost a good number of practice days. "We couldn't get a lot done because we had to practice inside, but that just means we will have to concentrate harder to win against Dexter," Owings explained. He cited defense as Chelsea's greatest asset, pointing out the team had only one error in three games this year. "That's helpful when you're pitching," the slugger said. Owings, who pitched a three-hitter against Brighton last week, shared one of the secrets to his pitching success. "You can tell a hitter's weakness, what he'll go for and what he will probably miss, after only a couple of pitches," he revealed. "You can also tell from his stance what to pitch next." Owings has one brother, and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Owings of 43 Butternut Ct.

JOE EWALD, whose baseball career dates back to T-ball, which he played when he was 8-years-old, is now in his second year on the varsity team. The 5'10", 155-lb. junior "switched around in the infield a lot" before finally coming to a semi-permanent halt as shortstop. In describing the most valuable qualities a shortstop can possess, Ewald explained quick reactions and an ability to throw accurately ranked at the top of the list. A right-handed batter and thrower, Ewald managed to play on both varsity and JV baseball teams last season. While in a JV game against Lincoln, Ewald demonstrated that his toughness as a player is not to be taken lightly. He was pitching in that game when he pulled a back muscle on his second pitch. "It hurt a lot," the slugger said, "but I kept going and we won. Later that night, I couldn't move because my back was so sore." This season Chelsea has "as good a chance of any team to win the conference title," according to Ewald. He cited excellent team potential and good, capable hitters as the basis for his reasoning. Although Ewald has been out of action because of an injury early in the season, he will be back on the field in approximately one week. He has one brother, three sisters, and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Ewald of 802 Flanders St.

"After last winter's severe cold, a lot of homeowners are warming up to the electric heat pump. Here's why!"

Home pictured built by Guenther Building Company, Ann Arbor, Michigan.

Today's heat pump is one of the most energy-efficient ways to heat your home, apartment, office or commercial building. It returns over 1 1/2 units of heat for every unit of energy it uses.

Think what this can mean in conserving energy and helping to keep your heating and cooling costs down.

There's a unique reason why the heat pump is an outstandingly efficient heating system.

It makes good use of outdoor heat.

Yes. Even in winter there's heat in the outdoor air that can help keep you warm. The trick is to move that heat inside where you can use it. That's what the heat pump does. Only during very low temperatures is supplementary heat needed.

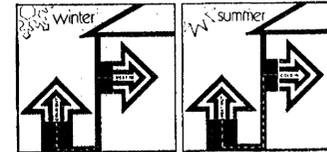

In summer, the heat pump moves heat out of your home for energy-efficient cooling. It's an all-year comfort system that also filters and dehumidifies. And it's clean because no fossil fuel is burned in your home.

The heat pump works something like your refrigerator.

A heat pump is more sophisticated, but it works in much the same way. Imagine the cold air in your refrigerator as the cold winter air outside your home. The hot air that you sometimes feel being blown into your kitchen is actually being extracted from the cold air inside the unit. This is how the heat pump warms your home. In summer, the process is reversed to cool your home: the heat in the inside air is extracted by the heat pump and moved outdoors.

Here's how the heat pump works.

See for yourself.

You can see heat pumps in the new homes displaying the Detroit Edison EEE Award. This Award is presented to builders who incorporate energy-efficient excellence standards into their homes—including proper insulation, energy-efficient appliances and lighting, as well as electric heat pump heating and cooling. Ask Detroit Edison for names and locations of builders who have EEE Award homes on display.

Conserving with comfort.

Detroit Edison wants you to know about the heat pump because it generally is the most energy-efficient way to provide homes and buildings with year-round comfort.

The heat pump can also be an important answer to conservation because the natural heat it uses helps save our non-renewable fossil fuels.

As a concerned participant in America's crusade for conservation, Detroit Edison is working hard to do its part. But it requires a working partnership between those who supply energy and those who use it. So if you're planning on buying, building or replacing your present heating system, consider a heat pump as part of your plans.

Detroit Edison has a folder, "Your all-season space conditioner, The Heat Pump." Pick one up at any Detroit Edison Customer Office and learn more about this energy-efficient way to heat and cool homes and buildings. Or write to: Customer Relations, Detroit Edison, 2000 Second, Detroit, Michigan 48226.

Conserve for all it's worth. The power is in your hands.

YFU SCHOLARSHIPS: Preparing to embark on an educational and culturally rewarding trip overseas this summer are the four winners of Chelsea Medical Center's Youth for Understanding scholarships. These "ambassadors of friendship" will live with host families in the Philippines, Sweden, Switzerland and Germany. Seated in the front row, from left, are Julie and Lori England of Manchester. Standing in the back row, from left, are William Milliken, Jr., YFU director of corporate relations; Cathryn Burns of Dexter; Carolyn Schardein of Chelsea; and Dr. Michael Papo of Chelsea Medical Clinic. The YFU scholarship program, which has enabled the four girls to live abroad this summer, is sponsored annually by the Medical Center for children of Medical Center employees.

Four Area Girls Awarded YFU Scholarships By Medical Center

Carolyn Schardein of Chelsea, Cathryn Burns of Dexter, and Lori and Julie England of Manchester will be living with overseas families this summer as recipients of Chelsea Medical Center's Youth for Understanding Corporate Scholarship Program Awards.

As part of Ann Arbor's Youth for Understanding international exchange student program, these high school students, children of Chelsea Medical Center employees, will live with host families in other countries.

Carolyn Schardein, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Schardein of 345 Washington, will live with a family in the Philippines this summer. A junior at Chelsea High school, she has been involved in girls track and field, other sports activities and music.

Cathryn Burns, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Burns of 3535 Orshee Lane, Dexter, will spend summer with a family in Switzerland. A Chelsea High senior, she is currently taking classes in German and is a member of National Honor Society and the International Club at CHS. Her interests include music and sewing.

Lori L. and Julie A. England, both 16, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. James England of 10950 M-52, will travel to Europe this summer where Lori will live in Sweden and Julie will live with a German family. Lori lists her interests as sports, training dogs and music. Her sister is also interested in sports and music, and rides and trains horses.

According to William G. Milliken, Jr., director of corporate relations for Youth for Understanding, the three students demonstrated outstanding academic ability and personal maturity which led to their acceptance over other candidates for the scholarship awards.

Youth for Understanding, a non-profit organization, is an international exchange student program which has accommodated 55,000 high school students in 25 countries during its 25-year history, with the purpose of promoting, understanding and intercultural awareness among young people throughout the world.

High school students from the United States can travel overseas and live with a Youth for Understanding host family in Europe, Africa, the Far East and Latin America for a year or a summer. In order to promote understanding and share the culture, foods and lifestyle of the other country, students live with carefully selected families. The exchange student is not treated as a guest or a tourist, but is considered a member of the host family and is introduced to new friends, new places and new experiences.

Chelsea Medical Center developed this unique scholarship program with Youth for Understanding to arrange for children of Chelsea Medical Center employees in the United States to summer abroad.

Dr. Michael Papo of Chelsea Medical Center stated, "We are pleased with the selection of these outstanding young people to be 'ambassadors of friendship' overseas. We support Youth for Understanding's efforts to help build a world community, one in which cooperative action in all fields is the goal."

Andrew Jackson's election to the presidency signaled the rise of the common man to political power and Old Hickory's fellow frontiersmen could not let that event go unnoticed. On March 4, 1829, a tremendous crowd jammed the White House for the inaugural party, breaking furniture, china and glass as they came. The mob was finally induced to leave after servants placed tubs of punch out on the White House lawn. A mahogany desk used by Andrew Jackson in quieter times is how on display in Henry Ford Museum. It was made about 1810 by Joseph Barry of Philadelphia for use in Jackson's Tennessee home.

It's Rampy's theory that if you spend time, effort and money to see that your customers are satisfied, they'll come back again . . . and again.

That's exactly why Rampy recently bought the most modern computer diagnostic system available. The Sun 2001. It's one of the few things in this world that seems to make everyone happy.

The mechanics like it because it makes their job easier . . . it can spot a small problem before it develops into a big one . . . and it saves a lot of sweat looking for problems that just don't want to be found.

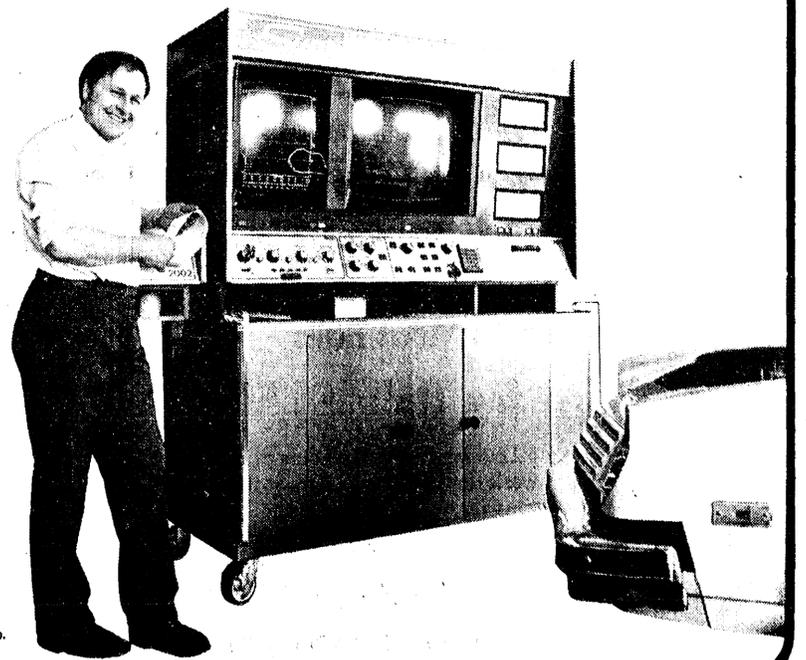

Customers like it because the computer print-out they receive allows them to see just exactly what was needed to get their cars running at peak performance. And, that means fewer service calls in the long haul. The real problems are spotted right away.

And Rampy likes it because he can see it helps keep his customers satisfied.

CARS FOR AUTO SHOP CLASSES: Management representatives from Chelsea's Chrysler Corp. Proving Grounds presented a 1975 Dodge and a 1976 Plymouth to the auto shop department at Chelsea High school Friday, April 22. Accepting the donation on behalf of the school was Bud Janic, head of the CHS auto shop program. According to Janic, both vehicles were used in tests at the Proving Grounds and each has about 20,000 logged on the odometer. Although both cars are considered scrap by Chrysler, to Janic, the cars represent "rolling laboratories" and will be used for practicing tune-ups, disassembly, reassembly and suspension work. "The cars are completely intact and give me an opportunity to set up at least six working stations per car," Janic stated. He revealed the cars were presented to the school following an arrangement suggested by Chrysler in which Janic would donate his auto budget to the Chelsea School District in return for auto parts from Chrysler to be used in class by Chelsea's 88 auto shop students. Arrangements for the cars were made through Elmer Keil of Chelsea's Chrysler Proving Grounds. The cars were towed voluntarily to Chelsea High by two wreckers provided by Red's Standard, Chelsea. Handing over the keys to the cars in the photo is H. R. Halliburton (center) of Chrysler, while accepting the keys is Janic (right). Observing the proceedings is Chelsea Schools Business Manager Fred Mills.

United Way Budget Hearings Scheduled

At their April meeting, the directors of Chelsea United Way agreed upon a novel plan designed to make the 1977 fund campaign one of the most successful in its history. Instead of having a fund campaign manager, as in past years, leadership of the drive will be divided among the members of the board of directors.

Solicitation efforts will be directed to six groups of contributors: residential, rural, industrial, professional, schools and organizations. Gerald Dresselhouse, president, will co-ordinate efforts of the groups and Will Connelly will handle public information.

United Way budget hearings are to be held on the evenings of May 4 and 5 at the UAW Union Hall. Representatives of agencies which receive funds from Chelsea United Way will explain their needs and make requests for future support. Budget committee members who will listen to the presentations are Marge Robbins, Marge Nusca, Kathy Frisinger, Pat Borders, Art Stoll, Louise Ponti and Linda Mayer.

Based on their conclusions from the two nights of hearings, the budget committee will prepare a proposed 1977-1978 budget and submit it for approval at the May meeting of the board of directors.

"All of the requests of all agencies are going to be given a thorough re-evaluation at the 1977 hearings," Dresselhouse declared. "The people of our Chelsea-wide area deserve a good accounting of the needs that are being fulfilled by their generous giving. We have a constantly renewable obligation to assure our contributors that they are getting their money's worth."

Also at the April meeting, Calvin Poe of 528 Arthur, was elected to the board to replace outgoing member Pam Lewis.

In accordance with the by-laws, the board authorized the treasurer to arrange the annual audit of the organization's funds with certified public accountants.
