Millage OK'd, Full School Program Back

Voters in the Chelsea School District approved a 3.8-mill tax hike for school operating costs Monday, by a convincing 250-vote majority. In the election to provide additional funds for the 1977-78 school year, 1,499 ballots were cast in support of the millage increase, while 1,249 ballots opposed it. A total of 17 ballots were declared spoiled.

"I would like to express the appreciation of the school board for all those in the district who supported the millage vote because their support allows us to continue and improve our program in the schools," Robert Daniels, Chelsea School Board president, said Tuesday.

As a result of Monday's vote, the Beach Middle School pool will be re-opened, with Aug. 24 set as the tentative opening date. The pool schedule, which will be in effect until Sept. 7, will offer open swimming, Mondays through Fridays, 3 p.m. to 5 p.m., and 7 p.m. to 8 p.m. Additional open swimming hours will be Saturdays, 2 p.m. to 4 p.m.

Chelsea's driver education program is also scheduled to resume as soon as possible. John Williams, Chelsea High's new principal, is currently in the process of contacting instructors and organizing other facets of the program. When his efforts are complete, eligible students will be notified of the starting date.

Voter approval of the 3.8 millage request has led to the reinstatement of extra-curricular activities, and will provide funds for the replacement of outdated textbooks, purchase of adequate teaching supplies, reinstatement of field trips, reduction of class overloading through the hiring of additional staff members, improvement of the bus fleet, improvement in building and grounds maintenance, and improvement in the inventory of library books and supplies.

Merchants Softball Team in Regionals

Even with one of their best players on a honeymoon, the Chelsea Merchants Fast-Pitch Softball team won the Class C District tournament in Ann Arbor last week-end by blanking out Ann Arbor Tire, 1-0, in Sunday's tournament finals.

The Merchants have now advanced to the Regionals, and are scheduled to play their second game in the best of two-out-of-three series, Wednesday, Aug. 24, 3:30 p.m., in Ann Arbor. Tuesday, they edged past East Side Lounge in Jackson, 2-1, to win their regional opener.

In the Jackson game, the Merchants' Randy Brier and Ralph Stewart each crossed home plate to record a run and lead their team to victory.

Wayne Welton was the missing player as the District Tournament got underway last Friday. Nevertheless, the Merchants nipped Jaycee Campers, 3-2, Friday, and returned Saturday to shut out Ann Arbor Tire, 4-0. Randy Brier was the top hitter for the Merchants in the first game, while Howie Treado led the line-up in the second.

"Both were good, close, low-hitting games," Merchants manager Dick McCalla said following the contests.

Sunday's play-off finals found the Merchants again facing Ann Arbor Tire, 1-0, in Sunday's tournament finals.

Eight Seek Fair Queen Title

For Sue German, Tracy Cattell, Sara Barnhill, Patti Schumann, Deanna Johnson, Nancy Heller, Dana Murphy, and Sarah Schwarze, Fair Week will be especially exciting. They are the candidates for the 1977 Fair Queen title.

This year's pageant, to be held Tuesday, Aug. 23, 8 p.m. at the fairgrounds stage, will feature at least two variations from last year's event. According to Suzanne Morrison and Sherry Moore, pageant co-ordinators, a talent show and modeling exhibition will be included in the competition.

After these two segments of the pageant, judges will select four semi-finalists and will then quiz the girls to determine their ability to maintain poise. A Miss Congeniality will be named and the announcement of third, second and first runners-up will be the lead to the crowning of a new queen. She will accept her title from last year's winner, Beth Flanigan.

All the contestants in this year's pageant offer an abundance of beauty and talent which should make for a tight race.

Sue German, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert German, of 7081 Lakeshore Dr., is the senior class nominee. She was the 1977 recipient of the American Legion Citizenship Award and was a member of Chelsea High's debate team last season, as well as a varsity cheerleader. A member of National Honor Society, she has one sister, Nancy.

The sophomore class candidate is Tracy Cattell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cattell of 358 Washington St. Tracy has appeared in recent musicals at Chelsea High, and also represented her school as a junior varsity cheerleader. She lists tennis, track, piano, swimming, and skiing as her hobbies. Her talent at arts and crafts was utilized this summer when she taught an arts and crafts class through the Chelsea Recreation Department. Tracy has two brothers, Steve and John, and a sister, Jennifer.

A newcomer to Chelsea is Sara Barnhill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Barnhill of 145 Park St. Although she has lived in Chelsea for only one year, Sara was selected to represent the junior class. She enjoys golfing and writing both poems and short stories. She has three sisters, Buffy, Dawn and Rae.

Patti Schumann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Schumann, of 637 Washington St., is the freshman class nominee. Preferring to spend most of her time outdoors, Patti points to water skiing, swimming and backpacking as her hobbies. She is joined by a sister, Tracy, or her two brothers, Paul and Tom, in many of her outdoor pursuits.

Entering a candidate for the first time this year is Norm's Body Shop, which has selected Deanna Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Johnson, of 542 McKinley St., as its nominee. A CHS senior, Deanna is an accomplished seamstress, and headed the costume committee for the Chelsea Players' summer production of "Anything Goes." Along with sewing, Deanna enjoys cooking and horseback riding. She has one sister, Kris, and is employed by Gambles of Chelsea.

A true Renaissance-type is the Frisinger Realty Company's candidate, Nancy Heller. Although only a freshman, she is an active member of two 4-H groups, the Terrific Tailors and Rogers Corners Herdsmen. She plays piano, oboe and guitar, she is a member of Chelsea High's band, and likes sewing, track and swimming. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Heller of 1610 Guenther Rd., Nancy has three sisters, Sue, Beth and Lori.

Dana Murphy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Murphy, of 116 S. East St., is the first fair queen candidate in the history of the pageant to represent a professional organization. Nominated by the Chelsea Chapter of the American Business Women's Association, Dana is currently working for Chelsea's Rockwell International plant as a co-op student. A senior at Chelsea High, Dana is active in sports and lists water and snow skiing, swimming and tennis among her favorites. She has four brothers, Pat, Ross, Casey and Brady.

Jiffy Mix Box Tops To Fund Dental Service

The Chelsea Jaycee Auxiliary is asking area residents to help in the collection of 10,000 Jiffy Mix box tops during the next six months. If the Auxiliary reaches its goal, Chelsea Milling Co., makers of Jiffy Mix, will donate $500 towards an Emergency Dental Fund for the Chelsea community.

The fund will be used to help area families with emergency dental needs that otherwise could not be financed by the family budget.

Posters publicizing the box top drive will soon be in evidence at convenient locations throughout the community, along with drop boxes to receive the Jiffy Mix box tops.

Chairman of the Auxiliary drive, Pam Lewis, has requested members of the community to support the Auxiliary's effort by saving Jiffy Mix box tops. If everyone co-operates, she stated, the Auxiliary should find it easy to reach its goal. "When that happens, the ultimate beneficiary will be the public," she concluded.

Rounding off the list of fair queen candidates is Sarah Schwarze, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schwarze of 14300 Jerusalem Rd. Selected by the Chelsea Kiwanis Club, Sarah was unavailable for comment on her interests and accomplishments because she is vacationing out-of-town with her family. She is a junior at Chelsea High.

The fair queen candidates are scheduled to make their first official appearance early Tuesday evening in the Children's Fair Parade.

Five-Day Event Begins With Kiddies Parade

A Children's Fair Parade, sponsored by the Chelsea Kiwanis Club, will once again kick-off the five-day Chelsea Community Fair, Aug. 23-27. Set for 6 p.m., Aug. 23, the parade will feature marchers from the Chelsea Police Department, the Chelsea Fire Department, and the Beach Middle School band.

Children entering the parade are asked to meet at the Municipal Parking Lot at 5:30 p.m. Parade judging will begin at that time, with first, second and third prizes to be awarded in each of four age groups. The groups are 3- to 5-year-olds, 6- to 8-year-olds, 9- to 12-year-olds, and a miscellaneous category.

Criteria for judging the participants will include originality in self decoration, and in tricycle, bicycle, or wagon decoration. Horses, pets, and two-wheel motor vehicles will not be allowed in the parade. All powered units in the parade must be operated by an adult.

Kiwanis members will supervise the older children while parents are requested to accompany the younger ones. A free ride ticket and a bicycle drawing ticket will be given to each parade participant.

Other fair activities following the parade will be a tricycle pulling contest at 6:30 p.m. at the fairgrounds off Old US-12 W., succeeded by the selection of the 1977 fair queen at 8 p.m. at the fairgrounds arena. Along with the queen contest, a compact tractor pull may be witnessed in its final stages, beginning at 8 p.m.

Senior citizens, 65 and over, will be admitted free on Wednesday, Aug. 24. The judging of exhibits will begin at 9 a.m., followed by livestock judging at 10 a.m., horse judging at 1 p.m., the annual Livestock Auction at 7 p.m. and a waterball contest between the Chelsea and Dexter Fire Departments at 9 p.m.

Sheep and swine will open the livestock judging in the livestock barn area, while beef will be judged simultaneously in the arena. The judging of horses will also be in the arena, after beef judging is completed.

Activities on Thursday, Aug. 25, will include judging of dairy cattle and goats at 10 a.m. and an antique tractor pulling contest at 1 p.m. Admissions to the grounds are raised from $1 per adult to $2 per adult for the Retrof International Demolition Derby, which will roar off at 8 p.m. Thursday.

On Friday, Aug. 26, fair events will be launched with a tractor pulling contest for lightweight classes at 10 a.m. A horseshoe pitching contest will get evening activities on their way at 5 p.m., and the tractor pulling contest will resume at 6:45 p.m. with the heavyweight classes.

The schedule on Saturday, Aug. 27, will include an open horse show in the arena at 9 a.m., a fair parade followed by the awarding of bicycles at 1 p.m., and a steam-powered threshing bee at 1:30 p.m. The horse show activities will resume at 2:15 p.m. and will conclude at 7 p.m. when the arena will be used for the four-wheel drive speed pulling contest.

The drawing for steer quarters will be held at 10 p.m. Saturday in the arena.

All fair exhibits will be open to the public from noon to 10 p.m., except during judging. General admission for adults is $1. Children 14 and under will be admitted free. Season passes, also available at the fair gate, are $4.

Antique Fire Truck Motor Finally Quits

Mac Packard's 1939 Dodge fire truck may have to be put out to pasture.

The fire truck, which has been a source of pleasure for young and old alike in Chelsea during past years, will not be available for free taxi service to and from the upcoming Chelsea Community Fair, nor will it be featured in the Fair Parade, because the antique motor has finally quit.

GOOD LUCK, DAVE! Dave Conklin, center, of 889 McKinley, carded a 74 in tournament play Monday, Aug. 8, and qualified for the Michigan Open golf tournament which begins today at Bedford Valley Country Club in Battle Creek. His qualifying score, which was recorded after 18 holes of golf at Salem Hills Golf Course near South Lyon, was only one stroke behind the leaders in the tournament. Conklin's caddy, Mark Policht, left, helps the golfer gauge his strokes, while Jim Szamecki, right, owner of Schumm's Restaurant, is sponsoring Conklin in the Michigan Open.

SAVE YOUR JIFFY MIX BOX TOPS: Posters and drop boxes calling for Jiffy Mix box tops will decorate the town for the next six months as the Chelsea Jaycee Auxiliary conducts a drive to establish an Emergency Dental Fund in the community. If 10,000 box tops are collected, Chelsea Milling Co., makers of Jiffy Mixes, will donate $500 to the fledgling fund. The fund will be used to finance emergency dental care for needy families. Getting the campaign off to a good start are Tammy Greenleaf, left, and Pam Lewis, chairman of the box top drive.

FW Post, Auxiliary Host Families at Pot-Luck Supper

Mrs. Gertrude O'Dell and Mrs. Elsie O'Dell co-hosted the monthly pot-luck supper for VFW Post and Auxiliary members and their families, which was held in Chelsea's VFW Hall on Aug. 13.

Guests attending the pot-luck included Carl Heldt, now of Chelsea, representing the Washtenaw County Council of Veterans, his wife, and his mother-in-law, Mrs. Marjorie Banks. Also present were Mr. and Mrs. Danny Parsons, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Embury, Betty Jigg, Ed Karjola, Bertha Mitig, and Mrs. Martha Edmonds of Cleveland, O.

Post Commander Kermit Sharp led a prayer to launch the proceedings and supper followed. Movies were then shown for young and old alike, with Mac Packard acting as master of ceremonies.

The next Post and Auxiliary pot-luck supper will be Sept. 19, a special program honoring all Post commanders and Auxiliary presidents of the local Post and Auxiliary, will highlight the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne R. Welton

Jeanne Haselschwardt, W. Welton Speak Vows at St. Mary Church

Jeanne A. Haselschwardt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Haselschwardt of 754 Boyk St., exchanged marriage vows with Wayne R. Welton, son of Mrs. Greta Welton of 10291 Joslin Lake Rd., Gregory, and the late Warren Welton, Saturday, Aug. 13, in St. Mary Catholic church, Chelsea. The 12 noon ceremony was performed by the Rev. Robert Balser.

Special music for the occasion was provided by Mrs. Jane Bailey of Marquette, sister of the bride, who played piano; and by Thomas Bailey of Marquette, John Gawkowski of Muskegon and Sarah Haselschwardt of Chelsea, sister of the bride, who played guitars and sang.

Thomas Balistrere of Chelsea spoke at the ceremony, delivering two readings selected by the bride and bridegroom.

Serving as honor attendants were Liz Haselschwardt of Chelsea, sister of the bride, and Randy Brier of Gregory. Ushers were Mike Bell of Inlay City, Thomas McKernan of Chelsea, and Walter Gawkowski of Muskegon.

Following the wedding, a reception was held at Inverness Country Club. At the reception, Mrs. Jodi Farley cut the wedding cake, and Shelley Romsch of Muskegon tended to the guest book.

The former Miss Haselschwardt is a graduate of Chelsea High school. She received her bachelor's degree from Eastern Michigan University and is employed as a business course teacher at Grand Ledge High school, Grand Ledge. Her husband is also a graduate of Chelsea High school and attends Central Michigan University, Mt. Pleasant, where he is a senior majoring in physical education.

Boyer Family Gathers for 80th Birthday Party

Mrs. Ruby Boyer Sanders, the mother of five Chelsea residents, including Mrs. Eulalie Packard, and Laurance, Fremont, Duane, and Winston Boyer, was entertained by her children Aug. 7, on the occasion of her 80th birthday. The celebration took place at the Fire Hall building in Milliken, formerly the family's home town.

In addition to her children now living in Chelsea, Mrs. Sanders has two sons currently living in communities other than Chelsea. They are Floyd Boyer of Grand Ledge and Keith Boyer of Montgomery City, Mo. The latter was unable to attend his mother's birthday celebration because his wife was ill at the time. Also unable to attend were Mrs. Sanders' three sisters.

However, joining Mrs. Sanders and her six children at the birthday party were 150 other family members and friends, including Mr. and Mrs. Ray Johnson and Mr. and Mrs. Donley Boyer, formerly of Chelsea. According to Mrs. Packard, all helped her mother have a day to remember.

Mrs. Packard, hosted the Sunday affair with the help of her sisters-in-law, her mother's niece, Mrs. Marian Wenger, and Mrs. Wenger's daughter, Charlotte. Several grandchildren also assisted by serving food to various tables. Altogether, Mrs. Sanders has 29 grandchildren and 16 great-grandchildren, most of whom reside in the Chelsea area.

A mural displayed across two bulletin boards was a central attraction at the celebration. Made by Mrs. Gloria Greenleaf and Mrs. Sanders' great-granddaughter, Beth Collins, the mural featured a headline, "This Is Your Life: Past, Present and Future." Underneath were photographs of Mrs. Sanders, her children, grandchildren, great-grandchildren, and other members of her immediate family pictured in various stages of life.

Demonstration Of Hair Styling Set for ABWA

The next regular monthly meeting of Chelsea's American Business Women's Association will be Tuesday, Aug. 23, 7 p.m. in the Chelsea Community Hospital dining room. At the meeting, Fran Coy, beautician, will demonstrate the art of hair styling, and Donna Williams will be featured as a vocational speaker for the evening.

At the group's July meeting, Jackie Schiller informed members of her duties at Chelsea State Bank. When Martha Solmon addressed the group describing her many interesting occupations. Her most enjoyable one, she stated, is her present job serving the senior citizens of Needley, N.J.

Also at the July meeting, Patricia Shaw and Madonna Simpson were welcomed into membership in Chelsea's ABWA chapter. They will be joined by other new members following a special ABWA membership enrollment program at the September meeting of the local group.

Two Michigan State University psychology professors have begun a study to determine how parents view the world around them, their children, their children's behavior, and their daily lives and the degree to which such perceptions influence the actions and judgments of their children.

Home Canning Help Offered at Workshops

Washtenaw County Co-operative Extension Service is starting a new program for county families. On Aug. 17 a canning center will begin operation. The goal of the center is to demonstrate and teach families the efficient and safe way to home can fruits and vegetables. Preference will be given to low income families and first time canners.

Participants will need to bring their own jars, lids and produce. The center is equipped with canners and other equipment. The workshops will be conducted by Pam Sargent, assistant home economist for the Co-operative Extension Service. She will teach pressure canning and boiling water bath methods and will be on hand to supervise the participants as they can their own foods. Families must pre-register to participate.

Chelsea Fair Horse Show Adds Events

If time permits, the Saturday Horse Show, Aug. 27, at the Chelsea Community Fair will include a flag race, down and back, and speed and action competition, in addition to traditional events. Each of these added events will have classes for participants 14-years-old and under, and those 15-years-old and older.

The Saturday Horse Show will begin promptly at 9 a.m., will include a break for the noon parade, and must conclude by 7 p.m. Showbills are available at business firms throughout the local area, but do not list the added events by name.

The Aug. 24 competition for horse exhibitors will begin at 1 p.m. Trophies for the Grand Champion Horse, Grand Champion Pony, Showmanship-Horse and Showmanship-Pony, and rosettes for the Reserve Champion Horse and Reserve Champion Pony will be presented prior to the Livestock Auction Wednesday evening. Exhibitors who have made stall reservations are reminded that they are to register horses and ponies into the horse barn on Tuesday, Aug. 23, between 8 a.m. and 12 noon. To register, exhibitors will need their exhibitor number and the $2 stall fee per stall.

Radio Galaxies 'Seen' By MSU Scientist

East Lansing—A Michigan State University astronomy professor has become the first person ever to "see" the radio wave, emitting region of a distant radio galaxy. Discovered in 1954, radio galaxies contain large, apparently empty and invisible regions of space which emit powerful radio signals. Dr. Susan Simkin of MSU demonstrated that they also emit feeble amounts of visible light by taking a long series of time exposures and then using a computer to enhance the photographs.

School Program Reinstated . . .

In addition, passage of the millage has restored community use of all school facilities, and will help the school board meet the rising costs of utilities, supplies and wages.

Altogether, the school district's 3.8-mill increase represents more than 10 percent of the 1977-78 school year budget. However, the net increase to taxpayers will be 2.6 mills, because the debt retirement levy will be reduced by 1.2 mills, according to school board members.

Two earlier requests by the Chelsea Board of Education for a 4.4-mill tax increase, on May 23 and June 13, were both defeated in heavy voter turnouts. "In Monday's election, many people who had voted 'no' in the two prior millage elections, apparently switched their votes to 'yes,'" Daniels said in speculating about Monday's millage success.

Although public reaction to passage of the millage was subdued for the most part, school administrators joined board members in expressing satisfaction with the results.

"I am glad to have a complete program operating in the schools during my last year with the school district," retiring Chelsea Schools Superintendent Charles Cameron stated. "People of the school district have never let us go into a school year without the major portion of a millage request. I am confident they want a good school program, and are willing to support it."

Waterloo Methodist Women Elect Officers

On Aug. 10, eleven members of the Waterloo United Methodist Women's Society met at the home of Nellie Prentice for a dessert luncheon and business session. Three guests were also in attendance.

The meeting was opened with a prayer recited by President, Eloise Shulz. Following roll call, members signed a get-well card and sent it to Mark Dault who is in Foote East Hospital, Jackson, recovering from injuries suffered in a motorcycle accident.

In other business members voted to send four kits to handicapped veterans in California. Of the four kits, two were donated by the Waterloo UMW, and one each was donated by Nellie Prentice and Zella LeVan. Members then voted to send money to the Johnstown, Pa., flood victims.

An election of officers capped the proceedings. Those elected in a unanimous vote were Eloise Shulz, president; Bessie Barber, vice-president; Mary Clark, secretary; LaVonne Beeman, treasurer; and Zella LeVan, membership chairman. The new officers were installed by Ruth Kjellberg.

Next meeting of the group will be at the annual district meeting in Coldwater, Sept. 14.

Girls Basketball Team Begins Practice Sessions

Approval of the Aug. 15 millage request has resulted in the reinstatement of extra-curricular activities at Chelsea High school and the reopening of school buildings to use by various groups. Among the groups already benefiting from these changes is Chelsea High's girls basketball team.

The players began practice for the fall season yesterday, and will continue practicing on a daily basis throughout upcoming weeks. Practice sessions are being conducted 8 a.m. to 10 a.m., and 4:30 p.m. to 6:30 p.m., Monday through Friday, in the high school gym.

Any high school girl interested in joining the team must show up for practice at 8 a.m. in the high school gym during the week of Aug. 22-26. A physical is required for participation, according to Coach Cheryl Vogel.

Michigan State University is ranked within the top 10 universities in the number of doctoral degrees awarded.

LithoCrafters Complete Move To Former Dana Corp. Plant

LithoCrafters, Inc., formerly an Ann Arbor based book manufacturing firm, officially became a member of Chelsea's industrial community July 1, after an original plan to expand its operations into the old Dana Corp. plant in Chelsea earlier this year, swelled into a total relocation effort.

According to LithoCrafters President William G. Nutter, the 200-employee firm was forced to relocate following a default by KMS Industries on LithoCrafters' lease at 7101 Jackson Rd., Ann Arbor, and its ensuing inability to negotiate a reasonable purchase or lease of the Ann Arbor building, owned by Paterson Associates of Paterson, N. J.

As a result, LithoCrafters has filed a suit seeking more than $700,000 in damages against its then insolvent parent, KMS Fusion, and has severed its ties with KMS.

A subsidiary of American Business Products, LithoCrafters is now in the process of completing a 20,000 square foot addition to the 53,000 square foot old Dana building. The addition is scheduled for completion in September and will be used to house new machinery.

The arrival of the new machinery, also in September, will open the way for an increase in LithoCrafters' 200-member staff, thereby providing job opportunities for area residents, Nutter stated.

He added that several Chelsea residents have already been hired by LithoCrafters to fill staff vacancies stemming from the firm's move to Chelsea.

"A substantial turnover occurred among people who had to travel to Chelsea from areas east of Ann Arbor," Nutter explained. He further remarked that some employees, like customer service manager, Phil Knight, had solved the traveling dilemma by moving to Chelsea.

"Because LithoCrafters had very little time in which to move from its Ann Arbor location to offices elsewhere upon being served with an eviction notice last winter, and because it found there was a limited availability of suitable buildings for rent or purchase at that time, the decision to relocate in Chelsea went largely unquestioned," Nutter reported.

Since that time, however, management has had the opportunity to study the full effects of the move, and how own this building which provides adequate housing for the plant and plan to stay here permanently," Nutter confirmed.

"Besides, we really like Chelsea."

When asked what impact the move had on LithoCrafters employees and customers, Nutter summed up both their reactions as "good on the whole."

Most employees were able to adjust to the added commuting distance, he said, and work is going smoothly. Although a few product buyers grumbled a bit, they too have adapted to LithoCrafters' new location.

LithoCrafters' appearance on the local industrial scene dates back to the 1960's when it was the first firm acquired by KMSI which was then under the leadership of Keesee M. Siegal. It was later sold to KMSI finance laser fusion research by its KMS Fusion subsidiary. Growing losses by KMSI reduced the company to a single subsidiary, KMS Fusion, which received a $7.3 million federal contract to continue its work last year.

However, profits from that government work had difficulty finding their way to KMSI, leaving KMSI cash-poor.

A tour of KMS Fusion labs in Research Park on S. Industrial, Ann Arbor, by U. S. Representative Carl Purgess in April, resulted in a budget increase for KMS Fusion in 1978. Hopefully that increase will help KMS Fusion iron out its remaining financial difficulties with Chelsea's LithoCrafters.

Time Running Out For Fair Exhibitors

Only two days remain for 1977 Chelsea Community Fair exhibitors to pick up their exhibitor numbers from the Fair Service Center. Office hours for both days, Aug. 18 and 19, are 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. and 7 p.m. to 9 p.m.

Exhibitors must be brought to the fairgrounds between 8 a.m. and 12 noon on Tuesday, Aug. 23. The only exceptions are cut flower exhibitors, which must be in place by 8:30 a.m. Wednesday, Aug. 24; and baked goods, which must be in place by 10:30 a.m., Wednesday, Aug. 24. Red Building exhibits may be brought in Monday evening, Aug. 22, between 6 p.m. and 8 p.m.

Exhibitor passes, season passes and student passes are now available at the fairgrounds, or may be purchased at the gate.

For persons entered in the demolition derby, tractor pull, antique tractor pull and compact tractor pull, rules governing the contests are listed in the Fair Premium Book, also available at the Fair Office.

Purchase Agreement Plan Available on 1976 Wheat Crop

The U. S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) on July 28 issued a reminder to wheat producers concerning the use of purchase agreements as a marketing option.

Under provisions of the loan and purchase program, producers who hold 1976 crop wheat not under government loan eligible to sign a purchase agreement with the Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC). A purchase agreement signed now commits CCC to buy 1976 crop wheat next March at the loan rate established in the producer's county. Under the agreement, however, the farmer may still sell the wheat on the open market before the March delivery date. Should this occur, the farmer need only inform the CCC of the sale and purchase agreement would be voided.

Purchase agreements may play a role in the formation of the food grain reserve program announced April 4 by Secretary of Agriculture, Bob Bergland. The deadline for signing a wheat purchase agreement is Feb. 28, 1978. If a producer signs an agreement on or before Feb. 28, that producer may convert the purchase agreement to an extended loan. If the agreement is converted, the wheat could move directly into the food grain reserve program and the farmer would be paid an additional 20 cents per bushel to cover the first year's storage costs.

Washtenaw County farmers who wish more information on wheat purchase agreements or the food grain reserve program should contact their local county ASCS office at 6101 Jackson Rd., Ann Arbor, according to Dorothy M. Howard, acting county executive director.

Change Possible in Wheat Feed Grain Disaster Payments

Wheat and feed grain farmers who have no acreage allotments or who have overplanted their allotments for these crops may become eligible for government disaster payments under the farm bill agreed to by Congressional conferees, according to Dorothy M. Howard, acting county executive director of the Washtenaw County ASCS office.

Under provisions of the Conference Bill, a farmer who has suffered reduced yields due to a natural disaster may be eligible for a payment based on the number of acres actually planted for harvest, Howard said. In the past, payments were based on the farm's allotted acres.

In anticipation of possible adoption by Congress and enactment by the President, and to speed resulting payments to farmers, Howard said, ASCS will begin accepting disaster claims from all farms for wheat and feed grain (corn, sorghum and barley). However, no payments may be made under these provisions until enactment of the farm bill.

Farmers who wish to file or receive a disaster claim or who wish more information concerning the Disaster Payment Program should contact their Washtenaw County ASCS office.

WCC Offers Evening Registration Hours

Those interested in registering for fall evening classes at Washtenaw Community College, but who are not able to do so during the day, may register between 6:30 and 8:30 p.m. on Thursday, Aug. 18, Wednesday, Aug. 24, Tuesday, Aug. 30, and Thursday, Sept. 1, on the second level of the Learning Materials Center building on campus.

Part-time students may register by telephone at 973-3641.

THE FOURTH ANNUAL "MAD BENEFEST"

Hasn't this summer gone fast? It sure has because in two days that annual end-of-summer benefit festival will be held at Albert Haffley Jr.'s property at 1800 Fletcher Road. $6.00 donations will be needed from 1,000 people to reach our goal of $600 for each of the two charities, the American Cancer Society and the Underprivileged Children of Chelsea.

The festival will be held Aug. 19, 20, 21, with the actual party to be on Saturday from 2:00 in the afternoon till 2:00 a.m. Week-end camping is provided with scheduled events happening all week-end long. Friday night is Stivers Nite. Saturday morning is the submarine sandwich making party to make the 40 6-foot submitties for the evening. Saturday, at two, the music and beer starts with volleyball and frisbee throwing for fun. Music and beer proceed thru the evening with $50 door prize and fireworks. We will also hold the Farthest Traveler Award. Sunday has more volleyball and softball games after the cleanup. Thanks for all the help I've received from everyone.

If you would like to work or have questions, and want tickets call M. D. Productions, c/o Dale Robbins, 204 East St., Chelsea, Mich. 48118. Phone 475-8918.

What's Cooking In Michigan

Now's the time to buy fresh vine-ripened Michigan tomatoes. Full of vitamins A and C, low in calories, and packed with essential nutrients, they are a harvest-time bargain during August and September.

Our state generally grows about 40 million pounds of tomatoes for the fresh market, according to Michigan Department of Agriculture figures, and production is valued at close to $5 million annually.

As I'm sure you're aware, the tomato is actually a fruit even though most people treat it, and classify it, as a vegetable. In France it is sometimes called poisson d'amour—love apples.

While tomatoes are great just sliced and served either with salt and pepper or sugar, don't stop there. You can fry them in a light batter, or stuff with various ingredients and bake. They're also great hollowed out with cold chicken or tuna salad inside.

Here's a quick, easy and different recipe you might want to try sometime. Slice six ripe Michigan tomatoes in half, crosswise, and sprinkle with salt and pepper. Mix one-half teaspoon curry powder into a cup of mayonnaise and spread this, generously, over the tomato halves. Place under a hot broiler for about three minutes until the mayonnaise turns a light golden color, then serve immediately.

Remember, too, this is a great time of year in Michigan for fresh salads. All the "makings" are now available—lettuce, tomatoes, cucumbers, celery, green peppers and the rest.

Just thinking about all the crunch makes me hungry.

"SHOWMAN OF SHOWMEN" Scott Powers, right, received that title as winner of the showmanship sweepstakes at the 1977 Washtenaw County 4-H Show, Aug. 2-5. The most competitive event of the 4-H Fair, the showmanship sweepstakes pits winners of all top livestock showman awards against one another to determine an over-all winner. As the top showman of the 4-H Fair, the youth was presented with a trophy from the 4-H Teen Leader Association, and the Robert Kuschta Memorial Award. He displays the two awards, shortly after they were presented to him by Rod Petters, left, Washtenaw County Extension Service agent.

Scott Powers Named Top Showman at 4-H Fair

"Showman of Showmen" at the 1977 Washtenaw County 4-H Youth Show, Aug. 2-5, was Scott Powers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Powers, 12930 Scio Church Rd. Ann Arbor, the most competitive event of the 4-H Fair is the showmanship sweepstakes. This contest pits the winners of the top showman awards in each species of livestock against one another to determine an over-all winner. Scott, who earned his right to compete in the showmanship sweepstakes by winning the swine showmanship contest, competed against the winners of the dairy goat, dog, English horse, beef, dairy, western horse, and sheep showmanship contest.

Each participant in the showmanship sweepstakes must show the animals of the other contestants. The judges score participants on the basis of their abilities to properly handle and present the animals. Scott said "the dog and horse were really hard for me to show but my past experience helped me do well with all of the others."

As the top showman, Scott received a trophy presented by the 4-H Teen Leader Association and retains a revolving plaque, known as the Robert Kuschta Memorial Award, until next year's contest. He is especially proud of the plaque because it recognizes an outstanding former 4-H member who gave his life for his country in Vietnam. Scott will present the plaque to the 9th recipient of the Showmanship Sweepstakes Award at the 1978 fair.

ASCS Corn Loan Rate Set at $1.78

Washtenaw County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) will issue loans on 1977 crop corn at the rate of $1.78 per bushel, according to Dorothy M. Howard, acting county executive director. Mrs. Howard adds the following article which was received from the Washington office for public release:

County loan and purchase rates for 1977 crop corn were issued July 25 by the U. S. Department of Agriculture (USDA). The rates are based on the national loan rate of $1.75 per bushel, up 25 cents from 1976. Loan rates vary from county to county primarily to reflect differences in historical corn prices received by farmers and differences in transportation costs.

After reviewing county loan rates, a Department official said that there have been no significant changes in county-to-county or area-to-area price relationships that would warrant any change in loan rate relationships. Therefore, all county corn loan rates will reflect the full 25 cents increase in the national loan rate.

The Schedule of Premiums and Discounts have both been increased. Premiums are increased to somewhat offset increased costs of cleaning and drying corn; discounts are increased in order to be more in line with cash market discounts.

Copies of the 1977 crop corn county loan rates are being sent to the state and county offices of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) and are also available by writing to the Grains, Oilseeds and Cotton Division, USDA-ASCS, P. O. Box 2415, Washington, D. C. 20013.

Welfare Dept. Gets Interesting Letters

This week we print below selections from actual letters received by the Welfare Department. After reading it, you may want to chuckle... or perhaps cry:

"I am forwarding my marriage certificate and six children. I have seven but one died which was baptized on a half sheet of paper."

"I am writing to the Welfare Department to say that my baby was born two years old. When do I get my money?"

"Mrs. Jones has not had any clothes for a year and has been visited regularly by the clergy."

"I cannot get sick pay. I have six children; can you tell me why?"

"I am glad to report that my husband that was reported missing is dead."

"This is my eighth child. What are you going to do about it?"

"Please find for certain if my husband is dead, as the man I am now living with can't eat or do nothing until he finds out."

"I am very much surprised to find that you have branded my boy as illiterate. This is a dirty lie; I was married to his father a week before he was born."

"In answer to your letter, I have given birth to a boy weighing ten pounds. I hope this is satisfactory."

"I am forwarding my marriage certificate and my three children, one of which is a mistake as you can see."

"Unless I get my husband's money pretty soon, I will be forced to lead an immortal life."

"In accordance with your instructions, I have given birth to twins in the enclosed envelope."

"My husband got laid off from his job two weeks ago, and I haven't had any relief since."

"You have changed my little boy to a girl. Will this make a difference?"

"I have no children as yet as my husband is a bus driver and works day and night."

"I want money as quick as I can get it. I have been in bed with a doctor for two weeks and he hasn't done me any good. If things don't improve, I will have to send for another doctor."

Letters to the Editor

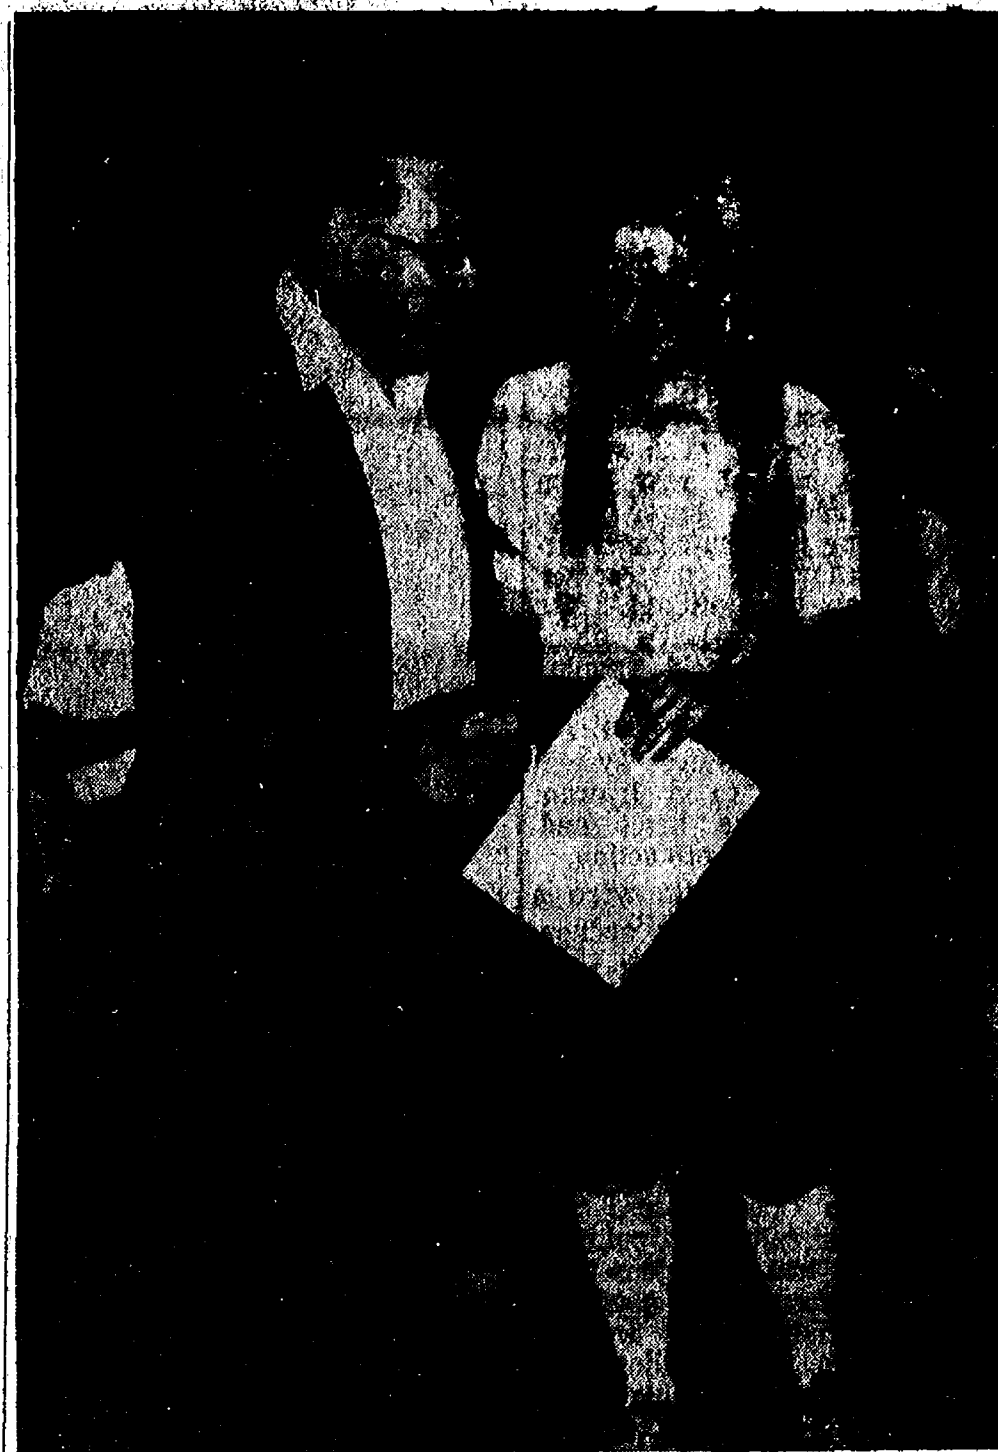

Dear Editor:

A recent issue of The Chelsea Standard stated that Chelsea has been cited with a Pedestrian Safety Citation.

As a newcomer to the community, I must say this award is a tribute to the fleet-footedness of Chelsea pedestrians, and drivers can accept no credit for such a citation. I have yet to encounter a driver who, while making a left or right turn, has the courtesy to yield to a pedestrian who has reached the center of the street, thus allowing the pedestrian to complete his crossing with a green light.

August is a good month in which to drive carefully. If you've lived this long, why not try to last out the year, at least?

INTERLOCHEN SCHOLARSHIP WINNER: Julia Smith of Chelsea, right, is congratulated for winning the Interlochen All-State Scholarship by Dr. George Wilson, National Music Camp director. Miss Smith, a 9th grade string bass player, received the award for outstanding musicianship and citizenship at the All-State Intermediate Orchestra's final concert on Sunday, Aug. 7. She carried the award while attending a recent two-week All-State music camp session.

Chelsea Girl Wins All-State Scholarship

Julia Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald E. P. Smith of 18185 North Territorial Rd., won the All-State Scholarship while attending the National Music Camp at Interlochen this summer.

A 9th grade string bass player, Miss Smith was presented with the award for outstanding musicianship and citizenship by Dr. George Wilson, camp director, at the Intermediate Orchestra's final concert on Sunday, Aug. 7.

All-State sessions, at the National Music Camp offer advanced junior and senior high school musicians throughout Michigan the opportunity to study and perform together for two weeks. Nearly 1,000 students representing more than 200 Michigan communities participate in one or more of the four summer sessions.

The Veterans Administration offers veterans and service personnel full benefits while training for high school completion without loss of their basic GI Bill entitlement.

Fayette Restoration Undertaken as Park

Its name is Fayette. It was born in 1897 on the southern end of the Garden Peninsula in Michigan's Upper Peninsula. For a brief 25 years, Fayette was happy, productive and prosperous until 1992 when its life's blood ceased to flow, according to the Travel Bureau, Michigan Department of Commerce.

It all began in 1845 when Chipewewa Indian Chief Marjekiik led a group of men representing the Jackson Iron Co., to a region in the Upper Peninsula where the rocks were "bright and shiny." The expedition resulted in the establishment of the Jackson Mine at Negaunee in what became known as the Marquette range, the source of exceptionally high grade iron ore.

The Jackson Mine made its first regular shipment of raw ore in 1856, by boat through the uncompleted St. Mary's Falls Canal, to eastern steel foundries in the lower Great Lakes. The inefficient method of transportation, coupled with the fact that the raw ore contained nearly 40 percent waste made the operation extremely costly. Fayette Brown, general manager of the Jackson Iron Co., recognized that the solution to the problem would be a company owned furnace operation, in reasonable proximity to the mine, where the raw ore could be smelted into pig iron before it was shipped to the steelmaking centers.

Such a site would require a natural harbor that could accommodate ore boats, natural limestone deposits for furnace flux, a sufficient supply of hardwoods for charcoal production, a suitable area for the erection of a charcoal blast furnace and within a reasonable shipping distance from the ore docks at Escanaba. Consequently, the Jackson Iron Co. acquired 16,000 acres of land in the lower half of the Garden Peninsula, on Big Bay de Noc. Here they established their furnace town and named it in honor of their foresighted general manager, Fayette Brown.

The initial construction of Fayette took place between 1884 and 1887. Every timber was cut and hewn by hand, every nail hand-forged. Construction of Fayette's first furnace stack, and the charcoal kilns necessary for the furnace operation, was begun in May, 1887 and the first iron was cast on Christmas Day of that year. A lime kiln was also built, which produced burned lime for use in making plaster and cement for the town's building projects. The second stack was completed in 1870.

By 1889, in addition to the company office building, the town included a blacksmith and a carpenter shop, barn, nine frame dwellings and 40 comfortable log houses as well as a loading dock, storage area on the bay, a crusher for preparing ore for smelting and a narrow gauge railroad for transporting charcoal, hardwood and other commodities into Fayette.

Ore from the Jackson Mine at Negaunee was transported to the ore docks at Escanaba by railroad. There it was loaded into steam tugs and scows and shipped across Big Bay de Noc into Snail Shell Harbor at Fayette, unloaded again, to be mixed with measured amounts of charcoal and lime and blasted in the furnaces into iron "pigs." Although today's furnaces are much larger and more efficient and the blast temperatures much hotter, the charcoal smelting process used at Fayette was carried out in much the same manner as the production of pig iron is today.

Housing at Fayette was more or less allocated on occupational status. The superintendent's home was a large white house overlooking Snail Shell Harbor. Its furnishings were described as "luxurious and its outside toilet facility was even plastered and wallpapered. Dr. Bellows occupied a two-story house on Main St., not far from the superintendent's home. He maintained his office and infirmary on the first floor and shared very comfortable living quarters with his wife on the second floor. In the first years of Fayette, the doctor's office was located on the first floor of the Opera House along with the butcher shop and apothecary. The foremen and supervisors lived along the shore of Big Bay de Noc in modest but comfortable homes. Skilled tradesmen were housed in more deluxe swellings and unskilled workers resided in unpretentious log cabins. The homes, hotel and boarding house were owned by the Jackson Iron Co.

The company also employed Dr. Bellows (the resident physician) and regulated the operation of the company, or general store, butcher shop and apothecary. Store expenditures, medical fees, rent and other expenses were deducted from employees' earnings each month. One story has it that a "cinder" (an unskilled laborer who cleared slag and ash from furnace hearths, earned $31.50 one month, but his various bills totaled $31.24 which left him with 26 cents in take-home wages.

Fayette was a very modern town by the standards of the day. The hotel, for example, accommodated its guests with a two-story privy. Guests occupying the second and third floor sleeping rooms had access to the top floor of the "outhouse" from the hotel's second floor, over a bridge crossing Cedar Lane. The ground level was, of course, for the convenience of first floor guests, visitors and employees. The second level of the bi-level rest room was set behind the lower level and according to a newspaper article concerning its construction, "tin deflectors were utilized." The hotel and superintendent's office also had hot and cold running water which was piped in from the furnace complex. In 1871, the company laid a water system from the furnaces to a hydrant placed between the hotel and stock barn for fire protection.

The people of Fayette were a happy, active group and occupational barriers did not exist when it came to the social life of the town. Baseball and horse racing were the most popular spectator sports. In the summer, there was swimming, boating, fishing and picnicing and dancing parties in winter. The Opera House was the center for cultural, political, commercial and religious functions. The second floor good hall hosted performances by amateur theatrical groups, travelling acts and local bands providing entertainment for the whole community. The company prohibited saloons and the sale of alcoholic beverages in the town. However, when a long time employee known as "Pigiron Fred" was injured on the job and disabled, the company allowed him to open a tavern just outside the town limits. All in all, Fayette was an enjoyable place to live and work.

The good life continued until 1893 when, on a Saturday in May, a disastrous fire destroyed the furnaces. The same month, there was a sharp decline in the price of pigiron. On top of that, the demand for charcoal iron had diminished greatly due to the development of a coke blast furnace which could produce a high quality pig iron at much lower cost. Nevertheless, the furnaces were rebuilt and production resumed, but by June, 1895 it was decided to idle the furnaces.

Between 1886 and 1890, the furnaces of Fayette were sporadically stoked to blast but never with the verve and prosperity of its earlier years.

In the early 1890's the machinery was disassembled and the employees and their families moved on to other towns in other places leaving only ghosts of the happy, productive community to wait with the empty structures and cold furnaces for time to take its toll.

The Cleveland-Cliffs Iron Co. acquired Fayette in 1892 and sold it in 1916 to two men from Ashland, Wisc. One of the men obtained full ownership and he sold it, in 1948, to a Detroit woman. She declared plans to develop Fayette as a resort, but the plans never materialized. The property was advertised for sale at public auction in 1956, to satisfy income tax obligations of the owner. The sale was cancelled, however, in order to give the state an opportunity to acquire it. With an exchange of lands between the then-Michigan Department of Conservation and the Mead Paper Co. of Escanaba, Fayette became a State Park in September, 1959. Today, the park offers an interpretive center, 80 picturesque campsites with electricity and running water, in a most beautiful and tranquil setting. Visitors enjoy picnicing, swimming, fishing, boating and hiking.

As for the townsites, its unique chapter in Michigan's history and contribution to Michigan's heritage are being lovingly and painstakingly preserved. The masonry remains of the furnaces, company store and warehouse have been stabilized, the lime kiln and one charcoal kiln rebuilt and the roofs, siding, windows and doors of frame dwellings repaired or replaced. There is still much restoration to be done, but in time the plucky little furnace town will again be the way it was. The machine shop, the first floor of the Opera House, Elliot House and Dr. Bellows' home are open to the public, and well worth a visit. And, when you visit Fayette and walk down Main St., or sit on the steps of the hotel looking out over the rippling waters of Snail Shell Harbor, don't be surprised if suddenly you experience a feeling of warm contentment and you hear a chorus of voices whisper, "Welcome friend, we're very glad you came." Fayette is a most hospitable ghost!

Antique Fire Truck Needs Some Help

tique vehicle's motor has finally sputtered to a halt.

To date, a used motor in good condition has not been found to replace the old, defunct one.

Prior to this latest turn of events, Packard had arranged to have qualified drivers behind the wheel of the truck throughout the Aug. 23-27 fair. The drivers had been scheduled to make 10 round trips to the fairgrounds daily transporting an average of 50 people. Some of these people have no other means of getting to the fair.

Want to help put the fire truck back on the road? Call Packard at 475-2008 if you have an engine suitable for the 1939 Dodge or know where one may be obtained.

PBB Questioners May Call Collect

There has been some confusion as to whether or not the PBB information number at the Health Department's field office in Big Rapids is a call-collect number or a toll-free number. This number 616-796-3514 is a call-collect number. Those people with questions or problems relating to PBB and health and those people who received products directly from quarantined farms may call 616-796-3514 collect.

Recall Petitions Filed With Township Clerk

If the latest move by members of the Citizens Committee for the Recall of Robert Musolf receives official sanction, an election to recall the current Lima township supervisor will be imminent.

This new threshold in the politically strife-worn community was reached Sunday when recall petitions containing the signatures of 234 township residents were submitted to Lima Clerk Arlene Baris. Only 157 valid signatures are needed to force the recall issue into an election.

However, before an election can be scheduled, the township clerk has 15 days to verify that at least 157 of those signing the petitions are registered township voters. The petitions are then returned to the recall committee, and must be filed with Washenaw County Clerk Robert Harrison for certification.

If Harrison certifies the petitions within his allotted 15 days, an election date is set within 60 days of the certification date. Altogether, a maximum of 30 days can pass before township voters will be able to vote on the recall.

These interceding days are expected to produce the most intense fighting to date if Supervisor Musolf's reaction to the recall is any indication. "They've got me in a corner," he claimed, referring to the recall committee, "and I'm not going to go down without swinging."

"The charges listed on the recall petitions are ridiculous," Musolf continued. "None are in the least bit valid and I intend to reply to all those charges," he said. He plans to prepare a complete statement in answer to the charges and will make this statement available to the public.

In response to the strongest charge leveled against the supervisor on the recall petitions, that of his alleged violation of the state constitution by assessing real property at over 50 percent of its value, Musolf stated, "no property in Lima township to my knowledge is assessed at over 50 percent of its true value." He added any assessment changes made by him in the past were made because the property was under-assessed according to current market values.

While property tax assessments seem to be the rallying point for those signing the recall petitions, they were also the source of difficulty in getting people to sign recall petitions, one recall committee member said. "Many who wanted to sign failed to do so because of the fear of assessing reprisals," she said. By signing a recall petition, residents would be signing a petition against the township assessor as well as the supervisor.

"The committee is aware this problem exists, and is consequently keeping a record of those who signed to insure no reprisals are made," the committee member added.

According to the recall committee, their interest in holding a recall election lies in promoting the welfare of the total township, not in that of a single group. They state Supervisor Musolf has failed in his duties to keep the township united, and serving the needs of all township residents.

Contrary to the supervisor's belief that only a few residents are involved in the recall effort, the recall committee has stated they are receiving widespread support of the recall from township residents. "We had about 10 or 12 people circulating petitions, and 70 percent of those asked to sign the petitions, signed," recall committee member Wallace Fusilier said.

Grace L. Penhallegon, 99, died Thursday, Aug. 11, at Cedar Knoll Rest Home in Grass Lake, where she had been a patient for more than three years. She had previously made her home with a daughter-in-law, Mrs. A. S. Penhallegon of 155 Shore View Dr., Crooked Lake.

Born in Bay City, Mrs. Penhallegon was the daughter of Henry and Ida Sayles Ingersoll. She married Albert G. Penhallegon on June 28, 1904. He preceded her in death on Aug. 8, 1958.

Mrs. Penhallegon was a member of Metropolitan United Methodist church in Detroit, where she had resided until her husband's death.

Survivors include a daughter, Mrs. Volt (Elizabeth) Taipale of Detroit's five grandchildren; six great-grandchildren; and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. A.S. (Lydia) Penhallegon of Crooked Lake. A son, Albert S. Penhallegon, preceded her in death on Sept. 30, 1970.

A memorial service was held at Metropolitan United Methodist church in Detroit on Tuesday, Aug. 16, at 1 p.m. Graveside services followed at Cadillac Memorial Gardens West in Garden City, with the Rev. Carl W. Schwarz officiating.

Arrangements were by Burghardt Funeral Home.

Waterloo Area Man Dies in Detroit Hospital

Jerry D. Williams, 38, of 14580 Seymour Rd., Grass Lake, died Tuesday, Aug. 16, in Harper Hospital, Detroit, following a brief illness.

Born in Jackson, on Aug. 28, 1938, he was a son of Robert D. and Roberta Rea Williams. He was married to Jennifer Hibbs on June 21, 1958. She survives.

Mr. Williams had lived at the Seymour Rd. address for the past 16 years. He was a member of Kingdom Hall of Jehovah's Witnesses, Chelsea, and had been employed by Michigan Bell Telephone Co. for the past 21 years.

In addition to his widow, survivors include two daughters, Debbie and Diane, at home; a son, Jeffrey, also at home; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Williams of Phoenix, Ariz.; a brother, Allan Williams of Tucson, Ariz.; his maternal grandmother, Mrs. Leora Rea of Fenton; and several nieces, nephews, aunts and uncles.

Funeral services will be at 11 a.m. Saturday, Aug. 20, at Burghardt Funeral Home with the Elder Gordon Pollock officiating. Burial will follow in Mt. Hope Cemetery, Waterloo.

Memorial contributions may be made in Mr. Williams' name to Jehovah's Witness Missionary work. Envelopes are available at the funeral home, where friends may call.

Colonial Military Muster Scheduled In Greenfield Village

More than 1,500 participants from a dozen states are expected to converge on Greenfield Village, Dearborn, for the fourth annual Colonial Military Muster Aug. 27 and 28. Included in the colorful activities are 18th-century military maneuvers by authentically uniformed troops, period crafts and campsites, parades, fire and drum music and cannon firing demonstrations. The grand finale to each day's events is a mock battle between Colonial and Crown Forces. Who knows, the British might even win the war this time!

This New Amana Energy Saving Upright Freezer can save you 32% in operating costs compared to our previous comparable models.

Amana ESU-17

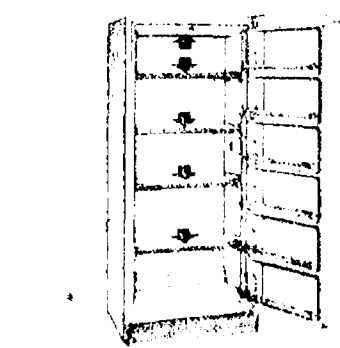

To achieve these dramatic savings, Amana put up to 2 1/2 inches of foam wall insulation around the entire freezer to maintain safe, zero-degree temperatures and reduce freezer running time. Typical freezers have about 1 1/4 inches of foam insulation. In addition, the door is filled with a combination of superior slab foam and fiberglass insulation.

Amana then lined the interior with an easy-to-clean, one-piece Insuliner that adds better insulation protection than metal or porcelain-coated steel liners.

Finally, Amana included a Magna-seal door gasket that grips the cabinet for an airtight seal, and a radiant shell condenser, eliminating the need for an energy-consuming condenser fan motor.

Amana Energy Saving Upright Freezers have built-in quality along with built-in energy efficiency.

• Amana-matic Contact Freezing helps keep foods at safe, zero-degree storage temperatures. Each solid aluminum shelf is a prime freezing surface with coils attached to the bottom. There are even coils at the top of the Insuliner. All foods are on or directly below a prime freezing surface.

• Shelves in Stor-Mor Door are deep enough to hold standard packages upright. Flip up retainers let you store a variety of package sizes. Makes shelves easy to clean, too.

• Large glide-out basket keeps odd shaped, hard to store packages for easy access. (Model ESU 13 has a removable tray.)

• Large-size capacity in a space saving cabinet that's only 28" wide.

• Amana safety lock with self ejecting key helps prevent unauthorized openings.

Amana Energy Saving Upright Freezers come in a size perfect for your family's needs. 13.1, 15.1 and 17.1 cu. ft.

When the name of the game is saving energy, the name of your Amana appliance dealer is:

WRONG PRICING LOGIC

If you try to sell your home yourself, how do you set a realistic price? Most people base their price tags on the only facts known to them: original price, cost of improvements, and hoped-for profit. Then they adjust to bring their figure in line with what they think similar homes are bringing. Sounds reasonable, but three of the basic facts are irrelevant, and the fourth is highly dubious.

The original price, improvements, and hoped-for profit only determine whether you gain or lose, but they have nothing to do with the right price to produce a sale. Prices of other homes may give you some clue to the market, but most of the time you only hear of the asking price. If it's not a realistic price, it won't be the selling price.

How then do you set a realistic price? By consulting a local Realtor whose business it is to know how much property can bring and will bring. His knowledge of the market is invaluable.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at FRISINGER REALTY CO., 935 S. Main St., Chelsea. Phone: 475-8681; evenings 475-2621. We're here to help!

Fair Board Making Final Opening Plans

A regular meeting of the Chelsea Community Fair Board was called to order last week by Lloyd Grau, president. Present at the meeting were Lloyd Grau, president; Jerry Heydlauff, vice-president and member of the Fair Board Daily Activities committee; Ed Keezer, Fair board secretary; Earl Heller, executive vice-president and fair manager; and Ruth Leach, fair secretary.

Directors in attendance included Charles Staphish, merchant's building; Art Steinaway, Community Restaurant; Harold Gross, farm machinery and grounds set-up; Frank Sweeney, daily activities; Harold Trinkle, livestock barn; Charles Koenig, publicity; Frank Renton, Livestock Club and sale; and Dave Nicewicz, baby animals superintendent.

Others present were Allen Brosamle, a Fair Board past president and now in charge of steer ticket sales; Allen Jackson of radio station WNRS 129; Merle Sibbey, horse superintendent; and John Wellnitz, Fair Service Center director. Absent were Treasurer Kay Poljan, Richard Haist, of the Community Restaurant; John Klink, Ralph McCalla; Joe Merkel, III, Dick Poljan, and Jerry Herrick.

At a meeting of superintendents, held in the basement, instructions for entering and recording displays for the different departments, and the recording of judges' decisions were discussed. Kay Heller and Ruth Leach helped the superintendents with their forms and records.

Allen Brosamle distributed steer tickets to board members for advance sale. Remaining plans were finalized for the Chelsea Community Fair, Aug. 23-Aug. 27, and the meeting adjourned.

In a postscript to their regular proceedings, the Fair Board stated "one has come forward with the name or names of the vandals or vandals who caused more than $500 worth of damage to the local grounds and buildings following a wedding reception on Saturday, May 21. 'Some one' it that 'reception knows' one member stated and urged that person to relay their information to the Fair Board so the case may be closed."

Forums on School Issues To Continue

Although the Chelsea Board of Education originally organized a series of public meetings with residents of the Chelsea School District in an attempt to make residents aware of the issues involved in the Aug. 15 millage request, passage of the millage Monday will not effect the future of the monthly public forums, instituted by the board in July.

These meetings will continue on the fourth Monday of every month and will be attended by school board members, various school administrators, and representatives from the teaching staff. The public is encouraged to attend the meetings to discuss any issues relating to school operations.

The next public forum will be Monday, Aug. 22, 8 p.m. in the Chelsea High school board room.

The nation's most comprehensive program devoted to research on teaching is being conducted at Michigan State University under a $3.5-million grant from the National Institute of Education.

FARMERS MARKET: Fresh produce, along with home-made breads and cakes were the best selling items at the grand opening of Chelsea's Farmers Market last Saturday. Encouraged by the steady flow of people who came by to investigate the market, many new vendors plan to set up selling areas in the E. Park St. parking lot this Saturday. In the left of the photo, one woman does some comparison shopping, while in the far right, another woman wraps up a sale.

Farmers' Market Has Brisk Business

Chelsea's new Farmer's Market got off to an unpretentious start early Saturday morning when only five vendors arrived at the E. Park St. parking lot to set up their displays at the crack of dawn. However, the outstanding quality of their goods, along with remarkably low prices and a steady flow of customers, yielded a winning combination that appeared to spell success for the week-old enterprise.

"I think it's wonderful," one market-goer exclaimed when asked to describe her reaction to the Farmer's Market. "I plan to be here next week selling eggs."

Another market-goer expressed disappointment over the small turnout of sellers on opening day, and stated she hoped it would not force a discontinuation of the market. "I don't drive and I don't have a garden, so this is my only chance to buy fresh produce or other home-made goods," the elderly lady explained.

The first vendor to arrive Saturday was Alice Lounsberry, a veteran of the Ann Arbor Farmer's Market. She was selling a variety of home-grown plants, including some 4- and 5-year-old Moses plants, a few bullrushes, and several aloes. "Those are particularly good for burns," she said, pointing to the aloes. "You break a leaf open and put it on the burn; then there's never any pain while it heals."

Although many people had shown an interest in her plants, Mrs. Lounsberry said she had not been selling as many as she had expected. "I think my prices were high at first," she speculated, "I had to come down."

"I'm only asking $5 for plants I could sell in Ann Arbor for $9," Elizabeth Drouare of Grass Lake, on the other hand, seemed to be having a very profitable day. Along with an assortment of home-made cakes, she was selling vegetables from her garden. "You'd never dream I'd be selling so much of what I've been selling," Mrs. Drouare remarked. Her cakes were the first to vanish, while running a close second were winter squash and zucchini.

"What amazes me about the zucchini is that people are buying up the large ones as well as the smaller ones," she continued. Although the small ones are preferred for eating, customers were requesting large ones to be used in making zucchini bread and cakes; she noted. Another big seller, she said, was "green tomatoes for frying."

Next to Mrs. Drouare was Sherie Stofflett, who had a table load of home-made breads for sale as well as one filled with garden produce.

Loaves of French bread and pretzels were the more popular items on the former table, while sweet corn, lima beans and regular beans dominated sales on the latter. Helping Mrs. Stofflett serve her customers were her two sons, Ross, 14, and Eric, 11.

Low-pressure sales seemed to be the watchword of another vendor, Mike Wallace of Onstead. Rather than offering market-goers a broad variety of goods, he "stocked" his selling area with a single specialty—honey. Within that framework, however, customers could purchase honeycombs for eating, jars of liquid honey, or recipe books describing "the many ways honey could be used in cooking."

Wallace's apiary, which consists of 10 hives, is for him a hobby that turns into a profit-making venture only on week-ends. He rarely travels very far to sell his product, and consequently "was glad to see a Farmer's Market opening up in Chelsea." As of Saturday morning, Wallace had not sold much honey but expressed surprise over the number of people who had come to investigate the market.

"Business has been very good, we've really been moving our product," was the story told by Mr. and Mrs. John Holden, owners of Holden Farms and the last of the five vendors participating in the grand opening of Chelsea's Farmer's Market. Distinguished by the largest display of goods, the Holdens ranked beets as the number one seller, with lettuce a close runner-up. "We've already sold out our beets and are on our second batch of lettuce," Mrs. Holden announced at about 9:30 a.m. Saturday morning. Also selling well, she said were potatoes, regular beans, Italian beans, and onions.

The Holdens have been part of the farmer's market scene in Ann Arbor for the past seven years. In that time, they have learned how to calculate the amount of produce they should bring each week to minimize spoilage, what vegetables will appeal most to the public week to week, and how to price their goods competitively.

"It's important for all people selling the same kind of produce at the same market to keep prices at an even keel," Mr. Holden revealed in describing how the market works. "That way, everyone gets a chance to do a little business and no one loses money trying to undercut everyone else's prices."

Both Mr. and Mrs. Holden stated they would like to keep selling at Chelsea's Farmer's Market, rather than in Ann Arbor, because it is the closest market to their 124-acre farm and they feel there is a real need for this type of enterprise in the community.

"The market here is more for the benefit of Chelsea residents than anyone else," Holden declared. "It's of no particular benefit to members of the Village Council, who organized the whole business, nor is it necessary to sellers we can go somewhere else to sell our goods. It's the people who can walk or drive only a short distance to get fresh-picked farm produce, who stand to gain the most, and they should come here regularly to support the market so it can continue," he concluded.

Chelsea Balloonist 2nd in National Meet

Dave Schaffer, 28, of 20336 Sagard Rd., compiled 4,377.2 points to take runner-up honors in the 1977 National Hot Air Balloon Championships at Indianola, Ia., Saturday.

Schaffer came in behind Ann Arbor's ace hot air balloonist, Bruce Comstock, who was first with 4,605.3 points, while another Ann Arbor man, Jeff Van Alstine, placed fourth in the championships with 4,043.9 points.

Other finishers were Sid Cutter of Albuquerque, N.M., third, and Phil Gray of Indianola, fifth. Contestants compiled points on the basis of their performance in several required events of the competition.

Schaffer has won the world championship title in a previous competition performance, while Comstock has won the national championship both in 1972 and 1976. Van Alstine, also a veteran hot air balloonist, has set high altitude records for hot air balloons.

Final results of the 1977 National Championships were delayed until Saturday when a dispute erupted over the championship results Friday and a protest jury was formed.

The board of directors of the Balloon Federation of America overruled a decision by Balloonmeister John Davis to throw out the spot landing competition results Friday morning. That overruling allowed balloon pilots to file protests and the jury was formed.

ask the GOVERNOR

by William G. Whittaker

Question: I know an elderly couple who are really upset.
They still owe money on last winter's fuel bills and don't know what they are going to do about next winter. Something must be done.

Governor: I agree. We have launched a program in Michigan to help people such as the couple you describe. The Home Heating Assistance Program, using federal funds, will provide a one-time payment directly to fuel suppliers of up to $250 on behalf of persons aged 65 or over who have large unpaid heating bills and who are in danger of having their heat shut-off as a result.

It also will provide direct payments of up to $50 to persons over 65 who have paid large heating bills, resulting in financial hardship.

This program, combined with the home winterization program we announced earlier and the increase in public assistance grants to help pay fuel bills will provide meaningful relief for senior citizens who experienced severe financial hardship because of the harsh winter of 1976-77.

The Office on Services to the Aging has been conducting an outreach program, but it is always possible that someone with problems will go undiscovered. Applications for the assistance program must be made by August 15, and I would advise those who feel they are eligible—or who know someone who is—to take one of the following steps:

—Stop by the county Social Services office or local Office on Aging;
—Write to the Michigan Department of Social Services, 111 W.
Mount Hope, Lansing 48910;

Lyon; Debbie Polley, South Lyon;
Jane Schimmel, Ypsilanti; Ric
VanDyke, Plymouth; Matt Hale,
Ypsilanti; Norma Gibson, Ypsilanti.

Showmanship—
Sheep, Jr.—Susan Roehm, Saline; Sr.—Ruth Luckhardt, Dexter.

Dairy, Jr.—Beth Heller, Chelsea; Sr.—Bruce Breuninger, Dexter.

Beef, Jr.—Eric VanNatter, Dex-
