Talks Stalled In Strike at Fortune Plant

"The workers are determined they're not going back given the present contract offer," Larry Howard, president of the United Auto Workers Local 437 unit at Fortune Industries, said Tuesday following a 28-10 vote by union members that morning to continue their strike against the local automotive manufacturing firm.

The three-week old strike began at noon Aug. 22 when 43 union workers at Fortune Industries, 770 Dexter-Chelsea Rd., walked their jobs after their three-year contract expired. It was the first time a strike had hit the year-old firm. Since the strike began, vandalism and other disturbances have been reported by management at Fortune Industries.

Economic issues appear to be at the center of the dispute. Leonard Rutine, manager of Fortune Industries, has said the striking workers turned down a company offer which promised the workers $2 per hour increase over a period of two years. He also said the company had no more to offer.

However, that wage increase was denied by Howard and UAW Local 437 acting head negotiator Harold Salyer. "According to what was presented at the bargaining table last Thursday, the company's proposed raise would amount to a 45-cent increase the first year and 50 cents more per year each of the next two years," Salyer maintained. "That would mean we would still be making less than $8 per hour, the first year, since the average pay is current $5.46 per hour," Howard continued. Responding to Fortune's statement that the current offer was all the company could afford, Howard said, "we have made it known that if the company is in such bad shape, we are willing to accept a one-year extension of the old three-year contract with nothing else added but more money." He said other grievances by the strikers would be tabled until it was time to negotiate again. The other grievances protest present working conditions and what workers term poor benefits.

Fortune, who is aware the striking workers dispute what he describes as a $2.03 per hour increase over three years, said, "I have never lied to the workers and am not about to start now." He added that the details of the proposed increase amount to a 53.5-cent per hour increase the first year, and a 59-cent increase the third. Because Blue Cross costs doubled in the last three years, and assuming another increase is forthcoming, Fortune said another 38.2 cents had been tacked on to the fringe and wage package to bring the total to his $2.03 announced figure.

With both sides clearly at a stalemate, and with the strikers now receiving only between $40 and $50 per week subsistence pay from the union, tensions have mounted to an all-time high. "We've had to put plywood over the windows because so many have been broken since the strike began," Fortune noted, "and we have had to continue employing two off-duty Sheriff's deputies to police the place at night." He said he has no idea how much longer the strike will continue but is still optimistic about the meeting again for table talks.

Howard answered Fortune's charges of vandalism by saying "the windows were all broken out before the strike began, except for one window in the office door." He said strikers had been informed that they had the right to walk a picket line but not to cause trouble. "But Fortune and some salaried people keep agitating the line—they don't stop for it, and one salaried employee drove his car over some lawn chairs. That kind of thing makes people on the line angry and it's hard for us to control it."

Howard added that other units of UAW Local 437 in the area offered their support to the striking Fortune Industries workers and some members of those units have also come out to the picket line, which is being maintained by (Continued on page two)

GIRLS BASKETBALL: Having spent the last six weeks in practice sessions, these members of Chelsea High's girls varsity basketball team are prepared to demolish all opposition this season. They debuted Monday with a home game against Manchester, and returned Wednesday to host Grass Lake. Next Thursday, they will take on Stockbridge in their first away game. Members of the team are, front row, from left, Tracy Hawker; Penny Collinsworth, Shelley Warren, Sue Heydlauff and manager Sam Collinsworth; back row, from left, are Lori Miles, Michelle Sargach, Nanette Pugh, Sheryl Kiel, Theresa Thompson, Tammy Collinsworth and Coach Cheryl Vogel.

D. Conklin Signs As Pro at Florida Club

Instead of pouring Bloody Marys, Dave Conklin, of 889 McKinley St., will soon be pouring his efforts into getting a Professional Golf Association (PGA) card. Conklin, who has tended bar at Schumm's Restaurant for the past year, was recently hired as an assistant golf pro by Miami's Doral Country Club, and will be leaving this month for Florida to begin the job Oct. 1.

"I really hate to be leaving Schumm's," Conklin said. But for a man drawn towards a career as a professional golfer, his latest employment offer was like a dream come true. With four championship golf courses, Doral Country Club is the largest facility of its kind in the world. Conklin was hired for a full-time position, not simply to act as a staff supplement during the busy winter season. "I will be working quite a bit," he said, "but might be able to go through school during the slack summer. If he succeeds and then does well in tournaments, he may well earn his coveted PGA card."

During his first year of employment at Doral Country Club, Conklin will be running the club's driving range. By the following year, he says, he should be teaching. Conklin recently competed in the Michigan Open gold tournament, but was eliminated in the second round of the four-day event when he fell three strokes behind the 153-stroke cut-off in preliminary rounds. Mark Policht, of 5700 Stoffer Rd., caddied for Conklin in the tournament and will also accompany the golfer to Florida.

Registration Open in Recreation Classes

Chelsea Recreation Department is offering a variety of classes in its fall program this year.

Youth programs include Baton, Cheerleading, Gymnastics, Soccer, and Tot Soccer.

Adult classes still open include Acrylic or Oil Painting, Amateur Radio, Beginning Cake Decorating, Holiday Crafts, and Spanish. For registration information refer to the article in the Sept. 8 issue of the Standard or call Director Tom Neumeier at 475-1703.

Another facet of the Recreation program is the opening of the Chelsea Fitness Trail soon to be completed.

This trail offers a number of different opportunities. It may be used as a nature trail for a family walk. For the jogger, it provides a marked 1½ mile course that offers something other than a sidewalk as a track. For the person who is serious about fitness, the Chelsea Fitness Trail offers a jogging trail complete with exercise stations.

A unique addition to local recreational facilities, it will be open to all Chelsea residents. The trail begins on the east side of Pierce Park, circles the Medical Center and ends near its beginning.

CB Registration Clinic Scheduled Next Sunday

A CB registration and tune-up clinic will be conducted by Boy Scout Troop No. 476 in conjunction with the Chelsea Communication Club Sunday, Sept. 18, from 1 to 4 p.m.

The dual purpose of this clinic is to tune-up and register CB units for use by the local police agency in case of theft. If a registered CB is stolen and later recovered by police, they can identify it and return it to the owner.

The clinic will be held in the parking lot by Western Auto. (Continued on page three)

Varsity Grid Team Loses Season Opener

In their season opener last Friday, Chelsea High's varsity football team bowed to Tecumseh, 32-6.

"We played a hard game, but were plagued by penalties and mistakes," Chelsea Coach Phil Bareis said.

Tecumseh scored twice in the first and third quarters, and added a lone touchdown in the fourth quarter to cement their victory. In contrast, the Bulldogs were shutout until the fourth quarter when Leon Brown scored on a one-yard run.

Brown and Jeff Powell each rushed for 55 yards to power Chelsea's offense, while Jesse Curn passed for 66 yards, including a 20-yard toss to Dave Schrotenboer.

Leading tacklers for the Bulldogs were Al Augustine, Steve Pennington and Todd Headrick, each with nine, followed by Brown with 8; Tom Bareis, 7; Vic Verchereau 7; and Joe Verway, 6.

Chelsea travels to Novi tomorrow, Sept. 16, for their first conference game, which is scheduled to begin at 7:30 p.m.

Recall Committee Schedules Meetings

The third citizens' meeting for the recall of Lima Township Supervisor Robert Musolf was held in Lima Township Hall Tuesday evening, Sept. 13, with more than 20 persons attending. The recall committee elected officers in a unanimous voice vote. They are Dick Pavitt, chairman; Jean Herst, secretary; and Pat Trinkle, treasurer.

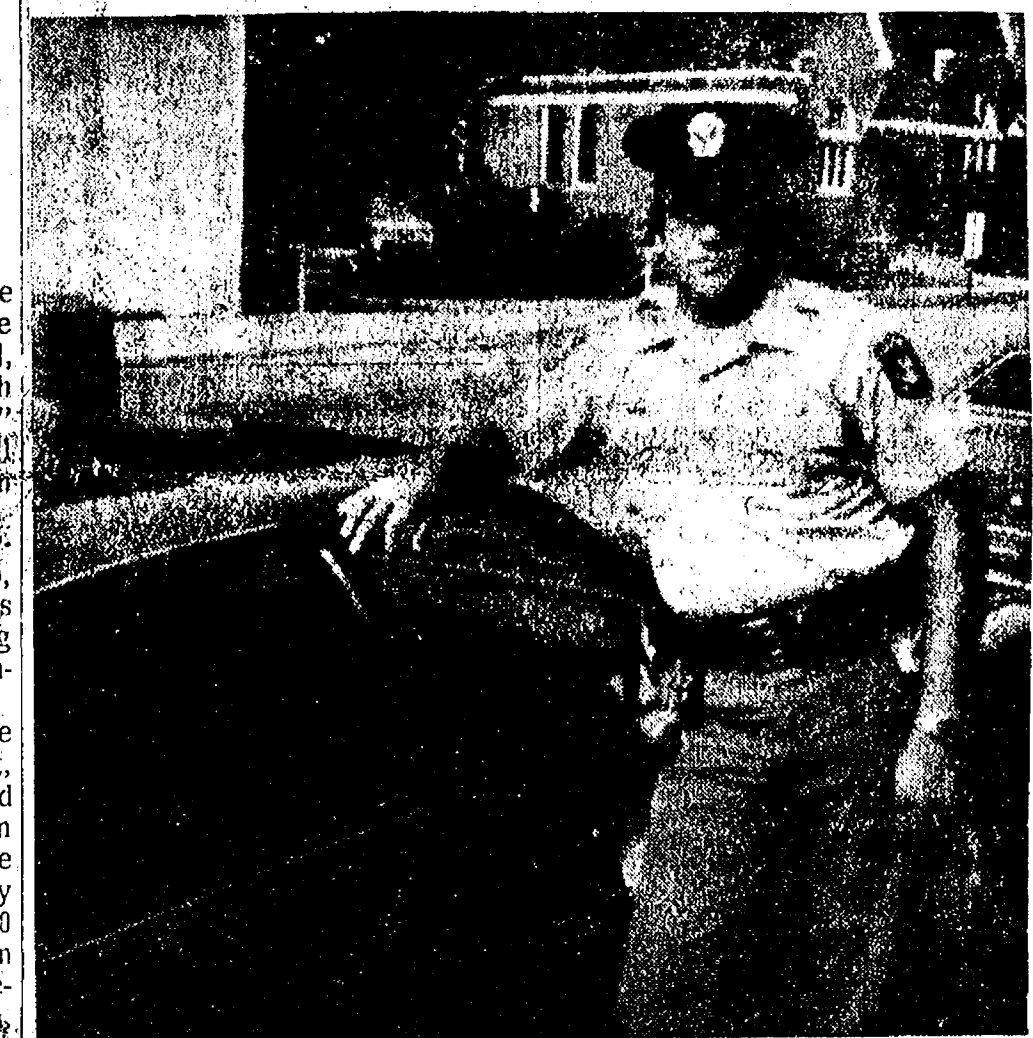

Chairman Pavitt informed those present that recall petitions were successfully submitted to and accepted by the Washtenaw County Clerk's office. Submitted signatures exceeded by nearly 50 percent the required number, and also exceeded the number of votes by which Supervisor Musolf was elected in last year's primary.

A number of items were discussed at the recall meeting, including fund raising for anticipated recall election expenses, how to disseminate information regarding recall issues to the community, and general discussion on how to conduct the campaign. It was decided that in the six weeks between now and the recall election date of Oct. 25, weekly meetings would be held each Monday, 7:30 p.m. at the Lima Township Hall, with the exception of Oct. 3, when a Tuesday evening meeting would be conducted. The committee stressed that these would be open meetings and that all interested township residents are invited.

Ted Cheever, recall committee member, state the committee was waiting for Supervisor Musolf's statement of justification of conduct in office, which was to be released this week.

The committee also felt that because the charges against Supervisor Musolf pertain to his ability to perform as a competent assessor, the committee does not want him to resign. They prefer that he be removed from office by a recall. This information would then be transmitted to the Michigan State Assessors Board with a request that it be made part of his file.

NEW CHELSEA PATROLMAN DENNIS HALL leans upon his patrol car before beginning work. Hired July 29 the Chelsea Police Department, Hall has been working the 8 p.m. to 4 a.m. shift, and states his major job is "being visible" to discourage a potential criminal from breaking the law.

New Police Officer Joins Chelsea Force

For nearly two months, night-time streets in Chelsea have been under the watchful eye of a newcomer to the local 10-man police force, 25-year-old Patrolman Dennis Hall.

A three-year veteran of Michigan law enforcement agencies, Hall was hired July 26 by the Chelsea Police Department in response to the need for another full-time officer to handle the regular 8 p.m. to 4 a.m. patrol.

According to Hall, a lifelong interest in law enforcement, coupled with the desire "to help people, good and bad," were the primary factors which led to his choice of police work as a career.

He landed his first job as a corrections officer with the Oakland County Sheriff's Department when he was only 21 years old. After serving in that capacity for one year, he enrolled at Eastern Michigan University, where he maintained professional activity for the next two years as an EMU campus officer under the auspices of the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department.

Hall acquired his police training first through a departmental program directed by the Oakland County Sheriff's Department, and later by attending the Wayne County Sheriff's Department Training Academy for seven weeks while working as a Washtenaw Sheriff's deputy. In the latter program, he was required to complete 280 hours of intensive course work, studying such subjects as firearms use, law, first aid, domestic problems, traffic situations, interrogation techniques and drug control.

Although he is still an EMU student, with one year left before he graduates with a degree

United Way Campaign Will Begin Sept. 29

The 1977-78 Chelsea United Way campaign will be launched Sept. 29 with a dinner for campaign workers, who will then focus their efforts on canvassing the Chelsea area for campaign contributions. The local drive will continue into October.

In announcing this year's kickoff plans, Chelsea United Way President Gerald Dresselhouse further announced that Will Connelly has accepted the job of 1977-78 Chelsea United Way general chairman, in addition to his duties as public information officer for the local agency.

Goal of the 1977-78 fund raising effort is to provide support for 14 social and welfare agencies in Chelsea and Washtenaw county, as well as for 23 state and national organizations. However, about 35 percent of the funds raised by Chelsea United Way will be used for needs within the Chelsea School District and the county.

Connelly has named leaders to head the seven 1977-78 Chelsea United Way campaign teams. They are Pat Whitesall, residential; Linda Mayer and Marge Nusca, rural; Betty Cox, schools; Dave McLaughlin, professional; Dale Schumann, commercial; Pat Chriswell and Connie Schwarm, organizations; and Sheridan Springer and himself, industrial.

Soccer Registration Begins Saturday

Chelsea Recreation Dept. will be offering soccer as a fall program this year. This program will feature instruction and competition in what is a fast growing sport for boys and girls ages 6 to 16.

Registration will be held Saturday, Sept. 17, at 10 a.m. at North School. (Continued on page eight)

Dana workers and management, answering questions on property taxes, the proposed graduated income tax, use of state lottery revenues for public education, and state compensation and unemployment loss laws. Conlin told them that letters to him were very important if residents in his district were concerned about certain issues. He said he personally reads all his letters, and if enough people write, he takes the issue to the governor. Conlin explained that as a state Congressman, he is in a position to get things done, and can be more effective than individuals within his district in pushing for new laws or the reform of existing laws.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

Dear Mister Editor:
 By now, the great American education machine has cranked up for another go at it. The little kids are back watching movies and stringing beads, and them in college are working on their sand castles and pocket calculators. If any of em learn to read or write, in their spare time it'll be a bonus they are able to squeeze in with all the enrichments they're getting these days.

The fellers at the country store Saturday night stood foursquare for the three R's, and they come down hard against what Ed Doolittle called all the ribbons, and face the schools are using to tie up the package these days. It was Ed that had saw this piece that said students at the University of California at San Diego were getting credits for building sand castles. Ed said the course is supposed to deal with architecture, but the professor told his class that "the most important thing is building a good pile of sand." Ed said he would hate to hear what the least important thing is.

Meanwhile, back at Pennsylvania

State University the educators are finding out that these little pocket brains that do the math students used to have to understand are turning out a all-around better class of human being. Zeke Grubb had this clipping that reported where researchers at that school found that students using the calculators are "friendlier, happier and better adjusted emotionally" than them that do their own figuring. It ain't hard to figure, Zeke allowed, that if your old man back home will buy you a machine you can carry around to do your homework you're going to be happier than the poor devil that has to learn more than how to push a button. Students competing without a calculator must feel like Zeke's preacher said he felt in college having to dig answers out of books while everybody else copied em off old text papers on file in their fraternity houses. It was a case of learning against looking up, the preacher said.

Practical speaking, Mister Editor, one positive side of school starting is that the mamas that have had kids underfoot all summer now can have that second cup of coffee and maybe catch up a few extra winks these mornings. Course, the ones that will notice the change are them that notice the kids to summer camps to learn everything from fishing to football. America's leaders of tomorrow may not can read, but they can play, and when you look at the money the pro players make it's hard to show kids the errors of their ways.

Yours truly,
 Uncle Lew.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

By Warren M. Hoyt, Secretary, Michigan Press Association

Recycled Highways Tried

The state is recycling a highway. Believe it or not, it's possible, and cheaper than laying new pavement over the old, say state highway officials.

Actually, the recycling is an experiment that some are predicting will be routine in the future. Work began in May on a 10.5 mile stretch of I-75 in Cheboygan county. Instead of laying four to six inches of new asphalt over the worn-out pavement, "recycling" involves chipping up the road surface, mixing it with a bit of new asphalt, then laying it back down. State highway officials say that by recycling it, they're saving more than 80,000 gallons of liquid asphalt, 51,000 tons of gravel and 4,500 cubic yards of dirt for embankments—which all translates into taxpayer savings.

"It's definitely the way of the future," says state highway director John Woodford, noting that the dwindling supplies of oil are the base for asphalt.

JUST REMINISCING

Items Taken from the files of The Chelsea Standard

4 Years Ago...

Thursday, Sept. 20, 1973—After 17 years of service, Mrs. Louis Ramp announced her retirement from the directorship of Chelsea's Social Service Agency. Mrs. Ramp had held her position with the agency since its organization in 1956. She will be succeeded by Mrs. Linda Ormsby.

Attorney Harold A. Jones was among some 33 members of the legal profession honored Sept. 13 in Detroit at the 38th annual meeting of the State Bar of Michigan for 50 years of practice.

The Chelsea School District Board of Education received notification that its request for approval of Dec. 17 as a bonding election date has been approved by the Washtenaw County Elections Scheduling Committee. Public financing of additions, new buildings and site acquisitions for Chelsea schools are the subject of the bonding proposal.

A sparkling Bulldog defensive line and Jeff Marshall's 62-yard touchdown run overcame varied offensive mistakes to carry Chelsea to a hard-fought 6-0 victory over Tecumseh in the season opener last Friday night.

14 Years Ago...

Thursday, Sept. 19, 1963—Announcement has been made that Fortune Industries, Inc., at 11770 Dexter-Chelsea Rd., has purchased a 12-acre tract of land across the road from its present plant and plans construction of a new 8,500 sq. ft. warehouse to be finished by Dec. 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Portillo, who fled from Cuba because of intolerable conditions under the Castro regime, are now making their home in an apartment at 678 W. Middle St., having arrived in Chelsea a week ago with their 4-month-old daughter, Clarivel. The Portillos are being sponsored by the Christian Family Movement of the national Holy Family organization.

Harmon Place, who operates the Tower service station on M-52 at the I-94 interchange, has announced that he will operate a taxi service beginning immediately. He will operate directly from the station, providing Chelsea with a service it has lacked for several years.

Chelsea Jaycee Auxiliary members ask, "Did you save your old toys in your Fibber McGee's closet?" Saturday is the time to give them to a worthy cause, as the Auxiliary will collect and clean the toys, give them to Cassidy Lake for repairs, and then donate them to Chelsea Social Services for distribution to needy children at Christmas.

Thursday, Sept. 17, 1953—Three live elephants in an act of their own with their trainer, along with a wire walking act, clowns and other professional entertainment will be featured at the Chelsea Community Fair Friday and Saturday, according to an announcement made yesterday by Paul F. ### Deer, Car Collide On Dexter-Chelsea Rd.

The unexpected appearance of a deer in front of a Stockbridge woman's car caused an accident on Dexter-Chelsea Rd. Friday, Sept. 9, according to the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department.

The report stated that Judith Ann Henry, 16374 Farnsworth, Stockbridge, was eastbound on Dexter-Chelsea Rd. when a deer jumped in front of her car, forcing a collision. Although slight damage was done to the vehicle, the driver was uninjured, it was reported.

No enforcement action was taken, and the animal, killed in the collision, was turned over to the Department of Natural Resources.

Driver Ticketed After Running Red Light

Washtenaw County Sheriff's deputies cited a 75-year-old Ypsilanti man for hazardous violation after the vehicle he was driving ran a red light at the intersection of M-52 and Austin Rd. and slammed into an embankment Saturday, Sept. 10, according to a report at the Dexter substation.

The deputy who investigated reported that Osborn Russell Raymond, 882 Ecorse, Ypsilanti, was northbound on M-52 at 1:38 a.m. when he disregarded the flashing red light at the intersection, and struck a large embankment on the opposite side of the road.

had appeared to be the final resolution.

Phosphate Ban Held Up

And in another court, the detergent industry looks like it will hold up a ban on phosphate detergents that was to begin in Michigan on Oct. 1.

The ban meant that supermarkets could not sell detergents with more than 5 percent phosphate. Now, laundry detergents can have up to 8.7 percent phosphate.

But within minutes of the final approval of the ban by the Natural Resources Commission, the soap and Detergent Association was in Wayne County Circuit Court challenging it.

It was no surprise. The association, which represents the makers of more than 90 percent of the nation's detergents, has threatened legal action all along. They claim only the Michigan legislature can set phosphate levels, not a state agency.

And in Pigeon River Area

Speaking of oil drilling, it was on, then off again this week in Pigeon River County State Forest, the object of years of controversy over whether or not to allow expanded drilling.

First, DNR director Howard Tanner approved 10 drilling permits and Shell Oil Co. said it planned to start drilling within a week. But the West Michigan Environmental Action Council took that decision to court, and won injunction temporarily barring the companies from taking any action toward drilling.

It's just the latest spar in the long battle. But it does delay what

VFW Auxiliary Hears Report on National Convention

The Ladies Auxiliary of Chelsea VFW Post No. 4078 conducted its regular monthly business session Monday, Sept. 12. Eleven members were in attendance.

Reports on the VFW National Convention, Aug. 21-26, in Minneapolis, Minn., were presented by Sandi and Sally Ellenwood, who had participated in the event as delegates for the local group.

Auxiliary members attending the sixth district meeting in Albion, Sunday, Sept. 11, included Lucy Platt, Geraldine Klink, Mary Kniss, Eulalie Packard, Marian Johnson and Bessie Shap. Mrs. Platt, Mrs. Packard and Mrs. Kniss reported on the proceedings.

Three women were elected to membership in the local Auxiliary during the Sept. 12 business session. They are Mary Clark, who transferred her membership from the Ann Arbor Auxiliary chapter; Willie Mae Embury, a former member who was reinstated from Jackson; and Patricia A. DeHaven of Chelsea.

The group decided to purchase tape recordings of past Voice of Democracy contest winners, as the contest will again be conducted in Chelsea High school and perhaps in neighboring high schools. Theme of this year's competition is "My Responsibility to America."

In additional business, Auxiliary members voted to pay all yearly quotas to the Department of Michigan in the amount of $149.50, to be used to maintain the VFW National Home in Eaton Rapids, and for various other commitments engaged by the Department Auxiliaries.

It was further announced that several members plan to attend the Service Schools of Instruction in Hamburg and Adrian during October.

Next regular meeting will be Oct. 10 in Chelsea's VFW Hall.

Chelsea ABWA Plans Fiesta

The Chelsea Chapter of the American Business Women's Association is planning a "Fiesta" in conjunction with its fall enrollment program. The event will be held at the Hacienda of Senora Linda Ormsby, 7 p.m., Tuesday, Sept. 20.

Senoras and senoritas invited by the membership will be entertained by speaker Dolly Alber and by a succeeding election of officers for the 1977-78 year.

Events similar to the local ABWA chapter's upcoming "Fiesta" are being held nationwide by more than 1,400 other ABWA chapters between Sept. 14 and Sept. 25.

Terrilyn Bradbury, M. G. Nortley Wed at Dexter Methodist Church

Terrilyn Bradbury, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Bradbury, of 10195 Easton Rd., Dexter, wed Michael Gregory Nortley, of Ann Arbor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Nortley, of Saline, Saturday, Sept. 10, in Dexter United Methodist church. The 7 p.m. ceremony was performed by the Rev. James L. Hynes.

Soloist for the occasion was Audrey Ritt, of Dexter, who sang "The Wedding Song" accompanied by organist Diane Ruhlig, also of Dexter.

As she approached the altar, the bride was wearing a floor-length gown of Lutesong polyester, fashioned with sheer, full-length sleeves. It had been made by her mother. Lace trim edged the neckline, sleeves and cuffs of the gown, matching the lace trim on her chapel length train. A row of buttons fastened the back of the bodice. In her hand, she carried a bouquet of white and peach-colored roses.

Ferry Walczak, of Jackson, was maid of honor. She appeared in a mint green, princess style gown with long bell sleeves and white lace trim at the neckline. She held a bouquet of white and green daisy pomps and peach-colored roses.

Bridesmaids were Mary Nortley, of Petoskey, sister of the bridegroom; Cindy Bradbury, of Dexter, cousin of the bride, and Mary Bradbury, of Dexter, sister-in-law of the bride. Their gowns were identical to that worn by the maid of honor, only were styled from peach-colored material. Each held a bouquet of white, green and peach-colored daisy pomps.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Bradbury chose a yellow, floor-length, princess style dress with long sleeves. Her corsage was an arrangement of white and yellow roses.

Serving as flowergirls were Karen Bradbury, of Dexter, sister of the bride, and Shannon Seyfried, of Northfield, niece of the bridegroom. They wore white and peach-colored gowns with square neckline trimmed in ruffles, and a ruffle trim around the sleeves and hemlines. Both gowns had been made by the bride's mother.

Ring bearer was Doug Niethammer, of Saline, nephew of the bridegroom.

Roger Hinckley, of Saline, attended as best man. Ushers were Kevin Bradbury, of Dexter, brother of the bride; Jerry Nortley, of Saline, brother of the bridegroom; and Dale Morton, of Saline.

Following the wedding, a reception at the Chelsea Fairgrounds Service Center. Carol Nortley, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, tended to the guest book; Betty Murphy and Joyce Henry, both aunts of the bride, cut the bride cake; Marcia Henry, cousin of the bride, poured punch; and Sue Scherer poured coffee.

Upon their return from a wedding trip to northern Michigan, the newlyweds will reside in Ann Arbor.

The former Miss Bradbury is employed by University Hospital, in Ann Arbor, and her husband is employed by R. D. Kleinschmidt, in Manchester.

Dotti Bell and Laurie Likevec were welcomed as new members.

A business meeting followed dinner, with discussion on the coming year's programs. Program chairman Anne Steinaway announced theme for year is "Back to Basics."

Girl Scout Recruiting Campaign Underway

"Women have a greater pride in themselves as women, and for that reason women's organizations, even those starting with members as young as elementary school age, are becoming more popular," Linda Dyer, leader of Chelsea's Junior Girl Scout Troop 719, announced.

Her words came as she described the appeal of Girl Scouting, which is the focus of the Girl Scout Recruitment Drive, now underway in Washtenaw county.

"Girl Scouting gives its members an opportunity to grow outside the home and school, the two main sources of most of their experiences," she continued.

"Scouting further provides girls with a wider view of the world, and allows the girls to establish relationships with other girls in nearby communities through inter-troop activities."

According to Mrs. Dyer, participation in scouting also promotes the achievement of maturity, by helping the individuals involved learn how to assess a situation and determine what needs to be done. Through her experience as a leader, she says she has found that "carrying something through to the end is pretty hard for young girls to do."

Mrs. Dyer, who has been a leader for only one year, joined the ranks of scouting after a friend in Ann Arbor, a troop service director, convinced her of the value of volunteering for the position. "I don't even have a daughter," she admitted, "I only have one little boy who will be two years old this year."

Although she originally asked to be assigned as an assistant leader to a Brownie troop, Mrs. Dyer found herself in charge of nine Junior girls, between the ages of nine and 12. She came well equipped for this job, having completed several training seminars offered throughout the year in leadership, camping skills and other Girl Scout programs.

During the past year, with the help of her assistant leader, Mrs. Kittie Hamel, Mrs. Dyer has helped the girls in her troop organize a bake sale to raise money for Christmas baskets, which were then given to Chelsea's volunteer firemen for distribution at Christmas; and arranged to have a woman, who had lived in Spain, come speak to the girls during the Scout's International Day celebration.

"She spoke some Spanish to the girls, and they really loved it," Mrs. Dyer recalled. "Her appearance climaxed three months of very hard work, during which the girls studied the costumes, culture, language origins, religious beliefs, economy, agriculture, and history of several foreign countries."

Other troop activities in the past have included visiting Greenfield Village, going on a week-end camping trip last spring, and working on merit badges.

At all times, the girls were encouraged to develop their own course of action, which Mrs. Dyer sees as "instilling leadership in the girls." The stress on leadership has always been a part of scouting, but Mrs. Dyer claims many other aspects of scouting have changed over the years.

"There was once a stigma about Girl Scouts, who were given a 'goody-two-shoes' label," Mrs. Dyer said as she began to explain the changes. "However, today that image is nearing extinction. Girl Scouts do more things, are more involved, are stepping out on more issues, and in general, are opening up." A new experiment in scouting is the introduction of male troop leaders.

Chelsea has nine Girl Scout troops, including four for Brownies, one for Cadets, and four for Juniors. Designated as "Cluster One," Chelsea lacks only a Sen-pain, come speak to the girls Killelea, Girl Scout publicity chairman for Chelsea, a Senior troop will hopefully be formed soon. All Chelsea troops meet in local schools, one afternoon per week.

In speaking of the Sept. 1-16 Girl Scout Recruitment Drive, Mrs. Killelea said the goal in Chelsea is to enlarge local Girl Scout enrollment. "There is room for more youngsters in all troops because enrollment dropped off in the last year," she announced.

Among the activities planned by area Scouts this year is a fashion show to be sponsored by Cadet troop members, who will then use the proceeds for a trip to Washington, D.C. next summer.

Girls interested in joining a scouting program should contact Mrs. Killelea at 475-9209, or discuss their interest with a Girl Scout recruiter, who will be visiting local schools this month.

More leaders like Mrs. Dyer are also needed, according to Mrs. Killelea. Interested adults should talk to either of Chelsea's two troop service directors, Louise Likavec at 475-1791, or Debbie Spading at 475-2010.

No special skills or job experience is needed for troop leadership, other than an interest in helping young girls develop their maturity and responsibility, according to one-year veteran, Mrs. Dyer. She stated her only experience with youth groups, prior to accepting leadership of Junior Troop 719, was teaching art at an inner-city boy's club in Toledo, O. She terminated her position at the boy's club when she and her husband moved to Chelsea three years ago.

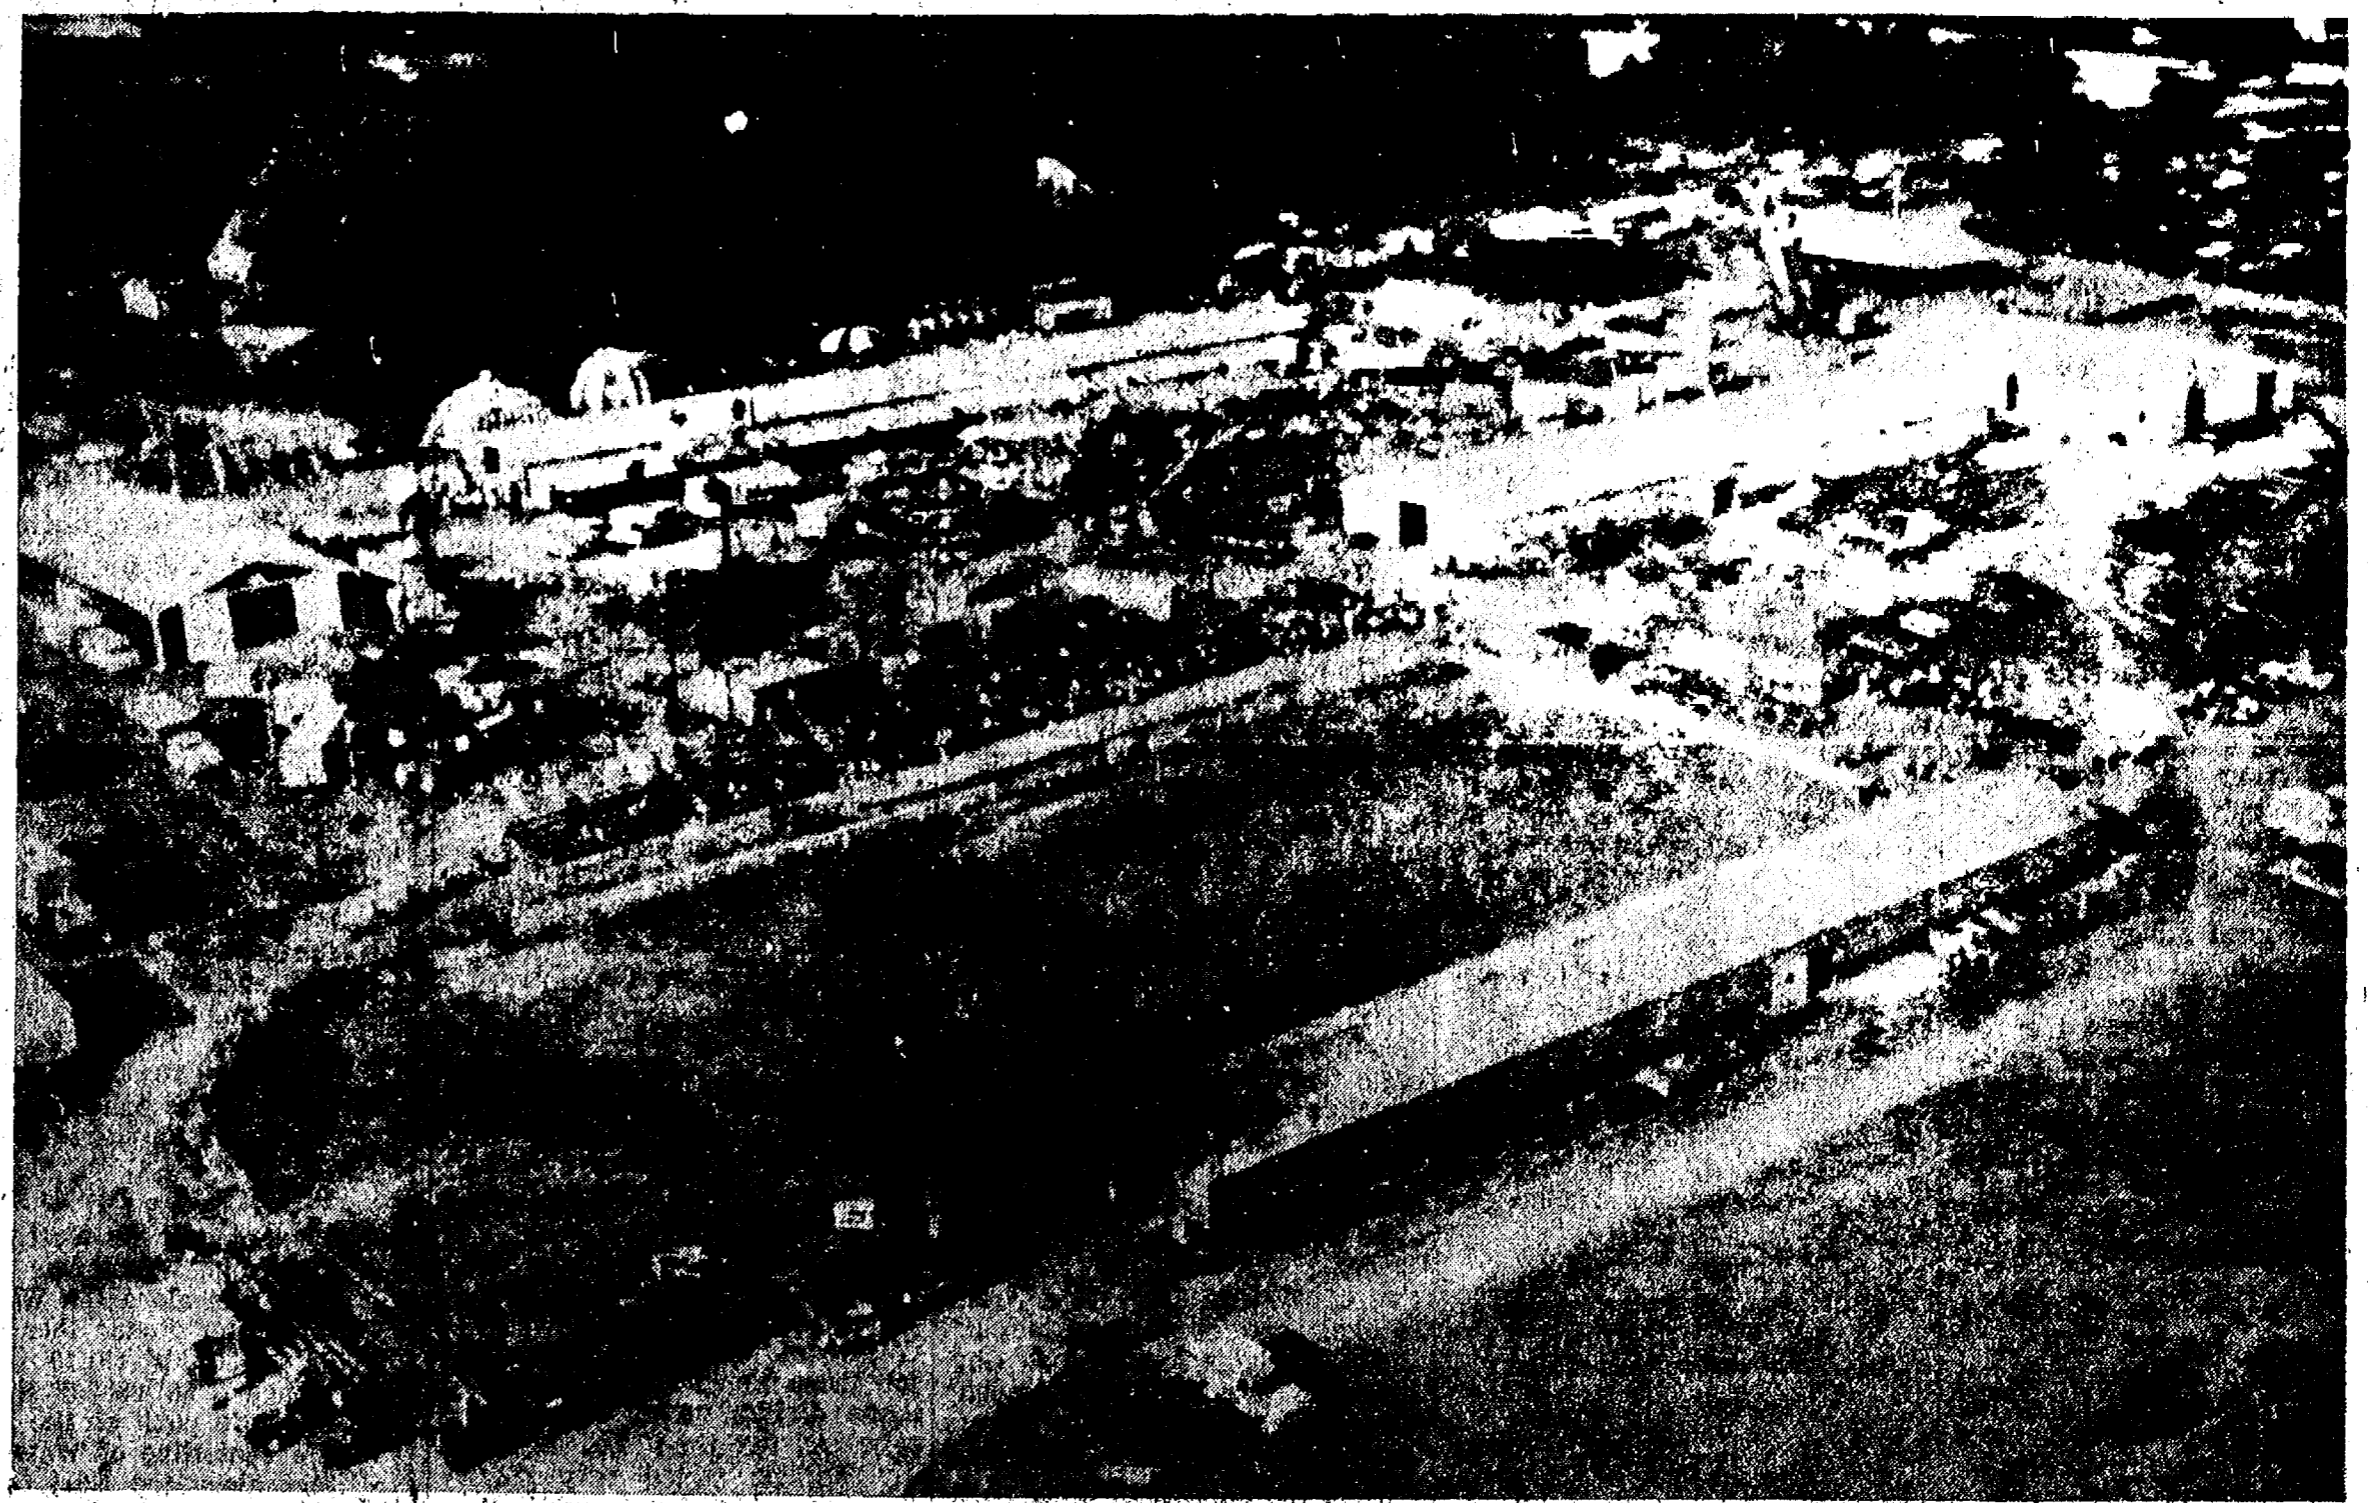

In addition to her duties as a Girl Scout leader, Mrs. Dyer is a part-time student at the University of Michigan, where she is only six hours away from a bachelor's degree in sociological anthropology. She lives with her husband, Thomas, and her son, at 3841 McKinley St. Her husband is part-owner of Town and Country Auto Parts in Ann Arbor.

AIR VIEW OF THE FAIR: As seen from the air, the local fairgrounds, located on Old US-12 W., was transformed from a quiet, fairly deserted tract of land to a bustling landscape of activity during the Chelsea Community Fair, Aug. 23-27. Buildings brimmed with exhibits, the midway churned with spinning rides and game show attractions, and the bleachers filled with a steady stream of spectators, turning out to witness arena events. Colorful umbrella-like covers and awnings dotted the site, as well as hundreds of parked cars. This photo was made possible through the courtesy of Dale Fisher who provided a thrilling experience for hundreds of fairgoers with helicopter rides, skimming above the local countryside.

Dexter Township Adds to 34 Years Ago ... Zoning Appeals Board

At the last regular meeting of the Dexter Township Board, the board took action to increase membership on the Zoning Board of Appeals from three to five members. This change was instituted in an attempt to promote a wider range of representation.

Residents appointed to fill the newly created positions are Michael A. Vengell of Wylie Rd., and Forest M. Begues of Island Lake Rd. These two new members will join members Tom Ehman, chairman; Arlene Howe, secretary; and Bill Robertson.

Purpose of the Zoning Board of Appeals is to consider situations in which compliance with the Zoning Ordinance poses a great hardship on an individual resident. The Board of Appeals, upon hearing the case, may grant a variance or may assist the applicant in developing plans to comply with the Zoning Ordinance.

Individual residents seeking zoning relief may file a request for a hearing. A fee of $50 is required to partially defray the cost of the hearing.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Notten, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Ed Simonds of Ypsilanti, attended the State Jersey Parish Show in East Lansing last Thursday. A registered Jersey cow, which was sold by Notten two years ago to C. M. Brown of Tecumseh, won the grand championship in the aged cow class of the show.

should contact Earl Doletzky, Zoning Enforcement Officer, or Tom Ehman, chairman of the Zoning Board of Appeals.

New Police Officer Joins Chelsea Force

profession. "I do know that I will definitely stay here awhile," he said in referring to his job with Chelsea police. He added, "that he thought his studies at EMU have had a positive influence on his job as a police officer because they have served to widen his view of society and its problems."

When asked to describe Chelsea's greatest crime problem, Hall replied, "I don't think Chelsea has any major problems, but then I've only been here a little more than one month. It's a quiet town; I've heard good things about it."

However, he did say he occasionally encountered difficulties with public attitudes towards the role of a police officer. "The majority of residents respect an officer and his work, but there is a certain handful of individuals who really make the job hard," he said. "His solution to the problem is to 'approach each situation differently.'"

This technique has most often come into play when Hall spots a traffic violator, particularly a speeder. "An officer knows 99 percent of the time when he stops someone for speeding, whether or not he is going to write out a ticket," he said. "Usually a warning will suffice to slow the driver down, but if the driver jumps out of his car and says 'why aren't you out catching crooks,' he has just bought himself a ticket."

"I treat people like I like to be treated, and don't make it a point to stop people just because they are traveling a few miles per hour over the speed limit," he continued. "But if the department received a number of complaints about speeding in a certain area, we do sit out there to catch the speeders." Hall added that the only drivers for whom he had no sympathy were drunk drivers.

"They drive between 80 and 100 m.p.h., and have just taken too many innocent lives," he said. "Looking for obvious traffic violators, unusual or suspicious things, checking on local buildings, and just being visible to discourage a potential criminal, are the duties of an officer on night patrol, according to Hall. In contrast, he maintained day-time patrol can be best described as "public relations work." Being courteous to the public, assisting those with problems, and waving to children are all part of a day's work.

"Waving to little kids is particularly important," Hall declared. "They really remember if you wave at them when they wave, and most people know from their own childhood experiences what it feels like if someone doesn't do it."

Another age group police officers try to reach are teen-agers. "The general teen-ager has a better attitude toward law enforcement these days than they had in the past," Hall noted. "A few years ago, if I talked to young people in plain clothes, and then told them I was a police officer, the conversation would be over. There is less of this intolerance now."

Winning the confidence of the public is one side of police work, but there is another side rife with headaches for the dedicated officer. Dealing with constant lawbreakers and always knowing that there is some risk to the job are only two drawbacks. "But the worst," Hall said, is the public tendency to group all policemen together as a whole.

"If one policeman does something bad," he elaborated, "it makes every other cop look bad. But if a citizen does something disagreeable, people don't look at every other citizen and judge them by the action of one."

A job frustration often cited by police officers, is failure to get a conviction in the courts once a suspected criminal has been apprehended. Many officers claim liberal laws work to protect criminals. Hall denied this was true of his experience. "The laws haven't restricted me yet, and I don't find it hard to get convictions," he said.

For those drawn towards a career in law enforcement, Hall warns, "it's hard to get into the field, to get a job; departments are very selective as a rule." Furthermore, once an officer is working, the rewards are few, other than an occasional thank-you. "That's the biggest one for me," he confessed, "and it's seldom given."

In Chelsea, though, Hall has found his work situation is better than the average for a police officer. "I find I can enjoy 90 percent of my work here," he confirmed. "In fact, I am thinking about moving to the area." Newly married, Hall currently lives with his wife, Nancy, in Ypsilanti.

Chelsea Man Only Slightly Injured In Motorcycle Accident

A 28-year-old Chelsea man suffered only minor injuries Friday when he was tossed off his motorcycle after he lost control of the vehicle while turning onto Pleasant Lake Rd. from northbound Saline-Ann Arbor Rd.

Washtenaw County Sheriff's deputies said Michael Hasset, 28, of 518 Arthur St. was driving too fast for conditions when the accident occurred, but was not cited for violating the traffic code. Hasset was transported to Chelsea Community Hospital for treatment of his injuries.

Band Boosters Selling Community Calendars

A few community calendars, featuring important local events such as club meetings, school events, birthdays and anniversaries, are still available, the Chelsea Band and Orchestra Boosters report. The calendars are being sold by local band and orchestra members as a fund-raising project.

Proceeds from the sale are used to offset summer band camp expenses, as well as for extra items used by the bands and orchestra, but not financed by the Chelsea schools budget.

This year, the Boosters are raising money to help the school purchase concert uniforms for orchestra and symphony band members, "so they will look as good as they sound," one booster explained.

Calendars may be purchased for a nominal fee at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Durgan, 158 Orchard St., or by calling the Durgans at 475-1285.

To the Editor:

President Carter has proclaimed the week of Sept. 17 National Constitution Week.

Some Americans, particularly those at the younger end of the age spectrum, may well respond to this announcement with a "so what?" And considering the cynicism which has become stylish as regards patriotism, free enterprise, and individual responsibility, perhaps a failure to understand the significance of our Declaration of Independence and The U. S. Constitution is not surprising.

We think it is absolutely vital that Americans do understand their own heritage.

The founding of our Republic was unique in a very important and basic way: it was founded on the principle of sovereign citizens. Whereas the lot of most human beings prior to 1776 was that of being subjects of government or some despot, our founding fathers declared that "all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their creator with certain unalienable rights," and that Governments are instituted among men deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed."

While the citizens of other countries must view themselves as dependent subjects (servants) of the State, Americans could proudly proclaim that they are master and their government was their servant; that their rights as individual human beings did not come from government, so those rights could not properly be taken from them by government. What a vital point of difference! What a potent shield from the despotism of government tyranny which plagued mankind in the past!

What a heritage for modern day Americans!

Obviously, such a unique concept of Constitutionally limited government, under which Americans had come to enjoy a standard of personal freedom and economic prosperity in less than 150 years which made them the envy of the rest of the world, would not be at all compatible with the philosophy of government prevailing in other countries. A recent tabulation by U.S. News and World Report concluded that some 80 percent of the world's people do not enjoy freedom. For this reason we suggest that thinking Americans consider very critically anything which might cause the loss of their citizen sovereignty; they should be wary of the subtle but concepts of Internationalism and interdependence or the idea that our Constitution is "outdated."

The blurring of the distinction and real significance of the real American Constitutional System in the minds of American citizens could serve no interests besides those who seek to subvert and supplant it with the collectivist tyranny slowly but surely blotting out human liberty and prosperity throughout the globe. And lest the impression be left that all threats to our American system of individual freedom come from without, consider the potential dangers from within. For instance, how far can a government bureaucracy go in regulating and controlling our lives, even if ostensibly for "our own good," without reversing the original servant-master relationship?

As he left the building where the founders of our country had been deliberating, Benjamin Franklin was reportedly asked by a waiting woman what form of government she was being given. Franklin replied, "a republic ma'am, if you can keep it." Others have underlined the frailty of freedom by observing that "freedom isn't free," or that "eternal vigilance is the price of freedom."

With its division of powers, its system of checks and balances and its Bill of Rights which clearly are designed to limit the authority of the central government the U.S. Constitution has been the outstanding document and shield for human rights in history. But its ability to survive the inevitable challenges of those who throughout history have sought power and wealth through the enslavement of mankind will depend upon each new generation of Americans understanding and preserving its unique principle of sovereign citizens.

In the name of human liberty,

To the Editor,

After reading Bette-Jo Parks' letter of Sept. 1, we find it necessary to respond with the facts as they really were. We don't wish to criticize, but we feel it necessary to clarify what the situation really was.

First of all, Merle Sibley very reluctantly agreed to head the division since there were no other volunteers. If he didn't take the job there would not have been a horse division available at the fair. At the time he took the division, he stated very clearly that he wouldn't be available every minute of the fair since he was working a full-time job and had no vacation time. This is why a horse committee was formed.

The reason for having the horses stalled a few hours early on Thursday was for the safety of the rider, horse, and spectators because of the demolition derby and the large amount of spectators. The reason for the earlier time for Friday was for the horse shoe pitching true, but the so-called exercise arena is the property of the fair board and they can do with it as they please. Also it was necessary to clean the area to avoid the possibilities of accidents. Any rider that felt that it was absolutely necessary to exercise their horse after the curfew was given permission and instructions on where they could safely ride.

To clarify the Saturday horse show there was only a half an hour break to allow the judge and staff to eat. It was resumed with English classes which, contrary to Ms. Parks' belief is a part of the horse show activities. All horses are required to school before any jumping class for safety purposes. This has been the policy for the past several years. There will be no classes cut short, however, some were run a little differently than in the past. The rules for the Speed and Action classes are at the discretion of the show committee and judge. Two classes were cancelled due to the time, however, it was clearly stated on the show bills that "if time permitted these classes would be added." All people registered for the cancelled classes were given a full refund for those classes.

We do apologize for the failure of the speaker system in the horse barn but since we were on such a schedule just to complete the barn, everything couldn't be perfect. It is the responsibility of the entrant to be aware of the classes they are in and be available to be there on time. We can't be holding everyone's hand and leading them into the show ring.

As for Ms. Parks, rules were broken and or bent to satisfy her. They include making a special oversized stall since her horse would not tie, no halter on the horse "which was required for safety reasons," and allowing her horse out of the barn after the curfew at her request.

We feel we were quite reasonable with her and if she had complaints it was her obligation to let the committee or the fair board know. There certainly was enough of the committee around wearing blue ribbon pins to hear her complaints at all times!

True, mistakes were made, but it is very difficult to run a division as smoothly as Jeanne Botsford and Andy Ford did for the past 10 years. Problems do come up.

Volunteers will be needed for next year's shows and plans have been issued for improvements. Everyone's help would be welcome with open arms. There will be meetings scheduled for the future and advance notice will be published in the paper.

Church To Dedicate Day School Building

Members of Faith Lutheran church will dedicate their new Christian Day School building this Sunday, Sept. 18, 3 p.m.

The main part of the dedication service will be held in the church building, with the procession out to the school building and ribbon-cutting ceremony as the closing part of the service.

The facilities are located at 9575 North Territorial Rd., 1/4 mile west of Dexter-Pinckney Rd.

Guest speaker for the special occasion will be the Rev. Karl Peterson, principal of Huron Valley Lutheran High School. The Rev. Peterson, a colorful and inspiring speaker, will preach on the theme "Upon This Rock We Build Again."

The congregation began its Christian day school in the fall of 1973. Enrollment has steadily increased from the original 7 to its current 24. A second teacher was added to the staff this year. With the individualized instruction, parental involvement and control, and strong Christian setting, the congregation is convinced that their children are receiving the kind of education that equips them in an outstanding way for life in these times.

The new building is approximately 2,800 square feet, containing two classrooms, an entry hall, storage space, washrooms and mechanical room. The classrooms, each about 25' by 38', are spacious and allow extra room for such things as learning centers. The ceilings are sloped, soaring toward the northern end, adding a dimension of spaciousness. The building is extremely energy-efficient, utilizing the latest insulation methods and materials.

Members of the congregation built nearly all of the building themselves, with as many as 50 people active on a week-end, exercising their skills and talents (and sometimes doing amazing things). They acted as their own contractor, saving well over half the normal cost of building. The architect for the building project is Henry Kowaleski, from the University of Michigan.

This dedication marks the completion of the third building constructed by the congregation, having dedicated its new church in 1972 and parsonage in 1974.

The community is invited to join in the celebration and to tour the facilities. A supper will be served everyone following the festivities.

Public Access Stamp Required for Hunters

The state legislature passed Act 373 and it was signed by the governor in December of 1976. This act requires that any person hunting in Zone II (the southern 40 counties of Michigan) purchase a Public Access Stamp which will cost $1 and have it in his possession while hunting. Money realized from the sale of these stamps is to be used to lease private lands for public hunting.

Leasing rates run from $2.50 per acre for excellent habitat to 80 cents per acre for marginal habitat. Leases will be for three years but may be terminated at the end of any year without penalty. Leases will cover the period from Sept. 15 to March 1 of each year. This will take in the small game and deer seasons in southern Michigan.

The DNR will furnish the necessary signs to post your land—and you will be permitted to limit the number of hunters using your land at one time. Hunters must get permission before hunting liability for all but gross negligence or willful or wanton misconduct.

Landowners have until Oct. 1 to submit an application. Application blanks may be picked up from any DNR field office or county ASOS office. After submitting an application listing amount and type of land in various crops, each landowner will be visited by a field biologist. They will discuss safety zones, boundary signs, harvest procedures, etc., and if an agreement is reached a lease will then be signed.

This program should help landowners who have had trouble with trespass in the past years. A farmer can limit the number of hunters and will know who they are because each hunter is required to ask permission. They are then issued a daily pocket-sized permit good for that day. At the end of each day the permits must be returned.

This is the first year of the state sponsored Land Access Program. It was patterned somewhat like the Federal Cropland Adjustment Program (CAP) for farms. If you have questions about this program contact Ralph Anderson or Jeff Greene at the DNR office in Jackson. The telephone number is (517) 784-3138.

Shalom Church Marks First Anniversary

Shalom Lutheran church heard special religious music at the Sept. 11 Sunday worship service, presented by the Final Chapter Quartette of Battle Creek. The date not only commemorated Shalom's first anniversary, but was also a memorial to Mrs. Lempi Heltgen, mother of Annette Johnson, a member of the congregation.

The quartette consisted of Kirk Norton, (brother of Patty Homan, Shalom member), DeWayne Drallette, Doug Swan and John Betz. These four young men became acquainted through the Battle Creek Chapter of Barber Shop Quartettes and realized their mutual interest in church music. "God must have meant it to be this way," said their spokesman, when they discovered they were a combination of baritone, lead, base and tenor. They continued to practice together until they became what they presently are, a group giving of their time and talents to hospitals, nursing homes, etc., in the area of Battle Creek. Pinckney, so far, is the greatest distance they've traveled from "home base" to furnish religious music, this by special request.

More than 100 attended Sunday's service, during which Jennifer and Dwayne Wolff took Communion for the first time, having completed instruction in the meaning of the Sacrament.

Finalization of Shalom's anniversary came with the event of the planned pig roast at the home of Dorothy and Preston Tabory Gregory. The occasion also marked the 14th birthday of the Tabors' daughter, Barbara.

Donald Gibb, Fellowship Committee chairman, saw to it that music for all ages was provided by tapes and amplifiers. Dancing, potato-sack races, tug-o-war, etc., added to the merriment of approximately 70 people.

Thursday, Sept. 22, is the date set for a roller skating party for the youth.

It's Rampy's theory that if you spend time, effort and money to see that your customers are satisfied, they'll come back again... and again.

That's exactly why Rampy recently bought the most modern computer diagnostic system available. The Sun 2001. It's one of the few things in this world that seems to make everyone happy.

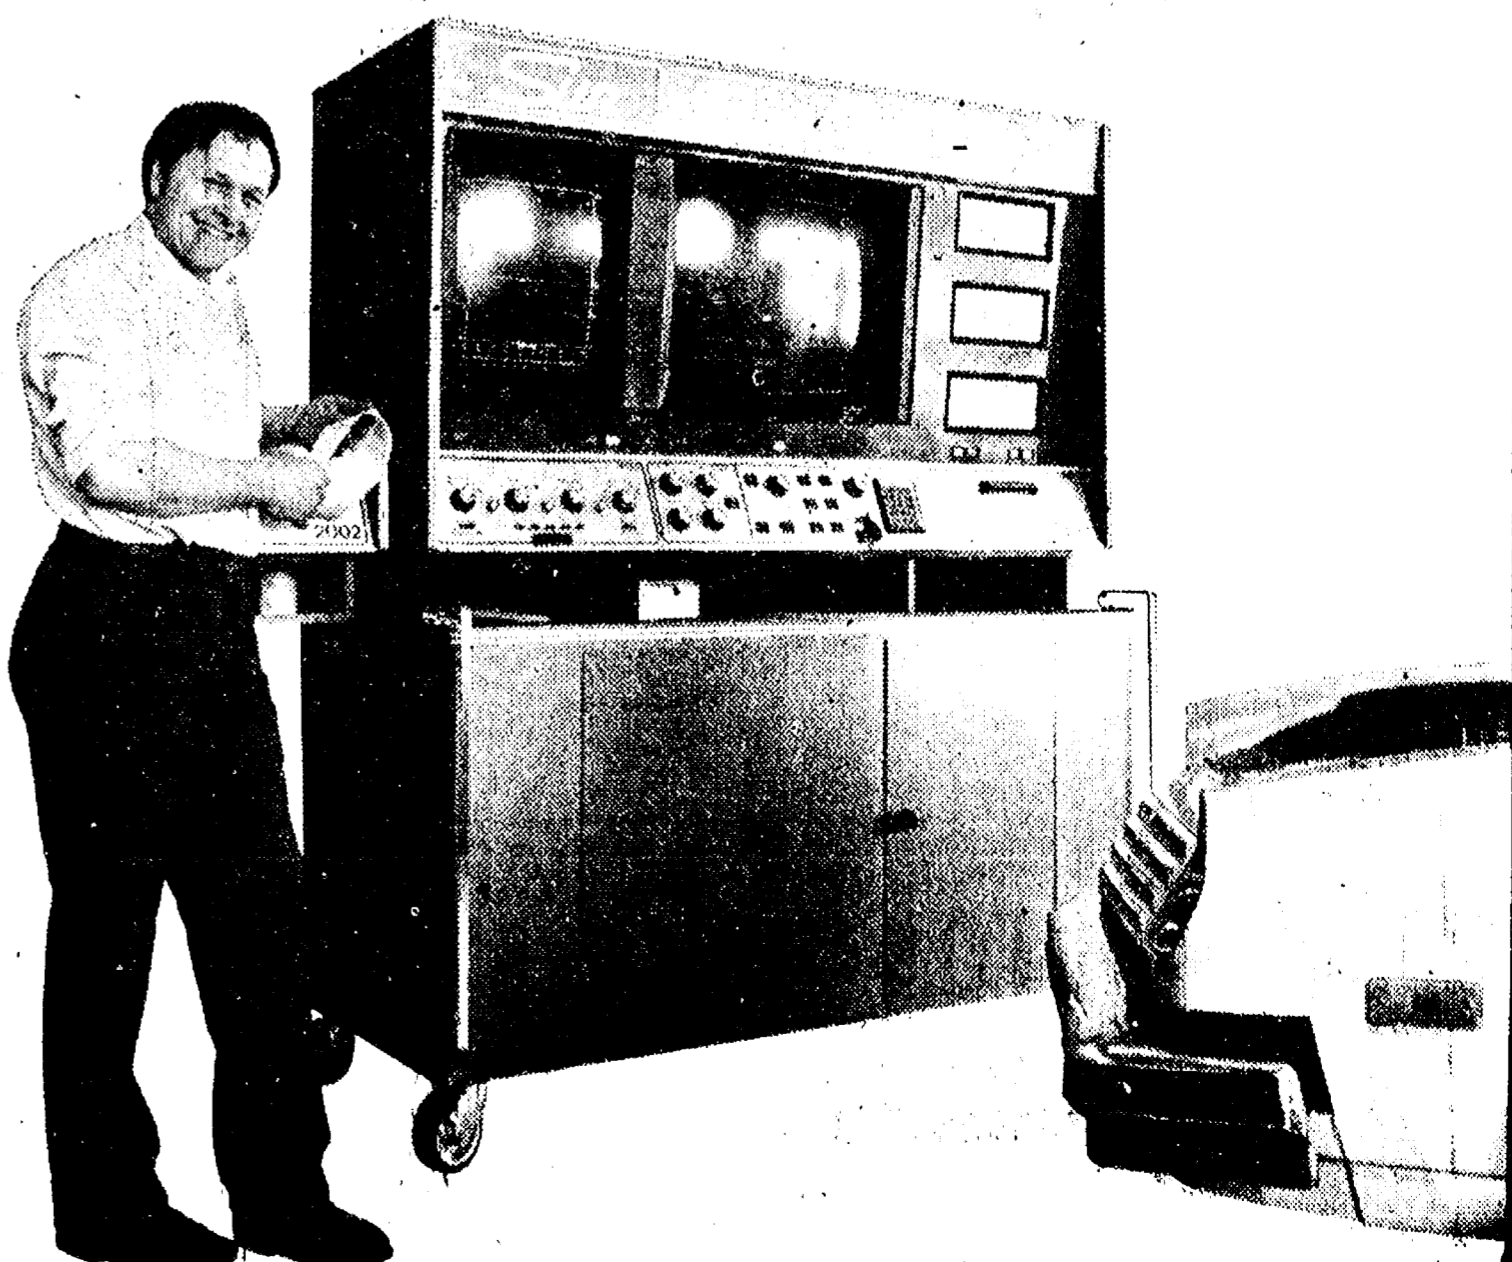

The mechanics like it because it makes their job easier... it can spot a small problem before it develops into a big one... and it saves a lot of sweat looking for problems that just don't want to be found.

Customers like it because the computer print-out they receive allows them to see just exactly what was needed to get their cars running at peak performance. And, that means fewer service calls in the long haul. The real problems are spotted right away.

And Rampy likes it because he can see it helps keep his customers satisfied.

Bring your car in for a taste of the future today... the Sun 2001... at Rampy Chevrolet.

LARRY ADAMS, left, washer operator at Chelsea's Dana Corp. plant, shakes hands with Michigan State Representative Mike Conlin (R-23rd District) Monday afternoon, during Conlin's tour of the local plant facilities. Conlin's visit was spawned by his desire to learn more about Dana and its operations since the automotive power equipment manufacturing firm is located in his Congressional district. The metal baskets on the washer carry gears, shafts and housings which are cleaned of grease and oil before going to Dana's assembly plant for assembly. Adams, who is also a fireman for the Chelsea Fire Department, makes sure the numbers on all parts coincide with one another, and then checks the parts to see that they are properly washed.

David Bruce Webster stated that he was heading west on I-94 at 11:50 a.m. when he fell asleep at the wheel. His vehicle then drifted off the roadway onto the median where it broadsided the concrete embankment, causing him to wake up. No enforcement action was taken against him.

PRICING YOUR HOUSE RIGHT

The value of your house is not what you think it is — or what the buyer thinks. It is determined chiefly by the location, the neighborhood, and the current market. An overpriced house sitting on the market for months becomes almost impossible to sell. So first, you must get in line with the market. That means a realistic appraisal.

Nobody — but nobody — is more acutely aware of the current housing market than your local Realtor. A capable Realtor can bring in his own appraisal expert or even a team of salesmen who will individually price your home and then reach a fair consensus. Or you can hire a qualified independent appraiser. You may be pleasantly surprised to find out that you were intending to price your house for less than its fair market value.

If possible, your price should include curtains, draperies, refrigerator, air-conditioners, dishwasher, built-ins. It's a better package deal and may hasten the sale.

FORD'S BETTER IDEA

During the summer of 1924, the residents of Williamsburg, Va., offered to sell their town—lock, stock and barrel—to Henry Ford. The selling price of $5 million was reasonable for a town full of Colonial artifacts and architecture. For a number of reasons, Ford, an acknowledged collector of Americana, declined the offer. Five years later, however, he opened his own world-renowned Greenfield Village in Dearborn.

JV Gridders

Lose, 20-6,

To Tecumseh

Tecumseh dominated Chelsea's Junior Bulldog squad in their season opener Friday, handing the local JV gridders a biting 20-6 defeat.

In the first quarter, Chelsea fumbled a punt on their own 25-yard line to give Tecumseh an early advantage in the game. Using their advantage, Tecumseh hit the ball in for a touchdown on a short run, collected two extra points on another running play, and finished the quarter with an 8-0 lead.

In the following quarter, it was again Tecumseh, all the way, as they scored on a pass to raise their lead to 14-0.

Chelsea responded with a strong drive in the third quarter, and scored on a 28-yard pass play from John Dunn to Mike Killelea. Falling in their attempt to run the ball for extra points, the Bulldogs completed the quarter eight points behind Tecumseh to rest the score at 6-14.

Coming into the final quarter, Tecumseh scored for the third time on a run for their 20-6 victory.

Defensively, Chelsea was led in tackles by John LaBarbara and David Morris with 11 each, followed by Dan Pagliarini, 10; Randy Risner and Dan Kolander, 9 each; Louis Jahnke and Andy Weir, 6 each; Sim Joo Kim and Keith Stillion, 3 each; Mike Killelea, Todd Wright, and Brad Knickerbocker, 2 each; Carl Simpson, Dave Gawlak and Tom Gilbreath, 1 each.

Sim Joo Kim recovered a Tecumseh fumble.

The JV Bulldogs will host Novi at 7 p.m. today. According to Coach Jon Schaffner, the local gridders will attempt to counter their opening loss with a win over the Wildcats.

Pair Injured Early Sunday In Cycle Crash

A Chelsea man and a woman visiting the area from Washington, D.C., were seriously injured early Sunday evening after the motorcycle they were riding skidded out of control at the intersection of Island Lake and Stoffer Rds.

Still hospitalized are Steven Dygert, 28, of 543 1/2 W. Middle St., driver of the vehicle, and his passenger, Carolyn Holstein, 31, of Washington, D.C.

According to Washtenaw County Sheriff's reports, Dygert was eastbound on Island Lake Rd., attempting to turn onto Stoffer Rd., when he failed to negotiate a curve in the roadway. He lost control of the motorcycle which went off the right of Island Lake Rd., continued across a lawn and came to a stop after striking a tree.

Both Dygert and Miss Holstein were thrown off of the vehicle in the process. They were transported to Chelsea Community Hospital for emergency treatment and later transported to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ypsilanti, where both remain.

A witness to the accident, 29-year-old Stanley Pyett of Chelsea, told Sheriff's deputies that Dygert's speed was not excessive when the mishap occurred but was obviously too fast for the curve. A traffic citation was not issued.

Afghan Winners

Two afghans were given away Friday, Sept. 9, during a yard and bake sale, sponsored by Chelsea United Methodist Church. The winners were Carol Bragg, of 505 Maywood St., and Charlotte Inglis, of 100 S. Dancer Rd.

FITNESS TRAIL BRIDGE: Completing construction on Chelsea's Fitness Trail, which should be ready for fitness buffs by the end of the month, are workers from the Washtenaw County Parks and Recreation Commission. Among the tasks they have accomplished are the building of structures for exercise stations, and the erection of a bridge across a water drain. Alice Tite, co-ordinator of the project, looks on from left, while foreman Tom Leabu, second from left, Ralph Walkley, partially obscured, and Mike O'Leary, right, put the finishing touches on a bridge post.

THIS WOOD CHIP TRAIL, surrounded by cleared brush and twigs, will shortly be in use by jogging enthusiasts. The site is part of the new Chelsea Fitness Trail, scheduled to be open at the end of September. The 2 1/2-mile trail will wind around Chelsea Community Hospital, beginning and ending at the back of Pierce Park. Fifteen exercise stations will dot the trail, with signs, such as the one posted on the tree in the photo, describing each exercise, how to do it, and the number of times it should be done. The project is being financed by a donation from the Chelsea Child Study Club, while several community groups, including the Jaycees, have volunteered labor to the project.

Gridders of the Week

RICK BEEMAN (54), center and defensive half-back for the 1977 varsity football squad, has returned to the team this year for a second season. Defining his job on the field as "getting the ball to the quarterback," and "knocking down passes from the opposition," the 5'11", 145-lb. senior believes that if every team member does his part, Chelsea should achieve its goal of conference champs. "The way we're playing now, we should be near the top in the league," Beeman confirmed. From his experience in last week's game with Tecumseh, Beeman said the Bulldogs "still need a lot of work particularly the offense." Currently, the gridders noted, defense is the team's strongest asset. Beeman predicted Chelsea would beat Novi this Friday, because "We're getting it together and don't need to lose anymore." Over-all he feels Brighton will present the biggest threat to Chelsea's title hopes. Also a wrestler who took the league title in his weightclass last year, Beeman is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Beeman of 16610 Waterloo Rd.

DAVE SCHROTENBOER (88) has an optimistic view of the future for the Bulldogs. "We'll do pretty well now that our first game is over and we've gotten our opening game jitters out of the way." Also returning to the varsity squad for a second year, the 6'3", 163-lb. senior said his team's reputation is on the line this year. "We have to keep up our reputation," he explained, "everyone is expecting us to do well." Schrotenboer is again playing the position of end this year, which means he will spend the season catching passes and blocking. He pointed out that Chelsea has the advantage of "good team unity" this year, because "most of the players have been playing together since 7th grade." He added that the Bulldogs have "more experience on the line and in the back field" than they had in the previous year, and therefore can launch a stronger bid for the league title. In Chelsea's non-league encounter with Tecumseh last week-end, Schrotenboer said the Bulldogs lost "because we were not consistently moving the ball and we had too many turnovers." He predicts these problems will be solved in time for Chelsea's first conference game with Novi tomorrow. "We'll definitely win it," he said, "if only to get revenge for last Friday's loss." Schrotenboer is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Schrotenboer of 7949 Werkner Rd.

CHUCK BRODERICK (89) joins his two teammates as a second year veteran of Chelsea's varsity football team. The 5'11", 165-lb. senior began playing football in 7th grade. During the course of his lengthy career, he was voted Most Valuable Line-man as a JV, and tied for the same honor with another player his freshman year. Broderick is a split end for the varsity Bulldogs this year, a position he began playing last season. Comparing his current job to that of a line-man, the gridders said, "I now run more for passes, and do a lot of blocking." "A split end needs to be fast, aggressive and must catch passes well," he continued. "Hopefully I meet those requirements; I know I haven't fumbled yet." Broderick noted that the Bulldogs "need work to get the team rolling," and said Chelsea did not seem ready for the season when they met Tecumseh last Friday. "Our lines didn't punch out like they should have and we weren't aggressive enough." But he added the team "looked good defensively." Broderick said the Bulldogs are "going for a conference title," and predicted chances were good that this goal would be met. "We have spirit, ability and good experience," he explained, and said the team has shown 100 percent improvement in practice since the Tecumseh game. That combination makes victory inevitable, particularly over Novi tomorrow, according to Broderick. "We're sick of losing, don't want to anymore, so we'll show our stuff against Novi." In addition to football, Broderick plays baseball for Chelsea High. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Broderick of 12005 Scio Church Rd.

Corn Loan Rates Hiked

Washtenaw county farmers will be able to defray some of the severe cost-price squeeze affecting them by taking advantage of the increased loan rate just announced for corn. According to Dorothy M. Howard, county executive director of the ASCS office, CCC loans will be $2.03 per bushel for corn in this county. Loans may be obtained on a certified quantity or (measured quantity when paid by the producer) for farm stored grain and by negotiable warehouse receipt when the grain is stored in a government approved warehouse.

Mrs. Howard said that corn under loan by CCC is still the farmer's property whether stored at the farm or in a warehouse. Condition of the grain should be watched on farm storage. When taking out a loan from Commodity Credit Corporation the producer is doing two things; keeps the grain off the market during peak seasons and has the opportunity to hold the grain for a better market. The loan matures in 11 months and has an interest rate of 6 percent per annum. When a producer is ready to sell grain under loan he should check with the ASCS office for release before grain is moved.

Loan requests may be made at the local ASCS office after the corn is harvested and in storage, according to Mrs. Howard.

Burning Chemically Treated Wood May Be Dangerous to Health

Don't broil your hamburgers over wood that's been treated with a preservative. That's the advice of state agriculture director B. Dale Ball. Chemicals in the treated wood may be dangerous to your health.

Ball's warning comes in the wake of his department's findings of pentachlorophenol residues in animal tissues. Pentachlorophenol is one of the most commonly used wood preservatives.

Wood treated with a preservative is very useful construction material, Ball said. Preservatives reduce decay and discourage insect destruction such as that caused by termites.

"But we frequently hear of cases where people have used their scraps of treated wood to start charcoal broiling fires, make bonfires for cooking, or even let youngsters use the blocks for playthings," the agriculture department director said. "This kind of use of chemically treated wood should be avoided."

As one of the preliminary judges in this year's Beef Cook-off, sponsored by the Michigan Beef Industry Commission, I had an opportunity to look over a great number of excellent recipes using inexpensive meat cuts.

When the seven finalists were chosen, there was one recipe that looked great but wasn't one of the seven. Gary Marx of Lansing submitted the recipe and he has given me permission to pass it on to you.

Combine two pounds lean ground beef, four finely chopped Ida Red or McIntosh apples, two slightly beaten eggs, one-half teaspoon tarragon, and salt and pepper to taste. Shape this mixture into one-inch cubes and fry in oil along with one-half cup chopped onion.

For the sauce, combine four eight-ounce cans of tomato sauce, one and one-half cups dry red wine, one-half cup cider, and one teaspoon each of basil and rosemary. Pour the sauce over the meatballs, cover and simmer for one hour. The meatballs and sauce may be served over noodles or rice.

It has no doubt already come to your notice that there are a goodly number of Michigan products in this recipe.

The Michigan Department of Agriculture is always ready to remind people that agriculture is an important industry. In fact, agriculture is Michigan's second largest industry with cash receipts to farmers totalling $1.68 billion in 1976. With added costs of processing, transportation and marketing, the agricultural industry was worth approximately $8.3 billion.

That's nothing to sneeze at.

Thornbury, of 13431 Trinkle Rd., rubbed elbows with several individuals of national prominence during the 1977 Celebrity Open Golf Tournament, Aug. 19, at Sun Valley, Ida. Held as a benefit for the American Cancer Society, the tournament attracted a team entry from former President Gerald Ford and retired Minnesota Twins great Harmon Killebrew. Thornbury caddied for the duo during the event, and is pictured above, with Ford and Killebrew, walking between greens on the 18-hole course as spectators look on. From left, are Killebrew, Ford, a Secret Service agent, and Thornbury. According to the youth, Ford came into the tournament equipped with a matze and blue golf bag, and matze and blue golf club covers. Thornbury added that every-where Ford went, the one-time University of Michigan football player was serenaded by strains from "The Victors," the U-M fight song. The former president talked to Thornbury about the current U-M grid squad and predicted the team would have a very good year.

Pioneer Girls Club Begins Fall Program

Chelsea's Pioneer Girls' Club, an organization which seeks to encourage the spiritual, physical, mental and social development of girls in grades 2 through 7, will begin its fall program Tuesday, Sept. 20. The group meets regularly at Immanuel Bible church, from 6:30 to 8 p.m.

Goals of the Pioneer Girls' Club are achieved in club meetings and through various activities such as Bible studies, crafts, field trips, games, camping, achievements, parties, service projects, songs and much more.

Although the club was organized only six months ago, members are looking forward to their new fall program which will be similar to the one completed last spring. Past outings have included a trip to Saginaw Forest, an overnight camp-out, and visits to the Kellogg Cereal plant and the Kellogg bird sanctuary, both located in Battle Creek. Members also built a float which they entered in the Chelsea Community Fair Parade.

Guides for the 1977-78 year are Roberta Hinz, Hazel Hermosillo, Eleanor Strong and Ginger Haugen. For further information on the organization, call Mrs. Hermosillo, at 475-1017.

Tom Tolles Enters Ohio Sports Rally

Chelsea's Tom Tolles, of 13170 Riker Rd., and his navigator Jean Rizer, of Ann Arbor, have entered the Sunrider 400 Forest Rally to be held in Chillicothe, O., Sept. 24-25.

PREP Class Series Offered To Parents, Pre-Schoolers

The Parent Readiness Education Project (PREP), sponsored by the Chelsea School District, will again be available for parents and their pre-schoolers this year.

Designed to make a child's future kindergarten year smoother and more rewarding, the program includes one morning per week of classroom activities, supplemented by individually assigned home activities for the remainder of the week.

PREP teachers will be contacting parents of children born between Dec. 2, 1972 and Dec. 1, 1973, for enrollment in the program. Parents who are not contacted by Sept. 20, are invited to call 475-9131, ext. 60, for information.

After program enrollment is completed, PREP staff members will conduct a screening at North school in order to meet individually with each child and assess the child's learning strengths and weaknesses.

The PREP program is a free service offered to parents who desire to learn more about their child's readiness for school activities. Program results will be available to families upon request.

NOW STUDENTS, LET'S TURN TO PAGE THREE

William Holmes McGuffey, well-known educator and author of the famous "McGuffey Readers," was born near Claysville, Pa., on Sept. 23, 1800. Eventual sales of his "Reader," popular as a standard text for almost a century in some areas, topped 122 million. McGuffey's birthplace is now part of Greenfield Village, Dearborn.

Fair Premium Checks Must Be Cashed at Once

The 1977 Chelsea Community Fair, marked by record breaking participation and attendance, is now history. Of the more than 700 individuals issued exhibitor numbers, 488 received premium checks which totaled in excess of $8,000. Hundreds of others took part in daily activities and were rewarded with the joy of accomplishment as well as such things as ribbons, trophies and tickets for free rides.

The Fair Board reminds those who still hold premium checks to cash them. At the end of the month they are void and Michigan state regulations dictate that funds to cover the uncashed checks must be turned over to the state in an escrow fund. Uncashed checks are no longer donations to the fair.

In addition to paying premiums, gate receipts from the Fair will be used to offset insurance costs, utilities, ground improvements, new buildings, debts incurred in the purchase of additional property, maintenance and general preparations for next year's Fair, the Fair Board said. No board member or former stockholder profits from the Fair or is reimbursed for his or her many hours of service.

In fact, the Fair is staffed nearly exclusively by volunteer help. Saturday evening, these giving individuals will gather at the Fair Service Center for food and fellowship as they share in the success and growth of a community-wide recreational endeavor.

Good Farm Lands Being Lost In Protecting Other Resources

The gobbling up of the nation's farmland is being accelerated by efforts to protect other natural resources, B. Dale Ball, director of the Michigan Department of Agriculture said today.

"Farmland should have as high a priority for preservation as any other natural resource,"

Farmland is being lost in the U.S. at a rate of about a million and a half acres a year, and up to 50,000 acres a year in Michigan, said Ball.

The nation sets laws, policies and regulations to protect wetlands, woodlands and wilderness. The list goes on: marshes, muskegs and mountains, shorelines, sand dunes, swamps, scenic areas, streams and sites for shorebirds and sea gulls.

All of these may be worthy objectives, said Ball. "But the end result is that farmland—a vital and irreplaceable resource—is carved up protected areas.

"Plans for I-69 expressway in Eaton county point this up," the agriculture director said. "Federal funding rules require that the new route avoid wetlands and steer around stream crossings. To accomplish this, Eaton county's best farmland will be split and sacrificed."

It's time we gave serious consideration to an effective way of protecting the base for the nation's food supply, Ball said. Farmland should gain high priority on the preservation list. It's a key to our survival.

Today (thanks to heart research), many treatments for heart disease exist that were unheard of just 25 years ago. We're the Michigan Heart Association and we're fighting for your life.
