WCC Board To Meet Here Next Tuesday

Washtenaw Community College Board of Trustees will meet Tuesday, March 28 at 8 p.m. in the Board Room of Chelsea High school on Washington St.

The meeting, open to the public, is being held off-campus to provide citizens in the Chelsea area with an opportunity for increased input into WCC as well as to have a chance to observe and participate in the board proceedings.

WCC's interest in the Chelsea area is a long standing one. In addition to on-campus classes, the college offers a range of credit and non-credit programs, many in co-operation with the Chelsea Board of Education, which are taught in Chelsea.

Kiwanis Club Names New Vice-President

Chelsea Kiwanis Club held a special election to replace president Eugene Duhamel during their regular meeting Monday night. A resident of Chelsea for 8½ years, Duhamel is being transferred to Denver, Colo., to work for the National Park Service. He will be leaving the end of April.

Elected at the meeting were: Elmer Kiel as president, Weldon Harbaugh as president-elect and George Parker as vice-president.

Guest speaker for the meeting was FBI agent Tom Love. An agent for eight years and a Chelsea resident for four years, Love works in the Ann Arbor office.

During his brief, off-the-cuff talk, Love reviewed the work done at the local level and discussed the department's morale problem in the wake of the Nixon and J. Edgar Hoover years. Love said the agency has fully recovered from those years of turmoil and, speaking for himself, said he would like to see the FBI become involved in drug related cases.

Currently the FBI directs drug information to local level law enforcement agencies.

Springtime's First Robins Reported

Mr. and Mrs. James A. Krichbaum's daughter, 3411 Waltrous Rd., has a special delight in spotting the first robin of the year—her name is Robyn. "We spotted three robins on our lawn Sunday morning," Mrs. Krichbaum reported. Can spring be far behind?

Jaycee Easter Egg Hunt Set For Saturday

What stands 6 feet 2, has enormous floppy ears, hops like a kangaroo, and is loaded with calories? Give up? Well, come on down to the high school athletic field Saturday morning at 11 o'clock sharp and look for a Chelsea fire truck. The answer will be riding on top.

While you're dashing madly to complete those final touches on your family's Easter outfits, this rather large furry creature will be hiding more than 100 dozen colored Easter eggs in nesting spots around the field.

Children will be divided into five age groups to hunt for the eggs. The divisions are: toddlers, pre-school, kindergartners, and first and second graders. Winners of the hunt will receive stuffed animals.

Participants should bring their own containers to hold the eggs. Chairman of the event is Jaycee Jerry Martell, assisted by Denise Martell.

C. Cameron Receives JC Service Award

Acclaimed for his outstanding work in the community, Charles Cameron rose before a standing ovation to receive the Jaycees' Distinguished Service Award during the 2nd annual Chelsea Jaycee Community DSA banquet in the Fair building last Thursday.

Also honored by the Jaycees for superior service to the community were Jim Gaken, Betty Koch, Tom Dmoch, James Sprague, and Mac Packard. In addition, four groups presented awards to achieving members: Mr. and Mrs. Schrotenboer of the Athletic Boosters, Mac Packard of the VFW, Alberta Colby of the Jaycee Auxiliary, and Dave Sweet of the Jaycees.

Over 70 persons attended the banquet which honored Cameron's 41 years of service as teacher, principal and administrator of the Chelsea school system. Other noted achievements included Cameron's activities with local service groups, his efforts in organizing the Recreational Council, and his work with youth groups in the Methodist church.

Accepting the Distinguished Service Award from Sam Johnson, last year's DSA recipient, Cameron acknowledged the good, supportive community, teachers, and school board, as the springboard to his success.

Gil Bursley, state senator for 18 years, was the keynote speaker for the affair and addressed the topic of Michigan's Constitution and amendments which voters and the legislature are expected to review soon. With more than 48 amendments to the Constitution pending, Bursley claimed that strong special interest groups will influence the outcome of the Constitutional Convention (to be voted on in November.) Bursley expressed concern that the new Constitution could end up a worse product than the present one.

Bursley also commented on the Economic Stabilization Fund saying that it won't be necessary because the state will have a $100 million emergency fund by the end of the year.

Stolen Van Found in Detroit Lot

A 1977 Chevy Custom van stolen March 15 from the Lloyd Bridges dealership on Main St. was found, stripped of its four wheels and much of the interior by Detroit police on Sunday. It was reported.

According to police reports the van was found at the corner of Vernor and Waterman in a Detroit bar parking lot. A spokesman at Lloyd Bridges says that the van "is a total wreck" and is no longer saleable. He added that the cost of the van will be covered by insurance.

The van was stolen by two men who drove into the Bridges lot in a late-model Buick Regal which the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department said was a stolen vehicle from a Jackson dealership. While one man requested to take the Chevy van worth more than $7,000 for a test drive, the second man drove off in the stolen Buick Regal. The Bridges salesman had not yet secured any type of identification or collateral from either man, according to reports.

Mothers March Nets $1,134 Total For Dimes Fund

In spite of handicaps of not having a captain and only five lieutenants, in the Chelsea area, the Mothers March of Dimes Campaign netted a total of $1,134.95 in donations. This is a little down from last year's amount but still a very substantial amount.

A big thank-you is due the five super lieutenants: Mary Jo Miller, Sherri Plank, Becky Schoenberg, Carol Slater, and Erma O'Conner, for a job well done. A special thank-you to all the marchers—and to everyone who gave so generously.

L. Wengren Admitted To Veterinary School

Lawrence Wengren, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Wengren, 12780 Luick Dr., is one of 120 students out of 600 to be admitted to the Michigan State University College of Veterinary Medicine program this June.

A 1968 graduate of Chelsea High school, Wengren attended both the University of Michigan and Eastern Michigan University. He obtained a Bachelor of Science degree in animal husbandry in 1974 from EMU. Currently Wengren is completing pre-veterinary requirements at MSU where he has been studying since September, 1975.

The professional program preparing students for veterinary careers begins with basic medical courses, such as anatomy, physiology, pharmacology, microbiology, and pathology, according to the MSU veterinary department.

They then address the cause, detection, treatment, and prevention of diseases, in a "systems approach" that focuses on each body system—respiratory, muscular, skeletal, reproductive, etc.

In the final phase, veterinary students have intensive first-hand experience in the MSU veterinary clinics, working on small and large animal surgery and medical cases.

David Klemmer Awarded NSF Grad Fellowship

It was announced on March 15, by the National Science Foundation that David P. Klemmer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl M. Klemmer, 13483 Trinkle Rd., was awarded a three-year Graduate Fellowship for post-baccalaureate study.

Nation-wide the number of applicants for NSF Fellowships totaled 4,331, from which 490 were selected to receive awards. Sixty-five fellowship recipients are pursuing studies in the engineering field.

As an agency of the federal government, the National Science Foundation has as one of its responsibilities "the awarding of graduate fellowships in science, mathematics, and engineering, which offer direct support to especially able individuals for full-time study leading to advanced degrees in these areas."

The National Science Foundation was assisted in the selection process by the National Research Council, which was responsible for the appointment of panels of scientists and engineers to nominate fellowship candidates.

DAVID P. KLEMMER

Dave is a December, 1977 graduate of the University of Michigan College of Engineering, and is pursuing graduate studies in the area of solid state electronics and circuit analysis in the Rackham School of Graduate Studies at the university.

FFA Parli-Pro Team In State Finals Contest

Members of the Chelsea FFA Chapter were in East Lansing March 21-23 as the Michigan Association of FFA celebrated its 50th annual state convention during Farmers' Week at Michigan State University. During the three-day convention, FFA members from across the state gathered to conduct business and to recognize fellow members for their outstanding achievements.

Several social activities were planned for this year's 50th convention. Theme for the celebration was "FFA—A Golden Past; A Brighter Future." Featured speakers included U. S. Representative Guy VanderJagt, nationally known speaker Scott McKain, and National FFA Vice-President Peg Armstrong. Competing for Chelsea in the state finals for parliamentary procedure were Becky Bollinger, Shelly Hatt, Cindy Welshans, Mark Lesser, Kent Bollinger, Michelle Napier, and Brian Koepele.

Incentive awards were presented to more than 600 outstanding FFA members and chapters by the state FFA association and the National FFA Foundation. State FFA Degrees were presented to 251 FFA members who, as a result of their occupational and leadership achievements, have qualified for the top state FFA degree. Local FFA member Tim

Huron Relays Friday Opens Track Season

The 1978 spring season for Chelsea High school boys track team will begin this Friday, March 24, with an indoor meet at Eastern Michigan's Bowen Field House, according to Coach Bert Kruse.

Approximately half the squad will take part in the Huron Relays where more than 70 schools will be represented at the meet.

Nearly 40 Chelsea athletes have been working out for the past four weeks in preparation for the event, including 16 returning lettermen. The roster lists 11 seniors, 9 juniors, 15 sophomores and 6 freshmen.

"The team appears to be strong over-all in the 100, 220, and 440 dashes, and in the 440, 880, and mile relays. The hurdle events lack depth and the distance events—the 880, mile and two mile—will suffer from the lack of experience. Once again, however, the field events, with the possible exception of the pole vault will be quite strong," Kruse said.

The sprints will be manned by seniors Matt Fisher, Pat Stevenson, Pete Huston, Scott Stafford, Greg Ringe. Juniors will be Jim Peterson, ("a very promising transfer student," Kruse said), and Ed Dangler. Exceptionally promisingly looking, according to Kruse, is sophomore Blaine Sullivan. Other sophomores include John La Barbara, Bob Ball and Jeff Boyer. Freshmen are Ken Bauer and Bill Freeman.

Leading the hurdling crew will be seniors Steve Pennington, Randy Harris, and Jason Lindauer. Juniors are Ray Sabo and Doug Weitzell while the sophomore is Jim Fitzsimmons.

Running in the distance events will be senior Gary Packard (half-mile), junior Scott Beyer (880 and mile), John Whitaker (880), Chris Minick (2-mile), and Pat Murphy (880). Sophomore distance runners include Steve Kvarnberg (mile), Mark Bever (mile and two mile), (Continued on page three)

ALL AMERICAN: Jeff Dils, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dils of Chelsea, made All American at the NCAA national track meet March 11 at Cobo Hall in Detroit. Dils placed fifth in the 440-yd. dash finals which earned him his second All American rating in two years. Dils made All American during his freshman year at Eastern Michigan University two years ago. He also qualified for the high hurdles but was eliminated in the quarter finals at the meet.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:
 Clem Webster told the fellows at the country store Saturday night that he hopes the size of women's hats don't predict the economy like the length of their skirts. If there's anything about the smaller the hat the harder the times, allowed Clem, we're in trouble. He said he had done some thinking on the idea since his old lady went shopping for her Easter bonnet.

Actual, Clem said, he had forgotten about women's hats in recent years. In cold or rainy weather, he said, women folks general cover their heads with somepon, but not many wear hats just for show these days. At least, Clem said that had been his observation, and he ask his old lady about the fashion in hats. She told him she was too old and too fixed in her ways to give up a new hat for Easter, but that Clem was right about not many mature women wearing hats to be in style. One reason is, she told him, nobody can figure out what style is. The other is, that what she called mature is women her age, and they have to spend too much gitting their hair fixed to turn around and cover all that artwork with a hat. The young women just wash their hair and blow it dry, and they don't worry about hats, she said.

What it all comes down to, Clem reported, was that what his old lady wanted was no hat at all, and she come close as she could. He said she paid $15 for a little bit of fluff that perched on the back of her head like a robin's nest, and she said she tried on hats at four shops for two hours deciding on it. Clem told her finding the right hat for Easter is a serious business, and he hoped she didn't make her choice without a heap of meditation. The one thing he learned from the study his old lady put into buying the hat, Clem said, was that nowadays women pick hats like they do bathing suits, the less there is of em the more they're willing to pay.

Clem's report got the fellows on the subject of women, and when that happens the minor issues of the world, like Israel, Arabs and the salvation of Larry Flynt, has got to shift for themselves. But Hookum said it was a woman's privilege to wear the "craziest" things on her head that she could find. It allus had been, and he wasn't one to mess with tradition. But he was of a mind that women spend too much time trying to figure how to wear the same things without dressing like one another, but that kind of thinking was out of his league. He said he had saw where a Paris designer has come up with a outfit that has a see-through blouse worn with a hat built on the order of a deep-sea diver's helmet. This is ideal for the women that's just washed her hair and can't wait for it to dry before going out. This way, nobody will notice the hair, Bug said.

General speaking, the fellows didn't take Bug serious, but Ed Doolittle reminded them that some of the hottest fashion ideas started as a joke. He mentioned the gownless evening strap and the sack dress as examples. Any time you can help women show their best features you got somepon, Ed allowed, even if it means covering their faces.

Yours truly,
 Uncle Lew.

Committee On Land Use

The Department of Natural Resources has established a special committee of employees and interested citizens to determine how public lands can best be used by all the people of the state. The committee, called the Public Land Hunting and Compatible Use Committee, is an outgrowth of the DNR's New Urban recreation Program. The program places new emphasis on utilizing available public lands for recreation in southern lower Michigan.

The department has noted southern Michigan game areas provide the land base for many kinds of recreation and in some cases, there are problems between hunters and non-hunters.

A major goal of the committee will be to promote hunting on public lands while still permitting compatible uses on these lands by non-hunters.

The committee plans to survey state park managers, district wildlife biologists and conservation officers to identify the nature and location of user conflicts and determine how much of state land now closed to hunting can be opened.

Economy Is Healthy
 Governor William Milliken, in his 1978 Economic Report to the Legislature, says the state will continue on the path of real economic growth and predicted 1978 will be an excellent year for Michigan's economy.

Milliken urged the legislature to seize upon the current expansion to encourage private business to create more jobs to counter the unacceptably high rate of unemployment.

He called for special emphasis to be placed on problems experienced by downtown urban centers and called for special legislation to provide incentive to businesses that expand employment opportunities in such areas.

To combat the ever-present inflation problem, Milliken offered tax reduction programs including a liberalization of the personal income tax exemption, additional senior citizen property tax credits and the adoption of a permanent home heating relief program.

The 1978 forecasts are based on the assumption that there will be a $25 billion federal tax cut program enacted by Oct. 1, that the energy program passed by Congress will have a minimal impact on the economy and that growth of the money supply will be sufficient to produce declining interest rates in the second half of 1978.

Indicators in the 1978 report show personal income will increase by 9.6 percent while the rate of inflation will be 6.4 percent for the year. Total employment will increase 4.4 percent with a corresponding decrease in unemployment to 7.2 percent of the total labor force.

Construction activity will continue on an upward pattern which is another positive indicator of an upturning economy.

Management and Budget Director Gerald Miller said the national coal strike has not had an economic effect in the state to date and it should not have any negative effect unless it goes beyond the first of April.

Miller warned, however, the strike situation would be closely monitored and the legislature would be urged to exercise spending restraints until after the strike is settled and its affects, if any, are evaluated.

Lobbyist Regulation Weakened
 The Senate Judiciary Committee has all but destroyed a strong lobbyist regulation proposal and substituted a weaker version which may be only window dressing during the election year.

The original proposal would require itemization of any expenditure of $1 or more of public officials by a lobbyist or lobbyist agent to allow the public to see just who is influencing those public officials and the way they vote on certain issues.

The substituted version requires itemization only after $50 is spent

Chelsea School District's request for 14.78 mills for two years for operational purposes was defeated Tuesday by more than a 2-1 margin. Final results were 405 yes, 897 no, with 16 spoiled ballots.

Past, present and future activities of the Mill Creek Research Council were the wide-range topics covered at the group's ninth annual meeting Tuesday night in Lima Township Hall. Coming only eight days after the formal announcement of a "refined" Mill Creek Metropolitan plan by the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority, discussion predictably centered around new strategies for opposition to the park proposal.

Because of community interest, three new courses, introduction to computer, beginning and intermediate tennis, and a chess tournament, have been added to the Chelsea Recreation Council's spring course offerings. Directing this year's program is Tom Balistrere.

Lloyd Bridges Chevrolet defeated Dunlavy Farms, 55-51, last Thursday in a contest that proved extremely close in the final moments. Bridges came away with the tournament trophy in this final game of the Recreation League season.

 Believed to be unique in the annals of management-union relations is the honor conferred upon Donald Bacon, president of Central Fibre Products, Inc., by members of the Central Fibre Division of UAW-CIO Local 437 at a surprise observance of his 50th birthday last Thursday.

He was presented with a plaque signed by 100 employees who expressed their appreciation to him for his courtesy, generosity and concern. The Junior Class of Chelsea High school will present its play, "Our Town," by Thornton Wilder, on March 26. Some of the players under the direction of Donna Jeanne Speerman are Harold Stott, Larry Chapman, Nerissa Klingler, Ralph Owings, Joan Merkel, Connie Steinbach, Geneva O'Dell, Ronnie Satterthwaite and Lyle Wenk.

Lima township residents have from time to time expressed the desire for a township building to be used for community purposes. Action on this proposal will be brought up at the annual township meeting April 5 in Lima Township Hall.

Lloyd Grau, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Grau, was awarded the State Farmer degree at the 26th annual state convention of the Future Farmers of America convention held at Michigan State College, March 24-26. Grau is president of the Chelsea FFA chapter.

Angeline Krout, with 40 years' experience as a secretary and current manager of her own secretarial services office, will speak at the research and educational foundation seminar of the National Secretaries' Association Saturday, April 1, at Weber's Inn, Ann Arbor.

Mrs. Krout, for 33 years a secretary in the Federal Government, has earned credits in secretarial administration from the University of Baltimore, University of Wisconsin at Eau Claire, Memphis State University, Louisiana Tech University, and Sam Houston State University, in addition to liberal arts at the University of the Americas, Mexico City, Mexico.

She is past international president of the National Secretaries' Board of Directors, served as research and educational foundation trustee and was a member of the Institute for Certifying Secretaries.

Mrs. Krout currently serves on the advisory committee for the Secretarial Science Curricula at Essex Community College in Baltimore, Md.

Registration for the seminar is at 8:15 a.m.

on one public official in any one month or $150 in any one year. Gifts valued at more than $10 are prohibited under both proposals.

Committee members on a 4-3 vote, rejected the strict guidelines saying the tough provisions could make criminals and felons out of average citizens who attempt to contact legislators in that they would not be aware that they have to register and file expense reports.

However, that argument seems weak in that the bill requires an annual expenditure of $1,000 or more before they qualify as lobbyists under the bill.

Donald A. Roth, Community Relations Manager, Ann Arbor, reminds you:

"If anyone in your family is handicapped, you should look into these services..."

We have a wide range of services that can help the physically impaired to communicate by telephone. For people with difficulties in hearing or speech, there are amplifying devices. For example: A telephone handset that allows adjustment of volume for hearing and another that permits amplification of speech.

As an aid for those with speech loss, Michigan Bell has an artificial larynx. And people with motion impairments should know about services such as easy-to-use card dialers, speakerphones, telephone headsets, and School-to-Home telephone service for students unable to attend class.

If you think any of these services might help you or someone in your family to communicate more easily, just call your local Michigan Bell Business Office.

At AAFS we can show you easy, simple ways to MAKE MONEY...add to your income now...accumulate a fortune for later. You will make more because we pay more, ¼% more interest than most.

An initial investment of ten thousand dollars placed in our current 7 3/4% per annum certificate account* will double in less than ten years when the interest is left to compound. As an example, ten thousand dollars can mature to $21,652 in ten years...to $46,880 in twenty years...to $101,505 in thirty years!

Or, by putting $100 a month in our current 6 1/2% per annum passbook account, and allowing the interest to compound for thirty years, you will have accumulated $87,183. If you withdraw interest only, this $87,183 nest egg will insure you and your heirs a $376 per month income forever. Without effort, you make money!

To help you make room for that savings/investment each month, our FREE Budget Book can show you how to keep a clear, accurate view of your expenses. The sound financial information in the Budget Book will put you in control of your money so that you can get greater enjoyment and still have money left for your savings/investments. Budget Books are available at all offices.

Federal regulations require a substantial interest penalty for early withdrawals from certificate accounts.

Child Study Club Hears Cancer Society Speaker

Chelsea Child Study Club met March 14 in the dining room of the Chelsea Community Hospital to hear Dr. Nathan Rowe from the American Cancer Society speak about cancer and its prevention. Guests at the meeting were Kay Redding and Nancy Stayd. Nancy Erickson and Camie Noah served refreshments and the Chelsea Hospital Auxiliary provided coffee and tea. The next meeting will be March 28 at the home of Lynda Cattell. Dr. Jerry Waldyke will be the guest speaker. His topic is "Updating the Tin-Type." Guests are welcome.

Alberta Colbry Granted Special Award By Jaycettes

Alberta Colbry was presented a special award by the Chelsea Jaycee Auxiliary during the Distinguished Service Award banquet on March 16. Colbry was given the award for her "dedicated work at the local, district, and state levels," according to Sandy Meyer, Jaycee Auxiliary member. "She has served as an inspiration and example to many of us in the Auxiliary," she added.

Currently Colbry is the district Jaycee Auxiliary vice-president. While campaigning for this position, Colbry chose the turtle as her symbol because the turtle is known for its determination to reach its goals—sticking its neck out along the way for what it believes in, Meyer said. Colbry has also held the local Auxiliary's presidency twice and has held numerous officer positions. The award was presented by Auxiliary president Barb Baker.

Mrs. Wayne Harvey Elected To Head Washtenaw NCCW

Washtenaw Region National Council of Catholic Women met Tuesday, March 14, at St. Mary's church, Manchester, for their quarterly meeting and bi-annual elections.

Beginning the day was a mass celebrated by Father Schlenker followed by the business meeting. Father Kenneth MacDonald, Washtenaw Region Moderator from St. Joseph in Dexter also attended and addressed the women.

Mrs. Claudia Brown of Grand Ledge, a member of the NCCW, International Commission chairwoman, mother of five, and grandmother of nine, was the meeting's guest speaker. She shared her experience in visiting the United Nations and the used clothing warehouse in New York City. It is from this warehouse, she said, that clothing and bedding collected in clothing drives are shipped to disaster areas in the U.S. and abroad. She urged the women to continue their work saying, "It is from our communities that the voice is heard in the United Nations."

At the close of the meeting election of officers took place. Mrs. Wayne Harvey, Grass Lake, was elected president for a two-year term. Serving with her are: Mrs. Joseph Cantalupo, Ann Arbor, as first vice-president; Mrs. David Eeles, Chelsea, as second vice-president; Mrs. George Patterson, Ypsilanti, as secretary; and Mrs. Gabe Martinez, Ypsilanti, as treasurer. The retiring president, Mrs. Leon Chapman was presented with a gift in appreciation for her two years of service. The objective of the NCCW is two-fold. First, to unite Catholic organizations and individual Catholic women of the Lansing Diocese to develop their leadership potential and to motivate and assist them to act upon current issues of the church and society. Second, to further spiritual and material undertakings which may be recommended to the Diocesan Council and the Regional Council by the Bishop.

Sue Stoner Earns Degree at EMU in Business French

Sue Stoner, daughter of Charles and Marilyn Stoner of 13375 Noah Rd., Gregory, was one of two students to receive a diploma in business French from Eastern Michigan University recently. A senior at EMU, Sue plans to use the diploma to work in an international marketing firm either in the U.S. or in France. Sue has worked in the Foreign Language Office and the Bilingual Office at EMU and is a member of the EMU French Club. EMU is the first university in the United States to administer the program which enables students to earn a Diploma of Business French from the Chamber of Commerce and Industry in Paris. Sue's instructor, Bruette Mueller, associate professor of French at EMU co-ordinates the program. "Students are tested on whether they can compose, write, and edit business letters and discuss business either here or abroad," she explained.

Track Team Goes to Huron Relays Friday

(Continued from page one) and transfer Richard Stephens (mile). Freshman Bruce Young and Sandy McLaughlin round out the distance group. The field events will be led by sophomore shot putter and discus thrower Bob Ball, and senior long jumper and high jumper Pat Stevenson. Ball holds the school discus record and could hold both weight records by the end of the year, Kruse said. Joining Ball in the weight events are senior Leon Brown, out for his first time, and John LaBarbara. Steve Marriott will also be giving the discus a whirl.

"The high jump looks like it could be a strong event with the addition of newcomers senior Rod Sweeney, sophomores Don Schrotenboer, Mike Killelea, Karl Albrecht and Todd Otto. Senior holdover Randy Harris will join them also. The long jump should also have depth. Conference placer Pat Stevenson leads the list with Steve Pennington, Greg Ringe, Bob Albridge, Jim Fitzsimmons, Carl Simpson and possibly Jim Peterson also contributing," Kruse said.

Kruse said the pole vault event will have to be rebuilt as State Champion Matt Heydlauff graduated last year. Attempting to fill the gap will be Blain Suliman, Pat Murphy, and Bill Freeman. "Over-all we have a strong senior nucleus plus a number of newcomers such as Brown, Peterson, Sweeney, Schrotenboer, Dangler, Stephens, and Killelea, who are out for the first time yet are not completely inexperienced. If they come through along with the improvement of the JV's of last year and the freshmen of this year we could have a real good year," according to Kruse.

In the conference outlook, Kruse sees the defending champion Brighton "looking real tough again." With Chelsea heading up the list of challengers, Chelsea will meet Brighton on the home track on April 20. Chelsea also has a tough non-conference schedule. They will lead off with Tecumseh and Pinckney at Pinckney on Thursday, April 6. This will kick off the outdoor season and both teams will be favored to win their respective conferences. Another difficult non-conference meet will involve the always strong Jackson Lumen Christi and Jackson Northwest who will be here Tuesday, April 25. The final non-conference meet will take place at home on Friday, April 28 against Hillsdale.

"Basically we are hoping for a better than average year and looking for some good individual marks that will lead some of our athletes to the state meet in June," Kruse concluded.

Help Needed for Manchester March of Dimes Walkathon

Manchester is planning their second annual March of Dimes Walkathon April 29. There is a dire need of individuals with enthusiastic ingenuity to help organize Chelsea's representation in this walk. All those who are interested in helping are asked to contact the March of Dimes office, 761-6331.

FFA Team in State Contest...

Welshans was among this elite group. Several adults were also cited for service to FFA.

State President Scott Foster of Niles and other state officers presided over conv entions eols.sn Two official delegates from each of the 157 chapters in the state represented the membership in voting on all key issues of business. According to Foster, Patti Shoemaker and Debbie Harrison represented the Chelsea FFA Chapter.

Other highlights include naming the Star State Farmer and Agribusinessman and election of state officers for 1978-79. Contestants who have previously won honors in local, district and regional competition will be state finalists in seven leadership contests. Awards will be presented for community development, agricultural proficiency, outstanding scholarship and chapter membership contests. Displays of agricultural and career exhibits will also be featured.

Vocational Agriculture Teacher Dave Nicewicz is the advisor of the local chapter. Officers in-

titions higher between the horse stalls.

Also discussed and decided was the purchase of more bleachers. The fair's entertainment program and resultant turnout of people has demonstrated the need for more seating capacity.

Those absent were Jerry Heydlauff, vice-president, Ed Keezer, fair board secretary, Charles Koenig, Richard Pollan, Charles Stapish, and Frank Sweeney.

Proportionately more workers of Spanish origin have completed relatively few years of school than other workers, according to a U.S. Labor Department publication; 31.5 percent of Spanish origin workers had 8 years or less of school, compared with nearly 19 percent for blacks and nearly 10 percent for whites.

Special Olympians Win Regional Cage Tourney

The Chelsea-Dexter boys ended up the grand winners in the Special Olympics Regional Basketball Tournament held Thursday, March 16, at Chelsea High school.

Titled the "Poor People's Tournament" because the schools entered in the event could not afford to go to the State Special Olympics Basketball Tournament in Muskegon, March 17-18. Eight schools and centers for the mentally impaired competed in nine games and a championship game. Playing in the tournament were Chelsea High, Dexter High, St. Louis, High Point Center, Northwest Jackson Junior High, Livingston County Center, Porter Educational Center of Lenawee, and Harrison Center of Livonia.

The tournament was the first to be held in a regular high school in the county and Nancy Cooper, MI (educable mentally impaired) instructor at Chelsea High said the Chelsea High students were very helpful and encouraging of the special athletes.

The girls tournament was won by Chelsea-Dexter when they defeated Milton C. Porter Educational Center (Adrian) 24-16. Playing for Chelsea-Dexter were Sue Armstrong, Lori Brown, Theresa Murphy, Linda Alber, Bonnie Stillion, Debbie Wilson, and Kathy Young.

The championship game was between St. Louis No. 1 and the Chelsea-Dexter boys. An exciting game with the score close throughout the game, Chelsea-Dexter won, 30-27. They had lost twice before in pre-season games to St. Louis but, with hard practice, were way up for the game.

Trophies were awarded by Superintendent Charles Cameron as follows: 1st, Chelsea-Dexter boys; 2nd, St. Louis No. 1; 3rd, Harrison (Livonia); 4th, High Point Center; 5th, Jackson Northwest; 6th, St. Louis No. 2; 7th, Milton C. Porter boys.

Other events scheduled for Washtenaw County Special Olympians include a swim meet, March 10, at High Point Center; the State Bowling Tournament, April 15; the County Gymnastics Meet, April 21; and the County Track & Field Meet at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, April 27. Further details may be obtained by calling Doug Cooper, Washtenaw county director at 769-6522.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

Every morning I would peer out of the school bus window when we approached the railroad tracks, and glance upward at the huge town clock. However, being in that position, it was often hard to read its face. I wasn't bothered at this fact, though, because I had one other source to check the time. In the window facing out toward the street of a big white house on the corner of Washington Street and East Street was an old, restaurant-type clock. Its face was illuminated by a green light that surrounded the entire clock and the name of an insurance company was printed on the upper half. Each day I would glance at that clock to obtain the time and I took it for granted. I never really thought about why the clock was there, until it quit running a few months ago.

It's too bad that I didn't think about it while it was running. The people who live in that house must be very generous and considerate. I can now truly say that I have appreciated that clock. I am very curious as to why it is no longer lit up with its hands at rest reading 10:27. It's like losing an old friend.

Chelsea Co-Op Nursery Notes

The class of three-year-olds at the Chelsea Co-Op Nursery has been paying the way for the Easter Bunny.

Chocolate was melted in an electric frying pan with the children taking turns stirring it. The melted chocolate was then poured into candy molds, and the children helped by inserting sticks into the molds. The chocolate bunnies and chicks on a stick were described as delicious. Easter baskets were also hand-crafted by the children.

The children also experimented with magnets to discover what metals they attracted. A fishing game using fish with metal clips and a magnetic pole was played. The four-year-olds discovered that what goes up must come down during the study of gravity.

Friday, March 17, the four-year-olds examined a shamrock plant and learned about the color green. At snack time the children decorated cookies with green frosting.

EASTER LILY: A traditional symbol of Easter, the Lily's white color and sweet fragrance, represents the purity and innocence of the rebirth of Christ. According to tradition, the Lily bulb, which goes dormant during the winter months, represents Christ's death, and the multiplication of bulbs from a single bulb symbolizes the gaining of immortal life after death.

It's not a space stealer because it's just about the width of a refrigerator and only counter-top height, so you put it where it gives you the most practical use, in the kitchen.

Space giving foam insulation is efficient and gives more insulation than ordinary three inch fiberglass material.

Self-aligning, counterbalanced lid stays open so you have both hands free when putting food in or taking it out and it re-aligns itself, every time you close it.

New embossed steel finish will stay bright and new looking for years.

REALTOR

BE SMART FROM THE START

A homeowner has a big investment. When the time comes to sell that home, it's mighty important that you sell right... to make sure the investment has been a good one.

If pocketing a broker's commission tempts you, ask yourself if you can afford to let an amateur manage a transaction that involves thousands of dollars. Your dollars! When you want a job done well, you call a specialist. This is standard practice for successful businessmen... why buck success?

Some people try to sell their own property, fail and then list it with a Realtor. In the meantime, they've let the best prospects slip through their fingers.

Believe me. List your home with a Realtor from the start and you'll realize as much if not more profit and fewer problems from the sale than if you try to do it on your own. Statistics have proven this over and over again.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at FRISINGER REALTY CO., 935 S. Main St., Chelsea. Phone: 475-8881; evenings 475-2621. We're here to help!

Portion of Lima Township May Become National Historic District

Michigan History Division in Lansing has notified the Mill Creek Research Council that the U. S. Park Service has declared a portion of Lima township eligible for a National Historic District designation.

Although there have been minor changes, this area remains virtually as it was 100 or more years ago. The designation would be Late 19th Century Rural.

At present there has been no such district officially approved in the state.

The determination study came about as the result of the Environmental Protection Agency's Environmental Impact Statement (EIS) review in 1976 of the Environmental Protection Agency's (EPA) prepared by the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation (BOR) on the proposed Mill Creek Park. The EPA said BOR had not given sufficient consideration to what is now in Lima and what would be lost should the proposed Mill Creek Park become a reality.

Because Huron Clinton Metropolitan Authority had applied for matching federal funds for land acquisition, the EIS was required. Of the total $29 million projected costs, $6 million is anticipated as needed for the land. However, HMA has never used federal funds in this way before for any of its parks, and has legal authority from the state to go ahead without federal assistance.

Significance of this determination of eligibility is that federal funds may not be used for this proposed development without considerable negotiation with the History Division to avoid detrimental impact on the area eligible as the Historic District. Exact boundaries have not been defined, but it involves most of Lima south of I-94.

Of interest to local land owners is that this is only a declaration of eligibility. Should it eventually receive an official designation, which would have to be applied for through local efforts, the designation would in no way restrict or inhibit their own personal decisions in the use of their property, rather a limitation on the use of federal monies.

A nationally recognized landscape and design specialist sent the following comments: "Stylistically, the buildings in Lima are a typical representation of rural development in southeast Michigan during the 19th century. Particularly important is the broad spectrum of architectural styles evident from many development periods. Greek Revival, Gothic Revival, Italianate, Queen Anne, and Colonial Revival residential structures all still exist, evidencing a history of steady and continuing growth. In addition, vernacular architecture in the form of the typical rural farm house probably reaches as high a level of sophistication in this area as anywhere in the Midwest.

"Of particular interest are the cut and cobblestone structures which tell of the dominant influence of the area's original settlers from up-state New York. These buildings are particularly unique and important to this area of southeast Michigan."

"In addition to residential architecture, the size, extent and quality of agriculturally related outbuildings prove without question the unusually high value of this particular farming land. Although also typically vernacular, their architectural quality is excellent. These farm buildings form an absolutely essential ingredient to the rural character of the landscape."

"However, a rural historic district cannot be judged only by the architectural importance of its buildings, be they residential or farm-related. The real ingredient is the land. It should be distinctly evident that the most dominant visual aspect of the countryside is open space. The quality of the landscape—its topographic character, zones of cultivation, areas of wetlands, maturity of vegetation and the pattern and detail of roads are all fabric which hold a rural area, including its architecture, together. The proposed Lima Township Historic District contains all that typifies a quality rural American landscape."

The Mill Creek Research Council's annual meeting will be held at the Lima Town Hall at 8 p.m. on Tuesday, March 28. Of special interest will be a review of Public Acts 116, the Farmland and Open Space Act. The public is invited.

Guenther Attends Photographers Convention, Show

Ralph Guenther of Guenther Studio, an active member of the Professional Photographers of Michigan, Inc. (PPM), has attended the association's 37th annual convention and tradeshow. The four-day event which opened March 11, was held at the Pansylvania Hotel in Grand Rapids.

The convocation, which yearly enables the 420 members to update their knowledge in the field, provides professional instruction by a staff of international photography notables.

This year's gathering, entitled "Tomorrow's Memories, Through Photography Today," also provided training for the studio receptionist, color artist and retoucher.

Headlining the convention's speaking rostrum was the internationally acclaimed Yousuf Karsh, of Ottawa, Canada. Karsh whose portraits have appeared in publications world-wide, has photographed such world leaders as Winston Churchill, King George VI, Princess Elizabeth and numerous other royal personages.

Assistant Principal Asks Board for Re-Assignment

Nancy Schave, assistant principal at Chelsea High school, requested the Board of Education at Monday's meeting to be relieved of her duties effective June 30 when her contract expires. The board granted the request.

One year away from obtaining her PhD in Education Administration, Schave says her job as assistant principal "took up all of my time and I was unable to do any work for my PhD."

Rather than continue as an administrator for Chelsea High school, Schave has asked the Board of Education for a teaching position next year. "This will allow me to pursue my degree," Schave said.

Mechanical Apple Picker Developed

Michigan State University agricultural engineers have developed a mechanical device that will be able to harvest apples at the rate of 6,000 bushels per day.

The 17-foot-tall behemoth will shake the trees 100 to 300 times per minute to release the apples. It will also handle other major chores in the orchard such as pruning and spraying to control pests.

Japan Seeks More Self-Sufficiency

Japan, the biggest market for U. S. farm goods, plans to substantially expand its own food output over the coming decade, thereby lessening dependence on foreign suppliers. According to USDA economists, goals set for 1985-86 can be reached, but only at considerable costs to the Japanese society through the transfer of funds from other sectors of the economy to the agricultural sector. In 1976, Japan imported $11 billion worth of agricultural products, $4 billion of which came from American farms.

He's Looking for Trouble!

During his 16 years as a mechanic, Gary Leftridge has run across just about every problem a car or truck can develop. Experience, training and natural ability have made him what he is: an above average mechanic at a place known for hiring the best... Rampy Chevrolet.

So in addition to working on his current specialty, heavy haulers, Gary test drives "problem cars." Those are the cars that come in because they aren't running right... but which don't look like they should be running wrong.

There are a lot of very subtle things that can affect the way a car drives. Sometimes, cars can be eccentric. That's why it takes someone like Gary Leftridge with training, experience and intuition to seek out the trouble. When Gary test drives a problem car he's determined to find and cure the problem... and he does 99% of the time.

Rampy wouldn't have it any other way. Gary's job is looking for trouble and that's just how they both want it.

Rampy's not just selling cars... he's selling service.

U. S. Farm Product

Sales to Soviet Union

Tumble During 1977

The value of U. S. farm exports to the Soviet Union tumbled to just under $1.1 billion during fiscal 1977, but will bounce back strongly in 1978. USDA economists blame the 1977 drop from a record $1.85 billion the year before—on reduced Soviet corn purchases following a record 224-million-ton grain crop and on slightly lower unit values for corn and rice. While grain and soybeans continue to dominate U. S.-Soviet trade, the value of animal product exports more than tripled during fiscal 1977. Sharply-improved grain sales will again set the pace in fiscal 1978, when the U. S. is expected to sell farm products worth $1.6 billion to the Soviet Union.

Farm Parity Session Set at Farmers Week

Issues relating to parity for farm products will be discussed in a special session during Michigan State University's Farmers Week, March 20-24.

The program, open to the public, will run from 9:30 a.m. to noon, Friday (March 24). "Participants will be provided information that will help them understand the effects of higher parity support on the agricultural sector as a whole," says Dr. Gordon Guyer, director of MSU Co-operative Extension Service, who will chair the program. "The session is intended as an educational seminar for those concerned about current parity programs."

Topics include: parity and the outlook for agricultural production and prices; production costs and commodity pricing; international markets and parity prices; weather trends and agricultural production.

Speakers are Dr. John Ferris, Dr. Roy Black, Dr. Vernon Sorenson, MSU agricultural economists; and Dr. James Newman, climatologist from Purdue University. In his discussion of exports, Sorenson will point out that more than 20 percent of U. S. farm production is being sent to foreign markets (approaching $24 billion in 1977) compared to about 16 percent in the early 1960s.

Present U. S. farm legislation with loan rates below target prices was designed to provide a measure of income protection for farmers while at the same time permitting market prices to reach a level that would not hinder the U. S. ability to compete in world markets. The question that arises is, how well this is working for farmers.

Maintaining this competitive position is particularly important for grains and oil-seeds, because the U. S. is the world's major export supplier. Sorenson will discuss the options to full parity status. Newman will take a look at the climatic changes occurring in the Midwest during the last 100 years and the practical applications farmers have for coping with weather extremes. These cropping options will be tied to the effect production may have on parity supports.

Black and Ferris will explain the principles of parity, how it was started in the mid-1930s to aid farmers and how the current parity program is functioning in today's agricultural technology. They will outline alternatives to the current program and the effect they may have on present and future farm markets.

Pollution Control Costs

The cost of complying with requirements of the Clean Air Act and the Federal Water Pollution Control Act will total almost $450 billion over the decade that began in 1978, according to the American Farm Bureau Federation's Natural and Environmental Resources Division. That's about 2 percent of the gross national product.

UP-UP-UP
Retail food prices in the U.S. are expected to climb four to six percent this year although the farm value of food is predicted to remain about the same as in 1977. It seems everyone is making a profit off farm products—except the farmer who produces them.

GEORGE W. PARKER

George Parker Seeks District Court Post

"Much of the problem existing with the courts concerns the lack of communication between those administering the system and those it is designed to serve. People haven't been made adequately aware of the vast demands that are made of the court system, particularly at the District Court level."

"Much of the court's time is required to deal with young repeat offenders. Greater use of the existing community and county work programs and the expansion and development of new programs can be utilized to dispel the 'hand slap' automatic probation type of justice too many young offenders have come to expect. This more rigid system of penalties can be employed to secure a greater degree of respect for the system, reduce pressures on our jails and secure benefits to the community at the same time."

"Through effective use of existing programs, young offenders are given an opportunity, not a right, to a probationary sentence, while paying for their mistakes with productive service to the community and affording them an opportunity to reimburse the community for fees incurred for appointed attorneys."

"In this matter, more time can be allotted for the trial of civil cases which are matters of great concern to those who are required to use the courts for a just resolution of civil disputes. These cases should not be relegated to a secondary position on our judicial scale and should be heard and resolved without inordinate periods of delay."

With this statement, George W. Parker, Chelsea attorney, has announced his candidacy for judge in the 14th District Court to fill the seat presently held by retiring Judge Henry D. Arkison who will not seek re-election because of an age limitation imposed by the Michigan Constitution.

Parker, 39, received a Bachelor of Arts degree in 1964 and a Doctor of Law degree (J.D.) from Wayne State University in 1967. Parker, who has spent 10 years as a trial attorney, first with the Washtenaw County Prosecutor's Office, then with the Ypsilanti firm of Freatman & Barr, has most recently been associated with the firm of Parker, Clark & Long.

Parker, the youngest of seven children of Sam and Bella Parker, was raised in the Village of Dixboro in Superior township. After graduation from high school he served two years with the United States Army, attached to an armor unit.

Parker is a member of the Washtenaw County Bar Association, the State Bar of Michigan, the American Bar Association, the Association of Trial Lawyers of America
