Assistant Principal Schave Quits Post

Nancy Schave, Chelsea High school assistant principal for the past two years, has resigned from her position and accepted the position of principal of Galena City schools in Galena, Alaska, it was announced recently.

Schave earlier had requested re-assignment from her duties as assistant principal to a teaching position in order to complete work on her Ph.D. "I discovered, however, that I could finish my degree work by this fall and because a staff member whose resignation was anticipated decided to delay her move, I decided to look at other positions," Schave explained.

"The Galena job was exactly what I was looking for and I jumped at the chance," she said. Galena is located nearly 250 miles west of Fairbanks in the interior. Winter temperatures average -35 degrees while Schave said the summers are similar to Michigan's.

Schave will be principal of all grade levels from kindergarten through 12th grade with approximately 165 students enrolled in the entire system. Nearly 75 percent of the students are indigenous Indians while the remainder are children of United States Air Force personnel based there.

"In spite of the fact that the high school assistant principalship (in Chelsea) is not one of the most popular positions, one can hold, I have enjoyed working with a Board of Education which is very fair-minded and supportive, Mr. Charles Cameron, who shall undoubtedly remain in my memory for the rest of my years in education, and a community which solidly supports its schools and the youth therein," she commented.

Schave will leave for Galena July 15 and spend several weeks driving on the Michigan coastline and through Canada, she said.

New classes include mare and pal; weanling and yearling; bareback horsemanship; and two costume classes, one for the native breeds and a class for fun where horses may be ridden or hand pulled—anything goes.

To fit everything into the Wednesday horse show the starting time is set for 12:30 p.m. while (Continued on page five)

HAPPY BIRTHDAY: Dottie Blacklock of Livonia, Spaulding board of directors member, extends the birthday cake for guest Memsey White of Grand Rapids to light. Spaulding for Children, an adoption agency which places only special-needs children, celebrated its 10th birthday during the Sunday, July 9 ice cream social.

The agency was founded by the late Warren Spaulding who donated his farm and his tireless efforts in creating a unique and precedent-setting concept of placing handicapped children.

ASA Fast Pitch Team Has Good Shot at Title

Chelsea 16-18-year-old Amateur Softball Association fast-pitch team ran its win streak to six games Friday night, July 7, to remain in strong contention in the Ann Arbor Recreation 16-18 Fast Pitch League. The win makes the Chelsea team's record 6-1, just a half game behind league leading Chelsea Flowers.

Chelsea is now in position to take the league title and the A.S.A. District Championship, if they can defeat Chelsea Flowers on Wednesday, July 12, and then remain undefeated in their last three games.

Chelsea defeated Ypsilanti Lincoln Friday, June 30, behind the fine pitching of Kim Wood as she fanned seven Lincoln hitters in pitching a one-hitter. Nanette Push tagged her first grand slam home run of the year in the third inning to lead the hitting attack as Chelsea won, 9-1.

Also, offensively Chelsea was led by two sophomore standouts, Jennifer Ringe and Molly Eisele. Jennifer and Molly each collected two key hits. "Jennifer continues to impress me in the field and at the plate," said Coach Wescott, "and hopefully she will play a key role in the varsity program next year."

Chelsea came back on Wednesday, July 5, with Kim Wood pitching again to defeat Willow Run 10-7. Kim pushed her pitching record to 3-0 as she received outstanding relief help from Nanette Push, who shut out Willow Run in the last three innings. Molly Eisele and Amanda Schwarze led a balanced hitting attack.

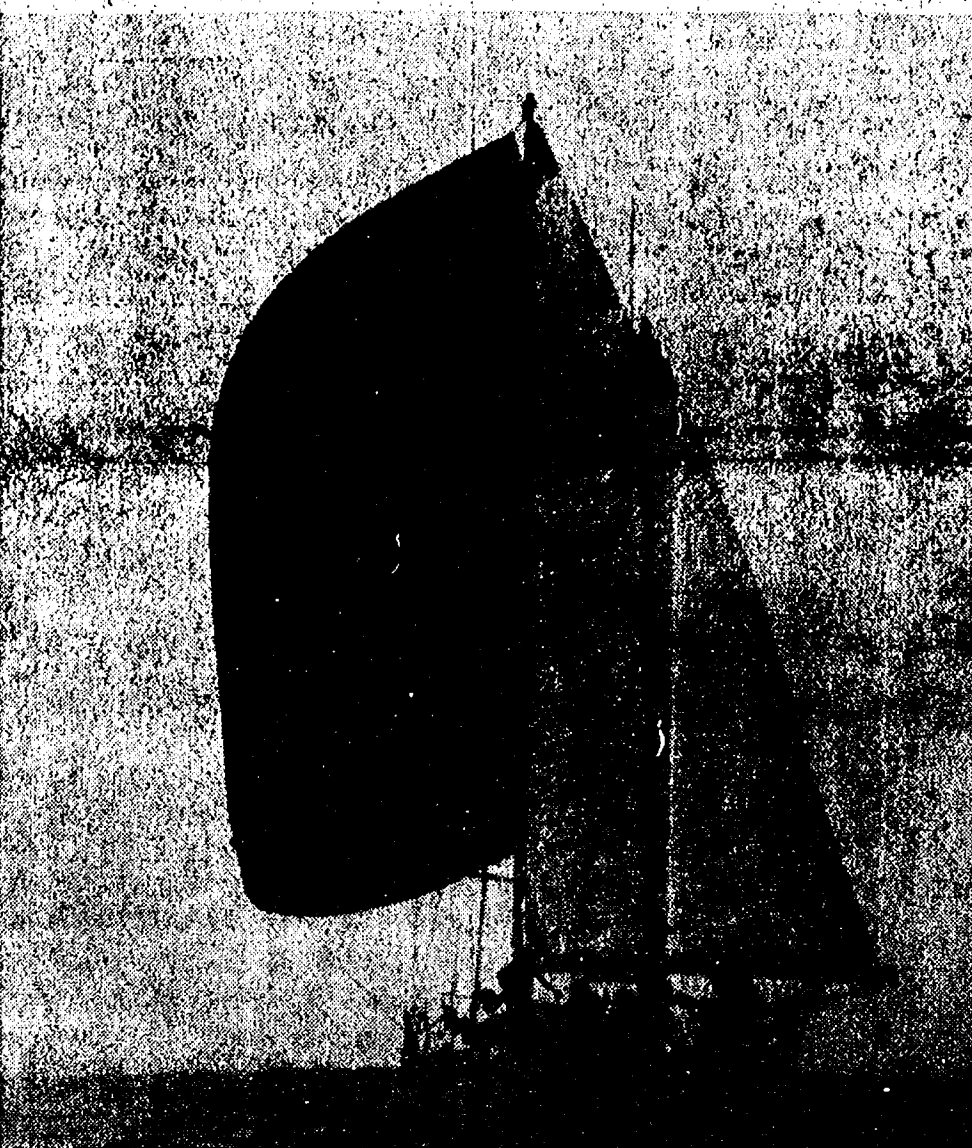

Eisele drove in three runs and scored three times as well and Schwarze contributed two hits, scored twice, and had two RBI's. Cheryl Nadeau added a double and Ann Umstead a single as both scored in the third inning which produced the winning margin for Chelsea.

Coach Wescott said "Kim Wood has played a very important part in the team's success this summer as she keeps everyone on their toes, while giving 110 percent on the diamond."

Chelsea looked a little flat in defeating a weak Willow Run team by only three runs, but most of this may have been the result of the girls finding out that their coach Bill Wescott, who has built Chelsea into a local softball power was in the hospital instead of on the bench. Coach Wescott suffered a ruptured appendix on Monday and will miss several games as a result," according to Coach Pat Clarke.

Friday night, July 7, Chelsea came back to play their finest game of the season as they defeated last year's league champions, Headquarters, 4-1. Nanette Push recorded her first no-hitter of the season. She struck out six and walked only three as she controlled the game completely. Push received excellent defensive support from her teammates, who committed only one error and made several fine defensive plays.

Chelsea trailed in the game by one run until the fourth inning, as Push lost her shut-out by walking the first batter in the third inning. (Continued on page four)

"The Pappillon"

Papo Sailing in Port Huron-Mackinac Race

"The Pappillon," a 57-foot custom William Tripp aluminum yawl, owned by Dr. Michael Papo, will be among the 268 boats competing in this year's Port Huron to Mackinac international sailboat competition.

Dr. Papo will skipper the yawl, joined by Dr. James Botstford, Dr. Donald Dimcheff and Fred Detwiler. His son Rene will be a navigator and daughter Michele will be first mate. An additional crew of nine will be on board as the race begins Saturday, July 15 from Port Huron at noon.

"This is very exciting but the competition is fierce," Dr. Papo commented upon hearing that his crew had been accepted to participate in the annual event. "I am happy and proud to be representing Chelsea in this international affair," he added.

Sailboats from all over the world compete in the race which, depending on weather, is conducted 24 hours a day for two days. The race is one of several in the World Ocean Racing Championship, including the Chicago to Mackinac race to be held later this month.

It is one of the few remaining Corinthian events in the world where no cash purse, only a trophy is awarded to the winner. "It is a sport held for the sake of sports," Dr. Papo said.

Chelsea Lumber Expansion Plan Now Underway

Chelsea Lumber Co. has "more elbow room" on its site and, by the end of this summer, a substantial portion of that much needed room is expected to be finished, according to owner Robert Daniels.

"Most of what we have planned is set for completion this summer; but, while we have our building permit, we have yet to decide on who will do the work," Daniels said.

Included in the blueprints are the building of an addition to the Print Shop on 405 N. Main St. (formerly the Lloyd Bridges car showroom) and a 42-foot by 96-foot partially open-sided storage shed on the property located behind the print shop and the former Spaulding Body Shop on North St.

A second storage shed, the same size, is being planned in the area for the future, Daniels said; "and in the distant future we are considering rearranging the layout of our merchandise and sales building," he added.

As a result of the construction, the lumber company will be relocating its kitchen counter displays and materials to the print shop building and expand on its latest service of constructing pre-hung doors and windows.

For the past few months, kitchen counter materials have been moved gradually to the new locale and in the next few months, when the print shop re-locates, the entire kitchen department will have moved to the 405 N. Main St. address, Daniels explained.

This summer, a lean-to type of construction will be added to the roof of that building and extended west out onto the parking lot behind it for storage of dry wall, plywoods, and other materials, he added. On the south and north sides, there will be additional parking for customers.

Also this summer, a large storage shed, with a ceiling clearance of 17 feet, will be built for the storage of lumber bunks.

While still in the planning stages, Daniels said that a second shed will be built for both storage and "a more feasible construction site for the making of doors and windows," he said.

In the past four months, the lumber company has branched out its services to include the construction of Anderson windows (from Minnesota and "one of the largest window manufacturing companies in the country," he said), as well as the building of pre-hung Pease steel doors (of Cincinnati). The work is now being done in a cramped corner of the former body shop.

"This is becoming a big thing with us," Daniels said of the new enterprise. "We used to have the work done in Detroit, but now people can come to us and have their doors in less time," he explained.

Daniels said that the doors come complete with frames and hinges, and are completely insulated between two solid steel sheets. "Instead of having to plane the door frame to fit the door, our pre-hung doors are ready to install without the work. All that has to be done is to nail the entire unit to the door opening," he said.

Completing the construction project, Daniels said that the entire area will be fenced in, and a new concrete drive approach laid.

Chelsea Hospital Board Elects Officers

James K. Daniels was elected chairperson of the Board of Governors of the Chelsea Community Hospital at its June meeting. Co-owner of the Chelsea Lumber Co. and a life-long resident of Chelsea, Daniels has been a member of the Board of Governors since January, 1974.

Daniels succeeds Paul E. Mann who has served as chairperson of the Board of Governors since June, 1970. Mann, president of the Chelsea State Bank, will continue to serve on the Board of Governors.

Mrs. Arlene B. Howe, 7171 Lakeshore Dr., was elected vice-chairperson. Mrs. Howe is on the administrative staff of the University of Michigan hospital.

David C. Hosmer, 3410 Broad St., was elected secretary. Hosmer is the owner of Hosmer Funeral Home in Dexter.

Walter F. Hamilton, 14224 Hay Rake Hollow, was elected treasurer. Hamilton is vice-president-manufacturing, of Edwards Brothers in Ann Arbor.

Organ Recitals Added to Zion Ice Cream Social

Four organists from the Ann Arbor Organ Guild will perform 15- to 20-minute organ recitals during the Zion Lutheran church ice cream social on Tuesday, July 18.

Beginning at 5 p.m. the organists will be playing on the 100-year-old organ located in the old Zion Lutheran church directly across the street from the new church.

A restoration committee, chaired by Carl Loeffler, has been working for nearly a year on collecting (Continued on page six)

He is serving the fourth year of a four-year term. James Stirling was elected vice-president and is serving his sixth year on the board. Ann Feeney was elected treasurer, replacing Thomas Hodgson who served as treasurer last year and did not seek re-election this year. Feeney is serving the third year of a four-year term. Big Boy Should Be Open Soon

It's been a long time coming, but in the next three weeks Chelsea will add to its list of moderately priced, reasonably quick service restaurants with the opening of the Big Boy Restaurant on S. M-52 just north of I-94.

Work on the building, which was begun last Sept. 30, "should be completed in two weeks, maybe three at the most," according to part-owner Bill Nilan of Livonia. His brother, Jim, of Northville, is the second owner.

"We will be employing between 50 and 60 people and there is always someone on the site during the day to pass out applications," Nilan said.

Jaycees Take on Pizza Project

COMMEMORATION: As part of the 10th anniversary celebration of the Spaulding for Children Adoption Agency, a brass plate was presented by the agency's board of directors commemorating the donation of Warren Spaulding's farm house, built in 1872, to the special adoption agency. Mrs. Dorthea Pilemeyer, left, unveiled the plaque during the Sunday, July 9 Ice Cream Social with the great-nephew of Warren Spaulding, Roland Spaulding. Mrs. Pilemeyer has been a board member of Spaulding for Children since it began 10 years ago and was instrumental in opening the agency which places only special-needs children.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:
 The question of belief come up during the session at the country store Saturday night, and the fellers managed to work it into just about every item on the agenda. It was Bug Hookum that brought up this Gallup poll that was rock on such as flying saucers, witches, the Lock Nest monster and the like. Bug said the most interesting finding to him was that 54 per cent of the folks believe in angels, but only 40 per cent believe in devils, which Bug said backs up what he believes about what people believe. He said they believe what they want to.

General speaking, the fellers were agreed with Bug that believing is as far from knowing as looking is from seeing. As for folks that prefer to believe in angels but not believe in devils, Zeke Brubb was of a mind that's as much human nature as believing the weather is going to be good instead of bad during your vacation. Zeke said he was special interested in that part of Bug's survey because he had saw the other day where a newspaper took a poll on how many folks believe they have been had enough to go to hell. Only four per cent believe they're going to heaven, Zeke said, not counting them that believe they'll just be gone. But of the folks taking part in this poll, Zeke went on, 20 per cent said they knew someone else that deserved to go to hell, and that didn't include the ones that had the opinion of the feller asking all the questions.

Turning to other matters, Ed Doolittle reported that his preacher said Sunday there ain't no money in heaven, so folks ought to use it for good purposes here and now. Ed said he believes there ain't no money in hell either, so we better git what fun out of it we expect. It may be the root of all evil, Ed declared, but a little will ease a lot of misery in this life of hard knocks. Anybody that don't believe that, went on Ed, ought to ask that woman in Los Angeles that claimed 47 children and drew $240,000 in welfare over the past five year. When she was found out, Ed said, she was living in a $120,000 house, had three cars and wasn't hitting a lick at a snake.

Clem Webster said that woman sounds like a case of her believing that the Government helps them that helps themselves. It ain't your point of view, Clem allowed, like when him and his old lady celebrated their wedding anniversary last month. Clem said since it was their 50th he come up with idea of barbecuing a pig and having the whole neighborhood over. She said she didn't see no cause to kill a innocent hog for a crime they committed so long ago. Clem said he was fixing to pout, but she grinned and said not to worry, that their statute of limitations run out years ago anyhow.

Speaking of point of view, Mister Editor, I see where a doctor says he has run out of places to vaccinate girls so it won't show when they grow up. From the swimming suits they're wearing this summer, I believe him.
 Yours truly,
 Uncle Lew.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

By Warren M. Hoyt, Secretary, Michigan Press Association

Insurance Companies
 The Michigan Insurance Bureau is developing a plan to guarantee the continuation of insurance coverage even if companies go bankrupt or are unable to provide future insurance.

Under the proposed plan, policies would simply go to another company. It is designed to assure that life insurance policies will lose no cash value earned from the original company.

The plan, a life and health insurance guarantee program, is now being studied by the Department of Commerce in the insurance bureau's insurance industry standards compliance division.

Raised somewhat on a guarantee plan for property and casualty insurance effective in Michigan since 1969, it will require legislative action before it can be implemented. Similar plans are in effect in nearly half of the states in the nation.

David Jordan, director of the insurance compliance division, said, Michigan hasn't had any problems with life and health insurance companies going bankrupt or suffering major setbacks, but with so many insurance companies doing business in the state, "we're not saying none will ever go broke."

Through there seems to be no current threat of companies closing, companies have taken on greater risks by writing more credit insurance, Jordan noted. Credit insurance insures that an item bought on credit will be paid off if the purchaser dies or is unable to complete payments.

Insurance companies, especially smaller companies, are increasingly subject to economic pressures and slowdowns.

Since the property guarantee plan went into effect, two Michigan companies have gone into receivership and could have cost their customers over $2 million had the policies not been picked up through the program, according to Jordan. Nationally, 45 property insurance companies have gone into receivership.

Cost of developing and maintaining a life and health guarantee association will be covered by the customers, but very miniscule, Jordan said. He noted cost of the property and casualty plan is down to 1-10,000 of the whole rate. The plan would create an association to which all insurers writing life and health insurance would have to be members. A board of governors would manage the association.

In case a company goes into receivership, or is unable to handle any more business, the association would look for someone interested in buying the company's book of business. Should no company be interested in buying the policies, the association would be able to assign the policies to a company.

Companies would also have to pick up policies similar to those they write. The proposed plan, in effect, provides insurance coverage for insurance coverage.

A July meeting between the Insurance Bureau and Commerce Department officials has been set to discuss the plan and consider possible changes in a draft. There are no immediate plans to have the

Tanker Ban Approved

The Michigan House of Representatives took a giant step recently in voting to place a permanent state-wide ban on the use of double-bottom tankers transporting hazardous materials. Also the ban would continue an immediate ban on tandem trailers in the Wayne-Oakland-Macomb tri-county area except to go to and from supply depots during the hours of 10 p.m. and 6 a.m.

The ban was ordered by Governor William G. Milliken using emergency powers following a series of devastating accidents in the highly populated areas.

The legislation also prohibits any tanker from carrying more than 9,000 gallons of fuel in the tri-county area, except in certain designated areas.

In an effort to make all tankers safer, the legislature further requires tankers to be retrofitted to increase stability. The stability requirements are based on a study conducted by the University of Michigan. The university's Highway Safety Research Institute will make future recommendations on vehicle design for safer transportation of gasoline and other flammable liquids.

The Senate must now complete legislative action on the ban, but that action is not expected until at least fall when the legislature reconvenes following the summer recess and the August primary elections.

Estleman's Third Novel Available

Dexter author Loren D. Estleman's third novel, "Sherlock Holmes Vs. Dracula, or the Adventure of the Sanguinary Count," has been published by Doubleday & Co., Inc., and is now available in hardcover in book stores throughout the area.

Estleman's second work, "The Hider," was published by Doubleday in February. "The Hider," his fourth, is scheduled for distribution this December. Both are historical westerns. Estleman is a staff writer for The Dexter Leader.

The bride chose an organza gown trimmed with silk venise lace. The dress had an empire waist, high sheer neckline, and pleated bishop sleeves with matching pleats on the bottom flounce. Her veil was chapel length, edged in silk venise lace and she carried a bouquet of white roses, stephanotis and ivy.

Maid of honor was Joan Marie Lutovsky of Chelsea, sister of the bride, who wore a silky polyester gown in dusty rose knit. It had blouson three-quarter sleeves, sheer

Girls Fast Ball Team Leads By Two Games

Chelsea 13-15-year-old girls fast-pitch softball team jumped on Tappan-Clague Friday night, July 7, to defeat them, 27-16, in five innings. Chelsea started strong as they scored 11 runs in the first inning, four more in the second and then nine in the third to put the game out of reach.

Chelsea featured a balanced hitting attack as five girls produced two hits each. Beth Bush had the big hit of the game as she tripled with the bases loaded in the second inning. Maggie Sweet also had a line drive at the plate as she tripled and singled with only two trips to the plate.

Ann Eisele started for Chelsea on the mound in her first start of the season after making two fine relief appearances. However, Ann failed to keep the ball over the plate as she walked nine and hit three in the first two innings. Shelley Weber came on in relief in the second inning with two out as Tappan-Clague rallied to get within four runs.

Shelley retired the side in the fourth without further damage and then set down the side in order in the third.

Tappan-Clague rallied again in the fourth with four runs but Shelley pitched out of trouble and then reduced the side in order again in the fifth to claim her first win of the season.

Chelsea now goes into the last two weeks of the season with a two-game lead in the 13-15 Fast-Pitch League. Chelsea has four games remaining and still must get by a strong PROS team and Great Lakes Federal who upset the PROS on Friday.

Coach Charles Waller said "Chelsea has relied on strong pitching from four different pitchers as Cara Feeney has won three games, Diane Thompson one, Ann Eisele one, and Shelley Weber one game. Feeney and Thompson have been the hard throwers while Eisele and Weber have concentrated on control to dominate most of the other teams in the league."

Anita Powell, Amy Unterbrink and Paula Haist have led a strong Chelsea hitting attack which features seven girls hitting .500 or better. Anita Powell leads the team in almost all of the offensive statistics, batting .681 with 15 hits, 24 runs scored, and 28 RBI's. Amy Unterbrink is not far behind, hitting .545 with 26 RBI's and six extra base hits.

Paula Haist has carried the team behind the plate with her fine catching while batting .523 and leading the team with two home runs. Beth Bush and Maggie Sweet have also compiled impressive batting averages, as Beth stands second on the team at .583, and Maggie Sweet in only 16 at-bats has nine hits for a .562 average.

"The really nice thing about this team is that we are averaging just over 26 runs a game. It is really hard to lose with that many runs," Waller said.

NANETTE PUSH, in her finest game of the season, recorded her first no-hitter during the Friday, July 7 game between Chelsea 16-18-year-old Amateur Softball Association fast-pitch team and last year's league champions, Headquarters. Chelsea won, 4-1, behind Push's no-hitter. She struck out six and walked only three as she controlled the game completely. "She gave an incredible performance, one to be remembered," Coach Charles Waller commented following the game.

Six Teams Battle for Little League Title

After two weeks of play the Little League race is wide open with six of the nine teams having an excellent chance of winning the championship.

Pitching has dominated the action this past week with many games decided by one or two runs. Blue Jays are the team to defeat as they have allowed fewer than five runs all season.

Braves and Royals, however, feel very strongly that they can unseat the Blue Jays.

Farm League seems to be a two-team race as the Yankees have peeled off three straight wins after an opening game loss to trail the strong Giants team by one game. The Reds and Royals, however, are determined to make their presence known around the league leaders.

Bauer - Roh Reunion Held Sunday

The 69th reunion of the Bauer and Roh families was held at the Dexter American Legion Home Sunday, July 9, with 46 guests in attendance from Florida, Lansing, Detroit, Ann Arbor, Chelsea, and Dexter.

Oldest present was Mrs. Edna Lesser with Kyle Jones, the three-and-one-half-month-old son of Dana and Carol Jones of Dexter, the youngest.

After the usual delicious dinner, the business meeting was conducted by President Dale Lesser, at which time officers for the next two years were elected. These are Carl Lesser, president, and Mary Burmeister, secretary-treasurer.

Family news included births, marriages, and trips. Robert Mast reported on the condition of his dad, Carl, who is recuperating at home after a 10-month stay in the hospital. Because of his illness, this is the first reunion he has missed since 1938.

Bingo provided the entertainment, after which guests departed, hoping to see each other again when the next reunion takes place on July 8, 1979.

TODAY'S INVESTOR

By Thomas E. O'Hara

Q. I see that one of the stocks most widely owned by investors is the American Family Corp. As I understand it, the principal business of this company is selling cancer insurance about the company and he said he didn't like it because cancer insurance was too specialized, he didn't think it was a good value if we had national health insurance, there would not be any need for it. Also, he says if a cancer cure is discovered, they are out of business. Do you have an answer for that?

A. There are a lot of people who think like your broker does. There have been people who have expressed the same thoughts ever since the company started in business in 1955. Yet, almost every year, the company's business has increased by 10-20 percent. Many people have made very good profits in the stock. Your broker's argument that the firm is very specialized is certainly true. However, in view of the 23-year record of the company in expanding its business, the specialization seems to have been turned into an advantage.

Whether any product is a good value or not in the end is determined by customers and the way they continue to buy. The corporation reports a very good rate of renewals and this must be so or the company couldn't report the continuous gains in total insurance in force.

The best answer to what would happen in case we had national health insurance is perhaps shown by the company's experience in Japan. National Health Insurance covers all of the Japanese; yet in Japan, American Family's sales are increasing at a very rapid rate. The finding of a cancer cure is something we would all like to see. In view of the complexity of the disease, it seems that cures are likely to come over an extended period.

The concerns your broker has are all logical. Yet, you can always list a number of possible negatives for any investment you want to make. Most of them never materialize. But no matter how carefully you invest, there is always a good idea to spread your investing over several stocks.

Q. Recently for several weeks, there were two lines in the paper for one of the stocks I own. On one line, the letters "wl" appeared after the stock and there was a difference each day of 1/4 to 1/2 in the price of the two lines. What was the reason for that?

A. The company had arranged to buy another company and pay for it with newly issued stock. The new issue of stock was very large in relation to the amount of stock the company already had outstanding. Trading started in the new stock before the transaction was completed and the "wl" indicated that the stock was not yet issued. The letters stand for "when issued." This more commonly occurs when a company is issuing a stock dividend and trading shares before the stock is actually issued.

The firm of Kewach and Plintoff was designated as the district's legal firm for 1978-79.

The contracts of Beverly Martin for high school home economics, Rev. G. Watson for high school chemistry and physics, and Paula A. Gafner as high school agriculture teacher for 1978-79 were approved.

The Board will set its goals for 1978-79 at a working session on Saturday Aug. 10.

Board approved the filing of an application with the Department of Education to borrow $433,204 against anticipated state aid for operating expenses and the filing of an application with the Michigan Municipal Finance Commission to borrow $1,000,000 against anticipated tax collections for operations. Both loans are to allow the district to meet current obligations until state aid and taxes are collected.

Board authorized the business manager to participate in co-operative purchasing to obtain the most favorable prices.

The business manager was authorized to invest school funds to the best interest of the district.

Board approved the construction of a six-foot high fence around the high school athletic and physical education field. Athletic Boosters have volunteered to handle the installation of the fence.

The Board went into executive session at 9:45 p.m. and the meeting was called back to order at 11:38 p.m.

The appointment of an assistant principal was delayed until July 17.

Meeting adjourned at 11:48 p.m.

ing who scored on two ground-outs. Two other Headquarters' runs were cut down at the plate as Jenny Clark caught the only ball hit out of the infield in right field and threw the runner on third out at the plate.

Patty Hume cut down a second runner on third as she dropped one of Push's pitches but recovered as the runner tried to score and put her tag on her at the plate. Chelsea tied the game in the fourth as Tracy Hawker and Kim Wood walked and Hawker scored as Cindy Bareis laid down a perfect bunt single.

Chelsea took the lead in the fifth inning, scoring twice as Molly Eisele and Patty Hume both singled and scored. Tracy Hawker scored her second run of the game in the sixth inning as she reached base on an error and scored while stealing second and third and the Headquarters catcher threw the ball into left field.

Coach Pat Clarke, who has been filling in for Bill Wescott, said that the girls played a fine game under a great deal of pressure. "The team has had great support from their parents all season and with Coach Wescott out of action the team has relied even more on parents to see that they are ready to play," Clarke said.

CHELSEA CHIROPRACTORS Drs. Warren Atkinson and Linda Elwart were among more than 3,000 chiropractors who carried to President Carter, Monday, July 3, some 40,000 petitions bearing more than 300,000 names and addresses of chiropractic patients, collected during the month of June. Drs. Atkinson and Elwart joined their colleagues and patients in a walk to the White House and Capitol Building for the rights of their patients to receive federal funds in payment of chiropractic care the same as they do for medical and other health services.

Lions Club Installs New Officers

Chelsea Lions Club installed their new officers and directors at a special Ladies Night dinner meeting on Wednesday, July 5 at the Chelsea Community Hospital. Ey Huttenlocher, District Governor of Lions District 11-B-1, conducted the induction and gave a brief summary of his recent participation in the Lions International Convention held in Japan.

Officers and directors for the 1978-79 club year are: Russ Severn, president; Brent Michelson, 1st vice-president; Herb Pearson, 2nd vice-president; Dave Scriven, 3rd vice-president; Paul Likavec, secretary-treasurer; Larry Murray, assistant secretary-treasurer; Steve Strick and Paul Erickson, directors; Dave Quilter, lion-twister; and Frank Hammer, lion tamer.

Immediately before turning the gavel over to Severn, incoming president, charter president Tom Dmoch of the Chelsea Lions Club, which was founded in April 1977, humorously said, "what this club needs is an immediate past-president."

Chelsea Lions Club, a part of Lions District 11-B-1, which includes 49 clubs from Coldwater to Ypsilanti, was formed in 1977 with a charter membership of 36 persons and has now grown to 43 members. During its first year, the Chelsea Lions Club raised approximately $2,500 which was donated to projects involving sight, hearing, or physically handicapped people. Severn stated that the fund-raising goal for the coming year was $5,000, double that of the preceding year.

Among the projects supported by the Chelsea Lions Club and District 11-B-1 are: Michigan Leader Dog program for the blind; braille transcribing program conducted at Southern Michigan Prison in Jackson; special education classes at the Chelsea schools; Washtenaw County Special Olympics for handicapped children; providing eyeglasses to needy people through the Chelsea Social Services Department and school districts; donation of a talking calculator to a blind student; and the Michigan Eye Bank.

On Aug. 12, the Lions Sightmobile for sight screening will be in Chelsea for the Chelsea Sidewalk Sales Days and will be active again this year at the annual Chelsea Fair in late August with a dunk tank and corn roast.

District Governor Huttenlocher advised that Lions International will be emphasizing hearing conservation during the coming year in addition to the well-known sight programs.

Although not a Lions member, Marion Rutledge serves as piano accompanist during the sing-along at regular club meetings.

Disorderly Charge
Filed Following
Park Disturbance
An alleged fist fight at Pierce Park on Monday evening, July 10, led to the arrest of George Lovely, a Chelsea resident, on charges of disorderly person, according to Chelsea police reports.

"Witnesses said a fight broke out about 8:30 p.m. Monday in the park but when Sergeant Lenard McDougall and Patrolman Jack Orr arrived at the scene only Lovely could be found," according to Police Chief George Meranuck.

"Our officers ordered Lovely, who was acting disorderly and was in an intoxicated state, to go home and when he refused he was placed under arrest," Meranuck reported. Meranuck said that Lovely wanted to drive his own car home, "but was in no condition to drive," he explained.

Lovely was taken to jail that night and released on personal bond Tuesday, July 11 to appear in court.

to the high school for their rehearsals and final production, the crew has not been without their mishaps. Gina was dropped on her head during one of the play's intricate dance scenes while shortly after this picture was taken Julie Prohaska, twisted and sprained her ankle while rehearsing a dance to one of the play's musical highlights, "Hey Big Spender." "I'll dance even if I have to wear a cast," Julie said.

Real Estate

By PAUL FRISINGER

REALTOR

MOMENT OF TRUTH

The situation is this. Husband is transferred to a new job a great distance away. The family decided to sell their home. If it is not sold prior to the husband's departure, should the wife and children remain behind or accompany him to the new location and try to sell an empty house?

Speaking as a REALTOR — not a marriage counselor — I must advise that the choice will be a matter of finance versus emotions. Why?

Experience shows that an empty house is tougher to sell and brings less money. A house devoid of furniture loses its charm and appearance of livability. Scars and blemishes show up. Empty rooms look smaller without furniture.

On the average, an empty house will bring about 5 to 6 percent less. In some cases, discounts of up to 10 percent are not unusual. Also, selling time is longer for an empty house despite the paradox that the buyer can move in almost immediately.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at FRISINGER REALTY CO., 935 S. Main St., Chelsea. Phone: 475-8683; evenings 475-2621. We're here to help!

Fair Board Preparing For Opening Day

Regular meeting of the Fair Board was called to order Thursday, July 6, by president Lloyd Grau. Officers present were president Grau, vice-president Jerry Heydlauff, fair secretary Ruth Leach, and fair manager Earl Heller.

Board members present were Frank Renton, Archie Bradbury, Robert Heller, Charles Koenn, John Klink, Harold Trinkle, Ralph McCalla, Richard Bollinger, Joe Merkel, III, Jerry Herrick, Harold Gross, and Reuben Lesser, Jr. Others present were Suzanne Morrison, fair queen, superintendent John Wellnitz, and Elsie Heller. Absent were Ed Keizer, fair board secretary; Kay Poljan, treasurer; Keith Bradbury, Dick Poljan, Charles Stapish, Art Steinaway, and Frank Sweeney.

Before the meeting began, Lloyd Grau, Archie Bradbury and others put the south half of the east gate back on its hinges. New gates are to be installed later. Minutes of a special meeting on May 24 were read and accepted and Suzanne Morrison discussed floats for the parade. Problems of insurance and other details pertaining to running a fair were also discussed.

A continuing report on the construction surrounding the fair grounds is given by John Wellnitz, former fair board treasurer.

"At the anchor post of the fence along Old US-12, the fence was buried two feet and one inch. The barbed wire is slack and only four feet, four inches high. A child can climb over quite easily."

"At my last looking over the the open end of the storm sewer, half way down the east side of the fair grounds, there still wasn't a safety grate to keep out small children or pets."

"Again there is repetition of poor reconstruction of the north fence. The barbed wire brackets are not straight and one strand was not even put into its slot. One post is broken at the splice and a child could sway the fence on eight or 10 posts. They are like tooth picks stuck into sand, without even cement around the posts at ground level, nor are the splices rigid."

"To top all that, the top rail is very crooked and the posts are off several inches from being straight at ground level. The contractor who is working for the telephone company is leaving the properties involved in as good or better condition than they were, but the contractors, directed by the village administrator, are leaving the properties in worse condition."

"The fair fence, road, curbs, sidewalk, and storm sewers are a federal grant; at least the grading and fences should be left in as good condition as they were before. So far the grading at the east end of the fence is still too steep for most maintenance work. I hope the conditions enumerated above can be rectified," Wellnitz concluded.

SPECIAL OLYMPIC BENEFITS: Two checks for $500 each were presented Monday, July 10, to the Superintendents of Dexter and Chelsea High schools as shares of the proceeds from the 5th annual Old Fashion Barn Dance held June 17 at the Charles Trinkle farm. The funds, according to Wallace Fuslier, chairman for the dance, "will be used only on the children who participate in the Special Olympic program at both schools, and not on administrative costs," he said. Pictured from left to right are Sharon Dettling, treasurer of the Barn Dance committee; her two children Julie and Andy; Dick Dettling, table committee chairman; Wallace

Buckle Up Child Auto Safety Drive Started

"Buckle Up Babies," a nationwide Jaycee Auxiliary program intended to reduce the number of injuries and deaths of children involved in car accidents is being adopted by the Chelsea chapter, according to chairperson Carol Smith.

"The project is designed to increase the number of area infants who are buckled up in child restraint devices while riding in motor vehicles," Smith explained. "We hope to begin renting the car seats to parents by the end of August or early September," she added.

During the next several weeks, Jaycee Auxiliary members will be, telling parents how important child restraints are and will attempt to provide infant restraints to as many area residents as possible, by fall.

Automobile crashes are the No. 1 killer of young children, ahead of all other accidents or diseases.

Safely constructed infant restraint devices can reduce the probability of serious injury by up to 78 percent, and death up to 90 percent in automobile accidents.

"To increase the success of this project, the Jaycee Auxiliary is asking for community help in acquiring used, safety approved infant restraints that are in good condition. If you, or someone you know has an infant seat you would be willing to donate, or sell reasonably, please call me at 475-2038 Smith said. Donations of these seats are tax deductible.

University of Michigan Highway Safety Institute has given approval of the following seats that have passed dynamic crash tests: Dyn-O-Mite by Infantseat, Love Seat by General Motors, Ford Infant Carrier, Bobby-Mac, Bummy Bear, Care Seat, Peterson Safety Shell, Travel-guard, and Wee Care. Only these seats will be rented by the Chelsea auxiliary.

Manchester Chicken Broil Set for July 20

Manchester's 25th annual Charcoal Chicken Broil is Thursday, July 20 on the Athletic Field. Serving time is 4 to 8 p.m. This small community on the Raisin River is putting forth every effort to make this year's Broil the best ever. Chefs are prepared to serve 12,000. Chicken eaters will be served quickly and efficiently. No long waiting lines. Twenty-five valuable gifts will be given away free. It's Manchester's way of saying thanks for the public's support of the biggest broil of its kind in the Midwest. Sponsors are two civic groups, Optimists and Jaycees.

Plump fresh chicken halves are broiled over four 100-foot pits. Each chicken half is lightly salted and butter basted as it slow broils to perfection on the grills. It's a sight to see 4,200 chicken halves broiling at a time over hot coals. A ton of cabbage will be slithered up fresh on the polished old German kraut cutters during the dinner and mixed with gallons of special dressing.

This year's event promises to be a real winner. Many celebrities are expected. There will be special entertainment as band music floats through the air. Some 550 volunteer men and boys work to raise money for many community projects—always to benefit the youth of the village. When everyone is willing to work and donate time and energy there has to be a good reason. The local mounted police will direct traffic to the free parking areas.

All volunteer workers have tickets. Tickets are also available in town at the Black Sheep Tavern, Gambles, Great Lakes Federal Savings in Manchester, Ann Arbor and Branch offices, Grossman-Huber Service, IGA, Krauss Pharmacy, Livestock Exchange, Mann's Mill, Union Savings Bank and The Village Tap. They are also available in nearby communities.

General chairman is Gene Bent-schneider.

Historic Walking Tours Scheduled in Ann Arbor

Shalom Vacation Church School Releases Balloons

The release of many helium-filled balloons in the field surrounding Shalom depot church, Pinckney, Friday, June 30 marked the final day of its Summer Vacation school. Each balloon carried the word "Shalom," the church's phone number, the individual child's name and phone number. Results are being eagerly awaited, assuming some of the balloons managed to get to faraway places.

Children throughout the 6th grade level were enrolled this year, approximately one-third more than last year's records indicate. The theme of the session was "Hosanna!" Co-ordinator, Mrs. Robert Nauman; teachers, Pastor Ronald E. Rein, Mrs. James Lummis, Mrs. Dennis Lange, Mrs. Tom Ferranti, Susanne D'Lugosch; assistants, Petra D'Lugosch, Amy Lange, Cara Lange, Eric Lange and Tracy McGowan, made the program a success. Mrs. Peter D'Lugosch was in charge of refreshments furnished by many volunteers in the congregation.

Summer schedule for the church worship service on Sundays has been set at the earlier hour of 8:30 a.m. until Sept. 10. There will be no Sunday school until Sept. 17 when it will again meet at the usual time of 9 a.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Gunnar Lindahl and Mrs. James Lummis were recently taken in as new members of the congregation. Lindahl will conduct Shalom's worship services on July 18, 23 and 30, while Pastor Ronald E. Rein is on vacation. Mrs. Lindahl will be assisting Mrs. William Lange in keeping an up-to-date history of Shalom, writing newspaper articles on church activities and sending letters to visitors. Both Mr. and Mrs. Lindahl were active members of Advent Lutheran church, East Detroit.

Mrs. Lummis, who has been active in the community Pinckney Elementary school, very successfully handled the largest class in Shalom's vacation school this year.

Gifts and memorials are already being received by Shalom for use in its new church, M-36 at Farley Rd., Pinckney. Dedication date is scheduled for Sept. 10. The historians are concentrating on church papers, pictures and artifacts appropriate as contents of the cornerstone box.

JOHN, GARY, ELMER & BURT...

Now there's a team.

We'd be willing to bet that if your car's got a problem that our mechanics can't fix... it can't be fixed. They're specialists and each one has at least ten year's experience in the field.

John Widmayer has 27 year's experience and his specialty is preparation and new car conditioning. Cars are a little like babies. If you can't start them off right, you're bound to have trouble later. John sees that every new car that comes in is right before it rolls out.

Burt Root has been working with brakes for 23 years. He considers himself a safety specialist... you will too. He knows how to give you that extra margin of safety that perfectly working brakes give any driver.

Ask for Gary's opinion when it comes to overhaul, rear end and engine problems. That's Gary Leftridge. He's been repairing them for over 16 years and loving it.

Elmer Culver is your man for transmissions... and in 30 years he's just about seen them all. We're willing to bet he knows more about transmission strength, quirks and weaknesses than any other mechanic in the area.

John, Gary, Burt and Elmer are pros. And they're just four of the 16 top mechanics at Rampy Chevrolet. Remember, Rampy's not just selling cars, he's selling service.

Ann Arbor Art Fair Scheduled July 19-22

Ann Arbor's nationally acclaimed summer art fair will be held Wednesday through Saturday, July 19-22. Nearly 1,000 artists display metal sculpture, paintings, photography, jewelry, pottery and many other art forms. In addition, there will be daily demonstrations of artists at work: wood carving, silk screen printing and weaving. An abundance of traditional, ethnic and health foods will be available, as well as performances by theatrical groups and musicians.

The annual summer event, which is composed of three distinct fairs held simultaneously, is expected to draw more than 300,000 people to central Ann Arbor during its four-day run. Registration for all fairs is by pre-arrangement and all spaces have been filled for quite some time.

The original Ann Arbor Street Art Fair, now in its 19th year, is located in the S. University and E. University Sts. area of central Ann Arbor. The fish has been the mascot of the fair since the very first year. A merchant donated several Japanese paper fish and they've been floating over the fair ever since. An Art Fair Acceptance Committee, made up of artists who judge only their field of expertise, select the "cream of the crop" for the fair. The artists are not only judged prior to coming to the fair, but a second evaluation of those chosen occurs on the street during the fair. This helps determine the artists who will be invited to return, as well as create openings for new applicants.

The 11th annual State Street Area Art Fair, located on E. Liberty, Maynard and N. University Sts., attracts more than 150 Michigan and out-of-state artists to its streets and striped tent. Originally the fair was not juried; however, now, participants are selected by an Art Fair Committee.

The third is the University Artists and Craftsmen Guild's fair. Their Summer Arts Festival is located in two separate locations: on Main St., downtown Ann Arbor, and on E. University St. This festival began in 1971 with a group of U. of M. students as an outlet for themselves and other artists. They joined with the University Activities Center and formed the Artists and Craftsmen Guild. The Guild's guidelines for exhibiting in the fair require "handcrafted, original design work of the exhibiting artists from beginning to end."

Information booths will be located throughout the three fairs. Hours of the fair are from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. Wednesday through Friday, and 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Saturday. Shuttle bus service connecting the three fairs and running from outlying areas into central Ann Arbor will be provided by the Ann Arbor Transit Authority. Complete schedules and information will be available at the information booths.

In addition to the groups mentioned above, co-sponsors of the summer events include the University of Michigan, the city of Ann Arbor and the Greater Ann Arbor Chamber of Commerce.

The U.S. Labor Department's Employment Standards Administration enforces laws and regulations setting employment standards, providing worker's compensation for those injured on their jobs, and requiring federal contractors to provide equal employment opportunities.

Aerial Photos of State Slated This Summer

Aerial photographs of southern Lower Michigan will be taken by an Ohio firm this summer as the second part of a two-year project to photograph the entire state, the Department of Natural Resources reports.

The DNR signed a $110,000 contract last week with Kucera & Associates, Inc., a Mentor, O. firm, to take aerial photos. Kucera was also low bidder last year when the firm photographed the Upper and northern Lower Peninsulas. The entire project is scheduled to be completed by September.

"The photographs will be the type that will meet a wide range of user's needs," according to Karl Hosford, Chief of the DNR's Land Resource Programs Division.

The color infra-red and black and white photos will be used by local units of government for assessment and zoning purposes. Forest land managers will use the photos to plan timber sales, forest cultivation and habitat management projects. Agricultural agencies and farm operators use them for soil and drainage classification and related management efforts, the DNR says.

Henry Webster, DNR Forest

Management Chief, says cost savings of up to 35 percent are attributable to the use of aerial photography in the management of forest resources.

One of the chief supporters of the project has been Representative Russell Hellman of Dollar Bay.

The photos are being taken at a scale of 1:24,000, which works out to 2.6 inches per mile. At this scale, objects as small as an automobile can be identified with a naked eye and the color infra-red format allows maximum detail for vegetative interpretation, Hosford notes.

Financing for the project is being provided by a coalition of industries and agencies with aerial photo needs. Included are forest, industries, the Departments of Natural Resources, State Highways and Transportation, Agriculture, Treasury, regional planning commissions, the U.S. Soil Conservation Service and local units of government.

Firms or agencies wishing to join the aerial photography coalition are invited to write or call the DNR's Division of Land Resource Programs, Box 30028, Lansing 48909. Telephone: (517) 373-3328 (not a toll-free number).

Generic Drugs; Just How Good Are They?

What's the real difference between a "generic" drug and one with a nationally known brand name? According to the Food and Drug Administration (FDA)—very little.

For the latest information about generic drugs and about FDA requirements for all drugs, write for the new reprint, Generic Drugs: How Good Are They? For your free copy, just send a postcard to the Consumer Information Center, Dept. 691F, Pueblo, Colo. 81009.

The fact that the difference between generic drugs and brand name drugs is largely semantic, concerns your wallet as well as your health. For example, whether you buy a cheaper "house brand" aspirin at a discount drug store, or a nationally advertised aspirin, you will find no difference in the pain-killing quality of the product. This is because FDA requires all aspirin to meet identical standards for safety, strength, purity, and effectiveness. The same is true for all other drugs.

Take the widely used antibiotic, tetracycline. Your physician can write a prescription for tetracycline under its generic name, or prescribe it under brand names like Achromycin, Sumycin, or Tetracylin. But no matter what the name, each antibiotic must meet FDA standards.

Because the generic drugs are usually less expensive than brand have suggested that one way to hold down medical costs is to encourage physicians to prescribe generics, and allow pharmacists to fill prescriptions with the lowest-cost version of the prescribed drug.

But, many states forbid pharmacists to dispense any version of the drug not specifically prescribed by the physician. This means that is your doctor prescribes a certain brand of tetracycline, that's what you get, even if its costs more.

However, there is a growing movement to overturn these laws, and a trend among physicians toward prescribing generics. Last year, generic prescriptions accounted for 12 percent of all new prescriptions, nearly double the generics prescribed 10 years ago.

If you are looking for cost-saving generics, about 60 or 70 of the 200 most frequently prescribed drugs are now available generically.

Antibiotics top the list, accounting for more than half of all generic prescriptions.

When you order a copy of Generic Drugs: How Good Are They? (free), you'll also receive a copy of the free Consumer Information Catalog. It lists more than 200 selected free or low-cost publications from the federal government. The Catalog is published quarterly by the Consumer Information Center of the General Services Administration.

Orioles Finally Win In Babe Ruth Action

Babe Ruth action last week found the Orioles finally winning their first game. The Orioles had previously come close to winning some games but, victory eluded them until they trounced the Royals, 12-2, on Friday.

Drew Sprague pitched another fine game and received the win on a two-hitter. Chipping in to help with two hits each were Jeff Price, Mike O'Quinn and Drew Sprague. Jeff Price and Mike Wade scored three runs each while Mike Bareis and Drew Sprague each scored twice. The Orioles record is 1-7 after the first round of play.

At the other end of the league the Astros continue their undefeated march with wins over the Royals and Dodgers. Strong pitching by Jeff Catane and Tom Malcolm have paced the performances of the Astros. In addition to a good relief performance against the Royals, Jeff Catane hit a three-run homer and scored three runs himself. In the win over the Dodgers Doug Van Deven homered with two on base and scored four runs himself.

Coming on strong in the middle of the pack are the Yankees who have won their last three games. Ralph Finley pitched a fine one-hitter against the second-place Athletics, handing them only their second loss at 8-2. The Yankees batted out a total of 12 hits.

The Yankees also defeated the Pirates with Jeff Katapol and Ralph Finley teaming up to pitch the Yankees to a 10-7 victory.

On Saturday, July 15, a group of 15-year-old All-Stars will travel to Lansing to compete in a District Babe Ruth Tournament.

Players from Chelsea will be Jim Cobb, Jeff Fouty, Ken Hopkins, Drew Sprague, Jim Stock and Ross Stoffel.

Dexter will send Mike Claffey, Pete Cornils, Dave Kennedy, Tom McCormick and Randy Reason.

All-Stars from Manchester will be Jeff Catane, Nick Krzyzaniak, Tom Malcolm and Tim Thomas. The opening game features Chelsea against Saline at 9 a.m. at Municipal Field in Lansing.

Crop Certification Deadline Nears

All agricultural producers must certify their 1978 acreage of crops by July 14, according to Dorothy M. Howard, county executive director of the Washtenaw County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee. This includes those farmers who are participating in the Set-Aside Program, as well as those farms that are not participating.

This certification of acreages is necessary to establish eligibility of those participating in the 1978 program and for those farms that are not participating in 1978, it will be needed to establish their eligibility for program benefits in 1979. Mrs. Howard emphasizes that participating farmers will be eligible for voluntary diversion payments, disaster payments in the case of crop loss, and deficiency payments which could be very important to agricultural producers in case of bad weather or low market.

ICE CREAM SOCIAL: More than 500 persons attended the Spaulding for Children social and 10th birthday celebration on Sunday, July 9 under beautifully sunny skies and cool breezes. "In the 10 years that we have had our social we have never had rain," a spokesperson for the special adoption agency commented on the successful day. Games, clowns and an abundance of food—gone by the day's end—filled the grounds of the Warren Spaulding farm.

Adopted children and their families, prospective adopting families, case workers from across the state, prospective adoptee children, and community residents attended the social. Also attending were more than 65 students and staff members of the St. Louis School for Boys who enjoyed a wide assortment of dishes and cake and ice cream provided through the combined effort of the Spaulding staff.

Women on the March for ERA

ERA. You may know, it as a box of laundry detergent on the grocery shelf, or as Alice Steinbach and Elizabeth Nicholls know it, as something to leave Chelsea for and march along with 40,000 others in support of.

Equal Rights Amendment. A short, three-part, 52-word proposal that reads:

1) Equality of rights under the law shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any state on account of sex. 2) The congress shall have the power to enforce by appropriate legislation the provisions of this article. 3) This amendment shall take effect two years after the date of ratification.

"It's ridiculous that there is such a fuss being made over something so logical," Steinbach commented after returning from her one-day bus trip and one-mile march to the steps of the Capitol in Washington, D.C. "All the amendment says is that equality is a given right to everyone under the Constitution, male or female. It's only logical," she commented.

Steinbach, who describes herself as a political "moderate," and Nicholls, a native of New Zealand who has lived in Chelsea the past year, decided to attend the rally, organized by the National Organization of Women (NOW), after Steinbach read a letter to the editor in the Ann Arbor News.

While neither woman is a member of NOW, both expressed a deep concern over the fate of the six-year-old struggle to have 38 states ratify the article. Currently, it's supporters need three more states to add to the 35 states which have already voted yes before the March 22, 1979 deadline or have Congress pass a seven-year extension.

"Speaking as a member of the American Association of University Women, one of our prime concerns this year is the passage of the ERA. The issue has to be resolved to provide women with a legal recourse against discrimination," Steinbach said.

A working mother with two sons, Steinbach is following in the footsteps of her grandmother and great-aunt who were both active in the women's suffrage movement during the '20's. "My grandmother was a school principal in Michigan before she was married and gave generously to the cause. My great-aunt lived in Washington, D.C., during the '20's and was very active in marches," she commented.

When Steinbach arrived in Washington, early Sunday morning, July 8, she carried with her a parasol belonging to her late grandmother which had slogans of "give women the vote" printed across its brim. "I know she would have been proud to see me carry her parasol during Sunday's march," Steinbach said.

Arriving several hours ahead of the scheduled march, Steinbach and Nicholls enjoyed a bit of sight-seeing before joining the Michigan delegation of 1,500 men, women, and children near the Washington monument.

"Everything was very well organized, although because of the overwhelming turnout we were a little late in starting the march," Steinbach said. Marchers were organized into states and special delegations. "Every state was represented and more than 300 organizations sent delegates," she said.

Steinbach was most impressed with the wide scope of participation. "Women, men, and children of all ages marched. The one group that had virtually no representation was the anti-ERA organization. I only saw one or two dissenters in the crowd during the day," she commented.

Of the dozens of speakers at the rally, Steinbach said "the message was clear, to the point, and positive—support for the ERA must and will continue." "Some believe that in asking for an extension we are quitting on the 90-yard-line but to my knowledge most Constitutional amendments had extensions built-in or never had a time

Salem Grove Church Marks Anniversary

More than 150 church members, their families, friends, and former pastors attended the 125th anniversary celebration of the Salem Grove United Methodist church on Sunday, July 8.

Among the guests were District Superintendent the Rev. Robert Selberg who spoke during the morning worship service; and four former pastors, the Rev. Louis Caister of Willmore, Ky.; the Rev. George Woerner of Chelsea; the Rev. John Todd of Chelsea; and the Rev. Jerry Parker of Ann Arbor, all of whom spoke during the afternoon program following a potluck dinner.

A former church member, Mrs. Clara (Remenschnider) Steinman of California, mailed a recording of a brief church history which was played to the 150 guests. Honors were bestowed upon church members who joined in 1905, Walter Kalmbach, Elma Kalmbach, and Sophia Winters. The oldest church member, Clarence Lehman, 91, was also honored. Each was presented with a floral centerpiece.

After coffee, the Rev. Robert Selberg concluded the program with a benediction.

Ballantine Attending Stockbridge Festival

Mary Keith Ballantine, Republican candidate for the House of Representatives, will be at the Stockbridge Summer Fest on July 15. She will meet the people and listen to their concerns. She welcomes the opportunity to express her thinking on the issues of the coming election.

deadline to begin with," she added.

"The single biggest problem in obtaining ratification to the ERA is in dissolving the mis-concepts of the article's intentions. I firmly believe that the ERA will not have the dramatic effects that some people believe it will. It will not force women into active military involvement and it will not create a 'unisex' society with everyone using the same toilets and so on. The intention is to provide legal recourse for women who have been discriminated in employment, social security benefits, or any situation where sex is a discriminating factor."

She added that the ERA could also work both ways. "In many areas a man is socked with enormous alimony payments and is often denied child custody rights because of his sex. ERA's purpose is to eliminate sex discrimination and provide everyone with equal rights under the law," she explained.

SUPER HOSE: Chelsea volunteer firemen demonstrate their new soft suction hose acquired last month. According to Fire Chief James Gaken "the hose is able to pump up to 1,000 gallons a minute." Until the fire department purchased the $300 hose, they had to use four hoses to do the job of the new hose. Gaken said that soft suction hose is used only for major fires in town where a hydrant is available. "Thank heavens we haven't had to use it yet," Gaken said. "If we do have to use it we will save a lot of time and energy by hooking up just one hose instead of four," he added.
