Campaigning Hot As Aug. 8 Primary Nears

During the past several months, political candidates have been presenting to news readers their stunts, viewpoints, and promises in both press releases and paid advertisements.

On this coming Tuesday, Aug. 8, voters across Michigan will flock (hopefully) to the polls, many of them pulling no punches as they select the candidate of their choice.

Because of the vast number of persons running for everything from township constable to governor, to United States Senator, the following list is given as a guide to what will be on the ballot Tuesday.

On the local level, political contests are at a minimum with many candidates running unopposed or, in some cases, no candidate has filed for the position. On the state level, five men are vying for the governorship; seven for state senator, 18th District; and four for representative in the state legislature, 23rd District.

Eight candidates are seeking the position of United States Senator while only two are running for Representative in Congress, 6th District.

For Judge of the Probate Court, six are contenders and for Judge of the 14th District Court, four men are in contest.

In Sylvan township, Democrat Donald Schoenberg faces no opposition from either party in the primary for re-election as supervisor. Neither does Daniel J. Murphy (D) in his bid for re-election as clerk, nor incumbent Fred J. Pearsall (R) as treasurer.

Two Republicans are running for the single two-year term position of trustee, Douglas J. Nadeau and Reuben A. Lesser, Jr. Only one person is running for the possible two positions of constable, Gary D. Foster (R).

One candidate, William F. Storey, is vying for one of the four possible spots as Republican delegate to the County Convention, while Leonard Solomon is the only candidate to file for the three slots available in the Democrat County Convention. The vote on these positions is final and will not be on the November ballot.

While these are the only names which will appear in the ballot booklet in Sylvan township, voters may, of course, write in the name of their choice. For the constable and county convention positions, only five votes are needed to elect a person, while for other positions where only one slot is available, more votes are needed depending on how many votes the candidate who appears on the ballot receives.

John Hurd (R) is the only candidate who has filed for Lyndon township supervisor (incumbent Thomas Lewis is not seeking re-election) while incumbent Barbara Roderick (R), treasurer, is unopposed in her re-election bid. Republicans Linda Wade and Ann Adams are contending for township clerk, and incumbent trustee Norman Kaiser is being challenged by Democrat Orson Beeman, Sr., for the one open position of trustee.

Lyndon township voters will also find on their ballots two proposals. The first is a township request to be granted the authority to levy taxes above the 15 mills limited by the 1963 Michigan State Constitution. The second proposition is the township's request (if they are granted the authority) to levy a tax of one mill upon the taxable real and tangible personal property for five years from Dec. 1, 1978 through Nov. 30, 1983.

The proposed millage would raise in excess of $18,000 per year for five years and would be used in the Washtenaw County Road Commission's 50-50 matching plan, resulting in approximately $36,000 worth of road improvements each year. The levy would cost the taxpayer one dollar per $1,000 of State equalized value of their property.

For example, a property that has a market value of $40,000, and assessed valuation of $20,000, would experience a tax increase of $20. No candidate has filed for Lima township supervisor (write-ins are possible); Republican Arlene R. Bareis is unopposed in her bid for re-election as clerk; and Republican Jean L. Tilt in her quest for re-election as treasurer. Four candidates are running for two open trustee positions (two-year terms each) including Robert L. Heller (R), Martin Merkel (R), incumbent Robert V. Wirtz (R), and incumbent Harold L. Gross (D). Daniel D. Foytik (R) is seeking re-

Financing Needed for Chance at U.S. Title

There's a buzz in the air around these parts that has a distinct southern drawl to those who hear it.

At times the buzz reaches clear across Chelsea covering it like a baseball smothered with a 10-gallon hat. At other times it is fairly inaudible amidst the noise of telephones ringing.

CHELSEA SUPER STARS: Winners of nearly every game they've played in since the season began, Chelsea Amateur Softball Association 16-18-year old Women's Fast-Pitch team stormed the fields in Ann Arbor this week to capture the title of ASA Great Lakes Regional champions. Pictured here after placing second in the ASA State Tournament Championships in Petoskey July 22-23 are in back, from left to right, Coach Charles Waller, Nanette Push, Cheryl Nadeau, Cindy Bareis, Coach Bill Wescott, Tracey Hawker, Kim Wood, Coach Pat Clarke, Roxanne Jones, and Cathy Taylor.

Dog Bites Woman Mailcarrier

It's not dog bites man, or man bites dog, but dog bites woman mailcarrier, according to Chelsea Police reports.

On Thursday, July 27, while on her afternoon delivery route for the United States Post Office, Anita R. Yu of Ann Arbor reported that a black and white cocker spaniel, running out from behind the house at 142 Van Buren St. and bit her in the back of the leg.

The police report said that she didn't tell police about the incident until several days later when "she noticed her leg was black and blue and the skin slightly broken," the reports said.

Girls Softball Team Is Regional Champs

Now Eligible for National Championships in Texas

Combining years of experience with youth, as Saginaw pitched their ace Mary Endsley in what Chelsea hoped was the final game of the tournament. It was not to be, however, and Saginaw jumped out to an early lead defeating Chelsea, 5-4, in a close game that was not settled until the bottom of her seventh inning.

Chelsea pushed the game into the last inning as Jennifer Ringe walked and moved to second on a pick-off attempt at first and then scored to tie when Tracy Hawker singled. But Chelsea failed to hold Saginaw in their half of the inning when, with one out, Saginaw picked up a clean single followed by a solid triple. The win by Saginaw kept the tournament alive and forced a final game as both Chelsea and Saginaw had one defeat each.

The Championship game began after a short pause for both teams to regroup. Chelsea brought on Roxanne Johns to start the fourth game of the tournament while Saginaw continued with Mary Endsley. Chelsea scored first, taking advantage of a walk to Amanda Schwarze, an infield out, and two wild pitches. However, Pro-Am Sports came back in their half of the inning sending nine batters to the plate. Chelsea got out of he inning giving up just three runs netting Saginaw to put out the fire.

Saginaw extended their lead to 5-2 with two hits and an error in the second inning, but Chelsea refused to quit and forced Saginaw into mistakes. Chelsea came back to tie the score in the third inning with Schwarze and Hawker walking, Johns singling to drive in one run, and Kim Wood looping a short ball over the first baseman's head.

Chelsea then took charge of the game as Nanette found her groove in the plate and gave up just two runs while Chelsea hitters added nine more runs to take the championship, 14-7.

Big innings for Chelsea came again in the fifth as batters collected five hits and six runs. Key hits came in the inning as Coach Pat Clarke called for a squeeze bunt with the bases loaded to score the first run of the inning and unnerve the Saginaw team.

Cindy Bareis laid down the bunt and ran it out as the Pro-Am team failed to react. Jennifer Ringe followed with a scratch single to drive in another run after two fielders choices on which Chelsea scored. Nanette Push put the icing on the cake as she singled in two more runs. Chelsea finished the scoring in the seventh inning as Tracy Hawker, Nanette Push, and Cathy Taylor singled to score three more times.

Chelsea's stunning victory over both the Metropolitan and State Champions has earned them the right to take part in the ASA Girls Fast-Pitch Championships to be held in San Antonio, Tex., Aug. 10-13. Coach Bill Wescott said "the girls have earned the

Chelsea Home Broken into During Day

A Chelsea home was broken into several days ago, in broad daylight, and all that the thief took, it seems, is a brand new sports jacket with the tags still on it, a bottle of mint liqueur, some loose change, and a 12-gauge shotgun, according to Chelsea police reports.

"There were many valuable items in the house which weren't taken which gives us reason to suspect that it must have been a young kid," Chief George Meratuck commented.

Residents of the home were away on their summer vacation when the break-in occurred and were notified before they returned. A woman who checked the mail daily said that the house had been checked that morning but

New Sports For Girls at Beach School

Two new sports will be offered Beach Middle school 7th and 8th grade girls this year, including basketball and volleyball.

Coached by Cheryl Vogel, basketball team play will be held in the fall and interested girls should begin conditioning on their own before school begins, Vogel said. Actual practice will begin when school starts.

Volleyball will be held during the winter semester. A physical exam is required for athletes who wish to participate, either by a private physician or through the clinic provided through the high school. Athletic physicals or girls are being given at the Chelsea Medical Clinic on Monday, Aug. 7 at 8:30 a.m. Girls should be there by no later than 9:15. The cost is $3.

Physicals must be dated after June 9, 1978 and are good for all school activities throughout the school year.

Sightmobile Clinic Being Sponsored By Lions Club

Chelsea Lions Club is sponsoring its first Sightmobile Clinic, free to everyone, during the Chelsea Sidewalk Sales and Art Fair, Friday and Saturday, Aug. 4-5.

Designed to detect depth perception, color blindness, and astigmatism, the test takes a short five minutes and results are determined immediately, according to Lou Depping, chairman of the Lions sight committee.

The booth will be located on (Continued on page five)

Sidewalk Sale, Art Fair Set For Week-End

Sixth annual Sidewalk Sale and Art Fair will begin tomorrow, Friday, as artists, craftsmen, retail merchants, and local service clubs load their wares onto Chelsea streets.

Festival hours are from 8:30 a.m. to 8:30 p.m. on Friday, and 8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. on Saturday. An auction is slated for Friday evening at 8:30 with Loren Heller as auctioneer, sponsored by the Chelsea Merchants Association. Proceeds from sales will revert back to the item donors.

Situated between the booths of pottery, jewelry, sculpture and other art works will be food booths featuring tacos, knockwurst, popcorn, snow cones, and honey.

Merchants will have merchandise on sale both inside and outside, and judging from previous years the bargains should abound.

According to Karen Johnson, who has managed the sidewalk art fair for several years, all art booths have been juried prior to being accepted to the fair. This year more than 95 artists are expected to display their creations.

Johnson suggests keeping an eye open for the handsome jewelry of Earl Whitney, along with needlepoint by Sherry Lawton, hand puppets by Sherry Duffy, and handmade dolls by Judy Beckett. "I'm sure that art shoppers will be impressed by this year's selection," Johnson added.

Steinhauer Repeats As Water Ski Champ

Placing first in slalom, jump, and tricks, Marty Steinhauer, a 12-year-old water skiing whiz, became Michigan's Junior Boys Over-All Water Ski Champion during last week-end's Michigan State Championships in Saginaw.

With "exceptional" performances in two events, Marty jumped 97 feet, completed the slalom with "one at 28-off" and collected 670 points in tricks to win the state's highest water skiing honor for the second consecutive year.

As a result of his achievements, he will travel to Brighton's Tivoli Gardens 36th annual National Water Ski Championships, matching his skills with skiers from across the country.

Joining him will be his 11-year-old brother David who also competed in the State Championships in Saginaw and placed second in jump, soaring 78 feet. Marty's sister, 15-year-old Krystin, placed second in the girls division, jumping 53 feet.

National Water Ski Championships officials anticipate a record number of contestants at this week's contest in Brighton, as many as 400, vying for the coveted national titles. Skiers in 12 age divisions from less than 13 years-old through veterans more than 45 will be featured.

Members of the U. S. World Water Ski Team, who captured the World Championships at Milan, Italy last fall and super-star champion Wayne Grinditch, along with Michigan's open division stars Tony Krupa and Bill Chisnell, will be of major interest during the five-day competition.

Tivoli Gardens was specially developed for competitive water skiing in 1972. It features a beautiful high sloping shoreline making viewing by thousands of spectators ideal.

Advance arrangements are now being made for this prestigious event. For further details contact Jerry Steinhauer, chairman of the publicity committee, 1100 Sugar Loaf Lake, Chelsea.

Legion Plans Include First Oktoberfest

A series of meetings, beginning Thursday, Aug. 3, have been scheduled by the Herbert J. McKune Post No. 31, and includes the setting of Saturday, Oct. 14 as the date for their first Oktoberfest.

On Thursday, Aug. 3 the executive board meeting will begin at 7:30 p.m. with the regular meeting at 8 p.m. "Because our rental business has grown, we have reached a point where we need someone to handle rentals for the Legion. We propose to pay 20 percent of the rental fee collected to someone who will show the hall to prospective renters, handle the transaction, and inspect the hall following a rental," Pat Merkel, American Legion member, said. Anyone interested should contact Merkel or another board member by Aug. 3, as an agent will be selected then.

The Legion will auction off a valuable old rifle at the Aug. 3 meeting. It is an 1884 Springfield, Trap Door model, in good condition. The gun may be seen at (Continued on page four)

PATTI HUME was Chelsea's first calamity of the season as she fell into home to score and break her ankle in the process. "It's a hairline fracture and not too serious but it means she's out of play," Coach Charles Waller said. Hume, Chelsea's top catcher, described by her coaches as a "team leader," was sliding into home to score during a game with Gabriel Richard, Ann Arbor, on Friday, July 28, when the break occurred. "She had to sit out the entire Regional Tournament which began that Saturday, and if we were to Texas for the National competition she'll have to sit that out," Waller said. Hume, however, is still in the thick of her team's spirit, attending the games on crutches and acting as loud as the rest of them," Waller said.

NANETTE PUSH: Baffling 31 batters with her stunning pitching performance, Push stood the mound for 27 innings, winning three out of four games in two days during the ASA Great Lakes Regional Championship held in Ann Arbor, Aug. 4-6.

Karen L. Romine, Kurt Meyer Speak Vows at Methodist Church

First United Methodist church was the setting for the marriage of Karen Lynn Romine and Kurt Rogers Meyer of Ann Arbor on Friday, July 21 at 7 p.m.

The Rev. Marvin McCallum performed the ceremony for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond M. Canine of 541 N. Main St., and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald L. Meyer, Ann Arbor. More than 175 guests were present.

The bride wore the wedding gown of the bridegroom's mother, made of ivory satin and rosepoint lace designed with a long moulded lace bodice in which a deep yoke of illusion lace framed the Bertha collar trimmed with imported lace to create an off-shoulder look. The long fitted sleeves tapered to slender points over the wrists. The plume, also covered with lace, dipped to a point in the back and fell over the folds of the full circular skirt which swept into a cathedral train.

Her veil headpiece, half-moon shaped, was covered with seed pearls and an ivory sheer net was gathered at the top.

She carried a bouquet of white silk baby roses accented with baby's breath and a cascade of stephanotis with ivy. She also had a special "throwing" bouquet of colored daisies which was made by Kim Sanford, cousin of the bride. Arbor, sister of the bridegroom. Junior bridesmaid was Michelle Romine of Jackson, niece of the bride. They wore gowns identical in style to the maid of honor's in deep peach. The junior bridesmaid's dress was in blue. They all carried a single long stem yellow rose.

The bride's mother wore a princess style floor-length gown of sky blue with sequins gathered at the neckline and sheer flowing chiffon sleeves. She wore a corsage of yellow roses.

The bridegroom's mother wore an empire-line floor-length gown in a lavender floral print with a scoop neckline covered with a double layer capelet made of the same print and chiffon in a matching solid lavender. She wore a corsage of yellow roses.

Best man was Greg Goetz of Ann Arbor. Ushers included Randy Romine of Gregory, brother of the bride; Mark Regner of Ann Arbor, and Pat Ash of New Jersey. Junior usher was Craig Meyer of Ann Arbor, brother of the bridegroom.

A reception following the wedding was held at the Chelsea Rod and Gun Club, Lingane Rd., Corrina Romine of Jackson, niece of the bride, attended the guest book. Dawn Spencer of Gregory, niece of the bride, served the cake and punch.

The couple took a wedding trip to Cheyenne, Wyo., to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn K. Rogers, grandparents of the bridegroom. From there they went to Colorado and Wyoming for a camping trip. They reside at 3179 Ann Arbor Saline rd., Ann Arbor.

The bride is a 1976 graduate of Chelsea High school and is employed by Comshare, Inc., Ann Arbor. The bridegroom is a graduate of Ann Arbor Pioneer High school and graduated from Ferris State College, Big Rapids, in 1975. tonio and back, overnight accommodations for four nights, and food for 14 team members including two from Pinckney, chosen by Chelsea to fill out the team, and the three coaches Bill Westcott, Charles Waller, and Pat Clarke.

"Our response has been very good. People think it's fantastic that our girls are champions," Sue Wood said after a telephone blitz to Chelsea manufacturing companies for donations.

Other fund-raising strategies include the establishment of a Chelsea Women's Fast-Pitch Softball Club where contributions may be made through the Chelsea State Bank, and a pitch from the girls themselves, who will be on the streets during the downtown sidewalk sales on Friday and Saturday, dressed in full uniform and smiles as wide as Texas.

If the team goes, they will leave on Wednesday, Aug. 9, begin play on Thursday, and return home on Monday, Aug. 14 after their last game on Sunday.

"We checked into all types of transportation and believe that flying would be the best. Even if we took the bus we would probably spend as much money on food and motels and we would be in a lot worse shape by the time we got there," Sue Wood said.

Through the far-sighted, however, fruitless, fore-planning by the Gas House Gang, if Chelsea collects enough money to go, they will go on the reservations made by the team they defeated, 3-2. "The Gas House Gang was so sure they were going, they made flight reservations, and motel reservations in Texas before they even played in Ann Arbor," Coach Charles Waller said.

Sue Wood said that they contacted the company that the Gas

House Gang booked with and were told they could have the reservations.

Mailcarrier Bitten

The cockapoo, belonging to George Merkel, is said to have a history of biting both mail carriers and paper delivery persons, according to its owner.

Police have asked Merkel to watch his dog carefully for 10 days to see if there is a change in its health. "The dog has had all of its shots but to be sure the dog should be checked," Police Chief George Moranuck said. "Dogs who have rabies will become sick after 10 days of biting someone," he added. Washtenaw county has not had a case of rabies in more than 20 years he said.

Ag Committee Asks Delay on Antibiotic Ban

The House Agriculture Committee has unanimously approved a resolution urging the Food and Drug Administration to await completion of scientific studies before making a final decision on a proposed drug control regulation which could prove costly to both farmers and consumers. election as constable, unopposed, and Republicans Lelia C. Bauer and Wallace E. Fusiller are running as delegates to the County Convention.

Dexter township supervisor John M. Tandy (R) is being challenged by fellow Republican H. Douglas Smith. Treasurer Linda Jeddle (R) is unopposed as is Clerk William Eisenbeiser (D). For the one open trustee position, Earl Dolezky (D) is contending with incumbent Arlene Howe (R), while incumbent Robert H. Burns is unopposed in his bid for re-election as constable.

Precinct 1 candidates for the County Convention include (three may be chosen) James E. Knight (R), Albert F. Rühlig (R) and Martha E. Ehman (D). Precinct 11 candidates (two may go) are Gerald J. Straub (R), and John M. Tandy (R).

Townships of Dexter, Freedom, Lima, Lyndon, Manchester, Sharon and Sylvan which compose District 2 in Washtenaw county have two candidates competing for the position of county commissioner. Incumbent George A. Merkel, a freshman, is opposed by former Undersheriff Harold J. Owings. No Democrat has filed for the position.

Democratic candidates running on the state level include governor hopefuls Patrick H. McCollough, William R. Ralls, Zolton Ferency, and William B. Fitzgerald. Incumbent William G. Milliken is the Republican candidate for governor.

In Sharon township all of the candidates are unopposed in their bids for re-election. They include James Haller (R) as supervisor; Duane Haselschwerdt (R) clerk; Herbert Jacob (R) treasurer; Willard Blumenauer (R) trustee; and Ira E. Johnson, constable. No candidates filed as delegates to the County Convention but voters may write in their choice—two Republicans and one Democrat may go.

Freedom township incumbents up for re-election are David Meinhardt (R), supervisor; Rena Girbach (R), clerk; Walter Hieber (R), treasurer; and Republican constables Steven Carson and Luther Nagel. Armin Haussler (R) is the candidate for trustee and County Convention delegates are Thomas Roberts (R) and Elvira Vogel (R).

Webster township candidates seeking re-election without opposition are Donald Zeeb (R) supervisor; Margaret Mynning (R), treasurer; Wana Baldus (R), clerk; Dwight DeRoo (R), constable; and Robert Seelye (R), constable. John Wheeler (R) is also unopposed in his quest for the one two-year term of trustee. No candidates have filed for delegates to the County Convention.

Scio township incumbent officials unopposed are Robert A. Jones (R), supervisor; Gay Kon-schuh (R), clerk; and Evelyn P. Navarre (R), treasurer. Four candidates are contending for the two possible trustee positions, Robert W. Foster (R), incumbent; Francis Lovejoy (R), incumbent; Gilbert Pennock (R), and Jerold Wayne Montgomery (R).

Two Republicans are running for constable, William A. Bernard and Harley B. Rider; and two candidates in Precinct 3 have filed for delegate to the County Convention, F. William Petring, (R), and Theodora J. Van Houten (D).

Scio township (part of District 3 in Washtenaw county) also has several candidates for county commissioner appearing on the ballot. In Precincts 1, 2, 3, and 6 Republican incumbent Margaret O'Connor has no opposition. In Precinct 4, Democrat Lina Metz Wallin is in contest with Republican O. Herbert Ellis, and in Precinct 5 Richard G. Walterhouse (R) faces Sheila Cumberworth (D).

State Legislature representative candidates on the Democratic ticket is Earle Stevenson while GOP candidates are Edwin J. Hoida, Thomas J. Stringer, and Mary Keith Ballantine.

Democrat State Senator candidates are George D. Goodman, Harold L. Moon, and Edward C. Pierce. Their Republican challengers are C. William Colburn, Jerry Klein, Michael Stimpson, and Ronald L. Trowbridge.

Democrat United States Senator hopefuls are John R. Otterbacher, Phil Power, Paul A. Rosenbaum, Richard F. Vander Veen, Anthony A. Derezinski, and Carl

Levin. Republicans include Robert P. Griffin and L. Brooks Patterson.

Congressional candidates on the Democratic ticket is Bob Carr opposed in his quest by Republican Mike Conlin.

On the non-partisan judicial ballot, candidates for Judge of the Probate, (Juvenile) Court are John B. Collins, Jerome D. Farmer, Don Kenney, Maxine Virture, Robert M. Barrie, and Loren W. Campbell.

Candidates for Judge of the 14th District Court are George W. Parker, John W. Stanowski, Karl V. Fink, and Lynwood E. Noah.

Also on the ballot is a party qualification section where voters are asked if they desire either the Socialist Workers party, the Communist Labor party, or the United States Labor party on the November ballot.

Although no candidates are listed in this section, voters who cast ballots here may not vote for any of the Republican or Democrat candidates on the ballot. This is because in a primary election, splitting tickets is not allowed. Voters may, however, vote for one of the political parties—Republican, Democrat, or the party qualification, and for the candidates in the non-partisan judicial section.

Thomas Killelea Attends Document Examiner Seminar

Thomas Killelea of 42 Chestnut Dr., attended the fifth annual seminar of the World Association of Document Examiners held at the Palmer House, Chicago, Ill., July 24-26.

The Law Enforcement Assistance Administration of the U.S. Department of Justice defines a document examiner as one who is connected with the examination of all physical features of documents. He makes critical examinations, comparisons and analysis of documents; to establish genuineness or to expose forgery or to reveal alterations, additions or deletions; to identify persons through documents or parts of documents, by showing the authorship of handwriting or the source of typewriting; to aid in fixing liability or culpability for any kind of fraud that makes use of documents.

Killelea points out that the services of document examiners are used in business, finance, civil and criminal trials, or in any matter affected by the integrity of written communications and records. The sessions scheduled at the meetings showed latest techniques and discoveries in document work—both in procedures and tests used in the examining process and in presenting clear, demonstrative evidence in the courts.

This is the second year that Killelea has attended the WADE educational seminars presented for document examiners. Approximately 50 handwritten identification experts from various parts of the United States and Canada were present at the sessions.

Head Librarian Leaving McKune Library Post

Debi Overbey, head librarian for the McKune Memorial Library for the past 2 1/2 years, has resigned her post effective some time in August, it was announced Friday, July 28.

Overbey has accepted the position of librarian for the Stockbridge High school and will begin her duties this fall.

Overbey came to Chelsea immediately following her completion of degree requirements for an AB in Education at the University of Michigan in 1975.

"I am sorry to be leaving Chelsea because I am so impressed with the amount of community support given to the library. There is a great deal of enthusiasm and effort on the part of people to maintain a valuable library and in putting it to use," Overbey said.

According to Overbey, her new duties will not be that much different from what she did in Chelsea but "my audience will be limited to a narrow range of 15- to 18-year-olds as opposed to the oddler to senior citizen range I worked with in Chelsea. This will be a big change," she commented.

A replacement for Overbey is still being sought.

When she returned at 4 p.m. that afternoon she saw the broken window in the back door, and called the police.

"A rock was used to break the glass which gave the robber access to the inside lock. The house was completely ransacked, all the drawers were dumped on the floor and the jewelry boxes were empty," Meranuck said.

Police dusted for fingerprints but because most of the furniture was wood, only one print could be obtained.

right to play with their tremendous effort in winning the Great Lakes Regional Tournament. They never quit on themselves despite the heavy odds against them in facing the fine competition in the tournament. Not enough can be said about the pitching of Nanete Push who pitched 27 innings in two days, but even that great effort would not have been enough without the great support of the entire team.

The Chelsea girls are now trying to raise the money for their trip to Texas and have created the Chelsea Women's Fast-Pitch Softball Club in an effort to find support for the trip. Donations may be made to the club at the Chelsea State Bank or by contacting Don Wood at 475-2485, or Charles Waller at 475-8816. The girls will also be in uniform during the coming sidewalk sales in search of support from the townspeople of Chelsea.

MORTGAGE INTEREST VS EQUITY

It is true that owning a home and principal payments are about equal. The one saving grace in the early years of high interest payments, is that all of this interest is tax deductible which can be a hefty deduction indeed.

Inasmuch as most mortgages are self-liquidating loans, you will pay a level amount each month toward paying off the interest and reduction of principal. However, remember that the interest is first computed on the balance due and therefore the first payment is practically all interest and last payment is practically all principal. About mid-way during the term of the mortgage, the interest

Marathon Bowling Tourney Starts Aug. 4

Bowlers from near and far will converge at Chelsea Lanes for the next four week-ends rolling up points and dollars for the inaugural Handicap 12-Game Marathon and Benefit for St. Louis School for Exceptional Boys. Sponsored by the Chelsea Knights of Columbus, in co-operation with Chelsea Lanes and WNRS, trophies, cash purses, "Mike's Bowling Clinic," and trick bowling, along with an evening of bowling for the St. Louis School students will be featured during the event.

On Thursday, Aug. 3, the day before they leave for vacation, students from St. Louis school will be treated to an afternoon of bowling, christening the affair being held for their benefit.

While the official opening date for the marathon is Friday, Aug. 4, at 9 a.m., a special kick-off will be given by Pro-bowler Mike Totsky of the Detroit-based All-Star Stroh's Bowling Team on Sunday, Aug. 6 from 3 to 6 p.m. Totsky has 13 ABC titles and is a member of Detroit's Bowling Hall of Fame. At 3 p.m. Mike will compete with a local bowler and will also perform trick bowling and give a bowling clinic, answering questions and demonstrating techniques.

Bowlers will play 12 consecutive games, rotating lanes after three games. Beginning on Friday, three shifts are available each day of the week-end (Friday, Saturday, and Sunday) at 9 a.m., 3 p.m., and 9 p.m. A 12-game set is expected to take approximately five hours.

Anyone over 18 years old may enter and a handicap is given each bowler based on the total pins during the 12 games and a 75 percent handicap.

Entry forms are available at numerous locations in and around Chelsea with a $29.10 entry fee and a $10 donation to the St. Louis School for Exceptional Boys and their Special Olympics program.

According to Vickie Wurster, tournament secretary, "we anticipate about 800 bowlers entering the marathon and giving St. Louis $6,000." She added that there are still several hundred entry spots available for the event.

WNRS has been donating time on the air advertising the marathon and will be covering bowlers' scores over the month. Wurster will also be announcing the marathon progress several times a week on WNRS. Tournament chairman is Vernon "Rex" Duncan.

A cash prize of $1,750 has been tentatively set as first prize but "this may go up as more bowlers enter the benefit," Wurster said. The same is true for the second place prize of $875, and third prize of $425. All winners will also receive a trophy.

Further information may be obtained by calling 475-8141.

Aquatic Club Jumps to 5th Place Finish in Swimming Conference

Chelsea Aquatic Club continued its rise to excellence with a tremendous performance in the Washenaw Inter-Club Swimming Conference, July 24-27.

The team finished its second season in the conference by finishing fifth out of 14 teams with 910 1/2 points. Last year the team defeated only two teams. The league is made up of eight Ann Arbor Clubs; two from Ypsilanti; and one each from Willow Run, Saline, Milan, and Chelsea. Teams finishing ahead of Chelsea were Huron Valley, first with 2,205 1/2 points, Milan, Ann Arbor Country Club, and Racquet Club of Ann Arbor.

Chelsea was seeded in the lower division this summer because of last year's low finish, but defeated all of the low, middle, and two of the upper division teams in the championship. The four-day event brought some 1,500 swimmers together for competition. Highlighting the Aquatic Club season was the sweep of the dual meet season trophy in its division and the winning of the 13- and 14-year-old boys 200-yard freestyle relay trophy "which was one of only a few upsets on Thursday," Larry Reed, Aquatic Club coach, commented.

The 13- and 14-year-old team scored 254 1/2 points at the Milan High pool to win the event. Ann Arbor Country Club scored 170 to place second. "It was a truly amazing performance and they broke the league record and only missed qualifying for the National AAU Championship by 1.1 seconds," Reed said.

The relay team entered the meet with clockings of 26 seconds for two lengths of the 25-yard pool but Dave Nicola led off with :25.9 followed by Mike Mason in :25.1, Dave Mason had :25.2 and an anchor by Phil Hoffman of :23.4. The winning time was 1:53.3.

Chelsea teams will now take a break until school starts. Anyone interested in joining the program should contact Mrs. Louie Colombo, Larry Reed, or Mrs. Lynn Degener for further information.

Those swimmers finishing first for Chelsea in all divisions of the meet were Kristen Thomas, 11- and 12-year-old girls 200 freestyle; Sean Oxner, 11- and 12-year-old boys' freestyle; Phil Hoffman, 13-and 14-year-old boys; and the 200 medley and 200 freestyle relay team of Dave Nicola, Dave Mason, Mike Mason, and Tom Gaunt. Dave Nicola placed first in the 50-yard butterfly.

Final results were as follows: Diving—John Cattell, 8-year-old and under boys, 3rd; Dave Karns, 8-year-old and under boys, 8th; Chris Burkhalter, 11- and 12-year-old boys, 6th; Susie Gunn, 11- and 12-year-old girls, 12th; Craig Wirtz, 13- and 14-year-old boys, 4th; Dave Mason, 13- and 14-year-old boys, 6th; and Michelle Alexander, 15- and 16-year-old girls, 6th.

Daily Vacation Bible School Starts Monday at Faith Lutheran Church

This coming Monday, Aug. 7, will mark the beginning of Vacation Bible school week at Faith Lutheran church, 1975 North Territorial Rd., 1/4 mile west of Dexter-Hickney Rd. It will run every day from 8:30 to 11:30 a.m.

The new pastor of Faith, Mark Rovinsky, says that the congregation is "enthusiastic about putting together a good program and communicating the gospel to anyone who comes. There are a number of welcome new faces on this year's teaching staff, along with several veterans. There will be all the old activities, along with a few new surprises.

All children from age 3 through 8th grade are welcome.

Since insulin controls the overt symptoms of diabetes, it was heralded as a cure for many years after its discovery in 1921. Though now recognized as a treatment and not a cure, funds are still not sufficiently available for long-term research studies.

Treasury Dept. Acts On Sugar Imports

The U.S. Treasury says the Common Market is subsidizing exports of sugar to the United States, and set a countervailing duty on the shipments of 10.8 cents a pound. According to the Wall Street Journal, the subsidy involves payments made to exporters, processors or growers of sugar in the Common Market's nine European member nations under the EC's common agricultural policy. The world price for sugar is currently only about seven cents a pound. Once the Treasury Department determines that a product is being subsidized, it is required, under law, to collect an additional customs duty equal to the size of the subsidy paid on the exported merchandise.

The Treasury's action, which became effective Friday, July 28, was prompted by a petition filed in June by a group of Michigan and Ohio sugar beet companies and associations.

Guide Published on Historical Museums

By Susan Hodge

The 1978-79 edition of Historical Museums in Michigan has just been published by the Historical Society of Michigan in Ann Arbor. This second edition lists 144 museums, including 22 from the Upper Peninsula.

The 36-page visitor's guide is pocket-size and gives complete information obtained directly from each museum. Listings include the mailing address and telephone number of each museum, a description of the exhibits, the year-round schedule (including months and holidays closed), and all admission charges. Each entry includes the name and telephone number of a contact person for more information about group-sponsored tours and special arrangements.

Michigan's historical museums cover a wide range of topics, from early pioneers and Indian cultures to industry, period furnishings, ethnic groups, skiing, musical instruments, and magic.

According to the Upper Peninsula entries, visitors may take a guided underground tour of the East Vulcan Mine which operated between 1870 and 1945 at Iron Mountain. In Copper Harbor, the Fort Wilkins Historic Complex represents an excellent example of a frontier U. S. Army Post of 1844-70. Artifacts from early missionaries are on display in Sault Ste. Marie's Tower of History-Shrine of the Missionaries. Great Lakes Indians exhibits are featured by museums from Marquette, St. Ignace, and Escanaba, as well as by Lower Peninsula museums from Potosky to Niles.

The Guide also reveals that railroad displays are popular among many museums, including Flint's Crossroads Village & Huckleberry Railroad. Here, one may visit a restored community of 16 buildings from c. 1860, and ride a rebuilt turn-of-the-century steam-powered railroad operating on a 9.5 mile track.

Michigan's ethnic heritage is reflected by such museums as Detroit's Afro-American Museum, which features 21 mounted African animal species. Dutch culture in the state is the focus of Holland's Netherlands Museum and Zeeland's Historical Museum. The Beaver Island Museum in St. James offers insights into an early Mormon community in Michigan. One-of-a-kind listings include the National Ski Hall of Fame in Ishpeming, the Conklin Antique Reed Organ Museum in Hanover, the American Museum of Magic in Marquette, and the Hackley House in Muskegon. The Hackley House features a different fireplace and

Shoes may be clue to health problems

When a vertebra is pulled out of position, it can easily interfere with the function of the nerves which branch out from between the vertebrae. The nerves, of course, are the communications lines between the body organs and the brain. Nerve interference can result in an interference with the function of an organ.

If this situation goes on uncorrected, another condition can develop. The body produces a signal that warns of the presence of the original trouble, the vertebra being out of place and the resulting difficulties. The warning can show up as something quite different, such as fatigue, sleeplessness or susceptibility to various types of illness.

You wouldn't want your children's back problems to go on unaided and perhaps turn into something else equally unpleasant or maybe worse.

Here's one test you can use. Look at the heels of your child's shoes. If one is appreciably more worn than the other, especially toward the outside, you are looking at one of the more common indicators of back or posture problems.

The recommended next step is to schedule a chiropractic examination for your child. Your chiropractor, because he is specifically trained for this, can quickly tell you the degree of the problem and what corrective measures should be taken.

Wild, Tame Animals Lure Summer Tourists

Barnyards featuring farm animals and deer that may be petted and fed, fierce timber wolves and bobcats that may be viewed up close and giant dinosaur reproductions are just part of the lure of Michigan's animal attractions, according to Automobile Club of Michigan.

The Dinosaur Gardens and Prehistoric Zoo near Alpena contains no living creatures. It is filled with life-size reproductions of prehistoric dinosaurs and birds which inhabited the earth during that period. There are more than two dozen huge, lifelike creatures displayed in a heavily forested tract.

The exhibit took 38 years to construct and assemble. The huge brontosaurus, 80 feet long and nearly as high, took 2½ years to complete. The gardens are open from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m.

The Detroit Zoological Park in Royal Oak is well-known for its bar-free atmosphere and it features more than 500 species of mammals ranging from great apes to penguins. A new aviary, the size of a football field, features a free-flight area, with more than 100 species of birds.

The Detroit Zoo has the largest collection of polar bears in captivity and one of the largest and most attractive penguinariums anywhere.

Detroit's Children's Zoo on Belle Isle draws thousands of youngsters each summer to view, feed and pet a variety of small farm animals.

The Stage Coach Stop, a theme park on US-12 in the Irish Hills, includes a barnyard with horses, donkeys, goats and pigs. A train ride is available and regularly scheduled, old-time western shoot-outs are featured on Main St.

The Kensington Children's Farm, adjacent to Kensington Metropark near Milford, covers 100 acres of bordering the Huron River. The barnyard has live animals to pet and feed, plus pony rides and hayrides.

The Kalamazoo Nature Center, 7000 N. Westnedge Ave., features a variety of farm animals and is open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday. There are nature trails, wooded areas and other wildlife.

The Kellogg Bird Sanctuary near Augusta has swans, ducks, geese, turkeys and peacocks that can be observed up close as they wander freely. Environmental displays may be seen at the multi-purpose

Trade Deficit Down

The United States recorded the smallest trade deficit in more than a year last month as U.S. businesses sold a record $12.1 billion in products to other countries, the Commerce Department reported Wednesday July 26.

Exports increased three percent from May, mainly because of strong sales overseas of U.S. corn soybeans, cotton and coal. Americans bought $13.7 billion in goods from overseas, a two percent decline from the previous reporting period.

The only known treatment for juvenile diabetes at this time is a combination of insulin therapy, diet and exercise.

Michigan Space Center Offers Stellar Exhibits

Anything you ever wanted to know about space exploration—and more—will be found in the public exhibits and displays at the Michigan Space Center, located near Jackson.

Nestled at the southeast corner of Jackson Community College in a near-perfect sylvan setting, the center is marked by a Redstone rocket standing as a sentinel before the main building.

Visitors entering the center are greeted in the reception area and then easily find their way to an entrance which takes them through the Transition Tunnel to the main display area. The center of interest here is the original Apollo 9 which was returned to a safe splashdown after orbiting the earth. Through windows of the spacecraft visitors may look into the lighted interior to see mannequins placed in the same positions the astronauts assumed in their trips outside the earth's atmosphere.

The domed ceiling of the center structure is composed of ground and recycled newspaper, under which is suspended an actual parachute that brought one of the earlier space capsules back to earth. Other one-of-a-kind exhibits include a mockup of Mariner IV, the original of which flew around the planet Mars. A full-scale mockup of Surveyor III is also on display and is an exact, detailed replica of the vehicle used in exploring the moon and left there.

The self-guided tour takes the visitor past lighted panels where space suits are on display, worn by James McDivitt of the Apollo mission, the Gemini mission spacesuit worn by Jack Lovell and Deke Slayton's spacesuit from the Mercury mission.

Also on display is the chimpanzee capsule, the Gemini trainer, an exhibit of food used by the astronauts in space and a display of the Russian spacecraft Soyuz Link-up with Apollo. Television sets placed conveniently throughout the tour show continuous films of the actual telecast during the moon exploration, Astronaut Ed White's walk in space and the Apollo lift-off.

The Astro Theatre, at the end of the tour, features a triple-screen presentation of space exploration in the auditorium which seats 80 persons.

The Center opened in May, 1977, at a structural cost of more than $750,000. The value of the exhibits, however, far surpasses that figure.

Space Center director Charles E. Gass stated that some of the exhibits are on a loan cycle, so the exhibits will be changing from time to time and other new exhibits will be added. He pointed out that the Center also serves to honor those Jackson and Michigan astronauts who were pioneers in the nation's space program. Alfred Worden and James McDivitt were born in Jackson; Alan Bean was a resident of Jackson; Alan Bean was a resident of Jackson; Alan Bean was a resident of Jackson.

As an added interest to Space Center patrons, a gift and souvenir shop is located near the reception area and features more than 120 space-related items for sale.

Admission fees are $1.50 for adults and 75 cents each for students and senior citizens. Special group rates are available. The Center is open seven days a week.

Next program in the University of Michigan's Astronomical Film Festival, the 76th program of the nine-year-old festival will begin at 7:30 p.m. Friday, Aug. 4 in Auditorium 3 Modern Languages Building.

The program, open to the public free of charge, will show two films: "The Mystery of Stonehenge" and "Cracking the Stone-Age Code."

The first film is "about the great stone structure on England's Salisbury Plain which is apparently a sophisticated astronomical observatory built by people at a Neolithic level of technology," according to Jim Loudon, festival director and staff astronomer of the U-M Exhibit Museum.

The second film "Cracking the Stone-Age Code," is about the hundreds of other stonehenge-like structures in England, Scotland and the French coast.

Astros Finally Lose One But Claim Title

The final week of Babe Ruth play found teams playing hard to better their records if at all possible.
Perhaps the finest game of the season was played by the Astros and Pirates. The Astros were trying to finish the year undefeated while the pirates were hoping for a seemingly impossible upset.
The game picked up where the last Pirate-Astro contest ended in which the Astros gained the win.

Dan Alber pitched for the Pirates while Tom Malcolm threw extremely well and worked the corners of the plate almost to perfection. Two unearned runs were all the Pirates could manage. Meanwhile Dan Alber continued to battle the usually strong Astro hitters with his sidearm pitching.

The Astros scored one run in the fifth on a couple of hits.
In the seventh inning the Astros led off with a walk by Catanesi but what looked like a rally was nipped in the bud on a fine defensive effort by the Pirates. The game ended with the Pirates as 2-1 victors over the Astros and a 13-game win streak brought to a crushing end.

Despite the loss, the Astros finished with a fine 13-1 record and received the crown as the Chelsea Babe Ruth League Champions for 1978.

Elsewhere in the league the Reds finished four games to wrap up their season at 10-4, good for second place. Against the Royals Jeff Hollister was the winning pitcher and had four RBI's with two hits. Rob Janni was the winning pitcher as the Reds defeated the Athletics to nose them out for a second-place finish. Pat Haney and Ron Stoffer each contributed two hits.

In a battle for fourth place the Dodgers won two games while the Yankees split two games thus producing a tie for fourth as the Dodgers and Yankees each finished 7-7 on the season. Against the Orioles the Dodgers hit well with home runs by Sean Hemingway and Jeff Leighton, doubles by Leighton and John Conlin and two singles by Norm Martzoff. Jeff Leighton was the winning pitcher against the Pirates and Sean Hemingway provided the winning margin with a grand slam home run.
A new face in the lineup, Kevin Robb, provided a single and a double.

The Yankees lost to the Astros,
14-4, and beat the Orioles, 15-9.
The Yankees spotted the Orioles six runs before they began to hit.
Mark Hiser hit three doubles and had five RBI's. Randy Reason doubled and tripled for three RBI's and finished as his team's leading hitter.

All-Star game will be played Thursday, Aug. 3 at 3 p.m. on the Chelsea High school diamond.

tions before you buy, the Food and Drug Administration (FDA) has some information for you.

For a free FDA factsheet called Microwave Oven Radiation, just send a postcard to the Consumer Information Center, Dept. 593F,
Pueblo, Colo. 81009.

To ease your mind about safety, FDA requires that all microwaves manufactured since 1971 meet a performance standard that assures their safety. All ovens have two interlock systems that prevent the oven from operating when the door is not securely fastened. The standard requires that the composition of the oven wall, the seals around the door, and the window compartment be such that any leakage of microwave radiation is far below the level believed to be harmful to people. And, as you get farther away from your oven, the level of microwaves decreases dramatically.

There has been a great deal of concern about how microwaves affect people. Although this is still under study, we do know that mi-crowaves radiation can heat body tissue the same way it heats food.
Exposure to high levels of microwaves can burn, just as any other source of heat. The eye is especially sensitive to any intense heat because it has little blood circulation to cool the heat. So, accidental exposure to high intensities of microwaves could cause cataracts.
Of course, a well-functioning and properly used oven should be safe for home use.

To avoid accidents with your microwave oven, keep these tips in mind:
—Examine a new oven for evidence of shipping damage.
—Never operate an oven if the door does not close firmly or is bent, warped or otherwise damaged.

—Follow the manufacturer's instruction manual for recommended operating procedures and safety precautions.

—Never insert objects through the door grill or around the door seal.
—Frequently clean oven cavity, door, and seals with water and mild detergent. Do not use scouring pads, steel wool or other abrasives.

—Have ovens regularly serviced by a qualified serviceman for signs of wear, damage, or tampering.
—Do not have the oven door repaired or adjusted so that the interlock system on the door will not operate.

Bugs Thrive On High Temperatures

Warm weather garden crops thrive when the mercury rises. The bugs thrive too, however. And high temperatures may make control more difficult.

Washtenaw County Horticultural Agent Bobbi Lawrence points out that many chemical pesticides break down rapidly as the temperature increases. This means they are effective for shorter periods and must be applied more often to keep mites and insect pests under control.

Spraying more often is not an easy solution, however. Hot weather increases the chance that pesticides will burn tender plant foliage.

To avoid chemical burn of plant tissues and achieve safe, effective pest control, the MSU experts give these tips on pesticide use:

—Spray when weather reports call for no rain for at least 12 hours.

—Spray in the early morning when there is no wind and temperatures are cool. Avoid spraying when temperatures are above 85 degrees or are likely to exceed that in the next few hours.

—Use only those pesticides labeled for both the crop and the pest you want to spray. Follow label directions on rates and frequency of application and the number of days between the last spray and harvest.

TAX LIMITATION FOR MICHIGAN ELECT JERRY KLEIN

YOUR EAR IN THE 18TH DISTRICT...
YOUR VOICE IN LANSING
MORE JOBS... MORE BUSINESS
CONSTITUTIONAL LIMITATION ON TAXES

"The lack of common sense in our government can be seen in our taxing and spending. They want to tax us 2 cents a gallon for gasoline to build a subway in Detroit. But they do not spend enough on our mental hospitals to insure patients are not abused. We are paying the highest taxes in our history and for what? Terrible streets and roads, sewage systems that are inadequate... a snarled legal system... an exploding welfare burden. Our government isn't solving problems—it is causing problems.

"We cannot hope to reduce the tax load overnight. We must move ahead on three fronts. Firstly, we must establish a business climate that will attract new business to the state and which will encourage the growth of business here.
Added business means more jobs, higher incomes for all and less of a tax burden. Secondly, we must reduce the cost of government and shift spending from unessential to essential activities. Lastly, we must impose limits on the amount of taxes that may be collected and the amount of borrowing by government. Only with limits on what can be collected will there be limits on spending."

ELECT JERRY KLEIN

"There is something fundamentally wrong in the way our government and our society are being run. We are being eaten alive by rising taxes, rising prices, red tape, and regulation. Government is growing faster than the rest of society and its overspending pushes up taxes and causes inflation.
Further, we the people are being forced to do the bidding of the bureaucrats and the politicians, instead of government serving the people.

"We are being treated as if we are nothing or as numbers on some huge list. Politicians are trying to run our lives. I, for one, am sick and tired of being shoved and manipulated and this is why I am running for office. I intend to shove back for the people."

Jackson County Fair Featuring Bob Hope

Jackson County Fair and Petunia Festival will offer many new facilities and attractions this year.

Fairgoers Aug. 6-12 will find the northwest corner of the fairgrounds—under towering shade trees—has been converted into a pleasant picnic area complete with tables and benches.

Free shows afternoons will be presented at the little bandstand there, with seating for an audience of about 200, according to Herman Gumper, fair manager. Acts throughout the afternoon and early evening will include a small seven-act circus for children, a marionette show, and a balloon-into-animal act.

Sunday from 8 to 10:30 p.m., the Jackson County 4-H Style Show will take place. The rest of the fair week, Jackson's "Benny Poole and The System" will take over the gazebo with their mixture of "soul, jazz, and a little disco," according to Poole. His group is composed of eight ex-Motown players, with Poole playing sax and flute.

New for open and class and 4-H livestock judging and sales is a 75'x125' pole-constructed covered arena. Livestock judging starts Sunday, Aug. 6, and continues national showmanship judging will be on Saturday evening, Aug. 12, for all classes. In between will be open class judging of all large animals except draft horses. The 4-H livestock auction will be at 7 p.m. Thursday, Aug. 10 and small animals at 2 p.m. Saturday, Aug. 12.

"In the past we have had all judging in the daytime and out of doors," Gumper said. "Crowds and livestock don't mix well this way." With the covered area and evening hours, he expects the judging to go much smoother.

New parking areas will more than double on-site parking available to fairgoers, Gumper said. Besides extra parking available on the north side of North St. by the fairgrounds, this year the Fair Commission has purchased land to the east of the fairgrounds along Garson St. This property, formerly owned by the Grand Trunk Railroad, will be used for livestock exhibitors' parking.

Even more petunias will be on display at this year's fair, Gumper promised. About 70 varieties will be adding color and perfume to the fairgrounds. This year planters some 6 by 8 feet by 16 inches high, with wide edge boards for seats, will be scattered down the north midway.

The fair also has a new poultry and goat barn for 4-H exhibitors to handle the rapidly increasing interest in goat husbandry.

For the stage show, new dressing rooms with air conditioning have replaced trailers. "You have to, today, to attract class acts," Gumper said. This year his line-up includes "The Bob Hope Show" Friday, Aug. 11, "Styx" in concert Saturday, Aug. 12, the "All American Rough Riders" on Sunday Aug. 6, and "Lynn Anderson and Eddie Rabbit" on Thursday, Aug. 10. All shows are at 8 p.m. except the Bob Hope Show, which will have two performances—7 and 9:30 p.m. In addition, a grandstand act—the "Nick Nixon Show" (at no charge) will be at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday, Aug. 9, which is "Old Timer's Day." All persons 65 or over will be admitted free until 5:30 p.m. that day.

Also, to improve the stage show, the entire stage area has been roofed. Last year about two-thirds of the stage was covered, but now the job is complete, Gumper said. "It is necessary for today's expensive sound equipment. People won't even sit up their sound if it is misting, without a roof," he said. "Our grandstand is covered, and if we have to cancel a show there's no tomorrow for a fair act!"

The stage area has also been landscaped, and here again, more planter boxes have been added to add color and carry out the Petunia Festival theme of the fair. "We've raised some premiums, added new classes for judging of exhibits," Gumper said. "We've had more requests for midway space this year than ever before—possibly because Bob Hope is coming. We fully expect this year's fair to be our biggest and best!"

ASK THE GOVERNOR

by William G. Mitchell

Question: I believe in responsible social programs, but I know I join many of my fellow taxpayers in a sense of frustration, knowing that with our tax dollars we are helping some parents—especially absentee fathers—shirk their responsibilities.

Governor: I understand that frustration. We in Michigan have been doing something to alleviate that problem—and have been recognized by Health, Education and Welfare (HEW) Secretary Joseph A. Califano for leading the nation in recovering child support payments from absent fathers.

Last year, for example, the state's program recovered $69.6 million in child support from the absent parent on behalf of families receiving Aid to Dependent Children (ADC).

This program is commendable not because it works to insure that absent parents meet their responsibilities to their children and because the direct result of these payments is a reduction in the money the state spends on ADC payments.

HEW reported to Congress in 1976 that Michigan accounted for 25 percent of the ADC-related child support recovered nationally.

These collections jumped from just under $17 million in 1971 to nearly $70 million last year. They were up by $5 million or 7 percent last year—even though our ADC caseload dropped nearly 2 percent.

As Califano said: "Many states are already demonstrating that large amounts of child support can be collected on behalf of children receiving ADC. For example, Iowa, Massachusetts, Michigan and Utah are all operating effective child support programs."

Question: I understand a new law was just passed prohibiting cities from putting fluoride in our drinking water. Is this true?

Governor: The law you are thinking of is the new Public Health Code, which pulls together all of Michigan's health laws. It puts the final decision in the hands of local units of government and the local voters.

The code will not prohibit fluoride in the drinking water, but it does say that no state agency can require fluoride in the drinking water, but it does say that no state agency can require fluoride in the drinking water supply. A city, county, township, village or joint municipal authority can provide fluoride in its water supply if it follows the Public Health Department's standards, unless there is an ordinance passed against fluoride by the city, county village or township (or combinations of those governing boards), or unless a vote of the people rejects adding fluoride. So it leaves the decision to local governments and the local voters.

That, of course, is just one aspect of this important bill—the product of four years of study and hard work. It will enable Michigan

STANOWSKI FOR DISTRICT JUDGE

To the Citizens of Washtenaw County:

I am a candidate for the 14th District Court judgeship because I believe that the quality of the judiciary determines the quality of justice. Respect for the law is the cornerstone of a free and well ordered society. My record, diversified experience and knowledge of the law demonstrates that I can provide the necessary judicial leadership and the high standards of performance that are essential for the respect and cooperation of my fellow citizens within Washtenaw County.

The community asks much of the criminal court and the court is expected to meet their demands by controlling crime. Controlling crime is not solely the task of the police, the courts or correction agencies. Crime prevention and control requires total involvement and participation of the entire community. Without the interest and participation of the schools, businesses, social agencies, private groups and individual citizens, crime in our society will continue to be a multi-million dollar business. We can no longer tolerate public apathy, reluctance or an inability of society to take effective action against the criminal element. I believe that we must lead the trend to reverse public accommodation of crime and violence.

It is my belief that the court has a vital function in balancing the rights of individuals and the needs of the community. The community is entitled to freedom from fear and should not permit the intolerable situation of one man preying upon another. The complex balancing process of protecting the rights of an individual and the interests of the community must be premised upon the principle that people are accountable for their actions and criminals are responsible for their crimes.

The principles of justice demand complex and time consuming procedures in which the court must separate the innocent from the guilty. However, the guilty, who are convicted, must be punished with reasonable certainty and promptness, so that, the deterrence of crime will not be blunted. A society which does not insure its safety and nourishes lawlessness is governing itself by the absurd.

In choosing to seek the office of Judge, I have placed my confidence in the Voters of Washtenaw County, and I urge that you now generously respond to my candidacy by placing your confidence in me.

Respectfully,

John W. Stanowski

FACE OF GOLD: Midas would surely have been one of the greatest admirers of this six-foot tall beauty of a flower, next, of course, to the hundred of birds who feast on the meaty seeds. Appropriately named, as they crane their necks every morning to meet the sun face to face, sunflowers have become a popular crop for the William Stoffers in Dexter. "I like to monkey around with my farm at times and I thought it would be fun to grow sunflowers last year," Stoffer said. Stoffer was one of the first farmers in the area to try growing corn without plowing, but "I started having problems with weeds and went back to plowing," he said. He also is experimenting with millet this year, in addition to sunflowers, and said he would try growing anything that struck his fancy.

'It's for the Birds,' Says Stoffer Of His 30-Acre Sunflower Crop

Their heads are bowed now, as if in final recognition of the sun's overwhelming power. They put on a good show, however, those thousands of smiling faced sunflowers that have brightened the mornings for many west-bound travelers on I-94.

"All summer people with their CB's would call to tell us how much they liked the 'smiley faces' we had growing off the highway," Mrs. William Stoffer said.

Mrs. Stoffer, and husband Bill, of Dexter, decided to grow the hardy sunflowers last year when "we realized that this farm was for the birds, so we might as well feed them," Stoffer laughed.

Originally, the Stoffers planned to ship their sunflower crop to a processing plant where the meaty hulls would be crushed to produce safflower oil and a by-product of a protein-rich concentrate for animal feed.

"The closest place to send the seeds last year was in Olivia, Minn., and it didn't seem worth it to spend over $1,000 to hire a semi to take them there, plus the cost of processing and packaging," Stoffer explained.

Instead, the couple took the harvest from their 20-acre crop, all 11 tons of it, and sold it as bird feed to local customers. "At first I thought it was a joke when I put a couple of ads in the local papers selling sunflower seeds for 15 cents a pound. But the response was a surprise; there were week-ends when we couldn't keep up with the demand," he said.

Bird lovers know a good deal when they see one and when packaged bird feed is selling for 44 cents in the store, 15 cents is a bargain.

"Finches especially love the Mr. Gold sunflower we grew because it has a very soft hull and is easy to crack. Last winter we had a regular flock of at least 80 Finches feeding off the seeds we put out," Stoffer added.

Other birds which feast off the tender seeds include Blue Jays, Cardinals, and, of course, Parrots. "Customers come from as far as Illinois to buy our seeds and most of them seem to want them for outdoor birdhouses. I know of two who come for feed for their Parrots," Stoffer said.

FOR THE BIRDS: Perking up the spirits of travelers driving west on I-94, thousands of sunflowers grace a 10-acre field belonging to Mr. and Mrs. William Stoffer, 801 N. Steinbach Rd., Dexter. In addition to their beauty, the flowers produce sweet, tender morsels fit for any finch, blue jay, cardinal, or parrot and the Stoffers barely kept up with the demand for the bird feed last year, selling all of their 11-ton crop. This year the Stoffers expect 20 tons and another sell-out. "Some farmers were disgusted last year because there wasn't a total processing plant to handle the crop," Mrs. Stoffer said. According to her husband, Bill, the closest plant is in Minnesota and the shipping costs for that distance are prohibitive.

Stoffer was so successful in selling his crop last year, "at one point I ran completely out and had to buy seeds from other farmers in the area who had grown sunflowers for the first time," that he went ahead and planted 10 more acres this year, for a total of 30 acres. Two of his fields are on N. Dancer Rd. and the third is off I-94.

"Many farmers were disgusted that there wasn't a local processing plant and ended up being stuck with their crop last year," Mrs. Stoffer said. "There was talk of having a local company handling the sunflowers but that fell through," she added.

Whether a local processing plant becomes available to area farmers or not, the Stoffers said they will likely keep up their fairly lucrative business, "until I get tired of it, or it becomes too much of a problem," Stoffer commented.

"Sunflowers are a pretty hardy plant and can grow in poor soil and withstand three or four weeks of dry weather. They have a potential of yielding 4,000 pounds an acre and the only problems I've had are with blackbirds and weeds," Stoffer said. "Otherwise they can be harvested with a combine easily and are sure pretty to look at," he added.

Stoffer said that his sunflowers will go for approximately 17 cents a pound, or $8.50 a bushel and will be ready by mid-September.

Pesticide Law Changes Welcomed By Farmers

The recent approval of a package of amendments by a House-Senate conference committee to overhaul the federal pesticide law (FIFRA) was hailed as good news by farmers in Michigan and across the nation. The changes significantly modify the law to provide more flexibility for the manufacturers, distributors and users of pesticides—and give the states more control over the pesticide programs.

"We use a wide range of pesticide formulations in Michigan," said Al Amy, director of public affairs for the Michigan Farm Bureau. "Many of these pesticides were being regulated in a manner that was not consistent with the intent of Congress, and the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) was in effect abusing its authority. By returning some of the control to the Michigan Department of Agriculture, which administers the state pesticide program, there will be an opportunity for better reaction to local needs."

Some of the other changes approved by the House-Senate conference include allowing pesticides for restricted use to be reclassified for general use—and a requirement that EPA prepare an agricultural or consumer impact statement prior to issuance of major pesticide regulations.

Amy said if the modified FIFRA law is approved by Congress, it should have a significant impact on farm incomes.

"Pesticides are very important in controlling pests to agricultural crops. These pests cause literally millions of dollars worth of crop damage each year," he said. "Providing some further assurances and measures that will allow the state authorities to make pesticides available for local needs will certainly help increase the income prospects for farmers."

Farm Bureau, which has worked for a year and a half to amend the pesticide law, hopes for early passage of the conference bill by House and Senate.

Children's Festival Slated Saturday in Ann Arbor Park

The second annual Children's Festival, a county-wide festival for young children, will be held from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Saturday, Aug. 5 at West Park, between Miller on Seventh in Ann Arbor.

The event is being sponsored by Child Care Co-ordinating and Referral Service and the Ann Arbor Community Development Child Care Scholarship Program. Child care centers and community agencies will provide a variety of activities throughout the day. Entertainment is scheduled and families are encouraged to bring picnic lunches. In addition to small activities, the Washtenaw County Health Department will sponsor a Children's Health Fair.

All aspects of the festival are free of charge and open to all residents of Washtenaw county. Children attending the festival must be accompanied by a parent or a responsible adult.

Listed below are some of the fair activities: kite making, petting zoo, jewelry making, bean bag toss, story teller, music sing-along, easel painting, creative movement/dance, clowns and magicians, tracing bodies, making hats or masks, making mobiles, making finger puppets, clay sculpture area.

52 BLOOMS! Not every sunflower can boast having this inordinate number of flowers on one stalk, but a plant grown by Mrs. William Stoffer, 901 N. Seibach Rd., Dexter, can. Looking more like a bush of daisies, this sunflower has three flowers at least 6 inches in diameter and dozens of smaller blooms. "We've been watching it all summer as it kept popping out more flowers and when we counted 52 we couldn't believe it," Mrs. Stoffer, and her husband Bill, said. "I treated it just like every other sunflower so it's hard to say why it has so many blooms," she commented. The Stoffers have become something of a sunflower legend in the area, having produced a lucrative 11-ton crop of the meaty seeds last year and selling it all, and more, as feed for birds. "We decided that this farm was for the birds, so we might as well feed them," Stoffer said. This year the Stoffers expect to harvest nearly 20 tons of sunflower seeds and sell them to bird lovers from near and far. "There's a heck of a lot of customers out there who buy the seeds to feed birds," Stoffer said.

Lakes Assoc. To Discuss Speed Limits

The Board of Directors of Portage and Base Lake Property Owners Association will be discussing a proposed 40 mph speed limit on all lakes in Washtenaw county at their next regularly scheduled business meeting. This proposal was introduced to members at the annual meeting July 8 by Sheriff Thomas Minick.

Act No. 236, Public Acts of 1978, was approved by the Governor June 15, 1978, providing for a 55 mph maximum speed limit on inland lakes and a noise level not to exceed 88 decibels on the "A" scale at a distance of 50 feet from a boat.

Also, in answer to a recent questionnaire included in a June newsletter to the membership, numerous write-in complaints were received concerning excessive noise from over-transom exhaust drag boats; however, very little mention was made with regard to speed. There have been several boating accidents this season so far, one on Portage and the most recent on Base Line Lake on Saturday evening, July 22, after dark. Both of these accidents involved out-of-the-area boats and drivers, and allegedly were the result of careless operation.

Subsequent to the rumor of a possible 40 mph control, numerous objections have been received from property owners who believe the new 55 mph is sufficient and who do not wish to be subjected to the lower speed limit.

"We wish to make it clear at this time that this Association has taken no official position on the matter and will take into consideration the attitude of the entire membership and all property owners as well as other lakes included within our scope of membership," secretary H. Douglas Smith stated. Sheriff Minick has assured the association that his department would not press for the 40 mph speed limit unless there was a majority by the lake's population.

Written comments on the subject may be sent to the Association's business address and will be included in any decision on his matter.

Next meeting of the group will be Monday, Aug. 7 at Inverness Inn.

Chuckie for the Day

The washing machine broke down, and the repairman arrived, tapped it once lightly with a hammer, got the machine working and submitted a bill for $40. Outraged, the householder wanted an itemized bill arguing that it was too high for a simple tap. So the repairman obliged: Tapping with hammer, $1; Knowing where to tap, $39.

"My first priority will be to review all programs which lie within the jurisdiction of my committee assignments. I will find out if the programs are necessary, if they are being efficiently administered, and if they are doing the job they are supposed to do. If not, I will work to see that such programs are either changed or terminated."

"Property tax financing of schools makes the quality of education dependent on each community's wealth. For the homeowner property taxes are a special burden since they continue to rise even if income declines. I support the partial shifting of schools from property taxes to other forms of taxation. I will also work to have an adequate state funding formula which guarantees a per pupil expenditure large enough to provide the basics of a good education."

"Constitutional limits on taxes are too rigid, particularly in times of recession when demands on government increase and personal income falls. The Headlee Amendment is acceptable if there is an adequate 'rainy day fund'. I support responsible legislative efforts to bring government spending and programs under greater control and accountability."

"An honest person on welfare has a meager existence. Our welfare programs perpetuate a generational cycle of poverty. Cutting fraud and error will bring cost savings. But we should look at the programs themselves--replace them if necessary--so whenever possible people are encouraged to maintain themselves without assistance. I am a firm believer in preschool programs to provide an educational base to break the cycle of poverty."

"Medical care costs continue to rise at an alarming rate. For the past ten years I have managed a complex, low cost, high quality medical clinic for the lower income population of Washtenaw County. It is difficult but not impossible to provide services in a cost efficient manner. I will bring this experience to bear in examining the state operated medicaid system. Programs that increase consumer awareness of costs and that support health maintenance concepts can slow or reverse this trend of rising costs."

"People in nursing homes and mental institutions must be allowed to live in dignity. I support legislation that mandates improved nursing home standards, but this must be coupled with adequate financing if nursing homes are ever to have a good staff and provide quality services. The solution to problems in our massive mental institutions is not to add more staff, but to reduce the size of those institutions. Smaller facilities, geographically closer to the patients' families, with a well trained staff--this is our best hope of providing the level of care needed to speed the return of patients to participation in society. Physical and mental abuse of people who are helpless will not be tolerated."

"We need an economy in which every person who can work is able to find a productive, decently paid job. Farm land should be taxed according to the income produced because the property tax which is often based on artificial assessment principles is unfair. Our universities should be strengthened and we should encourage cooperation between them. We must have a criminal justice system that assures safety to our people, but does not imprison thousands of individuals in institutions where isolation and despair make them tougher criminals instead of better people."

Ed Pierce has been a political leader in Washtenaw County for fifteen years. He was an outstanding Ann Arbor councilperson and has led his party in the causes of peace, civil rights, and equal opportunity.

Ed Pierce has proven, both in community care to those needing it, his willingness in political endeavors he has stated his con-

In 1976, Ed Pierce won an overwhelming majority in the Democratic primary in the Second Congressional District and became the party's candidate in the general election. In the closest congressional contest in the country he carried Washtenaw County by thirteen thousand votes.

"The closer we can bring the activities of government to the citizens, the more citizens can hold government accountable. It's easier to talk to your county commissioner than to your state legislator. Government programs should be funded and operated at the smallest government unit possible to allow the greatest amount of citizen input and scrutiny."

For the past eighteen years he has practiced family medicine in Ann Arbor. In 1968 he founded the Summit Medical Center to provide high quality, low cost health care to the needy in this area.
