Hearing Set on Portage Lake Building Plans

Tonight's Dexter Township Zoning Board meeting (Aug. 24) promises to be a heated one, as well as a satisfying one, with two major agenda items listed for discussion.

First on the agenda will be the replacement of a conditional use permit to the Inverness Inn, Inc., 13996 North Territorial Rd. In 1973 the Inn requested the permit to operate a tavern with live entertainment.

According to the zoning board chairman, Thomas F. Ehman, the board granted the permit with conditions. The Inn, however, appealed the decision to the Zoning Board of Appeals.

Not satisfied with the Zoning Board's decision, the Inn referred the case to the Washtenaw county Circuit Court and after several years of deliberations, Judge Edward Deake overturned parts of the conditions of the conditional use permit but also added conditions of its own. The final court ruling will unfold during this meeting.

A second item on the agenda involves the Zoning Board's review of a site plan offered by board chairman Ehman in regards to the replacement of the Newport Beach Club House and the re-location of the present club house. Ehman is the owner of the Newport Beach Club House.

According to Ehman, his intentions are to build a 17,500 square foot building on approximately the same location as the present building. The building now there was built in 1931, covers 7,500 square feet, and is a single story structure.

The proposed new building would have both a two- and three-story height and include, in addition to a club house, bi-level apartments. Ehman is also asking the Zoning Board to consider his request to move part of the present building south across Dexter-Pinckney Rd. to be used as a storage facility.

Promising to be on hand for the meeting is the Portage and Base Lakes Property Owners Association, which says that they are not at all "pleased" with either having Ehman "chair" the meeting or his site plans.

"There appears to be a definite conflict of interest between having the chairman of the zoning board preside over a meeting where the board will be reviewing his personal request," Douglas Smith, secretary and spokesperson for the Portage Lake group commented.

Ehman, however, said "of course I won't vote on the matter and if the remarks from the audience suggest it, I will step down. I don't really see where the problem is," he added.

At the heart of the Portage Lake association's unhappiness over the new building request is that it would mean the first apartment building constructed on Portage Lake and "we don't want our lake to turn into another Ford Lake," Smith said. "It (the site plan) would mean that the whole area would be open to an increase in use, more boats, and a decline in property values," he added.

Mike Kozminski Gets Medical Scholarship

Mike Kozminski, a third year student at Albion College studying pre-med, is the recipient of the 1978 A. A. Palmer Medical Scholarship, his second in as many years. Dr. William Hawks, chairman of the scholarship committee announced recently.

Mike is a 1976 graduate of Chelsea High school and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ike Kozminski, 4678 Peckins Rd. He received his first scholarship in 1976.

"We are especially pleased to present Mike with this award for the second time," Dr. Hawks commented. "He is doing extremely well," he added.

New Members Named to Rec. Council

Five new members of the Chelsea Recreation Council were approved by both the Chelsea Village Council and the Board of Education, it was learned recently.

Joining the nine-member Recreation Council Board of Directors are John Baker, Paul Buntin, Carol Dmoch, Roberta Kemp, and Randy Seitz. Three are filling three-year term trustee positions while two are replacing resigning members.

Concluding their terms of office are Jim Winter, president, Janet Rossi, and Carol Kvarnberg. Jerry Boyd and Charles Waller have resigned as trustees. Continuing their terms are Jim Sprague, Dale Schumann, Dave Martin, and Russ Pichlik. Two representatives on the board are Mike Sweet, village council member, and Marty Tobin, president of the Board of Education.

During a meeting on Wednesday, Sept. 6, officers to the Recreational Council will be elected. To date, Russ Pichlik, vice-president is the sole nominee for president.

While all of the new trustees are bringing their own personal experience and backgrounds to the board, a common theme among (Continued on page six)

Julie Botsford Is Chosen Fair Queen

Anticipation was the word for the day on Tuesday as more than a hundred Chelsea children patiently awaited judge's decisions in the hot sunshine. Eight queen candidates also felt the pangs of anxiety through appearing cool and collected riding in the Kiddies Parade on the few remaining convertibles in the country.

Adding to the early evening's excitement was the Beach Middle school band who filled the heat-laden air with the collective sounds of their instruments in practice. For the 7th grade band members, Tuesday's parade was the first public presentation of their musical talents.

Judging was completed after nearly a half hour of careful deliberations with the following winners. In the 3- to 5-year-old category, Ryan Anderson, 5, was declared the first-place winner for his doctor costume, complete with authentic gown, surgical mask, head cap, and shoe coverings. Second place went to Scott Kruger, 4, cleverly disguised as a grey mouse with his tail caught in an oversized mouse trap. The three White children, Tammy, 3, Gabriel, 1, and Frankie, 4½, received third place for their salute to toddlerhood. Tammy was queen of the toddlers. Gabriel's slogan was "being a toddler is my business," and older brother Frankie was "the boss." "Being boss is hard but caring is loving," his card read.

In the 6- to 8-year-old category Marty Heller and Judy Bareis won first place for their realistic entry of an animal farm including a red barn, straw, and stuffed animals pulled on a wagon. Both wore farming attire which doubled as their regular work clothes at home where they each raise sheep. Jason Picklethimer, 6, won second place for his rendition of Chief Running Deer, looking only menacing with two front teeth missing. Creatively costumed as a Maritan was third-place winner Robert Kornexl, 8, whose lopsided stuffed shirt, silver foil antennas, and pipe cleaner tail looked out of this world.

First place winners in the 9- to 12-year-old category were Curtis Satterthwaite, 8, and Ron Grifka, 9, who combined costumes, literally, to form a two-headed clown. Curtis and Ron are close friends. Making a lovely butterfly, Susan Jaques, 10, took second place. She wore a silky red and orange cape for her wings while antennas poked out of her coiled up hair. Fair Queen 1977 Sonya Steele, 10, placed third wearing a bright red ankle-length gown and rhinestone tiara. Prepared to display her talents for the judges, she carried her guitar and smiled sweetly when presented her prize.

Miscellaneous category winners included a motley clown ensemble five who captured first place. Decked out in brightly colored costumes and lipstick smudged faces were Rebecca, Anna, and Carrie Flintoft, Jennifer Cattell and Kris Mattoff. Second-place winner was the duo race car team of Joey Hafner, 4, the fearless driver and Dan Kimbler, 11, his trusted pit crew. The clown family of Joe McDougall, Dawn Scripser, Stef Shook, and Tim Shook placed third. Immediately following the judging the band, queen candidates, and children stepped out onto E. Middle St. from the Municipal Parking Lot for their one mile parade to the fair grounds.

Queen candidates and their sponsors were Cheryl Bareis, Terrific Tailors 4-H Club; Debbie Harrison, Rogers Corners 4-H Club; Danya Bohl, CHS freshman class; Julie Botsford, CHS junior class; Terry Shonk, CHS sophomore class; Sally Vaught, Chelsea Chapter of the American Business Women's Association; and Marcia Warren, Chelsea Kiwanis Club.

Prior to the parade, the girls attended a tea on Sunday where judges interviewed the group together, as well as individually. A practice session was held on Monday evening where the candidates voted among themselves on this year's Miss Congeniality.

In Tuesday's Queen Pageant held in the fairground's grandstand, Art Steinaway of Chelsea was emcee and judges included Eileen Lappin of Caldwell & Reinhardt Realtors in Ann Arbor who was a Miss Michigan contestant in 1970; Howard Estes of Chrysler Corp.; and Theresa Hunn of Chelsea.

A talent show followed introductory remarks by Steinaway and 1977 Fair Queen Sara Barnhill with each candidate limited to a three-minute presentation. Allison Hovater was accompanied by guitar as she sang a song she had composed; Danya Bohl played music by Bach on the flute; Cheryl Bareis a humorous monologue based on the box office hit "Star Wars"; Sally Vaught entertained by skillfully drawing the face of a clown while singing "Bring in the Clowns"; Debbie Harrison gave a humorous reading; Terry Shonk performed two songs, "Day by Day" and (Continued on page six)

Stock Auction, Tractor Pulls, Parade Coming

A livestock auction, judging of dairy cattle and goats, and two tractor pulling contests await fairgoers today, Aug. 24, the third of five fun-packed Chelsea Community Fair days.

An unfortunate copy-reader's error listed the livestock auction under the Friday special events in the advertisement last Thursday.

Fair grounds open early in the morning with full breakfasts served in the Community Fair Restaurant beginning at 8 a.m. Thursday's events include dairy cattle and goat judging at 10 a.m.; antique tractor pulling contest at 1 p.m.; auction at 7 p.m. with the compact tractor pulling contest to follow.

On Friday, Aug. 25, lightweight tractors will be in contest at 10 a.m., followed by a horseshoe pitching contest at 5 p.m. and the resumption of the tractor pulling (heavyweight classes) in the arena at 6:45 p.m.

At 8 a.m. on Saturday, Aug. 26, the open horse show will be held in the arena; the fair parade at 1 p.m. followed by the awarding of bicycles at the grandstand; a 4-wheel drive speed pulling contest in the arena at 7 p.m.; and the fair's grand finale, the drawing for steer quarters at 10 p.m.

General admission for adults is $1 per day, with free parking and free admittance for children under 14. Season passes, available at the gate, are $5.

Nearly a dozen well-kept secrets will unfold Saturday afternoon, Aug. 26, as fair floats converge on the corner of Park and East St., at noon.

Organized by the Chelsea Fire Department and assisted by Chelsea Police and Auxiliary, the judging of floats will begin promptly at noon and end at 12:30 p.m.

Led by the color guards of local veterans organizations and their auxiliaries, the parade will begin its musical and colorful route to the fairgrounds at 1 p.m. Immediately behind the guards will be the 1978 Parade Marshall, Reuben Lesser, Sr., chosen for this honor through his exceptional contribution of time and work to fair activities.

In addition to the floats, the parade will feature the Ann Arbor Grotto Band with their clowns, antique auto and fire trucks, Chelsea fire trucks, and a wide assortment of farm machinery.

Providing the musical beat will be the Chelsea High school band and the Beach Middle school band. Four youth and four adult float awards will be awarded during the judging at 12:30 p.m.

Howard Heath, farm editor for WPAG, will review the parade and announce winners. A re-broadcast of this will be aired at 6:30 p.m. Saturday.

JULIE BOTSFORD, junior class candidate, was chosen as the 1978 Chelsea Community Fair Queen during Tuesday's Queen Pageant at the grandstand and crowned by 1977 Queen Sara Barnhill. Impressed with her composure, talent, and radiant beauty, judges made their final decision after the four finalists answered an impromptu question. Julie's question was "If you could live in a different time, when would you like to live, and why?" Without the least hesitation, she answered that she would have liked to live during the pioneer days when "there were many challenges to face. I get a lot of feelings of excitement when I visit places like Greenfield Village and I know that I would have enjoyed working on all the things that had to be done in those days," she said.

Dana Corp. Chelsea Plant Begins New 'Hot Line'

The local Divisional Plant of Dana Corp. has recently instituted an information hot line regarding any questions or concerns the public and employees may wish to have answered.

In trying to keep people aware of what is happening at the local facility, plant officials have put this program into effect beginning Aug. 15.

Persons having questions or concerns may have them answered in writing by calling 475-1661 and leaving their name, address, and question.

AN AFTERNOON OF FALL FASHIONS: A stunning autumn haze mink jacket, beige suede sports jacket, and a two-piece ensemble in fall colors are just three of the 32 outfits guests viewed during a first fashion show sponsored jointly by the volunteers and auxiliary of Chelsea Community Hospital. Saturday, Aug. 19. Modeling, from left, are Mrs. Irene Poulter, Mrs. John Arbogast, and Mrs. David Poulter, general chairman for the show. A total of $1,000 was raised at the benefit, to be used in building a gift shop when the addition to the Chelsea Hospital is completed. Ground-breaking is expected this September. 117 guests enjoyed a champagne luncheon of crab salad and mint lemon sherbert dessert, prepared by the hospital dining room staff. "Splendid," was the way Mrs. Strieter described the day's events and added that the two groups plan to make the affair an annual one. Fashions were provided by Jacobson's of Ann Arbor and six local women, plus two professionals modeled the clothing. Tavi Fulkerson was the commentator while Alice Tite played piano. Door prizes were donated by several local merchants.

Chelsea's Jiffy Mixes will move into the big time Saturday morning at 10 a.m. when they play their first game of the eight-team double elimination Class D fast-pitch softball tournament in Cadillac.

One thing Chelsea doesn't need during Fair Week is a traffic jam, but it had a monstrous one Tuesday afternoon when a train blocked the Main, Hayes, East, and McKinley crossings for more than an hour at lunch time.

The kids turned out in force for Tuesday's Kiddie Parade and in the 3- to 5-year-old group top winner was Robbie McDowell of 203 W. Middle St. in a dashing red, white, and blue likeness of that daredevil of our times, Evel Knievel.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

PBB Controversy To Remain
 When the legislature last year approved legislation to lower the tolerance level of polychlorinated biphenyl (PBB), it was hoped that would be the beginning of the end to the controversy.

However, recent revelations of wider contamination to other Michigan livestock and poultry beyond dairy cattle and milk have fueled what has often been referred to as Michigan's catallage.

The ongoing battle of burial versus incineration of contaminated animals has kept the issue alive.

The toxic chemical contamination has been with Michigan residents since 1973 with no signs of it going away for years to come.

Since then, officials have buried 30,000 cattle, 150,000 chickens and millions of eggs in giant pits in Kalamazoo county and officials continue to insist there is absolutely no danger of the toxin in the food chain.

However, the courts and the state's economy, as well as politicians are still feeling the effects of the disaster.

The State Supreme Court recently had the last word on permitting the Department of Natural Resources to bury the contaminated cattle in a clay-lined pit in Oscoda county over objections by local residents through the Oscoda county PBB Action Committee.

Local residents are worried that the chemical may seep out and pollute the water supply.

Fafn Bureau Services, Inc., which distributed the contamination feed that contained PBB, and manufacturer Michigan Chemical Co., recently pleaded no contest to four misdemeanor charges and, with their insurers, have settled more than 700 civil claims for nearly $40 million.

Not yet settled is a suit filed by the state which is asking for a $120 million settlement to recover at least some of the money that PBB has cost the taxpayers.

While the Supreme Court was considering the case, more than 400 dead animals were being held in cold storage and over 1,000 other live animals were being held on a farm until their fate was decided.

Within hours after the court removed the restraining order, the DNR began moving the dead animals to the site for burial.

A new chapter was beginning to unfold when a herd of Michigan sheep were found to have high traces of PBB over the allowable level.

This brought renewed assurances from top state officials that Michigan food was entirely safe for both intrastate and interstate commerce.

One state meat packer is now threatening to refuse to slaughter, pack and distribute any Michigan grown meats.

PBB is without question in the food chain. To what extent is uncertain. It probably will be years before results are in on the contamination and its effects on humans.

One thing for certain is much more will be said, many more studies will be conducted and many more taxpayers' dollars will be spent before an end comes to a problem introduced into the state by a mix-up by private manufacturers and distributors.

Social Services Looking for Takers

The Department of Social Services is looking for qualified persons to take $18 million off their hands.

Department representatives report there is $18 million left of a $38 million program started last January to help low-income families pay for heating assistance.

To get the word out, the department has started a large mailing campaign, sending information to all legislators, county social serv-

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Onct in a great while common sense wins a round. According to this piece Clem Webster bring to the meeting at the country store Saturday night, the late great ice cream standards bill was a victory for reason over bureaucratic blindness. The only way folks Government is trying to serve come out ahead was to give two of their servants fighting one another.

According to Clem, it started last year with the passing of some pun called the Food and Agriculture Act cooked up by the Department of Agriculture. Among some good suggestions about guarding quality of food, the bill set up "market grades" of ice cream. This threw the whole plan out of kilter. For just $12 million, inspectors could be hired, a system worked out and ice cream could be stamped "USDA Choice" like meat, or maybe "Grade A" like health departments do eating places.

But Clem said the Office of Consumer Affairs of Health, Education and Welfare didn't think so. You can grade ingredients of ice cream, and we already do that, this outfit said, but how are you going to decide the quality of the goods made from these raw materials? The consumer office found out setting up grading to satisfy USDA would cost the ice cream industry $28 million a year. Worse, making a effort to comply with the new regulations would cost small ice cream makers six cent a gallon, but the big outfits that can absorb the extra work better could get by on one cent a gallon grading systems.

Final, after the consumer office made enough noise for Congressmen to take time to read the Food and Agriculture Act they had supported, the whole idea of setting up market grades for ice cream was dropped. Clem said this case didn't involve slick lobbyist that big business and industry send out to do battle with somepun they don't like. The beauty of this small victory was the Government showed it still can self-correct even now and again, was Clem's words.

Meanwhile, the fellers took note that this same Government is still muddling along trying to perfect us from other, worse problems. Bug Hookum said that while we're on health, he had saw where the Senate has held hearings that brought out claims that what we eat figgers in half the cases of cancer. Recounts Possible In Two Close Primary Contests

Two possible recounts are in the making following Monday's final results of the Washtenaw County Board of Canvassers.

According to the board, Ronald L. Trowbridge took a razor thin edge over C. William Colburn, 4,141 to 4,140 in the Republican race for the 18th District state senate seat.

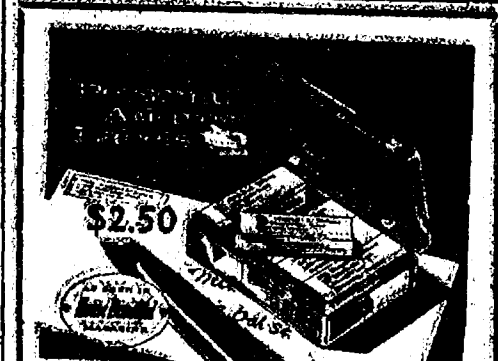

Almost as close was the 14th District Court race where it looks like Lynwood Noah, chief assistant prosecutor for the county, defeated George W. Parker of Chelsea, by an eight-vote margin, 2,834 to 2,846.

Both Colburn and Parker have stated that a recount is a definite possibility. Parker said he believes the state Board of Canvassers will find, as he has, that there is only a two vote difference between Noah and himself. "If they do find only a two vote difference I will definitely call for a recount," Parker said.

Now Is Best Time To Seed New Lawn

Anyone planning to establish a new lawn in late summer or early fall should have no trouble getting seed of recommended turf-grass varieties.

Washtenaw County Horticultural Agent, Bobbi Lawrence reports that good supplies of seed of a number of disease-resistant Kentucky bluegrass varieties are available.

For planting in sunny sites or in combination with red fescue for shady spots, adelphi, majestic, touchdown, parade, baron, victa, and vantage are recommended. All these varieties offer resistance to stripe smut and fazarium blight, two common lawn disease problems.

Mid-August to mid-September is the best time to establish a new lawn in Michigan. For best results, prepare the soil carefully—including adding fertilizer and lime according to soil test recommendations and tilling, rolling and raking to provide a good seed bed; seeding evenly with a combination of three or four recommended varieties; mulching and watering at least once a day until the new plants are well established.

Although a new lawn may also be established in the spring, late summer plantings usually have fewer weed problems; and the gentle rain of fall, together with cooler weather, provide the ideal environment for cool season lawn species.

The first state law setting a minimum age of 12 for child employment in factories was passed in Pennsylvania in 1848, according to the U.S. Department of Labor booklet, "Labor: First in America."

Tiger Champs of '68 Prepare for Reunion

Life is so much fun when you're winning. And when you're winning a baseball world championship, it's even more fun.

Just ask Gates Brown. Who could have had more fun provided so much to so many people than the Gater when the Detroit Tigers won the World Series in 1968?

"It's so easy to laugh at yourself and some of the things you do when you're winning," Gates said while reflecting on that wonderful year.

Brown, now the Tiger hitting coach, is awaiting that team's 10-year reunion which will be held at Tiger Stadium on Sunday, Aug. 27, before the Tigers' regularly-scheduled game with the Milwaukee Brewers.

The Gater related a couple of incidents that made 1968 magic for all the Tigers and their fans everywhere.

"I was sitting at the end of the dugout one game, eating a couple of hot dogs," Brown said while chuckling. "It was only about the fifth inning. I never expected Mayo (Manager Mayo Smith) to call on me to pinch-hit that early."

But Smith did. Not wanting his manager to see him munching on a couple of hot dogs, the Gater hurriedly stuffed them inside his shirt before going to the plate. "I had mustard and squashed meat all over me," Gates laughed. "The boys really got on me when I got back to the dugout."

Then there was the time The Gater got caught talking on the telephone—in the bullpen.

"One of our pitchers was getting shelled one night," Gates recalled. "Mayo told Wally Moses (coach) to call down and get someone warmed up."

There was one problem. Moses couldn't get through. The line was busy. The Gater was talking on the phone.

"Mayo looked down after a few more pitches and didn't see anyone warming up," Gates continued. "He asked Wally what the problem was. Wally had to tell him that the line was busy."

The next day the outside line from the bullpen was replaced with a direct line, dugout to bullpen.

Of course, Gates did his part on the field. He became a pinch-hitter supreme with 18 pinch-hits for a .462 average, .370 over-all.

"That whole summer, people were talking about the Tigers," Gates said. "I think we helped to ease the tension of the previous year when we had the riots."

"It made people forget about all that other stuff. We gave it a rest. The championship couldn't have come at a better time."

And what better time is there to see that outstanding team again than on Aug. 27 when it returns to Tiger Stadium?

"I can't wait to see all the guys," Gates said. "I know everyone is going to be throwing out a lot of lines. Everyone will be 100 percent better than they were. But it's going to be fun."

It will be fun for the fans too. Besides seeing the 1968 world champion heroes, they'll be treated to a musical show on a nostalgic trip 10 years into the past.

As a special bonus, the first 30,000 persons entering the stadium on fully paid admissions will receive free handsome bronze-plated plaques featuring the autographs of everyone from that team.

New Car Prices

Easier To Meet...

Despite the price of a new car, it now takes far less of the average annual income than it did in past years, reports the Automotive Information Council.

Today's buyer spends about 36 percent of his/her annual income to live a new car—down from 77.5 percent in 1975, 38 percent in 1976, more than half in 1969 and about two-thirds in 1950.

AIC quoted U.S. Department of Commerce figures which showed that in 1976 the price of an average car was $2,344, while the national median income was $3,319.

In 1969 the typical car was priced at $2,970, so the average worker had to work slightly more than half a year for it. The median income then was $5,620.

The ratio began to improve by 1970 when the median had climbed to $9,867, or about 38 percent for the $3,706 car. Five years later the average car price was $5,151, 37.5 percent of the year's median income of $13,720.

Prices for 1978 cars are averaging $6,500, which would be about 36 percent of this year's median income of $18,000. Included in the price of a 1978 car is $666 for safety and emission standards mandated by the Federal government.

Car prices in recent years also reflect the great popularity of such convenience items as air conditioning (82 percent of new cars have it), power steering and brakes, adjustable steering wheels and other items, which in earlier years were the exception.

Stripped-down cars now are the great exception, says AIC. Car companies have stated that they are spending more for wages and materials than they have been passing on to the consumers in an effort to keep car prices below the general rate of inflation.

A recent Bureau of Labor Statistics price index shows that transportation-cost increases have been outstripped by medical, food and beverages, housing and is below the "all time" category, notes the Automotive Information Council.

So while new-car sticker prices are higher, they should be compared with wage and salary increases and the price hikes on other items, suggests AIC.

The first use of federal government contracts to restrict the employment of child labor took place in 1918, according to the U.S. Department of Labor booklet, "Labor Firsts in America."

No one needed tips on operating a hand fan efficiently.

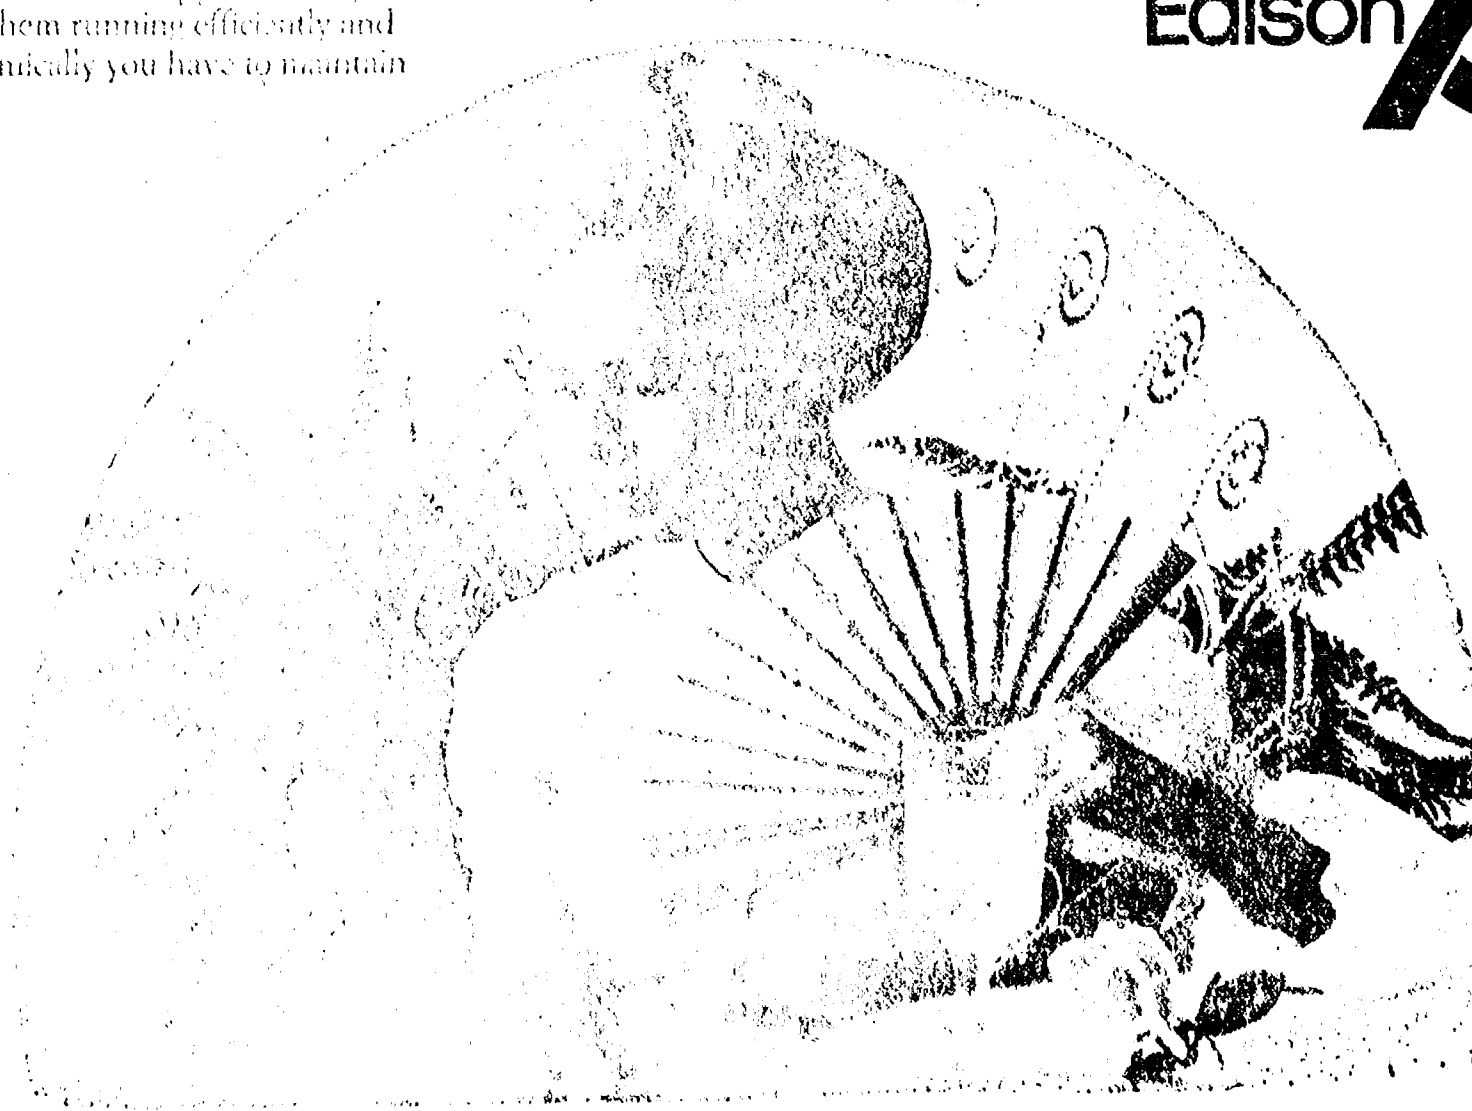

Back in the days before high-speed fans and air conditioners, a lot of people depended on hand fans and cold lemonade to keep them cool during hot summer months. And quite frankly, there wasn't much you had to know about operating efficiency. Today, with convenient modern air conditioners, most people can keep cool with the push of a button. But air conditioners are a major electrical appliance. So, to keep them running efficiently and economically you have to maintain and use them properly. That's why Detroit Edison offers you the following air conditioning tips. Keep the air filter clean. Close all windows and shade out hot sunlight. Check to see that nothing blocks the flow of cool air. Always keep your air conditioner on a moderate setting, and on central units, set your thermostat at an appropriate comfort level but no lower than 75° By following these simple tips you can keep cool, conserve energy and save a lot of money. Enough money to keep you well stocked in lemonade. For more information, call or stop in at any Detroit Edison Customer Office.

Researchers Organize To Fight Cancer Phobia

Formation of a new group of scientists was announced in the Rocky Mountain News. The group was formed to provide "a voice of reason" in debates over alleged cancer-causing substances and counter what is called "rampant cancer phobia" in the nation. The new association, the American Council on Science and Health, is directed by Elizabeth Whelan, a Harvard School of Public Health researcher. She said it is an independent, non-profit organization based in New York and will remain free of financial ties with the food and chemical industries.

Today's Kids Know Facts About Eggs

It is apparent that children quickly learn or adopt adult attitudes about eggs, according to the Child Research Service, Inc. The research organization conducted a project for the American Egg Board aimed at finding out what children think about eggs. It is reported that youngsters know a great deal about the egg including its positive attributes, usage, and even the health issue. Although teen-age boys consume considerably more eggs than girls of that age, before that, consumption appears to differ only by age.

Despite all the jokes about budgets, most people would be better off if they stayed on one.

Secy. Bergland Defends Co-Ops

Agriculture Secretary Bob Bergland recently defended farm co-operatives and warned against tinkering with federal laws in an effort to increase competition in the marketing of the nation's food.

"Before any law or set of laws is declared 'obsolete,' it is absolutely essential to understand what the consequences of change will be," Bergland said.

The Secretary's comments were in testimony prepared for the National Commission for the Review of Antitrust Laws and Procedures, which is looking into allegations that some large farm co-ops have used their muscle unfairly to enhance food prices and cut out competition. Bergland also told the panel that "when you deal with the food supply of an entire nation and the livelihood of those who produce it, experimentation must be approached with extreme caution."

Bergland is a former Minnesota farmer and co-op member. Reqvjavik, Iceland—Despite its frigid-sounding name, Iceland is warmer on the average during winter than the Northeastern states of the U. S. Reykjavik's temperatures average in the 60's in summer and seldom drop below 30 in winter.

Dexterites Have Roles In Mendelssohn Play

A number of Dexter folk will be on hand at the Lydia Mendelssohn Theater in Ann Arbor Sept. 6-9 at 8 p.m. when the Ann Arbor Civic Theater presents Kaufman & Hart's Pulitzer Prize-winning comedy, "You Can't Take It With You."

Dexterites involved with the production include Dave Gilbert, producer; Rumsfelda Madrano, stage manager; and Joe Medrano, who plays an eccentric Russian.

This comedy classic tells the story of a madcap Manhattan family whose irrepressible members pursue their lives without any thought to such social conventions as working at a steady job or paying income taxes. A huge popular success in the 1930's, it continues to be one of the best-loved plays in the history of the American theater.

The production features a cast of seasoned Ann Arbor Civic Theater troupe members and new talent from the area. "Explosive" special effects are planned, along with 742 bizarre props including a samovar, a snake solarium, a xylophone, a human skull used as a candy jar, and a steel model of the Queen Mary made from an Erector set.

The Honors College at Michigan State University annually helps more than 1,000 academically gifted students to develop their individually planned programs of study.

Sunday Picnic Arranged for Mike Conlin

There will be an old-fashioned country picnic for Representative Mike Conlin, Republican candidate for the U. S. Congressional District, Sunday, Aug. 27.

In addition to Representative Conlin, who presently represents Michigan's 23rd Legislative District, the afternoon will feature all the hot dogs and beer anyone can consume for $5 between 3 and 6 p.m.

Terry Conlin, Mike's brother and an Ann Arbor Attorney, is hosting the family style picnic at 15950 Cavanaugh Lake Rd.

"Mike has done a lot for his district," Terry Conlin said, "and this is just one way we can show Mike that we're behind him 100 percent in his Congressional race. Besides that, it is going to be a great Sunday afternoon with music, food, beer and a tent if it rains."

Terry Conlin said he's expecting between 200 and 300 people to attend and that tickets may be purchased at the picnic.

For easy directions take I-94 to Kalmbach north to Cavanaugh Lake Rd., then west to the first house on the right, past Musbach Rd.

Phillip Frame Attends Cross-Country Camp Preparing for EMU

Phillip Frame, son of Mr. and Mrs. William D. Frame of Chelsea, spent 10 days at Green Mountain Cross-Country Camp in the hills of Vermont.

After returning home he will attend Eastern Michigan University in the fall where he plans to run on their cross-country team. Phillip is a 1977 graduate of Chelsea High school.

HARD WORK turned into just rewards for these three Grand Champion winners Susie Riemenschneider, 12, of Chelsea, left, made this macramé owl in just over four hours, her first wall hanging after making dozens of plant hangers. Denise Robbins, 17, of Chelsea spent dozens of painstaking hours using metal and copper wires and tiny wire pliers to create a mustached guitar player. Denise also plays the guitar. Trisha Schuler, 7, of Manchester used a variation of Batik in designing her tee-shirt. By drawing a picture on paper with crayons, she placed a sheet of waxed paper over the drawing, and ironed the drawing onto the waxed sheet. She then ironed the transfer onto the tee-shirt.

Five New Members Named to Rec. Council

(Continued from page one) them is that this is their first assignment to a board of directors. Randy Seitz is a life-long resident of Chelsea who works full-time in his father's tavern, Seitz's, and has spent many summers working out with high school football players. He will be finishing the two years remaining on Charles Waller's term.

"I don't know enough yet about the organization of the council to give any ideas about what I would like done. I should have a better idea after I go to several meetings," he commented.

Randy attended Northern Michigan University in Marquette for three years where he played defensive end on the university's football team. In high school he played tackle for four years—three on varsity. He is single.

John Baker will complete the one year remaining on Jerry Boyd's term. Boyd himself was completing the term of Dave Martin who moved from Chelsea last year.

Baker, in turn, said he first became aware of the Recreation Council through Martin when his son, Christopher, 11, was in Martin's Cub Scout Pack. His interest grew as he became a coach for the T-Ball league four years ago and he continued coaching T-Ball for three years and the Farm League this season. He has also worked with the Biddy Basketball program and with the soccer program.

"I am most enthusiastic about seeing that the kids all have a good time. I believe it is to everyone's advantage, especially the children, that programs are set up in such a manner that they have fun while tough competition is at a minimum," Baker said. "They have enough competition later on in life," he added.

A native of England, Baker came to this country in 1960 after Canada. He moved from Ann Arbor to Chelsea six years ago and is employed with the Gelman Instrument Co. on Wagner Rd., Ann Arbor, as an export manager. He is married and has two children, Christopher, and Scott, 8. His wife, Claudette, works at University Hospital as a secretary.

Carol Dmoch follows her husband Tom's footsteps by joining the council as he also served as a trustee several years ago. A 1960 graduate of Central Michigan University she received a BA in elementary education. Her recreational background is a solid one having spent five summers working for the recreation department in the Flushing school system as a supervisor over seven playgrounds.

Community activities include being a past member of the Chelsea Child Study Club and a current member of the Women's Club of Chelsea. She has also served in numerous capacities for the United Way. "I've never held a position of this nature and I am extremely anxious to learn more about the council and where to turn my energies," she commented.

The Dmochs have two children, Tim, 13, and Amy, 8, and have lived in Chelsea for nine and a half years. She will serve a three year term.

Paul Bunten will be serving a full three year term also and bases his reason for accepting the trustees position on his children's activities in the recreation programs.

"Both my children have been involved in the baseball, basketball and swimming projects programs and I am very impressed with how well the department is run," Bunten said. "Every since I moved to Chelsea more than five years ago I have become very interested in Chelsea and in the recreation department. I am most impressed by the way Chelsea cares for their children," he commented.

sports and I think that arts and other activities are important too," she said.

Roberta played fast-pitch (her favorite) while attending Michigan State University in 1970. Later she played for the Stein & Goetz softball slow-pitch team in Ann Arbor while living in Saline. When she moved with her family to Chelsea five years ago she let up on her sports to get her two children involved.

Her son Matt is 9 and Mary is 7 and they have both played in the baseball programs. In the spring of 1977 she helped coach the new soccer program and this year was a coach for the Cardinals, a girl's fast-pitch team for 11- to 14-year olds.

"I really enjoy working with children because it's such a good way for them to have fun," she said. Roberta will be attending Eastern Michigan University this fall to complete her studies for a physical education degree, with a minor in math. She is married to Tom, who she met while going to MSU.

"Sunrise, Sunset," on her flute; Julie Botsford recited an essay she had written entitled "Rooms for Rent, Children Accepted;" and Marcia Warren sang two songs while playing the guitar.

Combining points and impressions gathered from Sunday's tea and the talent demonstrations, judges huddled together comparing notes while the tension mounted. Steadily filled the silence by announcing up-coming events, and, on stage, the candidates waited pensively.

A false start, and then several more minutes of discussion, the judges handed Queen Superintendent Suzanne Morrison a list of the finalists and Suzanne presented the list to the emcee. Named were Julie Botsford, Debbie Harrison, Alison Hovater, and Sally Vaught. Each girl was given an impromptu question and after their answers judges again deliberated and presented the winners.

Third runner-up is Debbie Harrison, second is Alison Hovater, followed by first runner-up Sally Vaught, and the 1978 queen, Julie Botsford.

The queen will attend to awarding trophies during the demolition derby and present ribbons during the livestock auction tonight. She, and her court, will ride in floats during the Saturday parade which begins at 1 p.m. from the corner of Park and East Sts. and sit on the dunk tank Saturday night.

Real Estate

By PAUL FRISINGER

REALTOR

APPRAISAL METHODS

Comedian Buddy Hackett put it nicely: "If everybody had the same opinion, every man would want to marry my wife." So goes the art of appraising the value of property. In the final analysis, every piece of property is different. Basically, there are three methods of arriving at a value estimate.

1. Comparison. A comparison is made as to price, value, and location in relation to other properties in the same neighborhood.

2. Reproduction Cost. How much would it cost to reproduce the structure? Add to this the value of the land and deduct for depreciation.

3. Capitalization. This is used for income property. The value is established by consideration of the present and future income value of the property.

Frequently, the appraiser will use all three methods. No single method can always be depended upon to produce reliable estimates by itself.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at FRISINGER REALTY CO., 935 S. Main St., Chelsea. Phone: 475-888; evenings 475-2621. We're here to help!

New Ordinance Cover Four Zoning Changes

Wrapping up business, some of which was started nearly a year ago, Village Council packed four separate items into Ordinance No. 79K, an amendment to the Zoning Ordinance during its Aug. 15 regular meeting.

Item No. 1 on the ordinance adds to the official Zoning Ordinance pages the establishment of a Light Industrial District which was approved by the Zoning Board nearly a year ago.

Item No. 2 is an amendment to the ordinance to re-zone two lots adjoining the Union 76 Station on S. Main St., south between the Station and the road leading to the Chelsea Community Medical Center, from single family to office.

The land is owned by Dr. Charles F. Krausse, who originally sought the re-zoning in 1976 when he owned just one of the lots. Because the lot was of insufficient size to warrant re-zoning, the request was tabled until Dr. Krausse owned both pieces of property. According to Fred Barkley, village special grants and project director, the cillage was notified in July that Dr. Krausse owned both lots and the council approved the re-zoning during its latest meeting.

While Dr. Krausse intends to use the property for a new office, his plans are still in the working stages and nothing final has been decided. "I will soon have the land surveyed and obtain an architect's opinion before I finalize plans," he said. Currently two homes are located on each lot; one is being rented and the other is vacant.

"It will be at least a year before anything is begun," Dr. Krausse said. He has had his office on Park St. since 1961. "I'm looking forward to expansion possibly and a better location," he added.

A third item on Ordinance No. 79 refers to a Chelsea State Bank Conditional Use petition, filed in late May of this year, to allow drive-up windows in financial institutions in the C-4 district.

This district is a V-shaped area which is bordered on the east by the village limits and runs south to a point just north of where Old M-52 joins M-52. It then goes north on Old M-52 to Old US-12 and east again to the village limits.

The fourth item has two parts, the first being an amendment to the zoning ordinance on sign setback requirements in the office district. Because an office district does not allow signs unless they are attached to the building itself there are no setback requirements.

The second part of the fourth item adds to the official pages of the specifications in areas including general commerce, highway service, restricted commerce, and central business unless more stringent requirements are already required. Requirements state that off-street parking may not be closer than five feet to any property line unless the property is a residential district where parking may not be closer than 20 feet.

According to Barkley, the fourth item was also approved by the council some time ago this year. "Our reason to wait is so that we can put all these little items together onto one ordinance before sending it to the company which publishes the official zoning ordinance. We save a little money this way by sending it all in at one time instead of in a piecemeal fashion," he explained.

Lions Club Operating Popular Dunk Tank

With 10 dunked and at least 17 to go, volunteers for the Chelsea Lions Club enormously popular "Dunk Tank" has started off with a successful if not soggy two days during the Chelsea Community Fair.

Precariously perched before ball throwing participants, several high-ranking, well-known Chelsea men have come to a humble defeat as they tumbled into the water.

Among those have included Sam Vogel, former Chelsea High school teacher and current high school assistant principal; Dave McAllister, president of UAW Local 1284; Jim Winter, girl's varsity basketball coach; and Ken Kuzon, production supervisor at Dana, to name just a few.

On the list for today's dunk (Thursday, Aug. 24) are these unfortunate volunteers.

Thursday, Aug. 24, beginning at 6 p.m. with a new victim every hour on the hour until 10 p.m., Pat Clarke, cross-country coach and girls baseball coach; Norm

Farley, treasurer of UAW Local 437; Chuck Young, truck desk at Chrysler Proving Grounds; Denby Stofer, of the Chelsea State Bank; and Mark Taylor, personnel manager at Chelsea Community Hospital.

Friday, Aug. 24, same times. Phil Boham, assistant personnel manager at Dana; Bud Ringe, 3-D Sales & Service; open spot at 5 p.m.; Dick Cole, Chelsea Milling Co., supervisor of mixing department; and Tom Baris, tri-captain, 1978-79 football season.

On Saturday, Aug. 26, hours will run from 2 p.m. until 10 p.m. beginning with Steve Bergmann, band director; Orville Harris, foreman at Central Fibre Corp.; Richard Bareis, wrestling coach; Phil Bareis, athletic director and head football coach; Jesse Coburn, tri-captain for the 1978-79 football season; Craig Houle, foreman at Fortune Industries; Bob Dawson, foreman at Dana; Larry Reed, swim coach; and Fair Queen Julie Botsford at 10 p.m.

Library Repair Work Will Begin Next Week

Scaffolding will once again rise on the exterior walls of the McKune Memorial Library in preparation for tuck pointing and chimney repair which is expected to begin next week.

Using Federal Revenue Sharing Funds (FRSF), totaling nearly $20,000 for the entire restoration project, the library board of directors has let a contract with the Heineman & Lovett Co. of Detroit to do the tuck pointing and chimney repair for $9,650.

In May, of this year, the board hired Sermac, Inc., of Ann Arbor to strip the cracked and peeling white paint from the building at a cost of $9,000 paid out of an $11,975 FRSF authorization by the village last year.

With the remaining $3,000, and a recent FRSF authorization of $7,500, the library will complete the restoration.

According to William Chandler, library board member, Heineman & Lovett should start work next week filling in the 1/4 to one inch gaps in the mortar which had been removed during the brick cleaning process. "We hadn't anticipated losing so much mortar but because the building is so old the mortar has become soft with age and the loss was unavoidable," he explained.

The library is estimated to be approximately 100 years old, built either prior to or just after the Civil War.

YOU'VE GOT MY WORD ON IT.

There may be bigger used car lots in the area. But there aren't any that are better than Rampy's. You've got my word on it. I'm Bill Miller, Used Car Sales Manager for Rampy Chevrolet.

I'm responsible for seeing to it that when someone buys one of our used cars, he's got more to depend on than a smile and a handshake.

I personally decide which used cars and trade-ins will stay on our lot. And because I'm careful about the cars I choose, Rampy can back me up with both his good name and his OK Used Car Sticker.

So, when you're in the market for a good used car, shop where quality is just as important as volume... Rampy Chevrolet. I'll give you my word on any car on the lot.

AN UNLIKELY COMBINATION: these four Kiddie Parade participants have at least one thing in common—they're winners. On the left Judy Barfels and Marty Heller put their talents and common experiences together to create an animal farm on wheels to place first in the 6- to 8-year-old division. Scowling, and at the same time hiding his missing front teeth, is Jason Picklesimer, alias Chief Running Deer. Jason placed second for his costume which utilized a common yellow plastic trash bag decorated to look like a leather Indian poncho. On the right stands Robert Kornel who looks like he just stepped off his space ship from Mars. Dressed in a top-sided stuffed shirt and stuffed gloves, he wore silver foil antennas and tail, becoming a creature from Mars.

ASK THE GOVERNOR

by William G. Milliken

Question: I am afraid I know of an abused child. I don't know the procedure for reporting—especially since I must remain anonymous.

Governor: Michigan has had a very progressive Child Protection Law in operation since Oct. 1, 1975. It requires certain persons to report cases of child abuse to the Department of Social Services and permits others to do so.

It also requires that the names of reporting persons be kept confidential. If you are not one of those required to report, you need only to call your local county Department of Social Services office. The number may be found in the telephone book. If you are under the legal mandate, you are required to file a written follow-up report within 72 hours. The local Department of Social Services has forms for this purpose.

In any case, if you still wish to give your name when reporting, your report will be received anonymously.

Persons mandated to report include: physicians, coroners, dentists, medical examiners, nurses, audiologists, certified social workers, social workers, social work technicians, school administrators, school counselors, teachers, law enforcement officers, and duly regulated child care providers.

Question: Our swimming pool has great big cracks in it. We just had it dug and put in this summer. Now it's almost fall, my kids are so disappointed they could cry, and the installer keeps saying he's too busy to get back and fix it. We saved a long time. What can I do?

Governor: People who install swimming pools, as well as waterproofing basements and digging excavations around homes, are licensed under the Michigan Residential Builders and Maintenance Improvement Contractors Act. So, now that you've complained to the company, complain to your local building inspector and to the State Department of Licensing and Regulation, which issues the builders' licenses. (You can call them at (517) 374-9025 to obtain complaint instructions and forms). They will verify that your pool does indeed have a problem and will get you and the contractor together to talk it over. While the department doesn't have the power to order him to make the repairs, certainly knowing that his workmanship is in question and disciplinary action involving his license could result may make him listen more carefully and respond faster. Even if you eventually go to court to force the repairs, your case will be stronger with all the department's evidence. In addition, your complaint will be on file to alert others who may be considering his services.

Question: We plan to drive down for the Michigan State Fair: what is the schedule for the fair activities?

Governor: The State Fair opens Friday, Aug. 25, with the opening parade scheduled for Aug. 24. The days' events are as follows: Saturday, Aug. 26, Clowns Day; Sunday, Aug. 27, Roaring Twenties Day.

Monday, Aug. 28, Senior Citizens Day (persons 62 or older are entitled to a free admittance if they come before 3 p.m.).

Tuesday, Aug. 29, Agriculture Day.

Wednesday, Aug. 30, Queen's Day.

Thursday, Aug. 31, Governor's Day.

Rising Energy Costs Expected To Increase Consumer Food Costs

Rising energy prices likely will increase farm production costs by 2 to 3 percent and raise consumer food bills by 4 to 5 percent above the rate of inflation between 1975 and 1980, according to USDA economists R. Thomas Van Arsdall and Patricia J. Devlin. They say that, based on energy price projections made by the Federal Energy Administration in April of 1977, real prices of energy used by U.S. farmers are expected to increase 27 to 39 percent during the 10 year period, depending upon the energy policy established.

Energy for producing, processing, and marketing food accounts for about 12 percent of the $200 billion consumer food bill in the United States. Consumers spend another $11.4 billion in energy costs for food storage, preparation, and consumption.

Michigan's Auto Drivers Pay Less Than National Average

It is costing $29 less per year for Michigankans to own and operate cars than it does for motorists nationally, according to Automobile Club of Michigan.

"The Michigan motorist who drives his intermediate-size car 10,000 miles annually will pay 19.35 cents per mile, or $1,935 annually. The national average is 19.64 cents per mile, or $1,964 per year," explained Joseph Ratke, Auto Club touring manager.

Those figures are based on a recent study made by Runzheimer and Company of Rochester, Wis., comparing second-quarter vehicle operating costs.

"The average per mile cost is a combination of fixed costs (insurance, depreciation, taxes, license, etc.) and variable costs (gasoline, oil, maintenance and tires)," said Ratke.

The survey shows that it costs an average of $3.78 per day to own a car in Michigan and an additional 5.49 cents for each mile it is driven.

Costs are computed for an intermediate-size car that is kept four years and driven a national average of 10,000 miles.

The most expensive place to own and operate a car is in the New England states, where it costs 1.02 cents, while the least expensive is in the Southwest, where it costs 18.83 cents.

Merit Program Started for Food Establishments

Several area restaurants and other food service establishments will be honored with 22 special awards for excellence in protective public health through safe, sanitary food preparation at the Aug. 25 meeting of the Washtenaw Health.

In keeping with the Washtenaw County Health Department's desire to build positive incentives into the food service program, Dr. John B. Atwater, director, appointed a review committee to consider nominees submitted by area sanitarians and/or representatives from food service establishments. Because of variations in size and type of eating places, they were first categorized such as bars, cafeterias, fast food establishments, table service establishments, etc. To be eligible for certificates of merit, these establishments had to meet certain criteria.

It is hoped that this special award program will serve as an incentive for all area restaurants.

Additional awards will be presented in September and October and on a continuing basis.

CLOWNS FOR A DAY: Painted with happy faces, these delighted youngsters gave an even bigger grin when declared winners in Tuesday's Kiddle Parade. On the left, a collection of five wigged, antic-filled clowns placed first in the miscellaneous category. They are, beneath the lipstick, Rebecca, Anne, and Carrie Flintoft, Jennifer Cattell, and Kris Malloff. In the middle, and ready to roar off, are second place winners, Joey Haffner, concealed by his racing goggles and Dan Kimbler who stands behind the speedy "Super Joe" race car as Joey's pit crew. More clowns on the right are Joe McDougall, Dawn Scripser, Step Shook and Tim Shook, who all took third place.

FDA Delays Decision on Use of Antibiotics in Feed

The House Agricultural Committee has approved a resolution urging the Food and Drug Administration to await completion of scientific studies before making a final decision on the low-level use of antibiotics in animal feed. FDA's proposed regulation would require drastic cuts in the use of penicillin and tetracycline antibiotic drugs at low levels in livestock and poultry feed.

The committee resolution, introduced by Rep. Charles Rose (D-N.C.) and co-sponsored by 39 other committee members, calls on the FDA to delay action on the issue until completion of pending studies, including reviews being conducted by the National Academy of Sciences, the Congressional Office of Technology Assessment, and the Department of Agriculture.

Farm Bureau has asked the Food and Drug Administration to delay action on the proposed ruling until studies have been concluded that would give a basis for such action.

House Agriculture Committee Chairman Thomas Foley (D-Wash.) said the potential impact of the proposal on livestock producers and other farmers, as well as the consumers, "underlines the importance of settling questions of this kind on the basis of the best scientific judgment we can get."

The resolution said the proposed FDA rules, which would include a requirement for prescriptions by veterinarians for antibiotic uses remaining on the approved feed list, could raise farm production costs $1 billion in higher meat and poultry prices with no apparent benefit to either producers or consumers.

Did you know that there are seven warning signs of stroke? For instance, sudden temporary weakness or numbness of the face, arm or leg; an episode of double vision; or unexplained headaches. Your body may be trying to tell you something. Are you listening? For more information on the seven warning signs of stroke, call the Michigan Heart Association. We're fighting for your life.

President Carter States Opposition To Price Controls

President Jimmy Carter is trying to regain some of the farm support he lost when he opened the door for more imports of foreign beef this summer. The President made some promises to cattlemen during a farm speech on the campus of the University of Missouri in Columbia recently.

"I will not permit any more expansion in beef imports this year. I will not permit unrestricted beef imports next year. And I am strongly and permanently opposed to any price controls on meat or other farm products," he told the cattlemen.

President Carter said beef prices should be relatively stable for the rest of this year. The President painted a rosey picture of farm income, saying it will be up about 25 percent this year.

But farm income is still well below the peak of 1973.

Good Year Seen For Michigan Fruit Growers

Despite scattered hail, wind damage, and in some cases, a bit too much rain, this should be a good year for Michigan's fruit growers, predicts Ken Nye, marketing specialist for the Michigan Farm Bureau.

Michigan's tart cherry crop is the only fruit crop in the state that is fairly small this year, Nye said, but it will be a good money-making year for the growers. The sweet cherry crop, on the other hand, is one of the largest in Michigan's history. But growers should still do well, said Nye, because the Northwest has a fairly small crop.

The outlook for grape and plum growers is also good. "We have a very large crop of grapes, around 60,000 tons as opposed to last year when we had about 30,000 tons. The crop is coming along nicely now; we're having good rains and no particular problems yet with diseases," Nye reported. "Plums look like an adequate crop, larger than last year. Again, the Northwest is down in production, so this should help us."

Because Michigan and the nation will have a higher apple crop this year, prices will be less than last year, Nye predicted. "But it should be a good price even though we do have a large supply. It's a much different situation than in 1975 when we had a large crop but also large carryovers, large inventories of stock. This year we're in a much better position, so we should see a relatively good price."
