Gridders Hang On for Victory Over Novi, 7-6

Chelsea varsity Bulldogs fought down to the wire in Friday's game against Novi with a 7-6 victory preserved in the last 15 seconds of the fourth quarter.

Novi Wildcats possessed the ball on Chelsea's one-foot line with four downs to run and there seemed little doubt that the 7-6 score was going to be upset. A center exchange was fumbled by Novi, however, and Chelsea's tackle Scott Price recovered the ball. "When the ball fell in my hands I protected it with everything I had," Price said.

Chelsea still had to run a play to run out the clock and following a line u called by Novi and two by Chelsea, Chelsea's John Dunn ran a quarterback sneak to secure the victory.

The 7-6 score is Chelsea's second in as many games. "It was close. A real squeaker, but in the next few weeks I think we'll get our score in the double digits," senior tackle Tim Bareis commented.

Coach Phil Bareis said, "in all my years of coaching, I don't think I've ever had a game wind up like this one. It was quite a finish."

Chelsea's offense looked as if it was going to move the ball and score in the first quarter as they took the opening drive to Novi's 17-yard line before it stalled.

Bulldog defense then held Novi for three plays, forcing them to punt. Alan Augustine fielded the punt and behind two fine blocks by Lou Jahnke and Dave Morris, went all the way for the touchdown. Brad Knickerbocker kicked the extra point and Chelsea led, 7-0.

The second half started with Chelsea kicking off, but the ball went out of bounds giving the Wildcats the ball on Chelsea's 40-yard line where Novi defense would not let Chelsea move out of their own territory.

Novi finally scored in the third quarter, but the fake extra kick and attempted pass was incomplete and Chelsea still led, 7-6.

Chelsea defense again played most of the game with their backfield led by Doug Clark playing a very impressive game with five one-on-one tackles. Jesse Coburn had a pass interception and Jeff Eibler played fine pass defense.

Linebacker Alan Augustine, Art Presley and Scott Powers played well in blocking the line. Defensive line players of Tom Bareis, Scott Price, John LaBarbara, Bill Moore, Jim Brown, Mike Killelea, and Keith Shillion all hustled to contain the Wildcats.

Alan Augustine had 71 yards rushing to lead in that department.

Chelsea had nine first downs to Novi's 10; 118 rushing yards to Novi's 130; nine passing yards to Novi's 35; two complete passes out of 12 to Novi's four out of 12; and two lost fumbles to Novi's three.

Chelsea travels to Brighton, Friday, Sept. 22 for a 7:30 p.m. game.

TRIO OF RACE BUFFS: Seated in the cockpit of this $35,000 fiberglass racing machine, Howdy Holmes, made a pit stop in Chelsea last Friday enroute to a race this week-end in Montreal, Canada. His father, Howard Holmes, right, president of the Chelsea Milling Co., was the unwitting spark to Howdy's racing intrigue as he took his family for many years on an annual excursion to the Indy 500. Billy Holmes, 23, Howdy's brother, has also shown an interest in the sport by racing motorcycles. Sponsored by Jiffy

Mixes, Howdy has been road racing for eight years, four of them under the auspices of his father's company. He also owns a management consulting firm in Ann Arbor, writes a column for the racing magazine "Formula," and has been published in the "New York Times." At 30, Howdy has made up to $50,000 a year driving cars with "infinity the limit." "I know I've got another 10 or 12 years left in racing and when I retire from this I intend to expand the consulting firm and go from there," Howdy said.

Cross Country Team 9th in Invitational

On Saturday, Sept. 16 the young Chelsea cross country team placed a very respectable ninth out of 23 teams at the New Boston Invitational. "This result was a pleasant surprise," said Coach Pat Clarke of his team's performance.

Leading the way for Chelsea was Mark Beyer in 38th place at 17:33. He was followed by Bob Schleede 43rd, 17:44; Jeff Bradley, 46th, 17:49; Bob Benedict, 47th, 17:50; and Scott Beyer, 50th, 17:59.

The meet was won by Bishop Gallagher High with 74 points, followed by Tecumseh with 98, and Saline with 140. Chelsea finished ninth with 224 points.

'Howdy' Holmes Moving Up in World of Professional Racing

Streaming down the track at an exhilarating 165 mph, leaving spectators just a quick blur of white and a fast breeze as he executes a hairpin turn, Howdy Holmes truly loves his job.

If that's what you want to call it.

Or is it really the fulfillment of a long-time ambition that just happens to net the 30-year-old an income, in good years, of $50,000 a year?

Either one, the son of the Chelsea Milling Company president Howard Holmes, speaks with awe, admiration, and more than a little pride about the demands of road racing which has sought to take his life, twice.

Taking a lighthearted stab (though some may call it blasphemy) at the all encompassing absorption in football, Howdy makes a non-comparison between the rigors of the track and the fumbles in the field. "Unlike football, road racing requires extreme concentration and consistent awareness on every lap," he stresses.

A single lap, for example, may include six or more tire-screaming, mind-bending right and left hand turns within a mile. "When a driver has to run a lap 60 or more times in a race, he wants his speed to have no more than a fraction of a second difference at any time," Howdy explained.

During a lap, Howdy says he may have to shift 25 or 30 times and fluctuate his speeds from 65 to 165 mph. He must also maneuver the $35,000 car among 30 other competing drivers while predicting unpredictable moves or crashes.

Crashups is a word that sends his mother to her car with a good book on the few occasions when she travels to a race but a word for Howdy which obviously holds significance only for other drivers, despite the fact that he's been in two.

"The first was in 1972 and the car was totally destroyed. The second accident happened in 1976 and that time the car was a complete ruin and I spent a year recovering from chest injuries before I was behind the wheel again," he said.

Of the eight years that Howdy has been a racer, four have been under the sponsorship of Jiffy Mixes which his grandparents, the late Mr. and Mrs. Howard Holmes, founded in the early 1900's.

The cars themselves (there are two identical cars and one is used as a backup) are owned by Douglas Shriverson Racing Co. of Adrian which imported them from England where they are made.

Fitted with a Ford, 1600 cc engine, the 1,000-pound fiberglass sleek body generates 220 horsepower with its double overhead cam shaft. The 17-gallon gas tank takes, surprisingly, straight premium pump gas "with an additive to boost the octane to 102," and there are five forward gears for Howdy to shift his way first to the finish line.

In the cockpit, the seat has been molded to conform to the specifics of its only driver, Howdy, and in addition to the necessary panel instruments and pedals, two safety devices include an on-board automatic fire extinguisher and an oxygen hose connected to the helmet to eliminate the driver's breathing toxic fumes in the event of a fire.

This week-end, Howdy, along with the four mechanics and other members of the racing team, will travel to Montreal, Canada for one of a series of races sponsored by the Labatt Brewing Co. Enroute to Canada, they made a "pit stop" in Chelsea, bringing their car which was displayed on North St.

Admiring the envious glances of friends and passersby, Howdy shared the history of his intrigue.

"Traveling to the Indy 500 year after year with my parents made an indelible impression and there is no question that I became interested in becoming a driver during those years. After I went to Watkins Glen, the U. S. Grand Prix, I left with a definite feeling for racing," he said.

Howdy was also attending Eastern Michigan University at the time, studying business management, and "I stayed in school while the Vietnam War was going on before I made my first move to become a racer," he explained.

His move took him to Ann Arbor, where, for a one-man car shop, he became a "gofer," going for this and going for that. Soon after, he owned his own shop, doing prep work for other drivers, and in one summer, he attended a driver's school.

In what seemed to Howdy as no time, he was a professional driver, which over the last eight years, has brought him numerous wins and competitions that have taken him around the country many many times and to Europe.

"Roadracing in Europe is like football in America. It has a wider group of drivers and spectators than in the U.S., where out of 55 or 60 race tracks there are maybe 15 top-notch tracks," he commented.

Because his "work" takes him on the road for six weeks and home, in Ann Arbor, for 10 days, "it leaves little time for personal relationships and I don't even try to have a girlfriend. Who would want to put up with someone who was gone three fourths of the time?" he asked.

Lady Cagers Split in First Week's Action

Chelsea girls basketball team opened their 1978 season by splitting the first two non-league encounters with Manchester and Grass Lake. On Tuesday, Sept. 12, the Bulldogs hosted Manchester and came away with a 53-49 win.

It was a thrilling contest as neither team could gain more than a 4 or 5 point lead. The game was even at 11 to 11 by the end of the first quarter and at the half Manchester led, 27-26.

In the third quarter the Bulldogs pulled ahead, 41-39, behind the shooting of senior co-captain Sheryl Kiel, Nanette Push, and sophomore Jennifer Ringe. The trio accounted for all of Chelsea's 15 third-quarter points.

Action stayed close in the final quarter. Again only three Bulldogs put points on the board, Kiel, Ringe and Mary Boylan, but it was enough to hold off the visitors.

A look at the scorebook showed that the difference was made at the free throw line. Both teams bagged 21 field goals but Chelsea hit 11 of 20 charity tosses while Manchester managed only 7 of 20.

Ringe hit on eight of 16 free throws to keep the Bulldogs in the thick of it. The hustling sophomore finished with 12 points, Kiel also hit double figures with 13, along with 17 rebounds and eight blocked shots.

Push led the scoring with 16 counters. She added seven rebounds and four blocked shots. Boylan chipped in with four points and eight rebounds while Kim Wood, Mary Jo Eisle, Lee Anne Owings and Jeryl Herrick each added two points. Wood also hauled down seven rebounds.

Tammy Collinsworth and Mary Bort did not score but played important roles, Chelsea Coach Jim Winter said.

"Mary came off the bench when we got into a little foul trouble and played some tough defense and got six important rebounds. Tammy is our other co-captain and provides us with a lot of leadership. Few on the team works harder than she does," he said.

Thursday, Sept. 14, when the Bulldogs traveled to Grass Lake, they provided their fans with another close, exciting ball game but this time came out on the sort end of a 53-47 score.

"We gave up more points than on Tuesday but I was more pleased with our defense," Winter commented.

"We were more aggressive and team-oriented than on Tuesday. Grass Lake showed lots of aggressiveness and heart. We had them down by five in the third quarter after they led by two at the half, but they didn't quit," he said.

Chelsea could not get its offense on track in the first quarter and fell behind, 12-5. In the next eight minutes they outscored the girls from Grass Lake, 16 to 11, to pull within two points, 23-21. The siege continued in the

R.R. Crossing Safety Gates Finally OKd

Five years of personal endeavors, as well as village, county and state efforts to have safety devices installed at the Freer Rd. crossing in Chelsea have come to an end, it seems.

ConRail, along with the units of government above, have signed an agreement to do the work.

But, because of inevitable paper work, the installation will not begin "until sometime next year, probably in the spring," according to Cecil Muldoon, senior press representative for ConRail.

"The federal funding has been approved for the project; we have a stockpile of material to complete the job; the agreement has been signed; but there is an enormous amount of paper work that must be done before we can start," Muldoon explained.

Expected to cost approximately $66,850, federal funding will cover 90 percent while the village of Chelsea and Washtenaw county will pay the balance with Road Authority funds.

Attempts to have safety devices installed began more than five years ago when in September of 1973 two young Chelsea girls were killed and a third hospitalized in a car-train collision there. The Rev. Clive Dickins, step-father of Lori Gardner who was killed, and a former pastor of the First United Methodist church in Chelsea made a personal crusade in getting the railroad company (then Penn Central) to put up gates and flashers.

Also working towards the same end have been the village, the county and the state.

"We are relieved to know that all of our efforts will result in the installation, but we would have been happier if this could have taken much less time," Fritz Weber, village administrator, commented.

Community Ed Classes Begin Next Week

Adult academic, enrichment and recreation classes available through the Chelsea Community Education Department will begin the week of Sept. 25. More than 400 adults have enrolled in the various classes available. Registration for classes will continue until 5 p.m., Friday, Sept. 22.

The following classes only need 2 or 3 additional participants in order for the class to be held. Amateur Radio, Basic Interior Design, Microwave Cooking, Small Engine repair and Aviation Ground school. Without these additional registration the classes will not be held.

A new CPR (Cardio Pulmonary Resuscitation) class has been scheduled for Monday nights, 7 to 10 for three weeks. Register now for this new addition.

The following classes are presently closed: Ladies Swim and Trim, Dog Obedience, Guitar, A Little Farming, and Thursday night CPR class.

If you do not receive a call from the Community Education Department you may assume that your class is being held as scheduled. Last chance, register now!

School Enrollment Expected To Drop

An overestimation of approximately 107 students for the 1978-79 school year will result in a reduction of more than $153,000 in the Chelsea School District's budget, Superintendent Raymond Van Meer reported to the Board of Education during their regular meeting Monday, Sept. 18.

"The official enrollment count will not be completed until Sept. 29 but it seems certain that there are at least 100 fewer students than what was projected," Van Meer said.

Because the Board of Education draws up the budget in May before the school year begins, they estimate the number of students who will be enrolled and base their expected revenue on that estimation.

The State of Michigan allows approximately $1,434 per pupil and multiplying that by 107 equals the $153,000 figure.

Between the time when the low enrollment figure was determined and the time the board met, however, a new budget has been prepared by Fred Mills, business manager for the school district, which reduced the actual loss to $35,000.

"We were able to do this by picking up monies as a result of several personnel changes and by incorporating a $23,000 surplus from last year's budget," Van Meer explained. "The state also allows a certain percentage of the $1,400 per pupil stipend when a school district shows a drastic reduction in enrollment," he added.

According to figures released at the board meeting, the single greatest drop in enrollment was in kindergarten classes. In the past several years, about 140 kindergarten students are enrolled. This year, the figure is a low 113.

According to Van Meer, not only did the board expect as many students at all grade levels to enroll this year but they projected that there would be an additional 17 students above last year's figure.

"During our re-assessment of the budget we held two priorities. One, that student programs not be cut or severely reduced and second, that the new budget not affect the employment status of any of the district's employees," Van Meer stated.

"We have had several changes in personnel in the district which means that we will be spending less on salaries. This has saved the budget a sizeable expense which is why we were able to reduce the $153,000 loss to $35,000," Van Meer said.

Of the $35,000 remaining deficit, the board will take formal action sometime in October on the new budget which has reduced each budget item equally. Van Meer said. "The board seemed to accept the premise of the new budget during the meeting Monday but will not take formal action until October," he commented.

Several factors were listed as reasons for the enrollment drop. "By looking at the kindergarten figures it seems clear that families are having fewer children. It is also probably that the district is experiencing an imbalance in the number of people who are moving into the area and those who are moving out," Van Meer said.

Open House Event

To Honor Retirement

An open house honoring the retirement of Charles Curtis from Rockwell International Corp. will be given by his two children, Carol Teed and Rose Reinhart, his wife, Lottie, and their families on Saturday, Sept. 30.

The affair will be held at 13034 Sager Rd., from 1 to 4 p.m.

JV Gridders Drop Novi Contest, 24-2

A late scoring game left Chelsea in the dumps as Novi stole the show in the fourth quarter to claim a 24-2 victory over the junior varsity Bulldogs on Thursday, Sept. 14. Chelsea now stands with a 1-1 record and faces Brighton tonight here at 7 p.m.

It was a defensive struggle throughout the first three quarters with neither team scoring. Chelsea defense looked particularly good in the second quarter while they held Novi on a fourth down and a Novi punt was snapped over the punter's head going out of the end zone and giving Chelsea two points on a safety.

SWIM CLUB TROPHIES: Coaches and Swim Club officers came together on the Charles S. Cameron pool deck to display their trophies earned this summer. Competing in the Washtenaw County Summer League, the club finished first in the lower division dual meet and first in the 13- and 14-year-old boys division. Pictured in back are, from left to right, Helen Thomas, Swim Club president; Larry Reed, pool director; and Marie Lotombio, Swim Club vice-president. In front are Swim Club assisant coaches Jon Oesterle, Laurie Von Hofe, and Dave Johnson. In the club's three-year history it has collected 20 wins and eight losses. It has placed in the state AAU competition and this summer had an A and B relay finish in the top ten rankings in the state listings. The relay team included Dave Nicola, Dave Mason, Mike Mason, and Phil Hoffman. They missed by 5/10 second to qualify for the nationals.

Legislature To Try Compromise On Tax Bill

The legislature will try to head off voter approval of the Headlee tax limitation proposal with some wheeling and dealing on a proposal to cut state property taxes by $400 million while at the same time increasing the income tax rate from 4.6 to 5.6 percent.

The legislature will try to work its magic statutorily and hope that sponsors of the initiative petitions will be satisfied and then urge voters to reject their own proposed constitutional amendments on the November ballot.

The proposal, however, will not reduce state revenues, but simply shift the $400 million from the property tax to the income tax.

The proposal is not the result of a bi-partisan coalition promised last month by House Speaker Bobby Crim (D-Davison) to construct a property tax plan.

The coalition, which leaders hoped would include Richard Headlee—namesake of the Headlee tax limitation proposal—never got off the ground.

Called the "warrant plan," the proposal could save a family of four, with a $25,000 income in a $50,000 home, living in a city levying about 87 mills, roughly $100 in property taxes.

The plan is called a warrant plan because taxpayers will have the option of receiving a certificate, or warrant, from the state listing the taxpayer's deduction. The taxpayer then would take that certificate to the local clerk who would subtract that amount from the property tax bill.

The proposal would not change any dollar levels of individual taxes, but would take the heat off the property taxes being felt by homeowners in the state.

The only real value of the warrant, legislative analysts say, is that it shows people it is a property tax cut.

The plan would also increase the personal income tax exemption from $1,500 to $1,700. The complete plan is expected to cut taxes overall by about $500 million. But those funds would be recovered through increased income tax rates.

Under the plan, renters will likely pay more total taxes. However, those renters who do get a property tax credit would be able to present their warrants to landlords who then could reduce their rents. The landlords would then be reimbursed by the state.

Petition Drive Underway To Stop Private College Grants

A new petition drive has started to block a state law that will give $600 grants to all freshmen students attending Michigan's private colleges.

The State Board of Canvassers has approved the form of the petition that the Michigan Council About Higher Education, a new group supporting public higher education, will begin distributing. The petition asks that the people decide the effectiveness of the grants act at the 1980 election.

The act is a controversial act that will give $600 grants to freshman students at all Michigan private schools, regardless of the student's personal need. The act will be phased in so that eventually all students at private schools, except divinity students, will receive state aid.

Supporters of the petition drive maintain that eventually private schools could get a greater aid than students at public institutions.

Researchers Organize To Fight Cancer Phobia

Formation of a new group of scientists was announced in the Rocky Mountain News. The group was formed to provide "a voice of reason" in debates over alleged cancer-causing substances and counter what is called "rampant cancer phobia" in the nation.

The new association, the American Council on Science and Health, is directed by Elizabeth Whelan, a Harvard School of Public Health researcher. She said it is an independent, non-profit organization based in New York and will remain free of financial ties with the food and chemical industries.

Another good thing happening to old bodies, Clem Webster reported, is inflation. He had this clipping that showed 10 years ago the iron, calcium and other minerals in a human body were worth 88 cent, and now it would bring $3.60. Medical schools now are paying $200 for bodies they got for half that just a few years back. Clem said the kind of news this depends on whether a body is buying or selling, and for his money he'd keep all his minerals in one piece as long as he can.

Yours truly,
 Uncle Lew.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Ever once in a long while, Mister Editor, a politician says something that makes cold, hard sense. I recollect some years back Senator Strom Thurmond, a old war horse of the first water, was asked his reason for marrying a pretty little gal young enough to be his granddaughter. Old Strom said he "rather small perfume" than liniment any day, and he has gone on to back up his words. Him and his wife have three or four children.

About all I thought about his words at the time was, more power to him. But Strom, with his politics stuck somewhere around 1800, is way ahead of his time on this issue. I see by the papers where smelling perfume actual does keep a man more active than smelling liniment. This piece was dealing with how old folks lose their sense of taste and smell and they lose the pleasure of food. When this happens they quit eating, and when this happens, they die. Duke University researchers added apple flavor to apples, meat flavor to meat and so on, and old hospital patients eat more cause they enjoyed it more. On top of this, they found out that perfume testers in France don't lose their sense of smell as fast as the rest of us.

I bring up this item during the session at the country store Saturday night, and the fellows had a few thoughts on the subject. Bug Hookum said another advantage he had saw to keep a old aching body smelling the roses longer is drinking vitamin-fortified booze. Bug said he had heard about mixing firewater with fruit juice to glit a mixture that builds you up while it tears you down, but this item he saw is serious about it. These doctors in California say a big problem with drunks is they don't eat right. When they get on their liquid diets they don't get vitamins they need, like B-1, which keeps their brain active. So these doctors say add vitamin B-1 to the booze and save the cost of keeping these dead-brain drunks in hospital.

General speaking, the fellows favored drinking B-1 straight, but Zeke Grubb pointed out we got to deal with the problem as we find it. So he offered an amendment to Bug's motion that we don't stop with one vitamin. Add all of 'em. We could wind up with a bottle that reads like the side of a corn flakes box, with all the minimum daily requirements spelled out. Zeke said he could see the big color ads in the magazines now. Start your day with a hair of this dog, and get all the quick energy and nourishment of bacon and eggs—but don't drive after breakfast.

Another good thing happening to old bodies, Clem Webster reported, is inflation. He had this clipping that showed 10 years ago the iron, calcium and other minerals in a human body were worth 88 cent, and now it would bring $3.60. Medical schools now are paying $200 for bodies they got for half that just a few years back. Clem said the kind of news this depends on whether a body is buying or selling, and for his money he'd keep all his minerals in one piece as long as he can.

Yours truly,
 Uncle Lew.

Waterloo Interpretive Center Offering Fall Programs for Groups

Heat, humidity, and biting insects of summer are now behind us, while cool, crisp autumn weather lies ahead. Some leaves are already showing their fall colors. Animals are busily making preparations for the coming winter.

Fall is an ideal time to introduce young people to the outdoors, to give them that first experience which may lead to a lifetime of enjoyment and appreciation of wildlife and the natural environment.

The Waterloo Interpretive Center is offering a variety of outdoor experiences for groups again this fall. There are programs available for all ages from pre-school to high school. Here are some of the subject areas from which groups may choose:

How Animals Prepare for Winter: The story of the fall activities carried on by various groups of animals. The animals discussed include insects, reptiles, amphibians, birds and mammals. Recommended for those 6 to 12 years old.

Life In a Bog: Tells the story of the formation and succession of Michigan lakes. It includes a field trip to a floating bog where the group will see insect-eating plants and orchids 'tis season. Recommended for 9 years old to adult.

Michigan Mammals: Introduces the group to some of the common mammals found in southern Michigan. Group will be able to see and touch mammal furs. Recommended for those 5 to 12 years old.

Waterloo's Native Americans: Tells the story of the pre-historic Michigan Indians. The students will be able to see and handle native artifacts, learn how they were made and what they were used for. Recommended for those 6 to 12 years old.

Michigan Geology: Introduces the student to some of the rocks common in the glacial till of southern Michigan. The Introduction stresses the role of rocks and minerals in our lives. Recommended for those 9 to 12 years old.

Animal Homes: Introduces the group to some of the common animals in the area, telling where they live and why. Recommended for those 4 to 7 years old.

Signs of Autumn: An outdoor experience designed to explore the sights, sounds, and signs of the autumn season. Special emphasis will be placed on fall colors, wildflowers and animal activity. Can be geared to any age level.

These programs are designed to last up to 90 minutes. Actual program length will depend upon the age and attention span of the group. Each program will accommodate a maximum of 30 children. Those interested in making reservations may call the Waterloo Interpretive Center at 475-8069.

Pinckney Man Helps His Squadron Win Competitive Award

Navy Aviation Structural Mechanic Airman Larry P. Tipton, whose wife, Sandra, is the daughter of Virginia Grant of 410 Hamburg St., Pinckney, has helped his squadron win a competitive award.

He is assigned to Attack Squadron 147, based at Naval Air Station, Lemoore, Calif., and currently embarked aboard the aircraft carrier USS Constellation.

This ship was awarded the Navy's Battle Efficiency "E" for excellence in every competitive group of exercises this past fiscal year.

Tipton joined the Navy in May 1975.

President Carter Pledges His Support for Farm Co-Operatives

President Carter gave a strong boost to the legislative framework for farmer co-operatives recently in a speech to Midcontinent Farmers Association in Columbia, Mo. He said, "I will always protect the Capper-Volstead Act of 1922, the basis for this organization."

It was the second Administration statement of support for co-operatives in less than a month. In testimony before the Anti-trust Commission, Agriculture Secretary Bob Bergland said, "The Capper-Volstead Act and our marketing order system are in no need of statutory modification." The Commission is studying the limited immunity the Act gives farmer-producers to organize co-operatives, and also the milk market order system.

The first federal government pension was established in 1776 to assist wounded and disabled Revolutionary soldiers, according to the U.S. Labor Department booklet, "Labor Firsts in America."

Fisher-Bordage Engagement Told

Dr. and Mrs. Joseph V. Fisher of Charleston, S.C., formerly of Chelsea, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Joanne Radcliffe Fisher to Georges Bordage, M.D., of Quebec City, son of Edmond Bordage of St. Louis de Kent, New Brunswick, and the late Mrs. Bordage.

Miss Fisher, a graduate of Chelsea High school and the University of Michigan, is completing her doctoral degree in Instructional Development and Technology at Michigan State University. Also completing a PhD degree at Michigan State University, in Educational Psychology, Dr. Bordage is currently Associate Professor in the Office of Medical Education at Laval University in Quebec City. The young couple will be married in Quebec City, Canada.

A December wedding is planned.

PAST NOBLE GRANDS

Members of the Past Noble Grand Club met at the home of Mrs. Clifford Wolfe, at Francisco, on Tuesday, Sept. 12.

A dessert luncheon was served to the members and one guest, Mrs. Ruby Sanders, the mother of Mrs. Mac Packard.

After a short business meeting, the balance of the evening was spent playing games.

The next meeting will be Tuesday, Oct. 10, with a Halloween dress-up party at the home of Euland Packard.

Even though the Patent Office expressed doubts on the value of the invention, it issued a patent to Gail Borden Aug. 19, 1856, for condensed milk. Borden went on to prove the Patent Office's view was sour. # WINANS JEWELRY

Mrs. John H. Terns

Lynette Lou Schiller, John Terns Wed at Zion Lutheran Church

Late summer nuptials were spoken by Lynette Lou Schiller and John H. Terns at Zion Lutheran church, Saturday, Sept. 16.

The Rev. John Morris performed the ceremony for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Plumb of Chelsea and the son of Howard Terns of Onstead and Mrs. Jackie Livermore of Ponca City, Okla.

As the bride approached the altar Mike Lebert, brother of the bridegroom, performed on the guitar. She wore a white, A-line floor-length gown with long sleeves, empire waist, and V-neck, edged in embroidered lace and seed pearls. Her floor-length veil was also adorned with seed pearls.

Beth Hoover of Chelsea was maid of honor. She wore a bright yellow floor-length A-line gown with empire waist. Her long-sleeved jacket of floral design was gathered at the waist. She wore a matching yellow small brim hat and carried a brown basket of dried and silk yellow daisies and babies breath.

Honor attendants were Mrs. Margie Schiller of Chelsea, sister-

-in-law of the bride; Tina Terns of Ypsilanti, sister of the bridegroom; Cindy Griffin of Chelsea; and Gwen Graham of Chelsea. They wore costumes and carried baskets identical to the maid of honor's.

The bride's mother wore a long-sleeved dusty rose dress with draping neckline and matching belt. Ron Collins of Chicago, Ill., was best man. Ushers included Ken Schiller of Chelsea, brother of the bride; Mike Agopian of Ypsilanti, brother of the bridegroom; Tom Taylor of Chelsea; and Tony Woodward of Chelsea.

A reception was held at the Chelsea Fair Center. Myran and Nancy Weir assisted with the wedding cake while Roben Bush, sister of the bridegroom, cut the bridegroom's cake. Dawn Roberts poured punch and Sharon Sweet attended the guest book.

The couple took a five-day honeymoon to Orlando, Fla., and will reside at 521 Wilkinson St., on their return.

The bride is employed with the Chelsea State Bank and the bridegroom is employed with Palmer Motor Sales.

Chelsea Co-Op Nursery Still Has Openings

Chelsea Co-Op Nursery school began classes last week with the three-year-old group enjoying a painting project.

The four-year-olds are looking forward to an exciting year. They learned some new physical activities while using a newly acquired parachute.

Several openings in the afternoon class remain to be filled before that class will be started. If you wish to enroll your child please call Barb Raney, 475-1113 or Sue Machnik, 426-4776.

Susan Mann Enrolls at Colby-Sawyer College

Susan J. Mann of Chelsea was among the more than 315 freshmen students who enrolled at Colby-Sawyer College in New London, N.H., this past week-end. The college, beginning its 142nd year, welcomed a near-record student body of more than 700 for the 1978-79 academic year. Susan is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Mann, Flanders St.

The first proposal for federal legislation to provide old age pensions was in 1907, made by Congressman William B. Wilson (D-Pa.), who became the first Secretary of Labor in 1913, according to the U. S. Labor Department booklet, "Labor Firsts in America."

BOYER-OWINGS: Mr. Duane H. Boyer of Chelsea and Mrs. Eileen Brooks of Manchester have announced the engagement of their daughter, Wanda Michelle, to Brian Douglas Owings, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Owings of Chelsea. The bride-elect is a 1977 graduate of Chelsea High school and is employed as a bookkeeper at KIEI in Ann Arbor. Brian is a 1975 graduate of Chelsea High school and is employed at LithoCrafters in Chelsea and is presently a senior at Eastern Michigan University. A wedding date has not been set.

early in the fourth quarter and made two fine drives for touchdowns and earning both extra points. Chelsea tried a pass with 35 seconds remaining in the game but Novi intercepted and returned it for a touchdown. Again, they scored the extra point to make the score, 24-2.

Chelsea defensive tackles were made by Chris Heaton with 10; Carl Simpson with eight; Sandy McLaughlin, s.x; Sean Peterson, four; Bill Freeman, four; Mike Wade, four; Les Hafner, three; Jeff Dils, two; John Preston, one; Mark Steinaway, one; Jeff Price, one; and Brian Dault, one.

John Preston successfully completed an interception while Craig Thams recovered a fumble. Half-back Carl Simpson was the only back with more than 20 yards as he rushed for 138.

"The loss was discouraging as the team had been showing improvement every week, but we went backwards this week. We will find out if we can turn around when we play Brighton tonight," Coach Jon Schaffner commented.

Picnicking tables, stoves, shelters and play areas accommodate picnickers throughout the 10 Metroparks serving the citizens of Wayne, Macomb, Oakland, Livingston and Washtenaw counties. Groups of 50 or more persons should register at the park office in advance of their picnic date so as to help scheduling of picnic use at the Huron-Clinton Metroparks.

Today's energy-efficient heat pump keeps heating costs from going up the chimney.

In the old days you had to stay close to the hearth to keep warm because most of the heat from a blazing fireplace went right up the chimney. Even with today's modern furnaces, some of the heat goes up the chimney and is lost outdoors. Not so with a heat pump.

Now the energy-efficient heat pump can keep you warm in winter by moving natural heat always present in the outdoor air inside your home.

The heat pump is generally the most energy-efficient way to heat homes, apartments, offices and commercial buildings because it makes good use of natural heat. During periods of low temperatures supplementary heat is added automatically.

In summer the heat pump saves on cooling costs, too, because it's also an energy-efficient air conditioner.

So consider a heat pump for your next heating system—because using natural heat is a natural way to conserve energy and to keep heating costs from going up the chimney.

For more information on the heat pump, call or stop in at any Detroit Edison Customer Office.

Booster Club Seeks Wider Participation

The officers and committee chairmen of the Chelsea Athletic Boosters Club would like to express their appreciation to all those who worked at the Fair.

Staffing the gates each year is one of the club's largest money making projects for which 10 percent of the gate is earned. One other significant project during the year is the Spring Candy Sale in which the club manages distribution of candy and collection of the receipts from the athletes.

If you have a student in any sport, Middle school or High school, at any time during the year, you are a member of the Boosters Club and will from time to time be called to help with the various projects going on throughout the year. Good co-operation and dependability on the part of all concerned will enable the club to assign duties to a wider range of people and therefore depend on less of the few who always seem to "find time to help."

Some of you may have noticed the new fence being erected around the athletic fields. The installation of the fence is a project of the Boosters Club which will be a benefit to all athletes and to the maintenance of school property. Workers are needed to complete the project and the club would greatly appreciate any assistance available. Work parties will be at the field every Saturday at 8 a.m. until the fence is complete.

Support of athletic programs in our schools is our major concern and in order to help provide necessary equipment and services we need the help of all parents. Recent purchases for athletic programs include a first-aid table at the Middle school, a Mini-Leaper for the weight room and T-shirts for all sports.

The next meeting of the Boosters Club is scheduled for Monday, Sept. 25, at 8 p.m. in the high school cafeteria (teacher's dining room). This is the annual meeting and will include the election of officers for the ensuing year.

Special Milk Program Being Discontinued By Many Schools

The Special Milk Program, established in 1954 to relieve the dairy price support program, has been in disfavor among many school districts for years. Now, in recent study shows that several thousand schools have discontinued the Special Milk Program since 1975—the year that a 1973 law became effective requiring additional paper and work. The 1973 law required schools to make two half-pints of milk available at lunch time for needy children—one-half pint to be charged to the Special Milk Program, the other to the School Lunch Program. Another major reason for schools dropping the Special Milk Program was to protect the identities of students who received free milk.

TODAY'S INVESTOR

By Thomas E. O'Hara

Q. When I discussed buying a particular stock with my broker, he suggested that if I decided to buy it he would recommend I place a "limit order" for it. I don't know what he means by that.

A. When you place a "limit order" with your broker, you specify the maximum price you will pay if you are buying or the minimum price you will take if you are selling. While you may not say so, the broker will understand that if he can get a better price for you in either case, he is to do so. While the danger in the limit order is that your order cannot be executed because your order is a fraction away from the price at which a trades take place, there are times it is well to use this device.

For instance, if the market for the stock is very thin and the price from order-to-order varies considerably from the last trade or from what you thought the price might be, a limit order would bring the price, if your trade was executed, into the range you wanted.

Q. I have been investing every time I accumulate about $500 and this has enabled me to build a good holding of securities over the years. With recent increases in brokerage costs, I now find that my commission cost is running 8-10 percent of my investment. Is there some way I can reduce these charges?

A. There are a number of ways you can reduce brokerage charges and we see a growing number of people using them. The biggest saving can be made if the company you want to own has a dividend reinvestment plan. About 1,000 companies now have such a plan. Of these, about 300 pay all the commission costs for purchases and sales you make through the plan once you have bought the first share. The others make a small charge, but this will be just a fraction of what you are now paying.

There are a number of the regular brokerage houses that have some form of lower cost commission plan available. They often do not give these much publicity. Ask the firm you do business with if they have a low cost commission plan available; and if they do, use it.

There are also a growing number of "discount" firms available. These run ads in the papers and magazines and also are listed in the telephone classified directory. Some of these require you to do an annual minimum amount of business with them to qualify for their lowest charge and many do not have a discount on the size orders you are placing; but if you're business and theirs fits, you can save money. We've had no complaints from anyone using these firms.

Ask the GOVERNOR

By William G. Brennan

Question: I understand you recently signed a law which changes a portion of the state inheritance tax. What does it do exactly?

Governor: The new act exempts the money a surviving spouse receives from a survivor's benefit plan, annuity retirement plan or pension from state inheritance taxes. Under the old law, the survivor benefit plans were subject to a lump sum inheritance tax on the entire amount. Money received from an annuity to a surviving spouse was discounted to its present value using longevity tables and 6 percent interest rates. This meant, in some instances, the surviving spouse might never receive all the money and that the tax liability could exceed the spouse's ability to pay.

The new law will benefit those who need help most in these inflationary times and should help encourage couples to save for their sunset years through retirement programs. Surviving spouses will still pay federal income taxes on a yearly basis and state income taxes if their yearly survivor benefits are more than $7,500, but they will no longer be liable for the lump-sum state inheritance tax.

Question: Boy, am I mad! I bought this really neat sports car with everything. I can't really say it's a lemon, but it is foreign, so the shop takes a long time to do anything, even the routine stuff, because they have to order parts. This time they made me pay for everything because my warranty is up, but they have had this car more than two months out of the year I have owned it. Can they do this?

Governor: Recent legislation enacted in Michigan (Public Act 133 of 1978) will require repair shops to extend the warranty on any product if they have to keep it more than 10 days in the shop. For example, if they keep your car two weeks, they have to extend the warranty period two weeks. The law will go into effect next April. In the meantime, if you have a complaint about the mechanics who are not doing a good job, call the Secretary of State's Bureau of Automotive Regulation at (800) 292-4204 from anywhere in the state, or at 357-5108 from Wayne, Oakland or Macomb counties.

Question: We can't move into our new house for another month, but we ordered a new refrigerator right away. Now the store is trying to get us to pay interest already and they won't even be delivering it until we move in. That's not fair.

Governor: It is not only unfair, it is illegal. I recently signed legislation which forbids anyone from charging interest on undelivered goods which have been bought on a finance contract. The law is effective immediately, so I suggest you call the store (or the finance company if your contract was sold) and tell them that your move has been delayed, that you will advise them when to deliver your refrigerator and that you are aware of Public Act 120 of 1978, which prevents them from charging interest until delivery is made. They may not be aware of the change.

Workshop Scheduled On Rabbit Production

Dr. Richard Aulerich, MSU Extension Specialist in fur bearing animals, will conduct a workshop on rabbits for home meat production. The focus will be on management for meat production on a small scale and will include breeding, feeding, housing, health, and butchering.

Whether you are a commercial breeder, fancier or just interested in putting some high quality protein on your table, this workshop will be of help and interest.

The date, Thursday, Sept. 28, at the Extension Office (the County Service Center) 4133 Washtenaw Ave., from 8 to 10 p.m. Call Ken Ludwig at 973-9510 for further information.

Senator Bursley Named To Head Cleary College

Cleary College Board of Trustees has announced the appointment of State Senator Gilbert E. Bursley as its new president.

Board Chairman Dr. Arthur Sempliner said: "We have searched carefully for the type of leadership Cleary College most needs at this time. We think Gil Bursley can provide this. He is well known and respected in educational-legislative circles throughout Michigan—and nationally. He has chaired Michigan's Senate Education Committee; he has sponsored legislation supporting both private and public institutions; he presently serves on several national organizations, the Fund for the Improvement of Post Secondary Education (FIPSE), the National Assessment of Educational Progress, and the Education Commission of the States."

"Senator Bursley will assume office immediately," said Dr. Sempliner, "but does not wish to accept any salary until after his Senate term expires Dec. 31. We recognize that he will need time to meet his legislative obligations this fall and to pursue his campaign for election to the University of Michigan Board of Regents. We are confident that these pieces will all fit together and that Gilbert Bursley will provide the leadership we are looking for at Cleary."

Senator Bursley had the following statement to make:

"I am honored and challenged by this opportunity. Cleary College's fine record in placement of graduates is one of the country's best. But an already good college can be improved and that's the challenge. We look for a marked upswing in enrollment, acquisition of more of the finest office and business machines of value in teaching and a further improvement in a respected and professional faculty. There are many exciting plans for improved facilities and broadened curriculum, but my greatest dedication will be to see that every student gets the best possible education followed by the best possible job opportunities."

Lady Cagers Split First Week's Games

opening of the third quarter as the Bulldogs grabbed the lead and pulled ahead at one point by five.

But that lead was hard to hold when Kiel and Boylan each picked up their fourth fouls and had to sit down. Chelsea kept it close but never regained the lead.

Once again Nanette Push, a junior starting her third year of varsity competition, led the scoring by pumping in 22 points and hauling in six rebounds. After that, point production dropped drastically.

Push was followed by Ritger's six points, and five assists; Kiel's five points and seven rebounds; Wood's five points, six rebounds and four steals; Collinsworth four points and four assists; Boylan's two points, nine rebounds and seven steals; and Lori Miles' two points.

It's Rämpy's theory that if you spend time, effort and money to see that your customers are satisfied, they'll come back again... and again.

That's exactly why Rämpy recently bought the most modern computer diagnostic system available, the Sun 2001. It's one of the few things in this world that seems to make everyone happy.

The mechanics like it because it makes their job easier... it can spot a small problem before it develops into a big one... and it saves a lot of sweat looking for problems that just don't want to be found.

Customers like it because the computer print-out they receive allows them to see just exactly what was needed to get their cars running at peak performance. And, that means fewer service calls in the long haul. The real problems are spotted right away.

And Rämpy likes it because he can see it helps keep his customers satisfied.

Bring your car in for a taste of the future today... the Sun 2001... at Rämpy Chevrolet.

Gridders of the Week

TIM BAREIS (64) is a 5'11", 201-pound tackle returning to the Bulldog line of gridders as a senior playing second year on varsity. Whether playing offensive or defensive tackle, Bareis defines his success as a football player as having "a lot of determination and motivation to do what the position requires." Bareis says, "requires sustaining blocks and getting downfield." Defensively, a tackle must "get off the line and get to where the ball is going. Defense is a stronger position but I think that while strength always helps, you've got to have the will to block and do the job right," he commented. On the team's strengths and weaknesses, Bareis said "a lot of people ask why the defense is better than the offense and I think it is because the offense hasn't learned how to sustain blocks for a long enough time to let the ball carrier through. We're going to see some changes in the near future while the offense gets it together and then we're going to have a knock-out team," he predicted. Tim is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Bareis, 306 Grant St.

SCOTT PRICE (69), a returning second-year varsity member and a 6'0" 198-pound senior has played football since 7th grade as an offensive center, defensive tackle and occasional defensive end. It was when Price was in a tackle position that the ball just seemed to land in my hands," during the recent encounter with Novi when Novi fumbled in the Chelsea first-yard line and Price recovered the ball. "When it happened I just got on top of the ball and protected it with all I had," Price said. His job as center involves "snapping the ball to the quarterback and then blocking the opponent to let the ball carrier through," he explained. "Tackle is a more aggressive position that requires a lot of guts sometimes and my job as defensive end means that I contain the outside and stop any plays that come to the end," he added. Describing his love for football, Price said "I like the sport more than any other because it's a great way to take out revenge when I'm on the field." Price also plays forward and center in basketball. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Price, 527 Wilkinson St.

SCOTT POWERS (63), offensive guard and defensive linebacker for the Chelsea varsity Bulldog gridders has been playing football since 7th grade and is a senior entering his second year on varsity. At 5'10" and 180 pounds, Scott once played tackle for Chelsea and during his freshman and junior varsity years was consecutively voted Most Valuable Lineman and Most Valuable Defensive Linebacker. While Scott says he likes playing all positions, he prefers the linebacker slot because "you have to watch every play and be constantly on the ready for a challenge. The most important and exciting aspect of being a linebacker is guessing who is going to come at you and to meet him before he makes a gain," he said. As offensive guard Scott must block the man in front of him long enough to let the ball carrier through. "Chelsea has been sticking together as a team all season and with a little hard work on the offense we shouldn't have any problems the rest of the year," Scott commented. "If we don't work together everyone goes off in his own direction and the team isn't effective," he added. Scott is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Powers, 12930 Scio Church Rd.

Poll Finds Inflation Top Concern

A Louis Harris poll reports Americans feel inflation is the dominant issue in this year's elections. For the first time since 1975, a majority of those sampled felt a recession is on the way.

The number of Americans who said prices are rising faster than a year ago had risen to 74 percent. Last summer, the total was 46 percent. People are so worried about spiraling prices that 54 percent expect a recession within a year.

Sixty-eight percent said they would accept a lower hike in pay if they had some assurances the cost of living was being brought under control. Twenty-four percent said they would prefer a higher increase without assurances.

The poll reports closely parallel a report by Leo Shapiro and Associates for the American Farm Bureau Federation. Shapiro found 68 percent of his sample feels things are getting worse, and the majority cited inflation as the primary concern.

LEGISLATIVE LOG

An Overview of Action on Bills
In the Michigan Legislature

Week of Sept. 11-15

In the Senate . . .

While the House was wrestling with the transportation package this week, the Senate addressed itself to another controversial issue: state funding for county sheriffs. Members of the Upper Chamber approved, and sent to the House for its review, a bill allocating some $8.5 to $9 million to county sheriffs to beef up their law enforcement services during the upcoming fiscal year. It was the Senate's second go-around on this issue following a gubernatorial veto of a similar measure passed a few months ago. The Governor's objections to the bill have apparently been resolved, however, thus making it likely that, if the House approves the bill, county sheriffs will receive some state funding.

The Senate also passed a bill this week which is aimed at providing tax relief for farmers in Michigan. The measure, which was sent to the House for its consideration, would require agricultural land to be assessed upon the basis of its production capabilities, rather than its commercial value. In addition, Senate members passed bills appropriating $122 million to support Michigan's 28 community and junior colleges and establishing a uniform, budgeting system for local governments.

In the House . . .

The House took most Capitol observers by surprise this week when its members gave their stamp of approval to the two most controversial bills contained in the proposed transportation package. By a narrow margin, the House okayed the addition of two cents per gallon to the state's gasoline and diesel fuel taxes and an increase of between 30 and 35 percent in license plate fees. The funding bills are designed to raise some $147 million annually in new transportation revenues that combined with general fund money earmarked for transportation by the House last week, would pay for new construction and repair of Michigan's road system and help underwrite cost of a host of new and expanded public transportation systems, including mass transit in the Detroit area. The measures must also pass the Senate, however, before they can take effect, and it's still too early to tell whether the Upper Chamber will concur with the House.

Other major action in the House this week took place in committees. Several measures were reported to the full House for debate, including new Medicaid fueling measure. The previously approved Medicaid appropriations bill was vetoed by the Governor due to his objections to a proposed cut off of funds for welfare abortions. As reported, the bill would allow Medicaid funds to be used for this purpose, but an attempt to reinstate the limitation is expected during debate on the bill next week. Also reported from House committees this week were bills to appropriate funds for community colleges and capital outlay projects during the upcoming 1978-79 fiscal year; require people to buy auto license plates on their birthdays; allow hot pursuit arrests by police officers outside their jurisdictions; eliminate jail sentences for a number of offenses; and provide state funding for county sheriffs' departments.

From the Governor . . .

No bills have yet been sent to the Governor for his signature this session.

Governor Milliken spent a good share of his time this week working with House leaders in a successful effort to gain support for his proposed transportation package. By the end of the week, he was able to convince a majority of the members of the House that the package would be of benefit to state residents.

Earlier in the week, he participated in the unveiling of a model of what would be the first state-owned chemical disposal and reclamation site in the nation. The site would include an incinerator and a clay-lined landfill. At that ceremony, he urged the Legislature to act promptly on a bill authorizing construction of the proposed disposal complex.

The first pension was established in 1636 by the Plymouth colony for disabled soldiers, according to the U.S. Labor Department booklet, "Labor Firsts in America."

Series of Thefts Reported In Wilkinson St. Area

A rash of thefts on Wilkinson St. in the past few months, including a reported storage shed robbery at 206 Wilkinson last week, have Chelsea Police urging area residents to "keep a sharp eye open for anyone or anything that might look suspicious," Police Chief George Meranuck said.

A storage shed belonging to Willie Jay Allen, 206 Wilkinson, was reportedly ransacked with $800 worth of fishing equipment and tools taken sometime between Sept. 10 and Sept. 14.

According to the report, Allen had last been in the unlocked shed on Sept. 10 and when he returned on the 14th, the items were missing. "We have no idea exactly when the theft took place or who did it," Meranuck said.

In the past two months, a number of Wilkinson St. robberies and gasoline larcenies have been reported to the Chelsea police who have little evidence or clues to the solving of the crimes.

"Our guess is that whoever is doing them is the same person and that he or she lives in the area, and travels by foot. If people on Wilkinson St. keep their eyes open and watch what goes on around them we may be able to resolve some or all of these cases," Meranuck commented.

Keith Jordan Promoted With Army in Germany

Keith D. Jordan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Jordan, 7811 Grand St., recently was promoted to Army private first class while serving as a mechanic with the 37th Field Artillery in Herzogenaurach, Germany.

Jordan entered the Army in June of last year.

The private is a 1977 graduate of Dexter High school.

Real Estate

By PAUL FRISINGER

REALTOR

BUYERS ARE NOT NAIVE

Your home represents an important financial asset. When the time comes to sell, put yourself in the buyer's shoes. He's in the same financial boat and will want the most house he can get for the money. Frankly, the stakes are too high to play the do-it-yourself game in this monetary arena. The best advice is—let an expert sell it.

"But why a Realtor, when I can sell it myself and save the commission?" you may ask. "Right?" ... WRONG!

The average buyer is far from naive. Before you even start serious negotiations, he'll expect you to deduct the Broker's commission for his benefit. Then you're on your own in the critical areas of financing, mortgages, contracts and deeds, etc. Your home will be exposed to any and all unaccompanied strangers who knock.

A Realtor will save you these headaches and dangers. He'll protect your interest and sell your house at the best price. Statistics have proven this time and again.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at FRISINGER REALTY CO., 935 S. Main St., Chelsea. Phone: 475-3683; evenings 475-2621. We're here to help!

Frosh Gridders Win Opener Against Novi

Overcoming internal troubles, as well as those presented by their opponents on the field, Chelsea freshmen football squad triumphed during the first game of the season, downing Novi, 14-6.

Chelsea lost two strong players in the first 15 seconds of a scrimmage early this month, both with broken bones. Then, in the Tuesday, Sept. 12 game in Novi, Novi scored a touchdown late in the first half putting Chelsea on the defensive.

Ross Murphy of Chelsea broke off a tackle on the first play from the scrimmage behind good blocking from R. Poljan, D. Harrison, J. Whitesall, J. Klink, D. Englis, T. Boyd, and G. Van Meer. Murphy sprinted 32 yards before being pushed out of bounds but the drive stalled and Chelsea was forced to punt.

Before the first half was over, a bad snap on a Novi punt went out of the end zone, scoring two points for Chelsea, and a touchdown by Novi set the score at 2-0 for half-time.

Numerous opening game penalties for both teams marked the first and second half, slowing down the action. Not until late in the third quarter did Chelsea land a big play when punter Toby Boyd launched a beautiful 65-yard punt, under a heavy rush, which sailed over the Novi backs and was downed by Ray Williams on Novi's one-yard line.

Chelsea's defense held, forcing Novi to punt from their own end zone while the Bulldogs, led by Jeff Lantis, blocked the punt, put on a strong rush, and Toby Boyd recovered it for a touchdown. Score, 8-6.

Fourth quarter action was just as exciting with Chelsea finally sustaining a drive without a major penalty. Rushing by quarterback Steve Grau, fullback Gary Van Meer, and tailback Ross Murphy behind fine blocking led a 55-yard drive, culminating in a one-yard plunge touchdown by Gary Van Meer. Again, the extra point attempt failed, leaving the score at 14-6.

A final Novi drive was stalled by Van Meer's second interception of the game from his line-backer position.

While Chelsea suffered eight penalties in their 110 yards, the defense was good throughout led by end Ray Williams and inside linebacker Todd Sprague with 11 and eight tackles respectively. Other tacklers of note were Lantis with seven; Murphy, seven; Boyd, seven; Van Meer, six; Peterson, five; Grau, five; and Poljan, five. Van Meer had two interceptions and Dave Peterson, one.

The offense sputtered most of the game, however, Ross Murphy rushed 18 times for 83 yards; quarterback Steve Grau rushed six times for 33 yards; and fullback Gary Van Meer rushed 12 times for 36 yards. Split end Jeff Lantis caught two passes and punter Toby Boyd footed five for a 38.2-yard average.

Coach Wayne Welton commented that "we played well for an opening ballgame, but we must correct the missed assignments and reduce our penalties."

Boating and fishing are popular at three lakes in southeastern Michigan—Metro Beach Metropark near Mt. Clemens borders Lake St. Clair, while Stony Creek Metropark near Rochester-Utica features 600-acre Stony Creek Lake and Kensington Metropark near Brighton-Milford has the 1,200-acre Kent Lake.

MOVING UP: Named after the professional English soccer team, the two-year-old Chelsea Blues has stepped up from their farm-league status this year to join an area-wide traveling team. On Saturday, Sept. 16 they played their first game in the Great Lakes League against the Livonia Lancers and conceded victory to the experienced team, 1-5. Their next game will be in Redford with

Cross Country Teams Bounce Back for Win

Following losses by both the varsity and junior varsity cross country teams in their opening meets, the two jumped back for their first home meets, tromping Novi on Thursday, Sept. 14.

Chelsea's varsity harriers met Jackson Tuesday, Sept. 12 to face powerful Lumen Christi and Tecumseh. Chelsea dropped a 19-38 decision to Lumen Christi and 19-38 to Tecumseh. Placing were Pat Murphy, 4th, 17:15; Mark Beyer, 6th, 17:36; Jeff Bradley, 7th, 17:37; Bob Schleede, 8th, 18:19; and Rich Stephens, 12th, 18:40.

Little Bulldogs conceded victory to Tecumseh, 22-35, on the same day, with Bob Benedict leading the team with a 18:15 to place second.

Chelsea sprang back, however, on Thursday, Sept. 14, when the varsity opened their home season with a 36-24 win over Novi. Senior co-captain Pat Murphy scored high for Chelsea with a fine time of 17:11 to place second. Just behind Murphy were Jeff Bradley, 4th, with 17:47; Mark Beyer, 5th, with 17:53; Bob Schleede, 6th, with 18:13; Bob Benedict, 7th, with 18:17; Scott Beyer, 8th, with 18:21; and Rich Stephens, 10th with 18:53. "These were very pleasing performances, especially the efforts of Pat Murphy and Bob Benedict," Coach Pat Clarke commented.

Christian Education Sunday To Be Observed At St. Paul Church

Christian Education Sunday will be celebrated at St. Paul church this Sunday, Sept. 24. Included in this special day are the message during the morning worship service at 10:30, followed by an open house for all church school classes, and an all church pot-luck.

The morning message, "Living the Word," introduces the new church school curriculum being implemented this fall. "Living the Word" is part of a large curriculum project entitled Christian Education: Shared Approaches, sponsored by 12 denominations.

St. Paul church is using "Living the Word" curriculum this fall in classes for 3-year-olds through high school students. Third grade through high school ages meet at 9 a.m. for classes, while 3-year-olds through 2nd graders meet at 10:30, during the morning worship service.

Definition. Platform: Something a candidate stands on before election and falls down on afterward.

Church Women To Host Area Workshop Sept. 28

All women who are interested in children are urged to attend the Area III Fall Workshop next Thursday, Sept. 28 from 9 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. at the First United Methodist church.

All activities of the day will center on the theme "Ministry to Children" as women prepare for 1979 which has been designated as the International Year of the Child.

While enjoying coffee at 9 a.m., women may examine hand-made craft items made by refugees and admire artwork done by children of Church Women United members.

Worship will begin at 9:30 a.m. followed by a presentation on Human Rights. A salad luncheon will be served at noon by a committee of the United Methodist Women.

During the afternoon, each participant will be able to attend one of five "Share Shops," including 1) Variety of approaches at the local level, 2) Legislation concerning children, 3) Child Abuse, 4) Parenting, and 5) Education.

A half-hour concert by the Balladiers from Adrian High school will be a highlight of the day.

To pre-register, call Sherry Kruger, 475-2589. Cost is $1.75 and child care will be provided free, but children should bring a sack lunch.

The first state to pass a pension bill was Arizona in 1914, but the law was ruled unconstitutional, according to the U. S. Labor Department booklet, "Labor Firsts in America."

Lake Property Owners Assoc. Continue Fight Against Newport

Following the unanimous approval of a new Newport Beach Club House on Dexter-Pinckney Rd., by the Dexter Township Zoning Board late last month, the disgruntled Portage and Base Lakes Property Owners Association has vowed to continue their fight against the construction regardless of the vote.

"This is a flagrant disregard to the concerns and well-being of Dexter, Webster, and Hamburg township residents," Doug Smith executive officer and spokesperson of the association declared after more than 75 citizens expressed their objections to the new club house building during the public hearing.

Three of the five-member Dexter Township Zoning Board gave both preliminary and final site approval to a modern three-story, seven apartment, club house which had been presented by the Zoning Board chairman and owner of the Newport Beach Club House, Thomas Ehman. Because the request was a personal one, Ehman had stepped down as chairman while the fifth member was absent from the public hearing.

"Our foremost concern at this point is in regard to the type of sewage disposal system Mr. Ehman plans to use in the construction," Bruce Chapman, president of the association, commented during their regular monthly meeting recently.

"Our association's function is to see to the health, safety and welfare of the residents on and near Portage and Base Lakes, and we are going to be very sure that whatever type of disposal system is used is one that will not threaten the lifestyles of the people, or the water quality of the lake, Chapman continued.

To this end, board members of the more than 350-member strong association have been in constant communication with both the county and state health departments and state Water Quality Division of the Department of Natural Resources in an attempt to follow the proceedings of Ehman's application for a sewage disposal permit.

"As of today, our department has not received a permit application from Mr. Ehman," Berry Johnson of the Washtenaw County Health department stated Monday, Sept. 18.

Before construction can begin on the club house (and Ehman said at the public hearing he expected to start by the end of September), a permit must be received, reviewed and approved by one of the three departments listed above.

Which department receives the permit depends on how many gallons of water a day the building is expected to use. According to Johnson, if the amount is under 10,000 gallons a day, the county will handle the permit and if it is over 10,000 gallons it goes to the state. "I don't anticipate that the building will generate 10,000 gallons a day," Johnson said.

Because I don't have the details of the application I can't make a statement about the type of disposal system, which will be required, or what the impact may be. I do know that under our requirements for this kind of structure, the system will have to be more than 100 feet from the water," Johnson commented.

"Before any decision is reached we will make an on-site visit and discuss with the local residents any problems that they may be aware of such as flooding that exists at different times of the year but would not be apparent at the time of the visit," Johnson continued.

"People who live in the area have better first-hand information of the land, and we are open to this input. In some cases it may have an impact on our decision," he added.

Shalom Dedicates New Church Building

Shalom American Lutheran congregation of 134 members will long cherish memories of the new church dedication in Pinckney, which took place Sept. 10. Approximately 225 people attended the combined dedication and worship service held at 1 p.m. on that date. Many friends from the community, as well as visitors from Mt. Clemens, Pontiac, Dearborn, Lincoln Park, Livonia, to name a few, shared this important occasion.

The Rev. Reginald Holle, newly elected Bishop of American Lutheran Church, Michigan District, performed his first official act at Shalom's dedication. He was guest speaker for the sermon, "The Living Stone."

It was so very right that the Rev. J. Philip Wahl, regional director, Division of Service for Mission in America, A.L.C., was present. He has been Shalom's church life picture from the time the acreage was purchased for the establishment of a Pinckney Mission. The Rev. Wahl was also instrumental in the securing of Pastor Ronald E. Rein to organize an American Lutheran church in this area.

S. McCallum and G. Merritt represented Merritt, Cole & McCallum, architect and engineering firm. Mr. and Mrs. D. McDewitt (construction manager) were also present.

Dedication booklets were handed out by ushers George Neuman, William Lange, Donald Gibb and Dennis Lange, along with the usual Sunday bulletin, as the worshippers gathered outside the church entrance for initial ceremonies.

Special instrumental music was played by Mrs. Marlene Rein, Debbie, Paul, and David Rein, and Cheryl Gibb. Dawn and Karen McGowan sang vocal numbers.

Mark Gibb served as acolyte; Morbert Faeth, Bible bearer; Susanne Dlugosch and Amy Lange, bearers of the Christian and American flags, respectively.

Dexter youngster Stephanie Grant, her brother Jack, and friend Brock Johnson received a letter of thanks from the Multiple Sclerosis Foundation Friday, Aug. 25, for a recent donation of the proceeds from a puppet show put on at Stephanie's house Aug. 5.

Entitled "The Haunted House," the show garnered $5.85 from the sale of refreshments including popcorn, pink lemonade, grape drink, and iced tea, which was sent to the foundation to aid the continuing search for a cure for Multiple Sclerosis.

Antiquarians Begin Fall Programs

The Antiquarians met on Wednesday, Sept. 13, at the home of Jan Schmidt for the annual pot luck, which starts the 1978-79 program.

As usual, many delicious dishes were sampled by all, and four new members, Dorothy Henes, Ruth Gould, Vivian Kelly and Donna Palmer were welcomed into the group.

The Antiquarians are looking forward to many interesting future programs, which will include a trip to historical Greenmead in Livonia, an overnight trip to Spring Lake to visit the Shaker Shop, "Show and Tell" with Don Johnson and talks on rare books, Hummels, patterned glass spoons, clocks and toys. Guests will be welcome at several of the programs.

Aikido Self-Defense Class Offered

A class in the scientific Japanese art of self-defense, Aikido, will be offered through the Chelsea Community Schools program, beginning Monday, Sept. 25.

Unlike Karate and other forms of self-defense, Aikido does not involve opposing force against force. Rather, the method is to develop powers of balance, co-ordination and timing so that an attacker may be subdued without injury. The practitioner of Aikido (which means "the Way of Harmony with the Force of Nature") blends his or her movement do become one with the attacker, so that the attacker's aggressive movement and power causes him to virtually throw himself.

Purely defensive, Aikido involves no hitting or kicking and no attack. Unlike Judo, it involves no competition. One practices with a partner, but there is no winner or loser, since both strive to help each other and make harmony. The "attacker" is thrown or pinned in a graceful and almost effortless way.

Aikido is a perfect form of self-defense for women, older people, or those who are not unusually strong. It depends not upon muscular strength, but upon the development of timing, speed, balance, and the ability to remain calm under stress.

Medical authorities have described Aikido as the most scientific of the martial arts. Because of this, and because of its ability to subdue and control a violent person without injuring him, it is widely used by police departments around the world. It is used extensively by the Tokyo Police Department's Riot Control Squad, the FBI, and police departments from Belgium to Hawaii, to Jackson.

Classes will be taught by Bob Goyer, a Black Belt whose instruction will be supervised by Takashi Kushida (shown in the photograph). Sensei Kushida is a 7th degree Black Belt and head instructor of Yoshinkai Aikido for all of North America. Classes will meet Monday nights from 7:30 to 9 at Beach Middle school for the next 12 weeks. They are open to any Chelsea area resident 15 years old or older, and will cost $28. To register, come in the Community Education office at Chelsea High school.

No special equipment is needed. Many students may wish to purchase a Judo or Aikido uniform, but this is not necessary. You should wear sturdy, loose fitting clothing without metal buckles, rivets, or zip-pers (sweat pants, draw-string or elastic waistband trousers of heavy cotton are fine). Those with questions may call the Community Ed. Office 475-9330 or Goyer at 994-5125.

FFA Notes

Chelsea FFA officers held their first meeting of the new season and also attended an up-date meeting in Adrian where state staff and state and Region II officers present chapters with new ideas and information for the 1978-79 year.

The FFA will be trying several new ideas and additional input is welcome.

A successful executive is one who can delegate all the responsibility, shift all the blame, and appropriate all the credit.

New Rules Cover Labeling of Wine

The government recently issued rules setting new standards for the labeling of wine. Under the rule, a wine claiming to be made from a specific variety of grapes—such as Cabernet Sauvignon or Pinot Noir—must be composed of 75 percent of wine made from that particular grape.

The law now allows a wine to be labeled a varietal if it is made up of only 51 percent of the grape mentioned. An exception to that provision was granted for Concord wine because 75 percent of that grape would make the wine too strong.

The rules, which apply to imported and domestic wine, also provide:

—Wine claiming to be from a specific country, state, or county must consist of at least 75 percent of wine from the place;

—Wine claiming to come from a specific grape growing region will consist of at least 85 percent grapes from the named region.

—The term, "American," may be used on labels instead of the word, "Domestic."

—Wine made from grapes grown in one state but bottled or "finished" in an adjacent state may bear the name of the state where the grapes were grown.

—If two or three types of grapes are listed on the label, the percentage of each variety must be shown, with the combination equaling 100 percent.

Quality, Temperature, Humidity Needed for Storing Vegetables

Successful home storage of vegetables involves two essential factors: high quality produce and proper storage conditions.

Washtenaw County Horticulturist Bobbi Lawrence explains that starting with high quality produce is necessary because quality never improves under storage; the best you can hope for is to maintain the quality you start with. She says that it's more likely that quality will deteriorate because of less-than-ideal storage conditions.

"Temperature and humidity are the most important aspects of the storage environment," Lawrence says. Most important crops have a certain range of temperatures and a humidity level at which they store best. Often this combination of conditions is very difficult to provide in the home.

"High humidity is especially difficult," Lawrence points out, "unless you have a damp, unheated basement storage room. Temperatures of 32-40 degrees F. and 90-95 percent humidity should be fairly easy to maintain there. And these are just what the doctor ordered for cabbages, cauliflower, potatoes and Chinese cabbage."

The same temperature range plus even higher humidity—90-95 percent—is recommended for carrots, parsnips, beets, salsify, turnips and rutabagas. Layering these crops with moist sand or leaves in a new, clean garbage can is one way to provide these conditions. You can keep the can in a cool basement or bury it in the garden. If you bury it, cover it with several inches of straw topped with soil to keep the material inside from freezing.

If your basement storage area is good for potatoes—which require 45-50 degrees F. and 90 percent humidity—it won't be so good for onions because they will root and sprout under those conditions. A dry, unheated attic room where produce won't freeze is one possibility for onions.

Onions for storing should be picked after the tops die down and then they should be dried in a well ventilated place for a week or 10 days. Store them in slatted crates or mesh bags or in thin layers on shelves.

Low humidity and warmer temperatures—50-60 degrees—are best for pumpkins and winter squash. Store them on an open shelf so that they do not touch one another. This will assure that air can circulate freely to keep them cool and dry.

You can store some crops right in the garden, Lawrence notes. Parsnips and salsify, as well as carrots and Jerusalem artichokes, can be left in the garden, mulched, marked and harvested all winter. Be sure to mulch before the ground freezes so you'll be able to dig the crops with ease.

No matter what the crop, choose only undamaged produce for storage, Lawrence advises. Bruises, cuts and other injuries offer the molds, fungi and bacteria that cause spoilage a good place to get established.

To prevent contamination of crops by spoilage organisms, make sure that storage areas and containers are clean.

Farm Bureau Testifies on Unemployment Compensation

The American Farm Bureau Federation told the Unemployment Compensation Study Commission recently that the present program encourages unemployment through fraud and abuse.

C. H. Fields, assistant director of national affairs for the farm organization, said the present program should adhere to the original concept of the 1935 Act. That is, "unemployment insurance cannot give complete and unlimited compensation to all who are unemployed. Any attempt to make it do so confuses unemployment insurance with relief."

Fields told the Commission that it should recommend an end to extended benefits. "We should get back to the basic maximum of 26 weeks of benefits," he said.

The Farm Bureau spokesman said the Commission should recommend that someone with knowledge or background in agricultural employment be added to the advisory council provided for in the Act.

He pointed out that farmers and ranchers are new in the world of unemployment compensation. "Since agriculture has been mandatorily under unemployment compensation for less than a year... until we have more experience, and until we can assess its effect on the various categories of farm employees, the availability of seasonal workers and the stability of the farm work force, we urge the Commission to recommend against any further extension of the Act in the area of agricultural employment."

Most persons consider their residence a safe place, but, warns hearing specialists, the noise level found in a home kitchen may sometimes be as intense as that encountered on a busy street corner.

OOOMPH! Kim Foss of Chelsea gives it her all as she participates in the first state-wide Punt, Pass and Kick Competition for Special Olympians at Central Michigan University in August. Watching intently are area director Nancy Cooper (rear), from Gregory, and Olympian Tracy Squires of High Point, Ann Arbor.

Human Relations Workshop Set At Zion Lutheran

Human relations as viewed by the Bible will be the subject of a public workshop Tuesday, Sept. 26, in Zion Lutheran church, 1501 W. Liberty St., Ann Arbor. Kay Schell and Marilyn Kunz, the founders of Neighborhood Bible Studies, Inc., will open the program at 9 a.m. with a Bible overview. The afternoon will be devoted to small group discussions on specific relationships.

Participants will have time for two of the following sessions: Developing a relationship between children and God, led by Marilyn Twining; disagreements on faith between husband and wife, Helen Hinton; communication in family relationships, Gladys Hunt; parent and teen-age relationships, Priscilla Carlson; relating faith to others, Christine Crowner and Mrs. Schell; relating to God by prayer, Mavis Hines; relating with others through Bible study, Janette Van Auker; building relationships as single persons, and improving Bible studies, both led by Mrs. Kunz.

A table of books dealing with relationships will be on hand. Cost of the workshop is $2, which covers coffee and tea. Those attending should bring sack lunches. Babysitting is available, at $1 per child with a maximum of $2.

Registration may be done in advance by mailing a check to Marilyn Baker, 4944 Scio Church Rd., Ann Arbor 48103. Further information may be obtained by phoning Mrs. Shirley Snyder at 475-1970.

Wife to husband: "I wish you had the spunk the government has—they don't let a little debt keep them from spending."

VFW Post, Auxiliary Members Attend District Meet

VFW District No. 6 met in Hamburg with Post and Auxiliary No. 1224 as host and hostess for the first meeting of the 1978-79 term.

Following a swiss steak dinner, Mac Packard, commander District No. 6, conducted the afternoon men's meeting. Attending were Andy Richter of Bay City, department of Michigan commander and Assad Allie, past state commander, as well as other appointed officers.

Ladies Auxiliary's meeting was led by Lucille Smith, president of the District, from Erie No. 3925. More than 100 members from both groups attended.

All planned programs for the year were presented including hospital and community services, legislation, voice of democracy, youth activities, and Americanism. A "get out and vote" campaign for state officers was offered.

State officers attending the auxiliary meeting were Mildred Sebreu, Phyllis Goosen, and Iva Daggy. Those from Chelsea were Bessie Sharp, president; Betty Smith, Lucy Platt and Eulahlee Packard. With Mac Packard were Gary Speer, post commander; Tom Collinsworth, Carl Heldt, Byron Smith, Ken Platt, and Kermit Sharp.

Next joint meeting will be held in Maybee, with Post and Auxiliary No. 4361 hosting the meeting on Nov. 5. A coffee hour the afternoon of Oct. 7 will be held at the Ann Arbor VA Hospital and that evening a past commanders and past presidents honor banquet will be held in Chelsea. The Washenaw county Veterans' parade will be held in Chelsea on Nov. 11. State organization will hold the Pow Wow in Bay City, Sept. 29 through Oct. 1 where all chairmen announce planned programs for the year and a joint memorial service is given.

A membership meeting is planned and anyone who has served in the U. S. armed forces is eligible to belong. The VFW is able to provide information on benefits for veterans who have served during a war. The meeting will be on Wednesday, Sept. 27 at 7:30 p.m. Ron Zatorski is chairman for the meeting which will be conducted backwards, with lunch first, the closing second, and then the opening. Prizes and surprises will be given to all.

VFW hall is located at 105 N. Main St. A service officer will check qualifications and welcome newcomers to the meeting.

Stolen Kalamazoo

Auto Abandoned Here

A stolen Kalamazoo car was discovered by chance by Robert Niehaus, owner of Dairy Queen on M-52, Saturday, Sept. 16, according to Chelsea Police reports.

Niehaus said that he first saw the 1967 black and white Chevrolet Caprice on Tuesday, Sept. 12 behind his business, but thought the owner would come back for the car.

When the car was still there on Saturday, he informed police. A routine check determined the car was stolen and the Kalamazoo owner was notified to claim the car at Smith's Service Station on Jackson Rd.

"FREE SPIRIT": A musical ministry composed of 10 young singers will perform Tuesday, Sept. 26 at 7:30 p.m. in the Chelsea High school auditorium as part of the first-birthday celebration of the Chelsea Free Methodist church. Joining music with skits by hand puppets the internationally-known group communicates religious concepts appealing to both the young and old.
