Five Bulldogs Earn All-Conference Honor

Alan Augustine, the 6'2", 198-pound Chelsea varsity football griddier was selected for the South-Eastern All-Conference First Team on both offense and defense, according to Coach Phil Bareis.

As tri-captain of the Bulldogs, the senior Augustine carried the ball 162 times for a total of 727 yards. His average was 4.5 yards a carry. He caught 11 passes for 178 yards and scored 10 touchdowns during the season.

Defensively, Augustine completed 85 tackles, four pass interceptions one fumble recovery, and one return punt for a touchdown.

Chelsea also had three players selected for the All-Conference Second Team including Brad Knickerbocker, junior; Tom Bareis, senior; and John LaBarbara, junior.

Knickerbocker, a 5'10", 155-pound end, caught 74 passes for 253 yards and collected three touchdowns. His record as a kicker was outstanding with 17 out of 18 attempts successful.

Tri-captain Tom Bareis, 6'3", 235-pound tackle, and Scott Price, a 6'1", 185-pound center were selected for their "depth of center on long snaps for punts, strong and excellent blocking and fine, dependable performances all season," Coach Bareis commented.

John LaBarbara, a 5'8", 175-pound noseguard and co-captain for the 1979 season, collected 57 tackles and one fumble recovery for the Bulldogs.

Mothers March Now Underway in Area

Open your door to the volunteer mother who will be ringing your doorbell during Nov. 11-19. The annual Mother's March, sponsored by the Washtenaw County Chapter of the March of Dimes, is being held earlier this year, to enable the Marchers to reach every home in the county during warmer weather.

In the Chelsea area, including the Village of Chelsea, and the townships of Lima, Sylvan, Lyndon, and Dexter, captains are: Mrs. Scherwin, Mrs. Steele, Roberta Hinz, Ginger Haugen, Liz Prentice, Mrs. Summer Oesterle, Carol Dmoch, Carol Brock, Carla Schwarz, Brenda Houle, Judy Parker, and Carol Ledford. Helen Fox of Chelsea is the area chairperson.

Yearly birth defects strike a quarter-million infants. The March of Dimes strives, through research to protect the unborn against premature delivery, inadequate growth before birth, and crippling physical defects after birth. This is a year-round battle, and funds are always needed.

By supporting medical services at the University of Michigan Birth Defects Diagnosis Center and the LaMaze Association, the March of Dimes supports birth related health clinics and educates the school-age parents in prenatal care and nutrition. Genetic services to alert the pregnant mother against the dangers of alcohol and drugs, and intensive care to the sick and damaged newborn are also provided. (Continued on page five)

Chelsea Players Present 'Harvey' This Week-End

Friday and Saturday, Nov. 17-18, will be evenings of firsts for the Chelsea Players as they present their first fall production, first non-musical, and first play to feature a multi-talented professional actress.

Curtains will rise at 8 p.m. both nights for "Harvey," the comedy written in the late '40s by Mary Chase.

Starring in the Chelsea production are Bill Coelius as Elwood P. Dowd. Something of an eccentric, Dowd is a source of embarrassment to his sister Veta Louise Simmons (Mary Powers) and niece Myrtle May (Michelle McClear) as he insists that his closest companion is an invisible 6-foot tall white rabbit, named Harvey.

What is cause for shame for his family and friends, is an endless stream of merriment for the audience as they follow the comings and goings of the "pooka" rabbit.

Rita Wilson-Howard, long-time professional actress and recent newcomer to Chelsea from Sussex, England, plays the part of an attractive, but dumb, nurse in Ruth Kelly. More interested in the condition of her equally attractive and flighty boss, Dr. Lyman Sander-son (Dave Powers) than her patients, she provides additional amusement to an already hilarious story.

Girls Varsity Swim Team Posts Perfect 13-0 Season Record

With a 13-0 season record, the Chelsea girls varsity high school swimming team will complete the year by hosting an invitational at the Charles S. Cameron Pool.

Diving events will start at 4:30 with races at 7 p.m. Chelsea is the defending champion against five teams including Dundee, Albion, Lincoln, Monroe, and Willow Run.

While Coach Larry Reed states the team has a better than even chance of winning this year "it must be remembered that we defeated Dundee two weeks ago in a dual meet by only one point, 42-41," he said.

"Sometimes it can be advantageous to enter a meet as the underdog. We know from the seeded times that we have about an eight-point lead so we will be counting on all our swimmers to do well," he added.

Leading the way for Chelsea will be the medley relay team (seeded second) of Lisa Radke, Teresa Degener, Shelly Springer, and Donna Alexander. Four swimmers have an opportunity to place in the 200-yard freestyle. Seeded first is Sara Borders, followed by Mary Bacon, fourth; Annette Kuhl, fifth, and Julie Sundling, 10th.

In the 50-yard freestyle, Shelly Springer is seeded first; Anita Powell, second; Pam Spayd, 12th. Shannon Springer, in the 200-yard IM, is second; Lisa Radke, eighth; and Janine Hoffman, 10th.

In diving, Chelsea has two competitors with chances to win in Michelle Alexander and Michele Clark. Possible placers are Molly Bacon and Pam Spayd.

Other seeded positions are:

100-yard fly, Sara Borders, first; Teresa Degener, eighth; and Janine Hoffman, 11th. 100-yard freestyle, Shelly Springer, first; Anita Powell, fourth; and Sue Cobb, eighth. 500-yard freestyle, Shannon Springer, first; Mary Bacon, fourth; Annette Kuhl, seventh. 100-yard backstroke, Lisa Radke, fifth; Sue Cobb, 11th; Donna Alexander, 12th. 100-yard breaststroke, Teresa Degener, second; Michele Clark, ninth; and Shannon Culver, 10th.

Chelsea's "A" freestyle relay team of Anita Powell, Mary Bacon, Shannon Springer, and Sara Borders, is seeded first.

The invitational will conclude Chelsea's season except for the nine girls who have qualified for the state meet. The team finished their season with a 13-0 record, their first undefeated season in their three-year history. They finished the season with 19 consecutive wins which spans back to October of 1977, and they have an overall record of 29-6 for the three years.

Successful CHS Girl Athlete Combines Hard Work, Desire

Rebounding from a time when she was hard pressed to find a notch on the court, Nanette Push now revels in unbound freedom to perform as a dramatically successful athlete.

Whether she's standing on the pitcher's mound blocking out the hoots from her rivals or leading her team under enormous pressure on the basketball court, she's unmatched in her abilities to carry a team.

Not so long ago, Nanette remembers the teasing, laughter, and words of caution when she first tried to enter sports.

Basketball was her first intrigue and with a younger brother who played the sport with a neighbor, Nanette naturally wanted to join the action. "I really gave them a hard time, but so did they. Eventually I wore them down after hanging around day after day and finally they let me shoot a few baskets," she said.

When her family moved to Chelsea from Stockbridge when she was in the 6th grade they moved into a house that had a garage. "By that time my parents knew I was serious about playing sports and right after we moved in they bought a hoop and put it up," she explained.

Recalling the many times her family tried to discourage her, Nanette says now "my parents are super. They like what I'm doing and my father fixes me special protein drinks and reminds me to take my vitamins before a game," she said with a smile.

Nanette was seven when she started basketball and eight when she developed an interest in baseball. "It's hard to say which one I like best. When I'm pitching I always like the attention. I spend the same amount of time in both sports but I think I am probably a little better at baseball," she said.

While her record as a pitcher is incredible—she once stood the mound for 27 innings in three games—her record in basketball is just as enviable.

According to her coach, Jim Winter, Nanette leads in steals by a wide margin, is second on the team in blocked shots and defensive rebounds, and leads in scoring with an average of 20 points.

"On the floor she's a leader. She's unpredictable and gives the other teams fits because it seems every time they turn around on a run against the pass, she's got the ball," he commented.

Last season her game point average was 12 "but that was because of the number of seniors on the team. This year Nanette has found herself on top and the pressure of being a leader has worked to improve her game," Winter explained.

While Nanette has been on the varsity team since her freshman year, "she still has a lot of improvement to make if she's serious about competing on a college level. She has incredible natural athletic abilities but she's not getting the competition here. She still has a good chance, though, of winning a scholarship, if she wants to, and I think she does," Winter said.

"I am going to try for a scholarship," Nanette said. "I don't think I'll ever become a professional at it but I am hoping to go to college and keep playing," she added.

Basketball Prevue Set For Monday

With seven returning lettermen and an impressive record from their summer league, Chelsea varsity basketball team again promises a season of fast, exciting action for players and spectators alike.

Entering his second year as coach is Robin Raymond whose "defensive pressure and man-to-man defense" philosophy brought the Chelsea cagers to their first District finals last year after an extended absence.

Raymond also established for the first time this summer, a five-team summer league through the Recreation Department, of which he is director, and brought his team to a 9-1 record. Of the 14 varsity members, all but two were players on the summer team.

Another Raymond first is the annual "Meet The Bulldogs Night" where seniors challenge the underclassmen under regulation game conditions. The second annual game will be held Monday, Nov. 20 at 7:30 p.m. and the public is invited without charge.

While the Bulldogs have lost two fine guards in Mark Feeney and Randy Harris, and three other 1978 CHS graduates John Daniels, Jerald Benjamin, and Dave Schrotenboer, Raymond predicts "our team will be even stronger than last year."

Bolstering this comment, Raymond pointed to the seven returning seniors including Charlie Bridges, Captain Jesse Coburn, Gary Dils, Mike Eisele, Matt Feeney, Mike Machesky (voted Most Improved Player in 1977), and Scott Price.

Additional leverage will come from first-year varsity juniors Dan Alber, John Dunn, Mike Killelea, Brad Knickerbocker, Don Schrotenboer and sophomore Jeff Dils.

"The strength of our team will come from our inside game with the forwards and centers contributing the bulk of the scoring. Like last year, we will concentrate on defending pressure and fast breaks at every opportunity. I like to see a running gun game and develop shooters to run the fast breaks," he said.

Varsity practice began Monday, Nov. 13 and their first game will be on Wednesday, Nov. 29. Junior varsity, coached by Jon Schaffner, will also have their first game on Nov. 29 beginning at 6:30 p.m. Varsity will follow.

Beach Gridders Post 4-1 Season Record

Beach Middle school varsity football team closed out another successful season, Oct. 30 defeating Saline, 24-0. The win gave the junior high squad a season record of 4-1.

The varsity opened the year against a big, tough Lincoln team and came out with a 16-14 defeat. After that, Chelsea never saw the short end of a score as they went on to trounce St. Thomas, 50-0; Milan, 28-6; Dexter, 14-8; and Saline, 24-0.

During the course of the season, Chelsea collected 130 points to their opponents' 30.

Offense lineup included Matt McCallum and Chris Seitz at the ends; Frank Modryejewski and Don Marshall at tackle; Tom Headrick and Tim Greenleaf as guards; and Frank Waller at center.

Dave Wojcicki was the starting quarterback; Richard Cobb, tailback; Jim Hayden and Rod Roberson split the fullback position; and Russell Harris and Steve Cattell shared the flanker back position. Also seeing quarterback action was 7th grader Marty Steinhauer with Wojcicki shifting to tailback.

On defense, McCallum and Tony Emmons played defensive ends; Marshall and Modryejewski were tackles; Wayne Smith (until injured), Jim Hayden, and Todd Guenther shared the middle guard position. Inside linebackers were Tom Headrick, Tim Greenleaf and Chris Seitz. Cornerbacks included Steve Cattell, Russell Headrick and Tim Greenleaf as (Continued on page two)

EMERGENCY MEDICAL TECHNICIANS:

From left, Matt Harker, Jerry Kenney, Danny Ellenwood, and Larry Adams, members of the Chelsea Volunteer Fire Department, completed eight months of intensive study at Washtenaw Community College to graduate as certified EMTs. While the state of Michigan requires only 81 hours of study to become an EMT, these men registered for 220 hours each and finished with an 80 percent or high grade average. "It was tough," Adams commented, "but worth every minute." Their work has added substantial capabilities to the department as they are now trained in medical emergency care on a par with ambulance attendants. "We will not replace the service of ambulance attendants but supplement their care," according to Adams. From his heart attacks, severe burns and lacerations, simple cuts to major medical emergencies such drownings, and broken bones, the men are trained to stabilize a victim while an ambulance arrives. "We can perform the same duties as ambulance attendants except that we cannot transport a patient," Adams explained. For each man, the EMT class was their first plunge into college level study and their decision to register was made before learning they might be reimbursed for part of the $350 to $400 cost. "It is a feeling of accomplishment to know that we have better training to be able to provide more assistance to those who need it," Adams commented. Following their graduation last April, Kenney, Adams, and Ellenwood traveled to Madonna College in Livonia for two days of written and practical examinations to become Nationally Registered EMTs. Kenney and Adams also continued their education to become instructors in CardioPulmonary resuscitation. (See story on page seven.)

McDonald's Opening Probably Next May

Unusual spring-like weather has allowed speedy progress on the new McDonald's restaurant on S. M-52, but the official word is that the doors won't open until May, 1979.

Ground breaking for the corporation-owned fast-food chain occurred Oct. 27 with noticeable headway made during the three weeks of construction.

"Officially the opening date is set for early spring next year but there is a possibility that with mild weather we could open sooner," a McDonald's spokesperson said.

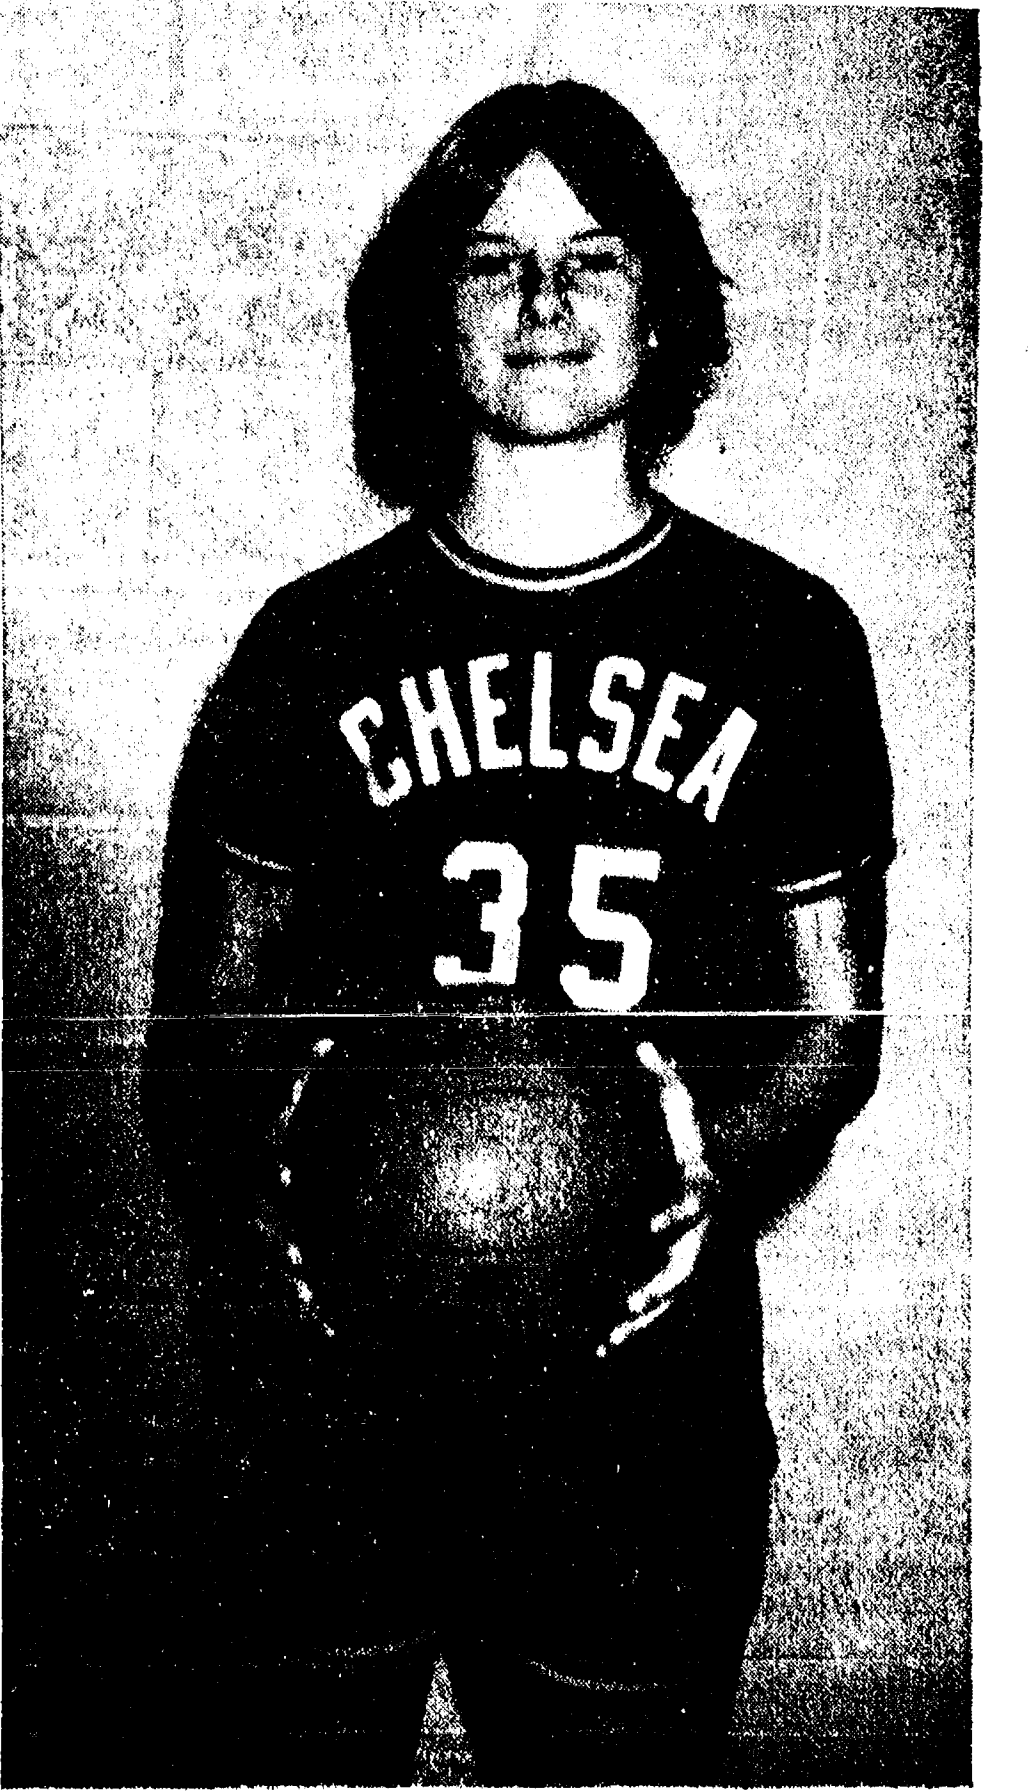

Located just north of the A & W restaurant, McDonald's will have a 120-customer seating capacity as well as a drive-in window for take-out orders. As are all of the McDonald's restaurants in the Ann Arbor metro area, the store is not a franchise but corporation owned.

According to Dale Abrahm of McDonald's, the store will employ between 50 and 75 persons, depending on the time of year, with jobs open to all age groups from teenagers to senior citizens. "About a month or so before the projected opening we will post a sign in the window stating that we are hiring," Abrahm said.

In the past year or so, McDonald's has often incorporated a dominant theme of a community into its inside decor although Abrahm said that one has not yet been decided on for the Chelsea store. "We don't do it for every restaurant but if there is one subject or interest of the community then we try and work that into the interior decoration," he explained.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

The feller still had these doomsday fortune tellers on their minds Saturday night at the country store. Bug Hookum got em started last week with his report that food supplies is growing and population is slowing down, causing experts to say everybody might not starve before they're blowed to pieces after all. Ed Doolittle said he, fer one, never put much confidence in all the predictions, good and bad.

Ed said a feller can go back and read behind the economy experts of 30 years ago and find that the world they called fer is a far cry from the world we live in. By now we're supposed to be riding around in helicopters like we do cars. Ed said, and all the experts said the picture telephone that was dreamed up 20 years ago would of replaced the regular talking one by now. There's just too many unknowns to stir into predicting formulas fer folks to get excited about em, was Ed's words. We can't even get the cost of helicopters down to where we can use em much fer ambulances and spraying crops, Ed said, and it turned out that nobody cares much about looking at whatever they're talking to on the phone.

Zeke Grubb sided with Ed on all the future figgers the experts like to toss around. Zeke had some recent guesses put out by the Social Security office. They said that based on current rates of income and price rises, by the middle of the next century average income would be $656,000 a year and a loaf of bread will cost $37.50. A house that sells for $55,000 now will be going for $3 million, Zeke said, and a car will cost $281,000. What we get at the grocery store new fer $25 will cost $1,500, and a newspaper will sell for $9.40.

Actual, declared Clem Webster, you got to figger them unknowns in these kind of figgers too. If nothing else, Clem said, we'd have to come up with a $100 penny to keep from wearing ourselves out carrying around enough money to get a haircut, so we'd just keep on calling it a penny anyhow. Besides, Clem allowed, the way we're going there won't be no money then, just cards with numbers on em. The computers in the banks will do the figgering, and they can handle big numbers as easy as little ones.

Personal, Mister Editor, I got no idee where we're headed. It still looks to me like about half the folks in the world is working on the problem, and the other half is the problem. And most of the time things even out in the end. I notice that rich and pore folks still get the same amount of ice. The rich git it in summer, and the pore in winter, the way it's allus been. The experts keep saying that the way things is going the hole is bound to git bigger than the doughnut, but somehow we keeping finding somepun to nibble on.

In some ways we're going backward. If my Pa could come back and see all the wood stoves and fireplaces going this winter, he'd think he never left.

Yours truly,

Uncle Lew.

Attack On Welfare Fraud
The Department of Social Services which controls and does out the second largest amount of funds—second only to school aid—is embarking on a stepped-up plan to combat welfare fraud.

The proposals, part of an 80-page report, include more computer match information and special emphasis on reducing errors in Wayne, Oakland, and Macomb counties.

The report declared the state's current success in cutting fraud but also noted that cheats are getting more sophisticated in their methods of hiding unreported earnings from the government.

The proposals for further tightening-up include a special project to cut misspent funds in the highly populated tri-county area of southeastern Michigan; more computer matches of client income information with the Department of Treasury; a $5 million computer-based system for determining eligibility; direct contact with landlords to verify rent payments; and more stringent monitoring of local social services offices and individual workers.

The report further recommends incentive payments to prosecutors in the counties to spur prosecution of welfare fraud. These payments would be used to beef-up prosecutors' staffs to give higher priorities to welfare fraud cases. Locating welfare cheats is getting more difficult, report noted. Suspected cheats are using more aliases or false social security numbers for employment purposes.

Suspected cheats are also hiding income through a variety of resources such as bank accounts, real estate and insurance policies. As a result, more comprehensive investigations are required to locate cheats, the report says.

ris, Rod Robeson, and Scott Dault. Defensive halfbacks were Dave Wojcik and Dave Weber.

Additional members were ends Randy Krichbaum and Mike Cox; guards Matt Villumre and Doug Pagliarini; tackle Barry Newkirk; center Will Morley; backs Tim Dmoch; Jay Eibler, Kevin Richardson, Travis Rudd, and Sean Oxner. Two members who were injured early and did not get to play were Mike Niebauer and Kipp Bertke.

Leading the offense was Dave Wojcik who rushed 330 yards in 48 carries. With seven touchdowns and four extra point kicks, he was the leading scorer with a total of 50 points. As a pass receiver, he connected with eight catches good for 101 yards and three touchdowns. He also punted four times for a healthy 46-yard average.

Richard Cobb gained 261 yards on 37 carries and had three touchdowns and three extra point kicks for 24 points. Marty Steinhauer earned three TD's while Matt McCallum and Robeson had two each and Steve Cattell and Russ Harris had one each.

McCallum caught four passes for 128 yards and two touchdowns. Steve Cattell had three for 53 yards and one TD.

Passing leader was Marty Steinhauer hitting 12 of 17 for 144 yards and three touchdowns.

Defense, which played strong all year, was led by Matt McCallum and Tim Greenleaf with 22 tackles each. Tony Emmons and Frank Modryjewski each had 20 while Don Marshall and Dave Wojcik connected for 18.

Modryjewski made four fumble recoveries to lead that category and Russ Harris and Travis Rudd each picked off one opponent's pass each.

"This year's squad was above average in size, speed and ability to handle an above average number of offensive and defensive assignments," Coach Bert Kruse commented.

"Especially pleasing was the alertness shown by both the offense and defense but in particular the defense; they recovered an exceptional amount of fumbles, picked off some passes, and made a number of big plays," Kruse added.

Continuing, he said, "the team was easy to coach; they were trouble free and liked to play the game. If they can make the normal improvements and stay with the game they should develop into some good squads as they progress."

Hunt for Toxic Substances

Governor William G. Milliken has ordered the Department of Natural Resources to invoke greater powers to track and control hazardous toxic substances.

Milliken said he has ordered the department to disclose past industrial disposal practices, prevent unauthorized dumping of hazardous wastes and to implement a program to assure the "suitability" of waste facilities.

The department is negotiating with the U. S. Environmental Protection Agency to use authority contained within the Federal Resources Conservation and Recovery Act to require reporting of chemical disposals.

The state also plans to implement a voluntary system to track loads of waste from point of origin to disposal. The system was developed with the co-operation of the Liquid Industrial Control Association.

The governor declared such a system is a key element and should be made mandatory by law rather than voluntary. He added the ability the state to ensure the adequacy of hazardous waste facilities is hampered without passage of such an act mandating tracking and control.

Lottery Sales Hit $329 Million

The Michigan Lottery reported sales of $329 million for fiscal year 1977-78. The sales resulted in a net deposit in the state's general fund of $143 million, a 25 percent increase over the previous year.

Since the lottery was initiated, November, 1972, a total of $1.2 billion worth of tickets have been sold.

Of that amount, $550 million has been turned over to the state and $562 million has been paid out in prizes.

Gas Tax Revenues Growth Rate Slows

The growth rate in state gas and weight tax revenues continued to decline in the fiscal year that ended Sept. 30, the State Highway Commission has reported.

New highs in auto registrations and highway travel pushed income from the nine-cent-a-gallon gas tax to a record $413.7 million, up from $402.6 million in the 1976-77 fiscal year. However, the 2.7 percent increase was down from the 4.37 percent rise between fiscal 1976 and 1977.

A 7.2 percent increase in diesel fuel sales boosted revenues from that source to $24.5 million, producing a 2.9 percent gain in revenue for all motor fuels, or a total of $438.49 million (including $274,000 from sales of liquefied petroleum gas).

Weight tax income from license plate sales climbed by $8.35 million to $173.4 million, also a record. The 3.8 percent increase compared with a 5.7 percent increase in the previous fiscal year. Department officials attributed the slowdown to increased numbers of lighter weight automobiles.

Income from all highway user taxes, which make up the state Motor Vehicle Highway Fund, totaled $629.34 million, up by 3.4 percent. However, income deducted for various grants and administrative costs totaled a record $36.77 million, up by $1.79 million, or 21.5 percent from the year before.

A large share of the increase was the cost of manufacturing 1979 license plates, the first new ones in Michigan in three years.

Money remaining for construction and maintenance on the 118,000 miles of state highways, county roads and municipal streets totaled $382.57 million.

"That's an increase of only 1.6 percent, while costs are mounting by something like 10 percent a year," said Commission Chairman Peter B. Fletcher of Ypsilanti.

"It is this continuing decline in revenue growth and increase in costs that impelled the legislature to enact a transportation package that provides $111 million more for our roads and highways. This added income will enable us to keep up with inflation for a few years, nothing more," Fletcher commented.

In the July-September quarter this year, revenue from motor fuel taxes totaled $118.78 million, up by $6 million, or five percent. Weight tax revenues in the same period declined from $9.31 million to $7.95 million, a drop of 4.4 percent. Grants and administrative costs, including license plate manufacture, totaled $21.47 million, up by 109 percent.

The amount remaining for distribution to the Department of State Highways and Transportation, the 83 county road commissions and the 531 incorporated cities and villages totaled $110.93 million. It was down from the July-September quarter of 1977 by $3.56 million, or 3.1 percent.

Your Daily Working 5 1/4% Account

Here's what it can do for you...

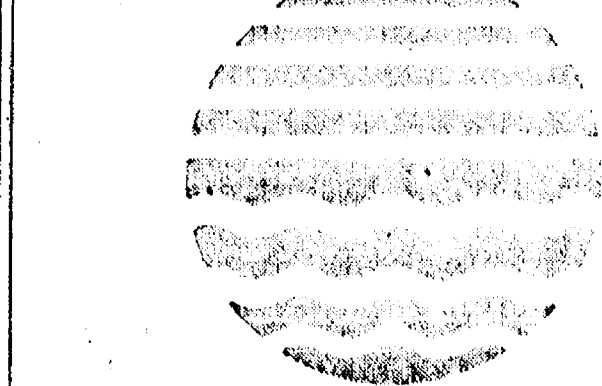

With all the recent emphasis on high interest rates for investment certificates, you may be overlooking a very important family financial tool...the 5 1/4% per annum passbook savings account.

This is your "daily working" savings account. It earns daily interest — from day of deposit to day of withdrawal. The money is always available, so you use this account to accumulate dollars, take them out when you need to pay a medical bill, a repair bill, taxes, a trip. It's about as convenient as a wallet, but your money is earning a good return every day it is on deposit and it is safely insured with an agency of the federal government.

A bonus feature is that by maintaining a balance of $1000 or more in savings you are entitled to all of the travelers checks and money orders you can use. No charge.

So invest all the money you can in our top interest paying certificate accounts for long term requirements, but for day to day needs and emergencies keep a healthy balance in a 5 1/4% daily working account where it will be immediately available and earn a good return.

MEN—WOMEN

Take up to 365 days to say good-bye.

Good-bye can mean more than a peck on the cheek when you take advantage of the Army's Delayed Entry Program.

Good-bye can mean 365 days to finish unfinished business, plan your future, spend one more season on the beach or the slopes before you get off to tackle the world.

But the best part of Delayed Entry lies ahead. By enlisting now, then relaxing and reporting for duty later, the Army can promise you the training you want more than any other—skill training it's often hard to find in civilian life.

If you qualify, Delayed Entry also lets you pick the place you want to serve a good part of your Army life—Hawaii, Korea, the Canal Zone, Europe or Alaska.

Say hello to your Army Recruiter. Soon you could be saying a lot of sweet good-byes.

VFW Auxiliary Hears Report on District Meeting

Regular monthly session of the VFW Auxiliary was held Monday, Nov. 13 with 13 members in attendance.

Dorleen Cozzens, previously elected to membership, was initiated into the organization. Lucy Platt reported that the Voice of Democracy project is now completed in the Chelsea High School and essays are being judged in Lansing.

Americanism chairman Eulalie Packard reported the presentation of a flag to a Boy Scout Troop in Ypsilanti; two flags to two dens of Chelsea Girl Scouts; and a 3'x5' flag to the Chelsea School Board. Sandi Ellenwood carried the auxiliary's flag in the Veterans Day parade, Nov. 11.

Lucy Platt announced 10 dolls were dressed by Auxiliary members for the Great Lakes Federal Savings Association to be distributed at Christmas time through the Department of Social Services.

Reports of District No. 6 meeting held in Maybee on Nov. 5, were given by those attending, Eulalie Packard, Bessie Sharp, and Marien Johnson. Gertrude O'Dell gave a report on the Nov. 11 not-luck supper held in the VFW hall. Sandi Ellenwood is heading a CPR group, which will start instructions on Nov. 28, in co-operation with a local instructor and the Red Cross.

A Christmas party will be held for Post and Auxiliary members and families on Dec. 9 in the VFW Hall. The program will be headed by Gertrude O'Dell and Opal McNamara.

The local group decided to take on a coffee hour every Friday morning at the Ann Arbor VA Hospital from 9:15 to 10:15. Elizabeth Smith, as hospital chairman, will be in charge, assisted by auxiliary members who wish to donate their time on various Fridays.

The group voted $10 out for a Thanksgiving basket to be given to a needy family; also to pay Auxiliary dues for two ill members. One dollar was voted out towards a gift for the State President Betty Connolly when she makes her official visit to District No. 6 on Feb. 18, in Mason. The Auxiliary will have the VFW Hall open for the purpose of the annual bazaar on Dec. 1-2.

The next regular meeting will be Dec. 11, at 8 p.m. in the VFW Hall.

The typical home kitchen can be a noisy environment, warn hearing specialists who point out such a kitchen may contain as many as 20 labor-saving but noise-producing appliances. A good rule of thumb is to use no more than two of the noisiest at the same time the specialists add.

BRING YOUR DEER TO DUNBAR'S DEXTER LOCKER FOR PROCESSING

Includes Skinning, Cutting, Wrapping, Quick Freeze

Helpful Hints for Hunters:

1. Wounded deer could be dangerous, make sure your deer is dead.
2. TAGGING — Follow State laws regarding tagging and reporting your kill. Be sure your deer is tagged before you load it into your car.
3. BLEEDING — It is not necessary to bleed your deer unless it's been shot in the head — but if you do bleed it, don't ruin the head by slashing the neck. Insert the blade of your hunting knife several inches in front of the point of the breast. Small (4 1/2-5 1/2 inch) blades are better than the long ones.
4. FIELD DRESSING — Take along a 6 to 8 foot section of clothesline to tie the deer's leg to a tree to give yourself working space. Make a small incision only from the pelvic to the brisket bone. Do not open breast. Remove intestinal tract. There is no need for washing unless it's a gut shot. We will do that.
5. TRANSPORTING — Keep the front legs extended forward — makes for easier skinning. A good way to get your deer out of the timber is to tie the front legs to its head first. Keep it as cool as possible. Remember to protect your deer from warm rain.
6. DO NOT SKIN YOUR DEER. LEAVE THAT TO US. The hide protects it from spoiling and makes a good cover.

Girls Varsity Cagers Squeak Past Milan

Those Chelsea High sport enthusiasts who found themselves without a football game to attend Friday night and strolled into the gym were treated to an exciting 49-47 girls basketball win over the Milan Reddets.

Bulldogs came out to avenge an earlier five-point loss to Milan and were greeted by the largest crowd of the year. The two teams displayed their even skills as they saw-sawed throughout the first quarter.

Junior Nanette Push scored nine of Chelsea's first 13 points as Milan led, 14-13, in the first eight minutes. In the second quarter, four Bulldogs put points on the board to pull the hosts into a 26-28 half-time tie.

Chelsea jumped up front in the third quarter, 42-36, even though both teams hit five field goals. Chelsea earned six of seven free throws in the quarter while Milan never had a chance to step to the line.

Our defense in the third quarter was pretty good. Coach Jim Winter commented. "We only gave up 10 points, didn't give up a free throw, and took control of the board. Boylan had five rebounds and Kiel had four in that quarter alone. We did a decent job of making them take the outside shot and not letting them get a second chance." Winter explained.

In spite of the strong showing in those eight minutes of the third quarter, Milan chipped away at the Chelsea lead to bring about a 47-47 tie with 18 seconds remaining in the game.

While each team had several opportunities to take the game, Chelsea emerged the victor on the strength of two free throws by Push in the final seconds.

The final two free throws gave Push 31 points for the evening to lead all scorers. Sheryl Kiel added six points, and 12 rebounds; Mary Boylan four and seven; Jennifer Ringe, four and three steals; Kim Wood, two and four steals; and Lori Miles two points. Junior forward Jeryl Herrick came up with six rebounds for her night's work.

Earlier last week the Bulldogs dropped an SEC contest to the second-place South Lyon Lions, 57-35.

Chelsea trailed, 18-5, at the end of the first quarter but cut the Lions' lead to 10 at the half, 29-19. To open the second half, the Bulldogs scored two quick baskets, cutting the margin to six; but South Lyon came back and pulled away to an easy win.

Push led the Chelsea attack with 16 points. Sophomore guard Ringe also hit double figures, tossing in 10 points to add to her three steals. Senior Lori Miles had five points while Kiel had two and eight rebounds and Boylan notched two points.

Last week's action left the Bulldogs with a 7-10 over-all record and a 3-8 SEC record. This Friday, Chelsea meets the Saline Hornets in a "Parent's Night" battle. This is the last regular season home game. JV contest begins at 6:30 p.m. with the varsity contest following.

Gridders of the Week

JEFF BOYER (86) has just completed his first year on varsity for the Bulldogs and like many of his junior class teammates is anticipating the coming of the 1979 season. Between now and then Boyer will be competing on the varsity track team. "Track is valuable in making me a better ball player and this will be my fifth year in track," he said. "I've always combined track and football because the two sports keep me in good shape," Boyer explained. During the recent season, the 5'8", 152-pound player was positioned offensively as a split end and tight end and defensively as an anchor end and contain end. "A tight end is concerned mostly with downfield blocking and the split end receives nearly all of the passes. A contain end makes sure the play stays in one area so that no one can get outside for a touchdown and the anchor end goes straight for the opponent's quarterback for the tackle," Boyer explained. Boyer has played in all but one game while on varsity and his most memorable game was with Brighton. "I had a chance to sack the quarterback good and I did. I also had several good tackles," he said. Boyer predicts that with the two excellent junior varsity teams making up next year's lineup "we are going to go 9-0 without doubt," he commented. Jeff is the son of Winston and Judy Boyer, 515 Chandler St.

JOHN NELSON (70) joined the varsity football squad this year as a senior after moving from Grand Rapids late last year. While new to the Bulldog team, Nelson has played the game since 7th grade in Grand Rapids and attended Chelsea home games at the end of last year's season. Nelson is a 5'7", 172-pound offensive guard, defensive nose-man, and defensive linebacker. For each game Chelsea played this year he played on the kick-off, kick-off return, punt, and punt-return teams. As a guard, Nelson described his job as "blocking the linebacker and blocking the end downfield," he said. "A noseman clogs up the middle to stop anything from going up the middle and the linebacker helps the middle guard and the end on outside offensive plays," he explained. Nelson's best game on the Chelsea team was against Northwest. "I played a lot in the game and made a few solid tackles," he commented. "The best game for the team was with South Lyon when we downed them 35-20. We had a lot of close games this year — most of them in our favor I'm glad to say — but I think we had the most satisfaction of defeating South Lyon," Nelson commented. John is the son of John and Shirley Nelson, 20071 Old US-12.

A sudden or rapidly developing hearing "loss" or acute or chronic dizziness are signs that medical attention should be sought as soon as possible with hearing specialists. Such symptom can indicate serious medical problems the specialists add.

OH DEAR, have we made a mistake? Is it Veta who's seeing things, or her brother Elwood? Four members of the Chelsea Players' production of "Harvey," ponder these questions as they rehearse for the Nov. 17-18 performance of Mary Chase's comedy. The Dowd family is periodically visited by a "pooka" which, in this play, has the form of a 6-foot white rabbit. When family and friends hear of the tales, they begin to think the Dowds have lost their reasoning. Rehearsing here are Rita Howard-Wilson at the typewriter, David Powers to her left, Dennis Petsch behind her, and Micki Quackenbush to the right.

Soccer Team Closes Season With Win

On Saturday, Nov. 11, the Chelsea Blues soccer team played their final game of the season. The opponents were the Garden City Tigers who had defeated Chelsea in an earlier game. By combining a strong passing game with excellent defensive work, Chelsea came away with a 3-1 victory.

The Blues scored first on a goal by Kurt Eisenbeiser completing an excellent passing play. After Garden City tied the score at 1-1, Kurt scored his second goal on a rebound shot. The final goal was scored late in the fourth quarter when the Blues' Brian Ackley outraced the Garden City defense to the ball and kicked it into the net.

Throughout the game Eric Schaffner displayed fine playmaking efforts. Also contributing fine offensive work were Biff Buntin and Doug Sarbach.

Providing strong goal tending throughout the game, and the season, was Bruce Castle. The good defensive work was done by Scott Jones, David Steinhauer, Donna Mahoney, David Sumner, Doug Graves, Tom Schuman, Mike Feeney, Greg Markle, and Jau Curry. "All season the Chelsea Blues have shown excellent spirit, hustle, and steadily improving play. Especially improved was the development of ball handling skills and the fine team play," their coach Bil Ackley commented.

Snowmobiles, which are able to provide hours of winter sports recreation, also can be excessively noisy. For this reason hearing specialists urge snowmobile enthusiasts to include ear plugs in their list of standard safety gear.

Those who have provided assistance include Jon Schaffner, Mel Jones, Clyde Sumner, Paul Buntin, Rita Sarbach, Phil Bareis and the parents and families with moral support and transportation to and from the games.

FINISH JOB OR LOSE SALE

The Johnsons had a problem. A leaky roof. Now that their home was about to be put up for sale, Johnson arranged to have it repaired. Good thinking, Johnson. Almost.

After the job was finished at great expense, the yellow water stain still remained on the ceiling. Mr. Johnson thought he had already spent enough on the roof and any prospect would believe him when he showed the repair bill.

The old adage of being penny-wise and pound foolish bore fruit. Each prospect asked about the stain. The receipted bill never quite put their minds at ease. One structural problem in a home is a red flag waving and warning — "Don't get involved with this headache."

Fortunately, for the price of a restaurant dinner the ceiling was repainted. It was finally sold, but only after too many of the best prospects had gone on to other properties. The moral is obvious. The fewer apologies you have to make for your property, the easier it is to sell. If you have any obvious red flags waving — remove them.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at FRISINGER REALTY CO., 935 S. Main St., Chelsea. Phone: 475-8881; evenings 475-2621. We're here to help!

Four Firemen Now Certified As Emergency Medical Technicians

Four Chelsea volunteer firefighters followed a dream through eight months of sophisticated and often strenuous classroom study to become certified Emergency Medical Technicians (EMT).

As a result of their successful completion they have added an important dimension to the capabilities of the Chelsea Fire Department in its rescue operations. At the same time, it is a story of dedication, frustration, and boldness.

Just over a year ago an eight-year member of the fire department, Larry Adams, seriously considered taking his first plunge into college level classes when he realized that "I wasn't able to do what many people expected me to do when I was called out on an emergency," he explained.

Three of his colleagues, Jerry Kenney, Danny Ellenwood, and Matt Hanked, had similar feelings.

"To become a volunteer fireman, there is a 66-hour class each man must attend and pass before he qualifies as a volunteer," Adams said.

In the class, the basics of firefighting are taught, along with simple first aid techniques and the art of extrication—how to rip apart a crashed vehicle with the "jaws" and remove its occupants.

All of the 21 members on the Chelsea Fire Department have completed this class and are part of the rescue squad called out on fires and accidents.

Now that these four men are trained as EMTs, they have in effect added capabilities in medical emergency care on a par with ambulance attendants.

"We are able to do what an ambulance driver can do except transport a patient to a hospital," Adams explained.

The list of their abilities is extensive. From simple cuts and bruises to broken backs, shock, severe burns and lacerations and child birth, Adams, Kenney, Ellenwood and Hanked are proficiently skilled.

Commenting on the 220 hours each man invested during the eight months of classes at Washtenaw Community College, not to mention the $350 to $400 they each paid out of their own pockets for the classes, books, and lab fees (there is some reimbursement forthcoming), Adams put it mildly — "it was tough."

"We all knew we could do it though and we never had a doubt. We did have a little fright about the possibility of flunking a test but it never happened," Adams said.

Before any of the men knew that they might receive reimbursement for taking the classes, or before any of them had experienced the rigors of tackling college courses, especially those in human anatomy and physiology of the cardiac and respiratory systems, they agreed to register for the EMT training.

Although they were already 100 hours over the minimum 81 hours necessary to become an EMT, they added a 13-week, 39-hour psychology class to boost their knowledge of emergency situations.

Adams was the first to learn that the $400 bite would be covered up to 75 percent by his employer Dana Corp. The others will have close to 50 percent paid back to them from training funds provided through the fire department's regular budget.

According to Adams, the bulk of calls to the Chelsea Fire Department are for major car accidents. "In a less severe accident an ambulance is called and the EMT-trained attendant can stabilize a victim before taking him to the hospital," he explained. "When the ambulance attendants are unable to reach a victim in a badly crushed car then we are called for extrication and to assist them if needed," he added.

Chelsea EMTs may also be called to action if, as has happened recently, an ambulance is on another call outside Chelsea or if the ambulance has mechanical problems and is not operating.

"We don't replace the work of ambulance attendants but supplement medical emergency care," Adams commented.

With four men qualified as EMTs, Adams said that "anytime the rescue squad rolls there'll be an EMT on board the truck. We all feel that this is a real plus to the service we can deliver and we're pleased that we were able to accomplish our goal," Adams said.

In order to graduate as certified EMTs, each man had to maintain an 80 percent grade average. Classes were held in the evening which the men attended after putting in a full work day. Cardiology on Tuesday night for two hours, psychology on Wednesdays for three hours, and then the basic EMT class met for two hours on Saturday morning followed by a two-hour lab.

"None of us had taken college classes before and there was some adjustment to make after being out of school for so many years. Our families, friends, and co-workers all gave us tremendous support throughout the eight months," Adams said.

In addition to the time spent in the classroom, the men studied every evening—"except after class on Saturday which we set aside to relax. Usually we studied alone but there were many times when we practiced our lessons together," he added.

Laughing, Adams recalled an instance when they strapped one of them to a long board (like a wooden stretcher) in the fire station and then turned him upside down saying "if we get a call you can stay and watch the station."

Of their intense studies, Adams said the most difficult part of the training was the learning of medical terminology. "When you're describing to a doctor a patient's condition you just can't say he's got a broken leg or he's cut bad. You have to be very specific and there was a lot of terminology that we had to learn," he explained.

The most interesting class, Adams thought, was psychology. "At first I didn't see the relationship between a medical emergency and psychology. I soon learned that psychology is an important tool in handling a victim in shock," he explained. Adams said that even though someone may be unconscious he may still be able to hear what is going on around him. "It wouldn't do the patient any good if he hears a lot of chaos or anything that might suggest that things are out of control. It is important to remain calm and understand how a person in that situation feels, thinks, and how they might react to being hurt," he added.

Adams added that the psychology aspect works both ways. "It is important to understand the state of mind of a victim but it is just as important to know my own feelings and reactions and how to handle them," he explained.

When classes began last September, Adams said there were more than 80 students during the first few weeks. Gradually, as the class progressed, there were fewer than 40 students who graduated.

"It is a great feeling of accomplishment for all of us to know that we have better training to be able to provide more assistance to those who need it. So many times before I felt that sense of frustration when a person called for help and expected help but I wasn't qualified," Adams commented.

"I remember being called to an accident where there were so many people hurt that the ambulance attendants couldn't get to everyone at the same time. I won't have to feel that helpless anymore," he added.

Special Olympians Win Hockey Game

High scoring matched high excitement as Chelsea High school Special Olympians competed in their first floor hockey game Friday, Nov. 11 at High Point in Ann Arbor.

Chelsea won, 12-9, with Kim Foss netting the first point. High Point athletes Ron Phelps and Larry Kennison scored twice in the same period.

Second quarter action saw Glenn Passow hitting for four goals while Chris Williams and Terry Walkowe collected one each and Mike Foster scored twice. High Point scored off the work of Andy Plastowski who shot twice into the net.

In the final stanza, Chelsea earned three more points, one from the stick of Glenn Passow and two from Kim Foss. Five High Point players had one score each including Lorraine Martel, Larry Kennison, Jeff Hoover, Ken Bartus, and Andy Plastowski.

Boys Swim Team Seeks New Members

Chelsea High school boys' varsity swim team is still looking for swimming and diving members, according to Coach Larry Reed.

"Any high school student who has an interest can report to the pool at 3:30 p.m. any week day with suit and towel to begin practice. You don't have to be a superstar to come out," he explained.

Reed added that new swimmers cannot join the team after Dec. 4. "Even the most novice swimmer with practice, can become a strong contender," Reed said.

Please Inform Us of Any Address Change.

Three Auto Crash Victims Still Reported In Fair Condition

Three Chelsea High school students are still listed in fair condition at area hospitals following a fatal car accident nearly two weeks ago on Friday, Nov. 3. Another student, Bruce Centofanti, was released from St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor, on Sunday, Nov. 12.

Traci Fletcher is in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital; and James Robbins and Christy Burg are at Mott's Children's Hospital, Ann Arbor.

Two Outdoor Walks Slated at Park Lyndon

Two special outdoor walks are scheduled to be held this month by the Washtenaw County Parks and Recreation Commission (WC-PARC).

These walks which are offered to the public free of charge, will feature different interpretive aspects of 205-acre Park Lyndon.

The first program, scheduled for Sunday, Nov. 19, will focus on "Winter Trees and Plants." Participants will learn some identifying features of trees through bark, limb structure and winter twigs and buds. Small plants will also be looked at as well as many with edible medicinal purposes. The walk begins at 10 a.m.

The following Sunday, Nov. 26, WCPARC is offering a general interpretive walk entitled "Nature Prepares for Winter." A variety of topics will be covered in this program including discussion of both animal and plant life found on the site. This walk begins at 1 p.m.

November Events Give Holiday Preview

November is the month when Jack Frost does some serious nipping at noses, turkeys get nervous and Santa Claus arrives in grand style to open the holiday season, according to the Travel Bureau, Michigan Department of Commerce.

Hudson's Thanksgiving Day Parade has become a tradition not only to Michiganans, but also to millions of television viewers across the country. This year's "turkey day" extravaganza (November 23), will include a giant 120-foot bug, a hoedown on wheels, bands, balloons, clowns and the prize winning float designed by a Detroit schoolchild. The climax of the procession is, of course, the arrival of Mr. S. Claus in all his magical glory.

Once Santa is on the scene, enchanting things begin to happen. An annual favorite for children in age and children at heart, is a visit to Fantasyland, opening Nov. 25, and continuing through Dec. 24, at Kennedy Memorial Center, Lincoln Park. This old-fashioned Christmas display features a street of toy and candy shops, a mouse factory and a peek inside the elf's workshop. Santa will be there too taking Christmas orders and a pre-Christmas gift for good girls and boys.

Adults with a bewildering Christmas list will have the opportunity to shop for original gifts by Michigan artists at the Holly Mart, Nov. 3-Dec. 24, in Battle Creek. The Folk Arts Fair, Nov. 3-5, Flint will feature items from the markets of the world. For those interested in gifts that have withstood the test of time, the Antiques Market & Sale at Fairlane Manor, Dearborn, Nov. 3-11, and the Holiday Antique Show, East 8 Mile Armory, Detroit, Nov. 15-19, will provide an excellent shopping ground.

Meadow Brook Hall at Rochester will be open for tours Nov. 29-Dec. 3 offering visitors a delightful holiday experience. The 100 rooms of the magnificent English Tudor mansion will be exquisitely decorated for the season. Cranbrook House, Bloomfield Hills, will feature "Holiday Tables and Tea" Nov. 18-20.

From elegance to endurance, more than 60 cars from all parts of the nation will battle the clock and the rugged terrain of the Upper Peninsula in the annual Press On Regardless Road Rally, Nov. 4-5. Described as "America's oldest, toughest and meanest rally," the 600 mile course begins in Houghton and covers some of the roughest roads in the U.P. testing the mettle of both car and driver.

The trials and tribulations of Daddy Warbucks' favorite ward come to Detroit's Fisher Theatre, Nov. 7 when the curtain rises on "Annie" for an open-end engagement. Vincent Price provides "Diversions and Other Delights," Nov. 7, at Western Michigan Auditorium, Kalamazoo.

"Spooks continues to haunt the Henry Ford Museum Theatre, Dearborn, Nov. 3, 4, 11, 17, and 18. And, Harry Blackstone, Jr., one of the top masters of magic, will mystify the audience with logic-defying illusions, Nov. 26, in the Music Hall, Detroit. The heavens provide the setting for "Star of Wonder," Abrams Planetarium, East Lansing Nov. 24-30. The presentations concern the astronomical possibilities of the star that led the shepherds and the wise men to the Christ child long ago.

Man's best friend will be the center of attention at the Motor City Specialty Dog Show, Nov. 25 and the All Breed Dog Show, Nov. 26, in the Artillery Armory, Oak Park. For cottontail connoisseurs, the Tri-County Rabbit Show, Nov. 4, Kalamazoo.

Other events to make note of include: the Folk Arts Fair, International Institute, Flint, Nov. 3-5; Holiday on Ice, Nov. 10-12, Walker Arena, Muskegon and Nov. 28-30, Civic Center, Lansing; Orchild Show, Nov. 10-11, Westmain Mall, Kalamazoo; National Ballet of Spain, Nov. 13, MSU Auditorium, East Lansing; and an Old-Fashioned Christmas, Pioneer Village, Ludington, Nov. 24-26.

STOP. DETOUR

Unless you're crazy about the drive, there's no real reason to drive into Detroit looking for new car bargains. Rampy Chevrolet in Ann Arbor is a lot closer and you'll get the same low prices you find in Detroit — maybe even lower. At Rampy you'll also find the kind of careful, competent, come again service you expect from small town folks who know their neighbors.

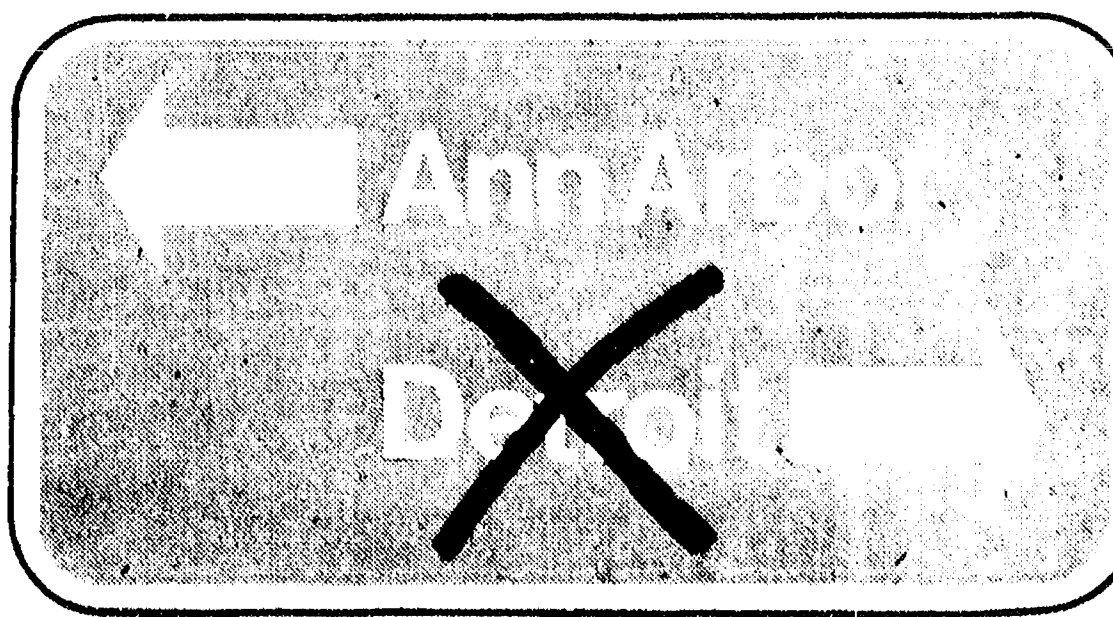

You see, Rampy's not just the biggest Chevrolet dealer in Washtenaw County, he's got the biggest dealership of any kind in the country. That means that he's governed by the same kind of high volume economics you've been driving all the way into Detroit to find.

On the other hand, Ann Arbor is a town where people do know each other. Word gets around. And the word is that Rampy gives good service after the sale. As a matter of fact, Rampy's service department has been used as a model for training other Chevrolet dealers.

Isn't it time you took a detour?
Before you drive all the way into Detroit looking for a new car... stop at Rampy.
We don't think you'll go any further.

South School Celebrates Mickey Mouse's Birthday

South school celebrated both Children's Book Week and Mickey Mouse's birthday the week of Nov. 13-17.

Monday, Nov. 13 was Disneyland and Disneyworld day. Those students who have been lucky enough to go to these places brought in souvenirs to share with their class.

Tuesday, Nov. 14 was designated Cheese Day. Everyone indulged in some "mouse food."

Wednesday, Nov. 15 the students wore Mickey Mouse T-shirts and hats to school for T-shirt and hat day.

Thursday, Nov. 16 was Mickey's friends day. We shared our favor-its stuffed toy or t-shirt of a Disney character with our class. Friday, the week's activities are topped off with a treat provided by the teachers or room mothers. Many mothers went to much trouble decorating lovely cakes for the classes to eat.

This special celebration was organized by the Media Specialist, Laurel McDonald. Many activities related to Mickey Mouse and Disney were present in the media center for student use.

Spaulding Christmas Card Now on Sale

"Angels' Light" is the theme of the 1978 Spaulding for Children Christmas card now on sale. Designed by Mrs. Robert (Mari) Daniels of Chelsea, the card contains a simply stated greeting which reads "Peace and Joy To All." The card is green ink on ivory paper.

Last year Mrs. Daniels designed a card for the Cancer Society. This is the second card that Mrs. Daniels has designed for Spaulding.

Spaulding for Children Christmas cards are sold annually to raise money for the local adoption agency which finds homes for hard-to-place children.

The agency originated in 1968 with a group of people concerned about the thousands of school-age youngsters, some with mental or physical handicaps, social disabilities, or a history which gives reason to anticipate special problems, who await adoption today.

The idea to create a placement agency for these youngsters became a reality when Warren Spaulding, a retired Chelsea farmer, donated his farm property for the agency's headquarters.

Before Spaulding for Children, hard-to-place youngsters often waited adoption in the custody of social agencies and juvenile courts. Even with the agency, this still occurs for some. The children are usually placed in paid foster homes, which means a qualified family is paid (usually from public funds) to care for the child as a stop-gap measure.

Frequently, the children are shifted from one home or institution to another, so they "belong" to no one.

Placement is difficult because most adoption agencies have been tuned to finding homes for normal, healthy infants. Spaulding children need a different kind of family, many more hours of work to match child and family, and more extensive follow-up services. It becomes expensive.

Spaulding for Children's funds come from tax-deductible contributions and from fund-raising projects such as the Christmas card sale. There is no official sponsor providing a ready source of money. Placement work is done by paid, trained professionals, but volunteers do as much as possible in the way of fund-raising and support work to cut expenses.

People in the community can help Spaulding continue its work with a minimum of involvement, simply by supporting the agency's annual Christmas card sales.

SWIMMERS OF THE WEEK: Mary Bacon, right, and Donna Alexander were honored for sacrificing their goals and desires to participate in events helpful to the team as a whole. Mary, a freshman, entered all of the relay teams, the 100-yard butterfly, and the 100-yard breaststroke although her favorite event is diving. "She has entered whichever event she was needed in which is quite a sacrifice for a 9th grade girl to make," Coach Larry Reed commented. Donna, a sophomore, started the year as a 50-yard sprinter in the freestyle event, but, like Mary, swam on the relays, the 100-yard backstroke and the butterfly, and the 100-yard freestyle. An illness has prevented Donna from swimming most of the year. "She has considerable talent but was unable to spend much time in the pool to qualify for the state meet," Reed said.

Rec. Dept. Seeks Co-Ordinators for Winter Programs

Applications for paid co-ordinators of several Chelsea Recreation Department winter programs are now being taken, according to Robin Raymond, director.

Co-ordinators are needed for adult co-ed volleyball, men's basketball, and cross-country skiing. Exact times and dates of these classes have not been set but Raymond said he expects them to start the third week of January and continue for six to 10 weeks.

Anyone interested may call him at the Recreation Dept. office, 475-7165, or at Chelsea High school, 475-9131, ext. 53.

Volunteers will be in Chelsea State Bank on the following Fridays and Saturdays: Nov. 24, 3 to 5 p.m.; Nov. 25, 9 a.m. to 12 p.m.; Dec. 1, 3 to 5 p.m.; Dec. 2, 9 a.m. to 12 p.m.; Dec. 7, 3 to 5 p.m.; and Dec. 8, 9 a.m. to 12 p.m. They will offer a choice of card designs for purchase. Posters and sign-up sheets are also being displayed in a number of Chelsea stores so that persons interested in purchasing Christmas cards from the agency may simply sign up to be called by a Spaulding volunteer.

Or, Spaulding cards may be purchased by calling Dorothea Pielemeyer at 475-2872.
