United Way Fund Reaches 50% of Goal

The 1978 campaign for Chelsea United Way has passed the halfway point and is going strong, according to Will Connelly, general fund chairman for the organization.

Pledges and gifts to date are estimated at more than $10,300. The exact amount is unknown because many Chelsea area residents make their gifts and pledges, designated for Chelsea, at plants and offices which are headquartered in other communities.

President Jerry Dresselhouse urged continued strong support for the 1978 campaign with collected funds to be used to maintain numerous social agencies during 1979. "We all feel the effects of inflation in the financial affairs of our own families," he said, "but we need corresponding increases for the needs of others. Food, clothing, bedding, medical help—all the things we provide through Chelsea United Way—now cost more than ever before."

In the 1978 campaign, Chelsea United Way is striving to raise $38,500 or more for the Chelsea Recreation Council, Cystic Fibrosis Foundation, Chelsea Home Meals, the Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, Chelsea Social Service, Huron Valley Child Guidance, Catholic Social Services, Washtenaw Association for Retarded Citizens, Child and Family Services, Salvation Army, Red Cross and United Way of Michigan.

Chelsea United Way also maintains a reserve fund for emergencies. Highway travelers in distress near Chelsea during snowstorms, for example, receive assistance from the entire community. This includes help from several Chelsea United Way agencies.

'Harvey' Cast Gives Good Performance

For those who happened to miss the Chelsea Player's production of "Harvey" last week-end, don't despair. The super comedy by Mary Chase which was filmed in 1960 starring Jimmy Stewart will be aired on several TV stations Thanksgiving evening.

Theatre goes Friday and Saturday night were treated not only to Chase's well-written story of a "pooka" but one of the smoothest, near flawless productions the Players have presented.

Jim Filer, a stickler for detail and accuracy, directed "Harvey" and his influence was felt in every scene as cast members flowed through their parts with nary a slip. Filer was assisted by Chelsea High school dramatics instructor Jonathan Andrews.

Technical director Bart Bauer also made his perfectionist inclinations apparent in set construction and special effects with his cast of backstage assistants including many high school craftsmen.

A "pooka" as Chumley's Rest attendant Duane Wilson (Don Watson) learned from reading a handy encyclopedia "is a fairy spirit in animal form. Always very large.

The pooka appears here and there, now and then, to this one and that one at his own caprice. A wise but mischievous creature. Very fond of rum-pots and crack-pots."

As it happens, this very pooka took the opportunity of introducing himself to a Mr. Elwood P. Dowd (Bill Coelius). Dowd, being very fond of rum-pots, established an immediate rapport with the pooka Harvey, and during the course of the play spent numerous hours in mutual friendship over numerous rumts with the invisible white rabbit.

Coelius was more than convincing as he played the part of the profoundly polite, starchy eyed, totally unaffected Dowd.

Others who added well-presented parts were Michelle McClear as the sassy, plump, near-spinner Myrtle Mae Simmons; Mary Powers as Dowd's sister, the traditional Veta Louise Simmons; Rita Wilson-Howard as an unmarried husband-seeking nurse; David Powers as the questionable, fantasy-minded Dr. Chumley; Jim Fahey as the aging Judge Omar Gaffney; and Mark Stevenson in a short, but important role as the cab driver.

School Board Briefs

Board of Education meeting Monday, Nov. 20 was called to order at 8:00 p.m. by President Martin H. Tobin.

Board approved minutes of Nov. 6 meeting.

Board granted tenure to Lynn Zander, EMI teacher at Beach Middle school, and Karen Fuller, EMI-LD teacher at the high school, effective January, 1979.

Board heard informational reports as follows:

1. Steve Bergmann presented a video tape of the Chelsea High School Marching Band at the University of Michigan Bandorama.

2. Susan Carter, High School Counselor, presented analysis of the State Assessment Test for grades 4, 7, and 10.

3. Board heard a general progress report on the district energy conservation program.

4. James Stirling gave a Curriculum Committee report.

5. Ann Feeney reported on the MASH fall conference.

Board authorized the Business Manager to pay the Village of Chelsea $5,852 on a five-year payment schedule for sewer tap charges.

Board and administrators will attend a workshop at WISD on Nov. 30, at 7:30 p.m. pertaining to the analysis of the Headlee Amendment and regionalized bargaining.

Board adjourned at 10:15 p.m.

Girls District Cage Tourney Starts Tuesday

Five area high schools will join the Chelsea High school girls' varsity basketball team in the State Basketball Tournament, District No. 37, to be hosted by Chelsea. Attending will be Dexter, Pinckney, Saline, Ypsilanti Lincoln, and Ypsilanti Willow Run.

Competition will begin Tuesday, Nov. 28 with two games, the first to start at 7 p.m. in the Chelsea High school gymnasium. Two games will be held on Thursday, Nov. 30 beginning at 7 p.m. and the championship game will start at 7:30 p.m. on Dec. 2.

Winner of the tourney will go on to regional play at Columbia Central.

"HOLIDAY HANDICRAFTS"; Chelsea Child Study Club members display just a few of the hand-made items to be sold during their bazaar on Saturday, Dec. 2. Pictured from the left are Ann Schaffner, Dottie Bell, Barbara Branch, and Louise Likave. Holiday baked goods will be featured along with such festive items as herb wreaths, dough art, dried flower pictures, tree ornaments, pewter angels, pine cone wreaths and animals, and gift boxes. Proceeds are earmarked for the Waterloo Interpretive Center.

D. Foreman Directing U. of M. Play

Douglas Foreman, 1977 graduate of Chelsea High school and now a sophomore speech, communication, and theater major at U. of M., is director of the 1978 UAC-Soph Show production, the smash Broadway hit, "Pippin," to be presented Dec. 7-10 at the Lydia Mendelsohn Theater, Ann Arbor.

"Pippin" had a five-year run on Broadway. Adapted from the book by Roger O. Hirson, the music and lyrics are by Stephen Schwartz, noted composer-lyricist of "Godspell." The original production had such diverse talents as Ben Vereen, Irene Ryan (Granny on the Beverly Hillbillies), Jill Clayburgh, and John Rubinstein.

UAC-Soph Show was among the first amateur theatre organizations in the nation to be allowed to perform "Pippin."

Girls Varsity Cagers Defeat Dexter, 42-36

On Tuesday, Nov. 14 the Chelsea Bulldog girls varsity basketball team traveled to neighboring Dexter and avenged an earlier loss by knocking off the Dreadnaughts, 42-36.

Chelsea edged ahead in a defense-minded first quarter by a 7-5 score. "Dexter was playing a box and one against Nanette Push," commented Bulldog Coach Jim Winter. "They saw what she did against Milan the week before and probably thought if they stopped her they would stop us," he said.

That defensive strategy seemed to be paying off after eight minutes. Push had only one point in that quarter and seemed bothered by the Dexter defense. The Bulldogs were playing some tough defense of their own that held Dexter to only two field goals in eight minutes.

Push shook loose for five points in the second quarter but Dexter slipped out to a 17-16 half-time lead.

"When we played Dexter earlier we led until the final few minutes," said Winter. "We knew we could play with them if we toughed it out. We made some offensive adjustments at half-time to take advantage of their box and one against Push. The girls did a nice job in the third quarter," he commented.

Indeed, they did the job. In that quarter they outscored the Dreadnaughts, 16-4, to take a 32 to 21 lead. The offensive adjustments had senior Lori Miles and sophomore Jennifer Ringe taking the outside shot. They connected enough to string out the Dexter defense which allowed sophomore forward Mary Boylan to break loose for six important points.

The young Bulldogs seemed to tire in the fourth quarter as Dexter outscored them, 15-10, but with the memory of what happened in their first meeting the cagers drew upon reserve strength and pride to hang on for the victory.

Despite Dexter's concentrated defensive effort, Push led Chelsea scorers with 16 points, "She

Girls Varsity Swim Team Wins Tourney

Chelsea High school varsity girls swimmers obliterated their competition in the second annual Chelsea Invitational last Thursday, Nov. 16. Bulldogs' total score of 363 points was 79 points ahead of runner-up Dundee.

Finishing third was Aibion with 163; Monroe, fourth with 154; Willow Run, fifth with 141; and Lincoln sixth with 96.

"We came in seeded just eight points ahead of Dundee so our final score was very satisfying because it was a total team effort," Coach Larry Reed commented.

All 17 swimmers placed, won awards, and scored points. State meet qualifiers were not allowed to really prepare for the invitational because they are peaking for state competition. All the other team members enjoyed lifetime bests again and again," he added.

Three swimmers who qualified for the state meet in Grand Rapids are Sue Cobb, Annette Kuhl, and Molly Bacon. The girls varsity team now has 12 coeds gearing up for state meet.

Another highlight of the meet was the individual performance of Shelly Springer who set several school records in the 50-yard and 100-yard freestyle.

Results of the Thursday Invitational are:
200-yard medley relay, Lisa Radke, Teresa Degener, Shelly Springer, and Donna Alexander, second, 2:12.22; Michele Alexander, Michele Clark, Shannon Culver, and Pam Spayd, sixth, 2:25.88.

200-yard freestyle, Sara Borders, 1st, 2:13.62; Annette Kuhl, 4th, 2:27.40; Mary Bacon, 5th, 2:27.73; Julie Sundling, 10th, 2:45.62.

200-yard IM, Shannon Springer, 2nd, 2:40.19; Janine Hoffman, 10th, 2:57.75; Shannon Culver, 12th, 2:59.82.

50-yard freestyle, Shelly Springer, 1st, 26.66; Anita Powell, 3rd, 28.54; Pam Spayd, 11th, 31.75. Diving, Michelle Alexander, 1st, 164.95 points; Michele Clark, 150-70; Molly Bacon, 4th, 139.60.

100-yard fly, Sara Borders, 1st, 1:09.32; Teresa Degener, 7th, 1:22.78; Janine Hoffman, 12th, 1:32.91.

100-yard freestyle, Shelly Springer, 1st, 59.44; Anita Powell, 4th, 1:04.41; Sue Cobb, 7th, 1:07.61; Julie Sundling, 11th, 1:13.32.

500-yard freestyle, Shannon Springer, 2nd, 6:38.12; Annette Kuhl, 6th, 6:52.13.

100-yard backstroke, Lisa Radke, 4th, 1:18.02; Sue Cobb, 7th, 1:22.38; Donna Alexander, 9th, 1:24.23.

100-yard breaststroke, Teresa Degener, 2nd, 1:19.75; Shannon Culver, 8th, 1:25.69; Michele Clark, 9th, 1:25.90.

400-yard freestyle relay, Anita Powell, Mary Bacon, Shannon Springer, and Sara Borders, 1st, 4:19.32; Annette Kuhl, Sue Cobb, Donna Alexander, Janine Hoffman, 4th, 4:45.75.

Traffic Argument Leads to Fatal Shot

What appears to have started as an argument following a traffic accident on I-94, ended in death as a 36-year-old Jackson man was shot once in the mid-section just outside Chelsea on Friday, Nov. 17.

Anthony Parker, 36, of Ypsilanti township, was arraigned on a first degree murder charge on Saturday, Nov. 18 for the killing of Donald Havery. Parker is in Washtenaw County Jail without bond by the order of Judge Kenneth Bronson. A pre-trial hearing at the 14th District Court before Judge Henry D. Arkison is set for Monday, Nov. 27.

Chelsea Police officer Dennis Hall witnessed the shooting, according to Police Chief George Meranuck. "Hall was just inside the village limits and the gunning took place outside the limits at the exit ramp of I-94 and M-52," Meranuck said.

Washtenaw County Sheriff's Deputies were called to the scene. According to reports, the two men were involved in a traffic accident near Zeeb Rd. in Scio township. They stopped their vehicles to fight, then drove to the M-52 exit to fight again. Parker allegedly grabbed a shotgun from his pickup truck and shot Havery in the midsection.

Parker was immediately arrested while a nurse in the area assisted the wounded Havery. Havery was taken to the Chelsea Community Hospital where he died.

Downtown Bar Being Completely Renovated

Dave Kaercher of Pinckney is pulling out all stops in his reconstruction of the former Davidson Station at 113 S. Main St.

Especially so following the approval of the Chelsea Planning Commission to let Kaercher build a 600-square-foot addition on the back of the building.

"They gave me the OK last Tuesday and with any kind of luck I'll probably be open the first of the year," Kaercher commented.

Former owner of The Wooden Nickle in Dannsville, Kaercher bought the business from Donald McKinley, who once had plans to re-open the bar.

"Don was going to open it and then try to sell it but then I came along. Don sold it to me early this month and I've been working on it since then," Kaercher explained.

With an eye for taste and an interest in memorabilia, Kaercher will call his bar the Chelsea Woodshed and outfit the interior with appropriate decor.

"There are still many details to work out but my main interest is to create a pleasant atmosphere which will attract a middle-class clientele," he said.

Already, Kaercher has nearly gutted the inside, tearing out partitions and possibly the bar. The ceiling has been painted a striking gold while he's still debating on the color of carpet which will cover the entire floor.

"With the addition I will be able

Southeast Conference Being Reorganized

Chelsea varsity football team will play fewer conference games and more non-league games next year as a result of three Southeastern Conference teams leaving the SEC league next year.

Brighton, South Lyon, and Novi will join Howell, Pinckney, and Hartland for the 1979-80 season. Filling the vacant ranks will be the Jackson County Western Panthers, and the Tecumseh Indians. Two other possible teams were Ann Arbor Gabriel Richard and Willow Run High schools which did not receive sufficient votes to enter the SEC.

Tecumseh, however, still has one year remaining in a two-year commitment to the Huron League and will not officially join the SEC until the 1980-81 season. Jackson will start next year.

"We will still have a nine game football season and a 20 game basketball season, but more of the games will be non-league action," according to Coach Phil Bareis of the Chelsea varsity football squad.

Chelsea has played Tecumseh during the past six years while their encounters with Jackson has been limited to pre-season scrimmages in the past three years.

"Both schools have very fine athletic programs and are a welcome addition to the league," Bareis commented.

GENEROUS SMILE: Pat Whitesall, residential campaign chairwoman, appears pleased with the efforts of her captain teams and collectors as they approach the 1978 United Way goal of $38,500. To date, more than half of that sum has been pledged with many contributions unknown because of donations made in other communities but designated for Chelsea.

Unclaimed Deposits May Be Source For Recreational Funds
Unclaimed deposits from returnable soft drink and beer containers could produce as much as $20 to $40 million as a result of a non-returnable container ban which takes effect in Michigan Dec. 3.

Manufacturers and distributors of returnable containers want the unclaimed funds returned to them to redevelop assembly lines to aid in the change-over from non-returnables, but other groups are looking at the funds as a method of financing recreational facilities in the state.

A bill, pending before the House of Representatives, creating a conservation and recreation fund out of unclaimed bottle deposits has been the object of recent attacks from the soft drink and beer industries as an effort to confiscate money unconstitutionally.

On the other side of the ledger, the bill was praised as a way of maintaining and improving recreational facilities throughout the state.

The measure would require beverage manufacturers and distributors to pay into a state conservation and recreation fund any unclaimed bottle and can deposits they have. Those funds would then be used for educational programs, solid waste management programs, wildlife preservation and local recreation and conservation projects.

One of the theories behind the bill is to prevent some distributors and manufacturers from getting windfall profits from unclaimed deposits.

Everett Fuller of the American Can Co., said the unclaimed deposits are needed by the companies to help the industry redevelop its assembly line processes and to help pay for the production of the new mandated containers.

He suggested that if the state siphons off the costs, then it is simply another government intrusion into the business segment.

An assistant to Detroit Mayor Coleman Young, Don Krichbaum, said the bill could produce the necessary funds and provide a source of local matching funds for federal projects.

Krichbaum added that the funds could just be the answer necessary to keep recreation funds from drying up due to the twin pressures of inflation and tax limitation.

School Vandalism Study

Designed for stemming the rising number of incidents of school violence and vandalism, Governor William G. Milliken recently appointed a state-wide task force to study the problem.

The State-wide Task Force on School Vandalism and Violence is comprised of students, parents, community leaders and representatives from all levels of government.

Ypsilanti Man Named Legion Rep To Vet Council

The Board of Trustees of the Michigan Veterans Trust Fund has announced the appointment of Donald E. Smith, 1071 Hull St., Ypsilanti, to serve as the American Legion representative on the Washtenaw County Veterans Trust Fund Committee, for a term ending Dec. 31, 1980.

Last year, the Washtenaw county committee assisted 900 veterans, widows and dependents of veterans for a total of $41,818.09.

Throughout the State of Michigan, county committees assisted 23,746 veterans, widows and dependents, with a total expenditure of $1,168,446.56.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Ed Doolittle came to the session at the country store Saturday night with a handful of clippings and discouraging words on just about everything but the Mason-Dixon line. Ed told the fellows that the only thing that's gone right lately was that surveyors using the most up-to-date equipment found that the line laid off 214 years ago was accurate to within two inches, and who's to say the modern boys couldn't be off two inches.

Ed said he was glad to see someone that was done right, and he'd like to see us get back to talking pride in doing it right the first time, whether it's making laws or patching tires. Ed said we have reached the place in this country where there's no such thing as a law-abiding citizen. There's just too many laws for anybody to keep up with, like the health law that says you've got to mop the floors in the meat plant ever four hours, but you got to abide by the OSHA law that says keep the floor dry so workers won't slip down. Ed said he recalled years ago when a fence law for cattle was being discussed. One legislator said he was agin it because a poor hungry fellow come to steal chickens he might get hurt climbing the fence. Back in them days, Ed allowed, human weakness was given some thought, and the legislator was thinking straight. He knew that the poor could be depended on to vote at least once in every election.

As for the way things are going now, Ed had this clipping about plans the Department of Housing and Urban Development has to keep throwing good money after bad on "new towns." The item said HUD has dropped $149 million down this rat-hole in the past six years, and it is taking the position that if at first you don't succeed you keep on failing. The Federal Government is giving $5 million or $20 million to fast operators who start towns in areas of few people, low income and high unemployment. Nearly all of em spent the money and dried up, but four or five, including one in Texas and one in North Carolina, kept on convincing HUD they got a future. Ed said he can't understand why the Government can't understand that if these were good places for towns they'd already be towns. The one in North Carolina has spent $17 million in four years, and it has 22 houses and 145 people to show for it, Ed said.

Furthermore, Ed went on, the next time he writes his congressman he's going to ask about this Englishman that is suggesting America follow their plan of kicking bad farmers off the land so the good farmers can raise more food. It won't happen here, Ed said, but the very idea makes him mad. Only farmers and ranchers that got up early, worked hard and got results could use the land. What, Ed wanted to know, if that crazy thinking was carried over to politicians, to newspaper editors and school teachers? For one thing Ed said, we'd spend all our time at the polls trying to find public servants willing to serve the public.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

Great Lakes Federal Opens Jackson Office

Great Lakes Federal Savings opened its first office in Jackson county on Monday, Nov. 20, according to Roy E. Weber, president. Located at 1111 W. North St., in Jackson, the office opened in a temporary mobile unit. Construction on the 5,300 square foot permanent structure will begin in March, 1979.

The contemporary designed structure will serve Great Lakes Federal Savings customers with six teller windows, two drive-up time and temperature sign will offer an additional service to customers. As well as the time, the special sign will show the current temperature in both the Fahrenheit and Celsius scales.

Raymond Zeman of Marshall has been selected as branch manager for the new office. A graduate of Michigan State University with a degree in business administration, Zeman has seven years' experience in the savings and loan industry.

The opening of the Jackson office will mark the 22nd office for Great Lakes Federal Savings, which will be highlighted with special premiums and drawings. "We are already serving over 800 customers in the Jackson area,"

Weber states. "We feel that we'll now be able to give better, more efficient service to our present customers as well as the whole community of Jackson."

Homemakers Club Plans Christmas Lunch in Jackson

Last Thursday evening Barbara Haist served as hostess for the November meeting of The Homemakers Club.

Regular business followed the roll call. Discussion was held on several future activities including a Christmas luncheon and March dance.

The sharing of ideas for the holiday was the program for the evening. Several crafts, cookies, and candies were displayed and each member had an opportunity to explain and give tips on her contribution. Cookie recipes were exchanged and the samples served as refreshments.

Ten members enjoyed making Baker's clay Santa ornaments at the workshop earlier this month.

Next meeting will be Dec. 5, when the group will meet at Gilbert's in Jackson for lunch. Secret pal gifts are to be exchanged.

Dianna Jean Hale, David Roberts Are Married at St. Mary Church

Wedding vows were exchanged by Dianna Jean Hale and David William Roberts in a late fall ceremony, Nov. 10 at St. Mary Catholic church, Chelsea.

Nearly 300 guests attended the wedding of the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Hale, 223 Buchanan St. and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Roberts, 412 W. Main St., Manchester. The Rev. Fr. David Dupuis of St. John Catholic church, Ypsilanti performed the ceremony. Organist was Mary Olney of Chelsea.

The Rev. Fr. David Dupuis of St. Mary Catholic church was to have performed the ceremony. However, he was unable to as his niece was married that same evening.

The bride chose a Victorian style gown of creamy beige shiffler embroidered chrysallette over silk jersey. Her elbow-length veil was secured by a matching sherrid cap and she carried a bouquet of white and peach roses.

Mrs. Norma Smith of Chelsea, aunt of the bride, hand-made the wedding gown and the bride's attendant's gowns.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Linda Kay Wescott of Gregory, sister of the bride. She wore a rust-colored silk jersey gown topped with a soft chiffon jacket patterned with fall flowers. Peach silk roses highlighted the fall arrangement she carried.

Serving as bridesmaids were Mrs. Anita Spears of Dexter, cousin of the bride; and Betty Gross of Ann Arbor. They wore gowns and carried bouquets identical to the matron of honor's.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Hale wore a floor-length, long sleeve beige gown patterned in muted fall colored flowers. Her corsage was made with white roses.

The bridegroom's mother chose a cocktail-length sleeveless dress of deep turquoise. She also wore a corsage of white roses.

Best man was John Roberts of Tecumseh, brother of the bridegroom. Ushers included Alan Hale of Chelsea, brother of the bride; Joe Roberts of Manchester, brother of the bridegroom; and Gene Kementer of Manchester. Groomsmen were Danny Roberts of Lansing, brother of the bridegroom; and Chuck Benedict of Manchester.

The bridegroom wore a cream colored tuxedo and the ushers and groomsmen wore russet colored tuxedos with cream colored shirts.

A reception was held at the Knights of Columbus Hall in Manchester. Mrs. Theresa Baron of Manchester, sister of the bridegroom, made the wedding cake and Barbara Quick of Whitmore Lake cut and served the cake.

Mrs. Kay Taylor of Chelsea poured punch and Alan John Hale was in charge of the guest book. Mrs. Betty Quigg of Chelsea catered the food.

Prior to the wedding a shower was held at the Union Hall in Chelsea, given by Anita Spears, Linda Wescott, and Betty Gross. Approximately 65 persons attended.

The couple will reside at 412 W. Madison St., Manchester.

The bride is a graduate of Chelsea High school and Washtenaw Community College where she earned her certificate as a dental assistant. She has been employed by Wayne Colquitt, DDS, in Ann Arbor for eight years.

The bridegroom is employed as a toolmaker at the Rawsonville Ford Plant. He is also attending Henry Ford College. He is a graduate of Manchester High school.

Central Michigan University will begin a unique "family plan" of financial aid in the fall of 1979. Families with more than one son or daughter enrolled at CMU simultaneously will receive financial grants to help pay for tuition.

Ruth Circle Notes

Ruth Circle met Nov. 14 at 1 p.m. at the Crippen Building with Miss Gram and Mrs. Simmons as hostesses. 26 members and one guest were present.

Miss Martha Earles opened the meeting with reading of Heart's Haven. The treasurer, Mrs. McCalla, reported that all 1978 pledges were paid. Pledges for 1979 are $572.

Miss Earles announced that members are urged to bring gifts to the December meeting. Mrs. Fleener reported that Mrs. Lynn DeMoss and Mrs. Bonnie Flick, both of Albion, who have been in Israel for some time, will present the Christmas story.

All the recommendations from the general UMW were adopted. Miss Commons, new resident in the garden apartments, was introduced and welcomed.

Mrs. Helen Weiss spoke on the religious situation in the Caribbean. Miss Willa Bradley had the devotions. The meeting was closed with the friendship circle.

Child Study Club Has Program on Christmas Decorating

Chelsea Child Study Club met Nov. 14 at the home of Joan Eile. Guests included Sue Williams, Kay Redding, Paula Presley and Roberta Cook.

Following the business meeting Marj Daniels presented a program on "Holiday Decorating" demonstrating various ways of using natural, purchased, or keep-sake items to decorate homes.

Refreshments were served by Marion Sprague and Anne Steinaway.

Ann Schaffner informed members of final plans for the Dec. 2 Christmas Bazaar to be held at Sylvan Town Hall. Members are in the process of finishing handmade items with home-baked donations to be made just before the sale.

Students Score Well in State Assessment Tests

As in the past few years, Chelsea's students scored extremely well on both math and reading sections of the state assessment test. For the first time, besides the test being given at the 4th and 7th grade levels, it was administered on a volunteer basis at the 10th grade.

These test results help teachers, counselors, principals, and district personnel examine the basic skills of individual students, total classes, buildings, and the entire district. Information gained from these tests is used to help plan

Review Sessions Slated for Women Returning to School

Women who are gearing up to take graduate and professional school admission examinations are invited to two programs planned by the University of Michigan Center for Continuing Education of Women. "The Exam-Taking Process," Nov. 27, focuses on the application maze and practical tips from women who have successfully survived the GRE, GMAT, and LSAT. The meeting will be from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. in the West Conference Room, Rackham School of Graduate Studies, Ann Arbor.

"Math Review, on Nov. 30 and Dec. 4, provides an opportunity to brush up on basic skills and practice common exam questions using graphs, story problems, algebra. These sessions, also from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m., will be in the Modern rooms 114, 115, and 116.

All interested women and men are welcome. However, the series is planned especially for women who are not now in school. Advance registration at the Center is requested. CEW is open weekdays at 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m., and is located at 328-330 Thompson St., Ann Arbor 48109. The phone number is (313) 763-1333.

Gridders of the Week

DAN KOLANDER (35) is a junior who played his first year on varsity for the Bulldogs. At 5'7" and 155 pounds he was slotted as an offensive fullback and defensive monster and during the two games he played in he joined the lineup in an offensive capacity. Kolander described his job as fullback as "mostly blocking for the tailback, but it depends on a number of circumstances," he said. The monster, or halfback position, orders a player to provide pass protection and follow the opponent's pass receiver. "I've got to watch for the tailback who comes out for a pass on a fake," Kolander explained. During the season, Kolander saw the Brighton contest as the team's best effort. "Last year we were defeated by Brighton and we turned in a good defensive show," he commented. Kolander said that the team as a whole was "a close group with a lot of unity," he said. At the same time, he said that those who worked to make the team as strong as it was "the coaches, captains, and the offense who pulled their stuff together after the first few games," he said. Kolander has played football since he was 10 years old and is anticipating an excellent season next year. He also participates in several other sports including paddle ball, water and snow skiing. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kolander, 14122 Wagon Wheel Ct.

DAN PAGLIARINI (25) is not about to spend the winter months dreaming about how the Bulldogs came close to the 1978 title or how well his team is going to do next year. Beginning in a few short weeks, it's back to serious training for the 5'8", 150-pound first-year varsity griddier. Pagliarini played nearly every game this year as an offensive slot back, but next year "my hopes are to really get into the season as a defensive halfback," he said. To this end, he will work out, building himself up for the rough contact and aggressive position. Pagliarini's personal best game in 1978 was the last match against Jackson Northwest. In that game he completed a 10-yard pass for an additional five yards and "did some of my better blocking," he commented. According to Pagliarini, the Bulldogs best game was against South Lyon. "We had more enthusiasm, better unity, and a lot more fire when we played them. We also demonstrated some of our best defense," he explained. In spite of his team's commendable 6-2 SEC record, he thought "we could have done much better, considering the talent. Next year, with the addition of the title-holding junior varsity I expect we'll have a winning team," he added. Dan is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pagliarini, 13330 Harper Dr.

out what they were trying to do and told her how to adjust she went out and did the job," he said. That job included 17 rebounds and nine steals to go with her 16 points. But she got plenty of support from her teammates as they put points on the board. Senior co-captain Sheryl Kiel pulled off a game high 18 rebounds and scored seven points. Mary Boylan pulled in 10 rebounds to go along with her nine points. Guards Ringe and Miles rounded out the scoring with six and four points, respectively. Friday night the Bulldogs dropped a Parents Night contest to the Saline Hornets, 44-33. The Chelsea squad opened with a 6-2 lead early in the contest but went cold and fell behind, 12-8, at the end of the quarter. The going stayed tough in the second quarter as the Hornets stretched their lead to double figures.

The Bulldogs rallied to come within three points but Saline put it back to six at the half, 25-19. It was the third quarter that undid the young Chelsea squad as Saline outscored them, 10-3. "Saline went after Push almost like Dexter," said Winter. "They had someone on her where ever she went. But they played a straight man-to-man instead of the zone like Dexter. It has been awhile since we've seen a man-to-man defense and we didn't react to it very well," he explained. Chelsea took 20 more shots than the Hornets but shot only 17 percent from the floor. "That was the difference, concluded Winter. "A few more shots dropped here and there and it's a different ball game."

Push led Chelsea scorers with 13 points. Senior guard Lori Miles came off the bench to add eight. Sheryl Kiel and Mary Boylan had four each and Jeryl Herrick and Jennifer Ringe each hit for two. After the Thanksgiving holiday, Chelsea hosts the Girls District 37 Tournament. Visiting here to compete with Chelsea in tournament play will be fellow Southeastern Conference members Lincoln, Dexter, and Saline along with Pinckney and Willow Run.

The tournament will begin with two games on Tuesday, Nov. 28, continued with District semi-finals on Thursday, Nov. 30, and conclude with the championship game on Saturday, Dec. 2.

Beach 7th Grade Girl Cagers Post 2-6 Record

3½ Failing to defeat in their last two games of the season, Beach Middle school 7th grade girls basketball team concluded their first year of competition with a 2-6 over-all record. On Tuesday, Nov. 14, Bullpups played a close, come-from-behind game against Stockbridge but lost with a heartbreaking 16-15 score. Chelsea matched baskets with the Panthers in the first quarter but fell behind, 8-7, by half-time. Stockbridge held Chelsea scoreless in the third as they scored eight points. Likewise, Chelsea held their rivals scoreless in the fourth quarter and scored eight points. Time ran out, however, before they could take the lead. High scorer for Chelsea was Karla Peterson with six points (five in the last quarter). Donna Mahoney tallied four while Laurie Heller and Mary Vaught each contributed two. Tanya Mattoff tossed in one. Thursday's game against the Tecumseh Indians saw the Bullpups overpowered, 25-11. Chelsea's top point getter was Jeanette Rouse with four points. Donna Mahoney had three; Maria Stapish, two; and Laurie Heller, one. "The team put out a fine effort all season, never gave up, and learned a lot," Coach Cheryl Vogel commented. Making up the team were Joan Shonk, Tanya Mattoff, Carol Warren, Teresa Bort, Jeanette Rouse, Wendy Wolfgang, Laurie Heller, Mary Vaught, Karla Peterson, Lisa

Headrick, Maria Stapish, and Donna Mahoney.

SWIMMERS OF THE WEEK: Three swimmers who contributed to Chelsea's winning ways this week are divers Michelle Alexander, left, and Michele Clark, middle, and swimmer Sue Cobb. Michelle Alexander finished first in the diving event during the Chelsea Invitational and broke the record in the process. She swam in the medley relay which placed sixth. "She has worked diligently for the last two years consistently improving her diving scores," Coach Larry Reed commented. Michele Clark also swam on the medley relay team as well as in the breaststroke event to place ninth. "She has put a great amount of time into her diving over the last three weeks to insure that she could qualify for the state meet," Reed said. Sue Cobb set two freshmen records last year and qualified for the state meet this year. Sue, however, was out of the pool with pneumonia until the last 2½ weeks of the season but since her recovery she was able to place in three events in the invitational with one fourth place and two seventh places.

Robert Thornton Named Director In Realtors Assoc.

Robert Thornton, a Chelsea realtor, today was elected a director of the National Association of Realtors at a session of the association's 71st annual convention in Honolulu.

As a director, Thornton will assist in policy making for the National Association and in deciding the thrust of Realtor programs.

The National Association of Realtors, headquartered in Chicago, has more than 650,000 members in 50 states, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, Guam and the Virgin Islands.

Chelsea Hospital Patients May Have Thanksgiving Guest

Thanksgiving will be a very special day at Chelsea Community Hospital, it was announced today by William H. Johnson, administrator of the hospital.

Each patient hospitalized over Thanksgiving Day may have one relative or friend to have Thanksgiving dinner at the noon hour, with all the trimmings, courtesy of the hospital. Patients and guests will be encouraged to utilize the dining room.

For the fourth consecutive year, Central Michigan University cut off enrollments early for the fall of 1978. CMU's enrollment has remained relatively steady at about 16,200 for the past three years, making it one of Michigan's most popular four-year universities.

Beach 8th Grade Girl Cagers Down Stockbridge

Completing their first season, the Beach Middle school 8th grade girls basketball team finished with a fine 5-3 record.

On Tuesday, Nov. 14 the young cagers played an experienced Stockbridge team. Chelsea came out slow, giving their opponents an early 8-4 lead in the first quarter. They settled down to outscore the Panthers, 9-3, in the second quarter and kept the edge throughout the second half holding Stockbridge scoreless from the floor in the last stanza.

Final score found Chelsea the victors, 25-18.

High scorer for Chelsea was Tracy Borton with 11 points. Miss Lazarz scored eight; and Amy Hume, Kim Boyd, and Donna Popovich each contributed two.

On Thursday, Nov. 16, the Bulls played an opponent, Tecumseh team, and conceded 32-15. Chelsea was only down by two points in the first quarter but all hopes for a comeback were crushed as Tecumseh kept filling the basket to take an 18-10 lead at the half.

Tracy Borton again led in scores with five; Lazarz had four; and Jean Folsom and Dawn Murphy each chipped in with two. Amy Hume and Kathy Degener scored one each.

"The team worked hard and showed great improvement over the season," Coach Cheryl Vogel commented.

Gaining valuable experience in their first year of basketball were Amy Hume, Kim Boyd, Anna Aello, Tracy Borton, Miss Lazarz, Renee Schell, Donna Popovich, Jane Verway, Jean Folsom, Kathy Degener, Dawn Murphy, Mary Hume, Kim Boyd, and Donna Popovich each contributed two.

Gridders of the Week

DAN ROWE (50): Rowe joined the varsity football squad as a junior this year and was positioned as an offensive center and defensive halfback. A self-described "aggressive player," Rowe naturally preferred the defensive slot and, during the four games he played in, was on the field as a halfback. As center, according to Rowe, "make sure the ball gets to the quarterback and controls the opponent's middle guard." The halfback, Rowe said, "keeps a close watch on the pass receiver and doesn't let the pass go through," he explained. It was the Bulldogs' first game with Tecumseh this season that Rowe considered the best. "As a junior varsity and freshman player Tecumseh was always the toughest game and it's been a long time since we defeated them," he said. Chelsea's varsity team, though, has trounced them for the past six consecutive years. Rowe called the Dexter game his best as he put in some strong defensive action with the most tackles all year. Rowe considered the season as "good, but we could have done better. Our morale was way down towards the end which interfered with our skill as a team," he commented. "It was a good year, in spite of the last few games because for the first time I think the team really got together with the juniors and seniors. We got to know one another and were able to play with unity," he said. Dan is the son of Mr. and Mrs. David Rowe, 15999 Waterloo Rd.

TODD WRIGHT (68): At an even six feet and 195 pounds, Wright has played tackle both offensively and defensively for the Chelsea Bulldogs in his first year on varsity. The junior griddier has played in five varsity games this season with the battle against Brighton proclaimed his best. "As an offensive tackle my responsibility is to block and during that game I contributed several key blocks for the win," he commented. Like the majority of his teammates, the outstanding game of the season was against South Lyon when the Bulldogs were the only team all season to crush the SEC title-holding Lions. "This season has been great for the team. We played with determination, spirit, and togetherness which are just as important as good players," Wright commented. When the Bulldogs again group next fall they will have nearly 40 members—20 from this year's junior varsity and Wright predicts they'll pull a 9-0 record. He is the son of Robin H. Wright and Nell Wright, both of Chelsea.

CBs FOR WHITE-TAILS

That's A Big 10-4, Bambi

By Loren D. Estleman
With CB fever sweeping the country and deer hunting season upon us once again, it seems only a matter of time before Michigan's largest game animal takes up the two-way citizens' band radio hobby for his own safety. When that happens, something like the following might take place in the woods.

"Okay, all you white-tails and mule-ears out there, this is the Big Buck comin' on strong over nine-one. It's almost dawn, and when Old Sol tops them pines over east these woods is gonna blossom blaze orange all over that place. Bambi, what's your 20?"

"I'm bedded down by the river, Big Buck. Come on."

"Any Daniel Boones out your way?"

"Negatory, Big Buck. Wait a minute. Yeah, I got me a fat executive type in 60 pounds of wool and mothballs crashin' through the brush like there's no tomorrow. He might be lost. Come on."

"Keep me posted. What you got up in the hills, Rudolph?"

"Got me an outdoor type with a bushy black beard, Big Buck. Set himself down at the base of a tree 10 minutes ago and went right to sleep. Come on."

"Eyeball him good, Rudy. Might be a trick. John, how are things down in the pines this opening day?"

"Could be trouble, Big Buck. There's this skinny fellow crouched not 20 yards away with a funny-looking gun across his lap. Don't know how long he's been there. Just noticed him. The patient type, watchful and quiet. A real hunter, Come on."

"A real hunter, out hunting deer. They sell licenses to anybody, don't they? Don't let him out of your sight. How's our fat Boone doing, Bambi?"

"Still lost, I reckon. He keeps coming back to the same tree and marking it. Come on."

"What's his color?"

"At the moment, hot pink and getting brighter. Come on."

"Let me know when he gets to red. Rudolph, how's Sleeping Beauty?"

"Snoring up a storm, Big Buck. Come on."

"Sneak up and leave tracks all around him. That ought to drive him crazy when he wakes up. Come on."

"Ten-four, good buddy."

"What's the story on our local Frank Buck, John?"

"All clear, B.B. The funny-looking gun turned out to be a camera. He's got a good shot of one frightened deer. When he stuck that big lens in my face I thought I was a goner. Come on."

"Next time smile. What's happening with Little Boy Lost, Bambi?"

"He's starting to talk to himself. Just now he threw away his compass. Said it was broken. Come on."

"Broken how?"

"The needle keeps pointing in the same direction."

"Big Buck, this is Rudolph. I need a little medical help here. Come on."

"Don't tell me you got shot!"

"Okay, I won't. Sleeping Beauty woke up while I was standing over him and threw an empty beer can at me. Opened up a cut on my head. Come on."

"Go soak your head."

"Repeat the message?"

"In the river. It'll stop the bleeding. What's the situation out your way, Bambi?"

"Not good. Looks like he's found his way."

"Shoe him some tail and get out of there. If he chases you long enough he'll be all day just looking for where he got lost in the first place. Come on."

"You're pure evil, Big Buck."

"Thanks, good buddy. John, what's with Matthew Brady?"

"He split after taking my picture."

"One down. How's the headache, Rudolph?"

"Under control. I'm in Bambi's territory now. Hemingway tracked me here and took a shot at the first thing that moved. Got it too. Come on."

"It wasn't Bambi, was it?"

"No, he winged some red-faced fat guy who was stumbling through the woods behind Bambi. Come on."

"Double play! I wish I could've seen it."

"I reckon you will if you see tomorrow's paper. Some guy with camera took a picture of it."

"Okay, all you Donners and Blitzes out there in the big piney, this here's your good buddy, the Big Buck, saying so long at the end of another opening day. Be back in your positions same time tomorrow morning and we'll do 'er again. Ten-four for now."

Central Michigan University football fans throughout Michigan are able to tune in live play-by-play radio broadcasts of all Chippewa football games over 18 stations on the Chippewa Football Network. The Network also features weekly television recaps and gives CMU's football program stro impact over most of the state.

It's Rampy's theory that if you spend time, effort and money to see that your customers are satisfied, they'll come back again ... and again.

That's exactly why Rampy recently bought the most modern computer diagnostic system available. The Sun 2001. It's one of the few things in this world that seems to make everyone happy.

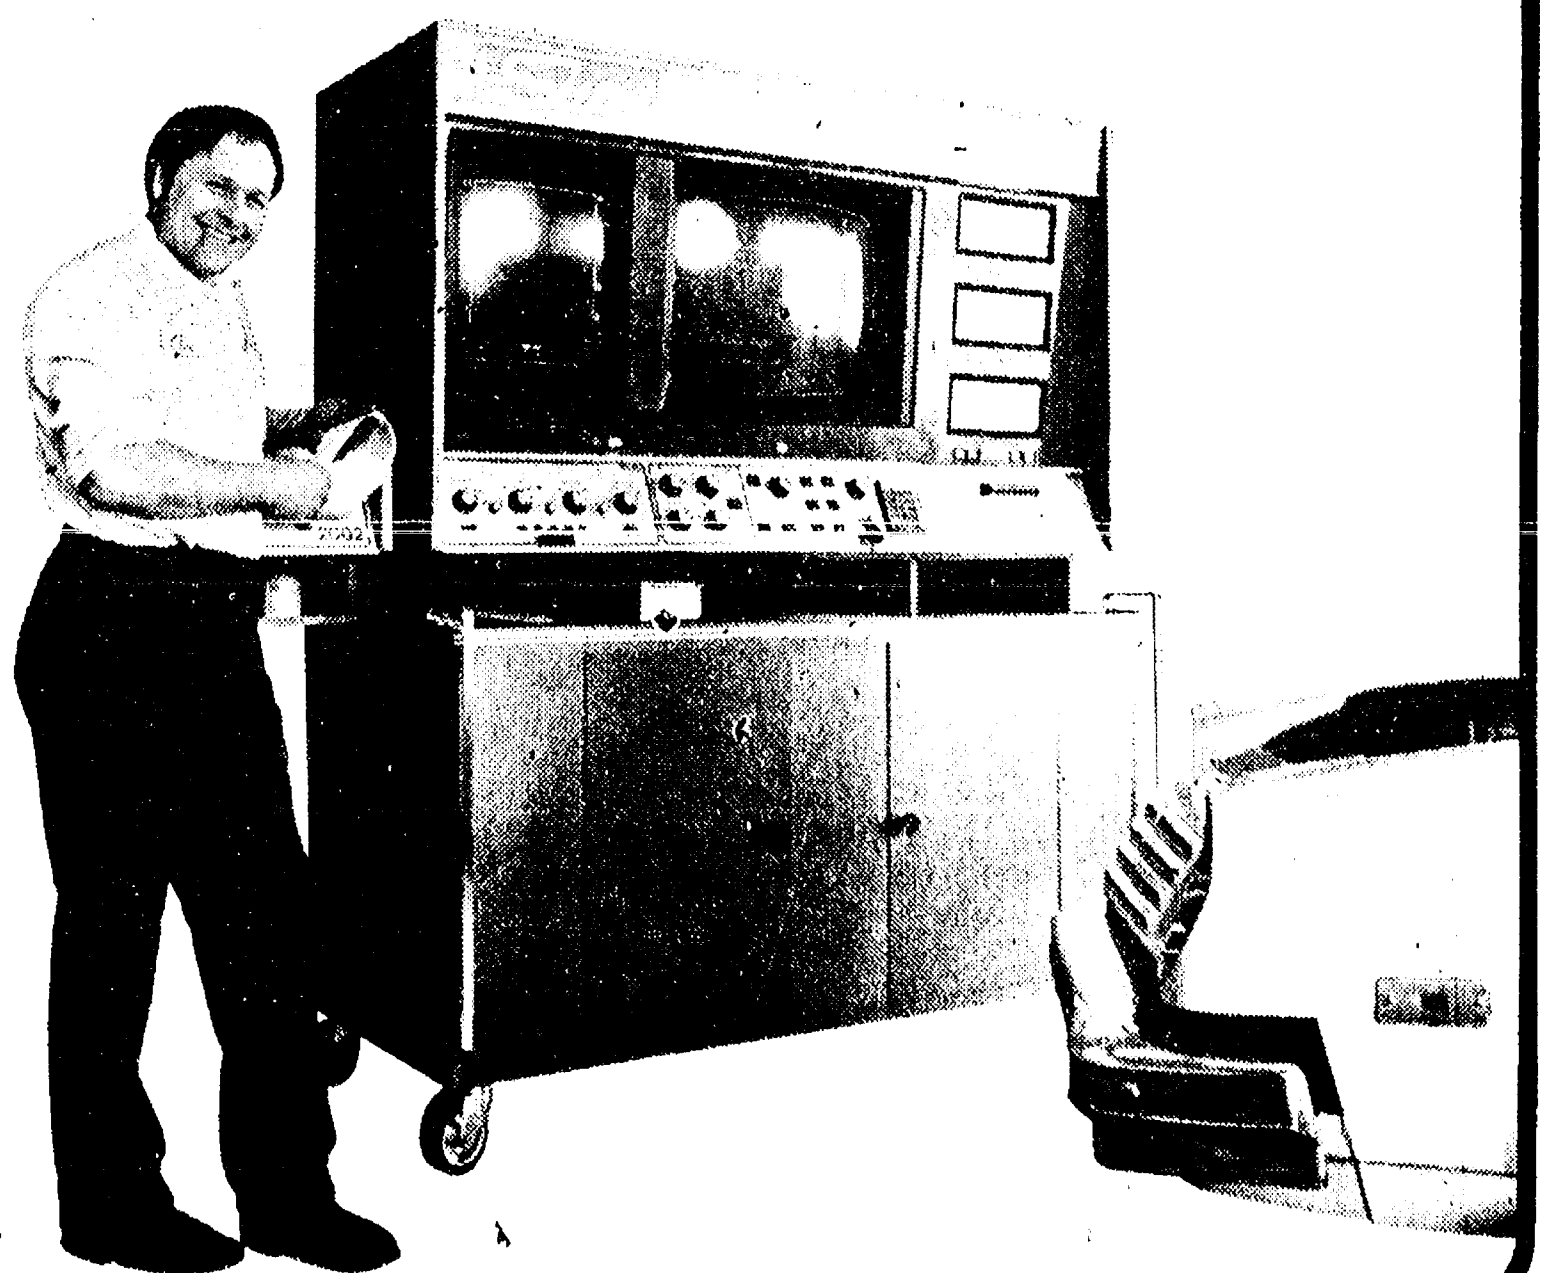

The mechanics like it because it makes their job easier ... it can spot a small problem before it develops into a big one ... and it saves a lot of sweat looking for problems that just don't want to be found.

Customers like it because the computer print-out they receive allows them to see just exactly what was needed to get their cars running at peak performance. And, that means fewer service calls in the long haul. The real problems are spotted right away.

And Rampy likes it because he can see it helps keep his customers satisfied.

Bring your car in for a taste of the future today ... the Sun 2001 ... at Rampy Chevrolet.

Some Thoughts of Celebration

Gordon Foster Beaumont died on Friday the 3rd of November 1978.

That is a fact which cannot be altered by any desire of his loved ones.

The question is not so much of the fact of his death but of the understanding of its purpose.

In understanding that, perhaps we can better understand the purpose of our own lives.

Gordon loved life. He thoroughly enjoyed it at a breakneck speed. He would often comment, "If we're going to do it, let's get at it."

Thoughts and words had to be backed with actions and those actions had to happen now!

What, then, can we understand of his death?

I think that we must begin to put the pieces together by saying that Gordon had a strong understanding of faith and a belief in the Lord.

Was Gordon saintly? No, of course not and he would have been one of the first to declare that!

Was Gordon a saint? Yes, but only in the sense that we all are.

More correctly, Gordon was a witness for Christ in this imperfect world.

I am only now beginning to realize the possibilities of such a witness.

Throughout our lives, most of us drift along hoping for the best, looking for the "good life," rejecting opportunities to really do something of value.

Now and then we may stir ourselves and make some type of effort to reach out to the world or, perhaps, we may even get involved in a good work which calls for little more from us than showing up at a meeting and saying, "I'll vote for the collection and distribution of food or clothing to those who have less."

But, how often do we see a challenge and meet it head-on in the service of others?

It is at this point that we may begin to understand what has happened. A sacrifice in wartime by a soldier, sailor, marine or airman is certainly well known.

In the normal course of events, we do not expect to be confronted with such a demand.

And, yet, our Lord equated LOVE in terms of SACRIFICE!

If we are to witness, then we must take risk into consideration and the risk of the price of love can be high.

Basically, to LOVE—truly love—we must make ourselves vulnerable.

We must be willing to say that we can and will risk all for the love we have for others.

If we grasp this, we can start to understand Gordon's death.

It was a three-part process:

1. Gordon saw a need. To risk to save another.

2. Gordon took an action. He attempted to prevent an abduction.

3. Gordon paid the terrible price for that action. He died.

In the days which followed we, who are his family and friends, sought to honor him and his witness by trying to make others understand.

We did not wear black for his funeral. It would have been totally inappropriate. Gordon loved light colors and would have been disturbed at our wearing sack cloth and ashes.

The music selected was that which we enjoyed as a family. In fact, had it been closer to Christmas there would have been a Christmas carol. Gordon loved music, almost any kind except that which is mournful and we agreed with his thinking.

Finally, the message delivered was not to be a eulogy but a celebration. A celebration of life and work. Anything less would have left him absolutely dishonored.

We who loved Gordon hurt, we cry a little, we laugh a little, the pain will soften, we are mad that such a thing could happen when it seems that it might have been prevented. We are, therefore, no different from anyone else who has experienced a young person die! We feel cheated, we feel that there was much left for Gordon to do.

That is—until we really grasp the essence of Gordon's life. He packed more into his 26 years than many do in 70!

He loved and was loved. He risked and gave all he had to give. He witnessed to Christ's love for others.

What, then, is the meaning of all this?

I pray that we and especially those of you who are young people, have learned as we have that: To live and witness Christ's love we must be willing to risk and not count the cost. A sacrifice for which there is no cost is not a sacrifice, it is a mockery!

You who are younger should take note. If you aren't satisfied with your world, don't just sit around and complain—do something about it! But, in so doing, take the love of God and the sacrifice of Christ into your activities.

New is not always good and old is not always bad.

Ask yourself always, "Is this action a witness of Christ's love or of my own ego?"

Always strive to act in accordance with Christ's love!

Finally, to all of my brothers and sisters in Christ—death is again defeated! It is again demonstrated that we need not fear!

To die is not the end of all things; rather, it is the beginning of new opportunities to serve God.

Perhaps, now we can understand a little at a time, the meaning of Gordon's death.

It was not in vain—if we too, become witnesses.

We can change almost anything you can name for the better if we meet the challenge head-on and act rather than sit.

"Greater love has no man than this, that he lay down his life for a friend."

This is part of the meaning of Gordon's death, the other part is, "love you one another."

Don't be afraid to risk; don't be afraid to witness.

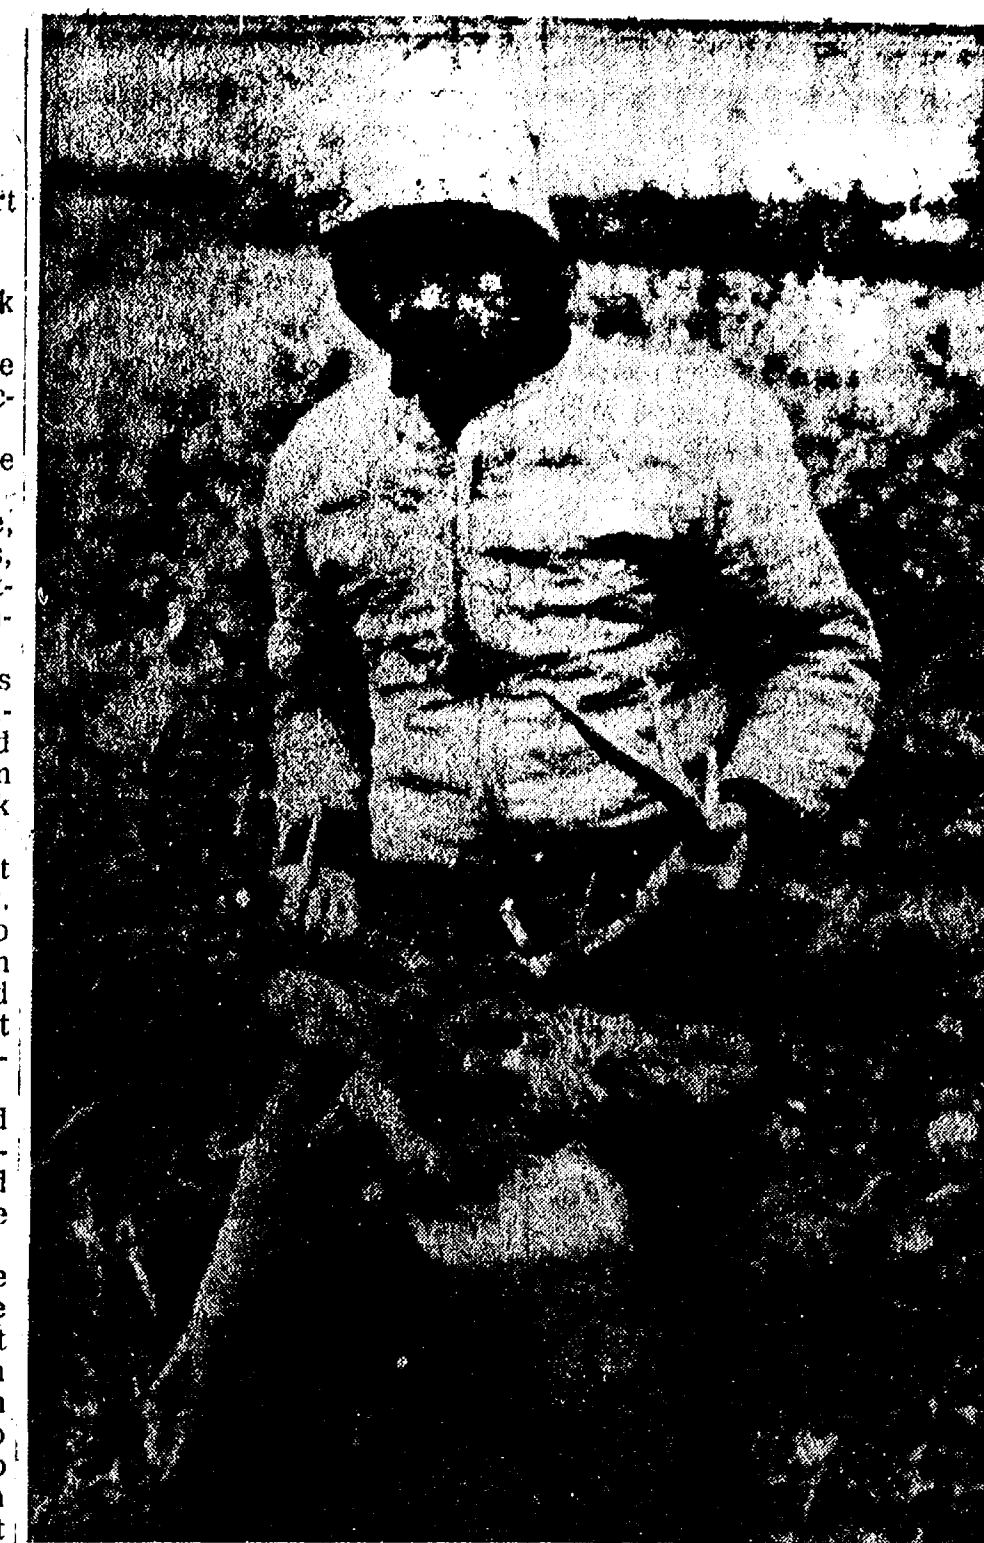

The Rev. Jerrold F. Beaumont, BSP

Blue Lake Fine Arts Camp Attended By 164 from Washtenaw

Washtenaw county was represented by 164, and Jackson county had the largest number of any Michigan county, 561, students among the nearly 10,000 children, youth and adults who participated in programs offered by Blue Lake Fine Arts Camp, Whitehall, during the past year, Blue Lake president William F. Stansell said.

This year marked the 13th season for Blue Lake's summer camp which offers programs in art, dance, music and theatre for middle school children and junior and senior high school students. It is the second largest facility of its kind in the U.S.

HOME ON THE RANGE: Vern Otto, local hunter and photographer, traveled just a few miles east of town for this eight-point buck on Sunday, Nov. 18. Field dressed, the deer weighed in at approximately 185 pounds. Otto, using a 16-gauge slug shooting deer slayer, hit the deer on the run with a single shot to the head.

Announcing MoneyMinder

A unique banking service which automatically transfers funds from your Savings Account to your Checking Account. Now you can earn interest on ALL your bank deposits!

Ann Arbor Trust is now offering an exciting and totally new banking service. We call it "MoneyMinder".

MoneyMinder allows you to earn interest on money you are now putting in a no-interest checking account. Here's how it works:

Make deposits only to your Statement Savings Account. Put nothing in your Checking Account. MoneyMinder will automatically transfer funds from your Statement Savings Account to your Checking Account only as needed to cover checks you have written. Because you make deposits only to your Savings Account, all your money earns our high bank interest rates until transferred to cover a check.

For example, let's say you keep an average balance of $700 in your current checking account. Banks are not permitted by law to pay interest on checking accounts, thus you earn no interest. By taking advantage of our new MoneyMinder service, that same $700 would be earning 5% interest continuously compounded for a 5.20% effective annual yield, the highest bank rate in town!

Your only requirement is to maintain a $2,500 minimum balance in your Savings Account. We will automatically transfer funds in increments of $200 to your Checking Account each time the balance falls below zero.

Why is the MoneyMinder service better than having your savings account and checking account at two separate financial institutions?

MONEY-MAKING. A MoneyMinder Checking Account has no minimum balance requirement and we transfer funds only as needed to cover checks you have written, thus you tie-up less money in a no-interest checking account. All funds go directly into your Savings Account where they earn 5% interest continuously compounded until transferred.

TIME-SAVING. Because you make deposits only to your Savings Account, you save the time it takes to make deposits at two separate financial institutions or the time it takes to juggle balances in different accounts at the same bank.

WORRY-FREE. We automatically transfer funds for you, therefore, as long as you maintain a minimum balance of $2,500 in your Savings Account*, you never again need to worry about overdrafts or returned checks.

AND MORE. With the MoneyMinder service, you get a free Bank of Trust Checking Account and standard, personalized, pre-numbered checks—all at no charge!

Ann Arbor Trust is a leader in providing banking services truly designed in your best interest. Along with our new MoneyMinder service, we offer a wide selection of Time Certificates of Deposit, all earning the highest bank rates allowed by law. Our regular bank savings accounts (we offer both passbook and statement) earn 5% interest continuously compounded for a 5.20% effective annual yield, the highest bank rate in town!

We are well-staffed with friendly, courteous, efficient tellers who promise quick response to your every banking need. With free parking and generous banking hours, it's easy to bank at Ann Arbor Trust.

For more information about our new MoneyMinder service, stop by our office or call today.

*If your Savings Account falls below $2,500 there will be a 2% per day charge, subject to a 3-day grace period per year to allow you to re-establish the required balance.

D. Foreman Directing U. of M. Play

Doug has appeared in Chelsea in "Carnival," as Rudolph in "Hello Dolly," and Sir Evelyn in "Anything Goes." He then appeared in the comic lead of last year's U. of M. Soph Show "Applause" and Muskett's "Power Center" production of "West Side Story." Last summer, Doug was active in the Chelsea Player's summer theatre workshop. He scored, authored and directed his own musical, "The Only Star," for the workshop.

Doug is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Foreman of North Lake.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

After reading the account of the extensive training our firefighters went through to become better qualified to assist in cases of accidents or fire, we want to congratulate these men for their perseverance and pride that they experienced for themselves in being able to be a credit to their community as well as be much more qualified in their chosen profession.

Chelsea should be very proud that these men went forward on their own and secured this training. I think we should all give them a very big thanks!

Don and Therese Doll.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Frank Reed who passed away seven years ago, Nov. 27, 1971. Often a lonely heartache, many a silent tear, but always a beautiful memory of the one we love so dear. Sadly missed by his widow, Ethel Reed, his children, and grand children.

DEATHS

Clarence L. Lehmann Was Last Member of Original Waterloo Band

Clarence L. Lehmann, 91, 15307 Cavanaugh Lake Rd., Grass Lake, died at his home Monday, Nov. 20.

Funeral services will be held Friday, Nov. 24 at 2 p.m. at the Burghardt-Cole Chelsea Chapel with burial to follow at Salem Grove Cemetery. Clergyman officiating will be the Rev. R. J. Ratzlaff.

Mr. Lehmann was born June 24, 1878 in Sylvan township, where he lived all of his life, the son of Henry and Emma (Musbach) Lehmann. He married Anna E. Peterson on Sept. 27, 1916 in the Salem Grove church.

Mr. Lehmann was a member of the Salem Grove United Methodist church. He was the oldest member to attend the church's 124th anniversary recently and was the last living member of the original Waterloo Band. He had been a farmer all of his working life.

Survivors include a daughter, Mrs. George (Virginia) Elkins of Grass Lake; one grandson, Gary Seitz of Chelsea; two great-grandchildren, Randy and David Seitz; one sister, Catherine Whipple of Largo, Fla.; and several nieces and nephews.

He was preceded in death by five brothers and three sisters.

Memorial contributions may be made to the Salem Grove United Methodist church.

Mrs. Charles Maits Crooked Lake Summer Resident Dies in Pittsburgh

Katherine Richeson Maits, a long-time summer resident of Crooked Lake, died Oct. 26 in St. Francis Hospital, Pittsburgh, Pa., at age 83.

Born in Amherst county, Va., Mrs. Maits was the wife of the late Dr. Charles B. Maits, who, at his death in 1933, was Director of Health for the City of Pittsburgh, and first vice-president of the Medical Society of Pennsylvania.

Mrs. Maits is survived by a son, Charles B. Maits, Jr., of Philadelphia, Pa.; a daughter, Mrs. Edgar F. Cosgrove, of 6892 Kinsman Rd., Pittsburgh, Pa., with whom Mrs. Maits made her home in recent years; a sister, Mrs. T. Allen Kirk, of Roanoke, Va.; a brother, Voorhees Richeson of Charlottesville, Va.; five grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren.

Swim Pool Closed Until Next Monday

The Charles S. Cameron Pool will be closed from Thursday, Nov. 23 through Sunday, Nov. 26 in observance of the Thanksgiving holiday, according to Larry Reed, pool director.

Pool hours will resume their normal schedule on Monday, Nov. 27.

Historical Society Gets Photo Project Report

Chelsea Historical Society met at McKune Memorial Library for their monthly meeting, Monday, Nov. 13.

During the meeting a final report was given regarding the photography project carried out by Darrell Flugg, sponsored by the Historical Society and funded by the Comprehensive Employment Training Act (CETA). The photos taken by Flugg was an attempt by him to record the history of the Village of Chelsea and rural areas.

Otis Titus told the group results thus far of his research and application for preservation regarding the Glazier Building as a Historical Building. Titus welcomes any information that might be forthcoming.

Program ideas for 1978-79 were discussed. It is hoped to have a schedule available at the January meeting.

Election of officers took place—Mrs. John (Lois) Moore, president; Mrs. George (Sandy) Holmes, vice-president; Mrs. Fred (Marie) Petsch, secretary; Max Hepburn, treasurer; and trustees, Harold Jones, Mrs. James (Sally) Nicola, and Mrs. Charles (Jan) Ferrero. Membership is in charge of Mrs. William (Hazel) Dittmar. Mrs. Thomas (Angie) Smith is in charge of note paper which the Society has for sale.

The Historical Society was organized four years ago and has 45 members. Meetings are held the second Monday evening each month at McKune Memorial Library and visitors are always welcome.

Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting by Mrs. Fred Petsch and Mrs. Don Schrader.

Violent Winds Blow Box Cap Off Pick-Up Damaging Parked Cars

Violent winds of 32 mph and gusts of near 50 mph wrecked havoc early Friday evening behind the Wolverine Bar.

A box shell cover on the Dodge pick-up truck of William Rooke was torn loose by the gusts and sent flying through the air. As it landed it hit the tops and sides of cars owned by Wendell Kruse and Albert Peterson, both area residents, causing damage, according to Chelsea Police reports.

All the vehicles were unoccupied at the time and no one was injured.

DEER HAUL: Six Chelsea hunters returned from their trip to the Upper Peninsula with a buck for each. On the left is Frank Sweeney of 20412 Jerusalem Rd., who shot a seven-point deer. On the right is Russ Morgan of 12204 Trinkle Rd. who shot the same. Sweeney's two sons, Rod and Ron, both bagged spikes while Bob Bauer of 375 S. Freer Rd., killed an eight-point and Andy Blackwell of 216 Harrison, bagged a four-point.

to move the kitchen into the new room and increase the seating capacity to about 70 or 80," he said.

For tables, Kaercher has chosen handsome squares of butcher block wood and will build them himself. Kaercher, in fact, is handling all of the carpentry work himself except for the back room which he will contract out. To match the tables, blonde bentwood chairs with butcher block wood seats will be used. Bar stools will also pick up on the wood look.

Early in the reconstruction, Kaercher built a new front, working from the inside out and then tearing down the original facade. "The idea is to create a whole new image for the place and when I'm finished there will be little left to suggest its former look," Kaercher commented.

Still to be decided on are whether to go strictly with draft beer and mixed drinks or to include bottled beer as well. "If I eliminate bottled beer then I will definitely use a different back bar than the one that was here before. I may also put in a new bar," he said.

Kaercher has equally big plans for his lunch and dinner menu. "For lunches we will have sandwiches, soups, chili, and a salad bar. Dinners will be full entrees featuring fresh and frozen seafood," he explained.

Customers will be waited on while both Kaercher and his wife, Boots, will manage the business.

"I think Chelsea is a great spot for this type of bar-restaurant."

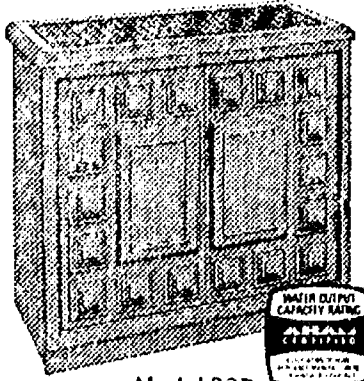

Library Story Hour Time Is Changed

Because of a poor turnout for the McKune Memorial Library story hour, hours have been altered to give parents more time in the morning to bring their children in.

New hours, effective Wednesday, Nov. 29 will be from 9:30 to 10:30 each Wednesday, instead of 9 to 10 a.m.

REALTOR

DISAPPEARING ACT

If you decide to help your Realtor show your home, do him, you, and the prospect a favor. Don't!

When prospects look at a home, they want to feel free to look around, walk here and there, and generally poke around. If they do buy, they'll be putting a lot of money in it, and they rightly want to make sure it's the home that's really for THEM. They don't feel free to really check the place if the owner is trailing along when the Realtor is showing them around.

This home may be the prospect's future "castle" — they'll want to inspect it carefully. They may walk around turning lights on and off to see if the lighting is adequate. Faucets in the kitchen and bathrooms may be tried, and such things as the oven, furnace, and water heater will be closely checked. The prospect would feel uneasy doing all these things under the watchful eyes of the owner!

So, if your Realtor calls up and says he has a prospect in tow, make plans to go to a show, do some shopping, or visit a friend. Remember, it's the HOME that's being sold and the spotlight should only be on IT... not you!

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at FRISINGER REALTY CO., 935 S. Main St., Chelsea, Phone: 475-8683; evenings 475-2621. We're here to help!

Third Grade Class Learns Basic Business Concepts in Mini-Society

Price freezes, glutted markets, supply and demand, and inflation, to name a few, are words most of us shudder at the thought of and economists wrack their brains over.

A small body of 26 North Elementary school children, however, are having a ball applying their concepts.

While, at best, the third graders are grasping simple definitions, they have, at least, grappled with something that eventually will become their responsibility as adults.

For an hour, three times a week, over the past six weeks, the 8-year-olds in Mrs. Crouch's class have participated in a "Mini-Society."

The hour looks something like this.

Shortly before 1:45 p.m. the serene, empty classroom, suddenly becomes a facsimile of Wall Street as the young entrepreneurs storm the room.

Like wild fire, the word is out that it's mini-society day and immediately they're down to business. The bank opens, children hurriedly post "open or closed for business" signs on their desks, and the general store is swamped with customers.

Mrs. Crouch "owns" the general store and "rents" out paper, glue, scissors, and other items the students may require to operate their businesses. "The desks and chairs are their own but anything else they need they must purchase or rent from me or from another student," she explained.

At the start of the project six weeks ago, the children earned "money" by turning in assignments and coming to class on time. They voted on a name for their society—Bobcat—and designed and printed paper money called Bobcat bills.

Everything in the project is designed to relay the concept of money; its source, power, use, and value in a society like the one they live in," Mrs. Crouch said. "In order to spend money they must make money and that is what the mini-society is hoped to teach," she added.

Each child began the project with about an equal amount of Bobcat bills. From there it was up to them on how they would go about making more money and how they would use the money they earned.

One of the first establishments to open for business was a bank. Bobby Pratt, Danny Pletcher, and Bobby Rawson were the original financiers, but as happens to even the best, several hirings, firings, and re-hirings went on over the weeks. As the demand for banking services increased—making change, protecting money, and the sale of home-made goodies, there were three new bankers added to the payroll.

Banker Danny Pletcher put it this way when asked about the sale of cookies by a bank, "We needed to attract people to use the bank and everyone likes good things to eat. Now we have plenty of business," he said.

One of the best deals around is the service provided by Dawn Spade and Ann Marie. They're desk cleaners and depending on how many months a student has avoided cleaning his or her desk out, the two girls charge a reasonable rate for a thorough job.

While their work is easy, they have run into problems. "After a while, we run out of work to do," Dawn said. During a debriefing session in the last 10 minutes of class, this lack of work problem was discussed by the whole class.

"What is it called when there are more people looking for work than there are jobs?" Mrs. Crouch asked. "Unemployment" was the quick response. "And what do you call a market that provides more than is needed?" she asked. "Glutted" they replied.

Not only are the 3rd graders learning the ways and means of a free enterprise system, but they have come to grips with self motivation, creative thinking, socialization, and discipline.

One example of the latter is Dwayne Elkins. Dwayne's money-making efforts went into drawing Snoopy posters. At the low price of four Bobcat bills, Dwayne was selling out before he had them finished. Frustrated at his success, Dwayne now posts a closed sign from his desk so that he can work undisturbed. When he's finished, he peddles posters around the room.

Early in the project, Amy Dmoch and Ted Lewis opened a newspaper. "They printed short articles on upcoming events and had a classified section. They had to buy their paper from me at the general store and pay the school secretary for running it off on the ditto machine," Mrs. Crouch said.

"The newspaper business, however, was not very lucrative, so they dropped the paper and opened an unemployment agency. They've been very successful," Mrs. Crouch added.

The Mini-Society was created eight years ago by Dr. Marilyn Kourisky, an economics professor at the University of California-Los Angeles.

Mrs. Crouch attended a workshop at Wayne State University last August on the teaching of the society's concepts and introduced it to her class six weeks ago.

"As a teacher, this is a fun class. There is a tremendous amount of self help that the children generate and I know that they are having a good time while they are learning," she commented.

Other children in the class who have taken their first step into the business world are Chris Basso, Lloyd Brown, Tim Conner, Paul Damm, Debby DeVoe, Peter Estey, Tim Evisizer, Erin Haywood, Arlene Klosewicz, Ronnie Lanagan, Todd Rowe, Kevin Schaff, Krista Smith, Robert Thorne, Jason Wolf, Sammy Wotring, Chad Young, and Deanna Zangara.

JOB FINDERS: From left, Amy Dmoch, Dwayne Elkins, Ted Lewis, and Deanna Zangara, of their Mini-Society project. Students in the class, for the past six weeks, have established various businesses, in the process of learning the concept of a free enterprise system.

ENTERPRISING ARTISTS: These 3rd grade students, from left, Chris Basso, Arlene Klosewicz, Erin Haywood, and Krista Smith, prepare near priceless masterpiece to be sold to the highest bidder. As part of a six-week long project in Mrs. Crouch's North school class, the students have devised all types of businesses, including this artist workshop, to learn the concept of buying and selling.

Drinking Youth Crashes Auto Into Building

A 16-year-old Chelsea juvenile who never acquired a driver's license, slammed through the bathroom wall of LithoCrafters while driving around in the parking lot there, according to Chelsea Police reports.

Chelsea officers were called to 140 Buchanan St. Saturday, Nov. 18 at 1:15 a.m. after learning that a truck had crashed through the building. Damage was severe although no estimates were available. No one was injured.

The youth admitted having consumed six beers just prior to the accident. The report said that the driver was attempting to park when his foot hit the accelerator instead of the brake.

Chelsea police issued a citation for driving without having obtained a driver's license.

EMU Exhibit Traces Railroad Buildings

An exhibit of photographs tracing railroad buildings from 1830 to 1920's—on loan from the Smithsonian Institution—will be on display in Eastern Michigan University's library lobby at Ypsilanti from Nov. 27 to Dec. 21. The exhibition was prepared by the Historic American Buildings Survey and is being circulated by the Smithsonian Institution Traveling Exhibition Service.

Live Christmas Trees Are in Short Supply

There's a shortage of Christmas trees nationally this year and one of the reasons is a "return to things natural" trend, according to Dr. Mel Koelling, Michigan State University Forest Extension Director. Dr. Koelling estimates that an additional one to two million trees could be sold—if they were available.

"The artificial tree is primarily a petro-chemical. These have increased in price and I suspect will continue to increase in price," said Koelling. "I think there's a little renewable, recyclable nature to us that's coming through. Natural trees don't require much energy in processing, and while they're growing they provide a good habitat for wildlife, provide oxygen and hold soil in place. In general, some of the values the natural tree represents are perhaps more important now than they were a few years ago."

This same trend is reflected in the growth of "cut-your-own" Christmas tree operations, Koelling reports, a holiday ritual that usually involves the whole family. "Getting the Christmas tree has become nearly as important as having one," he says.

Consumers will be paying more for their Christmas trees this year than they did last, not only because of the supply-demand picture, but for the same reasons they are paying more for any other commodity they purchase. "Fuel costs, transportation costs, land ownership and labor costs are all higher. I don't think Christmas trees will be much higher than anything else, probably 6 to 8 percent, which is close to the cost of living increase over-all," said Koelling.

Michigan claims the title as the number one Christmas tree producing state in the nation, with about 50 million trees growing on approximately 50,000 acres. Michigan's annual harvest of Christmas trees is about 4 million trees. They're sold not only in Michigan, but in other states as well, mainly in the south and east and some in the southwest.

There is even the potential for export markets in other countries, Koelling predicts. The major problem, he says, is guaranteeing and assuring a supply of between 100,000 and 500,000 trees to an export market.

AGRICULTURE IN ACTION

MICHIGAN FARM BUREAU

★ Carter's Boo-Boo

President Carter riled up Michigan farmers again recently when he made a couple of so-called "anti-inflation" decisions. Carter announced a feed grain set-aside of only 20 percent, and he vetoed a much-needed beef import bill. The effect of these actions is to further squeeze down already low farm incomes.

Most farmers were hoping for a set-aside of at least 30 percent, meaning that farmers would leave unplanted 30 percent of their acreage. With fewer acres planted, farm prices would hopefully go up next year, and farmers would get a little better income.

The beef bill Carter squashed would have set a formula spelling out how much beef the President could allow into the country during times of short supply. The bill could have helped our beef producers because it cut down the chances of "surprise" beef imports that scramble domestic beef production plans.

Elton R. Smith, president of the Michigan Farm Bureau, says that farmers are being forced to shoulder "the burden of fighting inflation" all by themselves. Next year, farmers will be getting far smaller price increases than any other part of the economy.

What's dangerous about this situation, says Smith, is that it will make it much more difficult for agriculture to recover from its recent depression. And a depressed agriculture is certainly bad news for long-term consumer food costs!

President Carter likes to characterize his anti-inflation program as "tough but fair." Well, Smith says, the program certainly isn't fair to farmers—and it is going to make it a lot tougher for them to make a living.

Richard W. Bishop On Extended Cruise In Mediterranean Sea

Navy Electrician's Mate 1st Class Richard W. Bishop, son of Vivian M. Bishop of 637 Middle Court, Chelsea, recently departed for an extended deployment in the Mediterranean Sea.

He is assigned to the destroyer USS Spruance, homeported in Norfolk, Va. While deployed his ship will operate as a unit of the U. S. Sixth Fleet.

The missions of the Sixth Fleet are to protect U. S. citizens, shipping and interests in the Mediterranean; to deter aggression against our Western European allies by maintaining mobile striking forces; to promote peace and stability in the Mediterranean area and to create goodwill for the United States.

During the cruise, his ship is scheduled to participate in training exercises with other Sixth Fleet units and with ships of allied nations. Additionally, port visitors are scheduled for several Mediterranean coastal cities.

His ship is 563 feet long, displaces 7,800 tons and carries a crew of more than 250 officers and enlisted men. She is designed primarily for antisubmarine warfare (ASW) and is armed with two lightweight five-inch guns, ASW torpedo tubes and an ASW rocket launcher. The Spruance is also capable of carrying a light multipurpose helicopter for long range detection and attack of submarines.

Bishop joined the Navy in November 1969.

GENE E. OWENS

Maj. Gene Owens Earns MA Degree From N. Colorado

Major Gene E. Owens, son of Mrs. Raymond Koch of 61 N. Lima Center Rd., Dexter, has been awarded an MA degree in public administration from the University of Northern Colorado.

Major Owens studied under an Air Force program that assists members in obtaining their graduate degrees.

He is now assigned at Andrews AFB, Md., as a security police staff officer in a unit of the Air Force Systems Command.

The major, a 1957 graduate of Chelsea High school, received a BS degree in 1962 from Michigan State University. He was commissioned in 1963 upon completion of Officer Training School at Lackland AFB, Tex.

Area Students Complete Courses At Ferris State

Among the 482 students completing their programs of study at Ferris State College, Big Rapids, during the summer quarter were Robert D. Berger, AAS heavy equipment service; Mark J. Schneemilch, AAS surveying, both of Saline, and Richard B. Stegath, AS auto service with high distinction, of Ann Arbor.

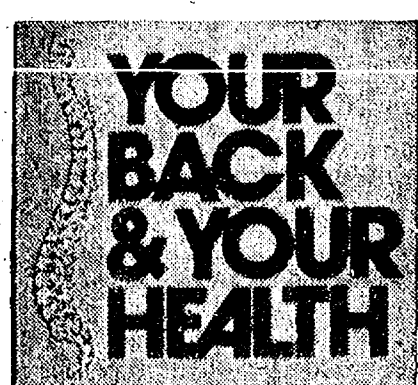

Mark D. Walbrook, of Munith, also completed studies in AAS industrial chemical technology.

Summer graduates along with those of the fall, winter, and spring quarters are eligible to participate in official Commencement ceremonies in May.

Degrees awarded by the College are Doctor of Optometry, Bachelor of Science, Associate in Arts, Associate in Applied Arts, Associate in Science, and Certificate.

Most persons consider their residence a safe place, but, warns hearing specialists, the noise level found in a home kitchen may sometimes be as intense as that encountered on a busy street corner.

Conditioning for Tennis

Many thousands more people each year take up the game of tennis. Far too many of them aren't physically ready for such a strenuous activity and they suffer all kinds of sore muscles and aches and pains at the start.

This isn't necessary. A carefully planned program of regular exercise starting four to six weeks ahead of the actual playing can avoid most of the physical discomfort and add immeasurably to the enjoyment of the game.

Interval sprinting (alternating running and walking) is excellent, but if outdoor running isn't possible, skipping rope is a good alternative. Note: in all exercises, start slowly with a bare minimum of repetitions and build up slowly.

To increase agility practice side-stepping rapidly without crossing your feet, first to one side, and then to the other. Then move ahead and back the same way. You can also practice forehand and backhand swings, with the racquet pressed on, and consciously going for good form. Squeezing a tennis ball regularly helps to develop a strong grip, essential to good tennis.

It is also recommended that you get a chiropractic check-up before the season starts. Having back problems takes the fun out of the game, but many such problems can be avoided through spinal adjustment in the pre-season period.
