

Schools Making Progress in Battle Against Energy Waste

Rallying around the battle cry "when not in use, cut the juice," students, faculty, and school employees of the Chelsea School District have won their first round in the fight against energy waste.

According to a recently released report by Superintendent Raymond Van Meer, significant reductions in both kilowatt hours and thousand cubic feet of gas have been documented in the elementary schools, Beach Middle school, and the bus garage.

The only exceptions to the otherwise bright picture is the high school, which showed an increase in electricity and gas usage over the same four-month period (July-October) in 1977, and South school with an increase in gas consumption.

Van Meer quickly pointed out to members of the Board of Education Monday, Dec. 4 that this year is the first for the Community Education Program which holds from four to as many as eight classes four nights a week in the high school. This, coupled with an expanded sports program at the school, could possibly account for a large percentage of the increase.

Van Meer introduced the working details of an energy conservation program late in June of this year and by mid-July the project was in full swing.

"There has been an overwhelming response on the part of everyone in helping to cut energy use and the figures clearly show this," Van Meer said.

Specific figures showing reduction in electricity are: Beach, 166,700 kilowatt hours used in the increase at the high school, July-October, 1977, and for the same period this year the figure is 145,700—down 21,000; at South school, 24,900 hours were used in 1977 with 23,600 hours in 1978—down 1,300; North school used 41,832 hours in 1977 and only 32,088 in 1978—down 9,744; and the bus garage used 11,680 in 1977 and 8,388 this year—down 3,292.

The high school used 158,240 last year and 172,400 in 1978 for an increase of 14,160. Overall the net reduction is 21,176 kilowatt hours.

According to Van Meer "the Community Education Program may not be the only culprit in the increase at the high school. Our high school audit in October did indicate a drop of 360 hours as compared to last year which suggests that there might be another problem that we are unaware of," he commented.

"It is very possible that we could have instances of electrical malfunctions in parts of the building such as light timers that aren't shutting off power at the right time or motors that are running steadily instead of periodically shutting off," he explained.

Some problems were discovered, primarily at the high school, with thermostats and room ventilators which were malfunctioning. How long they were broken is not known but with their replacement and repair gas consumption is expected to be reduced even more than was shown in the audit.

Last year Beach school used 19,735 mcf (thousand cubic feet) against the 18,931 used this year—down 2,804; South school had an increase of 1,161 from the 1977 figure of 3,026; North school was down 469 mcf from 1977 when they used 3,787; and the bus garage had a decrease of 63 from 1977 using 371 mcf this year.

"We do not have much control over the gas usage because most of the heat is dependent upon the severity of the weather. Our policy indicates 70 degrees in general areas, 65 degrees in areas involving greater physical activity, and in corridors and lavatories, and 55 degrees in storage areas. The swimming pool water temperature should be at a maximum of 80 degrees," Van Meer stated.

Working hand in hand with the energy conservation program are funds generated through the recent half-mill levy approved by voters for building maintenance, estimated at $60,000 for each of the next five years.

With those monies, heavy, insulated shades have been purchased and installed in the large group instruction room at Beach school ($650); thermostats have been replaced or repaired at the high school ($2,500); and insulated panels have been purchased and will be installed at Beach school over Christmas vacation ($4,000); while panels have been installed in the administration building reducing glass surfaces ($1,200), insulated shades have been installed also. Panels were to have been installed over Thanksgiving vacation in place of the now broken windows in the Beach school gym but the panels were defective when delivered.

Other maintenance funds have been used to provide emergency roof repairs to the high school and Beach school ($2,000). Problem areas have been evaluated and the major roof repair work will be done in the spring, Van Meer said.

Currently, acoustical treatment at the Charles S. Cameron Pool is being evaluated, ($3,000).

The balance from the approximately $16,000 spent so far will be used for the spring roof repairs.

Bulldog Cagers Begin Season With Two Wins

Chelsea varsity cagers spun through two victories last week, defeating Jackson Northwest, 52-42 in their opening game Wednesday, Nov. 29, and sinking a tough Novi, 54-40, on Friday, Dec. 1.

Bulldogs never let go of the lead and held Jackson to 24 points during the first three and a half quarters. "It was an excellent defensive game. They shut off their inside game and made them shoot from the outside where their percentage isn't as good," Coach Robin Raymond beamed after the win.

Chelsea grabbed an early 12-7 lead in the first quarter and by half-time had upped it to 22-12. Bulldog Charlie Bridges put the game away in the third quarter with eight baskets while his teammates added five more to give Chelsea a 35-23 lead.

In the last four minutes of play, with a score of 44-24, Raymond put his bench on the floor. "Everyone played in the game that night with 11 out of 12 scoring," he said.

From the floor, Chelsea had 37 percent to Jackson's 22 percent. "Ideally, the team should be close to 70 percent but Wednesday's statistics are typical for the first game," Raymond commented. The Bulldogs also led in rebounds with 43 to Jackson's 34. Charlie Bridges accumulated 14 points, followed by Jeff Dils with 11; Mike Killelea, seven; Brad Knickerbocker, four; Mike Machesky, two; John Dunn, two; and Matt Feeney, two.

Don Schrottenboer had 15 rebounds; Bridges had 11; and Gary Dils had seven. Upsetting one of the top two teams in the SEC, Chelsea produced five players with near even scoring which Raymond said was "ideal. That way the opponents can't cover just one man," he explained.

The 54-40 win over Novi was a real pleasure for the Bulldogs. Novi has five returning starters from the team that went on to regional play last year. One of their best players, Louie Balough, who scored more than 20 points each in the two games with Chelsea last year, received relentless guarding by Bulldog Mike Machesky and was only able to produce one point.

Again, Raymond cited the defensive work of his team for the victory as they held Novi to 15 points by half-time. From the first quarter lead of 12-8, until the final buzzer, Chelsea maintained the upper hand.

Once, during the third quarter, Novi made a run to close the gap to 6 points, but Charlie Bridges executed two 15-foot jump shots to deflate their balloon. "Offensively and defensively we played as one instead of as five separate players. Basketball is a total team effort and that's what we played against Novi," Raymond said.

Don Schrottenboer, along with Charlie Bridges and Gary Dils, each hustled for 10 points each. Mike Machesky and Jeff Dils had nine each and Mike Killelea had six. "This is the best scoring I've seen in two years," Raymond commented.

Chelsea completed 52 rebounds to Novi's 39. Bridges collected 14; Gary Dils, 11; Machesky, nine; and Schrottenboer, eight.

Plans Completed for Community Festival of Lessons and Carols

All plans are "go" for the second annual Festival of Lessons and Carols this Sunday, Dec. 10 at 4 p.m. in the United Methodist church.

This community-wide service is designed to prepare for the Advent-Christmas season.

Special features include a string group directed by Karey Johnson; the United Methodist Youth

Bell Choir, directed by June Warren; a combined Community Children's Choir directed by Mary Olney; and an Adult Combined Choir, directed by Joel Beam.

The string group is composed of Senior High school students. They will play a selection of Christmas carols as part of the prelude and accompany the professional hymn, "The Youth Bell Choir will conclude this year's service by playing "Coventry Carol" and "Silent Night."

The "Festival" is sponsored by the Chelsea Ministerial Fellowship. The committee includes the Rev. Marvin McCallum, Marjorie Beaumont, Mary Olney, and June Warren. Mary Anne Skinner will be the organist. A majority of the churches in the Chelsea area will be participating in the Festival. The idea for this service originated at Kings' College Chapel, England, about 50 years ago. Scripture readings come from both the Old and New Testaments.

According to Ann Arbor Police reports, their department received a call shortly before midnight on Sunday with information that Wade was on his way to Ann Arbor to kill his wife. "We dispatched a patrol car carrying patrolmen David Gray and Thurman Yarrowford who saw Wade's car on W. Liberty near Fifth St.," a police spokesman said.

"They succeeded in pulling him over for a traffic violation but when one of the officers reached his window, Wade jammed the accelerator, forcing the officer to jump out of the way to keep from getting hit and spraying gravel over the other officer," he added.

From there, the officers followed Wade at speeds reaching 70 to 80 mph through several west side streets until they reached the westbound I-94 entrance ramp on Zeeb Rd.

"Once they were on the expressway, speeds shot up to more than 100 mph. A second patrol car was called to assist as were officers from Chelsea and the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department," the spokesman explained.

"They lost him near Baker Rd. when he went over the hill and when he turned off his head lights. They didn't find him again until they reached the Fletcher Rd. exit and saw that he had crashed," he added.

Abram speculated that "it appeared that Wade was going to exit on the Fletcher Rd. ramp but realized he couldn't make it. He then tried crossing the median to take the eastbound Fletcher Rd. exit when he hit the pillar," he said.

Chelsea Rescue Squad was called to the scene along with Dr. Waldyke from the Chelsea Community Hospital. Dr. Waldyke pronounced Wade dead at the scene.

Wade's employer, Tom Stock of Village Motor Sales in Chelsea said "I was absolutely shocked. Ed worked for me for five years and he was an excellent and respected mechanic and an extremely dependable employee. He wasn't the sort of person you would ever think would do something crazy," Stock said. "I never heard about marital problems until about a week ago but I didn't think it was serious. He wasn't a flighty sort of person. It's a terrible thing," he added.

Abram said that Wade had been separated from his wife of less than two years for about a week. It appears that she was staying with a friend in Ann Arbor," he commented.

"It's hard to say why he did it. He wasn't wanted on a warrant; he didn't have points on his record. It's something we'll probably never know," Abram said.

WINNING DESIGN: Radine Cheever, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Cheever and a sophomore student in the interior decorating class taught by Mrs. O'Hagan, takes pleasure in displaying the plans and materials she selected for the exterior of the Building Trades home. Radine's exterior design plans were chosen from those of her classmates in an eight-week long project. Runner-up was Patti Hume. Mark Kerwin, Building Trades

United Way Begins Push To Reach Goal

Chelsea United Way has reached 73 percent of its goal in the current campaign and will be over the 80 percent mark within a week, according to Will Connolly, general fund chairman.

"We were late in starting this year," he said. "We began with new leaders in several divisions, so we'll be a bit late in finishing. Also, solicitors in a number of divisions have been unable to contact some of our key contributors. So, to achieve our goal of $38,500, we may have to make a 'second effort' in the next few weeks," he explained.

Connolly added, "Chelsea United Way has a strong base of support in our community and when we make a good campaign effort we come up with the contributions needed to help 36 social service agencies. Chelsea United Way is, in effect, our principal community defense against overbursement for personal expenses. Rural solicitors drive hundreds of miles of country roads on behalf of Chelsea United Way, all at their own expense.

Members of the Chelsea United Way budget committee spend two long evenings listening to representatives of social service agencies, and analyzing their financial reports. The hearings are held to make sure that money contributed by Chelsea area families and organizations reaches the people who need help and is not absorbed in administrative expenses or diverted in other ways.

To assure donors that Chelsea United Way is responsible and accountable, all monies disbursed by Chelsea United Way are distributed on an item-by-item basis with the approval of the board of directors. The finance chairman and treasurer are bonded, and the books are audited annually by certified public accountants.

The Chelsea United Way board of directors meets 10 months of the year on the second Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in the Chelsea Village Hall. The doors are open to any member of the community and, according to president Jerry (Continued on page four)

State Finances Can Handle Tax Limitation Amendment

State finances most likely will not suffer any immediate impact from the newly adopted Headlee tax limitation amendment, though the amendment does mandate changes in bonding legislation, school aid formulas, millage roll-backs, revenue sharing, tax refunds and local taxing power.

Governor William G. Milliken told an implementation commission to review the implications of the amendment and then move quickly to make recommendations for legislative action.

The amendment takes effect Dec. 22. The commission, appointed by the governor prior to the November general election, is charged with making legislative recommendations to implement the intent of the approved constitutional amendment.

The Department of Management and Budget told members of the commission that only a recession in 1979 could affect the state's revenue collection for the 1979-80 and 1980-81 fiscal years.

If there is no recession, the state's revenue should fall about $150 million short of the limit in 1979-80 and $100 million short of the limit.

The amendment leaves open a number of questions on various financial areas. Bonding is one of the most serious, according to the Management and Budget report.

Legislation is also needed to meet the problem of mandated costs. The amendment prohibits the legislature mandating new programs without paying for them.

Needed is legislation to define minimum standards for mandated programs, local government costs and payment systems. The amendment further requires millage rollbacks and could hurt both local revenue sharing funds and local school aid.

Help With Used Car Purchases

Aid is here for the weary consumer over the purchase of a used car. The Michigan Consumer Council has published a brochure to help people by providing basic information and knowledge to help consumers find a reliable car at a reasonable price.

Linda Joy, executive director of the Consumers Council, said new car dealers offer late-model cars, good service facilities and an established reputation, but the prices may be higher than other offers.

Independent used car lots offer competitive prices, but their cars may be older, their guarantees may be minimal and their service facilities may be lacking. A tip on dealers was provided also. Consumers can check the reputation of any dealer in the state by writing the Dealer Licensing Division of the Secretary of State's Office at 208 N. Capitol, Lansing 48919.

For a free copy of "How To Buy A Used Car," write the Michigan Consumers Council, 414 Hollister Building, 106 W. Allegan, Lansing 48933.

Small Claims Court Jurisdiction To Double

Legal claims brought before Michigan's small claims court can be for as much as $600 under legislation approved by the House of Representatives.

Besides increasing the amount of jurisdiction of the court, the new act sets penalties for litigants who don't pay claims, limits the number of claims a business can file any week and improves the notice requirement to defendants.

The legislation is designed to clear up a number of problems in the small claims court system. The biggest is the established limit of $300 a claim.

The wholesale price index has nearly doubled since the $300 limit was set, forcing people with claims above that to go through the regular, more expensive court system.

Registration Now Open for Cross-Country Ski Class

Registration is now open for the Washtenaw County Parks and Recreation Commission's 6th annual Cross-Country Ski Program. Beginning Jan. 9 the program will be offered every Tuesday and Wednesday evening through January and February, snow permitting.

Fuller Recreation Area in Ann Arbor and West Middle school in Ypsilanti are the instruction sites for this year's program. The instruction clinics are offered at 6:30 p.m. and 8:30 p.m. each evening.

Calvin Coolidge, noted for his silence, was the first President to deliver a message over the radio. President Coolidge's Dec. 6, 1923, message to a joint session of the Congress was broadcast to half a dozen cities.

This popular program has provided hundreds of Washtenaw county residents the opportunity to try Cross-Country Skiing for a nominal fee. As in the past, this year's program consists of a 1 1/2 hour instruction session and equipment provided at the site for $3 per skier.

Advance registration is required. Forms may be picked up at the County Building City Hall, the Ann Arbor Public Library and at the WCPARC office at the County Service Center, Recreation Building, 4133 Washtenaw, Ann Arbor.

The program is designed for those who are beginning or intermediate skiers. Because the clinic groups are small, each skier receives special attention and instruction. Those skiers with their own equipment may also participate in the program.

Thirty-Three Students Inducted into NHS

Thirty-three Chelsea High school juniors and seniors were inducted into the National Honor Society Monday evening, Dec. 4 according to NHS advisors Sandy Kutichinski and Pam Holmes.

Key speakers for the ceremony were Superintendent Raymond Van Meer and former Superintendent Charles Cameron. Senior Caroline Enderle, president of NHS, introduced the speakers, read the pledge, and presented new members to an audience of parents, friends, and faculty.

In a break from the traditional process of choosing students for the honor, faculty members based their selections on four qualities—scholarship, leadership, character, and service. In past years scholarship was the major determinant of a candidate's selection, according to Kutichinski.

As part of the program, senior NHS members Sue Inglis, Sue Heller, Tom Severn, and Lori Van Riper each gave a brief description of one of the four qualities. New members of the society are

Molly Bacon, Dave Baldwin, Paula Bennett, Karen Blanchard, Daniel Blough, Kent Bollinger, Julie Botsford, Tracy Cattell, Jenny Clark, Alice Erke, Marilyn Hanner, Sarah Haselschwardt, Laurie Hastings, Bryan Herrick, Theresa Hoffman, Debra Koepele, and John Koepele.

As one of the society's functions, several fund-raising events are held during the year to support a scholarship program for local students. These include "Tag Day" during the spring and a dance also in the spring.

Please Inform Us of Any Address Change.

COZY HIDEAWAY: If the Hoover mansion in Ann Arbor were to become an actual household again, Bob Merkel of Merkel's Home Furnishings imagines this room would make an excellent spot for the lady of the house to find respite from her engaging schedule. As it happens, however, the mansion, including this room designed by Merkel, will remain only as the fantasies of area designers until Sunday, Dec. 17 when the carriage will revert to a pumpkin and the offices of Domino's Pizza, Inc., move in to establish headquarters. In the meantime, an invitation is extended to visit the Hoover Mansion Harvest House of Interior Design before, pool, the magic is gone. Proceeds from ticket sales are earmarked for expansion of the Intensive Care Unit of C. S. Mott Children's Hospital, Ann Arbor. Hours are 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., Monday through Saturday, and noon to 4 p.m. on Sundays.

Entry fee is $36 per team with a top tournament prize of $400 based on a total of 144 teams entered. Reserve entries close Dec. 24 with the final closing date on Dec. 31.

Convalescent Home Seeks Approval for Change of Ownership

Whitmore Lake Convalescent Center, Whitmore Lake, has asked the state for approval of change of ownership and lease.

G & S investment would sell the 212-bed skilled nursing care facility to Allen Hirschfeld and Milton Cohen. It would then be leased back to Whitmore Convalescent Center, Inc., and continue to provide skilled nursing care, therapeutic diets, physical and occupational therapy, speech therapy, speech therapy, diversional activities and religious service to its residents.

The property would be sold for an estimated $2,700,000 and would be leased back for $28,800.

In keeping with federal regulations requiring state approval prior to change of ownership, Whitmore Lake Convalescent Center has applied for a Certificate of Need. The application is on file with the Michigan Department of Public Health, division of Health Facility Planning and Construction.

Area Muzzle Loaders Now In Woods Deer Hunting

Area residents are reminded that, even though the 1978 Firearms Deer Hunting Season is history, it's still not safe to venture into the woods in anything but blaze orange. The muzzle-loading hunting season began Dec. 1, and will run through Sunday, Dec. 10, during which sporting enthusiasts of these antique firearms will be tramping the woods in search of Michigan's largest game animal, the white-tailed deer. The number of fans of black powder has increased radically in recent years, particularly in this area, and pedestrians are advised to exercise caution when penetrating the wilderness.

CRIB DEATHS
Sudden infant death syndrome, often called "crib death," strikes some 2,000 babies each year, reports The National Foundation for Infant Mortality. JV Cagers Drop First Two Contests Dropping their first two games of the season, Chelsea junior varsity basketball team relinquished a 58-48 decision to Jackson Northwest on Wednesday, Nov. 29 and a 45-37 decision to Novi on the following Friday.

In Wednesday's game, Chelsea held a narrow edge over the opponents with a half-time score of 25-24 as offensively and defensively the two squads played about even.

Jackson, however, jumped forward in the third stanza sinking 23 points to the junior Bulldogs' nine. Final quarter scoring was less lopsided but a hustling Chelsea effort of 12 points failed to overcome the third quarter rush.

"We had a poor showing from the field making only 18 out of 62 tries for 29 percent and just 10 out of 32 foul line attempts for 31 percent," Coach Jon Schaffner explained.

Karl Albrecht made a fine showing in the opening game leading with 14 points, 18 rebounds and five blocked shots. Mike Wade netted nine points; Carl Simpson, nine; Sean Peterson, six; Mike Lazarz, four; and two each by Mark Steinaway and Chris Heaton.

Simpson collected seven rebounds; Wade, six; and Heaton, five.

Six Area Men Named WCC Advisors

Six residents of Chelsea have been named as special citizen-professional members of program advisory committees at Washtenaw Community College.

The six include Janet Baum, Ted Faist, Robert Rohrkemper, George W. Sweeny, Mark Taylor, and Richard L. Zaborowski.

Dr. Baum of the Department of Radiology at the Chelsea-Medical Hospital has been appointed to the Colleges Radiologic Technology Advisory Committee.

Faist of Sprague Buick-Olds in Chelsea has been appointed to WCC's Automotive Service-Program Advisory Committee.

Rohrkemper, research technician for the Thetford, Corp., has been appointed to the advisory committee for the College's Quality Control Program. He resides in Chelsea at 263 Glazier Rd.

Sweeny, who lives at 138 Owen Court, Chelsea, has been appointed to the Advisory Board's WCC's refrigeration, heating and air conditioning program. He is employed as heating and ventilating supervisor at the University of Michigan.

Taylor, of the Personnel Department at Chelsea Community Hospital, has been appointed to the College's Advisory Board for the secretarial-office careers program.

Zaborowski, who lives at 14161 Gilbert Dr., Gregory, has been named to the advisory board for the automotive service program. He is the service manager for Rumpy Chevrolet in Ann Arbor.

Members of the advisory committees help formulate course programs in each specialty area, are instrumental in selecting equipment for the program and assist the College in measuring county need for various vocational and general education programs.

Workshop Slated On Coping With Health Problems

On Thursday, Dec. 14, Turner Geriatric Clinic in Ann Arbor will offer a workshop on "Coping with Health Emergencies" from 1 to 3:30 p.m.

This is a subject of great importance to people wanting to know who to call and what to do in case of a health emergency. This is an opportunity to learn, ask questions, and receive answers.

Speakers will discuss how to get help in a hurry with a representative from the Ann Arbor Fire Department and Detective John Rushing of the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department; what to do until help comes with Jack Gray, chairman of the American Red Cross Disaster Action Team; when chronic conditions become emergencies with Helen Bowditch, R.N., Washtenaw County Health Department, and the Visiting Nurse Association.

Other topics to be taken up include how to get service at the emergency room with Linda Workman, head nurse of the U. of M. Hospital emergency service; and emergency signals with Dorothy Robb, Turner Clinic peer counselor.

Men and women over 60 are invited to attend and participate. This workshop would also be of interest to those caring for a chronically ill person. There is no admission fee but please call if you plan to attend, 764-8831.

Chelsea continued to exhibit low percentages from the field but achieved a fair 41 percent in free throws, completing nine out of 22.

Shooting double digits was Carl Simpson with 11 who also contributed four assists. Mike Wade scored seven points; Karl Albrecht, seven; Sean Peterson, four; Mark Steinaway, four; and two each for Mike Lazarz and Jeff Price.

Albrecht completed 10 successful rebounds; Wade, five; Lazarz, four; Peterson, three; and Simpson, three. Albrecht added eight blocked shots.

This Friday, Dec. 8, Chelsea travels to Brighton and on Saturday they play South Lyon at home.

"KEOGH (HR-10)"

A Tax Sheltered Retirement Plan For Self-Employed Individuals

In 1962, the Self-Employed Individuals Retirement Act created tax-qualified retirement plans popularly dubbed "Keogh Plans." This legislation authorized a self-employed individual to establish a retirement plan and take a tax deduction for the amount (up to a specified ceiling) contributed on behalf of the employer and his or her employees.

Here Are the Facts:

- ELIGIBILITY
Any individual who derives earnings from self-employment for services rendered is eligible.
- CONTRIBUTION
Current law permits you to defer, until retirement, the income tax on 15% of your annual income from self-employment, up to a maximum deduction of $7,500 per year. IF such an amount is contributed to a qualified Keogh Plan such as ours. Your contributions can be deposited in a savings account or certificate to accumulate on a tax deferred basis.
- VESTING
An important aspect of Keogh Plans is that contributions are vested or non-forfeitable as soon as they are made. Keogh Plan Accounts are insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation to a maximum of $100,000 per depositor.
- BENEFITS
You may commence your retirement benefits at age 65 or at a later plan-specified retirement age. Each plan participant may designate the person or persons who will receive his or her remaining benefits under the plan in the event of the death of the participant.
- EARN 8% ANNUAL INTEREST
The following table illustrates the accumulation of retirement funds deposited to a Keogh Plan earning 8% annual interest, compounded quarterly:

Number of Years	Annual Deposit Amount
	$3,500	$5,000	$7,500
5	$ 22,334	$ 31,905	$ 47,858
10	55,520	79,315	118,972
20	178,112	254,445	381,668
30	448,799	641,141	961,711

• DEADLINE
In order for your contributions to be tax deductible, you must establish your Keogh Plan no later than the last business day of the year.

Our Keogh Plan provides self-employed individuals with substantial retirement benefits and tax deductions. Now you can be assured of a 100% nonforfeitable account earning investment income, tax free, until you actually receive the funds at the time of your retirement. Don't wait! Stop in this week and find out more about how our Keogh Plan can provide you with a financially secure retirement.

Your employees, if any, must be included in the plan, provided they work at least 1,000 hours per year and have completed three years in your employ. The same contribution percentage established for yourself applies to them.

Grant To Help Vietnam Refugees Learn Language

A $96,500 grant from the Michigan Department of Social Services to Washtenaw Community College will help 75 refugees from the Vietnam War living in the area to learn the English language.

"The grant is intended to provide persons from Cambodia, Vietnam or Laos who have been resettled in this area with English language training so they may prepare for employment and not become welfare responsibility," Gunder A. Myran, president of WCC explained.

"Many of the persons who will be served by this program may have only verbal ability with their own language and will require special training to learn English, both written and spoken," he pointed out.

"The program will begin as soon as adequate staffing and materials can be arranged. Also, there will be a period of time devoted to identifying persons who qualify for the program," Dr. Myran said.

The Michigan Department of Social Services has been awarded a federal grant to finance the program.

Chelsea Blood Bank Clinic Slated Dec. 16

While Christmas is usually thought of only as a season of joy and celebration, it is also a time when accident statistics are incredibly high.

In keeping with the spirit of giving, the Chelsea Jaycees, as they have for many years, are sponsoring a Blood Drive on Saturday, Dec. 16 with the help and co-operation of the American Red Cross, Ann Arbor chapter.

Although the Jaycees have abandoned the gimmickry in persuading busy Christmas shoppers to donate a pint of their life-saving blood, their appeal is as urgent as ever, especially since most holiday trips include taking the children out onto the highway.

To qualify for blood giving a person must be 18 years old or older. Younger donors must have written parental consent. Donors must weigh at least 110 pounds, be in good health, and have waited two months since their last donation.

With the capable assistance of American Red Cross nurses, the entire process takes about a half hour and a variety of energy-producing foods will be served including orange juice, donuts, and coffee.

Saturday's hours are from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. in the Chelsea Fairgrounds building, and appointments are not necessary.

Jaycees Assist Fund Drive for Burn Center

Next to the high rate of traffic accidents predicted for the upcoming holiday weeks, electrical burns as well as other types also take an upswing in the number of incidents during Christmas and New Year's.

Ann Arbor, and the surrounding communities are fortunate to be part of the country-wide National Institute for Burns Medicine which functions through the University of Michigan Hospital, Chelsea Community Hospital, and St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Consolidation of the Burns Institute into one area was recently approved by the University of Michigan Board of Regents and is the impetus behind an all-out state-wide fund raising drive by the Michigan Jaycees and local chapters including Chelsea.

To date, more than $22,000 has been collected across the state for the building of a 6 1/2 million, 30-bed facility in Ann Arbor to be completed by 1981.

In Chelsea, Jaycee members have placed donation canisters in many area businesses and according to chairman Dan Bieske, more than $100 has been collected.

Chelsea has also planned the sale of the "Flame Tame" a small, portable, fire extinguisher specifically designed to quell kitchen grease fires.

Jaycee members will be out on street corners in the next few weeks with these.

Jaycees Report 3 New Members

Three new members were sworn into the Chelsea Jaycees during a joint membership night of the Jaycees and Auxiliary on Tuesday, Nov. 28.

New members are Ken Beauchamp, Ti Larson, and Jeff Priest.

Special guest of the evening was Paul Staley, District No. 2 director. A welcome by Jaycee President Bob Smith and Auxiliary President Sandy Meyer was followed by a presentation by Norm Colby and Shirley Weatherwax.

They discussed local activities and functions of the Jaycees.

Keynote speakers included Michigan Jaycee Auxiliary external vice-president Sharon McGill and Clinton Jaycee past-president Hugh McGill. They documented their growth in the Jaycees as members.

The group broke for refreshments and returned for the installation by Bob Smith of the new members.

Cooper's Coming With Saturday Travelogue

Forbidding weather and treacherous mountains in some of the most hazardous terrain of the world meant only the thrill of exploration for Alexander Mackenzie.

While Mackenzie's route through the northern lands of North America has never been used, his expedition gave Canada its first valid claim to the West Coast and was of great importance in subsequent negotiations between the United States and Canada.

The portion of this great explorer's trip from the Western prairies to the sea will be the subject of the Chelsea Kiwanis Club 18th annual Travel and Adventure Series as presented by the well-known and respected narrator Don Cooper "Coop" on Saturday, Dec. 9 at 8 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

No stranger himself to a rugged, often threatening lifestyle, Cooper was born and raised in Montana lumber camps and set out at an early age to learn the logging business. His father was the late George R. Cooper, State Senator of Montana and from him Cooper inherited considerable ability as a public speaker.

Incorporating his adventurous background with a down-home Will Rogers type of humor, Cooper offers a delightfully humorous and uninhibited narration.

One of his trademarks is the direction of his films where the audience is taken off the beaten path to find extraordinary scenery and unusual events.

Cooper entered the travelogue field in 1959 and has presented hundreds of performances—many of these repeats and to sold-out houses. Portions of his films have been presented on national television network programs and despite numerous and attractive offers from Hollywood, television stations, and others, he has preferred to remain in the travelogue field.

Special Olympians Qualify for State Meet

A championship game which ended in sudden death overtime left the Chelsea Special Olympians one point short of first place as they conceded 14-13 to High Point during the Dec. 1 floor hockey competition.

With their second-place finish, Chelsea will compete in the State Tournament at the Michigan School for the Deaf in Flint on Saturday, Dec. 16. They will also play in a Poly Hockey Tournament on Saturday, Dec. 9 at Troy High School.

Last Friday's game was held for Washtenaw and Livingston County Special Olympians at High Point in Ann Arbor under the direction of Doug and Nancy Cooper.

Chelsea placed in the winner's bracket in the single elimination tournament by squeaking past St. Louis, 6-5, in the last few seconds. Goalie Terry Walkowicz of Chelsea played a strong, hard game as did Danny Sheehan of St. Louis. Chelsea goals were netted by Glenn Passow and Ryan Sweeney, both with three.

Trophy-winning High Point competed with Community Mental Health and took a 19-16 victory. The Livingston County Warriors then played High Point who rallied for an 11-5 win after a defeat the week before to Livingston. High Point's goalie Al Quackenbush gave a great performance while Russ Sellers led in scoring with seven points.

Excitement peaked during the championship game as the lead was passed from High Point to Chelsea throughout the four quarters. With a tied score of 13-13, sudden death overtime was called for with Russ Sellers scooping the victory with a single shot into the net. Ryan Sweeney of Chelsea rushed for 11 goals and Glenn Passow shot two. Playing for Chelsea were Lori Brown, Chris Williams, Alice Lawrence, Kim Foss, Mike Foster, Theresa Murphy, Linda Alber, and Sue Armstrong.

Real Estate

By PAUL FRISINGER REALTOR

MOVE IN BEFORE SETTLEMENT?

The situation is this. Your home is for sale. A prospect wants to buy it, but says, "I like it, I want it. But I will not have the money for a couple of months. Can I move in until we finalize the sale?"

One of the best ways to kill a sale is to allow a prospective buyer to move in a considerable time before settlement. Often when this occurs, it is difficult to get him to go to settlement. He may keep finding things wrong with the house, keep insisting they be fixed, or even worse demand that an adjustment be made in price.

Sometimes the result is even more disastrous. The seller becomes disgusted with all the alleged complaints and calls the whole sale off. He must then start all over again.

In my opinion, it is better to let a house sit empty than to let a prospective buyer move in before closing the sale. Although it is not good for house to be empty, it's still a faster and surer way of selling it with the least trouble.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at FRISINGER REALTY CO., 935 S. Main St., Chelsea. Phone: 475-888; evenings 475-2621. We're here to help!

In Praise of Young People

We recently received a letter from Dr. Robert Dewey, the Vice President for Student Services of Kalamazoo College in which he wrote as follows, "I was very moved to receive a check for $150.00 from Chelsea High school students today—it will be added to the Memorial Gordon Beaumont Prize to be given at Honors Day Convocation."

I, too, was very moved at this expression on Gord's behalf by our students at Chelsea High.

It had not been mentioned to us, nor do we have any knowledge of whose idea began the process which made the gift possible. Had Dr. Dewey not been moved to write, we would never have become aware of our students' generosity.

Another indication of an act of love by young people is reflected in a letter we received from the American Red Cross which advised us that over 100 students of Kalamazoo College had each given a pint of blood in Gordon's and Gina's names.

And yet, not one word of this appeared in print or received a passing mention on the news!

Isn't it a shame how we immediately receive word of the acts of young people which violate the rules of our society but how seldom are their fine, loving and generous actions recorded and praised.

This, then, is in praise of young people, not only here in Chelsea, but—everywhere!

Our son and his actions received prominent recognition possibly because all of the circumstances which surrounded the event were beyond belief and there may well have been hope on the part of the newspeople to try to prevent such a chain of events from happening again.

If that is so, then they are to be greatly thanked for their efforts.

I feel we need to understand something else, however; it isn't always the great big things in life which contribute so much to all. It is more often those actions in which we could engage every day that really count up to the sharing of the Lord's love with our neighbor.

A smile shared with another as a gift from the heart may carry more meaning for the person receiving it than we will ever know.

Young people by their spontaneous acts, their vitality and their zest for life bring to those of us who are now somewhat older and, perhaps more importantly, to those who are much older, a feeling of joy and warmth which transcends periods of sadness or loneliness or even those days when much we do seems to be of little value anymore.

Young people, you have the ability to give much and you do—as you give of yourself you will find that the world becomes a little better to live in and you will receive that joy and peace which only comes from service to another.

St. Paul spoke of various gifts we are given, gifts of teaching, gifts of healing, gifts of interpreting and so on—I think that there is a special gift given to you while you are young—that is the gift of reaching out to others in a way that some how we seem to forget as we grow older.

It is a most worthwhile gift, you have it, use it and, although you may never get the praise you deserve, your reward may be found in the returning smile of someone who has had their day made brighter because of you.

Again, I salute you for a fine and generous act, one which we never would even have heard about had it not moved Dr. Dewey to write me.

The Rev. Fr. Jerrold F. Beaumont, B.S.P.

BRAD KNICKERBOCKER (90): This first-year varsity griddler on the Bulldog squad concluded a highly successful season as an offensive split end and extra point kicker. Knickerbocker was accorded the honor of being named to the Southeastern Conference second team as split end which he said was the result, in part, of his having completed 24 passes during the year. Knickerbocker was also outstanding as a kicker, completing 17 out of 18 attempts. A split end, he explained, "catches the ball on pass plays and blocks on running plays downfield which can be pretty tough. You're playing in the open field and the opponent can see you coming and tries to fake you out. You've got to sneak up on him," he said. While Knickerbocker played split end in most of the nine season games he was also assigned to the defensive halfback position which required "covering the receivers and getting to the ball on running plays," he explained. In addition he was on the punt team. Describing his success as an extra point kicker, he said, "a lot of what I did was the result of good snaps from the center and the work of the holder. After that all I had to do was concentrate hard and think about getting the ball straight down the middle." The furthest he had to kick the ball over the post was 35 yards he said. Knickerbocker's best game of the year was against Milan when, in spite of a record nine completed passes on his part, the Bulldogs lost their first game, after four consecutive victories, 41-20. Not only is Knickerbocker a valuable sportsman on the football team, but he also competes on the varsity baseball and basketball teams. He is the son of Ray and Louise Knickerbocker, 226 E. North St.

ANDY WEIR (66) is a junior who recently completed his first year as a varsity griddler for the Chelsea Bulldogs. While an early season ankle injury kept Weir off the field for several games, he was able to join the lineup in four grid battles. Of these, the 5'10", 153-lb. offensive guard and defensive end considers his best game with the Saline Hornets. "It was a big game and I felt proud to be able to play in it," he commented. Weir was slotted as a guard in that encounter which, he explained, meant "blocking for the runners and on passes." His preferred position, that of defensive end, requires "containing the outside line, and keeping the opponent's ball carriers from getting out by making tackles whenever possible," he said. Throughout the year, Weir saw the offensive line continually improving which contributed to the Bulldogs' commendable 6-3 season record. Weir has recently joined the varsity swim team this year and keep in shape for the football season he runs and lifts weights. He began playing football as a freshman. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Weir, 870 McKinley Rd.

After a pregnant woman smokes only two cigarettes, her unborn baby shows sharply reduced breathing motions, according to a recent study. The National Foundation-March of Dimes says that more studies reveal a direct link between maternal smoking and miscarriage, birth defects, including low birthweight, and neonatal death.

FFA Reports On Corn Test Plot Results

Chelsea FFA planted 12 test plots of corn this year with each of the six varieties tested for its response to nitrogen by applying anhydrous ammonia to half the rows.

Results of the project started in May were provided by the club as follows:

With anhydrous ammonia the population per acre of Northrup King Py-32 variety was 19,600 with 21.3 percent moisture, and a 67.0 percent yield; Super Crost 2350 results were 28,600, 20.4 percent moisture, and 71.3 percent yield; Funks 6-4252, 24,400, 18.6 percent moisture, and 75.7 percent yield; Garno S-100, 16,500, 23.5 percent moisture, 53.0 percent yield; Acco V-334, 19,300, 18.1 percent moisture, 76.3 percent yield; and Migro Mioloa, 21,300, 19.0 percent moisture, and 65.6 percent yield.

Without anhydrous ammonia Northrup King had a population per acre of 16,400, 21.5 percent moisture, and 34.0 percent yield; Super Crost, 19,700, 22.5 percent moisture, 39.8 percent yield; Funks, 20,300, 18.6 percent moisture, 53.6 percent yield; Garno, 16,700, 26.2 percent moisture, 64.0 percent yield; Acco, 16,700, 20.9 percent moisture, 46.2 percent yield; Migro, 19,200, 20.2 percent moisture, and 70.9 percent yield.

The club reported that the plots had an excessive fall panicum during the year.

Area farmers who donated seed for the FFA project included Lloyd Grau, Bob Heller, Harold Trinkle, Reuben Lesser, Dave Wolfgang, and Richard Bravo.

Your Chelsea Funeral Home with the "HOME" like atmosphere
By Donald A. Cole

Every funeral service rendered by Burghardt-Cole Funeral Home is treated with dignity and understanding. Costs may differ because of the service and merchandise selected, but there is only one high standard of service. Different families have different ideas about the manner in which they desire to honor the memory of those they cherish and, in this, we do our utmost to allow them a free and unrestricted choice. Should they wish guidance all of our years of experience is at their disposal, but they are the final arbiters of the Funeral Service they desire.

ASK THE GOVERNOR!

by William G. Millham

Question: I am being harassed at work by a collection agency. The agency is threatening to tell my boss that I owe money. If I lose my job, I will never be able to pay what I owe. Is there anything I can do?

Governor: Yes. You can advise the collection agency that under the Michigan Collection Practices Act, a creditor is prohibited from contacting your employer about a debt. As always, there are a few exceptions to the rule. A creditor may contact your employer if you gave them permission to do so, or if your employer initially contacted the collection agency for information, or after a court-ordered garnishment of your wages.

If you don't want the collection agency to call you at work, ask them to call you at home instead. The Collection Practices Advisory Board of the Department of Licensing and Regulations advises creditors to contact a person at his or her place of employment only when the creditor is unable to reach the person at home. You can complain to the board, which licenses and regulates all collection agencies operating in Michigan, about a collection agency which violates the law.

Question: Last month I bought a new mobile home and received a one-year guarantee on it. Since I have lived in the home I have noticed some minor problems, like sticky doors and loose carpeting. When I called the dealer, he asked me to wait a couple of months then he said he would fix everything at once. Is this on the level?

Governor: Probably. Most dealers prefer their customers to live in their new mobile homes for a "settling in" period of 90 days so they can spot all the minor defects and make all repairs at one time. Under state law (Public Act 288 of 1974) you do have a one-year warranty for defects on your mobile home. If your dealer fails to fix the problems within the next several months, you should call the Michigan Mobile Home Commission, Michigan Department of Commerce at 517-374-9586.

Question: When I asked my optometrist for a copy of my prescription before I go on my winter vacation, he said I would have to pay an additional $5 as a service charge. Is he allowed to charge me?

Governor: No. The Federal Trade Commission's new rule on the advertising of eyeglasses, contact lenses and eye examinations prohibits optometrists and optometrists from charging patients anything more than the normal examination fee for releasing a prescription. The rule also requires a practitioner to give a patient a copy of the prescription immediately, before any dispensing of eyewear begins. The decision as to where that prescription is filled then rests with the patient. The FTC found that many consumers had never seen a prescription for eyewear, so they did not know that they could take the prescription and compare prices just as they can for prescription drugs.

Mills, Covered Bridges Recall Michigan's Past

The creaking sound of waterwheels and the echo of horses' hooves against hand-hewn timbers still may be heard in Michigan's mills and covered bridges, according to Automobile Club of Michigan.

Products from livestock feed to tangy apple cider continue to be produced by mills scattered through Lower Michigan while a few have been converted to other uses, including a theatre and a restaurant.

Although more than a century old, some of the covered bridges listed by Auto Club still carry light vehicles. Others have only recently been built as part of parks, picnic areas and resorts.

The tiny community of Ada near Grand Rapids is home of the 125-foot Ada Bridge, which in 1867 was the first to span the Thornapple River. It now is open to foot traffic only.

Visitors to Fallasburg Bridge Park north of Lowell will see a 100-foot structure built in 1871 across the Flat River.

And, just two miles north, a roadside table near White's Bridge is a favorite stop for picnickers and photography buffs. The 116-foot span was built with wooden pegs and hand-cut nails in 1869 and carries auto traffic across the Flat River.

At 282 feet, Langley Bridge on the St. Joseph River near Centreville is the state's longest covered span. Constructed in 1887, it, too, may be driven by auto and seen from a nearby riverside park.

Those wishing to photograph the 46-year-old Morris Bridge, a 40-foot-long structure on private property near Niles, must call (616-683-3329) a week in advance.

Five other bridges are of more recent construction. Newest is at Bay Valley Inn near Bay City. Until 1972, when sides and roof were installed, the 72-foot structure was a railroad bridge.

Alpena county's 60-foot-long Fletcher Park Bridge near Long Rapids was built in 1968 with hemlock timbers from the park's own groves.

Tourists may feed goats, deer and elephants and see other animals at King's Animaland near Richmond in Southeast Michigan, where a 20-foot covered bridge was built over the Salt River in 1965.

Reserved for golfers, the covered bridge on Detroit's Belle Isle Golf Course may be seen from the island's Oakwood Drive. The 70-foot span was built in 1913 of wood and concrete.

The only covered structure not original to Michigan is the 146-year-old Ackley Bridge in Dearborn's Greenfield Village (313-271-1820). Moved from Pennsylvania in 1937, it is used by the Village's horse-drawn carriages as well as persons on foot.

The Village also is home of what may be the oldest mill in America. The Cape Cod Windmill, moved there in 1936, was built in the early- to mid-1600s and is one of a dozen mills on display.

The oldest state business on its original site in Manchester's E. G. Mann & Sons Feed Mill (313-428-7077). Tours of this water-powered mill must be arranged in advance.

Holland's Windmill Island is the site of a 200-year-old Dutch windmill, still grinding flour that visitors may purchase.

In fall, tangy apple cider is enjoyed by visitors to several water-driven mills. Two are in Rochester and Parshallville.

In Rochester, the historic Clinton-Kalamazoo Canal is carried over the Yates Cider Mill (313-651-8300) by a picturesque wooden flume.

Power for cider making at Tom Walker's Grist Mill (313-629-9079) near Parshallville comes from a turbine turned by water from Ore Creek.

Anglers may fish for trout alongside another Rochester-area mill, the Raint Creek Cider Mill (313-651-8361).

Other mills have been saved from the wrecking ball and are now serving a variety of other purposes.

A 90-year-old flour and grist mill at Homer now is home of True Grist Ltd. Dinner Theatre (517-568-4151). In Rockford, a mill more than 100 years old has become the Old Mill Restaurant (616-866-4306) in that city's restored Squires Street Square.

Three mills at Milan, Dundee and Tecumseh formerly were owned by auto pioneer Henry Ford and now are community centers for meetings and senior citizen programs. The mill's waterwheel remains at Tecumseh while only the millraces are left at Milan and Dundee.

A waterwheel adorning the Ford Motor Company's Northville Valve Plant formerly powered office lighting. Although no tours are offered, visitors may feed ducks at the plant millpond.

Two mills presently under restoration may be visited at the Wolf Lake State Fish Hatchery (616-668-2147) near Mattawan and in Flint's Historical Crossroads Village (313-785-7803). Both projects should be completed in two years.

Learn What To Look for Before Buying Insulated Jackets

You don't have to give winter the cold shoulder this year, especially with the variety of insulated clothing available.

Joanne Thurber, Michigan State University Extension specialist in clothing and textiles, suggests that when you get ready to buy that parka or ski jacket, you do a little comparison shopping to find the garment that best suits your cold weather needs.

Many of the jackets are constructed of either an insulated nylon ripstop or nylon taffeta fabric. Differences between the fabric type involve the weave pattern and can be detected only with a microscope.

In general, nylon jacket material is lightweight and water repellent and, because it is tightly woven, it blocks out the wind. Both types of nylon are tear-resistant—more or less depending on the fabric weight—an abrasion resistant. The only drawbacks are a tendency to ravel—this can be corrected by finishing the seams—and a low melting point.

Consider exterior design features, too, before making a purchase. Among the most practical design extras to look for in a jacket are a hood, a zipper flap closing to keep out the wind, insulated pockets with closures, knitted or elasticized cuffs to keep out cold air and a belt or drawstring at the waist to give additional protection from wind or snow.

Though nylon ski jacket exteriors differ only slightly, a variety of interior insulation products are available. The most common are polyester batting and down.

Polyester batting is less expensive than down. A non-allergenic fiber, it dries fast and does not mildew, but it loses its insulating ability when wet. Polyester is flammable, heavier by volume and less compressible than down.

Because polyester is a man-made fiber, a variety of weights and weaves are available. Several brand name forms of polyester have been developed for maximum warmth in winter outerwear. The batting is assembled in sheet form before it is marketed and partially stabilized for easier handling. It is often quilted to prevent shifting inside garments.

Down insulation is usually made with the undercoating of geese. The fluffy, light filaments that grow out of quill points are processed without the points.

Government regulations stipulate that any garment labeled "down" must contain at least 80 percent down and no more than 20 percent feathers.

Down is the warmest insulator for its weight. Most down garments are machine washable and very resilient. They take longer to dry than their polyester counterparts and may mildew if not thoroughly dried. Down has a tendency to mat and lose its insulating ability if it gets wet. People who are allergic to feathers may have trouble wearing down-lined clothing.

Before purchasing a winter nylon jacket, make sure you're dealing with a reputable store and manufacturer. And be sure to read garment labels closely—they are a good source of information.

In addition to ready-to-wear jackets, complete kits are available for the construction of winter garments at home. If you sew, you can save approximately 30 to 50 percent of the store-bought item's cost by making it from a kit. You

Petition Drive Seeks To Repeal Tax Hike

A slow growth rate in state gas and weight revenues, coupled with a petition drive by two GOP State Senators to repeal a law increasing fuel taxes and license fees, has the County Road Association of Michigan reeling over the potential revenue loss.

A State Legislator, William A. Ryan, D-Detroit, however, is challenging the legality of the petition which could possibly put the Road Association's worries to rest.

Republican Senators John A. Welborn of Kalamazoo and Harry A. DeMaso of Battle Creek fueled their drive in response to the state Legislature-passed law this September which would impose an additional two cent tax on gasoline and raise the cost of vehicle license plates by 30 to 35 percent.

Both increases become effective Jan. 1 but drivers applying for 1979 registration plates will notice the increase has been applied already.

Welborn and DeMaso believe the increases will discourage new businesses from coming to Michigan and force established businesses to leave the state. Their goal is to collect 150,000 signatures which would make the new law a referendum issue for voters to decide on in 1980.

Ryan, however, believes that the State Constitution excludes laws which appropriate money from becoming a referendum issue. If Welborn and DeMaso are successful in obtaining the signatures (and there is reason to believe they will), Ryan's supporters will request the state Court of Appeals to keep the State Board of Canvassers from certifying the petition.

If the Board of Canvassers does delay certification, then the state can proceed collecting the approximately $140 million the new law would generate. Not until the referendum is decided by the courts to be legal would the state have to stop collecting the increases.

Thomas Vallencourt, managing director of the Washtenaw County Board of Road Commissioners, said that the extra $140 million will help offset "the bite of inflation on road construction costs and the consistent decline in the amount of revenues from gas and weight tax revenues."

According to figures recently released, road construction costs have increased 158.1 percent and maintenance costs 103 percent in the last 10 years. Gas and weight tax revenues, on the other hand, have declined nearly 50 percent in the same period.

"Two reasons for the decline," Vallencourt said, "are the result of the production of lighter cars and the greater fuel efficiency of those cars."

Pointing to other arguments presented in an editorial in The Ann Arbor News, Vallencourt said that license plate fees in Michigan are far less than in many other states and that Michigan does not have the toll roads that other large industrial states have.

"The condition of Michigan roads can only deteriorate to incredible disparity if the petition is allowed to be certified," Vallencourt commented. While the Road Commission is required to maintain a certain level of winter road care, they would be forced to make drastic reductions in general road repairs.

Aircraft Industry Born 75 Years Ago

The weather was brisk at Kitty Hawk, N.C., on Dec. 17, 1903. The Wright brothers, Orville and Wilbur, decided to ignore the harsh climatac and launch their 745-pound aircraft. On that day 75 years ago, the Wright brothers' plane made four flights with its 12-horsepower engine and the aviation industry was born. Greenfield Village, Dearborn, is now the home of the brothers' cycle shop, where they worked on their famous aircraft, along with their Dayton, O., home and more than 85 other historic buildings.

LEGISLATIVE LOG

An Overview of Action on Bills in the Michigan Legislature During Week of Nov. 27-Dec. 1

In the Senate . . .

Whether state funds should be used to pay for abortions was one of the major issues addressed by the Senate this week. Members of the Upper Chamber—for the third time in recent months and under the threat of yet another measure halting state payments for the Medicaid abortions, except in cases where a mother's life was in danger. The bill now goes to the House for its review.

Senate members also devoted a share of their time this week to the consideration of proposed rules changes aimed at streamlining the procedures governing Senate operations. A rule allowing the Majority Leader to make all committee assignments was approved. Among the proposed changes expected to undergo debate by the full Senate next week are those to require open legislative caucus and to restrict travel and postage expenditures. Senate Democrats also filled next year's majority leadership positions at an open organizational caucus.

In addition, Senate approval was given this week to a series of House-passed bills which would decriminalize all but the most serious traffic and parking offenses; and a pair of bills, also previously approved by the House, which would require the use of solar energy at state campgrounds and highway rest areas where practical. A new state antitrust act was also passed by the Senate and sent to the House.

Several energy-related measures won Senate committee approval this week and were reported to the full membership for debate. They would: prohibit the sale of appliances which require more than three pilot lights for operation; ban the sale of decorative gas lamps in Michigan as of June 1, 1979; and allow tax credits for the installation of alternative energy conversion devices. Other bills reported from committees this week would: promote and regulate vanpooling; establish a year-round vehicle registration system; and extend from one to three years the probationary period for new drivers.

In the House . . .

A House Joint Resolution, ratifying the proposed U. S. Constitutional amendment to allow Congressional representation for the District of Columbia, won House approval this week. If passed by the Senate before the end of this year, Michigan would become the second state (joining New Jersey) to ratify the amendment. If ratified by the required 38 states in the next seven years, the amendment would give the District two U. S. Senate seats and either one or two U. S. House seats based on its population in the 1980 census.

The State House also voted this week to raise interest limits and loan ceilings for small loan companies, allowing them to charge 18 percent interest and to lend up to $3,000 to their customers. This measure was returned to the Senate for concurrence in House amendments. Placed into position for a final vote in the House, perhaps next week, were bills to legalize the manufacture and use of the controversial anti-cancer drug, Lactris, in Michigan, and to require overtime pay for firefighters who work more than 54 hours per week.

House committees reported to the floor for debate the following bills which would: appropriate $320.3 million for Medicaid funding for the remainder of this fiscal year, while allowing a portion of such funds to be used for welfare abortions; permit the taking and possession of hawks and owls and regulate falconry; increase the liability of parents for damages caused by their children; establish penalties for counterfeiting of returnable beverage containers; authorize a tax on low grade iron ore; and allow voters to apply simultaneously for absentee ballots for both the primary and general elections. Efforts failed to report a measure which would have allowed unclaimed bottle deposit funds to be used for anti-litter and conservation purposes, however.

House Republicans also elected new leadership members this week for the upcoming 1979-80 legislative session.

From the Governor . . .

The bulk of Governor Milliken's time this week was spent attending the Republican Governors Association meeting in Williamsburg, Va. In a speech to participants in the meeting, the Governor urged Republican Party leaders to practice an open door policy in an effort to attract traditionally Democratic voters to the GOP camp. Milliken is the second-ranking Republican Governor in seniority and recently won his third full term as Michigan's chief executive.

Acting in the Governor's absence, Lieutenant Governor James Damman signed into law the first bill approved during the Legislature's year-end session. That measure authorizes the State Board of Canvassers to certify to the Secretary of State the language of voter-approved constitutional amendments or legislation initiated by petition.

Perky Patent

James H. Nason of Franklin, Mass., joined the list of American inventors on Dec. 26, 1865, when he received his patent for a coffee percolator, an appliance taken for granted 113 years later. The Home Arts Collection of Henry Ford Museum, Dearborn, provides visitors with a look at hundreds of other useful inventions for the home and hearth; attesting to the innovative nature of the early American.

Young Drivers Are Involved in 40 Percent of All Fatal Accidents

Number of traffic accident deaths was down by five in 1977, as compared to 1976 while 1977 injuries were up by 2.1 percent and the number of accidents increased by 2.5 percent, according to a report released recently by the Michigan Department of State Police.

Fatalities numbered 1,950 in 1977 (1,955 occurred in 1976) with Washtenaw county showing an increase of 19 traffic deaths. In 1978, 50 persons died in the county while in 1977, 69 died.

According to the report, one out of every 4,551 persons living in Michigan was killed in a traffic accident; one out of every 53 persons was injured, and one out of every 16.4 licensed drivers in Michigan was involved in a traffic accident.

Rural areas showed the highest percent of traffic deaths, 67.7 percent, although most accidents, 62 percent, occurred in urban areas.

A traffic accident was reported every one minute, 24 seconds, with one person killed every four hours and 29 minutes, and one person injured every three minutes and 10 seconds, the report said.

Of the fatal accidents, 21.5 percent occurred at intersections; 43 percent were the result of excessive speeds or speeds too fast for conditions; and more than half of all fatal accidents were the result of alcohol where the drinking condition was determined.

"One of the most publicized aspects of the drinking and driving problems has been the emphasis on the 'young driver,' 18- to 20-year-old group. Very diverse opinions as to the significance of the data exists among the concerned interest groups," the report said.

"The Michigan data reveals that the young drivers are beginning an upward trend from 1974-77 since the leveling off years of 1972-73," the report added.

18- to 20-year olds involved in accidents where drinking had been established increased 41.9 percent from 1972 to 1977. Drinking drivers of all ages were involved in 6.8

percent more accidents for the same time period.

There is a definite correlation to these figures and the figures on drivers arrested for driving under the influence of liquor. 35 percent more 18- to 20-year-old drivers were arrested in 1977 than in 1972, while for all ages there was an increase of 3.5 percent in 1977 as compared to 1972.

Similar concerns were exposed by the report for young drivers in general.

"There is no aspect of traffic safety more urgent than the problem of the dangerous young driver. Although they may seem to be unduly criticized, the available facts establish young drivers under 25 years old as an extraordinarily high risk group," the report said.

"Better statistics are needed on relative miles driven by the young driver, but the over-all pattern year after year is distinct. The proportion of those drivers 15 to 24 years old involved in all accidents is the highest of any age group; accounting for 40 percent of all drivers involved in fatal accidents. This same age group accounts for only 25.6 percent of the drinking population," according to the report.

On a brighter note, snowmobile accidents in Michigan decreased 18.4 percent with a registration increase of 23 percent since the last snow season. Statistics show that Michigan had 69,251 registered snowmobiles during the 1968-69 snow season while the 1977 figure stood at 400,122 snowmobiles.

In the 1976-77 season, 1,048 persons were injured and 23 killed in 1,158 accidents. In the 1976-77 season only 852 persons were injured and 24 killed out of 943 accidents.

Better news comes from the statistics of bicycle deaths. From 1973 to 1977 bicycle deaths decreased 40 percent and injuries decreased 11.1 percent. During this period, 60 percent of the fatalities occurred in rural areas and 72 percent of the injuries occurred between in urban areas. The greatest drop in deaths occurred between 1976 and 1977. In 1976, 87 persons were killed while in 1977 43 died.

Children under the age of 15 accounted for 62.7 percent of the bicycle deaths.

A downward trend was also noted in the report in the death date of motorcycle riders. Since 1973 death statistics have been steadily dropping and in 1977 there were fewer motorcycles registered than in any of the four previous years. 209 motorcycle riders died in 1973, but in 1977, 161 were killed. The 1977 figure, however, is up from the 1976 figure of 137 deaths.

Also on the increase were pedestrian deaths. 348 persons were killed in 1977, compared to 341 deaths in 1976. During the past five years, a total of 1,882 pedestrians have been killed, an average of 336 per year. Of all pedestrians 85.6 percent were killed between intersections; 34 percent were under the age of 20; and for each pedestrian killed, there were 15.4 injured.

EMU Choruses Prepare for Joint Concert Friday

Eastern Michigan University's Men's and Women's Choruses will present a joint concert on Friday, Dec. 8 at 8 p.m. in Pease Auditorium on the EMU campus.

Both groups have been under the direction of Ernest Brandon for five years. Brandon is an assistant professor of music at EMU. Both groups will perform separately and together. The program will consist of Christmas music and other works.

The Women's Chorus will present three pieces including "Christmas Dance of the Shepherds" by Kodaly; "Alleluia" by Diemer; and "The Holy Infant's Lullaby" by Dello Jolo.

The Men's Chorus will sing the anonymous piece, "The Boarshead Carol"; and "Have Yourself a Merry Little Christmas" with music by Ralph Blane.

The two groups will combine for "Blow the Candles Out," a folksong arranged by Gregg Smith; "Here and Now" by Norman Luboff; "Dixie," arranged by Luboff; "Behold a Star for Jacob Shining" by Mendelssohn; "Adoramus Te" by Palestrina; and the cantata "Das Neugeborne Kindelein," by Euxtehuide.

Frosh Cagers Win Opener At Lincoln

Chelsea freshman basketball team drew an easy 55-46 win over the Lincoln Rallsplitters in their opening game Tuesday, Dec. 5 in Lincoln.

Lincoln held a razor thin lead in the first quarter, 9-8, before Chelsea bombarded their hosts in the second stanza, pulling to a 30-14 lead by half-time.

Buildups continued to dominate the game, sinking 15 points in the third quarter and another 10 in the final period. A late rally by Lincoln in the 4th quarter, totalling 26 tallies, was not enough to take the game.

Leading Chelsea scorer was Todd Sprague with 16 points. Toby Boyd collected 11; Mike Bareis, eight; Geoff Shaw, eight; Bob Trevino, six; and two each for John Welton, Darrow Keezer, and Doug Henson.

Coach Jim Tallman credited "an excellent defense performance by Trevino" for holding the Rallsplitters back.

Toby Boyd and Geoff Shaw both contributed 11 rebounds during the game.

Chelsea hosts Novi tonight, Thursday, for their second game.

Conditioning for skiing

There are three general physical qualities required of good skiers. They all have excellent cardio-respiratory endurance, well conditioned muscles, and a high degree of flexibility.

Running, swimming or skipping rope not only build endurance but also condition the legs. Be sure to ease into this or any other exercises. Start slowly and gradually increase the distance or repetitions.

Further leg muscle conditioning can be done through deep knee bends, especially while holding weights. Push-ups and pull-ups help build the arm and shoulder muscles. Weight lifting also is very beneficial for arms, shoulders and legs.

Before starting flexibility exercises, get a chiropractic examination to be sure your back is ready for the program. Leg crossovers, which consist of lying flat on your back and crossing legs over opposite leg and touching floor with toes, is very good.

Another is the overhead curl. Lie flat on your back and raise legs and hips back over your head until toes touch the floor.

To stretch hamstrings, sit on floor with legs straight. Reach forward and touch toes with your fingers. Hold toes for five seconds and return to beginning position.

These are just a few of the many you can do, but they'll pay off in extra dividends of skiing enjoyment.
