Robert Phillips Arraigned on Assault Charge

Robert M. Phillips, 22, 521 Lane St., was arraigned in 14th District Court Tuesday, Dec. 26 on charges of assault with intent to murder following an alleged shooting on Saturday, Dec. 23, which critically injured George Lovely, 23, 519 Lane St.

Judge Henry-D. Arkison presided at the arraignment in the Chelsea Court House and set bond at $10,000. A preliminary examination has been set for Jan. 17 at 9:30 a.m. in Chelsea.

According to Chelsea investigating officer Jack Orr, the Chelsea Police Department received a call at 6:15 p.m. Saturday that someone had been shot at 521 Lane St.

As Orr drove to the Phillips residence he saw Lovely walking across the lawn to this home next door to the Phillips home.

"I went to the porch where Lovely had gone in and saw him bleeding. Just then three people, including Phillips, came over to Lovely's house and told me he had been shot," Orr explained.

Orr stated that Lovely had been at a party at the Phillips home when Lovely and Phillips had an argument. "There had been five people there but one person left after Lovely had been shot. Phillips was arrested in his own home," Orr said.

Orr also said he found the alleged weapon, a 22-caliber rifle, in Phillips' home.

Lovely was transported by ambulance to the Chelsea Community Hospital and then to the University Hospital in Ann Arbor where he was listed in critical condition until Monday, Dec. 25. He was listed in good condition on Tuesday, Dec. 26.

Lovely had been shot once in the side of his upper chest.

Council Okays Chelsea State Bank Permit

Village Council attended to a number of financial and budget items during their regular meeting Tuesday, Dec. 19, as well as approved a conditional use permit for the Chelsea State Bank.

Tuesday's meeting included a public hearing on the bank's request to install drive-up facilities for their proposed branch on the southwest corner of M-52 and Old US-12.

The two-acre branch site is zoned restricted which curbs automobile oriented commercial establishments. Consequently, a conditional use permit was needed by Chelsea State Bank to install the drive-up windows.

Village council members unanimously approved the permit with two conditions. One, that access to the proposed branch be off a main driveway connecting with M-52 and second, that the entrance off of Old US-12 be 330 feet west of the M-52-Old US-12 intersection.

With the village's approval, CSB must now present a final site plan of the branch to the Chelsea Planning Commission for its review and approval before construction on the bank can commence.

There were no objections raised during the hearing. Chelsea State Bank is expected to present a final site plan at the next Planning Commission meeting on Jan. 9.

Attending to financial matters, council authorized the transfer of $20,000 from the electric fund to the general fund. According to Village Administrator Fritz Weber, the monies are the results of profits made by the village-owned and operated electric services. If the village had the services of a public utilities, that utility would be subject to village taxes payable to the general fund. "In effect we are treating the Chelsea electric services as we would a public utility and are transferring $20,000 collected from the electric fund to the general fund for the operation of the village," Weber explained.

Council also unanimously approved the amendment to the 1978-79 general fund budget to accommodate the salary of Fred Barkley, village project and grants director.

The 1978-79 budget was approved in March, 1978 while Barkley was hired into the newly-created position on April 1, 1978. "The bottom line of the general fund budget was not altered but we had to rearrange several budget items for his salary," Weber explained.

The rearrangement included taking $11,000 from the planning budget and $2,500 from a contingency fund and applying the total to the executive budget.

Barkley's position as project and grants director, as described by Weber, includes a variety of duties from seeking and applying for state and federal grants to assuming the tasks of zoning inspector and village administrator when needed.

Acting as something of a liaison between the village and the Chelsea Planning Commission, Barkley reviews conditional use permits, zoning issues, site plans, and so on, and advises both the village and the Planning Commission on his findings.

Barkley is required to attend both the council and the Planning Commission meetings.

His other duties involve preparing legal notices and seeing to their publication; developing long-range plans for capital and other village improvements from recreation to utilities; and carrying out assignments given by the village administrator.

Prior to Barkley's employment, the administrator and a private consulting firm performed his job.

Council's last item on Tuesday's agenda was to allocate $1,000 to the family of the late Joe Brannham, a former village public works employee, who died this past November.

Weber explained that Brannham

HOLDING HER MEMENTO of 11 months in Peakhurst, Australia, Mary McCallum is enjoying nearly a month off from classes before she returns to Chelsea High school on Jan. 22. She almost spent the holiday in Sydney as airline workers were on strike, but she managed a seat on the last international flight before Christmas and returned home on Monday, Dec. 18. For the past 11 months she has been studying under the auspices of the Youth For Understanding Program in Australia.

Exchange Student Finds Schools Much Different in Australia

Young school girls in Australia don't go to dances in bib overalls and red-checked blouses.

Heaven's no.

Satin and lace, velvet and silk are proper. Girls are even willing to spend upwards of $100 to look their best.

Mary McCallum, however, dressed the way she "would have for a Chelsea dance" and immediately gave herself away at the ball.

"No one told me that everyone would be all dressed up. When I went to the dance I felt terribly out of place," Mary said in her proper sounding Australian accent.

Having just returned from Peakhurst, Australia, where she studied for 11 months in the local high school, the daughter of the Rev. Marvin McCallum, try as she might, could no more hide her acquired accent than the deep tan she was wearing.

"Everyone believes that I have been turned 'proper' because of my new 'twang.' But that's just not true in the least," she laughed seriously.

"Australia is supposed to be known for its easy-going people, but actually I found them more polite," she commented.

So polite, that they hesitated to tell her the customs and traditions, like lavish dressing for the dance.

"In school, everyone wears a uniform of gray and a muddy green. That's why when there is a dance, the girls like to look smashing," Mary explained.

Ever since Mary was quite young, "I had a notion that I would enjoy going abroad to study. I had met many family friends who were exchange students and always thought I should do it," she said.

To qualify for the Youth For Understanding program, a student must have a "B" average, and enough to say about themselves to fill in a nine-page application. Then there are several interviews before a student is accepted.

While these are the overt qualifications, Mary related one of the hidden necessities one should have before leaving home for the first time, traveling by jet for the first time, and tolerating January weather of 90 to 100 degrees.

"Patience helps," she commented. "I suffered from cultural shock for the first few weeks and I had to keep thinking that it would work itself out eventually. Suddenly finding myself 14,000 miles away from home and not knowing anyone was frightening. I spent a lot of time not knowing where I was, even during the day."

As for the flying, while Mary thoroughly enjoyed the 24-hour flight west from Detroit with stops in San Francisco and Hawaii, the YFU had its own ideas about a jet lag cure.

"They thought that by staying awake for the whole day after we arrived in Sydney in the morning, then we would adjust easier to gaining a day on the flight over. Personally, it didn't work for me," she laughed.

The "cure" included packing all 29 American students from Mary's flight off to the opera house, a ride on the ferry, and a tour of the beach at one of the world's most beautiful harbors in Sydney.

"Some of the students fell asleep on the ferry and I was really mixed up for a few days after we finally went to the hotel to sleep," she said.

In Peakhurst, Mary stayed with the Nimmo family—June and Bob and their two daughters, Robyne, 16; and Diane, 19. A third daughter, Wendy, was married and lived in the mountains nearby.

Robyne and Mary were both in the fourth form (the equivalent of 10th grade in the states). "I was to have been in the fifth form (11th grade) but I was too young they said."

When she returns to classes at Chelsea High school at the end of January, she will be classified as a junior but taking a few sophomore classes required here but not available in Peakhurst.

"The school system there is handled much differently than in America. In first form math, for example, the students are taught a little bit of everything from algebra and geometry to probability and statistics. As they pass from form to form the classes elaborate on each area," she explained.

She also found that education is serious business on the massive northern island. "There is little fooling around when it comes to school and they make it very hard to be a student. In fact, when I was there the school authorities had made the final so difficult that the students were rebelling. There were articles in the paper and the students were going to the education department

No Deep or Prolonged Recession; Control of Inflation Creates Doubt

By Babson's Reports Inc., Wellesley Hills, Mass.

A year ago, our forecast for 1978 anticipated further progress on the business front. Despite a long coal strike, an advance to peak levels of interest rates, and the appalling decline in the value of the U.S. dollar against the stronger currencies of the world, general business did actually display more staying power than had seemed attainable. Unfortunately, the specter of inflation — about which we had warned — also made its presence felt during the past year. This cruel "hidden tax" proved to be a dual-edged sword: On the one hand, the inflation psychology prompted buying of durable goods and homes in expectation of higher prices, thus helping to sustain the "powerful business pace" on the other hand, inflation was instrumental in generating the flight from the dollar and the consequent poor performance of the stock market. So, 1978 saw public confidence undermined by anxiety over the twin forces of inflation and soaring interest rates even while there were healthy advances in industrial activity, employment, personal income, and corporate profits.

1979 — Some Letdown for Business

As 1979 makes its debut, the present uptrend in the business cycle is already considerably longer than the average life span of this nation's expansion phases. This does not automatically — and of itself — mean that a trend reversal is imminent, but a cyclical upturn which has lasted 44 months is obviously vulnerable. After careful consideration of all relevant factors, the staff of Babson's Reports predicts that the American economy will slip into a recession in 1979. Until early fall, it appeared that enough business vitality existed to sustain the economic upswing through the better part of 1979, or at least to avert a recessionary setback in the course of the year.

The situation was changed, however, when the Administration and the Federal Reserve took radical measures to dampen the forces of inflation and to arrest the weakness of the dollar. The chief steps were the further boost in interest rates and the tightening of credit, plus the implication there might be further moves if necessary. With interest rates extremely high, prospects are obviously unfavorable for such economic barometers as inventory accumulation, home building and general construction, business capital expenditures, and consumer purchases of automobiles and other high-priced items.

Deep, Prolonged Recession Unlikely

Although a recession is now more a distinct likelihood than a mere possibility, its probable severity is a matter of debate. A good deal will depend not only on how much additional pressure the nation's leadership will bring to bear upon inflationary forces but also on its degree of determination. To back off too soon or to fail to administer enough pressure could allow inflation to regain momentum quickly, perhaps necessitating subsequent measures far more harmful to the economy than a job properly done at this time.

With the economy at its present extremely high level, the anti-inflation game plan will not produce traumatic consequences. Babson's foresees, instead, a winding down in the business tempo of sufficient intensity and duration to qualify technically as a recession—that is, at least two successive calendar quarters of backtracking in national output. We look for the real gross national product (output of goods and services (excluding inflation) to record slippages in the second and third quarters of 1979 after a fairly decent opening quarter, with a recovery beginning sometime in the final three months. Should the scenario work out this way, the 1979 recession could as well be described as a "no growth" period, mild in comparison with other recessions in our past history. Of course, there is bound to be some disruption, but this would be a small price to pay compared with what might happen if inflation were allowed to run unchecked.

Plenty of Worries — Hopes Too

There may be as many reasons for public uneasiness in 1979 as there were in 1978. Prices will rise further — though not as sharply as in the past year — and there will naturally be concern about the effectiveness of the battle against inflation. Also, the diminution of business vitality will spawn fears about possible layoffs, reduced job openings, and less hefty pay checks because of curtailments in overtime and shorter work weeks. In a year chock-full of key labor contract bargainings, the threat of strikes will be much in evidence. There could, of course, be some optimistic influences. If anti-inflation efforts make some headway, for example, the status of the dollar could improve, lifting the confidence of investors and businessmen.

Gross National Product

Gross national product — on the basis of current dollars — will undoubtedly trend higher, owing principally to inflation. But the gain will be substantially less than that of 1978. Activity in the credit-dependent sectors of the economy will slow, and government spending for most of the 12 months ahead will be more restrained than in past recessions, reflecting the new-found concern of the electorate with paring public spending and achieving tax relief. How long this attitude will last under recession pressures remains to be seen... and especially the effects upon the country's legislators at all levels. Although the economy may stutter during some of 1979, the real GNP (with inflation factored out) still ought to be able to manage a sliver of an increase of about 2% for the year as a whole.

Industrial Production

Despite price inflation along a broad front and the sequence of step-ups in borrowing costs in 1978, the urge to act before prices advanced even further brought sales of cars and houses last year to a higher level than one would have thought likely. Since consumer demand in these — and a number of other — fields represented at least to some degree an advance siphoning from 1979 markets and the incurring of debt in the process, the

Nanette was also selected as tri-captain for the 1979 Chelsea varsity squad (her third year on the team) along with Kim Wood and Patti Hume. "Nanette is an outstanding, determined, and dedicated player," Coach Jim Winter commented. "She has an enormous amount of talent and patience and she's going to be even better next year," he added. Also a key player in Chelsea baseball, Nanette will soon start pitching classes during the winter months while she breaks from inter-scholastic competition. ## State Officers Salary Increase On Target

The Michigan State Officers Compensation Commission is to be commended for keeping salary increases for the state's top elected officials, members of the supreme court and members of the legislature within the 7 percent guidelines set by President Carter.

In the currently wavering economy, governments must set an example in dealing with their own salaries and fringe benefits; otherwise there would be no way the voluntary wage and price guidelines would work to stop the rapidly spiraling inflationary cycle.

Everyone is suffering from inflation and who better can set an example that they are willing to do their share than governmental officials who draw their pay from public funds supplied through taxation of the people.

Nearby states are currently in an upheaval over members of the legislature in Ohio and Illinois voting themselves huge increases in violation of the guidelines.

The Ohio legislature, for example, voted itself a 28 percent pay raise right in the face of the president's anti-inflation program. The bill was rushed through the legislative process during the final hours of the session and then quickly signed by the governor before the people of Ohio knew what was happening.

With such a flagrant violation, there is no way any other entity either public or private, can have any respect for the guidelines set by Carter. With government not participating, it becomes next to impossible for the back of inflation to be broken.

With the recommendations set by the Michigan commission, all members of state government can face the new year with pride knowing they will get a modest increase in salary, but at the same time knowing they have done their share in the fight against inflation.

With participation in the program, Michigan public officials will better be able to deal with the financial, social and people problems of the state with a clear conscience. This will be especially true when the time comes that the legislature must make only minor increases in budgets and if it becomes necessary to ask the people of the state to dig deeper into their pockets to provide the state with additional tax revenues.

Elected Officials Ethics Standards Legislation Dead For Year

Legislation creating a political ethics commission and prohibiting conflicts of interest by elected officials will not become reality during the current session, but it is expected to be back before the body early next year.

Due to a number of amendments and time running out in the legislative year, the measure will not be pushed through the House as there is not time for its consideration before the Senate.

Weakening amendments by township officials attempt to exempt themselves from provisions of the bill.

Sponsors are standing pat not wanting any exemptions under the bill as they say to exempt one group would indicate they are completely honest but other officials are questionable and need to be checked under the ethics act.

The bill defines and prohibits certain kinds of conduct, such as bribery, requires elected officials to list property ownership interests over $1,000 and any outside sources of income.

It also creates a political ethics commission charged with monitoring and investigating possible conflicts of interest at both state and local levels. The commission would be given statutory authority to handle and judge cases coming before it.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Bug Hookum told the fellers huddled around the stove at the country store Saturday night that the older and wiser he gets the more he wonders which come first, the Congress or the column writers. He said he allus views with alarm what the papers say Congressmen are working on between sessions and fixing to spring on us the first chance they get.

Actual, Bug went on, he can't make up his mind whether the column writers are doing the thinking for the old and new lawmakers, or the Congressmen are doing the writing for the papers. Bug said he was reminded of Ernest Hemingway, that wrote books when he tries to figure who's setting the course for the next Congress. Hemingway said once that he had never known the deep meaning of his writing until all the reviewers that couldn't write books got done telling him. He said all he was doing was telling a story. Bug said he gets the idea that some Congressmen don't know which way to sail until they find out what way their favorite column writer's hot air is blowing.

For instant, Bug went on, he had saw a few weeks back where one of these syndicated fellers that grind out what you folks call think pieces had done some thinking on guaranteed income. What it is, the column writer said, is better than straight out welfare, but Bug said his case fell apart when he got to explaining how. At any rate, ever day or so now some freshman Congressman is having his say about welfare reform in general and guaranteed income in particular. For his money, Bug declared, a onion is a onion no matter how you slice it, and giving folks money for doing nothing still is a giveaway. You can go through your list of issues expected to make news during the 96th Congress, Bug said, and you'll have the same trouble figuring who got in print with the most.

General speaking, the fellers was of a mind that Bug had some good thinking behind his subject, but Ed Doolittle, for one, said he had picked a bad example with guaranteed income. Ed allowed that Bug ought to know that some folks git as far as they want to go quick in life, cause he is one of em, and guaranteed income is made to order for them. You set an income level, Ed said, and give them what they need over the present income to reach that level. What happens, the more guarantee they git the less they do on their own, cause where they are is where they want to be. Everybody don't have high aims, Ed said, and it don't do much good for Government to set their sights fer em.

You would think, went on Ed, that even a blind hog would find a acorn once in a while, but Government operates the way Secretary of Defense Harold Brown feels about misfired test firings of that cruise missile. He said "failure in the past increases the probability of success in the future." In other words, Ed said, if you keep doing wrong long enough it'll come out right. If this is official policy we're in worse trouble than we thought, was Ed's words.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

'79 Business Forecast

The economy will not receive any upward impetus from business inventory accumulation during much of 1979. There are, of course, bound to be sporadic inventory build-ups owing to possible labor disputes, but these will give way to liquidations once the danger is over. For the coming year, the key consideration is that the country will not be confronted with an economic adjustment either caused by or intensified by top-heavy inventory positions. The need to liquidate redundant inventory holdings has spawned many a cyclical business down-phase in the past. But during the last three and a half years, businessmen have by and large kept their inventory positions lean. So, while inventory policies will not impart much stimulus to business in '79, neither will they drag it down.

costs and the exigencies of complying with environmental quality regulations have also spurred spending for more efficient equipment. But the upsurge in the cost of borrowed funds has adverse implications for capital investments. For 1979, the staff of Babson's Reports expects only a modest increase — perhaps amounting to 3% in real terms and about 10% with inflation included. Yet, outlays will still run at a brisk tempo, sustained by hefty backlogs.

The Labor Front

1979 faces a busy schedule of labor negotiations involving a number of important industries such as petroleum, trucking, auto, electric products, and rubber. The voluntary wage-price restraints will undergo stern tests in these bargaining sessions. Labor groups have expressed disapproval of the 7% ceiling on wage hikes and fringe gains combined. They will acquiesce only if the lid is applied to direct wage increments alone and if living costs are restrained. It is too early to rule out formal controls on pay rates and prices.

Building and Construction

Residential building enjoyed a banner year in 1978. Generally available mortgage credit—though at costly rates—kept housing starts extremely high. Added to the need for shelter dictated by population pressures was the impetus to home building stemming from the inflation psychology. Now that mortgage rates have reached levels making home ownership more difficult, and tighter bank credit has adversely impacted mortgage money supplies, home building faces a slower year. Babson's is forecasting a decline from around 2 million units in the private sector for 1978 to some 1.6 million for 1979.

In heavy construction there will be little real growth. Government and corporate budgets are under stress, and building costs have risen significantly. A sharp let-down, however, is not anticipated.

Corporate Profits, Dividends

Business profits recovered from an opening-quarter loss owing principally to the effects of the coal strike, and the balance of 1978 experienced excellent operating results. But 1979 will not see a repeat of the past year's outstanding achievement in corporate profits. Militating against it will be further cost advances, slower business conditions, the restraints on price boosts, and the widespread repercussions of the seemingly unavoidable OPEC hike in oil prices. Babson's is projecting for 1979 as a whole only a slight upshading in corporate profits after taxes, and even this will be mostly the result of the paring of federal corporate income taxes. Still, by historical comparisons, the 1979 profit level will look good.

Strengthening corporate financial positions over the past three years will permit well-maintained dividend payments, and there can still be a goodly sprinkling of rate setups.

Employment, Joblessness

After three successive years of healthy employment gains, easing conditions in a number of large job sources will restrict 1979's increment to only token proportions. During the recession, we expect the number of jobholders could shade off, but the frightening rash of layoffs which occurred in late 1974 and early 1975 is not in the cards for 1979. Nevertheless, there will be some gain in the number of jobless workers as well as in the unemployment rate. The latter will, in fact, work its way back over the 7% mark of the civilian labor force, even though it was pushed back to 5.7% in mid-1978. The real problem will not be layoffs but rather not enough job openings to absorb the additions to the nation's labor force.

Personal Income

With no massive employment dislocations expected, the uptrend in personal income should continue next year. On the plus side will be the hike in the minimum wage, automatic pay increases under existing multi-year labor pacts, and fresh pay raises won in 1979 union settlements. Income from dividends and interests will post good gains, as will earnings in the farm sector. Hence, even though personal income will not climb as rapidly as it has in recent years, consumers will still have a heartening volume of purchasing power.

Consumer Spending

Uneasiness over a less sparkling business climate and the specter of labor tie-ups and some job cut-backs will moderate consumers' buying intentions over a good portion of the new year. There will be a greater emphasis on reducing installment debt and on building up savings. This will, naturally, tend to strengthen the economy beyond the months immediately ahead, but the short-run impact will be to hold unit sales and gross dollar volume of retail trade somewhat below desired levels. But Babson's still does not foresee any radical curtailment of consumer eagerness to buy in the approaching 12 months.

Agricultural Prospects

1978 was another bumper crop year for American farmers, with incomes posting a good increase over 1977. Many in the agricultural sector feel, however, that farm prices have been lagging relative to the inflation in operating costs and the cost of living. Prospects do favor additional firming of crop prices, but huge carryovers are deterrents to any runaway price advances. As for livestock prices, the uptrend of the past year will progress further in 1979.

Domestic Political Scene

The anti-inflation battle and the related wage-price restraint program of the Carter Administration will command much attention as the new year progresses. On Capitol Hill, though, there will be no dearth of issues. Making a big push in the coming session of Congress will be proponents of a comprehensive National Health Insurance program, as will advocates of increased funding for seeking alternative fuel and energy sources. There will be, too, attempts to redress the energy and tax measures passed by the last Congress, both of which were compromised to the launch a drive which would carry it into new high ground.

With interest rates nearing a peak, the bond market should also give a better account of itself in the year ahead. In coming months, investors in need of strengthening their position in fixed-income investments will have ample opportunity to acquire bonds and preferred stocks that provide attractive yields.

Foreign Affairs

The international arena remains loaded with anxiety-producing issues. The stop-and-go peace negotiations between Egypt and Israel — still with important points of disagreement at this writing — offer a possible beacon of hope. But the areas of sharply divided views do underscore the vast complexities of Mideast problems. The situation in Lebanon has yet to be resolved, and the turmoil in Iran has even more significant ramifications for the Western World. After all, Iran is a heavy exporter of petroleum; it borders Russia; and it is strategically located in terms of the shipping lanes for Mideast oil. In Africa, continued tensions are likely. Even in Asia, there are deep-rooted conflicts along with contemporary power-struggle connotations. It should be noted, however, that an accord on the second phase of the strategic arms limitation talks could improve U.S.-Soviet ties.

Money Supplies, Interest Rates

The tightening of credit will not let up for some months, and the rise in interest rates seems destined to persist well into this winter or even into the spring of 1979. Right now, we look for the prime lending rate of the nation's leading commercial banks to peak around the 12% mark, but a rapid and sharp subsequent turnaround is not likely. We do not, however, anticipate the awesome economic disruptions caused by credit crunches of the past dozen years or so.

Stock and Bond Outlook

Concern over the U.S. dollar's poor showing against stronger foreign currencies and the frightening climb in money rates in 1978 frustrated the stock market's attempts to sustain its upward drives. At present, with the economy seemingly fated to slip into a recession, the 1979 stock market outlook appears discouraging to many investors. Yet Babson's Reports expects improvement in the status of the dollar and in the nation's balance of trade to revitalize investment sentiment. And at some point the stock market will likely commence to discount economic recovery after the recession. So, with many stocks trading at very low multiples of their latest 12-month earnings and even relative to their probable profits for the year ahead, forward-looking investors will find a wide selection of opportunities in common stocks and convertible securities. The Babson Staff expects the Dow Jones Industrial Average in 1979 to hold in the same range as in 1978. But if headway is made toward curbing inflation, bolstering the dollar, and improving our trade balance, the DJIA could well

Independent Party Caucus In February

An Independent Party caucus will be held sometime in early February rather than holding a primary election in Chelsea, according to Chelsea Village President Don Wood.

"The date will probably be set at the next council meeting and every registered voter in Chelsea may attend the caucus to nominate candidates," he explained.

Three trustee positions and the clerk position must be filled. Trustees Lyle Christwell, Mike Sweet, and Jack Patrick have their two-year terms expiring while the term of Clerk Thomas Neumeier is also expiring.

A caucus will be held instead of a primary election because Chelsea has just one active political party.

they have to take the test," Mary explained. The student has one chance and if she or he fails then their options are cut off. None of the student's grades are counted in determining passing or failing.

Of the 240 students in the fourth form while Mary was in Peakhurst, only 80 chose to take the exam.

"Fortunately, the serious attitude about school is dropped as soon as classes end in the afternoon. Then we just relax, watch television or practice disco dancing. In that respect it was like what we do in Chelsea," she commented.

A typical school day starts at 8:50 with a tea break at 10:40. "They don't have a cafeteria so most everyone brings their lunch from home and eat outside. There is a canteen that sells 'junk' food," she said.

Australia has their winter months in May, June, and July, and with temperatures rarely dipping below 45 degrees Fahrenheit "it's only chilly, never really cold," Mary said. "The is a lot of rain also and while I was there it rained almost solid for four weeks."

Since Mary left Chelsea in the middle of January, 1978 she arrived just as Peakhurst students were finishing a six-week vacation. Classes resumed in early February and she has been in school since then.

"I'm glad I don't have to go back to school right away. I need the time off right now to get used to the cold weather and see my family again," she commented.

"The experience was everything I had hoped for and it has started me thinking about doing more traveling. It will probably be a while before I will have the kind of money it will take to go back, but I want to go back to Australia and see and do the things I didn't have a chance while I was there," she said.

GOING THE LIMIT

It's not unusual to find that the amount of money needed to finance the purchase of a home and the amount of cash in the bank account are too close for comfort. When does it make sense to pull back your horns and when would propriety say—"Go, the limit?"

It's better not to spend every last cent available for a home if you customarily buy big ticket items, such as cars and appliances on time; if the local property taxes are likely to go higher; or if you have any unusual financial obligations, such as medical care for a member of the family.

On the other hand, you might justify going the limit if you can make a big down payment; if the home is unlikely to need maintenance or repairs which are above and beyond your personal capability; if your outlook for financial advancement is bright, and if your family has proven that it can tighten belts if you really have to.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at FRISINGER REALTY CO., 935 S. Main St., Chelsea, Phone: 475-8681; evenings 475-2621. We're here to help!

New Owners Taking Over Village Bakery

The Village Bakery will have new owners come the new year when the final papers are signed by Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Steinaway of Chelsea, the prospective buyers. Steinaway, a Dana Corp. employee, said that between now and the signing of the papers he will be working the store. "I intend to keep the same employees after the sale is finalized," Steinaway commented.

One change he has already initiated is the opening of the bakery on Mondays. Albert and Gene Werdehoff established the bakery just over four years ago and have owned and operated it since.

Quiet Week-End

Chelsea firefighters enjoyed an uninterrupted Christmas week-end as there were no calls for action. "It was very quiet," reported Fire Chief Jim Gaken. "We are happy to say that the holiday was unmarred by either a fire or a serious car accident," he said.

AWAY WE GO! Bundled up and bustling with excitement, children board the hand-made Santa sleigh for a fun ride through the woods surrounding the Spaulding for Children headquarters, once the home of the agency's founder, the late Warren Spaulding. Don Irwin, member of the Spaulding Council, and several of his friends, constructed the sleigh and took nearly every child for a ride. There were more than 75 children and their families who attended the Spaulding for Children Christmas Party on Sunday, Dec. 17. Chelsea businesses donated the presents—two for everyone—while area volunteers and the Spaulding staff baked the Christmas cookies and made the punch.

SANTA BELLS JINGLING: A robust, splendidly white-bearded St. Nick brought happiness and presents to each of the 75 children who came to the annual Spaulding for Children Christmas Party on Sunday, Dec. 17. Arriving on a sturdy, hand-made sleigh drawn by two horses, Santa fitted in perfectly with the children's dreams of the benevolent, jolly elf.

Quiet Week-End For Police Dept.

In spite of two holiday snowfalls, Chelsea Police Department had not one report of a major or minor car accident.

In fact, the Christmas week-end was relatively quiet for the local law officers, according to Police Chief George Meranuck.

Spaulding for Children Christmas Party Features Horse-Drawn Sleigh

Seventy-five children and their families attended the annual Spaulding for Children Christmas party on Sunday, Dec. 17 and to their surprise and delight were visited by a sleigh-drawn Santa Claus.

"The weather was just perfect for a sleigh ride that day and each child was taken along for a horse-drawn ride through the woods in back of the farm," Kathy Cavanaugh, activities director for Spaulding said.

The sleigh was hand-made by Don Irwin of Chelsea and several of his friends. Irwin is a member of the Spaulding for Children Council.

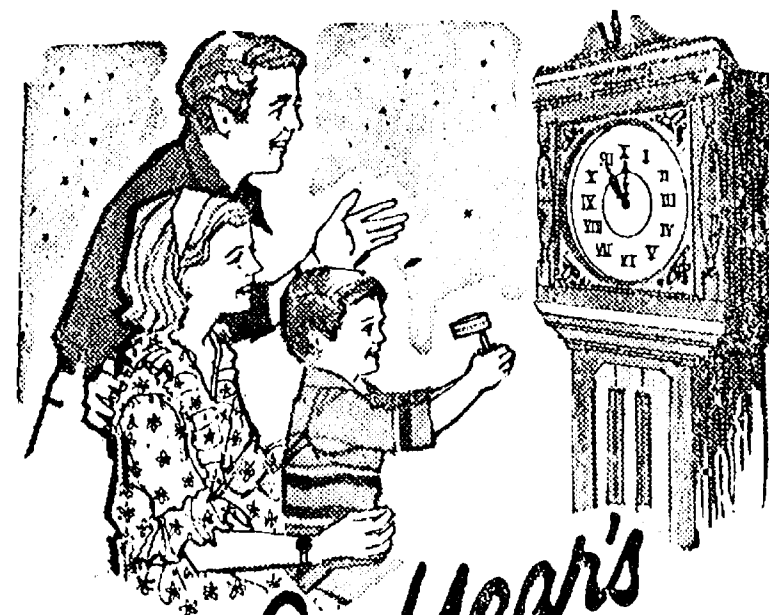

As the children arrived at the Spaulding homestead, each was given an ornament or two to decorate the Christmas tree. After the children had gone for their ride, Santa passed out two gifts to every child while a parent played on the organ and several parents sang carols as the gifts were opened.

"Our Christmas gathering is a special time for the children and families because they are able to share their experiences and see old friends. There are families who have come for the past 10 years. There is one couple who was the first to adopt a child through Spaulding," Cavanaugh said.

Chelsea area businesses donated the gifts and several volunteers and Spaulding staff members baked the holiday cookies and made the punch.

Spaulding has operated for 10 years placing handicapped children into stable, loving homes.

America has a higher rate of infant deaths than 15 other countries, says The National Foundation-March of Dimes. One of the reasons may be our nation's incidence of low birthweight. It is 15 percent higher than in Great Britain, 27 percent higher than Japan, and 61 percent higher than Finland.

Chelsea Year in Review

January...

5—Seven members of the Chelsea Community Fair Board locked horns with members of the Chelsea Village Council Tuesday evening over drainage problems created at the fairgrounds as a result of a federally-funded project on Old US-12.

5—Early morning motorists in Chelsea who usually cross the Main St. railroad tracks to reach their destinations were forced to seek an alternate route Tuesday morning when a Conrail train derailed near the downtown depot after hitting an ice-covered patch of track.

12—Chelsea police have greatly increased their ability to catch speeders with the addition of a new $2,400 radar unit purchased last week for the department by the village.

12—Todd Ortbring of Chelsea has been awarded a complete art scholarship as winner of the nation-wide "Draw Me" contest sponsored by Art Instruction Schools of Minneapolis, Minn., one of the world's leading home-study art schools.

19—Michigan State Police briefly took one young farmer into custody Monday afternoon following a scuffle that broke out on a farm product price-protest picket line outside the Michigan Livestock Exchange (MLX) in Manchester where numerous area farmers had gathered to halt livestock trading.

19—Chelsea Junior Achievers will observe Junior Achievement Week-1978, Jan. 22-28, with a special open house Monday, Jan. 23, 7 to 9 p.m., in the Beach Middle school woodworking shop. There they will display and sell the product being marketed by their JA company this year—insulated thermal cups.

26—Chelsea's Citizens Advisory Committee for Better Schools expressed satisfaction with a progress report made by the Chelsea Board of Education Monday evening which detailed the board's action on various recommendations made by the committee last spring.

26—Friends of the Library life members were recently accorded some measure of public recognition for their unflinching support of McKune Memorial Library over the years when a hand-carved, walnut plaque, fitted with brass nameplates containing the names of the 13 life members was presented to the library by Jim Daniels of Chelsea.

26—Chelsea wrestlers closed out their dual meet season this past week with a fine 8-2-1 record which was highlighted by Tuesday's 30-28 victory over a previously undefeated Saline team.

February...

2—As Chelsea continued to dig out from under some 18 inches of snow Monday, Police Chief George Merapuck had nothing but praise for the reactions of the community to the howling blizzard that piled up the snow in two days last week-end.

2—Area shoppers who managed to battle their way through the snowdrifts to the grocery store last week-end were confronted by a shortage of bread, milk, meat and snacks as suppliers were unable to make deliveries. Manpower shortages also forced some local groceries to curtail their hours over the week-end.

9—The Chelsea Lions Club recently bought an electronic calculator with speech for a blind special education student at Chelsea High school. The student, 18-year-old Theresa Murphy, is a member of Nancy Cooper's learning disabilities class.

9—A record turnout that "went beyond our wildest expectations," according to Legionnaire Pat Merkel, sent proceeds from the Chelsea American Legion's fifth annual Winter Carnival last week-end soaring to an all-time high of $4,800.

9—Ann Arbor Transportation Authority's (AATA) purple and maize buses will begin operating in Chelsea, Manchester and the far western part of Washtenaw county this spring if AATA and local governing bodies in the new service area reach an agreement on funding.

16—A concerned and vocal group of Lyndon township residents is expected to attend the Feb. 21 meeting of the Lyndon Township Board to protest the board's lack of action on an issue which has troubled the township for nearly two years. The group's protest stems from an illegally-kept dog kennel on the Charles Baum property, 9730 Beeman Rd., Grass Lake.

16—Julie Prohaska and Tammy Puglisi, two seniors representing Chelsea High's varsity debate squad at the 61st Michigan State Championship Debate Tournament in Grand Rapids, Feb. 9-11, argued both negative and affirmative sides of the national debate topic through eight preliminary rounds before settling for a 5th-place finish at the quarter-final level.

23—At the Feb. 16 meeting of the Chelsea Community Fair Board, a serious discussion was conducted with regard to selling the present fairgrounds and relocating elsewhere. In debate on the proposal, it was pointed out that for several years, the Fair Board has tried unsuccessfully to rezone the fairgrounds from an agricultural district to a fair district. Each time, the Village of Chelsea has denied the Fair Board's rezoning request.

23—Beach Middle school musicians returned from last Saturday's District 12 Junior High Solo and Ensemble Festival at Monroe High school with 10 Division I ratings and eight Division II ratings for band entries, five Division I ratings and six Division II ratings for piano entries and one Division I rating and seven Division II ratings for orchestra entries. 23—Jeff Dils, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dils of Chelsea, made All American at the NCAA national track meet March 11 at Cobo Hall in Detroit. Dils placed fifth in the 440-yd. dash finals which earned him his second All American rating in two years.

30—Chelsea police officer Lenard McDougall nabbed two out of three walkouts from the Cassidy Lake Technical School at 11:15 p.m. Tuesday while Washtenaw County deputies with the help of Chelsea and Manchester police nabbed the third man Wednesday, police reports said.

Animal Feasts

Ancient tradition has it that animals helped spread the joyous tidings of the Birth of Christ. Because of this, barnyard animals in many countries are served a special supper on Christmas eve. Cattle kneel in their stalls at midnight, on Christmas eve, and for a moment have the power of speech. This belief, an old German legend, has been broadened to include all animals.

Bulldogs Edged Out By Stockbridge, 54-51

Knocked down by an incredible foul line percentage of 83 by the Stockbridge Panthers, Chelsea suffered a painful 54-51 loss on Tuesday, Dec. 12 in a non-league game.

Of the Panthers 15 line shots, 14 were completed. Of their 45 field shots, they made 20 for 44 percent.

It was a topsy-turvy game with the lead changing hands every quarter and the decision determined in the final two and one-half minutes.

Chelsea broke on top in the first quarter off the scoring of Don Schrotenboer with eight; Gary Dils four; and Charlie Bridges, two, for a 14-8 advantage.

Bulldogs passed the lead to Stockbridge in the next eight minutes, 30-25 as the Panthers shot 12 foul line throws and completed each one.

"We spotted a weakness in their 1-3-1 zone and Bridges penetrated it with some success. Jeff Dils either took the shot or dropped the pass off to Gary Dils," Coach Robin Raymond explained of the Bulldog strategy. By the end of the third stanza, Chelsea had regained the lead, 43-42.

Stockbridge's Ryan Garret took complete control of the fourth quarter, scoring eight points and making two assists. Still, the Bulldogs maintained a two-point lead until the final win two and one-half minutes before the Panthers gained the upper hand for the win.

"The last few minutes were filled with disappointments. First Mike Machesky missed a jump shot and a beautiful turn-around jump shot by Gary Dils rolled around in the rim before falling out," Raymond said.

Gary Dils took top honors in scoring with 16. Don Schrotenboer handled 12; Charlie Bridges, nine; Jeff Dils, six; Machesky, four; and Matt Feeney, four.

Schrotenboer completed a sizeable 18 rebounds; Charlie Bridges, 11; Gary Dils, nine; and Machesky, seven.

Chelsea played a near error-free game with only eight turnovers compared to the Panthers' 12. Chelsea, however, accumulated 16 fouls to Stockbridge's 12.

Bulldogs out-rebounded the opponents 48-31. They had a 30 percent free throw line record and a 37 percent field record for the game.

May the blessings of the holy season fill you with peace and joy.

Peter Beaudoin Wins Crop Production Award

Peter Beaudoin, a sophomore at Chelsea High School, was selected as one of four area winners of the Michigan-Ohio Junior Crops Production Program.

The program was conducted by the Smith-Douglass Fertilizer Co. and sponsored by the Co-operative Extension Service 4-H Youth Programs of Lenawee, Monroe, Washtenaw and Fulton counties in Ohio.

Conducted in Lenawee, Monroe, Washtenaw, and Fulton counties, the project required participants to keep detailed, accurate production records of a minimum two-acre crop of their choice.

An in-field, mid-season inspection was made by a Smith-Douglass representative during the growing season. The winners were selected on the basis of written and oral examinations, record-keeping, as well as a thorough analysis of the crop sample.

As their award, the four individuals will travel to Peoria, Ill., for a tour of the Caterpillar tractor plant, a seed and grain research facility, as well as other activities.

Peter is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Beaudoin of Kilmer Rd.

Joy and Peace at Christmas

Around us, the wonder of Christmas spreads its joy and warmth. The radiance of a Star shines into our hearts, as once it shone above a sacred manger, heralding the miracle of the Holy Birth. As you observe Christmas with those near and dear to you, may you rejoice anew at the true, deep meaning of this most glorious time. And may the peace and joy of the season be an ever present blessing, to light the way for all men, everywhere.

World Grain Production

World grain production is expected to be up about 4 percent in 1978-79 from the previous year. The increase is likely to be larger than world utilization, so some build-up in world grain stocks is anticipated. The U.S. probably will continue to hold at least two-fifths of world wheat and coarse grain stocks.

No Need To Panic Over
Bugs in Christmas Tree

Bugs in your Christmas tree? Well, why not?

The trees grown for Christmas use are grown indoors. Like any other outdoor plants, they have their share of insect pests. So it shouldn't come as a surprise to anyone when some of them travel into the home with the tree.

"Some people get distressed when they realize they have bugs in their Christmas tree," observes Jim Liebherr, extension entomologist at Michigan State University. "It's certainly nothing to stay up nights worrying about, though. The insects found on the trees are pretty specific to those species. It's really unlikely that they would get into houseplants or otherwise do any damage in the home."

White pine aphids are probably the most common insect to travel indoors on Christmas trees, Liebherr says. Part of this may be due to the popularity of the white pine as a Christmas tree.

The aphids come indoors as eggs on the tree's needles, he explains. As the tree gets warm, the eggs may hatch. In the warm, dry atmosphere of the typical home, the 1-16-inch-long insects do not last long. Those that do survive for any length of time leave with the Christmas tree, so there's no cause for alarm.

Jumping plant lice, which spend the winter as adults, are slightly larger relatives of the pine aphid. They live on blackberries in the summer, sucking plant juices. Then, when the weather gets cold, they move into the nearest stand of pines and take shelter there. If the tree they choose happens to end up in your living room, you get plant lice flying—not jumping—all over.

"Jumping plant lice are about one eighth-inch long and tan colored with two light stripes on their wings," Liebherr says. "Like the white pine aphids, they're just a nuisance in the house."

Other pests that may hitchhike into your home on a Christmas tree include several types of sawflies, lacewings and spiders. The sawflies usually prefer types of pine not usually used for Christmas trees, Liebherr notes, but it is possible that they might lay eggs on white or Scotch pine. When these hatched, the caterpillar-like larvae would feed on the tree's needles. Like aphids, they would not thrive in the warm, dry air of most homes, so they probably won't last long enough to do much damage.

"If you just can't stand the thought of having bugs in your house, you could use an insect spray that contains pyrethrum and take care of most of the things that might come in on your tree," Liebherr says. "These insects probably won't survive long in the house, however, they won't do any damage and they'll leave when the tree does. It's certainly nothing to get excited about."

Canadian Wheat
Exports Lagging
Behind Schedule

Canada could have difficulty meeting its wheat export commitments this year. The amount of wheat now held at its three major export locations is a little more than half of the level of the same time last year.

Movement of more wheat to export points will be slowed by the closing of shipping lanes during the winter months. In the first four months of the current wheat marketing year, Canadian exports already are down 6 percent.

Wheat and flour exports for the marketing year are projected at 14.7 million metric tons, down from 16.3 million tons last year. USDA says Canada's projected export level is within reach, but only if the export pace picks up next spring.

Natural Decor Now
Popular for Christmas

The use of fresh, growing plants in the house for color and decoration has increased in almost staggering numbers . . . and there's really nothing lovelier to make a house look lived in. Combined with dried natural flowers and fruits they are perfect for the holidays. Here are a few ideas you may not have thought of, including some using traditional evergreens and mistletoe in not so traditional ways. With a little imagination, there's no end to the unusual Christmas decorations you can put together at home.

If you are lucky enough to have a bay or wide window, try massing pots of flowering plants together . . . poinsettias, azaleas, cyclamen, on a window seat or small table, covered with a pretty cloth. Decorate the pots with Christmas cutouts from your favorite magazine or with holiday decals.

Polish your best silver bowl and fill it with dried Lunaria (Honesty is its more commonly known name) and fresh holly. The silver-white translucent Lunaria is a perfect foil for the vivid red holly berries.

Your beach basket, lying idle in the pantry, makes a charming rustic holder turned on its side and filled with green apples and shiny red Christmas balls. Sprigs of evergreens in and around the apples add extra color.

Grandma's old butter churn will be rejuvenated, filled with bitter-sweet, cattails and evergreen.

Make a hanging mistletoe ball for a doorway by sticking sprigs of mistletoe into a round potato in which you have pierced holes with a nail. Add a perky bow at the top and hang. The moisture in the potato will keep the mistletoe fresh!

For a unique surprise centerpiece, insert small cuts of evergreen into a long loaf of bread, covering it completely. Choose your loaf to suit your table shape and length. As with the mistletoe ball, the greens stay fresh longer because of the moisture in the bread. Add two or three candles to your centerpiece by pushing them down firmly at the top. Tiny tree ornaments can be added too.

Have fun! Hope your holiday is merry!

The Legend Of Befana

Families of Italian origin are familiar with Befana. In these days of woman's lib, it is interesting to hear about this legendary king.

When the Three Kings were on their search for the Holy Child, they passed the house of Befana as she was sweeping and cleaning her house. In answer to her inquiry, they told her of their search. She asked to go with them, but they continued on their way without waiting for her to finish her chores. When Befana tried to overtake them she failed, and so was unable to worship the Holy Babe with them.

Since then, the woman Befana wanders the earth seeking her lost opportunity. Italian children believe Befana rides through the air on a broomstick, on the eve of January 6, which marks the Feast of Kings, still seeking the Christ Child. She goes down chimneys, leaving presents for the girls and boys, as the Wise Men brought gifts to the Holy Child.

In Russia, the same custom was once familiar, though the lady there was known as Baboushka.
