

Retiring Police Chief To Be Honored

Gilbert and Sullivan may have set the tone for the common conception of law officers when, in the 19th century, they penned, "A policeman's lot is not a happy one."

Why, then, does George Meranuck smile so much?

It could be because the Chelsea Police Chief, a 38-year veteran of two police departments, feels that "police work is tremendously interesting. You can help people as well as put people in jail. We do everything from CPR to delivering a baby."

Although Chief Meranuck has never personally delivered a baby (he's come close), he has found law enforcement to be not only a job, but a successful and fulfilling career.

Thus, the smile. As the May 15 date set for his retirement drew near, the chief was somewhat reluctant to tell his life story again. "Everyone already knows most everything about me," he protested.

He was more eager to express his appreciation to the people of Chelsea for the support they have given in his nearly 12-year stay. He said he felt "overwhelmed" upon learning that Saturday, May 5 was designated by Village President Donald Wood as "George Meranuck Day."

"I appreciate all the kindness," Chief Meranuck said with emotion. "It's too much, I just feel overwhelmed."

Although this is Chief Meranuck's second career retirement, no proclamations were issued or interviews sought after the first one in 1967. Back then, Meranuck was only one of more than 4,000 Detroit policemen.

George Meranuck was born and raised in Detroit and always wanted to be a policeman. A police lieutenant occupied the lower flat of the two-story building he and his family lived in, and Meranuck grew to admire the man and wanted to emulate him.

Breaking into the force in 1935, the year that Meranuck graduated from high school, was no easy task, however. The city employed only 2,000 officers for the more than 2,000,000 citizen population. So, the patient Meranuck put in his application for the force and went to work at a DeSoto factory in the meantime.

It wasn't until 1941 that he was finally called to attend police academy and become a beat patrolman. Back then, recalls Meranuck with a chuckle, Detroit officers worked six days a week and earned $2,000 a year.

His career progressed well. Meranuck made detective in 1919, sergeant in 1932, was promoted to lieutenant in 1936 and attained his final rank of inspector in 1961.

As inspector, he commanded a precinct of 145 officers with a citizen population of up to 163,000 people. He headed two precincts in three years and then retired in 1967 with 25 1/2 years on the force.

As he was only 49 at the time, Meranuck didn't think of retirement as synonymous with inactivity. He took a good job as the general manager of a steel company, promised an executive position after five or six years of service.

A grueling work week of six 10 to 12 hour days convinced Meranuck that he would probably never make it past the first year, so he began to look for something else.

Meanwhile, he had been sitting on a board that administered oral examinations to candidates for small-town police chief positions, among others. The thought occurred that this was the type of work he knew, so Meranuck took the state-wide examination and scored very highly. A short while later, he spotted the Chelsea Police Chief position advertised in the Michigan Municipal Review, applied for the job and became Police Chief Meranuck in 1967.

It didn't take long for the new chief to discover that being a policeman in Detroit, even as an inspector, had not completely prepared him for things encountered in Chelsea.

"After 25 1/2 years with Detroit, I thought I was a real knowledgeable police officer," he recalls.

"I was, but when I came to a small town, I discovered there were many things I'd never dealt with.

"For instance, dogs. School crossings, too. Only a new policeman in Detroit would do that, and then not at all after he was promoted. Here, I'm the police chief and I cross the children on their way to school. And I like it! It gets so that you look for the kids and when you don't see one you find yourself asking where he is."

Some aspects of police work are the same no matter where you might be, though, said the chief.

"Police act as priests, ministers, counselors, everything," he explained. "People think we have the power to do things we have no authority over. They like to tell police things even if they know we can't help."

For example, Meranuck cites the day he talked to a woman for more than 10 minutes on the phone about her dead cat, which she was convinced dogs had killed.

"She knew I couldn't do anything about her cat," Meranuck said, "but she was mad and hurt and got it off her mind."

Now that his work in law enforcement is almost over, does Chief Meranuck feel he'll pine away with loneliness for the work?

"I don't think I'll get bored," he grinned. "Not for a year, anyway."

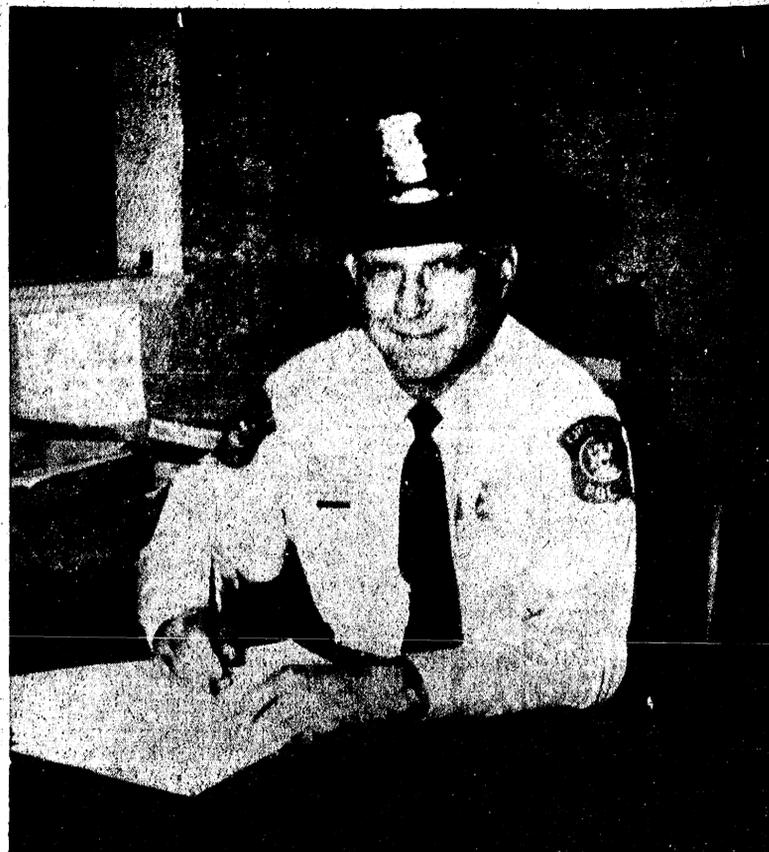

He and his wife, Wilma, plan to travel and spend some time in Florida, visit their son Daniel in Nevada and spend time on their son, James', Manchester farm.

Meranuck chuckled as he recounted the tale of a friend who loved the lazy, do-nothing life of Florida retirement. A year later, Meranuck found his friend had taken a job as a court bailiff, unable to stand the boredom any longer.

"If I do anything after retirement," said the chief, "I'd like to get into something completely new. I've always wondered if I'd gone into some kind of business, how I would have done. It's always preyed on my mind."

At 62 and on the eve of retirement, George Meranuck doesn't talk like a man who will ever be bored, or, for that matter, completely retired.

It's all part of the chief's simple philosophy: "If you work and try hard, you'll get ahead."

STILL SMILING: Retiring Chelsea Police Chief George Meranuck smiles up from the desk that has been his work station for the past 12 years. Village President Don Wood has proclaimed Saturday, May 5 "George Meranuck Day" in Chelsea, in honor of the 38-year police veteran.

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS he has been Chief of Police of the Village of Chelsea for the past 12 years,

Swim Club Starting New Registration

Chelsea Aquatic Club announces the start of an other competitive session. The schedule starts this week and will last until the last week of school.

The swim club is a competitive organization that acts similar to a little league for swimmers. It does not make itself available to beginning swimmers. Swimmers 10 years of age and younger must be able to swim a width of the Charles S. Cameron Pool; those 11 and over must be able to swim a length of the pool. A length is 25 yards and a width is 14 yards. The fee is $15 for one swimmer in a family, $25 for two and $35 for three or more.

Chelsea Aquatic Club is a member in good standing with the Michigan AAU and participates in many of the meets that they sponsor. For swimmers who cannot compete in this high level competition the team also hosts and travels to dual meets with other communities.

Meets are divided by ages and sex. There are swimmers in the club ranging in age from 4 to 18 years of age. The club has also come into contact with more than 200 different swimmers this past year.

B. Suliman Sparks Varsity Track Team

Chelsea High school's boys varsity track team saw-sawed between a severe defeat and a spectacular win last week, as they met Lumen Christi, Jackson Northwest and South Lyon.

In spite of yet another excellent performance by Blaine Suliman, the Bulldogs finished third in a triangular meet at Jackson, Tuesday, April 24. Final point totals were: Lumen Christi, 82; Jackson N. W., 61; and Chelsea, 20.

Suliman gathered 16 of Chelsea's 20 points, winning the pole vault (11') and the 220-yard dash (2:28.9), and placing second in the 40-yard dash (1:54.3) and the 100-yard dash (1:10.7).

While not fast enough to place in any events, other performances by Chelsea runners were noteworthy. Bob Schlegel garnered a freshman record in the mile-run at 4:48.6 and Bob Benedict posted a record freshman two-mile mark at 10:49.

Lifetime bests were attained by Mark Beyer in the one-mile (4:48.6) and two-mile runs (10:31); Jeff Bradley in the two mile (10:40) and Ken Bauer in the 100-yard dash (1:10.0).

Other Chelsea placers were Jeff Eibler, 4th in the 330 hurdles; Todd Otto, 4th in the high jump; and Pat Murphy, 4th in the 880-yard run.

"It was a good meet for us," said Coach Pat Clarke. "We had 32 lifetime best times on distance."

The Bulldogs turned their luck around the following Thursday, when the thincads returned home to trounce South Lyon, 102-29.

Blaine Suliman continued his torrid pace, picking up four firsts: pole vault, 440-yard dash, 220-yard dash and 100-yard dash. His 100 time of 1:10.3 was a personal best.

Chelsea placers in Thursday's romp were:

Discus: 1st, Bob Ostrander, 100'9".

SYMPHONIC BAND IS TOPS: The above members of the Chelsea High school symphony band returned triumphant from the state band festival, where they collected the highest possible rating of "I". This was the first time that the symphony band and the ninth grade band both took the superior rating at the same festival.

9th GRADE BAND TOPS AGAIN: Chelsea High school 9th grade band members pose for a picture to celebrate their "I" rating at the state band festival last week. These same musicians also took honors as the 7th and 8th grade bands, making this the third year in succession they've received the superior designation of "I".

Symphony Orchestra Is Rated 'Excellent'

Saturday, April 28 the Chelsea High school Symphony Orchestra traveled to Okemos for the first State Festival in their two-year history. The performance was a good one and members were pleased with their rating of "II" (excellent). The only other Class "B" orchestra attending State Festival was Hillsdale, which has had an established orchestra program for 45 years.

Harold Geerdes, a festival judge stated, "you certainly have the makings of a fine orchestra." Karey Johnson, director, was very pleased with the performance and said, "I am thrilled with the way the orchestra has played this year and am looking forward to a successful season next year."

"The people of Chelsea can be proud that they now have an established orchestra which is recognized as one of the excellent music-making organizations in the state," said Miss Johnson.

CHS Bands Rated Tops at State Festival

History was made at Michigan State University last Saturday, April 28, as both Chelsea High school bands took "I" ratings in the state band competition. It was the first time the symphony band and the ninth grade band received "I" scores in the same competition. "I" am extremely proud of both organizations," said high school band director, Steve Bergmann.

"They represented Chelsea High school and our community in the most professional way."

Both groups had qualified for the state competition by scoring high at district competition in March. The symphony band competes in Class "B", while the freshmen musicians perform with Class "C."

This marked the fourth year in succession that the symphony band had attained a "I" in the district and state meets.

The individual musicians of the ninth grade band have earned their third "I" rating in as many years. The bandmen earned their previous "I" scores as the 7th and 8th grade bands in 1977 and 1978.

For its program, the symphony band played "Sinfonias" by Williams, "Variations on a Korean Folk Song," by Chance and "Choral and Shaker Dance" by Zed-nich.

The freshmen musicians played "Minuteman March" by Pierson, "Chelsea Suite" by Thielman and "Fantasy on American Sailing Songs" by Grundeman.

Although the symphony band competed with Class "B", its program consisted of Class "A" music.

Both groups may be heard at the annual Spring Concert May 24 in the Chelsea High school auditorium.

Forensics Team Has 13 Qualify for State

Chelsea High school Forensics coach Bill Coelius has a unique way of assessing the success of his team at competitions: he counts the number of wheels it will take to transport the forensicators to the next highest competition.

By that reckoning, then, the students performed beautifully in the recent regional competition in Ann Arbor. "It's the first time we'll ever have to take a school bus (to the state competition)," beamed Coelius.

Even using more conventional means, the impressive record of the Chelsea team is evident. Out of 11 entries in the regionals, 13 Chelseaites in six categories qualified to move up to the state competition and two were chosen as alternates.

The previous school record for number of state entries was three categories.

Coach Coelius said he was particularly proud of his team because this is traditionally the toughest region in the state and Class "A", "B" and "C" schools all compete together.

Chelsea students traveling to the University of Michigan campus to compete in the state meet are: Impromptu Speaking: Tom Sevcorn.

Multiple Reading: "Family" — Kolllette Rinehart, Mary Bori, Gary Dils, Dawn Krieger, Michael Benedict, Jerryl Herrieks and Jim Cobb.

Serious: Mark Stevenson.

The public is invited to the state competition, Saturday, May 5 beginning at 9 a.m. Events will be held in the Freize Building on the University of Michigan campus.

Fashion Show Will Benefit Cancer Society

Chelsea Chapter of the American Cancer Society presents "Afternoon Delight."

As one of its fund-raising events, Chelsea Cancer Society has planned a Spring Fashion Show for Saturday, May 5, from 2 to 4 p.m., to be held at Chelsea High school Media Center.

Along with the fashions, "Desert Delicacies" will be served. Fashions will be furnished by Vogel's & Foster's of Chelsea.

Chelsea's reaction to the news on Monday that Germany had surrendered unconditionally was with expressions of joy for some and of sober meditation for others — joyful that one of our enemies had gone down to crushing defeat, yet realizing that our country still faces the completion of another war against a nation which is equally as ruthless and brutal as Germany, where such inhuman and barbarian atrocities against our fighting men have been revealed.

Workers' Comp Top Goal
 Is 1979 the year for workers' compensation reform in Michigan?
 Many claim this must be the year, otherwise the cost of the system will continue to rise, costing the state future employment.
 Workers' comp has been an ongoing battle between the Republican-controlled executive branch and the Democratic-controlled legislative branch of state government.
 Democrats have been urging reform of the system to bring about a decent benefit level for injured workers.
 Meanwhile, Republicans have agreed increased benefits are needed in light of recent inflation, but the benefits question cannot be considered alone without considering the over-all package and addressing abuses of the system.
 Recently, Governor William G. Milliken kicked off consideration of the workers' compensation question by a special message to the legislature outlining goals on 10 separate issues.
 Without making any specific recommendations, the governor said his goals include a tightening of eligibility requirements and a boost in benefits that would provide inflation adjustments on benefits, with the state picking up the added cost.
 The governor and legislators have for five years made workers' compensation reform—cutting abuses and increasing benefits—a major priority. But labor and business interests have never been able to reach agreement and no compromise has ever gained much legislative support.
 Part of the problem has been a lack of verified data, and although the Department of Labor has a data bank in operation, it is too new to be of much assistance.
 Both the governor and legislative leaders say it is important that reform be passed this year.
 "I want to re-emphasize my personal commitment to balanced reform of Michigan's workers' compensation system this year. We simply cannot wait any longer. We stand ready to start discussions immediately with members of the legislature to reach final agreement," Milliken declared.
 Senate Labor Committee Chairman David Plawewski (D-DeARBORN HEIGHTS) said he hopes for completion of discussions in four to six months, with final passage coming this fall.
 He also emphasized the importance of the governor's role in the matter, saying the governor is the only person who could get business and labor together.
 The issue continues to be crucial as business compare workers' comp rates in Michigan with those in other states. Such items as high workers' compensation rates versus another cost of doing business in a state and could lead to a business deciding whether to locate, continue or expand in Michigan.
Generic Drug Committee
 Michigan's generic drug law has not been as widely used as originally expected.
 To find out why, a special House committee will be created to investigate the reasons why consumers are not taking advantage of the drug substitution law, thus not taking advantage of a possible savings of $18 to $20 million statewide each year.
 The committee will study the results of a study conducted by Theodore Goldberg of Wayne State University that showed that only some 2.8 percent of approximately 15 million new prescriptions were filled with the lowest cost generic drug.
 Prescriptions using lower cost generic drugs save consumers an average of 21-23 percent a prescription, which translates roughly into a savings of $1.15.
 Possible solutions being considered include either giving pharmacists part of the savings to be sure consumers are aware of available generics, making it mandatory that generic substitutes be used or improving consumer education on the generic drug.

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:
 The feller that runs the country store got in a shipment of gas the middle of last week, and he was ready for it. He run out of no-lead first, then high test and then regular, and by the Monday after Easter, he was slapping dry in all tanks. That didn't stop him from going out to the pumps every other day, though, and jacking up prices a couple cents. When one of the fellers ask him why he was raising the price of someone he didn't have to sell, he said he knowed gas would be up whenever he got some more and he didn't want the new price to be such a shock to everbody.
 It's downright amazing, Mister Editor, how thoughtful folks can be when they're saving off the limb you're on. I know that gas is going to cost the store feller more for it, but I felt like pointing out to him that a businessman in his position might consider using his gasoline as one of them loss-leaders the big chain grocery stores build their page ads around. You git a housewife in the store to buy the week's groceries, and you can make the $1.60 hamburger a little easier to swallow by getting her mind on them three loaves of bread you're letting go at a few cent under your cost.
 for sleeveless sweaters and scarves, which are to be completed by Sept. 1.
 William Eisenbeiser, who celebrated his birthday anniversary on Sunday, was guest of honor at a family dinner given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Eisenbeiser.
 It has been rumored that on the seventh day of June, 36 seniors will be graduated from Chelsea High school. For the past four years these same 36 students have strived zealously to reach the goal, which they will have completed on this date.
 Chelsea opened the Huron League baseball season Tuesday afternoon at the local field and defeated Ypsilanti Roosevelt, 4-3.

"Our Children: Our Promise," the theme for May Fellowship Day sponsored by Church Women United, will be observed by Chelsea women in a program and luncheon Friday, May 4 at noon at North Lake United Methodist church, 1411 North Territorial Rd.
 On Dec. 21, 1976, the United Nations General Assembly passed a resolution proclaiming 1979 the International Year of the Child. The United Nations' "Declaration of the Rights of the Child" declares that "children have the right to affection, love and understanding; adequate nutrition and medical care; free education; full opportunity for play and recreation; a name and nationality; special care, if handicapped; be among the first to receive relief in times of disaster; be a useful member of society; and to develop individual abilities; be brought up in a spirit of peace and universal brotherhood; and enjoy these rights, regardless of race, color, sex, religion, national or social origin."
 Church Women United has a long tradition of programs and concern for children and families, and supports the International Year of the Child through this observance of May Fellowship Day, which has been celebrated since 1933. This year's celebration will call participants to consider the needs of children in our local area, discover what services are already available for our children, and inquire into what church women can do to help our children.
 Marianne Reiff, program coordinator for the Washtenaw County Child Care Co-ordinating and Referral Service, will speak on the theme in relation to what our county offers its children. There will be information available on several Chelsea agencies which serve the children of our community also.
 The May 4 program will begin at noon with a salad luncheon. All participants are asked to bring their own table service. An offering will be taken during the program to help support the local unit's activities in our community. A special presentation will be made to Louise Donatson, one of the founders of the local Child Care Center and in Chelsea, who will be awarded the Child Care Award for her dedicated service.
 Mothers bringing children for nursery care are asked to bring a sack lunch for their child.

Girls Track Team Posts 1 Win, 1 Loss

In two outings last week, the Chelsea High school girls track team recorded one win and one loss, finishing third in a triangular meet with Jackson-Northwest and Battle Creek Central, but besting South Lyon in a league dual meet.

Chelsea had several fine performances at Jackson despite the loss. Debbie Honbaum and Chris Johnson finished second and third, respectively, in the 100-meter dash and Kathy Honbaum turned in her best 200 of the season to finish third.

The trio combined with Tracy Bohlender to finish second to Battle Creek in both the 880 and 400-meter relays. Lisa Vandegrift ran well to place second in the 440 and Nancy Hastings set a school record of 12:45.9 on finish second in the two-mile run.

The Bulldogs' only first place finish came in the mile relay, as Nancy Heller, Teresa Hoffman, Tracy Bohlender and Debbie Honbaum ran a 4:24.8 for a season best time.

Thursday showers forced the Chelsea-South Lyon dual to be run Friday as part of a quadrangular with Pinckney and Perry. Although they finished third to those two, the Bulldogs defeated South Lyon in dual meet, 78½-44½.

According to Coach Bill Bainton, "We hadn't planned to run Pinckney and Perry, so we just stuck with our plan for South Lyon, which counts in the league standings." The Bulldogs' commanding lead in the field events was sparked by Mary Boylan, whose 99'8" discus throw set a school record.

Pri. Dre returned from an injury to take the long jump with a 15' leap, followed by Lisa Vandegrift in second place. Tracy Bohlender and Lorrie Vandegrift finished one-two in the high jump and also in the 110- and 220-meter hurdles.

Debbie Honbaum and Chris Johnson gave Chelsea another one-two finish in the 100-meter dash as did Lisa Vandegrift and Barb Davis in the 440.

The Bulldogs' 880 relay team of Johnson, Kathy Honbaum, Bohlender and Debbie Honbaum beat all three teams with a time of 1:51.1, one of the best in this area this season.

Other placers for Chelsea against South Lyon were Kathy Honbaum in the discus; Boylan and Lorrie Vandegrift in the shot put; Nancy Hastings in the two-mile and high jump; Dawn McDowell and Beth Heller in the 880; and Sue Heller in the 220 and 440 relay.

Most of South Lyon's points came from distance runners Cheryl Scheffer and Kris Zdanowski. Scheffer won the mile and two-mile, Zdanowski the 880, and both ran on the winning mile relay team.

The victory over South Lyon gives the Bulldogs a 2-0 league record. They were scheduled against Brighton Tuesday, have key conference meets with Milan and Dexter and run in the Mason Invitational Friday night.

Varsity Softball Team Notches Two More Conference Victories

Last week, Chelsea High school's varsity softball team won two Southeastern Conference games by the score of 5-0. First victory of the week was over Dexter on Tuesday, April 24. Chelsea scored five runs on six hits off of losing pitcher, Dawn Andrews. Nanette Push was winning pitcher for Chelsea, going the distance and striking out 14 Dexter hitters.

Chelsea's leading hitter Anita Powell blasted two singles and a double to up her batting average to a .444 mark on the season. Dexter pitcher Dawn Andrews walked Chelsea's Patti Hume twice in the game. Patti now leads the team in walks with nine.

After downing Dexter 5-0, Chelsea returned home to defeat Saline by the same score on Friday, April 27. Nanette Push was again credited with the win. For Push it was the fourth complete game she has pitched this year, all victories. While Push was credited with the win, Shelly Larned was tagged with her first career defeat as a Saline pitcher. Both Push and Larned gave up seven walks in the seven inning game.

Kim Wood and Push both had key base hits to help Chelsea's offensive attack. The victory over Saline puts Chelsea's record at 4-0. The defense has now played 23 consecutive innings without an error.

"I hope that the fine defensive play continues," said Coach Bill Wescott. "Our hitting has not been very good so far but it will come around as the kids see more live pitching. We will be working hard in the next few weeks to improve our over-all game."

Scores in other league contests around the SEC this week were: April 24: Brighton 13, South Lyon 10; Novi 5, Milan 4; Saline 13, Lincoln 1. On April 27: South Lyon 3, Novi 0; Lincoln 11, Brighton 9; Dexter 3, Milan 2.

On Friday, May 4 at 4 p.m. Chelsea will take on Novi in a double-header here in Chelsea. Both games will count in the league standings and are very important contests.

"Last year Novi defeated us 7-5 which made South Lyon the league champions," Coach Wescott recalls. "We really have to play with intensity and not have any let downs if we are going to be a competitive team."

CPR Mannequin Presented to Chelsea Hospital by McDonald's

When McDonald's opened in Chelsea in February, the store donated $200 to the Chelsea Community Hospital to be used to benefit children. This week the hospital made use of the money, purchasing an infant mannequin to be used in the practicing of Cardio-Pulmonary Resuscitation (CPR) techniques on babies.

Tennis Team Downs NW, Loses to Saline

Chelsea High school's tennis team played to a 1-1 record last week as the Bulldog netters defeated Northwest last Wednesday, April 25, but fell to Saline the following Friday. Wednesday's defeat of Jackson Northwest was the third match of the season for the Chelsea team. It was a close contest with four of the matches going to three sets. In singles play, Tom Severn won over Rip Hubbard, 6-4 and 6-3. Jeff Stirling went three sets with Sam Nicita and brought home a win, 3-6, 6-1 and 6-2. Terry Shonk ran into stiff competition against Mike Winters and dropped his match, 0-6 and 2-6. Scott Prohaska went three sets with Bjorn Lindeblad, and rallied to win in the final set, 4-6, 6-0 and 6-4.

In doubles play, Jeanette Morrison and Sarah Haselschwardt lost a tough match to Steve Kuehl and Jeff Miller, 6-2, 5-7 and 3-6. David Boyer and Joanne Westera dropped their match, 3-6 and 2-6, to John Baker and Dale Daane. Arnel Minix and Dave Parks played a tough three-setter against Joe Spencer and Paul Bixel, but pulled out the win, 7-5, 3-6 and 6-4. Two exhibition matches were also played. Doug Ingalls went down to Joe Dzkowski, 6-2, 7-5; while Michelle Clark and Molly Bacon lost to Randy Logan and Tom O'Brian in doubles. The netters went down to Saline for the second time this season, when they faced them on Friday. Saline took both the singles and doubles, winning the match by a 7-0 score. Although Chelsea players tried their best, they could not gain even one win. Tom Severn's excellent match against Mike McClure is not reflected in the scores. McClure won, 6-0, 6-1. Jeff Stirling was beaten by Eric Bonder, 6-3 and 6-2, although he also played good tennis. Scott Prohaska lost to Randy Douthat, 0-6 and 2-6; and Terry Shonk fell to Tim Brosoky, 0-6, 1-6. The doubles teams fell to Saline in spite of good efforts. Jeanette Morrison and Sarah Haselschwardt lost to Dave Bersuder and Steve Raham, 1-6, 1-6. Joanne Westera and David Boyer went down to Dave Hall and Matt Vidiki, 0-6 and 2-6. Arnel Minix and Doug Ingalls lost in a three-setter to Jim Valley and Dave Hall, 6-3, 5-7 and 6-7.

JV Softball Team Romps Over Dexter

Chelsea High school's junior varsity softball team posted its third consecutive league victory Tuesday afternoon as the Bulldogs lambasted Dexter.

Diane Thompson took the mound for Chelsea and pitched four excellent innings as Chelsea jumped to a 2-7 lead. Dexter was not finished, though, as in the top of the fifth, the Dreadnaughts came back with 10 runs.

Chelsea regained its poise in the bottom of the fifth and retired the last Dexter batter to end the game in five innings, under the league's mercy rule. The 27-17 win was the third league victory against no losses and brought the JV season mark to 4-1. Thompson struck out four and walked 11, winning her second game of the young season.

Ann Eisele pitched in relief in the fifth inning. While she was plagued with wildness in this, only her second inning of the year. Coach Waller commented that "Ann threw hard and wasn't missing the plate by much, and she did settle down when she got into trouble."

Eisele, Amy Unterbrink, and Shelly Weber will all see action during the next week as the JVs play a grueling six games in six days and will be missing sophomore Diane Thompson. Freshmen will have to carry the pitching load.

Chelsea used a balanced, well-disciplined hitting attack to build up its lead against two good Dexter pitchers. Shelly Weber was the leading Chelsea hitter, unloading three hits, including a lead-off double in the first inning. Shelly combined two walks with her three hits to score five times and produce three RBIs.

Amy Unterbrink and Cara Feeney each scored five times and contributed two hits and two RBIs each. Paula Haist also hit the ball well, producing five RBIs in spite of not getting a single hit. Laurie Cobb had her first hit in what was only her second career trip to the plate as she layed down a perfect bunt and then circled the bases to score for the first time as a JV softball player.

Diane Bareis had a perfect day as she batted for the first time this year, walking twice and scoring two runs.

The JVs were rained out on Friday and Saturday as the wet weather turned the fields to mud. Despite the cold weather and cloudy skies, the JVs hope to play all six of their games scheduled for this week. They meet Lincoln on Tuesday and Ann Arbor Forsyth on Wednesday in single games, and have doubleheaders scheduled with Novi on Friday and Pinckney on Saturday.

Baseball Team Hit By More Bad Weather

Unfriendly weather continued to plague the Chelsea High school varsity baseball team, as three more contests were cancelled last week-end.

Rain washed out a Friday afternoon contest with Saline and soaked a scheduled double-header at Brighton.

The Bulldogs have now played only five of the 12 games on their early season schedule and post a mid-season mark of 2-3. All SEC games called for weather will be rescheduled.

Howdy Holmes Joins Indy Team

Locally-known road racer Howdy Holmes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Holmes, whose father and uncle Dudley Holmes, own Chelsea Milling Co., has joined the racing team of driver Janet Guthrie.

Holmes will team with Guthrie and Tom Bigelow to drive a wild cat-DGS at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway.

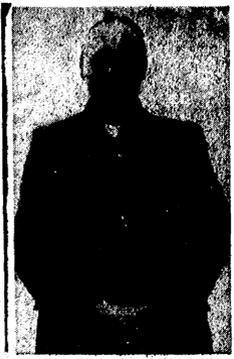

Holmes, 28, began racing with the Sports Car Club of America in 1971. He placed second in the Mini Indy series in 1977 and captured both the North American and Canadian Formula Atlantic championships.

Howdy is expected to begin his Indy 500 rookie driver's tests on Monday.

The Detroit Pistons' 3-7 point outburst vs. the Washington Bullets in the second quarter of a March 27, 1979, 124-114 win matched the team's top second quarter of the campaign.

Introducing Our New "Simplified (IRA) Pension Plan"

An Innovation in Employer Contribution Retirement Benefits

Ann Arbor Trust Company now offers an attractive alternative to the often complex and burdensome tax-qualified retirement plan, as authorized by the Revenue Act of 1978. We call it our "Simplified (IRA) Pension Plan." It allows employers to make deductible contributions to Individual Retirement Accounts established by their employees. Here are the highlights:

- ✓ Employers may contribute up to an amount equal to 15% of each employee's annual earnings to a maximum of $7,500.
- ✓ Pensions can be arranged as a percentage of employee earnings, or as profit sharing.
- ✓ All contributions to employees' IRA's are fully vested, non-forfeitable, and insured to $100,000 by the FDIC.
- ✓ Under our plan, funds are invested in an Ann Arbor Trust Company savings plan as selected by the employee. The table below illustrates the retirement accumulation of certain amounts deposited in 8% quarterly compounded 3 year Certificates of Deposit:

No. of Years	Annual Deposit Amount
	$ 3,500	$ 5,000	$ 7,500
5	22,334	31,905	47,858
10	55,520	79,315	118,972
20	178,112	254,445	381,668
30	448,799	641,141	961,711

- ✓ Ann Arbor Trust offers a Master Plan for use in establishing this simplified, flexible plan. For further information call Philip W. Stokes, 2nd Vice President and Trust Officer, at (313) 994-5555; or complete and return the information request coupon below.

Free Blood Pressure Clinic Slated Friday

In recognition of May as High Blood Pressure Month, Chelsea Community Hospital Auxiliary will sponsor a free blood pressure clinic at Chelsea State Bank on Friday, May 4 from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The National High Blood Pressure Education Program estimates that almost 35 million Americans, one in every six persons, have definite high blood pressure. As a result, they face significant risks of heart attack, stroke and kidney failure.

Treatment on a daily basis, often with medication, sometimes by diet — usually for the rest of their lives — is what is required for victims of high blood pressure. There is usually no cure, only control. Medication is effective only each day it's taken. Patients may think that a lowered blood pressure means a cure, but this is a fallacy. If a patient ceases taking medication, his blood pressure will most likely go right back up again.

Some diseases have obvious symptoms, but high blood pressure has none. Some people think they should "feel" something, such as a headache or dizziness before taking medication. Medication should, however, be taken every day, regardless of observable symptoms. The public often associates high blood pressure with being nervous or tense. That is confusing hypertension (the medical name for high blood pressure) with nervous tension. Nervous as well as calm people may suffer from the disease. The only way to tell is by measuring it.

Everyone interested in this aspect of their health should come to the free clinic for a brief check. More information may be obtained by calling Carole van Reesema, 475-9378.

Real Estate

By PAUL FRISINGER
REALTOR

TIME VERSUS MILES

Looking for a new home for your family? Just moved to a new job in a new location? Then commuting distance is an important consideration.

There was a time when the simple method of locating a home was to draw a circle on the map around your place of employment and look for a house in that geographic area. No longer is this the case.

With today's super highways, you might commute to a job 20 miles away in less time than it would take from an inner-city location of only five miles.

Today, you should draw your circle in terms of minutes rather than miles. You may be passing up some wonderful home-buying opportunities, lower taxes, and better schools in distant suburban locations — only because you THOUGHT they would be too far away. Don't talk miles, talk minutes and you may just find your right house at the right price. Makes sense — doesn't it?

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at FRISINGER REALTY CO., 935 S. Main St., Chelsea. Phone: 475-8688; evenings 475-2621. We're here to help!

Methodist Home Resident Observes 100th Birthday Sunday

Flora Hodgins' Sunday birthday party at the Chelsea Methodist Home was much like any such celebration in appearance. There were friends, flowers, cakes and food in abundance and everyone had a jappy time.

For Mrs. Hodgins, though, it was more than just another birthday, it was a genuine landmark. With the cutting of the cake she had left a century behind. Mrs. Hodgins turned 100 on Sunday.

That event, remarkable as it is, does not stand alone, however. Leading up to it is a rich, full life, marked by service to others.

Mrs. Hodgins was born April 29, 1879 in Inlet township, Genesee county. A few years later the family moved to Clio, where Flora attended school and became a teacher — a profession she practiced for 28 years.

She was graduated from Eastern Michigan University, taught in Clio, Dewitt, Grand Junction, Colo., Libertyville, Ill., and finally ended her classroom career at the Dewey school in Flint in 1928. That same year she married Levi Hodgins of Saginaw.

Mr. Hodgins died in 1941 and Flora continued to live in Clio, maintaining her own home in the same house she had lived in since age 10.

For 40 years she taught Sunday school at Bethany United Methodist church in Clio, where she had been a member since she turned 17.

In 1973 at the age of 94, Mrs. Hodgins was chosen to reign as honorary queen of the Clio Centennial. Another honor had come in 1971 from the Michigan Retired Teachers Association. The citation for the MRTA Distinguished Service Award reads: "In appreciation of long and dedicated services in improving the status and welfare of older citizens."

She entered the Chelsea Methodist Home in 1973.

Flora's friends say that her optimism and sense of duty to family have been memorable. Until her eyesight began to fail, she continued to enjoy reading, since her poor hearing made visiting difficult.

Those who know her say that Mrs. Hodgins remains a source of inspiration to all who meet her and admire her determination.

FFA Chapter Will Sponsor Swine Club

Beginning this year, the Chelsea FFA will sponsor a Swine Club. Purpose of this club is to reward those exhibitors who: 1) have the best records, and 2) have the largest increase in weight of their animal or animals. Trophies are offered by the Chelsea FFA in those two areas.

Weigh-in has been set for May 19, at the Chelsea Fairgrounds, where the animals will be weighed and tattooed. Exhibitors may weigh in six hogs but only show two for market class, which is from 190-240 pounds. The weigh-in has been set from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Those who wish to compete in the Swine Club must be at least 12 years of age and no older than 18. The difference between this and the Steer Club is that one need not belong to it if he or she wishes to sell at the livestock sale. It is just competition for two extra trophies. Livestock shown may be those which exhibitors have raised or bought. The stock will not have to come from one place.

JV Baseball Team Shows Good Defense

Chelsea's junior varsity diamond men won one and lost one last week, as they defeated Saline but fell to Dexter. A scheduled doubleheader with Brighton was canceled because of Saturday rainfall.

The Bulldogs' win came last Friday, as they capitalized on good defensive play and edged Saline, 4-2.

Defense was highlighted by centerfielder Randy Luick's glove work. Luick also led the offensive attack with three walks and two stolen bases.

Ken Hopkins continued his fine hitting with two hits, including a double. Hopkins' season average now stands at .637. Chris Heaton stroked a two-run triple and Mike Wade and Ross Stofflet each extended their hitting streaks to five games.

Pitcher Sean Peterson went the seven-inning distance, giving up five hits and three walks, and striking out six.

The JV's luck wasn't as good against Dexter, however, as the Deadnoughts romped to a 10-5 victory.

Coach Wayne Welton attributed the loss to a poor defense, which committed five errors and issued seven walks.

The Bulldogs had a chance as they outthrew Dexter, 8-6, but couldn't pound out the big single at the right time. Mike Bohlander led the slugging attack with two hits. Singles were picked up by Sean Peterson, Ross Stofflet, Mike Wade, Chris Heaton, Randy Luick and Jeff Price.

A bright spot for the Bulldogs was good relief pitching by Chris Heaton.

When the U. S. Department of Labor was created in 1913, the average workweek was about 50 hours and earnings averaged about 22 cents an hour, and hazardous working conditions were common.

Bog Walk Offered At Waterloo Center

Michigan is blessed with nearly 11,000 lakes. Ohio, our southern neighbor, has only three. All Michigan lakes were created 10,000 to 12,000 years ago by the Wisconsin glacier. Most are kettle-hole lakes, formed when huge ice blocks were buried in sand, rock and other debris deposited by the melting glacier. The ice-blocks melted, leaving behind large, kettle-shaped holes filled with water.

Almost as soon as they were formed, the forces of nature began filling them. These processes continue today. Rain washes soil from surrounding hills into the lakes, reducing their size and depth. Minerals dissolved in the lake water are extracted by aquatic plants and animals and deposited on the lake bottoms when they die. Thus a new layer of bottom sediments is added to the lakes each year.

Some lakes are surrounded by floating mats of vegetation which are slowly covering them over. Such lakes are called bog lakes. The bog mats that are gradually invading them are homes to a fascinating variety of plants and animals. Sphagnum moss is a major component of most bogs. Its hollow stems trap air and allow the moss to float. As successive layers of sphagnum form, the mat becomes thick enough to support other plants.

Rare and beautiful orchids, wild cranberries and insect-eating plants may be found in most Michigan bogs.

Their floating nature makes most bogs very treacherous and few Michigan residents have ever seen one. The Waterloo Nature Center has a floating walkway built over a bog. The bog trail and walkway are not available to the public unless accompanied by a park naturalist.

At 2 and 4 p.m. Saturdays and Sundays May 5 through June 10, naturalist-conducted tours to the bog will be available to the public. The tours, which begin at the nature center building, last about 90 minutes. Organized groups may also arrange for bog tours at other times by calling the nature center at 475-8839.

There is no charge for these programs. However, because the Nature Center is a state park facility, all vehicles entering the area must have a state park motor vehicle permit. These are available at the reception desk in the nature center. An annual permit is $7 and allows that vehicle to enter any state park facility an unlimited number of times during the calendar year. A daily permit is $2 and is good for the date of issue only. Senior citizen annual permits are $1. Money collected for vehicle permits is used to purchase additional park lands and build new facilities.

The Waterloo Recreation Area is located just north of I-94 midway between Jackson and Ann Arbor. Nature Center visitors take I-94 to exit 156 (Kalmbach Rd.), turn north and follow the park signs. Visitors are asked to leave their pets home.

The Bible - The Light from Heaven
Teaches the principles of sowing and reaping. This is an analogy between things natural and things spiritual. Natural laws are types and shadows of spiritual laws. How very true is this of the law stated in Galatians 6:7, 8. The apostle's language justifies four cardinal statements namely: We are sowing. This is true of all men. We are sowing at every step, thoughts, words and silent deeds are the seed. There are two fields: "unto the flesh," spending our lives in doing the works of the flesh. (Galatians 5:19, 21). "Unto the Spirit," living under the guiding influence of the Spirit. It is a life of well doing. Sowing we shall reap. Life is action and reaction. The boomerang returns to the thrower, the deed to the doer. (2 Corinthians 5:10). Sowing we shall reap what we sow. The harvest corresponds to the sowing. This is a universal law. Sowing to the flesh yields a harvest of "corruption" moral decay dissolution of man's being. Sowing to the Spirit yields a harvest of "eternal life." A great educator said: We sow a thought and reap a deed; we sow a deed and reap a habit; we sow a habit and reap a character; we sow a character and reap a destiny. Sowing we shall reap more than we sow. "Be not deceived; God is not mocked." (Galatians 6:7).

Job Hunting Agency Serves Senior Citizens

A job hunting agency in Ann Arbor, Skills Unlimited, Inc., has announced a new program called "Jobs for Seniors."

Directed at people over 50 with job skills they would like to exercise in part-time employment, the agency emphasizes that it is interested in fitting the job to the worker, not the other way around.

Skills Unlimited says that their job is to try to educate employers to know that retirees make the best workers. They claim to answer all questions about the jobs available and help retirees decide whether or not the job is right for them.

For no charge the agency will list a person's skills in their skills bank. If a job becomes available, a fee is assessed, which is paid by the employer.

Seniors are urged to register on Tuesday or Thursday in the morning if possible. Skills Unlimited is located in the Kerrytown Mall in Ann Arbor, 407 N. Fifth St., above the cheese store. More information may be obtained by calling 662-6010.

Those who would rather keep their skills in the area might soon be able to avail themselves of a similar service. A small group of retired persons in Manchester is now consulting with Skills Unlimited regarding the possibility of an area service to be run by local persons.

VISITING FIREMEN: A group of touring German firemen enjoyed the hospitality of Chelsea last Saturday, as they dined at Schumm's and toured the local fire station. The firefighters, on a two-week tour of the United States and Canada, had planned to dine in Ann Arbor, but last week-end's graduation crunch left them with no restaurant. Quick shifting in plans was made and the Germans ended up in Chelsea. Chelsea Fire Chief James Gaken said the firefighters, some paid and some volunteer, spent about an hour at the fire house and were "quite impressed."

League Has Only 9 Openings Left

Girls' summer softball league coordinator Roberta Kemp has announced that only nine places remain open in the league.

More than 150 girls signed up over a two-week period, and once the nine openings are filled, the league will be closed.

Kemp said there is also a need for one more coach.

To volunteer or sign up, call the Community Education Office, 475-9830.
