Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR: Doubtless God could of made a better berry, the saying goes, but doubtless God never did. I agree strawberries are a treat, but I wouldn't limit such a compliment. The strawberry is with us such a short time, but the vegetable garden has as many lives as we want to give it. If that seems off my usual line, Mister Editor, it's because I'm trying to recall the way Zeke Grubb's preacher put it when he stopped at the country store Saturday night. Of all things to run out of, he told the fellers, he had to get salt for the sweet corn somebody had give him. He hurried home fer supper, and he left fresh items for the agender. Bug Hookum said he was full agreed with the preacher, but he ask Zeke whuther the preacher thought God saw to the planting, plowing and picking, since he didn't give credit to anybody else. The fellers talked general about gardens. Bug allowed that working as a partner with God to grow it is part of the joy of eating and sharing it. The farmers' markets and the best grocery stores can do their best, he said, but they can't quite come up to a dewy tomato eat right off the vine, or peppers you go straight to the house and cut up in a salad. Zeke said fish is like vegetables, only more so. You can buy fish straight off the boat, Zeke declared, but it still ain't up to fish straight off your hook and straight in the pan. The glories of summer garden, the fellers agreed, is a worthy sermon tonic that lightens the burden of winter's canned beans. It was Ed Doolittle that put the stopper in the garden jug. Ed said his brother that was in France in the first World War wrote home once and said they were marching through farming country, and he pulled a beet from a garden and eat it. Ed said his Ma cried fer four solid days, allowing her boy must be starving, cause she never had been able to get him to eat beets at home. Ed said fer some reason folks think a garden ain't complete without beets, and even today his old lady makes him plant them. God doubtless could have made a worse vegetable, Ed said, but doubtless God never did. Clem Webster told Ed we got to take the bitter with the sweet. Besides, he said, wimmen want beets because of the color, and pickled

Police Pursue Fleeing Truck

Chelsea police were involved in a 1 1/2 mile high speed chase last Sunday, Aug. 19, when a Chelsea man who ran a stop sign attempted to elude police. According to police reports, the incident began at 2:23 a.m., when Officer Orr observed a silver pickup truck driven by Steven L. Smyth, 13905 Trinkle Rd., run a stop sign at East and E. Middle Sts. Orr gave chase and pursued Smyth as he continued to gain speed, at one point up to 80 mph, according to police reports. The chase continued down Madison and Washington Sts., onto Freer Rd. where the vehicle suddenly turned up a driveway, continued past the house and drove into the fields behind where Smyth eventually stopped the truck, police said. Officers arrested Smyth for fleeing and eluding and he was taken to the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department. You'd expect to hear that from our service manager (and you will), but that's actually Gordon Hagopian speaking. He's in charge of truck sales. Gordon's convinced that he couldn't sell as many trucks if he didn't have Rampy's truck service department to back him up. Basically, Gordon's sales philosophy hinges on the fact that trucks aren't transportation... they're income. So when he's talking to a potential customer, he stresses 3 things: 1. Rampy's ability to provide top-quality service 2. GM quality and low prices 3. Starting out with the right truck for the right job. That last item is important. Gordon's a graduate of the Truck Marketing Institute. He's learned how to evaluate needs and capacity. Then sell you what you want. No more, no less. Jeanne Thornton, J. McKeighan Are Wed in Outdoor Ceremony

Jeanne Lynn Thornton and John M. McKeighan, both of Chelsea, were wed Saturday, Aug. 18 in an outdoor ceremony at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Thornton, the bride's parents. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. George McKeighan of Adrian, former Chelsea residents. The Rev. John Elliott of North Lake United Methodist church officiated.

The bride was attired in an ivory chiffon gown with a mushroom blouson bodice, silk Venice lace and chapel train. Her fingertip veil with Venice lace fell from a camelot cap. She carried a cascade bouquet of gardenias and ivy.

Matron of honor was Sheila Kauler of Royal Oak. She wore a gown of a soft print in ivory, mauve and light blue. The pull-over dress was gathered into a neck binding with tied extensions, and featured flutter sleeves and a tie belt. Her bouquet was a basket of mauve carnations, ivory fugli mums, ivy and fern.

Bridesmaid was Cinda Thornton of Chelsea, sister of the bride. She wore a dress identical to that of the maid of honor and carried a basket of the same flowers.

Mother of the bride was attired in a street-length mauve print chiffon dress and wore a name-tipped carnation wrist corsage. The bridegroom's mother was dressed in a street-length beige jacket dress and wore an ivory carnation corsage.

Best man was John Sney of Ypsilanti. Mark Musolf of Ann Arbor served as the usher.

Music was provided at the ceremony by Ann See on violin and her daughter, Melinda See, on oboe.

A reception followed at the Knights of Columbus Hall in Dexter.

Jaycettes Plan Fall Projects

Tuesday, Aug. 14 the Jaycee Auxiliary held its monthly meeting at the North Lake home of hostess Arlene Samek. Sue Zink was co-hostess for the evening.

Guests for the evening were Roseann Wiles, Michigan Jaycette District vice-president and Barb Gardener. Theme for the evening was "Ship Ahoy" and was scheduled to be held on a float boat. The unseasonable cold temperatures pre-empted that plan, however.

The fluoride program was a success, with 127 children enrolled in Chelsea. The taco stand and slave auction brought tidy profits and the group is busy planning assistance at the Fair Bingo tent.

Labor Day the Jaycettes will be in Polly's parking lot collecting money for Muscular Dystrophy in a unique way—four members have already collected $135 for MD by asking pledges and walking five miles.

Milan Jaycettes are sponsoring a softball game in September to which Chelsea's Auxiliary has been invited. Chelsea Jaycettes have already demonstrated their softball skills when they shelled the Jaycees last July.

In the not-too-distant future, the Auxiliary will be assisting the Jaycees with their chicken barbecue and the Halloween party is being discussed.

Denise Martell was Jaycette of the Month and Sandy Meyer received the Golden Award of Goofs.

Next meeting will take place Sept. 18 at Cindy Beauchamp's. The October meeting will take place Oct. 23 at Nan Rowe's.

For the ceremony the bride was attired in a white celeste silk gown with a Queen Anne neckline, traditional long sleeves and a Watteau train which cascaded from the shoulders into a full-length train. The gown was accented with batiste lace and the waist-length veil was mantilla cut and secured with a half hat, completely bordered with matching silk batiste lace. The bride carried a nosegay of pale peach daisy mums and roses with baby's breath.

Maid of honor was Anne Nyles of Ann Arbor, a lifetime friend of the bride. She wore a peach lace-polyester floor-length gown, featuring an empire waist and accented with peach lace trim. She carried a white basket of silk peach roses and forget-me-nots.

Bridesmaid was Beverly Surratt of Rollin, a friend of the bride. She was attired in a gown identical to that of the maid of honor and carried a basket of peach roses and forget-me-nots.

Vocalist at the ceremony was Russell Ash of Plymouth, who sang "The Lord's Prayer."

A dinner buffet was held immediately following the wedding at UAW Union Hall No. 1284 on M-32. Mrs. Roy Bakhaus of Brighton poured coffee, and Mrs. Margaret Wiseman of South Lyon poured punch. Her husband is a graduate of Grass Lake High school and attended Michigan State University. He served in the army and currently works at the Goodyear Tire Co., in Jackson.

TODAY'S INVESTOR

By Thomas E. O'Hara

D. I just read a story in a business magazine that said the pension funds which had been one of the biggest investors in stocks had received permission to invest in real estate, commodities and even diamonds. The story said that because stocks had been such a poor inflation hedge, pension funds were likely to move into these new items and further depress the price of stocks. Would you care to comment on that?

A. I think you have to be very careful when you say stocks are not a good inflation hedge. Many writers have a way of publicizing the right thing at the wrong time. In the late sixties stocks were highly touted as the perfect inflation hedge. That is true except at that particular time stocks were at the peak of a long advance in prices. Usually, at such a time, you have a decline and then a lengthy period of sideways movement. That is what has been happening to stock prices in the last 10 years. During that period they have been a poor inflation hedge.

However, at this point in time, we have had 10 years in which the businesses that represent the values in back of stocks have been growing and increasing greatly in value. None of that growing has been recognized in stock prices in the past 10 years.

At this time you have a very different situation in stock prices than you had in the late sixties. At that time the prices of stocks were just about as high in relation to the profit producing ability of the businesses they represented as they should be. Today you have quite the reverse. Stock prices are very low in relation to the profit-producing ability of the businesses they represent. That is why you see so many cases where one business comes along and offers to buy another: by paying two or three times what the stock of the company is currently selling for.

You can be sure that the businessmen who pay that price have studied the company very carefully and have concluded that they will find that business will make very good money on the price they are paying for it. This also suggests to me that we will one day see stock prices in general at least twice what they are today. That also suggests to me that at this point in time stocks may be the best inflation hedge available to the public.

Barron's Magazine recently carried the figures comparing the price increase in stocks for the past 70 years with the increase in the price of gold and of real estate. Stocks have risen considerably more than gold in spite of its recent substantial increase. Real estate prices have recently caught up with stocks and moved ahead. Over the long term stocks have been an excellent inflation hedge.

At this time the greatest potential for further advances in prices in my belief lies in the stock market.

PHARMACIST DALE SCHUMANN, a member of the Chelsea School Board, will head the 1979 fund-raising campaign for Chelsea United Way. He is a pharmaceutical graduate of Ferris State College.

Dale Schumann Heads United Way Campaign

Chairmanship of the 1979 fund-raising campaign of Chelsea United Way was recently entrusted to pharmacist Dale Schumann. In owner of Chelsea Pharmacy, Schumann is vice-president of Chelsea United Way, a member of the Chelsea School Board and treasurer of the Chelsea Area Transportation Service (CATS).

At its Aug. 15 board meeting, the United Way directors approved a campaign goal that will provide support for four Chelsea area social service agencies: Chelsea Recreation Council, Chelsea Social Services, Chelsea Home Meals Service and CATS, as well as Chelsea Bands.

Allocations were also approved for the Salvation Army, Catholic Social Services, Washtenaw County Cystic Fibrosis, the Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, Washtenaw American Red Cross and Washtenaw Retarded Citizens. Also approved was an allocation for United Way of Michigan, which supports numerous state and national agencies.

Funds raised in the 1979 campaign will be distributed to the agencies in 1980. The goal has been set at $41,174, an increase of seven percent over 1978.

Carol Flintoft was elected to the board of directors and will have charge of contributions from professional people during the forthcoming campaign.

A Chelsea United Way organization dinner will be held early in October, but some parts of the campaign will begin immediately after Labor Day.

FIRST AVIATION TROPHY WON BY GLENN CURTISS

Curtiss, who designed the winning plane, "June Bug." Curtiss also developed the flying boat, an excellent example of which may be seen at Henry Ford Museum, Dearborn. The 1919 Curtiss Seagull hanging in the Museum was one of the first commercial craft of its type.

Winners will have their names permanently inscribed in the Pro Football Hall of Fame in Canton, O.

State of Exercise More Control
In Wayne County

Two recent moves on the state level indicate there is a growing concern over the unwieldy county government in Wayne County.

Wayne county, or the Detroit area in general, serves about 30 percent of the state's population, however, that unit of local government has been unable to get the reins on spending or cost containment.

The two most recent moves hit the local government where it hurts — in the pocketbook.

The first was a line item veto by Governor William G. Milliken in the amount of $5.5 million for the state to take over probation services in Wayne county.

Milliken, in his veto message, called Wayne county government "unsophisticated and extremely difficult to administer."

He said he will continue to veto any measure that comes across his desk providing additional funding to Wayne county until there is legislation to simplify the establishment of a charter revision commission which, among other things, would reduce the number of elected officials and which assures the proposed charter will include an elected county executive.

He said it would be unproductive and unfair to the citizens of the state to do no more than pour increasing amounts of tax dollars into a deteriorating situation.

The governor cited the complexity and the great number of boards and commissions in the county as one of the major reasons there is no accountability to the people.

The county has been suffering a budget deficit since 1975 which has continued to increase from $2.2 million that year to a projected deficit of $19.5 million for the current fiscal year.

The governor charged that even in light of their current fiscal problems, the county board of commissioners have continued to approve salary increases which have exceeded levels of comparable positions in the private sector or in other levels of government.

In a second, more recent action, the state announced it would be taking over the direct control of the administration of state-funded alcohol and other drug services in Wayne county.

The action effects more than $11 million in state and federal funds allocated for alcoholism and drug abuse services.

Kenneth Eaton, administrator of the State Office of Substance Abuse Services (OSAS), closely echoed the governor's concerns when he said, "political considerations have had too much influence over some funding decisions and several programs need to be evaluated for cost-effectiveness."

"Over-all, the administrative operation has been too unstructured and too political," Eaton said.

Again, Eaton said the move is necessary to protect the public's interest in the use of tax funds and its commitment to reducing the problem of alcoholism and drug abuse.

He added, however, that the move is viewed only as a temporary solution with the state's goal being to designate local agencies to perform local policy-making and management responsibilities on a permanent basis.

The message should be clear to Wayne county government after these two recent state actions.

The state is saying to its most populated county, either clean up your act or the state will have to step in and do it.

Not only is Wayne county hurting itself, but it is also hurting the state's other 81 counties in their efforts to convince the Legislature there should be more local control with the state returning money to local units to handle problems they know best.

MARTY STEINHAUER, at age 13 already a six-year waterskiing veteran, recently parlayed his years of experience into a U. S. National Water-skiing Championship in the Junior Boys (13 and under) division. Of the three events required at the Duquin, Ill. event, Steinhauer took firsts in slalom and jump and fifth in tricks. He set a mid-west regional record in the jump, with a 107-foot mark.

Marty Steinhauer Wins National Junior Boys Water Skiing Title

Already a veteran of the sport at age 13, Marty Steinhauer, 1100 Sugar Loaf Lake, captured the U. S. National Water Skiing Championship in the Junior Boys (13 and under) division last week. Steinhauer set a mid-west regional record in jumping, with a mark of 107 feet, on his way to winning the title.

Steinhauer competed in a field of 15 in his division at the event in Duquin, Ill., Aug. 15-19. He earned a place at the nationals by achieving a high rating skiing in local tournaments.

Of the three events required in the competition, Steinhauer took first in the slalom, and fifth in tricks. His brother, David, 12 skied only in the slalom and took fifth place.

Steinhauer has been competing in tournaments for about six years and took second place in the nationals last year. He was also first over-all in this year's regionals, held Aug. 3-5 in Minneapolis, Minn., as he took firsts in slalom and jump and a second in tricks.

Marty's brother, Matt, 10, also skied in the regionals.

Competition is over for this season and next year Steinhauer will advance to the Boys (ages 14-17) Division.

TINY PAINTED TURTLES like this small one, hardly changed in form in the past two million years, will be hatching soon at Waterloo Nature Center. Visitors at the center may see the tiny reptiles hatch and grow in a shallow water display for the next two or three weeks.

Turtle Hatching Display Offered Public at Waterloo Nature Center

Some two hundred million years ago strange hardshelled reptiles inhabited the shallow lakes, seas and marshes that covered much of North America. They shared these waters with giant dinosaurs and witnessed the evolution of mammals and birds. Each year, these slow-moving creatures dragged their bony shells out of the water to find suitable places to lay their eggs. Turtles, never as large or exciting as dinosaurs, were the more successful in the end. Today, dinosaurs have disappeared, birds have evolved into hunreds of species and the mammals culminated with the evolution of man. Only the turtles have remained relatively unchanged.

Again this year, during May and June, they lumbered ashore to lay their eggs. Tom Hodgson, park naturalist at the Waterloo Nature Center, collected more than 200 turtle eggs and incubated them in special containers over the summer. They are now on display in the nature center building, where visitors may watch them hatch.

Most will hatch in the next two to three weeks, so visitors should plan accordingly. The new hatchlings will be displayed for a short time in a shallow water exhibit in the center, and then released to grow and reproduce in their natural habitat.

Waterloo Nature Center also includes many other interesting wildlife displays, audio-visual programs shown in the auditorium and seven nature trails radiating out from the building. It also serves as information center for the 17,000-acre Waterloo Recreation Area, Michigan's third largest state park. The center is open from 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Tuesday through Saturday, and noon until 7 p.m. on Sunday.

There is no charge to visit the facility, but, because it is a Michigan State Park, all vehicles entering the nature center area must have a state park motor vehicle permit, which may be purchased at the nature center building. Annual permits are $7, daily permits are $2 and senior citizen annual permits are $1.

For further information on any facet of the nature center, call 475-8069.

JIFFY MIXES: A true "Cinderella" team, the Jiffy Mixes, Chelsea men's softball squad, are currently undefeated in tournament play in Ann Arbor. The team took first place in Chelsea by defeating Waterloo and has a good chance to advance from the Ann Arbor playoffs to the state tournament in Manistee. The team will hit the field Sunday at 10 a.m. at West Field and Sunday at 1 p.m. in Veteran's Park. Team members are: back row, left to right, Nick Keiser, Joe Keiser, Ralph Stewart; middle row, Mike Summers, Dave Wilson, Terry Parker, Cal Summers, Roger Stewart; front row, Dave Keiser, Sponsor Howard Holmes, Jim Marshall, Jack Hackworth, Don Messner and John Toon. Not present for the photograph are Charlie Shiver and Ken Keiser.

RUNNERS-UP: In their first year ever as a team in the Chelsea Recreation Council, a men's softball squad from Waterloo Prison Camp took second place in the rec. league. Waterloo lost two out of three games to Jiffy Mixes, allowing the Mixes to travel to the Ann Arbor tournament. Playing for Waterloo were: front row, left to right, John Bonesteel, E. L. Ryan, Jim Togewiller, Jack Sirhan, Stu Stein; second row, T. J. Johnson, Red Blackmon, Leon Paulson; third row, Griffin, Ramsey, Allen, Tom Slate; top row, R. Massey, George Alkazan. Not pictured is Larry Brody.

Former Energy Administrator Addresses Kiwanis Club

William G. Rosenberg, of Chelsea, was the speaker at the regular meeting of the Dexter Kiwanis Club Tuesday evening.

Rosenberg, chairman of the Michigan Public Service Commission from 1973 through 1975 and assistant administrator, Federal Energy Administration, in the Ford administration, has a plan for gas utility companies to use "attic gas" as a means of conservation.

His theory is that utility companies could provide modern methods of cutting down the use of gas in homes by installing better insulation, and other recent methods and cut down on the volume needed.

In a letter to The New York Times, he wrote, "The measures would be for ceiling insulation, clock thermostats, and furnace efficiency modifications." He compared the average cost of "attic gas" to other sources of energy costs. In the Midwest and Eastern states he said the cost would be the equivalent of $9 per barrel, compared with OPEC prices of $20 per barrel and "Carter administration estimates of $33 per barrel for synthetic fuels."

He repeatedly emphasized that the cheapest and best way to combat the rising fuel prices is by conservation.

The meeting was conducted by president Richard Fischer. Rosenberg was introduced by program chairman Ross Stephenson.

STEVE BERGMANN, left, director of the Chelsea High school band program, accepts a check for the Symphony Band Mexican Festival Project, presented by Clarice Killiam, member of UAW Local 849 Ypsilanti Ford Plant. The local became the first in Washtenaw county to aid the band's trip fund.

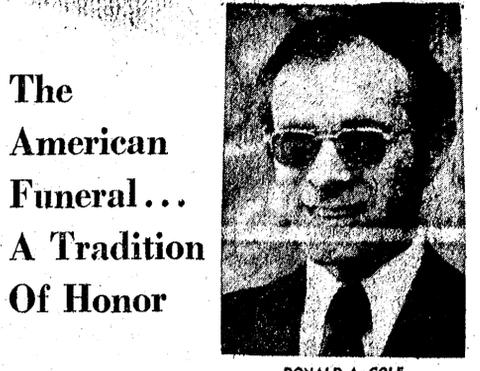

Ford Local Contributes to CHS Mexican Band Festival Project

UAW Local 849-Ypsilanti Ford Plant became the first local in Washtenaw county to aid the "Chelsea Symphony Band Mexican Festival Project," as members of the local voted at a regular membership meeting to contribute $301.

In presenting the check to Steve Bergmann, director of the Chelsea High School Band program, Clarice Killiam, Local 849 member and Washtenaw county UAW-CAP Council Secretary, commended the band for their outstanding achievements and wished them luck with the project.

Presentation of the check coincided with the Chelsea High school Jazz Band performance during Chelsea's Sidewalk Days. Including donations collected during that performance and the contribution from Local 849, the fund total is now approximately $666. The project goal is $6,000, to be put together with the $12,000 allocated by Band and Orchestra Boosters, 20 other community organizations.

The American Funeral... A Tradition Of Honor

Funeral service could be simpler. As a matter of fact, in many countries, it's a brief and meaningless disposal provided by the state.

In America, we believe that the lives of individuals are important... and that the end of life calls for an act of honor and respect. Providing a final tribute that reflects this honor and respect is what Burghardt-Cole Chelsea Chapel service is all about.

The Bible-The Light from Heaven

Makes known to man the impartial God. Impartiality is a trait of character to be admired in a parent, in a teacher, in a business manager, in a person of any calling. The apostle Paul in the Roman letter wrote, "For there is no respect of persons with God." (Romans 2:11). Because all men are creatures, he must make no difference in them. Please note some instances of his impartiality. He has declared all men under sin. (Romans 3:23). A common Saviour is provided for all. (John 4:42; Acts 4:12; John 3:16; Hebrews 5:8, 9). The gospel is a universal theme. (Matthew 28:18-20; Mark 16:15, 16). The same invitation is extended to all. (Matthew 11:28; Revelation 22:17). The same conditions of pardon are required of all. (John 6:44, 45; Romans 10:17; Hebrews 11:6; Acts 17:30; Acts 2:38). The Lord has provided a common church for all. To the Ephesians the apostle Paul wrote, "There is one body." (Ephesians 4:4); the body and the church are synonymous terms. (Colossians 1:18; Ephesians 1:22, 23; 5:23); in the manner of judging, he will not judge the people as nations, or as a class, but as individuals. (2 Corinthians 6:10; Romans 14:12-Matthew 25:31-46).

Secy. Bergland...

(Continued from page one) government doesn't have the jurisdiction to mandate changes, he said, but would be in a position to make suggestions regarding the most effective planning.

Finally, he dismissed the question of gasohol as not currently feasible because of the great amounts of energy expended in its production and because it is not cost effective and therefore unattractive to business. Bergland repeated the administration's belief that Americans must conserve and develop alternate sources of energy, rather than pinning hopes on "miracle" cures.

Bergland mingled with the group at a small reception following the session, then moved on to address a similar group in Jackson county.

Having Trouble Paying Your Mortgage on Time

Sometimes illness or loss of income can mean you're forced to fall behind in mortgage payments. This is a serious situation, but not one without recourse.

The Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) has a new booklet advising that timely and frank co-operation with your lender may help avoid foreclosure. Since default is an expensive proposition for lenders, too, you may be able to get yours to agree to a financial plan to save the mortgage. For details, get a free copy of Having Problems Paying Your Mortgage from the Consumer Information Center, Dept. 633G, Pueblo, Colo. 81099.

Your first move is to tell your lender about the problem right away. Then there will be time to work out a solution before your lender begins foreclosure proceedings.

Give the lender the details: why you can't keep up with payments, how this problem arose, and how you plan to remedy the situation. Furnish a detailed account of your necessary expenditures and the assets you can raise. Include wages, union benefits, welfare payments, savings, and investments, even insurance policies you can borrow against.

If you show your good will, the lender may be willing to help you in one of the following ways: —They could rework, or "recast," the mortgage to increase the amount owed by the amount overdue. Payments would then stretch out longer, but the interest rate of the loan would stay the same.

—The lender may grant "forbearance." This means payments are temporarily reduced or suspended in exchange for higher or extended payments later.

—If yours is an FHA mortgage guaranteed by the government, you may be able to arrange for the Department of Housing and Urban Development to assume the mortgage. Then you and HUD can work out a repayment plan. If none of these arrangements are possible and you're in danger of default or foreclosure, it may be better to sell your property or turn it over to the lender. At least this will protect your credit rating for the future, when you're able to think about buying another home.

When you order a copy of Having Trouble Paying Your Mortgage? (free), you'll also receive a copy of the free Consumer Information Catalog. It lists more than 200 selected free or low-cost publications from the federal government. The Catalog is published quarterly by the Consumer Information Center of the General Services Administration.

CHS Class of '69 Gathers for Reunion

Members of the CHS class of '69 came from as far away as France, California and Georgia to join in celebrating their 10-year reunion at Roma Hall in Ann Arbor, Saturday, Aug. 11.

The celebration began with a cocktail hour where former classmates renewed old acquaintances and introduced their spouses. Mimeographed pamphlets including names and messages from all the graduates were passed out to bring everyone up to date. This was followed by a buffet dinner including salad bar and three main entrees.

An evening of music and dancing was provided by The Young Caucasians who enabled the former graduates to reminisce by playing songs of the '60's. Also available was a jukebox filled with old songs previously selected by those who attended. More than 100 persons attended.

The reunion carried over to Sunday, Aug. 12, where a picnic was held at Lyndon Park on North Territorial for all graduates and their families. More than 125 persons attended. A picnic lunch and games were enjoyed by all.

B&E Reported at Vacated Rectory

A breaking and entry at empty St. Mary's rectory, 416 Congdon St., was reported to Chelsea police last week by the Rev. Fr. David P. Dupuis.

According to police reports, entry was gained by breaking glass in the back door. Nothing was taken, as the building has been vacant for some time, and Fr. Dupuis said he believed the incident could have occurred any time between July 1 and Aug. 20.

Real Estate

By PAUL FRISINGER

REALTOR

ABSENTEE OWNERSHIP

If you are one of the many potential real estate investors who have been holding off because you don't have the time to get involved in managing property . . . take heed. There is an excellent alternative.

You can retain a real estate management company to run the property for a fee. Actually, a good management company can effect certain savings for you through its wholesale purchasing power and through its professional expertise. In evaluating a proposed property investment, you should allow enough to pay for professional management. The fee is reasonable and by using their services you will find that real estate will require no more of your time than common stocks.

You will be relieved of day-to-day management chores and receive a monthly statement itemizing income and expenses. A check which represents your investment return will also be enclosed. By handling real estate investments in this manner, busy professional men can enjoy the numerous tax advantages of real estate investment with no time-consuming management details.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at FRISINGER REALTY CO., 935 S. Main St., Chelsea. Phone: 475-8881; evenings 475-2621. We're here to help!

FOND MEMORIES
Eight years ago as I looked into the innocent and charming eyes of my fourth grader, I made them a promise I would follow their school activities and achievements and on the day of their graduation I would be among those that came to say congratulations and best wishes. From then to now I have watched these children grow into adults. My one promise to them of attending graduation ceremonies was broken only because a year ago we moved 700 miles away. I would like to take this opportunity to wish happiness and health to my fourth grade students: Tim Bareis, Becky Bollinger, Jim Breza, Debbie Campbell, Debra D-Smyther, Jody Fahrner, Bill Gaul, Sue Heller, Joan Liebeck, Clifford Markle, Linda McGuire, Tammy Patrick, Eileen Staphish, Mary Spill, Sheila Tarasow, Nancy Tison, Michael Waladyke, Leon Wheeler, John Whitaker, and Larry Woodward. Go forward with gusto and determination just like you did when you were in the fourth grade. Fond Memories, Your Fourth Grade Teacher, Bonnie Meadows.

CARD OF THANKS
I would like to thank my family and friends who made my 80th birthday such a memorable day. Magdalen M. Slocum.

CARD OF THANKS
Thanks to my friends and relatives for making my birthday so happy with cards, flowers, fruit and gifts. Also, to the family from Jackson, Grass Lake, Chelsea and Lincoln, Neb., who gathered at the home of my son, D. W. Dorr and wife in Redford. Velma Dorr.

CARD OF THANKS
I wish to thank our relatives, friends and neighbors, for the prayers, cards, gifts and flowers which I received while I was in the hospital. Also Pastor Ratzliff for his visits and transportation. Cora Beach

Michigan History Magazine Has Colorful New Look

Michigan History magazine, the state's half-century old publication, published six times a year by the Department of State's Michigan History Division, has an all-new colorful look. According to Secretary of State Richard H. Austin, Michigan History now includes articles on historic preservation, popular history, archaeology, as well as interesting historical features. Each issue highlights one of the state's 32 counties, provides a "history happenings" section and review on state's history. Michigan History is featuring "many provocative, interesting stories," Austin said. "These have included articles on the Centennial of the State Capitol, why capital punishment was abolished in Michigan, and how the "discovery" of certain artifacts proved that descendants of Biblical tribes once lived in Michigan. One of the newest aspects of Michigan History emphasizes historic preservation. Articles highlight a growing public interest and awareness of historic preservation and are accompanied by attractive colorful photos. Besides a special issue on county court-house preservation featuring the Michigan History is highlighting other communities which are preserving their architectural heritage. Yearly subscriptions at $7.95 are available by writing to: Michigan History, Box 30029, Lansing 48909. Back issues are also available for $2 each.

A work environment so noisy it is difficult to understand normal conversation at arm's length could present a hazard to hearing ability, warn hearing specialists. Such areas should be quieted, or persons working in such environments should be provided with protective ear devices, the specialists stress.

DETROIT EDISON OFFERS EIGHT IMPORTANT TIPS TO HELP YOU GET THE MOST OUT OF YOUR AIR CONDITIONER THIS SUMMER.

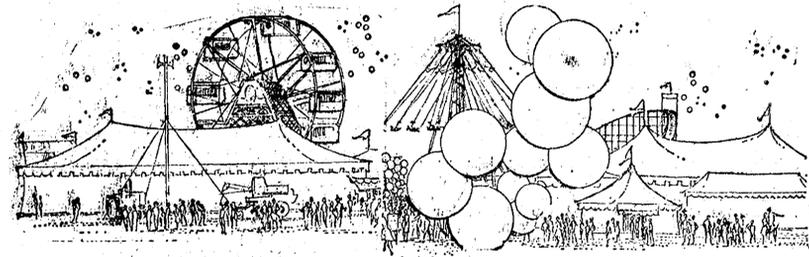

Fortunately, Detroit Edison customers have plenty of electric power available. Now and in the future. It's the result of planning, development and investment and the fact that over 84 percent of Detroit Edison's power is generated from coal, the nation's most abundant fuel. The balance is generated from other fossil fuels. Even so, none of us should waste energy. So follow these tips and stay cool and comfortable all summer long.

- Keep your air conditioner on a moderate setting. When leaving home, set the temperature higher.
- Pull down shades and close draperies to keep out the hot sun.
- Be careful not to block the flow of cool air.
- Shade windows from outside with ventilated awnings, solar screens, trees or shrubs.
- Keep air filter, coils, registers and return ducts clean.
- Cool off hot attic at night with an attic exhaust fan.
- Use heat and humidity-producing appliances—such as your oven, washer and dryer—early in the morning or in the evening.
- If you're buying a new air conditioner, you'll save electricity if you select one with an energy efficiency rating (EER) of 8 or higher. The EER is figured by dividing the BTUs by the watts.

Mr. and Mrs. George Bauer

Observe 50th Anniversary

George and Ruby Bauer were greeted by approximately 200 friends, neighbors and relatives Sunday, Aug. 19 at the Knights of Columbus Hall, to honor them on their 50th wedding anniversary. The couple greeted each and every guest during the three-hour affair and food and drink was enjoyed by all. The event was hosted by the Bauers' five children: Barbara Fredette, Donald Bauer, Norman Bauer and Robert Bauer, all of Chelsea, and Walter Bauer of Williamston. George and Ruby were wed Aug. 19, 1929 at the Congregational church in Chelsea and have lived in the current home all of their married lives. Ruby's sister, who was an attendant at their wedding, was present to share the joy of the day. The Bauers have farmed the land on which they live and have

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

In May, Chelsea Recreation Council called me and asked if I would take Chelsea softball. I said I'd accept the job and be down to talk to them. When I got there, they said I'd have to take Little League, T-Ball, Farm League, Men's softball, Women's softball and co-rec leagues. I accepted the job, because they couldn't get directors to take any of the other leagues at all.

As it turned out, there were no women's or co-rec leagues. So I had over 400 kids and 15 adult teams, averaging 17 men per team. I put ads in the paper for Little League, Farm League and T-Ball coaches, but I still had more kids than coaches.

It takes one coach for a 15-kid team. In June, I had enough coaches for all teams but by the time the season started, we had at least 100 more kids sign up. Where were the coaches?

As it turned out, I had from 15 to 24 kids on a team and that is too damn many kids on one team. The coaches accepted these kids and said there were too many but they would accept the job. And I thank all the coaches who did such a wonderful job with these over-populated teams.

I had rain-out games, and yes, I did have two teams show up on the same night to play a rain-out. That is a lack of communication. And I thank the coaches for working something out to play these games at a later date.

I work in Ann Arbor. I have a full-time job. I cannot check the field at 2 o'clock during the day. If it rains in Chelsea, I'm in Ann Arbor.

And regarding the umpires. We had good umpires. These kids are 12 to 14 years old. They're underpaid as it is. When we have people sitting on the benches hollering at umpires, they quit. Don't sit on the bench and holler. If you want to umpire, the job is open for $4 a game.

I thank the umpires for doing a wonderful job for the money they got. I hope you are offered more next year for the job.

We're The Ones Who Make It Happen.

"Let's make a deal" now on one of our mileage cars.

When it comes to mileage, we're the place to come to. Consider our full-size Chrysler Newport and mid-size LeBaron got better EPA estimated gas mileage than Chevrolet Caprice or Ford LTD. Cordoba comes up with better mileage than Thunderbird or Cougar XR-7. And Volare with standard engine and automatic transmission beats the comparably equipped Granada or Monarch in mileage. Overall, we can offer you five Plymouth models that deliver 25 mpg or better. Chevy has two, Ford one. Like we said, if you're looking for mileage, we're the guys to see. Especially now during our "Let's Make a Deal" Closeout. Every one of our mileage cars must go now. In fact, you may never have a better chance to get into the Chrysler or Plymouth of your choice. So, let's make a deal, shall we? Like, today.

Legislative Update

A Weekly Report from
State Rep. Mary Keith Ballantine
State Capitol, Lansing 48909
Phone (517) 373-1775

Week of Aug. 20-27

SCHOOL REGISTRATION—Governor Milliken has signed into law SB 95, which allows high school staff people to be appointed to register students to vote. It is hoped that this will help get more young people active in the political process.

GAS STATS—Michigan gasoline consumption in the 2nd quarter of this year dropped for the first time in five years, being down 4.7 percent over the same period in 1978. However, due to the 2-cent increase, gas-tax revenues were up 18 percent.

BARE WALLS—Visitors to the Capitol this summer have been surprised to see the legislative chambers completely empty, right down to the cement floors. Worn carpeting is being replaced and a modernized voting system is being installed.

SIGNED OUT—Governor Milliken has now signed all of the budget bills presented to him by the legislature last month. In the process he vetoed line items totalling some $14 million, including the one restricting state spending for abortions to $1. A few more budget bills are yet to be passed next month. The amount vetoed is 0.3 percent of projected state spending.

"SUBURBIA" SPLIT?—Opposite ends of the state have been angling for geographic distinction: there have been periodic proposals to make the Upper Peninsula a separate state; and now next month there will be hearings on HB 4748/4784, which would separate the western communities of Wayne County from the City of Detroit and create the new county of "Suburbia."

BAIL DENIAL—The Attorney General has ruled that last fall's ballot Proposal K, which denied bail to violent and repeat criminals and which was approved by the voters, took effect on December 23 rather than May 1 as originally intended by the legislature. The State Elections Division deleted the May date from the proposal, so it was not voted on and does not pertain.

LIQUOR ADVERTISING—The Liquor Control Commission has scheduled a public hearing for Wednesday, September 5, on the Governor's proposal to eliminate bans on price and brand beer advertising by retailers and on quantity wholesale discounts. This may promote price competition.

SNOWFALL STANDARDS—The Attorney General has ruled that since the legislature did not require it, our Department of Transportation cannot measure snowfall for the purpose of making grants differently than the method established by the U. S. Weather Bureau.

ENERGY CHECKLIST—The Energy Administration has published a free energy checklist for people building or buying a home, designed to help you save precious fuel. For your copy, write the Energy Extension Service, P. O. Box 30228, Lansing 48909; or call 800-292-4704.

NEW COACH: Chelsea High school's new football coach, Eugene LaFave, comes to the Bulldogs with the reputation of building strong programs on firm foundations. He sees high school football as a means to instill good work habits and give a large number of students the chance to participate.

Eugene LaFave Brings Strong Credentials As Football Coach

Memphis, Mich. has a population of approximately 1,121 compared with Chelsea's nearly 3,850. Those 2,729 anonymous Chelsea people who make up the difference are a large part of the reason Eugene LaFave will make his debut coaching Chelsea football this fall.

"I was looking for a small town with a Class B school," said LaFave, "and Chelsea fit the bill."

Memphis, where he had coached since 1973, played in Class C and, said LaFave, was an excellent team for its size. But, he was looking for a larger school, and came out on top in a field of 22 candidates for the head football coaching position at Chelsea High.

LaFave was born and raised in Detroit and attended St. Francis DeSales High school there before being accepted to Eastern Michigan University. There he earned a BS degree cum laude in history, minoring in physical education. He graduated Phi Beta Kappa and was a member of the Stic Honor Society.

A subsequent master's degree in guidance and counseling will be well utilized at Chelsea High school, where LaFave will be a counselor as well as coach.

A return to St. Francis DeSales as a teacher marked LaFave's entry into high school football coaching, as an assistant. He moved to Memphis a year later as head coach and amassed a fine 26-20 record over six years, with a formidable 18-2 mark over the past two seasons.

Coaching awards over the past years include Southern Thumb Coach of the Year in 1974, Class C Coach of the Year in 1978, and Detroit News selections of Class C Region II Coach of the Year and Metro East Coach of the Year.

Looking back at his years in Memphis, where the once-faltering team became a semi-finalist in Class C playoffs in just six years, LaFave assesses his ultimate contribution to be the setting up of a co-ordinated program.

"A coach's biggest asset is in setting up a long-term program for the kids. That's a coach's greatest responsibility, and asset, if he's good," he asserts. LaFave plans to bring similar unified planning to the Chelsea organization.

"I'm interested in a total co-ordination of the program. We'll have a continuous program from 7th and 8th grade up through varsity. Teams will be co-ordinated offensively and defensively to give a sense of continuity to the whole football program."

LaFave is interested in winning and discipline, but he doesn't see these two traditional aims as the ultimate value of football. "The number one thing we'd like to teach is work habits," he stresses. "You learn to come on time, come every day and set goals. From that comes discipline, but discipline isn't the purpose. Learning work habits is."

As far as winning is concerned, LaFave firmly believes that it's "not everything. Doing your best is the ultimate goal. As a coach, what do you do, go into the locker room after a close one and say 'You're losers'? Losing is something one has to learn to live with. You shouldn't be satisfied with losing, but you've got to come to terms with it."

High school football, says LaFave, has a real purpose in a small community, both for the community and the players.

"For the spectacle, it's fantastic. It's a unifying factor in a small town. By no means is it the only such factor, but it is a strong one," LaFave believes. For the players, in addition to instilling work habits, it should be an opportunity to participate.

"I think we should have a lot of kids participate. Even if they're limited in ability, every kid should get a chance to play."

"For a kid with limited abilities, playing maybe seven or eight minutes in a game may be a tremendous achievement. For your super athlete, of course, the goals for achievement are set higher."

LaFave hopes to instill the teams with an enthusiasm and love of playing, often not found at the pro level which high school players sometimes try to emulate.

"I think they (high school football players) identify most with pro football. If you're going to hero worship, there are a lot of negatives in pro ball. Some times these heroes aren't worthy of all that exaltation," he said. "Most fans I know who say they really love football would rather watch high school or college football, because there's effort and enthusiasm you don't find in the pros. I'd rather see our kids identify with enthusiasm and effort."

LaFave's record at Memphis is ample evidence of the power of enthusiasm and effort. In addition to this record, the selection committee which selected LaFave for the position cited his "strong organizational and motivational skills, exemplary private life habits and strong classroom skills."

Chelsea Athletic Director Philip Barels, recently retired from coaching Chelsea football to devote more time to the athletic director position, is enthusiastic about LaFave's selection. "I'm very pleased with the professionalism and desire he's shown in the short time he's been here. We're glad he's here and I'm glad we got him."

YOU IN A NEWPORT? WHY NOT?

Why not, indeed. Especially if you're not yet ready to shrink your car world. Because Newport has a lot to offer you for the money. Good mileage. Value. And the 1979 Chrysler Newport has been redesigned, a beautiful car that still looks like a full-size luxury car. It rides like a full-size car should, too: smooth and quiet. And right now... during our "Let's Make a Deal" days... is probably the best chance you've had yet to get into a '79 Newport. Let your Chrysler-Plymouth dealer show you how easy that could be. Why not today?
