Priorities Set for New School Year

Saturday, Aug. 11, members of Chelsea's Board of Education, school administrators, teacher representatives and a student representative established priorities for the coming school year. These priorities provide the short-range planning and direction for the district.

First, it was decided that Chelsea schools will continue a district-wide plan of curriculum review and will implement appropriate improvements.

In that vein the central curriculum committee and the Board of Education committee will be convened to study district curriculum coordination. The committee will also review the curricular areas of kindergarten through 12th grade health and physical education, language arts, and social studies.

Second, the Chelsea schools will develop and implement a plan to improve the personnel evaluations. It was decided that all personnel be evaluated annually and that the assistant superintendent for operations will review job descriptions and implement an evaluation procedure for all non-certified personnel by Dec. 1, 1979.

Third, the committee decided to continue the development of an effective communication process between and among the staff, the students and the community.

To this end, the committee determined that the Superintendent shall be responsible for organizing, publicizing and conducting monthly discussion sessions which are open to the general public. Also, that the superintendent be responsible for the publication and distribution of both a monthly newsletter for school district employees and the Chelsea Challenge on a quarterly basis.

The administrative staff will be responsible for the development and implementation of a plan designed to improve student attitudes and behavior in the areas of individual and civic responsibility. The superintendent will also be responsible for the development, distribution and compilation of an attitudinal

JV Gridders Drop Opener to Tecumseh

Chelsea's junior varsity footballers ran into a tough Tecumseh squad last Thursday and dropped their season opener, 12-34.

The contest began on a bright note as the Bulldog defense, in the second quarter, faced Tecumseh with first down and goal on the Chelsea three-yard line. Chelsea held firm, yielding not a yard to four consecutive Tecumseh runs.

The fired-up Bulldogs then marched 97 yards for a touchdown, making the score 6-0, Chelsea.

After the half, however, Tecumseh came back with a 47-yard sweep and two-point conversion to take an 8-6 lead. Tecumseh blocked a Chelsea punt later in the quarter and scored on a 20-yard series to bring their lead to 14-6.

Chelsea made a bid to come back in the final quarter with six points on a goal-line plunge that brought them to within four points of their opponents. Tecumseh turned on the steam, though, and scored three more times, on runs of eight and 90 yards and on the 40-yard interception of a Chelsea pass, bringing the final tally to 34-12.

Coach John Schaffner said that in spite of the loss a great deal of improvement was evident in the past week.

"If we continue to improve like we did from the scrimmage to the Tecumseh game," he predicted, "we will be okay."

Schaffner cited several Chelsea strengths in the contest, among them the 329 yards rolled up by the offense and the defense's toughness in staving off Tecumseh's threat at the three-yard line.

He praised blocking by Dave Longe, Doug Henson, Jeff Klink, Tim Whitesall, Tom Headrick and Ken Nicholas.

Bulldogs' passing game was effective, with six completions in eight attempts for 155 yards. However, Schaffner said the team needs work on their pass defense and ball control, the latter evidenced by seven fumbles in the Tecumseh contest.

Ross Murphy had a good game with an interception and 84 yards rushing. Todd Sprague was right behind Murphy with 79 yards gained.

Getting solid tackles for the Bulldogs were Jeff Klink, 9; Ross Murphy, 7; Gary Van Meer, 5;

Standard Building Is Historic Site

Chelsea's Historical Society met Monday, Sept. 10 at McKune Memorial Library and discussed the designation of the Welfare Building (Chelsea Standard building) as a State Historic Site.

Otis Titus, instrumental in the research leading to the official recognition of the building by the Michigan Historical Commission, presented the society with further information.

Also known as the Glazier Building, the Welfare Building was constructed by Glazier Stove Works for the express use of its employees. Many workers commuted by train from the Detroit area and boarded here in Chelsea from Sunday evening to the following Saturday, when they returned home for the night.

There was little entertainment for lonely workers in a strange small town so Glazier erected a magnificent structure for their recreation. It housed a swimming pool, basketball court, club rooms, reading room, small theatrical stage and other facilities.

Glazier was one of the first employers in the country to provide such benefits for the "welfare" of its employees.

During World War II and afterward the building was used for manufacturing, until The Chelsea Standard moved in during the early months of 1960.

Gridders Let Tecumseh Win Opener

An outstanding performance by junior Jeff Dils wasn't quite enough to save Chelsea's varsity gridgers from their own mistakes Friday night, as the Bulldogs fell to Tecumseh at home, 31-20.

Chelsea briefly held the lead, 20-19, in the third quarter but three turnovers and an interception led to their demise as the final minutes ticked away.

Coach Gene LaFave, who made his Chelsea coaching debut in the game, parceled out accountability for the defeat equally between both offense and defense, finding early season weaknesses in both.

"The defense didn't play as well as we'd have liked," he admitted. "Defensively, we've got to put more pressure on the quarterback. But then, the offense put the defense in some real holes. When you lose, you lose together. The offense, performance-wise, put on a good show, but both were responsible for the loss."

Chelsea committed five turnovers, three of them in the final quarter, forcing the defense to work overtime.

Tecumseh drew first blood in the opening quarter, galloping 63 yards across the goal line after intercepting a Chelsea pass from quarterback John Dunn. They again scored on a 15-yard pass and held a 14-0 lead at the end of the first quarter.

The Bulldogs came back with six points on a seven-yard John Dunn pass to Jeff Dils, but Chelsea was soon embarrassed as Tecumseh pulled off a 14-yard touchdown pass on fourth down and 12.

Another Jeff Dils reception of a 19-yard throw, combined with John Preston's two-point conversion, brought the score to 19-14 in favor of Tecumseh at the half.

A well-executed quarterback sneak by Dunn in the third quarter handed the Bulldogs their short-lived lead, but Tecumseh came inexorably back in the fourth quarter to score on an interception with just eight minutes left in the contest. A nine-yard touchdown pass with only one minute to go put the icing on the victory for Tecumseh.

Chelsea's attack was equally divided between the passing and ground games, garnering 142 yards in the air on 19 pass attempts and 155 yards on the ground.

Jeff Dils, in a solid performance, caught eight passes for 142 yards and scored two touchdowns while having a fine game rushing. John Preston gained 99 yards on 17 carries and quarterback John Dunn passed for two touchdowns and ran-in another.

Coach LaFave expressed particularly acute disappointment with the Chelsea loss because he felt Tecumseh was a "beatable team."

"We had heard that they were a team of awesome power," he said, "but we should have beaten them. We could have outscored them because our offense was moving the ball."

The Bulldogs' next contest is Friday, Sept. 14 against Jackson County Western, who dropped their season opener to Albion Friday.

Coach LaFave said Jackson "really throws the football," and for Chelsea to come out on top, the Bulldogs will have to utilize a better pass rush.

"The Tecumseh quarterback had all evening to throw the ball last Friday night," he explained. "We're going to have to rush Jackson's quarterback if we're going to win."

Public Employee Right To Strike Bill

Legislation is in the works to give public employees the right to strike, but a special House subcommittee is approaching it slowly to be sure essential services would never be cut off in the event of an allowed public employee strike.

A proposed bill attempts to stipulate the conditions under which public workers could go on strike.

According to Subcommittee Chairman Perry Bullard (D-Ann Arbor) if a right to strike bill cannot be adopted, then work would go forward on a bill requiring binding arbitration to resolve public employee/employer contract negotiations.

Binding arbitration—a continuation of negotiations while contract terms go on—is now used to settle disputes involving police and firefighters.

Both labor and employer groups, however, have opposed binding arbitration.

Bullard said the committee's main concern is how to resolve disputes within a reasonable period of time rather than allowing them to continue over months, and in some cases, years.

One suggestion brought forth provides the possibility of allowing elections in local areas so the voters can decide if local employees should be allowed to strike or go through binding arbitration.

"If we can't get a state-wide policy, what we're saying is maybe we should decide locally," Bullard said.

A proposed bill would allow public employees to strike and public employers to engage in lockouts if the two sides are unable to reach agreement.

Notice of strike or lockout must be issued at least 15 days before the action. The measure would also prohibit unlawful strikes, such as "sickouts" when employees call in sick instead of coming to work.

Those employees on strike also would waive job protection rights and employers may discontinue active operations.

The bill also is tied to several other bills defining exemptions to legal requirements such as 180-days of instruction in schools.

The measure representatives such as the Michigan Municipal League said they did not want the power to declare lockouts and labor groups, such as the Michigan Education Association, said the strike provisions were unclear.

Great Lakes Fishing Rights Still in Question

The age-old battle among Indian, commercial and sports fishermen continues over rights to fish in the Great Lakes.

The state's Indians believe they have the right to fish the waters without regulation while commercial fishermen feel they are over-regulated. Sports fishermen, meanwhile, want fishing by the others limited so there will continue to be game fish for them to pursue.

Governor William G. Milliken has directed his staff to coordinate the development of a resource management plan for Great Lakes fishing in an effort to ease tensions among the groups.

Additionally, Attorney General Frank J. Kelley said he will continue to press the state's appeal that it has a right to regulate fishing in the Michigan waters of the Great Lakes.

Earlier this year, Federal District Judge Noel Fox ruled state restrictions on fishing methods and catch limits did not apply to Indians, whose hunting and fishing rights are protected by federal treaty.

Milliken said he is concerned about maintaining Michigan's fisheries resource and about the tensions among various fishing interests.

His legal aide Kenneth Frankland has been directed to co-ordinate the development of a fisheries management plan and confer with tribal, commercial and sport fishing interests.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

I see by the papers where this woman whose husband just happens to be big in President Carter's re-election plans was named to head the White House staff at $56,000 a year, which happens to be the same salary of the President's right hand man Jordan. I was not surprised at the woman getting the job or at the wage she's being paid. I didn't realize, though, that we got 200 and some people keeping house for the Carters. It ain't no wonder the First Family gits out of the White House ever chance they git, they must be bumping into one another in there.

The way I see it, Mister Editor, if this new White House staff chief can't figure out how to keep 200 people busy around the place, she earns her money. The question is, do all those White House keepers earn theirs. Some years back, as I recall, a congressman of the out party raised a question about there being four full-time plumbers on the White House payroll. He said they weren't but 20 bathrooms in the place, and it wasn't likely that more than two of them would be out of fix at any given time. That goes to show the kind of shortsighted complaints we got in those days. That congressman must of just blown in to town, or he would of knowed better.

Even us folks out here in the real world away from inflation-proof Washington know that in Government the people always expand to spend more than the money available this year, so you can ask fer more money to git more people next year. Ever one of them 200 people has somebody over him that has to spend his share of the housekeeping budget. Everbody has got to run out before the end of the year because of the mortal fear in all levels of Government that if any is left over Congress will want it back. Having plumbers inventory and lay in supplies for all those bathrooms to carry them through the next budget year is to big a job fer four people. They must have a dozen by now, and with "plumber" taking on a new meaning with Watergate ever one probable is planning to write a book.

I was thinking about how Washington thinks when one of the fellers brought up the new Russian wheat sale during the session at the country store Saturday night. He said the Council on Wage and Price Stability, which keeps tab on inflation, figured out that selling 370 million more bushels of wheat to Russia would raise the price of food in this country two tenths of one percent. To offset this drop in our stocks, the USDA has dropped its program that asks farmers to cut back wheat production 20 percent and reduce our surplus. Now they can raise 20 percent more fer us to sell to Russia to raise the cost of our food again.

Personal, Mister Editor, I plan to write the U.S. Commission on Civil Rights fer my copy of the book on how to make sure I get my slice of good old American pie. With inflation fighting plans like the USDA is using, somebody is bound to go to the cupboard pritty soon and find it bare.

Yours truly,
 Uncle Lew.

Tamara Boyer, Eric Prinzing Wed in Missouri Ceremony

Tamara Boyer of Mexico, Mo., the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Boyer of Montgomery City, Mo., wed Eric Prinzing, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Prinzing of Chelsea, in the United Presbyterian and Methodist church in Montgomery City, Saturday, Aug. 25.

Two candelabra illuminated the altar bedecked with a large basket of white, yellow and peach flowers.

The bride was attired in a white, sleeveless silk organza floor-length gown, with lace applique and flowing train. A wide-brimmed hat adorned her head.

Maid of honor Judy Smith of Montgomery City wore a yellow dotted-swiss organza dress with a ruffled neck and hem and carried silk flowers of yellow and white.

Bridesmaids were Marjo Prinzing, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, from Muskegon, and Mrs. Sheila Boyer of St. Louis, Mo., sister-in-law of the bride. The wore dresses identical to that of the maid of honor.

The bridegroom chose his friend and cousin of the bride James Boyer as his best man. Atendants were Jim Marshall and Chuck Johnson from Chelsea.

Flower girl and ring bearer were the bride's niece and nephew of St. Louis. Ushers were the bride's brother, Rodney Boyer, and the bridegroom's father, George Prinzing.

The Rev. Charles Millnar performed the double-ring ceremony, with soloist Thomas Currie of St. Louis singing "The Wedding Song" and the "Lord's Prayer" to the organ accompaniment of Mrs. Phyllis Rapin.

Susan Prinzing attended the guest book, together with Mrs. Antonetta Gaimolva of St. Louis, aunt of the bride, and the bridegroom's aunt Mrs. Elnore Strange.

The Prinzing family held an open house reception for the couple on Sept. 2 to welcome them to Chelsea.

Those from Chelsea attending the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. Gary Packard and son John, Mr. and Mrs. Don Noye and daughter Krista, Mrs. Ruby Sanders, the bride's grandmother, and Mike Boyer.

Debra A. Duffey, Mark Winters Wed at Methodist Church

Chelseaites Debra Ann Duffey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Duffey of Chelsea, was joined in marriage with Mark Douglas Winters, son of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Winters of Ann Arbor Saturday, Sept. 1 at the Methodist church of Chelsea, with the Rev. Parker officiating.

The bride was attired in a white satin gown with a lace bodice, long full lace sleeves and fingertip veil.

Matron of honor was Shannon McClay of Ann Arbor and Sheri Duffey of Chelsea, sister of the bride, and Jill Barrett of Chelsea were bridesmaids. They wore long empire gowns of a soft rose print and long, full beige sleeves.

Mother of the bride chose a long empire-style dark brown gown trimmed with beige. The bridegroom's mother was attired in a long pink empire-style gown.

James Rumpel of Ann Arbor was best man. Brothers of the bridegroom, Paul Winters and Bruce Winters of Ann Arbor were ushers.

A cousin of the bride, Kim Kaminski of Warren, was flower girl.

Music at the ceremony was provided by the brother of the bridegroom, Kevin Winters of Ann Arbor.

A reception following the ceremony was held at the home of the bride's parents. The three-tiered cake served to guests was made by Judy Radant of Chelsea.

The couple left for a two-week wedding trip to Wyoming and will reside in Ann Arbor upon their return.

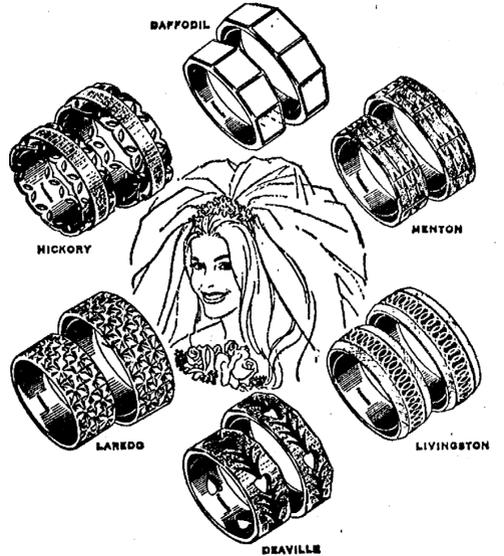

The bride is employed by the Institute for the Study of Mental Retardation and Related Disabilities at the University of Michigan. Her husband is employed by University Microfilms, Xerox, Inc., in Ann Arbor.

Children at Chelsea Co-Op Nursery began school last week. Teacher Pam Zahn has already planned several activities for the month of September.

Children will visit the Dexter Cider Mill to make applesauce and take a nature walk in the woods. They will also be doing art projects and learning songs and stories with a fall theme.

Anyone with a pre-school child who would like to join in the fun should contact Carol Trinkle, 475-8970, or Marsha Hansen, 475-9718.

Hermosillo, a Chelsea resident and first generation Mexican, supported the spirit of the project by bringing along sombreros from his native country. He commended the band on its invitation and expressed his personal pride in the band as a member of the community.

ASK THE GOVERNOR

by William G. Millham

Question: From time to time I hear about grants to Michigan from the Upper Great Lakes Regional Commission. What is this commission?

Governor: Since its inception in 1967, the Upper Great Lakes Regional Commission (UGLRC) has worked to provide balanced growth and economic development in the northern regions of Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota. The commission assists this region because the area historically has been characterized by population outmigration, high unemployment, low income levels, and an unstable economy—resulting in part from extensive exploitation of the region's natural resources.

The commission has worked closely with other federal, state and local agencies, as well as with the private sector and citizens of the region. These activities have started to produce some dramatic results—bringing about economic and social recovery in the Upper Great Lakes region.

Since the commission's establishment, it has awarded more than $30.8 million in grants to Michigan communities, resulting in construction projects totaling $138 million.

During a recent meeting of UGLRC on Mackinac Island, Michigan received $84,240 in grants to continue the operation of the Michigan Office of UGLRC and its investment program and to fund other projects.

The grants will also provide technical assistance to help launch the new economic development center at Ferris State College in Big Rapids. The center will serve western Michigan industries and communities. A grant was also awarded to continue the support of existing regional development programs in Marquette, Houghton, Gaylord and Traverse City.

During the last five years, a total of 1,042 small businesses and 453 communities have received significant assistance through this program, which has developed into one of the best of its kind in the nation. Since last October, the centers have helped create 2,872 new jobs and have assisted in saving 745 others in Michigan's 45 northernmost counties.

While the UGLRC grants directly assist northern Michigan communities, they indirectly assist all Michigan residents by improving the economic climate.

Question: Is anything being done to keep Michigan energy officials advised of national nuclear energy activities?

Governor: I have asked for a special briefing for state policy makers on the national program for the disposal of high-level nuclear waste. Michigan's continued use of nuclear power plants and the resultant production of high-level nuclear waste necessitates continued monitoring and evaluation.

Federal policies—including the regional approach to nuclear waste disposal, the development of schedules and programs for locating facilities, and the construction of a waste disposal pilot plant in New Mexico—may affect Michigan's decisions on future energy policies.

Current state law prohibits the disposal of nuclear waste in Michigan, but it also requires the Legislature to conduct an assessment of the impact of this prohibition by next spring.

Therefore, I plan to appoint a committee through the Office of Science and Technology to advise me and the Legislature on the development of future state policies related to nuclear waste disposal. I am proposing that the committee be made up of representatives of state agencies, the Legislature and the private sector.

Question: Is the state still considering assistance for Chrysler Corporation?

Governor: Yes. The state will do all it can, within the bounds of responsible fiscal policy, to help Chrysler help itself through this particularly difficult period.

Michigan, with more than 80,000 Chrysler employees, has much to lose from its failure.

My office has been in contact with the governors of the other states with Chrysler plants, with federal officials and with local government officials from Michigan communities with Chrysler facilities or facilities which supply Chrysler. We are working together to come up with a plan of assistance for Chrysler which will help the corporation help itself.

Why not, indeed. Especially if you're not yet ready to shrink your car world. Because Newport has a lot to offer you for the money. Good mileage. Value. Gridders of the Week

JEFF DILS, left, didn't hesitate in making his contribution to the 1979 Bulldogs, as he played a superb game last Friday. The 5'10", 140-pound junior caught eight passes for 142 yards and two touchdowns and had a fine game rushing. Dils also plays baseball and basketball for Chelsea.

MIKE KILLELEA, center, starting tailback for the Bulldogs, played an exciting opening game for Chelsea last week. Coach LaFave pointed to Killelea as the key to Chelsea's running attack and said that most of the yardage gained on the ground was his. The 6'4", 185-pound senior also plays baseball for the Bulldogs.

DAVE MORRIS, right, is the perfect example of the rewards to be gained by hard work and perseverance. A player on the specialty team, the 5'5", 170-pound senior was noticed by Coach LaFave for his diligence in practice. As a result, he received a starting assignment at noseguard for this week's game against Jackson County Western, where his determination will be brought to bear on the opposition.

Today's Investor

By Thomas E. O'Hara
Q. I understand that some corporations have a plan where you can turn your dividends over to them and they will buy you more stock in their company without any charge. Can you tell me how I can get in touch with companies that offer this service?

A. I have seen figures that there are now over 1,100 corporations with such programs. They are called Dividend Reinvestment Plans. Standard and Poor's Corporation publishes a list of these companies. Also they advise on the data sheet that they prepare for corporations whether or not the corporation has such a plan. That is the only published list of such companies that I know of.

You will find Standard and Poor's publications in many public libraries and in most brokerage offices.

The number of corporations offering these plans is growing steadily and the best thing to do is write the Secretary or Treasurer of a company you are interested in and ask if it has such a plan.

The plans are not all alike. In some cases corporations pay the cost of purchasing the stock your dividends buy. In some cases they do not. Each corporation that has such a plan will be pleased to give you a full description of its plan so you will know what the ground rules are.

A new way to join these plans that can be easier and cheaper for you has been developed by the Individual Investors Division of the National Association of Investment Clubs. That organization has bought stock in a number of corporations with Dividend Reinvestment Plans and joined them. It now serves as a conduit for its members to join these plans. The member does not have to go out and buy the first share himself and then do the paper work required to enter the plans.

One interesting development is the offering of their stock through these plans by some corporations at a discount from the market price. These plans make it possible for an individual to start with a small investment, add to his holding on a regular basis and eventually acquire a larger holding of stock. They can be used as a stock installment purchase plan.

Mr. O'Hara welcomes your questions, but will answer them only through this column. Readers who send in questions on general investment subject or on a corporation with broad investor interest and who questions are used, will receive a complimentary year's subscription to the investment magazine, Better Investing. We would be pleased to send a complimentary copy of Better Investing or information about Investment Clubs to any reader requesting it. Send 50 cents for postage and write to: Today's Investor, P. O. Frosh Gridders Win First Two Chelsea's frosh footballers started out their 1979 season right with two quick victories within just a week. The Bulldogs edged Stockbridge last Thursday, 18-14, and beat Jackson County Western Tuesday, 12-6.

In Thursday's contest, Stockbridge went out to an early lead with two quick touchdowns in the first quarter. But, before half-time, Chelsea's Russell Harris scored twice on runs of five and two yards, giving Stockbridge a half-time lead of just two points, 14-12.

"We played a lot better in the second half," Coach Wayne

Welton said. "We really had command of the game."

In that second half, Rod Robeson scored a touchdown on a 28-yard run and followed by a two-yard scoot across the goal line, to end the game's scoring at 18-14, Chelsea.

Chris Seitz started at quarterback and was relieved by Matt Villemure in the second quarter. Villemure, Welton said, did "an outstanding job running the offense."

Robeson carried 15 times for 120 yards and Russell Harris carried nine times for 51 yards. Villemure completed one of three passes, one of 21 yards to David Weber.

Coach Welton attributed some shaky play to "not practicing over Labor Day week-end. We weren't ready to hit because we hadn't hit in a while."

The defense was led by Mike Neibauer with 12 tackles, Rod Robeson with 10, and Wayne Smith and Matt McCallum with eight each.

Quarterback Villemure, playing defensively in the third quarter, helped his cause by intercepting a pass to set up a touchdown.

Tuesday's contest with Jackson County Western was, according to Coach Welton, "sloppily played by both teams, with a lot of penalties. As a result of that, the score was tied at zero at half-time."

Scoring began in the third quarter when Jackson County rolled up six points following a Chelsea turnover.

Bulldogs got the ball again and Rod Robeson and Russell Harris moved it down the field for a Robeson score to tie the game, 6-6.

With just four minutes left in the 4th quarter, David Weber recovered a J.C. Western fumble. Matt Villemure hit Weber with a 3-yard touchdown pass, giving Chelsea the game.

Robeson ran 25 times for 92 yards, Harris added 52 and Kevin Richardson ran for 11.

Villemure completed two passes for 49 yards and Matt McCallum caught a 15-yard pass.

Defensively, Robeson led with 10 tackles, Weber had eight and Mike Neibauer and Richardson made seven each.

Harris intercepted a pass late in the game and returned it for 15 yards. Doug Pagliarini and Weber each recovered fumbles for Chelsea.

Freshman Bulldogs next meet with Tecumseh University, Sept. 18, 7 p.m. at home.

Children who will enter Chelsea kindergarten in September 1980 are invited to participate in the annual pre-school screening of the Parent Readiness Education Project (PREP). The screening sessions will be by appointment and last about 30 minutes.

Every child in the Chelsea School District whose birthday falls between Dec. 2, 1974 and Dec. 1, 1975 is eligible for this screening. Children who need some extra readiness activities in order to ensure a successful kindergarten experience will be selected for the program, which meets one morning a week during the school year.

If you do not receive a letter by Sept. 18 indicating an appointment time, please call North school, 475-9131, ext. 60.

Morgans Are Big Winners at Convention

Sam and Nancy Morgan of Trinkle Rd. attended the Stanley Home Products national convention, Sept. 4-7, in St. Louis, Mo., and unexpectedly came home with more than they had left with.

Sam won the $500 door prize and Nancy brought home the "Gold Cup Banquet."

Bob Hope was one of the entertainers at the four-day event and the Morgans found time to attend a St. Louis Cardinals baseball game before returning.

Firemen Called For Blaze in Overturned Cycle

Chelsea firemen were summoned just once this week, to Old US-12 East near Freer Rd. where a home-made motorcycle tipped and ignited late Monday afternoon, Sept. 10.

According to Fire Chief James Gaken, gasoline from the three-wheeled vehicle sloshed on a hot engine when the bike overturned, causing the small blaze.

Gaken said the motorcycle was destroyed but no one was injured.

MICHIGAN FARM BUREAU EDITORIAL

What If the EPA Had Come to the Boston Tea Party?

Have you ever wondered how the American Revolution would have been handled if we had then all the government rules and regulations we have now?

For example: Participants in the Boston Tea Party would be charged with illegal dumping by the EPA.

The Federal Trade Commission would require the Minutemen to change their name because it takes longer than a minute for them to become battle-ready.

Paul Revere's horse would probably be considered an endangered species and poor Paul would be cited for excessive noise.

The FTC would have changed the statement "shot heard round the world" because the shot was heard only 573.5 yards away.

Betsy Ross would be cited by the Labor Department for not being a member of the International Ladies Garment Workers Union.

The Equal Opportunities Commission would have struck the phrase "We hold these truths to be self evident that all men are created equal" from the Declaration of Independence and changed the wording to "persons are created equal."

The Coast Guard and Army Corp of Engineers would no doubt be upset about General Washington's crossing of the Delaware.

The General Services Administration would have ordered the troops home because they didn't have adequate footwear.

The list could go on and on. One of the biggest problems that would have been faced in the struggle 200 years ago would have been the cost of all the rules and regulations. In fact, we can hardly afford them now. A recent Congressional study found that federal regulations cost businesses and individuals more than $102 billion in fiscal 1979, and these federal regulatory costs are rising faster than increases in either the federal budget or the gross national product.

10 ways to go farther on a tank of gas

(Without having to buy a smaller car or driving less.)

It's a fact of life — gas is getting more expensive and there is less gas available. These days, it's more important than ever to squeeze more miles from each fill-up. Rampy wants to show you how good car maintenance, informed driving habits and advanced Chevrolet engineering can help you save fuel and money.

1 Keep your car properly tuned and maintained.

If your engine is badly out of tune, it could waste up to five percent of its fuel. Dirty air and oil filters, fouled spark plugs, fast idling and improper ignition timing also can significantly reduce mileage. Also, make sure your brakes aren't dragging or your transmission slipping — these defects cause friction and make your engine work harder.

2 Check your tires for proper inflation pressure.

Under-inflated tires waste gas because their higher rolling resistance makes your engine work harder and burn more fuel. For additional gas mileage, inflate your tires to the top end of the manufacturers specifications.

3 Equip your car with steel-belted radial tires.

Radial tires, due to their inherently superior construction and design, offer better mileage than bias-ply tires. Radials cost more, but they will probably cost you less in the long run through better mileage and longer wear.

4 Make sure your wheels are correctly aligned.

Properly aligned and balanced wheels reduce road friction and give your car better mileage.

5 Don't drive too fast.

Driving at high speeds dramatically reduces fuel economy. Tests show that you'll get about 20 percent better mileage at 50 mph than at 70 mph.

6 Avoid "jackrabbit" starts or "riding the brake".

Gradual, even acceleration uses a minimum of gas. Constant braking creates unnecessary friction and also wastes gas. Try to anticipate stops — take your foot off the pedal and let the car coast up to the intersection. You'll also get improved mileage by getting into high gear quickly. If you drive an automatic, lift your foot off the accelerator to make it shift earlier.

7 Plan your trips.

If you must make several short trips, group them together to take advantage of engine heat — a warm engine is more fuel-efficient. Don't carry around a lot of extra, unnecessary weight like tire chains, golf clubs, luggage, etc. if you don't plan to use your cargo.

8 Reduce the use of your air conditioner.

When possible, use the air conditioner's vent position to circulate air; its quieter and cleaner than rolling down the windows. Try to park in the shade to keep your car cooler so you won't need the air conditioner to cool off the car.

9 In winter, don't warm your engine by idling

Try to get your car on the road immediately — a moving car engine gets the oil flowing faster to cut friction. Studies show that in cold weather, your car might get as little as one mile per gallon if you keep it still because the engine block stays so cold that the oil circulates poorly.

10 Buy a new Chevrolet car or truck from Rampy.

During the past five years, GM engineers have increased its passenger car fleet fuel economy average by almost 60%. In fact, if every car on the road were a new Chevrolet, the U.S. would save over 11 billion, six hundred million gallons of gasoline per year. Nationwide fuel economy would increase by 14%... and there wouldn't be a gas shortage!

Real Estate

By PAUL FRISINGER

REALTOR

HINDSIGHT HURTS

If you happen to be an old newspaper collector, you should have a valuable insight into the wisdom of investing in real estate during inflation. As a case in point, one home recently sold for $52,000. Five years ago this same home sold for $35,000.

True, prices were never higher but for that matter, prices probably will never be lower either. For example, if this $35,000 home increased in value at a rate of only 6% per year, in ten years it will be worth $62,680. In twenty years, the same house will be selling at $112,250. And a 6% appreciation is conservative in these days of double digit inflation.

When mortgage money is tight, the opportunity to buy the right home at the right price will never be better. When the flow of money increases, so does the demand for homes and, consequently the scarcity of selection at the right price. Shakespearean advice applies: If to buy or not to buy is the question, 'twere well if it were done now.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at FRISINGER REALTY CO., 935 S. Main St., Chelsea. Phone: 475-8681; evenings 475-2621. We're here to help!

Let:

Keep It Simple

$1000 Average Minimum Balance = No Service Charge on Local Business Checking Accounts

Most banks use a complex mathematical formula to compute service charges on business checking accounts. At "The Bank of Trust" we keep it simple. Our Commercial Checking Plan is designed for the local small business. All you have to do is maintain an average balance of $1,000, and you'll never pay a service charge. It's that simple! There are no flat fees charged, no fees for deposits, items deposited or checks drawn. Should your monthly minimum average balance be less than $1,000, a charge of $5 will be assigned.

Compare our simple formula with the other banks and you'll see how less of your money can do more for you.

Stop by our Chelsea Banking Office today where you'll receive prompt, courteous service. We are open Monday through Thursday from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., Friday 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. and Saturday from 9 a.m. to noon.

Legislative Update

A Weekly Report from State Rep. Mary Keith Ballentine
State Capitol, Lansing 48909
Phone (517) 373-1775

Week of Sept. 10-17

Speed Check—State Police are cracking down on violators of Michigan's 55 mile an hour speed limit. Troopers are now issuing verbal warnings to those exceeding 55 while issuing tickets to those over 60 miles an hour.

Holiday Mark—Michigan's motorists logged over 682 million miles of travel last Labor Day week-end. That was a decrease of 1.9% from last year's all-time record of 695 million miles for a four-day Labor Day week-end.

"Good Time" Off—Governor Milliken has approved rules which allow the Corrections Department to revoke "good time" (time off for good behavior) for prisoner assaults on guards. The action was in response to a court decision restoring "good time" to inmates assaulting guards at Marquette State Prison.

Hunting Breaks—Duck hunters will have earlier shooting hours and a liberalized point system during the 1979 duck season which starts Sept. 20 in the Upper Peninsula and Oct. 4 in the Lower Peninsula. Shooting hours will start one-half hour before sunrise to sunset this year. The liberalized point system will allow hunters to take more ducks.

Movie Advice—Governor Milliken recently established Michigan's first Film and Television Services Advisory Council. The Council will be responsible for advising the State Commerce

Director on ways to promote Michigan Talent for film, commercial and television production, thus creating more jobs and boosting our State's economy.

Red Turns—The Michigan Department of Transportation is asking all cities, villages and counties to re-examine the need for "No Turn on Red" signs placed at some intersections. The request is the result of a national study that reveals right turns on red reduce the total number of accidents and save motorists time and fuel.

State Fair Grounds—Governor Milliken has recommended several improvements at the State fair grounds. In the first phase of fair grounds renovation, the Governor is proposing improved parking facilities, revising streets for better traffic flow, and construction of a new 125,000-square-foot exhibition building.

Formal Inauguration—Michigan State University is planning a formal inauguration for its 16th University President, Dr. Cecil Mackey. The formal installation will be the first in the University's history. The inauguration is planned for Nov. 30. Dr. Mackey has served as MSU President since early August.

Brickley Named—Governor Milliken has designated Lieutenant Governor James Brickley to serve as co-ordinator of activities with Wayne county during the county's current fiscal crisis. Brickley will direct the preparation of contingency plans in the event that services in Wayne county are stopped due to a lack of funds.

Homeowners insurance is homeowners insurance, right? Wrong.

Auto-Owners home-owners insurance is different. Not only in the way we handle claims (Auto-Owners built its reputation on fast, fair claims service). Not only in the personal attention we give (another Auto-Owners trademark). Or in the way we could save you money (our low rates are famous). But, in our whole outlook on home-owners insurance, with innovative, imaginative policies that make sure you get just what you need, for just what you want to pay. So, if you're thinking you'd be wrong if you didn't call Auto-Owners . . . you're right.

Priorities Set for New School Year

survey designed to determine the expectations and attitudes of the community toward the school system.

Fourth, the Chelsea schools will study the ramifications of financial and/or energy limitations in terms of projects and procedures by developing and implementing long-range planning for energy usage, facilities and budgeting by Feb. 18, 1980, and also be developing recommendations for maximizing the use of existing and potential sources of revenue by Feb. 18, 1980.

Fifth, the school district will review and evaluate the athletic programs to determine whether their focus and goals are in the best interest of students, faculty, parents and community.

To accomplish this, the Board of Education will appoint an ad hoc committee by Oct. 1, 1979 which will accumulate data from students, parents, faculty, community and professional counselors on their perception of present athletic programs and their opinions as to desired changes.

A survey will examine the following areas: extent of participation (extra-curricular and intramural), general attitudes, finances and faculty use.
