CHS Homecoming Fun Starts Oct. 8 Jackie Schiller Becomes Recreation Program Director

Student Council has taken the challenge this year to organize homecoming week at Chelsea High school.

Monday, Oct. 8 students will start the week by wearing a personal tag which will be given to them in their first hour class.

In the evening at 7 o'clock two games of powder puff will be played: Senior gals vs. Freshman gals and Sophomore gals vs. Junior gals.

Tuesday, students are to come to school dressed up in nice clothes. Points will be given to the class with the most participants.

Wednesday is "dress down" day and students are to wear old, messy clothes. Wednesday evening is the powder puff championship game.

Thursday, students are to dress in yellow and brown to represent bananas as a prelude to that evening's banana eating contest. Thursday evening there will also be an obstacle course, tug-of-war and an egg toss contest.

Finally, on Friday students will dress in the traditional blue and gold. At 6 p.m. the homecoming parade with floats from each class will march through town. Prizes will be awarded for the best decorated floats.

Following the parade, Chelsea's varsity Bulldogs will take on Saline. Homecoming Queen will be presented during halftime and the evening will conclude with dancing until midnight in the high school.

At first glance, Chelsea banking and Chelsea sports might not seem to have very much to do with one another. For energetic Jackie Schiller, however, they are just two more ways that she's involved with her favorite town.

Schiller, an assistant supervisor at Chelsea State Bank, recently was approved by Village Council to be the new head of the Chelsea Recreation Council.

While some problems in the council have been evident lately, Schiller is looking forward to a successful term as director. "I think I will do well because I do know the community so well," she explained. "There are many resources I can draw on for help because I know what resources are available."

Familiarity with Chelsea and its residents is an asset that Jackie Schiller notes with pride. An almost life-long Chelsea resident herself, she recalls her first exposure with the Recreation Council as a girl when she took a tennis class under its auspices. Now, years later, the council is under her direction.

One of her first changes was to move the council office from the municipal building into the Community Education Office. "There," she said, "the phones will be covered from 9 a.m. until 8 p.m. for any questions or problems the public might have with the council."

Schiller is also consulting with the directors of the Ann Arbor and Saline recreation programs to get some ideas for next summer's activities. Meanwhile, she is overseeing the winter council programs such as little girls cheerleading, adult co-ed volleyball, senior citizens fitness program and the "women's night out."

One of three candidates originally interested in the directorship vacated by Robin Raymond's resignation, Schiller was the only one without a professional background in recreation or sports. But, she points out, the other two were not Chelsea residents, which may be the most important asset of all.

"A lot of people say to me, 'Why don't you leave Chelsea? How can you stay in a dead town like this?' But I've just stayed here and enjoyed it and, do you know, I see them all coming back here to live."

Schiller is an avid tennis player, both doubles and singles, and participated in the limited number of sports available to girls when she attended high school. Besides her supervisory job at the bank and occasional courses at Washtenaw and Jackson community colleges, she has been heavily involved in planning and running the fair queen contest for the past four years.

What gives Jackie Schiller confidence that she can successfully add the recreation job onto such a formidable list?

"For a banker," she affirms, "everything has to be in order."

Swimming Lessons Offered

Annual fall lesson program at the Charles S. Cameron Pool has begun. This year's program is being supervised by Mrs. Nora Williams, who has been responsible for the tremendous success of the summer learn to swim program over the past two years.

Lessons are available for children three years old and up. Lessons from the staff of certified swimming instructors are $10 for eight weeks.

Also this fall, at 1:30 p.m. Saturdays, the pool staff will be offering diving lessons and basic survival (formerly junior lifesaving) courses. For information, call the Chelsea pool after 3:30 p.m. any week-day, or report to the pool this Saturday at noon.

Band Chosen for Adrian College Homecoming

By special invitation from the Adrian College Homecoming Committee, the 105-member "Pride of Chelsea" Marching Band will perform pre-game and half-time for Adrian College homecoming activities. The

Girls Swim Team Off to Fast Start

The 1979 version of the Chelsea High school girls swimming team is taking off faster than any of its predecessors. The girls took 11 medals in the Milan Relays, broke one school record and had five swimmers qualify for the state meet in December.

Leading the way were Anita Powell, two medals and one state qualifying event; Celeste Powell, one medal; Shannon Springer, two medals, one state qualifying event; Kristen Thomas, three medals and one state qualifying event; and Sara Borders, three medals and two state qualifying events.

Tuesday, the squad lost its first meet since October of 1977 to a powerful Class A Adrian team, 100-72. A bright note was the varsity records and state qualifying times garnered by Sara Borders, 200-yard free and 100-yard fly, and Kristen Thomas, 200-yard IM and 500-yard free.

Other excellent performances were turned in by Lisa Radke in IM, Teresa Degener in IM and breaststroke, Celeste Powell in butterfly, Sue Cobb and Pam Spayd in backstroke, Mary Bacon and Annette Kuhl in the 200 and 500 freestyles, Anita Powell in the 50 and 100 freestyles and Michele Clark diving.

Thursday, the team started a new winning streak with a 102-67 pounding of Riverside High school. Winners for Chelsea included Kristen Thomas (varsity record), Sara Borders in 200 IM and 500 free (under last year's varsity records and just missing state qualifying in each), Anita Powell in 50 free, Michele Clark in diving, Lisa Radke in 100 free and Mary Bacon, Annette Kuhl, Kristen Thomas and Shannon Springer in the 400 free relay.

Other outstanding swims were made by Sue Cobb, Barb Davis, Celeste Powell, Teresa Degener and Janine Hoffman. Excellent dives were recorded by Michelle Alexander and Mary Bacon.

Chelsea's next meet is tonight, Sept. 27, against Jackson High school and Albion.

JV Gridders Sunk By Okemos Machine

It was almost like a forecast of the yet-to-be-played varsity game Thursday night, as the JV Bulldogs fell to a mighty Okemos football team, 47-8.

Chelsea's lone touchdown came on a 90-yard pass play in the final quarter. Okemos scored twice in the first quarter, once in the second, and twice in each of the third and fourth quarters.

The Chieftains rolled up a whopping 527 total yards in the contest, compared with Chelsea's 243, which came mostly on passing. Steve Grau threw to Mike Bareis for 62 yards and to Toby Boyd for 90. Leading tacklers for Chelsea were Brian Cooper with eight, Sam Coomes with seven and Mike Bareis, Steve Grau and Dave Languie with four each.

Craig Olmstead made an outstanding fumble recovery for the Bulldogs.

According to Chelsea Coach Jon Schaffner: "Okemos has the best JV football team I've ever seen in 17 years, but it did include several juniors."

The Bulldogs next play at Milan Thursday evening, Sept. 27 at 7 p.m.

Symphony Band Plans Fund-Raising Events

While plans for the Chelsea Symphony Band "Slave Auction" are already underway, band officers have announced a full slate of events planned to promote the band's "Mexican Festival Project."

As band members "go up for bids" on Friday, Sept. 18 at the home football game, tickets are being printed for the second activity planned, the Mexican Festival Project Sweepstakes, an opportunity for two to win an all-expense paid trip to Mexico with the band. The lucky winners will be announced in February when the winning ticket is drawn at the Pre-Festival Concert. Sweepstakes tickets will be available from any member of the Symphony Band.

Also in February, the Symphony Band will work their way to Mexico by presenting a dinner dance, to be held at UAW Local 1284 on Saturday, Feb. 9. Band members will prepare and serve the dinner as well as provide music for the evening.

Another project planned by the band is the conversion of old instruments into decorative household objects. The instruments, which are no longer in playing condition, will be used for such items as macrame planters, table lamps, etc.

While there will continue to be no charge for admission to band concerts for the 1979-80 school year, contributions will be taken at the door with all proceeds going to the Mexican Festival Project.

Aside from all these projects, their marching schedule and their concert schedule, Symphony Band members will put forth their best efforts, as usual, in the current candy sale and the upcoming fruit cake sales as each band member attempts to do his or her part in earning the $18,000 needed for the trip.

Bulldog Grid Team Rocked By Okemos

Chelsea's wrinkled varsity mascot bulldog grunted, turned his back to the field and flopped wearily onto the ground. Bulldog fans felt like following his example Friday night, as they witnessed their team's shellacking by the Okemos Chieftains, 43-7.

Chelsea managed to hold Okemos scoreless in the second half, but the damage had already been done by six Chieftain touchdowns in the first.

To its credit, Chelsea is the only team to have scored on Okemos thus far this season in three contests. Even mighty Holt, who had gone to the state finals last year, failed to appear on the scoreboard against the Chieftains.

The Bulldogs' only scoring came with just three and one-half minutes left in the contest, as John Dunn dumped a one-yard touchdown pass to Brad Knickerbocker, capping a 70-yard march by the offense. Knickerbocker booted the extra point to account for all seven of Chelsea's points.

Many Chelsea fans hadn't even seated themselves when the Chieftains drew first blood on a touchdown only 43 seconds into the contest. Okemos scored three more TDs in the first quarter, one on a punt return of about 70 yards. The opponents even managed to turn a bungled extra-point kick attempt into a two-point conversion.

Two more seven-pointers in the second quarter ended the Okemos scoring, but by then Chelsea's chances were ended too.

Coach Gene LaFave refused to let the disheartening loss brand his team a loser.

"Our kids took some pride in that game," LaFave said. "Things could have been a whole lot worse, but we wouldn't let it happen. We showed real courage and it's going to help us the rest of the season."

"Offensively, we can move the football. The question is, can our defense keep us in the football game so we're not put in the position of having to look for the big play."

In spite of the obvious demoralizing effect such a loss has on a team, LaFave is glad the Bulldogs had a chance to share the field with a powerhouse like Okemos.

"It's an interesting experience," he explained, "because you see where you have to get to be competitive at the state level. It's nice to set a standard such as that for ourselves. We'll get there. I'm very confident we'll get there."

Chelsea's next contest is a home game with winless Milan, who is 0-1-1 so far this season. LaFave calls Milan "extremely quick, the quickest football team we'll see all year. They're not a power team. They try to finesse you and they're good at it."

Senior Citizen Center Bustling With Activity

Chelsea's new Senior Citizen Activity Center, located at 134 W. Middle St., is now open daily from 1 to 5 p.m. A wide variety of activities and trips are planned for the coming months.

Monthly trips include the following excursions: Oct. 24, Autumn Nights and Early Lights, Greenfield Village; Nov. 14, Mystery Trip with a little walking and a great luncheon. December's trip is yet to be announced.

Daily activities are many and varied. Each week will feature a craft time, educational program day, sewing period for the Country Store, Game Day and a

THE HONORABLE KENNETH BRONSON

Bronson To Speak at United Way Dinner

The Honorable Kenneth Bronson, judge of 14th District Court, will be principal speaker at the annual Chelsea United Way campaign dinner, Wednesday, Oct. 3 at 7 p.m. at Chelsea Community Hospital dining room. The Rev. Merle Bradley will give the invocation and serve as master of ceremonies.

This dinner meeting will mark the beginning of the Chelsea United Way campaign, under the leadership of Dale Schumann, to raise $41,000 for 36 human service agencies.

"We are greatly honored to have Judge Bronson as our speaker," Will Connelly, president of Chelsea United Way, told The Standard. "He hears thousands of cases in his Chelsea courtroom with fairness and compassion."

Judge Bronson first came to the Chelsea bench in January. He is noted for creating the deferred sentencing program, which allows many first offenders—after suitable labor, jail time or rehabilitative acts—to have the charges expunged from their criminal records.

This action has saved the careers of many people who would otherwise not be employable in their chosen field. "Judge Bronson's innovative justice results in bringing almost entirely no repeat offenders back to his courtroom," Connelly said.

Bronson has also created a work program through the court which is used instead of jail sentences for individuals whom the court feels do not belong in jails but do deserve a reminder, in addition to a financial one, that their activities are not condoned.

Girls Basketball Team Splits Two

Chelsea High school's female cagers hit a temporary snag last week when they dropped their opening SEC game to Jackson County Western, 62-45, but came roaring back Thursday to record a non-league trouncing of Stockbridge, 55-40.

The normally-tough defense faltered against Western and the SEC's newest team made the most of the opportunity. Running an effective fast break and hitting the open person inside led to 18 first-quarter points for the Panthers against Chelsea's 11.

"Our transition game was slow," said Coach Jim Winter. "We usually don't give up 18 points in the first half, let alone the first quarter."

The Bulldogs did gain momentum in the second quarter to pull within one point of the opposition, but once again Jackson took control, scoring 13 unanswered points to lead, 31-17, at the half.

A disastrous third quarter finished off the Chelsea squad as Jackson outscored them, 20-9. The Bulldogs popped in 19 points of their own in the final quarter, but the Panther lead was too much to overcome.

Nanette Push led the team effort with 14 points, nine rebounds and three steals. Jennifer Ringe followed with 13 points, one rebound and three steals. Mary Boylan scored 10 points, grabbed 13 rebounds and executed one steal.

Thursday, the defense was back on track at Stockbridge and the Bulldogs pulled out season victory number three against just one loss.

At the end of the first eight minutes it looked like it might be another long evening for the varsity. A nip-and-tuck first quarter ended with Stockbridge on top, 10-7.

A scrappy Bulldog zone press took its toll in the second quarter, however, as the Chelsea crew forced turnovers and converted them into points.

When the smoke cleared, Chelsea had outscored their hosts by 22-6 in the quarter and held a half-time lead of 29-16.

Foul trouble slowed both teams in the second half as they battled on nearly even terms to finish the contest with Chelsea on top, 55-40.

Push again headed the scoring with a whopping 24 solo points, 10 rebounds and six steals. Jennifer Ringe bucketed 12 points and recorded five steals. Tops in rebounding were Lorrie Vandergrift with eight, Mary Boylan with seven and Beth Unterbrink with six.

The Bulldogs' next three games are important SEC contests. Thursday, Sept. 27 they host Milan, travel to Dexter on Saturday and return home to challenge Saline Oct. 4.

Auto Talks Crucial for Many State-Wide Issues

Contract negotiations between the big three automakers and the United Auto Workers are having lasting effects on state-wide issues and not just the individuals involved.

In effect, contract negotiations of such magnitude will, in one way or another, affect the lives of all consumers.

In light of the talks, state budget experts are reducing their revenue estimates for the 1979-80 fiscal year, but say the economic bad news is not yet bad enough to begin planning a cutback of the recently-adopted $4.6 billion budget.

However, a prolonged strike could severely hurt production and increase unemployment enough to have a devastating effect on the state budget process.

One of the legislature's top priority items, reform of workers' compensation laws, has also been delayed pending resolution of the auto contract talks.

A special legislative task force adjourned its discussions in early August, planning to return in 30 days to renew the deliberations.

However, officials in and close to the task force say the results of auto negotiations could have a direct bearing on workers' compensation reform.

Participants in the discussions said business interests, in particular, would like to delay further efforts on reform until the cost of living issue for retirees is settled in the talks.

They see a high relationship between that issue, and setting cost of living increases for recipients of workers' compensation benefits.

Business does not want to set a cost of living pattern in the workers' compensation negotiations that would then serve as a pressure point on the automobile companies.

Participants fear a long delay in resuming discussions on workers' compensation could prevent a reform measure from being passed either this or next year.

A strike of several months could put discussions off until spring and traditionally, the legislature is reluctant to pass substantive legislation during the spring of an election year.

Sentencing Guidelines Proposed By Supreme Court

To correct inequities in sentencing of convicted felons, a trial judge should be given a handbook of guidelines, and appellate courts should be able to modify sentences, a special Supreme Court committee has recommended.

The recommendation for setting guidelines for sentencing is an alternative to proposals by the State Bar of Michigan for presumptive sentences.

The Bar's plan would presume felons would receive a particular sentence for a particular crime, with the trial judge required to justify a more lenient or harsher treatment.

The Supreme Court committee, chaired by Justice Blair Moody, Jr., recommended the court appoint a commission to establish guidelines for optional use by judges over a two-year trial period, with the legislature creating a similar group thereafter.

Moody said the Supreme Court will probably begin that process around the first of the year.

The committee said guidelines would be set with the aid of a mathematical grid to evaluate criteria of sentencing, to assign a specific number of points to factors such as criminal record, and excluding information such as the offender's race or economic status.

Those guidelines would operate within current law on indeterminate sentencing, which sets maximum and minimum punishments for each crime.

"Rocketing" To Fame

George Stephenson, an English engineer, designed and built "Active," which, on Sept. 25, 1825, was the first steam locomotive to carry passengers. He later designed and built the "Rocket," considered the first practical steam locomotive in the world. A replica of the "Rocket," built by the same company, is on display in the new Interpretive Center of Henry Ford Museum, Dearborn.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Bug Hookum come to the session at the country store Saturday night with a clipping where this young feller out in Oakland is allergic to just about everything in the world, including air. Bug said he took special note of the item because he gets a touch of hay fever now and then, and he knows it must be tough if being alive makes you watery eyed, choked up, broke out and sneezed out. He said his heart went out to this feller that can't do much except breathe filtered bottled air and drink distilled water.

The piece Bug read to the fellers set them to talking about ailments and cures, one of their favorite subjects. Issaac Cornfodder hardly ever says anything at the sessions, but when he talks it's usual about somepun new and mysterious that's wrong with him. The rest of the fellers know how Issaac feels, since at our age we don't have to look behind to know that somepun is back there gaining on us. Ed Doolittle said when he come in Saturday night, fer instant, that it looked like the first cool snap had undone all the good the summer sun was able to do with his bursitis.

And it was Ed that picked up on Bug's report. He said from what he could learn research ought to be able to come up with some relief fer that poor feller, but the other side of that coin is that in many cases the cure can be worst that the disease. He said he had saw where doctors in England have come up with a vaccine that does away with tooth decay. He said this miracle was about a lifetime to late fer him and his store-bought teeth, and he had to find out more before he gets excited about giving ever child a shot at age five and putting dentists all over the world out of work. The report said the research took nine years on monkeys, and it ain't been tried on people. We may find, Ed allowed, that the shot saves the teeth and dissolves the gums.

Zeke Grubb added a report where monkeys that had been give aspirin had cleaner arteries, which doctors took to mean that regular doses of aspirin will prevent heart attacks. Zeke was agreed with Ed that we got to be careful we don't cause bigger problems with all our solutions. It's a proved fact, Zeke said, that to much aspirin burns out the stomach and causes ulcers. So we got to decide if we want less risk of a heart attack on a diet of goat's milk and pabulum, or keep on eating and taking our chances, was Zeke's words.

Warming to the subject, Clem Webster reported where a California doctor says a mixture of cocaine and Darvon knocks out arthritis. He tested it on people, he said, and his patients did wonders after treatment. Clem said he was wondering if the doctor now has patients free of pain, or addicts that still got arthritis.

Personal, Mister Editor, the study I liked best was where baking soda cures smoking. The more soda, the thinking goes, the less body acid to throw off nicotine that the body wants to put back. The way I see it, after a five-week test you won't need to light up. With all that soda in you you'll look like a hot air balloon.

Yours truly,
 Uncle Lew.

CAKES FOR ALL OCCASIONS

Discount Membership Plan Being Sold in Chelsea Area

An Ann Arbor-based organization with the self-proclaimed purpose of helping consumers deal with high prices has recently begun to make its presence known in Chelsea.

Known as the South Eastern Michigan Consumers Alliance (SEMCA), the group sells memberships in the alliance to consumers for a $21.95 yearly fee. In return, members receive a yellow and black card which SEMCA says is honored by certain merchants and entitles the buyer to receive a specified discount on specified merchandise.

One of the group's four membership directors and one of its founders, Bart Loeb, was recently in town to discuss the organization with The Standard and sign up Chelsea-based businesses to honor the SEMCA card. A Chelsea woman, Kathy Ritter, is also working to sign businesses and individuals in the area.

According to Loeb, the fledgling organization boasts 150 card-honoring businesses and more than 1,500 members, most in the Ann Arbor-Ypsilanti area. The group wants to expand, however, and Chelsea, with its many active entrepreneurs, is an attractive area for SEMCA expansion.

In two days of visiting area merchants, Loeb reported agreements with Heller Electric, Fletcher Mobil, Chelsea Glass and Jan Spear, a local cosmetics salesperson.

Earl Heller told The Standard he has agreed to offer a 10 percent discount on insulation, "because there's so much competition in this area." Heller emphasized that other products and services at Heller Electric will be sold at regular prices.

Ralph Fletcher, owner of Fletcher Mobil, concurred that he signed an agreement with SEMCA to give specified percentage discounts on tune-ups and oil changes.

"I agreed to go with it for a while," Fletcher said. "There are a few things about it I didn't quite like but they said they're trying to change them. If I don't like the way it's going, I can drop out at any time."

Chelsea Glass, however, said that, contrary to Loeb's report, they had neither signed a contract with SEMCA nor studied the group's offer closely. A spokesman for Chelsea Glass said the firm had an appointment to talk with Loeb, but had not entered into an agreement.

According to organizational literature, there are no "catches" to the bargains offered by SEMCA. Businesses agree to offer the discounts hoping that increased traffic will offset the money lost through the mark-down. Consumers have nothing to lose at all, Loeb said, except their membership fee if they buy nothing in the course of a year.

For that membership fee, a person will receive a subscription to the shopper "The Bargain Hunter." The center section of that tabloid will list businesses who honor the SEMCA card.

According to Loeb, the membership fees of $21.95 go to pay for the price of printing the cards, running the office and phones, salaries for full- and part-time employees and minimal advertising.

Loeb points to the ever-growing membership rolls as evidence of the satisfaction SEMCA members have felt with the organization.

John Knapp of the Washtenaw County Consumer Action Center, a division of the Prosecuting Attorney's Office, agrees that his office has heard no complaints about SEMCA's operation during the entire 10 months of its existence.

"We've received no complaints," Knapp said, "although people often call asking whether it is a reputable organization and whether they should become members."

Clinton Fall Festival Set This Week

The Village of Clinton will be celebrating its sixth annual Fall Festival together with the 150th anniversary of the founding of the village this week-end, Sept. 28-30.

Highlights of the week-end will include arts and crafts, lost arts demonstrations, an air show, street dances, continuous entertainment on an outdoor stage, pig roast, chicken barbecue, apple festival, fish fry and pancake breakfast capped by a huge parade Sunday at 2:30 p.m.

The village of Clinton is located on US-12 just east of M-52. For further information call 517-456-7542 between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m.

Telephone your club news to 475-1371

How does Knapp answer such questions?

"I say that the consumer should look at the businesses and decide whether they will benefit. To call it (SEMCA) a consumer association is stretching it. They're entrepreneurial. An association suggests a group of people who meet and come together for a common goal or purpose, but this isn't the case here."

"It ruffles me to hear it called a consumers group. To me, it's just a business organization. If I were to criticize, that's just what I'd say, and that's not really that great a criticism."

Chelsea merchants and consumers desiring more information from a SEMCA representative may contact Chelseaite Kathy Ritter at 475-2529.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

Your improved, revamped and updated Chelsea Standard is beautiful. The pictures and type are so much clearer. Wonderful!

Congratulations—Mr. Leonard, and congratulations, also, to your staff for the wonderful improvements you have made. Certainly a most courageous step to have taken at this time in view of high costs of new equipment and materials.

Although retired and having left the area some five years ago, The Chelsea Standard is very much a part of our retirement.

Our best wishes to all of you, and to all in the Chelsea area. May each and everyone of you enjoy and have the best of life.

Edith and Tony Juergens.

Dear Editor:

We, the residents of Chelsea, are very fortunate indeed to have available to us a Senior Citizen Activities Center.

I recently received a Senior Citizen newsletter and a Community Education brochure indicating the new programs available to residents 50 years and older. I am very impressed with the diversity of the programs and the calibre of trips. Hopefully there is something for everyone.

I want to encourage all of you to participate in the activities and to use this facility. For it to remain open and active it has to be utilized.

Everyone is welcome to stop by weekdays from 1 to 5 and see what's happening.

Anne Comeau.

To the Editor:

You deserve the congratulations from readers of The Standard for the magnificent job of converting from the letterpress to the offset printing process you now use.

Never before have I observed such a major changeover take place with such smoothness. Basically, your newspaper as now published ranks with the daily newspapers for clarity of both photographs and typography, your lack of notable typographical errors surpasses most if not all daily newspapers in Michigan—and probably other states as well.

Unlike many publications that make this kind of change, you have shown an almost total lack of crooked lines that were intended to be straight.

Having been in some kind of publishing-printing business most of my life, I am extremely pleased to see my local newspaper display such quality.

Yours sincerely,
Ed Lewis, 314 E. Middle St.

Waterloo Area Offers Good Fall Color Tours

Cooler weather is once again making an appearance in Southern Michigan. Trees are beginning to display their fall colors. Soon the week-end migration will begin. Many Chelsea and Dexter residents will be heading north to enjoy the colorful wilderness areas of upper Michigan. Those who are foregoing the trip this year because of rising gas prices need not miss out on the fall scenery.

Just three miles west of Chelsea lies Waterloo Recreation Area, who's 17,000 acres have fall scenery and wildlife that rival many northern areas. Waterloo boasts a long list of wilderness attractions including 21 lakes, 5,000 acres of marsh land, towering glacial hills, and many scenic roads and overlooks.

Waterloo has a full complement of wildlife. Nearly all the game animals common to Southern Michigan are found there, and many protected species as well. It also has a wide variety of accommodations for visitors, whether they plan to spend a week, a week-end or an afternoon. Lake access and picnic sites; hiking and nature trails; and campgrounds, both rustic and modern, are all available this fall.

Waterloo's rugged topography contributes to dramatic contrasts in fall colors. The swamps and pot holes are dominated by the scarlet red maple and the bright red of poison sumac. The upland forests are filled with rusty red on the oaks and gold of hickory underlaid by the deep rose of flowering dogwood.

The dried fall grasses of the old fields are dotted with yellow goldenrod and blue asters. Wild black cherry and sassafras color old fence rows yellow and orange.

During October, park visitors will get a chance to enjoy the beautiful fall season while getting better acquainted with the Waterloo Recreation Area.

A self-guided auto tour map of the park will be available at the park's Nature Center. The map will show the best route for visitors to take to enjoy the park's fall colors. An informational brochure explaining what visitors may see at suggested stops and points of interest will also be available. Before taking the auto tour, visitors will want to view the orientation program shown every half hour in the nature center's auditorium.

For those who would rather enjoy the fall colors on foot, the Nature Center has four miles of nature trails that will take visitors through a variety of natural areas. Those who prefer long distance hiking will enjoy the park's 18-mile hiking trail. Visitors interested in naturalist conducted walks will enjoy the tours to the floating bog beginning at the Nature Center building at 2 p.m. and 4 p.m. each Sunday in October.

The Nature Center is open to the public from 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Tuesday through Saturday and noon to 7 p.m. on Sunday. To reach the Nature Center, take Middle St., west from Chelsea business district to the village limit where it becomes Cavanaugh Lake Rd. Proceed west on Cavanaugh Lake Rd. to Pierce Rd. Turn right on Pierce Rd. and follow it to the end. Turn left on Bush Rd. and proceed about one-half mile to the entrance of the Nature Center on the left.

Although there is no charge for these tours, vehicles entering the Nature Center and other developed park facilities must have State Park Motor Vehicle Permits. Daily permits are $2, annual permits are $7, and senior citizen annual permits are $1. Permits are available at the reception desk at the nature center.

Some fall colors will already be showing by the first week of October, and should peak during the third week. For further information call the nature center at 475-8069.

How To Apply For, Use U.S. Food Stamps

If you're having problems stretching your food dollar, and your income is within the guidelines set by the U. S. Department of Agriculture (USDA), you could be eligible for food stamps. The Food Stamp Program, run by USDA and state public assistance agencies, helps households with lower incomes buy the food they need.

A new booklet from the USDA called How to Apply For and Use Food Stamps is available free by writing to the Consumer Information Center, Dept. 686G, Pueblo, Colo. 81009.

To find out about eligibility, contact the local food stamp office for an application form. Or, if you're applying for public assistance, you can apply for food stamps at the same time in the welfare office.

After the application is reviewed, a worker will contact you or another member of the household for a confidential interview. At this interview, the worker will go over the application form and the rules of the program. Although most interviews are held at the food stamp office, those 65 or older or disabled may arrange one at home or by telephone.

What are the eligibility requirements? You may be asked to prove certain qualifications. For example, if you aren't a U. S. citizen, you might have to show proof of status from the Immigration and Naturalization Service. However, even if some members of your household don't meet this requirement, those who do may qualify for food stamps.

All households may have up to $1,750 worth of resources. And, if at least one person is 60 years of age or older, households with two or more persons may have up to $3,000. Under the Food Stamp rules some resources are counted and some are not. Money in checking or savings accounts is counted. But, your home and lot and personal belongings are not counted.

And, except in certain cases, all members of your household between the ages of 18 and 60 must register for work.

If, after looking at your household income and subtracting essential expenses, the worker finds you qualify, you'll get food stamps each month. The amount you get depends upon the size of your household and your monthly income after deductions.

When you send for the free booklet, How to Apply For and Use Food Stamps (free), you'll also receive a copy of the free Consumer Information Catalog. It lists more than 200 selected free or low-cost publications from the federal government. The Catalog is published quarterly by the Consumer Information Center of the General Services Administration.

The Targeted Jobs Tax Credit (TJTC) is designed to give a tax break to employers hiring people who normally have trouble finding jobs.

Center for Independent Living Facing New Crisis

The Ann Arbor Center for Independent Living, serving handicapped residents of Washtenaw county, expressed its gratitude to the organizations, businesses, and individuals who have given so generously to support Center programs and activities during the past year. Since the Center exists to serve all handicapped individuals, especially the severely handicapped, it is they who have benefited most from the contributions of time and money from citizens throughout the county.

Numerous citizens of the county have repeatedly involved themselves in supporting the center through the donation of money, products, and volunteer services. With the collective efforts of organizations, businesses, and individuals, the center has been able to expand services to respond to the needs of handicappers. If all the center needed was such improvement, its future would be secure; however, funding has become a critical factor to the continuation of center supportive services promoting independent life styles for handicapped individuals.

The center now finds itself in a crisis prompted by the ending of one Federal program and a delay in new Federal support which will not be realized until mid- or late 1980. In the interim they need and request operational dollars from a wide variety of sources in the county. Your contribution could be the determining factor in this non-profit agency's survival. The center is the only consumer based, advocacy organization serving Washtenaw and nearby southeastern counties, and is one of three in all of Michigan. Services provided complement those of other human service agencies through the provision of unique supportive information and referral, education and training, and advocacy services needed by handicapped individuals.

Legislature Facing Important Issues

By Mary Keith Ballantine
23rd District Representative

With the summer months behind us, House Republicans can finally settle back into life in the legislature and look forward to the difficult task of molding proposed legislation into laws that will benefit the citizens of Michigan.

As you probably know, the House Republican leadership has been traveling from Ironwood to Monroe and from Sault Ste. Marie to Kalamazoo as part of a vigorous state-wide "Listine-In" program designed to directly hear the views of Michigan citizens on important issues facing the state.

Prepared with information we have gathered and suggestions that have been made to us, we are anxious for the legislature to reconvene on Sept. 18. The session is not going to be an easy one. Several extremely important issues—real estate steering, essential insurance, a bill to repeal the state's presidential primary, wetlands, right-to-strike legislation, workers' compensation, marijuana decriminalization and public ethics bill—will be debated and voted on by the legislature.

Thousands of the state's residents are directly affected by what we decide to do on every one of these issues and we are all indirectly affected, in some way, by the decisions made on all of these issues.

I am hopeful that each of these issues is given the full attention they deserve and that no hasty decisions are made. I would rather we go slow before making up our minds rather than hastily approving a poor piece of legislation.

Three controversial bills—one that would repeal the presidential primary; one on real estate sales; and one dealing with essential insurance legislation—have passed the House and are awaiting Senate action.

Public employees' right-to-strike legislation has been debated in a special House Labor subcommittee throughout the summer. The three Republican members of that committee plan to offer a proposal of equal financial penalties for both sides as a means of reducing teacher strikes in number and length.

Likewise, a workers' compensation task force has been meeting this summer. However, few substantive results have come out of those meetings and both sides will have to make progress soon if any workers' compensation reform is going to be worked out this session.

The next few months are going to be challenging for Republican members of the House. We will be attempting to shape legislation that will likely have a large impact on the lives of Michigan citizens for many years to come. We will do our best to make sure that the legislation passed is good legislation.

We welcome any suggestions or comments. Please feel free to call the House Republican office in Lansing with any suggestions or comments you would like to share with us. (517) 373-6700.

HEAVY TRUCKS CAUSE TROUBLE

Loose enforcement of liberal truck weight laws in Michigan has probably been causing unnecessary highway deaths and massive damage to the state's main roads over the past 20 years, according to a congressional subcommittee studying the situation.

The subcommittee has cited several reasons for our current dilemma—a problem which they say has likely increased the number of state traffic fatalities and caused damage to Michigan roads that could cost about $85 million to repair over the next 20 years.

Some reasons for the current problem include an outdated weight limit in Michigan; a reluctance by state weight employees to patrol Detroit roads because the citations they issue are often not enforced by the Detroit traffic code; discrepancies between weight laws in the city of Detroit and state laws; and a limited number of state employees to monitor the weight of trucks.

Currently, there are 10 truck weighing sites around the state and 46 patrol officers to enforce Michigan's 82-ton limit, which is more than twice as heavy as the national limit implemented in 1956. Michigan was exempted from the national limit at that time because states which established higher weights were allowed to keep their own limits.

According to statistics, there were 2,830 registered trucks in Michigan in 1978 weighing between 65 and 82 tons. Each 82-ton truck has the same effect on a road as 16,000 cars, so you can see why it is important that we try to keep these trucks to a minimum. Also, it only makes sense that the heavier a truck, the less chance passengers in a car have for survival in a crash.

Most communities do not have a weight enforcement program, so they rely on state inspectors to police their roads in pursuit of law-breakers. However, state inspectors do not like to patrol Detroit roads, the most heavily travelled in the state, because they say the city's traffic court does not enforce the tickets they issue and also because Detroit weight limits differ from state limits. Detroit also allows trucks to carry 5,000 pounds more than state allows.

An example of the lack of enforcement in Detroit is that 40 drivers were issued citations for driving overweight trucks between October, 1977, and September, 1978. On the other hand, Dearborn, known to be tough on drivers breaking weight laws, issued 342 citations during that same period.

I believe it is time we bring Michigan's weight laws into compliance with national standards. When lives are at stake and roads are crumbling because they were not built to handle 82-ton trucks, it is time to change the laws.

TOXIC EMERGENCY DECLARED
The state's new Toxic Substance Control Commission last week declared an environmental emergency in parts of Oakland county and ordered four agencies to immediately clean up two chemical dumps.

The seven-member commission, recently created by the legislature consists of scientists, physicians, and toxicologists. They took the action at the urging of various lawmakers, residents of the rural Oakland county sites and Governor Milliken who signed the emergency declaration minutes after it was ordered.

According to state environmental officials, 55-gallon drums were illegally dumped between 1966 and 1968 in Springfield and Rose townships. Some 16 toxic chemicals have oozed from the drums, including some suspected cancer causing agents.

Ten residential wells in the area show traces of chemicals, including lead, which is believed to cause brain damage in children exposed to it over long periods of time. Two of the other chemicals in the well water are suspected of causing cancer in laboratory rats, as well as liver, kidney and central nervous system ailments.

This very serious problem was apparently recognized by the Department of Natural Resources for 11 years although nothing was done about it. Department officials said that Oakland county judges ordered the dump sites cleared twice, but that the owners of the sites, who are both now deceased, merely moved the drums around and did not remove them.

Perhaps even more disturbing is the fact that state health officials have indicated that the Oakland county sites are not considered the most dangerous chemically contaminated dumps in the state. However, failure of the DNR and other state agencies to act on the Oakland county problem reportedly added pressure on the new commission.

The Commission last week directed the DNR to remove the barrels and stop the seepage into the groundwater. The Public

Legislative Update

A Weekly Report from
State Rep. Mary Keith Ballantine
State Capitol, Lansing 48909
Phone (517) 373-1775

Week of Sept 24 - Oct. 1

SPENDING CUTS—Governor Milliken has told department heads to plan spending cuts for the coming fiscal year since it is now clear that revenues will not cover authorized appropriations. The exact amount of cuts needed is not yet known.

NO VOTE—The State Supreme Court has ruled unanimously that voters do not have the right of referendum on increased fuel taxes and license plate fees. Thus last year's increases stand: the petition drive for a vote on them has no effect.

AID LOSS?—School districts that are not in session on Sept. 28 due to strikes face loss of their state school aid, since that is the date set by law for a count of pupils in attendance, on which count state aid is based.

ROLLBACK RULING—The Attorney General has ruled that for purposes of the Headlee Amendment the "Maximum authorized rate" of taxation is that authorized by law or charter, not what is currently being levied. This comes in response to the enactment of HB 4232, which said the same thing. Thus the rollbacks required under Headlee will apply to such maximums.

PROTEST DAY—Last Wednesday was a bright and sunny day at the Capitol, which was the scene of much activity: hundreds of motorcyclists parked their bikes around the Capitol and held a rally against present laws requiring helmets; also State Police troopers picketed the Capitol as part of their continuing dispute with the Governor on implementing bargaining rights.

NO PRIMARY?—It is beginning to look like the final decision on Michigan's presidential primary will be up to the Governor. Last week a House committee killed a bill to require voters to announce Party preference; this leaves HB 4392, which would abolish the primary. It will probably be approved by the State next month: the Governor could then sign or veto it.

COLOR TOUR—Early indications are that this will be a spectacular season for a fall color tour in Michigan's north country; prime time for the tour is right about now. It's good to remember that gasoline is readily available there, too, at prices no higher than elsewhere.

NO LICENSE—The Attorney General has ruled that self-propelled lawn mowers and snow blowers do not have to be registered as motor vehicles even though they may be driven on highways, since that involves just getting to a destination rather than transporting people or property.

Sports Program Launched for Youth

Washtenaw County Parks and Recreation Commission (WCPARC) is launching a new sports program for youth interested in improving or developing their skill level.

Youth Decathlon is an assortment of sports including basketball, softball, soccer, hockey, football, volleyball, and horseshoes, to name a few. Youth between 5 and 11 years of age will be divided into groups and introduced to a different sport each week. Special drill practice for each sport will follow, with awards given out at the end of the eight-week class for the "most improved" in each category. This class meets once a week on Saturday mornings from 9-10:30 a.m. beginning Oct. 6. The cost is $6.

Also slated for youth is Indoor Tennis for ages 12-16, scheduled for Friday evenings, 5:30-7:30 p.m. beginning Sept. 28. Instruction will cover the basics: grip, scoring, and rules. Tennis rackets are available for class participants who do not have them. The cost of this six-week class is $6.

Gottlieb Bollinger was injured about 2:30 Tuesday afternoon while helping fill a silo on the Patrick Lingane farm in Sylvan township. His coat sleeve caught in the machine and his left forearm was badly cut.

Events of the past few days have discouraged those who were overly optimistic about the prospects of Chelsea becoming the center of a big oil boom, and the singing of "Our Dreams Are Getting Better All The Time" has stopped, temporarily at least.

Fred Roberts, 304 North St., drove his car off the planks onto the tracks at the Methodist Home crossing Monday night and abandoned the vehicle. A short time later, at 10:34, an eastbound fast freight demolished the car, which before the crash could be identified as a 1936 Nash.

Fill'er Up By the Barrel

Sylvanus F. Bowser of Fort Wayne, Ind., delivered the first gasoline pump made in the United States to Jake Gumper of that city on Sept. 5, 1885. Bowser made the pump—which had marble valves, wooden plungers and a capacity of one barrel—in his barn. A 1920 gasoline pump, holding 10 gallons and featuring a red-and-white glass crown, is part of the Transportation Collection at Henry Ford Museum, Dearborn.

The first significant labor lobby in Washington, D. C., was established by the National Labor Union in 1868, according to the U. S. Labor Department's "Labor Firsts In America."

A Soccer League for youth 6 to 13 years of age will begin Sept. 22 at Montibeller Park, located on Ellsworth Rd., near Carpenter Rd. The six-week league meets on Saturday mornings, 11-12:30 and includes a soccer T-shirt. The cost is $7.50.

To register contact the WCPARC office at 973-2595.

What Do Women Want Anyway?

When Sigmund Freud asked "What do women want anyway?" he wasn't thinking of today's problems of Mrs. Homemaker; stretching the dollar to meet the family's needs and wants.

Marion Prince, extension home economist, will examine those issues in a workshop, open to the public on Oct. 3 at Washtenaw County Service Center, Extension Meeting Room, Ann Arbor at 10 a.m.

She claims that if a person had to choose between having an essential operation on their body or getting a new stereo the choice may not be difficult. But most choices aren't that clear-cut. How we spend our money is a function of what we believe we need or want and those beliefs constitute our systems of values. Workshop participants will have an opportunity to examine their values to see how it affects their spending patterns.

Right Writer Is Type Writer

Sept. 12, 1873, was the date of the successful completion of the first practical typewriter by Christopher Sholes. The first patent on the timesaving device was as early as 1829, but it wasn't until Sholes' machine—invented in 1867, patented the next year and finally produced five years later—that the ingenious device with two rows of black walnut painted keys became popular with the public. The newly opened Interpretive Center of Henry Ford Museum, Dearborn, exhibits an 1874 model of Sholes' typewriter among hundreds of fascinating artifacts from the nation's past.

The first national labor union that still exists today is the International Typographical Union, which was organized in 1850, according to the Department of Labor booklet, "Labor Firsts In America."

AIR-CONDITION WITH TREES

Step into a woodland on any hot summer day and you can appreciate, without needing any elaborate instruments to prove it, the air-conditioning job performed by trees. They can do the same work at your home.

All summer long the shade, trees intercept and absorb the sun's heat, at the same time transpiring cooling water. With your house shielded from the impact of the sun's rays, inside temperatures are kept lower — power consumption for the air conditioner is down. Even if you don't have an air conditioner, those beautiful gifts of nature can help you be more comfortable. Differences of eight degrees in temperature have been recorded between shaded and unshaded outdoor surfaces.

As winter approaches, the clever shade trees shed their leaves to let the sun shine through to help warm up your home. Incidentally, shade trees will do their work most effectively if they are arranged on the south and west sides of the building. They should be no less than about 20 feet from the house so they won't crowd the walls once they're fully grown.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at FRISINGER REALTY CO., 935 S. Main St., Chelsea. Phone: 475-8881; evenings 475-2621. We're here to help!

ANDY WEIR is a particularly bright spot for the Chelsea varsity this year. The 5'8", 155-pound guard didn't see much action last year but has been a starter in all three Bulldog contests in 1979. Coach Gene LaFave points to the senior as an example of a hard worker whose patience and dedication have brought him a starting spot on the squad.

DAN PAGLIARINI, short-side defensive linebacker for the varsity Bulldogs, is a hard hitter who, like Weir, saw relatively little action last year but has started all contests this season. The 5'8", 150-pound senior is one of the key players on Chelsea's ever-improving defense and is in part responsible for the successes the defense has had this year.

The Bible - The Light from Heaven

Portrays the surrendered life. We know of many who did not at first surrender to the Lord; for instance Jonah did not (Jonah 1:3) and Moses Exodus 4. The surrendered life gives up everything to gain the kingdom (Matthew 13:44-46). The surrendered life is devoted first of all to the service of God (Matthew 6:33; 2 Corinthians 8:5). The great Light from heaven teaches one should give his body a living sacrifice (Romans 12:1, 2). The surrendered life prays "Not my will but thine be done." (Luke 22:42). The life of the apostle Paul is one of the greatest examples of a truly surrendered life (Philippians 3:4-8; Acts 20:24). He stated, "I am crucified with Christ: nevertheless I live; yet not I, but Christ liveth in me: and the life which I now live in the flesh I live by faith in the Son of God, who loveth me, and gave himself for me." (Galatians 2:20). "For me to live is Christ, and to die is gain." (Philippians 1:21).

CARD OF THANKS Leora Howell, wife of Vincent I. Howell, desires from the depths of her heart to thank everyone for their expressions of Christian love for helping me in anyway through my bereavement. To the Rev. Carl Schwarm thank you for your most comforting words, and to the Burghardt-Cole Funeral Chapel, Mr. Cole, I thank you deeply for all you did for me, how I appreciated you. To all my sisters and brothers in the Eastern Stars, thanks so much. And to all the Chrysler men who took care of bearing Vincent's casket to rest, thanks to you all. Also to all those for the beautiful flowers and money for a new will at our Church Memorial at United Geneva Methodist Church. Thank you to Dorothea Plelemeier for the room she shared with us and to all who shared food, cars, and love. May the Lord richly bless all. Leora Howell, Sanford, Florida.

THANK YOU A simple thank you is not enough to say for all the cards, calls, gifts, foods, flowers and fruit sent by my relatives and friends while I was at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital and since my return home. Also, thanks for your concern and prayers, all greatly appreciated. Gladys Klumpp.

No Bliss-Full Ending

Real estate broker Henry H. Bliss had the misfortune to become America's first automobile fatality on Sept. 13, 1899. Bliss had just stepped off a street car into traffic in New York City when he was struck by a car driven by Arthur Smith. Smith was jailed and eventually fined $1,000. Attempts to improve such hazardous conditions can be seen by strolling through the Transportation Collection of Henry Ford Museum, Dearborn. These include the nation's first three-color, four-directional traffic light and exhibits of automobile horns and lamps.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:
One of the most pressing issues facing the legislature is funding the home heating assistance program by raising the severance tax on gas and oil companies. I am extremely worried about our senior citizens' and poor people's ability to meet skyrocketing fuel costs, particularly in view of developments in Washington which promise little, if any, federal relief in this important area. This means that Michigan's own home heating assistance program, which aided over 200,000 senior citizens and 80,000 poor families last season, must be fully funded.

House Bill 4730 would fund the home heating assistance program by increasing the severance tax on oil and gas corporations in Michigan. The severance tax is levied on the well-head value of gas and oil removed from the ground in Michigan. That tax, currently set at two percent, has not been changed since 1929, even though the value of oil and gas has doubled time and time again. In fact, of the eight states producing comparable amounts of oil and gas, we have the seventh lowest tax on oil and gas producers. Increasing the severance tax lets the Michigan public share the benefit from the one-time-only removal of our scarce oil and gas resources.

The proposed increase in this tax on oil companies would have an unnoticeably small impact on retail prices in Michigan, since the oil produced goes into a national market. Further, with the value of oil and gas increasing every day, HB 4730 would not have a negative effect on future oil production. Most important, of course, is that the money raised would help the elderly and needy keep their homes warm enough to live this winter.

As I have said many times during the debate over this proposal, nobody in Michigan should have to choose between heating and eating. If you agree, please let your legislators know.

Perry Bullard
State Representative,
53rd District.

ASK THE GOVERNOR

by William G. MILLMAN

Question: What is holding up collective bargaining rights for the State Police? I thought the voters approved such a measure last fall?

Governor: More than 10 months ago, the people of Michigan voted to grant the right to collective bargaining to the troopers and sergeants of the Michigan State Police.

In the intervening time, a totally needless, totally unproductive debate has taken place over which governmental agency will conduct the election to certify a bargaining agent for the troopers and for the sergeants.

The Attorney General has ruled that the Constitution clearly requires the Civil Service Commission to certify any election of a bargaining agent.

The Court of Appeals has ruled that the Constitution clearly requires the Civil Service Commission to certify any election of a bargaining agent.

The Michigan Supreme Court has affirmed the Court of Appeals ruling that the Constitution clearly requires the Civil Service Commission to certify any election of a bargaining agent.

In spite of these very clear constitutional requirements, the leadership of the troopers association still insists this is an area for negotiation and claims that the Michigan Employment Relations Commission should hold the election.

The law is clear. The Constitution is clear. The court and the Attorney General have been unanimous in their reading of both. Neither the troopers association nor I can amend the Constitution through negotiation.

If the leadership of the troopers association wants to be certified as the bargaining agent for employees of the Michigan State Police, the way for them to do this has been made crystal clear. I have been ready for the past 10 months to get on with the process of certifying a bargaining agent. I remain ready and eager to do that.

Question: I understand Michigan will be involved in a special federal program on energy. What is that?

Governor: Michigan was one of 11 states selected to participate in developing the federal government's Energy Emergency Management Information System (EEMIS).

The EEMIS will collect information for use by federal and state agencies during fuel emergencies; to monitor and forecast supply, demand and price; alert users of the system of potential fuel problems; evaluate programs that may be used to deal with emergencies including fuel substitutes and alternative transportation; and provide basic energy emergency data around which states may build their own information response capabilities.

The Energy Emergency Center of the Michigan Energy Administration of the Department of Commerce will be the state office assigned to gather information on energy supplies, consumption and distribution for the new system.

Information gathered by the Michigan Energy Emergency Center was used by state officials to react promptly and effectively during the 1977-78 coal strike in gasoline shortages and in other fuel emergencies.

The first state law establishing Labor Day as a holiday was in Oregon in 1887, according to the Department of Labor booklet "Labor Firsts in America."
