Hoover, left to right, joined Wood in asking Chelsea residents to display the flag and asking civic and patriotic organizations to "give their enthusiastic support to such activities as may be developed for Veterans Day."

Veterans Day Parade Set For Sunday

A Veterans Day Parade, sponsored by the Village of Dexter and the Washtenaw County Council of Veterans, will be held on the traditional holiday date of Sunday, Nov. 11.

The parade is in honor of all veterans and especially those in Washtenaw county. This public display is an outward expression of appreciation for the sacrifice so many fellow citizens have made in times of war and conflict.

Beginning at 11 a.m., the parade will proceed from the corner of Kensington and Ann Arbor streets in Dexter west down Ann Arbor St., past the reviewing stand at the park near the center of town, on across the bridge and disband in the parking lot at the American Legion Home on Dexter-Chelsea Rd.

This year Sergeant Major Helmer Flakne, 84-year-old WWI veteran, will be parade Grand Marshal. Sgt. Flakne served in the Medical Corps and was appointed post Sergeant Major at the end of his first year in service. He has devoted more than 22 years to volunteer work in the Ann Arbor Veterans Administration Hospital.

Today he is very active as the commander of WWI Barracks No. 2150. Commander for the past five years, Sgt. Flakne reports a unit strength of 65 men.

For his work in the hospital and at the senior citizens headquarters on W. Huron St., he has been cited 24 times by his comrades, the hospital director, his supervisors and the senior citizens for his continued service on behalf of veterans and those in need of someone's attention.

Many dignitaries representing government, education, State Veterans Headquarters and the military will review the parade from the platform. Participating will be civic organizations, patriotic units such as Chelsea VFW Post 4076 and Auxiliary, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Sheriff's Department and veteran units of Washtenaw county, all led by the Dexter High school marching band.

United Way Campaign at 40% of Goal

The 1979 campaign for Chelsea United Way has reached the 40 percent mark this week on its way to a goal of $41,000.

"Our effort is running several weeks later than usual," observed Dale Schumann, campaign chairman, "because there was a delay in obtaining campaign materials, and because the high price of gasoline necessitated a change in our method for rural solicitation."

Schumann added that "business and light industry have responded handsomely to our campaign and we expect final results from our biggest givers—employers and employees of major industry—within a week to 10 days. We hope to complete the entire campaign and fulfill our goal early in December."

Half of the rural families have received appeals from United Way by mail and nearly $1,000 has been received as of Nov. 2, according to Elise Heller, rural chairperson. A second mailing will go out to the remaining farm and country families this week.

Individuals, families and organizations that give to Chelsea United Way help to support 36 human service agencies. These include Chelsea Recreation Council, Chelsea Area Transportation Service, Cystic Fibrosis Foundation, Huron Valley Child Guidance, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Chelsea Social Service, Chelsea Home Meals Service, American Red Cross, Salvation Army, Catholic Social Services, Child and Family Services of Washtenaw county and United Way of Michigan, which assists 23 other state and national agencies.

Swimmers Dunk Novi, Lincoln

Chelsea High school swimmers got their act in high gear against Novi, 108-62, and Lincoln, 115-56.

Against Novi, Chelsea lost the first race, the 200 medley relay, and the next to last event, the 100 breaststroke, but took the other nine events.

Sara Borders won the 200 free and 100 fly, Kristin Thomas took the 1M and the 500 free, Shannon Springer aced the 50 and 100 freestyle races and Lisa Radke was the 100 backstroke winner.

Chelsea also combined Sara Borders, Shannon Springer, Sue Cobb and Annette Kuhl to win the 400 free relay. In all, the Bulldogs set nine Novi pool records, with Springer and Borders each in on three.

LIDA GUTHRIE

Retired Pharmacist Lida Guthrie Dies

When Lida Guthrie began her duties at Fenn's Drug Store in 1910 at the age of 19, the streets of Chelsea were rough and unpaved and hitching posts dotted Main St.

For 52 years, until Fenn's closed in 1962, "Auntie" as children loved to call her, was a mainstay of the operation.

Miss Guthrie died Monday, Nov. 5 at Chelsea Hospital at the age of 88.

Born Jan. 29, 1891 in Sylvan Township, Miss Guthrie was the daughter of Samuel and Eva (Newton) Guthrie. She lived most of her life in the family home at 1001 Guthrie Rd., but resided for the past 11 years with her niece, Mrs. Horace Robinson, Grass Lake.

Thirty years after beginning work at Fenn's, Miss Guthrie became a registered pharmacist. She operated the business for the Fenn family after founder Henry Fenn's death and worked there from 1958 to 1962 after the business was purchased by Charles Lancaster.

Dayspring Gifts now occupies the former site of Fenn's.

Survivors include a niece, Mrs. Horace (June) Robinson of Grass Lake; two grand-nieces, Mrs. Judy Eubanks of Chelsea and Mrs. William (Elaine) Willett of Plainwell; and one grand-

L.D./E.I. Parent Group Will Hear Talk By Boys School Priest

The L.D./E.I. Parent Group of Chelsea will hear the Rev. Fr. Fortunato of St. Louis School for Exceptional Boys at its next regular meeting, Wednesday, Nov. 14 at 7:30 p.m. in room 210 of Chelsea High.

Gridders Win Final Game For 6-3 Mark

A season which began with a disheartening loss to Tecumseh ended Friday night some 235 Bulldog points later with a tremendously improved Chelsea varsity squad decisively downing the Pinckney Pirates, 35-6.

It was a game marked by nine Pinckney fumbles and strong running by Chelseaites Jeff Dils, Mike Killelea and Bill Freeman. Quarterback John Dunn brought his season passing total to 1,399 yards with an additional 220 on 12 completed aeriels. Dunn passed for four TDs and a conversion and ran in one six-pointer himself.

The Bulldogs broke for the first score in the second quarter, as Dunn hit Mike Killelea with a seven-yard pass to cap an 82-yard drive. Brad Knickerbocker kicked the extra point to make the score 7-0.

The Pirates, who actually out-gained Chelsea in the first half 170 yards rushing to the Bulldogs' combined total of 144, made it to the scoreboard in the same quarter on a 60-yard series culminating in a one-yard run by Keith Pace.

A Pinckney triumph was not to be, however, as Chelsea dominated the second half with offensive and defensive know-how. Two minutes into the third period Bill Freeman, the Bulldog's leading rusher with 64 yards, broke through for 20 to set up a long completion to Jeff Dils and an eventual 17-yard scoring pass to Dils two plays later.

Killelea took the pass from Dunn to give the Bulldogs their margin of victory, 15-6, but the Chelsea points kept on coming. In the third quarter again, Dunn danced the ball in himself for six points, the two-point conversion attempt failing.

Then in the final quarter Dils, who had been heavily covered and unable to score in the past two Chelsea outings, reeled in John Dunn passes of 15 and six yards for touchdowns. Knickerbocker's reliable toe booted the two conversions and Chelsea took the contest, 35-6.

Pinckney was playing minus a dozen starters, all sidelined with injuries. They hadn't met with the Bulldogs in nearly 15 years.

Chelsea totalled 351 yards of offense to the Pirates' 247. John Preston, sidelined for much of Friday night for a hip injury, still

Essential Insurance Bill Clears Legislature

The legislature recently put the finishing touches on the so-called "essential insurance" bill which under Supreme Court guidelines will make no-fault insurance available at a reasonable rate to all Michigan residents.

However, not only will it be available, but it will also be a little more expensive as the bill removed traditional rating factors historically used by underwriters.

In its final form, the bill would allow the state to be divided into no more than 200 insurance rating territories with the difference from the highest to lowest rate being no more than 220 percent.

In effect, it would "equalize" rates between low volume out-state areas and the highly populous Southeastern Michigan.

Rates will undoubtedly be higher in the Detroit area but the differences will be less, leading many people to believe safer drivers in less accident prone areas will somewhat subsidize drivers in areas where accidents are more apt to happen.

The measure required insurance coverage unless that person is a bad risk—based on moving violation penalty points or the number of at-fault accidents.

If refused coverage by a private carrier, drivers would then have to be covered by a state fund.

A new wrinkle was placed in the bill during final deliberation which reinstates a so-called "mini-tort liability" for an at-fault accident.

This would allow a person involved in an accident to take the person who was at fault to small claims court to either recoup that person's deductible or up to $400 if he did not carry any collision insurance.

This section brought screams of unconstitutionality from Senator Basil Brown (D-Highland Park), one of the few remaining attorneys left in the Senate.

He suggested there was a serious legal question about "mixing fault with no fault and it was only being done to gain the necessary votes in the legislature to approve the bill."

Brown said there would undoubtedly be a court challenge on that provision.

Bill sponsor Senator Arthur Miller (D-Warren) called the bill model legislation which for the first time, brought about an agreement among legislators, the insurance industry and consumer groups.

The measure also includes a prohibition against homeowner insurance redlining practices—denying insurance depending upon the neighborhood where the property is located.

Location could no longer be used to deny insurance coverage; however, coverage could be refused for arson convictions or for using the house for illegal purposes.

Again, as in auto insurance, if private coverage cannot be obtained, homeowners insurance would be made available under an expanded state plan guaranteeing coverage to everyone.

So years of legislative negotiations have culminated in the adoption of the essential insurance bill which will guarantee coverage for both autos and homes, but it will be made available only with the consumer again shouldering more costs.

Just how much each consumer will pay is yet uncertain but it will become clear after the effective date of the act when consumers get their renewal notices.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

The papers made a big do do over Jon Davis' mistake in Atlanta the other day, and I am still puzzling over how come. All Jon and his painters done was to take a $50,000 painting for a dropcloth. It has been my observation all through this life, Mister Editor, that one man's idea of $50,000 art is another man's paint rag. And I figger the chances of a painter painter and an artist painter seeing eye to eye is about that good.

According to the reports, the painting crew found Sam Gilliam's painting in a courtroom they were to paint in a $60 million federal building. That gives us another clue. Natural, any art you're going to put up in a $60 million public building has got to cost at least $50,000, no matter if it's a floorboard from the henhouse commissioned to give the room a basic American down home look.

There was other pieces of art for the building that cost a heap more, according to the piece I saw. Anyhow, Sam didn't take kindly to Jon's opinion, which could of been based part on professional jellusy, I reckon, since Sam had his $50,000 commission in the bank and Jon was working by the hour. It turned out, though, that the judge that will hold court in the room didn't think the painting would do much for his dignity and ordered it moved as far from his sight as it could get.

The judge was of a mind that the $110,000 aluminum pole that has been put in the hallway outside his court and called "Swimmers fer Atlanta" was about all the art he could enjoy at one setting.

The flap about dropcloth art hit about the same time a North Carolina artist painter named Bob Timberlake was putting on a show in the state art museum and peddling prints of his pictures as a sideline. Other artists got rared up about it, and claimed he was a promoter, not a artist, and besides he printed his $150 pictures on a fast press instead of etched each one separate like he said. Professional jellusy come into play agin and the upshot was that the museum stopped the sale but not the show. The trouble I see here is that a feller that's got one of them $150 pictures on his wall was happy in his ignorance, and now he'll be wanting his money back. The truth is, the print will look the same, but he won't look at it the same, and that gits right back to what art is and ain't.

Actual, everything is how you look at it. Take them chickens of Randall Wise's in Watertown, Mass. He says if they see the world red it calms 'em down and if they see everything green it makes 'em fat. So he has worked out a plan to put colored contact lenses on all his chickens. Fer pennies a bird, he says he can raise their value at least a quarter apiece. If they put on weight faster and they are peacable and don't peck at one another, they'll be ready fer market sooner and in better shape, he figgers.

But the way life is, Mister Editor, some killjoy comes along. Poultry experts don't think much of Randall's idea, although they admit that chickens just about blind with cataracts do better than them that can see good. Maybe we got another case of professional jellusy to deal with here.

Yours truly,
 Uncle Lew.

Modern Mothers Get Expert's Opinion on Jogging

Modern Mothers Child Study Club met Tuesday, Oct. 30 at the home of Sue Yaeger where they heard Dr. Peggy Stein of Eastern Michigan University address the question "Is Jogging for You?"

Dr. Stein discussed many aspects of jogging and demonstrated proper foot movement to protect against jarring the body excessively while running.

An avid jogger, Dr. Stein began at one mile and now runs five or six miles a day. In addition, she has participated in many competition runs.

She pointed out that while jogging is a good form of exercise it is not for everyone. In some cases a physician should be consulted before embarking on a running program.

Refreshments were served by Gale Johnson and Phillis Tillman. A business meeting followed.

Next meeting will be the club's annual Homemade Items Auction Tuesday, Nov. 13, 7 p.m. at the fairgrounds.

Frosh Gridders Blank S. Lyon

Chelsea's winningest football team finished its season on a bright note last week, as the freshman gridders blanked South Lyon, 12-0, to finalize their season record at 7-1.

Neither team managed to score until the end of the third period, when Matt Villemure hit Matt McCallum with a 30-yard aerial for a touchdown.

On the next series Chelsea pinned South Lyon deep in their own territory and culminated their drive with a 20-yard Russell Harris run for six points and the 12-0 win. It was Harris' ninth TD of the season.

Coach Wayne Welton thought Chelsea's offense was as well defended by South Lyon as it has been all year long.

Harris carried 23 times for 72 yards and Rod Robeson gained 41 yards on 10 carries. Quarterback Matt Villemure completed three passes for 43 yards and launched his seventh TD pass of the year.

Mike Neibauer led the defense with 12 tackles. Robeson had eight, Jim Hayden, Harris, Kevin Richardson and Frank Modrzewski each made five.

Don Marshall intercepted a Lion pass in the final contest.

On the season for the frosh team, Rod Robeson led in rushing with 906 yards. Russell Harris followed with 788 and Matt Villemure had 146 yards. Villemure completed 18 season passes for 450 yards and seven touchdowns.

Receiver David Weber caught nine passes for 253 yards and five touchdowns. Matt McCallum snagged seven passes for 120 yards and a TD. Also grabbing touchdown passes were Steve Cattell and Kevin Richardson.

Accounting for the gridders' 154 season points were Harris with 62, Robeson with 30, Weber with 62, Villemure with 12, and Richard Cobb, Richardson and Cattell with six each.

Chris Seitz had the opportunity to throw a touchdown pass during the season.

Defensively, the squad was led by Robeson and Mike Neibauer with 90 and 85 tackles, respectively. Villemure intercepted three passes on defense.

Finishing the season with the frosh team were the following players, each of whom contributed to the league title-winning effort:

According to Coach Welton, the team also benefitted greatly from the volunteer time donated by Assistant Coach Randy Seitz, who made a special effort to help the staff and players.

All Ann Arbor District United Methodists have an unusual week in store for them, as Mission Interpreters, persons who have been involved in Christian Missions around the world, will visit each church in the district Nov. 10-15.

North Lake church will host three such missionaries. Sunday morning, Nov. 11, Luella and Orville Otter of Hemlock will share in the 10 a.m. worship celebration, telling of their experiences in mission at RedBird and Henderson Settlement in Kentucky. Personal person-to-person sharing will take place in the Fellowship Time which follows the service.

An all-church family night and pot-luck dinner Wednesday, Nov. 14 at 6:30 p.m. in the Activities Building will introduce Jim Brinks of Atlanta, Ga. Offerings will be taken at each mission sharing event.

All persons are invited to these opportunities, which will allow people to become acquainted with the mission work of the United Methodist church and with the missionaries themselves.

Sermons from Science Slated Sunday Evening

The third film in a series of 18 "Sermons from Science" will be shown Sunday, Nov. 11 at 6 p.m. at Immanuel Bible church, located at 145 Summit St. The film "Empty Cities" was produced by the Moody Science Institute of Whittier, Calif., and has been viewed by millions of people at world's fairs and the Olympic games in Montreal and Munich.

"Empty Cities" explores the jungle-covered remains of cities with such names as Chichen Itza, Tikal, Macchu Picchu, and Uxmal. Photographed in the beautiful tropics of Southern Mexico, Guatemala, and the Peruvian Andes, "Empty Cities" examines the amazing achievements of the Mayan and Incan cultures in such areas as medicine, mathematics, engineering, architecture, and astronomy.

Observing the present day descendants of these accomplished civilizations, we ask the question... can they be accurately referred to as "primitives" or... would "decadents" be a more valid term?

EXOTIC DANCING MAIDENS walked side by side with ghostly firemen and heavenly angels last Wednesday evening during the annual Kiwanis Halloween parade downtown. "Spirits" were bright in spite of the late autumn darkness.

Swimmers of the Week

STROKING to Swimmers of the Week honors last week were two juniors, Sue Cobb, center, and Barb Davis, right, and sophomore Lori Voita, left. Cobb celebrated the week with a lifetime best 1:17.4 in the 100 backstroke and a seasonal best in the 200 IM. She also won the 500 free against Lincoln. Barb Davis tied a seasonal best of 1:08.0 in the 100 free and twice broke her lifetime best in the breaststroke with times of 1:26.6 and 1:26.4. Third swimmer is the team's newest member, Lori Voita, who had seasonal bests of 1:08.0 in the 100 free and 2:37.2 in the 200 free.

RECORD SETTERS: An old Chelsea Aquatic Club record was broken last week when the club traveled to Milan to defeat their arch-rival, 290-230. Establishing a record in the 9 and 10 boys 100 free relay were, left to right, Kevan Flanigan, David Karns, John Cattell and Darrin Girard.

Swimmers Defeat Novi, Lincoln

Against Lincoln the swimmers all changed events in hopes of creating some interesting races and keeping the score down, but all to no avail. Chelsea took first and second in every event but diving, and that was because they entered only one diver.

Winners against Lincoln were Anita Powell, medley relay and 200 backstroke; Barb Davis, medley relay; Teresa Degener, medley relay; Shannon Springer, medley relay; Annette Kuhl, 200 and 100 free and free relay; Lisa Radke, 200 IM; Sara Borders, 100 free; Mary Bacon, diving; Celeste Powell, 100 fly and free relay; Sue Cobb, 500 free and free relay; Kristin Thomas, 100 breaststroke (freshman record); and Lori Voita, free relay.

Chelsea closes out its dual meet season with Willow Run at home and Albion away. "We should finish the season with 11 wins and four losses," Coach Larry Reed said. Three of the four losses were to Class A schools and the other was to state championship runner-up Milan.

The team will host an 11 team-11 event invitational on Saturday, Nov. 17, to end the swimming season.

Today's Investor

Q. I currently own nine different stocks. I have read a great deal about diversification and would like your advice about how many stocks I should own and in what industries I should own stocks.

A. The number of stocks you should have in your portfolio depends upon several factors. One is the size of your portfolio. If you have a $10,000 portfolio, I would suggest that you hold four or five different stocks. If you have a $100,000 portfolio I would suggest 10 to 20 different stocks depending upon another factor which I shall discuss later.

If you are building your portfolio, that is, regularly adding to the amount of money you have invested, then I would suggest a larger number of stocks. For instance if you currently have a $10,000 portfolio and are adding $1,000 a year to your investment, I wouldn't hesitate to have currently as many as 10 stocks. In that case, I would be increasing the amount of one or two of the stocks I owned with my new money each year.

Another factor in determining the number of stocks you should own is the number you as an individual have the ability to keep familiar with. I don't mean from the standpoint of making short term trading decisions, but from the standpoint of keeping familiar enough with the company so you understand its prospects and problems well enough so you can be comfortable in continuing to own it. Some individuals would be limited by this factor to four or five stocks. An experienced lifetime investor might be comfortable owning 30 or more stocks.

As far as industry diversification is concerned I would be persuaded here by several factors. If you are young I would have most of my portfolio in industries where the growth rate is highest. This would include such things as specialty chemicals, communications and electronics. If you are older you would place more emphasis on ability and moderate rates of growth.

In Investment Clubs we find it important to have diversification by size of company. We find 25% of our portfolio in smaller rapidly growing, often locally based companies, 25% in the giants of U. S. industry and 50% in the range from small to large gives valuable diversification.

★★★ Gridders of the Week ★★★

SERLING SENIORS: They never made it to Griddler of the Week during the season, but these five varsity seniors contributed as much as anyone to the vast improvement shown by the team in its final four contests. Playing their final season in Chelsea football were, left to right, end Jeff Boyer, tackle Keith Stillion, end Brad Flanigan, tackle Todd Wright and center Steve Hawker.

Varsity Dumps Pinckney, 35-6

marged 43 yards on five carries before he left the game.

Cach Gene LaFave said Preon's absence was his only concern going into the contest and Chelsea's offensive moves removed that concern early in the contest.

Is and Killelea received for 12 and 77 yards, respectively, and Bill Freeman paced the ground game, carrying 16 times for 64 yards.

Seeing their last action in Bulldog uniforms were seniors Brad Knickerbocker, John Dunn, Jim Cobb, Dan Pagliarini, John LaBarbara, Steve Hawker, Dave Morris, Tom Gilbreath, Andy Weir, Todd Wright, Keith Stillion, Lou Jahnke, Mike Killelea, Jeff

Boyer and Brad Flanigan. Pinckney wound up its season with a 3-6 over-all record in a tie for third place in the Kensington Valley Conference.

Gasohol is attracting more and more interest. Some 500 farmers were expected at a Midwest meeting on alcohol production, and 3,000 showed up.

Chelsea's hard-working grid- ders finished with a 6-3 record and copped a solid second place in the SEC behind Saline.

From Bathtubs To Buicks

David Dunbar Buick, founder of the Buick Motor Car Co., was born Sept. 17, 1854, 125 years ago. Buick was instrumental in developing a technique for applying enamel to cast iron and made a fortune in the bathroom fixtures business. In 1902 he began work on a valve-in-head engine and the next year founded the motor car company that bears his name. The Transportation Collection of Henry Ford Museum, Dearborn offers examples of 1908 and 1914 Buicks among the many historic vehicles on exhibit.

TROOP 84—

Today the Brownies of Troop 84 played a game called link chase. Then we played a little of red handed. Sheryl Myers had a birthday and brought a treat. After we had our ceremony we painted a story or a song or a favorite thing.

TROOP 82—

Junior Girl Scout Troop 82 went camping at Cedar Lake last week-end. We painted pumpkins for Halloween and held a Scouts Own Sunday morning celebrating scouting founder Juliette Lowe's birthday. We would like to thank Mrs. Stierle and Sharon Zaineb for staying and helping us at camp. We would also like to thank Mr. and Mrs. Rush for donating a smoke detector to our troop to use while camping.

TROOP 876—

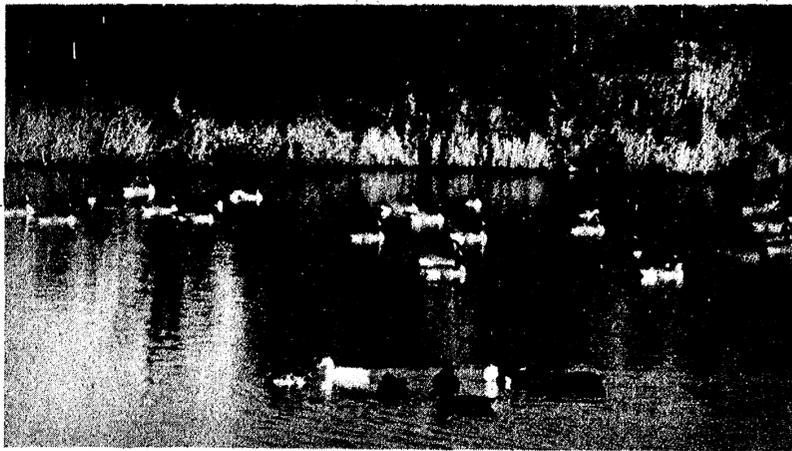

Brownie Troop 876 met Oct. 31 with a Halloween theme. We bobbed for apples, had a broom relay and also played a marshmallow game.

TROOP 689—

Regular meeting of Troop 689 was changed because of Halloween. On Thursday we had a Halloween party. Perfect Patrol brought refreshments. For entertainment, Oddballs Patrol played "Name That Tune." Anna Muncer celebrated her ninth birthday.

PEACEFUL AND SAFE: During the waterfowl hunting season Canada geese in the Chelsea area seek the safety of our local ponds and lakes. The Canadas in this picture sought refuge in Con-nnelly Pond on McKinley Rd. just north of Chelsea. Ducks in the foreground are year-round residents of the spring-fed pond and include a stray mallard that joined the domestic flock.

Funeral Directors Report Consumer Satisfaction

Consumers across the country continue to be very satisfied with funeral service according to statistics released today by Donald Cole of Burghardt-Cole Chelsea Chapel.

Burghardt-Cole Chelsea Chapel is a member of the International Order of the Golden Rule, a controlled-membership association of approximately 1,200 funeral directors. The Order's second quarterly statistics for 1979 show that 97.9% of all families served by member firms across the country were totally satisfied with the service they received.

"In light of the Federal Trade Commission's investigation of the funeral industry and all the adverse publicity we have received, I think these statistics show that funeral directors are doing a superb job of serving consumers—probably better than any other industry," said Cole.

The association contacted 25,446 families during the second quarter of 1979. Of 11,266 responses received, 11,024 were completely favorable.

Dale L. Rolling, executive director of the order, explained that members are asked to furnish listings on every service conducted so that all families can be contacted. Through these contacts, the association can determine whether the members continually live up to the high membership standards of the order. "Any criticism that is received in our office, no matter how minor, is called to the attention of the member the very same day," said Rollings. "This aids the consumer and the funeral director in resolving any misunderstanding which may have occurred."

"Rocketing" To Fame

George Stephenson, an English engineer, designed and built "Active," which, on Sept. 25, 1825, was the first steam locomotive to carry passengers. He later designed and built the "Rocket," considered the first practical steam locomotive in the world. A replica of the "Rocket," built by the same company, is on display in the new Interpretive Center of Henry Ford Museum, Dearborn.

Bowling Green U. Building Named For G. Eppler

Former Chelseaite Gertrude Eppler participated in groundbreaking ceremonies for a new physical education building bearing her name at Bowling Green State University in Ohio last month.

Miss Eppler directed the Bowling Green women's physical education program from 1941 until her retirement in 1969.

Miss Eppler, the daughter of the late Adam Eppler who owned a meat market here for many years, attended Chelsea schools and graduated from Eastern Michigan University. She taught at EMU until moving to Bowling Green.

She is credited with much of the growth of health and physical education courses and programs for women during her 28-year tenure at the Ohio university.

A winter resident of Sun City, Ariz., Miss Eppler spends her summers here at Blind Lake. She is the cousin of Mrs. Wilbert Grieb of Washington St.

AMERICA'S GETTING INTO TRAINING.

This year, a lot of you got your travel plans into shape the easy way. You sat back in a plush Amtrak seat. And got into training.

THIS WAS THE YEAR THAT WAS.

After a solid year of proposals and counterproposals, hearings and debates—and a summer's worth of energy crises—Congress established guidelines under which trains would be kept. And for the first time gave Amtrak the long-term support we've needed to see those plans through to reality.

But really, it goes deeper than that. Because this was the year America took a long, hard look at its passenger trains. And decided to keep them. Improve them. And rely on them. Now it's up to us. And we pledge to improve the quality of service and performance.

INTRODUCING A NEW AMTRAK.

Today, there's a new route map. It's more efficient than before; yet, with the changes, Amtrak still serves 503 cities and towns in 44 states, border to border, ocean to ocean. Including yours.

More importantly, it's a passenger rail system that's here to stay. While eliminating some routes, we've added others and are improving the kinds of services on still more. We'll continue to build our system around you, your needs and your interests.

WHY WASTE ENERGY?

Yours or America's. The day when America could depend almost exclusively on the auto is fast disappearing. If it hasn't already. Trains are a real alternative—at their best when moving people between large cities and smaller ones.

This kind of transportation is exactly what America needs. And it's exactly what we do.

VISIT OUR NEW CAR SHOWROOM.

Come down to your local station. In most areas of the country, you'll find our new Amfleet cars. With wide, reclining seats, wall-to-wall carpeting and drop-down trays, they rival the best in the world. Today, two of every three Amtrak trains operate with Amfleet or equally modern Turboliners and Metroliner equipment. Expect to see more comfortable new cars in the years ahead.

On our Western routes, you'll soon find our new Superliners starting service this month and next. These exciting double-decker long-distance trains bring new coach, dining and sleeping car luxury to some of the most beautiful parts of our country. 284 of these cars will complete the fleet over the next 12 to 18 months.

On other routes, especially long-distance Eastern trains, new cars will be ordered soon. In the meanwhile, we're bringing the best of the West to the East—with a stopover in Beech Grove, Indiana.

IN BEECH GROVE, MINOR MIRACLES PERFORMED WHILE YOU WAIT.

At our service facility there, we're taking these solid cars and rebuilding them from the wheels up. Once stripped to their frames and chassis, we replace antiquated steam systems (that's right, steam!) with reliable electric air conditioning and heating. We put in new interiors—new everything.

Our people innovate as they go, and pass on their knowledge to our other repair facilities through a videotape training program originated and created right there. These people best reflect the growing attitude you'll find among all Amtrak employees—proud, productive and in tune with our bright future.

CARS ARE JUST ONE OF OUR CONCERNS.

When you take a train—or a bus or plane—you should arrive at your destination when the schedule said you would. We agree. We also agree Amtrak's on-time performance could be much better. And we're doing something about it.

Part of the solution is us. Getting reliable equipment. And maintaining it so it won't break down en route.

Some of the solutions are in the hands of others. All of Amtrak's trains outside the Boston-Washington Northeast Corridor, after all, are dispatched and controlled by private railroads over rails owned by them. If the tracks are allowed to deteriorate our trains can't keep their schedules. Clearly, if the railroads don't work together with Amtrak, our trains will be delayed. It's one of our most important challenges.

SO IS YOUR COMFORT AND CONVENIENCE.

An ill-kept station is no way to begin or end a trip. That's why we're actively renewing or rebuilding stations. We've also expanded our ticketing services, from the reservation agents you speak to on the phone—with their computer consoles that give you accurate information at the touch of a button—to the variety of fares and packages they can offer you to save you money. And because we believe strongly in an intermodal public transportation system, we're making our schedules work harder, so you can connect with buses, for instance, to continue your trip when necessary.

WE'RE GOING TO GET YOU INTO TRAINING.

There are no two ways about it. Amtrak management is going to get you on board and keep you coming back to our trains. And we're going to do it with an aggressive, vital, innovative commitment to you, the riding public. That means everyone, from our reservation and station agents to our on-board service personnel, and private railroad employees like engineers and conductors.

They're proud and dedicated people. Together, we promise to give you the first-class rail system you deserve. And, as we enter a new decade, the system you need. Welcome aboard.

CHELSEA, TAKE ONE FOR A TEST RIDE.

Announcing Modernization & Expansion of DRIVE-UP WINDOW SERVICES

Chelsea State Bank is pleased to announce the expansion of the Drive-Up Window facilities at the Main Office from the current two windows to four windows, each with a separate lane. This improvement, together with the new Branch Office of this bank, presently under construction at the corner of S. Main St. and Old US-12, will increase our ability to serve our customers with greater speed and efficiency.

During the construction period the Drive-Up Window service will be limited to one window. This inconvenience should not last more than a few weeks, and during this time more tellers will be on duty in the lobby.

We appreciate your patience and co-operation during this construction period.

Real Estate
By PAUL FRISINGER
REALTOR

FHA IS NOT THE LENDER

Counter to what you might think, the Federal Housing Administration does not actually lend you any money on the FHA mortgage loan. It only insures the loan, and only if it conforms to certain government rules and regulations.

Because of these lower rate equivalents over conventional loans, the lender will normally charge an extra service charge called 'points' (paid by the seller) to make the loan more competitive.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at FRISINGER REALTY CO., 935 S. Main St., Chelsea. Phone: 475-8681; evenings 475-2621. We're here to help!

Usually, the interest rate on FHA loans is a little lower than conventional loans, and the down payment required is traditionally low. Another advantage is that the term of the loan can be stretched up to 30 to 35 years.

So, you don't start with FHA. You start with the private lending institution from which you want to borrow money. You tell them how much you need, and show them the contract for the home you want to buy, providing you have already signed it. They will arrange to inspect the property and have it appraised by FHA.

Spiritual Life Crusade

Pastor Richard Coury of the First Assembly of God Church of Chelsea, located at 19400 Old US-12 East, announces the beginning of a "Spiritual Life Crusade" to be held at his church starting on Nov. 14 and continuing through Sunday, Nov. 18. Evening services will begin at 7 p.m. and Sunday at 11 a.m. and 6 p.m. Pastor Coury urges the public to take advantage of this outstanding opportunity: come hear the visiting evangelists.

Traveling here from their home in Indianapolis, Ind., the evangelists Dale and Jerri Robbins will be featuring inspirational Bible preaching and heart-felt gospel singing in a spirit-filled atmosphere of worship. The evangelist says that this will be an exciting time of Spiritual growth and interests that the entire community will enjoy.

The Robbins have traveled extensively throughout America by means of their crusades and singing ministries and have been featured on Christian television and radio programs, syndicated nationally by the Le Sea and the Christian Broadcasting Networks.

Both Rev. and Mrs. Robbins are accomplished singers and musicians. Rev. Robbins spent much of his early life in preparation for a career in music, and while attending Central Bible College in Springfield, Mo., Mrs. Robbins sang with the Revival Time Choir of the internationally heard "Revival Time" radio broadcast of the Assemblies of God. Also as a teenager, she was a winner of the Indiana High School vocalist contest.

Rev. Robbins is an ordained minister with the Assemblies of God and studied at Indiana Christian University. He has been active as an evangelist since 1973.

NORTH SCHOOL GOBLINS took time out from classes last Wednesday for a parade around the school grounds. Besides members of the rock group Kiss and glittering spacemen, more traditional witches, pumpkins and just plain ghouls entertained the surrounding neighborhood. Many of the same "faces" could be seen parading downtown later that evening.

Area Special Olympic Wrestlers Attend Clinic

Friday, Nov. 2, all Chelsea Special Olympic wrestlers traveled to High Point for a wrestling clinic. Hosted by High Point Coach Doug Cooper, the session featured coaching by Tom Fletke, Chelsea High school coach, and two varsity wrestlers, Mike Bross and Eric Gaken. Wrestlers of all ages were there and High Point and Willow Run had many of elementary age in attendance. Chelsea High's Special Olympians attended 20 strong, together with four from the junior high. In all, more than 120 participated. The clinic was held to help wrestlers prepare for the upcoming tournament and learn the skills involved. Attending from Chelsea High were Glenn Passow, Mike Foster, Terry Walkowe, Ryan Sweeny, Peter Worden, Bill Matarazzo, Tim Black, Albert Bedard, Dennis Czechowski, Bob Daniels, Mike Goebel and Tracey Harvey. Junior high athletes were Terence Verge, Kenny Capazoli, Andy Borre and John Helm.

Girls did not wrestle but instead learned some methods of self defense. Nancy Cooper, Marla Sewell and Doug Cooper taught the girls how to defend themselves against an attacker. Chelsea students who learned these techniques were Theresa Murphy, Lori Brown, Kathy Young, Sue Armstrong and Linda Alber.

Card of Thanks 16

CARD OF THANKS The family of Clarence Trinkle wishes to thank all their friends, neighbors and relatives for all the acts of kindness shown him throughout his illness and hospitalization. After his passing we sincerely thank everyone for the kindnesses extended to us. The food, flowers, memorials and cards of sympathy were greatly appreciated. A special thanks to Dr. Waldyke, the dedicated staffs at Cedar Knoll and the Chelsea Hospital for the care extended him. A very sincere thanks to the Rev. Carl Asher for his prayers and calls. And the congregation of St. John's United Church of Christ for the nice luncheon following the services. Also thank you, to Mr. Cole of Burghardt-Cole Funeral Chapel for his acts of kindness during our bereavement. All these acts of kindness and love by everyone during the loss of our loved one were sincerely appreciated by Louise Trinkle and Family.

THANK YOU I would like to thank the bus drivers and their families and everyone who had anything to do with the retirement dinner and the gift of money. And to Joe Merkel and his waitresses at the Wolverine Lounge and the children who rode Bus 22. I sure appreciated the thought of everyone for thinking of me and going to all the extra work involved in getting my party ready. Don Keezer.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

This letter is to all the "people" who went around smashing pumpkins on Halloween. I hope you're all very proud of yourselves, maybe next year you can get even more and have all your friends say how great you are.

I just wish you were the ones who had to explain why to the kids who worked hard on carving them. I do have one thing in my favor, my boys are at an age where I can get them to understand what rotten "people" can do and that thank God, there aren't that many, but the few who spoil it for everyone else. They at least understand a little about the creeps who get a kick out of destroying other people's property. But some of the younger ones only know that their pumpkin is smashed in the street.

I'll bet you creeps were the first ones to cry when you were younger and someone smashed yours.

I hope you had a great time smashing my boy's pumpkins because this is one family that will think twice before buying them again and if we do they will definitely be kept in the house.

As for you parents who let your kids stay out that late, don't bother asking why when your little angels get caught, most of it will be your fault for letting them run as they choose.

Karen Steinaway.

AGRICULTURE IN ACTION MICHIGAN FARM BUREAU

*Don't Panic!

Some politicians and some members of the news media almost had a coronary the other day when the U. S. Department of Agriculture released some preliminary figures showing how much land in this country was owned by foreign interests. No doubt many of them conjured up visions of Arabs in their big Rolls Royces driving down U. S. country lanes looking over their vast holdings of soybean, corn and wheat fields or herds of cattle.

There are other figures, however, that we need to look at in order to put all this into proper perspective.

Figures from another government report should cause even more concern than the land owned by foreign interests. Recently USDA released a report entitled, "Who Owns the Land?" and it shows that governments—local, state and federal—own 40 percent of the land in this country. Foreigners own five-one hundredths of a percent.

It is the legislatures and the Congress that have passed laws giving various agencies of government the power of eminent domain so that millions of acres in this country have been condemned and purchased until now government owns 40 percent of the land.

Possibly some of these same lawmakers who helped pass, and continue to support these eminent domain laws are the same ones who are protesting the loudest about foreign investments.

We need to be concerned about government and foreign ownership, but when you compare 40 percent and five one-hundredths of a percent, it's not too hard to figure which one should give us the most concern.

Disclosure Bill Passed

Last week, the Senate gave final approval to a measure which would require state colleges and universities to disclose the salaries of their professors, administrators and other employees.

The issue has been a sore spot for some time with several colleges and universities, Lake Superior State College, Lansing Community College and the University of Michigan in particular, which have lobbied hard to be excluded from the Freedom of Information Act.

Faculty members at Lake Superior and Lansing Community have raised the issue during labor negotiations, arguing that administrative salaries should be made public. As long as the salary schedule for administrators is not known, faculty members charge, the administrators can give themselves large increases or additional fringe benefits that no one knows about.

Officials at most colleges and universities across the state do reveal employees' salaries, but the U. of M., for instance, has maintained that such disclosure is a violation of privacy.

Bottle Ban Should Go National

Every fall huge throngs of football fans crowd Michigan Stadium in Ann Arbor and Spartan Stadium in East Lansing to watch our state's two Big Ten football teams in action.

After every game the two university's clean-up crews face a monumental task of picking up the litter left by thousands who come to cheer on their favorite team.

This year, however, the task is a little easier for the maintenance crews. They are getting some help from an unexpected source: Michigan's law requiring a deposit on beverage bottles and cans. The law went into effect last December.

If you stay around after the games, you can see younger children and some not so young ones going around the stadium with plastic garbage bags picking up the beer and pop cans. Thanks to the new law, the cans will be redeemed for five or 10 cents each, depending on the individual container.

The money is not inconsiderable when you see the huge number of bottles and cans left in the two stadiums after the game. It's yet another sign that the new law is working to help keep our state clean.

Yet, it has had its bad side effects, particularly in those areas of the state close to state lines. Michigan retailers in those areas have suffered because it is easy for customers to skip across the border, purchase the beverage in non-returnable containers, and come back across the state line. The whole process defeats the purpose of the new law.

The retailers in those areas have seen a dramatic drop in business, blame it on the new bottle and can return law, and are understandably angry.

At least one border area beer distributor has been forced out of business, causing a permanent loss of jobs. Other outlets have also been forced to lay off employees because of the dramatic decline in business.

In my view, it is not fair for a business to operate under one set of rules, only to be undercut by another business a few miles away operating under other, less competitive rules. It simply doesn't make sense, especially since the Michigan bottle and can return law has visibly reduced litter in our state.

For that reason, I strongly support a resolution introduced by my colleague, State Representative Lad Stacey, R-Berrien Springs, which asks the Congress of the United States to enact a national bottle and can return law. Though the resolution was introduced some time ago, it has yet to come up for debate in the State House Policy Committee, chaired by Representative Joseph Forbes, D-Oak Park.

In Washington, a bottle can return law has been introduced by U. S. Representative James Jeffords, R-Vermont, but it has been pigeonholed in a committee controlled by a Congressman from Pittsburgh, Pa., whose steel industry constituents are not exactly ecstatic over the idea of reducing the number of cans manufactured.

The Stacey resolution urges the Congress to get on with the job of sharing the benefits such states as Oregon, Massachusetts, and Michigan have received from the bottle and can return law with our sister states.

Hopefully passage of the resolution preceded by quick action of the House Policy Committee will give Congress the added incentive to get going.

Local Control Over Entertainment

The House recently passed a bill that would reduce the number of communities "Sexy Rexy" and his infamous troupe of male go-go dancers would be allowed to perform in.

As I'm sure you are aware by now, "Sexy Rexy" is a 21-year-old male go-go dancer, who along with four members of his traveling entourage, has been convicted in Coldwater and arrested in Bay City on charges of "indecent exposure" after female patrons ripped off his bikini briefs during the group's routines.

The Senate is now considering the bill - introduced by my Republican colleague State Representative Ruth McNamee - to allow local communities a greater say over the entertainment permitted in their locality.

In light of the recent "Sexy Rexy" appearances around the state, many city commissions and other local units of government are throwing their support behind the bill because they find "entertainment" of this type offensive.

Here's how this legislation would change the present system:

Entertainment permits are currently issued by the state Liquor Control Commission (LCC) following approval by an LCC investigator, local legislative body and the chief law enforcement officer in the community.

The entertainment permits and liquor licenses are tied to one another under the Liquor Control Act, making it difficult for a community to terminate "offensive" entertainment in their area without becoming involved in expensive litigation.

Proprietors who own just one bar at a location pay more than $1,000 a year for a "consumption on the premises" license. Since these bar owners make much of their income from beverages served at the bar, they are understandably quick to defend their right to keep their liquor license.

If it takes going to court, most proprietors are willing to go that route to save their livelihood.

If this proposal is passed by the Senate and signed into law by the Governor, local communities would have the power to revoke a proprietor's entertainment permit without taking away his Class C ("consumption on the premises") license.

Questionable entertainment in the area would be debated at a public hearing and local citizens' attitudes would determine whether to allow the entertainment to continue.

I believe that this is an excellent bill because it would give local communities the power to determine their own values, their own uniqueness. I'm convinced that local control is the way to go on this issue.

Crucial Decision on Sunset

The next three weeks in the Michigan House could tell the tale on whether all the rhetoric you heard during last fall's election campaign about controlling the growth of government and making it work more efficiently will be transformed into action.

The House Policy Committee, chaired by the Majority floor leader, State Representative Joseph Forbes, D-Oak Park, has before it several bills that call for periodic reviews of each state agency's operation.

The sponsor of one bill, Mr. Forbes, as well as similar bill passed by the Senate, would like to call it by its catchword, a sunset bill. To do so, however, would violate truth-in-labeling principles.

The two bills do not contain the catalyst to make them sunset bills. They do not contain termination dates. That means, they do not contain dates by which time if the legislature fails to act, the agency or department reviewed would go out of business.

The key to making sunset work, the driving force behind making sure the legislature does the depth review required to weed out those agencies which are no longer working, is to give each agency a termination or "death" date. If the legislature doesn't act by that date, the bureau, division, section or department ceases to exist. It's that simple.

What hasn't been simple, however, is getting Mr. Forbes and his compatriot in the Senate, Sen. Gary Corbin, D-Clio, to realize that their review bill will only be so much paper shuffling unless the incentive, the will to do the thorough review, is built into the law.

Termination dates do make the review process work. They do make the legislature and, for that matter, the agencies get serious about making your government efficiently use your tax dollars, and to keep them operating that way.

For that reason, I favor (OR, I co-sponsored) a bill forwarded by my colleague, State Representative Paul Hillemonds, R-Holland, which calls for a schedule to review every segment of state bureaucracy. His bill would create a 10-year cycle during which a joint committee of the legislature would examine each department's function and that of each agency in a particular department.

Most importantly, however, his bill puts that special committee and the legislature as whole on a timetable. If the House and Senate do not act by a date certain, the agency under review would go out of business.

In my view, this is the meat of sunset. It will be debated before the House Policy Committee during its infrequent meetings the next few weeks.

You will know if the committee decides to support termination dates whether all those promises of last year really meant anything or if it was just talk. If the panel votes against termination dates, you will know the bill Mr. Forbes and Senator Corbin would like to call sunset is merely a sham and will not make the bureaucracies accountable and will not lead to greater efficiency in state government.

Rarely here in Lansing are issues as clear cut as this one. If you agree with me that termination dates are the key to making sunset more than mere talk, I hope you will write me and tell me so that I can present Chairman Forbes with your desire to see him make this government work—efficiently.

Kiwanis Halloween Party

MOST TYPICAL: Winning costumes at the Kiwanis Halloween parade last Wednesday in the most typical of the season category were worn by, left to right, Angel Lawton, first prize; Sara Nicola, second; and Tony Push, third.

CUTEST: The Fruit of the Loom took top honors as cutest costumed Halloween marchers last week. Donating their $5 prize money to the Chelsea Symphony Band Mexican trip were, rear, from left, Trisha Mattoff, Chris Berkel, Kristie Centilli and Tylen Greenleaf. Second place honors were taken by Adam Bragg, Richelle Jones and Rianne Jones as clowns. Raggedy Ann Jessica Erskine captured third.

IT WAS HARD TO TELL the good guys from the ghouls last Halloween evening, as witnessed by the monstrous face that emerged from the Chelsea Fire Department rescue vehicle in the parade downtown last Wednesday.

GARDEN SPOT

By Roberta L. Lawrence, County Horticultural Agent

BULB VARIETIES FOR INDOOR FORCING

Question: Last year I was marginally successful forcing tulips in February. But I guess I chose the wrong varieties because they were over 2 ft. tall and almost tipped the pot over. Could you suggest some species that look good indoors. Could I have done something wrong to make them stretch so tall?

Answer: Bulbs are relatively easy to force for winter blooms indoors. The key is a 14-week cold treatment (35-48 degrees) and enough water. Bulbs that are not given adequate cold will be short and stunted. Bulbs which are not kept moist will not develop a good root system. Moisture is the number one problem with forced bulbs. Many people put potted bulbs out in the garage or down in the basement and forget them. They should be watered every week to 10 days, depending on soil drainage.

Hunting, Fishing Films Available From DNR

Lansing—The Department of Natural Resources has a number of informative and interesting films available on hunting and fishing along with others on parks water, and other resources.

More than 50 titles are listed in the DNR's newly revised film folder, including a timely new film—"Shoot/Don't Shoot"—that permits the beginning and veteran hunter to critically examine 10 key shooting situations.

Among the many other films are the following:

—"A Question of Hunting," which looks at the hunter's role in today's society.

—"The Man—The Trapper," which aims to dispel wild tales, preconceived ideas and plain untruths about trappers.

—"The Right to Hunt," which is a must film for any school group, sportsmen's club or other organization wanting its members to understand the part hunting plays in management of our wildlife resources.

To order a free film folder, write: Film Folder, Department of Natural Resources, Box 30028, Lansing 48909.

Birth of the Packard

James Ward Packard completed and ran his first automobile in Warren, O. on Nov. 6, 1899. With his brother, Warren D. and George L. Weiss of Cleveland as partners, he then formed the New York and Ohio Co. to build the popular Packard automobile. Henry Ford Museum, Dearborn, exhibits a rare 1904 Model L Packard—the only known example of the model left—as part of its extensive Transportation Collection.

Many unions and employers are putting clauses in their contracts with employers that prohibit discrimination against handicapped people, according to the President's Committee on Employment of the Handicapped.

FUNNIEST: Grabbing the laughs at last week's Halloween parade were the McDonald Red Hairy Monster (Theresa Dyer), left, in first place; Mountain Don't and Squint, Kay King and Sallie Wilson, in second; and Harry the Monster, Sharon Williams, third.

SPOOKIEST: Shane Hutting and Ted Lewis, left, took first place in the spookiest category at Chelsea's Halloween parade last week as a two-headed monster and red monster. Second was monster David Oesterle, center, and fanged creature John Cattell took third.

Good Things Growing in Michigan

Turkey, known as the Great American Bird, has become a symbol of thanks for a bountiful harvest, as well as the traditional dish for Christmas and other celebrations.

Good things growing in Michigan include about 1.2 million turkeys, more than 30 million pounds, marketed in 1978, according to the Michigan Department of Agriculture. This season's estimates are slightly less in our state, however, national production is expected to be the largest ever.

About 40 percent of Michigan's turkey production goes into processed foods. Facilities to readily freeze turkeys make the birds available year round, while improved breeding stocks produce tender, broad-breasted turkeys with large meaty thighs and drumsticks.

Roast turkey with all the trimmings is a feast, and leftovers are great for making sandwiches, turkey pie with home-made biscuits baked on top, or chop suey. Additional ideas to add to your recipe file for leftovers are Turkey Divan, Hash and Tetraxini.

For Turkey Divan, place slices of roast turkey breast in a shallow baking dish. Top with cooked broccoli. Cover with your favorite sharp cheese sauce. Sprinkle with bread crumbs and grated cheese. Bake for 15 minutes at 375 degrees.

Turkey Hash is prepared by saute'ing one-half cup each chopped onion and green pepper in five tablespoons of garlic seasoned butter. Add three cups diced, cooked turkey and one cup stuffing. Allow the mixture to cook over medium heat until thoroughly warmed. Pour two-thirds cup heavy cream over the mixture and cook until blended and piping hot. Top with one-half cup grated cheese and place under broiler to melt.

For Turkey Tetraxini, combine two tablespoons melted butter, one tablespoon flour, one can cream of mushroom soup and one cup milk. Cook, stirring constantly, until thick. Mix two cups diced, cooked turkey, one four-ounce can mushrooms and one-half cup peas into sauce. Put one-half pound cooked spaghetti in the bottom of a baking dish. Pour turkey mixture over this and sprinkle with cheese. Bake at 400 degrees for 20 minutes.

SEC ROUND-UP:

Saline Becomes Area's Only Undefeated Team

Saline 41, Blissfield 7—
A perfect season ended for Saline's Hornets last Friday night as the SEC champions romped to a 41-7 finish over Blissfield.

Hornet quarterback Chip Skinner made the big play consistently and was involved in all six touchdowns. Skinner hit six of 12 passes for 128 yards, half of his completions coming on fourth-down situations.

Saline touchdowns came on runs by Skinner, Steve Beckett, and Mark Theisen, who had three TD runs to his credit for the evening. Contributing to the cause with excellent ballcarrying were John Rolen and Damon Mossman.

Saline finishes their season with a 9-0 mark to become the only undefeated team in the area this season. Blissfield ends its season at 3-6.

Dexter 16, Hartland 15—
With just four minutes to go in the game, John Merz carried 24 yards for a touchdown and Jim Vaughan completed a two-point conversion pass to Jeff Leighton as Dexter came out on the winning end of a squeaker, 16-15, Friday night over Hartland.

Hard running by Merz and good blocking by Mike Bell and Mike Doletzky helped the Dreadnaughts take the win and bring their final season record to 2-7. Hartland ends its season at 2-7 also.

Carleton Airport 35, Milan 13—
Carleton Airport gained 396 total offensive yards and leaped out to an early 14-0 lead to manhandle Milan Friday night, 34-13.

The Big Reds were held to just 108 yards by the Jets, finally managing both TDs in the final quarter. Jed Schilling put Milan on the scoreboard with his 45-yard interception and Nate Love booted an extra point. Then with all time gone, Love carried two yards for a touchdown to end the game and put Milan's final record at 2-7. Carleton Airport finished at 4-5.

South Lyon 27, Lincoln 6—
For the third week in a row, Lincoln's opposition managed to control superb runner Derrick Tolliver and take the game away from the Railsplitters. This week it was KVC champ, South Lyon, who took a decisive 27-6 win over Tolliver and company.

John Iafolla led the Lions' defense, making 14 solo tackles and intercepting two passes, each of which led to a South Lyon touchdown.

Tolliver was held to 42 yards in 18 carries, his lowest tally of the season.

South Lyon finishes the season with a 6-3 record and Lincoln ends with a 5-4 mark.

ALL LEAGUE PLAYERS: Nine Chelsea players in 12 positions were elected by SEC coaches to the All-League teams last week. Taking the honors were, rear from left, Andy Weir, offensive guard, first team; Mike Killelea, offensive end, second team; Dave Morris, noseguard, second team; front, Brad Knickerbocker, offensive end, second team; John LaBarbara, offensive tackle, first team; and defensive tackle, first team; and Jeff Dils, offensive end, first team. Not pictured are John Dunn, quarterback, second team, and defensive halfback, second team; John Preston, offensive running back, first team, and defensive linebacker, second team; and Lou Jahnke, defensive end, first team.

Nine Bulldog Gridders Earn All-Conference Recognition

This year's Bulldogs and their remarkable season finish not only made believers out of fans, parents and opposing teams, but made a deep impression on other coaches in the SEC as well.

In voting by the six SEC varsity coaches last week, Chelsea placed nine players in 12 positions on the first and second All League teams.

Foremost among the elected Bulldogs is John LaBarbara who was a unanimous choice to the first offensive team as a tackle and enjoyed the same unanimous status on the first defensive team, also as tackle. LaBarbara made 59 solo tackles in the course of the season and was Chelsea's offensive and defensive workhorse.

Other members of the Chelsea squad elected to the first offensive team were senior Andy Weir, junior Jeff Dils and sophomore John Preston. Lou Jahnke was the one other Chelsea selection to the first defensive team.

Running back Preston was another unanimous choice to the team, having rolled up 920 yards rushing this season in 186 carries for a 4.9 yard average. An all-around player, Preston was also named to the second team as defensive linebacker.

Andy Weir, 5'10", 160-pound senior, won his guard spot on the first offensive team in unanimous voting. Chelsea Coach Gene LaFave called Weir the "most improved player from day one," pointing to his quick adaptation to assignments and tenacity.

Chelsea's star receiver, junior Jeff Dils, was almost a shoe-in for a spot on the All League team. Over the season the 5'11", 155-pound end snagged 48 passes for 13 touchdowns and 847 Bulldog yards. Opposing teams guarded Dils closely in later season games, but he managed to break through for three touchdowns in the final contest with Pinckney.

Defensive end Lou Jahnke joined LaBarbara on the first defensive team. He racked up 68 solo tackles over the year and often had his contributions to Bulldog victories cited by Coach Gene LaFave.

Four gridders in five positions were named to the second All League team for Chelsea: Mike Killelea, Brad Knickerbocker, John Dunn and Dave Morris.

Quarterback John Dunn had a superb senior year for the Bulldogs, completing 86 passes in 173 attempts for a 49.7 percent average and 1,399 yards. Dunn also tossed for 19 touchdowns and carried 87 times for 240 yards and a 2.75 yard average. A season record of 102 tackles also earned Dunn a spot on the second team as defensive halfback.

Offensive end Mike Killelea had 26 receptions for 379 Chelsea yards over the season and was elected to the second team as senior end Brad Knickerbocker who had nine receptions for 101 yards. Knickerbocker punted accurately for Chelsea all season, ending with a 33.4 yard average. A number of his kick-offs found their way to the end zone, allowing the Bulldogs to control their opposition.

Noseguard Dave Morris' spot on the second defensive team is somewhat of a Chelsea Cinderella story. Coach LaFave didn't think Morris would see much season action when the season first began, but Morris proved his abilities and did a commendable job for the Bulldogs right from the start of the year. Election to an All League team is a fitting conclusion to the 5'8", 180-pound senior's high school career.

SEC champion Saline dominated the lists with 13 positions on the offensive and defensive first teams divided among eight players. The following players from SEC teams were voted to berths on All League teams:

First team, defense—Matt McGuire, Saline, end; Jeff Ward, Saline, tackle; John Rolen, Saline, noseguard; John Schaefer, Saline, linebacker; Gary Stralnic, Milan, linebacker; Rick Zerkel, Saline, linebacker; Chip Skinner, Saline, halfback; John Merz, Dexter, halfback; Jim Czinski, Lincoln, halfback.

JV Gridders Win Over Pinckney

A sometimes discouraging season ended on the upbeat for Chelsea's junior varsity gridders, as the team solidly defeated Pinckney, 30-20, for their second victory of the season.

Pinckney opened the scoring in the first quarter on a 50-yard run, but Chelsea came right back in the second quarter with two touchdowns on one- and four-yard runs to make the score 14-0, Chelsea, at the half.

Chelsea added another eight points after halftime to lead 22-0. Pinckney came to within eight points with a TD in that quarter but Chelsea scored again to put the game out of reach. Pinckney added a TD in the final period to finalize the score at 30-20.

Offensively, Dave Wojcicki gained 153 yards rushing and 28 passing and returned a pass interception 47 yards. Todd Sprague rushed for 101 yards for three touchdowns and two extra-point conversions. Dave Langue rushed for 85 yards.

On defense, Chelsea was led by Steve Haas and Dave Harrison, followed by Brian Cooper, Gary Van Meer, Rick Poljan, Tom Headrick, Bill Lamb and Doug Henson.

Coach Jon Schaffner pointed out that the JVs took two of their final three contests this season and showed a great deal of improvement at season's end.

Gordon Beaumont Award Goes to WMU Senior

Stetson Chapel of Kalamazoo College was the setting Friday, Nov. 2 for the first awarding of the Gordon Foster Beaumont Award.

The award is named for the son of the Very Rev. and Mrs. Jerrold F. Beaumont, who was shot and killed in Kalamazoo last November while attempting to rescue a fellow employee from abduction at the office where they both worked. The Rev. Beaumont is pastor of St. Barnabas Episcopal church in Chelsea.

Established as a permanent part of Kalamazoo College's recognition of worthy students, the award has as a basis for its presentation the offering and effort put forth by its recipient.

This year's winner was Janet Hieshetter of Grand Rapids, a graduating senior who has a goal of completing her studies at the University of Michigan in medicine.

Miss Hieshetter demonstrated her excellence in studies and in concern for her fellowmen, in keeping with those concerns as exemplified by the sacrifice of Gordon Beaumont.
