Bulldogs Win SEC Championship

Aggressive, Dedicated Team Brings First Crown in 29 Years

Chelsea's cagers won their final game of the regular basketball season Friday. Good as that sounds, for Chelsea fans it was not the most exciting news of the evening.

What really tickled the hometown partisans was the result of a game played in Saline's gym that left the Bulldogs all alone on top of the SEC for the first time in 29 years.

Making an incredible 76 percent of their shots from the floor in the second half, Milan's Big Reds demolished Saline, 64-48, to hand Chelsea the 1979-80 SEC crown.

Stuck in third place for most of the season, Milan came on strong to outshoot Saline 61-37 percent and dominate the boards with 35 rebounds to the Hornets' 23.

Saline's big threat John Kendzicky sat out the game with a sprained ankle, leaving a void that was partially filled by Matt McGuire. Without the combination of the two, however, Saline finished with only two players in double figures.

The loss dropped the Hornets to a final 8-2 SEC record, second to Chelsea's record of 9-1.

Not to be overlooked, of course, is the Bulldogs' win over Mason, 79-66, Friday, which sends them into District Tournament play on the upbeat.

"We want to be on the upswing when we go to districts," explained Coach Robin Raymond. "We played well against Willow Run Tuesday and we played pretty well against Mason."

"In our case we have to stay away from having let downs. We're proud of our 16-4 record, but that doesn't mean anything in the state tournament."

Chelsea held only a slim lead at the half in the Mason contest, 33-30, helped by 10 points from Jeff Dils.

At half-time, Raymond said, the Bulldogs discussed their defense and came out in the third quarter to play a tougher game with Mason.

A 23-13 third quarter that broke open the game for Chelsea showed the effectiveness of their resolve. At one point in the final period, the Bulldogs were up by 18, when the reserves came in to finish up the game and preserve the lead at 13 points.

The Bulldogs, with greater height, dominated the boards to the tune of 43-26. Chelsea led in shooting, making 37 of 71 for 52 percent. Mason bucketed 23 in 56 attempts for 45 percent.

Free throw opportunities were rather unevenly distributed, with Chelsea making five out of six, to Mason's 20 out of 28. Raymond chalked up the lopsided figures to the more aggressive style of play exhibited by Chelsea's cagers.

Jeff Dils led Chelsea with 15 points, followed by three other players in double figures. Jon (Continued on page eight)

Cagers Expect Chelsea Fans at Tourney Finals

As this edition of The Chelsea Standard went to press, Chelsea's varsity Bulldogs were sharing the Lumen Christi gymnasium with Jackson County Western in a bid to make it to District Tournament finals this Saturday.

Tickets for that final contest, to be played Saturday, March 8, 7:30 p.m., at Jackson Lumen Christi, are available at the Chelsea High school athletic office Thursday and Friday, March 6 and 7. Maps showing the best route to Lumen Christi are also available at the office.

A large home-town turnout would be beneficial to the Bulldogs, said Coach Robin Raymond, repeating the widely-held belief that a vocal crowd can add as many as seven points to a team's score.

The Bulldogs' likely opponent in the finals is Lumen Christi, who would be playing with a home court advantage.

"If Chelsea can match their (Lumen Christi's) fan support, it would mean a lot," Raymond stressed.

A win in the District finals would send Chelsea to regional play in Novi, facing the winner of the Novi district tournament on Tuesday, March 11, at 7:30 p.m. Regional finals will be played that Friday, March 14.

Tickets for regional games will be available only at the door before the contests. The Novi gymnasium is extremely large, however, and travelers from Chelsea are not likely to be turned away at the door. Again, maps of the best route to Novi will be available in the Chelsea High school athletic office.

Further questions about post-season play may be directed to the athletic office at 475-9131.

World Day Of Prayer Set Friday

Church Women United of Chelsea are planning to observe the World Day of Prayer, Friday, March 7, with a White Breakfast.

A breakfast of white grape juice, hot cross buns and coffee and tea will be served at 9:30 a.m. in the social center of the First United Methodist church.

Guest speaker for the program will be the Rev. James Stacey, who will speak on "Covenant: The Key to Responsibility and Freedom."

All men and women are invited to attend the World Day of Prayer Program. A nursery will be provided.

For more information, call Mary Helen Brown, 475-9714, or Joanne Weber, 475-2741.

Dils Named All-County

In voting among Washtenaw county high school basketball coaches last week, Chelsea junior cager Jeff Dils was unanimously named to the 10-member, All-County basketball team.

Dils was selected from among players in 13 schools, ranging from Class A to Class D, and was the first Chelsea player ever to receive All-County honors.

Organized 'Sticker' Campaign Spices Up Village Election

Stability and experience versus change and reform constitutes the classic political confrontation. This Monday, Independent voters will be asked to choose among candidates supporting either one or the other view of how the village ought to be run.

Long years of political inactivity and a one-party system ended abruptly last month with the Independent Party caucus, and voters may this year choose nominees of that party or candidates running an organized sticker campaign.

Innuendo, rumors and a stream of letters to the editor have been the hallmarks of the month following the caucus, and more voters than the Syivan Town Hall polls have seen in years are expected to turn out Monday.

The current Independent Party slate, headed by Charles Ritter as nominee for president, describes itself as "a team which committed to good, fair, honest and open government . . . with no (Continued on page four.)"

TOM HODGSON, Long-time Waterloo Park Naturalist, describes a display featuring sandhill cranes at the Interpretive Center, his home-away-from-home for the past 15 years. A man whose DNR career parallels the development of nature trails and the Interpretive Center, Hodgson leaves Friday to begin a new career at Jackson Community College as director of the Dahlem Environmental Center.

Tom Hodgson Will Direct JCC Environmental Center

Tomorrow will mark the end of an era at Waterloo Nature Center, as Tom Hodgson takes one last Friday afternoon stroll around the Interpretive Center before ending his 15-year tenure as park naturalist.

Waterloo Nature Center and Tom Hodgson's career began together in 1965, before there were nature trails and an interpretive center. A substantial part of what area residents now regard as established features of Waterloo came about through Hodgson's efforts over the years.

Retirement and resting on his laurels are not exactly on Hodgson's mind, however, as he'll have just two days to relax before beginning his new career at Jackson Community College as director of the Dahlem Environmental Center.

Like in his early days at Waterloo, Hodgson will be heavily involved in a program just getting underway.

In addition to a nature center, the Dahlem Center will eventually include a living farm and will offer a program in environmental education. It will be Hodgson's task to oversee the development of the emerging programs.

Hodgson's interest in naturalism manifested itself long ago when, as a high school student, he worked as a nature director in scout camps. He was employed as a student naturalist while a wildlife management student at Michigan State University, and came to Waterloo upon graduating in 1965.

Because of a hiring freeze in state government, a replacement for Hodgson cannot be hired. A possibility exists that a naturalist from somewhere in the state will transfer to Waterloo. If that doesn't happen, however, Park Naturalist Marta Fisher will be left to run the center alone, almost ensuring that hours will be reduced in the future.

"I'm sorry to be leaving here after so many years," Hodgson said last week, "but in this new position I'll have a chance to start something new, just as I did when I first came here."

Hodgson will be leaving the area only in his work, as he and his family plan to stay in their Cavanaugh Lake Rd. home for some time to come. Waterloo Nature Center may be losing a naturalist, but area residents are keeping a long-time 'good friend' and neighbor.

JOHN WELLNITZ stands to thank family and friends for his 19th birthday cake as his wife, Ruth, looks on. About 60 people celebrated the Feb. 29 occasion at the Fair Service Center Friday night. Although he has a real birthday only once every four years, Wellnitz declared himself rich in good friends like Anne and Art Steinaway, who provided the giant cake.

John Wellnitz Honored on 19th Birthday Anniversary

John Wellnitz looked mighty sprightly for a man aged 19 going on 77.

Like many birthday celebrators who were cheated out of a yearly anniversary of their birth by a quirk of Julius Caesar's calendar, Chelseaite Wellnitz was born on Feb. 29.

About 60 people gathered at the Fair Service Center last Friday evening to surprise him with a huge cake and a large plate of his favorite shrimp.

Most of the merry-makers were members of the Chelsea Fair Board, whom Wellnitz has worked with since he became fair treasurer in 1968.

Despite turning over the reins of that job to Kay Poljan in 1976, Wellnitz has missed only one meeting in the last three years and now is the unofficial scribe of the board, reporting fair meeting minutes to The Standard.

Another job performed by Wellnitz is the renting of the Service Center for parties and receptions. He expressed sincere relief that, by chance, he hadn't booked anything to conflict with his Friday night surprise party.

Besides partaking of Art and Anne Steinaway's giant cake, the group played cards, told stories and broke up around 10:30.

"It's something Ruth (Mrs. Wellnitz) and I will remember the rest of our lives," Wellnitz vowed.

Another Tax Shift Plan Offered As Alternative to Property Tax Cut

More state legislators are scrambling to offer a solution to staggering increases of property taxes with the hopes of getting something acceptable approved before the voters take the matter into their own hands at the November general election.

Already two tax shift plans are pending before the legislature with a new third one recently unveiled which would practically eliminate taxes on residential property for financing education.

The other plans would shift from the property taxes to income to sales and use taxes about $700 million in state revenues needed to provide basic services.

Legislators are hustling in light of the proposed constitutional amendment which will cut property taxes by 50 percent and prohibit the lost revenues from being made up elsewhere by increasing other tax rates unless specific approval is given by the voters.

Petitions are currently being circulated to get the question on the 1978 November general election ballot.

A similar plan was only narrowly defeated two years ago as voters opted for the less radical tax limitation amendment which voters, to date, have felt little effect on their tax bills.

The latest proposal, which would also appear on the ballot as a constitutional amendment upon approval by the legislature, would eliminate from property taxes local monies used to finance education with the $700 million to be made up with an income tax increase and property taxes levied state-wide against for all students equally," Smith said.

The representatives said no definite increase had been set for the income tax to make up the lost revenues, but estimated the increase would be over 32 percent, making the personal income tax rate 6.1 percent.

The current rate is 4.6 percent. Included in state financing will be property taxes of up to 35 mills spread on businesses and industry throughout the state. Smith said that could mean up to

Uncle Lew from

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Bug Hookum told the fellers at the country store Saturday night that he allus had heard it takes one to know one, and now he sees that Government is being run on that idea. After he give his report the discussion took off in all directions, from Spivey's Corner to Greenland.

Bug had saw where Gov. Brown has named a ex-convict to the California Board of Corrections. The governor said Thomas Wornham's job is to run a program that helps ex-convicts git back in the swing of things in the cruel, cold outside, and who would be better qualified than a feller that had been the route. Bug allowed that there is a certain kind of logic here. We already know this feller is a crook, cause he was convicted on six counts of fraud, so we don't have to spend public money investigating his background.

The other item Bud had was out of Wake County, N.C., where this feller that runs a Grade C cafe had been named to the county board of health. His job is to oversee the inspecting of all the eating places in the county. Bug said to understand the full value of this choice, you got to know sumepun about how bad a C is. If the place has got running water and indoor plumbing it's good fer at least a B, was Bug's words, pervided it keeps down the cockroaches and has some way to heat the water fer washing dishes. This new member of the health board ought to be able to bring a whole new range of problems to the Wake County grading system, Bug said, and fer sure he will be an inspiration to all the operators of eating places that are having trouble gitting passing marks.

Speaking of eating places, Zeke Grubb reported where Spivey's Corner, a wide place in the road in North Carolina, had put in a bid fer the Summer Olympics the President wants out of Moscow. A feller that runs a grill there had saw where one restarant was asking and gitting $18 fer a "special steak sandwich" in Lake Placid during the Winter Olympics. He said "special steak" in the trade means ground beef, and he was sure he could come out serving burgers are high, broke in Clem Webster, wait till you price a Greenland alcohol coupon. Clem had saw where the Government there is trying to cut the 40 percent national drunk rate by rationing booze and issuing ever adult 72 tickets a month. One fer a beer, six fer a jug of wine, but 24 fer a bottle of hard stuff. Folks that don't drink will strike gold, Clem said, and can you imagine the going price of the last coupon in town the morning after all the drunks blow their month's allotment in one night of bar hopping.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

Bucks 32, Kings 28—

Good team defense spearheaded by Brian Talbot and Byron Platt, and the scoring of James Dimmick and Mike Hodgson paced the Kings. For the victorious Bucks, Craig Ferry played hustling defense while Steve Everett scored eight points and contributed a good floor game.

Pistons 24, Nuggets 12—

The Pistons were led in scoring by Craig McCalla and Steve Kuhl. The entire Piston team played hustling defense. For the Nuggets, Jeff Patterson scored six points, Matt Schweiger had four and Chad White contributed two.

76'ers 34, Bullets 7—

The 76'ers were led by Jeff Marshall's 16 points and Loren Keezer's 10. Kyle and Kerry Plank assisted with good passing and strong defense. Robbie Northrup and Chris Wilson contributed strong team play. Tom Steele made some fine outside shots for the Bullets and Corry Bloxom contributed several key steals.

Knicks 18, Clippers 11—

Teamwork was the key to victory for the Knicks. Led by John Collins and Mark Luick, the Knicks held off a last-minute rally by the Clippers. For the Clippers, Adam Heeter and Jim Coleman scored two and four points respectively.

Cavaliers 24, Celtics 6—

The Cavaliers and Celtics both played excellent team basketball, with the Cavaliers' extra height being the deciding factor in the contest.

ABA
Rockets 41, Supersonics 34—

The Rockets played good team basketball, led by the over-all play of Randy Dale, A. J. Watkins and Lee Redding. Jeff Harvey paced the 'Sonics with 10 points, while Casey Murphy with four and Clay Hurd with six, led a fourth-quarter rally.

Pacers 37, Trailblazers 26—
Greg Haist led the Pacers with 12 points, followed by Craig Maynard and Kirk Lawton with 11 and 10, respectively. Randy Hafner was the team's leading rebounder. The Trailblazers featured a balanced attack with Doug Williams and Jeff Stacey leading the way.

Hawks 36, Lakers 26—

Ron Johnson and Mike Popovich were the leading scorers for the Hawks with 16 and 14 points, respectively. Tony Flintoft and Joe Koszegi were tough on defense and contributed two points each. The Lakers played outstanding team basketball. Scott Frisinger with 12 points and Brian Kidd with 10 paced the Laker scoring. Ross Maier and David Kvarnberg played excellent defense.

Spurs 54, Nets 32—

The Spurs featured a balanced scoring attack in defeating the Nets. Mark Bareis scored 22, Tim Anderson 14, and Greg Boughton 16 for the Spurs. Matt Kemp paced the Nets in scoring with 20 points. Phil Patterson and Bobby Rawson played hustling defense.

Suns 22, Warriors 16—

The Suns scored their first victory of the season in a well-played contest with the Warriors. Cindy Sterling, Lloyd Brown and Tim Alexander all played well for the Suns. Jeff Mason and Jenny Barton played excellent defense for the Warriors. Balanced scoring featured Jr. Marseau with six and Jenny Barton, Scott Mareutay, Jay Mareutay, David Steele and Jeff Mason with two each.

Rogers City Band Coming for Concert With Symphony

Members of the Chelsea Symphony Band will join with Rogers City band members in a joint concert Saturday, evening, March 8, at the Chelsea High school auditorium.

A dessert reception will be held following the concert for all attending. Band Boosters will be selling band instruments, converted to other uses by the students, with proceeds going to the Mexican Festival Trip.

Any ticket remaining for the Mexican trip drawing will also be sold that evening. The drawing will take place Sunday night at the Mexican Band Trip benefit at Wolverine Lounge.

political debts or special interests to serve." Current Village President Don Wood, speaking for himself and James Schardein, Walter Brown and Phil Hume, feels that he and the other sticker candidates represent "stability and experience." Ritter stressed that he and the other party nominees were running because "these people want open government. When they come to a (council) meeting, they want to be treated with respect. We want someone to take the side of the citizens rather than just a few. We want to see that the interest of all is served."

Wood, village president since 1976, disputed that view of the council, saying that all issues brought to council meetings by the public are discussed. He did not agree, however, that it is council's job to take on all solutions.

"Council is a management group," he explained. "For the day-to-day goings on, there is a full-time staff to deal with such things."

For Wood, the prime issues in village government are taxes, energy conservation and sewer plant upgrading.

"More regulations are coming down now," he said. "Maintaining the streets costs more. We're trying to hold down taxes. They're lower in Chelsea than most area towns and villages. The people of Chelsea get a lot for their tax dollars."

Charles Ritter disagrees with that assessment of the current campaign.

"I don't think the people that are in there now know what's going on from day to day," he said. "I intend to find out what's going on. The cost of village government is getting out of line. I have no idea how much fat's in there (the budget). Just like anybody else, we'll have to find out."

"There is a tight rein on spending," Wood countered. "We have one of the lowest tax rates of anywhere in the state. We comb the budget line by line and provide the necessary services. Services cost money."

The bottom line on issues, Ritter feels, is "that the people feel they're not getting the answers to their questions. I mean the full answers. You can't administer anything without common sense."

For his part, Wood feels that voters should decide on the basis of past records and economic issues. He and the three write-in trustee candidates welcome opposition at the polls, he said, but frown on the methods used at the Independent Party caucus.

"I wish there were two different parties," he concluded. "It only takes about 20 signatures, I think, to file with the county clerk as a party. It's a big shock, really."

While deciding among the promises and issues, Chelsea voters should note that four candidates are supported by both the write-in candidates and the Independent Party.

Mary Harris for treasurer, Charles Winans, II, for assessor, and Jack Merkel and Katherine Wagner for library board positions are running unopposed and are endorsed by both groups.

Meet the Candidates

JOE M. MERKEL, III (Trustee)

A life-long Chelsea resident, Joe Merkel has been an active businessman of the community for 12 years.

He has served on the Chelsea Community Fair Board for the past six years and is a member of the Chelsea Rod and Gun Club, American Legion Post No. 31, Loyal Order of Moose Lodge No. 1253, and Knights of Columbus Council.

Merkel is married and the father of three children.

JOHN W. (JACK) MERKEL (Library Board)

Jack Merkel, president of Merkel's store, is also a life-long Chelsea resident.

In the past he served on the Community Chest Board, the Chamber of Commerce and the Chelsea Planning Commission.

A veteran of U. S. Army service during the Korean War, Merkel is a lay-reader at St. Mary's Catholic church. He and his wife, Mary Ann, have five boys.

CHARLES RITTER (President)

A Chelsea resident since 1939, Charles Ritter has owned and operated businesses in Lansing and Chelsea. Presently he is a manufacturers representative for MacDee, Inc.

Retired from the U. S. Army as a first lieutenant after four years of service, Ritter is a past commander of the V.F.W. and a member of the Chelsea Rod and Gun Club.

Ritter was married to the late Mary Birch, and has two daughters who were raised and educated in Chelsea.

KATHERINE WAGNER (Library Board)

Katherine Wagner has been a member of the library board for terms amounting to some 20 years and has served in most of the board offices.

She is a member of the Chelsea Woman's Club and St. Paul's church, and is known for her service to the community through many individual projects.

CHARLES WINANS, II (Assessor)

Assistant Administrator of the Village of Chelsea for the past two years, Charles Winans is a Chelsea native, who returned to live here three years ago after residing in Ypsilanti.

Winans is a graduate of Chelsea High school and Eastern Michigan University, where he received his BS degree in geography.

He and his wife, Wilma, have just had their first child, a son.

DON WOOD (President)

Village president since 1976, Don Wood is employed at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital as a senior systems analyst. He was born and raised in Chelsea and majored in business administration at Cleary College.

He has been chairman of the Chelsea Historic Commission, on the board of directors of CATS, and is the president of Chelsea Women's Fast-Pitch Softball.

Wood is also a founder and past member of the board of directors in the Michigan Allegiance of Small Communities and is a member of the State Conference of Mayors.

He and his wife, Sue, have two children.

Not a Subtle Appearance

Not all our founding fathers were of the humbler sort. The Pennsylvania Ledger for March 11, 1778 complained that "John Hancock of Boston appears in public with all the state and pageantry of an Oriental prince; he rides in an elegant chariot, attended by four servants and escorted by 50 horsemen." A c. 1797 Chariot reflecting that style of opulence is on exhibit today in Henry Ford Museum, Dearborn.

MARY HARRIS (Treasurer)

Mary Harris has been a life-long resident of Chelsea. Presently the Deputy Township Clerk and a notary public, she has been treasurer at the Chelsea Methodist church for the past five years.

Married to Fred Harris, she is the mother of two children. She is the daughter of Mrs. L. J. Paul and the late Dr. L. J. Paul, past treasurer of the Village Council.

PHIL HUME (Trustee)

A 13-year Chelsea resident, Phil Hume is currently manager of Chelsea Lumber.

His has been involved in the community through the presidency of both the Chelsea Band Boosters and the Chelsea Aquatic Club, and has been a member and chairman of the Chelsea Planning Commission.

Hume and his wife, Dorothy, have eight children.

STEPHANIE KANTEN (Trustee)

The daughter of long-time residents Fred and Katherine Wagner, "Sis" Kanten has lived all her life in Chelsea.

A graduate of Chelsea High school and Olivet College, she has been an elementary school teacher at Dexter for 13 years.

She has served as a teacher representative in negotiations, served as a representative liaison to administration, and has conducted in-service training for her colleagues.

She is married to Wynn Kanten.

LOREN E. KEEZER (Trustee)

A 1959 graduate of Chelsea High school, Loren Keezer is a life-long village resident. He attended Michigan State University and served in the U. S. Navy, receiving his honorable discharge in 1967.

Keezer served as Chelsea Village Clerk in 1972 and 1973, and has served as Post Commander of the American Legion Post No. 31.

Active in summer recreation with children, Keezer is employed at Chelsea Milling Co. He and his wife, Nancy, have two children.

JV Cagers Lose Two Tough Games

A season marked by sometimes erratic, but steadily improving play on the part of Chelsea's junior varsity basketballers ended last week with two hard-fought losses.

The JV fell to a superior Willow Run squad last Tuesday night, 82-63, and relinquished their game-long lead to Mason in the fourth quarter of a Friday night contest, losing 62-55.

In spite of a fine fourth quarter against Willow Run that saw the Bulldogs outscore the Flyers, 24-13, Chelsea just could not overcome the effects of the powerful running game that confronted them.

"We scored the most points we've scored all year," said Coach Jon Schaffner, "but Willow Run dominated the rebounding and shot 51 percent."

Todd Sprague led the Bulldogs with 13 points. John Welton and Doug Henson had seven each; Toby Boyd, Jeff Rowe and Mike Bareis, six each; Doug Inglis, five; Jeff Lantis, Daren Pierson, four; Bob Trevino, three; and Jeff Shaw, two.

Darrow Keezer led in rebounding with six. The story had a more heart-breaking twist Friday night against Mason, as Chelsea held a good lead throughout most of the game, only to lose it on free throws. Chelsea outscored Mason from the field, but made only six of 27 free throws to Mason's five for 12.

"The defense really let us down," assessed Coach Schaffner. "We just didn't play good defense. It was disappointing."

Mike Bareis had 16 points, John Welton, 12, and Todd Sprague, 10, to hit in double figures for the Bulldogs. Keezer had eight points, Boyd six, Dave Stevens two, and Trevino 1.

The JV ends its season with a 6-14 over-all record and 4-6 in the league, giving them claim to fourth place, ahead of Milan and Dexter.

Farm Employment Up in January Over Last Year's Total

Total farm employment during the survey week of Jan. 6-12 was estimated at 3.02 million workers, one percent more than January 1979, reports the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Farm operators working one hour or more and unpaid family members working 15 hours or more totaled 2.11 million. Hired workers numbered 910,000, compared to 798,000 last year.

During the January 1980 survey week, all family workers averaged 31.5 hours; farm operators, 31.2 hours; unpaid family members 32.7 hours, and hired workers, 35 hours.

Farm wage rates for all methods of pay converted to an hourly rate averaged $3.69 during the survey week, an increase of 31 cents from the average of $3.38 paid a year ago. Hourly workers receiving only cash wages averaged $3.65; field workers $3.77; livestock workers $3.26.

School's Energy Conservation Program Pays Big Dividends

Chelsea Schools are currently in their second year of an energy conservation program. The Chelsea School District created, as one of its 1978-79 goals, the development and implementation of an energy conservation program involving all employees and students.

The energy conservation memorandum was updated and is displayed strategically in all classrooms in the district. Signs reading, "When not in use, turn off the juice" appear over light switches. A number of light bulbs have been removed from areas not affecting student activities in all buildings.

Building principals review the school district memo at the beginning of the year with all teachers. There have been meetings to review the material with all custodial and maintenance employees and the adoption of a conservation program and the creation of a conservation memorandum was designated as Phase I of an energy conservation program.

Phase I is an attempt to make people aware of the program, and, hopefully, to change energy use behavior as reflected in conservation. The school district is attempting to save dollars through this program so that the money can be used in the instructional program for students.

Each building administrator receives a monthly audit of the cubic feet of gas and kilowatt hours of electricity used in each building. This audit reflects what was used on a monthly basis the year before and contains a five-year usage pattern for each building.

Last year, the Chelsea School

District did generate a savings of 92,081 kilowatt hours of electricity, at an average of .0475 cents per kilowatt hour, saving $4,373.85. There was also a savings of 4,560,000 cubic feet of gas, at 25.585 cents per hundred cubic feet (average). This amounted to a savings of $1,166.68.

A total savings of $5,540.53 was realized by the district.

During the 1979-80 school year, Phase II of the conservation program was initiated. This phase included the contracting of James L. McCoy, a registered electrical engineer, to conduct a technical audit in the district.

The audit, reviewed with the Board of Education, contains recommended audit procedures for further savings. It will also be used to qualify the district as a recipient of state funds for further energy conservation methods.

A 119-page report, compiled by McCoy, contains a number of recommended programs. According to McCoy, "Since very significant reductions in energy conservation are realized by improving operating and maintenance procedures, the following programs are recommended to achieve that end."

"The amount of energy saved, the cost of implementing such programs, and educational benefits derived from the programs are all difficult to estimate and verify. Savings on the order of 10 to 15 percent are commonly realized."

Some programs he has indicated are the following:

- Develop standard maintenance procedures for all mechanical equipment.
- Implement color-coded repair orders to prioritize repair orders so that repairs involving energy waste can be performed ahead of other requests except those related to safety.
- Implement semi-annual tests, maintenance and calibration programs for the upkeep of control devices.
- Implement a program for annual cleaning of lighting fixtures so that illumination levels may be maintained.
- Develop a training program for increasing the awareness of maintenance and custodial personnel with regard to improving energy use and reducing energy waste.
- Clean or replace, at regular intervals, ventilation filters.
- Conscientious control of the position of fenestration (window) drapes, blinds and shutters can reduce energy waste.

The report contains specific energy conservation measures for each of the district buildings. The administration has undertaken a program to immediately address problem areas requiring no cost or relatively small cost for implementation.

The five-year plan for the expenditure of maintenance millage funds is reviewed annually, and it is certain that some of the funds will be appropriated for Phase II of the energy conservation plan.

All the conservation recommendations indicate a conservation measure cost, the length of pay-back period and the estimated annual savings.

Superintendent Ray Van Meer indicated that "energy conservation is a must; we are entering an era where the conservation of natural resources has to be given a high priority. It is the essence of good fiscal management that the Chelsea School District conserve the use of energy and allocate those dollars saved to the educational program."

Elaine Schultz, 5731 Dexter-Pinckney Rd., was a recipient of a Johnson Wax Fund Inc. Scholarship. The scholarship is awarded to two food systems economics and management students demonstrating an interest in food retailing.

A number of Chelsea students received awards at the presentation.

Jane Sias, daughter of Jane M. Sias, 650 S. Steinbach Rd., received the Dairy Cattle Judging Team Award, given to this year's team, which ranked 8th out of 41 in national competition.

Sarah Lindauer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lindauer, 260 Fletcher Rd., was awarded the Superior Clinical Achievement Award for Animal Technology. This honor is sponsored by the Upjohn Pharmaceutical Company and is given to the second-year student who has demonstrated superior ability in utilizing clinical knowledge to its fullest.

Timothy Eder, a resources development major, received a Resource Development Scholastic Achievement Award, presented to seniors who have earned superior cumulative grade point averages. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. David Murphy, 19699 Old US-12, and the late Roland Eder.

Three Dexter residents were also honored at the banquet.

Steven Baldus, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Baldus, 4660 North Territorial Rd., was a member of the team that won the 1979 Ag. Tech Livestock Judging Award. The team this year competed in three contests and averaged 6th place out of an average of 21 teams per contest.

A Meat Judging Team Award went to Karen Baldus, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Baldus, 6621 Webster Church Rd. The team this year placed fourth or higher in every contest.

Brian Schultz, son of Mrs.

Fuel Reduction to Farms Would Mean Higher Food Prices

A USDA study indicates that a 10 percent reduction in fuel supplies on America's farms and ranches when adequate supplies are most needed would result in a 21 percent increase in the cost of food.

This was brought out in testimony by Farm Bureau on "stand-by rationing" proposed by the White House. Noting that "gasoline is still the major fuel used by farmers and ranchers," and that the stand-by proposal contemplated would create "shortfalls in ration rights" from state and federal reserves, the farm organization told the Department of Energy: this plan indicates a lack of understanding of agricultural production and the importance of agriculture to the well-being and security of the nation.

The procedure consists of four visits to the fluoride clinic, to be held at Beach school. Children's teeth are cleaned on the first visit and a fluoride solution is applied directly to the surface of the teeth.

The fluoride application alone is then repeated during the three successive visits. This technique has been shown to reduce tooth decay by about 40 percent compared with 60 to 65 percent reduction obtained with fluoridated water, Martell said.

In addition to providing protection against cavities, the program offers a valuable, comfortable dental experience for children. Dental health education by the clinic personnel, including instruction in the proper method of brushing teeth, also is an important part of the program.

Deadline Extended for Fluoride Applications

Deadline for Summer Fluoride applications has been extended until March 8, said chairman Denise Martell, Chelsea Jaycee Auxiliary.

Parents of eligible children need only to call Mrs. Martell at 475-1966 for their reservations. The fee is $5.25 per child and the clinic will be run sometime near the end of June.

Eligible children are all children who are not served by Chelsea Village fluoridated water supply. However, three- or four-year-olds, kindergartners, second, fifth and eighth graders are more susceptible to tooth decay and that is why these ages are stressed.

The procedure consists of four visits to the fluoride clinic, to be held at Beach school. Children's teeth are cleaned on the first visit and a fluoride solution is applied directly to the surface of the teeth.

The fluoride application alone is then repeated during the three successive visits. This technique has been shown to reduce tooth decay by about 40 percent compared with 60 to 65 percent reduction obtained with fluoridated water, Martell said.

In addition to providing protection against cavities, the program offers a valuable, comfortable dental experience for children. Dental health education by the clinic personnel, including instruction in the proper method of brushing teeth, also is an important part of the program.

Students Cited At MSU Annual Awards Banquet

A number of Chelsea students received awards at the presentation.

Jane Sias, daughter of Jane M. Sias, 650 S. Steinbach Rd., received the Dairy Cattle Judging Team Award, given to this year's team, which ranked 8th out of 41 in national competition.

Sarah Lindauer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lindauer, 260 Fletcher Rd., was awarded the Superior Clinical Achievement Award for Animal Technology. This honor is sponsored by the Upjohn Pharmaceutical Company and is given to the second-year student who has demonstrated superior ability in utilizing clinical knowledge to its fullest.

Timothy Eder, a resources development major, received a Resource Development Scholastic Achievement Award, presented to seniors who have earned superior cumulative grade point averages. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. David Murphy, 19699 Old US-12, and the late Roland Eder.

Three Dexter residents were also honored at the banquet.

Steven Baldus, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Baldus, 4660 North Territorial Rd., was a member of the team that won the 1979 Ag. Tech Livestock Judging Award. The team this year competed in three contests and averaged 6th place out of an average of 21 teams per contest.

A Meat Judging Team Award went to Karen Baldus, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Baldus, 6621 Webster Church Rd. The team this year placed fourth or higher in every contest.

Brian Schultz, son of Mrs.

Girl Scouts Attend Cookie Pep Rally

Saturday, March 1, a Girl Scout Cookie Pep Rally was held at Huron High school in Ann Arbor. Approximately 400 girls were in attendance.

Prior to the rally, all troops in the Western Washtenaw Area were invited to submit original "cookie cheers" for a contest. Among the 21 winners were Tami Harris and Angela Myers of Chelsea's Junior Troop 82.

Area Girl Scout Cookie sales begin Friday, March 7. Anyone wishing to buy cookies who is not contacted by a Girl Scout may contact any of the following troop cookie chairpersons:

Troop 58: Kathy Haywood,

475-2772; Debbie DuRussel, 475-8527.
 Troop 719: Jan Stevens, 475-7104.
 Troop 82: Doris Lindsey, 475-1416.
 Troop 689: Phyllis Muncer, 475-1751; Linda Cattell, 475-8488.

Money earned from the sale will be used by local scouts for such things as camping equipment, troop camping trips and other field trips.

Of the nine million living armed forces veterans who served during the Vietnam Era, 32 percent had duty in the Vietnam theatre of operations.

Women's Fast Pitch League Organizing in AA

The Ann Arbor Recreation Department is looking for a few good women's fast pitch softball teams to compete in a new adult league this summer. League action will begin the second week in June. Participants must be 15 years or older to compete. Games will be held Tuesday and Thursday evenings. The league will be made up of Class B, C and D teams.

A sponsor fee of $232 and a player fee of $16 ($30 for non-residents of Ann Arbor) will be assessed each team. Team registration will be held Thursday, April 3, 6-8:30 p.m. in the east cafeteria of Pioneer High school, 601 W. Stadium Blvd.

The Ann Arbor Recreation Department also has fast pitch leagues for girls 13-15 and 16-18 years old.

For more information on the women's and girl's fast pitch leagues, contact Carol Wall at 994-2292.

Jackson Man Dies Here in Early Saturday Crash

A 21-year-old Jackson man was killed on Old US-12, just west of Chelsea early Saturday morning, when the Jeep his roommate was driving swerved off the road and flipped over three times.

Sheriff's deputies are blaming the death of Steven F. Hill on speeding and alcohol.

Sheriff's department reports indicate that Hill and the vehicle's driver, 21-year-old Charles J. Rogers, were returning to their Jackson apartment from a party when the accident occurred. Both had been drinking.

Rogers reportedly lost control of the Jeep as he took a sharp curve in Old US-12 at 55 miles per hour. Hill was thrown from the vehicle on the last of its three flips.

Rogers was examined at Chelsea Community Hospital and then released.

CHOPPER 1

really works 3 to 4 times better than a conventional axe, splitting maul, or sledge hammer and wedges. — that's what our advertising claimed!

HERE ARE WHAT A FEW SATISFIED CHOPPER 1 USERS HAVE SAID:

I bought a CHOPPER 1 and found it to be even better than you described in your ads. What other wood working items do you manufacture?
 S.T.O. Hillsdale, Ohio

I have tested Chopper 1 and believe it to be everything your literature claims. I would not have liked to be able to say "I had invented."
 M.P. Concord, Mass.

We have been delighted to use our new CHOPPER 1 for the past few days. In my opinion it is a magnificent tool. With this short experience we are questioning that our wood splitting time is only 1/2 to 2/3 of our time with a new found friend. Thanks
 W.F.H. Hillsdale, Michigan

Please send me CHOPPER 1 and details. I have used a friends and it is amazing. It splits 12 to 16 inch logs like toothpicks and it even splits oak and Elm which I have found to be the most difficult wood to split. The price is just what I need to get out of my back.

J.P. Merrill, Canada

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:
The candidates of the Independent Party are concerned over many issues, the one that is of great concern is this cost of Village Government. DO YOU KNOW?

The actual cost in 1978-1979 was $681,263.00. The proposed budget for 1980-1981 is $940,137, an increase of $258,854 in two years, as proposed.

Let us go a step further, the present administration's budget was $770,810 in 1979-1980. Their proposed budget for 1980-1981 is $940,137, an increase of $177,444.75. The increase in real property tax revenue will be 12 percent, (1979-80 revenue was $229,630) or a total of $27,555, leaving a total deficit of $149,889 for the year of 1980-81.

This will mean higher taxes or higher electric and water rates. Vote straight, Independent Party ticket, in the village election, March 10.

Charles Ritter
Independent Party Candidate for Village President

To the Editor:
As may be seen by the advertisements appearing in today's Chelsea Standard, I am a write-in candidate for village president along with Walter Brown, James Schardein and Phil Hume who are write-in candidates for trustees. This is the first real political contest Chelsea has seen in over 20 years and it has generated a lot of rumors.

From the standpoint of an original member of the Independent Party and from my association with the village government for the past eight years, I am as upset with the way the group took over the party as everyone else is. The only re-occurring issue that I have heard so far is that "it is time for a change." A "time for a change" could mean many things, but from what I have heard it covers two areas:

1. Change of the Village Council—By electing the slate of candidates that were presented at the caucus would give the "new" Independent Party the majority of votes (three trustees and the president) on the council. This unproven majority would be able to impose their will upon the entire village and by its actions could change Chelsea's character now and in the foreseeable future. The goals and platform of the original Independent Party have been, and will continue to be, to control growth within Chelsea and to maintain the desirable living conditions we enjoy today.

The people who have served on the Village Council in the past and those who are on it now, have worked extremely hard to achieve these goals. The write-in slate of candidates has shown by their past actions that they firmly believe in the platform. The people whose names that appear on the ballot have proven nothing. They have no record they can stand on. They are completely unknown quantities as far as village affairs are concerned.

A rumor, also making the rounds, is how a group of businessmen really run the town. This type of rumor may be heard in any town in the United States. I can categorically state that there is no one that tells the Village Council what to do. In fact, when a member of this so-called power group brings a matter before the council, or the planning commission, they are questioned more closely than non-business persons. It is always easy to blame the businessmen whenever all of the facts are not known.

The write-in candidates are running out of a belief that they can do some good for the Village of Chelsea not because they have an "axe to grind" or just for the sake of a change. They have proven themselves by their dedication and their past accomplishments.

2. Change the Administration—By administration I assume they mean the village administrator, Fritz Weber, and the chief of police, Robert Aeillo. Both of these men are performing their duties in a professional manner that can make everyone in Chelsea proud. Chief Aeillo has been on the job less than one year but during that time, he has instituted changes within the Police Department that has upgraded it from a very good department to an excellent department. He has brought into the chief's position a high degree of professionalism that has spread to all members of the full-time officers and the reserves.

Fritz Weber is doing a superior job as village administrator. He understands completely what is needed to carry out the day-to-day operation of Chelsea, both from an administrative standpoint and from a governmental one as well. The new laws and regulations that are continually being enacted by the state and federal governments are making his job more complex everyday. If there is any doubt about how well the administration is performing their duties, just ask anyone not living in the village limits what their impressions are of Chelsea. Their response will always be that Chelsea is "a very nice town."

To continue with capable experienced government in the Village of Chelsea, write-in or use the stickers, the names of the write-in candidates. If you have any questions or if you need a sticker for the write-in, contact any of the write-in candidates or any member of the original Independent Party.

Don D. Wood,
Chelsea Village President.

To the Editor:
As a former six year member of the Village Council, I would like to make a few comments on the recent political situation that has developed in Chelsea.

First, I would like to answer two of Stephanie Kanten's questions from her letter last week.

1. "Who is proposing a new water tower to be located south of town, behind Elias Brothers, and what are the reasons for its need?"

The recommendation for a 500,000 gallon elevated storage tank to be located to the south side of the village before 1990 came from the village's consulting water engineers in a Water System Study for the Village of Chelsea. This study was completed in 1973 and updated in 1979. The reasons behind the consultants' recommendation are:

A. The present 100,000 gallon tank is 54 years old and should be replaced in the future due to increased maintenance and repair costs.

B. Increasing the size to 500,000 gallons will give additional storage for water reserve, time of day pumping and fire protection.

C. With additional water reserve, the need to install additional wells will be delayed.

D. The south side location will increase the pressure in this area, which is now low. Also this is the highest available elevation in the village. An exact site has not been determined yet—only a general geographic area.

2. "Who is proposing and for what purpose, the extension of the new west trunk sewer line beyond the village limits to the south?"

The line is not proposed to be constructed outside the village limits behind Elias Brothers and Schumm's. I assume Mrs. Kanten is referring to a sewer line proposed to be built sometime in the future. This line will start at the end of the present west side trunk located on Old US-12 near the village limits and terminates at the village pumping station north of the bowling alley on Main St. The recommendations for this sewer comes from the Master Plan for Sanitary Sewers prepared by the village consulting engineers in 1969. The reasons for the sewer are:

A. It will serve that area in the Village that is located south of Old US-12 (commonly known as the Machnik property), and the area south of the fairgrounds as well as the fairgrounds, itself.

B. It will eliminate the sewage pumping station on S. Main St., north of the bowling alley, which in turn eliminates the costly maintenance and operation of that particular station.

C. It will divert all of the sewage south of Old US-12 out of the Main St. sewer, which is overloaded. The authorization and financing for the plans for this sewer line comes from a bonding proposition approved by the voters of Chelsea on Sept. 21, 1970.

Incumbent candidates Don Wood, James Schardein and Walter Brown, and Phil Hume are all campaigning as write-in "sticker" candidates.

I would urge you to vote for these men for the following reasons:

1. They have no emotional or personal gripes.

2. They are interested in the overall quality of Village life.

3. They represent experience in the positions for which they are running.

4. They represent a continued stable form of government—a government with answers to the type of questions asked by Mrs. Kanten.

Interestingly enough, none of the three Trustee candidates that are opposing Jim Schardein, Walt Brown and Phil Hume have attended any council meetings to find out what is currently going on in the Village, let alone requested any materials on what has already been passed that might have a bearing on specific problems.

See you at the polls Monday, March 10.

Rich Borton.

To the Editor:

As a former village officer and member of the now defunct Peoples Party, presently residing in "Sunny Florida," I would like to make a few comments on the caucus and the upcoming election.

I really think the Independent Party had a lone hand and got euchered. So, the next best thing is to disown the slate of candidates. Why?

The recent caucus open to the public is the present legal system for nominating candidates for village office. Why then are these people called "Mavericks," and not the duly nominated candidates of the Independent Party?"

We should be pleased that over 165 people who were interested enough in village politics took the time to be present, instead of the usual 15 or 20 people who usually attend. Now it is up to the people. They will have a choice of Chuck Ritter and the Independent Party slate and any write-in candidates who choose to run.

I have known Chuck Ritter for a number of years and feel that he is ably qualified, has the time and ability to perform the duties of village president for the best interest of the people of Chelsea.

As a parting thought after the election is over, shouldn't the interest shown be devoted to changing the method of nominating candidates for village office? "Go Get Em Charlie!"

To the Editor:

Stephanie Kanten has stated in her letter to the Editor in last week's Chelsea Standard that she is a candidate for Village Council Trustee because she feels there isn't enough information being published about things the Village Council is doing. Let me point out the following to the residents of Chelsea.

1. All council proceedings are published in the Chelsea Standard after every meeting.

2. Special interest information is usually on the front page of the Standard, i.e., Vets Parks expansion.

3. All Village Council meetings are open to the public.

4. All Special Council Meetings are noticed in advance to insure public participation.

5. All Council records are open to the public and are housed at the Village offices.

Another item of interest to me is how does Stephanie Kanten expect to improve on the present system of communication with the village residents when she has only attended two council meetings in the four years I have served on this body. In fact, Stephanie Kanten hasn't even taken the time to attend a Village Council meeting since the Independent Party made her a lawful and legal nominee. I will give candidate Stephanie Kanten credit for attending at least two meetings. That's a better record than Joe Merkel, III, and Loren Keezer have compiled and they are the other two nominees for Village Trustee of the Independent Party.

It would seem to me that any candidate for a Village Council seat requires a commitment by that candidate to get involved and spend the required time to become knowledgeable about the issues in the community.

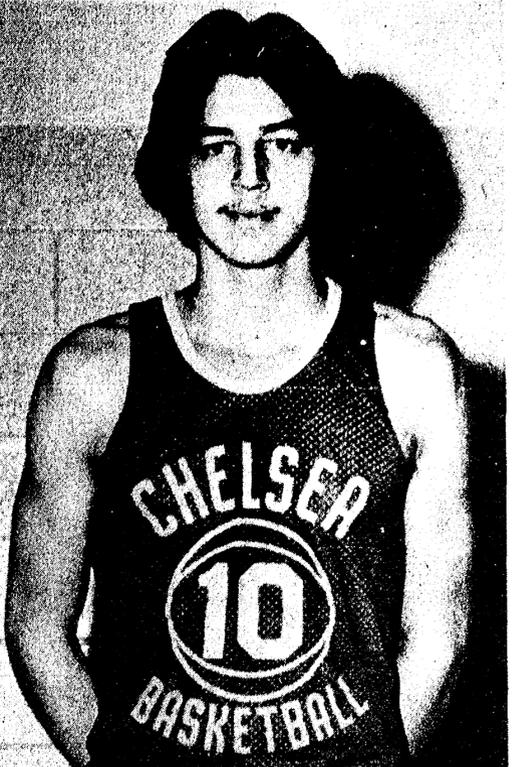

I think the record of Stephanie Kanten, Joe Merkel III and Loren Keezer speaks for itself.

Walt Brown,
Sticker Candidate for Re-Election as Village
Trustee

People's Party, All Right

During Andrew Jackson's Presidential campaigning in 1828, he promised to invite all the people to his inaugural ball if he won. He won and they came in such droves in March, 1829, the White House furniture was destroyed and only when huge tubs filled with punch were put on the front lawn did the crowds leave the White House. Jackson's c. 1820 break front desk from his home, the Hermitage, survived and is one of a number of association items on exhibit in the Decorative Arts Galleries of Henry Ford Museum, Dearborn.

Cager of the Week

MARK STEINAWAY is the final SEC-Champion Bulldog cager to be featured this season. A 6'11" junior forward playing his first year on varsity, Steinaway has seen action with the reserves and bucketed two points this week in Chelsea's win over Mason. "Mark has given us good enthusiastic support in the substitute role," praised Coach Robin Raymond.

Legislative Update

A Weekly Report from State Rep. Mary Keith Ballantine
State Capitol, Lansing 48909
Phone (517) 373-1775

Week of March 3-10

HEADLEE LIMIT — Our Treasury Department has said that state-equalized property valuation can rise by 11.3 percent this year before the Headlee millage-rollback provision takes effect: 11.3 percent is the 1979 consumer-price index increase.

STATE SONG? — The House has approved HB 5228, which designates "Water Wonderland" as the official state Michigan song. This bill is now in the Senate. Although we have a state flower, fish, bird, tree, stone and gem, we do not yet have a song.

ENROLLMENT DROP — The Department of Education has reported that Michigan school enrollments have dropped by over 300,000 students over the past eight years, with most of that coming from the state's ten largest school districts.

SEXUAL HARASSMENT — The Michigan Civil Rights Commission has ruled that a woman who quit her job because of continued sexual harassment is entitled to back pay and damages just as if she had been illegally fired. This is the first state case in which a female employee has gained this kind of judgment and sets a precedent for future such cases.

LICENSE FEES — The Senate will soon consider HB 4822, which would increase hunting and fishing licenses in order to make up an expected shortfall in the fish-and-game fund. Resident game licenses would increase by $1 in 1980 and another $1 in 1981; fishing licenses would also go up by a $2 total. Non-resident licenses would increase by $5, $10 and $35.

ROUND NUMBERS — The 1000th Senate bill of this Session, introduced in mid-February, would provide for the Director of Labor to establish a fee schedule for electricians' licensing fees. The 1000th House bill was introduced last September and would provide the Department of Agriculture with more flexibility in allocating horse racing money.

SCHOOL FLU — The State Health Department has suggested that counties with flu-caused absenteeism running around 15 to 20 percent should consider closing school for a week or two to decrease the spread of the disease. Local health officers are reviewing this with schools.

PARTY DEADLINES — Although the deadline has passed for signing up to participate in the Democratic presidential-nominating caucuses, those interested in participating in the Republican national-delegate selection process have until March 28 to file for Precinct Delegate.

TRAINED GUARDS — The Senate has approved and sent to the House SB 413, which sets standards for training armed security guards and sets strict limits on the use and possession of firearms by guards. Currently no training is required for private security guards.

SUMMER JOBS — The deadline is March 15 to apply for summer jobs with the Youth Conservation Corps, paying minimum wage for youths 15 to 18, on outdoor conservation work. Applications are available from all senior high schools.

CARPET SALE — Carpet which covered the Senate floor from 1964 through 1979, bearing Michigan designs, has been cut into 500 pieces for sale at $25 each. To be eligible, send a post card to Senate Carpet Lottery, P. O. Box 30036, Lansing 48909.

DRINKING VIOLATIONS — Underage drinking violations during 1979 were 132 percent above 1978, due partly to increasing the legal drinking age to 21 from 18. Also, local law enforcement officers have received intensified training on liquor laws.

Psychology Class Sees Hypnosis Demonstration

If there's one thing parents and teachers hate to see, it's a student sleeping in class. Had they been there, parents might have interrupted Chelsea High school's psychology class last Thursday, to waken two particularly sleepy students.

In reality, however, Debbie Koepele and Scott Prohaska were serving as subjects in a hypnosis demonstration presented by a clinical hypnotist, Dr. Davis, as teacher Paul Terpstra and the rest of the class watched attentively.

Dr. Davis, also a counselor at Washtenaw Community College, stresses the practical applications of hypnosis, such as the relief of psychosomatic illness and pain. He disapproves of sensationalized stage hypnosis and presented an ethical, informative session that left Chelsea students with a new respect for the practice.

Using Debbie as a subject, Dr. Davis demonstrated one relaxation technique used frequently in clinics. With only his voice as a tool, he placed Debbie in a hypnotic trance and prompted her to raise one arm, although she was unable to move her other muscles.

He explained that hypnosis is only a heightened state of suggestion and that he could suggest things that would affect his subject's waking life. He assured the class that this state cannot be used against a patient, since the subject would wake up immediately his or her moral beliefs were violated or if danger was imminent.

Dr. Davis also managed to explode a few myths. Still using Debbie as a subject, he showed "waking hypnosis" in which the subject can retain a trance with her eyes open. He also congratulated Debbie for her intelligence, since (contrary to popular belief) "stupid" people cannot be hypnotized.

He also gave the class instructions in self-hypnosis, a skill that he said could prove beneficial in anyone's life.

Moving to Scott, Dr. Davis used a different technique, in which concentration on an object is used to introduce a trance. After demonstrating that Scott's arm was totally limp and he was in a deep trance, Dr. Davis introduced "glove anesthesia" to Scott's hand, and Scott told the class he felt only a light touch when his hand was pinched.

A patient can be taught to induce this anesthesia and transfer it to another part of his body, such as the mouth. This is helpful for patients who are allergic to anesthetics or would rather not use them for dental work or minor surgery.

Before bringing his subjects out of their trances, Dr. Davis suggested that they would feel great for the rest of the week.

All class members, including Debbie and Scott, did feel great; if not from the post-hypnotic suggestion, then from close attention from curious fellow students who did not attend the demonstration.

Pre-School Orientation Organized for Children

The Community Education Department of the Chelsea School District is currently working co-operatively with the elementary school principals and kindergarten teachers to structure a Pre-school Orientation Program for children entering kindergarten in Chelsea next fall.

Primary orientation of the program will be reducing some of the fears pre-schoolers may have prior to entering school for the first time. The emphasis is on acquainting the children with the elementary school they will most likely enter in the fall.

Children will have an opportunity to participate in shared group sessions and learn simple skills and concepts that kindergarten teachers prefer to have children acquainted with upon entering kindergarten.

In addition, the children will tour the elementary school, take a school bus ride through the community and visit the kindergarten classes and teachers.

The program will begin the week of April 21 and continue for four weeks. Classes will be held from 9:30 to 10:30 a.m. on Tuesdays at North school, and at the same time on Thursdays at South.

Presently, volunteer mothers are needed to aid in the small group sessions. The group will be no larger than 10 children and two mothers.

Jaclyn Rogers, director of the Community Education Program, will work with the volunteers to set up the group activities.

Anyone interested in volunteering for the program may call 475-9830, Community Education Office, to indicate that interest. First meeting for this group will be Thursday, March 13, 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. at the Community Education Office.

Registration for the pre-school program will take place the week of March 17 through the Community Education Brochure, which is mailed to every home in the Chelsea School District.

Moscow Food Shortages Not Due to Embargo

Food stores in Moscow are experiencing a severe shortage of grain products and other basic foods, but an official report blamed corrupt shopkeepers and panic buying, not the U. S. grain embargo.

The report by undercover city government inspectors published in Moskoyskaya Pravda said shopkeepers were keeping food in back storerooms, presumably to be sold on the thriving black market at much higher prices. It said that inspectors found 34 shops over a two-day period that claimed they had no flour or macaroni products. But when the storerooms were inspected, they were full of items with a total value of $230,000, the paper said.

David Frame, a recent graduate of Ferris State College, has been recognized by "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges."

A recognized institution of the American academic community, the "Who's Who" awards are conferred annually upon outstanding student leaders. Selections are made by campus nominating committees and are based on above average academic standing, community service, leadership ability and potential.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. William Frame of Chelsea, David received a BS in applied mathematics from Ferris State.

Julie Prohaska Wins Scholarship Forensics Tourney

Chelsea resident Julie Prohaska recently won a $100 scholarship competing on the forensics team of Eastern Michigan University, where she is a sophomore.

Prohaska won her scholarship by taking third in persuasion and fourth in informative speaking at a major tournament held at Rock Valley, Ill., Feb. 21-25.

Competing against 22 other schools from seven states, the EMU team took first place in the tournament and had scholarships awarded to four students, including Prohaska.

Chelsea Youths Win Top Bowling Prize

Two area bowlers have just received notification that they have won the top prize in the state of Michigan in a "Holiday Doubles" competition sponsored by the Michigan Youth Bowling Association.

David Boyer of Summit St. and Jeff Beaver of Waterloo Rd. took the first-place trophy in the Major Boys Division (ages 16-18) for a 1,343 series they rolled at Chelsea Lanes last December.

The pair took first place in the Chelsea competition, and their scores were sent to the state association, where it was recently determined that they rolled the top series in the state. Besides winning trophies from Chelsea Lanes, both Boyer and Beaver will be awarded their state prizes at a "Parade of Champions" dinner to be held Aug. 3.

David Boyer rolled games of 190, 176 and 172 with a 138 handicap for his contribution to the first-place finish. Jeff Beaver, with a 144 handicap, collected games of 154, 183 and 186.

LD/EI Parent Group To Meet Wednesday

LD/EI Parent Group will meet Wednesday, March 12, at 7:30 p.m. in Room 210 of Chelsea High school.

Guest speakers will be Superintendent Raymond Van Meer, Chelsea High school Principal John Williams, and Dr. DeYoung, director of special education. All are invited to attend.

Participates in Cold Weather Training

Marine Lance Cpl. Daniel T. Clark, son of Alger T. and Joann M. Clark of 11301 Heiber Rd., Manchester, recently participated in cold weather training on Cape Cod.

He is a member of the 38th Marine Amphibious Unit, based at Camp Lejeune, N. C.

The exercise, which involved 3,000 U. S. sailors and Marines and three Navy ships, was designed to test clothing, equipment and amphibious techniques under adverse weather conditions. The exercise started with an amphibious assault landing and involved infantry training at Camp Edwards, Mass. The training was a prelude to a NATO cold weather exercise to be held later this year.

A 1977 graduate of Manchester High school, Clark joined the Marine Corps in February 1978.

First Robins Reported Tuesday

It was 7:30 a.m. on Tuesday morning when the first robins of spring 1980 put in their appearance in the area.

Mrs. Frank Reed of North Territorial Rd. in Gregory reported that a pair of the red-breasted birds sang outside her window so loudly that morning that they woke her.

"I was so thrilled that you just don't know," said Mrs. Reed. "I jumped right up and there they were in the tree outside my window."

Robins or no robins, the weather is still cold, and Mrs. Reed said she plans to feed the birds until warmer temperatures arrive.

TOM STOCK of Village Motor Sales took delivery Tuesday of 10 new cars destined for the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department. Winner of the bid for the new vehicles, Stock will prep the heavy-duty police specials before they are claimed by the department. Fifteen more of the sturdily-built cars are on the way.

Carpet Cleaning Crew Shatters World Record

Best Way Carpet Cleaning of Ann Arbor broke the world's record for carpet cleaning Feb. 23 at the regional meeting of the Society of Cleaning Technicians.

Teams from seven states competed in the event which took place on the sidewalks of downtown Detroit at the Radisson Cadillac Hotel.

Best Way and the other contestants had to perform cleaning tasks while negotiating a complex obstacle course. Steve Lawrence and Gene Noble of Best Way Carpet Cleaning took first place and shattered all previous world times.

Best Way now qualifies to join the nation's other top teams in Chattanooga, Tenn., this summer to compete for a $5,000 purse at the 1980 World Championship Carpet Cleaning Contest.

HEALTH DEPT. CRACKS DOWN:

Fair Board will Not Serve Meals

Regular meeting of the Chelsea Fair Board was called to order by President Lloyd Grau on Feb. 28. Both the secretary and treasurer's reports were read and accepted. Officers present were Kay Polan, Maryann Guenther, Earl Heller, Frank Renton, Jerry Heydlauff. Directors present were John Klink, Jeff Layher, Mark Stapish, Harold Gross, Harold Trinkle, Ralph McCalla, Richard Bollinger, Archie Bradbury, Ed Keezer, Joe Merkel, III, Jim Dault, Reuben Lesser, Jr., Bob Heller, Gary Houle, Charles Stapish, Charles Koenn, Jerry Herrick. Others present were Otis and Mary Armstrong and Darlene Vargo, representing the horse show; Bob Bauer, Tim Schulze, Bill Coltri, Pat Merkel and John Wellnitz. Absent were Jim Holfka, Dick Poljan, Bill Stofor. John O'Bryant, Michigan Department of Agriculture fair co-ordinator, was scheduled to give a slide presentation on fair management, but was absent due to the flu. The fair board may be able to have him come to the next regular meeting on March 20. Twenty-two fair members attended the Fair Convention in Dearborn. They learned much about other fairs, their problems and good points, as well as carnivals and entertainment. The County Health Department has written the fair a four-page

Confusion May Exist In Voter Registration

Anticipating the confusion that often arises over registration for village elections, Chelsea's Village Election Commission provides the following information that will be helpful to villagers planning to vote in Monday's election. Monday, March 10 is the date set for the Village Election. In the past, many people have not exercised their right to participate in village elections. Due to higher interest for various reasons, a large number of people who may have never voted in a village election before are expected to go to the polls this year. In school, township, county, state and federal elections, you must be registered to vote with the township clerk. To vote in a village election, however, you must also be registered with the village clerk.

There is much confusion on this point. By law, village elections are separate and distinct from all others. Therefore, in order to vote Monday, you must have registered with the village clerk on or before Feb. 11, 1980. Due to recent changes in the laws regarding registration, you may be registered without being aware that you are. You may have been registered by the Secretary of State the last time you renewed your license. If you wish them to register you to vote, the information will be forwarded to the proper agencies. You will be registered only if you wish to be. Anyone with questions regarding eligibility to vote on March 10 may call the Village Office, 475-1771, to check.

Symphony Earns Perfect Rating at District Festival

Instead of a Sousa march, Chelsea's Symphony Band might better have chosen to play a "Reprise of a Familiar Theme," as band members waltzed away from the District Band Festival with a perfect I rating for the fourth consecutive year. Also taking a perfect I were members of the 9th grade band, who also traveled to the festival. "Over the past four years, the Symphony Band has received 107 'A's' and five 'B's,'" Band Director Steve Bergmann bubbled happily, comparing the ratings to more familiar academic grades. At the competition, held Saturday, March 1, at Ypsilanti Lincoln High school, the Symphony Band performed "George Washington Bicentennial March," by Sousa, the finale of "Symphony No. 1" by Kalinikov, and Reed's "Russian Christmas Music." All are Class AA selections although the Chelsea bands are officially in Class B. The program for the ninth graders was comprised of "Amerita Roca," by Texidor, "Pageantry Overture" by Edmondson and "Overture for Winds," by Carter. Symphony Band members have now qualified to play at the State Festival April 28, which takes place only four days before the band is slated to leave for its trip to Mexico.

Huron Valley Chapter SPEBSQSA

Huron Valley SPEBSQSA Plans Concert for March 8

Huron Valley Chapter, Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Singing in America, Inc., is presenting a Barbershop Chorus and Quartet show with Ted Strasser, host of WJR's Sunday Morning "Patterns in Music," as emcee, on Saturday, March 8 at Ann Arbor Pioneer High School, starting at 8 p.m. Tickets are available at Wilkinson Luggage, Ann Arbor, Huron Valley Office Products, Ypsilanti, and all chorus members. For additional information, phone Ann Arbor 769-8169.

The show will feature the Chapter Chorus: "Washtenaw County Friends of the Chord," under the direction of Glenn E. VanTassel.

In addition to directing, Glenn VanTassel sings lead in the "Harmony Renaissance" quartet, and is a two time International Quartet Champion, first as the lead in the Auto Towners in 1966, and next as the baritone in the Gentlemen's Agreement in 1971. Glenn is a certified contest judge and a member of the Pioneer (Michigan and Western Ontario) District "Hall of Fame."

Three quartets from the Huron Valley Chapter will be featured: "The Chordial Mood," "The Arbor Edition," and "The Forwards of Harmony."

harmony will be supplied by Mid-Michigan's "Patch Chords," who will entertain with show tunes, up-beat contemporary numbers and old-time nostalgic favorites.

Headline quartet is the three-time International Finalist Quartet from Cass County, Mo., "The Rural Route 4." They are a highly entertaining quartet featuring very proficient show routines as well as an extensive repertoire of religious songs.

The Huron Valley Chapter, as a licensed affiliate of SPEBSQSA, Inc., is a co-sponsor of The Institute of Logopedics, Wichita, Kan., which offers training and assistance for the communicatively handicapped.

Heavy Snow Removal Funds Go to 48 Counties

Forty-eight of Michigan's 83 counties recorded more than 80 inches of snow during the 1978-79 winter, qualifying them for annual snow-removal assistance payments from state gas and weight taxes.

The Michigan Department of Transportation (MDOT) reports that the 48 counties will share $2,014,582, compared to $1,980,289 paid a year ago to 45 qualifying counties.

Starting with the 1978-79 winter, cities and villages that record at least 80 inches of snow and have extraordinary winter maintenance costs also qualify for assistance.

In payments currently being made based on the 1978-79 winter, 133 cities and villages qualified for assistance, from a low of $9.16 to Millersburg in Presque Isle county to a high of $35,717 to the city of Marquette.

For counties, amount of payments is determined by a formula established by the legislature, based on accumulated snowfall depth and the number of miles of county roads.

Based on this formula, the five top counties and the amounts of payments are: Houghton, $111,292; Marquette, $101,616; Chippewa, $97,415; Antrim, $74,393; and Oceana, $74,015.

The top five counties in snowfall measurement and amounts were: Keweenaw, 374 inches; Houghton, 278 inches; Baraga, 219 inches; Alger, 214 inches; and Ontonagon, 209 inches.

Chitwood Thrill Show Coming To Chelsea Fair

The Chelsea Fair Board has announced that the Joie Chitwood Thrill Show will be performing at the Chelsea Community Fair in the new arena, Thursday, Aug. 28 at 8:30 p.m.

This internationally-known stunt company made an appearance of a different sort last Saturday, Feb. 23, on an episode of NBC's "CHIPS" series. The episode, entitled "Thrill Show" featured segments of the actual Chitwood show as seen during the regular season.

Tim and Joie Chitwood, Jr., were also responsible for much of the high speed action that took place on L.A.'s freeways. One of the action scenes featured Joie Chitwood, Jr., jumping an automobile onto the back of a flat-bed truck as it moves down the highway.

During the regular season, an audience estimated at 1.7 million views performances of the Chitwood Thrill Show at local and county fairs, speedways and racetracks. The exposure for the Chitwoods on the "CHIPS" show was estimated to be in the neighborhood of 15 million.

"It is the kind of exposure that keeps the crowds coming during the regular season," commented Joie Chitwood, Jr., of the television show and also an appearance on NBC's "Sportsworld," taken from Houston Astrodome shows done in January.

The Chitwoods begin their 40-state tour on June 6.

Bell Marches On

March seems to have been an important month for inventor Alexander Graham Bell. He was born March 3, 1847. The son of a prominent authority on the physiology of speech, Bell experimented with communication systems throughout his life. On March 10, 1876, he issued the first distinguishable telephone message when he uttered the words, "Mr. Watson, come here I need you." Henry Ford Museum, Dearborn, maintains an extensive Communications Collection which traces the developments of the field from Bell's early work into the 20th century.

★ War Against Inflation Sidelined Again

Last year about this time, the administration was predicting a 7.4 percent inflation rate for 1979. Now, the figures are in and we know that inflation ran 13.3 percent for the year, close enough to be almost double what was projected.

The administration will sound the same refrain this year . . . that inflation will taper off and this time be about 10 percent. Heaven help us if they are wrong again because double 10 percent would be 20 percent and certainly that kind of inflation would wreck the economy.

You might ask what happened to the war against inflation. President Carter, in his State of the Union message, blamed OPEC oil prices for our poor showing. However, if energy prices are eliminated from the Consumer Price Index, inflation still rose by 11 percent over the year.

The 1981 budget calls for spending $615 billion dollars. That's $52 billion more than the previous year and would include a budget deficit of about $16 billion. Much of the increased federal spending will go for such items as interest on the national debt and the effects of inflation.

President Carter calls his budget "a strategy for restraint," but the restraint is only minimal. Very little is being done to control government spending or regulation, two main causes of our current inflation.

The budget is just one more example that this administration is unable to wage war against inflation. It's unwilling to cut programs that need cutting but might anger certain constituencies in an election year. Of course, the loser in all this is the taxpayer who has already been told to forget about a tax cut in 1980.

An Environmental Toxicology Center has been established at Michigan State University to draw together the university's many research, teaching and public service resources that deal with the effects of chemicals on various environments.

Steelhead Run May Be Early

Michigan's mild winter could mean an early spring bonanza for steelhead anglers, according to Automobile Club of Michigan.

Water temperatures in the 40s are all that's needed to trigger the spawning urge in more than one million 10-to-15 pound green-backed giants returning to the 34 rivers listed on Auto Club's guide.

While the total run is comparable with last year's, an early spring and the lack of snow should minimize spring runoff, sending fish into rivers a week to 10 days earlier than usual and resulting in excellent water conditions for wading anglers, Auto Club stated.

Good catches already are being taken from some southwest Michigan rivers, but anglers there can expect peak runs from mid-to late-March. The action then swings north, with fishing in Lake Michigan's tributaries best from late March to mid-April.

East Michigan steelheading should crest from early April to early May. Anglers in Southeast Michigan, where only two rivers hold runs, should see best results from mid-March through mid-April on the Huron, and from late April through early June on the St. Clair River.

Upper Peninsula steelheading usually hits high gear in late April to mid-May along Lake Michigan, and extends from late April to early June on rivers feeding Lake Superior.

Auto Club advises anglers to study regulations applying to rivers listed in its guide, as parts of some are restricted to fly fishing only. Other streams open after April 1 or on April 28, the general trout season opener.

Although chemical contaminant levels in Great Lakes fish are dropping each year, the State Department of Public Health has continued its warning that Lake Michigan steelhead may contain hazardous amounts of polychlorinated biphenyls (PCBs).

Children and nursing mothers are advised not to eat Lake Michigan steelhead. All others should consume no more than one-half-pound per week.

Further information on fishing rules and pollution dangers may be found in the DNR's 1980 Michigan Fishing Guide.

To meet the distinctive housing needs of eligible severely disabled ex-service personnel, the Veterans Administration offers grants for specially adapted housing and escort or stand-in service during contacts with builders, architects or lenders.

letter about changes that would have to be made if the fair served meals during Fair Week. The Board decided not to serve meals for the 1980 fair.

All normal fair business was conducted.

Cake and coffee were served in honor of John Wellnitz's 76th birthday, which is Feb. 29, Leap Year. He has been associated with the fair for 12 years.

A Milk-Curdling Course

America's first collegiate-ranked dairy school was established at the University of Wisconsin on Jan. 3, 1890. The first year saw a mere two students enroll, but that was adequate because there were only two courses: Testing Milk and Farm Churning. Within a few years, however, dairy courses were quite acceptable and enrollment swelled. Many of the fascinating stages in the development of the dairy industry are visible on a walk through the Home Arts Collection of Henry Ford Museum, Dearborn.

Card of Thanks 16
THANK YOU
We wish to thank the Fair Board, past Fair Board members, their wives, neighbors, friends and relatives for my 19th anniversary party, even though I am 76. It was held at the Fair Service Center Feb. 29, 1980. I received many beautiful cards. Earl Heller got me a huge plate of shrimp which I love, and Art and Ann Steinaway prepared a huge birthday cake. Food and drink were good and plentiful.
John Wellnitz.

Homeowners insurance is homeowners insurance, right? Wrong.

Auto-Owners homeowners insurance is different. Not only in the way we handle claims (Auto-Owners built its reputation on fast, fair claims service). Not only in the personal attention we give (another Auto-Owners trademark). Or in the way we could save you money (our low rates are famous). But, in our whole outlook on homeowners insurance, with innovative, imaginative policies that make sure you get just what you need, for just what you want to pay. So, if you're thinking you'd be wrong if you didn't call Auto-Owners... you're right.

Whittler's Model
Samuel Colt did some whittling to occupy time in 1830 while he was on a sailing ship. He ended up carving a model of the first pistol with a revolving barrel. His Patent Arms Manufacturing Co., incorporated March 5, 1836, began manufacture of the first Colt firearm, a .34-caliber Texas model, soon after. Fine examples of Colt's craftsmanship, as well as other firearms, are on exhibit in Henry Ford Museum, Dearborn.

NOTICE OF MORTGAGE SALE
 WHEREAS, default has been made in the terms and conditions of one certain mortgage made and executed by David C. Barton and Barbara J. Barton, as his wife and in her own right, to the Federal Land Bank of Saint Paul, a Federally Chartered Corporation, 375 Jackson Street, Saint Paul, Minnesota dated March 2, 1977 and filed in the office of the Register of Deeds for Washtenaw County, Michigan on the 4th day of March, 1977, and recorded in Liber 1584 of Mortgages, pages 490 and 491, and
 WHEREAS, the Federal Land Bank of Saint Paul is now the owner of said Mortgage, and
 WHEREAS, said Mortgage contains a provision that if the mortgagors shall fail to pay or cause to be paid any of the installments mentioned in said obligation according to the terms thereof or shall fail to pay the taxes and assessments on said property as the same become due and payable, the entire indebtedness secured by said Mortgage shall thereupon become due and payable, and said Mortgage subject to foreclosure at the option of the mortgagee, and
 WHEREAS, the mortgagors have failed to pay or cause to be paid the said installments mentioned in said obligation according to the terms thereof, and by reason thereof, Federal Land Bank of Saint Paul, under the provisions above referred to has elected to declare, has declared and does hereby declare the entire indebtedness secured by said mortgage due and payable at once, and WHEREAS, the amount claimed to be due on this mortgage at the date of this notice for principal and interest is the sum of Fifty Eight Thousand Nine Hundred Twenty-Nine and 41/100 ($58,929.41) Dollars, plus interest thereon from December 13, 1979, at the rate of 10 3/4 percent per annum, together with legal costs, charges and expenses, including the attorneys fees as provided by the Statutes of the State of Michigan and stipulated for in said Mortgage, and also any taxes and insurance that said mortgagee pays on or prior to the date of the sale; and no suit or proceeding at law or in equity having been instituted to recover the debt now remaining secured thereby or any part thereof, whereby the power of sale in said Mortgage has become operative;
 NOW THEREFORE, notice is hereby given that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage and in pursuance of the statutes in such case made and provided, the said Mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the Mortgage premises at public vendue to the highest bidder on Thursday, April 3, 1980, at 10:30 o'clock in the forenoon (Local Time of said day, at the ground floor lobby of the main entrance of the Courthouse in the City of Ann Arbor, Michigan, (that being the place where the Circuit Court for the County of Washtenaw is held.)
 The said premises are described as follows: to wit:
 Land in the Township of Northfield, County of Washtenaw, Michigan, described as:
 Commencing at the South 1/4 corner of Section 11, T15, R6E, Northfield Township, Washtenaw County, Michigan, thence North in the North and South 1/4 Line of Section 11, 1941.70 feet to the place of beginning; thence continuing North 357.90 feet; thence South 89° 13' East 1302.61 feet; thence South 0° 13' East 336.35 feet; thence North 89° 13' West 1303.96 feet to the place of beginning. Said parcel being a part of the West 1/2 of the Southeast 1/4 of Section 11, T15, R6E, Northfield Township.
 FURTHER TAKE NOTICE, that the length of the period of redemption from such sale, in accordance with Section 27A.240 Michigan Statutes Annotated, as amended, will be one year from the date of such sale.

GARDEN SPOT

By Roberta L. Lawrence, County Horticultural Agent

SEEDLINGS NEED LOTS OF LIGHT

Question: Last year I tried to grow my own vegetable transplants, supplementing natural light with a small fluorescent desk light. Even with this extra light, most were tall and spindly. Can you give me a precise indication of how much light seedlings need?

Answer: Germinating seedlings (or cutting you are propagating) need light levels ranging from 600 to 2,000 foot candles in order to grow well. Four 40-watt cool white fluorescent lights mounted on two-inch centers with a white reflector will provide about 1,000 foot candles of illumination at a distance of four inches from the plants.

If you are trying to supplement natural light, you should use at least two 40-watt fluorescent lamps. They should be only four to six inches from the plants. Keep them on in the mornings and evenings so your seedlings receive 16 hours of bright light.

Question: I've seen ads for a new strawberry variety called "Scot." But the ads make them all sound so good, I still don't know if it is worth trying.

Answer: The new strawberry release "Scot," from the USDA and the Maryland Experiment Station, was tested in variety trials at the Michigan State University Research Farm for the past three years. Its size and yield were similar to the Guardian and Midway varieties which are grown by many of the pick-your-own farms in this area. This late season cultivar is resistant to red stele root rot, leaf scorch and powdery mildew. It has a nice red interior and a fairly smooth skin that resists bruising. It is a variety well worth trying in the home garden.

GROW YOUR OWN BIRDSEED

Question: We have two acres of land and would like to grow sunflower for birdseed. This would be just for our use. Could we grow enough on 1/2 acre to feed the birds all winter? Do you have any cultural information on sunflowers?

Answer: With one-half acre to grow on, you should be quite successful at growing your own birdseed. In fact, home gardeners with just a small space can supplement their feed supply enough to make growing sunflowers worth it.

Over the past few years, the U. S. average yield of non-oil sunflower seeds has been over 1,000 pounds per acre. I don't mean to imply that you should get 500 lbs. off your 1/2 acre, but you can certainly aim for 200 to 300 lbs.

Although sunflowers prefer fine-textured soils such as loams or clay loams, they will grow on sandy soils too. They are similar to corn in their fertilizer requirements, needing plenty of nitrogen.

Sunflowers are one of the most drought-tolerant crops, with less yield reduction under moisture stress than almost anything you can grow.

Young sunflower plants are resistant to freezing and can survive temperatures in the low twenties. However, they lose this quality as they grow. By the eight-leaf stage, temperatures just below freezing may injure the crop.

One of the biggest problems for home gardeners is deciding when to harvest sunflowers. Early harvesting reduces losses to birds, but the seeds may not be dry enough for long-term storage and mold becomes a significant problem. Sunflowers harvested after mid-September will also have fewer problems caused by storage insects. Seed weevil larvae often feed on the sunflowers in late summer, but drop to the ground to pupate by mid-September. Although the birds get an early feast, late harvest of sunflowers eliminates storage mold and the possibility of bringing in a potential pest of all stored cereal and grain products. The Co-operative Extension Service has a free mimeo text available on growing sunflowers. Call the Extension Office at 973-9510 for your copy.

Maryland Begins With 30 Acres

The fledgling colony of Maryland began in 1634 when the Calvert family, through a grant from the King of England, purchased 30 acres of land. Some 16 years later and 10 miles from the original colonial site, Christopher Rousby, customs collector for the King, built his home in the new world. Some 292 years later his house, now called the Susquehanna House, was moved to its present location at Greenfield Village, Dearborn, where it shares the glory of 300 years of American history with almost 100 other historic structures.

No More Typing Mises (sic)

E. Remington & Sons, Iliou, N. Y., became the first company to manufacture a practical typewriter under a contract dated March 1, 1873. The machine, which would revolutionize the business world, had two rows of black walnut keys with letters, all in capitals, painted on them in white. There were also numerals two through nine, a comma and a period. A visit to Henry Ford Museum, Dearborn, offers visitors a chance to see an 1874 Shoies typewriter as well as a 1902 Remington Arabic typewriter and a 1908 Remington No. 9, the first visible writing typewriter.

Census Taker Applicants Being Sought

Census takers are needed in this area, according to Michael Berla, district manager of the area's 1980 census office.

The Census Bureau welcomes applications from persons who will be able to work 40 hours a week, including many evenings and Saturdays, calling upon householders who have not returned their

CHS Students Picking Next Year's Courses

Next week, Chelsea High school students and their parents will be asked to begin thinking about the courses they would select for the next school year. This is an important time, since the initial requests will determine which courses will eventually be offered.

Counseling staff members will be explaining the procedure to students next week. Students should then consult their parents and counselors about which classes are best for them.

This information will then be compiled and the data used in making the master schedule for next year.

This part of the process is perhaps most important, said Principal John Williams, since it "essentially determines what direction our curriculum will take next year."

Williams also said that "parents and students should realize that classes are planned and teacher schedules developed on the basis of this information. Once selected, courses offered should not be changed."

"For the time being," Williams added, "we are operating as if we will have a full-time staff next year. If the situation changes, adjustments will have to be made."

Actual registration for classes will take place late in May. It is important to note that students are only indicating their desires at this time, and not selecting classes.

Whether or not courses indicated by the students will fit into the master schedule will not be known until later.

An eventual goal is for each student to have a full and complete schedule for next year by the time classes end in June.

Good Things Growing in Michigan

More than 50 commercial crops are among good things growing in Michigan, and that includes Eastern soft white winter wheat. Our state leads the nation in production of this type of wheat, from which flour for pastry, cookies, and blends for other flours are made.

Michigan's farmers planted 800,000 acres of winter wheat in 1979 to harvest 34 million bushels, according to the Michigan Department of Agriculture. Growers received a record 43 bushel yield per acre, with total value of about $124.9 million. Wheat is grown throughout the state with Lenawee, Huron and Sanilac the highest wheat-producing counties.

For those of us who rely on commercial firms for our baked goods, MDA inspectors routinely check our state's 1,069 retail and wholesale bakeries and 13 flour mills to ensure that sanitary standards are maintained.

Many large bakeries are almost completely automated, which means most ingredients are untouched by human hands. However, production line equipment, storage areas, sanitation practices and facilities are inspected, the same as with small bakeries, for evidence of conditions that might result in contamination.

Standards for commercially baked breads and flours are set by federal law and enforced by the state. When bread labels include "enriched flour," they must contain specified amounts of the required enrichment ingredients, thiamine, niacin, riboflavin and iron. Calcium and vitamin D are optional ingredients.

Ann Arbor Metro Area Sales Jump 68% in 5 Years

Sales in the 1,645 retail establishments in the Ann Arbor Standard Metropolitan Statistical Area (metro area) rose 68 percent between 1972 and 1977 according to figures compiled by the U. S. Census Bureau from mail returns of the 1977 Census of Retail Trade.

The returns show also that the 810 establishments in Ann Arbor City (excluding the suburban shopping areas) had $493 million in sales in 1977.

Retail sales figures for the metro area and its parts, released at this time by the Bureau, include figures for the area's Major Retail Center (MRC's)—one of which, MRC No. 4, which includes the planned center known as Briarwood Shopping Center and nearby areas, had 109 retail places with sales of $115 million in 1977.

The average age of all Vietnam Era veterans is 32.9 years.

Hawks Unbeaten in Biddy Competition

In NBA biddy basketball play last Saturday morning, the league-leading Hawks continued to dominate by notching victory number three, showing hustle and good defense.

The Celtics moved into second place with a 36-18 victory over the Spurs and the Sonics, rebounding from a tough loss last week, came from behind to edge the Lakers, 26-25.

The first match-up pitted the Lakers (1-1) against the Sonics (1-1), with the Sonics winning, 26-25.

Chuck Downer bucketed 12 points for the winners. Dan Kimball had six points, Biff Buntun connected for four and Steve Whitesall and Andy Box had two each.

For the Lakers, Bob Torres and Rick Proctor shared the top honors with seven points each. Craig Maciag hooped five points, Dan Darrow, four points, and Bret Knickerbocker had two.

In the second contest, the Hawks took on the Nuggets. The Nuggets' defense was tough for the first quarter, and the score was tied, 4-4. The Hawks then regrouped, however, and shut off the Nuggets scoring for two consecutive quarters.

In the final period, the Nuggets came part of the way back, but were still behind when the final buzzer sounded, 46-14.

For the Nuggets, Matt Koenn hustled on the court, showing good defense and leading the team with seven points. Mark Mull collected four points and led both teams in rebounding. Tammi Mullaly and Tim Klink each had two points.

For the Hawks, Ken Martin, again in double figures with 22 points, led his team. Kevin Maynard tallied 16 points and Doug Graves and Matt Feeney each had two points.

The final game saw the much-improved Celtic team control the Spurs to win, 36-18. Dwayne Pate, in an outstanding game, hooped 12 buckets for the Celts. Jon Lane and Ray Spencer each had eight points, Doug Jankowski hustled for four points and Dan Skiff had two. For the Spurs, Steve Kropf led his team with eight points. Andy Koszegi and Todd Brown each scored 4 points, and Kristi Headrick ended the scoring with two.

School Board Briefs

Present at the March 3 regular meeting of the Chelsea School Board of Education were Stirling, Feeney, Schafer, Heller, Schumann, Dis, Superintendent Van Meer, Assistant Superintendent Mills, Principals Williams, Conklin, Benedict, Wojcicki, Assistant Principal Vogel, Community Education Director Rogers, Special Education Director DeYoung and guests.

Meeting was called to order at 8 p.m. by President James W. Stirling.

Leonard Soloman, representing the Chelsea Education Association, addressed the board indicating the hope that the board had considered previous reductions in supplies and capital outlay in formulating the new budget requests.

A communication from the Herrick Foundation, giving the Chelsea Band $5,000 toward its Mexican trip, was noted.

The Board received a letter from representatives of the coaching staff in which they expressed concern about not being able to practice on Sundays. The Board was informed that Paul Terpstra, head baseball coach for the past five years, had submitted a letter of resignation of his baseball position.

Mr. Terpstra will remain as English and psychology teacher. Wayne Welton has been appointed head baseball coach for the 1980 season. The position will be posted after the season in accordance with the contract with the CEA.

The Board of Education, acting upon an administrative recommendation, expelled a junior class member for the remainder of the 1979-80 school year. This expulsion followed the due process system for the student and his parents.

The Board of Education is in the process of completing the evaluation of the Superintendent of Schools.

The Board will attend the annual Washtenaw County School Officers meeting in Whitmore Lake on March 19.

The Board tabled some curriculum recommendations in the high school, asking that the recommendations be returned to the Central Curriculum Committee for further review.

The Board changed the meeting dates for April from the first and third Mondays to Monday, April 14 and Wednesday, April 23, at 8 p.m. The April 14 meeting will be held in the board room, and the April 23 meeting will be held in the Media Center at Beach Middle school.

The Board of Education was informed that the Community Education Director will be initiating a program for pre-school parents.

The Board reviewed the budget and budget projections for the 1980-81 school year. The board will place a request for 3.2 operational millage on the ballot at an April 23 election. The Board also indicated that the debt retirement levy will be reduced by .6 mill, making the net tax increase to the district voters 2.6 mills.

Board adjourned at 12:15 a.m.

Membership in the nation's 210 labor unions and professional and state employee associations totaled 24.2 million in 1976, according to the 1979 edition of the "Directory of National Unions and Employee Associations," prepared by the U. S. Department of Labor's Bureau of Labor Statistics.

Boys Service Group Recently Organized at Immanuel Church

Immanuel Bible church has recently started a service organization for boys aged 8-11, allowing them to have fun playing games, making crafts and learning about God's word. At meetings of the Boys Brigade, which meets every Tuesday from 6:30 to 8 p.m., boys are taught discipline, respect, and that they are loved by God. When warm weather sets in, the group plans to take hikes on a nature trail and camp out over a week-end. In the summer, the local boys will participate in a one-week camp at Kensington Metro Park with all other posts in southeastern Michigan. First project for the group, now that spring is coming, was the building of a bird house. Anyone interested in more information on the local Boys Brigade should call Dennis Petsch, 475-9494.

Real Estate
By PAUL FRISINGER
REALTOR

BIG INCOME OR GOOD LOCATION?

Which is a better long-term investment — a high-income property in a deteriorating neighborhood or a low income property in a superior neighborhood?

superior location will command higher rents which will outrun the market. The income base will rise as will the resale value of the property.

On the other hand, the high income property in the deteriorating neighborhood will decrease in value, maintenance expense will increase and resale will be a problem, if possible at all.

Based only on these facts, the lower income property in the good neighborhood is the better investment. Why? Because the most important factor to be considered in any real estate investment is location. Nothing else comes close in importance. It is extremely rare when property, in a prime location, turns out to be a bad investment in the long run. This is true even if too high a price is paid. As time goes on, the

The Bible-The Light from Heaven

Instructs plainly that man is separated from God because of sin. (Romans 3:23). We read in the Bible about the essential redemption. The word "redeem" means to buy back again. It implies that something has been sold. The human race has been sold under the condemnation of sin. A redeemer is one who rescues another from bondage, or liberates another from any condition wherein he is held. Jesus Christ "gave himself for us, that he might redeem us from all iniquity, and purify unto himself a peculiar people, zealous of good works." (Titus 2:14). The essential redemption is taught in Ephesians 1:7. We read: "In whom"—the essential state, which is in Christ Jesus. The way to get into this state or relationship is recorded in Galatians 3:26, 27. Next we note, "we have redemption"—the essential work. Essential because all have sinned. (Romans 3:23). "Through his blood"—the essential means. (Ephesians 1:7). "The forgiveness of sin"—the essential blessings. "According to the riches of his grace"—the essential cause. Since man did not merit salvation, it could be effected only through the grace of God. "For by grace are ye saved through faith." Grace is God's part. Faith is man's part. God requires an obedient faith. (Hebrews 5:8, 9).

PRIDE AND ACCOMPLISHMENT

TAXES

During the last five years, when taxes have been increasing at an alarming rate nationally, the Village tax rate has increased only 0.36 mills.

STREETS

Twenty-five years ago, the Original Independent Party initiated a program of street improvement which has resulted in an excellent community-wide system of streets. Much of this work has been done by the Public Works Department which has resulted in substantial savings to the Village.

PARKS AND RECREATION

The Village Council being wholly comprised of Original Independent Party members for over 20 years, has played an active role in the development of recreation for the community. In addition to its financial support of the Recreation Council, the Village Council in the past two years has added through lease agreements three additional neighborhood parks. The Village Council has also obtained, through a gift from Dana Corporation, 5½ acres of land upon which will be constructed two new softball fields and restrooms.

GROWTH AND DEVELOPMENT

In 1965 the Original Independent Party initiated the establishment of a Planning Commission and the presentation of a General Development Plan for the Village. Through this the Village has been able to sustain its small town character while accepting the limited growth which is necessary for the Village's well being.

POLICE AND FIRE

Through the Original Independent Party's vigorous support, a thoroughly competent professional police and fire department have been provided to the residents of the Village. This has assured a low crime rate and virtually the best fire protection obtainable.

UTILITIES

The Village has maintained an up-to-date system of utilities and has taken steps to assure that the utilities will continue to meet our future needs as follows:

Electricity — the Village of Chelsea is one of a few communities in the state of Michigan which owns its own distribution system. Village residents consistently pay electric rates which are 10 to 15 percent lower than the rate charged to residential customers outside the Village by major investor owned utilities.

Water — the Village is presently engaged in a study to locate new water storage facilities. These new facilities will assure the community of a water system which will have adequate pressure and sufficient water reserve and pumping capacity for fire protection.

Sewers — the existing sewer system is being studied to determine areas which need improvement due to infiltration. The necessary studies required by the United States government are also underway to meet the requirements for Federal funding to upgrade the waste-water treatment plant.

Sanitary Land Fill — the Original Independent Party was responsible for acquiring our site which has consistently provided village residents with a sanitary landfill which has met the requirements of the Michigan Department of Natural Resources. Recent State laws are making the operation of a landfill very difficult. However, the Village has undertaken a study with a consultant to determine what must be done so that the Village may continue to provide this service to its residents.

For the past 20 years the Village Council has pursued a policy of forward looking engineering studies that has resulted in reliable village utilities that have been adequately sized and built as needed ahead of demand. Thus the Village utilities are meeting our needs now and the council is in a position to plan logically for the future without resorting to crash programs.

DOWNTOWN PARKING

To assure that the downtown area of Chelsea continues to remain as a viable center of the community, the Original Independent Party through the years has obtained additional land area for parking, market, and has made improvements along Park Street, in the alley way leading to Main Street and in the parking lot itself.

TRANSPORTATION

The Original Independent Party comprising totally the Village Council has supported the Chelsea Area Transportation System since it was started with both financial aid and administrative services. The Village Council believes that this system of transportation to our elderly and handicapped residents is essential to the community.
