Swimmers Ready For State Meet

Chelsea male swimmers are leaving today for their "meet of the season," the 1980 Class B state swimming and diving championships at Grand Rapids Junior College Friday and Saturday.

The team had 14 letter winners in this year's 13-1 season and, of the 14, 13 swam fast enough to qualify for the state meet.

Chelsea's primary hope for points will be the relay events. "Our relay times are not that fast," said Coach Larry Reed, "but it must be realized that on meet days we have consistently worked out in the morning and afternoon and then swam the meet at 7 in the evening."

"We have broken four school records," continued Reed, "including the medley relay after these pre-meet workouts. Friday, we will be rested for the first time all year."

The medley relay will have Tom Gaunt on backstroke, Dave Nicola swimming breaststroke, Dave Mason taking the butterfly leg and Phil Hoffman on freestyle. Best time for the relay so far this year is 1:48.1, but the team hopes to go 1:44 and place in the championship finals, composed of the top six.

Nicola, Hoffman, Mike Mason

and Scott Prohaska will swim the freestyle relay. Their best time is 3:30.9, but they are looking to swim 3:24.0 and finish in the top six.

Participating in individual events are Prohaska in the 200- and 500-yard freestyles; Gaunt in the 200 individual medley and 100-yard backstroke; Nicola and Mason in the 50-yard freestyle sprint; Craig Wirtz in three-meter diving; Dave Mason, 200 IM and 100 butterfly; John Robbins, 100 backstroke; and Shawn Pierson, 100 breaststroke.

Alternates for the various events are Kirk Hawks, Andy

DSA Banquet Cancelled by JCs

Announcement of the winner of Chelsea Jaycees annual Distinguished Service Award will come later than usual this year.

According to President Bob Meyer, the Jaycees cancelled their traditional award dinner, scheduled to be held last Wednesday, March 12, because of lagging ticket sales. He said the organization will announce the award winner and the finalists at a later date.

Spring Achievement Show Set by 4-H

Washtenaw County 4-H youth and their projects will be on display for the public's enjoyment during the 1980 Spring Achievement. The annual event will be held this year at Saline High school on Saturday, March 15.

Spring Achievement is highlighted by two fashion revues. The 2 p.m. revue features young models from ages 7 to 12. The evening program, which begins at 7:30 p.m., includes the junior and senior 4-H members plus 30 young models chosen to return from the afternoon revue.

Projects created by 4-H members in the Leathercraft and woodworking project areas will be on display. Evaluations will be conducted during the morning with the outstanding projects receiving honors during the evening revue. Also, of special interest, will be demonstrations given by 4-H members throughout the day.

Early Robin Reported

With eight inches of freshly fallen snow covering the landscape Monday morning, it was a pleasant sight for Walter Gochanour, walking from his home on Taylor St. to see his first sign of spring—a robin perched on a high branch of a tree.

The Washtenaw County 4-H Youth Program welcomes the public to attend.

Water Main Break Closes High School

Classes at Chelsea High school were cancelled Monday and Tuesday this week after a broken three-inch water line knocked out water service to the entire school.

According to Superintendent Raymond Van Meer, the break was located about 11 p.m. Sunday. "We discovered a lake out there," he said, adding that the pool of water between the administration building and the vocational wing went down about nine feet.

No water seeped into school buildings, but water service to restrooms and laboratories was affected.

Administrators hoped to resume classes Tuesday, but a patch put on the pipe failed to hold and a stainless steel clamp had to be ordered from Detroit, forcing a second day of vacation for high school students.

Beach, North and South schools continued with classes as usual.

Charles Ritter Leads Charge Over Sticker War of Incumbents

Voting has traditionally been described as the voice of the people, and the ballots of the people of Chelsea said "change" more often than not Monday, electing to sweep a new slate of candidates into village government over a number of incumbents.

Charles Ritter, Independent Party nominee, was elected village president over incumbent Don Wood, earning 405 (55 percent) votes. Wood, running as a sticker candidate, received the remaining 45 percent or 331 votes. One vote was cast for another candidate.

Likewise, party nominees for two-year trustee positions, Stephanie "Sis" Kapten, Loren Keezer and Joe Merkel, III, were elected to office by vote totals of 395, 414 and 419, respectively.

Write-in trustee candidates came in with an average of five percent fewer votes, with Walt Brown getting 292, Phil Hume, 320, and Jim Schardein, 306.

Two others received trustee votes.

Unopposed treasurer candidate Mary Harris received 667 votes. Also unopposed, Charles Winans, II, was elected assessor with 669 votes, and Jack Merkel and Katherine Wagner received seats on the library board of trustees with 653 and 652 votes, respectively.

According to Commissioner of the election, Betty Bust, more absentee ballots were cast in this year's election than regular ballots in the elections of the past two years combined.

A total of 776 ballots were cast, with two spoiled.

President-elect Ritter viewed the results as a mandate for change from the voters of Chelsea.

"We're not going to make any earth-shattering moves," he promised, "and we're not going to sling any mud. We've just got to find out about things."

He attributed the victory to

Cagers Lose in First Round of District Play

"It was," said Coach Robin Raymond, "an abrupt ending to the season."

For most fans, expecting to see their Bulldog cagers breeze to the regional tournament, that is the ultimate understatement.

Having beaten Jackson County Western twice before this season turned out, ironically, to work against Chelsea, as the team fell, 50-49, in the second round of district tournament play at Jackson Lumen Christi last Wednesday.

Western, familiar with the Chelsea style of play, had a chance to alter their own style to stop the SEC-champion Bulldogs.

"They had a different kind of game plan," said Raymond with a touch of sarcasm. "They went from a man-to-man to a two-one-two zone. It appeared to me that the one man's job was to take charges. He tried to step in front of us, fall down, and force the charge call on Chelsea."

"I don't like that kind of basketball, but it worked for them that night."

The one-point game ultimately came down to a contest of Chelsea's outside shooting against Western's foul shooting, on the strength of which they won the game.

JCW made 21 of 29 foul shots, with Chelsea sinking only three of nine.

Still, the repeated questionable

Baseball Program Changed

This year, Babe Ruth baseball is changing its age bracket from 13- to 15-year-olds to 14- to 16-year-olds. The purpose of the change is to allow the 13-year-old athlete another year of development both mentally and physically before competing with boys aged 14 and 15.

Also, because of the lack of continuing recreation for teenagers in Chelsea, adding 16-year-olds gives teens one more year to play before deciding whether to go on to the Major League (ages 17-19), which is new this year.

The Major League will be made up with youth from area communities which, hopefully, will see the need to offer a good program for older players.

In Babe Ruth, which will now be called the Minor League, Chelsea last year outfitted five teams. Together with three Dexter teams and one from Manchester, the league is potentially a strong one.

Hoping to form an adult support organization for Minor League baseball in the area, league organizers are calling on local residents for help.

Director Dave Lukasiak is seeking people who have baseball knowledge to share and who are willing to give their time without pay to help local youth.

"This is a hard age to obtain coaches for," he said, "but, then too, this age is caught in the middle of being young and being an adult."

To this end, Lukasiak is seeking to form an adult group to organize all aspects of youth baseball. Any interested persons may call him at 475-7119 after 5 p.m.

Federal Fishing Rules Challenged

The state's sports fishermen and officials of state government went to bat recently by attacking interim federal fishing rules for Indians declaring the regulations will sanction destruction of the Great Lakes fishing grounds.

The U. S. Department of Interior rules, which have been in effect since November on an emergency basis, allow Indians protected by an 1836 treaty, to continue to use gill nets except for trout, endangered sturgeon and six species of chub, specify waters in which Indians may fish, and set limited times when fishing is prohibited.

The rules pre-empt state regulations which have declared the use of gill nets illegal. Governor William G. Milliken, appearing before a public hearing conducted by attorneys for the Bureau of Indian Affairs, said the rules condone the depletion and collapse of the lakes fishery and urged they be withdrawn.

"The proposed rules are nothing less than an official approval of the virtually unregulated commercial treaty fishery which presently exists in our waters," Milliken said.

The governor also said the rules fall short of being a stopgap agreement to protect the fishery while court litigation continues. The state and two Indian tribes are awaiting a decision in the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals on whether the Indians must follow state regulations, which ban gill nets.

A lower federal court judge ruled the 1836 and 1850 treaties exempt Indians from state control.

Milliken said the fishery must be protected with a management program that involves not only federal and tribal representatives, but state officials as well.

He added he is confident the court will reassert the state role in the matter.

John Bailey, former director of the state Indian Commission, disagreed, charging opposition to the rules as discriminatory.

Referring to state's challenge to Indian fishing rights, Bailey said, "Discrimination is rampant and we've set back civil rights 100 years."

Bailey said Indians would be happy to stop fishing state-planted fish stock if state officials could replace all the fish that existed when the treaties were signed.

Howard Tanner, director of the Department of Natural Resources, said the federal rules should not be implemented before the court case is settled.

He said the rules currently drafted do great harm to the fish resources in the Upper Great Lakes.

"You would foist on us a facade of regulations with no restraints. We must protect the fish

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

The talk around the stove at the country store Saturday night come around to wimmen, as it usual does soon or late. Clem Webster said how much help our First Lady is to our President just by being the strong woman at his side. Clem allowed he is to old to give up the idea that a woman's place is wherever she can do her man and family the most good, and that Mrs. Carter has showed that she can do that with pride and without giving up her value as a separate person. For all their liberation, Clem said, he would hold to the notion that behind ever man that has done good there's a good woman nagging him on.

Natural, Ed Doolittle rose to the bait, as he does any time somepun kind is said about Democrats. Ed told the fellers that if Jimmy has been listening to Rosalyn in recent weeks he'd better call in some new advisers. Somebody gave the President some mighty bad advise on sending the Great Ali to Africa. Ed said he could hear the First Couple working it out after supper. Jimmy is worried about how good he's doing in the polls lately by minding the store and taking care of crisis at home and abroad while the other candidates are out scratching for delegates. No. 1 don't get sympathy votes, Jimmy said, and he allus done better as the underdog. He tells Rosalyn he ought to do somepun real hard down dumb to offset the lead. Mrs. Carter says he'll have to go some to improve on sending Andy Young to the United Nations, but how about sending Mohammed Ali to Africa as a spokesman fer boycotting the Olympics in Moscow.

The President bought that idea, Ed went on, and, sure enough, Ali worked out fine. He talked the Carter Administration into so many problems so quick until now everybody is thinking poor, muddled well-meaning Jimmy again, was Ed's words. The President was back playing the turtle to Senator Kennedy's rabbit in no time, and it ain't hurting Carter none that Kennedy has been running in jerks and starts, trying to figger out which way to take off with all that speed.

General speaking, the fellers came down on Clem's side. Zeke Grubb said men and wimmen working together is the natural order, and fer what little his old lady eats he wouldn't be without her. Zeke was of a mind that the President's idea of registering wimmen fer the draft didn't come from him and his advisers so much as from wimmen to old fer the draft. Zeke said it was one thing for wimmen to volunteer fer the military, and it was another thing to call em in if they'd rather be doing things most wimmen do, like raising families.

Zeke said he was fer the draft, though. Fer one thing, it would let folks in the Selective Service System work fer that $47 million they've been paid a year since the draft was stopped seven years ago. And Zeke said he favors drafting old folks. Retired people got all kind of time, where young ones are just trying to git started in life. Besides, Zeke allowed, the old ones are more likely to be settled and less likely to run off to Canada when they git their draft board greetings.

Yours truly, Uncle Lew.

resources while we talk, while we litigate," Tanner said.

Theodore Swift, an attorney representing the Grand Traverse Area Sport Fishing Association, said the regulations are "a license for Indians to take every last fish." He charged the federal government was only interested in belatedly assuming sole jurisdiction of Great Lakes fishing.

Rep. Thomas Anderson (D-Southgate), chairman of the House Conservation, Environment and Recreation Committee, reported on the state's extensive efforts to replenish fish stock in the lakes.

He said he was shocked with the federal government's rules which would erase the state's work of the past 15 years.

"Opening the Great Lakes to unregulated commercial fishing by anyone would be an unmitigated disaster," Anderson said.

The interim rules are proposed to continue in effect for the 1980 season before being replaced with a modified final set of regulations or unless withdrawn by the Interior Department or vetoed by Congress.

More Eligible For Earned Income Credit

Working parents whose earned income and adjusted gross income for 1979 was less than $10,000 and had a child living with them, may now be eligible to receive up to $500 in earned income credit, the Internal Revenue Service said. In order to claim the credit, eligible persons must file a return even if they owe no tax. The credit is based both on their earnings and adjusted gross income. For incomes over $6,000, the credit declines on a sliding scale and phases out completely once a person's income reaches $10,000.

The new changes also allows individuals to receive advance payments of the credit each payday. Qualifying persons should request Form W-5 "Earned Income Credit Advance Payment Certificates," from their employer.

See page 2 of the Federal tax instructions for details about the earned income credit or call the IRS toll-free number listed in the local telephone directory.

Additional information on the credit is available in the free IRA Publication 596, "Earned Income Credit," which may be obtained by filling out the order blank in the tax package, or, by calling the IRS.

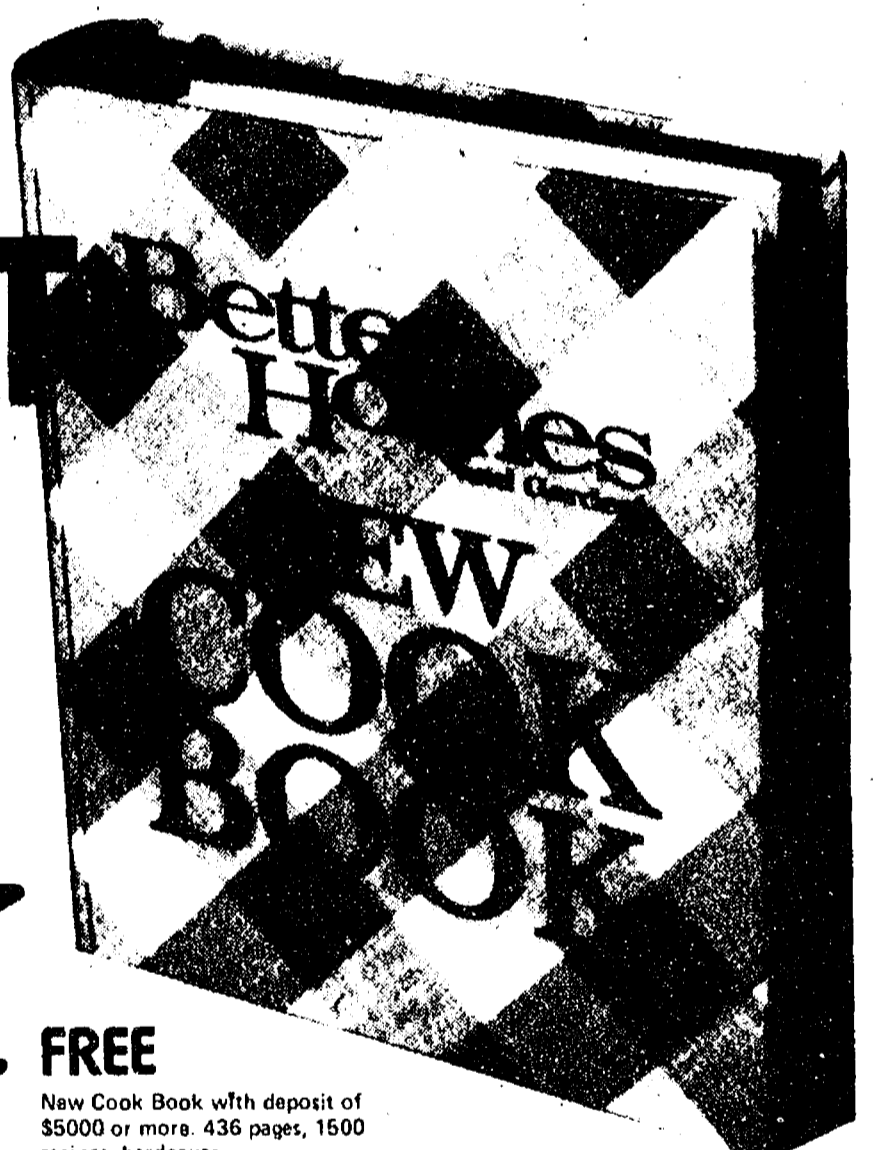

IRS has special phone numbers for tax forms and free publications. In Detroit, the number is 237-0794. Elsewhere in area code 313, call 1-800-462-9910. The number for the rest of the state is 1-800-482-0828. Forms and publications may also be picked up at IRS offices.

The orientation is a four-week program designed for children entering school next fall. Major focus of the program is to acquaint children with simple concepts and skills and familiarize them with the school setting.

Volunteers are needed to work in small group sessions with the pre-schoolers. The classes will be held Tuesdays at North school from 9:30 to 10:30 a.m. A second program is also scheduled for South school on Thursdays from 9:30 to 10:30 a.m. Classes begin the week of April 21.

Anyone interested in volunteering should call the Community Education Office, 475-9830.

LIVE LONGER! Let's Keep Weight Under Control

By LELORD KORDEL
Number Ten of a Series

We do not pump water from the well. We turn a faucet. We do not walk miles to find food. We point a finger at a menu.

LIFE'S TOO EASY

In other words, we are living an easier life. Because of this, we need a lot less food than our ancestors did.

To complete this vicious circle, we consume great quantities of refined, over-processed foods.

Morning, noon, and night. With coffee breaks and late evening snacks.

We are eating more than we need. To say nothing of eating so many foods that are downright bad for us!

A good food, like a trusted assistant, helps you along the path of life. It saves your energy. Repairs your worn cells. Gives a 'lift' when you are discouraged. Keeps old age symptoms from invading your body prematurely.

A bad food can be glamorous to behold—but a deceitful actor. One who will steal behind your back. Stealing your energy by replacing it with worthless fat. Short change you on youth. Unlock the door to premature old age.

The sad thing about these bad foods is that so many of them are staples in the majority of diets.

Here are a few of them:

A B C OF FATTENING FOODS

- Alcohol and Apple pie
- Biscuits and Bacon
- Candy and Cake
- Doughnuts and Dumplings
- Eclairs and Eggnog
- Fats and Frostings

Lelord Kordel's "Eat Right" Book is Now Available

Lelord Kordel's articles appearing in this newspaper are only condensations from his 144-page book which contains so much more—including diets, charts, other facts to help you eat right and feel better, look younger, live longer. Here is just a partial list of contents:

- How to look young longer
- Some foods can be "killers"
- Keeping weight under control
- The "youth element" in foods
- Lose weight by eating more!
- Help for constipation, etc., etc.

All of these items are classified as foods—even though many have little or no nutritional value.

The nutritional folly of gorging yourself on starchy and sweet foods has been fully discussed. They find their way into civilized stomachs in appalling quantities.

If you are seriously overweight, begin a sane reducing program at once.

You must reduce with reason. Not only for the sake of your health—but to restore and maintain a youthful appearance.

You must redesign your eating in accordance with 20th century living! That means you must think of proteins as your best friends in weight control. And in health maintenance.

Today's Investor

By Thomas E. O'Hara
Chairman, Board of Trustees
National Association of Investment Clubs and Editor,
Better Investing Magazine

Q. I was very pleased a couple of years ago when Congress reduced the taxes on capital gains which previously it had raised to very high levels. Do you see any chance that Congress will do anything else to encourage us to invest? Dividends are taxed twice and four times when you add in the two taxes my state puts on them. It's hardly worth investing any more.

A. There seems to be more recognition in Congress these days that the government has taken many steps to discourage individuals from investing than I have seen in the last 20 years. There also is recognition that the country has been the loser in lost businesses, lost jobs and loss in world position. There are beginning to be a number of proposals made in Congress to pass legislation that would encourage individuals to invest.

In my opinion the best one now before Congress is HR 6300, The Individual Investors Incentive Act of 1980 proposed by Congressman Richard T. Schulze of the 5th District of Pennsylvania. This bill is so simple that many individuals who read about it do not grasp its potential to solve two very important problems facing our economy. These problems are the fact that almost 10 million people have quit investing in the country in the last 10 years. At the same time the nation's need for capital to meet needs and provide jobs is growing at an unbelievable rate.

It is estimated that just two industries, the gas industry and the electric industry, will need $700 billion of new capital in the next 10 years. If they don't get those funds, you and I and a lot of others may be cold and spend a lot of time in the dark 10 years from now.

HR 6300 says simply that for every dollar of new money invested in equities you may take 10 cents off your tax bill. If you invest $100, you get $10 off. If you invest $1,000, you get $100 off. The credit applies on investments up to $10,000. For husbands and wives the total is doubled.

Legislation like this has been passed in France, Sweden and the Province of Quebec in Canada. The results have been tremendous. Billions of new capital has been provided and millions of people are investing that never invested before. This bill seems certain to produce even greater results in this country.

One of the reasons why we do not have more legislation encouraging investors is because investors are poor letter writers. They do not write their congressmen often enough asking them to support legislation that encourages individuals to save money and put it in businesses that are supplying goods and jobs. If only one out of 10 people who read this story, would write their congressman and ask him to actively support HR 6300, the Bill would almost certainly receive consideration and be voted into effect. Have you written your congressman lately?

Super Saturday Program Closes With Parents Day

Saturday, March 8 marked the completion of this year's six-week Super Saturday program, which boasted an enrollment of 260 children.

The final session was highlighted by Parents Day, in which parents visited the schools. They were apt to see the mystifying magical powers of Abracadabra, the grace of small ballerinas, artists at work or multi-talented cooks mixing up a batch of natural peanut butter.

The program will end with the showing of two additional movies. Any child in the community is welcome to attend. "Rascal and Bonetrouble" will be shown March 15, and "Pete's Dragon" on April 5.

Both films will be shown at North school from 1 to 3 p.m. A 75 cent admission will be charged.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Neighbors,
On April 23 the people of Chelsea will be asked to vote for a 3.2 raise in the millage for our schools.
It's really unfortunate that the one tax we can vote against is the one that directly affects our children's education. I sure wish I could effectively register my disapproval at the use of my tax money in the area of military spending or the outer space race. It grieves me to think of the billions of tax dollars buying bombs, missiles and the like and I am helpless; I can do nothing about it. I am not given a chance to vote against wars or costly space programs. I can vote only against supporting our children's educational system.

Until the present tax structure is changed from a property tax to some more equitable type—perhaps an income tax or sales tax or combination of both, since these would be a fairer taxation of the real wealth in these inflationary times—until then, we are faced with a choice which truly calls for some soul-searching to understand where our values are.

Pope Paul VI suggested we ask ourselves a few simple questions if we really want to know who and what we live for: "What do I desire most in life? What influences most of my decisions? What matters more than anything else to me? Where is 'metanoia,' that is, a change of one's mentality in accordance with the true and indispensable interpretation of life and salvation, where is 'metanoia' directing me?" We must not let ourselves be swept along by the chaotic maelstrom of the world around us. We must give ourselves a point of reference, a pole of direction, a sense for life, in order that it may be really human, that is Christian. My point of reference, Jesus, admonishes: "You shall love the Lord your God with your whole heart . . . and you shall love your neighbor as yourself." It's very clear; I am asked to love God with my whole heart, not my check book.

I don't want more taxes either; but in conscience I cannot vote against this millage just because these are the only taxes I'm permitted to vote against.

I'm asking you to reflect on this whole issue seriously before you make your decision. Be honest; be fair; take a close look at the excuses you've heard. Are the schools really "wasting" money? (Is your tax dollar never wasted in any area other than our schools?) Or another classic cop-out: "I don't like what they're teaching our kids." (When did you last accept the schools' invitation to involve yourself in their programs, to have your voice heard?)

I believe that after prayerful reflection you will recognize the importance of your yes vote on April 23rd.

Caroline Arbogast.

To the Editor,
Last Friday, March 7, a bowling tournament was held for 400 mentally impaired children and adults at Belmark and Colonial Lanes in Ann Arbor. Chelsea sent 40 from their special education classes at North school, Beach and the high school. More than 80 trophies were won and ribbons went to all who tried. Children from schools and institutions from all over Washtenaw and Livingston counties attended.
This entire enterprise would not have been possible without the efforts of the volunteers from Chelsea. A special thanks to the Chelsea Lions Club which has provided volunteers for all Special Olympic events for over two years. Thank-you also to the Chelsea Jaycee Auxiliary for their volunteers and a very special thanks to the 30 Chelsea High school students who worked. A thank-you is also due to the Chelsea girls volleyball team and to Judy Bottom, their coach. We needed 180 volunteers to run this tournament and thanks to people in Chelsea, it came off like a charm and 400 mentally retarded citizens had a really great time.
A special thank-you is also due to Ann Arbor Civitan Club which provided volunteers and paid the $26 cost of the tournament.

Brian Vandegrift Completes Power Mechanics Course

Brian Vandegrift, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. K. Vandegrift of Jerusalem Rd., will graduate from the Michigan State University Institute of Agricultural Technology this Friday, March 14.

Brian, a 1978 Chelsea High school graduate, specialized in power mechanics in the two-year program. He plans to work for a farm implement dealership.

Adult Summer Baseball Program Given New Life

A number of area people are hoping that 1980 will be the year of change adult baseball needs to stage its rebirth in Chelsea's summer recreation program.

This year, the Chelsea area will offer adults a very competitive program. Playing in Ann Arbor, the teams will also include college ball players.

To ensure that Chelsea will be competitive, a tryout will be held in May to build a strong team. No one playing summer softball will be included on the baseball team and a commitment to regular practice sessions must be made.

Anyone feeling he can meet those requirements should call Dave Lukasiak, 475-7119. Dates and times of organizational meetings will be announced soon.

Agriculture Bargaining Seminars Scheduled

It was recently announced by the director of the National Farmers Organization (NFO) that a week-long series of Agricultural Bargaining Seminars will be held in East Lansing and Midland during the week of March 17.

The seminars will last two to three hours and will run over a five-day period. East Lansing seminars will be held Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday (March 17-19) at the United Ministries of Wesleyan Foundation, corner of Harrison and Trowbridge Rd. In Midland, the seminars will be held Thursday and Friday (March 20-21) at the Holiday Inn. All agricultural producers are invited to attend.

"We are holding these seminars because of the high operating costs that face farmers and ranchers. Something must be done and done soon," said Leland Townsend, director of the NFO.

According to the NFO spokesman, agricultural producers are the only link in the food chain which does not have a system to protect its income.

"The traditional marketing system for all agricultural commodities is designed to procure what the trade wants, when it wants it and where they want it," he said. "It is designed to serve the buyers' needs for a constant supply. Low price is also part of the traditional marketing system. Low price forces you to produce more and sell more in order to meet your expenses. Low price and high volume serve the buyers, not the producers."

Townsend said that farmers have long needed their own system of marketing.

"Farming is in jeopardy. We are offering producers an opportunity to become part of a marketing system that belongs to them," he continued. "But like any system, farmers and ranchers must use it to cause it to function. True independence can only come if we as farmers are willing to be as concerned about our markets as we are about producing."

"I really believe that farmers want their own system," he concluded. "The old system has not worked and must be replaced with our own."

He said there would be a small fee for the seminars.

Michigan State University is headquarters for the nation's most comprehensive program devoted to research on teaching.

Lightly Regarded JCW Dumps SEC Champs

(Continued from page one) charging calls ranked Raymond and threw the team off its game. "I don't like to criticize officiating," he said, "but the more they call the charge, the more the kid does it. Whether or not it's legitimate is hard to say, but they were questionable charges."

Despite a disastrous second quarter, in which the Bulldogs were outpointed, 20-8, they still had a chance to pull out the contest in the final quarter.

With just seconds left, Chelsea called a time out and switched to a full-court man-to-man defense. The Bulldogs stole the ball, and Jeff Dils put in a jumper to narrow the gap to 50-47. Another time out led to another turnover and another Dils bucket. With :16 left, Chelsea trailed by only one point.

The Bulldogs took their last time out. Western tried a long pass, but it was intercepted by Jeff Price who took it down the court. With :04 left, he passed to Don Schrottenboer who launched a 10-foot jump shot. The shot hit the rim and bounced out, leaving the score at 50-49.

Chelsea had held a 17-6 lead after the first five minutes, which Raymond called the "best opening five minutes we had all year." Jon Riemenschneider scored eight points and Jeff Dils had six in the first period.

Repeated charging calls, however, took the edge off the Bulldog attack. "We got so timid because of the calls," said Raymond, "that by the second half we were walking through the lane looking for this kid. We weren't nearly as intense the last 3 1/2 quarters as we were the first half of the first quarter."

Chelsea fans might have been surprised at the outcome (Raymond said they sat in the stands in utter shock after the contest), but the Bulldog coach had said all along that it could happen.

"We had high expectations for this tournament and everybody took it for granted that we'd win, but we'd played them twice before and they weren't all that bad."

He stressed that the team had reached its number one season goal of winning the Southeastern

Conference championship. "Over and above the league," said Raymond, "everything else is a bonus, an extra."

A loss in a district game, he went on, should not overshadow the accomplishments of the team.

"The search for improvement separated this team from a lot of other average teams we played," he said with pride. "We had good players, but we had to work for everything we got."

This year, Raymond vows, was not an isolated year for Chelsea basketball.

"I think we have some outstanding kids in the program," he concluded, "and we'll continue to have a successful program in the future."

Week of March 10-17

TAB DEADLINE — The deadline for ordering 1980 Michigan license plate tabs by mail has now passed. Tabs must be on by March 31; if you haven't yet got yours, stop by a Secretary of State office soon to avoid the end-of-the-month rush.

CENSUS TIME — Every household will soon be receiving a questionnaire from the U. S. Census Bureau. It is vital that these be filled out fully and promptly, so that an accurate census can be taken: federal and state grants are based on population.

OLDER WORKERS — Governor Milliken has designated this as "Employ the Older Worker Week," to emphasize the job potential of those citizens over 45 who are working or seeking work: their experience and dedication are valuable job resources.

GUILTY, ILL — The Michigan Supreme Court has reversed a lower-court decision and has declared constitutional our landmark law providing for a verdict of "guilty, but mentally ill." This law allows a middle ground between "guilty" and "not guilty by reason of insanity." The law requires that psychiatric treatment be provided for those given this verdict.

WELFARE REFORM — The House has approved HB 5199, which could save up to $1.5 million a year by reducing to one month from six months the amount of time welfare recipients could receive assistance from the state after they move out of Michigan. During that month, recipients would be able to seek work or public assistance in their new community.

INSURANCE CHANGES — A new law now in effect requires auto insurance companies to offer drivers several options for collision insurance, with a broadened provision paying for damages to the driver's car even if the driver is 50 percent at fault. After July 1 of this year, you may sue to recover a deductible amount if the other driver is 50 percent at fault.

GYM CLOTHES — The Attorney General has ruled that public schools need not furnish students with gym clothes and shoes for physical education unless the school requires students to wear or use a specific type of clothing or equipment: then it must be provided at no charge.

USEFUL WASTE — A recent report from the DNR says that by recycling Michigan's trash and incinerating the remaining solid waste, we could supply 3 to 6 percent of our future energy needs. Even small communities can generate energy through recycling.

ENERGY AWARDS — April 4 is the deadline for entries in the state's 2nd Annual Energy Conservation Awards competition, open to small and medium-size industries in four size classes. For entry forms, write Energy Conservation Awards, P. O. Box 30228, Lansing 48909.

Federal Grant Okd for Saline Valley Project

U. S. Senator Carl Levin (D-Mich.) has announced that the Washtenaw County Soil Conservation District has been awarded $2.4 million by the U. S. Environmental Protection Agency.

The funds are earmarked for the "Saline Valley Project" which Senator Levin endorsed as a top priority program.

Levin said, "I believe this will be effective in improving the water quality of the Huron and Raisin rivers. This program is necessary to ensure the environmental quality of the area."

The project includes all, or portions of, 11 townships in the southwestern area of Washtenaw county and portions of three townships in Monroe county. The total project area is 200,000 acres. Purpose of the program is to improve water quality in Mill Creek and the Saline River.

A total of 600 landowners in Washtenaw county and 296 in Monroe county may be eligible to receive up to 75 percent funding by installing conservation practices that will result in improving the quality of surface run-off waters.

The program's focus on wind erosion and livestock waste management has been demonstrated to control pollution and prevent the deterioration of land resources.

Washtenaw County Soil Conservation District's application for federal funds was one of 64 received from 31 states requesting $191.6 million for attacking pollution problems under the Rural Clean Water Program.

Hospital Child Care Center Notes

Many activities have been planned for the children at the Chelsea Community Hospital Child Care Center in March. Last week we discussed animals. The children learned about different kinds of animals (pets, zoos, farm, wild, and wood animals). Activities were planned to show the children where animals live, what they eat, and how they move. We talked about veterinarians and the Humane Society. The children participated in activities that will give them practice in following direction and the concepts of large, medium, and small.

This week we will be learning about various community workers and how they help us. Community workers such as firefighters, mail carriers, nurses, carpenters, and police officers will visit the Center to talk with the children. Dramatic play will play an important part in the entire week. The children will be encouraged to dress up in the various uniforms and pretend to be firefighters, etc. Why people have jobs, what type of equipment they use, and the type of uniforms they wear will be discussed with the children.

The following week the children will learn about people from other lands. During this unit, the children will discover the different ways people live, work, and play. They will learn about some of the foods they eat and ways they dress.

The last week of March we will study nutrition. We will learn about foods that are good for us. They will learn about the four basic food groups and make recipes from each group. Pat Asp, dietitian from the hospital, will visit the center each day to provide fun activities about each food group. On Friday we will visit the hospital for lunch.

Village Election

hard work put in by villagers of all age groups who were committed to seeing a change in local government. The question of whether or not the village should be responsible for certain parts of the residential sewer system, he said, triggered the entire shake-up at the caucus.

"First thing we'll do," he said, "is change the wording (on the sewer ordinance) so that everyone will understand and everyone will know what's going on."

"We're also concerned about the skyrocketing cost of government," he continued. "We don't know exactly where things stand now. We think there's a lot of fat in there."

Ritter stressed that now that the election is past, he expects that the old and new members of village government will work together for the good of all Chelseaites.

"I don't anticipate any problems," he said. "We're all in there for the good of the village. I didn't pick any of the trustee candidates who ran on the Independent Party ticket. People who had the good of the village in mind were the ones who ran."

Ritter declined to make any statements on other changes in government, saying that it is too soon to comment on anything.

"We don't know how much we're gonna shake 'em up, but we do know one thing," he promised. "We're gonna find out what's going on."

Chelsea Student Tours With Alma College Kiltie Band

Among the new members' conductor Todd Snyder selected for the Alma College Kiltie Band this year is Katherine Slater from Chelsea.

The new members soon discovered how busy band members can be! During fall term, the band provides pregame and half-time entertainment for all home football games, marches in Alma's homecoming parade and also presents a Christmas concert. Now the Kiltie Band is preparing for a concert tour to Pennsylvania, Maryland and Washington, D. C. during winter term break March 1-9. The John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts in Washington, D. C. is the site of one of the band's concerts. There are three performances scheduled in the Detroit area.

New Books at McKune Library

The following are books recently added to the collection at McKune Memorial Library:

Queen Juliana by William Hoffman. This is the first major biography of Queen Juliana, without question the richest woman in the world. Juliana's life is a story of disaster, triumph, disappointment and scandal.

Tyrone Power: The Last Idol by Fred Guiles. An entertaining and comprehensive portrait of a personality who was mobbed by screaming women in airports and in front of hotels all over the world. A man who genuinely liked people and who was loved and admired by nearly everyone in the film industry.

Over 50: The Definitive Guide to Retirement by Auren Urin. "If you have to retire from your job, don't retire from life," says Urin in this thorough, definitive book.

Wind of Change at Castle Rising by Fanny Craddock. This is the fourth volume of the saga of the Lormes family. Like the rest of England, the Lormes have suffered the "war to end all wars." They must now face the new problems that peace brings. The first one to arrive is Sue Ellen, an American heiress, widow of the family black sheep.

Line of Chance by Thomas Caplan. One man's passion for love and power dominates this surging three-generation saga set between the Civil War and World War I.

Revelations by Phyllis Naylor. Mary Martha Myles had lived in the same community all her life, cared for her crippled mother. She had not — like her wild, beloved brother Warren — disgraced the family, defied the church. Then Murray Davis, a charismatic man in a white suit, came to town to run a revival meeting.

Mayday by Thomas Block. A U. S. Navy fighter pilot on a secret test mission fires a missile at what he thinks is his prescribed target but hits an airliner on a routine flight with 300 passengers aboard.

The Day of the Butterfly by Norah Loftis. A tale of early nineteenth century London. When Daisy Holt is fired from her first job as a nursemaid, her fortune goes from bad to worse.

The Brethren by Bob Woodward and Scott Armstrong. The first detailed, behind-the-scenes account of the Supreme Court. A spellbinding view of the court's landmark decisions of the past two decades.

Donahue: My Own Story by Phil Donahue. The number-one syndicated television talk show host tells his own story in this candid, entertaining, fast-paced autobiography.

A Nervous Splendor: Vienna 1888/1889 by Frederic Morton. At the champagne-splashed height of the Viennese carnival on Jan. 30, 1889, Austria's Crown Prince Rudolph fired a revolver at his mistress. Some hours later he placed it against his own temple. The two shots that rang out at Mayerling have kept echoing as the most spectacular suicide of the nineteenth century.

The Third Time Around by George Burns. Intimate memories, zany anecdotes, the private moments and public triumphs — as only George Burns could recount them.

Massacre at Salt Creek by Blaine Yorgason. On June 4, 1858, five Mormon pioneers traveling unarmed in the Utah Territory were attacked by a party of Ute Indians, a tribe purportedly at peace with the Mormons. Four of the travelers were slain, one escaped. Based on that documented but unexplained tragedy, is a novel full of excitement, suspense and inspiration.

Named to Million Dollar Sales Club

Four employees of Thornton, Inc. real estate were recently elected members of the Detroit Council of the Homes for Living Network's famed "Million Dollar Sales Club."

The announcement was made by council president Richard Charbonneau, who presented the awards to sales associates Helen Lancaster, George Knickerbocker, Mark McKernan and Evelyn Bowdish. Each achieved 1979 sales in excess of one million dollars.

All four Thornton representatives received certificates of membership in the Million Dollar Club at the council's dinner banquet, held at the Farmington Elk Lodge on Friday, Feb. 15.

Presenting the awards, Charbonneau commented that the council was honored to have such high caliber sales professionals in its membership and added that it was through such enthusiasm that the 22-member offices of the council were able to achieve a record-breaking year in 1979.

The Detroit Metro Council members are associated with the Homes for Living Network, an international marketing network of more than 2,200 member offices in the United States, Canada and the Caribbean.

Hidden Treasures Film Slated at Immanuel Church

Treasures in the snow, in a drop of water, in the desert?

Though too small to be seen by the eye alone, there are awe-inspiring treasures of beauty in each of these areas. They are interestingly revealed in the motion picture "Hidden Treasures" to be shown Sunday, March 16 at Immanuel Bible church, 145 E. Summit.

Produced by Moody Institute of Science, "Hidden Treasures" is one of a series of gospel-science films released under the title Sermons from Science. The presentation of these unique motion pictures formed the basis of the Sermons for Science exhibit at the New York World's Fair.

In "Hidden Treasures," a microscope reveals that even water is a vast treasure house: a drop taken from a pond or stream teems with tiny plants and animals.

Also revealed by the microscope is the fact that a snowflake is a thing of great beauty and that such common items such as salt and cough syrup are made of tiny crystals, each a beautifully-formed jewel.

A trip into one of the deep caves of the earth shows how some crystals are formed.

In contrast to the microscopic world, MIS cameramen visited Mt. Palomar and, through the eye of a great 200-inch telescope, looked at the treasures in space — 200 million known galaxies.

Eye Donor Month Observed By Lions

Sight is the sense that people fear losing the most, yet every year nearly 30,000 people go blind. Thanks to the "miracles" of modern medicine, however, those who are blind as a result of damage to the cornea can often have their sight restored.

It is now possible to transplant the cornea, the clear part of the eye that covers the iris (the colored part), from a donor to a recipient. The problem is finding the tissue.

In an effort to get the word out about the need for eye donors,

Higher Food Prices Predicted for Latter Part of This Year

Higher farm prices and the upward trend in processing and marketing costs during the second half of 1980 are expected to increase food prices sharply late this year, according to a Continental Bank economist. He projected livestock producers' margins will erode during 1980 and stem the expansion in production, particularly for pork and poultry.

Farm prices will begin to edge upward, he feels, although significant increases probably will not occur until the fourth quarter.

Lions Clubs across the country have declared March "Eye Donor Month."

Virtually anyone can be an eye donor, even a blind person, if the blindness is not the result of corneal disease. For more information about becoming a donor, call Lion Chuck Murphy, 1-498-2078, chairman of the Chelsea Lions Club Sight and Hearing Conservation Committee. A call may also be made to the Michigan Eye Bank, Parkview Medical, 1000 Wall St., Ann Arbor, telephone 764-3262.

In addition, donor labels may be obtained from the Michigan Secretary of State office for affixing to the back of a driver's license.

Swimming

Weir, Paul Schumann and Sean Oxner.

Goal for the team is to finish in the top 20, or, more hopefully, in the top 10.

"If both our relays get in the top six, we should be able to finish in the top ten of the meet," concluded Coach Reed. "If we swim poorly we will have a hard time scoring at all."

The team hopes to break at least seven of its 11 varsity records.

Census Takers Needed

More applicants for paid, temporary work as census takers during the nation-wide 1980 census are urgently needed in this area, according to Michael Berla, manager of the Regional Census Center.

Census takers will be assigned to their own neighborhoods whenever possible, the manager said. Paid training will begin soon, to be followed by three to five weeks of full-time work visiting homes and interviewing the residents.

Census takers must be U. S. citizens over 18 years of age. However, they may be hired at age 16 or 17 if they are high school graduates and meet certain other requirements.

Applicants should have a home telephone and some will need a car, but neither is absolutely necessary. Mileage is paid when a personal car is used for census work.

The Census Bureau is an equal opportunity employer.

If you would like to earn up to $4 an hour or more helping to take the "big count" of the nation, show up ready to take the written test at: the Census Bureau office in the Old World Mall, Westgate Shopping Center, Maple at Jackson in Ann Arbor every week-day at 10 a.m., noon, and 2 p.m.

Real Estate
By PAUL FRISINGER
REALTOR
REAL ESTATE - A GOOD INVESTMENT
All too often, ownership of a single family house is overlooked as a good financial investment but rather as a necessity. However, published data clearly indicates that real estate values are increasing at twice the rate of common stocks. From 1960 to 1976 the Dow Jones average went up 45 percent, while the average price of a single home increased 100 percent nationally during the same time period.
For every investor who makes a killing in the stock market, you'll find another who has been hurt badly. This rarely happens in real estate. It's a stable and safe investment which doesn't fluctuate from day to day which is good for ulcer-prone investors. Then there's what we call leverage. Real estate can be purchased by using 10-20 percent down, whereas other investments require 50-100 percent cash.
The outlook is still rosy. Increasing land value, rising labor and material costs and the national housing shortage will have a continued upward effect on single home prices.
If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at FRISINGER REALTY CO., 935 S. Main St., Chelsea. Phone: 475-8681; evenings 475-2621. We're here to help!

The Bible-The Light from Heaven
Speaks about becoming a member of the church of Christ. Jesus said, "I will build my church." (Matthew 16:18). The church, as we read about it in the New Testament, is made up of all the saved people on earth. A true definition of the word church may help us to understand this concept better. According to W. E. VINE'S EXPOSITORY DICTIONARY OF NEW TESTAMENT WORDS the term church means the assembly of those called out. We are called out of darkness into light by the gospel which is God's power for salvation. (Romans 1:16). In Acts 2 we read about the birthday of the church. It had been foretold by the prophets. (Isaiah 2:2-3); John the Baptist, and Jesus Himself, but now for the first time we see it spoken of in the present tense. In verse 47 we see these words referring to the established church: "Praising God and having favour with all the people. And the Lord added to the church such as should be saved." We see that the way people became members of the church of Christ in the Bible was simply by obeying the words of the apostle Peter. (Acts 2:38). Those present on the day of Pentecost, heard the word of God, believed it, and obeyed the message of salvation. One must do the same today for the Lord to add one to the church. (Acts 2:47). Peter was Christ's spokesman at this assembly. He was given the keys—to speak the words of salvation. (Matthew 16:19).

Designed to perform better and last longer than any previous 19" diagonal XL-100 chassis.

- ★ Lower Power Consumption This means lower stress on chassis components than in prior XL-100 chassis. Actually uses less energy on average than a 100-watt bulb!
- ★ Cooler Operation The cooler the chassis, the greater its inherent reliability. And the XtendedLife chassis runs significantly cooler than the chassis it replaces.
- ★ Automatic Color Control and Flestone Correction System Works to keep colors consistent from program to program, channel to channel. Also gives you natural flestones and natural background colors side by side.

Unique Reading Program Proves Helpful in Schools

A program to encourage reading in Chelsea schools, begun last spring on a trial basis, is proving highly effective in all Chelsea School District schools.

The Reading for Pleasure program currently continues to function on a daily basis in all four schools. Although students in the Chelsea School District consistently score higher than the state average on the Michigan Assessment Testing programs, it was felt that everyone has room for improvement.

At the high school, the morning session was shortened to allow a 15-minute block of time each day during which students, teachers, office staff and administrators set aside time to read for pleasure.

At Beach Middle school, a 15-minute period has been set aside each day beginning at 2:15 p.m. Each Wednesday morning at the elementary schools, everyone also reads for a 15-minute period. In addition, two other elementary time periods have been selected by individual teachers according to their weekly lesson plan.

The school administration cites many reasons for setting aside this reading time. A primary goal is an attitudinal change from viewing reading as something that should be done only when absolutely necessary.

Students at all grade levels are encouraged to read for the pleasure of it and are allowed to read whatever they wish, within common sense guidelines. Teachers, office staff and administrators are reading at the schools to impress the importance of reading upon the students.

Statistics indicate that a person's reading abilities and comprehension are improved by the act of reading. There is much research to support that students at all levels model the behavior of adults, leading to the conclusion that if adults place a major emphasis on reading, then students will also.

The second reason given for increasing reading time relates to the fact that reading is a skill—a skill that needs to be exercised daily in order to show significant improvement. Students have the opportunity to sharpen those skills to improve at their own speed by reading simply for pleasure.

Chelsea's school district is unique in that the entire district has instituted such a plan. The results, say Superintendent Raymond Van Meer, have been most beneficial.

Research, Van Meer said, supports the idea that people who are "good readers" had a great deal of exposure to books at an early age, were frequently read to and often saw others reading.

The idea behind this program, he concluded, is to help students think of reading as a normal activity, not a chore.

The Detroit News District Spelling Bee will be held at South Elementary school on April 6. Students from Bates and Wylie schools in Dexter, Geer, Redeemer Lutheran, Salem Elementary and Whitmore Lake will vie for the district championship.

MCRC Annual Meeting Set For March 25

The 15th annual meeting of the Mill Creek Research Council will be Tuesday, March 25, 8 p.m. at Lima Township Hall.

Activities and events, some of extreme local significance, since the 1979 meeting will be reviewed. An update will be given on current concerns, including possible action of the Huron Clinton Metropolitan Authority and Washtenaw county.

Current status of the local quest for a national historical designation for a portion of Lima Township will also be discussed.

Although typical annual meeting business will be handled, this is an open meeting and an opportunity for people to become better informed.

Research council dues are payable to treasurer William Chandler, Howard Rd., Chelsea. Dues are $10 per year and $12 for a new membership.

Any questions may be answered by calling 475-1076.

David Waldyke Cited in Michigan Math Competition

David Waldyke, son of Dr. and Mrs. Jerry Waldyke, 555 Chandler St., was honored with a bronze honorable mention award at the 23rd annual Michigan Mathematics Prize Competition at Central Michigan University Feb. 16.

The 17-year-old Chelsea High school senior received a $150 scholarship and was one of 100 winners from among the 23,000 high school students who participated in the competition. The winners represent the top one-half of one percent of all entrants.

Research at Michigan State University is underway to determine the feasibility and cost effectiveness of solar energy as an energy source for homes, public institutions and farm operations.

Groundskeeper Needed To Work On Ball Fields

Chelsea's Recreation Department is seeking someone to do maintenance on six ball diamonds beginning just before the baseball season and continuing throughout the eight-week season.

An exact date has not yet been set, but the season should begin in early June.

The department anticipates that the job will require seven to eight hours per day for four days each week (Monday through Thursday). The position will pay $1,200 for the season.

A tractor and tools will be provided. The tractor is currently stored at the school bus garage, but may probably be stored at the village garage during the season.

Duties include grading the diamonds, filling in low spots, building up pitchers' mounds and similar groundskeeping.

Games begin at 5:30 p.m., so work must be completed by 4:30 p.m. each day. The position may be filled by one person, or shared.

Questions may be directed to John Baker, 475-7061, or Jackie Schiller, 475-9830.

How To Save Gasoline . . . and Money in Driving

Dollar a gallon gasoline set America on its ear. And most of us feel there's nothing we can do about it.

But the U. S. Department of Energy figures that sensible driving measures could save the typical consumer about 26 cents on each gallon. That's like getting your gas at about 74 cents per gallon at the pump. For details, send for a free copy of How To Save Gasoline . . . and Money from the Consumer Information Center, Dept. 514H, Pueblo, Colo. 81009.

These savings apply to you if you're the typical American driver who's averaging just 15 miles per gallon, driving 11,000 miles a year, and paying more than $700 each year for gas. Your gasoline bill could be cut drastically without much inconvenience if you just adjust your driving habits. Here's how:

Save up to five cents per gallon by driving more efficiently. For instance, warm up the engine by driving slowly; never idle for more than one minute to warm up or while waiting in line.

Drive at a moderate but steady pace. Don't pump the accelerator and continually speed up and slow down. Anticipate the flow of traffic ahead and adjust speed accordingly. Don't spend the money to race up to a stop light or traffic snarl.

Use the most efficient speeds of 35 to 45 where allowed. Fifty-five may be necessary on the highway but going just 10 miles per hour faster wastes 18 percent more gas.

Save up to 13 cents a gallon by planning ahead to combine or eliminate trips. Carpool with a friend and from work or shopping. Combine several errands into one trip to cut down on expensive stop and go driving. And replace some trips altogether by using the telephone and mail services for banking and shopping.

Save up to eight cents a gallon by keeping your car in good shape. Tires should be kept inflated to the highest recommended pressure. (If they're down just four pounds, you lose a couple of pennies per gallon.) You'll save another two cents a gallon by using one of those "high mileage" motor oils. And save an average four cents per gallon more by getting a tune-up, wheel alignment, or other mechanical adjustments when they're needed.

These and other steps can add up to money in your pocket, as much as 26 cents per gallon. It's not impossible. In fact, you can save even more. When it's time to trade-in your current car, get one that averages just 10 more miles per gallon and add radial tires. You could save the equivalent of another 20 cents per gallon over your current gas bill.

The nearly 1,200 inspectors of the Mine Safety and Health Administration conducted 65,000 inspections and investigations during the 1978 fiscal year at the 6,500 coal mines under MSHA's jurisdiction, according to the department's annual report for fiscal year 1978.

Farmworker programs administered by the Labor Department's Employment and Training Administration have two general objectives: to improve living standards for migrant and other seasonally employed farmworkers who want to remain in the agricultural labor market, and to help those who want to leave farmwork to prepare for and find more stable and better-paying employment.

Forensics Team 7th in Battle Creek Tourney

Two Chelsea students took first-place awards and the school's team placed seventh out of 28 last Saturday afternoon at the Battle Creek Forensics Invitational Tournament.

According to Forensics Coach Bill Coelius, Chelsea High placed a good percentage of the 80 team members in the semi-finals, and four made it to the finals.

Chelsea finalists were Barbara Schardein and Mark Stevenson in informative speaking, Phil Powers in humorous reading and Holly McCutcheon in serious reading. Both Stevenson and McCutcheon took first place in their respective events in the finals.

Some 500 students from 28 schools competed in the tournament, which is the only tournament competition that the Chelsea team will travel to this year.

After school finals are held at Chelsea High, Coelius said that the selected team will compete in the Districts, to be held at Chelsea High school Tuesday, March 18 at 4 p.m.

Chelsea will battle Ann Arbor Huron, Ann Arbor Pioneer, Ann Arbor Greenhills, Whitmore Lake and Saline for a chance to travel to the Regionals, to be held in April at Plymouth High school.

Because of the excellent showing at the Battle Creek tournament, Coelius said he had high hopes for the local team.

A lot of the team's success, he said, can be traced to student teacher Beth Scheske, who has competed at the national collegiate level with the Eastern Michigan University forensics team and has given sound advice to the Chelsea forensics.

Pinckney Cagers Win District Title

Pinckney's defense took over after the offense faltered, to edge out Farmington Harrison, 56-51, for the Class B district championship Friday night, March 7.

The Pirates clobbered their opponents at Novi in the first half, 30-19, then stalled as the Hawks battled back to outscore Pinckney in the third quarter, 20-11. During the final period, Farmington Harrison crept to a 41-all tie when the Pirates' defense got to work.

Holding the Hawks to 12 points for the last quarter, Pinckney took back the lead, 48-41, behind a lay-up by Dave Haak, a free throw by Nick Monaster, and Jay Black's jump shot. The Pirates then waited out the clock for the victory.

Mike Janowski led Pirates in scoring with 19, followed by Haak with 13 and Black with 11. For Farmington Harrison, Brian Burgess alone scored in double figures with 22.

Pinckney finishes the season with a 15 and 7 record.

CAROUSEL: Mary Bort makes a musical point for the audience, while New England mill girls and sailors look on. Chelsea students will present the favorite Rodgers and Hammerstein musical tonight, March 13, and Friday and Saturday nights, with all three performances beginning at 8 p.m. in the Chelsea High school auditorium. Tickets may be purchased at the door.

Attends Pre-Med Conference At Albion College

Mary Kay Poljan, a student at Chelsea High school, was among 190 high-achieving Michigan high school students who attended a pre-med conference at Alma College on Wednesday, Feb. 27.

Since an increasing number of young women and men entering college are identifying medicine as a career goal, the Alma conference was planned to alert high school students to the realities of the pre-med curriculum, medical school admissions and career opportunities within the profession.

The program included discussions of preparations for medical school as an undergraduate, given by Dr. Frank Bernier, dean of admissions at Michigan State University's School of Osteopathic Medicine, and two Alma College seniors already accepted at the University of Michigan's School of Medicine.

Two Alma graduates now in medical school discussed the demands of their studies and another Alma graduate, now a practicing physician, outlined her professional experiences.

In addition to a question and answer period, Mary Kay and the other students had an opportunity to meet with panel members at a dinner which ended the conference.

Biddy Basketball Wars Continue

With one week remaining in regular season play, the WBA and ABA Biddy Basketball youngsters continue to show improvements. Last week's contests netted the following results:

WBA
Cavaliers 24, Bucks 16—The Cavaliers won their game behind the scoring of Kevin Kern and Lance Satterthwaite, who notched eight and six points, respectively. For the Bucks, the scoring was led by Greg Clark and Craig Ferry, while Steve Everett and Scott Cordell played good team basketball.

78'ers 45, Celtics 11—Led by Jeff Marshall with 20 points and Loren Keezer with 15, the 78'ers remained unbeaten in the WBA. Excellent defense by Kyle Plank and Don Luck contributed to the win. For the Celtics, the inspired offensive and defensive play of Todd Redding and Doug Neal was not enough to overcome the superior height and experience of the 78'ers.

Clippers 25, Kings 24—The scoring of Scott Robb (eight points) and Todd Ferry (two points) paced the Clippers and supported a fine team performance. Good offensive and defensive performances from Mike Hodgson, Jason Scripser, Byron Platt and Brian Talbot kept the Kings close. Mike Hodgson was the Kings' leading scorer.

Knicks 28, Pistons 25—Team effort once again helped the Knicks triumph. Strong rebounding by Mark Luick and the scoring of Chad Starkey and John Collins led the way. Rex Nye played stellar defense and Craig McCalla contributed eight points for the Pistons.

Nuggets 17, Bullets 16—The Nuggets scored their first win of the season paced by Matt Schweiger and Damen Michelsen, with six points each. Chad White with four and Jude Quilter with one rounded out the Nuggets scoring. A good team game was played by the Bullets. Robbie Stofor scored 10 points. Jeff Moore had two and Travis Garman played good defense.

ABA
Pacers 48, Warriors 15—The Pacers displayed a balanced scoring attack, featuring Craig Maynard with 19, Kirk Lawton with 16, Greg Haist with nine and Mike Taylor with six. The Warriors, paced by co-captains Junior Morseau and Jay Mareutay, started strong against the aggressive Pacers. Also contributing to the Warrior attack were David Steele, Brad Cox, Jenny Barton and Scott Mareutay.

Suns 23, Nets 18—Scoring honors for the Suns went to Robby McDowell with 11 points, while Cindy Sterling and Ted Zaboroski chipped in six each. For the Nets, Matt Kemp scored 12 points and Mark Skiff, Jeff Hackworth and Tommy Mesnard played good defense.

Spurs 42, Supersonics 28—The entire Spurs team played good defense in their win, with Joe Eassa performing well. Tim Anderson continued to show steady improvement for the Spurs by scoring 12 points. Robert Hammel and Mark Larson provided the Sonics offensive punch. Kelly Ghent paced the scoring with six points.

Rockets 41, Hawks 37—In a well-played game, the Rockets outlasted the Hawks 41 to 37. T. J. Starkey paced the Rockets with 16 points and Kevin Flanagan contributed four. Providing outstanding defense were Jeff Andress, A. J. Watkins and Lee Redding. Ron Johnson, Matt Monroe and Mike Popovich led a valiant offensive effort for the Hawks with 14, 12 and nine points respectively. Ann Brosnan, Jay Koszegi and Tony Flintoft played good defense.

Trailblazers 34, Lakers 27—Balanced scoring was the key to victory for the Blazers as Jeff Steele, Doug Williams, Jeff Stacey and Matt Bohlander combined to score 34 points. The Lakers too showed fine team balance with Angie Defont, Ward Beauchamp and David Kvarnberg providing support to Brian Coy who had nine points.

The regular season for the WBA and ABA ends next Saturday with games scheduled to start at 9 a.m. Beach school.

In the fifth week of NBA action in the Biddy Basketball program, the amazing Hawks continued their rampage, while the Nuggets actually found gold in a sweet victory. Meanwhile, the Lakers notched another win in a victory over the Celtics.

The first contest between the Nuggets and the Spurs saw the Nuggets finding the right keys to record their first win, 51-16. Mark Mull collected 19 points and Charlie Koenn had 18. Matt Koenn scored eight; Allan Fromm, four; and Carroll Cordell, two.

For the Spurs, Steve Kropf scored six and Todd Brown, Jim Cook and Kelly Fletcher each had two.

In the second game, the Lakers grabbed a victory over the Celtics, 29-24. Dan Darrow scored 11 points to lead in the victory. Craig Mociag had eight, Mike Ball scored six and Rick Proctor had four.

For the Celtics, John Lane continued to play excellent basketball, scoring 10 points. Ray Spencer had eight and Wayne Pate added six.

The final game pitted the Hawks and the Sonics. Strong defense was evident on both sides, but the Hawks finally hustled to a decisive 49-27 win.

Kevin Maynard once again played excellent basketball, tallying for 28 points. Ken Martin showed good defense and also scored 12 points. Doug Graves had eight points and Mike Feeney bucketed one.

For the Sonics, Biff Buntin led with 13 points. Dan Kimbler, a bit off his usual pace, collected 10 points. Chuck Downer hooped for four points.

Next week is the last for the Biddy Basketball program. As always, parents and spectators are welcome to come and root for their favorite teams.

Speed Up Tax Returns By Using Label Supplied

Taxpayers can speed up the processing of their tax returns by using the preaddressed, peel-off label and by double checking their entries before filing, the Internal Revenue Service advises.

The label, which is located on the cover of the tax return package, lists the taxpayer's name, address, and social security number. If any of the information is incorrect, the taxpayer should make needed changes directly on the label. Taxpayers are also urged to use the coded, preaddressed envelopes that come with their returns.

If a husband and wife file a joint return and use different last names, they should separate the last names with an "and"—such as "Brown and Smith," and list the last names and social security numbers in the same order as the first names.

Easy-to-make errors, such as checking the wrong filing status, failing to sign the return, math errors, and neglecting to attach all necessary documents are common mistakes which delay taxpayers' refunds because the IRS must correct the errors or obtain the documents before processing the return. Careful checking of all entries can result in smoother, quicker processing, and a speedier refund if one is due.

A patent for artificial teeth was granted to Charles M. Graham of New York City on March 9, 1922. Porcelain teeth had been introduced as early as 1785 by Dr. John Greenwood, George Washington's dentist. A fascinating look at the dental equipment of yesteryear, including a hand-powered dental drill, is part of the precision instruments exhibit in the Street of Shops at Henry Ford Museum, Dearborn.

Michigan Growers Notebook

NEW SOLUTIONS FOR QUACKGRASS PROBLEM

"In most of Michigan's crop producing areas, quackgrass is still one of our major weed problems," according to Dr. Meggitt, weed specialist at Michigan State University.

"In fact, I'm seeing more of it in our corn acreage today than I did several years ago despite the availability of a very effective control program with atrazine herbicide," he adds. "I think one of the principal reasons for this is that corn growers are rotating more to other crops—soybeans, small grains, and dry beans—which are not tolerant to atrazine residue carryover."

In his weekly series, Michigan Growers notebook, carried in newspapers and broadcast on radio stations throughout the state, Dr. Meggitt addresses various crop and pest management problems of interest to farmers here.

While Dr. Meggitt sees more quackgrass problems in the state, he says there are some very effective alternatives to the conventional double rate of atrazine which limits grower's crop rotation options.

Roundup herbicide applied in the spring doesn't work well because the quack just isn't mature enough (10 to 14 inches high) for it to be effective. Fall applications ahead of corn, however, have been effective.

"But growers who haven't fall-applied Roundup and do not want to lock themselves into a continuous corn system with atrazine at high rates, do have some alternatives," he says. "A pre-plant incorporated application of Eradicane is one of the recommended possibilities. Preferably, the way to handle it is to disc the field well before application, then incorporate the herbicide, by disking at least twice after application."

According to Dr. Meggitt, disking cuts up and exposes the root-like rhizomes of quackgrass, then positions the Eradicane in the soil so that it works on the rhizomes as they germinate.

For more information about how growers can develop a quackgrass program to fit their individual needs, Dr. Meggitt suggests contacting the county extension agent or writing him at Michigan State University, College of Agriculture and Natural Resources, East Lansing 48824.

Lioness Club Collects $301 for March of Dimes

Despite not being officially chartered as an organization, Chelsea's Lioness Club was asked to participate in collecting for the March of Dimes during the week of March 1 through 8.

Club members collected at Chelsea State Bank and at Polly's on both week-ends of March of Dimes Week and collected $301.66 from local residents. Canisters have also been placed with local merchants for collections.

Scientists at Michigan State University were among the first in the early 1970s to link pesticide contamination to fish and birds.

MARCH OF DIMES: Some seven inches of snow last Saturday didn't deter Chelsea Lioness club members Adamine Michelsen and Valerie Scriven from collecting at Polly's and Chelsea

State Bank for the 1980 March of Dimes. A relatively new Chelsea organization, the Lionesses took on the project as their very first service to Chelsea.

AGRICULTURE IN ACTION

MICHIGAN FARM BUREAU EDITORIAL

★ Regulated to Death

"Four years from today, every enterprise in the United States, agricultural and industrial, will be far more closely regulated than it is today. Four years from today, every private activity in the country will bear a heavier burden imposed by the government. And four years from today is 1984."

This quote is from opening remarks made recently at the American Farm Bureau Federation convention in Phoenix by Dr. Murry Weidenbaum, noted economist from Washington University. Although his message was delivered at a convention of farmers, it concerns every citizen in this nation as we find ourselves more and more surrounded by red tape regulations of government. Not only are many of those regulations picky and aggravating, they are costly. Here are some examples:

1. The cost of operating federal regulatory agencies is rising more rapidly than the rest of the budget, the population, or the gross national product. In 1974, the outlays of the regulatory agencies was $2.5 billion. This year, it's $6.0 billion.

2. Federally mandated safety and environmental features increased the price of the average passenger car by $666.

3. There are over 4,400 different forms that the private sector must fill out each year. That takes over 143 million man hours. The cost of the federal paperwork is over $25 billion a year imposed on the private sector.

4. The total costs of complying with federal government regulations came to $121 billion in 1979. That's approximately $500 for each man, woman and child in this country.

The sad part of all this is that it continues to increase. Unless enough citizens speak up, either with their voices, or their votes, we'll either strangle in the red tape, or go broke trying to afford the cost of all those rules and regulations.

Great Tax Shavings!

Here's how to whittle down your 1979 Income Tax . . .

There's still time to reduce the total taxable income reported on your 1979 tax return and build for your future at the same time! Here's how—

If you're not presently covered by a qualified pension or profit-sharing plan where you work, or if you're self-employed, you are eligible to open an Individual Retirement Account (IRA) at Ann Arbor Trust which allows you to set aside each year—tax free—15% of your annual income to a maximum of $1,500 for your future.

These deposits are tax deductible, which means you can reduce the total taxable income on your 1979 tax return by the amount you deposit between now and April 15th!

Your money will earn 8% interest compounded quarterly for an effective annual yield of 8.24% when you deposit at least $1,000 for three years or more. Interest earned on your contribution is not taxable until you retire, when your tax bracket will probably be lower.

Accounts are insured up to $100,000 by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation. You pay no fees or charges to open an Individual Retirement Account at Ann Arbor Trust.

Call or stop by Ann Arbor Trust today for complete information on how you can lower your taxes and start building for the future at the same time. Our financial advisors will be happy to meet with you and discuss the retirement savings plan best suited to your needs.

Remember . . . deposits must be made by April 15th to qualify as deductions from your 1979 taxable income!

Keogh Account Holders Also Eligible!

If you opened a Keogh Account at Ann Arbor Trust before December 31, 1979, and deposited less than your allowable amount, you too are eligible for great tax savings. All additional contributions to your Keogh Account made between now and April 15th may be deducted from your 1979 taxable income!

Withdrawals from an IRA or Keogh Account prior to age 59½ are subject to substantial tax penalties.

Federal regulations require substantial interest penalty on payment of a Time Certificate of Deposit before maturity.
