Chrysler Loan Package Okayed
With more than 80,000 jobs and much future state revenue at stake, the Michigan Legislature has cleared the way for a $150 million loan to the ailing Chrysler Corp.

The troubled automaker as part of the federal government's $1.5 billion loan guarantee must, from sources other than the federal government, raise an additional $1.43 billion to qualify for the federal funds.

Michigan, where a majority of Chrysler plants and workers are located, is chipping in the lion's share of a total of $250 million to be raised from state and local governments. Other states and cities where individual facilities are located will make up the additional $100 million.

A major portion of the funds is coming from the members of the United Auto Workers who immediately would have the most to lose with loss of jobs if the automaker should fold.

The UAW has made over $800 million in concessions of negotiated wage rollbacks and delays of deposits in their retirement accounts.

There was never any question whether Michigan would provide the money or not, but the question was where the state, with budgetary problems of its own, would come up with the funds.

Without the loan, Chrysler would certainly fail, throwing those 80,000 employees out of work, put them on the unemployment rolls and those unable to be absorbed into the workforce would ultimately end up on the welfare rolls.

Additionally, those 80,000 people would not be paying state income taxes, the corporation would not be paying the state's single business tax or property taxes to local governments and satellite businesses serving Chrysler would suffer or even fail themselves.

Conservatively, the failure of Chrysler could cost the state revenue coffers more than $600 million per year making the $150 million a small price to pay.

The legislature approved a two-bill package providing up to $75 million from state employee pension funds and as much as up to the entire $150 million state surplus funds which are constantly being invested on a short-term basis.

The second bill providing the full amount was necessary in the event the Investment Advisory Committee—a five-member panel judging investments of pension funds—prohibits the loan from the pension money.

The loan to Chrysler would be a major departure in the type of "prudent" investments where pension money is being placed.

Such a loan would not otherwise be considered from state surplus funds as they are normally placed in safe, short-term, high yield investments. The Chrysler loan would be a departure from these loans as it would be for a long term—15 years—and less safe.

Many legislators expressed concern over the loan but realized the importance of keeping Chrysler going for the good of the state. Calling it a "social loan" rather than "prudent loan" they questioned the safety of the loan especially when it came to authorizing the use of pension funds.

However, to protect the pension money, language was added to the bill to spread the loan out over seven different pension accounts and pro-rated among them depending on the amount of deposits on record.

Further language provides that if the property being used as collateral does not cover the amount of the loan in the event Chrysler defaults, the funds would be returned to the pension funds from the state's general fund.

So, with Michigan having the most to lose if Chrysler Corp. were to go bankrupt, the legislature has paved the way for the state to make a loan of $150 million out of funds safely tucked away for current and future retirees and excess funds being invested by the state to turn a quick profit.

Even with the loss of funds, Michigan will be much better off putting the money into the ailing automaker with so many jobs and future state revenues at stake.

Modern Mothers Hear Address By Landscaper

Modern Mothers Child Study Club met March 11 at Pat Whitesall's home for an evening of landscaping with Rick Haugen.

Mr. Haugen, a landscape architect, works at Johnson, Johnson & Ray. He explained that he prefers a more naturalistic approach to landscaping and utilizes natural plants whenever possible.

He expressed his feeling that a good landscape is composed of elements that balance well. The plants used should give good flower in the spring, retain their fruit into fall or winter, maintain their foliage and provide a food source for animals.

Refreshments were served by Kathy Peterson and Sandy Mayer, followed by a business meeting.

Next club meeting will be at the Chelsea United Methodist Home, where the club will present a special evening of song and dance for the residents.

HELEN BETTS of Chelsea was recently honored at a party celebrating her retirement from the University of Michigan Law School after 37 years of service. Registrar of the school for the past 26 years, Mrs. Betts plans to enjoy retirement with her husband "Red" (Wesley), himself recently retired from a supervisor position at Chrysler's Scio plant. The Bettises have lived in Chelsea for the past 30 years.

Helen Betts Retires As U-M Law School Registrar

After graduating more than 8,500 of "her" law students, and issuing countless reminders to law professors to report their student grades in on time, Chelseait Helen Betts has retired as registrar of the University of Michigan Law School.

Her retirement Feb. 29 marked her 37th year at the Law School—26 as registrar and 11 as secretary to the Directors of the American Judicature Society. That organization was located in Ann Arbor before relocating to Chicago in 1954.

At a recent ceremony honoring Mrs. Betts on her retirement, the Law School dean, Terrance Sandalow, noted that "many students and alumni think the dean runs this law school, but they are wrong. This school for many years has been run by Helen Betts."

"A good example of Helen's proprietary attitude toward the school is her typical request to faculty to get their grades in because it's time for 'her' to graduate 'her' students."

Most living alumni of the U-M Law School are "her" graduates. During her 26 years as registrar, she graduated some 61 percent—more than 8,500—of the school's living alumni.

Mrs. Betts' shoes will be hard to fill. Actually, her responsibilities will be divided among several Law School staff members.

As registrar, she has served as the official keeper of student grades and the person authorized to release transcripts of students' records. From files in her office and from those kept in a separate vault, the registrar is able to retrieve complete records of students dating back to 1910.

"I have been very happy at my job," Mrs. Betts recalled in an interview. "I have particularly enjoyed the accomplishments of the Law School and its students."

Mrs. Betts joined the staff of the American Judicature Society in 1943, soon after her graduation from the Ann Arbor Secretarial-Business School. When the society relocated to Chicago, Mrs. Betts was strongly recommended for the Law School registrar's post and hired on the spot by then-Dean Stason.

A Chelsea resident for the past

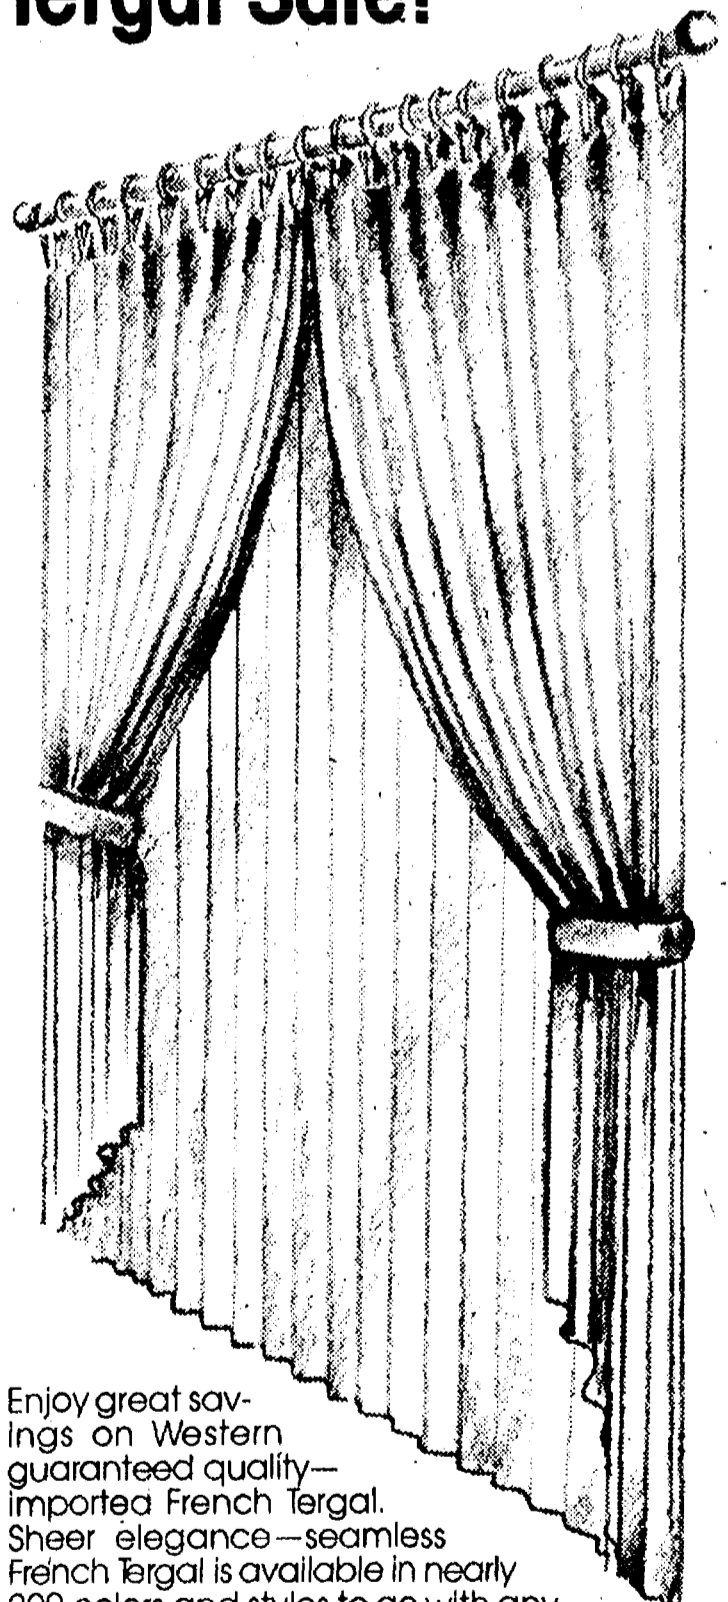

30 years, Mrs. Betts was born on Ann Arbor's Old West Side 65 years ago. She married Wesley "Red" Betts at the end of her senior year at Ann Arbor High school. "Red" recently retired after 29 years as a supervisor at Chrysler's Scio Township plant.

In 1971, they sold 56 acres of their 60-acre Hayes Rd. farm and built a new home on the remaining four acres. Mrs. Betts says she looks forward to her retirement there, and plans to devote her time to her gardening, stamp and coin collections, food canning and freezing, and their three dogs and a cat.

How to Lose Weight with Protein

By LELORD KORDEL
Number Eleven of a Series

If you, your scales and the family doctor all agree that your health (and good looks, too) would benefit by getting rid of a few pounds, then the one and only safe reducing program is that built around plenty of high-protein foods, mainly meats.

Of course, such a reducing diet is going to cost you money. But so does ill health. And obesity is synonymous with ill health and early loss of your youth. So look upon the money spent on this high-protein diet as an investment in health.

With all the trick diets that come and go—protein remains the one tried-and-true material to help control weight. Here's why:

On a high-protein diet you lose weight faster, have more vitality, and retain a firm skin and excellent muscle tone as you reduce.

And you don't have that empty, all-gone-in-the-middle feeling.

Protein does away with those gnawing, do-or-die hunger pangs that you get on fad diets.

Unlike fat, protein can't be stored in the body. You must have it each day of your life to repair and renew worn-out cells and tissues.

Protein is the only substance which can do this.

OUTWIT THE POUNDS

Here are some proved, effective calorie-wise ways to outwit the pounds:

1. Eat protein three times a day.

And that means breakfast, too, even though you're a confirmed breakfast-skipper.

Meat or eggs for breakfast will step up metabolism so you'll burn more calories than you consume.

Your blood sugar will remain on an even level. Gone will be the hunger pangs that cause you to grab a sweet roll or doughnuts in midmorning, or overeat at luncheon.

2. Restrict fats

That includes butter, cream, whole milk, gravy, sauces, and salad dressings. A small amount of safflower oil may be mixed with lemon juice or cider vinegar and used for a salad dressing.

3. Cut down on carbohydrates.

I'm tempted to say, "Cut out carbohydrates," since almost all persons with a weight problem overeat them.

Eat fresh fruits and vegetables as sources of natural sugars and starches.

Foods containing white flour and refined sugar should be avoided.

4. Eat plenty of the bulky, low-calorie fruits and leafy vegetables.

They include cabbage, spinach, lettuce, endive, escarole, cauliflower, broccoli, sauerkraut, asparagus, celery, tomatoes, apricots, oranges, grapefruit, and melons.

You don't have to starve yourself to wage an all-out war on overweight.

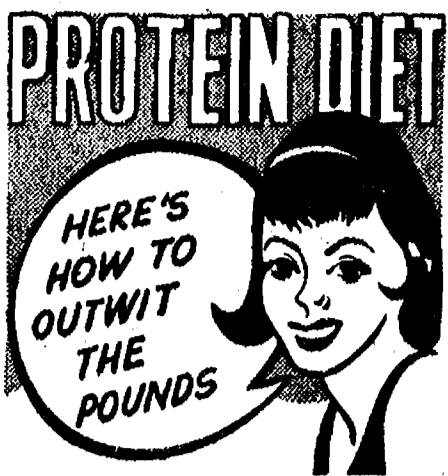

The only safe and sure way to get slim—and stay slim—is to learn which calories are your friends and which are your foes.

WHAT ARE CALORIES?

You have a pretty fair idea of what calories are, of what too many of them do to you.

A calorie is the measure of the energy value of food—and also of your body's energy requirements.

Calories are the unseen guests at every meal you eat, at each nibble that you sneak with a fine disregard for them.

If you eat more calories than you burn up by work, worry, play, or exercise, the extra, unwanted calories store up as fat.

But here is the fat boy's bonanza, the chubby girl's blissful bonus:

If you eat an ounce of protein instead of an ounce of carbohydrate — (starches and sugar) — although each may have 113 calories, a small miracle takes place.

Protein's specific dynamic action steps up your metabolism and enables you to burn up to 130 to 140 calories!

A high-protein diet—meat, eggs, fish, poultry, low-fat cheese, yogurt—will whip up your metabolism so combustion of fat for energy increases.

And that means you lose weight faster!

"Protein calories are a fat man's best friend!"

And that goes for the gals as well!

I hope you won't forget that breakfast is the most important meal of the day—although neglected by too many.

Not only is breakfast of value to those interested in weight control—but it plays a tremendous role in our fight to look younger and live longer!

THREE HAPPY ASPIRANTIS, Joe, Betty and Joe, proudly display their new dining room, recently opened in the family-owned and-operated Little Rooster Restaurant. Eight years in the planning, the restaurant addition includes a lounge and will feature live entertainment and dancing on week-ends. Remodeling is currently underway in the old dining room and the family hopes to re-open it this summer, increasing the eatery's capacity to more than 225.

Aspirantis Showing Off New Enlarged Restaurant, Lounge

It's a long way from a hot dog stand to a spanking new lounge with live entertainment, but that is the adventuresome journey that has just ended for Joe and Betty Aspiranti, proprietors of The Little Rooster restaurant on North Territorial Rd.

The Aspirantis were living in Detroit in 1967 when Joe, unknown to Betty, purchased a small root beer, hot dog and hamburger stand at 11485 North Territorial that had been closed for about a year.

"I didn't believe him," recalled Betty. "I had worked in a restaurant before but nobody else had."

Nevertheless, it soon became THE family business for the Aspirantis. After commuting from Detroit for two years, they moved to the area permanently in 1969.

JULIE BOTSFORD

Julie Botsford Named DAR Good Citizen

Julie Botsford, a senior at Chelsea High school, is one of 10 area students recently honored as good citizens by the Sarah Caswell Angell chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

In recent ceremonies the students were presented with certificates and good citizen pins. They were selected by their classmates for demonstrated qualities of leadership, patriotism, dependability and service.

Julie will attend Albion College and major in science and mathematics.

Also honored were Julie Moore of Manchester High school, Leon Agan of Dexter High school, and Cynthia Dreffs of Whitmore Lake High school.

Census Taker Application Tests Slated

Full-time, temporary jobs as census takers are still available in this area, Michael Berla, manager of the local 1980 census office, said recently.

In the Chelsea area, interested persons are urged to take the written, job-related test at the Village Council chambers, 104 E. Middle St., at 9 a.m. or 11 a.m. on Monday, March 24, or Wednesday, March 26.

"We're counting on you if you can work 30 to 40 hours a week visiting households and interviewing the residents," Berla said, adding that some evening and Saturday work will be required.

Census takers will begin work soon as part of the 1980 census of population and housing. They will first attend a training session, for which they will be paid.

Most census takers will be paid a piece rate for the number of household interviews completed. In a few instances, the pay will be by the hour. For all workers, pay will average $4 an hour or more.

Census takers must be able to follow printed instructions, do simple arithmetic and read maps, for which they will be tested before hiring. They should be able to walk a considerable amount, climb stairs and should have good eyesight and hearing.

Those hired should have a home telephone and many will need a car, for which mileage will be paid when it is used in census work.

The Census Bureau is an equal opportunity employer.

LIONESSE CLUB: Saturday was charter night for Chelsea's newest organization, the Lioness Club. Present for the ceremonies was Lions Club District Gov. Robert Myers of Jackson. Charter members of the organization

Chelsea Lioness Club Chartered

Chelsea's newest organization, the Lioness Club, received its charter Saturday night in ceremonies held at the Chelsea Community Hospital dining room.

Twenty-four women, interested in community service, were installed as charter members of the organization. Charter officers are Adamine Michelson, Karen Strook, Karen Pratt and Linda Atkinson.

Installed as charter directors were Valerie Scriven, Barbara VanGorder and Susan Harness. Other members are Rose Bushway, Jill Tabor, Carol Dmoch, Gari Feldman, Dorothy Fouty, Cathleen Heeter, Lucy Ann Howard, Mary Lou Koszegi, Louise Likavec, Vivian Michelson, Margaret Murphy, Dorothy Pfitzenmaier, Helen Prohaska, Judy Radant, Marion Rutledge, Barbara Rybak and Betty Severn.

Lion District Governor R. J. (Bob) Myers of Jackson conducted the presentation of the charter and installed the members.

Chelsea's Lioness Club began a few months ago when a number of area women met to discuss the possible need for another service organization in the community. After they determined that such a need was present, the group decided to become a Lioness Club.

The group is sponsored by Chelsea Lions Club but is not an auxiliary of that organization.

Membership is open to women interested in focusing their energies on service to the immediate community.

Although they are at present settling formalities such as a constitution and by-laws, President Adamine Michelson said that upcoming meetings will be planned to present a program for members each month. Most of the organization's business will be covered at board meetings, with general sessions freed for informative programs.

Even before their Charter Night last week, Chelsea Lionesses had begun their work in the community by collecting outdoors for the March of Dimes in the driving snowstorm of two weeks ago.

Kiwanis Travel Film Spotlights Norway

On Saturday evening, March 22, the Chelsea Kiwanis Club will present its fifth program of the "Travel and Adventure Series" at 8 p.m. in the High School Auditorium.

James Forshee is a resident of Ann Arbor. After graduating from the Ford Trade School, he entered the United States Marine Corps and served in Japan and the Pacific. While in the Marines he became interested in photography as a hobby. After World War II he entered the automobile industry as an engineer and worked for the Ford Motor Co. for several years. During the last few years his hobby has become his major interest, and he has become one of the top artists in the travelogue field. His delightful presentation and the technical excellence of his films have entertained audiences from coast to coast.

Norway is famous for its incredible fjords. Formed millions of years ago by receding glaciers from the ice age, the fjords are deep blue-green arms of the sea which penetrate far into the Norwegian interior. Surrounded by towering rock cliffs, the countryside is a patchwork of snow-capped mountains, flower carpeted valleys, foaming waterfalls and brightly painted villages.

Vist Bergen, Norway's second largest city, and one which gives the appearance of a quaint 11th century Viking seaport. Bergen is an important commercial center which has an excellent harbor and is consequently a vital link in the export of fish and fish products.

Explore the ski and resort country near Voss and Lillehammer. The dramatic scenery and points of interest will delight the traveler.

Take the spiraling drive up to the majestic view from Stalheim. See the ancient Stave church in Borgund. While visiting in Oslo, see the renowned Vigeland sculptures. Oslo the capital city and chief seaport, has much to offer as Norway's educational and cultural center.

Driving to Hammerfest, the northernmost city in the world, experience the magnificent North Cape, where the mountains sweep down to meet the Arctic Ocean. Standing here, beneath the Midnight Sun, observe a unique phenomenon; the sun goes down, then comes up again, without dipping below the horizon. "Exploring Norway" with Jim Forshee is a travel experience you won't want to miss. Tickets are available at the door.

CHS Students Sweep Honors In U-M Bridge Building Contest

Chelsea High school students swept three of the top four prizes last week-end with their entries in the fifth annual University of Michigan Civil Engineering Department toothpick bridge contest.

Steve Kvarnberg took the first place trophy for the second consecutive year, while Todd Brehmer (fifth last year) placed third and Dan Bourget took fourth.

Kvarnberg is the first student ever to win the top prize more than once and Chelsea is the only school to take first for two consecutive years.

The trio competed among 15 schools in the U-M sponsored contest, and were rated by three judges in two different areas.

According to advisor Jim Tallman, Chelsea High school drafting teacher, 40 percent of an entry's grade is based on design and workmanship. Students must purchase a standardized kit of materials from the university, but design is strictly their own.

The remaining 60 percent is based on the load-bearing capacity of the bridge. Steel weights are slowly added to each bridge while an instrument measures the amount of strain put on the structure. When a bridge sagged eight millimeters, no further weights were added.

Steve Kvarnberg's entry withstood the maximum weight of 10 pounds while sagging only eight millimeters, a ratio that Tallman said showed "almost perfect" design.

For his part in advising the Chelsea bridge builders, Tallman received the best faculty contact award from the contest sponsors.

All three bridges will be on display at the Chelsea spring science fair.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

I am writing this letter not as a condemnation of the recent political turmoil, though that was undoubtedly the reason we have lost the services of this fine professional, but as a letter of praise and thank you to Fred Barkley who has left the employ of the village to become Assistant Planning Director for Washtenaw county.

Fred's interest in and contribution to the village goes back many years. He helped the village establish its Planning Commission in 1966 when he was "loaned" to the village by the Washtenaw County Planning Commission and he guided us through the first year. Even after it was no longer his job, we felt we could call on him in Ann Arbor for advice and guidance.

Later, when he became a village resident, he became a member of the Planning Commission. Few, if any, planning commissions could boast of having a professional planner on their planning commission.

Some time later, as a consultant, Fred Barkley wrote our Zoning Ordinance, after the Commission and the Village Council had struggled for years trying to come up with a replacement for the old outdated zoning ordinance.

For the past two years Fred has been a full-time employee of the village and the village has gotten much more than it paid for his services. Probably never again will we be able to afford a professional planner of Fred's ability and dedication to this community.

Thank you Fred Barkley for your labors of love for the Village of Chelsea.

William Chandler.

Where do you want the freezer in your new Amana refrigerator...

on the side?

on the top?

Amana gives you a choice

If you want your zero-degree freezer on the side, there's the Amana Side-by-Side. Or you can have the freezer on the top or the bottom. You'll enjoy Free-O-Frost convenience in both the refrigerator and freezer.
And every Free-O-Frost Amana has two independent temperature controls, one for the freezer, one for the refrigerator. In most models, there's a "refrigerator-within-a-refrigerator" that keeps meat fresh far longer than an ordinary meat pan. And a high-humidity compartment that keeps vegetables fresh up to three weeks in 22 and 25 cu. ft. side-by-side models. (Automatic Ice Makers optional at extra cost.)

Come and look at the choices Amana has for you. Then choose the one you want in gold, avocado, almond, coppertone or white.

Remember... when the name of the game is saving energy... the name of the refrigerator is Amana.

Emphasis Continues on Curriculum Improvement

An emphasis on curriculum in the Chelsea School District, which began in 1978-79, is continuing this year with the majority of work undertaken by two committees comprised of teachers and administrators and supplemented with input from district citizens.

Teachers and administrators serve on a committee designated as the Central Curriculum Committee. Parents and district residents are part of a Board of Education ad hoc committee for the purpose of curriculum examination. Their role is to serve as a sounding board for the curriculum investigations that are taking place throughout the district.

Operating under a management-by-objectives system, the district has given special emphasis to the area of curriculum co-ordination.

Last year, for example, a mathematics review culminated in the purchase of D. C. Heath textbooks which will strengthen the continuity of mathematics instruction from kindergarten through twelfth grade. This work was completed by a textbook committee which had representatives from all schools working in a co-ordinated effort.

This school year, as one of the Board of Education's goals, committees are functioning in health/physical education, language arts and social studies. The focus of each committee is the evaluation of scope and the sequence of instruction in each subject matter area at all grade levels.

Committees have been formed which will analyze and evaluate what is to be taught at each grade level and try to ensure that there will be no gaps in the education of a student as he or she moves from grade to grade.

This effort, in addition to giving direction to the present staff, is especially helpful to new staff members.

In areas related to the general curriculum of the district, other activities are also in progress. A Sex Education Advisory Committee, comprised of a Board member, teachers, administrators and students, was established to review current sex education programs and eventually to deal with sexuality with responsibility, pertaining to Public Law 226.

The implementation of career education in the Chelsea schools, aligned with the Michigan education model program, has been initiated. Chelsea High school teachers, working with the high school principal, are in the second year of completing extensive course of study outlines.

Administrators are studying closely the recorded teaching time devoted to various subjects. Superintendent Ray Van Meer indicated that he firmly believes "that time on task in the academic disciplines is closely related to learning."

"Simply put," continued Van Meer, "to ensure continued excellence with the basics, we must make sure that the basics receive adequate time during a school day."

Work in this area done to date has been accomplished without 20-21-22... push-ups are only part of the punishment this group put itself through last Friday at 7 a.m. The exercises are part of a three-week Spring Quickness Program, devised by the only upright

Spring Quickness Program Builds Enthusiasm

The first dim light of dawn had barely peeked through the windows of the Chelsea High school gym, but inside 80 tee-shirt clad boys were jumping up and down, clapping in unison and chanting, "The harder you work, the harder it is to surrender."

What might at first glance seem to be an Army boot camp transplanted to Chelsea High turns out to be the sixth session in a three-week "Spring Quickness Program."

Amazingly, all 80 of the boys are there voluntarily, subjecting themselves to sprints, drills, calisthenics and exhaustion at 7 o'clock in the morning.

Keeping it all moving, pacing up and down and shouting encouragement amidst a whirl of flying feet and hands is the program's originator and sparkplug, football coach Gene LaFave.

Planned to fill the gap between the winter and spring sports seasons, the program is a nine-session "training camp" designed to demonstrate the kinds of things athletes should work at all year long.

Most of those who come out are football players, from varsity down to the eighth grade team, but others belong to no teams at all, coming strictly for the workout. LaFave acknowledges that three weeks is a fairly brief period, but feels that the program serves a purpose.

"It's done only for improvement," he said. "It shows kids are dedicated, but, hey, other kids may be doing other things to show they're just as dedicated."

On Fridays the group does an hour of sprints and drills designed to improve dexterity and motor skills. Monday and Wednesday mornings, they split into three sections and alternate among a running station, an agility station and the weight room.

A videotape camera whirrs quietly in the upper level of the gym, recording the proceedings for future use in training and teaching. "The older kids don't show as much improvement," LaFave explained, "but the younger kids show dramatic improvement."

A breakfast at the end of the three weeks is a kind of reward for effort, but constant rewards of encouragement and praise are scattered throughout the sessions.

Clad in a tee-shirt emblazoned with the motto the group chanted earlier, LaFave acts as a combination cheerleader and drill sergeant, whipping up a remarkable level of enthusiasm.

"Work hard. Work hard, fellas," he urges the panting runners. "You've got to work hard every time. Have the satisfaction of doing it right. You've got to do it right every time. Work hard. Push yourself. You gotta think about it, you gotta work hard at it."

Applause greets the hardest worker and the highest achiever in each exercise, as LaFave calls out his name for the admiration of the group. All are working just as hard at the end of the session as they did at the beginning.

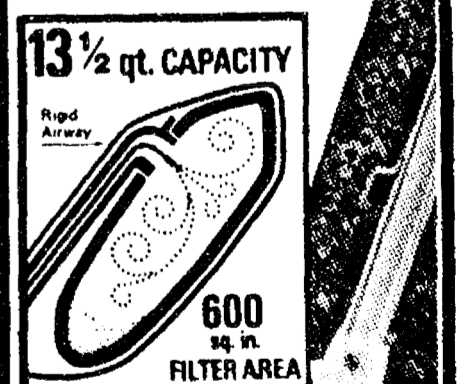

It might be "only" sports and athletics, but LaFave gives the impression that the implications are broader. As one teacher, looking on at the session, put it: "You can do so much with kids when their enthusiasm is this high."

Special Olympians Barely Edged In State Basketball Tournament

On March 14 and 15, Chelsea High school Special Olympians traveled to Macomb County Community College to take part in the State Special Olympic Basketball Tournament. More than 43 teams from across Michigan took part as well as 400 participants in the run, dribble and shoot competition.

Four high school students joined forces with five High Point students and one Dexter student to form the Area 20 All Stars, under the coaching of High Point's Doug Cooper. They were placed in division two, with eight other teams.

Playing for Chelsea were Tracey Harvey, Tim Black, Terry Walkowe and Mike Goebel. From Dexter came Richard Rosa, and Mike Benzinger, Ken Bartus, John Taylor, Tom Brown and Vernon Nesbitt participated from High Point.

The team first played the Lutz Longshots from Traverse City, beating them 38-21. Harvey scored 10 points, Black had two, Walkowe six, Benzinger 10, Nesbitt four, Bartus two, and Rosa four. Area 20 also won their second game against Ottawa County Saturday, 24-14. Harvey scored 14, Goebel two, Walkowe four, Benzinger two and Bartus two.

A close game between Area 20 and Grand Rapids Kent County then decided the gold medal. It was a real squeaker, with Area 20 falling, 29-28, to take the silver medal. Harvey bucketed 10, Walkowe six, Benzinger 10 and Bartus two. If the team had won, it would have gone to the Regionals in Kentucky.

A number of local Olympians won medals in the Run, Dribble and Shoot contest. Theresa Calcut won a silver; Albert Bedard, silver; Lori Brown, gold (with the best score of any woman in the tournament); Patty Scarberry, gold; Kevin Bow, bronze; Rick Creston, silver; and Jerry Hadley, silver.

Not winning medals but getting ribbons were Clarence Weiss, 5th; Dawn Stancato, 5th; Julie Crawford, 4th; Kathy Young, 4th; Linda Alber, 5th; Theresa Murphy, 5th; Gordian McArthur, 4th; Glenn Passow, 5th; Jim Jordan, 6th; and David Hadley, 6th.

Participants stayed at the Red Roof Inn, courtesy of Ann Arbor Civitan and the Chelsea Lions. Chaperones for the event were Kevin Doll, Mark Boote, Sue Branham, Judy Bottom, Nancy Cooper, Becky Simpson, Doug Cooper, Ron Herrst and Martha Grose. Gas for the bus was funded by the Trinkle Barn Dance Committee.

Special Olympians have a full schedule until the end of the school year. March 21, they participate in a gymnastics meet at High Point. The area swim meet takes place at High Point on March 28, followed by the April 18 volleyball tournament at High Point.

On April 25, a track meet will be held at Bowen Fieldhouse at EMU. A Chelsea-Dexter-High Point tri-meet will be held May 16 at Chelsea, followed by the state games June 5-8 at Mt. Pleasant.

MCRC Annual Meeting Slated Next Tuesday

Mill Creek Research Council has been notified by the Michigan Department of State that the preliminary project application in connection with the South Lima Historic District has been tentatively approved in the amount of $1,500.

The implications of this notification will be fully reviewed during the Mill Creek Research Council annual meeting, scheduled for Tuesday, March 25, 8 p.m. at the Lima Town Hall. The meeting is open to the public.

Research council dues are payable to treasurer William Chandler, Howard Rd., Chelsea. Dues are $10 per year and $12 for a new membership.

Questions may be phoned to 475-1076.

Slush Causes Auto Crash

Slippery driving conditions last Friday were the cause of a two-car crash on M-52 near Jerusalem Rd. just after noon.

Two passengers in one of the cars and the driver of the other were taken from the scene in ambulances for treatment of minor injuries.

Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department reports indicate that James K. Powers of Brighton was driving south on M-52 when he struck a puddle of slush, lost control of his car and spun into the opposing lane, where he was struck broadside by a vehicle driven by Mary Ann Guenther, 20772 Sager Rd.

Guenther's two sons, Jeremy and Ryan, were taken to University Hospital, treated, and released. Powers was transported to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital for treatment of bruises and cuts from flying glass.

Both vehicles sustained extensive damage.

TWISTED METAL is all that's left of the front end of Mary Ann Guenther's car after an accident last Friday on slippery M-52. A car, left, driven by a Brighton man, slid on a pile of slush and ended up in the wrong lane, where he was hit by Guenther's car. Guenther's two sons, who were passengers, and the other driver were treated at area hospitals for minor injuries. Mrs. Guenther and sons were all wearing seat belts which was credited by police officers with probably saving their lives.

Huge Marijuana Cache Found in Rural Barn

A several-months-long investigation by several law enforcement agencies led to the seizing of 5,000 pounds of marijuana in a rural Stockbridge-area barn last Monday night, March 10.

Police from Ann Arbor, the Tri-County Metro Narcotics Squad, Ingham County Sheriff's Department and the Drug Enforcement Agency swooped down on the barn at 1240 Broan Rd., confiscating marijuana with a street value of more than $2.5 million.

No arrests have been made, but warrants have been obtained for two residents of the above address, Stephen "Rick" Sowers and Susan Roth. Police want to question the pair about their possible involvement with the illegal drugs.

Police believe that the marijuana was headed for the Detroit and Ann Arbor markets, and that the Whiteoak township barn was merely a storage place.

The raid constituted the largest single seizure of marijuana in the history of Ingham county. After samples were taken for evidence, the three tons of what was described as "high grade" marijuana were incinerated by the Michigan State Police in East Lansing.

Police believe the marijuana came from Colombia, South America, and that the area address was used as a central distribution point. The investigation leading to the raid began after police acquired information indicating that drugs were being stored in the barn.

New Traffic Signal Operating on US-12

A new traffic signal on US-12 at Moon and State Rds., in Washtenaw county east of Saline began full "stop-and-go" operation at 7:30 a.m., Tuesday, March 18, the Michigan Department of Transportation reports.

The device has been operating as a flashing yellow signal since it was installed the week of March 10.

FUND DRIVE: A check from the Ann Arbor Trust Co., presented by Bill Bott, branch manager, kicked off the Chelsea Knights of Columbus Tootsie Roll fund drive for the mentally retarded. Accepting the check is K. of C. Grand Knight Jerry Hamerschmidt. Local Knights will be on the streets collecting during the week-end of March 28-30.

K. of C. Prepares Fund-Raiser To Benefit Mentally Retarded

Chelsea's fifth annual drive to assist the mentally retarded locally and in Michigan will be conducted by Chelsea Council of the Knights of Columbus on March 28, 29 and 30, Jerry Hamerschmidt, council Grand Knight, has announced.

State-wide last year, the Knights of Columbus, a Catholic men's fraternal society, collected more than $500,000 in the three-day week-end drive. Locally, $2,500 was collected and donated to St. Louis School for Boys and Chelsea Special Education.

Under the program, which is carried out in most of the 202 K. of C. councils in Michigan, people are asked to donate money to the mentally retarded and are given a Tootsie Roll candy in appreciation of the gift.

Eighty percent of the net income from the donations is retained by the local council for distribution to area groups and agencies. The rest is forwarded to the State Council to meet expenses and make donations in behalf of all the 65,000 Knights in Michigan.

A principal beneficiary of State Council funds is the State Association for Mentally Retarded Citizens. Other gifts also are given to organizations assisting the mentally retarded.

State Deputy William Walsh of Albion said there are over 265,000 mentally retarded citizens in Michigan. He said contributions in the March 28-30 drive will go toward lessening the handicaps of the mentally retarded through training and professional services.

Chelsea residents will be able to recognize the Knights and their helpers during the drive by their colorful hats, Tootsie Roll candy canisters and yellow aprons emblazoned with the slogan, "K of C. Help the Mentally Retarded."

Hospice Talk Slated At Area Nursing Home

"Hope Through Hospice" is the title of a talk to be given by Dr. Heidi Joos on Tuesday, March 25, 7:30 p.m. in the cafeteria of the Stockbridge Convalescence.

This program is sponsored by the Area Ministers Association as a means of providing information and education to the community regarding the services provided by a hospice.

Topics will include dealing with death and means of helping a family care for members who are terminally ill, so that their last days will have the best quality of life possible, both for the person and the family. Dr. Joos will also discuss the providing of necessary resources for home care: physical, medical, spiritual and emotional.

Every person and every family is affected in some way by a relative, friend or neighbor who is the victim of cancer or some other terminal illness, so this is a subject of interest for all. Practical suggestions that offer hope and help to those who need it will be given.

Dr. Joos is a Family Practitioner who is doing a residency in psychiatry at Lansing. She was a staff member in one of the first hospices in America, at New Haven, Conn., and is an advisor to the Lansing hospice organization. She brings both experience and understanding to her upcoming talk.

First and foremost, Dr. Joos will explain the term "hospice," which has various meanings for modern-day life.

Following her presentation, there will be an opportunity for questions. During the coffee afterward, persons may meet and talk with her personally.

The management of Convalescence is providing the hospitality for the event and will be happy to show people through the facility that night. There is no charge for the event and all are invited to attend.
