CHS Baseball Team Ready For Opener

Aggressive play proved to be the successful ingredient in the solid Chelsea football and basketball teams of the past year. New head baseball coach Wayne Welton is counting on the same style of play to pull his Bulldogs to the top of the league this season.

Baseball play for the team begins Tuesday, April 15, against Brighton and Welton feels sure that if the pitching holds together this year, all will be well for Chelsea.

A particularly strong spot for the diamondmen, he said, will be the infield, with senior John Dunn at third, junior Jeff Dils at short, and juniors Ross Stofflet and Mike Bohlander at second and first, respectively. Expected to help out in the infield are Sean Peterson, Drew Sprague and Brad Knickerbocker.

"We'll probably have the best club in the league in the infield," speculated Welton, "and maybe in the outfield, too."

That outfield should consist of sophomore John Preston in center, senior Lou Jahnke and junior Randy Luick, with Brad Knickerbocker again lending support.

Top catcher for the Bulldogs this year should be Mike Wood, with support from juniors Ken Hopkins and Mike Wade. "If we can keep him (Wood) healthy, we're ok," said Coach Welton.

It is pitching, however, that may either make or break the season for Chelsea. The Bulldogs will be looking to southpaw Chuck Moore and righthanders Dan Alber, Joel Krichbaum, Sean Peterson and Craig Thams for strong hurling. Knickerbocker should also see some time on the mound.

"Right now, we're very average there," said Welton frankly. "Pitching will decide how good we are."

Chelsea is looking to better its 8-10 over-all record of last year. The team last year finished fourth in the SEC with a mark of 6-7. This year, league powers should be Saline and Milan, with the Hornets returning their All-State pitcher Jim Phelps. Dexter has many returning young players and may pose a threat.

Welton viewed Lincoln and Jackson County Western as unknown quantities, but warned not to count them out of the race. Welton is taking over this year for former head coach Paul Terpstra, who resigned that position early this year. As junior varsity coach last year, Welton had a chance to work with a number of present varsity players and feels comfortable with the team.

A FUNNEL CLOUD roared through the Trinkle Rd.-Steinbach Rd. area late Tuesday afternoon, damaging a barn and ripping through trees on the Harold Trinkle farm on Trinkle Rd. Mrs. Trinkle said she watched the twister go by from her kitchen window about a mile from the farm, just minutes before it touched the ground. A tornado, probably the same one, was sighted earlier by Garry Tilt of Steinbach Rd. No injuries resulted from the high winds.

Season's First Twister Slams Trinkle Farm

A tornado swirled into the Harold Trinkle farm on Trinkle Rd. Tuesday afternoon, damaging a pole barn and ripping off tree limbs, but causing no injuries to people or farm animals.

The twister was one of four reported in Washtenaw county that afternoon as high winds and rain buffeted the area and causing an hour-long power outage in the Village of Dexter.

Lois Trinkle said she first spotted the tornado cloud from her kitchen window at about 5 p.m. Tuesday as it whirled by the Trinkle home, about a mile from the farm property. She said she grabbed her grandson and started for cover, but was relieved to see the cloud, which hadn't touched the ground, continue on down the road.

"Little did we know," said Mrs. Trinkle, "that it was headed down to the farm."

She said the twister tore the roof off one side of the storage barn and ripped the tin siding off the other side, strewing metal over the surrounding fields.

It is likely, Mrs. Trinkle speculated, that the tornado that touched down on their property was the same one spotted in the air earlier by neighbor Garry Tilt. Mrs. Tilt said that her husband saw the funnel dip to about 50 feet above the ground and then soar back up into the air again. She said it came over I-94 from the southwest, went through the Steinbach and Easton Rd. area and headed for Trinkle Rd.

In Dexter, high winds and torrential rain caused an hour of darkness for about half of the village residents. Fire Chief Mike Collins said that the loss of power prevented the department from sounding its siren when the tornado warning was called, so the department used a novel way to warn Dexterites. All the fire trucks were pulled into the streets and three minute blasts were sounded on the truck sirens to give the warning.

Chief Collins said that the experience pointed up a number of shortcomings in the Dexter warning system, and that a review with members of the village council is now being done. He said that he should have some

Aquatic Club Places 11 in Championships

For the past two week-ends, the Chelsea Aquatic Club has participated in the Michigan AAU State Championships, with some impressive results.

These championships include the best swimmers from all over the state. To be eligible to swim, the athletes must have met the cut-off time requirements.

Local swimmers who placed in the top 12 in Michigan in their respective events included the following:

Boys 400 medley relay team, 11th place, Tom Gaunt, David Nicola, David Mason, Phil Hoffman; 200 butterfly, 11th place, David Mason; 100 backstroke, 11th place, Tom Gaunt.

Also, girls 10 and under 200 yard medley relay team, Cathy Hoffman, Heather Seabury, Sarah Weis and Laura Stephens; 100 yard freestyle, 9th place, Laura Stephens.

Most impressive were the performances of the younger girls, said Coach David Johnson. "At these meets there are about 1,200 girls to compete with. Our girls went in there, did not shy away from the large number of competitors and all swam their best times."

Cathy Hoffman, who led off the relay backstroke, went for a time of :38.3, breaking the Chelsea Aquatic Club team record. Then Heather Seabury swam the breaststroke leg in :42.6, making her the fastest 10 and under breaststroker in the club. Sarah Weis swam the butterfly leg in :37.3 and Laura Stephens anchored the freestyle in :31.1.

Later, Stephens swam the 100-yard freestyle and qualified 12th in the preliminaries to swim at night in the finals. In those finals, she bettered her own personal best time and placed 9th in the state.

"That is the highest placing a Chelsea girl swimmer has ever had in the State Championships," said a pleased Coach Johnson. "We're getting better all the time. These kids are going to impress a lot of people before they are finished."

The week before the AAU meet, club members swam in the league championships in quest of bringing the first-place trophy back to Chelsea.

At the conclusion of the final event, the team knew it had reached its goals: an undefeated season (10-0) and the league championship trophy.

Chelsea collected 1865½ points to 1502½ for Milan and 1143 for Ypsilanti. Plymouth scored 1117, Willow Run had 723 and Belleville finished last with 618.

Coach Johnson was most pleased with the performances throughout the championships. "Best times were reached by, I'd say, 90 percent of our kids, which is a tremendous statistic," he said. "The eight and unders did a pretty good job, especially the boys. They were superb."

Johnson went on to explain the formula for success that has led the club to dominate in the Super Six League.

"Positive thinking was the emphasis of my program," he explained. "The kids started believing they could do anything if they put their minds to it, and look what happened. The kids are smart and are training as well as any team around."

Johnson pointed to the 9 and 10 years olds, who were swimming about two miles each hour and a half of practice, as an example of the dedication that brought the team along.

Individual awards were earned by the following swimmers in their respective age groups:

8 and under boys: Brett Paddock, Jim Alford, Brian Brock, Kevin Rail, Matt Hubal, Chris Callison, Mike Taylor, Tim Karns, Matt Riemenschneider, Joe Bromley, Mike Hollo, Garth Girard, Ted Brockman, Matt Weis, Dirk Colby and Eric Brown.

8 and under girls: Molly Thompson, Kellie Kanten, Carrie Flintoft, Shelly Parsons, Angel Lawton, Vanessa May, Maria Kattula, Anna Flintoft, Allison Brown, Christine Young, Teresa Lewis, Michele Hollo, Melissa Thiel and Leslie Manning.

9 and 10 boys: John Cattell, Ted Lewis, Darrin Girard, Kewan Flanagan, Matt Doan, Will Brockman, Tucker Lee, Scott

Five Injured in Three Auto Crashes

Three automobile accidents in the village last week resulted in injuries both minor and severe for a number of area residents.

The first accident took place about 4:30 p.m. on Wednesday, April 2, near the intersection of M-52 and Old Manchester Rd.

A car driven by Robert Joseph Schulze, 17, 20086 Brown Dr., was traveling northbound on M-52 and attempted to turn into the Parts Peddler parking lot. A vehicle behind Schulze's, driven by Brenda Lee Clark, 17, 311 W. Michigan Ave., Grass Lake, failed to see the other car turning and struck it from the rear.

Clark and her passenger, Yvonne Clark, 13, were taken to the Chelsea Hospital emergency room with facial cuts and injuries. Schulze was transported to the emergency room by his mother.

The second accident occurred on Old US-12 near Gene Dr. on Thursday, April 3, and resulted in severe injuries for Norman Darryl Passow, 27, 38 Cavanaugh Lake Rd.

According to Chelsea police reports, a car driven by Norman Eugene Stone of Norvell was traveling westbound on Old US-12 at about 10:15 p.m. Passow and another vehicle were traveling eastbound.

Stone veered over the centerline, police said, just missing the other vehicle and striking Passow's car. Stone continued 300 feet further on Old US-12, coming to rest on the south side of the road. Passow was driven backwards after the impact, coming to rest on the road edge of Gene Dr. and Old US-12.

Chelsea Police said it appeared that Passow, who was taken to Chelsea Hospital, sustained multiple fractures in one leg and also a head injury. Stone was also taken to Chelsea Hospital with less severe injuries.

In addition to both vehicles, damage was done to a lawn at 20149 Old US-12.

The final accident involved an auto and a freight train at the Madison St. railroad crossing near Jackson St.

A car driven by Susan Louise Pottu, 22, Ann Arbor, carrying passengers Rhonda E. Pruett, 23,

THE PERFECT EGG: With some 120 dozen eggs to choose from, this young seeker found one particularly fascinating as she and other local youngsters scrambled across the Chelsea High athletic grounds at the Jaycees annual egg hunt last Saturday. The eggs, 15 dozen more of them than last year, were boiled and colored in a record two hours by Easter Bunny helpers in the Jaycees and their auxiliary.

Tough Times Ahead for State Budget

Even before the legislature begins to put finishing touches on the proposed budgets for fiscal year 1980-81, Governor William G. Milliken, in anticipation of the Carter anti-inflation program, announced an executive order may be needed to cut appropriations to education and local governments.

Milliken administration officials also declared a combination of events could totally deplete the budget stabilization fund which now has $248 million and is expected to grow to $275 million by September with interest income.

All state department heads have been asked to cut operations in their departments. No specific amounts for reductions were set but Milliken ordered that all non-essential hiring and expenditures for equipment and travel be eliminated.

Further cuts are yet to be ordered. Milliken said he has begun discussions with legislative leaders to develop other measures to reduce spending to balance the current year's budget.

He said a major way would be to implement immediately some program cuts he recommended be instituted as of Oct. 1. He added spending requests should not be approved for programs he has proposed be eliminated, unless state law requires the spending and to immediately implement those eliminations where administrative action—including layoffs—is possible.

The governor said he is considering an executive order to make cuts in both K-12 and higher education, revenue sharing to local governments and Medicaid payments. Those areas were exempt from the economy moves of last fall.

Since that time, the Michigan economy had dramatically worsened, and the moves proposed by President Carter will have a severe impact on the state.

reduction or elimination of revenue sharing (worth about $100 million a year to Michigan), wants to tax imported oil and tighten unsecured credit, which would further dampen major segments of the state's economy.

The worsening of the state's economic picture is illustrated in the estimate on how much will be withdrawn from the state's budget and economic stabilization fund.

The fund was created by an act of the legislature to deposit revenues in a special account during good times to be used when the state's cyclical economy begins a downturn.

Officials of the Department of Management and Budget and the House and Senate fiscal agencies say nearly all the $248 to $275 million may be needed under current conditions.

That compares to $59 million expected when the budget was approved last summer, $182.1 million when the governor presented new budget recommendations in January and $192 million in the latest DMB report to the legislature in February.

Doug Roberts, executive assistant in the DMB said, "There is a good chance we could deplete the budget stabilization fund. It shows how bad things are in terms of deterioration conditions. All signs are not good for this state."

Roberts said executive order cuts would be preferable to total depletion of the fund. He said complete use of the reserves would have negative effect on the financial community, and would affect interest rates on short-term borrowing that the state expects to need in 1980-81.

He added with current year projections having been proven wrong, it would be nice to have some money in the fund in case the 1980-81 projections are also wrong.

"We do not expect to use the fund in 1980-81, but we hadn't expected to use this much this year," Roberts said. All experts feel the economy will rebound in 1981.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

Dear Mister Editor:

The fellers was setting around the country store Saturday night congratulating themselves on seeing another spring, and the talk moved from their old ladies gardening plans and yard chores to some of the best laid plans of men in general that went astray. Bug Hookum was first to mention this piece he had saw recent about a brand new $4 million school that is complete with everything egghead educators could dream up.

Fer instant, reported Bug, there's the greenhouse where children can learn to do what they could learn to do just as good at home. But if you're going to have a greenhouse, the idee is to put it where it'll catch the most sun. This school in Reidsville, N. C. was planned with the greenhouse in the shade, said Bug, which means the teacher will have to put in mushrooms or whatever grows good in the dark. The school had been inspected and passed by architects, engineers and school people before some fellow that come to check on the air conditioning took note that where the greenhouse is the sun never shines cause it's blocked all day by the building.

Clem Webster said that reminded him of the report years back where a church was designed in St. Louis and the working plans were sent to the Vatican fer approval. When the drawings got back "Are they angels?" was wrote across the front page in Latin. The architects and engineers went back over their plans and final figured out they hadn't put a toilet in the whole church. Clem said that mistake can be corrected, but he's worried about the one in a Philadelphia hospital the other day. He saw by the papers where two women had surgery and each got the other's operation. One had some good glands took out of her neck, and the other had her healthy back fixed, Clem said, which caused him to think maybe that feller that put a sign on his hospital bed saying "I am asleep. I am not a heart donor" knowed more than we thought.

Actual, Ed Doolittle allowed, most of what happens in this world is mistakes. Some feller tied his old lady's scarf around his sore throat and invented the necktie. A prince of England rolled up his pants legs to wade through a puddle. He fergot to roll em down and went to a party and sudden everbody's got to have cuffs. Ed said to many folks are willing to follow bad examples. He recalled the time President Coolidge had some folks by the White House fer supper. They allus had saucered and blowed their coffee, but they didn't know if it was proper. So they decided to do what the President done, Well, Silent Cal poured coffee in his saucer, so they did. Then he put sugar and cream in the saucered coffee, so they did. Then the President leaned over and put the saucer on the floor for his cat.

General speaking, Mister Editor, mistakes is luck turned sour. One inventor comes up with round light bread while in some greenhouse somebody is growing a square tomato. Another feller spends three year writing a book on car racing, and then he finds out that folks that foller car racing don't buy books, and nobody else is interested.

Yours truly,
 Uncle Lew.

The United States Jaycettes and Chelsea Jaycee Auxiliary this week presented Cindy Cheski of The Chelsea Standard with a certificate of appreciation and a bouquet of flowers.

Nan Rowe, publicity chairman for the local organization, commended Cindy for her "avid interest in every phase of our work, for fantastic coverage and for efforts way beyond the call of duty" on their behalf.

The Standard is well-known in other local chapters state-wide, Rowe said, because Chelsea's Jaycette chapter receives excellent co-operation and support from the paper. Publishers Mr. and Mrs. Walter Leonard, she continued, have always been supportive and interested in the Jaycees and their Auxiliary.

Local President Carol Smith and Secretary Nan Rowe presented Cindy with her certificate and flowers in The Standard office Monday afternoon.

Community Hospital Offers Weight Reduction Classes

Chelsea Community Hospital will once again offer a series of 10 weight reduction classes beginning the week of April 13. The classes have been expanded from eight to 10 weeks.

Topics to be covered include low-calorie cooking tips, exercise and weight reduction, shopping trips, eating out on a low-calorie diet, normal nutrition and information on fad diets. Particular emphasis will be given to assessing behavior modification techniques helpful to each person's weight reduction program.

The course will be taught by Julie Say, R.D., community nutritionist, and Pat Asp, director of dietary service.

Each registrant will receive a personalized diet, knowledge of using behavioral techniques useful in controlling weight, and increased knowledge of nutritional aspects of weight reduction.

Community members who attended the fall and winter series of classes enjoyed the subject matter presented and were also pleased with their success in weight loss. The average weight loss for each participant was one pound per week.

Physical Activity Is Effective Key To Weight Control

If you want to keep on eating and not gain weight, do more moving.

The key to weight maintenance is the relationship between how much oxygen you burn and how much heat your body produces, according to Dale Romsos, professor of food science and human nutrition at Michigan State University. There's not much you can do about changing your basal metabolism or your physical maintenance needs, he said, but there's something you can do about how active you are.

Addressing an overflow crowd of nutritionists, coaches and athletes on the MSU campus, Romsos opened a day-long program on nutrition and exercise during MSU's Farmers' Week, March 17-22.

"Our bodies have a very efficient mechanism for converting our energy intake into activity," Romsos said. In the average person, more than 99 percent of the energy we consume in food is converted and used.

Almost half of that energy is taken up by basal metabolism, just the business of converting food into protein and regulating the sodium/potassium balance in the cells. The next 30 percent is used for primary maintenance by the body; physical activity commands only the last 20 percent of energy taken in by most individuals, and this is the area where variation is possible.

"It's possible to divert a lot of energy directly into storage," Romsos pointed out, but that requires consuming far more energy than the body can use.

"You are always expending some energy," he commented.

"When you increase your physical activity—through tennis, for example—be sure to subtract the amount of energy you'd be burning during that hour anyway when you figure how many calories you've burned."

A balanced diet and balanced exercise allow the body to balance its energy equation. In most people, the equation is straightforward. The key is to burn what you consume.

Chelsea Hospital Nurses Attend Legal Secretaries To Meet Today Convention

Attending were Registered Nurses Pat Brooks, Ruth Hays, Sue Hower and Pat Thomas.

The six-day meeting included 40 educational sessions attended by approximately 6,000 nurses for continuing education. Scientific and technical exhibits by more than 260 companies presented innovative surgical methods and equipment used in operating rooms.

Douglas Edwards, CBS newscaster, was the keynote speaker. The closing address was presented by Peggy Anderson, author of "Nurse," a non-fiction portrayal of life as a nurse in a major urban hospital.

A professional specialty organization providing continuing education for operating room nurses, AORN has 23,485 members in this country and abroad.

Michigan State University is the only Midwest university and one of a few nation-wide offering a master's degree program to train teachers of severely emotionally impaired-autistic children.

Washtenaw County Legal Secretaries Association will hold its regular monthly meeting on Thursday, April 17 at Weber's Inn, Ann Arbor. Richard Kokochak, professional legal secretary and president of Hillstrom & Ross, a Detroit employment agency for legal secretaries, will be the speaker. His topic is "An Introduction to the Professional Legal Secretaries Program."

Installation of newly elected officers to serve the coming year will take place during the business meeting. Officers are: president, Kaye Lang, Hooper, Hathaway, Price, Beuche & Wallace; vice-president, Mary Polasky, Harris, Lax, Gregg & Guenzel; secretary, Carole Russell, Harris, Lax, Gregg & Guenzel; treasurer, Debby Van Matre, Wood & Fleming; governor, Donna Brown, Dykema, Gossett, Spencer, Goodnow & Trigg; and NALS representative, Valerie Cherry, University of Michigan Hospital Attorney Office.

Social hour begins at 5:30, dinner at 6:15 and speaker at 7:15. All interested legal secretaries and legal support personnel are invited to attend.

For further information or to make dinner reservations, call Donna Brown at 663-3366.

FIVE GENERATIONS: This five-generation picture was taken at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Carpenter and shows baby Dan Grainger with his mother, Mrs. Daniel Grainger of Howell, grandmother Mrs. Janet Spencer of Haslett, great-grandmother Mrs. William Dittmar and great-great-grandmother Mrs. John Carpenter, both of Chelsea. Another grandson and his son, Michael Spencer and Michael, II, of Howell, are not pictured. Mrs. Dittmar's daughter Joan of Wayne, and Joan's twin sister Judy Fridh of Ann Arbor, celebrated their 40th birthdays at the home of their grandparents, the Carpenters. The birthday cakes were made by their sister, Jean LaJoy of Canton, who also has twins.

New Books at McKune Library

The following are books recently received at McKune Memorial Library:

Creek Mary's Blood by Dee Brown. A beautifully wrought and ultimately tragic tale about four generations of American Indians' lives. Brown traces the life of one family, which over the stormy decades and through intermarriage, forged roots in the Creek, Cherokee and Sioux nations.

Stepping by Nancy Thayer. Stepping is a novel of stepmothering and stepping forward. It is a timely illustration of the resilience of human relationships. A compassionate and discerning exploration of the troubles and rewards of sexual, maternal and platonic love.

Quicksilver Lady by Barbara Whitehead. A romantic tale of love and deception wedged against the power and pageantry of Regency England.

The Marring Kind by Elizabeth Cadell. Vintage Cadell! With her unsurpassed ability to weave together romance, suspense and a cast of unforgettable characters. Two happily unmarried sisters meet a new and unexpected challenge: protecting the reputation of their widowed father.

Winter Journey by T. Alan Broughton. In Winter Journey we see Rome at its most vivid, through the eyes of a young person being dazzled by the city's beauty and history for the first time. Cary Mitchell, an accomplished pianist at 17, has come to live in Rome with his mother Nancy.

Ariel by Lawrence Block. Haunting as The Turn of the Screw, chilling as The Bad Seed, Ariel spins a complex web of demonic circumstances, with a fascinating, terrifying child at its center.

The Devil's Alternative by Frederick Forsyth. Utter control of complex materials, a plot line that arrows swift and true to the target, and surprises that come like pistol shots are ingredients in Forsyth's alchemical blend.

The Bleeding Heart by Marilyn French. A love story for adults, so powerful, so moving that it will speak to the hearts and minds of women and men everywhere.

Portraits by Cynthia Freeman. This is a story of an American dream, a tempestuous saga of an immigrant family's struggle to gain a foothold in America without letting go of their spiritual heritage, from New York to Cleveland to San Francisco and Los Angeles.

Hungry As The Sea by Wilber Smith. Sea rescue, supertankers built to minimum specifications, and the prospect of the greatest of all oil spills make this book a drama of courage in the face of cynicism and ecological disaster.

The Year of the French by Thomas Flanagan. The year is 1798, when a band of determined, romantic Irishmen rise up in County Mayo against their English rulers. Out of a minor historical episode, Flanagan has forged an epic.

The Chains by Gerald Green. We return to the Brooklyn of The Last Angry Man and To Brooklyn, With Love for this compelling story, a three generation saga of the Chain family, spanning the years 1910 to 1960.

Taxpayers Can Extend Their Filing Deadlines

Taxpayers who need extra time to file their income tax returns may request an automatic two-month extension by filing a Form 4868 with the Internal Revenue Service.

Form 4868 is the "Application for Automatic Extension of Time to File U. S. Individual Income Tax Return." The taxpayer must compute the tax expected to be owed for 1979. Any prepayments of tax from withholdings or estimated tax payments, etc., should be deducted from the tax. Payment of any balance due must be sent with Form 4868 to the IRS on or before the normal filing date.

Taxpayers who receive the extension cannot use the Form 1040A or have the IRS compute their tax bill. They must file a Form 1040 and the amount of estimated tax paid with the Form 4868 should be entered on the appropriate line of the Form 1040.

If the amount of tax paid with the Form 4868 does not cover the taxpayer's total liability, the taxpayer is required to pay interest on the remaining tax due. Further, if the unpaid tax is over 10 percent of the total tax bill, the law permits levy of additional penalties on the taxpayer, according to the IRS.

The Michigan Space Center at Jackson, includes among its exhibits, the Apollo 9 Command Module which carried astronauts David Scott, Rusty Schweickart and Michigan's James McDivitt, into space during its 1969 flight. It is one of only 14 existing in the world today, according to the Travel Bureau, Michigan Department of Commerce, Lansing.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:
I read the item concerning the school millage and the letter from the Spanish students with great interest.

I feel the defeat of the millage would be of great importance to the students because they would learn a lesson on how to economize which means to reduce waste and cut expenses.

As an example; I will quote a phrase from the Spanish student's letter, "In all literature classes if the books are not on hand (which they usually are not) students are required to buy them or again fall." If these books were placed in a certain area of the room; the students using them should be responsible to place them back to that area again when they are through with them. If these books are taken care of properly, then they can be reused for quite some time; which will be a savings to the taxpayer.

I am sure there are many other areas of waste of the taxpayer's money in the schools similar to that.

I have a suggestion. The students could make a school project finding ways to cut waste and reduce expenses. You would be surprised at the money that could be saved. You may save enough that you could have some of your extra-curricular activities. You would help control inflation; which is caused, in part, by excessive waste and unnecessary spending. You would gain pride in how economical you will run your school system; maybe even set it up as an example to the rest of the nation. The taxpayers would be proud of you by trying to do something to hold down expenses and everyone would benefit.

Think about it!
Joyce Eiseman,
A taxpayer.

To the Editor:
Due to a lack of advance ticket sales, the Chelsea Jaycees were recently required to cancel our annual Distinguished Service Award Banquet.

Both the chapter as a whole, and I as an individual, regret this was necessary. We all believe strongly that those people who give of themselves in a special way, an outstanding way, should be duly recognized at a banquet specifically intended for that purpose.

The other hope for such a banquet would be that it would provide an opportunity for communication and a pleasant, shared social experience between people from various service, religious, social groups as well as village representatives and interested individuals.

We continue to feel the way we do about the need for recognition of outstanding individual efforts made in, and on behalf of our community and its people. However, it seems that we must reconsider this banquet in its present form. There certainly are problems involved and we would be most interested in any specific advice concerning aspects of this project. Those who might consider responding may write: Chelsea Jaycees, P. O. Box 277, Chelsea 48118, or call Bob Meyer at 475-2796. What do you think?

Bob Meyer, President
Chelsea Jaycees.

Dear Editor:
About the first of March, the Jesus Christ Christian Club (JCCC) of Cassidy Lake Technical School put into motion a request to share Easter Joy with the boys from St. Louis School on Tuesday the 25th.

It took them no time at all to raise enough money to cater chicken from the A&W in Chelsea to feed all 38 persons involved in the happy occasion.

There were games, free throw basketball, pool and pinball bowling. Then, at the chapel in the basement, there were balloons, Easter bunnies, and all that wonderful food. Each boy who came to CLTS with Fr. Fortunato and Jann Youse, counselor, were given Easter baskets to take back with them.

Even more was still to come. Three boys won medals in the special sports event and, better still, all who participated won red, blue and green ribbons. There was singing by the JCCC and Mr. Cobb and an Easter egg hunt. We shared in prayer together, and all too soon it was time to say goodbye.

Others who took part in this joy were Mr. Tom Mann, treatment director of CLTS; Bob Warner, Bob Guinan, Dick Cobb, and Millie Warner, acting Catholic chaplain from St. Mary's church. Millie Warner.

The last piece of American soil held by the British was Drummond Island, located in upper Lake Huron, off the eastern coast of Michigan's Upper Peninsula. The island today is a popular resort area; attracting fishermen, hunters, snowmobilers and those who enjoy "getting away from it all," according to the Travel Bureau, Michigan Department of Commerce, Lansing.

AS THE CROW FLIES! This Spring Lake Dr. family is either exceptionally tall, or expected a few feet of snow this past winter. This splendid practical-joke of a mailbox is quite probably home to more than a few birds during the course of a year.

Cassidy Lake Escapee Turns Himself in

An escapee from Cassidy Lake Technical School was picked up by village police last Saturday evening, after the youth called police to turn himself in.

According to police reports, Donald Scott Combs, 18, placed a call to Chelsea police from the Cheker gas station about 11:15 p.m., asking that he be allowed to turn himself in.

Police held Combs in the Chelsea lock-up until Cassidy Lake officers came for him.

Security Guard Shot at O & S

A total of $3,000 has been offered as a reward for information leading to the arrest of two men who shot and wounded a Sanford Security guard last Tuesday at O & S Manufacturing Co., in Whitmore Lake.

Another $500 was added to the reward kitty over the week-end by the Comprehensive Security System of Ann Arbor. That money joins $1,000 each pledged by O & S Manufacturing and Sanford Security Service, and $500 donated by members of UAW Local 697.

The guard, Jack Trebilcox, 62, was wounded in the stomach at about 2:30 a.m. when five bullets tore through the glass of his guard post.

Pickets who saw the shooting told police that a red and white van carrying at least two men pulled up to Trebilcox's post in the tool and die shop. The witnesses said that they heard a number of shots and saw bullets shatter the glass the guard was standing behind.

A second security guard was standing next to Trebilcox when the shots were fired, but he was not hurt.

Workers at O & S began returning to work Monday, after ratification of a new agreement Friday. The strike lasted a month.

Trebilcox remains in good condition at University Hospital.

Anyone with information about the shooting may call the sheriff's confidential tip line at 973-7711.

ASK THE GOVERNOR

by William G. Millham

Question: Petitions are circulating in my community regarding a property tax relief plan. What is your stand on this issue?

Governor: I am deeply concerned about the property tax burden on Michigan taxpayers. Michigan has one of the largest property tax relief programs in the nation. Through a circuit breaker system, we have returned more than twice as much in property tax rebates to Michigan home owners as any other state. But there is still a need for some overall reduction in our property taxes.

Last week, I convened a meeting of legislative leaders and the representatives of the major business, labor and local government associations to open discussions about property tax relief proposals. Currently, there are eight proposals in the legislature and one proposal which is being advanced through petition drive.

Participants at the meeting have agreed to work together to develop a consensus proposal reflecting the concerns of all interested parties and the various tax relief plans which have already been proposed.

I am hopeful that the task force proposal will be simple and easy to understand. I also hope that the proposal will contribute to the progress of Michigan's tax system.

Michigan's tax system has been ranked as one of the two best in the nation in terms of equity and I believe we should continue this record.

One tax relief plan which I am studying and which I hope the task force also will review, calls for a flat reduction of property taxes to be made up through a slight increase in the sales tax. Candidly, I must say that I cannot support any plan which would reduce state revenues. The state is already cutting back and cannot afford a tax reduction at a time when people are in need of assistance to meet basic needs.

Question: Why is the state holding hearings on gasoline conservation plans?

Governor: The Energy Administration of the Michigan Department of Commerce is developing eight alternatives to the federal standby gasoline conservation plan. Under the federal Energy Emergency Conservation Act, states are given the option of drawing up plans to meet mandatory conservation goals which may be imposed by the federal government in a gasoline shortage.

I want to emphasize that I don't anticipate shortages this year, but it is important that we are prepared to implement conservation plans which have been tailored to meet the needs of the people of this state.

The first proposal in the state plan is voluntary gas rationing. Under this plan each driver would pledge to use no more than 2 gallons of gasoline per week. If every Michigan motorist kept this pledge, we could save an estimated 137 million gallons of gasoline a year, nearly 3 percent of the total amount we used in 1978.

Other proposals in the state plan are:

- strict enforcement of the 55 mile-per-hour speed limit;
- additional penalty points for speeding;
- reduction of the speed limit to 50 miles per hour;

- flex time for state employees who ride to work in a carpool or on mass transit;
- reduced work-related travel by state government employees;
- a mandatory sticker plan, with the choice of day left up to the household. Every car would be required to display a sticker naming the day it would not be on the road;

- restrictions on the use of state recreational facilities, with residents allowed to use only facilities located within their recreational region or within 50 miles of their home.

I urge all Michigan citizens to comment on these proposals during public hearings which will be held at the end of this month. The hearing schedule follows:

Traverse City: April 18; Holiday Inn, Nordic Room; 9 a.m., noon; 1:30, 3:30 p.m.
 Marquette: April 21; Northern Michigan University, Brelle Conference Room; 1:30, 4:30 p.m.; 7:30 p.m. until completion.

 Saginaw: April 23; Saginaw Valley State College, Doan Center; 1:30, 4:30 p.m.; 7:30 p.m. until completion.
 Detroit: April 24; City-County Building, 13th Floor Auditorium; 1:30, 4:30 p.m.; 7:30 p.m. until completion.
 Lansing: April 25; Law Building Auditorium; 9 a.m., noon; 1:30 p.m., 5 p.m.

Tuition Fee Residency Policy Changed at WCC

The residency policy, which determines tuition fees at Washtenaw Community College has been changed to enable more people to qualify as in-district students, announces Paulette Grotrian, admissions officer at the College.

Now an in-district student is considered "anyone who has resided in the Washtenaw Community College district for a minimum of 60, not 90, days immediately prior to first enrollment at the College," she explains.

She notes that in-district student fees may also be charged for "students who live outside the district but are employed full-time by an in-district company provided they have appropriate documentation of their employment, to be brought in at the time of registration, from the sponsoring company. This documentation must substantiate that the student has been employed full-time for at least 30 or more days immediately prior to enrollment," she adds.

Questions regarding the residency policy or about registration for spring and summer classes at the College should be directed to staff at (313) 973-3543.

Airlines Passengers Set Record

The number of passengers flying into and out of Michigan's commercial airports last year increased by 1,163,383, or 9.1 percent, the Michigan Department of Transportation (MDOT) reports.

The total of 13,968,654 boarding and deplaning passengers was a record high. Twelve of the 22 air carrier airports (those offering scheduled service) reported increases and 10 decreases.

Air cargo declined 11.1 percent to 189,739 tons, primarily reflecting a downturn in the auto industry and improved railroad freight service.

More choices in fares and schedules contributed to an 11.4 percent gain at Detroit Metro Airport, where passenger volumes totaled 10,681,457.

"This was part of a nation-wide trend at larger airports as a result of the Airline Deregulation Act of 1978," said MDOT Director John P. Woodford.

"However," he said, "the federal legislation has produced some adverse effects across the country, as well as in Michigan. United Airlines has pulled out of Muskegon and has announced service cutbacks at five other cities.

"Our department and the Michigan Aeronautics Commission are working with federal, state and local officials to seek adequate replacement service at the affected airports.

"We also are developing ways to monitor all airline activities in Michigan to minimize future service interruptions."

Nature Center Offers Spring Programs

Spring is just around the corner. Upcoming warm sunny days will make this the perfect season to enjoy an outdoor experience. Nature offers many sights and sounds to springtime visitors.

Woodlands, snow covered and quiet during the winter months, become filled with the sounds of birds and other creatures. Buds pop open to reveal tiny leaflets beginning a new season of growth. Wildflowers carpet the forest floor in the colored blossoms of spring.

In April and May the Waterloo Nature Center is emphasizing spring experiences. Special group programs have been developed to enhance the discovery and enjoyment of the natural world during the spring season. Programs offered are as follows:

Life In A Bog—The story of the formation and succession of Michigan's inland lakes. Your group will walk to the floating bog to see insect eating plants and orchids in season. Recommended for 9-year-olds to adults.

Michigan Birds—Adaptations, nesting habits, and migration patterns of common birds are covered in this program. Binoculars are provided on a field trip to discover what birds can be seen on the trails around the nature center. Recommended for 8-year-olds to adults.

Spring Frogs—See and touch the spring frogs commonly found in woodland ponds and roadside ditches. You will learn the life cycle of the frog, and learn to recognize some of the common frogs by their voices. This program includes a field trip to the spring pond to listen to the frogs sing. Offered in April only. Recommended for 4- to 8-year-olds.

Life In A Spring Pond—During the collection trip to the spring pond you will learn some ecology, identification, and life cycles of plants and animals seen along the way. Water collected, will be examined closer to reveal the tiny creatures of the pond that are often overlooked. Recommended for 9-year-olds to adults.

Michigan Geology—You will learn about rocks and minerals found in Michigan and how they are used in everyday life. Walking the geology trail you will learn about the formation of rocks commonly found in the glacial debris of southern Michigan. Recommended for 9- to 12-year-olds.

Fair Board Issues Lamb Club Rules

Rules for the Lamb Club for this year's Chelsea Community Fair have been formulated and approved for those who wish to show lambs at the fair.

The rules read as follows: The Chelsea Lamb Club will be governed by the board of directors (composed of four persons) appointed by the Chelsea Fair Board.

This club will be open to all youths of the combined Chelsea-Dexter School Districts. The age limit will be 18 years or high school graduate, whichever comes first.

All lambs should be in the youth's possession by the third week in May, when there will be an announced weigh-in at the Chelsea Fairgrounds. Only wether and ewe lambs are eligible.

Lambs will be tagged at weigh-in and must have tags on when entering the fair and sale.

Each member may weigh in four lambs, but may only show and sell two lambs.

No lambs are to be entered or sold if they have been sold at previous shows or fat auctions.

No lambs will be sold at the auction if they weigh less than 80 pounds or more than 140 pounds.

No lamb will be sold at the auction if it is not judged market quality by the judge.

An inspection may be made by the lamb club board of directors at least two weeks before the fair.

Lambs must be shorn within one month (four weeks) before the fair.

Weigh-in at the fair will take place at 7:30 p.m. on Tuesday evening. Lambs will come off feed at 1 p.m. Tuesday afternoon until they are weighed. There must be a family representative at the weigh-in or the lamb will not be weighed. Any problem with attendance must be cleared with the sheep superintendent.

All sales are final and no trading or resale will take place on the grounds. Lambs must leave the grounds for their designated destinations.

Questions on the rules may be directed to Richard Bareis, 475-2202.

Puerto Rico Halts Egg Imports

The importation of eggs into Puerto Rico has been halted. It was recently announced by the Puerto Rican Department of Agriculture that importers were bringing eggs into the country without the necessary permits, consequently no further imports would be allowed after March 10. Opinions differ as to whether permits are being requested or not. Meanwhile, U. S. producers with eggs prepared for export are in an uncomfortable position. It is estimated the U. S. exports at average of 15,000 cases per week to Puerto Rico.

Bob Ufer To Be Roasted At Benefit for Handicapped

The Ann Arbor Civitan Club will be "roasting" Bob Ufer, the radio voice of the U. of M. Wolverines, at the Civitan Big Heart Award dinner at 6:30 p.m. Thursday, April 24, at Roma Hall in Ann Arbor.

The Civitan Club has invited many well-known personalities to apply the "heat and help" recognize Ufer for his outstanding contributions to the University of Michigan and the Ann Arbor community including: Al Ackerman, Monte Clark, Howard Cossell, Dave Diles, Bill Fleming, Frank Gifford, Tom Harmon, Woody Hayes, Alex Karas, Ron Kramer, Rick Leach, Rob Lytle, Don Meredith, Bo Schembechler, and Chris Schenkel.

While the club expects that not all of these celebrities will be able to attend because of scheduling difficulties, they are anticipating that an impressive number will be at the head table.

All of the profits from the event will go to Special Olympics, a program of sports training and athletic competition for mentally impaired and physically handicapped children and adults and other Civitan charities.

Ufer has been the radio voice of the U. of M. Wolverine football team for 37 years over a network of stations. Because his broadcasts are so slanted in favor of Michigan, his fans and detractors are legion — which should make for an exciting evening. Ufer graduated from Michigan in 1943 after setting eight all-time U-M track records, including the world quarter-mile record which stood for five years and was a Michigan varsity record for 32 years. He was named to the All American track team in 1943 and 1944.

Individual tickets are priced at $125, $75 and $50 each. $125 ticket holders receive front table seating and are entitled to attend a free cocktail reception with the

No Potato Diversion Program

Agriculture Secretary Bob Bergland has decided against a program to divert fall 1979 potatoes to livestock feed use, according to USDA officials.

Potato prices have been sharply depressed this year in all parts of the country. The 1978 fall crop of potatoes was diverted to livestock feed, partially to boost prices.

celebrities. Additionally, a limited number of front tables will be reserved for corporate sponsorship at $1,000 per table. These sponsors will receive eight $125 tickets which includes the celebrity cocktail reception and special recognition in the program.

Tickets may be purchased from Richard Fletcher, ticket chairman, at Fletcher & Associates Real Estate, 2074 S. Main St., Ann Arbor. For information, call (313) 769-0062.

4-H HONOR: Nancy Feldkamp of Manchester was honored for 20 years of service to the Michigan 4-H Youth Program March 2, at a 4-H conference held at Michigan State University. One of 23 volunteer leaders recognized state-wide, Feldkamp received the 20-year Diamond Clover from Mike Tate, associate director of the 4-H Youth Program. She served on the county 4-H council for two terms and on the county's 4-H personal appearance committee for one term.

DON'T UNDERESTIMATE BUYER
I'm sure you've heard it said: "Why should I sell my house through a Realtor? I can sell it myself and pocket the commission. Right? . . . Wrong! This kind of thinking can easily turn out to be financial folly.
Never underestimate the hard financial bargaining ability of the average buyer. Spend one day in the field with any Realtor, negotiating and handling offers and counter-offers and you'll appreciate what I'm saying. Frankly, if the typical buyer knows you are not selling through a Realtor, right off the bat he'll expect you to deduct the commission for HIS benefit before you even START serious negotiations.
Then you're on your own, possibly at a great disadvantage, in the intricate areas of financing, negotiating, and protecting yourself from all sorts of do-it-yourself pitfalls. You've got a lot invested in your home. It makes sense to list it with a Realtor. He'll sell it for you—without hitches, for the best price and in the shortest amount of time.
If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at FRISINGER REALTY CO., 935 S. Main St., Chelsea. Phone: 475-8681; evenings 475-2621. We're here to help!

Instructs about religion that costs. Jesus taught that a person should consider the cost of being his disciple before making the final decision. Luke 14:28-30 records this parable of Christ: "For which of you intending to build a tower, sitteth not down first, and counteth the cost, whether we have sufficient to finish it? Lest haply, after he hath laid the foundation, and is not able to finish it, all that behold began to mock him, saying, this man began to build, and was not able to finish." The moral of the story is don't commit yourself to a thing until you have investigated and realize all that is involved in it. Jesus demands our ALL. He said, "But seek ye first the kingdom of God, and his righteousness . . ." (Matthew 6:33). He also said, "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind. This is the first and great commandment." (Matthew 22:37, 38). "He that loveth father or mother more than me is not worthy of me . . ." (Matthew 10:37). God wants your time (Ephesians 5:16); your money (1 Corinthians 16:1, 2); your talent (Matthew 25:14-30); your body (Romans 12:1, 2). The Christianity we read about in the Bible really costs. Think! It cost the Father's "only begotten Son." And Jesus his precious life. (John 3:16).

Legislative Update

A Weekly Report from State Rep. Mary Keith Ballantine State Capitol, Lansing 48909 Phone (517) 373-1775

Week of April 7-14

CREDIT LINE — Pending legislative approval of a bill to raise fishing license fees, the DNR has again extended the validity of 1979 fishing licenses which were supposed to expire December 31. New fees will be 20 percent or more higher.

PROPERTY TAX REFORM — A proposed constitutional amendment that would slash Michigan property taxes by more than $1.3 billion was unveiled last week. The plan would partially replace lost revenues by increasing the sales tax to 5.5 percent.

CPR CLASSES — The House has approved HB 4349, which would require the teaching of cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR) in Michigan high schools. This life-saving technique would be taught by volunteers or by personnel already employed.

SEX EDUCATION — A recent survey by the Department of Public Health has shown that nearly half of Michigan's 570 school districts are implementing the 1977 law which permits instruction on birth control in public schools. Prior to 1977, Michigan was the only state which specifically prohibited the teaching of birth control in schools.

MORE PARTIES? — An effort has begun in the legislature to repeal a 1976 law which complicates the procedure by which minor parties can get on the November ballot in Michigan. Previously, a certain number of signatures were necessary; but now minor parties must also get qualifying votes in the August primary. As a result, in 1978 only three parties were on the ballot.

MOUNTAIN HIGH — Michigan State University is offering three natural science courses in the Canadian Rockies this summer, studying geology, ecology and the environment while hiking and camping. Participation is very limited; deadline for applying is April 25. Write Overseas Studies, 108 International Center, East Lansing 48824, or call 517/353-8920.

LEGITIMATE ISSUE — Governor Milliken has signed into law HB 4389, which allows courts to require support payments from the biological fathers of illegitimate children born to married women. It is estimated this will save up to $500,000 a year in ADC payments.

BUSINESS LINE — The Commerce Dept. reports that its Small Business Hot Line (800-292-9544) received more than 4,000 calls during fiscal 1979, with questions on requirements for going into business and also on financial incentives and financing for small businesses.

DOLLAR DIFFERENCE — According to the U. S. Census Bureau, the average American working woman in the late 1970's was still only earning about 60 percent of the amount paid to the average working man. The decennial Census taken last week will help provide current figures.

The federal minimum wage increased to $3.10 an hour Jan. 1. More than 5 million of the 57 million workers covered by the Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA) became eligible for pay increases because of the change. The act is administered by the U. S. Department of Labor.

Baseball

As one of the innovations that he has planned for this year's squad, Welton said there will be no team captains this year, but that the captain positions will be decided from week to week on the basis of performance and leadership.

New strategies are being developed to cope with bunt situations and promote aggressiveness in baserunning and at the plate. Fans coming out to the games, Welton said, should see a different and exciting brand of baseball.

The team has developed a number of goals they'll try to meet each game, including limiting errors, stealing four bases per game, executing one double play, leaving no more than five on base and striking out no more than three times.

Knickerbocker and Peterson will be crucial to the meeting of such goals, Welton pointed out. "They are very versatile. They can play anywhere and they'll be asked to."

Brighton, Chelsea's first opponent, has already begun its season and last week thoroughly trounced Fowlerville in two games. The only Class A school the Bulldogs will play this year, Brighton is known for a very tough, good program.

With the help of a new $1,200 batting cage from the Athletic Boosters and a lot of enthusiasm, Welton and the Bulldogs feel ready to make a run for the league crown.

looking forward to a police presence at the garage, in view of increased thefts from buses in a number of area school districts.

The proposal to use the bus facility as a substation came from Sheriff Minick earlier in the year. Minick expressed his hope that the location would afford better protection for the western part of the county while allowing the department to conserve gasoline.

The Disaster Unemployment Assistance Program provides financial help to employees and self-employed persons who lose their regular jobs, or have them interrupted, as a result of tornadoes, hurricanes, earthquakes, snowstorms, droughts, fires, explosions or other disasters, according to the U. S. Department of Labor.

FCIC Crop Insurance Coverage Increased

District Director Harlan Stull announces that the USDA's Federal Crop Insurance Corp. (FCIC) "all-risk" protection has increased the maximum dollar amount of coverage available by roughly 30 percent over a year ago for Washtenaw county corn growers, and 40 percent more dollar amount of coverage for soybeans in addition to insuring both row and drilled soybeans.

Rising production costs are causing many farmers who haven't carried any insurance in the past to protect at least part of their crop investment.

This year farmers will spend a record amount of money for higher fuel, fertilizer, machinery and land costs. FCIC will protect this investment, from planting through normal harvest.

FCIC offers a choice of yield guarantees and three levels of indemnity payments. Farmers may select at the time they take out a policy how much money they want to be paid for each bushel that the crop falls short of the yield guarantee. Corn may be insured for $1.70, $2 or $2.25 a bushel. Soybeans may be insured for $3.50, $4.50 or $6 a bushel.

The decision as to yield guarantee will hinge on how much of your crop you figure you can afford to lose without having insurance coverage. "It's essentially like deciding how large a deductible to select when you buy collision on a car or truck," says Stull.

Deciding what indemnity price to select is a matter of determining what the costs of production are and to what extent farmers want to insure themselves against a loss. You may want to insure every dollar you've invested in your crop or you may want to cover, only your out of pocket expenses for seed, fertilizer or chemicals.

Premium rates vary depending upon the level of guarantee and the dollar per bushel. A representative can tell you the exact cost for the amount of insurance you want to carry in the area where you farm. The less protection you choose, the lower the cost. Some pencil pushing is also useful here. The annual premium for crop insurance is fully tax deductible as a farm business expense. Secondly after one year without a crop loss you will qualify for a 5 percent premium discount and after additional good crop years, the discount can increase to as much as 50 percent.

The combination of tax deductions and premium discounts can sharply reduce the net cost of carrying insurance.

Unlike most other farming expenses, the cost of FCIC does not have to be paid in advance. The premium is due at about the time of harvest, there is no interest or other charge for this delayed payment feature.

While the direct payoff from having insurance comes when you have a loss, Stull suggests a number of ways in which all-risk insurance can yield financial benefits, at least indirectly, even during good crop year.

One such benefit is the help insurance can provide in obtaining credit. With record high interest rates and many lenders having to ration their loan funds, an insurance policy on your crop guarantees the lender that you have a source of income for repayment even if you should lose your crop. If you wish, the FCIC policy can actually be pledged as a loan collateral.

Another benefit is the flexibility insurance provides to hedge or forward contract a portion of your crop at an attractive price prior to harvest. The insurance policy minimizes the risk normally associated with contracting to deliver a crop that you haven't yet harvested. In the event of crop failure the insurance money provides a source of funds to satisfy your delivery commitments.

An important policy provision is the automatic extension of coverage. In order to assure that your protection will be continuous even in years when unfavorable conditions result in no new policies being written in your area, the policy is automatically extended from one year to the next. If you do not wish to continue the insurance, you must cancel in writing by a specified date.

You may apply for insurance on your 1980 corn and soybeans now and report your actual acres after planting. For additional information about all-risk insurance, including details of the coverage that is available to you and what it would cost, write: Federal Crop Insurance Corp., 1123 W. Chicago Rd., Coldwater, 49036 or telephone 517-279-8472.

Twister Hits Area

According to Collins, the tornado watch (meaning conditions are right for tornados to form) which had been issued at about 3:20 p.m. was changed to a warning (tornados have been sighted) at 5:34 p.m. and cancelled at about 6:15.

The warning system whereby citizens are alerted to the possibilities and presence of tornado funnels is a function of the county, working through local police and fire departments and the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department.

Daniel Harsh, a local resident who lives on Dexter-Chelsea Rd., is with the county Office of Emergency Preparedness, which deals with weather emergencies as well as man-made disasters.

According to Harsh, a tornado sighting is not reported to local agencies until it is confirmed by spotters from a public safety unit. The police or fire department nearest to the sighting area is requested to make such a confirmation.

Once that is accomplished, Harsh said, his office takes action to start a full-scale fan-out, notifying all agencies in the county.

An area broadcast is made on the sheriff's department dispatch, as well as a tone signal and warning on a quick call system from the sheriff's department to those having monitors to receive the signal.

Harsh said that while the information seems to have been getting out quickly, the equipment is quite old, some of it from the early 1950's.

He said that he will be asking for another 20 monitor receivers

Tornado Deaths Can Be Reduced by Observing Few Basic Safety Rules

In Michigan, the months of April, May and June form the prime season for the occurrence of tornadoes. Because of its location on the fringe of what is known as "tornado alley," this state is particularly prone to tornadoes of a devastating nature.

Compared to other states in recent years, Michigan has the third highest average number of tornado deaths per year, with a total of 227 persons killed since 1950.

As frightening as those statistics may sound, basic information about the storms and attention to their warning signals often may prevent loss of life, if not damage to property.

A tornado is defined as a column of violently rotating winds extending down from a thunderstorm-like cloud and touching the ground. They usually approach from the southwest at speeds between 20 and 45 miles per hour. Those developing from storms early in the season have a tendency to be the most intense.

The average tornado is on the ground less than 10 minutes and travels a distance of about five miles. The greatest frequency of tornadoes occurs during temperatures between 70 and 75 degrees with high relative humidities.

They happen at anytime of the day or night, but most are seen in the late afternoon and evening hours, usually between 3 and 7 p.m.

An approaching tornado is characterized by heavy rain, thunder and ominous dark masses of clouds from which hangs the funnel-shaped tornado cloud. As the storm moves along, the end of this funnel may touch down, and then touch again a mile or so on.

Although tornado conditions can be predicted with great accuracy and predictions are broadcast, they are for specified areas and times. Because tornado paths and times cannot be pinpointed, however, some people may ignore warnings and a number of lives are needlessly lost.

The National Weather Service issues severe weather warnings to the public over radio and TV stations. Local stations will broadcast the latest severe weather warnings and other weather information. Local government advice and instructions will also be issued over these stations.

A tornado watch means tornadoes are expected to develop. When a watch is announced, the following precautions should be taken:

- keep a radio or television on and listen to the latest warnings and advisories. If power fails, use portable battery radio or car radio.

- keep watching the sky, especially to the south and southwest. Generally this is the direction of approach, but tornadoes have been spotted approaching from the opposite direction.

A tornado warning means that a tornado has actually been sighted or indicated on radar. When a warning is announced, the following steps should be taken:

- the best protection is an underground shelter or cave, or a substantial, steel-framed or reinforced concrete building.

- if a home has no basement, residents should take cover under heavy furniture on the ground floor, away from walls and windows.

- as a last resort, go outside to a nearby ditch, excavation, culvert or ravine.

- do not remain in a trailer or mobile home. Take cover elsewhere.

- doors and windows on the side of the house away from the tornado may be left open to help reduce damage to the building if time permits, but stay away from them to avoid flying debris.

- if outside in open country, drive away from the tornado's path at a right angle to it. If there is not time to do this, or if walking, take cover and lie flat in the nearest depression, such as a ditch or culvert.

- if time permits, shut off electricity and fuel lines. (If using natural gas, check with the gas company before re-ignition.)

Schools are generally considered good protection if of good steel reinforced construction. Children should stay away from windows and remain near an inside wall. Auditoriums and gymnasiums, which have large, poor-

Art, Life Science Fair Scheduled

Biology and art classes at Chelsea High school have been busy preparing projects for display at the annual Art and Life Science Fair, to be held Wednesday evening, April 16 from 7 to 9 p.m.

Exhibits will also be on display for high school students all day Thursday, April 17.

Science projects cover such topics as embryology, bacteriology, genetics, microscopic life, plant and animal life, human body diseases, nutrition, DNA, food additives, cancer and behavior. There will be mazes, terrariums, computers, models, posters and charts to view in the media center.

In addition, the art department will display drawings and paintings in a variety of media, such as still life, fantasy sculpture and the like. Ceramics students will feature hand-built and wheel-thrown projects. Ceramic castles, utilitarian objects and humorous sculptures will all be on display.

Several students currently on Independent Studies Projects will exhibit their water colors, acrylic paintings and soft sculptures and clay work.

Students of both the science and art classes are hoping for a large turnout to view their work. (Continued on page 16)

VFW Plans 35th Anniversary Party

A 35th anniversary dinner for the local VFW Post No. 4076 and auxiliary has been planned for April 19 at the local UAW 437 Hall on Main St.

Members and guests are invited to help with this joint venture of the post and auxiliary. Chairman for all reservations is Mrs. M. Packard.

The local VFW Post was founded in the spring of 1945 and mustered in on April 20, while many local servicemen were still overseas with various units in World War II. A group of Legion men and returning vets formed the Post.

Charles Ritter was elected as the first commander for the 77 recruits on the charter. There have been 21 commanders in the past 35 years, some serving more than two terms. Only three of those 21 have died, with the remainder living in the Chelsea area.

The first few years found the group meeting in various halls in homes until six years ago, when they obtained the present Post Home at 105 N. Main St. The Post has 57 paid life members, which has entitled it to a perpetual charter. Present membership is 147, with nine continuous members for 35 years.

Chelsea Post was one of the first members of the Washtenaw County Council of Veterans.

Main objective of the VFW is "To honor the dead by helping the living." Together with the women's auxiliary, the post has been heavily involved in community services, such as parade participation; presenting American flags to schools, scouts and public buildings; purchasing pic-

School Psychologists In Short Supply

There is a critical shortage of school psychologists in out-state Michigan because fewer university students have been enrolling in this field, says a professor of educational psychology at Michigan State University.
Dr. Harvey Clarizio reports that MSU's College of Education would like to see more persons consider school psychology as a career. Placement opportunities for either bachelor's or master's level graduates are excellent, he notes.
The work of a school psychologist is largely diagnostic work with children, both normal and exceptional, and consultation work with teachers.
Potential students should contact Dr. Clarizio, Department of Counseling and Educational Psychology, College of Education, Michigan State University, East Lansing 48824.

Tax Relief Group Names Committee

At its first meeting last week, the steering committee of Citizens for Tax Relief voted unanimously to support the Tisch Tax Amendment, and to form a committee to attend the county commissioners meetings on a regular basis.

Creed of the steering committee is "To attack wasteful government spending at all levels; village, the schools, township, and especially the county and the state," and to reduce taxation.

Edward Buszka and Lloyd Mull have volunteered to represent Scio township. Committees to study the Farmland and Open Space Act, the Saline River-Mill Creek Study, and private forest reserves were also formed. Citizens for Tax Relief will be working closely with the newly formed Chelsea Tisch Coalition. The next meeting of the steering committee will take place Wednesday, May 7 at 8 p.m. at the Webster township hall. The public is welcome. Those wishing to volunteer to help circulate petitions may call Alicia Pratt at 426-4020.

CAR VS TRAIN: This car emerged as the clear loser after an encounter with a speeding freight train early Sunday morning. No one was injured in the crash, which occurred when a car bearing three women failed to make the sharp corner at Madison and Jackson Sts. and shot up the bank onto the train tracks. Efforts to push the car off the tracks failed, and it was struck by the train at about 2:25 a.m.

Tornado Safety

ly supported roofs, should be avoided.

In factories and industrial plants, when possible, shut off electrical circuits and fuel lines if the funnel approaches the plant. Workers should be moved to sections offering the best protection, as determined by previous planning.

In shopping areas, shoppers should go to a designated shelter area, and not to parked cars. Office building workers should go to an interior hallway on the lowest floor or to a designated shelter area.

Some type of community warning or siren system, such as the siren in Chelsea, is important, since it may be as long as seven minutes after a tornado has touched down before the message is relayed on television or radio.

Preparing for a tornado is important, but knowing what to do after one hits is equally crucial.

Buildings are likely to have been damaged or weakened by the high winds and people should use extreme caution before entering them. Lanterns, torches or cigarettes should not be taken into damaged buildings, in case of leaking gas or flammable material.

Avoid fallen electrical wires as they may still be dangerous.

Check for leaking gas pipes in homes by smell, not by using a match or candle. If gas is present, open all windows and doors, turn off the main valve at the meter, leave the house and call the local gas company, police or fire department. Do not re-enter the house until told it is safe to do so.

If any electrical appliances are wet, make sure you are dry and not standing in water, then turn off the main power switch, unplug the appliance, dry it out, reconnect it, then turn the main power back on.

Stay away from disaster areas. Sightseeing could interfere with first aid and rescue work, and could be dangerous as well.

Finally, keep tuned to radio and TV stations for advice and instructions on where to go for medical aid, emergency housing, clothing and food assistance, and ways to help the community recover from the emergency.

People should remember that since severe weather can strike unexpectedly, it is impossible for warnings to be issued before each storm strikes. Individuals and communities should always be prepared to warn themselves.

Artrain Will Visit 12 Michigan Communities

Michigan—get ready! The Michigan Artrain will be making tracks to a dozen communities state-wide from April through July. The "museum on wheels" was designed to bring the fine arts and a better understanding of them to the people—but, it's a far cry from a traditional museum. A snazzy 415 feet long, the train includes three gallery cars, a generator car, studio car with "art in progress," and a turn of the century caboose bringing up the rear.

On Artrain '80, you can get acquainted with the works of such masters as Picasso, Matisse and Chagall. Browse a photo documentation of major Michigan public sculptures, including Nevelson and Calder pieces, and, a post-World War II exhibit gathered from Michigan museums and private collections.

One of Artrain's most popular features is the studio car. It's equipped with work areas, potter's wheel, kiln and more to accommodate resident artists who travel with the train, demonstrating and chatting with visitors about their work. Local artists are also invited to participate. Artists in residence may range from potters and painters to taxidermists and violin makers. Local committees have devoted a considerable number of hours getting ready for the train's arrival. At most stops, art fairs and other special activities have been planned in conjunction with Artrain.

The Artrain is the only museum of its kind. Its exhibits and displays encompass all mediums of art, cultures and periods of history to present the broadest and most exciting art experience on wheels.

There is no admission charge, and more than two million visitors have enjoyed this unique approach to getting people together with the art and artists of the past and the future. Since its opening in 1971, Artrain has visited more than 100 Michigan communities, and been on national tour to 19 states in the Rocky Mountain, Upper Midwest and Southeast regions. Plans are now underway for another out-of-state tour in 1981.

— But this year you can catch the train at home, in Michigan at: Albion, April 5-11; Tecumseh, April 16-21; Fenton, April 26-May 1; Bangor, May 7-11; Grandville, May 14-19; Reed City, May 23-28; Alpena, June 3-8; Boyne City, June 12-16; Ludington, June 20-25; Norton Shores, June 29-July 6; Detroit, July 12-20; Mackinaw City, July 25-29.

Spring Run Slated

Washtenaw County Parks and Recreation Commission is sponsoring a "Spring Run" on Saturday, April 12. The run will be approximately 7.4 miles of hilly terrain and meandering roadways.

Trophies will be awarded for 1st, 2nd, and 3rd place finishers in each age division. There will be a $5 registration fee which includes a shirt.

For applications and further information contact the Parks and Recreation office at 973-2595.

Mechanic Certification Tests Slated

All Michigan motor vehicle mechanics who want to take June 1980 state certification tests must apply by April 30, Secretary of State Richard H. Austin announced today.

The tests will be given June 7, June 14, June 21, and June 28 at 26 state-wide locations.

According to Austin, Michigan's Motor Vehicle Service and Repair Act now requires every repair garage to employ at least one state-certified mechanic in the categories of major repair offered by the garage. Effective Jan. 1, 1981, however, the certification requirement applies to all mechanics doing major repair work.

"These June tests," Austin said, "are an opportunity for mechanics to take the first step toward getting certified."

Mechanics wishing to take the exams may obtain applications from the Michigan Department of State, Bureau of Automotive Regulation, Lansing 48918. Applications are also available at all Department of State branch offices throughout Michigan and at most Michigan Employment Security Commission offices. Further information may be obtained by calling 517-373-9064, in Lansing.

Emery Air Freight Expands Local Service

The cost of shipping by air has gone down for businesses in Adrian, Chelsea, Clinton and Tecumseh because of a service expansion by Emery Air Freight.

John McAllister, regional Emery sales manager, explained that pick-up-and-delivery services in the four affected cities will now be handled directly by Emery Air Freight. The move eliminates the need for a second carrier and shaves $7 to $22 off the cost of a normal air shipment.

"Along with reducing the cost of air shipments, this service expansion allows customers to now enjoy the reliability of using a single carrier from door-to-door," McAllister explained.

Emery Air Freight is the nation's largest air cargo company. Emery Express, part of the air freight network, provides next morning delivery by 11 a.m. of packages being shipped out to 110 metropolitan areas in the U.S. and Canada.

More than 350,000 persons who lost their jobs because of major disasters have received a total of $97 million in special unemployment benefits since the Disaster Unemployment Assistance program of the U. S. Department of Labor began 10 years ago.

The Ladies Auxiliary has 12 continuous members. The group was formed in July 1945, with Mrs. Magdalen Weber the first president. The auxiliary has had 17 presidents in all.

The unit belongs to the 6th District, which consists of 30 posts and 28 auxiliaries. Both Mac Packard and the late Ren Hutzler have been District 6 Commanders.

Membership in the VFW is based on the veteran's service record in time of peace and war, with overseas duty a mandatory requirement.

A banquet, program and dance will be on the agenda for the April 19 anniversary celebration.

Floating Bog Walk Offered Visitors At Nature Center

Quaking ground, insect-eating plants, and rare and beautiful orchids are some of the fascinating things that may be seen and experienced in a bog. A walk into a bog is a walk back through time. Twelve thousand years ago Michigan and much of the northern hemisphere was covered by a huge sheet of ice. Moving like a large bulldozer, the glacier gouged and scoured the land. As the ice retreated, sand, gravel, and rocks being carried along by the glacier were left behind. Huge ice blocks separated from the main glacier, and were buried in the glacial debris. They melted to form kettle hole lakes.

As soon as the lakes formed, the forces of nature began filling them in. Some of these lakes are surrounded by floating mats of vegetation which are slowly covering them over. The quaking action of the bog mat is a reminder of the water below. Some of the floating mats are thin and can be hazardous. However, the Waterloo Nature Center has built a floating walkway over part of the Cedar Lake Bog. The bog trail and walkway are not available to the public unless accompanied by a park naturalist.

At 1:30 and 3:30 on Sundays, April 20 through June 8, naturalist conducted tours will be offered at the center. The tours will begin at the nature center building and will last about 90 minutes. There is no charge for these programs. However, because the Waterloo Nature Center is a state park facility, all vehicles entering the area must have a state park motor vehicle permit. These are available at the reception desk.

The Waterloo Recreation Area is located just north of I-94, midway between Jackson and Ann Arbor. Nature Center visitors take I-94 to exit 156, turn north and follow the park signs. Visitors are asked to leave their pets home.

WEEDS AND TALL GRASS, left untouched for years in Porter Cemetery, will be cleared away by interested residents in an all-out effort to cleanse the Sager and Fletcher Rd.

graveyard. Those interested in helping should come to the cemetery this Saturday, April 12 at 9 a.m. Pick-up trucks are also needed.

FOUNDED IN 1834, Porter Cemetery houses gravestones that reflect almost 125 years of Lima township history. A volunteer clean-up effort this Saturday will attempt to return the cemetery at the corner of Sager and Fletcher Rds. to its former manicured appearance and shed some light on the rich history of the Lima Center area.

Early History Abounds in Porter Cemetery Graves

Local residents who plan on participating in the Porter Cemetery clean-up this Saturday morning, April 12, will be treading among a wealth of local history as they clear away the brambles and thistles from among the gravestones.

Sixty-one stones in the overgrown graveyard can still be read, affording present-day residents a chance to compare names to those who still inhabit this area.

Earliest burial in the yard occurred in July 1834 and laid to rest one Ira Danielson, age 13, the son of a Baptist minister, Elder Benjamin Danielson. The most recent gravestone bears the name of Raymond Kyte, who was buried in November 1958.

Of the 60 or so people who were interred at Porter Cemetery in between, local historian Harold Jones finds none as interesting as the Cushman family, headed by Consider Cushman.

According to the History of Washtenaw County, Consider was a farmer in Lima township whose family had migrated here from New York state in 1839. He married Charlotte Smith, who had come here in 1836 with her family who were Welsh natives of Pennsylvania and New Jersey.

The most interesting part of the Cushman family goes back to England, however, and rests with Robert Cushman, who was nearly one of the very first pilgrims to reach America.

Robert, Consider's great-great-grandfather, sailed behind the Mayflower on the ship Speedwell, but returned to England when the ship was forced to turn back. He did come to the new world, however, on the ship Freedom in 1621, and has the distinction of being the author of the very first sermon ever printed in the new world.

The record is silent on how the Cushmans traveled from Massachusetts to New York and then to Lima township, but it does afford some details on local resident Consider, saying that he "came to the city a poor man, but toiled and struggled to gain ascendancy over poverty." Consider was buried in Porter Cemetery in 1891.

Common, ordinary people abound in the Porter Cemetery, as in most graveyards, but Porter also has a memorial to a U.S. Congressman who drowned himself in the ocean by jumping off a steamer ship, purportedly after losing an election.

William Wedemeyer, who died in 1913, is not actually buried in Porter, but a memorial stone was erected here for him in his home town.

According to The Chelsea Tribune of Jan. 7, 1913, William W. Wedemeyer, representative of the second congressional district of Michigan, jumped from the steamer Panama enroute from Colon to New York on Jan. 2, 1913.

Wedemeyer was a native of Lima township, attending school here until age 14 and then graduating from Ann Arbor high school in 1890.

His political career had begun in 1896, a year after his graduation from the University of Michigan Law School, when he became chairman of the Republican county committee. He was elected to congress in the fall of 1910, but was defeated for re-election in the fall of 1912, a fact that may have been linked to his suicide.

It was also reported, however, that a few days before making the journey, Wedemeyer had fallen and struck his head on an icy sidewalk.

Wedemeyer had developed what The Tribune called a "suicidal mania" while traveling to Panama from New York to inspect the canal, and attempted to cast himself into the sea. On Jan. 2, he managed to elude two attendants and throw himself overboard.

Since his body was never recovered, the marker in Porter Cemetery serves as the only tangible reminder of his passing.

"Admirers of the unfortunate congressman everywhere deplore his untimely end," the Tribune intoned, "but his death is particularly shocking to his many friends in this, his old home town."

Those participating in the refurbishing Saturday might want to give Wedemeyer's memorial an extra pat, representing as it does one of the colorful stories of Porter Cemetery.
