

Questions Answered on School Millage Request

Chelsea's millage election is this Wednesday, April 23. Superintendent Ray Van Meer has provided answers to the following commonly-asked questions in an effort to help district residents come to a decision on the millage.

Q. If the millage passes, will there be any new or additional programs?

A. No. The district will be operating the same programs as last year.

Q. Is the amount 3.2 or 2.6 mills?

A. The millage requested is for 3.2 mills for one year. This is what will appear on the ballot. This increase in operating millage will be offset by a reduction of 0.6 mill for debt retirement, making the net increase to the district residents 2.6 mills.

Q. What happens when only the State Equalized Valuation increases?

A. Nothing. Increased taxes mean decreased state aid, no change in the school district income.

Q. What about property tax reforms?

A. It is almost a certainty that the November ballot will see a property tax reform proposal. The Chelsea schools are seeking the increased operational levy for one year only, due to the uncertainty of pending tax reforms and the inability to forecast the implications of tax reforms.

Q. When was the last increase in operating millage?

A. Chelsea schools received their last operational millage increase on August 15, 1977. The rate of inflation from August 1977 until the present time has been approximately 30 percent. The schools are faced with increased costs of goods and services.

Q. Did the schools reduce their budget last year?

A. Yes. The budget was reduced by $217,718. Program reductions accounted for $143,305 and the district expended a cash balance of $74,413. Budget reductions were necessary due to millage defeats on June 11 and Aug. 20 of 1979.

Q. Did the schools reduce millage last year?

A. Yes. The operating millage for the Chelsea schools was reduced from 29.02 to 28.8865 mills during the last school year due to the millage roll-back factor of the Headlee Amendment.

Q. How does Chelsea rank in operational millage among the 10 county school districts?

A. Chelsea ranks 7th.

Q. Has the school district made any adjustment for declining enrollment?

A. Yes. Six teachers who have left have not been replaced. Their classes and students are being distributed among other teachers.

Q. How do Chelsea teachers' salaries rank among the 10 county school districts?

A. Chelsea teachers on a BA degree rank 5th; on an MA degree they rank 7th.

Q. Do increased assessments mean more money for the schools?

A. No. The legislature has adopted a state aid formula that guarantees a certain number of dollars per student per mill in a combination of taxes and state aid. As the tax income increases through increased property assessment, the state aid portion of that guarantee decreases in a dollar-for-dollar relationship. The only way to increase total income for the school district is to increase the number of mills levied. By increasing the mills levied, we increase the state aid formula guarantee, thus increasing total revenue.

Q. If the millage fails, will programs have to be eliminated?

A. Yes. If the State Equalized

Valuation, state aid formula and student enrollment remain as projected in the 1980-81 budget, the Board of Education will have to reduce programs by $470,500. Many programs that have been a part of the Chelsea School District for years will have to be reduced or eliminated. If program eliminations become a necessity, the effect will be immediate to the students now in school, and will have far-reaching effects on the community.

Q. Are the Chelsea schools' instructional costs comparable to the other county schools?

A. Yes. Chelsea schools' instructional costs rank 8th in the county at $1,497.22. The county average is $1,813.73.

Q. Is there a property tax rebate?

A. Yes. Homeowners are provided a credit against their state income tax liability equal to 60 percent of the amount by which their property taxes exceed 3.5 percent of their household income. Maximum credit is $1,200.

Q. Do senior citizens get a property tax reduction?

A. Yes. Up to 100 percent of the property tax may qualify as a credit/refund if household income for qualifying persons is less than $3,000. Qualifying persons earning more than $3,000 receive a credit/refund equal to 100 percent of the amount by which their property taxes exceed a percentage of their income.

'Very Young' Track Team Has Talent

This year's Chelsea High school varsity boys track team will have a heavy concentration of youth. Twenty-nine out of 39 team members are from the sophomore or freshman classes.

"We will be very young this season," said Coach Pat Clarke, "but we do have some very promising talent."

One exception to the youth accent is senior weight man Bob Ball, who is returning to track after a year-long lay-off. Two years ago, Ball was league and regional champion in the shot put, and placed 8th in the state in the discus.

Already this year, Bob has thrown the shot 53'1" in indoor competition and is ready to go into league competition.

Other returning letter winners are seniors Mark Stevenson, hurdles; and Steve Kvarnberg, distance running. Returning juniors include Ken Bauer, sprints; Jeff Bradley, distance running; and Bill Freeman in sprints, shotput and discus.

Sophomores returning are Toby Boyd, long jump, sprints; Darin Pierson, high jump, hurdles; Ray Williams, long jump, hurdles; Bob Schleele, distance running; Bob Benedict, distance running; Duane Robbins, middle distances; and Dan Kleis, long jump and sprints.

Newcomers who look promising include senior Paul Lange, junior's Phil Hoffman, Jon Riemenschneider and Bob

Girls Softball Team Faces Tough Season

This year's schedule will be the toughest faced by a Chelsea varsity softball team in recent years. The addition of powerhouses like Ann Arbor Huron and Pioneer, Brighton, and Royal Oak Dondero (defending Class A state champion), will be a real test of Chelsea's softball talent.

The SEC will also be tough, with an abundance of good pitching returning from last year. Milan, Saline and Jackson County Western all have excellent chances at taking the league crown. Such competition will make this year's varsity season a difficult one.

To have a successful year, Chelsea's varsity coach, Bill Wescott, will be looking for a key ingredient: leadership. This quality should be provided by four fine senior athletes playing their final season for the blue and gold of Chelsea High.

Nanette Push, Patti Hume, Kim Wood and Amanda Schwarze are hoping that their senior seasons measure up to the difficult task in store.

Co-captain Push will be doing most of the pitching this season. Nanette has more strike-outs to her credit than any Chelsea soft-

DREW HUBAL, North school student, beams his pleasure at seeing one of his works of art displayed at the Manchester Art Guild's children's exhibition, "Through A Child's Eyes." Works will be on exhibit in the children's show through April 27 at the Manchester Art Gallery, 138 E. Main St.

MARK STEVENSON takes a hurdle in anticipation of a strong season on the boys varsity track team this spring. Stevenson is a rare senior on a team that boasts 29 freshman and sophomore thinclads. The Bulldogs hope to gain some experience this season for a lot of promising young talent.

Girls Track Team Has 13 Returning Letterwinners

In spite of nasty weather thus far this spring, the Chelsea High school girls track team has been hard at work preparing for the coming season. The team is building around a nucleus of 13 letterwinners, including last season's top scorer, Mary Boylan, and most valuable, Debbie Honbaum.

Balance could be the key for the Bulldogs this year in their quest for the SEC title. The throwing events will again be strong, as Mary Boylan and Lorrie Vandegrift are one of the best pairs of shotputters in the area.

Sue Branham adds depth in the shot and Nancy Heller and Kathy Honbaum are experienced in the discus. Lorrie Vandegrift and Pris Drew should be the best of the long jumpers.

Most of the load in the sprints will fall to Debbie and Kathy Honbaum. Barb Davis and Lisa Vandegrift add solid experience, with freshman Carolyn Chandler probably the best new face. Marleen Williams, Tracy Bohlender, Lorrie Vandegrift and new arrival from Saline Sue Branham, will make the hurdles one of the strengths of the team.

Last season, the distance runners were plagued by injuries. So far, Pris Drew and Nancy Heller seem free of the leg problems that hampered them most of last year.

Teresa Hoffman has run well in practice this spring and Cheryl Hankerd is an experienced runner who will help, as could Beth Heller, who missed much of last season with a badly sprained ankle.

Freshman Sandy Frame had a good cross country season and is the top newcomer here. Others in their first season who could provide valuable contributions are Melanie Schneider, Anne and Margie Lewis in sprints, Teresa Degener in the middle distances, Cinda Thornton in the distances and Kathy Waldyke in the shot and discus.

Coach Bill Bainton, in his third season as girls track coach, said he is impressed with the team's attitude and closeness so far, and is looking forward to a good season. Competition began last Tuesday, April 15, with a meet against Stockbridge. League action begins today, as the Bulldogs host Lincoln.

Next Saturday, April 19, the girls will host the Chelsea Relays.

For the first time in four years there seems to be no clear cut favorite for the SEC title, due to Brighton dropping out of the league. The remaining teams are pretty well-balanced and the difference between first and last this year could be very narrow.

Based on losses through graduation, Lincoln would appear to be heir apparent to the crown, since they return most of the sprint and hurdle corps that carried them to second place last year.

Rivals Dexter and Saline were harder hit by graduation, each losing league champions. Milan will be looking to overtake Chelsea on the strength of some fine distance runners who led them to sixth place in the state in cross country.

Jackson County Western comes into the league as an unknown. Western had a lean year last season, but has had some fine performers in the past.

Lincoln's strength is in the sprints and relays, where they won the 40 and 800 relay in last year's SEC meet. Phyllis Jackson and Rhonda Latnie are the top sprinters. Karen Wade won the 400 last year and Marilyn Love is a fine hurdler. Weakness in the distances could be the Railsplitters' downfall.

If Lincoln falters, Dexter or Saline would be the likely choices

School Millage Election Is Wednesday

Chelsea School District voters will decide whether or not to approve a 3.2 mill tax increase for the upcoming school year when they go to the polls this Wednesday, April 23 to cast ballots on that single issue.

Because the School Board has already planned $470,500 in program cuts if the millage should go down to defeat, district residents will also be deciding the fate of school athletics and extra-curricular programs, as well as a number of staff positions.

The proposed 3.2 mills increase will be offset by a .6 mill reduction in the bonded indebtedness levy, making the over-all increase one of 2.6 mills.

To address questions from many district residents on the exact consequences of a millage defeat, the Board of Education, in a marathon five and a half hour session March 31, came up with the $470,500 in reductions.

If voters reject the increase, the board plans to eliminate all athletics and extra-curricular activities from all school budgets. Also shelved would be the proposed purchase of two new school buses and already long-delayed replacement of aging equipment.

Special Education would lose part of its budget as would Community Education. A number of staff positions would be cut and the pool at Beach Middle school would be used for physical education classes only.

Last millage increase approved by Chelsea voters was in August 1977. Last year, in separate elections in June and August, local voters rejected a 1.7 mill increase by margins of 600-521 and 744-629, respectively.

To make up for the expected millage revenue, the school board last year made program reductions of $143,305 and expended a cash balance of $74,413 which had accumulated over three years.

This year, with inflation near 20 percent and no cash balance on hand, the board is planning stringent economizing measures should the no votes outweigh the yes votes.

Absentee ballots for the election are available at the Administration Building until Tuesday, April 22 at 2 p.m. Those planning to be out of town on Wednesday must pick up the absentee ballots in person. Emergency ballots will be available until 4 p.m. Wednesday, April 23.

Cold Rain, Snow Delay Spring Sports

Unpredictable winter for yet another year has delayed the start of the spring sports season in Chelsea schools, as freezing rain, snow and low temperatures rendered playing fields unusable.

Athletic Director Philip Bareis said Tuesday that the opening games of the varsity baseball season, a home double-header with Brighton scheduled for Tuesday afternoon, had been cancelled as well as a Wednesday away game with South Lyon.

Junior varsity softballers, scheduled to open their season against South Lyon at home Wednesday, had their game cancelled, also.

The girls track team, however, traveled to a Tuesday afternoon season-opening meet against Stockbridge. A Wednesday after-

CO-CAPTAINS Teresa Hoffman, left, and Debbie Honbaum, are the only two seniors on this year's varsity girls track squad. Honbaum was most valuable team member last year and will carry a heavy load in the sprints this year. Hoffman, a distance runner, has looked good in practice thus far this spring and should contribute much during the season.

Auto Emissions Test May Soon Become a Fact of Life

What soon will be required by drivers in southeastern Michigan may also become a fact of life to every driver in the state.

Under recently enacted legislation, drivers in a seven-county area in highly populous southeastern Michigan will be required to have their autos tested to see if their emission meets federal clean air standards.

The legislation, however, does not limit the testing area only to southeastern Michigan and depending upon air quality statewide, the area included under the testing provisions could possibly be the entire state.

If autos do not meet the emission standards, they will not be registered for operation unless repaired. No more than $50 for repair would have to be spent and if the auto then did not meet the standards, a waiver would be received.

The tests themselves could cost consumers up to $10 each which includes one recheck if the vehicle failed the first time.

Low income persons whose cars fail the test could be given a longer period of time to have the necessary repairs made, again only up to the $50 limit.

The emission testing program is a result of the federal Environmental Protection Agency declaring it would issue no more building permits for industrial facilities unless the state enacted their emission control standards in areas not meeting federal clean air requirements.

EPA's declaration came on the heels of announcements by General Motors and Volkswagen of America that they were considering expansion projects in the area.

Governor William G. Milliken and legislative leaders, meanwhile, made commitments to GM and Volkswagen that the auto emissions standards legislation would be enacted so plans could continue on the projects.

However, more difficulty than was anticipated surfaced in the legislature as the legislation worked its way through the process.

Many legislators called the bills "blackmail" on the part of the EPA in dictating what local consumers could or could not do with their autos before they could be registered.

Additionally, members of Detroit's black caucus caught some ears when they declared the bills were just another indirect tax on the unemployed and working poor of the metropolitan area.

However, the threat of GM and Volkswagen moving proposed facilities to other states prevailed and the bills were enacted just in time to meet the deadlines the corporations needed to make their final construction plans.

The law is now on the books and depending upon current and future air quality standards set by the EPA, additional counties and even the entire state could come under the testing and repair provisions of the emissions standards act.

It could lead to a forced tune-up of every automobile and truck in the state every year as a certificate of passage or waiver after which repair will be needed before drivers can get their annual registration plates to drive.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Clem Webster got the floor as quick as he could Saturday night during the discussion at the country store, and his first item of business was a piece he had saw about the sad state of medicine in this land of morged milk and artificial sweetened honey. A spokesman for some consumer group said he was worried because the way things are going there soon won't be no doctors from middle income families. The percentage of medical students from well to do families is going up, he discovered, and them with everyday working folks is going down.

Clem said he worried that newspaper editors would regard that reserch finding as bigger news than word that the sun set in the west yesterday. Clem said he took note that the feller didn't mention poor folks at all, and he was sure that the number of medical students coming from folks on down side of middle was to few to show up on his chart. That's the way the ball allus has bounced, declared Clem, and there's no reason to expect change now. Gitting in good medical schools is ever bit as tough as staying in, Clem said, and the smart rich kid whose daddy golfs with the head of the trustees will be picked ever time over the poor smart kid whose Pa had to get a second mortgage on the house to put the boy through college.

General speaking, the fellers was puzzled over Clem's report. Bug Hookum said rich folks ought to turn out all the doctors anyhow. That way he allowed, doctors can keep on living in the manner in which they are accustomed. There's no way a doctor can help gitting rich if he ain't rich already, and it's terrible hard on a feller to learn to live rich and take care of his patients. Fer one thing, said Bug, he'll find hisself spending altogether to much time practicing medicine instead of enjoying being rich like all his new friends. There's a saying about new money and old money, Bug went on, but he's never been around enough of it to let it bother him one way or the other.

Practical speaking, said Ed Doolittle, he ain't near as concerned about how rich the doctor's family is as he is about how rich the doctor expects his patients to be. The sad truth this day and time, Ed said, is what a doctor charges goes a long way to telling folks what he thinks of them, and vise verser. If he charges $15 for a office visit he gits patients that ain't got but $15 and figger he's the best doctor they can afford. If he jumps his rate to $35 a visit he gits a classier trade, and his patients will think they're gitting a better doctor. It's the way life works, Ed allowed, and it's one reason the rich git richer and the poor keeps knocking along as best they can.

Clem Webster was agreed with Ed. Clem recollected that his preacher some years back announced he was leaving to take a job with a big church in the city. Clem said he got to kidding the preacher about looking more to salary and benefits than his calling, but the young feller got right serious about it. Look here, he told Clem, you got to understand that the rich have got souls to save same as the poor, and you can't shun em jest cause they got money.

Yours truly,
 Uncle Lew.

J. P.'s Party To Benefit Spaulding for Children

The Stroh Brewing Co. and J. P. McCarthy are having a party on April 24. It's the 4th annual Stroh-A-Party for Spaulding for Children, and everyone's invited. Hosting the event, as he did last year for over 700 guests, will be Detroit's beloved early morning radio master, J. P. McCarthy of WJR.

Sponsoring the "all the beer and Coke you can drink" party will be the Stroh Brewing Co. in Detroit. Festivities will take place between 6 p.m. and 10 p.m. at the brewery's Strohaus. Bus transportation will again be provided for Chelsea participants.

In addition to the free beer and Coke, there will be lots of food to eat, live music to dance to, and a host of celebrities to meet. There will be door prizes, too. Expected to be present are Sonny Elliott, Bob Hynes, Bud Lynch, Hank Aquilre, Jim Northrup, and other celebrities.

According to Spaulding for Children's Development Director, Sandy Eidswick, "last year's Stroh Party raised more than $13,000 for Spaulding, and excitement is high to make this year's event even more successful."

Spaulding for Children is a special purpose adoption agency headquartered in Chelsea. It places only those children for whom other agencies have been unable to find a home. "The children referred to Spaulding are either physically or mentally handicapped, emotionally disturbed children of school age, or black children," Eidswick explained. "While Spaulding recruits families for them, they continue to live in foster homes or institutions."

For long-time Chelsea residents the story of how Spaulding for Children began is a familiar one. Nevertheless, it's one which bears repeating.

On April 28, 1968, the dream of the late Warren Spaulding came true. That dream was that his family farmhouse on Waltrous Rd. be somehow used for the benefit of children. The concept of an adoption agency that would serve only children labeled "hard-to-place," and through adoption, give them permanent, caring homes to grow up in, pleased Spaulding. As he put it, "Children need families, not an institution to live in. I'm glad that this farm will play an active role in seeing that homes are provided for children who need them."

"When a hard-to-place or special needs child is adopted, everybody wins," said Eidswick. "The child and adoptive family win. The taxpayers, who pay about $4,000 per year for a child in foster care and $14,000 per year for a child in an institution, win. And Spaulding wins, because each child placed strengthens our case that no child is unadoptable."

Spaulding has been responsible for placing more than 250 children since 1968. Indirectly, the agency has been responsible for an unknown number of adoptions, as a result of its efforts to educate adoption workers throughout the U. S. about the agency's methods.

"It costs about $5,000 to place a child for adoption" according to Eidswick. Funds for the agency's $300,000 a-year-plus budget come from individuals, community organizations, foundations, purchase of service fees charged to agencies referring children to Spaulding, and benefits, like the Stroh Party.

For tickets ($20 each, includes bus to and from Detroit for the first 47 people) or further information, contact either Pat Merkel at Pierson & Riemenschneider Realtors, 115 Park, Spaulding for Children, 3660 Waltrous Rd., Ann Arbor Trust Co., Chelsea Office, or Heller Electric. The bus leaves from Chelsea Fairgrounds promptly at 5 p.m.

Every Woman Should Check Blood Pressure

You might feel great. But you could still have it and not even know it. That's because high blood pressure is a silent killer. There are no reliable symptoms, and even doctors don't know what causes it. But, they do know that high blood pressure can bring on heart failure, kidney damage and stroke. And they know that women get high blood pressure as often as men. In fact, after menopause a woman's chances of getting high blood pressure are even greater than a man's.

What is known about high blood pressure is contained in a free booklet from the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. For your copy of What Every Woman Should Know About High Blood Pressure, send a postcard to the Consumer Information Center, Dept. 597H, Pueblo, Colo. 81009.

In some women, contraceptive drugs can cause high blood pressure, especially if they have a mild kidney disease or a family history of high blood pressure. So, before you let your doctor prescribe a birth control pill, have your blood pressure checked. And, if you're already taking the "pill," get a blood pressure check every six months or so.

Pregnant women can be prone to developing high blood pressure. If you already have high blood pressure, pregnancy can aggravate it. But, on the positive side, high blood pressure associated with pregnancy usually disappears after delivery.

Studies show that black women are especially susceptible to high blood pressure. The cause is unknown, but not only is the disease more common among black women, it's often more serious.

If you have a history of high blood pressure in your family, there's a greater chance that you may develop it. If you do, it's possible that your children could develop it, too. Make sure your kids get regular blood pressure checks, too.

A blood pressure check is quick and painless. See your doctor or health clinic. If you have high blood pressure, you may be advised to lose weight, and use less salt. If it is very high, medication may be prescribed.

When you order a copy of What Every Woman Should Know About High Blood Pressure (free), you'll also receive a free copy of the Consumer Information Catalog.

Legislative Update

A Weekly Report from State Rep. Mary Keith Ballentine
State Capitol, Lansing 48909
Phone (517) 373-1775

Week of April 14-21

WELFARE FRAUD — The House has approved HB 4259, which would create a tough new welfare fraud investigation unit within the Department of Social Services. Penalties would be, up to ten years in jail and a fine up to $10,000.

FOOD STAMPS? — The state Social Services Director has warned that Food Stamps may run out on June 1. Congress has not acted to keep the program going after that date, and the state can't afford to take over the costs of the program.

REVISED RECOUNTS — Governor Milliken has signed into law HB 4814, which allows the State Board of Canvassers to recount legislative races. Previously, the House or Senate had to do so and that delayed recounts until 2 months after elections.

INTEREST INCREASE — Acting and Lieut. Gov. Brickley has signed into law a package of bills that increase the interest ceiling on car-purchase loans. It is hoped that this will help stimulate car sales in Michigan. For new cars, the limit is 16.5%; for cars up to two years old, the limit is 19%; for older cars, 22%. These higher rates expire June 1, 1981.

SPORTS COSTS — Mr. Brickley has also signed HB 4822, which increases hunting and fishing license fees to avoid a deficit in the state Fish and Game Fund. Most license fees will go up by about $1.25 this year and $1 in 1981. A 1981 feature will be a license "passbook" with stamps for each activity; also, 12-to-16-year-olds can get some hunting tags at half price.

CAR CHECKS — Two new Public Acts are HB 5367-68, which require auto-emissions tests programs in urban areas which do not meet national air-quality standards. It is thought that only southeastern Michigan will be affected: this was necessary to get federal air-quality permits for new industry. Also, the bills require 1981 stickers on all license plates.

TENANT RIGHTS — Under terms of the recently-enacted SB 223, it is now illegal to evict someone from rental property solely because of membership in a tenant organization. This will allow tenants to assert their legal rights without fear of retaliation.

HEAVY ISSUE — The Michigan Civil Rights Department has charged a company with unlawful discrimination due to weight. The company said two men were too fat to be hired according to its medical standards; the Department says that that does not affect their qualifications.

ASTHMA CAMP — The American Lung Association is again running a summer camp for asthmatic children, near Battle Creek. The camp runs June 29 through July 5; enrollment is limited to 50. It is free. Write the Association at 403 Seymour, Lansing 48914, or call (517) 484-4541.

INFORMATION FREEDOM — The Court of Appeals has ruled that the state Freedom of Information Act, like a similar federal law, does not require a public body to generate and maintain written records. Citizens have the right of access to records that are kept, but there is no need for a public body to write minutes or reports simply because an individual wants it.

Summer Baseball Registration Set

For the next two Saturdays at the Chelsea High school cafeteria, Chelsea Recreation Department will be registering participants aged 6-18 for summer baseball.

All participants must be accompanied by a parent or adult on registration day and must present a birth certificate or other documentation of actual birth. Cut-off date for all baseball programs is Aug. 1. No registrations will be taken after April 26.

Due to inflation, all baseball fees have again been raised. Fees will be posted for each league at registration. Following is the schedule for each registration day:

April 19—
T-Ball, ages 6 and 7, 9 to 10 a.m.; Farm League, ages 8 and 9, 10 to 11 a.m.; Little League, ages 10 and 11, 11 a.m. to 12 noon; Pony League, ages 12 and 13, 12 noon to 1 p.m.

April 26—
Boys Babe Ruth League, ages 14 and 15, 9 to 10 a.m.; Boys Connie Mack, ages 16 through 18, 10 a.m. to 11 a.m.; Girls Midget Softball League, slow pitch, ages 8 through 10, 11 a.m. to 12 noon; Girls Junior Miss League, fast pitch, ages 11 through 13, 12 noon to 1 p.m.; Girls Senior Miss Travel League, fast pitch, ages 14 and 15, also 12 noon to 1 p.m.

Also sponsored by the Recreation Department are two upcoming clinics, one a Girls' Softball Clinic and the other for umpires.

Girls Softball Clinic is for girls aged 8 through 15 and will be held Saturday, May 24, 9:30 a.m. to 12 noon at the Beach school gym. Offensive and defensive softball skills will be taught and the pitching machine will be used.

Anyone planning to participate in the summer league should attend. Free softball patches will be given to each participant. Fee is $2.

Saturday, May 10, an Umpires' Clinic will be held at 10 a.m. in the A.V. Room. It is free to any high school student or adult and is required for those interested in umpiring for T-Ball, Farm League, Little League and Pony League.

An organizational meeting will be held for the Slo-Pitch Men's Softball League on Wednesday, May 7, 7:30 p.m. in the high school cafeteria. Entry fees will be determined at the meeting.

An Adult Men's Softball Director is needed for the slo-pitch league. For information on this, or any aspect of the summer recreation program, call 475-9830 or 475-9131, ext. 64, Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

Reading Council To Meet April 24

"The Reading Center: A Way of Learning" is the topic for the final meeting of the Washtenaw Reading Council this school year. At 7:30 p.m., Thursday, April 24, at the Ypsilanti High school, Dolores Thomas and Phyllis Ross will enlighten librarians, teachers, reading consultants, teacher aides, administrators and parents concerning the "hows and whys" of constructing learning centers with a minimum of time, money and effort.

The public is invited. There will be a $2 fee for non-members. For further information, contact Gwen Guthrie, 482-3280, or Anita Todd, 994-8197.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:
I voted against the millage last year but I intend to vote FOR the millage this year for the following reasons:

1. I think the administrators of the schools acted very responsibly last year in cutting the budget by $217,718, and doing the best with what they had.
2. They didn't insult our intelligence by asking for a re-vote and a re-vote and a re-vote until it finally passed.
3. I'm all for property tax reform but why should the schools suffer now for a bad system of taxation when they have no alternatives.
4. I think if we have gripes, I have plenty, we should take it out on those guys and gals in Lansing and not on our children's future.

in the government of our Village. We should not expect Mr. Ritter to do it all!

Jim & Donna Eder

Dear Editor:
This editorial voices my opinion as a parent vitally interested in our children, school, and community rather than as a member of the Chelsea Board of Education.

I am as concerned about increased taxes as most people. However, I am more concerned about what I will or will not get in return. Let's simplify the issue. If, for example, you have a $60,000 home, assessed at $30,000, your taxes will be approximately $1,380. Unless your income is more than $40,000 per year, the increased millage you're being asked to vote for will cost you $31.20 more.

So, even though I dislike increased taxes, I would be real upset to pay $1,380 and have programs at the school drastically cut as opposed to paying $1,411 for a continuation of what all Chelsea district citizens should be proud of.

Look at it as an investment alternative. You can invest in Company A for $1,411—they're going strong in all areas. Or, you can invest $1,380 in Company B—they're in financial trouble and cutting programs. It's your money—which do you choose? Our children and community are worth your continued support. Please vote yes April 23.

Art Dils.

To the Editor:
The undersigned parents of students in the school orchestra are writing this letter in support of the millage.

We are all hurting from the huge increases in property evaluations; however, the amount of money going to the Chelsea School System remains constant since the increase due to property evaluations is offset by a decrease in state aid. To reduce our tax burdens we should support one of the tax amendments on the fall ballot. A negative vote on the millage does not result in a significant saving.

The orchestra program provides direct benefits to the community as well as to the participating students. The orchestra concerts are open to the public. Musicians are available for the pit orchestra and additional music is played at the Methodist Home and in the Christmas celebrations at local churches.

One of the greatest values of the millage is something neither parents nor community members will experience directly. It is the deep impression made on the students that their music is appreciated and supported by the community. This is carried with them into the future. It is something they will share forever, either through professional performances or in the education and development of their own children.

To the Editor:
Quoting from a recent letter published in this paper . . .

"Taxes are becoming outrageously high. But even if we vote down the millage, they will continue to grow by increased evaluation." This is from a letter signed by Mary Keith Ballantine, and Senator Edward Pierce.

I would like to answer. The Tish Amendment would roll back our taxes to 1978 assessed evaluation. Tish amendment is like the Jarvis Prop. 13, in California, and records show it can work . . . and work for the good of the PEOPLE . . . what a refreshing fact.

Quoting: "or are you just voting no, sitting back, and complaining, taking your frustrations out on our children." Unquote.

My answer: Who is taking whose frustrations out on "our children?" "Our children" have become the pawns in our games of demanding and getting, by teachers, and our politicians alike, right down to the bus-driver and custodians as well. Do teachers, or individuals, as bus-driver, or custodians strike during vacation time? Heavens no! Who would pay attention then? So they wait till "our children" resume classes then they make their move. Who is taking whose frustrations out on "our children?"

Government used "our children" as a pawn in their game to get. Remember about three or four years back when the Michigan Lottery was sold to the public as—ALL FUNDS FROM THE MICHIGAN LOTTERY WOULD GO TO THE SUPPORT OF OUR SCHOOLS . . . that sold me, and I bet you too . . . right? Yep, but wrong again. The lottery money (and would it not be interesting to get a complete total of what has been realized from this lottery system through these years), was put not into education as a whole . . . but put into a "General Fund," from which all organizations can dip into.

Welfare gets some. State officials, and employees, get their pay raises there . . . somewhere along the line "our children" and their education get a slice. However, when the assessments of property are raised, as we well know they are, the schools do not get the aid from the "General Fund" . . . thus letting that money be appropriated elsewhere. Why have we, and those who say they are working for us in Lansing, let this happen?

Where is the justice? There is another petition circulating by Mr. Headlee, and it asks that all terms of government officials be limited in time, thus allowing the everyday citizens an opportunity to run for office, and taking the holding of said offices out of the hands of "professional politicians." This amendment would also release us, the taxpayers, from payment of the pensions of the State Office Officials. Now would that not save us a bundle!

When I vote NO to the millage increase I am not taking my frustrations out on "our children" . . . I am in truth saying to the people of Lansing . . . we do not put the blame on the school board for asking for millage increase because your mismanagement has made them feel this was the only way out. While there is a lot of waste in the school system, there is a far greater waste in the government of Michigan.

We raised 7 children. Seven went through parochial grade school, 5 went through parochial high school, 2 went through public high school. One is finishing at MTU and will graduate this year. During all these years we paid both tuition, and supported our public schools through our taxes besides . . . We have been there, we know . . .

Increase of millage is not the answer . . . It's Spring . . . let's do some house-cleaning in Lansing . . . it's election time . . . so my NO vote to millage increase is saying to those in Lansing . . . "shape-up or ship-out" . . . enough is enough.

Mrs. Millie Warner, Taxpayer.

Dear Editor:
I'm fed up with taxes, and waste, and a government that demands more and more while delivering less and less. I'd really like to send someone a message. Sound familiar? I guess a lot of us feel that way, and probably with good reason. It would be a tragedy, though, if we used next week's millage election as the way of expressing that anger and "sending a message."

Is there waste in the Chelsea schools? Oh sure, a few students may be careless with books, but let's get serious. Our kids always score near the top in state-wide tests, yet Chelsea's cost per student is the third lowest in Washtenaw county, and hasn't increased since 1977. To me, that says that the schools are doing a fantastic job. So much for "waste."

Who would we be sending a message to? The "government"?

No way. It would be a message to our kids, telling them that Chelsea families weren't willing to pay an extra $50 in taxes per year. That's right, a buck a week -- 15¢ a day! The "no" voters (and those too lazy to vote at all) would be saying that they have better uses for that 15¢ than these:

—Instill a love of music in hundreds of kids through the best music program in the state — one so good that Chelsea was represented in the Rose Bowl Parade and will be in the Mexican International Band Festival.

—Buy some history books that don't stop at the Johnson presidency.

—Give several hundred kids of all ages a chance to learn swimming and participate in healthy competition the year round.

—Through field trips, show elementary school kids that learning doesn't stop at the classroom door.

—Support girls' softball teams that are among the best in the country, a league-championship basketball team, and a contender for the state swimming championship.

—Help senior citizens enrich their lives by learning new skills.

—Teach several hundred kids the special pride that comes from representing their community, not just themselves, in inter-scholastic competition.

People, the list goes on and on. Take these things away, and Chelsea becomes just another town. For 15¢ a day, I just can't believe that my friends and neighbors could be that selfish or uncaring. Come on, let's really show our kids that we're not a "gimme" community. We're proud of them, we're proud of our schools, and we're proud of our town. Let's show everybody that we're willing to make sacrifices to preserve the things that make Chelsea such a special place to live. Let's vote "yes" on April 23.

ASK THE GOVERNOR

by William G. Millman

Question: I have been hearing a lot about the economic climate in this state. How do you see it?

Governor: I have just issued my annual report on the economic condition of the state. I was not able to paint a very bright picture for the immediate future. Unemployment and inflation both are expected to increase and personal income will drop by more than 4 percent, the largest drop since the 1930s.

Our economic picture makes it clear why the budget I have proposed to the legislature for fiscal 1981 is the most constrained I have ever had to submit. It provides for an over-all increase in state spending of less than 5 percent, compared to average increases of 12 percent through the 1970s. It proposes the elimination or reduction of nearly $200 million in existing state programs.

If, as appears likely, the Carter Administration ends federal revenue sharing payments to the states and if the pressures on our social services continue to increase, I will have to propose even further cuts in the already severely constrained budget.

Although the economy is currently experiencing difficulties, I am confident that the 1980s will be another period of prosperity and progress for Michigan. While this state suffered the brunt of the nation's economic ills in 1979, we have forged ahead with the development and implementation of plans to expand and strengthen the economic base of the state.

Because of Michigan's sound financial management in these austere times and the efficient use of the state's resources, a high level of service has been maintained and delivered to our people.

We have been able to grant more than $2 billion in tax relief, establish a Budget Stabilization Fund, repeal the sales tax on food and drugs, inaugurate home heating assistance for senior citizens and low-income families, increase aid to urban areas and provide for job expansion through the Industrial Facilities Act (PA 198).

If we build upon our accomplishments of the 1960s and 1970s, we can continue to make substantial economic progress and ensure the continued prosperity and economic freedom of all our citizens.

Question: Has anything resulted from the trade mission to Mexico in which you participated recently?

Governor: The Mexican trade mission was extremely successful. Nine Michigan manufacturers anticipate more than $3.4 million in business because of their participation in a trade delegation to Mexico.

The Michigan delegation wrote contracts worth more than $567,000 at the show and anticipates another $2.8 million in sales from contacts made there.

A recent Michigan Department of Agriculture trade mission to Mexico has also resulted in increased trade. While the mission was concerned primarily with dairy cattle, state agriculture officials discovered a need existed for hay, corn and feed grains.

Since that mission, Michigan farmers have sold dairy cattle and corn to Mexico as well as more than $85 million worth of pinto and black turtle beans.

In addition, more than 200 metric tons of kidney beans were sold to Central American and 40,000 pounds of pork were shipped to Costa Rica as a result of the agricultural trade mission to Mexico.

This nation's exports to Mexico grew from $6.8 billion in 1978 to $9.6 billion just a year later. And as our southern neighbor continues to become more technologically sophisticated, it will need more and more products made in Michigan.

Question: When will speeders begin getting points for exceeding the 55-mile-per-hour speed limit?

Governor: A new law recently was adopted which will place one penalty point on the license of motorists convicted of driving more than 60 miles per hour. It will take effect in April, 1981.

The observance of the 55-mile-per-hour speed limit is especially important in these times of energy shortages, high gasoline prices and congressional compliance mandates. I have long supported this law and I commend the legislature for its actions, which will maximize the enforcement of the 55-mile-per-hour speed limit and save lives and energy in this state. Under the new law, motorists would receive one point on their drivers' license if convicted of driving between 60 and 70 miles per hour; two points for 70 to 80 miles per hour; three points for 80 to 85 miles per hour and four points for driving faster than 85 miles per hour.

SANDY EIDSWICK, former Washtenaw County Cancer Society executive director and professional figure skater, has been Spaulding for Children's development director since early February, replacing Kathleen Cavanaugh. An

Ann Arbor resident, Eidswick raises funds, writes, and does public relations work for the Waltrous Rd. adoption agency, which finds homes for hard-to-adopt children.

Spaulding for Children Names Development Director

Sandy Eidswick, former executive director of the Washtenaw County Cancer Society, assumed duties as development director of the Spaulding for Children adoption agency in early February of this year.

Eidswick replaces Kathleen Cavanaugh, who resigned from the position in late December.

A 1972 graduate of Michigan State University with a bachelor's degree in community service from the College of Human Ecology, Eidswick has had a varied career in the eight years before coming to Spaulding. Her duties with Spaulding are indeed centered around raising money. Since the agency is funded primarily through private individuals, and business and organizational contributions, high visibility is important to the agency.

In 1975, she became a division management trainee for the American Cancer Society, headquartered in Lansing. With that agency, she was a field representative serving 12 counties. "It was just me and a car," she recalls. "It was an interesting experience, working with small volunteer boards of directors with no office but my car."

The opportunity to become executive director in Washtenaw county occurred in 1977, and Eidswick worked at that position until coming to Spaulding early this year.

She said she became aware of Spaulding when "casually flipping through the help wanted ads" one day, and seeing Spaulding's ad for a development director.

Her background as an executive director with the Cancer Society had given her experience in fundraising, public information and administrative organization, all of which were central to the Spaulding position.

In addition, her bachelor's degree in community service was designed to train people to work in some sort of community agency. "The emphasis there started with the family," she said, "and went out from there to various social agencies and resources that families might need. It combined some of the basic home ec family focal point with a lot of social work."

She confesses to some trepidation, however, in taking a job that was almost exclusively fund raising. "The thing that had frightened me most with the American Cancer Society was fund raising," she recalls, "so I concentrated hardest on that and learned it the best."

Her duties with Spaulding are indeed centered around raising money. Since the agency is funded primarily through private individuals, and business and organizational contributions, high visibility is important to the agency.

Most people probably know it best through the annual Stroh-A-Party, which is heavily supported by Detroit radio station WJR and disk jockey J. P. McCarthy.

Money is also raised through two golf tournaments and a child of the month bulletin, which features a successfully adopted child and is sent to individuals for a monthly contribution.

Eidswick said she is currently looking to various foundations for possible grants to supplement those coming from the Clark Foundation in New York and State Mental Health Foundation.

"Primarily," she said, "I worry about how to fund what everybody else here is doing."

She is currently also writing materials aimed at recruitment of prospective adoptive parents, especially for black parents. Spaulding has a number of black children up for adoption, as well as a number of sibling groups that Spaulding would like to keep together after adoption.

The old farmhouse that houses Spaulding also needs some help, with plumbing, heating and elec-

Chelsea Men Charged In Stabbing Incident

Two Chelsea men were arraigned on charges of assault with intent to commit great bodily harm less than murder last Friday, stemming from a Thursday night stabbing incident in Ann Arbor.

Arraigned in 15th District Court were Gary Dean Wright, 22, 20160 Brown, and Jimmy Collingsworth, 22, 19900 Old US-12.

Ann Arbor police said that Wright and Collingsworth allegedly chased two men down an alley with their car and slashed both men with a knife before they were apprehended by police.

The incident reportedly occurred as the victims, aged 27 and 28, walked through an alley near the 300 block of S. Ashley St. and exchanged words with two men in a car. One man got out of the car, police said, and a melee ensued in which one victim was slashed on his face near his eye and the other cut on his chest.

Police said the two victims fled but the assailants jumped back in their car and began chasing them. One man told police that he had to hurl himself to the ground to avoid being hit by the vehicle.

Witnesses summoned police and they arrived just as the suspects' car headed out of the alley. Police stopped the car and the victims identified Collingsworth and Wright as the two men who had assaulted them.

The two Chelsea men were held overnight in the Washtenaw County Jail and arraigned Friday morning. An examination was scheduled for Wednesday, April 23 and Wright was released on person recognizance. Bond was set at $5,000 for Collingsworth but was not posted, a 15th District Court spokeswoman said. He is still being held in the Washtenaw County Jail.

Both unnamed victims were treated at University Hospital for their wounds and then released.

The first U. S. women to participate in a strike were female weavers in Pawtucket, R. I., who were resisting increased hours and reduced wages. The event took place in 1824, according to a U. S. Labor Department publication.

Merrill Lynch invites you to a free Seminar.

The last undervalued "collectible."

In a period where people are frantically looking for "collectibles" in the hope of appreciation, you may be surprised to learn that there is one that has been sadly neglected.

While prices of the "collectibles"—antiques, stamps, art, etc.—have already experienced dramatic advances, this neglected "collectible" is still selling at 1960 prices. What is it?

The answer: Common Stocks.

At Merrill Lynch, we watch thousands of common stocks every day and we see many indications that convince us that common stocks are the prime investment for the 1980s.

We see interest rates at levels that cannot be sustained indefinitely. We see high corporate profits and dividends, and stock prices that have not yet begun to reflect them. And inflation is steadily pushing the value of corporate assets upwards.

In fact, many stock prices have already begun to outpace other forms of investment. And we think this is only the beginning of a long-term trend.

May we tell you more?

Merrill Lynch is holding a free Seminar, and there are several good reasons to come. We'll discuss all the factors which we think make common stocks such a good investment now. We'll give you three lists with names of 30 stocks we consider to be especially outstanding now—for a variety of investment objectives, such as: speculative appreciation, high current yield and long-term capital growth. We'll give you up-to-the-minute facts on the stocks most asked about. And we'll send you the latest data on any three commonly traded stocks of your choice.

All of it free and without any obligation.

Travel Film on Yellowstone Park

Saturday evening, April 19, the Chelsea Kiwanis Club will present its last program of the current Travel and Adventure Series, "Yellowstone Gems and Grand Teton Vistas," by Steve Gonsler at 8 p.m. in the Chelsea High school auditorium.

Steve Gonsler has traveled extensively throughout the United States and several foreign countries in a quest for knowledge and adventure. He has captured on film and tape the vitality of people at work and play as well as the awe-inspiring beauty of nature in every mood.

Gonsler was born and raised in Marion, Ind., and still makes it his home. After earning an undergraduate degree from Marion College, he went on to receive a Master of Arts degree in education from Ball State University in Muncie, Ind. He taught in the public schools for 10 years before entering the film lecture field.

Yellowstone National Park is the oldest and perhaps best known of the U.S. national parks. Gonsler's scenic story begins in the Gallatin Mountain range in the northwestern sector of the park. Reminiscent of the Old West, a stagecoach ride at Roosevelt Lodge recalls the excitement of another era.

The film will show the unusual geologic phenomena of Yellowstone. Outstanding among them are fossil forests, eroded lava flows, spectacular deep valleys and remarkable thermal activity, including Old Faithful, which is just one of Yellowstone's 200 geysers.

Gonsler's camera is also quick to catch interesting park animals, such as American bison, elk, moose, grizzly bear and coyotes.

Grand Teton National Park is about 25 miles south of Yellowstone. The snow-covered peaks of its spectacular Teton range, sculpted from sheerest rock, rise to 7,000 feet above the valley of the Snake River. Gonsler will take viewers on a float trip down the treacherous river and explore the fish streams, as well as showing the herds of buffalo, elk and antelope who roam the land at will.

Gonsler's sensitive camera will show the natural beauty of both parks and highlight the special features of each.

Holdsworth Doing Well at Vancouver

Chelseite Fred Holdsworth, traded from the Detroit Tigers to the Milwaukee Brewers last winter, is currently pitching with Milwaukee's AAA minor league team in Vancouver, B.C., Canada.

Laura Holdsworth, who is staying at the couple's Chelsea home for at least the early part of the season, said that Fred's arm is strong and that he had an excellent spring training with the team in Sun City, Ariz.

The Holdsworths, Michigan natives, moved to Chelsea just before the beginning of the year, at about the same time they learned that Fred had been traded by the Tigers to Milwaukee. Scouted out of Northville High school, Fred spent the bulk of his 10 years in pro baseball with Detroit.

Showing little evidence of the arm trouble that has plagued him in the past, Holdsworth threw 22 innings in spring training, 13 in the majors and nine with Vancouver. He gave up a total of only four runs in those 22 innings pitched.

Mrs. Holdsworth said that the Brewers made their team cuts early this year because of the players' strike. She said the Brewers had already made commitments in December on the pitching staff and that Fred wouldn't be pitching with the Brewers no matter how well he threw in spring training.

Also, Milwaukee manager George Bamberger, a former pitching coach of Fred's at Baltimore, suffered a heart attack and underwent surgery about two weeks ago. "That kind of hurt Fred," Laura explained. "He (Bamberger) was the only one in Milwaukee who knows Fred's abilities."

With Bamberger slated to return in June or July, however, Holdsworth could be seeing major-league action before too long. And, if the major league players go on strike at the end of May, he will continue to pitch and improve in Vancouver.

CHELSEA AQUATIC CLUB team members were lauded for a perfect season Tuesday night at a club banquet in the Beach school cafeteria. Eleven club members finished in the top 12 in the state at the recent Michigan

AAU State Championships. The team boasted a 10-0 meet record this season and brought the first-place trophy of the Super Six League back to Chelsea. On the way to winning the league meet, 90 percent of the Aquatic Club swimmers achieved personal best times in their respective events. Coach David Johnson, back row at extreme right, explained that the key to the club's success has simply been "positive thinking."

This Week in Lansing

By Mary Keith Ballantine
23rd District Representative

Three Bills Move Along
Three Republican-backed bills easily passed the House last week, and now move on to the Senate, where they will be considered in the next few weeks.

The approved legislation includes:
—a bill that would allow counties to create their own budget stabilization funds to provide a cushion against difficult economic times.

The bill would afford counties the same option that state, cities, townships and villages currently enjoy.

As you may know, the state budget stabilization fund has been a large success, and will help bail Michigan out of a difficult economic crunch this year.

The state's budget stabilization fund was organized in 1977; a law authorizing cities, townships and villages to set up their own funds was enacted in 1978.

—a bill to require Michigan parents and guardians to secure children under four years of age in federally-approved car seating systems.

The legislation would apply only to Michigan residents, children less than four years of age and vehicles required to be equipped with safety belts. If approved by the Senate and signed into law, it will take effect Jan. 1, 1982.

Statistics indicate that at least 16 deaths and more than 2,400 injuries could have been avoided in Michigan in 1978 if the state had had a similar law on its books. The statistics which were compiled in a seven-year study conducted in Tacoma, Wash., revealed that more than 90% of the fatal accidents and more than 78% of injuries to young children could have been prevented if children were properly restrained in a safe child car seat.

In 1978, 18 Michigan children were killed and 3,120 were injured in traffic accidents.

—a bill to establish a welfare fraud investigatory unit within the State Department of Social Services (DSS).

State Representative Drew Allbritten, Grand Rapids, offered several successful amendments to the original proposal to put some teeth into it. As a result, the legislation is vastly improved.

The amendments offered by Allbritten set different penalties for various degrees of welfare fraud by recipients and DSS employees. The original bill, introduced by Democratic State Representative Thaddeus Stopczynski, of Detroit, would have accomplished nothing more than establishing the Office of Inspector General as an independent office within DSS to investigate allegations of welfare fraud. The office has operated within DSS since 1971, even though it is not established by state statute.

According to the bill as now written, persons who fraudulently receive assistance for which they are not eligible—either through misrepresentation or false statements—could be prosecuted for perjury. The violation would be punishable by imprisonment up to 10 years, and/or a fine up to $10,000. The same penalty would apply if a person simultaneously received more than one assistance grant.

Property Tax Petition Drive Announced

State Representative Mark Siljander of Three Rivers, is the architect of a measure to cut property taxes by up to 70%. Last week he announced a state-wide petition drive to place his amendment on the November ballot.

The Siljander amendment would eliminate property tax on the first 26 mills assessed by the state's school districts, resulting in a net tax savings of more than a third of a billion dollars. Some $450 million in lost revenues would be made up through a one percent increase in the state's sales and use tax.

The measure needs 286,722 signatures to place it on the fall ballot.

This is a broad approach to property tax reduction.

It's a tax cut, not a shift, intended to save the citizens of our state a tremendous amount of money.

The Siljander plan, if approved by the voters, would:

—Exempt all property tax on homes valued up to $50,000 for senior citizens and blind and disabled persons.

—Substantially increase tax breaks for renters.

—Limit state income tax burden by mandating that personal exemptions rise with the rate of inflation.

—Guarantee lottery revenues for education.

—Limit the number of school millage elections to two per year.

—Result in a cut in state spending.

—Provide director state reimbursement to local units of government.

—Require a two-thirds vote of the legislature to increase taxes or create a new tax.

Jogging Classed As Extroverted Meditation

Running may be as good for the soul as it is for the body, says an intern in Michigan State University's Counseling Center.

A jogger for the past four years, Frank Pasciuti sees running as a means to defuse anxiety as well as counteract depression. "The mind and the body are linked," Pasciuti says. "One can pick up stress from the other. But, in the same way, good physical condition can also mean a good mental state, and running helps you get both."

Running utilizes the basic relaxation techniques of continuous, rhythmic breathing and a freeing of one's mind, Pasciuti notes.

"It may be an extroverted way to meditate," he surmises. "You can turn off your conscious preoccupations and allow your mind freedom to 'run.' Running is an adult's way of going out to play," says Pasciuti.

A. J. HALE, JR.

Accepted By Private Ski Academy

Local cross-country skier A. J. Hale, Jr., of 228 Buchanan St., has just received notification of his acceptance to the Telemark Academy, one of the most highly-regarded private ski schools in the country.

Hale, a 1975 Chelsea High school graduate, has been cross-country skiing for six years and has been teaching the sport in area schools.

Acceptance to the Telemark Academy, a rigorous July through September course of running, dieting, training with weights and practicing on roller skis, is a large step for Hale as far as racing is concerned.

According to Hale, a skier must have certain "marks" to leave the status of citizen racer, and the academy will give him that status. Telemark will sponsor him in meets as an individual or part of its team as long as he remains a team member.

Although his immediate goal is to ski in the Junior National Races, just a step down from the Olympics, he knows that good ratings there would give him a good chance to go to the tryouts for the 1984 winter games.

Two of Telemark's students were members of the 1980 U.S. Olympic team.

In the national forest at Cable, Wis., Hale and 11 other students will train at least 140 miles a week on roller skis through the end of September, and then will train on their own until the ski season starts.

Acceptance to the academy involved writing a total of 10 pages of essays on personal information and on motivation to attend the school. Hale said he was hurt by the relative lack of snow in Michigan this past winter, but that the school took that into account and accepted him anyway.

In 1907 the first proposal for federal legislation to provide old age pensions was made by Congressman William B. Wilson (D-Pa.), who became the first Secretary of Labor in 1913.

Cub Scouts Earn Awards, Merit Badges

Chelsea Cub Scout Pack 435 has been very busy during the past two months, planning activities and celebrating the Cub Scout 50th anniversary.

The Blue and Gold Banquet, held in mid-February, was a memorable afternoon for all the scout families. To round off a well-planned menu, the magic duo of Boyer and Fitzsimmons captivated the audience.

During the March meeting, the Cub Scout day camp at Camp Newkirk in Dexter was discussed. Reservations should be in early for the mid-June activities.

May 17 marks the beginning of the annual Scout-O-Rama, to be held at Briarwood Mall in Ann Arbor this year. Cub Scouts will be selling donation-only tickets throughout the area to help support the local pack and council. Pack 435 will have a booth at the Scout-O-Rama, displaying familiar constellations and how to make a mini-planetary from a tin can.

Many of the scouts have been busy earning awards and badges. The following have been awarded:

Joe Eassa, citizen, aquanaut, scientist, sportsman and traveler awards; Phil Patterson, athlete, scientist, traveler and citizen awards and Webelos badge; Rick Niethammer, citizen, aquanaut, scientist and traveler awards; John Stephenson, citizen, aquanaut, artist, geologist, scientist, sportsman and traveler awards.

Also, Brian Feldman, two silver arrows; Mike Thompson, three silver arrows; Owen Wilcox, bear badge; Paul Hedding, bear badge; Brett Hausen, two silver arrows; Danny Luck, silver arrow; Matt Schweiger, wolf badge; Kevin Rail, three silver arrows; Jeff Smith, gold arrow; and Todd Rowe, bear badge.

The March meeting concluded with a reminder that leaders and officers are needed for the coming year.

A vigorous competition between dens began with the following "Olympic" events: the standing broad jump, clothes pins in a bottle, the basketball bounce, basketball shot put and golfing.

Recipients of the top three honors, and a moonlighter frisbee, were Owen Wilcox, pack champ; Phil Patterson, first runner-up; and Nathan Hatto, second runner-up.

Band Boosters Group Sponsoring Pancake Breakfast

Pancakes, sausage, apple sauce, and beverages will be consumed on behalf of Dexter bands at the Dexter Band Boosters Pancake Breakfast Sunday, April 20 from 8 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. at Dexter High school.

Tickets, which will entitle diners to all the pancakes they can eat, may be obtained from any band member or Band Booster, or from Mrs. Pat Flynn, project chairman, at 426-2172. Adults will be admitted for $2.50, with children under 12 and senior citizens admitted for $1.50.

Proceeds from the annual event will be used to sponsor the participation of the Dexter High school concert and symphonic bands in national festivals.

Directors of the bands are Martha Scharchburg and Gerald Woolfolk.

Fewer, Longer Vacation Trips Are Expected

Going back to nature this year may include getting a package deal at your favorite campground. Packaging—offering campers more things to interest them—may be one way to help offset the effects of the higher price of gasoline, according to a Michigan State University tourism expert.

Robert Christie-Mill, assistant professor of park and recreation resources, believes that people probably will take fewer vacations this season, but on the trips they do take, they will stay longer than usual.

Campgrounds that are close to metropolitan areas or that offer many attractions probably will do better this season, said Christie-Mill.

"Campgrounds that don't have a lot of things to do might team up with other businesses in the area to provide more attractions," he noted.

Applications Being Taken by WCC for Dental Assisting

Applications are now being accepted by Washtenaw Community College for prospective students in the College's recently updated program in Dental Assisting.

The new curriculum offers students in the program several options. At the successful completion of three terms of study, the student becomes eligible to become a C.D.A. (Certified Dental Assistant) and to receive a certificate from the College. Enrolling in a fourth term provides the student with two additional options: (1) completing courses to become an R.D.A. (Registered Dental Assistant) in the State of Michigan, or (2) completing courses to become a business office manager. Both of these last options lead to the student earning an associate degree at the College. All courses may be completed in evening classes or through enrollment in classes held during the daytime.

Questions regarding the new Dental Assisting program and about making application for entrance into it should be directed to WCC staff at (313) 973-3331.

Auxiliary Police Honored By VFW Auxiliary

Chelsea's Auxiliary Police Unit was honored by the VFW Ladies Auxiliary, Post 4076, Thursday evening, for its service to the community.

VFW Auxiliary members Eulahlee Packard and Lucy Platt presented the group with a certificate honoring the reserve officers for "responding unselfishly to the needs of others."

Also at the Thursday Auxiliary meeting, Mrs. Eugene Schirrmacher presented a check for $100 to the group in the name of her late husband, who was a member of the VFW and a reserve officer some years ago.

Girls Track Team Has Good Balance

to win. Dexter's Sharon Young is the best hurdler in the conference, and freshman Kelly McKillen is an outstanding distance runner. Kim Millar and Susan Foote must fill gaps in the sprints left by graduation, which probably hit Dexter harder than any SEC school.

Saline's plus will be balance. State champ high jumper Laurie Rogers is the top returnee. Vicki Wareing is a fine shot putter and discus thrower, and Lori Harris and Robin Langworthy are good distance runners.

Chelsea's strength is the shot put and discus. Mary Boylan and Lorrie Vandegrift placed second and fourth in the shot and Boylan won the discus last year. The relays were one of the Bulldogs' main strengths last year and should remain so. Depth has been a problem for Chelsea in the past. In order to be a contender, the Bulldogs must stay healthy.

Distance has been Milan's strength of late, and this year should be no exception. Jennifer Pratt came on strong in cross country and should be one of the top distance runners in the league again this spring. The field events and depth in the sprints are areas that need strengthening if Milan is to challenge.

Western enters the league off of a down year, but as an unknown could surprise the unwary. It is doubtful, however, that they will contend for the title.

Over-all, the SEC will remain a strong league in girls track. Last year, three of the current schools and South Lyon were in the top 20 in the state meet, in addition to placing first, third and fifth in the regional.

The Veterans Administration plans to guarantee 362,000 home loans valued at $19.8 billion for eligible ex-service members and active duty personnel this year.

Sheriff Substation Will Open Soon

Plans regarding the new Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department substation in Chelsea are falling into place, with some details to be worked out after operation begins at the station.

According to Sheriff Thomas Minick, 15 deputies will be assigned to the station at the Chelsea School District bus garage and will afford 24-hour protection on three shifts. Some split-shift assignments may be given to afford more coverage at specific times.

"We will probably beef up the shift at about 5 p.m. to overlap until 1 or 2 in the morning," Minick said. "After that, it tends to get quiet out there."

Minick said his intention is to have the office open a minimum of 30 hours each week, perhaps Tuesday through Saturday, with the possibility of hours in the evening. He stressed that at first all scheduling will be flexible until deputies and the department can assess what the real needs of the community will be.

He hopes to arrange to have a secretary in the office to handle all office business, and said a local person would be preferable in the position.

There will probably be four cars stationed at the Chelsea substation, or perhaps more, depending on the particular situation. Minick said that probably 60 percent of the patrol will be for traffic problems and violations, with the remaining 40 percent for criminal complaints.

Track Team Prospects . . .

Beeman; and sophomore Todd Sprague.

This year's freshman group has 18 young men out for track from last year's unbeaten junior high school team.

"They will be heard from by the end of the season," predicted Coach Clarke.

The SEC league race will be a three-team affair, with Lincoln, Saline and Dexter all in contention. Milan and Western lost heavily in graduation, but should still field strong teams.

Chelsea's young Bulldogs hope to be competitive and improve as the season progresses.

Following is the 1980 schedule:
 April 16—Lincoln (H) . . . 4 p.m.
 April 22—Manchester (A) . . 4 p.m.
 April 24—Dexter (H) 4 p.m.
 April 29—Milan (A) 4:30 p.m.
 May 2—Mason Relays
 May 6—S. Lyon (H) 4 p.m.
 May 7—Pinckney Soph-Frosh
 May 8—Saline (H) 4:30 p.m.
 May 10—Mich. Center Relays
 May 13—Western (H) 4 p.m.
 May 17—Regionals (State)
 May 21—League Meet 2 p.m.
 May 27—County Meet
 June 7—State Meet

"Seldom do we have crimes (in the Chelsea area) of the great magnitude that we do in the eastern part of the county," Minick said, noting that traffic accidents and violations tend to be the most prevalent.

Targeted move-in date was originally April 15, but the problem of a suitable gas tank has delayed matters. Minick said that patrol cars use unleaded gas, while school buses run on leaded gasoline. The sheriff's department will have to either put in a new gas tank or put a pump on an existing school district tank and fill it with unleaded fuel.

The department was unwilling to move cars in to the station on April 15 when they would still have to travel to Dexter to refuel, Minick said.

At this point, said he, the second alternative looks best and he is still optimistic that the substation will be manned in April.

Local residents who would normally call the 971-8400 number to summon sheriff's deputies will continue to do so, Minick pointed out. The phone in the substation will be used for answering questions and solving problems that residents might have, but all dispatching of officers will still be done through the main exchange in Ann Arbor.

Residents will, of course, continue to summon the Chelsea Police Department for problems occurring within village limits.

 ball hurler. She has been voted second-team all-state and first-team all-conference for the past three years.

Catching Nanette this season is Chelsea's other captain Patti Hume. Hume has already won three varsity awards in softball. Her ability as a defensive catcher and signal caller is unmatched, according to Coach Wescott. "Both Patti and Nanette have been important parts of our softball program since I've been coaching," Wescott said. "I've never coached one game in three years without them."

Kim Wood, another important senior, will start at first base. Kim has won two varsity softball awards and will be the key offensive player in Wescott's line-up this season. "For us to win, Kim has to hit the way she is able to," he said. "I know she can get the job done. She has good power." Amanda Schwarze rounds out the fine softball talent in the senior class. Schwarze will be getting a starting role in the outfield, which an area newspaper's softball writer called "questionable." Amanda has excellent potential as an outfielder and has played in the varsity infield for the past two seasons.

In addition to the seniors, eight juniors will add their talent to the 1980 varsity squad. Anita Powell, Jennifer Ringe and Molly Eisele are all returning from last year's varsity. All three are important parts of this season's infield, with Eisele at shortstop, Ringe at second and Powell at third and pitching.

"Anita is a real team player and can be used anywhere," explained Wescott. "It's great to have a player with that type of ability."

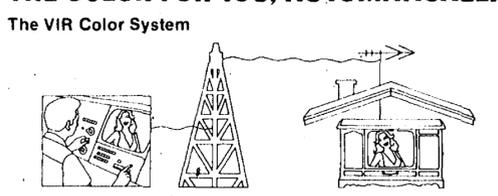

Other juniors and new additions to this year's varsity are Patti Rawson, Cathy Wade, Angie Inglis and Kelly Hense.

RABIES SHOTS must be administered to all dogs under state law, but some pet owners treat the question of rabies as a thing of the past—not a safe or wise attitude. Here Dr. W. C. Lane and Marjorie

Real Estate

By PAUL FRISINGER

REALTOR

TWO PLUS TWO EQUALS FIVE

For those of you inclined toward investing in residential income property, the question arises: "Should I start with two duplexes or one four-unit apartment house?"

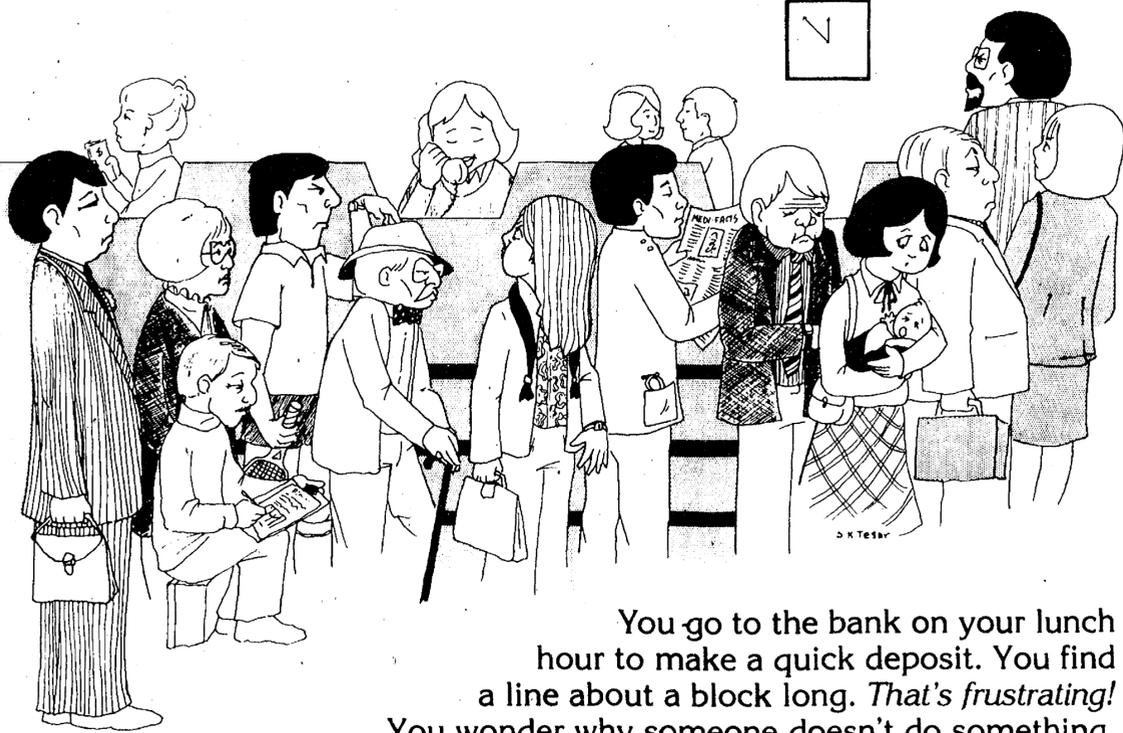

Naturally, I am using minimum numbers, but the principle is the same. You will be better off financially with the most number of units in a building that you can afford rather than two separate buildings of half the number of units. The economic reasons are obvious. One lot, one tax bill, one oil tank, one boiler, one basic plumbing system and electrical system. True, these costs are larger for larger buildings, but the cost per unit decreases in direct proportion to the number of units.

Consequently, if you buy for a minimum cash down, the greatest number of units you can get for your money, the better off you will be financially when you get to the bottom line of the income statement. Plus a real estate investment is the best hedge against inflation there is.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at FRISINGER REALTY CO., 935 S. Main St., Chelsea. Phone: 475-8681; evenings 475-2621. We're here to help!

When your time is worth money, you don't want to spend it in line.

You go to the bank on your lunch hour to make a quick deposit. You find a line about a block long. That's frustrating!

You wonder why someone doesn't do something.

At Ann Arbor Trust, we realize it's impossible to completely eliminate rush hour lines. But we've taken steps to minimize this problem. During busy periods we have extra tellers available to help save your time.

At Ann Arbor Trust we try to satisfy your needs before you have them. We're thinking about you.

Rabies Protection Still Needed

By Washtenaw Academy of Veterinary Medicine

The rabies problem in the United States is measured not so much by the number of human deaths as by the number of persons who require treatment. More than 30,000 persons each year are bitten by suspected rabid animals and are required to take treatment.

The Communicable Disease Center in Atlanta, Ga., reports in 1979 we had the greatest number of human rabies cases since 1950. Most cases were transmitted to humans as a result of bites from dogs, cats or bats.

Of the dog bites reported 75% were dogs who had owners. 50% of these dogs had not had a current rabies vaccination and this sometimes required their victims to undergo painful antirabies treatments if the animal could not be caught and confined for a 10-day period. In addition, the majority of the bite victims were small children. In Chelsea alone, the police department estimated that there were at least 30 dog bites reported last year.

The Washtenaw Academy of Veterinary Medicine urges all to protect their children and pets by having pets properly vaccinated. State law requires all dogs to be vaccinated against rabies. Ann Arbor city law also requires rabies vaccinations for cats, and legislation has been suggested to require this state-wide. Residents of the City of Ann Arbor, City of Ypsilanti, and Township of Ypsilanti must show proof of rabies vaccinations to their local City Clerk to obtain their licenses. In the rest of the county, licenses must be obtained from the County Treasurer and are considered delinquent after March 1.

One new aspect that is being tried by some veterinarians nation-wide is the use of coded rabies tags. Under this plan, different colored and shaped tags would be issued each year, and this would enable quick identification of the vaccination status of an animal wearing these tags, without getting close enough to read the year imprinted on the tag. For example, for 1980 the coded tags are red hearts. The duration of the rabies vaccine depends on the type of vaccine and the species. Most vaccines for cats are 12 months, but some canine vaccines are good up to 36 months.

Auditions Scheduled For Summer Musical

Friends of the Chelsea Players have announced that auditions for their July 17-19 production of "The King and I" will be held Wednesday and Thursday, May 14 and 15, from 7:30 to 10 p.m. at the Chelsea High school auditorium. Callbacks will be held on Saturday, May 17, from 1 to 3 p.m.

Those auditioning will be required to dance and sing. The dance will be a simple routine taught at the time of the auditions. It is preferred that each person sing one song selected from the Rodgers and Hammerstein score. If a different choice is performed, the person will be required to read one song from the play.

Men, women, children and dancers are needed for the production. Those with experience as well as those who have never performed are welcome. Separate rehearsals for dancers and actors will be held. Special consideration will be given to scheduling of the children rehearsals. Children will not be required to stay up late.

Rehearsals will begin the week of June 1. For further information, call Alyce Riemen-schneider, 475-1056.

Bike-A-Thon Funds To Help St. Jude Hospital

The Rev. Thode E. Thodeson of Chelsea Baptist church has agreed to the chairmanship of the St. Jude Children's Research Hospital Bike-A-Thon in Chelsea, to raise funds to support the hospital, according to the hospital's development director, William Kirwen.
St. Jude's Research Hospital was founded in 1962 by entertainer Danny Thomas to combat catastrophic diseases which affect children. St. Jude's is non-sectarian, non-discriminatory and completely free of charge to all patients.
At St. Jude's, scientists and physicians are working side by side, seeking not only better means of treatment but also the cause, cure and prevention of killer diseases.
All findings and information gained at St. Jude's are freely shared with doctors and hospitals the world over. Thanks to the hospital, children with leukemia, Hodgkins' disease, sickle cell anemia and other child-killing diseases have a better chance to live.
Funds raised in the Bike-A-Thon this spring will help assure the continuation of the hospital's work.
The Rev. Thodeson has shown great concern for the work being performed at St. Jude's, and is sure that the people of Chelsea will support the upcoming Bike-A-Thon wholeheartedly.

Lansing Builder Enters Congressional Race

Jim Dunn is a 36-year-old Lansing based small businessman bidding for the Republican nomination for Congress in Michigan's 8th District. Jim attended Michigan public schools and worked his way through Michigan State University by painting apartments and houses.
After obtaining his degree in business and marketing, Jim began his own building and contracting business in 1968. In the 12 years since that time, he has expanded that fledgling enterprise into one of the most successful and respected operations in Mid-Michigan.
Appointed by Governor Milliken to the Small Business Advisory Council, Jim has also been active in such civic projects as the Lansing Arts Council, serving as co-chairman of their fundraising drive. In addition, he is a member of the local and national Home Builders Association as well as the local and national arms of the Board of Realtors. Last December Jim was invited by the National Home Builders Association to confer with administration officials and members of Congress in an economic "Crisis Seminar" sponsored by the National Association in Washington, D. C.
Jim and his wife, Gayle, live in East Lansing with their three young children—Jeffrey, Julie and Kate.

Responding To Your Needs

Since we began in 1928, we have become known as the most progressive of all the controlled membership associations of funeral directors . . . and we've seen constant change in the profession.

Today, with changing public values and ways of thinking, funeral directors must be more progressive and responsive than ever before. We feel that members of The International Order of the Golden Rule are a select group of funeral directors who are intent upon meeting this challenge.

Before admitting a firm to the Order, we require the approval of families the firm has served, clergy, and other professionals in the area. Annual review of the member's qualifications is mandatory.

We are pleased to announce that Burghardt-Cole Chelsea Funeral Chapel, in Chelsea, has qualified for membership for the 2nd consecutive year. It's firms such as this that make our organization what it is — a group of dedicated funeral directors sharing experience, information, and ideas for the good of the public they serve.

The Bible - The Light from Heaven

Speaks about purity of life. There would be no argument from any observant person that the moral standards have dropped considerably in the last ten years. We mention some indicating this such as, the use of drugs, pre-marital sex, co-habitation without the responsibilities of marriage, television programs are becoming more suggestive and vulgar in both theme and language, drunkenness and violence fill the earth, and other things could be mentioned but these will suffice to point out the trend of the times. The Bible the light from heaven points out that Christians have been called to a pure life. The apostle Paul wrote to the young man Timothy, "keep thyself pure." (1 Timothy 5:22). Paul also wrote to a congregation of the church and told them "Whatsoever things are pure . . . think on these things." (Philippians 4:8). John the beloved apostle wrote for all who would be followers of Christ, "and every man that hath this hope in him purifieth himself, even as he is pure." (1 John 2:3). The dictionary defines purity as, "being free from anything that taints, impares or weakens." In the spiritual sense our lives as Christians must be free from any action that would cause God to look upon us as tainted by sin. One of the most repulsive things in the sight of God is one who has become a Christian not keeping himself pure. Cf. 2 Peter 2:20-22. This is a true picture of what a lack of purity in the Christian's life is in the sight of God.

Auto-Owners home-owners insurance is different. Not only in the way we handle claims (Auto-Owners built its reputation on fast, fair claims service). Pharmacists Present Paper In Medication Education

Dr. Lorraine Perkins, director of pharmacy, and Amy McCormack, assistant director of pharmacy, Chelsea Community Hospital, recently presented a paper titled Development of a Medication Discharge Consultation Program in a Small Community Hospital at the interim meeting of the Michigan Pharmacists Association, Feb. 7, in Dearborn. The paper was also presented at the Midyear Clinical Meeting of the American Society of Hospital Pharmacists, Dec. 5, in Las Vegas, Nev.

The paper describes an innovative pharmaceutical service available to patients at Chelsea Community Hospital. The Department of Pharmacy has prepared 28 drug monographs which describe the mechanism by which the medication acts, when to call the physician, when to take the medication, how to take the medication, and any special storage requirements. Individual patients are counseled by the pharmacist and given a discharge packet consisting of a drug monograph for each of the patient's medications, an information sheet which discusses medication in general terms and a calendar sheet.

Conservation Teacher of Year Being Sought

Nominations are being accepted for the seventh national "Conservation Teacher-of-the-Year" awards program according to William Fishbeck, chairman of the Washtenaw County Soil Conservation District. The competition is open to all full-time teachers working at the kindergarten through high school level who have developed an outstanding program of environmental education.

The National Conservation Teacher of the Year will receive $1,000 in cash and an expense paid trip to San Francisco, Calif., for the 1981 annual convention of the National Association of Conservation Districts. The national second-place winner receives $500 cash award and the first-place regional winner will be given $200.

Co-sponsored by NACD and the Allis Chalmers Corp., purpose of the awards program is to encourage the development of creative learning experiences in conservation for young people. "Any teacher in a public or private school serving our conservation district who puts emphasis on environmental conservation as a regular part of the instructional program is eligible for nomination," said Fishbeck.

Interested teachers may obtain additional information and nomination forms from the Washtenaw County Soil Conservation District.

The awards program also includes equivalent prizes for the conservation district judged nationally to have provided the most effective stimulus and help for conservation education programs within the district.

Art Show Opens In Manchester

Pride was evident on the faces of young area artists as they attended the opening of the Manchester Art Guild's second annual children's exhibition, "Through A Child's Eyes," on Sunday, April 13.

Area schools, including Chelsea, Dexter, Manchester, Saline and Brooklyn, were invited to submit artwork from students in kindergarten through the 12th grade. This year's exhibit boasts a record number of participants displaying nearly 150 works of art.

Outstanding examples of drawing, painting, weaving, sculpture, jewelry and many other media fill the gallery walls to capacity and grace its floors.

Elaine Kolasa from the Ann Arbor school system was the highlight of the opening festivities, presenting a stimulating talk on children's art. Her comments ranged from a disapproval of comic books for lack of creativity to the importance of creative challenges in childhood.

A steady stream of visitors marked the success of this year's opening.

"Through A Child's Eyes" will run through April 27 at the guild, 138 E. Main St., across the hall from the Black Sheep Theatre. Hours will be Thursdays from 7 to 9 p.m., Fridays from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. and 7:30 to 9 p.m., Saturdays from 7:30 to 9 p.m. and Sundays from 3 to 6 p.m.

A number of students from North and South Elementary schools are displaying works at the show.

Girls Track Team Wins First Dual

Hard training in the recent bad weather began to pay off for the girls track team Tuesday afternoon, as they defeated Stockbridge, 68-55, and Williamston, 71-52, in a double dual.

In conditions that can best be described as "far from ideal," the Bulldogs put together some strong performances to take the meet.

Chelsea girls ran times good enough to win five events in both meets. Marleen Williams took the 100 hurdles, Teresa Hoffman the 1600 meters, Debbie Honbaum the 400 and Tracy Bohlender tied in the 200 hurdles. Bohlender's time in that race established a new school record for the two-year-old event.

Hoffman, Honbaum and Bohlender combined with Nancy Heller to win the mile relay against both opponents.

Other Chelsea scorers were Mary Boylan, Lorrie Vandegrift and Sue Branham in the shot put; Boylan and Nancy Heller in the discus; Pris Drew in the long jump and 1600 meters; Kathy Honbaum in the 100 and 200; Carolyn Chandler in the 220; Lisa Vandegrift in the 400; Nancy Heller and Teresa Degener in the 800; and Sandy Frame and Cheryl Hankerd in the 3200 meters.

A strong 3200 performance by Frame and Hankerd, who ran stride for stride during most of the race and finished one-two, clinched the win over Stockbridge.

This Saturday, the Bulldog track team will host the fifth annual Chelsea Relays. Close finishes and good performances have marked these relays in the past, and this year should be no exception.

Each year the field has included some of the state's best athletes. One of the best this year is Saline's Laurie Rogers, the state Class B high jump champ. Rogers and teammate Barb Mahnke set a meet record in the high jump relay last year and should be back to try and improve on that this year.

There will be new long jump champions, however, as record holders and two-time winners Chris Rotunno and Julie Plummer from Saline have graduated. Chelsea's best hope in the field events lies with shot putters Lorrie Vandegrift and Mary Boylan.

Strong distance teams have led Carleton Airport to two consecutive runner-up awards, but graduation has hit them hard, taking three of the four runners from the two-mile and distance relay teams. Unless they have replacements, or improved sprint teams, Carleton will be hard pressed to do as well.

Dexter returns to defend the team title they won last year, with Monroe St. Mary and Hillsdale, third last year, the leading contenders. Hillsdale returns Laura and Julie Willson, two of the top runners on the cross country team that was second in the state this fall.

Another strong distance team in Linden, ninth in cross country. Other teams on the field are Hartland, Lumen Christi, New Boston, Huron, Erie-Mason and Tecumseh.

As for the hosts, the Bulldogs are a dark horse and could be in the thick of the meet if things go right for them. Best bets for high finishes for Chelsea are the shuttle hurdle, sprint medley and mile relays, along with the shot put team.

Field events begin at 1 p.m., running events at 2:30 p.m.
