July 4 Celebration Scheduled

Fourth of July will again be a festive day in Chelsea this year, as American Legion Post 31, Chelsea Fair Board, Chelsea Four Wheel Pullers Association and Chelsea Kiwanis present a whole day of activities for the community.

The fun begins at 11 a.m. with 2,000 extra-heavy chickens roasted to perfection for the traditional chicken barbecue. Price for the dinners is $3.25 per person.

A four-wheel drive Truck Pull will begin at noon. Admission is $2 per person and the grandstands can accommodate 3,000 spectators.

An ice cream social will begin at 4 p.m., followed by $1,800 worth of fireworks detonated at dusk.

All the activities will take place at the Chelsea Fairgrounds on Old US-12.

Chelsea Players Seek 'Angels' To Help Financing

Friends of the Chelsea Players are inviting area businesses and individuals to become "Friends" by making contributions that will aid the group's productions and programs in the community.

A $10 donation will designate the giver as a Patron, a $25 contribution as an Associate Member, and a $50 gift as a Sustaining Member. Checks may be sent to P. O. Box 92, Chelsea.

All contributions received before July 1 will be acknowledged. (Continued on page three)

DETERMINATION shows on the face of All-State Chelsea hurler Nanette Push as she releases one of her fireballs. That same determination is what led Push through four years of improvement on the varsity and a full softball scholarship to Eastern Michigan University. Nanette was named to the second All-State team last season and this year shared top hurling status with Fenton's Deanna Moore.

Nanette Push Named to All-State Softball Team

Culminating a dazzling four-year career in Chelsea softball, Nanette Push was named to the Associated Press All-State Class B softball team last week.

A remarkably strong fireballer whose development as a pitcher closely parallels the rise of Chelsea softball, Push ended the season with a 16-2 record, striking out 1.22 per inning and recording a 0.75 ERA.

Push, dubbed "Wheezie" in the infield chatter of her teammates, was a second-team selection to the All-State softball roster last year and was named All-Conference in basketball this past season.

As a cager, she was the first Chelsea basketball player, male or female, to top the 1,000 career point mark.

Even without comparison to other hurlers in the league or even in the state, it's evident that her statistics are most impressive.

However, her career-long coach, Bill Wescott, points out that statistics really don't mean that much, despite the fact that they are the heart of most sports reporting done about Nanette.

What's important about Push, Wescott says, is her determination and drive coupled with totally supportive and honest parents, Mel and Gisela Push.

It's the transformation from a freshman who didn't really want to pitch to a confident, consistent hurler that is what really counts, according to Wescott.

Push is quick to give credit to her parents, recalling the long hours her father spent catching her in the back yard of their home.

Wescott recalls that the joke on the team used to be that if Nanette didn't get in her 300 pitches, she didn't eat. "Her father saw to it that she threw," he said. "Her folks gave her direction and motivation to excel. And they never made excuses for her."

Also working with her the past two winters have been Ron Hodge and Mike Sweet.

Expert Team Offers Help in Revitalizing Downtown Area

When it comes to giving a lift to established downtown areas, a little imagination and know-how can often accomplish more than costly construction projects and expensive planning help.

That was the message delivered to a number of Chelsea businesspersons Monday evening in a workshop aimed at generating ideas for revitalizing the village's downtown area.

Sponsored by the Washtenaw County Planning Commission and partially funded by HUD money, the workshop drew a disappointing crowd of only nine people. Nevertheless, the presentation was informative and the discussion animated.

Carol Sullivan, an independent consultant who was hired for the county project with federal funds, opened the proceedings with a slide presentation, aimed at pinpointing Chelsea's assets side-by-side with some perceived problems.

Her focus was guided by responses to questionnaires that were sent to local residents and businesses earlier in the year.

On the asset side, Sullivan said, Chelsea has solid small-town character, is friendly and has a convenient business district, not only in terms of access to downtown but also because of the available mix of goods found along Main St.

Problems, as identified by those who answered the surveys, center around parking, circulation, variety, appearance and price.

Beginning with parking, Sullivan said that while there is heavy use of the on-street parking spots, the free parking behind Main St. is not as popular a spot. Location, rather than supply, seems to be the problem, she said, adding that residents on the survey were not willing to help pay for parking improvements.

Traffic conditions were mentioned by businesses who answered the survey. Sullivan said that the main problem with Main St. seems to be that conditions are not as good for pedestrians.

She pointed to high curbs, narrow sidewalks lined with meters and utility poles, and lack of pedestrian traffic signals as possible areas of improvement. The height of curbs in particular, she noted, seem to give some of Chelsea's many older citizens some problems.

A puzzling outcome of survey responses seemed to indicate that while Chelsea residents say they do most of their shopping here, they don't find enough variety. On the face of it, that sounds contradictory, but Sullivan presented a possible analysis.

It could be, she surmised, that what residents were really addressing themselves to was the lack of comparison shopping opportunities on Main St. "There's not enough here to make them feel comfortable," she explained. "They feel as though maybe they could get it cheaper somewhere else."

Merchants could counter this impression, she suggested, by stressing competitive pricing in their advertisements or displays.

The bulk of her slides were concerned with appearance and improvements in the downtown buildings themselves.

As the commission pamphlet prepared for the workshop indicates, "Some first floors have been remodeled, not all in materials or colors appropriate to the character of the building."

Sullivan then showed a number of "before and after" slides of buildings of similar vintage in Ann Arbor and Traverse City, both of which cities she has been involved with. Often the simple stripping of paint off brick works a remarkable transformation in turn-of-the-century style buildings.

Chelsea's own McKune Library underwent such a transformation about two years ago and the decision was made to leave the brick unpainted.

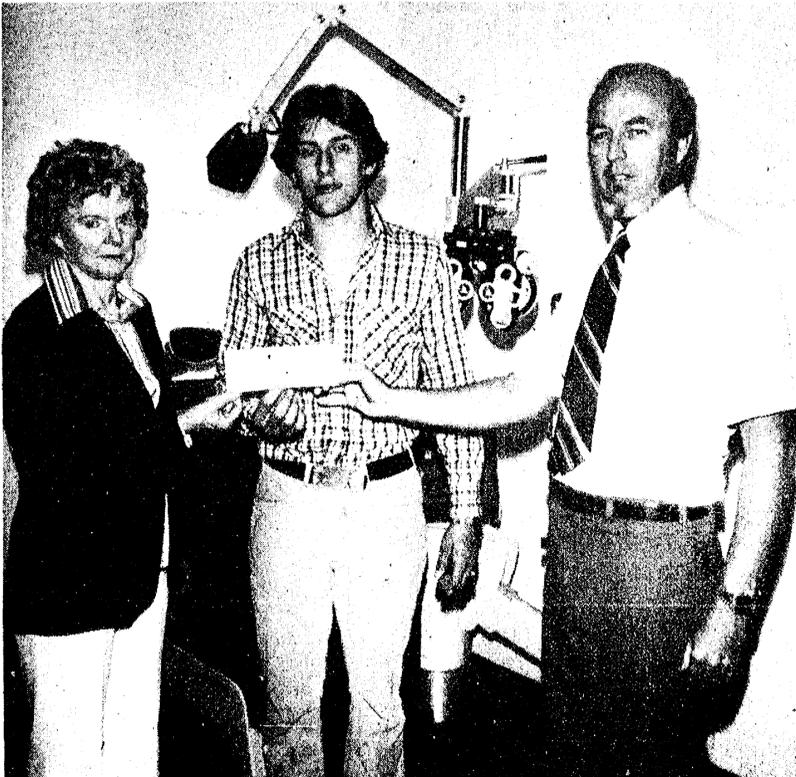

Sometimes all that is necessary to return charm to a building, Sullivan said, is to remove the jerry-built additions that have gone up over the years. This tactic worked with a number of buildings both in Traverse City and Ann Arbor.

Goals that should be worked for, Sullivan said, are encouraging the renovation of existing buildings to enhance historic character and to encourage appropriate development downtown rather than in fringe areas to strengthen the central area.

A wealth of deferred-interest or tax-abatement loans and grants are available to those who only know where to look, Sullivan told the group. Building renovations under $10,000 do not need the seal of an architect to be implemented. Sometimes substitutions may be made in procedures and materials under the building code that are perfectly legal.

In order to assist Chelsea businesses and village government in locating means of revitalization, the planning commission will provide several copies of a handbook detailing all such aid and how to procure it. A copy will be placed in McKune Library so that the public will have access to the information.

Carol Sullivan's message for Chelsea residents is clear: if you want to make changes, you've got to move beyond hand-wringing and complaining and learn what's available.

SCOTT PROHASKA, center, was awarded the annual A. A. Palmer Medical Scholarship and received a $500 check in ceremonies at Chelsea Hospital last week. Awarding Scott the funds were Betty Maxwell of the Chelsea and Painters and Dr. William Hawks, who initiated the scholarship award. Major part of the funds are raised through the Chelsea and Painter's annual art sale. Prohaska will begin a pre-medical curriculum at Albion College this fall.

WERKNER COLLISION: Local resident Douglas K. Bradley was driving this Triumph TR7 early Wednesday morning when he and another automobile collided. Sketchy details available Wednesday indicated that Bradley and the driver of the other vehicle, a Chevy, were heading in the same direction on Werkner Rd. near Island Lake when they approached a sharp curve. The Chevy apparently took the curve too quickly, lost control and spun around 180 degrees. The Triumph, coming around behind, smacked into the larger, heavier car. Bradley, 18, was taken to Chelsea Hospital Emergency with a head wound and was later transferred to University Hospital in Ann Arbor. He was reported in fair condition Wednesday afternoon.

Ed Doolittle told the fellers at the country store Saturday night that it's a wonder to him that Mark Holmes' children ain't filed for divorce the way he's been acting like a daddy to em. Ed had saw where Mark and his wife make their son, who is eight, and their 12-year-old daughter generate the electricity they watch television with. The next thing you know, declared Ed, children will be back helping with the milking and feeding and housework just like they use to.

What happened, Ed reported, was that Mark is a doctor worried about his kids setting and staring at the TV all the time. He said they ought to be using their bodies, not to mention their minds, so he got an engineer friend to rig up a generator on a exercise bike. Now when the children want to watch the cartoons and cereal ads they got to work for em. Mark says an hour of pedaling turns out power for an hour of TV, and their folks like both results.

Actual, Ed declared, the parents have to pedal their TV power to, but the article didn't play that up. Ed said there must be a dozen grown people in this country who don't watch television at all ever, and even more who are trying to wean themselves like cutting back on smoking or drinking. The idea of doing anything that keeps children away from the tube is what's news, Ed said, the way making kids do anything they don't want to do is. He had a clipping where a Chicago lawyer says it's time for child divorce because to many kids are being denied their rights. She pointed to one Minnesota case where a 15-year-old girl sued her folks to keep from going on a trip with em, and she won the right to stay with a aunt while they were gone. The notion that children do what their parents say because the parents say do it had been declared null and void by the courts, Ed said.

Personal, Mister Editor, I figger you can call an onion a potato but it won't make your breath no sweeter. Whutver we ignore our children and let em spend their lives glued to the TV, or we cage em up in school so they can't mix with other children, we're still giving up on our job. The drift I got from the fellers is that our children is part of us, and when we give up on them we give up on ourselves.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

No New State Budget Until Fall

The legislature, for the first time in recent history, will recess for the summer without writing a new budget for the fiscal year 1980-81.

The legislature has always taken great pains to complete a budget prior to the lengthy recess, even though the new fiscal year doesn't begin until Oct. 1, to allow public schools and colleges and universities knowledge of the state funds available to enter teachers and other contracts.

The state's sinking economic conditions are playing havoc with the budget writing process.

Just when the Senate or House fiscal agencies have put together figures to use, a new round of layoffs hit the automobile and related industries, increasing unemployment and welfare caseloads while decreasing proposed state revenues for the year.

The state Senate, however, is writing a complete budget, using its best figures available at the time. The entire budget will be sent to the House where no action is expected to be taken until after the Labor Day holiday.

The Senate version of the budget, at best, will give the educational community an idea of what to expect next year and allow state department directors base figures on which to plan operations for next year.

The upper chamber is using revenue projections of $4,771 million for the year, however, prior to adoption of the budget bills, revenue figures softened to about $4,687 million.

To cover the lost revenue, the Senate simply placed identical language in the bills indicating the legislature's intention to close approximately $100 million in tax credits and loopholes.

The language continued that if the credits and loopholes are not closed, the governor by executive order, will cut the $100 million from the legislatively approved budget levels.

One such credit already closed by the Senate, and now residing in the House Veterans Affairs Committee, would eliminate the income tax exemption for military pay of persons domiciled in Michigan.

All military pay, except the first $1,500 per year earned by members of the Michigan National Guard and reservists in Michigan, would be subject to state income taxes.

This would raise between $15 and $23 million per year.

While the Senate was putting on the finishing touches of its budget levels, the governor met with department heads and informed them that further cutbacks are in order for the upcoming fiscal year.

He made it clear to department heads there will be less dollars to go around next year than in the current fiscal year—something that has not happened in the state budget since 1939.

A spokesman for the governor said the executive office would not revise budget figures until at least July. Reports are expected from the departments outlining how lower spending levels would be implemented, with the governor then issuing revised recommendations, in August or September.

House leadership has decided not to process a budget prior to the summer recess because of the crumbling revenue picture and the pressures of an August primary and November general election which all 110 members must face.

Campaign Finance Report Required From Candidates

All state and local elected officials, legislators, candidates for public office and committees who have spent or received more than $500 for the next election in which they will participate, must file an Annual Campaign Statement by June 30, according to Secretary of State Richard H. Austin.

Austin, who supervises elections in Michigan, said the report, required by Michigan's Campaign Finance Reporting Act of 1976, must contain an itemized listing of receipts and disbursements connected with each filer's campaign activity. The statements must either be filed with the local county clerk or the secretary of state, depending on where the candidates, committees or officials registered under the Campaign Finance Act.

Forms and instructions needed to complete the statement are available in each county clerk's office or from the Department of State Campaign Finance Reporting Section at 208 N. Capitol Ave. (Mutual Building), Lansing, telephone 373-8558.

Chelsea Church Women United has announced a Rummage and Bake Sale, to be held Thursday, July 3, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the Longworth Building.

Money raised from the sale will be used to support Church Women United state projects, including Ecumenical Camp Center, which builds bridges of friendship between Michigan residents and international students. Chelsea residents have entertained international students through Church Women United.

Other projects are Women in Community Service, which uses volunteers to recruit disadvantaged girls for Job Corps; Michigan Farm Worker Ministry, which meets emergency needs and works for better wages and living conditions for migrant families; Native American advocacy and education to overcome erroneous information taught about the original Americans; and education and relief programs for women and children worldwide.

Chelsea Church Women United is asking for community contributions of baked goods, children's clothing, furniture and household goods.

Call Katherine Hiltz, 475-7716, or Caroline Arbogast, 475-1279, or bring sale items to the Longworth Building on Wednesday, July 2, from 9-11 a.m. or 3-6 p.m. Baked goods may also be brought in on Thursday during the sale.

Push's phenomenal arm has won her a full scholarship to Eastern Michigan University, which has a relatively young softball program, coached by Ann Johnston.

Academically, she is tending toward the study of special education. A good deal of her interest in that area came from working with and assisting Nancy Cooper, Chelsea High school's special education teacher.

Meanwhile, softball continues as Chelsea competes in the 16- to 18-years old ASA Ann Arbor league. Chances are that Push will yet hurl her way to a couple more championships for the blue and gold before donning the green and white next year.

Established 50 years ago as an independent federal agency solely to aid American veterans and eligible dependents, the Veterans Administration will celebrate its 50th anniversary in July. Prior to 1930, responsibility for veterans' programs was shared by several federal agencies.

Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Neal Smith

Lisa Mae Weber, Patrick Smith Wed Friday at Methodist Church

Lisa Mae Weber and Patrick Neal Smith were united in marriage Friday, June 13, at the Chelsea Methodist church with Elder Ronald Harris, a friend of the bride's family officiating.

The wedding date was especially chosen to coincide with the 54th wedding anniversary of the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Barth of Brooklyn, formerly of Chelsea.

Given in marriage by both her father and step-father, the bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Art Vandervoort, 1201 Freer Rd., and William C. Weber of Chelsea. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Marie Smith of Chelsea and Mr. Marion Smith of Stockbridge.

Mrs. Arthur Cobb was organist.

The bride was attired in a white chiffon A-line gown with an empire waist and off-shoulder neckline made of folds of chiffon caught and edged with Venice lace. A valance on the skirt was headed with folds of chiffon and trimmed in Venice lace matching the neckline. She wore a chapel length train and a round chiffon hat with Venice lace.

She carried a bouquet of white silk roses, daisies, baby's breath and peach roses.

Matron of honor was Lori Barth of Grass Lake, cousin of the bride. She wore a peach halter dress of luster knit with caplets and flowers in her hair.

Bridesmaids were Kim Slater, Joan Weber, Jackie Lamb and the bridegroom's sister Barbie Smith, all of Chelsea, and Chelly

Weber and Gwen Weber of Grass Lake, sisters-in-law of the bride. All were attired in gowns of seafoam green, styled like that of the matron of honor. They carried silk carnations.

Mother of the bride was attired in a yellow floor-length gown with a yellow rose corsage. The bridegroom's mother wore a blue floor-length gown with a blue rose corsage.

Best man was the bride's brother, Todd Weber of Grass Lake. Ushers were Jeff Smith of Chelsea, the bridegroom's brother; Jeff Weber of Grass Lake and Dave Weber of Chelsea, brothers of the bride; Steve Pennington of Chelsea, Jeff Johnson of Ann Arbor and Leon Brown of Grass Lake.

A reception was held at the Chelsea Fair Service Center with Jim Romine and the Lakers providing the music. Hosts and hostesses were aunt and uncle of the bridegroom, Mr. and Mrs. Owen Cavender, Jr., of Chelsea, and cousins of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Ron Carper of Grass Lake.

Sue Heydlauff cut the wedding cake. Kim Risner and Linda Vandervoort attended the guest book. Jeanette Riemenschneider served punch.

The couple is honeymooning while driving to Washington State where they will make their home. The bridegroom is stationed with the U.S. Navy at Whitty Island, Oak Harbor, Wash.

Three couples attended the wedding from The Netherlands: Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Den Boer, Mr. and Mrs. Gys Overvliet and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Heemskerck, aunts and uncles of the bride.

Everything Doesn't Cause Cancer . . .

It seems like every time you turn around, something is suspected of causing cancer. It's enough to make you wonder if everything doesn't cause cancer.

To answer some questions about the causes and prevention of cancer, and laboratory tests that identify carcinogens, the Department of Health, Education and Welfare has a new booklet called Everything Doesn't Cause Cancer. For your free copy, write Consumer Information Center, Dept. 650H, Pueblo, Colo. 81009.

Actually there is no one cause of cancer. Cancer is actually many different diseases with many causes. Most human cancers probably are caused in part by environmental factors. Cancer-causing agents include certain man-made and natural chemicals that may be found in small quantities in air, water, food and the workplace. Cancer-causing agents also include x-rays, sunlight, and certain viruses. And you can be exposed to cancer-causing agents from your own actions, such as smoking.

Cancers develop slowly in man, usually appearing 5 to 40 years after exposure to a cancer-causing agent. Cancers of the liver, lung or bladder, for example, may not appear until 30 years after exposure to vinyl chloride, asbestos, or benzidine. This long latent period is one reason why it is so difficult to identify the causes of human cancer.

It is hard to identify agents that cause cancer, since suspected carcinogens are tested on laboratory animals, not people, and high doses are often used. But direct human exposure to cancer-causing substances often occurs, and exposed populations are studied. For example, we know that people exposed to tobacco smoke or asbestos develop a higher frequency of cancer of the lung and other organs than unexposed people.

Many people wonder if the laboratory animals would die from any chemical given in such high doses. This is not true. High doses of many chemicals are toxic, but they will not cause tumors. Other effects of toxicity, such as loss of hair or weight, various organ malfunctions, or even death, should not be confused with cancer.

When people are exposed to several carcinogens at the same time, the resulting cancer rate may be higher than from each carcinogen alone. Cigarette smoking and asbestos exposure, for example, are both carcinogenic. But asbestos workers who smoke have a higher cancer risk than predicted by adding the risk of smoking to the risk of asbestos.

Can there be a safe amount of a carcinogen? There is no adequate evidence for the existence of a safe threshold for any carcinogen. Although the frequency of tumors tend to decline as the dosage declines, the risk of carcinogenesis may not disappear until the dose reaches zero. Although high doses often are used in animal tests, you can't assume that only high doses cause cancer. On the contrary, low doses will also cause cancer, but at proportionally lower rates.

When you order Everything Doesn't Cause Cancer (free), you'll also receive a copy of the free Consumer Information Catalog. Published quarterly by the Consumer Information Center of the General Services Administration, the Catalog lists over 200 selected federal consumer publications.

Mr. and Mrs. James C. Bradbury

Burke-Bradbury Vows Spoken Recently in St. Mary Church

Sharon Ann Burke of Ypsilanti and James Curtis Bradbury of Chelsea were united in marriage Friday, May 16, at St. Mary's Catholic church in Chelsea with the Rev. Fr. Philip Dupuis officiating.

Mr. and Mrs. William Ed Burke of Howell are the bride's parents. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Bradbury of Mt. Airy, Md.

Vocalist at the ceremony was Maria Montagne of Chelsea who sang "You Light Up My Life," "Ave Maria," "Lord's Prayer," and "Prayer of St. Francis." Organist was Sr. Helen Hankerd of Monroe.

The bride was attired in a full-length polyglow knit gown with an empire line, sheer yoke of English net and Victorian flaring sleeves. The yoke, sleeves and hemming were embroidered with Alencon lace and seed pearls. Her finger-length veil was of English net and Alencon lace with small seed pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses, sonia roses accented with stephanotis and baby's breath.

Matron of honor was Beverly Dryer of Webberville. She wore a lustrous polyester full-length, two-piece gown in a shade of apricot. She carried a colonial bouquet of yellow daisy poms, miniature sonia carnations and baby's breath with yellow streamers.

Bridesmaid was Cheryl Wallaker of Ann Arbor, a former roommate of the bride. Her gown and flowers matched those of the matron of honor.

Mother of the bride was dressed in a two-piece, full-length dress in rust, trimmed with beige. Her corsage was white roses. The bridegroom's mother wore a full-length blue gown with a blue lace jacket and corsage of white roses.

Best man was John E. Parks of Stockbridge. Groomsman were James L. Bradbury of Mt. Airy, Md., the bridegroom's brother; William J. Burke of Howell and Robert J. Burke of Fowlerville, cousins of the bride; and Warren Perkins of Howell, a friend of the couple.

A reception was held at Weber's Inn in Ann Arbor with 150 guests in attendance. Nadine Perkins of Howell was in charge of the guest book, Yvonne Glenn of Holt kept the gift book and Genevieve Parks of Stockbridge tended the gift table.

Out-of-state guests were Mr. and Mrs. James Bradbury of Alexandria, Minn., aunt and uncle of the bridegroom.

Following a two-week wedding trip to St. Thomas in the Virgin Islands, the couple is residing in Chelsea.

The bride is employed as an LPN at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor. Her husband is an electrician at the General Motors Hydramatic Plant in Ypsilanti.

Gourmet Chef Sundling Chairing Afterglow Party

Chairing the traditional Afterglow following the opening night performance of the summer Chelsea Players production this year will be Sherry Sundling.

A talented gourmet chef, Sundling will be in charge of the July 17 evening, following the first performance of "The King and I."

Sundling studied for nine years under the renowned Cordon Bleu graduate, Baroness Charity de Vicq Sucek of Grosse Pointe. For six of those years, she served as Madame Sucek's assistant in her gourmet classes.

During this period, Sundling also studied Chinese cuisine for two years under Ina Tchen of Farmington. Later, she worked with Yvonne Gill Davis of Tweeny's restaurant in Birmingham, Duglass Duglass at the Great Dane in Farmington, and Beth Campbell of Elizabeth's restaurant in Northville.

Since moving to Chelsea, Sundling has presented demonstrations for Kitchen Port in Ann Arbor, as well as for various club groups. She has been giving lessons in her home for the past year and has recently begun catering in the area. She is also employed on a part-time basis by Schumm's.

Serving on the Afterglow committee with Sundling are Marjorie Daniels, Jody Daniels, Marilyn Poulter and Denise Long.

The William Rademachers have offered their home at 200 N. Freer Rd. as the site of the Afterglow party. Those attending will have the opportunity to meet the directors and cast of "The King and I."

Tickets for the play and Afterglow are presently available at Pierson and Riemenschneider Realty, 111 Park St. Tickets for the July 17-19 evening performances and the Sunday afternoon matinee are $3.50 and $5.

The limited number of combination theater-Afterglow tickets for July 17 are $10. For further ticket information, call 475-9101.

John A. Nelson Attends Seminar In Oklahoma

John A. Nelson, 20071 Old US-12, a transportation section supervisor for Michigan Consolidated Gas Co., was among 125 utility company executives attending an underground equipment seminar, June 17-18.

Types of equipment needed by utilities for underground construction in the 1980's were discussed at the seminar, held in Perry, Okla., at the Charles Machine Works, manufacturers of the Ditch Witch trencher and other machines.

The group spent considerable time meeting with design engineers who are responsible for creating machines to meet the special needs of installing cable and other flexible material underground.

The U. S. Department of Labor's Office of Comprehensive Employment Development administers the Work Incentive Program in cooperation with the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, to help welfare recipients get and keep jobs.

Good Things Growing in Michigan

Fresh, ripe, red Michigan strawberries, one of the many good things growing in Michigan, will begin appearing at grocery stores and markets about the first week of June.

These delicious berries are excellent for shortcakes, pies, preserves, jams and scrumptious desserts, like fresh strawberry mousse.

Crush one pint Michigan strawberries and drain the juice, reserve. Add enough water to the juice to make one and one-half cups. Bring juice to a boil and stir in two three-ounce packages strawberry flavored gelatin; dissolve and cool. Add strawberries and one-quarter cup sugar. Whip one pint whipping cream until it stands in soft peaks and fold into strawberry mixture. Pour mixture into a two-quart ring mold. Chill several hours or overnight before serving.

An estimated 13,500,000 pounds of strawberries were harvested in Michigan last year from 2,500 acres of land, according to the Michigan Department of Agriculture. Fresh market sales accounted for about $4.6 million of the total $6,619,000 crop.

Michigan has many strawberry patches for pick-your-own enthusiasts. When harvesting, pinch off only the stem—leaving the cap attached to seal in natural juices. Refrigerate berries unwashed until just before serving. (Washing berries before storing removes the natural protective outer layer.) Wash berries before removing caps so water won't get into the berry and dilute the flavor or change the texture.

When choosing strawberries at the field or in your local market, be sure the berries are ripe. Berries with white tips will not ripen after picking. Berries which are dull in appearance and lack aroma are overripe and less flavorful.

Hold the Presses

On May 11, 1854, Ottmar Mergenthaler was born in the tiny hamlet of Hachtel, Germany. Originally a watchmaker, Mergenthaler quickly developed an interest in machinery. In 1884 he revolutionized the printing industry with his typesetting machines, which allowed printers to set entire lines rather than a letter at a time. Henry Ford Museum, Dearborn, offers visitors a chance to see his 1884 Band machine, Mergenthaler's first composing machine.

Pony League Yankees Dr. Wagner Handed First Defeat Promoted

A number of outstanding contests highlighted play in the Chelsea Pony League this week.

Orioles 11, Yankees 2— Wednesday night play saw the only previously undefeated team taste defeat.

Coach Marshall's Yankees were ambushed by the Orioles of Coach Petsch. Brad Carter pitched a superior game, keeping the Yankees off balance.

Jason Pierson started the Oriole scoring, stroking a three-run homer. The Orioles went on to produce 12 more hits. Matt Koenn made the defensive play of the game by starting a double play that killed a Yankee threat.

For the losing Yankees, Chuck Downer hit a triple. Donny Skiff ripped three Oriole pitchers for two singles and a triple.

Reds 4, Dodgers 4— The Reds-Dodgers contest on Wednesday was a well-played defensive ballgame.

Going into the bottom half of the last inning, the Reds held a slim 4-1 edge. The Dodgers rallied to score three runs and tie the contest at 4-4.

The seventh inning was played and both teams went out in order, after which the game was called due to curfew. It will be finished at a later date.

Yankees 20, Giants 13— In a Friday night make-up game, the Yankees of Coach Marshall got back on the winning track by downing the Giants.

The Yankees wasted no time as they scored in every inning, building up a 20-5 lead after five and one-half innings. In the bottom half of the sixth, the Giants staged an eight-run rally but still fell short.

For the Yankees, Don Skiff had two hits and contributed some strong pitching. Tom Sturgeon ripped a triple and Brian Farley had three singles. For the losing Giants, Mark Mull smashed a long home run. David Kiel contributed two hits.

Reds 10, Twins 9—

Coach Larson's Reds got back on the winning track Monday night, coming from a 9-5 deficit in the bottom of the sixth inning to win, 10-9.

Coach Connor's Twins appeared headed for their first win, but some defensive lapses in the sixth helped the Reds score their runs.

For the Reds, Steve Kropf and Dan Pennington had two hits each. The big hit in the sixth-inning come-back was a single by Tim Weir.

Dodgers 7, Orioles 2—

The late game on Monday saw the Dodgers of Coach Bentley beat the Orioles of Coach Petsch.

The Dodgers banged out nine hits, including Dave Steinhauer's two hits and Brett Knickerbocker's two hits and three RBIs. Ricky Boham picked up the victory hurling a six hitter.

Spittin' Image?

At the 27th annual National Tobacco Spitting Championship held in Raleigh, Mississippi last summer, the world record in long distance spitting was set by a 19 year-old from Ocean Springs, Miss. Jeff Barber, a grocery store employee and husband of three months, spit 31 feet, 9-1/2 inches to break the former world mark of 31 feet, 1 inch, set in 1975 by Don Snyder.

DOG LOVERS and residents gathered at the Chelsea United Methodist Retirement Home Saturday for an unusual kind of dog show. Not content with having the animals strut for the judges, this show featured a relay hurdle race. Each dog on a pair of teams had to traverse a series of hurdles, step on a button that released a spring-loaded arm which pitched a ball into the air. The dog had to catch the ball and return over the hurdles to the starting point. The show was presented by members of the Ann Arbor Dog Training Club and arrangements for this and similar shows presented at the Methodist Home were made by the Washtenaw Veterinary Academy.

CONFERENCE DELEGATES: Julie Prohaska of Chelsea (far right) was one of five Eastern Michigan University students who attended a conference of The National Association of College and University Residence Halls held in late May at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. Also attending from EMU were, from left, Glenna French Miller, Jill Zimmerman, Patricia Maggle, David Boney and Jean Stopke. Prohaska will be program chairperson for a residence halls conference to be held at EMU in November.

Julie Prohaska Attends Residence Halls Conference

Julie Prohaska was one of five Eastern Michigan University students to attend the National Association of College and University Residence Halls Conference, held in late May at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

Prohaska, a sophomore, and the other EMU students were accompanied to the national conference by Glenna Frank Miller, the associate director of University Housing at EMU.

More than 1,100 students from across the U.S. attended the May national conference. A variety of workshops on such topics as conference planning, energy conservation in residence halls and methods of building strong residence hall governments were offered.

Eastern's Residence Hall Association (RHA) will host the regional association conference for the Great Lakes Association of College and University Residence Halls in November. More than 400 delegates from four states are expected to participate in this conference.

Contests Featured at Summer Day Camp

A number of contests were held last Friday among youngsters participating in the Recreation Council Summer Day Camp Program.

Pat Luck's Pirates were the winners of the Mock Olympics. Team members included Danny Luck, Tina Kimbler, Tammy Browning, Kristin Bohlender, Mark Sprague, Kelly Gross, Linelle Brehmer, Sandy Foster, Tony Flintoft, Mark Luick, Angie Nagel and Jim Berry.

Jump rope competitions were held for students in the North and South school programs. Winning for North were the following:

Older students: Helen Cooper, 1st; Suzanne Cooper, 2nd; Kim Ritter and Jennie Ghent, tied for 3rd; younger students: Katie Neal, 1st; Lynn Stephenson, 2nd; Sarah Kemler, 3rd.

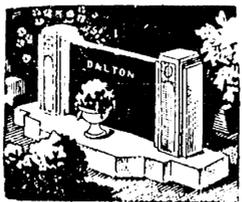

South winners were: Younger: Lynn Leitz, 1st; Nichol Fletcher, 2nd; Christian Kozma, 3rd; older: Shelly Adkins, 1st; Tina Kimbler, 2nd; and Carrie Maciag, 3rd.

Horse basketball at North produced Tony Flintoft as first-place winner; John Collins and Robbi Stofer tied for second; and Bill Coelius third place.

Basketball winners at South were chosen in two age categories:

Younger: Jude Quilter, 1st; Tommy Lietz, 2nd; Clark Pfietzenmaier, 3rd; older: Mark Luick, 1st; Jay Marentay, 2nd; and Jeff Marshall, 3rd.

An act restricting the immigration of illegal aliens into the United States and establishing the national origin quota system was approved in 1921, according to "Important Events in American Labor History," a publication of the U. S. Department of Labor.

Babe Ruth Teams Lite-A-Bike Program Continue Battles Sponsored by VFW

Babe Ruth League began for a number of Chelsea youngsters and two of Chelsea's three league teams saw action.

Chelsea's three teams are joined by two from Dexter and one each from Manchester, Pinckney and Whitmore Lake in the Babe Ruth group.

Royals 6, Whitmore Lk. 5-
Chelsea's Royals got off to a quick lead when they scored in the first inning. Jeff Blanchard singled, moved to third on an infield error off of Tom Headrick's bat, and finally made his way home. The remaining Chelsea runs were unearned and came on walks.

Whitmore Lake's five runs also came on walks.

For Chelsea, Rod Robeson went the distance, striking out 13 and pitching a one hitter. The single hit came with two outs in the final inning. Jeff Blanchard went three for four, including a double.

Royals 11, Pirates 8-
Two Chelsea teams met in a closely contested game last week.

The Pirates, coached by Jeff Sweet, tallied first with two runs in the first. Scoring came on a walk, a base hit by Mike Neibauer and Tim Whitesall's double.

The Royals came back in the second with four runs on base hits by Tom Headrick, Greg Stephens and Guy Gross.

In the third inning, the Pirates inched back to come within one run of the Royals. But, then in the fifth, the Royals exploded with three runs.

Tom Headrick, Jeff Blanchard and Guy Gross collected base hits in that inning.

Doug Neibauer and Darin Rowe helped the Pirates get two runs back, but the Royals added insurance runs in the sixth and seventh to finalize the score at 11-8.

Tom Headrick went the distance for the Royals, striking out nine Pirates and giving up seven hits.

Darin Pierson started for the Pirates throwing well, but was relieved by Tom Neibauer and Tim Whitesall. The Royals kept a perfect 2-0 record while the Pirates slipped to 0-2.

Manchester 1, Pirates 0-

Dave Dettling was the winning pitcher for the Manchester squad. Bill Weber was his victorious battery mate. In the fifth inning, Pat Ridenour came on in relief.

Pitching for Chelsea was Pierson, with Rowe as his catcher.

School Board Briefs

At the June 23 regular meeting of the Chelsea Board of Education, present were Stirling, Feeney, Schafer, Heller, Snyder, Dils, Schumann, Superintendent Van Meer, Assistant Superintendent Mills, Principals Conklin, Benedict, Wojcicki, Assistant Principal Vogel, Community Education Director Rogers and guests.

The meeting was called to order at 8 p.m. by President James W. Stirling. The Board approved the minutes of the June 9 meeting.

Board adopted a resolution for the Chelsea School District to participate in Michigan High School Athletic Association for the 1980-81 school year.

Board accepted with regret the resignations of Hannah Tolles, North school special education teacher; Bernadine Hynes, North school special education teacher; and George Marshall, Beach Middle school teacher.

Board approved a general leave of absence for the 1980-81 school year to Marie Genevieve Trzcinski, speech and language pathologist. This leave will be for the purposes of maternity and child care.

Board recommended a contract for Larry Reed, pool director and swimming coach, for the 1980-81 year.

The Board adopted a resolution honoring Robert N. Schafer, who served on the board for nine years and served as board secretary since July 1973. In part, the resolution states that the Board of Education, on behalf of the citizens, students and employees of the Chelsea School District, extends its appreciation to Robert N. Schafer.

Board approved a social studies textbook purchase for grades three, four, five and eight and for high school U.S. History, sociology and advanced psychology. The purchases are part of the curriculum coordination in social studies.

The Board also approved the Kindergarten and grade one D'Nealian handwriting books and to pilot three spelling series in three different classrooms for the 1980-81 school year. Further recommendations in the area of language arts will be continued during the next school year.

The Board approved the resolution to borrow $528,860.00 against the 1980-81 anticipated state aid.

Board approved custodial and secretarial salary increases for the 1980-81 year.

Trustee Daniel Snyder reviewed the year-end status reports on language arts, social studies, health and physical education.

Trustee Ann Feeney indicated that the County School Officers had an up to date calendar to avoid conflicts with Board of Education meetings.

Meeting adjourned at 8:57 p.m.

Timberland Game Preserve, Campground Opens

For those who think they've seen all there is to see around Chelsea and vow that nothing could surprise them, we offer this little game of "Let's Pretend."

Imagine, if you will, huge herds of friendly deer from all over the world roaming freely in a quiet, natural habitat. Now place American buffalo and exotic boars and sheep in with the deer and add gray heron and geese. Pretend that you can camp on a lake very near to these animals.

Louis, put all this natural beauty in a setting only 15 minutes from downtown Chelsea.

If your imagination has been able to stretch far enough to encompass that seeming contradiction, then you've got an excellent picture of the Timberland Game Ranch and Campground, a wilderness setting on North Territorial Rd. that has just opened its doors to the public.

Louis and Kathy Ruggirello and their daughter, Angel, have begun to welcome visitors to a recreation spot without equal in the Lower Peninsula.

After 15 years of building up herds of exotic foreign and domestic animals on a few hundred acres of what used to be a garbage dump, "Big Louie" Ruggirello has decided to open his treasure to the public. On the rest of his land, not used as an animal preserve, he has developed 108 rustic campsites around Lake Angelic for those who desire more from camping than a concrete slab and hook-ups for their mobile home.

From the first time one travels up the dirt drive to Big Louie's place, it's evident that this is no ordinary campground.

Behind a fence that travels the length of the drive on one side, arriving visitors are treated to the sight of deer and horned sheep from India casually grazing and occasionally fixing a curious eye on the car passing by.

Driving further, one arrives at a group of buildings, set just a few hundred feet from Lake Angelic's sandy beach. In front is the Ruggirellos comfortable home, which doubles as check-in desk for campers. Behind is Kathy Ruggirello's store which stocks camping necessities and convenience items.

Everything looks friendly and cozy, but the mind keeps going back to those tantalizing glimpses of wild animals, kept not in cages but in a huge preserve where they may roam free.

To satisfy that curiosity, "Big Louie" has established a two or three mile trail throughout the preserve upon which a tractor-pulled guided-tour wagon takes visitors slowly through the animals' world.

Riding the trail in a pick-up truck with Louie as guide, it isn't hard to discover his immense pride in having reclaimed so much land that scant years ago was the Sterling garbage dump.

Wandering among trees that Louie has established and grazing on grass that he planted are herds of a dozen different kinds of wild creatures. Like Noah, Louie brought them in two by two and watched the herds grow steadily over the years.

After years of careful cultivation, he now has groups of elk, wild boar from the Black Forest of Germany, Formosan Sika deer, European Fallow deer, Hawaiian Monekea sheep, Auodad sheep, Corsican ram and familiar whitetail deer, all of which live in harmony in their protected preserve.

Perhaps the most startling is the small group of American bison spilling unconcernedly into the middle of the trail. Here are the animals almost gone from the American west, looking much larger than they do from the movie screen.

The huge bulls and cows are grazing with one small calf, which weighed in at 80 pounds at the time of its birth this spring and seems to have been gaining steadily ever since. The buffalo, which can reach weights of 3,200 pounds, seem unimpressed with the approaching truck and have to be gently urged off the road.

Driving along, Louie points out that developers would like to have such a prime piece of land for subdivisions, but that he isn't accepting any offers.

"They'd pave everything over if they could," he said, repeating his vow to keep this land rustic.

Partly to make good use of the rest of his land, and partly to help pay his $25,000 annual animal feed bill, Louie decided this year to open up a camp ground.

In the spirit of the rustic outdoors, no hook-ups for RVs are available here. A number of spots are reserved exclusively for pop-up tents and small trailers. Further away from the buildings, up in the cedar hills, are spots for tent campers.

Conveniences such as privies, picnic tables and fire pits are provided at each site, but they don't intrude on the basically rustic character of the site. Rather than tearing down trees to provide camping space, Louie has actually planted more.

Campers can hike around the animal preserve on trails that tie into the Potawatomi Trail, which runs up through Hell. The entire area of the campground and preserve formerly was the land of the Potawatomi Indians, and Louie reports finding many artifacts which will be on display in his museum.

Future plans for the campground include an eight-stall bath house, baseball diamond, golf range and volleyball and horseshoes area.

Still, these improvements are planned so as not to detract from nature. "This is very close to up north," points out Louie as he winds through the tent camping area. "In some places, its even better."

Visitors apparently agree. Kathy Ruggirello said that about 90 percent of the visitors thus far, most of whom have come across the place by chance, have asked for reservations for return trips.

Campers are invited to visit the Kathy's Kountry Korner store and, while they are there, may visit the Wild Animal Museum in the rear.

Louis Ruggirello hunted all over the world for 30 years, amassing a spectacular collection of stuffed animals and mounted heads that will be on display in the museum when it opens sometime soon.

Included in the displays are boar, zebra, lions, white-tail deer, five giant moose heads, and a remarkable seven-foot brown bear he shot in Alaska. Altogether, some 70 heads are displayed now, with about 20 more coming.

Louie is proud of the trophies, but says that these days he gets more enjoyment out of feeding and admiring his living animals out in the preserve.

That's not to say, however, that those animals roaming free are not a tempting target for some gun-toting people. During deer hunting season, Louie says angrily, he has to patrol the grounds regularly to prevent his deer from being shot.

Anyone with those destructive impulses would probably be cured by one trip through the preserve to see what Louis Ruggirello has accomplished so close to paved highways and built-up areas.

His preserve abuts state land and poachers have, in the past, wantonly shot his animals through the fence. Having no way to get the animal over the fence, Louie said, they leave the dead deer lying in the field.

The nickname "Big Louie" probably refers to Ruggirello's stocky build, but it could equally be applied to the size of his life-long dream, which has come true on a few hundred acres in Dexter township.

AMERICAN BISON from the west roam freely and unconcernedly at Big Louie's game preserve on North Territorial Rd. Just losing their heavy winter coats, the buffalo graze peacefully and co-exist with some smaller, although speedier, animals such as the deer in the background.

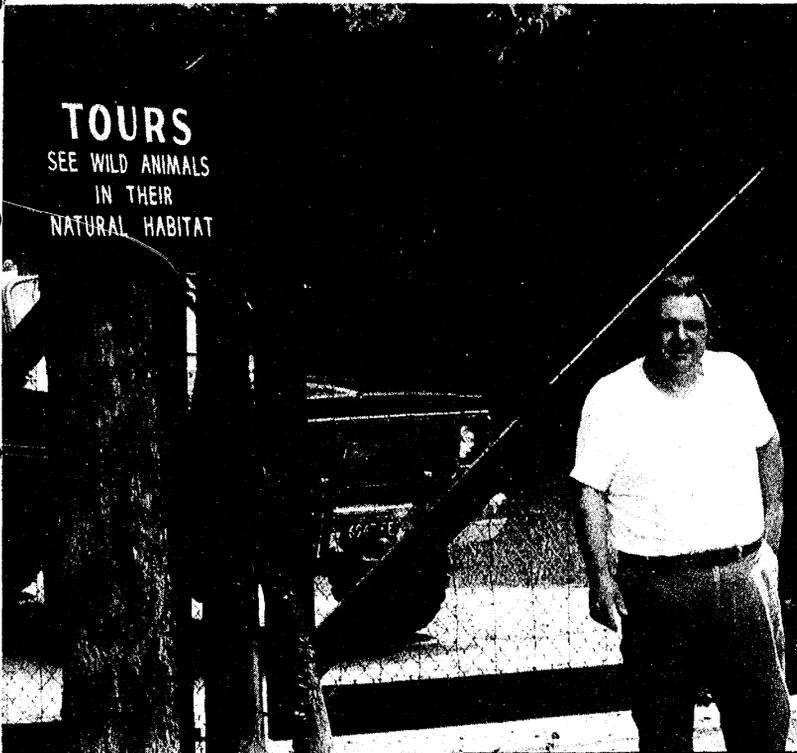

GERMANY'S BLACK FOREST is the original habitat of this wild black boar. He now makes his home in the Timberland Game Preserve in Dexter township, together with a variety of other animals from all over the world.

WELL-PROTECTED BABY: It may look like a cross between a baby steer and a woolly lamb, but this small creature is actually a baby bison, attended by one of the herd at the Timberland Game Preserve. Growing steadily and with the potential of reaching almost 3,000 pounds, the infant buffalo weighed in at 80 pounds when it was born.

TROPHY MUSEUM: More than 70 stuffed heads and entire animals are on display for visitors to the Timberland Game Ranch and Campground on North Territorial Rd. The ranch's proprietor, Louis Ruggirello, hunted these animals the world over for the past 30 years. Included in the display are American deer, moose and bear, and African sheep, deer, lions and zebra.

BIG LOUIE RUGGIRELLO pauses at the entrance to his unique wild animal preserve, just a few miles from Chelsea. Visitors as well as campers from Louie's rustic campground, may take a guided tour of the preserve from a tractor-pulled wagon and get a relatively close-up look at animals from all over the world.

WHO'S THERE? Familiar to campers and hikers is the surprised face of a deer seeing people come near. Vast herds of many kinds of deer roam freely at Big Louie's where visitors can differentiate among the various species with the aid of a tour guide.

WHITE DEER FROM GERMANY: Startled by the presence of people on foot, these graceful, white deer move back among the trees of the Timberland Game Preserve in Dexter township. The horns of these young deer are still covered with soft velvet, which they will gradually rub off on tree trunks.

Amateur Radio Field Day Slated

Beginning Saturday, June 28, Chelsea Communications Club members and amateur radio operators in the Chelsea area will participate in the Amateur Radio Field Day for the fourth consecutive year.

Operating under actual field conditions, the club will set up and operate amateur radio stations, using emergency power generators and portable antenna systems.

The club event will be held at the south site of Park Lyndon on North Territorial Rd. Through the co-operation of the Washtenaw Parks and Recreation Department and the Office of Civil Preparedness, the club will join in this nation-wide test of amateur radio communications.

Sponsored annually by the American Radion Relay League, national organization of amateur radio, the Field Day contest runs continuously from noon Saturday until late Sunday. Chelsea Club members will join with hundreds of clubs and thousands of operators throughout the nation to test their ability to communicate with one another within an allotted time.

This event provides an excellent opportunity to observe amateur radio in action. The public is invited to visit the club's station at Park Lyndon.

NEW OWNERS: The Fellhauer family stands before their Chelsea's McDonald's restaurant Sunday during Grand Re-Opening festivities there. The Fellhauers, Rosie and Al, with their sons Marc, 4½, Danny, 7, and Jeff, 9½, welcomed a large crowd Sunday who came to enjoy Ronald McDonald, the 8th grade band, balloons and surprises.

Neil Bollinger Awarded DVM Degree

Neil Bollinger of Chelsea has earned a Doctor of Veterinary Medicine (DVM) degree from Michigan State University's College of Veterinary Medicine.

He was among 114 veterinary students to receive the degree during MSU's morning commencement exercises on campus, June 10. Hooding ceremonies for the new veterinary graduates took place that afternoon in the sanctuary of Peoples church in East Lansing.

Bollinger is the son of Lee A. Bollinger, 28 N. Peckin Rd. and a graduate of Chelsea High school.

"His veterinary skills will be a valuable asset to any community in which he practices and to the American public," said John Welsler, dean of the College of Veterinary Medicine. "Without veterinarians, much of the world's food supply would be jeopardized. Infectious diseases transmissible between animals and man would be out of control."

The Disabled Veterans Committee of the President's Committee on Employment of the Handicapped is concerned with the job needs of disabled veterans.

RONALD McDONALD lent a helping hand to Chelsea President Charles Ritter at ribbon-cutting ceremonies for the Chelsea McDonald's Grand Re-Opening, Sunday. Looking on at left is new owner Al Fellhauer and at right, Kiwanis Club president George Parker and a number of local youngsters. The 8th grade band from Beach school, foreground, provided music for the festive occasion.

MAGIC TRICKS AND PRIZES naturally come along with Ronald McDonald, and these area youngsters made the most of his visit for the local store's Grand Re-opening, last Sunday. The Beach school 8th grade band provided music as Ronald handed out puppets to local youngsters.

Ten Years Later Brother, Sister Graduate Again

Ten years ago, in June 1970, Sharon Davis graduated from the Foote School of Nursing in Jackson at about the same time her brother, William Davis, graduated from Chelsea High school.

This June, Sharon Davis received her master of science degree in nursing, psychiatric nursing specialization, from the University of Michigan. She is presently working at Mercywood Hospital.

Meanwhile, William, who served in the Marines and worked for a time at Chrysler, received his associate degree at Washtenaw Community College this month and has been accepted at Eastern Michigan University for the fall semester.

William and Sharon are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Prentiss Davis, 2038 M-52, and the grandchildren of Adema Weber.

Scholarships Available for Hospital Summer Programs

Several scholarships are still available for two summer programs being offered by Chelsea Community Hospital.

They are the Sensory Integration Program designed for learning and developmentally delayed children of pre-school and elementary school age, and a special program of speech and language therapy for pre-school age children.

Both programs are available to children living in western Washtenaw and surrounding counties.

The Sensory Integration Program focuses on the mastery of the basic senses of taste, touch, sight, sound, balance, and movement, and is conducted by a registered occupational therapist. The program will be held at Immanuel United Church of Christ in Chelsea from 10 a.m. to 12 noon Tuesday through Friday, July 1 through Aug. 7. Regular tuition for the program is $175. However, several partial and complete scholarships are available. Interested persons should call Patti Kubany, Director of Occupational Therapy, Chelsea Community Hospital, 475-1311, Ext. 477.

The speech and language program deals with problems such as delayed language development, pronunciation problems, difficulty putting ideas into words, stuttering, cleft palate, and hearing loss; and is conducted by a registered speech (Continued on page 15)

Only two things were absolutely certain at the softball field last Friday:

First, you were on safe territory if you yelled "Go Chelsea," and, second, Chelsea wasn't going to lose.

The scene for this unusual game was Pioneer High school and Chelsea's opponent in the ASA league game was Chelsea.

With two teams participating in the 16- to 18-year-old league this summer, it was inevitable that the two squads would meet, pitting sister against sister in some cases.

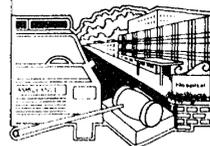

In the end, Chelsea No. 1, essentially the high school varsity, downed their basically junior varsity friends on Chelsea No. 2, 10-4.

Chelsea No. 1 Coach Bill Wescott called Charles Waller's team the "best competition we've had in the league," which includes Gabriel Richard, Huron and Pioneer.

An almost festive mood prevailed at the contest, enhanced by the fact that the spectators rooting for the opposing team weren't strangers. In fact, many parents wandered back and forth between sides in an effort to cheer on their offspring on both squads.

Chelsea No. 2 managed to capitalize on mistakes made by their more experienced counterparts. In the third inning, Amy Hume and Kim Boyd eventually scored after reaching base on errors. Again, in the fourth inning, (Continued on page 15)

Catholics Pledge Drive Successful

Catholics of Washtenaw county pledged $166,583 as the Diocesan Services Appeal of the 10-county Diocese of Lansing reached a total of $1,132,426 for its 1980 fund raising effort. The goal for the drive was $1,128,750.

The total is the highest ever pledged by Catholics in the 93 parishes of the 10-county area. Last year $1,075,000 was subscribed.

The money which is used to finance over 30 offices, programs and projects of the Diocese was pledged by 30,165 donors and averaged $37.54 per gift.

In this area St. Mary parish, Chelsea, pledged $13,578; the parish goal was $8,820.

The Diocese of Lansing is composed of the counties of Ingham, Eaton, Clinton, Shiawassee, Genesee, Livingston, Jackson, Washtenaw, Hillsdale and Lenawee.

Nearly All Directors At Fair Board Meeting

Regular meeting of the Chelsea Community Fair Board was called to order June 19 by President Lloyd Grau. Minutes of the May 15 meeting were read and accepted. Other officers present were Jerry Heydlauff, Kay Poljan, Maryann Guenther, Earl Heller and Frank Renton.

Board members present were A. Bradbury, Jr., J. Herrick, H. Gross, M. Stapish, A. Steinaway, Ed Keezer, Jeff Layher, Bill Stofer, H. Trinkle, R. Heller, G. Houle, C. Stapish, C. Koenn, R. Lesser, Jr., J. Klink, J. Dault, J. Holeka, R. Bollinger.

Also present were Steve Sparks, representing a fair decorating company; Mike and Cheryl Hasset representing the Jaycee's children's horse show to be held June 29; Roy Guenther, representing the Auxiliary Police (to which the fair donated $200); Pat Merkel, John Wellnitz, Mary Armstrong for the fair horse show, and Bill Coltre.

Only three members were absent from the meeting, a record attendance.

Decorations by Steve Sparks were reviewed and discussed. He will present a plan he can use for the Chelsea Fair, which will then be discussed and acted upon.

The drainage problem at the fairgrounds west of the tire plant was referred to John Klink and Dick Poljan for correction.

The horse barn roof was reported in need of painting.

A decorated cake was served with coffee in honor of the Mark Stapishes' new child, Lloyd Grau's election to the school board and Art Steinaway's graduation from high school.

Next board meeting will be July 17. The Board will then meet every two weeks thereafter until the Aug. 26-30 fair.

The Bible-The Light from Heaven

Answers the question Heaven and who will be there. Who will be in heaven? The Bible is very explicit when it comes to telling us who will be in heaven. The study is very important because of the many false notions about who will inhabit that eternal home. It is our aim in this study to let the Bible tell us who will be there. Those who love God will be in heaven. Note again what Paul said in I Corinthians 2:9; "But as it is written, Eye hath not seen nor ear heard, neither have entered into the heart of man the things which God hath prepared for them that love him." Thus only those who truly love God will be in heaven. This brings up the question. What does it mean "to love God"? Jesus said this in John 14:15, "If ye love me, keep my commandments." Then in verse 23 and 24 He says, "If a man love me, he will keep my words: and my Father will love him, and we will come and make our abode with him. He that loveth me not keepeth not my sayings: and the word which ye hear is not mine, but the Father's which sent me." To love God then is to keep His commandments, and those who will not keep the commandments of God cannot truthfully say that they love God, nor can have any hope of entering heaven. Now let us look at something that is written in Revelation 22:14. "Blessed are they that do his commandments that they may have a right to the tree of life, and may enter in through the gates into the city." I Corinthians 2:9 we are told that those who love God will be in heaven, in Revelation 22:14 we are told that those who keep God's commandments will enter heaven. Now some have been taught that keeping the commandments means just living a good moral life. Of course a good moral life is necessary, but that alone is not keeping ALL of God's commands. Keeping all of God's commands means being obedient to all (not part) of the commands of the gospel and being baptized for the remission of sins; this also puts one in Christ (Acts 2:38; Mark 16:16; Romans 6:3, 4), then in Christ doing and serving God according to his will. Being faithful unto death. (Revelation 2:10).

Royals Hold Edge In Little League

Action in the Little League this week and last left the Royals on top with a 2-1-0 record, followed by the Pirates and Indians who are each 2-1-1.

Tigers 7, Dodgers 3—
Wednesday night's game between Coach England's Tigers and Coach Hamel's Dodgers was a hard-fought contest which saw the Tigers emerge victorious.

Rob England got the Tigers going in the first inning with a three-run homer. Tim Klink handled the mound duties and picked up the victory, striking out 10 on the way. Mike Merkel also contributed two hits.

Craig Maynard took the mound for the Dodgers in the last three innings, giving up just one hit. Maynard also made a fine defensive play. Big hitter for the Dodgers was Steve Petty who slugged a home run.

Royals 11, Pirates 9—
In the late game Monday night, the hitters took charge early.

Coach Murphy's Royals held on to down Coach Starkey's Pirates, 11-9. For the winning Royals, Jon Lane had a triple and a double. Bobby Clouse had two singles.

For the Pirates, Matt Bohlender had two singles and Todd Starkey had a single and a triple.

Indians 8, Tigers 4—
The Indians and the Tigers tangled in the early game Monday, with the Indians emerging as the victors.

For the Indians, Randy Ferry stroked a three-run homer and added a late-inning triple. Brad Bauer had a triple, driving in two RBIs. Bauer also pitched three scoreless innings, striking out two Tigers.

For the Tigers, Mike Popovich stroked a solo home run. Jeff Harvey pitched two excellent innings, striking out three Indians.

Dodgers 7, Reds 1—
In the late game, Coach Hamel's team ended its three-game losing streak by ambushing the Reds of Coach Ahrens.

The Dodgers scored four runs in the first inning and were in control the rest of the way. For the winners, Steve Petty had a bases-loaded triple.

Petty also pitched the last three innings, giving up one hit and one run. Craig Maynard pitched three scoreless innings for the Dodgers.

Matt Kemp and Brian Robeson handled pitching duties for the Reds.

Sandy Koufax Team Loses 2 Doubleheaders

Chelsea's new Sandy Koufax team lost two doubleheaders to Pizza Bob's and the Remnants, June 21 and 22.

The Remnants took the games from Chelsea, 9-6 and 9-7. In the first contest, Chelsea's pitching was shared by Kevin Maynard and Mike Neibauer. Four hits came off the bats of Doug Pagliarini, Maynard, Neibauer and Dave Boote.

Chelsea's Ken Nadeau and Eric Kruger pitched the second game. The local team couldn't overcome the Remnants' lead in spite of 10 hits from Dave Bushway, Dave Sumner, Kruger, Pagliarini, Neibauer, Keith Neibauer, Maynard and Eric Schaffner.

In making up a rain-out Saturday, Pizza Bob's romped over Chelsea, 13-2 and 14-6.

In the first game, Schaffner and Nadeau shared mound duties. Bushway, Maynard and Pagliarini again connected for hits.

Pagliarini and Kruger threw the second contest. Five hits were produced by Schaffner, Jim Toon, Boote, Kruger and Sumner.

AQUA TOTS is a unique program offered by the Chelsea Pool, wherein children under three years of age learn to love the water with their parents right on hand in the water. This year's Pool Program supervisor Noreen Williams leans over the pool to offer encouragement to one small paddler as his mother looks on. Information about the program is available by calling 475-1425 or 475-9830.

Varied Summer Program Offered at Swimming Pool

During the summer months, the Charles Cameron Pool, located at Beach Middle school, is the scene of almost constant activity.

"Because of the amount of swimming children manage to do in the summer, the Chelsea swim program goes all out in providing an excellent swim lesson program," said Larry Reed, pool director.

This year's supervisor, Noreen Williams, has lined up an experienced staff for this summer's classes. Williams, with a BS in education and a water safety instructor card holder, will also teach.

Laurie Von Hofe, a physical education instructor at Beach and an assistant coach of the Chelsea Aquatic Club, is an instructor as well.

Completing the staff are Shelly Springer, Shannon Springer, Sara Borders, Craig Wirtz, Andy Weir and David Nicola. All are in at least their second year of instruction, with the Springers teaching for their fifth and fourth years, respectively.

Reed sees the Chelsea instructional program as unique in many ways. First, all teaching is done in a small, shallow water (30" to 3 ft.) pool. This is useful so that the instructor can get into the water with the children and teach skills readily because fear of the water is reduced.

Further, the program includes parent observation, allowing parents to observe their children learning new skills and progressing daily.

Classes range from Aqua Tots, which is parents and children learning together, to adult lessons. Each class is divided two ways: by age and by skills. This gives each student an opportunity to progress as much as possible during the lesson time.

Further, each child will be placed in a group of approximately four students with one teacher. The program is outlined by Red

EVEN TINY TOTS of three and four can learn to be at home in the water by taking swimming courses sponsored by the Chelsea Pool Program. Two sessions of classes are still open for registration: June 30-July 11 and July 14-July 25. For more information, call the pool, 475-1425, or the Community Education Office, 475-9830.

Cross standards and each student will receive work sheets and certificates of advancement at the conclusion of the class.

The program is set up to accommodate all persons in the surrounding community who need to learn to swim. It adds not only to water safety but also contributes to all-around good health.

Those interested in the swim programs should call the pool, 475-1425, or the Community Education Office, 475-9830. Two sessions, June 30-July 11 and July 14-July 25, remain this summer.

Adults interested in daytime swimming lessons should contact the pool. This is a program that the pool staff is currently trying to add.

The President's Committee on Employment of the Handicapped was organized in 1947 as a private group of individuals to promote National Employ the Physically Handicapped Week.

Aquatic Club Wins Over Milan, 409-381

Last Friday and Saturday Chelsea's Aquatic Club started its summer season with a bang as the swimmers defeated the Milan Swim Club by the score of 409-381.

During the summer months, the CAC participates in the Washtenaw Interclub Swimming Conference, consisting of 12 teams. Last summer, the club placed fourth following the results of the championship meet.

The team is "more experienced" this year than last, said Coach David Johnson. "Against Milan many of our kids achieved personal best times in their respective events. By the time championships roll around at the end of July, we should be in terrific shape."

"If all of our kids swim in the championships, the team should do pretty well."

Following are the results of the CAC vs. Milan meet. First place finishers included:

Diving, 8 and under boys — Garth Girard.

8 and under boys — medley relay: Hubal, Weis, Girard, Karns; 50 backstroke: Tim Karns; free relay: Weis, Karns, Girard, Hubal.

9 and 10 boys — medley relay: Cattell, Lewis, Girard, Karns (new team record).

9 and 10 girls — medley relay: Hoffman, Seabury, Weis, Forrester; 50 free: Heather Seabury; 50 back: Kelly Kuzon; free relay: Seabury, Weis, Forrester, Hoffman (new record).

11 and 12 girls — medley relay: Stephens, Cattell, Colombo,

Young; 50 free: Laura Stephens; 50 back: Paula Colombo; free relay: Colombo, Young, Cattell, Stephens (new record).

11 and 12 boys — free relay: Degener, Carrigan, Callison, Coffman.

13 and 14 girls — medley relay: Rawson, Thomas, Culver, Lee; 50 free: Liesel Culver; 50 back: Kristin Thomas; free relay: Lee, Rawson, Borders, Culver.

EASING HOMEOWNER TRAUMAS

There are two occasions in a homeowner's life which can be deemed grossly traumatic: selling your home, or receiving a phone call from the IRS stating you have been "chosen" to be audited. Good record keeping for the homeowner will minimize the traumatic effects of both. Here are some helpful hints:

File copies of all ownership papers — your mortgage, cancelled checks showing home purchase costs, and so forth. Also keep all evidence of home improvements — receipts, contracts, and cancelled checks. The purchase costs and home improvement bills will affect how much capital gains tax you'll owe when you sell the house. Also hang onto all evidence of closing costs, buying and selling expenses, and permanent home improvements.

Document maintenance costs for fixing your home within 90 days of the sale. Many of these items can be deducted from your capital gains and reduce the amount of tax you'll have to pay on the profit.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at FRISINGER REALTY CO., 935 S. Main St., Chelsea. Phone: 475-9681; evenings 475-2621. We're here to help!

Information Offered On Wood Heating

People thinking about using wood as a primary or supplementary home heating source will be interested in a new packet of information from the Energy Extension Service.
Developed especially for Michigan residents, the free packet includes five items. An article on woodstoves discusses their upkeep and use and the benefits of using wood rather than other heating fuels. A second article explores the mechanics of finding, cutting and collecting wood for fuel.
A fact sheet on fireplaces and a wood safety review are included, along with a bibliography of other articles on wood.
The "Wood Heating Packet" is available by calling the Energy Hotline tollfree at 1-800-292-4704 or by writing Energy Extension Service, Energy Administration/Michigan Department of Commerce, P. O. Box 30228, Lansing 48909.

Two Undefeated Teams in Young Girls Softball Leagues

Play continued in the Midget and Junior Miss softball leagues in Chelsea this week with a number of well-contested games.

MIDGET LEAGUE—

Cool Blues 8, Daisies 3—
Another close contest was played with good hitting and excellent fielding displayed by both clubs.

Blues' Kelly Kuzon boomed a left-field homer in the fourth inning. Daisies Jodi Keezer and Karen Grau each doubled in their half of the fourth.

Daisy coach Norene Collins noted: "Melanie Dils plays excellent ball and was robbed of her smashing line drive in the bottom of the sixth inning. Blue pitcher Amy Dmoch snagged Dils' hit."

Suzanne Cooper and Sarah Weis displayed good fielding and throwing skills to help the Cool Blues record another victory.

M&Ms 15, Dukettes 7—
The bats were humming with M&M hits Wednesday night. The as yet undefeated team started off with five runs in the first inning and never let up, recording 22 hits.

Hillary Edwards singled and Stacey Norris and Sally Wilson each doubled in the sixth inning to add five more runs for the M&Ms.

Pitching for two innings each were M&Ms Stacey Murphy, Lisa Taylor and Sally Wilson. Dukette Laura Walton fanned six in three innings of play in a losing cause.

M&Ms 9, Cool Blues 8—
The M&Ms squeezed by to take another victory on Monday, extending their winning streak to four games.

"Our team work was excellent," said Coach Margo Koenn, "with good infield play by Jenny Smith and good outfield play by Debi Koenn."

The M&M socked 15 hits, including Lynn Shearer's first home run of the year.

With the score 9-3 in the bottom of the sixth inning, the Cool Blues made a gallant comeback attempt, scoring five runs with two out. Sheri Stephens led the attack with a single. Kelly Scott, Amy Dmoch, Sarah Weis and Tiffany Browning all followed with hits of their own in a losing effort.

Red Devils 5, Panthers 1—
"It was a game of pop flies," said Red Devil Coach Bonnie Basso, "with our Devils making some excellent catches."

Snagging those flies were Devils Ceia Murphy, Beth Kenny, Chris Basso, Traci Modrzejewski and Jean Petsch. Petsch turned her catch into a double play in the fifth inning, then made a shoe-string catch for the last out of the game in the sixth inning.

Devil Shannon Losey doubled in the third inning, helping her squad in the hitting department.

Slugging a double for the Panthers was Jennie Ghent, who also scored the lone Panther run in the fourth inning.

JUNIOR MISS

Mellow Yellow 13, Devils 12—
Mellow Kim Harden got her first pitching victory by striking out seven Red Devils in three innings. The Yellow gang also hit well, slugging 10 hits in the course of the contest.

Sam Collingsworth slugged a triple for her Yellow team in the third inning. Defensively, Kelly Fletcher and Michelle Easton played well catching and throwing to help cut down the number of steals attempted by the Devils.

In the bottom of the fifth inning, with the score Red Devils 12, Mellow Yellow 11, the Yellow girls pushed two runs home to gain the victory.

Blue Demons 16, Gamblers 14—
It was a see-saw battle all the way with Gambler Cathy Basso and Demon Mary Ann Richardson pitching well for their respective teams.

"The performance by our catcher Shelly Boham was outstanding," said Demon Coach Betsey Ebbitt. Boham tagged out two Gamblers attempting to steal home.

Carol Nix played well for the Demons, making two good catches in the fourth inning. The Blue Demons hung on to take the win.

Bandits 17, Gamblers 10—
Bandit Cathy Burkel led her team Monday with three hits and crossed the plate each time for a score.

Lisa Van Schoick and Joann Tobin combined pitching skills to record the Bandits' third win in succession.

The game ended with a good catch from Bandit Sonya Steele in left field, helping her team to remain on top with no losses.
Jennifer Colvin boomed two hits of the Gamblers' total of six.

Mellow Yellow 17, Demons 7—

Mellow Coach Candy Schirmacher expressed pride in her team's performance with the bat Monday. "Team work and perfection were the keys to our success tonight," she said.
The Mellow squad placed hits almost at will. Chris Defant tripled, Jennifer Broughton and Karen Killelea each doubled and Michelle Easton boomed her second round tripper of the season.

The Blue Demons scored four runs in the fifth inning with singles by Carol Nix, Shelly Boham and Amy Richardson, but fell short in their first loss of the season.
