Violent Storm Hits Wednesday Morning

A high-intensity electrical storm slammed into Chelsea about 8:30 a.m. Wednesday, downing trees and knocking out power in a furious 15 minutes of high winds, lightning and rain.

Power was reported out all over the village, with damaged trees blocking main arteries in town and in the country.

Chelsea firemen were called to 12 Sycamore St. and to Chelsea Milling where fallen branches caused power lines to arc. No damage was done to buildings at either location.

Traffic lights were out at Old US-12 and also at Park and Middle Sts. on M-52. Chelsea Police received reports of tree limbs resting on power lines on W. Middle St.

Deputy Court Clerk Agnes Boylan reported that 14th District Court proceedings continued throughout the morning — conducted by candlelight. She said that Judge Kenneth Bronson, the prosecutor and defense attorneys each were provided with a taper and the scheduled cases proceeded.

Residents reported tree damage and downings at Madison and Jefferson, Middle and Madison and E. Summit St. Reportedly, a tree blocked North Territorial at M-52 and three fallen trees were reported between Sylvan Center and Chelsea on Old US-12.

Although no tornadoes were reported sighted, Bob Murphy, 6220 Stofer Rd. reported sustaining extensive damage to trees from winds so strong they might have been of tornado force.

"It was so black," Murphy reported just minutes after the storm passed. "It was the most frightening thing I've ever been through. We had some kids sleeping here overnight and I had them all lined up against the wall waiting for this thing to pass."

Murphy also said his power was out. "It's a mess out here," he concluded.

Village work crews were out immediately Wednesday morning, checking for downed power lines and removing trees and branches from Chelsea streets.

In all the confusion, a pair of Good Samaritans emerged. Hard at work with chainsaws on Scio Church Rd. near Peckins were Chuck Broderick, of Broderick Shell, and Norm Hinderer, who

DROP IN POPULATION?

Census Count Has Village Puzzled

Like a number of other local governments in Washtenaw county, Chelsea is questioning its preliminary census count, received from the federal government last week.

Original figures put the 1980 Chelsea population at 3,548, down from the 1970 census figure of 3,858.

According to Village President Charles Ritter, some investigating brought out the fact that the residents of the United Methodist Retirement Home had not been counted as village residents.

The resulting 210 additional people brings the preliminary count to 3,758, still 100 under the count of 10 years ago.

Ritter said that the village is continuing to ask questions, and will now try to determine whether the residents of the Village Apartments near the Methodist Home were also excluded from the preliminary Chelsea count.

As they currently stand, the early figures show the Chelsea population dropping 2.7 percent during the 1970's.

One tentative calculation that offers some explanation for the drop is the measure of population per household. The 1970 census showed 3.18 Chelseaites per household as opposed to the preliminary figure of 2.70 for 1980.

Housing units in the village increased, according to the Census Bureau, from 1,172 in 1970 to 1,398 in 1980, a jump of 19.3 percent.

If the numbers are not ironed out to the village's satisfaction soon, said Ritter, a protest may be entered to the Census Bureau at a meeting planned for July 23 at the County Building in Ann Arbor.

Final census tallies should be available to local governments in early fall.

Dana Plant Lay-Off Hits 125 Workers

Dana Corporation's Chelsea plant, long the most healthy local industry with ties to the automotive industry, has been forced to lay off about 30 percent of its production employees.

According to a Dana spokesman, 125 people from a full-strength operation of 410 have been idled in the past two months. He added that only first and second shifts are now running.

Dana was for a time immune from the ravages felt by the Chrysler Proving Grounds and Central Fibre Products because its products were used in the making of off-road and municipal vehicles rather than passenger autos.

With the worsening economy, however, municipalities are delaying the purchase of garbage and fire trucks and street cleaners, thereby lowering demand for Dana's parts.

Dana has no way of telling when the laid-off workers may be called back, the spokesman said, adding that business will have to pick up before they are put back to work.

Chelsea Players Offer 'The King and I' In Summer Musical

Long hours of preparation by the Chelsea Players end tonight as the group presents the opening performance of "The King and I" tonight at 8 p.m.

Performances will also be given Friday and Saturday at 8 p.m. and Sunday at 2 p.m. Tickets are on sale at Pierson and Riemenschneider on Park St. and at the door.

So firmly has the play anchored itself as a classic American musical that it's interesting to note the reluctance with which Richard Rodgers and Oscar Hammerstein undertook the writing of the show.

Gertrude Lawrence, who eventually starred as Anna on the Broadway stage, approached the duo to write a musical version of a book by Margaret Landon called "Anna and the King of Siam." Reportedly, Rodgers and Hammerstein were wary of writing a show for a single star and losing the freedom they desired in writing.

What changed their minds was a screening of the 1946 non-musical film version of the novel starring Irene Dunne and Rex Harrison.

The pair then set out to depict Oriental music and situations in ways that would be true to the setting and yet appealing to Western audiences. Rodgers later recalled that the aim was to "portray the King and his court with believability and humanity while avoiding the disease Oscar used to call 'research poison.'"

"In composing the score," Rodgers wrote in his autobiography, "I followed my usual custom of writing the best music I could for the characters and situations without slavishly trying to imitate the music of the locale in which the story was set. I have always compared my approach to this particular score to the way an American painter like Grant Wood might put his impressions of Bangkok on canvas. It would look like Siam, but like Siam as seen through the eyes of an American artist."

After an amazing tryout performance in which he accompanied himself on guitar, Yul Brynner was chosen as the King for Lawrence's Anna. Following tryouts in New Haven and Boston, "The King and I" opened at New York's St. James Theatre on March 29, 1951.

It ran for 1,246 performances there and a long tour followed. Many revivals have been staged and a film version starring Brynner and Deborah Kerr was released in 1956.

Beginning in October 1953, the show played in London for well over two years. Major productions have also played in Australia, Germany, Israel and Japan.

A revival of the show opened in New York in 1977 with Brynner again playing the King to Constance Towers' Anna.

The story of a British woman arriving in Siam to tutor the children of the Siamese king has enchanted audiences for almost 30 years with its blend of pathos, humor and romance.

Starring as Anna and the King in the Chelsea production will be Kathy Schneider of Ann Arbor and Jim Rowe of Jackson.

Also included in the cast are Tucker Lee, Beverly Slater, Mike Smith, Cassie Lloyd, Vince Zuellig, Jack Henderson and Ed Smit.

MARK BELLUS enjoys relaxing in the living room of his Waterloo home, but those stripes on his shoulders are a dead giveaway that the rest of his life is not nearly so serene. By day, and often by night, Bellus is assistant chief pilot and director of training at Zantop Airways, a growing cargo company based at Metro Airport. Former Air Force pilot and passenger carrier, Bellus is now smack in the center of a cargo operation that makes certain Emery Air Express packages arrive on time.

Zantop Officer Mark Bellus Keeps Air Freight on Time

Mark Bellus' favorite occupation is airplanes and flying and so it's no surprise that he's employed by an air carrier at Metro Airport.

Also high on his list of favorite things, however, are peace, quiet and country air, and so he and his family settled far from the roar of jets, on Osius Rd. near Waterloo.

It may seem surprising that someone would be willing to travel that far to work and back each day, but the really astonishing part is how much Mark Bellus does when he finally gets there.

A long-time flier, Bellus is assistant chief pilot and director of training at Zantop Airways, a fast-growing cargo operation based at Metro.

Bellus stresses that cargo air carriers are every bit as reliable, safe and important as passenger-carrying airlines, and a listing of his duties at Zantop certainly lends strength to his arguments.

As well as piloting one of the company's seven Grummond G-59's, Bellus is in charge of all training programs, from pilots down to cargo handlers.

When a new pilot is hired, Bellus is responsible for seeing that he receives company indoctrination, and training on weather, regulations, policies, FAA regulations and procedures, all of which takes one week.

The new pilot gets a healthy dose of aircraft systems before ever setting foot in the cockpit, and then does cockpit drill for four hours before the engines are ever started.

In addition, Bellus is in charge of all recurrent training required for pilots by federal regulations. He must run programs for airline mechanics, check airmen (who run checks on pilots) and cargo handlers, particularly those who must handle hazardous materials.

On top of that, one of Bellus' chief responsibilities is making sure that the pilots are checked whenever necessary — every six months for captains and every 12 months for first officers. If a pilot is caught flying without proper certification, it means a substantial fine for the company.

He also must keep abreast of the Federal Aviation Administration regulations and know the recent changes.

Then, in his spare time, Bellus flies cargo runs to Buffalo, Milwaukee, Rochester, Detroit and Smyrna, Tenn.

With a schedule like that, it's no wonder he chose an off-the-beaten-path setting like Waterloo about a year and a half ago. He enjoys his family life with his wife and two children, Danny and Kelly, and points out that as a corporate pilot in St. Louis several years ago, he chose to live in a rural area rather than smack in the middle of the city.

Besides, said Bellus with a smile, it's far, far away from any airplanes.

What makes his job enjoyable to get back to after lounging in the country, Bellus says, is the family feeling about the Zantop operation and the cargo that the airline is handling.

Zantop contracts with Emery Air Freight, and Emery Express in particular. What the cargo operation does, is to ensure that all those Emery packages are delivered overnight, just as they were promised to be.

If a package is delivered to Emery at 5 p.m. one day, it will be delivered to the intended receiver by 11 a.m. the next, Bellus explained, aware that he and his operation are a large part of the reason that happens.

Zantop planes fly a carefully orchestrated series of runs, all of which end up at a central location in Smyrna, Tenn.

An airport virtually deserted by day becomes a humming beehive of activity by night. Sixty-three planes hit the ramp in the space of an hour and all take off again between 4 and 4:45 a.m.

What happens in between is a miracle of organization, as sorters take the planes' cargo, sort it by destination and then reload each plane for a new run, all in the space of six hours.

It's sights like that that do Mark Bellus' heart good. "People don't know what air freight is," he says with a touch of impatience. "They don't know that the entire operation is similar to the airlines they fly on."

Coming from a background as an Air Force pilot, commuter pilot and corporate pilot, Bellus says he particularly likes the part of aviation he happens to find himself in now.

"I've flown passengers," he explains with satisfaction, "but I know freight better."

CALM AFTER THE STORM: Wednesday morning's furious wind and rain storm nearly left the Keizer home on Jackson St. buried in fallen tree branches. Trees were down all over the village and virtually all residents were without power for about two hours. High winds and almost total darkness accompanying the storm stunned local residents, expecting another hot, sunny day.

Milliken Likely To Veto Right-To-Strike Bills

The Democratically-controlled legislature is directly challenging Republican Governor William G. Milliken with recent passage of public employee right-to-strike bills.

Legislative leaders and representatives of the governor's office failed in negotiations to work out differences in the bills, and aides to the governor said he will probably veto the bills.

The governor objected to binding arbitration, rights of supervisors to organize and the length of time permitted for teacher strikes before economic penalties are imposed.

Legislative Democrats accused the governor of constantly changing his positions.

Besides the main public employee right-to-strike bill, four other measures in the package provide regulation of loss of teacher pay and school district state aid for extended strikes and another giving the Michigan Employment Relations Commission (MERC) power to order intense negotiating sessions before a strike by public employees.

The public employee strike bill, which covers workers at the local government level, provides for binding arbitration of bargaining disputes at the request of the employer and upon a finding by a court that the strike constitutes a clear and present danger to the public health and safety.

Prior to ordering arbitration, MERC could order fact-finding or mediation.

Representative Perry Bullard (D-Ann Arbor), chairman of the House Labor Committee and bill sponsor, called the package the best compromise that could be reached between the legislature and the governor.

Bullard said the clear and present danger standard will make rare any use of binding arbitration.

But Milliken and Republican legislators urged instead provisions for court injunction against a strike in cases of illegal activities or a threat to health and safety.

Representative Paul Hillemonds (R-Holland) said courts would still have the option of ordering binding arbitration, but it would not be required by law.

He said the status quo is preferable to the approved legislation. He criticized the provisions for not allowing an avenue to stop a strike unless an employer opens itself up to binding arbitration.

Through negotiations, differences were narrowed on treatment of supervisors, with the final version including a definition acceptable to both sides but allowing continued union activity for bargaining purposes for supervisors.

The definition includes those normally thought of as supervisors and excludes employees who may have authority to hire, fire and direct activities of other employees, but who do not use the authority on a regular basis.

Milliken wanted to prohibit supervisors not already part of a bargaining unit to become part of a unit after the bill becomes law.

Hillemonds said organized supervisors would be under tremendous pressure not to cross picket lines of other public employee unions who are on strike and that action would significantly inhibit the ability of the governmental body to function.

The school strike bills sent to the governor do not impose pay state aid sanctions unless a strike prohibits completion of a 180-day instructional year by a date 10 days beyond the date the last school year ended.

The governor wanted that period to be a five-day period when sanctions are imposed.

All bills are likely to be vetoed ending legislative efforts to allow public employees the right to strike.

U.S. farmers are expected to plant nearly 79.5 million acres of wheat this year.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Zeke Grubb's preacher usual has somepun to add to the proceedings when he drops by the country store during the Saturday night sessions. Last week he showed the fellers this chart that give em the idea he was going in fer ancestor worship. It started at the bottom listing names/ somewhere this side of Moses and climbed right up and out, stacking generation on generation. The preacher explained that a member of his family had traced the family tree and had made up copies for everybody that wanted one. There was a history with the tree, the preacher said, that run about 20 pages, and he had a copy of that with him to.

With all the talk about wimmen being equal, the preacher said, he took particular interest in the will of one of his great-great-greats that was a old man in Revolution days. He said his 180-acre farm was to be sold when he died, but whoever bought it had to agree to take care of his widow. He went on to say just how she was to be looked after. She would git the house free and clear, first off, and then the new owner had to make sure she didn't want fer much, the preacher allowed. Fer instant, "fer the duration of her natural life" he had to keep her woodbox full at all times, and ever year he had to bring her such as 15 bushels of wheat, five bushels of corn, 60 pounds of beef and a hog of at least 150 pounds. Farthermore, she was to have free run of the orchard. He had to provide her "two cows and a heifer, two heads of sheep and a creature to ride," and he had to have all the pasture and dry feed the creatures would need. If that wasn't enough to keep him hopping, the preacher said, the owner had to break up her garden patch ever spring and put it in shape fer planting.

Practical speaking, the preacher allowed, the poor devil that bought the old homeplace was signing on as the widow's life servant. He told how that arrangement would square with today's push fer equal rights fer wimmen. He was of a mind that whoever bought that place had to be a bachelor to find the time to tend the farm and fill the conditions of the will, so the new owner probable didn't show up in the family tree.

General speaking, the fellers felt the buyer would have to be a special kind of man, but there was some thought on what kind. Zeke said it's a pity the family history didn't trace that farm, but he would guess the widow caught her another man in short order and went right back to taking care of the house, the wood cutting, the cattle and the rest just like she done before her husband passed.

Fer sure, Zeke said, he would rather of married her than wait on her hand and foot. Bug Hookum said he wouldn't wish that deal off on a young feller with a wife. He'd never git her to understand why her woodbox was empty, her cow dry and her garden overrun with weeds while he was spending all his evenings taking care of that other woman up there in the big house. Bug was of a mind that after a few year of being the man of two houses, he would be tempted to season some of that beef he was taking up to the big house with arsenic to sort of help her natural life along.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

Terri D. Jones, David Layher Speak Vows in Evening Ceremony

Terri D. Jones became the bride of David D. Layher in an evening ceremony, Saturday, June 28, at St. Paul United Church of Christ. Dr. William Donald of St. Paul officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Errol Jones, 6051 Sibley Rd. Mr. and Mrs. Duane Layher, 1751 Hayes Rd. are the parents of the bridegroom.

Vocalist Dale Heydlauff of Birmingham sang "Morning Has Broken" and "One Hand, One Heart." Mrs. William Donald was the organist.

The bride was attired in a Victorian-style white point d'esprit gown. The V-neck bodice was accented with pearls and the bishop sleeves and tapered lace cuffs featured Brussels embroidery. The organza skirt had a point d'esprit flounced hem and chapel length train. Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a Juliet cap with matching Brussels embroidery.

She carried a cascade bouquet of white miniature carnations, white stephanotis, green and white ivy and fern.

Matron of honor was Karen Layher of Jackson, the bridegroom's sister-in-law. She wore a floor-length blue polyester dress with a V-neckline trimmed in blue embroidery. Her bouquet was of blue and white daisies and white carnations.

Bridesmaids were Kelly Hill of Chelsea, Sue Jones of Chelsea, the bride's sister-in-law; Susan Harper Rea of Ann Arbor, and Kathy Raus of Portage Lake. Their dresses were identical to that of the matron of honor.

The bride's mother wore a floor-length gown of light-blue polyester and a corsage of yellow miniature carnations and yellow rose buds. The mother of the bridegroom was attired in a dusty rose floor-length dress and wore a corsage of white miniature carnations and white rose buds edged in pink.

Flower girl was Becky Raus of Portage Lake. Brian Raus of Portage Lake was ring bearer.

Jeffrey Layher of Jackson was his brother's best man. Groomsmen were the bridegroom's cousins, Randy Layher of Grass Lake, Richard Layher of Jackson, Dan Heydlauff of Dexter and Brian Raus of Portage Lake.

A reception was held at the Chrysler UAW Hall for 225 guests. Aunts of the bride, Yvette Bachman of Jackson and Vera Bull of Midland, cut the cakes. Elizabeth Morse of Chelsea poured punch, and Pam Bachman of Jackson, the bride's cousin, was in charge of the guest book.

The couple will reside in Grass Lake following a wedding trip to Mackinac Island.

Host Families Needed For Exchange Students

With the school year fast approaching, not one Chelsea family has yet volunteered to host a foreign student in the Youth For Understanding exchange program.

That surprising information comes from Joan Carr, area representative for YFU.

According to Carr, some students will begin arriving early in August with no host families awaiting them. She urges all families who might be curious about housing a visiting student to call her at 665-5041.

YFU is an adventure that can last a lifetime. Past experience in the program has proven that students learn about America by experiencing day-to-day American life. The opportunity to learn and grow is a mutual one, shared by the exchange student as well as the hosting family.

The American family provides room and board and the same guidance and love given to the other children in the home.

Surrogate "parents" are needed for students from 26 overseas countries.

U.S. egg production, totaling 69.1 billion eggs, was up three percent in 1979.

Junior Morseau Tops Division in Pitch, Hit, Run Competition

Junior Morseau, 9-year-old son of Stan and Linda Morseau, took first place in his division last Saturday in the Ann Arbor Pitch, Hit and Run competition.

Morseau, a member of the Farm League Indians coached by his father, beat out some 22 other youngsters in his age category. He collected 50 points pitching, smacked a baseball 113.2 feet and ran around the bases in 14.5 seconds.

Junior will now compete in the district competition Saturday, July 26, in Toledo. He was a winner in the local Punt, Pass and Kick contest last year.

According to Mrs. Morseau, Junior's ambition is to be as good as the legendary athlete Jim Thorpe, but not any better than him.

Union and employee association membership in state and local governments reached 6,019,000 in 1978, up 167,000 since 1976, the U. S. Department of Labor's Bureau of Labor Statistics reports.

Pony League Title Rampaging Royals Lead Babe Ruth Still Undecided

Standings remained remarkably close in the Pony League this week, which each successive team showing just one fewer win than the one above it.

The Dodgers are on top but could be unseated by the Yankees or Orioles.

Orioles 6, Yankees 5—
Second place Yankees came into Wednesday night's game looking for revenge against the Orioles who had beat them earlier.

The Orioles, however, used lusty hitting and a tight defense to sidetrack the Yanks once again. All five of the Oriole hits came with men on base. Fleider Dan Bellus tripled with the bases loaded to start the Orioles on their winning rally.

Brad Carter also tripled, knocking in an RBI, Carter pitched the entire game and held the Yankees scoreless for the final three innings.

For the Yankees, Brian Farley pitched a strong game and stroked a long home run.

Reds 6, Dodgers 0—
The Reds of Coach Larson picked up an easy victory Wednesday night when the league-leading Dodgers forfeited because of insufficient players.

Yankees 7, Giants 6—
In their night game Thursday, the Yankees eked out a close 7-6 victory over the Giants. It was a nip and tuck affair down to the final out.

The Giants started the scoring with two runs in the second inning. The Yankees roared back in the bottom of the second to score five.

In the fifth, each team scored two runs and the Yankees led 7-4 in the bottom of the sixth.

The Giants then came back to score two and had the bases jammed when Yankee hurler Chuck Downer got tough and struck out the last Giant batter.

For the Yankees, Brian Farley and Brent Hall slammed long home runs. Dwayne Pate also had two hits, as did Kevin Waltz.

Phil Sweet went the distance for the Giants, pitching a strong game. After the contest, Coach Marshall was heard to say: "Many more games like this and I'll be gray-haired at a very early age."

Twins 12, Reds 8—
The Twins of Coach Conner outlasted the Reds of Coach Larson, 12-8. After a disastrous beginning, the Twins have now won two of their last three games with good defense and timely hitting the keys.

For the winning Twins, David Merkel had a single and a double, Doug Jankowski smacked a double and Daniel Cook, Kevin Gross and Anton Hammerschmidt collected timely singles. Steve Fleischmann and Rick Conner handled the pitching duties.

Dodgers 18, Orioles 0—
The Dodgers got hot Monday night and completely put down the recently successful Orioles, 18-0. It was all Dodgers, as the team collected 25 hits and played great defense.

For the winners, Eric Green went the distance, giving up just five hits. Chris Baker and Ricky Boham collected two home runs each. Brent Bauer and Garland DeVoe each had two hits.

Defensive honors went to the Dodger outfield, which caught every ball hit in their direction.

Koufax Team Drops Twin Bill

Chelsea's Sandy Koufax baseball team faced Mid-American Sales, one of the league's leading teams, in a twin-bill Sunday, July 13.

Chelsea managed to hold the lead into the sixth inning of both games before falling to the more powerful team.

The first game remained scoreless through three innings. Then, a single by Ken Nadeau brought in Mike Neibauer for the first Chelsea run in the top of the fourth.

Chelsea's defense held off a Mid-American threat when the second batter lined to third baseman Doug Pagliarini who promptly fired to Dave Bushway. Bushway stepped on second base then pegged the ball to Ken Nadeau at first to complete the double play.

In the top of the fifth, Dave Sumner was hit by a pitch, stole second base and scored as Rick Boham took first on an error and charged to steal second and third. In the bottom of the inning, Mid-American Sales scored two runs on a double to tie the game.

Chelsea was prevented from scoring in the sixth and seventh innings, while Mid-American scored four times on three hits and one error. They took the win, 6-2.

Line-up for that game included Eric Schaffner (p), Chris Gallas (c), Ken Nadeau (1b), Dave Bushway (2b), Doug Pagliarini

Lead Babe Ruth

Chelsea Royals continued to lead the pack in the Babe Ruth League this week, winning games from Manchester, Pinckney, Whitmore Lake and Dexter Legion. Season record for the Royals is now 8-0.

The game against Manchester saw Jeff Blanchard go the distance for the Royals' 11-3 victory. Rod Robeson went three for four and Guy Gross was two for two.

Against the Pinckney Babe Ruths, the Royals put on a smoking display, winning the game, 20-5. Tom Headrick "merced" them in five innings. Bill Merkel went four for four at the plate and Mark Issel had three hits.

In last Monday's action, the outcome of the game wasn't quite so sure.

Dexter Legion jumped out to an early five-run lead in the first inning. Tom Headrick came in to quiet the Legion bats.

Then, not a team to give up, the Royals answered with seven big runs in their half of the first inning. Singles by Scott Dault, Tom Headrick, Rod Robeson and Bill Merkel brought the Royals a lead they never relinquished. Final score had the Royals winning, 17-7, in six innings.

Leading hitter, Bill Merkel, went four for four in the contest.

Thursday, the Royals played Whitmore Lake and remained undefeated with a 14-4 win. Jeff Blanchard pitched and upped his season mark to 3-0.

In the first inning, Whitmore Lake went down one-two-three and the Royals came up to bat.

Not a team to waste opportunities, they quickly went to work. Jeff Blanchard led off with a double, Scott Dault walked, Tom Headrick walked and Guy Gross tripled. Then, Bill Merkel doubled, Greg Stephens walked and Keith Kibby singled. Final run tally in the inning for Chelsea was seven.

A few walks and singles by Headrick and Dave Gipson brought the Royals four additional runs in the second inning.

Whitmore Lake scored in the fourth on a Chelsea error and the team's only two hits.

For Chelsea, Guy Gross went three for three and Bill Merkel was two for two.

Anti-oil Industry Group Calls for Deregulation

Even anti-oil industry organizations are starting to support the decontrol of gasoline. Long-time industry critic, Edwin Rothschild, director of Energy Action, an anti-oil industry lobbying group, wrote President Carter: "Department of Energy officials... have devised the most complicated, most inept, most confusing, most contradictory, most unreasonable, most unworkable, most economically devastating set of gasoline regulations imaginable."

Because of all this, the group is now "Reluctantly" calling for gasoline deregulation.

ENJOYING THE SIGHTS and blending right in with all the other participants at the annual firemen's waterball contest last Saturday was young Brent Feeman of Ann Arbor. He had reason to smile, as the Ann Arbor team emerged victorious over Chelsea, Dexter and Manchester in the competition, held behind the Chelsea fire hall. Ann Arbor's women's team also came out in first place.

JC Softball Tourney Won By AA Wizards

A Chelsea men's softball team went to the wire Sunday but finally fell to an Ann Arbor squad in the Chelsea Jaycees first open Class C-D softball tournament.

Some 18 teams from Ann Arbor, Saline, Dexter, Ypsilanti and Chelsea competed in the two-day, double-elimination event. Games were played at Chelsea High school and Beach Middle school.

Final standings showed the Wizards of the Ann Arbor Capitol League as the undefeated champions. Chelsea entry Smoke finished in the runner-up spot after an exciting final contest Sunday afternoon.

Finishing third was another Capitol League member, Malloy.

The championship game was decided by tough pitching and solid team defense by the Wizards. Both teams played a spirited game and the outcome was far from certain until the final innings.

Wizards went out in front in the third inning with a three-run rally. They then added two more in the fifth to set the stage for an exciting finish. Chelsea scored four runs in the top of the seventh inning to close the gap, but the Wizards shut down the rally.

Final score was 5-4 in favor of the Ann Arbor team.

Chelsea Jaycees plan to make their tournament an annual affair.

County Management—Past, Present, Future

By Robert M. Harrison
Washtenaw County Clerk

Is your Board of Commissioners a happy, productive, successful governing body?

If that is the case in your county, you are very fortunate. Many counties are now governed by strike torn Boards of Commissioners consisting in the main of coalitions of partisan and/or bi-partisan members who typically refuse or neglect to confer with the remaining members. In Washtenaw county, we are confronted with a Board that is bitterly grouped into two bi-partisan camps! Any political accountability to the electorate is lost and equally bad, the eight to seven split of the 15-member Board leaves 42% of the county effectively without representation. The result on program and budget? Moral is low, turnover high, (21%) and waste and unnecessary expenditure abound. The result of government by coalition.

It appears that in many Michigan counties, the one man, one vote district commissioner system in effect since 1968, has become a system that precludes success. When these conditions exist, what can be done about it? What are the options open to the commissioners and to the electorate? This article examines the alternative forms of county organization, where they best apply and the effect on Washtenaw county that some of the various types have wrought.

In 1973 the legislature passed Public Act 139. For some Michigan counties, it may be just what the doctor ordered. The act permits counties to adopt, by vote of the electorate, a proposal initiated by petition of the electorate or by a majority vote of the Board of Commissioners. The proposal may provide for one or both optional forms to be voted on.

The Option Unified Form of County Government Act permits counties to adopt, under alternate A, the statutory provisions for appointing a County Manager. Under alternate B, the act provides by statute for the election of a County Executive. These two forms give the appointed Manager or the Elected Executive statutory authority to perform their respective duties. Michigan currently has two counties operating under the Elected Executive option and no counties operating under the appointed option.

There is a third method that is more commonly used by the recently created (1969) Boards of Commissioners. Many counties have appointed, by a majority vote of the Board, persons under various titles to act as "County Administrator." These persons operate as a figment of the Board's imagination and totally without any statutory authority. This latter system leads, seemingly to inevitable conflict with other county officials, both elected and appointed, who operate under the statutory direction of the State. This was the case in Washtenaw, as the following account will reveal.

Washtenaw County Commissioners appointed an "Administrator" (without a vote of the electorate) and it went like this:

Traditionally counties consist of a Legislative branch, the Board of Commissioners, who set policy, set the tax rate and allocate the funds via the county budget; the Judicial branch, the Judges, who adjudicate cases and manage the business of the court; the Executive branch, the elected and appointed officials who carry out the programs allowed or mandated by the State or the Commissioners.

All three branches appoint staff members to assist them in the task of carrying out the duties of the respective branch official.

Washtenaw's "Administrator" was, by virtue of the lack of any statutory duty, an employee of the Board rather than an official of the county. This fact is bound to cause trouble, and did. This type of "Administrator" or "Manager" will take one of three basic forms wherever it is implemented.

Washtenaw has experienced all three forms. Early "Administrators" here had medium authority delegated to them by the Commissioners (1955-1968). Things were quiet, the then Board of Supervisors was frugal and Board diversity was at a minimum. Today's government with Federal grants, unions, physical and social programs would preclude this method from being used effectively in this day and age. Medium authority leaves the "Administrator" too far removed from the policy board, the Commissioners, as well as from the executive branch and the electorate.

The next four years (1969-1972) saw an "Administrator" with nearly unlimited authority. Much of the authority was assumed unilaterally by the "Administrator" or through default or abdication of responsibility by the Board of Commissioners. This period saw long slow mistakes (the worst kind) which left a deep wound on the government of the county from which it will take years to recover. The "Administrator's" policies caused unions to form, fiscal accountability went to near zero and a power struggle divided the Commissioners who were vying for the favor of the "Administrator."

The county ended the year more than one-half million in the red. Given the posture of the Commissioners and to dismiss individual personalities, even Abraham Lincoln would have had difficulty as an appointed "Administrator" while subject to the politics of the Board. All this occurred with seemingly the best makeup of a governing board. One political party had a clear majority on the newly formed Board of Commissioners. "Best makeup" as used here is intended to mean best able to carry out the majority program. Lincoln would not have approved of the fiscal policy used by the "Administrator" and ignored by the Board. The policy and practice of the "Administrator" left everyone in doubt as to the exact financial condition of the county. What went wrong? Nearly everything.

First and foremost, Lincoln was not the Administrator. Second, the Commissioners gave the appearance of having forgotten that they were the servants of the public, spending public funds and that the business they conducted was the business of the public and was thereby also public.

The charitable analyst may conclude that the intentions of the individual members of the Board, and that of the "Administrator," were honorable. Collectively, they created a mess. The condition which then existed was therefore attributable to the system. The system totally lacked check and balance management safeguards which are essentially necessary to all well governed systems. This county needs a system that will allow the Commissioners to devote their efforts exclusively to policy matters and to provide for check and balance as a part of the system. Act 139 is the system most likely to provide the required result.

For every $100 consumers spend for food, less than one percent goes for mass media advertising, excluding local newspaper ads, says the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Softballers Ready for State Meet

Both of Chelsea's tournament-bound girls softball teams tuned up for the state competition this week-end with wins in the Ann Arbor ASA League.
Chelsea's 13- to 15-year-old team, competing as Chelsea II in the 16- to 18-year-old league, eked out a 7-6 victory over Country Farm Meats Monday.
Kim Boyd won her first game of the season, striking out six and pitching scoreless ball for the last five innings.
Boyd also helped her own cause at the plate, smashing a single and a double.
Meanwhile, Chelsea I was doing in Gabriel Richard, 4-1.
Nanette Push took the mound to fan five and benefit from solid defensive work behind her.
Both teams travel to Saginaw Friday, to participate in the State softball tournament. For information on the location of the games and ticket information, call the Community Education Department, 475-9830, or Chelsea coaches Charles Waller or Bill Wescott.

Membership in labor unions and employee associations headquartered in the U. S. reached 24,295,000 in 1978, an increase of 138,000 since 1976, the U. S. Department of Labor's Bureau of Labor Statistics reports.

Dog Ordinance Will Be Enforced

Over the past few weeks, Chelsea police have received a substantial number of complaints regarding stray dogs, dogs in garbage and unlicensed dogs.
As a reminder to pet owners in the village, Chief Robert Aeillo points out certain portions of Ordinance 56 of the village pertaining to the impounding and disposal of dogs in the Village of Chelsea.
According to the ordinance, it is unlawful for any person "owning, possessing or harboring any dog to permit the dog to go and stray beyond the premises or to run at large within the village of Chelsea."
It further states that "no person shall possess, harbor or have charge of any dog which by destruction of property of others or trespassing... shall become a nuisance to others."
An owner is defined by the ordinance as anyone having possession of a dog or allowing the dog to remain on his or her premises for three days.
Violations of the village ordinance are punishable by fine of up to $50 or imprisonment in the Washtenaw County Jail for up to 30 days, or both.

Aeillo also points out that Public Act 339 of the State of Michigan also states that all dogs must be licensed and have received rabies shots. Licenses may be obtained at the county building.
In the past week, the Chelsea police have issued four citations and impounded six dogs for running at large.
Aeillo said that the department will continue its strict enforcement of the laws by impounding strays and issuing citations when the owner of the animal is known.
National and international unions headquartered in the U. S. reported membership increases totaling 605,000 between 1976 and 1978, reversing a two-year decline and bringing total union membership to 21.7 million, according to the U. S. Department of Labor's Bureau of Labor Statistics.

To minimize the health threats of disease and toxic substances to livestock and humans, MSU's College of Veterinary Medicine offers rapid and sophisticated diagnostic services to veterinarians and animal owners through its Animal Health Diagnostic Laboratory.

David Haas Surrenders to Police on Assault Charge

David Haas, wanted by police on charges of felonious assault, was coaxed from a Chelsea attic and taken into custody last Friday afternoon.

Chelsea Police Chief Robert Aeillo said that a reliable source led police to Haas' hiding place in his mother's home in the 600 block of Taylor St. No one was at home when Haas entered the house, Aeillo said, and the family wasn't aware that he was there.

Police had been searching for Haas 31, since last Thursday, July 3, when he entered the Chelsea home of his ex-wife and threatened her and an unidentified companion with a loaded pistol.

Aeillo said he and Patrolman Rick Wolters arrived at the Taylor St. home about 4 p.m. Friday and found none of the residents home. Through a bullhorn, Aeillo advised Haas that police had a valid warrant for his arrest and counseled him to give himself up.

Finally, he informed Haas that if he didn't appear in five minutes, police would have to enter the house.

At that point, said the chief, Haas' sister arrived at the home and volunteered to go in and talk to him. She emerged a few minutes later, saying that there was no one there.

Aeillo and a back-up officer from the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department decided to enter the house. A preliminary search showed no signs of Haas' presence, but police soon located a punch-out access to the attic in a closet.

Police couldn't budge the plywood panel and were informed by Haas' mother that it shouldn't be fastened down in any way.

"That's when we knew for sure that he was up there," explained Aeillo, adding that police were unsure whether Haas was armed or not.

An hour and a half of talking then ensued, in which police finally got a response from Haas. "He began to holler and answer us," said Aeillo. "He had a few things that he wanted to say and we let him talk."

Haas requested to speak with Patrolman Wolters, whom Aeillo gives 90 percent of the credit for talking Haas out of the attic. He finally opened the trap and emerged on his own.

A search of the attic failed to turn up any firearms. Aeillo said that police recovered his 12 gauge shotgun in another location after Haas told them where it was hidden.

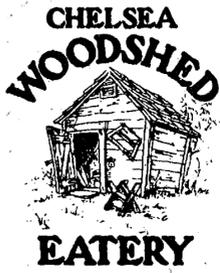

Chelsea Police transported him to the Washtenaw County Jail where he was arraigned in night court Saturday, July 12, on charges of felonious assault. Examination was set in 14th District Court for Thursday, July 17.

Haas is being held in the county jail on a $10,000 cash bond.

ALL SMILES are Martina Street, Heather Laso and Dustin Hanson as the interior of the fire truck is explained to them by one of Chelsea's volunteer firemen, Danny Ellenwood. The trucks were brought to St. Paul's church Monday, where the students of the Chelsea Community Hospital Day Care Center had a fine time exploring the mysteries of dials, gauges and dozens of feet of hose.

Dr. Bollinger has accepted a position to enter the practice of Dr. Tomasek in Omro, Wis.

CURIOS TOTS: Jackie Crawford and Linda LaMare were just two of the Chelsea Hospital Day Care Center kids who got a real close-up look at equipment used by Chelsea's firemen.

The youngsters climbed around inside the trucks and asked questions of the patient firemen, who enjoyed bringing their equipment to the St. Paul's church parking lot Monday morning.

Ann Arbor Team Wins Firemen's Waterball Contest

Chelsea's firefighters gave it their all Sunday afternoon but ended up outskirted by a group of rivals from Ann Arbor. The annual firemen's waterball contest, no longer scheduled as a Chelsea Fair activity, took place behind the Chelsea Fire Hall on Middle St. this week-end. Dexter drowned the Chelseaites, 30-19, in the men's preliminaries then went on to fall to Ann Arbor, 21-25, in the finals. Ann Arbor beat Manchester, 42-10, in an earlier preliminary. Chelsea women fared no better, falling before Ann Arbor in the preliminaries, 24-9. Taking the women's finals was Ann Arbor, with a 34-6 victory over Dexter. A number of youngsters from all four teams also took part, playing for fun rather than points.

Methodists Plan Vacation Bible School

Vacation Church School at First United Methodist church will begin Monday, July 28. Classes will be offered every day, Monday through Thursday, until Aug. 7. Children will begin activities at 9:30 a.m. and will be dismissed at 11:30 a.m. each day. Theme of the school this year is "We Show God's Love." One way this theme will be carried out is the adoption of a mission project. The junior high school class, under the direction of the Rev. Marvin McCallum, will visit the United Methodist Children's Village on McNichols Rd. in Detroit June 28. Chelsea youth will tour the home for children and take pictures to share with the other children in Vacation Church School. Everyone will then decide on a specific project to support at the Children's Village for the duration of church school. In addition to the mission project, children aged 2 through junior high, will have music, storytime, crafts and study time together. They will learn about God's love for them and how they can show that love to others. Thursday, Aug. 7, at 7:30 p.m., parents of all the children are invited to a program and an open house at the church so that their children may share what they have learned during the two weeks. All children are welcome. There will be a token fee. Questions may be directed to Jane Schairer, 475-8119, or Barbara Brown, 475-7674.

Real Estate
By PAUL FRISINGER
REALTOR
SINGLE-FAMILY HERE TO STAY
Have you gotten the impression that the detached single-family home is being priced out of the market and that it's only a matter of time before most people will be living in apartments and condos? Not by a long shot!
If you look at the figures for recent years you'll see that the future for the single family home is quite healthy. In 1974, one of the worst years in this country's housing industry, over 66% of new housing starts (887,400) were single family homes. If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at FRISINGER REALTY CO., 935 S. Main St., Chelsea. Phone: 475-8681; evenings 475-2621. We're here to help!
You can see that despite land costs, construction costs, mortgage costs and real estate taxes, the single family home did very well. Yes, it is a luxury. But it's a luxury that many Americans are willing to sacrifice other luxuries in order to afford. If they bought in one of the worst years in real estate sales history—the year when the Dow Jones sunk to the lowest point in ten years, when unemployment reached a new high along with interest rates and the cost of living, it's a safe bet that the single family home is here to stay... probably stronger than ever.

The Bible-The Light from Heaven
Teaches its completeness in all things pertaining to life and godliness (2 Peter 1:3; 2 Timothy 3:16, 17). Churches of Christ have a creed, but they do not have a human creed. The word "creed" means simply what one believes. Many religious bodies have written their own creed books stating what they believe and practice. These are human creeds in that God did not author them. These often conflict one with another. The churches of Christ believe the Bible is sufficient as God gave it. Preachers of the churches of Christ "Preach the word" (2 Timothy 4:2). Members of the churches of Christ reason that if a creed book contains more than the Bible it contains too much; if it contains less than the Bible, it does not contain enough and if it contains exactly what the Bible teaches then it is useless for it would be nothing more than another copy of the Bible itself. Members of the churches of Christ insist on being called "Christians" (Acts 11:26). They refer to the churches as "churches of Christ" (Romans 16:16). They believe this is first God's will and second that it is broad enough for every soul who sincerely seeks to obey God's commands to be saved (Mark 16:16). The Bible is the only creed book among the churches of Christ.

Royals, Indians Lead Little League

Tied for first place after this week's round of Little League play are the Royals and the Indians with identical 6-3 records. Not so far behind, however, are the Reds and Tigers, looking toward first with 5-4 records.

Royals 6, Reds 4— In a battle between first and second place powers, the Royals of Coach Murphy pulled out a squeaker in beating the Reds of Coach Ahrens.

For the winners, Bobby Clouse and Randy Hafner split the pitching duties. Casey Murphy was solid behind the plate and cut down two Red runners with base theft on their minds.

Also playing good defense was Scott Baker, who cut down a Red runner trying to stretch a single. For the Reds, Mark Ahrens smashed a long homer and had two singles. Also getting two hits were Greg Haist, Brian Robeson and Matt Underhill.

Defensive play of the game was made by Red outfielder Joe Eassa. The Royals had bases loaded and one out when a hitter stroked a long drive to right center. Eassa flagged it down and made a great catch.

Royals 7, Pirates 6— The Royals of Coach Murphy played like gang busters Wednesday night as they beat the Pirates of Coach Starkey, 7-6. Although the Pirates outthrew the Royals, good defense and tight pitching eventually decided the victors.

Randy Hafner and Bob Clouse controlled the Pirate bats and Clouse and Mark Pletcher wielded the big sticks.

For the Pirates, Mark Bareis had a long home run and two singles. Gary Johnson also had a run-scoring single. Defensive play of the game was made by Rick Neithammer on a super catch of a long drive to center.

Tigers 9, Dodgers 8— The Tigers of Coach England used a great defensive play in the bottom of the sixth to beat the Dodgers.

With bases loaded, two outs and the Dodgers trailing 9-8, Steve Petty lashed a line drive to right. Tiger right fielder Marty Poljan charged the ball and snagged it for the game-ending out.

Key hits for the Tigers came from Rob Hubbel and Marty Steinhauer, driving in the tying and winning runs. For the losers, Brian Coy and Owen Wilcox had two hits each to lead the 11-hit attack.

Reds 7, Dodgers 6— Coach Ahrens' Reds fell behind the Dodgers in the first inning but rallied to pull out a barn burner, 7-6.

For the Reds, Matt Kemp and Brian Robeson held the opposition to three hits. Hitting stars were Gregg Haist with two hits and Matt Kemp with a triple and single.

Joe Eassa made a line single to right and Jason Smith snacked a one-bagger as well.

Defensive play of the game was made by Matt Underhill. With Dodger runners at the corners, Underhill speared a line-drive grounder to retire the side.

Darron Gerrard made two key defensive plays in the infield to thwart Dodger rallies.

Dodgers Shannon Darrow and Ken Martin picked up key hits and each scored twice.

Tigers 4, Indians 3— The Tigers ambushed the front-running Indians Monday night, 4-3.

Tim Klink of the Tigers went the distance in a sparkling performance, limiting the Indians to just two hits.

The game was tied 3-3 in the bottom of the sixth when key hits by Tigers Tom Miller and Matt Steinhauer pushed across the winning run. For the Tigers, Jeff Harvey and Andy Box made outstanding defensive plays.

The Indians' two hits were a single by Mike Westhaven and a home run by Randy Ferry. Defensively, Ron Hafley and Ray Spencer made fielding gems for the Indians.

The Gamblers still have a chance to prove themselves in double-elimination tournament play next week.

M&Ms Take Midget Title; Bandits Lead Junior Miss

The M&M cinched the Midget League championship this week with an unblemished 7-0 record.

Things are not nearly as certain in the Junior Miss League, where the Bandits still lead but are followed closely by the Blue Demons.

MIDGET LEAGUE

Laura Walton and Jenny Pichlik continued their fine hitting throughout the contest. In the fourth inning, Kim Degener added a double to tally up more runs for her squad.

A sparkling pitching and fielding performance was displayed by Amy Dmoch, who also slugged a long homer in the fifth inning for the Cool Blues. Good fielding and hitting were also turned in by Sheri Stephens, Suzanne and Helen Cooper and Tammy and Tiffany Browning.

C. Blues 11, Daisies 6— Without delay, the Cool Blues took charge in the first inning on a double by Sheri Stephens and a single by Suzanne Cooper. Blue pitcher Kelly Scott snagged a line drive, then tagged a runner on the baseline to pick up an unassisted double play in the second inning.

Home runs were hit by Kelly Kuzon, Dawn Spade and Sarah Weiss in a big run rally in the fourth inning.

Blue Jill Penhallegon made good defensive plays at second and third base.

Stroking long home runs for the Daisies were Melanie Dils and Jodi Keezer.

JUNIOR MISS LEAGUE

B. Demons 14, M. Yellow 13— It was a comeback game for the Blue Demons as Mellow Yellow was ahead for most of the contest.

With the score 10-2 in favor of the Mellow team, the Demons pushed across four runs in the third and two in the fifth to come within two. The Demons then topped it off with six runs in the top of the sixth to take the lead, 14-12.

Demon pitcher Liz Kincer wrapped it up in the bottom of the sixth, allowing only one run to cross the plate for the Mellows. Demon Jackie Boosey made an unassisted double play in the fifth inning.

Hitting star for the Demons was Carol Nix, slugging a double and a single. Catcher Mary Ann Richardson gunned down a Mellow runner trying to steal third base to end the game.

Bandits 18, Gamblers 7— The Bandits led throughout the game with Cathy Burkel and Lisa Van Schoick holding top scoring honors. Lisa stole home twice on close plays with excellent slides under the tag.

Kerry Henderson executed a very good bunt to help the offense. Carol Palmer did a good defensive job by backing up some wild throws made by her team. Pitcher Joann Tobin took the win.

B. Demons 18, R. Devils 13— It was a hit-filled evening as the Demons slugged 21 and the Devils 17 on their way to a close contest.

Demon Liz Kincer had three RBIs and Leigh Spencer and Donna Bruck each recorded two. Jackie Boosey socked a double in the third inning.

Defensively, Demon Leigh Spencer made a running shoe-string catch in left field in the fourth inning.

M. Yellow 10, Bandits 10— As the score indicates, it was a well played game on the part of both teams.

In the top of the sixth inning, with the score 9-6 Bandits, the Mellow team stepped up and pushed four runs across the plate to take the lead, 10-9.

In the bottom of the sixth, the Bandits scored one more before they were retired, ending the game in a tie.

Slugging stars for the Mellows were Lorrrie Paxton with a double and a triple, and Karen Killelea, Chris Defant and Angie Defant with doubles.

Stealing four bases each were Kelly Fletcher and Jennifer Boughton. Mellow Coach Candy Schirrmacher praised the catching job turned in by Michelle Easton.

Hitting star for the Bandits was Laura Anderson, who went three for three, banging out a trio of triples. Bandit catcher Cathy Burkel made an excellent throw to second to catch the Mellow runner stealing.

Tigers Still Lead In T-Ball League

The Tigers continue to hold the lead in Chelsea's T-Ball league this week, with five wins and no losses to their credit.

Some high-scoring games last week highlighted league action and kept four other teams in close contention for second place in the league.

Rangers 36, Orioles 23— The Rangers played tough defense in the last inning to chalk up their first win of the season. Kerry Plank, Sara Henderson and Aaron Tanner all played exceptional baseball.

The Orioles got some fine defensive hustle from Jason Bowling, Jeremy Stephens and Bryce Hansen.

Mariners 39, Phillies 21— The Mariners came out pounding the ball hard as Nick Houle had two home runs and Adam Tillman also slugged two round trippers.

Brian Bell and Scott Centilli showed flashes of defensive brilliance in the contest. For the Phillies, Ricky Wescott and Carrie Flintoft did an outstanding job on defense, with Travis Garmen getting the big hits.

Tigers 47, Orioles 35— In a real offensive battle, Ryan Tweedy and Mike Reese had several hits each to lead the Tigers over the Orioles.

The Orioles got picture-perfect hits from Sara Musolf, Carol Hanke and Chris Spencer. Todd Redding hustled both offensively and on defense.

Attention — Antique and Classic Car Owners!

The Chelsea Merchants Association will be sponsoring their Annual Chelsea Sidewalk Festival on Friday and Saturday, August 1st and 2nd.

Among the other events at this annual affair, this year there will be an Antique and Classic Car Parade on Friday evening.

Invitations are being sent to anyone interested in entering their car in this parade. The more cars, the more fun! If you know anyone else that may be interested, please pass the word.

The plans for the parade are to have all participants bring their cars to the parking lot of The Parts Peddler Auto Supply at 1414 South Main Street, Chelsea, for lineup at no later than 4:30 p.m. on Friday, August 1st. At 5:15 the parade will start and go down Main Street through town. After the parade, car owners may return to Palmer Ford where a space will be provided to display their car if they wish.

At lineup time, sandwiches and refreshments will be provided by The Chelsea Woodshed Eatery and The Parts Peddler Auto Supply. We would like to you and your fellow antique-classic car owners to attend. If you would like to do so, please call or return the slip from the bottom of this letter as soon as possible.

Your Auto-Owners agent wants you to get the policy that's right for you.
Even if it isn't from Auto-Owners
When you go to an insurance agent who represents only one company, he only has one company's policies to offer you. But an independent agent represents several companies. So if one company's insurance isn't right in price or coverage he'll tell you. He knows another one of his companies is. But the one company agent? Do you think he'd tell you? So talk to your independent Auto-Owners agent. There's no telling how much he can help you.

James Murray Seeking Drain Commission Post
James E. Murray, former Energy Co-ordinator for the county, has announced he is seeking the Democratic nomination for Washtenaw County Drain Commissioner.
Murray, 34, has also served
Washtenaw county as Erosion Control Compliance Officer and as administrator of the County Community Development Program. He has been a member of the Subdivision Advisory Committee, the Energy Task Force Committee, and the Fleming Creek Board of Determination 1980.
In his two years with the Wayne County Health Department, he worked in Ergson Control, Solid Waste Management and On-Site
Sewerage Disposal.
In announcing, Murray said:
"The 1980s will bring special challenges to the office of the Drain Commissioner. Public interest in environmental quality, pollution control, and conservation of natural resources is at an all-time high. As Washtenaw county grows and develops, people are demanding safeguards against the very real hazards of urbanization.
"At the same time people are being forceful about environmental issues, they are increasingly skeptical about costs and governmental efficiency.
"Washtenaw County is suffering from Michigan's economic woes and voters are unwilling to commit themselves to new debts. No new projects were begun by the Drain Office in 1979 because there were no funds. Voters turned down the Sister Lakes project on Ann Arbor's west side. The Drain Commissioner's task will be to maintain the quality of the county's physical environment under these severe economic limitations."
Murray believes he will bring pertinent experience to the office of Drain Commissioner. In his five years with county government, he has worked in the areas of environmental health, erosion control, storm water management, and program development.
In addition, he has had administrative and community development experience.
He has worked closely with the Drain Commissioner office, area contractors, engineers, architects, developers, and various governmental agencies involved with environmental and community development needs.

District Judge Fink
Will Seek Re-election

District Judge Robert V. Fink has announced his candidacy for re-election to the office of Judge of the 14th District Court.
Judge Fink is Chief Judge of the court. The 14th District comprises the entire county of Washtenaw except the City of Ann Arbor, and has four judges.
Judge Fink has been judge of the district since January, 1973, when he was appointed by Governor William G. Milliken to fill a vacancy, and was elected to his current term in 1974.
He became Circuit Court Commissioner in April, 1948, by appointment and held the office 20 years by election to six successive terms. He is now serving his eighth year as district judge, giving him 28 years judicial experience.
Judge Fink is a member of the Michigan District Judges
Association, American Judges
Association, the Ypsilanti
Lawyers, Washtenaw County
Bar, State Bar of Michigan, American Bar Association, and Inter-American Bar Association.
He is serving on the Michigan
District Judges Rules and Forms Committee working with commissioners of the Michigan
Supreme Court and Supreme Court Administrators Office, and also the ad hoc government liaison committee for improved intercommunication between the district court and other government agencies.
In announcing his candidacy, Judge Fink said, "When I first sought the office of District Judge, I pledged to the people an efficient and honest administration. I promised to conduct the office in a manner to best serve the public, to minimize inconveniences to the public, to avoid unnecessary adjournments and delays which might result in a denial of justice. I promised to maintain the high standards that the Washtenaw County Courts had set and I pledged a court devoted to public service with true, equal and impartial justice for everyone.
"This continues to be my goal and much has been accomplished toward that end. I wish now to continue to serve in order to complete the work that has been started.
"During my term of service as a result of my efforts and with the help of the other judges and court staff, and with the support of the Washtenaw County Board of

ROBERT V. FINK
Commissioners and with the cooperation of other agencies of local and state government, we have established a probation unit within the court, initiated a work program as an alternative to jail, and a delayed sentence program which provides diversion from conviction for misdemeanor activity in proper cases. Also, for the alcohol offender, alcohol referrals have been greatly expanded. Drug awareness classes are now being provided for the offenders involved in drug cases.
Driver School referrals are made for the traffic offenders.
"During my term as judge and over the years I practiced law, there have been many changes in the law, both substantive and procedural. I have availed myself of continuing legal education opportunities and attended and studied at numerous judicial conferences and seminars.
"My court docket is current with no trail delays occasioned by excessive backlog of cases. Scheduling of cases is routine and the cases are handled as they become ready for trial.
"My record of accomplishment speaks for itself. I offer myself for re-election, standing on my record and reputation as a lawyer and as a judge."
Judge Fink holds LLB and Juris Doctor degrees, cum laude, from the Detroit College of Law. He was admitted to practice law in 1941. He has lived in Ypsilanti since 1934. He is married, has five children and two stepchildren, and is active in church and community affairs.

Violent Storm Hits Area

ON THE SPOT: Village linemen Pat Murphy, Dave Buble and Paul Newhouse were on the scene at 12 Sycamore St. Wednesday morning, soon after firemen were called there to handle arcing powerlines that had been struck by falling tree limbs. Villagers were by and large unprepared for the 8:30 a.m. darkness preceding the brief, violent storm that knocked out power to the entire area for more than two hours.

HEAVY EQUIPMENT was necessary Wednesday morning just to make village streets passable after high winds and lightning felled trees all over town. Dave Bulson mans this dozer which is pushing limbs off of Railroad St. Violent winds, which many thought were a tornado, swept into Chelsea about 8:30 a.m., burying sidewalks under tree branches and dumping buckets of rain.

SUSAN BAKER

Susan Baker, former Chelsea resident, was promoted recently to the position of advertising manager for the John Henry Company of Lansing. A graduate of Chelsea High school and Michigan State University, she has been assistant advertising manager for three and one-half years.

Among her duties, Baker will be responsible for the advertising, direct mail programs and catalogs for all divisions of the horticultural printing firm.

Baker has been active in the company as president of the Employee's Council. She is also active in the community as a member of the Lansing Advertising Club, the Public Relations Association and is currently serving on the advertising and publications committee of Women in Communications, Inc. She also participates in local theater groups and recently performed in "Guys and Dolls" at the Okemos Barn Theater. The John Henry Company, with facilities in Michigan and California, is widely known for its horticultural publications, products and promotions for the florist, grower and mass market industries.

Baker is the daughter of Robert and Doris Dirlam of North Lake. She resides in Lansing with her husband, Mike.

Perk Holes Create Potential Danger

Local resident Tom Northrup this week passed along a story from South Lyon that may serve as a caution to residents of this area.

Last week in Salem township, a three-year-old youngster wandered into a neighbor's field and fell into a perk hole about 18 inches in diameter and 20 feet deep, containing about 10-12 inches of water.

Attempts by the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department and Salem Township firemen to pull the child out of the hole with a rope failed, probably because the youngster was too frightened to pull the loop around her waist.

Finally, the slimmest of the firemen was lowered by his heels into the narrow hole, but his shoulders wedged in the shaft about six feet from the girl.

Somehow, firemen ascertained that she had gotten the rope around her waist and the scared child was pulled to safety. The owner of the land then filled in the perk hole and a similar one in the same field with a backhoe before leaving.

"Perk holes are common as so many new houses are built in this area," Northrup said. "Most of these holes are dug with backhoes so they're as wide as they are deep. But it only takes one hole dug with an auger to cause an accident."

Northrup said he hoped an account of the accident would prompt land owners to make sure their perk holes are covered.

'Help Smokers Quit' Kit To Be Available Soon

The American Dental Association and The National Cancer Institute have developed a new patient education program which will soon be available to dental professionals, according to information received by the Washtenaw County Health Department.

The program includes a "Let's Help Smokers Quit" kit that will soon be available, free of charge, to dental professionals. The kit, which was developed from a similar concept used by physicians, contains enough literature to assist 50 patients who want to quit smoking.

The kit was tested in 1979 by the Colorado Dental Association and found to be, with modifications, effective.

Dental professionals have the perfect opportunity to provide patient education on a routine basis—their major emphasis is prevention. But, according to the organizations distributing the kit, professionals don't tell their patients to quit smoking because "they don't know how to answer the inevitable 'how'."

The Washtenaw County Health Department suggests that dental patients inquire about this program. If your dentist is using it, get involved. For additional information about how to quit smoking, please call W.C.H.D., Health Education office, 973-1488.

Bruce Breuninger Leads Session at MMPA Tour

More than 80 4-H members and adult leaders from throughout Michigan headed for Michigan Milk Producers Association headquarters in Detroit July 8-9 for the 43rd annual MMPA 4-H milk marketing tour.

Two of last year's tour participants, Bruce Breuninger of Dexter and Lisa Ulrich of Howard City, were session leaders. They chaired various sessions during the two-day event.

The tour, sponsored by MMPA in cooperation with the Michigan State University extension service, is designed to give 4-H members more familiarity with milk marketing procedures and the duties and operations of a dairy farmer co-operative.

MMPA is a marketing co-operative owned and controlled by some 6,000 dairy farmers throughout the area.

Weather Forces VFW Steak Fry To Move Indoors

Saturday, July 12, 50 VFW Post and Auxiliary 4076 members attended a 35th anniversary steak fry for the auxiliary.

About 15 members left early Saturday morning for the Timberland Game Ranch where the steak fry and pot-luck was to be held. Others joined later, but the weather refused to co-operate and members packed up and returned to the post to fry the steaks.

Gini Schirmacher was in charge of the indoor games. Door prize of a desk set was won by Jeff Laurance, while Velma French had the closest guess in a bean guessing contest.

Another outing is being planned. Members will be notified with the hope that the weather will be more co-operative.

Dixboro Festival Benefits UMC Retirement Homes

A "Rural Run" marathon, ice cream served with homemade pies and cakes, country folk dancers and barbecued chicken dinners that include an ear of locally-grown sweet corn highlight the annual Dixboro Festival, Saturday, July 19, on the Village Green, on Plymouth Rd., east of Ann Arbor.

The traditional event is sponsored by the Dixboro United Methodist church. Theme of the festival is "People Helping People" with the proceeds going to the UMC Retirement Homes in Chelsea and Detroit.

The 10-kilometer (6.2 miles) "Rural Run" and 2-mile fun run through the surrounding countryside begin at 9:30 a.m. Both races start near the Village Green and are open to men and women of all ages. Entrants may register on race-day between 7 and 9 a.m.; the entry fee is $4.

Pieces of pies and cakes baked by the church members will be served along with ice cream and various beverages. The arts and crafts fair includes over 25 displays of hand-made items ranging from woven goods to decorated lichens.

The carnival features children's games, rides on antique fire trucks, plus the popular "dunk tank" where successful

Old Who?

Many American Presidents acquired nicknames during their term of office or during their campaigning. Not all were complimentary. Henry Ford Museum's "Politics U. S. A." exhibit, which continues until Labor Day in Dearborn, offers memorabilia from the campaigns of "His Accidency," a title given to John Tyler when he assumed the office on the death of William Henry Harrison, "His Rotundity" John Adams, and "His Fraudulency," picked up by Rutherford B. Hayes after his gaining the office in a disputed election.

Auto Dealers Joining in Deal-A-Thon

Washtenaw County auto dealers - including Chelsea dealers Lloyd Bridges Chevrolet, Faist Sprague Buick-Olds and Palmer Ford - are throwing a party this week and everyone is invited.

The Washtenaw County New Car Dealers Association is sponsoring a "72-hour New Car Deal-A-Thon" Thursday through Saturday on the grounds of Pioneer High school in Ann Arbor. Nineteen dealers are expected to participate.

The dealerships - both foreign and domestic - will bring about 100 staff members and 1,000 1980 model cars to the carnival-like event and be prepared to wheel and deal.

Representatives of banks and finance companies as well as the Secretary of State's office will be on hand to take care of financing and licensing on the spot.

Dealers will be open for business in their striped tent, Thursday and Friday from noon to 9 p.m. and Saturday from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m.

John Lee, president of the dealers' association, called the three-day event a way for the dealers to band together and create a positive spirit regarding the automobile market.
