Extension Service Offers Bulletin on Stain Removal

An "at your finger tips" home remedy guide for removing all types of stains from all kinds of washable fabrics is now available from county MSU Co-operative Extension Service offices throughout Michigan.

The new bulletin, appropriately titled "Stain Out," highlights 40 common household stains and stain removal procedures.

"We designed this bulletin to make it easy to use," says Isabel Jones, Extension clothing and textiles specialist at Michigan State University, and author of "Stain Out." "No more paging through lengthy and cumbersome bulletins to locate the right procedure for a specific stain. Information in 'Stain Out' is listed on five pages in an easy-to-read chart."

To order "Stain Out," contact Helen Fairman, Extension Home Economist in Washtenaw County, at 973-9510. Ask for Extension Bulletin E-1402. Single copies are free to Michigan residents.

Woman's Club Hears D. Soule Talk on Paintings

The Woman's Club of Chelsea met on Tuesday, Sept. 23 at the McKune Memorial Library. Speaker for the evening was Dorothy Soule, an associate member of the Club. She spoke on "How to Look at a Painting," which included a brief history of the art and compared three painting styles—realist, impressionist and abstract—and three renditions of the same subject matter, a violin. According to Mrs. Soule, "A successful painting expresses the painter's emotion at the time of the work's creation."

The program was enjoyed by the 17 members who attended. The next program, scheduled for Oct. 14, will also take place at McKune Library as opposed to its original location at the Chelsea Community Hospital.

She is presently employed part-time as a staff assistant in Christian education to the Bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Michigan.

Free legal advice will be available the fourth Wednesday of each month to seniors over 60.

If any senior has questions or would like to request a topic to be discussed, he or she may call 475-8582 for information.

Because the Nutrition Site was closed yesterday, Mrs. Susan Hartman will speak on Friday, Sept. 26 at 11:15 a.m. Her topic will be, "Rights of Tenants and Landlords."

The Veterans Administration and its predecessor agencies have spent in excess of $300 billion for benefits and services to veterans, their dependents and survivors.

Tips offered on Packing Safe, Nutritious Brown Bag Lunches

Following a few basic tips when packing brown bag lunches will lessen the chances of food spoilage which can lead to food poisoning.

"Food poisoning is rarely fatal but can cause unpleasant symptoms like severe headache, diarrhea, vomiting, abdominal cramps and fever," says Sharon Kennedy, Extension foods and nutrition specialist at Michigan State University. "But, why take chances with your family's health? Food poisoning can be prevented."

To keep spoilage organisms from growing, be sure that hands, utensils and countertops used to prepare foods are clean. Vacuum bottles and other food containers should be washed with hot soapy water and rinsed with boiling water after each use.

If soups, stews and chili are boiling hot when poured into vacuum bottles, they should stay hot enough to prevent food spoilage if eaten within four hours of packing. Vacuum bottles are the best containers for keeping hot foods hot.

The best way to keep cold foods cold is to use a freezer gel device. Purchase one or make one by cleaning a plastic margarine tub, filling it with water and freezing it. Home-made or purchased freezer gel devices will keep foods cold until lunchtime.

Foods usually refrigerated but which keep well in lunches at room temperature include summer sausage or salami, hard cheeses—like colby, cheddar, Swiss, etc.—and pasteurized process cheeses. Unpeeled hard-cooked eggs may also be packed in lunches if their shells are not cracked. Fully cooked products like bologna and hot dogs also keep well.

Turkey, chicken, sliced roast beef, lamb or pork sandwiches should be frozen overnight and allowed to thaw in the lunch box. For more pleasing-to-eat sandwiches, add mayonnaise or salad dressings before eating them rather than before freezing. If put on ahead of time, these toppings will soak into the bread causing it to become soggy.

If there is a choice, pack lunches in boxes rather than bags. Lunch boxes especially insulated ones, are easier to keep clean and

Anti-Nuke March Includes Chelsea

On Wednesday, Oct. 1, members of Arbor Alliance, an anti-nuclear group from Ann Arbor, will march through Chelsea, Tecumseh, Dundee, Manchester, Stockbridge and Mason before reaching their target destination, the Capitol Building in East Lansing.

The group will leave from the Fermi II nuclear reactor site in Monroe on Saturday morning, Sept. 27, beginning its march across the state to protest the hazards of nuclear power experimentation and technology throughout Michigan. In addition to Arbor Alliance, anti-nuke groups across the state will be marching to the common destination.

Specifically, the groups are attempting to bring attention to the condition of the experimental Big Rock nuclear plant in Charlevoix, one of only three in the country licensed to use plutonium. This plant, built in 1962, has a long record of radiation leaks, malfunctions and personnel errors and according to Ralph Nader, "It is the most dangerous nuclear plant in the entire United States."

During their march, the groups want to stress to each community the serious implications tied to nuclear power, the pending danger should an accident occur and the fact that a sizable amount of the monies paid to Detroit Edison go directly toward the maintenance of standing nuclear power plants and the creation of new plants.

After arriving in East Lansing Wednesday, Arbor Alliance will begin a two-day lobby, lasting through Thursday and Friday. On Saturday, an Alternative Energy Fair will take place in the state's capitol followed by a concert that evening. Sunday, Oct. 5 will be the day for a large rally of all anti-nuke groups at the Capitol. Thereafter, a group of marchers will head to Jackson, the international headquarters of Consumers Power.

Consumers Power's Big Rock plant is built on Chippewa Indian land which was leased to the firm on a long-term contract by the tribe. The contract provided the stipulation that the tenants could not harm the land in any way. The Chippewa have prepared a breach of contract law suit against Consumers Power, claiming that Big Rock is harming the land and is of potential danger to surrounding inhabitants. The law suit is seeking the close of Big Rock nuclear plant and the removal of all Consumer Power materials, personnel, and the like, from the tribe property.

 Architects for the project are Hobbs and Blackwell Associates, Inc. of Ann Arbor; a firm with much experience with these sorts of single-story buildings. Construction of the multi-earth-toned brick veneer building is being done by Dick Clark Construction of Grass Lake, a small organization which has been working long hours in order to have the project completed by the first of the year, as originally planned.

The Chelsea Professional Building's planners have taken every precaution so as to retain as much of a natural setting as possible. More than 50 different hardwood, fruit and pine trees span the 2.5 acres, giving the area a park-like appearance similar to that surrounding the Chelsea Medical Center.

"The purpose of the Chelsea Professional Building," according to Dr. Burns, "is to provide a center for professionals to more capably serve the public. It is not meant to be in competition with the Hospital."

In designing the new facility, great care was taken to provide for easily accessible handicapped accommodations. Too, the facility will contain ample parking and the public will be able to enter and exit from both Old Manchester Rd. and M-52.

The investors of the Chelsea Professional Building anticipate the beginning of construction of Phase 2 as soon as interest has been voiced by other professionals. The facility is not limited to members of the dental or medical fields and the investors would welcome other professionals into their complex. After the completion of both phases of the Chelsea Professional Building, a common courtyard will join the identical buildings.

Above, Secretary of State Richard Austin examines the first applications being printed on the Department's computer in Lansing.

Police Nab Man Charged With Altering Currency To Defraud

On Sept. 3, Chelsea police picked up an adult male near the county line at Rawsonville Rd. for passing a $2 bill as a $20 bill at Broderick Tower Shell service. The man was charged with altering currency to defraud, a felony.

The Secret Service was called in for an interrogation and, during the questioning, they attained a full statement of admission that this man had altered the bill himself.

The matter is now being handled by the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department.

The National Apprenticeship Act was passed in 1937, establishing the Bureau of Apprenticeship in the U.S. Department of Labor.

A 14,670-Lap Winner

The first international six-day bicycle race took place in Madison Square Garden, New York, from Oct. 18-24, 1891. Forty bicyclists entered the race, but only six finished. The winner was William Martin, who completed 14,670 laps or 1,448 and 4/10 miles. Bicycles like the one Martin rode are among the 45 on exhibit in Henry Ford Museum, Dearborn, which traces bicycling from 1818 to 1951.

Gridders of the Week

SENIOR SAFETY STEVE WILSON has participated in Chelsea team football since 7th grade. The first two games this season found Steve playing nose guard before he took on his present status. Upon graduation, he plans to attend art school in hopes of becoming a commercial artist. When asked about his team's poor season, Steve commented, "We're a small team, but we're getting better all the time... this week's contest with Milan should be a good game."

SENIOR CENTER ERIC HEADRICK, was voted player of the week after last week's losing battle against Tecumseh. Eric has played football since 7th grade; the last two years on the varsity team as a center. He has been involved in other Chelsea High school team sports including baseball, wrestling and basketball. Presently, Eric is employed at Big Boy restaurant and plans to attend college this fall, in pursuit of a degree in hotel and restaurant management.

The girls will travel to Milan today to take on the unbeaten Big Reds and Monroe St. Mary's.

The lady Bulldogs are now 0-2 over-all and 0-2 in the league.

Leading the way for the lady harriers was junior Nancy Hastings in first place with her best time ever of 20:28. Sophomore Sandra Frame followed Nancy in second place with a fine time of 21:05. First year junior Lisa Vandegriff ran a super race to finish fourth, cutting over one minute off her previous best time at 22:07. Girls Swim Team Loses to Adrian

Last week the Chelsea High school girls swim team traveled to Adrian to open the 1980 season. Although the Chelsea team won seven of 11 events, Adrian's depth of 42 swimmers proved to be too much for the Chelsea tankers.

Highlighting the meet were outstanding swimmers by sophomore Kristin Thomas and senior tri-captain Sara Borders. Thomas qualified for the State Meet in the 100 butterfly, whereas Borders qualified in the 100 freestyle. For these accomplishments, the girls were selected as Chelsea swimmers of the week.

Other first-place finishes were made by Margie Rawson in the 200 individual medley and 100 backstroke; Kristin Thomas in the 200 freestyle; Sara Borders in the 50 freestyle; and Michele Clark in diving.

Other points were scored by Dawn Borders, Teresa Degener, Barb Davis, Cinda Thornton, Pam Spayd, Donna Alexander, Mary Bacon, and Janine Hoffman.

This coming week, the girls will travel to Erie Mason and Albion. The team's first home meet is Oct. 16; the public is welcome to attend.

FCIC Seeks Comment on Soybean Coverage

The Federal Crop Insurance Corporation (FCIC) of the Department of Agriculture is seeking public comment on a proposed amendment to regulations for insuring soybeans in Washtenaw county, effective with the 1981 crop year.

The proposed rule would benefit soybean crop insurance policyholders by amending two sections of the Soybean Crop Insurance Policy to prescribe procedures for allowing them to replant acreage to soybeans under certain conditions and to become eligible for a replanting payment under certain conditions.

Information on the proposed amendment to the soybean regulations may be obtained from the FCIC office, 1123 W. Chicago Rd., Coldwater 49036.

Deadline for submitting written comments on the proposed amendment is Oct. 14, 1980. All written comments must be sent to: Office of the Manager, Federal Crop Insurance Corporation, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., 20250.

GARDEN SPOT

By Kerry J. Kelly, County Horticultural Agent

Question: I've noticed that my melons have a very bland to bitter taste this year. Friends of mine claim that I shouldn't have planted my cucumbers or squash so close to the melons because they pollinate each other and that's why the melons aren't sweet. If this is true, how far apart should they be planted?

Answer: Your question is a very common one and I'm glad to have a chance to set things straight. Cucumbers, melons, squash and pumpkins are all members of the same family—the cucurbit family. Cross-pollination of these crops can and does occur. However, the effects of cross-pollination are contained in the harvested crop's seed, not in the fruit itself. You would not taste or observe strange characteristics in this year's melon crop, but you might next year if you kept the seeds and planted them. So cross-pollination can occur, but it wouldn't affect the fruit, only the seeds. For this reason, don't save the seeds for next year's planting unless you're prepared to accept the consequences.

The main reason why your melons taste bland this year is probably due to the extreme amount of rainfall we've had. Excessive moisture can cause the fruit to change in taste as well as creating cracking and splitting because of too much moisture uptake too rapidly. Moisture is very important in melon production, especially during pollination and fruit formation, but this year Mother Nature may have gotten a bit carried away.

Questions for Garden Spot may be sent to: Co-operative Extension Service, P. O. Box 8645, Ann Arbor 48107.

Rec. Dept. Cancels Bicycle Workshop

The Chelsea Recreation Council, under the direction of Jacqueline Schiller, sponsors a number of recreational programs through the Community Education Department of the Chelsea School District.

Though the community response is normally quite positive, some programs have to be eliminated because of lack of response.

One such program, the bicycle workshop, was scheduled to take place on Saturday, Sept. 27 between the hours of 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. The workshop, which would have been instrumental in teaching six-year-olds through adults the fundamentals of single-speed cycling has been cancelled.

Nonetheless, Saturday, Oct. 4 has been set aside for the training of six through 12-year-olds in the area of multi-speed cycling. This workshop will take place between the hours of 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. in the A.V. Room at Chelsea High school.

On the following Saturday, Oct. 11, 13-year-olds through adults will attend the identical workshop, which will also be occurring between the hours of 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m.

Both of these workshops are designed with the bicycle enthusiast in mind. They will include actual and on-road experience along with movies, emergency maneuvers and tire patching. These will be very concentrated courses and the Chelsea Police Department will be on hand to issue bicycle licenses at the end of the workshops.

Participants are asked to bring a sack lunch. Fee for the workshops is $5.

Federal health statistics indicate that if all maternity patients in all hospitals in the U.S. received and followed the schedule during the next two years, the problem of childhood immunizations would nearly disappear.

Lincoln Rolls Over Milan To Stay Unbeaten in League

Saline 28, Dexter 0

The Southeastern Conference powerhouse Saline Hornets trounced the ailing Dexter Dreadnaughts Friday night. The final score of the night was 28-0. It was Saline's second shutout of the season, making them early season favorites for the SEC championship.

The first half found the Hornets looking like anything but SEC contenders. Replacement quarterback Brad Koch threw three interceptions before settling down to a 30-yard drive in the first quarter to give Saline an early seven-point lead. The touchdown was scored by Eric Leidheiser who romped over from the four-yard line. The extra-point was added by Todd Knepper.

The Dexter defense held the Saline offense immobile while the Saline defense completely stopped the Dexter offense from advancing. The game was played as such through the end of the second quarter.

The game's second half found the Hornets initiating a strong running game. On the Dexter kick-off, Knepper took the ball at his own 11-yard line and pushed 53 yards to the Dexter 36. After five more plays, Koch, replacing Saline regular Jim Phelps who was out with a knee injury suffered the previous week in the game against Novi, hit Michael McFerrin with a 14-yard pass in the end zone. Knepper lifted the extra point, giving the Hornets a comfortable 14-0 advantage.

The fourth quarter resulted in more of the same. Senior halfback Fernando Lauch finished a 27-yard, four-play drive with a 10-yard run into the Dexter end zone and followed that with a six-yard trot across the goal line, a few minutes later.

The Saline win gave them their 13th consecutive victory and upped their season record to 3-0 overall.

Lincoln 26, Milan 0

Once again, the Ypsilanti Lincoln Railsplitters were victorious Friday night. This time, the team rolled all over Milan, bringing their season record to 2-0 in the conference. Milan's record, however, dropped to 0-2 in the league.

The Railsplitters, per usual, were led by all-stater Derrick Tolliver, who rushed for 242 yards and two touchdowns on runs of 85 and 96 yards. In addition, Tolliver completed two of four passes from his halfback position.

Lincoln sophomore quarterback Darrell Federer threw two touchdown passes, a 25-yarder to Dean Flucks serving as the team's initial score, and an 11-yard toss to Dave Stasiak, giving the Railsplitters their final points.

Milan made it onto the score board in the fourth quarter when Henry made a five-yard run into the Ypsilanti end zone. The pass for a two-point conversion failed, leaving Milan with a total of only six points in contrast to Ypsilanti's 26-point total.

Lincoln's offensive yardage reached 429 yards; Milan was held to 233 total offensive yards.

In a non-league encounter, the Jackson County Western Panthers were defeated Friday night by Lapeer West, giving the team their second loss over-all. Jackson County Western is now 1-0 in the conference and 1-2 overall.

ITALIAN VISITORS (left to right) Celeste and Franca Blanco and Plera, Aldo and Franco Costantino came to Chelsea last month to visit with first cousins, Barney and Mary Besso (far right). It was the first time either family had been to the United States, "a place they enjoyed very much." The families flew home last Sunday.

Italian Visitors Most Impressed With Friendliness, Generosity of Americans

Barney and Mary Besso, 13475 Old US-12, received a long overdue visit from four of Mr. Besso's first cousins and one second cousin from Italy last month. The quintet arrived in Chelsea in late August to stay for a number of weeks and visit with their American cousins scattered across the state.

The cousins, Aldo, Plera and Franco Costantino, and Celeste and Franca Blanco, are natives of the Piedmont area of northern Italy, near Turin, and reside in the village of Feletto. This was the first trip to the United States for both families, none of whom speak English.

"They never felt that they could travel to the States before, but now the Costantinos are recently retired and thought that this was a good time to come," Mr. Besso explained.

Mr. and Mrs. Costantino had each worked at the Fiat Automobile Co. in Turin, prior to their retirement. Their 20-year-old son, Franco, attends the University of Turin where he is pursuing studies in geology. The Blancas, on the other hand, operate a small shop in Feletto.

While in Chelsea, the Costantinos and the Blancas, who speak a unique Italian dialect, have been studied by the Besso's Italian instructor from Ann Arbor adult education program, Thomas Albin. He is presently writing his thesis on the Piedmont dialect, which is

"They, most specifically, liked the American people. They were very pleased at the friendliness shown them and were almost amazed by the generosity of people inviting them into their homes and so on."

The Costantinos and Blancos returned to Italy on Sunday, Sept. 21, after having thoroughly enjoying themselves and the American way of life. What did they like about the States? According to Besso, an engineer in the brake department at the Chrysler Proving Grounds, "They were fascinated with fast food, especially hot dogs, something totally foreign to them." Mrs. Besso, who is a part-time math instructor in the adult education program at Chelsea High school really summed it up. "They, most specifically, liked the American people. They were very pleased at the friendliness shown them and were almost amazed by the generosity of people inviting them into their homes and so on."

The Costantinos and Blancos hope to come back to the States some day. The Bessos anticipate returning to the tiny village of Feletto next year.

Timothy R. Flannery, whose wife, Mary, lives in Pinckney, recently was promoted to Army specialist five while serving as an armor crewman with the 2nd Armored Division in Garlstadt, Germany.

The appointing orders for this promotion stated "... The Secretary of the Army has placed special trust and confidence in this soldier's patriotism, valor, fidelity and abilities."

His mother, Mrs. Mildred E. Flannery, lives at 85 Sandpiper St., Rockport, Tex.

While the name caught on, John S. Thurman of St. Louis, Mo., presented the world with a useful invention when he introduced his "Pneumatic carpet renovator" on Oct. 3, 1899. Federal Funds May Help on Storm Damage

On Tuesday, Sept. 9, Gov. William G. Milliken announced that briefings would be held for local officials from the 10 counties struck by hurricane-force winds and thunderstorms in July, outlining federal assistance.

The Governor had originally proclaimed a disaster on July 21, but his request for aid, contained in a letter to President Carter on July 23, was rejected on the grounds that the damage was not serious enough to warrant federal assistance and that state and local governments were fully capable of responding to the situation.

In his appeal on Aug. 28, Milliken argued that because of the condition of the national economy and its impact on state and local governments, Michigan communities were unable to meet the extraordinary costs of $180.3 million in public and private damage in 10 counties, resulting from the storm.

Milliken's request for a Presidential disaster declaration was granted Monday, Sept. 8, making local units of government eligible for 75 percent reimbursement for debris clearance and public facility damage.

The briefings were held Thursday and Friday, Sept. 11 and 12, in three locations across the state. Chelsea representatives attended the briefings held in the Allen Park Municipal Building. There, Village officials set forth a notice of interest in financial assistance, designating Fritz Weber as the local agent.

On Wednesday, Sept. 17, a two-man inspection team, including one state and one federal representative from the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD), visited Chelsea to compile a detailed damage report to serve as the basis for a federal grant to the community.

The team perused the Village's records of disaster expenditures and after their review was completed, they reached a preliminary figure of $8,400.67 in federal monies. Though the tentative grant of funds is subject to audit, Village Administrator Fritz Weber, is confident that the amount will be received directly by the community.

Included in this grant is assistance for expenditures involving all labor and equipment used in debris clearance and protective measures. Also, the cost for repairs of electrical distribution and public utilities systems will be 75 percent reimbursed.

Prior to the petitioning for federal assistance, the Village, under a state grant, requested $2,286.12 in aid from the Michigan State Disaster Contingency Fund.
