FORMALIZING THEIR WORKING RELATIONSHIP: On Tuesday, Nov. 11 the University of Michigan and Chelsea Community Hospital signed a formal affiliation agreement that openly solidified their nearly three years of close partnership. It was in 1977 that the University of Michigan School of Medicine Family Practice Program got underway in Chelsea. Signing the long-awaited agreement are, left to right, Jephtha W. Dalston, PhD, director of University of Michigan Hospitals, Dr. John Gronvall, dean of the School of Medicine, Willard Johnson, hospital administrator, and James Daniels, chairman of the board of trustees.

U-M Family Practice Now Formally Affiliated With CCH

The University of Michigan and Chelsea Community Hospital signed a formal affiliation agreement on Tuesday, Nov. 11 at 1:30 p.m. in the hospital's private dining room.

The affiliation agreement formalized the relationship between Chelsea Community Hospital and the University of Michigan School of Medicine Family Practice Program, which began in 1977. Chelsea became the clinical headquarters for the U of M's Residency Training Program when the Family Practice Center was located adjacent to the hospital.

"I am very pleased to see this agreement formalized," said John A. Gronvall, MD, U-M Dean of Medicine. "Chelsea Community Hospital is an excellent facility and our affiliation provides the University's resident physicians and medical faculty the opportunity to deliver health care in a community setting where they care for the same type of patients they will serve later in private practices."

On the newly signed agreement, Willard Johnson, hospital administrator, said, "The Hospital's Board of Trustees has given unanimous approval to this agreement and recognized that hospital support would result in two positive developments. First, the hospital's need for more primary physicians in its service area would immediately be satisfied. Second, with the expectation that a significant number of the graduates of the Family Practice Training Program would join an existing practice or establish a practice within a 50-mile radius of the hospital, our future supply of physicians would be assured. The signing of this formal agreement re-affirms our three-year successful relationship."

Signing for the University was Richard C. Kennedy, vice president for state relations, Jephtha W. Dalston, PhD, director of University of Michigan Hospitals, and Dr. John Gronvall, dean of the School of Medicine. Signing for the hospital was James Daniels, chairman of the board of trustees, and Willard Johnson, administrator.

Girls Basketball Team Clinches Tie for SEC League Championship

Chelsea High school girls basketball team continued their winning ways twice last week as they rolled up two convincing victories at the hands of Milan's Big Reds and Dexter's Dreadnaughts. The wins clinched at least a Southeastern Conference championship tie for the lady Bulldogs.

On Tuesday, Nov. 4, the lady Bulldogs tangled with Milan at home in a showdown for first place. Going into the game, Chelsea was holding first place in the league with Milan following closely behind in second. Nonetheless, the lady Bulldogs came to the game to win and captured a sound 53-43 victory.

Though the game was close in the entire first half, Chelsea managed to stay ahead. At the end of the first quarter, the lady Bulldogs had a slim 14-12 lead. The pace slowed down considerably in the second quarter, each team could muster only four points. Still, at the half, Chelsea remained ahead by a pair.

The third quarter found Chelsea playing very well initially; Mary Boylan added 11 points in the period. The Bulldogs stretched their lead bit by bit until they tallied a six point advantage.

In the final quarter, each Bulldog did her share, the game was quicker, better executed and the ladies took their 14th victory of the season.

According to Coach Jim Winter, the defense was pretty good on each side. Still, Chelsea's playing was superior as the squad shot with 45 percent accuracy and added 15 free throws.

Scoring for the lady Bulldogs were Mary Boylan with 19 points, Jennifer Ringe with 14, Lorrie Vandegrift with 11, Mary Jo Eisele with six and Amy Unterbrink with three.

Top rebounders included Boylan with 13, Vandegrift with 11, and Unterbrink with four.

Jim Winter insisted that it was Amy Unterbrink's nine assists that were the keys to her team's victory. Too, she broke a Chelsea High school record for the most assists in any basketball game.

The Bulldog victory gave them an 8-1 SEC record and dropped Milan to 6-3 on the year.

It was as if the lady Bulldogs needed as well as wanted to taste sweet revenge as they stormed through Dexter Friday night and handed the Dreadnaughts a 42-29 defeat.

Free Diabetes Screening Tests Offered

As part of Chelsea Community Hospital's and Chelsea Medical Center's promotion of Diabetes Detection Week, free screening tests will be provided in the Surgical Center of Chelsea Community Hospital Nov. 17-21 from 2 to 8 p.m.

Julie Say, R. D., Community Nutritionist, stressed the importance of eating a high carbohydrate meal, one with a large amount of starches and sugars, two hours before the test. A person planning to take the test after lunch could have a bowl of soup, a sandwich with two slices of bread, cake or pie for dessert, and a glass of milk. A person planning to take the test after supper could have a serving of meat, fish, or fowl, one cup mashed potatoes or a large baked potato, a hot vegetable, salad if desired, cake or pie for dessert, and a glass of milk. The meal should be eaten within a period of 15 minutes, to assure an accurate test. After the meal, nothing else except water should be taken before the test.

If you have any questions regarding the screening tests, contact Carmelita Lovett, chief technologist, 475-1311, extension 411, or Joanne Warner, R. N., associate director of nursing, 475-1311, extension 368.

defeated the Chelsea squad all year, was slowly but surely buried beneath a barrage of points being racked up by the lady Bulldogs.

It was another excellent team effort for Chelsea as the girls pulled to a 14-4 first quarter lead. Then, half way through the second quarter, Chelsea had compiled a very commanding 25-4 advantage. But, by the end of the second quarter, the lady Bulldogs had dropped their lead considerably to 27-11.

The Bulldogs were playing very well offensively; they executed well, moved the ball well, passed the ball well, but found themselves in foul trouble in the third quarter. Jennifer Ringe and Mary Boylan had three and two fouls, respectively. For this reason, the lady Bulldogs began to play looser and more conservative, offensively.

By the end of the third quarter, Chelsea had added only seven points as compared to Dexter's 14. Still, the lady Bulldogs were ahead, 34-25, and by the end of the game, had pulled away with a 13-point lead and victory.

Scoring for the Bulldogs were Ringe with 14 points; Vandegrift, eight; Unterbrink, seven; Eisele, six; Boylan, five; and Weber, two.

Rebounders included Boylan and Unterbrink with 11 each and Vandegrift with six. Ringe had a pair of assists and five steals while Eisele assisted three times. But, once again, much of the game was hinged on the assisting of Amy Unterbrink, who helped her teammates five times during the course of the contest.

Lady Bulldogs Fall To Saline Tuesday

Following a series of convincing victories, the Chelsea High school girls basketball fell at the hands of the Saline Hornets Tuesday night. The game marked the final home game of the season for the lady Bulldogs. Too, it was Parents Night. Both events added to the disappointment of the 42-26 defeat.

Everyone played poorly for the Bulldogs, they were just not ready for the game following two victories the week before. According to Coach Jim Winter, "Mentally, the team was not prepared, we struggled through the entire game, didn't pass the ball at all and were unable to execute as usual."

Saline, who had fallen to the Bulldogs earlier in the year, came to the game ready and willing to play. It was imperative that the Hornets win the game with Chelsea if they wanted a possible first place tie in the SEC.

The Hornets outplayed the lady Bulldogs though initial statistics do not serve as real indicators. At half-time Saline had a slim, two-point lead.

The teams came back in the second half and while Saline added 26 additional points, the Bulldogs were able to muster only eight.

Scoring for Chelsea were Boylan with eight, Ringe six, Eisele four, Vandegrift three, Unterbrink and Rawson with two apiece and Kiel one. The rebounding wasn't much better as Boylan grabbed the ball nine times followed by Vandegrift with eight and Unterbrink with seven.

"We just didn't play like we are capable of playing," lamented the Chelsea coach.

The loss dropped Chelsea to 9-2 in the SEC while it upped the Saline record to 7-3. Chelsea remains in first place with a game Friday against Ypsilanti Lincoln. Saline has two more conference battles.

Though Chelsea can end the season in at least a first place tie no matter what the outcome of Friday's game, the lady Bulldogs will seek to clinch their Southeastern Conference title all alone as they battle it out against the aggressive Lincoln squad.

Home Meals Service Needs More Drivers

Chelsea's food service program, Home Meals, is in need of volunteer drivers to assist in the delivery of well-balanced meals to house-bound persons in the Chelsea area. Drivers are needed especially on Wednesdays and substitute drivers are also being recruited. Anyone interested in assisting the Home Meals program is asked to contact Barb Branch at 475-7644.

This service has been offered for a number of years and is a totally volunteer-operated organization. Both the elderly and those convalescing from illness serve as recipients. Those citizens being served are most often unable to leave their homes and, in some cases, the Home Meals program is their only contact with the outside world each day.

CHELSEA'S 1980 UNITED WAY GOAL has been set at $42,100 and Chelsea is responding slowly but surely to the plea for financial donations. With the campaign officially over for a number of days, donations of any amount are still being received with open arms. As of early this week, nearly 85 percent of the 1980-81 goal had been collected from the Chelsea area merchants, businesses and residents. The funds collected will be re-distributed into the community to help subsidize such organizations as CATS and Home Meals.

State Ordered To Ease Prison Overcrowding
An Ingham County Court judge has ordered the state, by the beginning of the year, to ease its prison overcrowding problem. As a result of a lawsuit filed by East Lansing attorney Zolton Ferency, Judge Ray Hotchkiss ordered the state to expand its 11,738 inmate capacity of its prisons by moving its least dangerous prisoners into temporary housing and by using prison space where no inmates are now kept.

The order also requires the state to reduce its inmate population to 12,013 by Jan. 1. As of Oct. 22, state prisons held 13,140 inmates while another 1,968 were residing in halfway houses and alternative corrections facilities or programs. Hotchkiss said prison population could be better controlled through the use of alternatives to maximum security cells. He suggested that if the population goes above the 13,013 figure, consideration should be given to increased use of parole, liberalized standards for revoking parole and expanded use of halfway houses and other community alternatives.

He added, however, that in no case should a prisoner who would likely constitute a menace to society or public safety be paroled early or allowed to remain free following any parole violation.

The Hotchkiss order also blocked the state from housing prisoners after Jan. 1 in county jails which don't meet national standards for prisons except to cope with a "serious prison disturbance" when jails could be used for a maximum of 60 days.

The judge called the order "realistic and reasonable" and would not involve any massive expenditure by the Department of Corrections.

Perry Johnson, director of the Department of Corrections, said the court order was evidence that the state has a serious crowding problem that cannot be further delayed. He called the order only a short-term solution to the overall problem.

"The solution offered in this order cannot control the problem indefinitely, they only gave us breathing room to take the steps that must be taken to resolve the problem in the future," Johnson said.

He suggested a major long-term solution is prison construction and a reasonable approach to financing that construction. He added this could be done through voter approval of Proposal E which would increase the state income tax rate one-tenth of one percent for five years with the revenues earmarked for new prison construction.

Attorney General Frank J. Kelley agreed the prisons are overcrowded but even with the ruling, the state will need expanded correctional facilities.

Kelley emphasized that the state needed new prisons for both dangerous, hardened criminals and for lesser offenders. He said he also appreciated the "quandary the court found itself in with regard to the problem."

Ferency said the court decision could have a positive impact on prison reform simply by providing a manageable inmate population. He added, however, that by simply reducing population was not in itself a reform step.

Ferency concluded the case was unique because it marked the first time a state has undertaken by itself action to correct overcrowding problems without a federal court ordering a reduction.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

According to the Saturday night lecture by professor Ed Doolittle, more evidence comes to light every day that Governments in this country is hooked on shared money as sure as people get hooked on dope. Ed told the fellers at the country store that he has saw where towns and counties have come up with a new sugar daddy now that Congress is relizing federal revenue sharing is a case of the have-not helping the haves. What this country needs, the local Governments say, is state revenue sharing.

The towns and counties make a good case. How are we going to keep up all the free federal services without free federal dollars? They point out that the programs don't cost the Federal Government as much as running them cost the local Governments. If administrating money don't come from Washington it's got to come from state capitals, they say. Ed said this is domino theory economics that makes us see the future of this country depends on willingness of Congress to keep raising the national debt limit forever. We git use to everthing flowing from the top down, Ed declared, and we can't suffer withdrawal pain of knowing that anything real has got to push from the bottom up.

Practical speaking, went on Ed, state revenue sharing is just the next domino. When that runs out the towns will want to share revenue of the counties. Then neighborhoods will put in fer some of their money back from the town, and final we'll have somepun called Neighbor Equality as a new way to keep up with the Jones. If the feller next door makes more money than you do it's only right that he share some of his revenue, since all the wells up the line have gone dry.

Actual, Bug Hookum said, we're seeing Federal money dry up in other areas. He reported where Medicare that started out taking care of old folks hospital bills is taking care of less and less. The deduction Medicare won't pay is going up faster than the deduction we pay Social security, and both leave us on the short end, was Bug's words. Beginning the first of the year, bug explained, folks that depend on Medicare have to pay the first $204 where they have been paying $180.

Clem Webster was of a mind that the pipeline is costing more than the money in it. Clem had saw where one county sent its share of Low Income Energy Assistance Program money back where it come from, saying it couldn't afford to run the program. If the money don't come with directions on the box, Clem said, more local Governments might decide not to open it. If them Federal agencies have got to pay $2 billion a year now fer outside consultants to tell them how to spend tax money, what will they do with the bundles that come back marked "return to sender?"

Fer sure, Democrat Clem declared, the $800,000 we give ex-Presidents Ford and Nixon ever year to live in the manner they are accustomed won't come back. He has saw where Nixon has asked fer $11,000 more next year so he can afford to travel some.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

Woman's Club Reminisces on Thanksgivings

The Woman's Club of Chelsea met Tuesday, Nov. 11 at McKune Memorial Library at 8 p.m. The program for the evening was "Thanksgiving Memorabilia," presented by Shirley Smith, a member of the club.

She spoke of the nostalgia of Thanksgiving and its history and a report was given of how things were in Chelsea in 1931. This report was made possible because of a microfilm of the Chelsea Standard located in The Historical Room of McKune Library.

These were the days of Amos and Andy on radio, Buster Keaton in films, steak at 25 cents per pound, sugar at 48 cents per 10-lbs., church suppers at 50 cents a person.

An old report of a Woman's Club meeting obtained from the microfilm was also read. Mrs. Smith concluded with a prayer for Thanksgiving.

The members of the club who were present shared favorite family recipes with each other. Following the program, memorabilia of great interest and variety was displayed and described by the members of the club who had brought them.

The items displayed ranged from a framed army commission paper signed by Gov. George Clinton of New York that was dated 1793 and an heirloom silver thimble to a Bible which had been kept by a relative of a member for three and one-half years of imprisonment by the Japanese during World War II.

Many other interesting memorabilia were shared as well. All in all, it was a most informative, enjoyable evening. Hostesses for the occasion were Katherine Glazier and Carol Von Reesema.

FIERO-RAMEY: The engagement of Sheila E. Fiero and Daniel E. Ramey is announced by their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John I. Fiero of Portage Lake, Munith, and Mr. and Mrs. Donnie E. Ramey of Steele, Ky., formerly of Island Lake, Chelsea. The bride-elect is a 1979 graduate of East Jackson High school and will graduate from Jackson Community College as an emergency medical technician in December. Her fiancé is a 1978 graduate of Pinckney High school and is employed at Autoform, Inc., of Ann Arbor. The couple is planning a Jan. 31 wedding.

Keynote speaker Marilyn VanDeBur wife and mother and former Miss America, of Utah, told the women of her experiences as she reigned for one year back in the '60s. Since that time she has addressed 250,000 assemblies and is a creative writer and former member of the President's Advisory Council.

She told the women that she received a million dollar education in the year that she was Miss America. She has spoken to businessmen, to civic leaders and has created and written a mini-course for teen-agers. It was interesting to find how ideas relate to their lives. She centered her talk around the title "I Am the Way I Am, But I Can Change."

We hesitate to try to reach higher goals, because we take a risk and we might embarrass ourselves or fail. We can be like the oyster or the eagle. The oyster lives and stays in the sea and at the end of the day is still in the sea. The outstanding person can be like the oyster. The successful person will be like the eagle soaring to higher heights and at the end of the day has accomplished its goal. We can do much more if there is no way to back out. It is enough to have accomplished something. America needs women to accomplish goals, this day, this hour, this minute. With renewed purpose and discipline the American Business Women can do more than they have ever done before. There are no hands but yours were her closing comments.

A real western desert cook-out with chuck wagons and a "shootn' jail escape" was the fare on Friday evening.

Saturday evening Showtime was preceded by presenting the top 10 business women of the year. Entertainers on Showtime were Kathie Lee Johnson of Name That Tune TV fame, The Brothers and Sisters, and Sasha Tormas, an outstanding violinist acclaimed throughout Europe for his fine performances.

Chelsea Charter Chapter was represented by Edie and Kathy Brooks, Geraldine Sullivan, Katie Chapman and Jean Hubbard of Grass Lake. Jean represented the chapter as voting delegate and helped elect the national president, B. Joan Sud-dash of Topeka, Kan., and vice-president, Fran Mills, of Omaha, Nebr., for Region V, the region which includes Michigan.

Hospice Plans Community Forum At Chelsea Hospital

Terminal illness, with extended hospital stays, is a reality for many families in the United States. Hospice of Washtenaw accepted its first patients this September and provided an alternative for these individuals and their families. On Wednesday, Nov. 19, at 7:30 p.m. in the Chelsea Community Hospital, Hospice of Washtenaw will provide a community forum on hospice care. This forum is one of several forums being sponsored by the Michigan Council for the Humanities throughout Michigan.

In hospice care, control of pain and other symptoms of the terminally ill patient are emphasized so that there can be a better quality of life for him and his family. Thus, the patient is permitted to die with dignity. Because Hospice of Washtenaw is home-based, the patient is enabled to die within his own home in the company of his family.

Much of the work done by Hospice of Washtenaw is performed by volunteers of various backgrounds.

Anyone interested in learning more about hospice care should plan to attend the community forum in Chelsea on Nov. 19.

CHRISTMAS CHEER: Christmas entertaining ends with an edible Yuletide tree trimmed with candied cherries and other fruits. At least that's what culinary expert Sherry Sundling, left, believes as she assists Gale Johnson in decorating an unbaked dessert. Sundling will be the guest speaker at the North Lake United Methodist church November Luncheon on Thursday, Nov. 20. There, she will demonstrate holiday cookery, preparing festive delicacies from appetizer to dessert.

North Lake Church Preparing Luncheon

The North Lake United Methodist church women's group is preparing for its annual November Luncheon. The theme this year is holiday cooking. Sherry Sundling will be demonstrating how to prepare such delicacies as cream puff swans in addition to other ideas for Christmas entertaining.

The luncheon will be held Thursday, Nov. 20 at 12:30 p.m. at North Lake United Methodist church. Tickets are available at Country Craftique or from Gale Johnson (475-1284) and other members of the group at a cost of $4. No tickets will be sold at the door and babysitting will be provided at a charge of $1 per child.

In the two years she and her family have lived in Chelsea, Sherry Sundling, one of the area's culinary talents, has become increasingly well known for her fine cooking demonstrations and catering. Her cooking background is varied and interesting, having included nine years of continental cuisine with the Baroness Charity de Vicq Suczek of Grösse Pointe and one year of Chinese cooking with Ina Tcen of Farmington. In addition, she has had invaluable work experience in three of the top 10 restaurants in the Detroit area. They included Yvonne Gill Davis' Tweeny's restaurant, Restaurant Duglass and Elizabeth's Restaurant of Northville.

She is presently employed in the Food Service Department of Chelsea Community Hospital, a facility widely respected for the quality of its food.

Women smokers spend 15% more time sick in bed and lose nearly three times as many work days as those who don't smoke.

'For Women Only' Workshops Set By Recreation Dept.

Continuing the series of workshops entitled "For Women Only," the Chelsea Community Education Department will offer another two-hour session, "Re-entering the Work Place" on Tuesday, Nov. 18.

This workshop is geared toward the woman who has been out of the work force for a length of time or who is changing job type or direction. Exercises will be undertaken to help give the woman a clearer understanding of her direction, wants, needs and skills.

Specific questions to be addressed will include: "What do I really want to do?" "What skills do I have?" "Who employs such people in this area?" "Do I need more training?" and "How do I write a resume?"

The cost of the session is $3 and the class will meet in Chelsea High school room 219 from 7-9 p.m.

The annual observance of the Great American Smokeout focuses public attention on cigarette smokers from coast to coast. It's their day! The Smokeout is an up-beat, good-natured effort to encourage smokers to give up cigarettes for 24 hours, if only to prove to themselves that they can. Everyone enjoys watching and rooting while they try.

THANK YOU FOR YOUR CONFIDENCE

No individual owns the title of Judge. It is lent to that person by the voters for a period of time.

I am proud that the voters have again determined to grant me the use of that title and the responsibilities that come with it.

I am grateful to the many hundreds of people who have put their effort into the campaign on my behalf. Judges have no armies, no police, just the respect of the people, and if we were to have run a campaign and lost the voter's respect for the judiciary, we would have lost our sacred trust. I hope I have run a positive campaign, one that has appealed to the hope of all voters for a safer and more just society.

Area Campers, Hikers Report Busy Season

Chapter 89 of the National Campers and Hikers Association enjoyed a very busy camping season. Members are from Chelsea, Dexter, Manchester, Pinckney, Gregory and Lansing.

The group's first outing was last April when they went to Bruin Lake. It was very cold so the campfire and soup pot were really appreciated.

In May, they traveled to Harrison in search of mushrooms. No one had too much luck but two members were glad to find their way out of the woods after having been lost an hour.

The group enjoyed a very wet Spring Campout at Mt. Morris.

First in June and then again on the 4th of July, the campers were at Walden Woods in Hartland.

Beginning July 3, the families spent a very hot five days at the Nationals in Syracuse, N.Y.

July was a full month of camping; the group traveled to the Oaks then and again in August for fun-filled week-ends.

In August, the families attended the Mixer at Randolph Airfield at St. John's and enjoyed all the programs, activities and prizes. Al Peterson was a "lovely" model in the fashion show. The group's founder and first president, Al Mshar, was sadly missed as Keystone Cop at this outing; he died last year. Another member, Don Olsen of Lansing, also died. Both men are sadly missed by the 89'ers.

In September, the little town of Edmore went all out with hospitality, prizes, and activities during their Potato Festival.

October found the group at the Lenawee Loafers Mixer in Morenci. There, they were treated to great entertainment, good food and hospitality.

The 1980 season ended with a Halloween outing at Four Seasons. Despite rain and even snow, the 89'ers had a campfire and soup pots, trick or treats for the kids, games, prizes and a potato pancake and sausage brunch.

The group's euchre tournament winners were first place, Peg Leemon and Carol Peterson; second place, Bev Wisniewski and Jeri Ritchie; third place, Sandy Thurkow and Al Peterson.

Evelyn and Walt Schneider, field directors, were guests at the meeting where the following officers were elected: president, Lloyd Schneider; vice-president, Don West; secretary, Sylvia West; treasurer, Joyce Schneider; M.S.A. delegate, Don West; reporter, Carol Peterson; board of directors, Dan Scott, Al Peterson and Lyle Duncan.

Chapter 89 will have its Christmas party at the home of Sandy and Harry Thurkow of Chelsea.

The group extends its congratulations for the achievements of two of its newest and youngest members. Todd Thurkow, son of Sandy and Harry Thurkow, won a Mongoose bicycle for raising pledges of $449.59, when he rode 30 miles at the Chrysler Proving Grounds in the September Bike-a-Thon for the American Cancer Society.

Brian Klopp, 10-year-old son of Kay Klopp of Lansing, was named Youth Bowler of the Week when he bowled 124 over his average of 109 with a 451 series and games of 153-127-175.

For the Record

For clarification, the Oct. 30 issue of the Standard reported that in the 14th District Court proceedings one Richard Bauer was sentenced for impaired driving. This man is a resident of Saline, not of Chelsea.

Windows Smashed At Beach School

Sometime between Thursday, Nov. 6 at 3:30 p.m. and Sunday, Nov. 9 at 12:50 p.m., eight windows located on the east side of Beach Middle school were broken. The windows were estimated in value at $25 per pane and the malicious destruction totalled approximately $200. Between 20 and 30 rocks were found on the ground next to the building and beneath the broken windows. According to Chelsea Police, there are no suspects at this time.

KICK THE HABIT:

Great American Smokeout Urges Smokers to Quit

The annual observance of the Great American Smokeout focuses public attention on cigarette smokers from coast to coast. The Smokeout is an upbeat, good-natured effort to encourage smokers to give up cigarettes for 24 hours, if only to prove to themselves that they can.

The event, sponsored by the American Cancer Society, is held each year on the Thursday before Thanksgiving. This year's date is Thursday, Nov. 20.

The 1980 goal of the Great American Smokeout is to get at least one in every five smokers to give up cigarettes from midnight to midnight on Thursday, Nov. 20.

Natalie Cole is 1980 honorary chairman of the event. Describing herself as a moderate smoker, she has vowed to set a national example by not smoking on Smokeout Day. Her plan is to permanently give up cigarettes on Nov. 20, although previous attempts at quitting have consistently failed. Natalie's father, Nat "King" Cole, was a heavy cigarette smoker. He died of lung cancer in 1965.

The Great American Smokeout is now in its fourth consecutive year as a nation-wide celebration. The first mass movement by smokers to give up cigarettes was led by Lynn R. Smith, editor of the Monticello, Minn. Times, in his home town in 1974. Smith's idea, "D-Day," quickly spread throughout Minnesota. In 1976 it headed west to California, where it became known as the Great American Smokeout. In 1977 the Smokeout was observed for the first time nationwide.

In 1979, according to a survey conducted by the Gallup Organization, nearly 15 million American smokers attempted to give up cigarettes on Smokeout Day. Five million succeeded for a full 24 hours. One to three days later, 2.3 million still were off cigarettes, while another 7.8 million said they had cut down on the number of cigarettes smoked.

Even in a small town like Chelsea, the attempt to spread the Smokeout word is being undertaken. Pamphlets, films, posters and other advertising to promote the annual event has been distributed throughout the schools—elementary, junior, high—by the Chelsea cancer board which works in conjunction with the Washtenaw County chapter of the American Cancer Society.

In addition, the Chelsea High school Student Council has taken it upon itself to capitalize on the topic of smoking and is anticipating the presentation of a skit to the middle and elementary schools exemplifying the detrimental effects of the habit. Because most young people begin smoking while they are attending junior high, the high school students deemed it necessary to make their plea to them.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

The Chelsea Standard, date-line, Nov. 6th, '80—front page—"Walk-Away Returned to Cassidy Lake." The writing of that incident was well done. I personally know the inside of the place mentioned above, and would like to share this with your readers and you, sir.

While there was James who "walked-away," there are far more in the 300 residents there, that stay. It is of these, a group of 17 young men who had an opportunity to share with the outside world on Oct. 15, I speak.

Sixteen, Little Brothers came with their two escorts from St. Louis school to join their Big Brothers for a Halloween Party in their honor. Fr. Joseph, the new director of St. Louis school gave his blessing on this encounter of joy.

The basement of the chapel was decorated in all the beauty of fall. The men collected leaves and branches, and put them in place on the walls. Cornstalks were placed to cover the bare support poles of the basement. The tables were set, and all this was done with the feeling of expectation. You, Mr. Editor, do not know, nor do your readers, how hungry these young men are to share themselves with others in such gatherings. The preparations were like a "little Christmas" for them.

All was done, and they nervously waited for the van to appear. Every few minutes another young man would run upstairs and check out the direction of their coming. "They're here!" came back the shout. There was a scramble to greet their "Little Brothers."

The joy of the evening was equally radiated in faces of the young as well as their older counterparts. The Big Brothers had pooled some of their money together and furnished the chips, candy, and Kool-Aid, which complemented the hot dog feast we all shared. There was basketball and outside fun after our meal. On their return to the basement the little brothers dunked for apples. When one little fella couldn't master the feat in the large bowl of water, it was his Big Brother and couple others who put their heads together and in a more shallow bowl, the trick was mastered. The whole room applauded as our little friend jumped up and down with joy... "I did it," he shouted.

Every guest of ours got a certificate for Big Boy in Chelsea, for a hamburger and fries. In order to not let anyone be forgotten, so everyone at the school, all those "Little Brothers" who couldn't make it, got one too.

We returned to the chapel and prayed together—and sang a few songs which ended up with "Jingle Bells." We were sure the Lord would not mind. It was time to say good-bye. A kiss of a brother to another. A hug. A hand-shake, it was all there.

In a couple of days a "thank-you" note came bearing all the names of those at St. Louis school who took part in our loving sharing. The tears came, you at St. Louis school are thanking us, it is all of us at Cassidy Lake who thank you—for giving us self-confidence, pride, and a very special meaning to our lives. As always, thanks to Mr. Weinberg, superintendent, Mr. Tom Mann, treatment director, Mr. Cummings, security, and his officers. There is much good being done on the Lake, by those who don't "walk-away," like those 17 Big Brothers...

Mrs. Millie Warner,
Acting Catholic Chaplain.

Athletic Director Ron Nemeth responded to a citizen inquiry pertaining to the condition of the four tennis courts. He indicated some immediate recommendations and stated that a long-range analysis of the tennis facilities is needed.

The Board reviewed a request from Kevin Miller, orchestra director, for a proposed trip to Toronto. This will be acted upon at the next meeting.

LET THE SUN SHINE: John Eisenbeiser gazes from the windows in the new Chelsea Free Methodist church. Formerly using St. Barnabas church for their meetings, the church members will soon worship at their own unique solar church. Chelsea Free Methodist evolved from a five-couple neighborhood Bible study group just over two years ago. Now, the group has begun construction on a $200,000-plus solar church building and has begun the raising of a solar parsonage purchased from Green Mountain Homes of New Jersey. Though the church itself is being constructed by a building contractor, the parsonage is being built by the parish members, now numbering near 60, themselves.

Postal Service Starts Philatelic Variety Show

The U.S. Postal Service will launch a new program this month designed to acquaint its customers with the educational benefits of stamp collecting.

Chelsea Postmaster Schaules said the campaign, called the "Philatelic Variety Show," will feature the expanding line of philatelic products and focus on stamps issued recently that commemorate various aspects of American life and history. "Our clerks will be making a special effort during this promotion to show our various philatelic products to customers and to answer questions about stamp collecting," he said.

Philatelic products offered by the Postal Service during the two-week campaign, which started Monday, include Stamps and Stories, a new 264-page book designed to introduce non-collectors to stamp collecting.

Other products include the 1978, 1979 and 1980 Mint Sets containing all commemorative and special stamps issued by the Postal Service during those years; and a new American Revolution Collecting Kit. New collectors can also obtain several other topical stamp collecting kits being offered during the program. Two additional new products will be initially offered for sale only at selected postal facilities called Philatelic Centers. These new products are the "Women's Mint Set" and the "Coral Reefs" folder.

Postmaster Schaules explained that stamp collecting has become the world's most popular hobby, attracting more than 25 million collectors in the United States alone. That is one of the reasons the Postal Service has decided to offer customers a wider range of philatelic products this year.

Cigarette smoking is the major cause of lung cancer. According to the American Cancer Society, once you have this disease, your chance of being saved is only 1 in 10. If you stop smoking, however, the risk of getting lung cancer diminishes. What are you waiting for? Join the Great American Smokeout on Nov. 20. The time to stop is now!

CHELSEA FREE METHODIST CHURCH, located on Werker Rd., is surveyed by co-ordinator John Eisenbeiser. Progressing on schedule, it is hoped that the new facility will be ready for occupancy by late December or early January. The solar facility, designed by an architectural firm from Chicago, is being constructed by a local contractor and is one of the only church buildings of its kind to be erected in the state. Meari Bradley serves as pastor of the church.

Home Meals Service

Home Meals program serves as a two-fold project. Not only does it deliver food to the isolated but also checks on their health status each day. That is, if a recipient does not answer his or her door at meal time, drivers are instructed to contact a superior who, in turn, investigates the situation.

Home Meals charges those able to pay a fee of $1.50 per meal. Nonetheless, those unable to pay the full amount are charged only what they can afford. Partial subsidy for the program comes from the United Way.

This non-profit organization is able to maintain itself as such because the group is charged only what it costs to prepare the food. All meals are prepared at the Methodist Home prior to the daily delivery to an average of 20 house-bound persons.

Drivers are an integral part of the operation of the Home Meals program and the amount of time necessary to deliver the well-balanced meals is minimal. From the time of pick-up at the Methodist Home until the time of the delivery completion, no more than an hour passes.

The Home Meals service is important for another reason, it allows those being served to keep their independence as long as possible.

12 Arrests Reported By Police Chief

On Monday, Nov. 3, Chelsea Police Chief Robert Aeillo submitted his monthly summary of police activities to the Chelsea Village Council.

In his October summary, Chief Aeillo reported on all departmental activities as they compared to the preceding month. Certain pertinent activities are as follows.

It was reported that a total of 284 police radio runs were made as compared to 285 in September. The department investigated 62 suspicious vehicles, 19 suspicious persons and 18 suspicious incidents.

Chief Aeillo's men made a number of arrests: seven for misdemeanors, four on warrants, and a single felony arrest. This is to be compared to two, one and two, respectively, one month earlier.

In addition, the Chelsea police department made six county radio runs as opposed to three in September. The October assistance calls answered by the Chelsea police involved four injury accidents and two cases of arrest.

Chelsea Police nearly doubled property checks in the month of October. In September, they made 246 checks on property while in October, 534 checks were carried out.

CHELSEA SWIMMING'S SENIOR POWER is made up of these three tankers. The trio, accompanied by Coach Larry Reed (far left), will be depended upon heavily in providing the essentials of leadership and example in both practice and actual meets. The three include, left to right, Tom Gaunt, who has scored in the 100-yard backstroke at the last two State Meets, and Mike Mason and Phil Hoffman, who are each sprint freestyle specialists who medaled at the 1979 State Meet.

Swim Team Goal is Top 5

Chelsea High school's boys swim team finished 10th in the state competition last year. This year, however, the squad would like to be in the top five state teams. For this to occur, three seniors, Tom Gaunt, Mike Mason and Phil Hoffman, will have to lead their team. This is partially due to the fact that this year's team is Chelsea's largest yet. Twenty-five swimmers and divers comprise the group and about 40 percent of them are freshmen.

The team's goal for the dual meet season is to go undefeated with a 14-0 record. Last year's tankers finished with a 13-1 record.

"We have two meets with strong Class A teams, Monroe and Adrian. We have never beaten either of these teams, but we are working hard to change those results," commented Coach Larry Reed.

Reed is hoping that Hoffman and Mason will improve enough in their sprint specialties. Too, he hopes that Gaunt will be able to score in the backstroke and 200-yard individual medley.

Home meets will be held on Tuesdays and Thursdays at 7 p.m. The coach adds that "if you have never seen a high school swim meet, come and see one of the best teams in the state."

JV Girl Cagers Win 1, But Lose 2

On Thursday, Oct. 30, Chelsea JV girls basketball team traveled to Tecumseh. The game was not a good one for the Bulldogs, but they went into half-time with a two-point lead.

In the second half they couldn't hold their lead and fell to the Indians, 22-45.

Scoring for the Bulldogs were Amy Hume with eight points, Amy Poljan with five, Tracy Borton and Kathy Degener added two apiece and Mary Hellner had one point.

Tuesday, Nov. 4, the Chelsea cagers battled the Milan Big Reds. The first quarter, Chelsea came away with a 6-1 lead. But, in the second quarter, Milan came back and took a five-point lead into half-time.

In the third quarter, the Bulldogs added six points, Milan sunk two. Nonetheless, Chelsea was unable to hold the Big Reds and they lost, 22-27.

Top scorers were Amy Hume with eight, Tracy Borton with six and Missi Lazarz and Amy Poljan with four points each.

Last Friday, the JV ladies headed to Dexter and a team they had previously defeated. The Bulldogs came out and were unable to do much in the first quarter. Still, they came back in the second period of play and went into half-time just two baskets behind.

In the third quarter, Chelsea was able to tie it up and clinched the victory in the fourth quarter. The final score of the evening was 32-28.

Chelsea scorers included Tracy Borton with 12, Amy Hume with seven, Amy Poljan with five, Carol Warren with three, Kathy Degener and Kim Boyd with two apiece and Missi Lazarz added a single point.

The JV lady Bulldogs are now 8-9 on the season.

ZPG AND HOUSING MARKET

This country has reached a new threshold in its population growth. Now, as the experts have predicted, zero population growth (ZPG) is here. Families are smaller than ever and the elderly are living longer. How has this affected the building industry?

Nationally, it has caused builders to plan somewhat smaller houses to house smaller families and with less frills to accommodate the lessening purchasing power.

The national birth rate has now plunged to 1.9 children per family — lowest in history — and well below the "replacement level." Marriages decreased last year, the first time since 1958.

About 2.4% fewer marriages were performed in the previous year. Divorces totalled 970,000 last year, an increase of over 6% from the previous year. Upward trend started in 1962 and continues to accelerate.

Households also got smaller last year. They dipped below the three person level for the first time. Persons 65 years and older constitute the largest live-alone group but the fastest growing live-alone group are persons under 35.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at FRISINGER REALTY CO., 935 S. Main St., Chelsea. Phone: 475-8881; evenings 475-2621. We're here to help!

Girls Basketball District Tourney Pairings Made

With only two games remaining in the Chelsea High school girls basketball team's regular season, it seems only natural that, with a record like theirs, they are beginning to plan for tournaments.

On Monday, Nov. 10, the drawing of teams and locations of the first district tournament was held. This tournament will include six teams and will begin on Thursday, Nov. 20 when Jackson Northwest (16-1) meets the Panthers of Jackson County Western (1-15).

The winner of that game will tangle with the lady Bulldogs of Chelsea at Jackson Northwest. Other teams planning to participate in this tournament are Columbia Central, Lumen Christi and Tecumseh.

Nazarene Church Hosting Evangelist

Southwest Church of the Nazarene, located on M-106, 14555 Holmes Rd., Gregory, plans to have their Fall Revival services Nov. 16-20. The Rev. Gerald A. Carnes will be the evangelist. The Rev. Carnes has a rich background in the churches where he has served. In his first pastorate at Bedford First church in Temperance, near Toledo, O., he started with 32 people. In his eight years as pastor there, the church grew to over 200 in Sunday school and 300 in worship.

Since coming to his present post, Williams Lake Church of the Nazarene, three years ago, the church has grown from 88 people to over 200 in Sunday school and 275 in morning worship.

His record has been recognized twice by the denomination as pastor of the fastest growing Nazarene churches in Michigan. He is an outstanding speaker and relates to people very well. The Rev. Carnes is married and has two children. His wife Chris (Frinkle) Carnes is an outstanding pianist and organist and comes from the Chelsea area where her father pastored Immanuel Bible church. Times of the services are 11 a.m. and 6 p.m. on Sunday, Nov. 16 and at 7:30 p.m. during the week. A warm invitation is extended to the community and a nursery will be provided during every service.

THE REV. GERALD A. CARNES

UCC Director Will Speak at St. John's Church

On Sunday, Nov. 16, St. John's United Church of Christ, 12376 Waters Rd., will host the Rev. Herman Haller who is the central area director for the Michigan Conference of the United Church of Christ. The Rev. Haller will be guest speaker at the 10:30 a.m. service. Special music is being planned along with a special offering which will be divided between the World Mission and the Evangelical Children's Home in Detroit. A pot-luck carry-in dinner will follow the service. Those attending are asked to bring their own table service and a dish or dishes to pass. Swimmers of the Week

MARY BACON, left, is a junior at Chelsea High school and has earned letters in each of her two previous years of swimming and diving. According to Coach Dave Johnson, "Mary does a good job in both diving and swimming." Last year, she went to the State Meet in diving and has just recently qualified for the State Diving Regional to be held at Marshall High school on Dec. 2. If she makes the top 15 at the regional, she will qualify for the State Meet in Grand Rapids. Mary also swims for the Chelsea swim team with her speciality being butterfly and backstroke.

MICHELE CLARK, right, has been one of the swim team's tri-captains this season. Following an 11th place finish in the State Meet last December, the team has really counted on her this year. "Michele has had the privilege of being tutored by Chris Seufert, a member of the 1980 Olympic Diving Team, for the past two seasons and I think this has really helped her to become the fine diver she is," explained Coach Johnson. "We think Michele has a real good shot at being in the top six at the State Meet this year," he added. Other activities in which Michele takes part include the Chelsea Orchestra and the National Honor Society. She will graduate from Chelsea High school this spring and is planning to attend Michigan State University in the fall.
