1981 Seen as Period of Regrouping

Some Improvement in Economy Predicted For Spring, Summer

By Babson's Reports, Inc.
Wellesley Hills, Mass.

A year ago, our forecast for 1980 predicted that the American economy would experience a recession, the main thrust of which would be felt early in the year. Technically speaking, however, the generally accepted definition of an economic recession was not fulfilled. That is, the "real" gross national product (the GNP stripped of inflation) did not experience two consecutive calendar quarters of negative readings. However, the massive second-quarter 1980 slump (down nearly 10%) suffered by the gross national product in terms of 1972 dollars, and the minuscule growth rates of the year's remaining quarterly spans, surely must be regarded as ample indication that a recession did indeed occur.

While the severity of the economic contraction during the spring weeks of 1980 exceeded the expectations of most economists, the letdown's brevity underscored the intrinsic resilience of the nation's economy. Had it not been for the drastic credit curbs which the Carter Administration and the Federal Reserve employed in the bold bid to curb burgeoning inflationary forces, the economy might not have been subjected to such a pronounced buffeting in the spring and early summer of 1980. But even if the reins had not been pulled back so radically, it is doubtful that a business slowdown could have been averted completely.

After all, the growth of the nation's money supply remained consistently higher than the targets that had been projected by the monetary authorities, and the federal government was unable to cope with the ever-increasing budget deficit for fiscal 1980 which ended Sept. 30. Hence, there was an exceedingly fertile breeding ground for inflation, and the brief, sharp downturn in short-term interest rates was supplanted by another spell of oppressively high inflation and interest rates in the second half of 1980. As these adverse factors resurfaced, the promising pickups in residential building and industrial output sputtered as the year worked to its terminus.

1981—A Period of Regrouping

The staff of Babson's Reports now foresees an extension of the logy economic climate during much of 1981's first half. The incoming Reagan Administration faces the monumental task of lowering inflation and interest rates. We doubt that sufficiently significant and rapid inroads can be made on these problems to boost the economy into a swift upthrust early in the year. Indeed, vitality and forward momentum will be slow in developing. Hence, economic activity will do well to edge upward during the winter and early spring weeks. Thereafter, however, the business tempo will quicken and, the second half of 1981 could enjoy enough of an uplift to enable the year as a whole to record a moderate amount of progress. In effect, therefore, 1981 should be viewed as a regrouping period for the U. S. economy, to the ground-work for a more vibrant 1982.

Economy's Resilience A Sustaining Force

Although the staff of Babson's Reports does not anticipate a sturdy year-long upsurge in economic activity, 1981 could turn out to be more fruitful than current conditions would seem to support. But there are less hopeful opinions. Such views reflect fear that the economy will lapse back to the 1980 low point of economic activity, and the more pessimistic element go a step further in projecting a dip of even deeper penetration. If either viewpoint should be borne out, the result would be a "double dip" 1980-81 recession, or something tantamount to a "W"-type reversal pattern.

The Babson forecast, on the other hand, envisions a generally flat trend of economic activity—but with a modest upward bias—for early 1981. On this thesis, a "double dip" recession pattern would not materialize. This scenario is predicated on the basic buoyancy of the U. S. economy, which Babson's views as capable of providing more bolstering influences than is generally recognized. For one thing, service-oriented activities have been growing in importance over the years. Many facets of this diverse segment of the economy are less responsive to cyclical downswings in the industrial and commercial sectors, hence tend to impart support to the over-all economy.

The automotive and agricultural equipment industries are verging on cyclical advances which could come into play once oppressively high interest rates decline. Improvement in these sectors will give an uplift to the operations of parts suppliers, including the steel and rubber industries which have experienced tough sledding for quite some time. Moreover, the feverish pace of exploration and development work in the oil and gas industries and the rapid growth in computer-related fields mean added vital support for the economy. And, as 1981 progresses, a new uptrend (more durable than the aborted 1980 effort) is likely to take hold in residential building.

Benefits from the Change In National Leadership

Allowing for the settling-in process, Babson's expectation is that the incoming Reagan Administration will make some headway in the fight against inflation and in nudging interest rates back down to less stifling levels. In addition, efforts to stimulate economic revitalization, via business incentives and a less ambivalent attitude toward private enterprise, should lead to a healthier state of business confidence. But the programs and legislative proposals of the new Administration cannot become reality without the co-operation of Congress. The Babson view is that a better working relationship will prevail between Capitol Hill and the White House, in contrast to the climate which shadowed much of the past four years.

Bear in mind that even though the GOP barely wrested control of the Senate, members of Congress—particularly those facing re-election two years hence—will certainly be mindful of the shift in voter sentiment shown at the polls last November. A more constructive atmosphere at top echelons of the Legislative Branch can go far toward improving over-all public confidence. It will be no easy task, however. Forces which have eroded optimism and pride—unhealthy fiscal and monetary conditions, galloping inflation, a badly tarnished national image abroad, and the diminution of American productivity and competitiveness—have roots that are deeply imbedded. Nevertheless, if patience and understanding prevail, meaningful advances can be made toward rectifying these ailments, and the nation can be headed in a direction offering the prospect of new-found confidence and solid progress.

Intensive Care for Inflation

We believe the Reagan Administration will honor its promise to wage a resolute battle against inflation. However, since an important part of the legacy the incoming national leadership has inherited is the entrenchment of strong inflationary forces, it will be difficult to neutralize these en masse, and hence it is unrealistic to expect a quick cure. But the commitment must be made by both the Administration and the Federal Reserve, this time without any premature backing off.

NEAR COMPLETION: 1200 S. Main St., Phase I of the Chelsea Professional Building is nearly complete following four months of diligent construction. Comprised of four commercial condominium suites, medical and dental professionals are scheduled to move in early this year. The brainchild of Chelsea dentist, Dr. Robert Burns, Jr., the Chelsea Professional Building will soon house the practices of Dr. Burns, ophthalmologist Dr. Williams Hawks, orthodontist Dr. Dick Dijkman and podiatrists Drs. Howard Reznick and Paul Tai. Following the completion of Phase I, the construction of a second, identical building will be undertaken.

Chelsea Professional Building Nearly Ready for Occupancy

Just four months after staking and ground breaking activities got underway at 1200 S. Main St., Phase I of the Chelsea Professional Building is nearly completed. In January, the facility's driving force, Chelsea dentist Dr. Robert Burns, Jr., is planning to move from the Chelsea Medical Center to his new location.

The circumstances surrounding the design and construction of the Chelsea Professional Building are of particular interest. Architects Hobbs and Black of Ann Arbor designed the structure to interface with the friendly, informal setting of the community and in particular to its setting on Main St. The structure's predominant roof form gives it a residential character and scale yet it is clearly distinguishable by virtue of its vaulted skylit entry. Conceptually, the structure is not unlike a park pavillion, carefully sited among many fine mature trees; when Phase II is completed, a parklike courtyard will be developed.

The interior treatment of oak trim and the barrel vaulted entry ceiling emparts warmth to the space and, together with the unique lighting scheme, creates a pleasant environment for employees and visitors alike.

Sun control and energy efficiency is achieved through the structure's deep overhangs, additional insulation and thermal insulating glass.

Construction got underway quickly by contractor Dick Clark Construction, Inc. of Grass Lake. In a deliberate attempt to compete with himself, Dick Clark and his sub-contractors have managed to move more than 10,000 tons of earth, 250 tons of cement, 200 tons of asphalt, 150 tons of brick and sand mortar and nine tons of steel.

Dick Clark and his associates have managed to stay on schedule, if not get ahead of schedule, and have utilized 700 lbs. of nails, over 35,000 board feet of lumber, 20,000 sq. ft. of aluminum, miles of copper wire and pipe, 600 sq. ft. of tinted glass, 20,000 sq. ft. of dry wall and 125 gals. of paint and stain. The list of materials is even more extensive, including supplies traveling to Chelsea from as far away as Texas. The contract is nearly complete.

The rose window that is to be inserted in the Chelsea Professional Building will be made up of 270 pieces of stained glass originating from areas throughout the United States and the world, including Washington, Oregon, West Virginia, Great Britain and West Germany.

The three and one-half ft. radius semi-circle window follows the geometric clean line concept of the architecture as well as that of the detail work, such as the wrought iron. The window will be executed in the copper foil process, a Louis Comfort Tiffany concept. This process was chosen over the lead came technique because of the artistic preference of the designer of the window.

The copper foil method presents a softer, less rigid line that is finer, warmer and less heavy in appearance. It also offers a color that is more in keeping with that of the window and the surrounding architecture.

Though partially hidden from the viewer's eye upon entering the building, the window will offer a warm focal point once inside.

The four commercial condominium suites to make up the interior of the structure will total 6,400 sq. feet. Investors in the $500,000-plus complex are Dr. Robert Burns, Jr.; ophthalmologist, William Hawks; orthodontist, Dick Dijkman; and podiatrists, Howard Reznick and Paul Tai. All of the men are presently practicing from the Chelsea Medical Center, excluding Drs. Reznick and Tai who treat patients in the Chelsea Community Hospital's Surgical Center but retain offices in Ypsilanti.

The following consists of five brief resumes regarding the background of the dental and medical professionals soon to be located in the Chelsea Professional Building.

Dr. Robert Burns, Jr. graduated from the University of Michigan School of Dentistry in 1971, after which he enrolled in an internship program at Wayne County General Hospital which emphasized training in trauma care, surgery and anesthesiology. At that time, an addition to the Dental Building was in the planning stage at Chelsea Medical Center and Dr. Burns went to work for the state of Michigan, treating the needs of the inmate population at the State Prison of Southeastern Michigan in Jackson.

About one year later, he opened his practice in general family dentistry at the Medical Center and about six months later, resigned from his position with the state to devote full time in Chelsea.

Though Dr. Burns will continue to maintain his affiliation and privileges with the Chelsea Community Hospital and Surgical Center, he looks forward to his new location in the Chelsea Professional Building. The new office will provide more room that is more ideally suited to offer better (Continued on page four)

Cindy Turcott Joins Congr. Dunn's Staff

Cindy Turcott, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Patrick Turcott of 25 Sycamore Dr., has been appointed as executive assistant to U.S. Congressman-elect James Dunn of the 6th Congressional District. She will serve as his assistant in Washington, D.C. upon his swearing in to take place Monday, Jan. 5.

Turcott, a 1975 graduate of Chelsea High school, received her bachelor of arts degree in public administration from Michigan State University in December 1979. While studying in East Lansing, Turcott had worked as a volunteer aide at the state capitol and had worked on Sen. Robert P. Griffin's re-election campaign.

An ambitious Turcott has been involved in the political scene since she began her college career. Upon graduation, she worked on James Dunn's congressional campaign, something many thought would be unsuccessful.

CINDY TURCOTT

Turcott will leave for Washington, D.C. Friday, Jan. 2 and will undertake her duties as executive assistant upon Dunn's formal appointment to the U.S. House of Representatives Monday, Jan. 5.

A popular Chelsea landmark, Schumm's Restaurant, at 1620 Chelsea-Manchester Rd., officially changed hands Monday, Jan. 3, as former Schumm's restaurant manager and computer salesman, James M. Szamecki, purchased the 2,800 sq. ft. establishment from Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Schumm, operators of restaurants in Chelsea for the past 20 years.

Chelsea's varsity cagers traveled to Milan Tuesday, Jan. 4 to reactivate their season following a brief holiday respite. Although the Bulldogs returned to the court in full health for the first time since early in the season, they failed to counter Milan's heavy press and were crushed, 47-61.

New Year's Eve revelers in Chelsea were a fairly sedate group this year, according to Chelsea's Police Department. Police records show there were no arrests for drunk or disorderly conduct during the 12-hour period which began at 8 p.m. Friday, Dec. 31.

John Stevens Associates, Inc., architects, engineers and planners, headquartered in Detroit, announced last week that ground was broken recently for a new $500,000 dining room and kitchen expansion at the Chelsea United Methodist Home.

Forty-three young people were present for the opening of the Jaycee sponsored Youth Center Saturday night. From 7 p.m. to 11 p.m., the young people danced, played ping pong and cards or watched television and talked. Refreshments were served to those who attended opening night.

Three bids for garbage and rubbish pick-ups were received at the Village Council meeting Monday night in response to the annual advertisement for bids.

Forty-five members were present for the January meeting of the Chelsea Rod and Gun Club at the Legion Home Tuesday evening. Plans were announced for the annual fox hunt in co-operation with Detroit sports clubs. The fox hunt will be held Feb. 10 and all hunters of the community are invited to participate.

The Chelsea Police Department's 1956 annual report, submitted at Monday's Village Council meeting lists a total of 45,881 miles driven for police work, 5,062 gallons of gasoline used, 218 arrests made and 1,441 parking tickets issued.

Governor Given Emergency Powers In Prison Emergency
Facing a possible federal court order, the legislature voted late in the last session to give the governor emergency powers to act in the event of a prison overcrowding situation.

The legislation gives the governor emergency powers to reduce sentences and to order the release of prisoners in the event of a prison overcrowding crisis.

Current prison facilities are over-populated by more than 1,000 inmates and law suits at a point where they could soon enter the federal courts where new facilities or reduced population could be ordered.

Under the legislation, the governor's authority would take effect any time the inmate population reaches 95 percent of capacity for a month.

Corrections officials would inform the governor of the condition and he would then reduce sentences of all inmates by 90 days.

Currently, this could reduce the population by about 1,200 inmates.

If the first reduction does not solve the overcrowding problem, the governor could continue to reduce sentences by another 90 days until the overcrowding problem is solved.

Department of Corrections Director Perry Johnson called the overcrowding emergency powers act an important tool in holding the state's prison population at the capacity established by the Ingham County Circuit Court.

The court in late October, as a result of a suit filed by East Lansing Attorney Zolton Ferency, ordered the state to reduce its inmate population to 13,013 by Jan. 1.

At that time, the population was 13,140 with another 1,968 residing in halfway houses and alternative corrections facilities or programs.

"The provisions of the act are rational because they allow for rapid reduction in population but do not unduly threaten the safety of the community. The screening and parole decision-making process remain intact through this act so we can continue to refuse to release dangerous criminals," Johnson said.

The state's top corrections official also said he was pleased with enactment of another bill providing for a state-wide regional prison system.

The bill requires the department to develop a plan for demolition of the Michigan Reformatory at Ionia by 1990.

Johnson said without the dictate, the state might maintain operation of that "dilapidated and substandard facility almost indefinitely."

Substance Abuse Insurance Coverage Mandated

The legislature also completed action on a two-bill package requiring coverage by Blue Cross/Blue Shield of Michigan and other commercial insurance companies writing health insurance to include in that coverage treatment and rehabilitation for alcoholism and drug abuse.

As of Jan. 1, 1982, the companies would be required to provide benefits for intermediate and outpatient care for substance abuse treatment on all group and non-group, individual, self-insured or group disability insurance policies, except limited classification policies.

The charges, terms and conditions for the required coverage could be no less favorable than the maximum prescribed for any other comparable service.

The state insurance commissioner could approve policies providing for deductibles or co-payment provisions.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

The fellers was in high spirit around the stove at the country store Saturday night. They was glad to git out of the house a while, special since some had company left over from Christmas. Clem Webster declared he didn't come fer the conversation as much as fer the cheese and crackers. He said his old lady had stuffed him with cookies the last two days, cause she baked to much like she allus does and she wanted the old ones eat so she could make more fer a New Year's Eve hen party with her sewing circle.

Republican Ed Doolittle was in rare form. He said the only reserlution he was making was to give the Reagan Administration benefit of ever doubt, cause he felt a move in this country to git it back on course. Ed allowed that if the new team in Washington can git a handle on inflation it will make the New Deal and all the Democrat deals since look like nothing but boys playing a man's game. Democrat Clem said he felt safer between Congresses, but from the trouble Reagan had roping and hogtying enuff people to fill his cabinet posts the motto of his Administration must be "We are the chosen people, God help us."

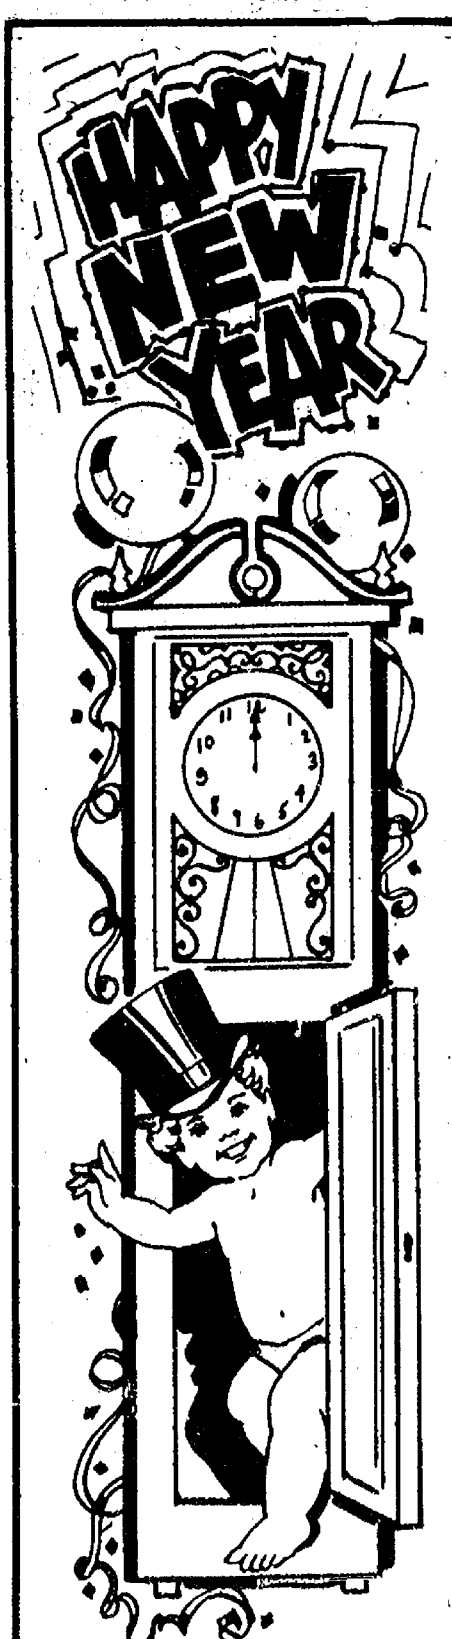

The fellers wouldn't give Clem and Ed time to git into one of their free fer alls, but Bug Hookum did allow that he hopes the work shirt fer men that don't work ain't a sign of the way things will be in Washington. Bug had saw where a "upper class work shirt" was being pushed by a store there. The ad says the shirt is fer the feller that "lifts nothing heavier than the telephone," but wants the pleasure of wearing a work shirt. In other words, Bug said, the store is pushing shirts fer men that wants to look like they're working when they ain't, and he said he recalled this was one of the few areas where President Carter had some success. Bug said the number of Federal workers fired fer loafing was 15 times greater during 1980 than in 1977, the year before the Civil Service Reform Act was passed.

What this act done, Bug explained, was set up new ways to judge how much to expect from a worker. He said 115 were let go in 1977, and 1,738 were fired this year. That don't cut much ice with the 2.1 million on the payroll, Bug said, but at least it shows somebody is showing passing interest in how much actual work gets done in Washington. Clem said he hated to disappoint Bug, but he was of a mind that all the new law done was make more jobs fer lawyers trying to hash out 1,738 appeals to a higher level of idleness. You don't fire Government people fer not working, Clem explained, you fire em fer bucking the system. There's no way to keep tabs on a outfit that big anyhow, he went on. Fer instant, he reminded that when we relaxed after Congress didn't raise its wages, the Supreme Court snuck in a raise fer everybody in the Federal court system.

Personal, Mister Editor, I'm thankful fer the chancet to start a new year, and I commend to Mr. Reagan and his people what I heard a school teacher say the other day. She said she allus starts thinking what she can do, not what she can't do.

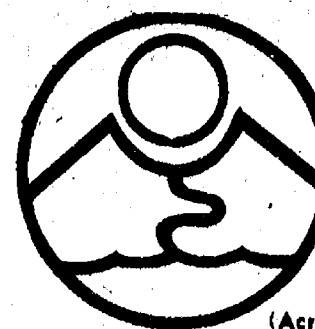

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

INTERSTATE MOVE PROTECTION

It is said that a household move is almost as traumatic for the lady of the house as the birth of a child. One of these trauma causes has been removed thanks to the ICC. That is the situation of the furniture arriving at the doorstep of the new house and a presentation of a bill much greater than the size of the original estimate. In the past, if a customer did not have sufficient cash to pay the total bill, movers could put the furniture in storage (at the homeowner's expense) until he paid.

paid before your shipment can be unloaded. The mover must list his estimate on his service order. If the bill is more than ten percent above this, you don't have to pay this excess immediately. ## ABWA Members Enjoy Christmas Meeting, Party

Chelsea Charter Chapter of American Business Women gathered at Weber's Inn last week for their annual Christmas meeting. Forty-five members and guests were present.

Following dinner, a short business meeting was conducted by president Shirley Schneider. Vocational speaker Judy Moisan discussed some of the incidents and challenges she encounters in her position as Branch Bank Manager of Huron Valley Bank.

Sharon Roberts, program committee member, introduced four students from Yong's Korea Tae Kwon Do School. Motto of the school, located in Ann Arbor, "Give strength to the weak and confidence to the strong." The school teaches Korean karate.

Joanne Hamlin, a first degree black belt student and spokeswoman for the group, explained the movements and techniques they would use in their demonstrations. She also stated that anyone could learn techniques of self defense in the event of an attack. The demonstration was concluded by breaking boards with the hand and also with the foot kick.

Kathy Brooks, Ways and Means chairman, and her committee awarded door prizes. She also announced that members would be selling candy and nuts to bolster the scholarship fund.

Exchanging of Christmas gifts concluded the evening's festivities.

The next regular meeting of the ABWA will be held Tuesday, Jan. 27.

Rochelle Elliot, G. Schumacher Are Wed in Ann Arbor Church

Rochelle Elliot and Garland Schumacher exchanged wedding vows Saturday, Nov. 15 at the United Calvary Methodist church, 1415 Miller Rd., Ann Arbor, with the Rev. D. W. Murphy officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale W. Elliot, 9505 Portage Lake Ave., Pinckney. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Garland D. Schumacher, 1066 Morningside Dr., Ann Arbor. At the ceremony, "Pat: Lind-mood sang "Evergreen," "Sunrise," and "We've Only Just Begun," accompanied by organist Sandra Jameson.

Debbie Bequette of Milan was chosen as the bride's maid of honor. Bridesmaids included the bride's sisters, Rene and Rebecca Elliot and Lori Lyons, a good friend.

Serving as flower girl was Mindy Colby while Brian Barr was ringbearer. Ushers were the bride's brother, Rod Elliot, Kevin Schumacher, brother of the bridegroom, and James Hill.

Immediately following the wedding ceremony, a reception was held at the Dexter Knights of Columbus Hall.

Following a wedding trip to Daytona, Fla., the couple is at home in Ann Arbor. The bride is currently employed at Great Lakes Federal Savings while her husband is employed at Ypsilanti State Hospital.

The U.S. Employment Service, part of the Labor Department, directs the federal-state employment service system, a nationwide network of 2,400 local offices, staffed by about 35,000 state employees.

(Continued from page one) and expanded care with easy accessibility, good parking and plenty of lighting. Especially helpful will be the barrier-free design of the building and office which will better able him to treat the occasional special needs of the handicapped and disabled people of Chelsea.

Dr. William N. Hawks has been in the practice of ophthalmology in the Ann Arbor, Chelsea area since July 1971. He graduated from the University of Michigan Medical School in 1967 and became an intern at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor. His ophthalmic surgical residency was done at the University of Michigan Department of Ophthalmology.

Dr. Hawks is currently a clinical instructor on the faculty at the University of Michigan Medical School, Department of Ophthalmology. He is also a member of the Admissions Committee to the University of Michigan Medical School and a member of the Washtenaw County Medical Society and the Michigan State Medical Society. Dr. Hawks has been a member of the Board of Governors at the Chelsea Community Hospital for the past six years.

His past medical experiences include being the physician for a group of explorers in the Aleutian Islands in the summers of 1978 and 1979. During these periods, he was also a consultant to the Alaskan Native Medical Service and served as general physician to people living in small villages along the Aleutian chain.

Dr. Hawks is presently a consultant to SEVA which is an organization dedicated to elimination of blindness resulting from public health diseases on the planet. He expects to be with the SEVA team in the near future, helping survey the medical needs of the Nepalese and helping to organize the surgical team to care for the thousands of blind people in Nepal.

Previous to medical school, Dr. Hawks was trained as an engineer with a degree in Engineering Physics, serving as a missile systems engineer for the Jupiter weapon system in Italy and Turkey in the early 1960's.

Dr. Dick Dijkman was born in Indonesia and raised in Florida. In 1965, he received his B.S. in Zoology from the University of Washington, Seattle. Thereafter, he graduated from the University of Michigan Dental School in 1969. By 1974, Dr. Dijkman had graduated from the University of Toronto with a MScD-Orthodontics degree.

Between the years 1969 and 1972, he maintained a private dental practice in Ann Arbor and was responsible for investigating the genetics of cleft lip and palate in twins at the Center for Human Growth and Development at the University of Michigan.

Later, Dr. Dijkman became an orthodontic consultant at Mott Children's Health Center in Flint from 1974 through 1978. From 1974 through the present, he has operated a private practice limited to orthodontics in Chelsea.

His memberships include both the American and Canadian Dental Associations, the Michigan Dental Association, the American Association of Orthodontics and the Great Lakes Society of Orthodontics.

Dr. Howard Reznick and Dr. Paul Tai, podiatrists, have been in practice in the Ypsilanti-Ann Arbor area for the past 20 years. They have been on the staff at Chelsea Community Hospital for the past seven years and have a clinic there. Both doctors felt the need for Podiatric Medicine in the Chelsea area and are therefore extending their practice to Chelsea by opening an office in the new Chelsea Professional Building.

Dr. Reznick is a 1962 graduate of the Ohio College of Podiatric Medicine having served his residency at Warren Memorial Hospital. He is an active member of the Michigan State Podiatry Association, presently on the committee for peer review. He is currently on the surgical staff at Chelsea Community Hospital. He also serves as adjunct professor at Ohio College of Podiatric Medicine and in the past has acted as a consultant for podiatry at Ypsilanti State Hospital. He is board eligible for the American Board of Podiatric Surgery as well as a member of the Podiatry Association.

Dr. Paul Ling Tai is a 1972 graduate of the Ohio College of Podiatry, serving his residency at Sumbly Memorial Hospital. He is member of the surgical staff at Chelsea Community Hospital, a member of the Board of Licensing and Regulation in Podiatry for the State of Michigan, adjunct professor at the Ohio College of Podiatric Medicine, Diplomate American Board of Podiatric Surgery and a member of the Michigan State Podiatry Association and American Podiatry Association.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

As I close my service to the Sixth Congressional District in the U. S. House of Representatives, I would like to express my gratitude to the people of the Chelsea area for giving me the opportunity to speak for you in Washington over the last six years. It has been an honor to represent your interests and needs in Congress.

The community spirit of Chelsea has always impressed me. I have found it particularly enjoyable to visit Chelsea to get better acquainted with the people of this area.

In the years ahead, I plan to remain active in the affairs of this area as a private citizen living and working in mid-Michigan. I hope to continue and expand the friendships I have with the people of Chelsea.

Again, let me thank you for the opportunity to represent you over the last six years.

Bob Carr,
Member of Congress.

To the Editor:

It has been almost two months since election day. Since that time, much has changed for myself, my family and those around me. I have been to Washington several times for extended orientations. Our staff, people here at home and in Washington have been working throughout this transition period to prepare us for the coming two years.

It is during this holiday season that we reflect on the transition of moving from one calendar year to another. We do so with, usually, a myriad of emotions. A mixture that occurs every year with varying degrees of uncertainty, apprehensiveness and even sadness. However, even more strongly evident are feelings of confidence, faith and hope for the future.

I believe that by working together in this new year, we will have a greater sense of unity and national solidarity. I am looking forward to working with other members of Congress, the new administration and you to bring us not only economic stability but prosperity.

This time of the year is special because it has been time of moral and personal evaluation and humility. I would like to thank you for your confidence in choosing me to represent you in the Congress of the United States. I hope that I will prove myself worthy of your trust and pledge to perform to the best of my ability in serving you and our country throughout the next two years. I sincerely hope that you will have a joyous holiday season.

Jim Dunn
Congressman-elect
Michigan Sixth District.

Back to School Next Monday

Well, it's back to school for hundreds of Chelsea's youth. Following two weeks of holiday, Chelsea students return to the classroom Monday morning, Jan. 5.

Area Students Earn Degrees From MSU

Michigan State University listed 1,858 degree candidates for the 1980 fall term.

These degree candidates included 1,281 bachelor's, 400 master's, 144 doctoral, one doctor of education, five education specialists, 2 diplomas for advanced graduate study, nine doctors of osteopathy, 15 doctors of medicine and one doctor of veterinary medicine.

Michigan Congressman William D. Ford, a leader in national education legislation, delivered the commencement address at the undergraduate ceremony held Saturday, Dec. 6. He also received an honorary doctor of laws degree from MSU.

Five local students were among the near 2,000 who were awarded their degrees earlier this month. From Dexter, Lorraine Kilbreath, 9925 Dexter-Chelsea Rd., received her bachelor of arts degree in psychology while Brian Schultz, 5731 Pinckney Rd., was awarded his bachelor of science degree cum laude in food systems economics.

Eleanor Jacobs, 16302 M-36, Gregory, received her master of arts in secondary school English.

Beth Duncan, 400 E. Main, Manchester received her bachelor of arts degree cum laude in English and Mark Chernside, 8244 Pawnee Trail, Pinckney, was awarded his bachelor of arts degree in advertising.

1965 amendments to the Fair Labor Standards Act provided minimum wage protection to some 10 million workers previously excluded from the benefits of the act, according to the U. S. Department of Labor publication, "Important Events in American Labor History."

Business Outlook . . .

staff forecasts that the average gain in the Consumer Price Index for 1981 will be in the vicinity of 4%. While this would still mean double-digit inflation for the year as a whole, the low point of 1981 would enjoy a brief spell in the single-digit area. What is important is that we expect the trend to be in the right direction and the betterment to carry into 1982.

Gross National Product
The aggregate value of goods and services produced (Gross National Product) will likely post a gain approximating 15% in current dollars for 1981 as a whole. However, ex inflation, the real growth of the economy (GNP in 1972 dollars) will probably be only a shade above 4%, with the third quarter expected to show the best upthrust of the year. We do not expect the first half to be very impressive because of early-year restraints.

Industrial Production

Although industrial activity will not be particularly vibrant in the early stages of 1981, a more noticeable upbeat will emerge as midyear approaches. By then, the negative influences should be less restrictive. Hence, industrial production for 1981 should register a gain close to 4%. While this is far from robust (vis-a-vis other initial post-recession recoveries), the firm-to-higher trend can be viewed as an indication of betterment in the economy's health, and by the later months of 1981 some momentum will be accumulating.

Business Inventories

Though the fading of the recent upsurge in business has left inventories somewhat high relative to current sales, excessively burdensome positions are the exception rather than the rule.

Nonetheless, the economy will not derive any great impetus from the rebuilding of stockpiles much before midyear. Another deterrent to quick resumption of widespread forward buying is the high cost of borrowed capital. Second-half 1981 should see renewed emphasis on inventory build-ups.

Business Capital Expenditures

Because of underutilized productive capacity in many industries, we do not expect a raft of ambitious capital expansion programs in 1981. Possible tax incentives to spur productivity probably will not be enacted soon enough to do much good until 1982.

Outlook for the Labor Scene

1981 will be a relatively light year for new labor contracts. The other two years of the three-year cycle of labor negotiations will be much more active and potentially more damaging to the economy in terms of work stoppages. But wage and fringe concessions in 1981 pacts will be expensive because of inflation catch-up efforts.

Building and Construction

The availability and cost of mortgage credit will not improve dramatically enough in 1981 to support a fresh housing boom. New mortgage financing plans hold promise for future years, but the immediate impact on home building will still be nominal. Therefore, our forecast for new housing starts in 1981 is 1.4 million units, not appreciably different from 1980's achievement. But housing starts are still running below average annual requirements for the 1980s. Public construction likewise should rule in the "little change" group. There is more vitality in commercial building.

Corporate Profits, Dividends

Business profits after taxes will rule somewhat higher for 1981 as a whole, but the betterment will be due largely to improved earnings in the second half. The initial two quarters are expected to trail results for first-half 1980, since rising costs and the scramble of highly competitive conditions will pinch profits. Dividend payments generally will be maintained, with some hikes, but lengthy lists of dividend increases won't return until late in the year.

Agricultural Prospects

The farm outlook for 1981 is quite encouraging at this point. Firmer agricultural prices and stronger foreign grain demand have brightened farmers' income picture, and some moisture-short growing areas received much needed precipitation last fall. Thus, as things stand now, this nation's agricultural sector can have a good year if weather conditions are near normal during 1981. It is encouraging to note better buying interest for farm implements.

Wages and Prices

The increase in the national minimum wage, automatic pay hikes under existing labor pacts, and pay boosts resulting from negotiations in 1981 will lift wage rates despite large pools of jobless workers. However, shrinkage of consumers' buying power owing to higher taxes and inflation is forcing labor groups to press for maximum pay boosts despite economic and employment uncertainties.

Much of 1981's price picture will reflect the time required for effects of 1980's drought and hot spell to work their way through the cost and price structure of the economy. The same applies to the ripples from OPEC's oil price escalation policy, and to costs associated with new wage settlements and increases in overhead generally. For much of 1981 some, but not all, of the cost inflation will be passed on, thus assuring further upward treks in prices at wholesale and retail levels, with little relief likely until mid-1981 or somewhat beyond.

Employment, Personal Income

We look for moderate gains in total employment—mostly after midyear. However, job openings will trail the influx of workers into the labor force. The net result will be some difficulty in paring back the jobless rate. We expect unemployment to peak around 9% mark, but any material brightening of the jobless picture will probably have to wait until the late summer or early fall of 1981. Nevertheless, the combination of higher wages and some gains in employment and average work weeks (mostly after midyear) will nudge personal income higher. Here again, employment and income progress in 1982 should be more marked than in the year immediately ahead.

Consumer and Government Spending

Consumers are not likely to display much enthusiasm in their spending during early 1981. This will be due to anxieties over the expected economic lethargy and adverse effect of inflation. But as these negative influences diminish and business strengthens, consumers will loosen their pursestrings. Overall, retail trade in 1981 will turn in a fairly good showing—not a rousing boom in buying, but better than 1980's achievement. Federal government spending will increase markedly in calendar 1981, though much of the gain will result from higher prices. State and local spending will also rise, although only modestly.

Foreign Affairs

The Mideast-Southwest Asia region will continue to bear watching in 1981, even though we expect release of the American hostages held by Iran. There is a good chance, too, that there will be a negotiated settlement of the Iran-Iraq war. But stalled Israel-Egypt talks on the Palestinian issue are a more difficult barrier to surmount. Though conditions at this writing imply otherwise, 1981 could see an easing of Soviet-American tensions, and perhaps new talks on a strategic arms limitation treaty (SALT). However, smoldering potential trouble spots abound in the world, and occasional flare-ups remain an ever-present threat.

Money Supplies, Interest Rates

Inability of the monetary authorities to consistently restrain the growth of the nation's money supply has been an important element in the prolonged spell of galloping inflation. Central to both the money supply and inflation problems has been the sizable federal budget deficit. However, we are hopeful that the Reagan Administration's determination to

"Christmas" got its origin from "X," an abbreviation of Christ deriving from the Greek letter X (ch) beginning His Name.

Dr. Donald Speaks to CHS Psychology Class

Last week, Dr. William C. Donald, III, was a special and informative guest speaker in Paul Terpstra's psychology class at Chelsea High school. Dr. Donald is the interim minister at St. Paul's church.

Dr. Donald taught psychology at Wayne State University for 10 years. He is a world-wide traveller and was educated in the disciplines of Carl Jung.

Dr. Donald has also spoken to Victor Frankl, a professor at the University of Vienna. While in Austria, he learned the methods of "looph therapy," in which the individual searches for the "meaning" of life. During this quest, one must revert to a religious dimension of meaning or he or she has not probed deep enough.

Dr. Donald gave the class a great deal of information regarding the theories of Carl Jung—personal conscious, personal unconscious and racial unconscious.

Biddy Basketball Registration Slated

Biddy Basketball registration for boys and girls will be held Saturday, Jan. 10 in the Beach Middle school cafeteria. Each child must be accompanied by a parent and have documentation of his or her birthdate. The birthdate cut-off date is Dec. 1.

Registration for 7- and 8-year-olds will take place at 9 a.m.; 9- and 10-year-olds will register at 10:30 a.m.; and, 11- and 12-year-olds will begin their registry at 12 noon.

Biddy Basketball will begin Saturday, Jan. 17 and will continue through Saturday, March 14. The eight-week program will be offered at a cost of $7 per participant. Game schedules will be available at registration.

Volunteer coaches and referees are needed. If interested, please call the Recreation Office at

This month's recipient of the Chelsea High school psychology award is Angie Ingils, a senior at CHS. She was chosen as this month's award winner because she receives good grades in class and, according to her classmates, she is a major contributor in class discussions. In class, Angie enjoys group discussions because, "They make me think about many things."

Currently, Angie is involved in the Student Council, the Spanish Club, 4-H, the National Honor Society and the softball team. Her main interests lie in reading, skating and jogging.

Upon graduation from Chelsea High school, Angie plans to attend college and possibly study business.

She is the daughter of Charlotte and Walter Ingils of 100 S. Dancer Rd.

SCOTT PROHASKA
Joins Albion Swim Team

Albion College's mens swim team is ready to dive into a new season after finishing second the past two years in the Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association with consecutive 4-1 marks. Scott Prohaska, a Chelsea High school graduate, is one of 11 freshmen on the squad. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. David Prohaska, 14580 Stofer Ct. Head coach Willard Cooley is optimistic about the season but especially happy with his freshman turnout. "In comparison to last year's freshman turnout, this is a good year," he commented. "Also, they show me a lot of talent."

Cooley is in his third year as the head of the Albion swim team. He is a former All-American performer at Michigan State University where he graduated in 1947. In 31 years as prep swim coach in the Jackson Public School system, Cooley has produced 35 prep All-Americans and was a high school representative to the United States Olympic Committee.

Christmas Festival Spreads Hospitality

Chelsea Christmas Festival, sponsored by the Chelsea Merchants Association from Dec. 15 through Dec. 21, offered both residents and out-of-towners a taste of real Chelsea hospitality. Beginning with the Christmas Sing Monday, Dec. 15 and the Christmas Bazaar and Bake-Off on Dec. 16 and 17 and ending with the Christmas Festival Sweepstakes all week long and a visit from Santa on Saturday, Dec. 20, a feeling of unity was spread throughout the village. In the Chelsea Christmas Festival Sweepstakes, seven lucky patrons were awarded gifts from participating local merchants. Entry blanks were available all over town and Santa Claus drew the names of the seven winners on Monday, Dec. 22 at 7:30 p.m. in front of the Post Office.

Winning an Amana Radarange was Tootie Ackley of Chelsea while Glennie Coy of Dexter was the proud recipient of a Toro snow blower. Christmas turkeys were presented to Sylvia Gilbert of Gregory, D. Boughton of Chelsea, Richard Show of Ann Arbor, Debra Hack of Chelsea and Steve Bergmann of Chelsea. The seasonal gifts were donated by local merchants.

Business Outlook . . .

(Continued from page five) reduce the federal deficit and the Federal Reserve's fresh effort to pare back the rate of inflation will, in time, diminish the severity of monetary and fiscal excesses, and coincidentally dampen inflationary pressures. Short-term interest rates, which twice soared to appalling heights in 1980, should slip to lower levels in the first half of 1981. Long-term interest rates are expected to shade downward also, but the betterment may be only nominal at best. And rates seem destined to firm again thereafter, owing to the Treasury's financing moves.

Stock and Bond Outlook
The display of post-election strength in the stock market reflected new-found investment optimism emanating from the startling GOP victories. It is likely that further upside progress is in store for 1981. However, investors are still highly sensitive to domestic economic and monetary problems, and to potentially dangerous international developments. Nevertheless, the improvement in investor sentiment should lead to greater recognition of the plethora of common stocks and convertible securities still languishing at attractive prices. For the record, we look for the Dow Jones Industrial average to fluctuate within a range of 1150 on the upside and 900 on the downside during 1981. Prospects for bond prices are less encouraging. Until problems related to inflation and high interest rates show basic, tenable improvement, we would invest mainly in short-term issues. Subscribe today to The Standard.

LET IT SNOW: A quintet of children pose with their giant snowball, a by-product of the snowstorm that swept across Michigan Monday. Flanking the wet creation with a diameter of 5 feet are sister, Christy and Scharme Petty.

Perched upon the cold white blob are friend Cela Murphy, and siblings Steve and Jennifer Petty. This typical snow scene was photographed at the Jesse Petty home on Stofer Rd.

White Christmas Greet Chelsea

A white Christmas, a la Bing Crosby, both brightened and hindered the 1980 Christmas holiday. With little snow falling earlier in the season, the three-inches-plus that blanketed the area Wednesday, Dec. 24 was a welcome change for those who dreamed of a white Christmas.

But for travelers, the white stuff made roads nearly impassable, slippery and dangerous. Road crews worked on the highways all day and night, trying to clear the way for the Christmas commuter who was incapable of heeding State Police warnings of the icy, sloppy, slick conditions and the advice to stay home if at all possible.

By Christmas day, driving conditions were back to normal sans snow piled against the expressway medians and sporadic icy patches scattered along the highways.

But, Monday, Dec. 29, Michiganders got another taste of what so many migrate to Florida to avoid. A storm front sitting over the Great Lakes dumped at least four inches of snow on the state, not in intermittent snow flurries or showers but in a constant, thick blizzard without strong winds.

Commuters found it all but impossible to traverse the highways enroute to work; traffic moved as slow as five miles per hour as drivers, still unaccustomed to the typical Michigan winter scenario, sped along for a quarter-mile before slamming unnecessarily on the brakes.

By mid-day, the snow had refused to let up but road crews worked diligently, doing everything in their power to clear the way for motorists. Following an atypical winter last year with a minimal amount of snow accumulation, in 1980-81, Poor Richard's Almanac seems to have accurately predicted the winter now being experienced throughout the state.

Count on This

The first tabulating machine in America was invented by Dr. Herman Hollerith of New York City, who received Patent No. 395,782 for the early computer on Jan. 8, 1889. The device, which could tabulate and separate items into 288 classifications, was first used extensively in the 1890 United States Census. The Hollerith Tabulator is now on exhibit in the Interpretive Center of Henry Ford Museum, Dearborn.

Sheriff Tom Minick Heads March of Dimes Campaign

Washtenaw-Livingston Chapter of the March of Dimes Birth Defects Foundation has named Sheriff Tom Minick chairman of the 1981 fund raiser campaign to prevent birth defects and improve the outcome of pregnancy.

Jill and Andrea Henry, four years old, of Whitmore Lake have been named the 1981 March of Dimes Poster Children for the Chapter. Andrea was born with spina bifida, a congenital defect of the spine, and her twin sister, Jill, was born perfectly healthy. "In selecting Andrea and Jill as our poster children this year, we think they will signify to all the people of this area the real need there is to expand efforts to prevent birth defects and give all our children the best chance for a healthy start in life," Sheriff Minick said.

Andrea and Jill are the daughters of Bob and Gail Henry of Whitmore Lake, just two miles from the Livingston county border. The girls are very close and enjoy playing games in their backyard. Andrea is always striving to do the same things her sister does, resulting in the strengthening of her body.

Sheriff Minick said that one out of every 12 infants born in this country this year will have a birth defect. "Our infant mortality rate is shockingly high. According to recent statistics, the U.S. ranks below 13 other countries in protecting newborn life. This is a challenge to all of us," he said.

Sheriff Minick cited programs sponsored by the March of Dimes in the two county area with funds collected during the campaign. For the past eight years, we held a Birth Defects Conference for 500 to 800 high school students and teachers. We have supported a medical service grant at the University of Michigan for genetic counseling for many years, involving care for high risk babies and mothers. We provide health education materials on pre-natal care and nutrition, films and speakers for all area high schools, hospitals, clinics, doctor's offices and the like. We have a grant with Lamaze to teach pre-natal care to pregnant teen-agers in the schools. We provide two $500 scholarships to high school seniors going to study in a health related field and three $500 scholarships to nurses doing graduate work. Though some of the funds are directed to the National Foundation for research, medical service grants, the production of health materials, Ann Arbor is most fortunate that over $175,000 is directed to the University of Michigan for research and medical services.

The Mother's March to be held the week of March 1 is part of a 30-year-old campaign and is made up of door to door personal solicitation, accounting for more than $30,000 of total annual campaign monies. Marchers are needed for this annual walk and volunteers are asked to call 761-8331 to register.

The State of Massachusetts adopted the first minimum wage act for women and children in 1912, according to the U. S. Department of Labor publication, "Important Events in American Labor History."

Firemen Have 3 Calls

Last week, Chelsea volunteer fire department answered three fire calls. Beginning Tuesday, Dec. 23, Chelsea firemen were called to the scene of a grass fire near the railroad tracks at I-44 and Kalmbach Rd. They were dispatched at 10:01 a.m.

Tuesday evening, Chelsea firefighters made a run to the School House Apartments at 9:25 p.m., regarding a possible house fire.

Early Wednesday morning, Dec. 24, Chelsea firemen answered two calls on Grass Lake Rd. north of Ashley, regarding the same house fire. The fire crew was dispatched at 12:04 a.m.

A Checking Account That Earns Interest... Is It Right For You?

Beginning December 31st, financial institutions will be allowed by law to pay 5 1/4% interest on checking accounts. But before you change your regular checking account to an interest earning checking account, we think there are some facts you should know.

Because of the high costs involved in offering checking accounts that earn interest, most financial institutions require a higher minimum balance than they do for their standard checking accounts. If your account falls below this minimum you will be charged a service fee which could exceed the interest earned.

If you are able to maintain a minimum balance of $1,200 or more in your checking account, you should have Premier Checking. Ann Arbor Trust's checking account that earns interest.

Balance		Premier Checking		Regular Checking
If Your Average Monthly Balance Is...	Your Minimum Monthly Balance Might Be...	The Interest You Could Earn At 5 1/4%...	Monthly Service Charge	Net Monthly Earnings	Monthly Service Charge

*Monthly earnings based on a 30-day month, paid on average balance.

The above chart compares Ann Arbor Trust's regular checking account to Premier Checking

Premier Checking is in a class by itself. This new checking account pays interest on your deposits similar to a savings account—but with some important differences. With Premier Checking you'll receive free checking service if you maintain a minimum monthly balance of $1,200 or an average monthly balance of $2,000. The 5 1/4% interest earned on Premier Checking is the highest rate allowed by law for Banks and Savings and Loans. With Premier Checking, interest is compounded continuously on the daily collected balance for an effective annual yield of 5.467%. Your Premier Checking account still earns interest even if your balance falls below the limits, but there will be a $7 service charge for the month.

Our offices will close at 3 p.m. on Dec. 31

MARY BOYLAN, right, a senior at Chelsea High school, was awarded a second-place Siena Heights Fine Arts Scholarship of $500 for her clay sculpture entitled, "Russian Castle." Mary and her mother, Mrs. Agnes Boylan, of 245 Park St., were recently on the college's campus to accept the scholarship award.

Mary Boylan Wins Fine Arts Scholarship From Siena Heights

Chelsea High school senior, Mary Boylan, was one of five Michigan high school students to win the Siena Heights College Fine Arts Scholarship.

Boylan, of 245 Park St., was awarded a $500 second-place scholarship to attend Siena, for her clay sculpture entitled, "Russian Castle."

The first-place $750 scholarship winners were Kevin Schaffer of New Boston, who entered a pencil drawing entitled, "Raspberries," and Nancy Martin of Holland, who entered an ebony pencil drawing entitled, "Follow the Road."

Other second place winners of $500 scholarships were Missie Krout of Tipton, who entered a batik tulip design entitled, "Peaceful Thought," and Nadine Parris of Three Rivers, who entered a circular untitled fibers wall hanging.

Criteria for the award winning selections were originality, creativity, innovation, and the artist's talent potential, explained Siena's art faculty members, Joseph Bergman and Thomas Venner.

More than 50 high school students from Michigan, Ohio and Indiana entered up to three pieces each for the Fine Arts Scholarship competition. A total of 25 selected works, in addition to the five winning pieces, were exhibited at the Studio Angelico Little Gallery on the Siena Heights campus last week. Then, Sunday afternoon, Dec. 14, a public reception was held for all contributing artists.

Jurors for the Fine Arts Scholarship competition were Siena's art faculty: Sr. Jeannine Klemm, P.O., professor and chairperson of the Art Division; Sr. Jean Agnes Klemm, O.P., and Hennie Reimer, assistant professors; Bergman and Fr. David Van Horn, C.P.P.S., associate professors; John Wittersheim and Venner, instructors; and Lois DeMots, adjunct faculty members.

Siena Heights, located in Adrian, was founded in 1919 by the Adrian Dominican Congregation and is a fully accredited liberal arts institution offering associate, bachelor and masters degrees in 34 programs.

CHELSEA 1980 HISTORY:

Year-End News Summary

January...

1—At 9:30 p.m., Chelsea's first baby of 1980 arrived, born to Kathleen and James Bauer of 16531 Old US-12. Young James Michael Bauer arrived at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor, weighing 9 lbs. and 13 oz.

4—Cheered on by a large, enthusiastic crowd and sparked by Jeff Dils' 28 points, Chelsea's cagers dismantled Dexter at home, 75-51.

5—Chelsea's long snow drought finally ended but instead of the quiet, fluffy flakes so longed for at Christmastime, a howling, blustery storm arrived from the west. About a quarter of an inch of snow, ice and sleet fell on the area and high winds raced and whirled, swirling the precipitation.

10—A local woman and two out-of-townners were injured this afternoon in a three-car accident at the intersection of M-52 and Waterloo Rd., north of town. A car, driven by Chelseaite Elizabeth Marsh, was struck by a car traveling on M-52 after she failed to yield at a stop sign. No one was seriously injured although three persons were taken to Chelsea Community Hospital for treatment of minor injuries.

10—A month-long investigation by Chelsea police ended when two local juveniles implicated themselves and an 18-year-old Munith man in the theft and subsequent withdrawal of funds from Chelsea State Bank.

11—Chelsea Bulldogs supporters filled at least half of Saline's impressive gym and cheered the cagers to an important 52-47 SEC victory over the Hornets. The win placed Chelsea on top of the league with a 4-0 record.

12—Chelsea grapplers made their best showing of the current season today at the county meet hosted by Ann Arbor Huron High school. Though no team standings were recorded, several Chelsea wrestlers placed in their divisions. Adrian Saarinen took third place at 98 lbs.; Jeff Osen-toski was second at 105; Travis Rudd, second, 112; Jim Cobb, fourth, 119; Bill Freeman, fourth, 167; Rick Poljan, fourth, 185; and Will Rosentreter, fourth, heavyweight.

15—For the first time since the 1974-75 season, Chelsea's varsity cagers have appeared in the AP and UPI state class B rankings.

20—Dr. William C. Donald has been hired as Interim Pastor by St. Paul United Church of Christ. He and his wife, Carolyn, joined the congregation today.

27—Firefighters from six departments expended a total of one million gallons on water, bringing under control the two biggest fires in Dexter history, Thursday, Jan. 24 and Sunday, Jan. 27.

31—Residents of a small slice of Sharon township continue to regard the water in their wells with suspicion this week, after samples taken to determine the presence of toxic chemicals in the wells yielded no conclusive results. An Ann Arbor firm, Sycor, Inc., stood mute in Ann Arbor's 14th District Court to a criminal charge of contracting with an unlicensed person to remove liquid industrial wastes.

February...

1—Julie Prohaska of Chelsea, a sophomore at Eastern Michigan University and a member of the forensics team there, took first place in persuasion at the Michigan Intercollegiate Speech League Tournament at Oakland University.

2—Milan was eliminated from a shot at the SEC title tonight as Chelsea's varsity cagers outlasted the Big Reds in a heavily defensive battle, 45-37.

9—Today marks the end of a quarter-century long era in which the Chelsea Restaurant dominated Main St. as the place to eat. Owner Ella McMillan, only two months away from her 80th birthday, has decided to retire and close the restaurant.

11—The First Presbyterian church of Unadilla celebrates 141 years as a congregation today—founded originally Feb. 11, 1839.

11—Change was the order of the day at the Independent Party caucus in Chelsea tonight, as only

St. John's Church Plans Annual Meet

On Sunday, Jan. 18, the annual meeting of St. John's United Church of Christ, 12376 Waters Rd., will be held following the 10:30 a.m. church service.
The following Sunday, Jan. 25, there will be a carry-in pot-luck dinner after the regular church service. The Rev. Carl Asher has resigned his position as pastor of St. John's and Jan. 25 will officially be his last Sunday at the church. Everyone is cordially invited to attend.

Ask
Governor

Question: Not long ago, the state wanted to build a prison in our area. It seemed that local people didn't have a thing to say about it. This doesn't seem fair.

Governor: A new law recently went into effect that establishes a procedure for more public participation in the selection of prison sites. Under the new law, the Department of Corrections is required to notify community leaders and members of governing bodies in the area of a proposed facility of the intention to build. The department must then request your county commissioners to create an advisory board of local citizens and/or officials to act as a link with the state in representing public concerns.

The law also requires that a public hearing be held regarding the proposed site and that the department answer any concerns raised at the public hearing. The final decision on the site remains within the authority of the Corrections Commission. Following construction, the department must maintain continuing contacts with the community.

One of the difficulties the Corrections Department must deal with is the increasing public demand for longer sentences, which creates an immediate need for more prison space. However, no one wants the prison in his or her own locality. I believe the new procedure for hearing public concerns will help to eliminate the feeling that an impersonal power is imposing on local authority without regard for local opinion.

In any case, given the defeat of Proposal E on the November ballot and our poor economic situation, the state could not finance prison construction in the immediate future.

What do you think of the record of the legislature that just adjourned?

Governor: The 80th Michigan Legislature dealt successfully with a large number of key issues. Many of the issues had resisted solution for years; reform of workers' compensation and unemployment insurance were absolutely vital to an improvement in Michigan's business climate. Other important achievements were Blue Cross/Blue Shield reform, essential insurance reform, horse racing reform, the Chrysler loan program, final passage of a very difficult budget and court reorganization.

There is still much left to be done by the next legislature. We need to get to work again on public employee strike legislation and revision of the criminal and juvenile codes.

If you have a question for the Governor, please send it to: "Ask the Governor," Executive Office, Press Section, Lansing 48909.

According to a U. S. Department of Labor publication, the President signed the Trade Act of 1974 on Jan. 2, 1975. The Act was designed to help workers who lose their jobs because of imports, as well as to provide financial and technical assistance to companies and communities hurt by foreign competition.

CARD OF THANKS

I would like to thank the Merchant's Association for the Radarrange which I won in the recent holiday drawing. I appreciate the warm, personal attention by all merchants not only during the holiday season, but all year long. A firm believer in supporting your local merchants has again paid off. May the New Year be happy and prosperous for all. Tootie Ackley.

CARD OF THANKS

Never during the many years of my life have I found such difficulty in finding words to express my thanks and appreciation for the many kindnesses, in acts, deeds, and calls which I received while being hospitalized and since my return home following my recent misfortune. I would like to mention each of the many friends who called at the hospital and expressed their best wishes, however some might be omitted, so will simply say, "thank all of you." I do, however, desire to express my most sincere thanks to my very good neighbor, Don Houle. Certainly no one could do more in the time of need than this wonderful young man has done for me. "May God Bless Him." His acts of kindness will never be forgotten. Too, my thanks to those who brought cheer into my life with flowers and other gifts and for the visits and prayers of the Rev. Schwarm. To each and all, again I say, "Thank you."

Paul C. Maroney.

THANK YOU

FRED — Thanks alot! It's one in a million. What a surprise!

Your friends.

CHELSEA 1980 HISTORY:

Year-End News Summary

one of the eight persons nominated for village office is presently serving in village government.

12—From a field of 30 students competing in the Beach Middle school spelling bee, 8th grader Kim Smith emerge as the winner. On Wednesday, March 26, Smith will represent Beach at the Michigan Regional Spelling Bee sponsored by the Detroit News.

14—Chelsea State Bank's new branch office at the corner of M-52 and Old US-12 was opened today with a traditional ribbon-cutting ceremony in front of the building.

21—Two juveniles and an adult, wanted by four police departments for crimes ranging from breaking and entering to assault with an intent to commit murder, were apprehended by two sharp-eyed Chelsea police officers on Main St. tonight. Patrolmen Richard Foster and Jack Orr apprehended the trio as they gawked at a medical emergency rescue being assisted by the officers on Main St.

24—Tarpon Springs, Fla. at 12:30 p.m. the time and place for Chelsea Day in the south. A potluck dinner will be held at the clubhouse in Baywood Village in Tarpon Springs. Again this year, the event will be hosted by Gerry and Bill Blaess.

March . . .

1—Chelsea Bulldogs, an aggressive, dedicated team, won the Southeastern Conference title for the first time in 29 years last night, ending the season with a 9-1 record.

1—John Wellnitz celebrated his 19th birthday yesterday, at the ripe old age of 77. His birthday falls on Feb. 29 and has been cheated out of 58 anniversaries of his birthday due to a quirk in the Julius Caesar calendar.

5—Chelsea varsity cagers fell 50-49 in the second round of district tournament play at Jackson Lumen Christi, losing to Jackson County Western, a team they had defeated on two previous occasions during the regular season. In the words of Coach Robin Raymond, "It was an abrupt ending to the season."

7—Waterloo Nature Center naturalist, Tom Hodgson, ended his 15-year tenure today to take on a job as director of the Jackson Community College Dahlem Environmental Center.

10—A several-month-long investigation by several law enforcement agencies led to the seizure of 5,000 pounds of marijuana in a rural Stockbridge-area barn tonight. Police from Ann Arbor, the Tri-County Metro Narcotics Squad, Ingham County Sheriff's Department and the Drug Enforcement Agency swooped down on the barn at 1240 Brogan Rd., confiscating marijuana with a street value of more than $2.5 million.

11—Voting has traditionally been described as the voice of the people, and the ballots of the people of Chelsea said "change" more often than not Monday, sweeping a new slate of candidates into village government over a number of incumbents. A total of 776 ballots were cast with two spoiled as the host of new politicians were elected to office.

14—A spot in the top 20 was what Chelsea swimmers were hoping for, but a spot in the top 10 is what they got when they finished 10th today at the Michigan High School State Championships.

27—A committee of Lima township residents has decided to launch a clean-up effort at Porter Cemetery in Jerusalem at the corner of Sager and Fletcher Rds.

31—Today is license tab deadline. Beginning tomorrow, any motorist without license tabs will be subject to ticketing by law.

April . . .

8—A tornado swirled into the Harold Trinkle farm on Trinkle Rd. this afternoon, damaging a pole barn and ripping off tree limbs, but causing no injuries to people or farm animals. The twister was one of four reported in Washtenaw county today, as high winds and rain buffeted the area and caused an hour-long power outage in the Village of Dexter.

11—Two Chelsea men were arraigned on charges of assault with intent to commit less than murder, stemming from a Thursday night stabbing incident in Ann Arbor. Arraigned in 15th District Court were Gary Dean Wright, 22, and Jimmy Collingsworth, also 22.

12—Treading among a wealth of local history while clearing away the brambles and thistles that have overcome the gravesites at Porter Cemetery was exactly what concerned citizens did today while helping in the clean-up of Porter Cemetery.

23—Concerned with the fate of music, sports and all extracurricular activities in local school, Chelsea School District voters approved a millage increase today by a 1,375 to 1,165 margin. Fifteen ballots were invalid and one was spoiled.

26—Musicians of the Chelsea High school 9th grade band earned an over-all excellent rating at II at the State Festival in Walled Lake.

29—A huge surprise party at the Chelsea United Methodist Home honored the 101st birthday of Flora Hodgins, a resident of the home since 1973. Mrs. Hodgins was born April 29, 1879 in Genesee County. A long-time resident of Clio, she was chosen honorary queen of the Clio Centennial in 1973 at the age of 94.

May . . .

2—A heady four days of playing before millions of people, sampling Mexican culture and even autograph signing is in store for the Chelsea Symphony Band, finally in Mexico after a long year of fund raising.

3—The Chelsea Standard office was deserted today as the staff members attended the graduation ceremonies of University of Michigan students affiliated with the paper.

7—Interest in small town American police departments brought Japanese criminologist Mike Mizuno to Chelsea today, where he spent the day in uniform as a local officer.

10—Running enthusiasts, numbering 276, converged on Chelsea High school today for the first annual Chelsea Challenge. The 6.2 mile event is being sponsored by the Modern Mothers Child Study Club of Chelsea with proceeds to be used to help organize a Chelsea Fitness Program.

12—Today is the first day of operation for the Washtenaw County Sheriff Department's newest substation at the Chelsea School District's bus garage on Old US-12.

21—Chelsea resident Dr. Mary Green, an associate professor in the Department of Health, Physical Education and Dance at Eastern Michigan University, was appointed acting associate dean in the College of Education at the monthly regents meeting.

28—Memorial Day services to honor deceased veterans will begin at 9:30 a.m. today, when veterans, school bands, officials and residents gather to parade through the village streets enroute to Oak Grove Cemetery.

27—Millie Smith was surprised by the Chelsea Jaycees tonight when they presented her with the Distinguished Service Award for 1979. The 78-year-old resident of the Chelsea Methodist Home was recognized for her many years of volunteer service at South School.

28—Marjorie Beaumont of Chelsea, together with 81 other county residents obtained American citizenship status in ceremonies held in the County Clerk's office today. Born in Windsor, Ontario she has lived in the United States for 29 years.

31—Ending a multiple-year jinx in the district tournament, Chelsea's Bulldog softballers went on a rampage today and shut out two teams to capture the District 19 Championship.

June . . .

8—The traditional strains of "Pomp and Circumstance" will accompany Chelsea High school graduates down the aisle as they enter the athletic field for commencement exercises.

9—Ann Feeney and Lloyd Grau were selected by overwhelming margins to four-year terms on the Chelsea Board of Education in school district balloting on a chilly annual election day.

Year-End News Summary

13-Avis Industrial Corporation, parent company to Central Fibre Products, announced a decision to cease production permanently within the next 10 days.

16-The Arbor Nook, Chelsea Community Hospital's new gift shop officially opened in the new wing.

18-Richard Cesarz of Chelsea was ordained to the permanent Diaconate of the Catholic Church in ceremonies at St. Mary's Cathedral in Lansing. He will be assigned to St. Mary's Catholic church in Chelsea. He will have the authority to baptize and perform marriages but not to speak masses or hear confessions.

19-Culminating a dazzling four-year career in Chelsea softball, Nanette Push was named to the Associated Press All-State Class B softball team. Her determination led Push through four years of improvement on the varsity team and earned her a full softball scholarship at Eastern Michigan University.

23-A workshop aimed at generating ideas for revitalizing the village's downtown area and sponsored by the Washtenaw County Planning Commission and partially funded by HUD money, drew only nine concerned Chelsea businesspersons. Nevertheless, the presentation was informative, the discussion animated as spokesmen suggested a little imagination and know-how rather than costly construction projects and expensive planning help in revitalizing Chelsea's business district.

27-After 60 years of operation, Chelsea's Central Fibre Products closed for good at the end of the working day.

27-An inmate of Cassidy Lake Technical School is in serious condition at University Hospital after being burned over 27 percent of his body in a 3 a.m. fire that destroyed a small living unit at the correctional facility.

30-A tragic accident with a gun thought to be unloaded claimed the life of an 18-year-old Chelsea man. Todd Wright, a 1980 CHS graduate, died at University Hospital, brief hours after being accidentally shot through the heart with a .22 caliber rifle.

July . . .

1-Daniel Murphy, clerk of Sylvan township for the past 15 years, is retiring that position effective today. Mary Harris, deputy clerk for a number of years, will fill the spot until elections this fall.

3-Carol Satterthwaite, 20927 Scio Church Rd., has accepted a $225,000 settlement, ending her two-year search for compensation in a swine flu vaccination lawsuit. Mrs. Satterthwaite took the federal government to court over a 1976 swine flu vaccination that may have triggered a syndrome that caused her temporary paralysis.

4-Colorful fireworks will explode and food will be available in abundance today as Chelsea enjoys a traditionally rousing good time on Independence Day. The Chelsea Fair Board, Chelsea Four Wheel Pullers Association and Chelsea Kiwanis Club have combined this year to present an entire day of activities for the community.

10-Glazier's Welfare Building, currently home to The Chelsea Standard, has become the first beneficiary of a new Chelsea Historic Preservation ordinance by being named a village historic district.

16-A high-intensity electrical storm slammed into Chelsea about 8:30 a.m. today, downing trees and knocking out power in a furious 15 minutes of high winds, lightning and rain. Power was reported out all over the village, with damaged trees blocking main arteries in the town and county.

17-Dana Corporation's Chelsea plant, long the most healthy local industry with ties to the automotive industry, has been forced to lay off about 30 percent of its production employees. According to a Dana spokesman, 125 people from a full-strength operation of 410 have been idled on the past two months. Only first and second shifts are now running.

18-Some 1,800 people packed into the Chelsea High school auditorium to enjoy the most lavish production in the history of the Chelsea Players, "The King and I."

21-Registration for the Selective Service began in post offices around the country today and Chelsea was no exception. Postmaster Richard Schaules estimates that some three dozen young men born in 1960 made their way to the post office to complete the "green" and "white" forms.

24-Although more than a week has passed, some 40 households in the Chelsea area are still without power in the aftermath of last Wednesday's violent wind and rain storm.

27-It was business as usual in Chelsea following a brief, earth tremor that shook a large part of the Midwest shortly before 3 p.m. today. The quake lasted approximately 10 seconds, but most Chelsea residents were unaware of the movement.

August . . .

2-Rains falling today may have helped the area corn crop along, but it virtually wiped out the local wheat harvest. With approximately one-third of the wheat still in fields, rain at harvest time caused the wheat to sprout, making it unusable for anything but livestock feed.

5-A planned Chelsea shopping center, which had been slated for future development behind the Chelsea State Bank branch on Old US-12, is now being planned for 25 acres behind Schumm's on M-52 and Brown Dr. The announcement was made at tonight's Village Council meeting when one of the landowners, A. Clark Pardon of Sylvan township, requested sewer hook-up information on the new parcel.

5-Chelsea's first Michigan Daily Lottery machine was firmly ensconced on the front counter at Kusterer's Market early today. Owner Luther Kusterer had been waiting for quite some time to receive the machine; the State Lottery Commission limits the number in use in the state.

9-The luck of the draw went against Chelsea's champion softballers, pitting them against two of the strongest teams in the nation for two consecutive defeats. Chelsea, attending the national championships as regional champs from this area, met up with last year's national title winners, the Oklahoma City Jets, for a 10-2 loss. Moving into the losers bracket, they narrowly missed playing the 1978 national champs, but fell to the Salt Lake City Gulls, 8-3.

19-Chelsea Village Council effectively quashed plans for a proposed new village shopping center by deciding that existing sewer lines could not handle the additional load.

19-Pierre (Pete) Graves, a resident of Waterloo township, was sworn in as Chelsea's newest police officer tonight at the Village Council meeting. A three-year veteran of the Hialeah (Fla.) Police Department, Graves, in spite of receiving his experience and training in a larger city, feels comfortable about taking the Chelsea job.

25-Ground breaking for the long-anticipated Chelsea Professional Building got underway today, nearly two years after its conception by Dr. Robert Burns, Chelsea dentist.

26-The ribbon cutting ceremony, officially marking the opening of the 1980 Chelsea Community Fair was participated in by Fair Board President Lloyd Grau, Councilwoman Sis Kanten, executive vice-president of the Fair Board Earl Heller, 1979 Fair Queen Melanie Schneider and Village President Charles Ritter.

26-Nancy Heller, CHS senior representing the Terrific Tailors 4-H Club, was selected from a field of 11 candidates to be the 1980 Chelsea Fair Queen.

28-The Chelsea Community Fair livestock auction, lasting more than three hours, found the lambs stealing the show from the cattle. The 122-lb. Grand Champion was owned by Matt Koenig and was sold to Wolverine Bar at a phenomenal $10.25 per pound. Lori Nixon's Grand Champion steer, weighing 1,185 lbs., sold to Polly's Market at a price of $2.10 per pound while the Grand Champion hog, at 229-lbs., was raised by Jeff Osentoski and sold to Polly's Market at $4.50 per pound.

28-The 1980 Chelsea Community Fair livestock auction yielded an unexpected donation totalling $3,300 in behalf of the late Carl Heller. Proceeds from this segment of the auctioning will be used toward the construction of a new livestock show arena built to preserve Heller's memory.

September . . .

5-Chelsea varsity football got underway tonight with the Bulldogs on foreign Novi soil and losing 23-0. The shut-out was a disappointment all the way around. Coach Gene LaFave explained that his team was "just unable to move the football." Novi held the ailing Chelsea team to only 36 yards total offense.

9-Gov. William G. Milliken announced that briefings would be held for local officials from the 10 counties struck by hurricane-force winds and thunderstorms in July, outlining federal assistance.

15-Chelsea School District has announced the hiring of Ronald Nemeth as Director of Athletics and Director of Physical Education, replacing Phil Barels who had served as athletic director for the past three years and had requested reassignment to the classroom. Nemeth joined the Chelsea School District staff today.

28-The Chelsea Jaycees and Auxiliary sponsored the Super-Thon for cancer today at the Chrysler Proving Grounds in which both runners and cyclists participated. It was hoped that a total of $30,000 would be yielded from the Super-Thon.

29-Chelsea High school's 1980 Homecoming Week got underway today, the first day of one week's worth of High school festivities.

October . . .

1-The annual United Way kick-off dinner will be held at the Chelsea Community Hospital dining room tonight, in hopes of beginning the 1980 campaign right. The goal of this year's campaign is $42,100, exceeding the 1979 destination by $700.

1-Anti-nuclear supporters of Arbor Alliance marched through Chelsea today enroute to the capitol in Lansing where a no-nuke rally will be held Saturday.

3-Chelsea High school varsity Bulldogs finally did it. To top off a week of Homecoming festivities, the Bulldogs upended rival Dexter Dreadnaughts, 20-12, in a battle between two teams, each looking for their first victory of the season.

3-Chelsea High school senior Pris Drew was selected to represent her school as the 1980 Homecoming Queen from a field of four candidates including Michelle Clark, Chris Johnson and Angie Inglis.

5-The Claude Spiegelberg Memorial, in memory of a 64-year veteran of the Chelsea Fire Department, was dedicated today at a 9 a.m. breakfast with approximately 60 persons in attendance.

6-The former Lloyd Bridges Chevrolet dealership on M-52 was taken over by a new face today, Bob Silva. He is the former owner of Campus AMC/Jeep on Washtenaw Ave. in Ypsilanti who purchased the Bridges dealership after a number of months of planning.

10-At 3 p.m. today, some 350 civic leaders and friends from western Washtenaw and adjoining counties attended the gala ceremony celebrating 10 years of service and the dedication of the new therapy, radiology and administrative additions to the Chelsea Community Hospital.

14-Chelsea Village Administrator Fritz Weber has been elected President of the Michigan Municipal Electric Association, a group that represents 36 municipally owned electric utilities. The election came at the annual MMEA fall meeting of the Association in Traverse City.

16-Rick's Market voluntarily closed its doors following an incident on Sunday evening, Oct. 12. The store locked its doors today after customers complained of foul tasting and odorous foodstuffs. The reason for all of this mess is apparently the result of the misapplication or overapplication of an Orkin patented pesticide that was used to fumigate the store's interior.

27-Following nearly a week of cold, blustery days and nights, Mother Nature finally gave us a

Year-End Summary

taste of winter early Monday evening. Beginning as sparse snow flurries, within a couple of hours the area was bombarded with large white flakes and by 11 p.m., the chilling white stuff covered the ground and made the highways slick.

November . . .

1—Chelsea's last football game of the year was certainly an action-packed grand finale as the Bulldogs narrowly missed upsetting the Pinckney Pirates last night. With less than 12 seconds remaining in the game, the Pirates stopped Chelsea on a two-point conversion attempt and hung on to a one-point 27-26 victory.

1—Today, the former A. W. Brown Co. drug store in Stockbridge, owned by Cliff Bollman for 23 years, changed hands and was purchased by Chelsea Pharmacy owners Dale Schumann and Dan Murphy.

4—Though Ronald Reagan, three time Presidential hopeful, swept the country, such was not the case in Washtenaw county. On the whole, Reagan received 41 percent of the popular vote while incumbent President Jimmy Carter walked away with 43 percent.

4—Republican challenger James Dunn unseated Democratic incumbent Congressman Bob Carr in a close race in the 6th congressional district.

6—Chelsea High school girls basketball team continued their winning ways this week as they rolled up two convincing victories at the hands of Milan's Big Reds and Dexter's Dreadnaughts. The wins clinched at least a Southeastern Conference championship tie for the lady Bulldogs.

11—The University of Michigan and Chelsea Community Hospital signed a formal affiliation agreement today in the hospital's private dining room. The agreement openly solidified their nearly three years of close partnership.

18—The Chelsea branch office of the Michigan Secretary of State's office was notified that it was among 45 branches to be terminated effective Dec. 31.

19—Votes were cast by all Southeastern Conference girls basketball coaches tonight, selecting two 1980 All-League teams. In their selection, lady Bulldog Jennifer Ringe was elected unanimously for the first team while Mary Boylan was elected to the second team and Amy Unterbrink and Lorrie Vandegrift were given honorable mention.

22—Chelsea's lady cagers defeated favored Jackson Northwest, 39-33, and have advanced to the District 37 Championship game in hopes of strengthening their State Championship bid.

24—At approximately 3:15 a.m., person or persons unknown broke into Winans Jewelry Store, 108 S. Main St., and stole more than 100 rings valued at approximately $16,000 retail.

25—The lady Bulldogs just weren't mentally prepared for the game against Columbia Central's Golden Eagles tonight. Their hopes of winning a state championship were crushed following a close 40-39 defeat.

December . . .

1—Chuck Broderick, owner of Broderick Tower Shell service station, opened a new addition to his organization, Broderick Tire at 889 S. Main, the location of the former Standard Oil station. It is the first tire dealership in the village.

4—Protesting the planned closure of the Secretary of State's Chelsea branch office, concerned citizens crowded into the Ann Arbor Trust meeting room to speak with assistant secretary of state Dennis Neuner and defend the existing importance of the Chelsea branch. It was decided in Lansing that Chelsea's office operated both efficiently and conveniently and would therefore remain open.

6—Chelsea High school girls' swimming team traveled to Grand Rapids to participate in the Class B State Championships. They returned home with a seventh place finish at the State Finals.

11—It was revealed today that Chelseaite Tom Eisele has purchased the former Central Fibre Products building and will begin light manufacturing similar to that handled by its predecessor. Under the name Chelsea Industries, Inc., Eisele and his associates will later branch into a number of other areas including electronics and aerospace engineering.

13—Since mid-October, the Chelsea United Way Drive has been underway. Now, nearly three months later, the $41,200 1980 goal is nearly realized. Today, pledges and direct contributions have totalled $32,005.90.

16—Between 4:30 and 4:45 p.m., Vogel's Department Store fell victim to a substantial larceny of both currency and personal checks. Chelsea Police have no suspects and the case remains open.

18—The Department of Natural Resources met with a group of concerned citizens dedicated to preserve the Waterloo Nature Center, scheduled to close because of state funding budget cuts. A general agreement was reached whereby the Nature Center would remain open and be run by the newly formed Waterloo Natural History Association, presently trying to secure non-profit status.
