Frigid Weather Hits Area

In addition to the 10 or so inches of snow that blanket the Chelsea area, frigid arctic air surrounds the area, making a venture outside a literally spine chilling experience. Since late last week, a cold front stretching from Canada to New England to the Midwest has dumped inches of snow and has left the country draped in a cold, sub-zero shroud.

Electric blankets and wool socks are the fashion of the day, recreational activities, except for the masochist, are out. Dry skin, runny noses, icy roads and dead car batteries are commonplace while the cold wave continues, not promising to let up for a few more days.

Winter is here Chelsea, all 10 degrees of it. Enjoy it or hate it but remember, it won't be officially over until March 22. The best anyone can do is recall that frequently, spring comes early; more frequently it doesn't.

TV 31 Debut Delayed

The debut of Ann Arbor's first commercial television station in 20 years has been delayed one week. The premiere airing of WRHT, Channel 31, will be Monday, Jan. 12.

Station officials blamed the delay on poor weather conditions that have inhibited final engineering checks at the Chelsea transmitter. The station had originally planned to begin broadcasting Monday, Jan. 5.

Fire Dept. Assists Woman After Falling

Chelsea Fire Department made a single rescue run last week when they were called to Chelsea Lumber Co. on Monday, Dec. 29. There, rescue personnel assisted a woman who had fallen down a flight of stairs.

Super Saturday Program Slated

Once again, the Chelsea Community Education Department and the Recreation Council are presenting a winter "Super Saturday" program. The purpose of this program is to encourage, extend and further the development, culture and education of children during their week-end leisure time.

There are a variety of changes to the program this year. First, the program will be held at Beach school and will be extended to include sixth grade students. Pre-school classes will also be available and all film festivals will be shown in the high school auditorium as opposed to the elementary schools. The dates and registration formats have also been changed.

LIFE IN CHELSEA has been very interesting and enjoyable for German exchange student Anne Munkner, left. Anne has been living with her American family, the Don Smiths of North Territorial Rd., since last August and will return to her home land this August. Above, Anne, Judy Smith and son Joshua, Anne's American mother and young brother, prepare tickets for an upcoming party.

Exchange Student from Germany Finds Greatest Difference in Schools

Since the middle of last August, Don and Judy Smith of North Territorial Rd. have added another daughter to their family of four children. The latest addition is 17-year-old Anne Munkner, an exchange student from the village of Gleidingen, Germany, just outside Hanover.

This year, Anne is one of three foreign exchange students studying at Chelsea High school along with her American brother and sister, Zack and Kimberly Smith. She is a senior at Chelsea High.

Anne's choice to come to the United States to study for a year was prompted at home where one of her instructors was given the opportunity to choose two students as eligible to study abroad. After discussing the matter with her parents, she submitted an application for consideration as an exchange student. Part of the application process included solving hypothetical problems that could arise while she was living with an American family. Having successfully completed her application for American study, her school records were reviewed and she was placed as a senior at Chelsea High school.

Despite the fact that Anne will be completing her senior year of high school in Chelsea, she will return to Gleidingen one year behind her former classmates and friends. The year in American schools will not count though credits received by Americans studying in Germany are transferable.

Anne, having never been to this country before, has found differences in everything. "In Germany, the cities and villages are closer together; here, they're spread so far apart. There we take a tram or bus from the village to town but here, you have to take a car."

The most glaring difference from her home is the American school system. In Germany, there is no kindergarten and students must choose their course of study at a young age.

After four years of basic studies, a decision is made regarding further education of each student. The lowest school will provide five more years of education, a maximum of nine. The middle school level will provide six additional years of study. Neither of these two schools afford an opportunity to continue to college.

Anne is in her 10th year of the 13-year "gymnasium," much like a college preparatory course of study. Nonetheless, Anne's schedule is much more rigid; students have no choices in the classes they follow and study a dozen subjects at any one time including mathematics, German, biology, physics, chemistry, and foreign language. After completing the 10th year though, Anne will be given the opportunity to select some of her classes.

Anne has discovered that American schools are much easier than those she has become accustomed to. "In Chelsea, tests are often true and false or multiple choice with very few essays but in Germany, our tests are much more difficult and come more often. They're always essay questions at home."

Too, Anne enjoys the freedom to choose her courses. Last semester, she was studying swimming, German, French, marriage and family, economics and government, with swimming being her favorite class. Then, next semester she will again have the opportunity to pursue her interests with courses like photography and crafts, things not offered in her homeland.

Outside of school, Anne is rather disappointed with the lack of activities available for young people. "At home, there are many places where young people may meet and play guitars and talk. There's nothing like that in Chelsea."

Anne has found the American way of life in regards to food rather peculiar. "In Germany, we eat our largest meal in the middle of the day after we get home from school. Then, at night we eat light foods such as salad, bread, cheese. When I first came here, I went to bed every night with a stomach ache from eating hot food in the evening, but I've adjusted to that now." In addition to that, Anne finds American fast food rather peculiar; she doesn't like it much.

In Germany, Anne comes from a family of seven. Her father and mother are each pharmacists and her father is also a politician active in the Christian Democratic Party. She has two sisters and two brothers. Her eldest sister is 21 and is currently studying at the University of Tuebingen; her eldest brother is 19 and preparing to graduate from high school this year. Thereafter, he will enter either mandatory military service or a period of social work. Anne's younger brother and sister are 14 and 12, respectively.

In Chelsea, Anne's American family consists of six persons. Her American father, Don Smith is a University of Michigan professor of educational psychology while her American mother, Judy Smith, is a curriculum consultant at the Ingham Developmental Center in Mason. Her eldest American sister is Julie, a freshman at the University of Michigan, while her eldest American brother is Zack, a junior at Chelsea High. Kimberly Smith is a freshman at CHS while Joshua is an 8th grader at Beach Middle school.

Anne has enjoyed her friendships with American students though her key friendship has been made with a Swiss exchange student, Stanzie, living with the Schumanns. "It has been an interesting experience living here and sharing both different and similar opinions about things," Anne remarked.

Over the Christmas holiday, Anne got a taste of an American Christmas. In Germany, Christmas is celebrated at 5 p.m. Christmas Eve with families attending church. Then, the families return home to decorate huge Christmas trees with real things—candy, fruit—to eat. Thereafter, the families sing Christmas carols in celebration.

In Chelsea, Anne and her American family, including her American grandparents from Florida, enjoyed a fondue party followed by the playing of a traditional German game sent to Anne by her mother. Each guest was given a small solder figure with a message written on a piece of paper inside. The note, similar to the inscriptions on the inside of a fortune cookie, is removed and read and then the figure is placed in a spoon and melted over a flame. Immediately thereafter, the molten solder is dropped into cold water and the figure that emerges is meant to be interpreted as a fortune for the coming year. Anne, who was very much impressed by her American grandparents and very eager to go to visit them, was extremely pleased to see that her figure looked like a map of the sunshine state.

Anne has been homesick very rarely; just initially and a bit at Christmas but it's not to say that she won't be happy to see her family. In fact, in the beginning of August, Anne's family is tentatively planning to come to Chelsea for a visit and then rent a motor home to sightsee with.

Prior to that visit, Anne and other area exchange students affiliated with Youth for Understanding (YFU), the sponsoring group, will travel to New York and Washington, D.C. in the spring.

The Smiths have been just delighted with their German daughter. "She's extremely sociable and quite adventurous," commented Mrs. Smith. "But, to come all the way from Europe for a year, I guess she'd have to be."

Firemen Called For Possible Electrical Fire

At approximately 1:30 p.m. Monday, Jan. 5, a local resident notified the Chelsea Fire Department that her power had partially gone out and that she could smell smoke through the wall. On that warning, Chelsea firemen were dispatched to the scene of a possible electrical fire on Ivey Rd. off Werkner.

Community Ed. Classes Now Being Formed

Chelsea's Community Education Department is planning another fun-filled class load for the winter 1981 semester. Currently in the mail, the winter class brochure should arrive in area homes within the week.

Courses will get underway Jan. 26 and will offer various adult enrichment classes, high school completion material, recreation council, senior citizen activities and a wide assortment of others.

Some of the courses and activities to be offered are square dance, gymnastics, volleyball, mens basketball, cheerleading clinics by the Eastern Michigan University cheerleaders and cross country skiing.

An organizational meeting for mens basketball will be held Wednesday, Jan. 21 at 7:30 p.m. in the Chelsea High school cafeteria where the entry fee will be determined.

Again this year, extension courses through Washtenaw Community College will be available. Registration gets underway Tuesday, Jan. 7 and classes will begin Monday, Jan. 12. Anyone with questions may contact the Community Education Department at 475-9830 or WCC at 973-3548.

Upon receipt of Community Education brochures, interested parties may register by completing the form attached to the brochure and sending it in or by coming into the Community Education Department at Chelsea High school between the hours of 12-noon to 8 p.m. Monday through Thursday or 12-noon to 4 p.m. Friday.

Individuals with any questions regarding courses listed in the winter 1981 Community Ed brochure should feel free to contact the Community Education Department at 475-9830 during the aforementioned hours.

The winter 1981 term of Chelsea Community Education will offer a vast assortment of courses ranging from Amateur Radio to Chiropractic: A Health Care Alternative to Beginning Sign Language to Human Sexuality.

Each course will give the student the chance to learn something new, brush up on something rusty and share experiences with others with whom they will come in contact. Cost, if any, is minimal in regard to the knowledge that can be gained.

Amateur Radio will focus on technical and general theory and practice which will include Morse code and FCC regulation. The course will meet for 12 weeks on Tuesday evenings between the hours of 7 and 9 p.m. at a cost of $5. Class size limit: 20.

Chiropractic: A Health Care Alternative will meet for six weeks on Thursday between the hours of 7 and 8 p.m. The class will be offered free of charge as a community service project of the Arbor Vitae/Chiropractic Center and will present an overview and examination of current health attitudes as they pertain to the individual as well as the world society. The causes of disease and the nerve system relationship will also be examined.

The 10-week Beginning Sign Language course will teach finger spelling and hand signs used by the deaf, an easy and versatile form of communication for hearing adults associated with the deaf. The beginning level class welcomes repeaters and will be held on Mondays between 7 and 8:30 p.m. at a cost of $14.

Human Sexuality: A Topic for Family Communication is an eight week course designed to assist parents, educators, clergy and others interested in improving communications about human sexuality. Objectives of

New Pastor Named By St. Paul Church

The Rev. Erwin R. Koch has been unanimously elected to take over the congregation of St. Paul United Church of Christ. The election took place following his trial sermon on Sunday, Nov. 30 and he is scheduled to assume his duties Feb. 1, replacing interim pastor Dr. William Donald, II, who completes his one year of service Jan. 25.

The Rev. Koch is a resident of Kenton, O., where he has served as the pastor of St. John United Church of Christ since 1968. He is currently the chairperson of the Church and Ministry Committee of Northwest Ohio and is the secretary of the United Church Homes in Ohio and Indiana.

He comes from a family rich in religious tradition; both his father and grandfather were ministers. He graduated from Elmhurst College at Elmhurst, Ill. in 1951 and has received two degrees from Eden Theological Seminary in Webster Grove, Mo.

The Rev. Koch is married and has three children. His wife, Grace, is a second grade school teacher in Kenton. As the newly elected permanent pastor of the Chelsea St. Paul United Church of Christ, the Rev. and Mrs. Koch will enter the community in hopes of successfully undertaking the challenges left behind by the departure of both the former permanent and interim pastors.

PETE JASKOT, 20152 Old US-12, retired after 35 years from Klumpp Brothers Gravel Co. He began working in 1946 as an operating engineer with heavy excavation equipment. He remained in that position until officially retiring, Wednesday, Dec. 31. Jaskot, right, received a gold pocket watch from company president William Sturgill, left, at an informal party Monday, Dec. 2 at the Klumpp Bros. Loveland Rd. plant.

KEY MEMBER AWARD: Tom Dmoch, left, is presented with the Lions Club Key member award by Ev Huttenlocher, past district governor from Munich, after bringing in six new members since the chartering of the club in 1977. During that time, Dmoch was charter president. Currently, he is secretary of the Chelsea Lions Club and is a past zone chairman.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

The feller that runs the store got hisself on the agender long enuff Saturday night to announce that he was giving serious thought to setting up cover charges like a night club. He said the way the fellers eat last week he's thinking a $5 cover for a bottle of pop ought to allow him to break even on cheese and them salted in the bag peanuts he was short three big bags of. His idee is to give the fellers a choice of paying the grazing fee or a $5 a pound fattening fee and gitting wayed coming and going.

The store feller's plan hit sideways. Ed Doolittle quit munching crackers long enough to declare the idee struck him as big answers to little problems. But Ed said if the store feller was set on putting everthing on a business base he ought to offer somepun Government giveways call consumer incentives. This is to let the feller that's gitting took feel like he's a part of the taking. Fer instant, Ed said, if the store was to issue coupons like the USDA food stamps and offer them at a discount to only double the cost of food, the fellers would feel like they was gitting a deal, and they would be encouraged to do more eating and drinking.

While the store feller mulled over Ed's suggestion, Ed said the floor wasn't entertaining no motions of the matter, unless somebody wanted to bury it in the entertainment committee, cause there was more pressing matters on the agender. First among them, Ed declared, was what is ham. Ed recalled some weeks back the issue of hog ham vs. turkey ham was brung up, and the fellers stood foursquare fer hog. But Ed said the turkey hammers are at it again. This time they have named their ham Cure 1980, which is to clost to Hormel's hog ham Cure 81 fer comfort, so Hormel has sued them turkeys. Ed said he allus figgered saying "hog ham" was like saying "tooth dentist," or "widder woman," cause all ham is hog. But the turkey hammers claim ham is made, not born, and their cured gobbler looks and tastes more like ham than ham.

Actual, said Zeke Grubb, he would be less confused trying to work out grazing and fattening rates. Zeke said his question is, what standard is ham being measured agin. Somewhere, he said, there must be the perfect ham to give other hams somepun to compare with. The U. S. allus knows if it is ahead of behind because it's got Russia, Zeke explained, and the owner of the Yankees knows that "free agents" ain't cause he paid $1.3 million a year for one of em. A country smart enough to work out formulas fer allowable amounts of rat droppings in USDA grade A sausage out to know what a ham is, Zeke said, so let the hog hammers and turkey hammers pay their money and take their chances in court.

Personal, Mister Editor, I'm sorry we didn't git to Clem Webster's item. Clem wanted to talk about wimmen in this country needing more attention from their menfolks at a time when they was gitting liberated from all that, but me and Clem figgered that was to important a matter to bring up right at closing time.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

Preliminary Figures Show Decline in ADC Caseload
Preliminary November figures for aid to dependent children (ADC) and general assistance may indicate the first break in what has been a steady dramatic increase in caseloads.

ADC figures may actually go down by about 100 cases and general assistance figures may go up by less than 900—both sharp changes from the average increases.

The average ADC increase this year has been 2,800 caseloads and the average general assistance increase has been 3,300.

The head of the Department of Social Services' planning and evaluation office said the figures, if they hold, will be pleasant news, but Robert Swanson added he would be "leery of being too optimistic."

He said it may require another decrease or leveling off in the January welfare caseloads before the department can feel something significant is happening.

Swanson noted December figures may not be a good indication because of holidays and an increase in economic activity before Christmas.

Final November figures are due yet this month.

If the ADC caseload does drop it will have gone from 239,296 in October to an estimated 239,200. The general assistance caseload will have gone from 97,500 to 98,300.

In September, the ADC caseload was 239,800 and the general assistance totals were 94,000.

Swanson said another worrisome sign is the ADC rate for unemployed parents which went up in November by an estimated 600 cases. Part of the projected ADC decrease is due to a decline in these cases.

The department still anticipates the welfare caseload to increase until March, 1981, when it is expected to taper off.

For the year, Swanson said the department estimates ADC should average 248,000 cases and general assistance 103,000.

4 Years Ago . . .

Thursday, Jan. 13, 1967—

A 7-inch snowfall late Sunday evening, Jan. 10, temporarily immobilized the Chelsea community on Monday and forced the shut-down of area schools. Many group meetings and public events were postponed or cancelled.

A petition drive to recall newly-elected Lima township trustee and former township supervisor, Wallace Fusiller, was launched Friday, Jan. 7 by Robert Torres, a resident of the township, whose earlier attempt to block certification of the Nov. 2 vote met with failure recently.

CHS's varsity cheerleading squad made up of Beth Collins, Anna Crawford, Sue Barlow, Sue German, Beth Flanigan, Cindy Bareis and Cathy Villemure have been rustling up team spirit at the Bulldog basketball games, but not enough to get the varsity cagers on the right track. They lost a game to Dexter Friday night following an overtime battle and then followed suit Tuesday in another close encounter with Jackson Northwest.

Chelsea's cager of the week, Anthony Houle, attributes his five-year winter migration to the basketball court as a way to enjoy "athletic competition and keep in shape."

14 Years Ago . . .

Thursday, Jan. 19, 1967—

Chelsea's winning wrestling team was too much for Dundee's inexperienced grapplers to deal with last Thursday, and the Bulldog wrestlers walked away with their first shut-out victory in the four-year history of Chelsea wrestling.

Chelsea's High school bands will present a winter concert Sunday, Jan. 22 at 2 p.m. in the High school auditorium. The program will include selections by the symphony band and the concert band.

A fire early Saturday morning caused extensive damage to the Donald Coppennoll residence at 128 E. Middle St. and ruined most of the family's belongings, although no one was seriously injured.

Chelsea's cager of the week, Larry Gaken, is playing his first year on the varsity squad. Nonetheless, the varsity Bulldogs recorded their second loss in a row Friday evening in a contest with Ypsilanti Lincoln.

24 Years Ago . . .

Thursday, Jan. 17, 1957—

At the annual meeting of the Chelsea State Bank Tuesday, John Keusch was elected a director to fill the vacancy caused by the death in September of Arthur J. Walz. All other directors were re-elected as follows: F. W. Merkel, J. V. Burg, Howard S. Holmes, Dr. A. A. Palmer, P. G. Schaible and Paul Mann.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. K. R. Platt at 124 Glazier Rd. at Cavanaugh Lake, together with all of its contents, was destroyed by fire of undetermined origin with the family was away from home early Saturday evening.

Chelsea Community Farm Bureau is the new name of the former Sylvan Farm Bureau group. Action taken to change the name was taken at a regular meeting held Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Burg.

Thursday, Jan. 16, 1947—

Schneider's Grocery has been completely modernized during the past month and converted into a self-serve super market which offers the height of shopping convenience to its customers. The refurbished market will re-open for business Friday.

Last Thursday evening, a fire destroyed one of the cabins on the Cassidy Lake Technical school grounds. The fire, cause unknown, broke out as the officer on duty was at the other side of the grounds. All contents were destroyed, including the personal effects of the boys who had occupied the cabin.

Lyle Haselswerdt was showing a beautiful 10-lb. northern pike around town Thursday afternoon, which was caught that day on a set line at Cavanaugh Lake.

Johnny Floyd, 9, of Baltimore, hit the newspapers this week after surviving 13,000 volts of electricity. The high voltage—more than six times the amount used to electrocute criminals—passed through his body while he was playing on a railroad car.

Lost Documents Need Not Delay Attempt To Secure VA Benefits

Don't let lost documents prevent you from seeking veterans benefits, the Veterans Administration today reminded veterans and their dependents.

A VA spokesman said, "We have found that some veterans who cannot locate birth or marriage certificates don't apply for benefits because they believe these documents are essential."

VA will accept a certified statement instead of an original birth or marriage certificate when needed to establish eligibility. In the case of a marriage this policy applies only to the first marriage for each partner, and there must be no contradictory information on file at VA.

In years past, VA required formal documentation to support claims for compensation and education benefits for veterans, widows and orphaned children.

Now, however, VA will accept a certified statement regarding the birth of a veteran's child or as proof of age and relationship in disability cases, the spokesman said.

VA urged veterans and their dependents with eligibility questions to contact the nearest VA regional office

Real Estate

By PAUL FRISINGER

PERSONAL OR REAL PROPERTY?

When a home is sold, the question often arises: "What stays with the house as part of the purchase and what property goes with the buyer?" Real estate is usually defined as the land and everything attached to it, such as: buildings, trees, shrubs, etc. The buyer normally gets all of the real estate, but none of the owner's personal property. The problem arises when personal property has become a part of the real estate. This is called a fixture and does pass with the real estate.

There are three usual tests which must be satisfied. Has the personal property been permanently annexed to the real estate? Is it intended to become part of the real estate? And finally, what is the local custom? Usual fixtures might include: shades, heaters, ranges, screens, storm windows, lightning fixtures, etc.

It is important that the seller spell out specifically in his sales agreement exactly what he intends to give to the buyer as part of the real estate.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at FRISINGER REALTY CO., 935 S. Main St., Chelsea. Phone: 475-8681; evenings 475-2621. We're here to help!

Mr. and Mrs. William K. Stark

William Starks Will Observe 50th Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. William K. Stark will be honored on their golden wedding anniversary with a reception to be held on Saturday, Jan. 17 at the United Methodist church in Manchester.

Hosted by their children and grandchildren, the reception will be held from 2 to 4 p.m. All friends and relatives are invited to attend and the family requests that guests not bring gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Stark were married Jan. 17, 1931 at Salem. Their attendants were Mabel Pidd Frank, sister of the bride, and Gerald Stark, brother of the bridegroom. Mrs. Stark is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Proctor of Manchester. Mr. Stark is the son of the late Mabel Stark Higgs and Leonard I. Stark of Trenton. Mr. Stark is a retired farmer and U.S. Postal Service employee. When not at home in Manchester, the couple enjoys travelling throughout the 50 states.

Christmas Mass At Cassidy Lake

By Mrs. Millie Warner

Christmas is for everyone. On Dec. 25th, a small group of Christians came to Cassidy Lake Chapel and shared the Holy Mass with men of C.L.T.S. There was caroling before hand, and all joined their voices with the notes of guitars played by Roberta Ann Guinan, and Dick Cobb.

For all of Advent the men of Cassidy Lake shared in a very special, but simple preparation for the Lord's birthday. Each time they did a good act for another, or said a prayer, or wrote a letter to someone, they would put a piece of straw in the empty crib. The crib would be as soft a place to hold the Christ Child as they, by their good works, let it be.

So when Mass began, Fr. Renaldi (of St. Louis school), and one of the residents proceeded up the aisle. Keith, then in the name of all men, laid the form of Babe Jesus in the crib under the Chapel Christmas tree. The crib was high with straw, and the straw was spilling over onto the floor around it, so many were the men's good works.

After the Holy Mass, there was the sharing of cookies furnished by St. Mary's Altar Society, and Carolyn Arbogast. This effort of the refreshments and people present, was through the kindness of Bob Guinan, and Mary Guinan. Later, movies were viewed by the men, who had no visitors to come and see them for Christmas. The movies were the effort of Carolyn Arbogast and shown on a screen made from a

Great Lakes Vegetable Growers To Meet

More than 2,000 vegetable growers are expected to attend the Great Lakes Vegetable Growers convention at the Lansing Civic Center Jan. 27-29. The three-day meeting, largest event of its type in the midwest, is sponsored by the Michigan State University Co-operative Extension Service and the Michigan Vegetable Council, Inc.

The primary purpose of the convention, according to coordinator Bernard Zandstra, MSU Extension horticulture specialist and experiment researcher, is to address the potentials and problems growers will likely encounter during the next growing season.

A major part of the convention will be the trade show, which features more than 100 manufacturers from throughout the nation. The trade show is open daily from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Educational programs will be offered from 10 a.m. to noon and from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m., except for Tuesday, when sessions will start at 2 p.m.

WCC Offers Classes in 17 Communities

A wide variety of credit classes has been scheduled by Washtenaw Community College to be taught in 17 off-campus centers during the winter term. Pre-registration for classes in 10 of these centers will take place during the week of Jan. 5; registration for others will take place prior to the first class session the week of Jan. 12.

Classes are now offered by the College in Ann Arbor at the Chamber of Commerce, the Civic Theatre, Pioneer and Huron High schools and the Ann Arbor Y. Additional classes are also offered at Brighton High school, Chelsea High school, Dexter High school, Hartland High school, Manchester High school, Milan High school, Saline High school, and Whitmore Lake High school. Classes are also offered at two locations in Willow Run—at the high school and at Giles Community Center. Instruction is also provided in many areas at the College's Ypsilanti Center.

Included in the offerings for the winter session in the off-campus centers are accounting, Afro-American history, American Red Cross first aid, business law and communications, criminal justice, economics, English (composition, technical communications, literature and creative writing), government, investments, labor management relations, mathematics (basic, algebra, trigonometry, precalculus), medical terminology, music appreciation, officiating techniques, photography, programming, psychology (child, industrial and introduction), religions of the world, sales, sociology, speech, speed reading, drawing and painting and traffic control and administration.

Pre-registration for classes will be held for the following centers the week of Jan. 5:

Brighton—Monday, Jan. 5 from 7-8 p.m.

Whitmore Lake—Monday, Jan. 5 from 8:30-9:30 p.m.

Chelsea—Tuesday, Jan. 6 from 7-8 p.m.

Manchester—Tuesday, Jan. 6 from 8:30-9:30 p.m.

Saline—Wednesday, Jan. 7 from 7-8:30 p.m.

Milan—Wednesday, Jan. 7 from 8:30-9:30 p.m.

Pioneer—Thursday, Jan. 8 from 7-8 p.m.

Dexter—Thursday, Jan. 8 from 8:30-9:30 p.m.

Huron—Thursday, Jan. 8 from 7-8 p.m.

Willow Run—Thursday, Jan. 8 from 8:30-9:30 p.m.

Questions regarding registration for these or any centers should be directed to the individual center or to WCC staff at (313) 973-3407.

Choice for Ag. Secretary Pleases Farm Bureau

Michigan Farm Bureau President Elton R. Smith expressed the hope that President-elect Reagan's selection for Secretary of Agriculture will signal a return of the USDA "back to its original intent of serving the farmers of this nation."

In response to the announcement Dec. 23 of Reagan's choice of John R. Block, Illinois Agriculture Director and owner-operator of a 3,000-acre family farm, Smith said he was pleased with the selection.

"We are confident that we will see a reversal of the trend of USDA being a consumer-oriented agency back to its original direction of serving the farmers of this nation," Smith said. "Block has proven his administrative abilities as director of the Illinois Department of Agriculture, and we are pleased that he has displayed strong support for expanded foreign trade of our agricultural products."

"We believe his experience as a producing farmer, and his previous involvement in Farm Bureau leadership positions, will move us toward a market-oriented agriculture and away from a government-managed agriculture. He will have strong support as he moves toward that goal," Smith concluded.

Block, 45, raises 6,000 farrow-to-finish hogs on his corn and soybean farm. He has been Illinois Director of Agriculture since February, 1977. His Farm Bureau involvement has included serving as chairman of the Illinois Young Farmer Committee and the American Farm Bureau Federation Young Farmers and Ranchers Committee, president of the Knox County Farm Bureau, and member of the Illinois Farm Bureau board of directors.

He supervises the Illinois Department of Agriculture's export offices in Brussels, Belgium and Hong Kong.

Cholesterol Study Volunteers Sought

The University of Minnesota is seeking volunteers to participate in a national study.

The National Heart, Lung and Blood Institute study is being conducted at four large medical centers: the University of Minnesota, the University of Arkansas, the University of Southern California and Lankenau Hospital in Philadelphia.

The research team is conducting this trial in hopes of determining the relationship of cholesterol lowering to heart disease.

The study is seeking participants who have had only one heart attack during the past five years, are 28 through 64 years of age and free of diabetes, stroke and heart surgery. Volunteers are being sought at all four of the Hyperlipidemia Study Clinical Centers.

For information persons may call the University of Minnesota Hyperlipidemia Study collect at 612-376-4494.

Good Things Growing In Michigan

Next time you're scooping a spoonful of sugar onto your cereal, biting into a delicious sugar cookie, drenching biscuits with honey, or topping pancakes with maple syrup, thank Michigan farmers! Good things growing in Michigan include our "sweet trio"—sugar, honey and maple syrup.

About 1.7 million tons of sugar beets are harvested here each year, according to the Michigan Department of Agriculture. Processing factories located in the Thumb and Saginaw valley beet growing region produce more than three million pounds of sugar each day.

Honey and maple syrup are two of our oldest agricultural crops. Bees have produced honey for thousands of years and historians say native Americans were tapping trees when the colonists arrived.

Honey was the principal sweetener when sugar was a rarity, and is the sweetest of the three—one-fifth sweeter than granulated sugar.

When driving through Michigan's countryside, watch for our honey factories. About 106,000 bee colonies produced 6.1 million pounds of honey last year, MDA reports. Bees are also responsible for pollinating millions of dollars worth of crops, including blueberries, cucumbers and apples.

Michigan is one of the nation's top five producers of maple syrup, with 83,000 gallons of syrup processed last year. Trees are tapped in early spring when the days start getting warmer and sap begins to run. About 40 gallons of sap are boiled down to make one gallon of pure Michigan maple syrup.

For more information about Michigan foods, write MDA's Communications office for the free brochure, "1980 Michigan Food Facts," P. O. Box 30017, Lansing 48909.

RECEIVES MASTER'S DEGREE: Mrs. David (Helen F.) Prohaska pauses on an unseasonably warm December day with her children Scott, a freshman at Albion, and Julie, a junior at EMU, following the 1980 Eastern Michigan University's winter commencement exercises. Mrs. Prohaska was awarded her M.A. degree in elementary education. Born and raised in Evanston, Ill., she received her B.A. in education from Northwestern University. For nine years she taught elementary education in Wilmette, Ill., followed by six years in Hopkinton, N. H. and one year in the therapeutic education program at New Hampshire State Hospital before joining the teaching staff of South Elementary school in 1977 as a third grade teacher.

Good Things Growing In Michigan

With the holiday rush over, and life slowing to a "dull roar," now's the time to freeze meals ahead. This may give you some spare time for things you've wanted to get done all fall!

Combine the good things growing in Michigan - and a good cookbook and many meals will be right at your fingertips. An easy basic ingredient to start with is Michigan beef.

Our state's farmers marketed about 474 million pounds of beef last year, worth $284 million, according to the Michigan Department of Agriculture. Major producing counties are Jackson, Kent, Huron, Calhoun and Sanilac.

Many excellent recipes are available for preparing beef stroganoff, meatballs, and Swiss steak. Stored in your freezer, these are easy meals to pop in the oven and serve with noodles, hot rolls and creamy Michigan butter.

Frozen casseroles, such as Hungarian goulash and lasagna, or soups, chili and beef stew, are heated in minutes on cold-wintery nights.

Freezing meals also has added incentives besides saving time each night: If you're making one batch, it's as easy to make two or three; when supplies are plentiful and there are bargains at the grocery, each meal costs less; and, of course, some recipes make larger amounts so it's practical to stock the freezer.

When freezing foods, cool them as quickly as possible, wrap in a protective, moisture-proof container, allowing one-half inch headspace for expansion, and freeze immediately. Remember to cut back on seasonings as they tend to get stronger.

Frozen cooked foods should be used within a short period of time and, once thawed, should never be refrozen.

Priorities of '80s Told for Lansing Diocese Catholics

A four-page tabloid listing the priorities of the Catholic Diocese of Lansing and the means to realize them was sent this week to more than 60,000 Catholic households in the 10-county Diocese of Lansing.

The tabloid which explains the results of a three-day Diocesan Pastoral Assembly held in November, is designed to inform all Catholics about the 21-member Diocesan Pastoral Council which was elected at the meeting and the needs of the Diocese which these representatives with Bishop Kenneth J. Povish will seek to answer.

The mailing explains in word and picture the growth of the consultative process within the Diocese and lists the priorities for the next two years. Chief among those priorities are a need for evangelization (spreading the word of the Gospel) of Catholics as well as others and a need for increased participation in worship.

"The emphasis during the next two years will be on internal renewal of the 221,338 Catholics in the Diocese," a spokesman said.

The setting of the goals by lay, religious and clerical representatives of the Diocese marks a major shift in the way priorities are determined. "Although there has been formal and informal consultation since the Diocese was established, this marks the first time the process has been formalized," the spokesman explained.

In addition to the major goals, the delegates who had been elected by their individual parishes determined that the Diocese should provide leadership in strengthening family life, share responsibility with all members of the Church, discover ways of raising consciousness on the critical needs of the deprived, and minister in a special way to young adults.

Grass Lake Youth Completes Coast Guard Recruit Training

Coast Guard Seaman Apprentice Tim W. Fry, son of Robert C. and Dorothy J. Fry of 225 Studer Dr., Grass Lake, has completed recruit training at the Coast Guard Training Center, Cape May, N. J.

During the 10-week training cycle, trainees studied general military subjects designed to prepare them for further academic and on-the-job training leading toward their qualification in one of the Coast Guard's 26 basic occupational fields.

Included in their studies were first aid, seamanship, Coast Guard history and regulations, close order drill and damage control.

A 1980 graduate of Grass Lake High school, he joined the Coast Guard in August, 1980.

St. Louis School Serves Needs of Impaired Youth

St. Louis School for Exceptional Boys was built in 1961, the by-product of the work begun 100 years earlier by the founding Father Guarella.

Fr. Guarella was born in Fracisco, Campodolcino in the northern region of Italy, Dec. 19, 1842. He was ordained May 26, 1866 and, with an inborn characteristic of divine charity, awaited the time that he could begin his charitable endeavors.

In 1903, he founded two congregations, the Servants of Charity and the Daughters of St. Mary of Providence, to increase earlier assistance to the "servants of favoriates of providence"—the incurably ill, the abandoned, the aged, the physically and mentally handicapped, the orphan and the needy child in both Italy and abroad.

Fr. Guarella sailed to North America in 1912 to again undertake his work devoted to the less fortunate. Recognized for his heroic virtues and his high regard for the sanctity of life, Fr. Guarella was proclaimed and blessed by the Pope Oct. 25, 1964.

Today, his Sons and Daughters carry on his tasks in Italy, Switzerland, Spain, the United States, Argentina, Chile, Brazil, Colombia, Paraguay and Israel. With enough hands to help open the entire world, Fr. Guarella's children pay tribute to his words, "The whole world is your country."

St. Louis School for Exceptional Boys was constructed for that basic purpose. The large, contemporary facility, located southwest of Chelsea, is assisted by the Archdiocese and is served by priests, teachers, social workers and child care specialists.

The school, with 60 residents throughout the year excluding holidays, is licensed by the Michigan Department of Social Services and the State Board of Education and deals exclusively with the special educational needs of mentally impaired youth.

A two-fold recreational program at St. Louis School utilizes a modern, fully equipped gymnasium and a playground surrounded by 180 acres of fields and woods. Together with the academic facilities, St. Louis School provides an atmosphere necessary for the highest developmental potential of those taken into its care.

Reagan Expected To End Russian Grain Embargo

Ronald Reagan's agricultural task force has advised the president-elect to end the grain embargo against the Soviet Union quickly—unless the Soviet Union invades Poland.

U. S. grain trade with the Soviets must be linked to foreign policy issues, according to one task force member, and he predicted there would be no easing of the embargo for some time if Soviet troops move into Poland.

Reagan should decide on lifting the embargo soon after taking office Jan. 20 or by spring, said another member.

Task force members said they have no doubt Reagan will follow up on his campaign pledge to end the embargo; however, any action would be liked to over-all relations.

Ask the Governor

Question: Is anything ever going to be done about the continuing contamination at the Gratiot county landfill?

Governor: The Gratiot county landfill is at the top of a priority list for the federal Superfund cleanup program passed by Congress. Hazardous substance legislation marks a dramatic improvement in our ability to deal with the toxic disposal problem that has plagued Michigan for several years.

The $1.6 billion Superfund is expected to pay for the cleanup of 40 sites across the country over the next five years. Congress, in fact, accepted Michigan's recommendation that the bill establish a partnership with those states that already have substantial waste management programs.

Michigan is rewarded in the bill for its large financial investment in site cleanup in the past, and it establishes a credit against the future state share of Superfund costs for such past expenditures. This provision is expected to save Michigan $10 million over the next five years.

Our Department of Natural Resources is already in contact with the Environmental Protection Agency to begin to outline Michigan's specific site needs, but as I said, the Gratiot county landfill is already in place at the top of the list.

Question: On Labor Day last year, I walked the Mackinac Bridge with you and about 25,000 other people. I heard someone say it's the longest bridge in the world.

Governor: The Mackinac Bridge is the longest suspension bridge in the world, at 3,800 feet in the center suspension, and is regarded as an engineering marvel. The link between Michigan's two peninsulas has been a tremendous boost to commerce in the Straits area. In 1980, about 2,000,000 people crossed "Mighty Mac."

The bridge was opened in 1957 after four years of labor by 10,000 men. I think it stands as a testimony that no job is too big for the people of this state.

Mennen Williams, who was Governor when the bridge was opened, called it "an expression of steel and concrete of the will."

for medical expenses of a Medicaid recipient. During 1979, we saved more than $27 million through this program.

Question: Have the energy-saving measures that the state endorses really lowered our fuel consumption? Have there been any side effects?

Governor: I am pleased to report that last year gasoline consumption fell to the lowest level Michigan has seen in eight years. And, remarkably, in that same period the number of motor vehicle registrations climbed from 5.1 million to more than 6.6 million. The fact that virtually the same amount of gasoline powered 1.5 million additional cars and trucks can be attributed to many factors.

Cars, now constructed with lighter materials, are more fuel efficient. And although long distance travel has decreased because of higher fuel costs and the recession, the various energy-saving measures have certainly contributed to the large decrease in consumption.

The major side effect of the decreased fuel consumption has been the cut in tax revenues traditionally generated by gas sales. In the past year, revenues used for highway, road and street work dropped by $77 million from what they would have been had consumption held steady.

Nevertheless, Michigan residents can take considerable pride in the substantial gasoline savings they have accomplished through their conservation habits.

If you have a question for the Governor, please send it to: "Ask the Governor," Executive Office, Press Section, Lansing 48909.

Ypsilanti Fire Changes Plans for Townsend's Band

An early morning fire destroyed the back office and caused severe damage to the kitchen and dining room of Woodruff Grove in the Huron Hotel, Ypsilanti, Tuesday, Dec. 30. The extensive damage that resulted was confined to the first and second stories of the hotel though the manager of the facility was forced to jump from a second story window onto a lower roof to escape the smoke and heat that were emanating from the blaze.

Management and owners of the Huron Hotel have announced plans to rebuild and reopen the restaurant, Woodruff Grove, which had planned a gala New Year's Eve party for the evening of Wednesday, Dec. 31 that would have featured the Big Band sound of a small group of musicians who, with others, comprise the 17-piece Big Band known professionally as The Ambassadors, under the direction of North Lake resident Al Townsend.

Townsend had agreed to assist his friends at the Woodruff Grove celebration but the disastrous fire afforded a change of plans. Townsend's band, The Ambassadors, is one of the first revitalized Big Bands in the area and features crooner Doug Kerr. Becoming very well known for their ability to add the Glenn Miller/Tommy Dorsey sound to modern compositions as well as their original Big Band sound, Townsend's group has recently signed a second six-month contract to appear at the Campus Inn in Ann Arbor. In addition to their Campus Inn appearances, The Ambassadors also have had engagements at Travis Pointe Country Club.

Prior to his entrance into the field of education, Townsend had been a member of the Gene Krupa, Bobby Hackett and Henry Bussey orchestras during the late 1940's, the heyday of the Big Band Era. Since taking on the leadership of The Ambassadors, Townsend has played an "instrumental" role in the comeback of the Big Band sound in the Ann Arbor area.

But, following the fire that spread through the Ypsilanti's Huron Hotel, Al Townsend and his wife Millie enjoyed ringing in the New Year quietly with a number of close friends from the Chelsea area.

An Executive Order by President Van Buren on March 31, 1840, established a 10-hour day for Federal employees on public works without reduction in pay, according to "Important Events in American Labor History," a publication of the U. S. Department of Labor.

Q. I have a friend who told me he bought a hundred shares of Kaneb Services for $23 a share and in six months it was worth $900 more. That seems to me that is making a lot of money very quickly. Can you tell me how to do that?

A. I cannot tell you how much money you can make in the stockmarket and I cannot tell you how quickly you will make it. However, I know from experience that if you invest in good companies that are growing most years and don't pay an unreasonable price for them, you are likely over a period of time to have a very good record.

A survey has just been released which discovered the 12 different stocks that the 70,000 members of the National Association of Investment Clubs have bought the most of. The survey looked at what they paid for the stocks five years ago and what they were worth in mid-December, 1980.

Kaneb Services happened to be the stock the members bought in the greatest numbers. In 1975 it sold as low as $7 1/4 and as high as $12 3/8. The people that bought it at the low saw its price go to $38 at the end of 1980. They had a 500% profit. Those who bought it at the 1975-high had a 207% profit.

The really big profit came to the NAIC members who bought Moog, Inc., and saw the stock give them a 1233% profit. Those who bought RPM, Inc., had a 900% profit. The average profit all those people made on the 12 stocks they bought most heavily was 318% from the low and 134% if they bought at the high.

I see two lessons in this experience for us as investors: One is that in any selection of stocks there will be those that have big gains and those that have small gains or losses. No one has the skill or wisdom to know today which ones will be the big gainers five years from now. By spreading your money over 5 to 12 stocks you are likely to have a very good average performance.

A second is that stock prices may not reflect the good things that are going on in a company as they happen. In the case of Kaneb, people who bought it back in 1975 saw a nice profit develop rather quickly. Then they saw the price of the stock trade in a rather narrow range for several years. Recently the stock has gone up strongly again. Your friend apparently bought his just when the company again became popular with investors and its price was bid up quickly. It has been as high as $40 1/8.

I suspect the stockmarket is just in the early stages of an upward movement that could take the averages to twice what they are now. A wise investor will be placing his money in good stocks and waiting for that move.

Dividends Higher This Year on All GI Insurance

Veterans of Michigan will receive $18,851,000 in dividends during the year 1981 on insurance they have kept in force since their active duty days.

Gordon Clowney, director of the regional office of the VA in Detroit, said the dividends will be paid on the anniversary of the policy, and no application is needed, as they are paid automatically.

Sharing in the dividends in Michigan will be 134,923 veterans who served in World War I, World War II and Korea. There is no government insurance for the Vietnam era veterans.

Clowney said the dividends will be larger than last year since the funds earned higher interest rates during the year. Nationally the dividends will amount to $619 million, $53 million higher than last year.

Policy holders will receive varying amounts depending on the type of policy, the amount of insurance in force, the insured's age at issue or renewal and time the policy has been in force.

The average amount to be paid to the 2,039 World War I veterans with current policies is $296. The dividends will total $539,000.

World War II veterans who have kept their insurance policies in force in the state number 106,844. Total dividends will be $16,492,000, with an average of $168 each.

Korean Conflict policy holders, who number 20,858 will receive an average payment of $67. Total dividends will be $1,328,000.

Disabled veterans who have a special type of GI insurance will also receive increased dividends, according to Clowney. These policies earned dividends for the first time in 1980. This year's average dividend will be $96. In Michigan there are 5,182 veterans in this category and they will receive $494,000 during the year.

Only policies whose premiums are current receive dividends from the VA. A rumor persists over the years that World War II veterans can receive a dividend from policies lapsed years ago. This is not true.

Birth defects strike 1 of every 12 infants born each year in the United States, says the March of Dimes. One infant is born every other minute with physical or mental damage.

WCC Offers Classes in 17 Communities

A wide variety of credit classes has been scheduled by Washtenaw Community College to be taught in 17 off-campus centers during the winter term. Pre-registration for classes in 10 of these centers will take place during the week of Jan. 5; registration for others will take place prior to the first class session the week of Jan. 12.

Classes are now offered by the College in Ann Arbor at the Chamber of Commerce, the Civic Theatre, Pioneer and Huron High schools and the Ann Arbor Y. Additional classes are also offered at Brighton High school, Chelsea High school, Dexter High school, Hartland High school, Manchester High school, Milan High school, Saline High school, and Whitmore Lake High school. Classes are also offered at two locations in Willow Run—at the high school and at Giles Community Center. Instruction is also provided in many areas at the College's Ypsilanti Center.

Included in the offerings for the winter session in the off-campus centers are accounting, Afro-American history, American Red Cross first aid, business law and communications, criminal justice, economics, English (composition, technical communications, literature and creative writing), government, investments, labor management relations, mathematics (basic, algebra, trigonometry, precalculus), medical terminology, music appreciation, officiating techniques, photography, programming, psychology (child, industrial and introduction), religions of the world, sales, sociology, speech, speed reading, drawing, and painting and traffic control and administration.

Pre-registration for classes will be held for the following centers the week of Jan. 5:

Brighton—Monday, Jan. 5 from 7-8 p.m.
Whitmore Lake—Monday, Jan. 5 from 8:30-9:30 p.m.
Chelsea—Tuesday, Jan. 6 from 7-8 p.m.
Manchester—Tuesday, Jan. 6 from 8:30-9:30 p.m.
Saline—Wednesday, Jan. 7 from 7-8:30 p.m.
Milan—Wednesday, Jan. 7 from 8:30-9:30 p.m.

Famous Film Makers Works To Be Studied

Two sections of "International Cinema" will be offered at Washtenaw Community College this winter term.

The class covers classic and significant films and film makers from Europe and Asia. Film makers whose works are to be screened include Sergei Eisenstein ("Potemkin"), Jean Renoir ("Rules of the Game"), Federico Fellini ("Nights of Cabiria"), Francois Truffaut ("Shoot the Piano Player"), Ingmar Bergman ("Persona"), Rainer Werner Fassbinder (All: Fear Eats the Soul"), and Lina Wertmuller ("Seven Beauties").

The course meets on Tuesdays from 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. or from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m., beginning Jan. 13. Instructor for the class is Stuart Susnick.

Michael Shonk Initiated into WMU Honor Society

Michael D. Shonk, 13 Hickory Dr., has been initiated into the Western Michigan University chapter of Phi Eta Sigma, national collegiate scholastic honor society for freshmen. He was among 40 male students inducted into its membership.

Requirements for membership are a grade point average of 3.5 or higher while carrying at least 12 credit hours during the first or second semester of the freshman year at WMU.

Phi Eta Sigma offers the students recognition for personal accomplishment, serves as an incentive for continued high scholarship and "... provides an opportunity to join other scholars on campus in promoting academic excellence."

The Western chapter, one of 180 throughout the United States, was established in 1962.

Pioneer—Thursday, Jan. 8 from 7-8 p.m.

Winter Protection for Container-Grown Plants

Question: Last spring I planted two junipers in pots for use on our patio. I thought I could leave them out all winter since junipers are hardy plants in this area. Is that correct, or do they need some winter protection?

Answer: Junipers growing right in the ground are certainly hardy plants. However, junipers or any other plant, no matter how hardy, are in a different predicament when they are growing as potted plants.

The relatively small volume of soil in a container is subject to alternate freezing and thawing, sometimes on a daily basis, when it is outdoors and above-ground. This can cause a significant amount of mechanical damage to the roots—enough to kill the plant in a typical Michigan winter.

There are two ways to handle a container-grown, hardy plant. The first is to dig a hole deep enough to bury the entire container; then mulch the plant heavily after the ground freezes, just as you would mulch other ornamentals.

A second choice is to bring the plants in to a cool porch and winter them where it usually will not freeze. If temperatures occasionally drop a bit below 32° F., little harm will be done.

The additional protection of a porch or garage will help to reduce wind burn and drying. Don't neglect watering though. Evergreens lose moisture through their needles all winter long even if temperatures are near or below freezing.

With the wide availability of citrus fruits this time of year, it's appropriate to review storage conditions for them. Under good home storage conditions, citrus will keep well for about six weeks, so be realistic about how much you purchase, especially if you are buying by the case.

Grapefruits and oranges will keep best if stored at near 32° F. as possible and at high humidity levels. The freezing point for grapefruits is 29.8° F., so don't worry about them freezing at 32° F.

The ideal way to store citrus is in a refrigerator, in plastic bags with a few air holes and a clean damp sponge to increase humidity. It is especially important to keep that sponge damp if you have a frost-free model.

Alternately, store citrus in small plastic bags of 10-12 fruit, with the damp sponge, but on a cool porch or near the interior wall of an attached garage. Don't try to leave citrus packed in the case for storage. If one does start to mold, the mold will quickly spread throughout the case.

Seminar Slated Jan. 17 on Managing the Small Woodlot

Are you losing money on your woodland? Or are you paying too many taxes? Learn how your woodlot can earn you money as well as provide a beautiful retreat for wildlife and yourself.

The Washtenaw County Co-operative Extension is sponsoring a seminar, "Managing the Small Woodlot," to be held Saturday, Jan. 17 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. The seminar will meet at the Co-operative Extension Service office at 4133 Washtenaw Ave. in the County Service Center (red square on corner of building symbolizes the office). There is a $1 cost to cover materials supplied. Dress warmly as part of the afternoon session will be conducted outdoors.

Morning topics include the options, goals and methods of timber stand improvement. Contractual agreements covering cutting methods and bidding, as well as, taxes will also be discussed.

In the afternoon, topics include planting trees for woodlot use and introducing and defining the roles of various government agencies. Tree identification and defects will be covered in the woodlot.

Throughout the seminar, emphasis will be placed on fuelwood production as well as other wood products.

The first full employment act was passed in 1946, calling for the federal government to maintain maximum employment and purchasing power, according to the U. S. Department of Labor publication, "Labor Firsts In America."

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

It causes one to wonder why men and women go through so much effort to celebrate a New Year. Are they so pleased with the year just spent, or not so pleased and would just like to forget it? Is this happiness to accept a "New Year" as a new beginning?

True, we can do nothing more to 1980—but every moment, second, minute, hour we lived... we cannot erase: It is there, in eternity; forever, with our weakness of person, with good we shared with others. Our successes brought us happiness. Our failures brought us disappointment (only if we had our eyes glued to the end result of our efforts, and not focused on the effort spent, in each endeavor we undertook). Sure, Mr. Editor, we can see the obvious, on one side of the tally sheet, we see the successes, on the other the failures of 1980... but between the lines let us look too at the omissions.

The times we could have been a little more patient with others. More generous with our time and ourselves for the good of others. Been a better listener, especially with our children. Tried to understand more deeply the feelings and hurts of others. Praise others more often. We took things for granted, like people. Our right to worship, as Americans. Our right to vote. Our freedom of Speech, and Education. Who and how are the lives of our children being molded in our schools? Did we care about this as much as we should?

How often did we say and do nothing to improve certain issues, because we were afraid if we spoke out for truth and justice, we would not be popular in the circles we move in? We take our jobs for granted, and when in the case of many, if the economy eliminated that job, did we lean on discouragement to see us through, or did we indeed develop another of our talents, and seek financial support in a lesser paying job but one also, of honest and good work?

We can balance our conscience as we please, but in all honesty, we cannot add or subtract one speck of time and energy we spent, or did not spend in 1980.

Time does not change, seasons and people change.

So with the new year, every moment God will allow us, in His wisdom, we can build on what we were in 1980, and enrich our lives because of it. We can begin by liking ourselves, and develop a sense of peace within us, so in turn we can give that peace to those who touch our lives in every way. That day by day, the world we move in will be a better place to live in, because we are there. Sharing, caring, loving and living this life together. Let us make it happen in 1981...

Police, Firemen Enjoy Respite

Chelsea's Police and Fire Departments have been able to sit back and relax thus far this year. Up until Monday afternoon, there had been no crimes, no accidents, no rescue runs, no fires since the final week of 1980. What has caused this pleasant lull in illegal and/or destructive activity?

Last December, Police Chief Robert Aiello explained that people would refrain from committing crimes during the holiday season, "No one wants to spend the holidays in jail," he said. That is apparently still holding true though the holiday season is now over.

But what about the sparsity of accidents and injuries? Perhaps the cold, icy weather and official warnings to stay home if at all possible combined to bring about fewer traffic and personal accidents. Perhaps those who did venture out in the frigid winter air were more careful, heeding warnings to "allow yourself more time to get to work or wherever you're planning to go."

Whatever has caused the wave of good behavior, it's a welcome change to the typical Christmas-New Year holidays that are so often riddled with tragedies and crime sprees.

Holiday Street Decorations Go Back into Storage

In the gusting, frigid winter air, the Christmas holiday season officially ended in Chelsea late Friday morning, Jan. 2. Road crews worked diligently in the midst of snow flurries to remove the village's Christmas decorations that had be-decked lamp posts from one end of Main St. to the other.

Packed away until just after Thanksgiving 1981 are crate upon crate of colorful wreaths, lights and ornaments that signify the Chelsea holiday spirit.

Doug Foreman Directing U-M Play

DOUG FOREMAN

Doug Foreman, a 1977 graduate of Chelsea High school, has recently been chosen to direct the University of Michigan's upcoming production of "Grease" at the Power Center for the Performing Arts in Ann Arbor. The group presenting the show is UAC-Musket, an entirely student-run organization.

This is Foreman's second premiere show; "Pippin" produced in the fall of 1978 was his first. This will be the first production of "Grease" in the Ann Arbor area and Musket is the first amateur acting company in the area to be allowed the rights to the musical.

"Grease" is basically a nostalgic look at high school during the 1950's and will mark Foreman's first opportunity to direct a full scale show in the Power Center although he has appeared in the cast during productions of "West Side Story," "Anything Goes" and "In the Dark" at the Power Center.

The UAC-Musket performance will be presented during the first week-end in April.

Doug Foreman is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Foreman of North Lake.

ABOMINABLE SNOW FAMILY: After Tuesday's snowfall, Kim, Dawn and Stephanie Wheeler, daughters of Richard and Velma Wheeler, 3836 North Territorial Rd., made the best of the occasion by fashioning a snow family complete with mother, father, children and pets. Above, the girls sit perched upon their snow "dogs"—or are they chickens?

Independence Lake Washtenaw County Has New Ski Trails Opening Extension Service Director

Washtenaw County Parks and Recreation Commission will open Independence Lake County Park Saturday, Jan. 10 for cross-country skiing and ice fishing on week-ends, between 9:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m.

Fishermen must be licensed and obey all state regulations. Temporary shanties may be used but must be removed nightly.

No cross-country ski rental is available. A ski patrol will be on duty. Snowmobiles and ORVs are prohibited.

Residents living west of the park should travel east on North Territorial Rd. and turn north (left) on Jennings Rd. The park is located on the left side of Jennings Rd.

For further information, please call Washtenaw County Parks and Recreation office, 994-2575, or 973-2595 during office hours, 8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Help Needed With Biddy Basketball

Coaches, referees and score keepers are still needed for Biddy Basketball for all children between the ages of 7 and 12. In order to cut expenses this year, the Recreation Department is seeking parental volunteers to assist in previously paid positions on the courts. Anyone interested in contributing their services is asked to call the Chelsea Recreation Council at 475-9830.

Gurdon K. Dennis has been named Co-operative Extension Service director for Washtenaw county, effective Jan. 1, pending Michigan State University Board of Trustees' approval.

He replaces John W. Comstock, who retired, having been with Extension since 1954.

Dennis graduated from MSU in 1950 with a bachelor of science degree in forestry. He was a park ranger with the Michigan Department of Natural Resources before joining the Detroit Department of Parks and Recreation in 1951. In 1962 he became a horticultural agent with MSU Extension, and was appointed district Extension horticulture agent for Wayne, Oakland, Macomb and Monroe counties in 1965, a post held until his new appointment.

Dennis is a member of the Michigan Forestry and Park Association (president, 1976-77), a member of the International Society of Arboriculture (board of directors, 1977), a member of the National Association of County Agricultural Agents (NACAA) and the Michigan Association of County Agricultural Agents. He is the author of a variety of articles for magazines and journals as well as numerous Extension bulletins.

GURDON K. DENNIS

He received the Westland Rotary Club Service Award in 1974; the Frieda Bottom Landscape Industry Award, Metropolitan Detroit Landscape Association, in 1975; the NACAA communications award (1st place state; 1st place regional; 2nd place national) in 1976; and the Michigan Forestry and Park Association Service Award in 1976.

Dennis' new duties include the general administration and management of Extension education programs for agriculture, family living, 4-H youth, natural resources and public policy. He will maintain relationships with Washtenaw County Board of Commissioners and other groups and agencies to improve the quality of Extension programs.

Fund-Raiser Party Set By Sen. Pierce

State Senator Edward C. Pierce (D-Ann Arbor) will hold a reception at the Michigan League in Ann Arbor this Saturday, Jan. 10, to celebrate his first two years in office as well as to raise funds for his constituent office at 543 N. Main in Ann Arbor.

The party will be held from 6-9 p.m. and will feature a cash bar and music by Richard Browne. Tickets are on sale for $12.50 each and may be purchased through Barbara Perkins at 971-1893 or 688-7012.

A similar Pierce fund-raiser a year ago attracted several legislators, including Senate Majority Leader William Faust, Sen. Jack Faxon and Rep. Mary Brown of Kalamazoo.

The constituent office is open weekday mornings and is run by volunteers. Messages to the Pierce capitol office may be sent through the local office, a service that has become particularly important since the Senate, in an economy move, shut down the Senate toll-free line.

A Checking Account That Earns Interest... Is It Right For You?

Beginning December 31st, financial institutions will be allowed by law to pay 5 1/4% interest on checking accounts. But before you change your regular checking account to an interest earning checking account, we think there are some facts you should know.

Because of the high costs involved in offering checking accounts that earn interest, most financial institutions require a higher minimum balance than they do for their standard checking accounts. If your account falls below this minimum you will be charged a service fee which could exceed the interest earned.

If you are able to maintain a minimum balance of $1,200 or more in your checking account, you should have Premier Checking, Ann Arbor Trust's checking account that earns interest.

Balance		Premier Checking		Regular Checking
If Your Average Monthly Balance Is...	Your Minimum Monthly Balance Might Be...	The Interest You Could Earn At 5 1/4%...	Monthly Service Charge	Net Monthly Earnings	Monthly Service Charge
$ 100	$ 30	$.44	$7.00	($6.56)	$5.00
200	70	.88	7.00	(6.12)	5.00
300	100	1.32	7.00	(5.68)	5.00
500	300	2.19	7.00	(4.81)	-0-
1,000	550	4.38	7.00	(2.62)	-0-
2,000	1,200	8.76	0-	8.76	-0-
3,000	1,800	13.14	0-	13.14	-0-
5,000	3,800	21.62	0-	21.62	-0-

*Monthly earnings based on a 30-day month, paid on average balance.

The above chart compares Ann Arbor Trust's regular checking account to Premier Checking.

PREMIER CHECKING

Premier Checking is in a class by itself. This new checking account pays interest on your deposits similar to a savings account—but with some important differences. With Premier Checking you'll receive free checking service if you maintain a minimum monthly balance of $1,200 or an average monthly balance of $2,000. The 5 1/4% interest earned on Premier Checking is the highest rate allowed by law for Banks and Savings and Loans. With Premier Checking, interest is compounded continuously on the daily collected balance for an effective annual yield of 5.467%. Your Premier Checking account still earns interest even if your balance falls below the limits, but there will be a $7 service charge for the month.

Premier Checking is available to individuals and non-profit organizations; sole proprietorships are also eligible under slightly different qualifications. Existing customers may sign a Premier Checking agreement to convert their checking account. Account numbers and checks remain the same. How Simple!

At Ann Arbor Trust, we want you to get your money's worth. And that means helping you select the checking account that's right for you. Our goal is to provide you with the best in banking services, and Premier Checking is one way we're doing just that.

Hold That Line

America's first automatic telephone system was patented Dec. 5, 1879, by Daniel Connolly of Philadelphia and two other inventors. Unfortunately, the complicated system of wires and batteries could accommodate only a few lines and was never commercially applied. The Communications Collection of Henry Ford Museum, Dearborn, includes an 1879 Universal switchboard and a c.1915 automatic switchboard.

GI Bill Time

Running Out

For Vietnam Vets

Seventy-four percent of the 369,000 Vietnam Era veterans who live in Michigan have taken some form of training under the GI Bill.

Statistics show that 271,302 veterans used their educational benefits and that of those 164,548 attended college.

Veterans have 10 years from the date of discharge to complete training under the GI Bill. Veterans discharged in 1971 have only one more year to help them defray educational costs.

Training is not restricted to college, as there are programs for on-the-job training and other residential schools providing technical training that may be attended.

Gordon W. Clowney, director of the VA regional office in Detroit, urged any veteran who still has time available to consider using the GI Bill for training.

Swimmers of the Week

JOHN HOFFMAN, right, and Kevin Colombo are this week's featured swimmers. Hoffman has specialized in the 500 freestyle and won his specialty with a lifetime best 5:44 against Ypsilanti Lincoln last week. In the same meet, Colombo was third in the 500 free with a personal best time of 5:59 and swam butterfly on the winning medley relay. Both swimmers were participants on the second-place free relay team. These young swimmers are a strong part of Chelsea's swimming future.

Freshman Swimmers Add Strength to Varsity Team

Chelsea High's swimming team is being led in wins by its upperclassmen but in best times by its freshmen. The team has won its first two dual meets, 103-89, over Monroe and 100-72 over Lincoln.

Freshmen who have posted best times include John Drew, 50 and 100 free; Steve Ramsay, 50 free, 100 free, 100 back and 200 I.M.; Darrin Fowler, 50, 100 and 200 free and 100 breast; Kraig Leach, diving; Richard Merkel, 50, 100 and 200 free; Ted Merkel, 50, 100 and 200 free and 100 breast; Alan Roderick, 50, 100 and 200 free and 100 fly; John Hoffman, 50, 100, 200 and 500 free; Kevin Colombo, 100, 200 and 500 free and 200 I.M.

Those swimmers who have already qualified for the state meet include captains Tom Gaunt, two relays, 100 back and 200 I.M.; Phil Hoffman, 200 free and two relays; Mike Mason, freestyle on two relays.

Also qualified for the state meet are Craig Wirtz, two relays; Dave Mason, two relays, 200 I.M., 100 fly and 100 back; John Robbins, 100 back and medley relay; Sean Oxner, free relay; and Dave Nicola, two relays and 50 free.

Other swimmers who are nearing state qualifying include Kirk Hawks, medley relay, 100 back, 100 breast; Shawn Pierson, 100 breast and medley relay; and Paul Schumann, free relay.

Chelsea returns state meet scorers Gaunt, medley relay and backstroke; Nicola, both relays; Dave Mason, medley relay, 200 I.M. and 100 fly; Phil Hoffman, both relays and 100 free; and Mike Mason, free relay.

This year's state meet will be March 13-14 at Grand Rapids Junior College.

This week the team will host the Novi Wildcats on Tuesday and travel to Ann Arbor Huron to meet the Class "A" state runners-up River Rats. Chelsea will have a 14-meet winning streak on the line.

Kerry B. Klave Finishes Outboard Motor Training

Kerry B. Klave recently completed a one-week service training course for the maintenance and repair of Mariner outboard motors.

During the Mariner Service Training Course held in Fond du Lac, Wis., Klave was awarded a certificate which designates him as a factory trained Mariner Outboard Service Technician. He is employed by Klave's Marina at Portage Lake.

Klave received technical training on the operation, diagnostic and repair procedures on Mariner outboard motors.

Mariner Outboards, a division of Brunswick Corp., manufactures and markets outboard motors from 2 to 200 h. p. worldwide. Mariner conducts 70 service training courses each year at seven locations in North America. By attending this training, Klave is able to provide better customer service for area boaters.

Help Offered In Seeking Tax Refunds

This year, a number of local agencies and organizations have volunteered to provide tax assistance to senior citizens and indigents in the preparation and submission of state property tax and heating credit claims as provided under the State Income Tax Statute.
