Dr. M. Papo In National Geographic

Perusing the pages of the February issue of National Geographic magazine, local readers may notice a familiar face found on a double page spread engulfed in a piece entitled "The Caribbean: Sun, Sea and Seething," an in-depth examination of the parallels in that part of the hemisphere—the booming tourism and social unrest—that combine to form the personality of each of the islands.

On a pleasure excursion in the perfect Caribbean sailing waters, Dr. Michael Papo, in the midst of friends, is seen navigating his 71-foot ketch, "Sealestial," off the coast of Antigua.

RICK'S MARKET DISASTER: Since mid-October, this sign has been posted on the front door of Rick's Market following the misapplication or over-application of pesticides within the store. Currently, a law suit charging Orkin Exterminators with criminal negligence is pending in the courts.

Rick's Market Files Suit for $1 Million-Plus Charging Negligence

Following the apparent misapplication or over-application of an Orkin-patented pesticide on Sunday, Oct. 12, Rick's Market voluntarily locked its doors Thursday, Oct. 17 after customers complained of foul tasting and odorous foodstuffs.

Today, the store remains closed, and the fate of the market lies in the hands of the courts.

Orkin Exterminators, home-based in Atlanta, Ga., are currently facing a law suit brought about by Rick's Market owner Terry Rickerman, charging criminal negligence.

Rick's Market and Orkin had had a contractual agreement for approximately 10 years prior to the Oct. 12 incident whereby Orkin would periodically fumigate the store's interior. This procedure is common to all food stores.

According to a reliable source, on the occasion of the alleged contamination, Orkin employee Steve Schutte fumigated the store with an unmarked, dark-colored liquid which, instead of dissipating in mid-air, fell to the floor in puddles. Knowing something was wrong, Schutte, according to the source, immediately notified his superiors in Jackson. The source confirms that neither the applicator, Schutte, nor his immediate supervisors, were licensed properly under the state of Michigan or Federal pesticide application laws.

A clean-up of the puddles of pesticide that draped Rick's Market was begun almost immediately. Following Orkin recommendation, Rickerman, his family, and his employees began washing down the store, disassembling shelves and wiping down walls with a hot water and Lysol solution. Long hours were spent trying to rid the market of the foul smell that would soon permeate everything neither canned nor jarred.

Opening Monday morning, Oct. 13, Rickerman had customers returning merchandise and complaining of foul taste and smell almost immediately. Records of all returned goods are still being kept. By Thursday, the doors of Rick's Market were locked.

In the meantime, the Michigan Department of Agriculture and the Environmental Protection Agency began gathering samples from Rick's to test for possible levels of contamination. On Oct. 24, one of two notices of seizure was issued by the Michigan Department of Agriculture whereby all inventory stocking Rick's Market was to be removed and destroyed.

Finding an EPA and DNR-approved landfill became the next major task which would take nearly one month. It was not until Nov. 15 that a landfill in western Wayne county was located and given approval. On that day, rental trucks that had been storing the entirety of Rick's Market's inventory for weeks, were driven to the unnamed site. At that time, officials from the Michigan Department of Agriculture and Michigan liquor control inspectors were present as all food, liquor and paper products—in fact, everything in the store—was buried.

Orkin had agreed to provide all equipment, materials and personnel to clean up the mess at Rick's Market. The plans to assist and carry out the complete clean-up took the form of a signed stipulation between Orkin and Rick's Market representatives. It was filed in Washtenaw County Circuit Court before Judge Patrick Conlin. In the instance of dumping the contaminated stock, Orkin supplied the services stipulated.

Between the time that the inventory at Rick's Market was seized and destroyed, a number of things occurred. On Oct. 27, three days after the initial notice of seizure, Terry Rickerman entered University Hospital suffering from slurred speech, trouble with vision and loss of equilibrium. According to an unnamed spokesperson, requests were made by the hospital to Orkin headquarters as to the best mode of treatment. Offering Orkin a precise description of Rickerman's symptoms, University Hospital requested all information regarding treatment.

According to a source familiar with the case, Orkin did not supply any of the medical information or assistance requested. Unable to be treated, Terry Rickerman remained in the hospital under observation for four days. A signed statement by the Department of Internal Medicine at University Hospital explains that without the presence of the EPA label on the bottle that would have listed ingredients and emergency treatment information, certain tests could not be performed. Certain levels of toxicity within Rickerman were evident. In addition, the written statement implied that without knowing what was being dealt with, it would be impossible to gauge any long-term effects. According to a reliable source, this situation was "not unlike PBB contamination."

Since the time of Rickerman's hospitalization, he, in a period of two weeks, lost 30 lbs. Both he

Cagers Win Over S. Lyon, Rival Dexter

Tuesday evening, Chelsea's varsity cagers took on the South Lyon Lions, defeating them, 73-70, and racking up their fourth win in five games.

In the first quarter, the Lions pulled ahead by two points, 16-14, but Chelsea came back in the second to play the finest offensive quarter of the season. Scoring 24 points, 12 of 18 from the free throw line for 75 percent, the Bulldogs held a 38-33 lead at the half.

Coming back after intermission, the Bulldogs outscored their opponents, 19-16, to take a 57-49 lead into the final stanza. By the end of the fourth quarter, the Lions narrowed the gap, losing by three.

Chelsea played good, consistent basketball, ending the night with a 60 percent average from the floor, connecting on 31 of 52 attempts. Comparatively, the Lions connected on 27 of 61 for a 44 percent shooting average.

Both teams played evenly, both are offense-minded teams. The game was close but the key to Chelsea's win was the South Lyon cagers' poor shooting.

Pacing the Bulldogs was senior captain Jeff Dils with 25 points, four rebounds and five assists. Chris Tobin followed Dils with 16 points and seven rebounds. Jeff Price connected for 10 points, David Wojcik eight, Mike Bareis six, Jon Riemenschneider six points and six rebounds and Mark Steinaway added two points toward the winning effort.

Chelsea's rebounding improved, pulling the ball down on 30 occasions as opposed to South Lyon's 20 total rebounds. Turnovers were even, Chelsea committing 17 while their opponents ended the evening with 16.

Financial Crisis for CATS Bus

The Chelsea Area Transportation System, more commonly known as CATS, is facing bleak times ahead. The system, which has been in operation for more than five years has lost a $5,000 operating subsidy from the State of Michigan following drastic budget-cutting measures undertaken by Governor Milliken.

With state funding cuts for operating subsidies to handicapped and elderly transportation services this year, CATS must seek alternative means of acquiring its 1981 operating budget of $17,500.

The system, begun in 1975, serves the transportation needs of the elderly and handicapped in and around Chelsea. Initiated a few years earlier, former Kiwanis Club President Sam Johnson and Fred Barkley, were instrumental in acquiring available grants for such a program. Thereafter, a non-profit corporation was established wherein the major contributing organizations maintained seats on the Board of Directors. Included on the CATS board are the Village of Chelsea, Sylvan township, Lima township, United Way, Kiwanis Club, Lions Club, Jaycees and the Methodist Home. In 1980, the Methodist Home Residential Council contributed to the CATS system.

CATS has provided the only means of travel for a great many persons in the Chelsea area. Equipped with a lift for wheelchairs, the CATS bus carried a total of 8,277 riders in 1980, nearly 700 persons per month. Supplied for those persons who, for the most part, are on fixed incomes, CATS has maintained its 25-cent fare per one-way trip.

Operating costs for the CATS system are low; the Village of Chelsea does all maintenance and CATS employs only one full-time driver. Office space is provided by the Methodist Home and the office is manned by volunteer residents. Though the state operating subsidy has been eliminated, CATS is still eligible for equipment grants if the need for a new bus arises.

With a 1981 operating budget totalling $17,500 and with $11,600 contributed by members of the corporation, CATS must now generate the additional $5,900 of necessary revenue in order to maintain a full time operating (Continued on page eight)

A GOLD PLAQUE OF APPRECIATION was bestowed upon Lima township trustee Harold L. Gross after Monday, Feb. 3 as he retired his post after 21 years. Presenting the plaque was Lella Bauer, township supervisor.

Harold Gross Cited for Service to Lima Township

Lima Township residents joined together Monday, Feb. 3 to honor Trustee Harold L. Gross, retiring after 21 years. Gross began his first term as Township Trustee in 1959, when Leigh Beach was supervisor.

Lella Bauer, supervisor of Lima township, presented Gross with a gold plaque in appreciation of his years of service and reflected on the years that she had worked with him as both clerk and supervisor and said that no job was ever too big for him; he was always willing and dependable.

In addition, Bauer explained that all decisions that Harold was ever asked to make were in the best interest of the people of Lima township. "I am proud to have been able to serve with Mr. Gross and he should be proud as well because he served his township with respect and dignity.

Harold Gross lives with his wife, Hazel, on their homestead farm at 891 Parker Rd., Dexter. The couple has seven children and 10 grandchildren. In addition to farming, he was employed with the University of Michigan until his retirement.

From now on, Gross plans to continue farming, to serve on the Township Appeals Board and to enjoy his grandchildren.

ONE DOWN, NINE TO GO: Toby Boyd (32) is unsteady as a downed Dexter cager sprawls on the court. Moving in to help is Mark Hiser (43) and Jeff Dils (22). In an evenly played, well fought contest, Chelsea defeated the Dreadnaughts, 48-42, before a large home crowd Friday night.

Thursday, Feb. 17, 1977—Chrysler Corp., armed with a Circuit Court injunction signed by Washtenaw County Circuit Court Judge Ross W. Campbell, succeeded in sending a semi-truck through a 35-man picket line of striking Rockwell International workers Tuesday morning, Feb. 15. The truck was sent to pick-up Rockwell manufactured parts for Chrysler.

From a population of nearly 4,000, only 19 area residents appeared to participate in the half-hour 1977 Chelsea Village Caucus, Monday evening, Feb. 14. The caucus, held by the local Independent Party, met to select a slate of candidates to fill the expiring terms of three village trustees, the village clerk and two library board trustees.

Only three short weeks after being apprehended on charges of breaking and entering a private dwelling, a 17-year-old Chelsea youth was again in police custody, this time for illegally entering a local business firm and attempting to cash a forged check. Also arrested was his accomplice, a Chelsea juvenile.

A 36-year-old area man, Troy Lee Lewis of 16831 Kilmer Rd., escaped serious injury after being struck by an Amtrak train at the Hayes St. crossing early Tuesday morning, Feb. 15. Lewis was pinned inside his 1976 Chevy pickup for nearly an hour before being rescued from the vehicle by the Grass Lake Fire Department.

Thursday, Feb. 23, 1967—A new home for the Chelsea State Bank will be constructed this year on cleared lots at the corner of Orchard and S. Main Sts., one block south of the present bank building. Excavation and construction are scheduled to begin this spring and completion of the new facility by late 1967 is anticipated.

One of the first steps in a complex and lengthy moving process was taken last week when Spicer power take-off units were first assembled at Dana Corporation's new plant off Sibley Rd. This assembly line was moved from the firm's Toledo operations.

Chelsea Police Chief John Palmer formally submitted his resignation to the Village Council Tuesday night. He said that he wanted the Council to know that his decision to leave was not the result of any disagreement with the Council and that he had been considering a change since November.

Students Do Well In Assessment Tests

The state Department of Education recently reported Michigan students continue to score higher at all grades in reading tests than in math tests.

Phillip Runkle, superintendent of public instruction, in releasing the results of the 1980-81 assessments tests, noted more than 70 percent of the students in each of the tested grades—four, seven and ten—received satisfactory scores.

The test was revised this year to better reflect what is taught in schools and thus results were not directly compared to results of prior years.

Runkle, however, did declare that Michigan students have made great progress in the basic skills during the past decade.

The best scores in the math test were achieved by fourth graders, with 72 percent of the students getting satisfactory scores.

That level fell sharply to 59 percent in the seventh grade and 58 percent in the 10th grade.

Although fairly consistent at each grade level, reading scores were highest at the seventh grade level, with 77 percent of the students achieving satisfactory scores, compared to 71 percent of the fourth graders and 75 percent of the 10th graders.

A satisfactory score indicates a student achieved at least 75 percent of the test objectives.

Girls continue to do better on the tests than do boys, although the department said the gap is narrowing, compared to tests over the past three years.

The tests also showed the most serious reading problems occurred among both sexes at the fourth grade level, where 6 percent of the students achieved less than 25 percent of the objectives.

The most serious math problems were in the 10th grade where 5 percent of the students show unsatisfactory results.

Governor Now Sensitive To Small Business: Brickley

After years of government growth, government is now sensitive to the needs of business and the creation of jobs, Lieutenant Governor James H. Brickley said at a conference on small business.

Brickley called upon those present to offer their ideas on what can be done to improve the business climate in Michigan and create jobs.

"I do not propose to tell you what I think ought to be done to help business, because the purpose of this conference is for you to tell us," he said.

Brickley said the political climate is now receptive to the notion of creating jobs.

During the meeting, Legionnaires voted to make the semi-annual mortgage payment, send two boys to Boys State, purchase a new bronze plaque for the School Award and to back the Fourth of July fireworks. Answering numerous requests, the Post will sponsor another euchre tournament Friday, Feb. 27 beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Pike—1.) Shad Hiltz entered a 28 7/8-inch winner; 2.) John Hollenbeck had a 27 3/4-inch fish and 3.) Doug Helek reeled in a 22 1/2-inch placer.

In the Youth Division, Panfish category, Liz Taylor reeled in the largest, a 8 1/2-inch specimen. Second and third place was a draw, both Mike Taylor and Mike Kushmaul entered 7 3/4-inch panfish.

In the Perch competition, Chad Trible had a 10 1/4-inch to place first while Mike Schumaker entered a 9-inch perch. In third place was Todd Rowe with an 8 and 15/16-inch placer.

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Ed Doolittle come to the session at the country store Saturday night with his usual handful of clippings, and before the fellers could settle in around the stove he peeled one off the top of the stack and commenced to talk his first editorial of the evening. The final census figgers, Ed allowed, was the biggest mystery he had plowed up lately.

Ed said he had saw by the papers where on April 1, 1980, the day of the official count, they was 226,504,825 noses in this nation, not one nose more or less. That's slicing the cheese pretty thin, declared Ed, and he said he couldn't help wondering how come the Census Bureau wasn't content to round it off at the nearest dozen, considering all the trouble they had getting the count going and then getting it stopped. Ed said he could clear recollect three sets of what was called preliminary figgers coming out ahead of the final number. If they got close but missed three times, Ed ask, how are they to know they hit it smack on the button the next time?

Furthermore, Ed went on, exact figgers was give last month fer ever state, and these come out will all kinds of personal stuff about who moved in and who moved out since the last count, and how many have two cars and no indoor toilet. What is the biggest puzzlement, Ed declared, is how the Census folks can count big exact, but they git mixed up when they count little. Fer instant, Ed had saw where most small towns in the country claim they got more folks than the Census give em. And most of the towns got more ever time they come out with a preliminary total. If the Census ain't sure of the population of any particular place, Ed said he couldn't see how they could be sure about the whole place.

General speaking, the fellers didn't git near as worked up about the census as Ed was. Bug Hookum, fer one, allowed a few million folks more or less didn't bother him anything like this report he saw about the earth being on time fer the first time in eight year. Bug said he could see how gains and losses would shift the say-so in congress, but he couldn't see what would happen without the "leap seconds" we have been using to catch up every year. Bug wanted to know who sets the clock we set ours by? If we don't keep up what will be ahead of us? Bug said he had thought the situation up one side and down the other, and he was of a mind that the idea that we come from somewhere and we got to measure our headlong run to somewhere was made up by somebody that can't stand having nothing but now all the time. The way Bug's got it figured, Mister Editor, time is nothing but one now after another, or the same now over and over.

Personal, Mister Editor, I figger if sun time is the right time and the earth runs slow, in a few million year folks will be gitting up in the middle of the night to go to work. With all the other problems we're making fer em, we wouldn't want that, so I'm fer leap seconds. I saw where the national debt on Jan. 1 was $914,515,386,538.78, to the penny, up $82 billion in a year. We're borrowing everthing else to live, so we might as well live on borrowed time.

Rita Wilson-Howard Brings
Professionalism to 'Vanities'

The country may be suffering from an energy shortage but the star of the Chelsea Players production of "Vanities," Rita Wilson-Howard, certainly is not. Aside from being a homemaker with three small boys, Wilson-Howard teaches several classes in baton and charm school.

Jack Heifner's bittersweet comedy is a natural for the former Miss Tennessee, Rita Wilson-Howard. It is a razor sharp depiction of an era when cheerleading and beauty contests were the only outlet for energetic, competitive young women.

Wilson-Howard's success in beauty competition led her into a career in acting. She graduated cum laude from Northwestern University with a B.A. in theatre arts and went to New York for further study at the famed Actor's Studio. This was followed by additional study at the Royal Academy of Dramatic Arts in London.

She has starred in several theatre productions ranging from Ophelia in Hamlet to Louise, "Gypsy Rose Lee" in Gypsy. Aside from her extensive stage roles, Wilson-Howard has also appeared in film, television and advertisements.

Bringing boundless energy to the role of Mary in "Vanities," is Chelsea's Rita Wilson-Howard. Hysterically funny at times, the play's slickly drawn "girl talk" perfectly captures the spirit of young women coming of age in the Sixties.

Tickets for the Feb. 21 dinner-theatre are available at Heydlauff's and Pierson & Riemenschneider Realty in Chelsea.

RITA WILSON-HOWARD, a former Miss Tennessee and actress, will star in the Chelsea Players dinner-theatre production of Jack Heifner's "Vanities," Saturday evening, Feb. 21. The bittersweet comedy of three young girls coming of age in the Sixties will follow a dinner prepared by gourmet chef Sherry Sundling. Based on ticket sales, menu preparation will begin soon. Persons planning to attend this Chelsea Players production are encouraged to purchase their tickets this week.

Spring Musical Slated March 12-14

On March 12 through 14, Chelsea High school will present performances of Rodgers and Hammerstein's "Me and Juliet." The annual spring musical will be directed by Tamara Barbre, marking her fourth musical in Chelsea.

"Me and Juliet" unfolds the story of a hit Broadway musical behind the scenes. Scenes from the actual performances are staged at the same time that actions are taking place backstage; both are seen by the audience.

Through song and story, the characters develop, showing their likes and dislikes, their loves and hates. A love triangle also develops, threatening a happy ending.

Appearing in leading roles are Kim Harvey as Jeanie, Mike Ward as Bob, Jim Herter as Larry, Marcia Warren as Betty, Eric Kruger as Sidney, Phil Powers as Mac, Tom Mull as Charlie, Paula Haist as Juliet and Rick Eder as Ruby.

Tickets for "Me and Juliet" will go on sale to the public Friday, Feb. 20 at a cost of $3 each. Group ticket rates, for 15 people or more, will also be available at a reduced cost of $2.50. Additional ticket information may be obtained by contacting Kim Harvey at 475-2052.

Mother's March
Volunteers Needed

Local volunteers are still urgently needed for the 1981 Mother's March on Birth Defects, according to area March of Dimes representatives.

"Every single marcher makes a difference," said Judge Kenneth Bronson, publicity co-chairman. "Birth defects are a matter of concern to everyone and we welcome the help of everyone... men, women, young and old... in calling on their neighbors for this important cause."

The 31st annual Mother's March is scheduled for March 1-8. Volunteers will visit approximately 20 homes in their neighborhood to ask for contributions to the March of Dimes which sponsors a program of research, education and treatment to combat birth defects.

Bronson urged those interested in becoming volunteer marchers to call the Washtenaw-Livingston Chapter of the March of Dimes Birth Defects Foundation at 761-6331 for further information.

JC Auxiliary Launches Drive for CF Detection

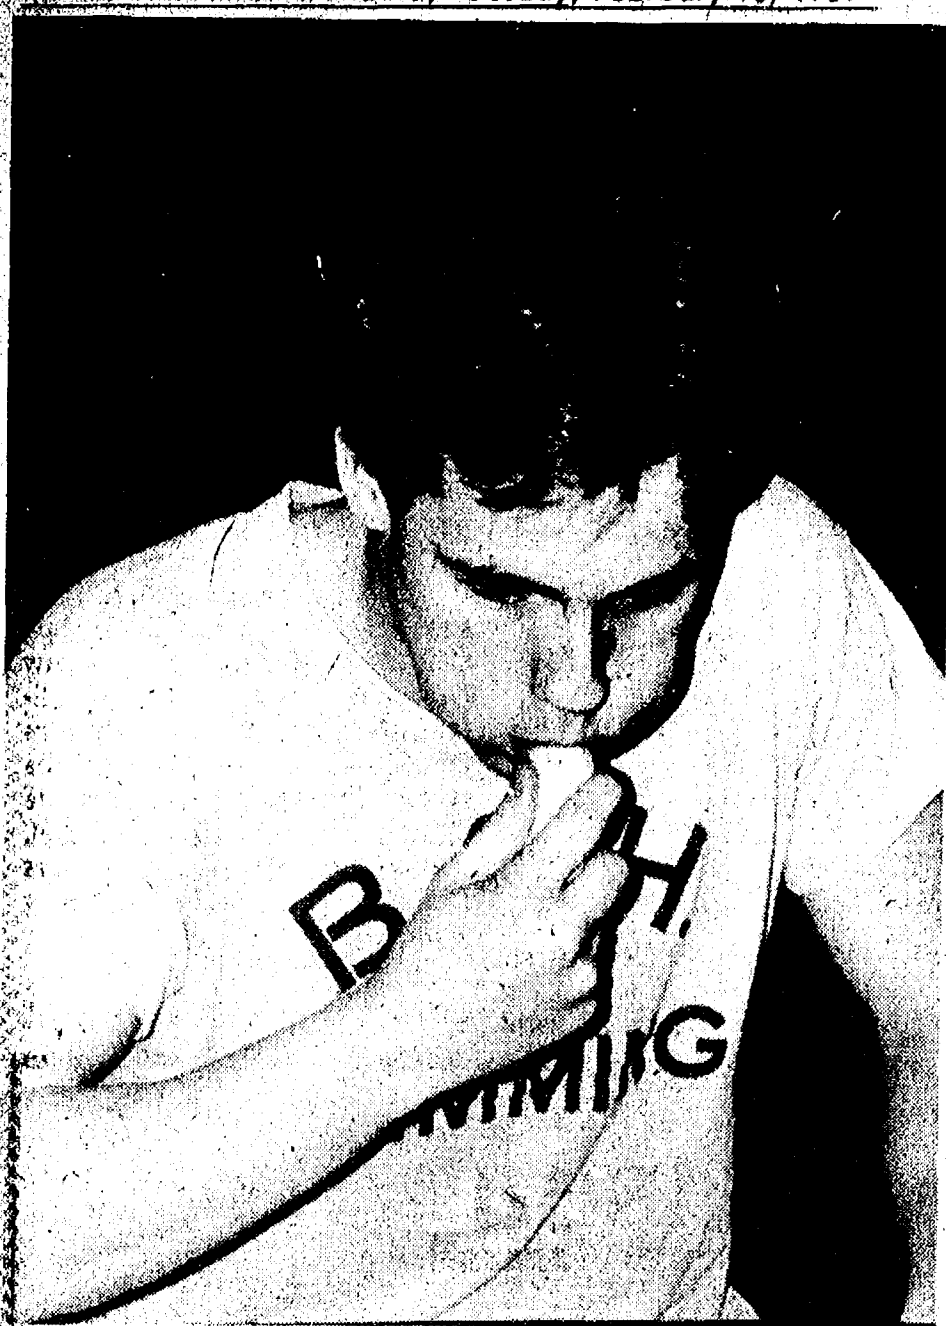

The Cystic Fibrosis Foundation and the Michigan Jaycee Auxiliary has launched a state-wide educational project, "Kiss Your Baby," for the week of Feb. 8-14. The purpose of this week-long venture is to alert parents to the symptoms of cystic fibrosis and other children's lung diseases in the hope that early diagnosis and prompt treatment—an essential element in lengthening the life span of children with CF—will result.

One of the symptoms of cystic fibrosis is an extremely salty taste to the CF child's perspiration which may be detected by kissing or tasting them on the forehead. Other symptoms include recurrent wheezing, persistent coughing and excess mucus, pneumonia more than once during childhood, excessive appetite but poor weight gain and enlargement of fingertips. Suspecting parents are directed to contact their local physician.

"It is estimated that respiratory problems in children take up to 70 percent of a pediatrician's time and are the leading cause of chronic absenteeism from school," said Arlene Samek of the Chelsea Jaycee Auxiliary. "Furthermore, cystic fibrosis is second only to cancer in the number of young lives it takes and one-third of the victims of this disease are not yet diagnosed. Because early diagnosis of CF is essential to longer life for these children, we have embarked on this state-wide campaign to bring this vital health message to the people of Michigan."

Cystic fibrosis is an inherited disease for which there is neither cure nor control.

Though both parents must be carriers of the CF gene, one in 20 persons in the U.S. is a carrier. In Michigan alone, there are nearly one-half million such carriers. At present there is no definite test to determine a carrier of the CF gene.

Rick's Market Suing . . .

and his employees have been treated as out-patients at University Hospital for various side effects following the Orkin incident. They are all parties named in the law suit against the exterminating company, a company which allegedly, offered Rick's Market $90,000 as an out-of-court settlement.

Numerous tests by the Michigan Department of Agriculture revealed high levels of toxicity in both packaged and unpackaged goods taken from Rick's Market. In a letter signed by Theodore Grabin of the Michigan Department of Agriculture, following food inspection and testing, high levels of toxicity were discovered. The kerosene-based chemicals had permeated plastic and cardboard and had contaminated the contents.

The chemical that had been used to fumigate Rick's Market was discovered to be Orkinban Plus, a pesticide that was to be applied in cracks and crevices only. According to sources close to the incident, Orkin had denied the use of this pesticide.

Nevertheless, Orkinban Plus, EPA registration No. 6754-48, was not to be applied through the air and was not to be applied in the presence of food. The label that was intended to be, but was not, on the Orkinban Plus container was explicitly labelled "poison."

The EPA label warned that persons should not come into direct contact with it, via touch, smell or taste and protective clothing should be worn, including gloves and respirators. If any direct contact with the pesticide results, certain emergency medical precautions listed were to be followed.

But, when Rick's Market requested cleaning information, Orkin spokesmen suggested a hot water and Lysol solution to wash everything down. While Rickerman and his family and employees were cleaning the store, Rickerman ate hot dogs that were later analyzed to contain high levels of toxicity, higher than considered safe by EPA standards.

Following an initial expenditure of $28,000 to clean Rick's Market, additional contaminated merchandise was discovered in an outdoor storage locker. On Jan. 6, the Department of Agriculture issued a second notice of seizure, again signed by Theodore Grabin. According to the notice, Rick's Market cannot and will not re-open until all contaminated merchandise is removed and destroyed and there is no possibility of further re-contamination. But Orkin, which had earlier signed a clean-up stipulation, had not, at the time of this report, removed the contents of the outdoor locker. It follows, therefore, that Rick's Market remains closed.

There is no immediate likelihood that Rick's Market will re-open. Since its initial closure in October, business losses total nearly $250,000 while inventory losses have been estimated at $100,000.

Whether or not Rick's Market should re-open remains in question. The potential loss of business following this incident remains a key aspect. Three months following the airborne contamination, the odor of pesticides was still present in the air. If and when Rick's Market does re-open, however, it will do so with a completely new inventory.

In accordance with the late autumn contamination of Rick's Market, Terry Rickerman and his associates are seeking monetary damages from Orkin in excess of $1 million.

In hopes of giving Orkin the opportunity to refute or agree with the aforementioned account of the incident, this reporter attempted to contact the Orkin Jackson office for comment. Reaching business manager Alan Taber, he declined any comment unless otherwise advised by the Orkin legal counsel.

Special Olympian Cagers Defeat High Point Teams

On Friday, Jan. 30, the Chelsea mens and womens Special Olympics basketball teams traveled to High Point Center for a rematch. The women had to combine with the Dexter High women to have a large enough team. As a result, the combined team effort afforded the women a 42-36 win over High Point.

Lori Brown of Chelsea was the high scorer with 22 points. Others who played on the team were Dawn Stancato, Linda Alber, Theresa Murphy and Doris Esch of Dexter. It was a very exciting game, the score was close throughout it's length.

The Chelsea mens team also defeated High Point, 39-31. The High Point team had improved a great deal since Chelsea first played them. Pacing the Chelsea cagers was Tracey Harvey with 21 points. Mike Goebel, Terence Verge and Dennis Czechowski each added six points to the victors' scoreboard. Others who played were Clarence Weiss, Mike Foster, Glenn Passow, Ryan Sweeny, Albert Bedard, Mark Turnblum and Paul Klapperich.

The Special Olympic State Basketball Tournament will be held on March 28 and 29 at Hope College in Holland. Washtenaw county has opted to send an all-star team. Of the 10 members comprising the team, five will be from Chelsea. They include Tracey Harvey, Mike Goebel, Terence Verge, Dennis Czechowski and Terry Walkowe.

Cagers Dump Dexter

From the free throw line, Chelsea was good for 11 of 17 for a 65 percent average; the Bulldogs are 68 percent from the foul line this season. South Lyon completed 16 of 21 attempts for 76 percent.

This match-up of two offensive teams found Chelsea in control during the last four minutes of the third quarter and throughout the fourth. South Lyon was forced to foul at the end of the game. Playing catch-up, the Lions were unable to take control while the Bulldogs held the momentum and dominated the final minutes.

Chelsea has developed into a second half team. According to Coach Robin Raymond, "We play well under pressure, we remain composed and poised. We're much improved over the beginning of the season."

Friday, to cap off Winter Carnival week at Chelsea High school, the Bulldogs took on the Dexter Dreadnaughts in a battle between two arch rivals. In alternating quarters, opposing sides controlled the game and, with Chelsea in control during the second and fourth, the Bulldogs emerged with a 48-42 win over the Dreadnaughts.

The see-saw effect is easily illustrated in that Dexter took the lead at the end of the first quarter, 14-10. Chelsea came back and took a 20-18 lead into the locker room. Following intermission, the Dreadnaughts pulled ahead by two, 36-34, but Chelsea caught up and went ahead to win by six, 48-42.

As a second half team, a key to this Chelsea victory, the Bulldogs' fifth in six games, was the limited number of shots afforded Dexter. Chelsea's defense was good, allowing the Dreadnaughts only 13 shots in the first and fourth quarters. The outside was evenly played, a five-point lead was the broadest margin all evening.

From the floor, the statistics prove that the two teams played evenly. Chelsea connected on 19 of 46 for 41 percent while the Dreadnaughts made good on 19 of 45 attempts for 42 percent.

Rebounding, Chelsea had 23, Dexter 22. Commitment of turnovers proved even as well with Chelsea committing 18 and Dexter 15.

A probable difference in the game was Chelsea's ability from the free throw line. The Bulldogs connected on 10 of 15 attempts for 67 percent while the Dreadnaughts were good on only four in 12 attempts for a 33 percent average.

Chelsea's performance, according to Coach Raymond was "real average. We didn't play a great game, but we came out on top and that's a sign of our improvement."

With the biggest crowd of the year on hand, Chelsea and Dexter played hard and intensely throughout the contest. In a defensive rather than offensive game, Raymond was pleased to see his team win after lackluster play. "It's a real plus point, we were consistent and that's a sign of a good team."

Pacing the team was Jeff Dils with 20 points while Jeff Price, playing his best game of the year, added 10 points, seven rebounds and five steals. Wojcik had eight points, Riemenschneider six, and Tobin and Boyd two apiece.

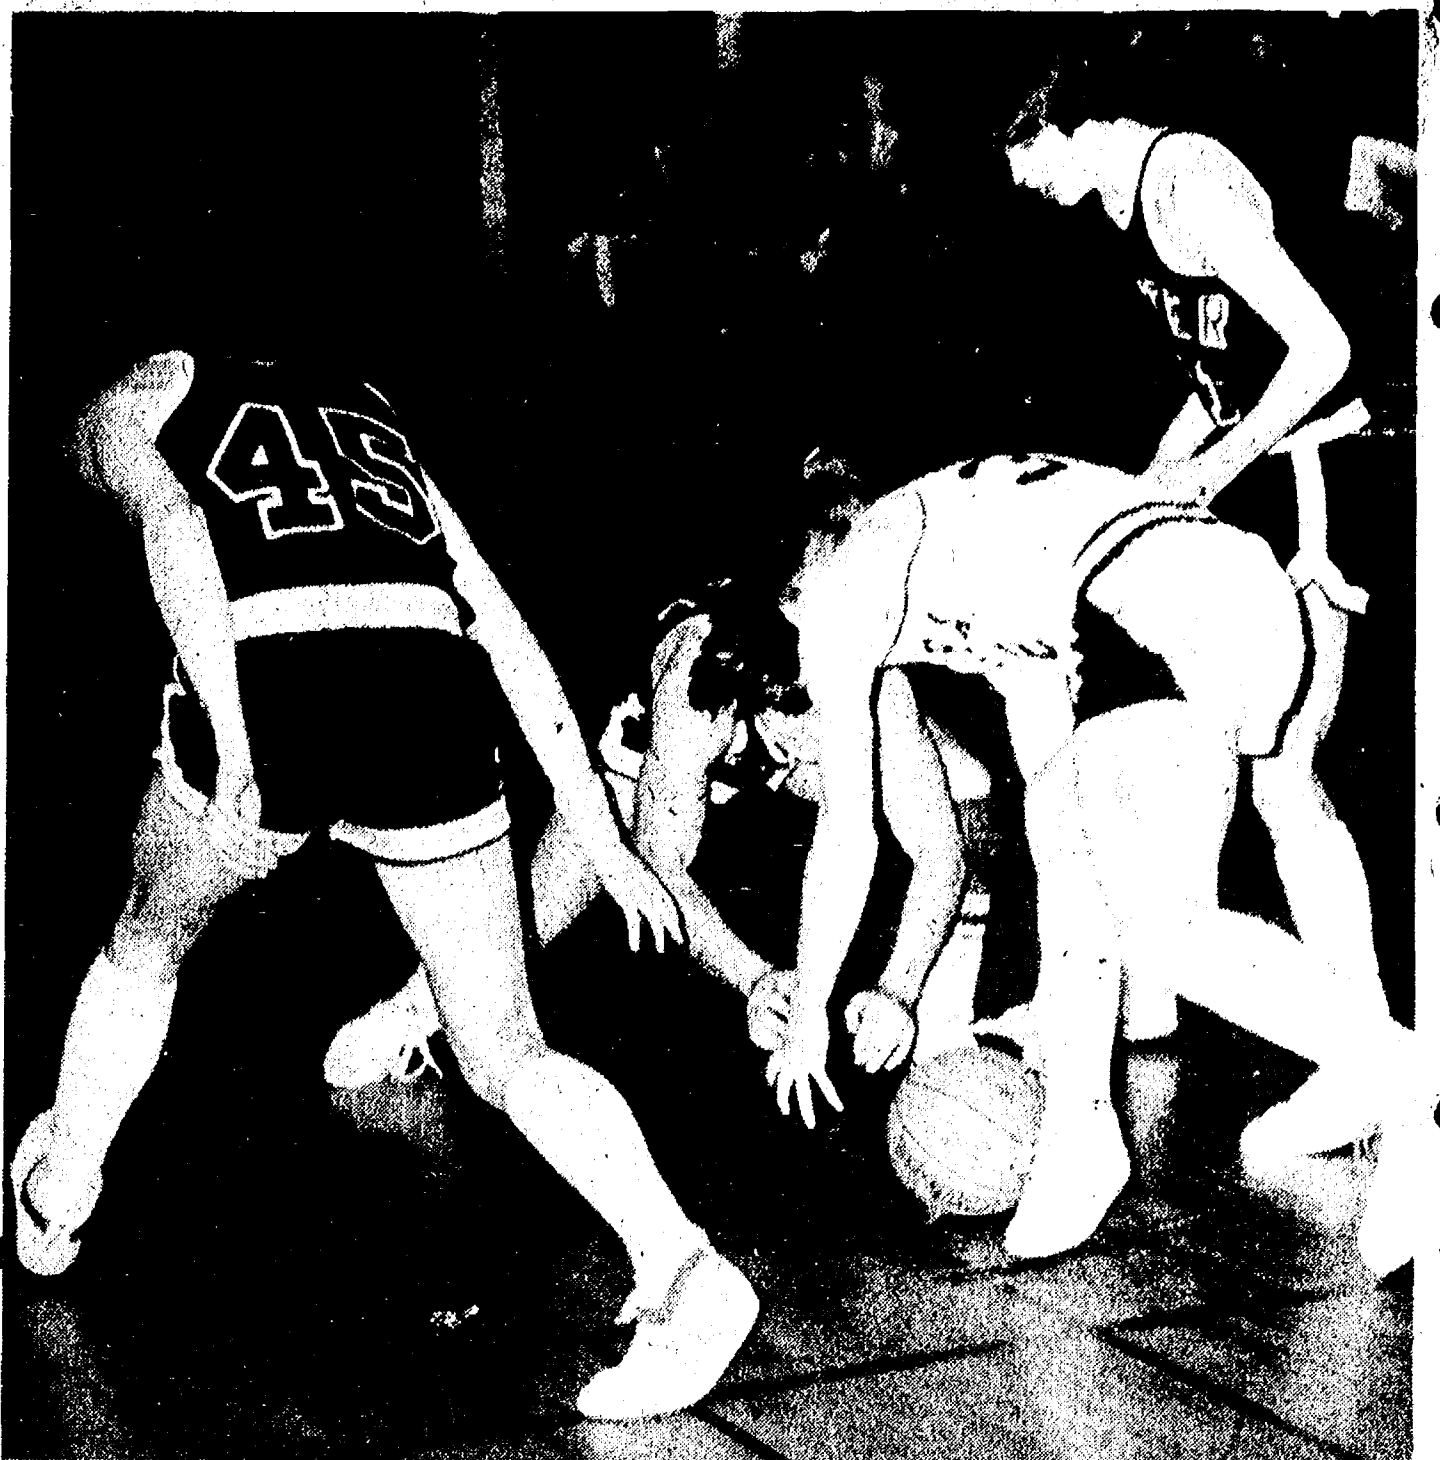

Rebounds were spread evenly across the team. Price led with seven followed by Tobin and Riemenschneider with five and Dils with four.

The tempo in this contest dictated a low scoring game and, in the second half, Chelsea slowed the pace down in order to keep the tempo controlled. Fast improvement is a key to Chelsea's upswing since the Christmas holiday.

Though the varsity Bulldogs pulled off another win, the JV cagers followed suit with another loss at the hands of the junior Dreadnaughts. Chelsea played well until they went ice-cold in the fourth quarter, connecting on two of 14 attempts for a grim 14 percent average.

With the score 44-48 in Dexter's favor, Chelsea was given six consecutive opportunities to catch up late in the fourth quarter. Every shot was missed. For an evening high of 30 percent shooting ability from the floor, poor connection was Chelsea's downfall as the Dreadnaughts won, 51-44.

Pacing the losers was Ken Nadeau with 10 points while Frank Waller added eight. Top rebounder was Matt McCallum with nine; Dave Mann had eight. The loss dropped the JV cager record to 3-12 over-all and 3-7 in the league.

TOBY BOYD lunges toward the rolling basketball surrounded by a trio of Dexter Dreadnaughts. Despite a team effort by the opposition, the Bulldogs capped their Winter Carnival Week with a convincing 48-42 defeat of the Dexter cagers Friday night at Chelsea.

Less State Funds Cuts School Budget

The failing state of the Michigan economy has had an effect on the finances of the Chelsea School District. The State of Michigan sales tax and other sources of general fund revenue are significantly below 1981 projections. Most governmental units in the state are suffering from reduced shortfalls. K-12 education revenue from the state has been severely impacted.

Chelsea school officials now project that the state revenues to the Chelsea School District will be reduced by $161,000. Chelsea school officials immediately placed a hold on all purchase requisitions.

In addition, school officials made further reductions as follows: $14,000, maintenance and transportation; $1,000, special education; $2,000, community education; $1,000, athletics; $6,000, Chelsea High school; $7,000, Beach Middle school; $5,000, North school; $5,000, South school; $5,000, curriculum improvement.

Those reductions account for approximately $46,000.

School officials also project increased revenue from budget projections for interest income. The increase in interest income is due primarily to an aggressive investment program and high interest rates. The increase of interest income will be approximately $50,000.

The schools further believe that, accounts, which should show an increase of approximately $7,000 per year. The Board of Education and administration have indicated their willingness to carry any cash deficit into the 1981-82 budget.

The Board of Education feels that with budget reductions and further cost-saving measures, the school district will be able to continue this year without program reductions for students.

JV Cagers Drop 3 Close Ones

The Chelsea JV Bulldogs bowed to their opponents on three consecutive occasions, Jan. 30, 31 and Feb. 3.

On Jan. 30, the Bulldogs dropped a game to the Tecumseh Indians, 49-50. Though the Indians had the lead throughout the game, the Bulldogs could have pulled off a win. According to Coach Jon Schaffner, "We missed a shot with two seconds left on the clock. Had we gotten it, we would have won the game."

The JV Bulldogs played well offensively as evidenced by Carl Pate's pacing his team with 18 points. Matt Villemure connected for 12 while Ken Nadeau added eight for the losing cause.

Defensively, the Bulldogs were unable to execute extremely well. Carl Pate led his team in rebounds with nine while Matt McCallum grabbed seven and Ken Nadeau six.

The following night, the JV cagers took on the Big Reds of Milan. Chelsea fell behind, 15-27, at the half; the team dug themselves into a hole they were unable to climb out of.

The Chelsea cagers came back in the second half to out play their opponents, outscoring them, 39-36, in the two periods. Still, they came up short and lost, 64-63, dropping their league record to 3-6.

Chelsea's loss was not all doom and gloom though. The JV cagers connected on 22 of 27 foul shot attempts for an amazing 81 percent. But, the Big Reds were strong from the field.

Pacing the JV cagers was Matt Villemure with a game high 19 points while Mark Brosnan followed with eight points. Leading rebounder was Carl Pate with 10 grabs.

Last Tuesday, Chelsea dropped its record to 3-11 by bowing to the JV Lions of South Lyon, 47-51. According to Coach Schaffner, the Bulldogs "played a mediocre game with floor shooting a poor 30 percent."

South Lyon, on the other hand, had two scoring spurts that clinched their win. The first surge came in the second quarter when they added 10 straight points; the second occurred late in the fourth quarter when they tossed in six points.

The Bulldogs pulled down a total of 26 offensive rebounds, despite their poor shooting.

Pacing the team was Matt Villemure with 16 points while Frank Waller added 13. Rebounds were grabbed by Matt McCallum with 12, Matt Villemure with 11 and Dave Mann with nine. Other scoring and rebounding was spread evenly across the team.

Julie Prohaska Earns Points for EMU Forensics Team

The Eastern Michigan University forensics team topped 14 other schools to win first place in a tournament at Wayne State University Friday and Saturday, Jan. 23 and 24.

Julie Prohaska, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Prohaska of Stofor Ct., Chelsea, was among the EMU forensics team members to place at the Wayne State tournament. Prohaska, a junior at EMU, finished fifth in persuasion and informative competition.

Five Girl Scouts Survive Week-End Freeze-Out Camp

A literally chilling experience was in store for five local girl scouts during the week-end of Jan. 30 and 31. It was then that the quintet from Cadette Troop 98 began their 24-hour long "Freeze-out" at Camp Linden, located approximately 60 miles northeast of Chelsea.

A total of 14 persons headed to Camp Linden Friday, Jan. 30 to begin the week-end long experiences in the learning of survival techniques. The group was made up of 10 girl scouts—Brenda Rush, Edie Harook, Marla Feldman, Patty Nyhof, Somer Havens, Shanda Friday, Cheryl Martin, Amy Oxner, Sheri Erskine and Jimae Ritter; three supervisors, Chris Nyhof, Sandy Patterson and Rose Harook; and first aide man, Fred Luitnik.

Beginning Friday, the group arrived at Camp Linden and began chopping wood and hauling water to the rustic cabin in which they would all spend their first night. With the water pump in the cabin frozen solid, it was necessary for the scouts to build a fire underneath in order to thaw the pump and free the water flow.

Early Saturday morning found eight of the 10 scouts ready to begin their 24-hour test of survival skills. Outside they went dressed in layered clothing, pitching tents with straw underneath to provide insulation. Armed with sleeping bags and numerous blankets, the octet began to work on two achievement badges—the challenge of emergency preparedness and the Freeze-out patch.

Five of the eight who began the icy event succeeded in the 24-hour stint with Jack Frost; the other three were disillusioned by his "nose-nipping" and opted for warmer surroundings.

Time spent in the sub-zero temperature was riddled with game-playing, nature hikes and, naturally, food devouring. The girls feasted on "foil dinners," traditional campfire fare made up of hamburger, potatoes and carrots wrapped in aluminum foil and roasted in the flames.

No injuries resulted from the camping experience, though the Freeze-out survivors complained of getting cold while spending an entire day and night in the snowing, sleeting great outdoors. But, they were obviously proud of themselves for having braved the unruly weather and having paid attention to a nurse who had lectured them on exposure prior to their endeavors.

St. John's Church To Discuss Issue of Hiring New Pastor

St. John's United Church of Christ, located on Waters Rd., Chelsea, will present a guest minister for the next two weeks. Taking over the Sunday duties temporarily is the Rev. Gary Kwiatek of Ann Arbor.

The Rev. Kwiatek is presently an assistant pastor with Bethlehem United Church of Christ in Ann Arbor.

There will be a short meeting of the fellowship of St. John's following the worship service on Sunday, Feb. 22. This meeting is important for all; the matter of a new pastor will be discussed.

FREEZE-OUT PARTICIPANTS: A group of 10 Girl Scouts from Troop 98 gathered at Camp Linden, Jan. 30 to participate in a 24-hour outdoor Freeze-out. Tampering With Fire Hydrant Is No Prank

At approximately 11:35 p.m. Monday, Feb. 2, Chelsea Police were notified that a fire hydrant, located on the east side of town, had been tampered with and that water was gushing out, freezing and covering the street with an inch thick coating of ice.

At approximately the same time, another hydrant cap was loosened but the pranksters involved were apparently frightened away before duplicating their malicious action on the neighboring street.

When Chelsea Police arrived on the scene of the first incident, the street was covered with glass-like ice; the second incident resulted in the freezing of the hydrant and the impossibility of its use in case of fire.

Both incidents could have resulted in death or serious injury and according to Chelsea Police Chief Robert Aeillo, "Whoever is responsible for this will definitely be prosecuted. It's a felony to knowingly and willfully tamper with fire fighting apparatus thus endangering the public welfare."

According to Chief Aeillo, Chelsea police are investigating the case: "We know that whoever did it was old enough to drive and once apprehended, the person or persons responsible face up to four years in a state penitentiary," he explained.

HANGING ON FOR DEAR LIFE, Dreadnaught Mark Hiser (43) clutches the ball as both friends and foes converge on his awkward position on the court. In a hard-fought contest, Chelsea defeated the Dexter cagers, 48-42, and upped their season record enough to climb into second place in the conference. Defeating the arch-rival Dexter team seemed a perfect way to end the Winter Carnival Week at CHS.

Financial Crisis for CATS Bus

(Continued from page one) schedule. If the necessary financial needs are not met, CATS will be forced, in one way or another, to limit its availability.

Fare hikes have been suggested though CATS fare revenues only total $1,600 per year. Also, possibly cutting hours and or days of operation has been considered. But, CATS provides an important service—it offers many elderly and handicapped residents in the area their only means of transportation.

On Thursday, Feb. 19 the CATS board will meet at 7:30 p.m. at the Sylvan Town Hall. At the meeting, all potential courses of action will be discussed and a decision as to the fate of CATS will be made. Anyone interested in contributing to the CATS operating fund is encouraged to attend this meeting or contact Sis Kanten, the Village of Chelsea CATS board representative.

Michigan State University's 1981 winter term enrollment totals 42,575 students, which is 135 fewer than last year's tally of 42,710.

LOCATION COUNTS

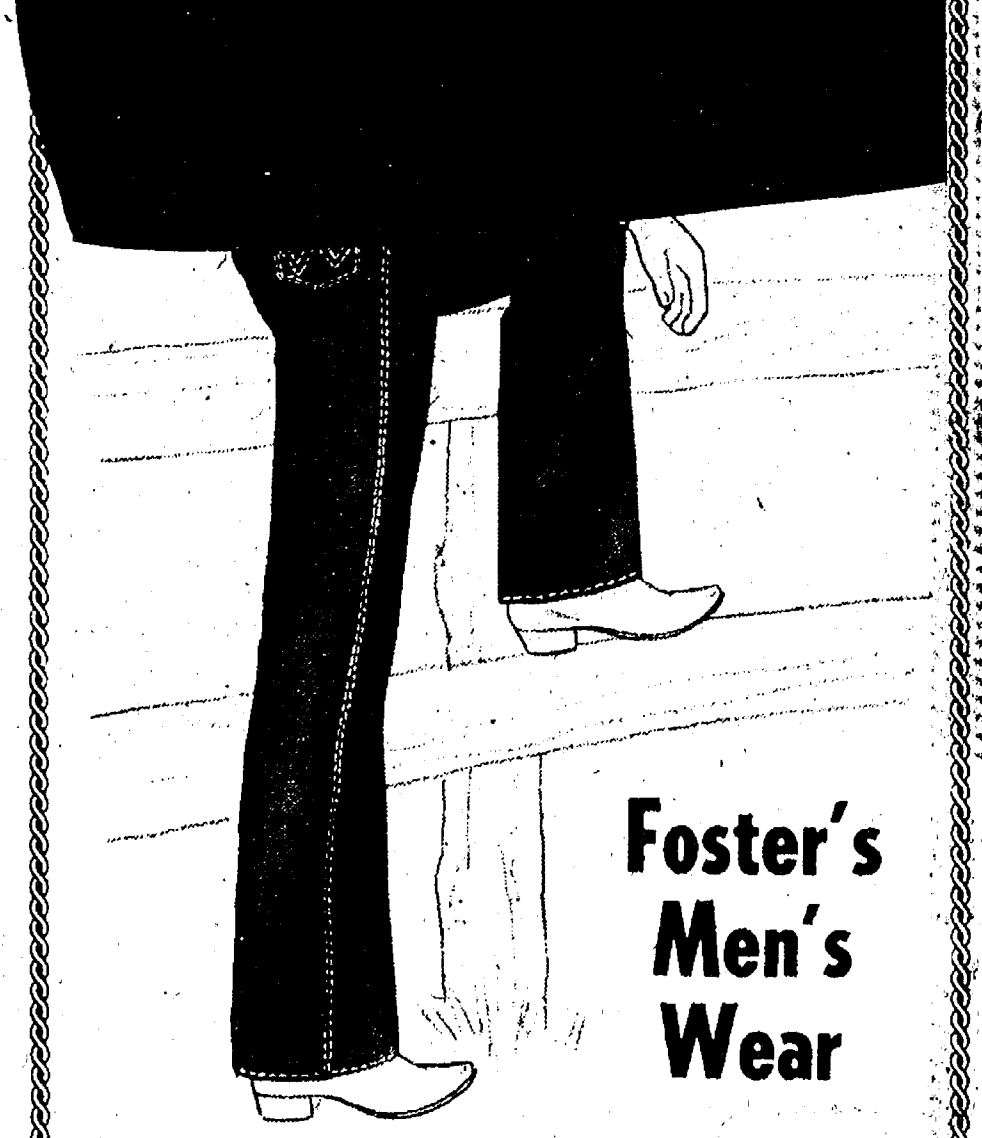

Any Realtor will tell you that the three most important factors concerning the value of a house are: "Location, Location, and Location." Unfortunately, most home buyers ignore this important advice.

Location is especially vital when buying a house for maximum resale value. Statistics say that you will be reselling your home long before the final mortgage payment is in the mail. Therefore, take a long, hard look, not only at the present, but the future prospects for the community and immediate neighborhood.

Select a location where the raw land and home values have an "increasing" price trend. Naturally, listing will be scarcer in these areas because demand will be greater. But precisely because of this increased demand, future prospects will increase the value of your investment dollars. Remember, you can always change a house, but you can never change a location.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at FRISINGER REALTY CO., 935 S. Main St., Chelsea. Phone 475-8681; evenings 475-2821. We're here to help.

Police Seek Trio Of Escapees

As of approximately 9:15 a.m. Sunday, Feb. 1, Chelsea police began a search for three escapees from Cassidy Lake Technical school. Shortly after disappearing from the minimum security facility, the trio was spotted in the vicinity of I-94 and M-52 heading, on foot, toward Ann Arbor.

The escapees have been identified as Robert L. Huxley, 21, serving three-to-five years on two counts of burglary, Robert L. Invergon, 21, serving five years for bad check charges and Leo J. Pritchard, 20, serving two and one-half to 15 years for unarmed robbery and burglary. As of Monday, Feb. 2, police continued their search.

Residential Building Activity Hits 22-Year Record Loss

The number of residential building and demolition permits recorded during the first six months of 1980 was the lowest number since 1968 when the collection of permit issuance began for the Southeastern Michigan seven-county region made up of Livingston, Macomb, Monroe, Oakland, St. Clair, Washtenaw and Wayne counties.

Permit issuance for the first six months of 1979 declined relative to 1978 though this decline rose dramatically in 1980. Prior to last year, the lowest number of permits distributed within a six month period occurred in 1975. The total 3,914 permits issued in the seven-county region during the first six months of 1980 reflected a 38.3 percent decline in the low 1975 rate, 6,348. A 65.8 percent decline is evidenced when comparing the 1980 total to the 1979 total of 11,428 permits for the same period.

The level of permit activity within the first six months of 1980 is in accord with the current economic situation. The national recession has affected both employment and interest rates. Regional unemployment, estimated by the Michigan Employment Security Commission, during the first six months of 1980 ranged from 10.4 percent in January to more than 14 percent in June.

The Federal Home Administration Mortgage Rate peaked at 16.05 percent in March. By April, the prime interest rate attained a record level of 20 percent. These factors had a dramatic impact on residential permit activity during the first six months of 1980.

Within Chelsea, two detached single family unit permits were issued during the first six months of 1980; no demolitions took place. The same was true for Bridgewater township. There was not one building nor demolition permit issued in Dexter during that time, though Dexter township saw four single family unit permits issued.

WE KEEP IT SIMPLE. Our Commercial Checking Plans are designed for the business person who doesn't have time to think about complicated fee structures. JOHN ROWE, a student at Chelsea High School, is one of nearly 900 students in five school districts who participates in vocational education. Rowe is a part-time employee at Gambles. This week, Chelsea, Dexter, Manchester, Milan and Saline schools are celebrating Vocational Education Week, promoting the idea of vocational education as a means of acquiring a variety of employable skills.

VOCATIONAL EDUCATION WEEK, Feb. 9-13, is designed to promote the various vocationally-oriented course available in the Chelsea schools. Involved in the program, Daphne Fletcher, a student at Chelsea High, works part-time in the office at Heydlauff's. Chelsea, Dexter, Milan, Manchester and Saline schools make up the South and West Vocational Education consortium.

Vocational Education Week Being Observed By Schools

This week, Chelsea High school participating in Vocational Education Week in the company of four other schools who, together with Chelsea, combine to form the South and West Vocational Consortium, a co-operative planning effort for the effective operation of vocational education.

Initiated about 10 years ago, vocational education is the skill-based instruction with hands-on laboratory work provided to students who are preparing to enter the work force or continue their education in a specific career area.

Serving in the five-school consortium with Chelsea are Dexter, Manchester, Milan and Saline high schools. Approximately 900 high school seniors from the five-member consortium are currently participating in the programs. Chelsea High school provides opportunities in seven areas complying with the requirements and standards established by the Vocational Education Service of the Michigan Department of Education. The standards require that vocationally certified teachers are trained instructors with work experience in their program area. Adequate facilities and equipment and advisory committees to relate instruction to labor market needs must also be provided. A course content, defined by objectives that are consistent from school to school and a job placement program, are also required.

The attainment of occupational goals is the ultimate aim of vocational education. The job placement service attempts to coordinate, support and develop job placement programs by providing a computerized job file and acting as a liaison between schools and employers.

Students who have completed minimum vocational program requirements or who are enrolled in a vocational training program may enroll in the co-op "on the job" training.

As an incentive to employers, a significant tax credit is available, if wages are paid to youth between 16 and 18 who are participating in an approved co-operative education program. The credit, stipulated in a 1978 tax law, is based on each worker and the wage paid. It results in a considerable reduction on federal income tax.

Chelsea High school offers a number of vocational education programs to its interested students. They include agriculture production and the agricultural co-operative component, auto mechanics, building trades, the trade and industrial co-operative, nurse aide, home economics and the stenography, steno-clerical and office co-operative components.

In compliance with Vocational Education Week and in order to promote its fast-growing popularity and practicality, Chelsea High school will host a number of guest speakers from local businesses this week, offering information to students.

The Occupational Safety and Health Act of 1970, signed on Dec. 29, 1970, is designed "... to assure so far as possible every working man and woman in the Nation safe and healthful working conditions and to preserve our human resources." The act is administered by the U. S. Department of Labor.

SEC ROUND-UP:

Chelsea Moves into 2nd With Wins Over S. Lyon, Dexter

Chelsea 73, South Lyon 70

Chelsea, enroute to a hard-earned victory, shot 57 percent from the floor while the South Lyon cagers shot 51 percent and came up on the short end of the stick with the Bulldogs heading home with a 73-70 non-conference win Tuesday night.

Chelsea led, 38-33, at the half and continued to romp in the second half, resulting in the win. Facing the Bulldogs was Jeff Dills with a game high 25 points. Following behind was Chris Tobin with 18 points while Jeff Price was the third Chelsea cager in double figures with 10.

South Lyon had four players hitting double figures with Keith Hodgins pacing the team with 16. Pat Foley and John McKee added 15 apiece while Shon Lucas brought up the rear with 10.

Dexter 71, Pinckney 58

The Dreadnaughts built up commanding 40-17 lead by half-time and held off Pinckney in the second half to bury the Pirates, 71-58, in a non-conference battle.

Rob Ianni paced both teams by scoring 28 points for Dexter while Randy Raiford and Chris Rutowski each added 12 for the Dreadnaughts.

The win upped the Dexter record to 7-7 while the Pirates' record dropped to an unimpressive 2-12 slate.

Chelsea 48, Dexter 42

Amidst a gym filled with enthusiastic fans, Chelsea's Bulldogs held off their arch-rival Dexter Dreadnaughts, 48-42, and slid into second place in the Southeastern Conference.

With the lead trading off throughout the first half, Chelsea finally took the lead, 20-18, at the sound of the buzzer. But, at the end of the third stanza, Dexter had taken a two-point lead. Six consecutive free throws with less than five minutes left proved to be the clincher for the Chelsea victory.

Pacing his teammates was Jeff Dills with a game high 20 points. Jeff Price, who played a superb game, hit 10 points to round off the Chelsea double figure scoring.

Tecumseh 67, J.C. Western 58

The Indians managed a 30-point attack in the second quarter to eventually surprise a visiting Panther squad, 67-58 Friday night.

In a contest riddled with fouls, the Indians were 11 for 18 from the floor and connected on eight of 11 free throw attempts to secure the win. Pacing the team was Jeff Corley with 14 points while Kevin Brown added 11 and Marty Wallich 10 to the winning Tecumseh effort.

Lincoln 72, Saline 55

The Railsplitters stole into the Saline gym Friday night and walked away with an easy 72-55 win over the not-so-hot Hornets.

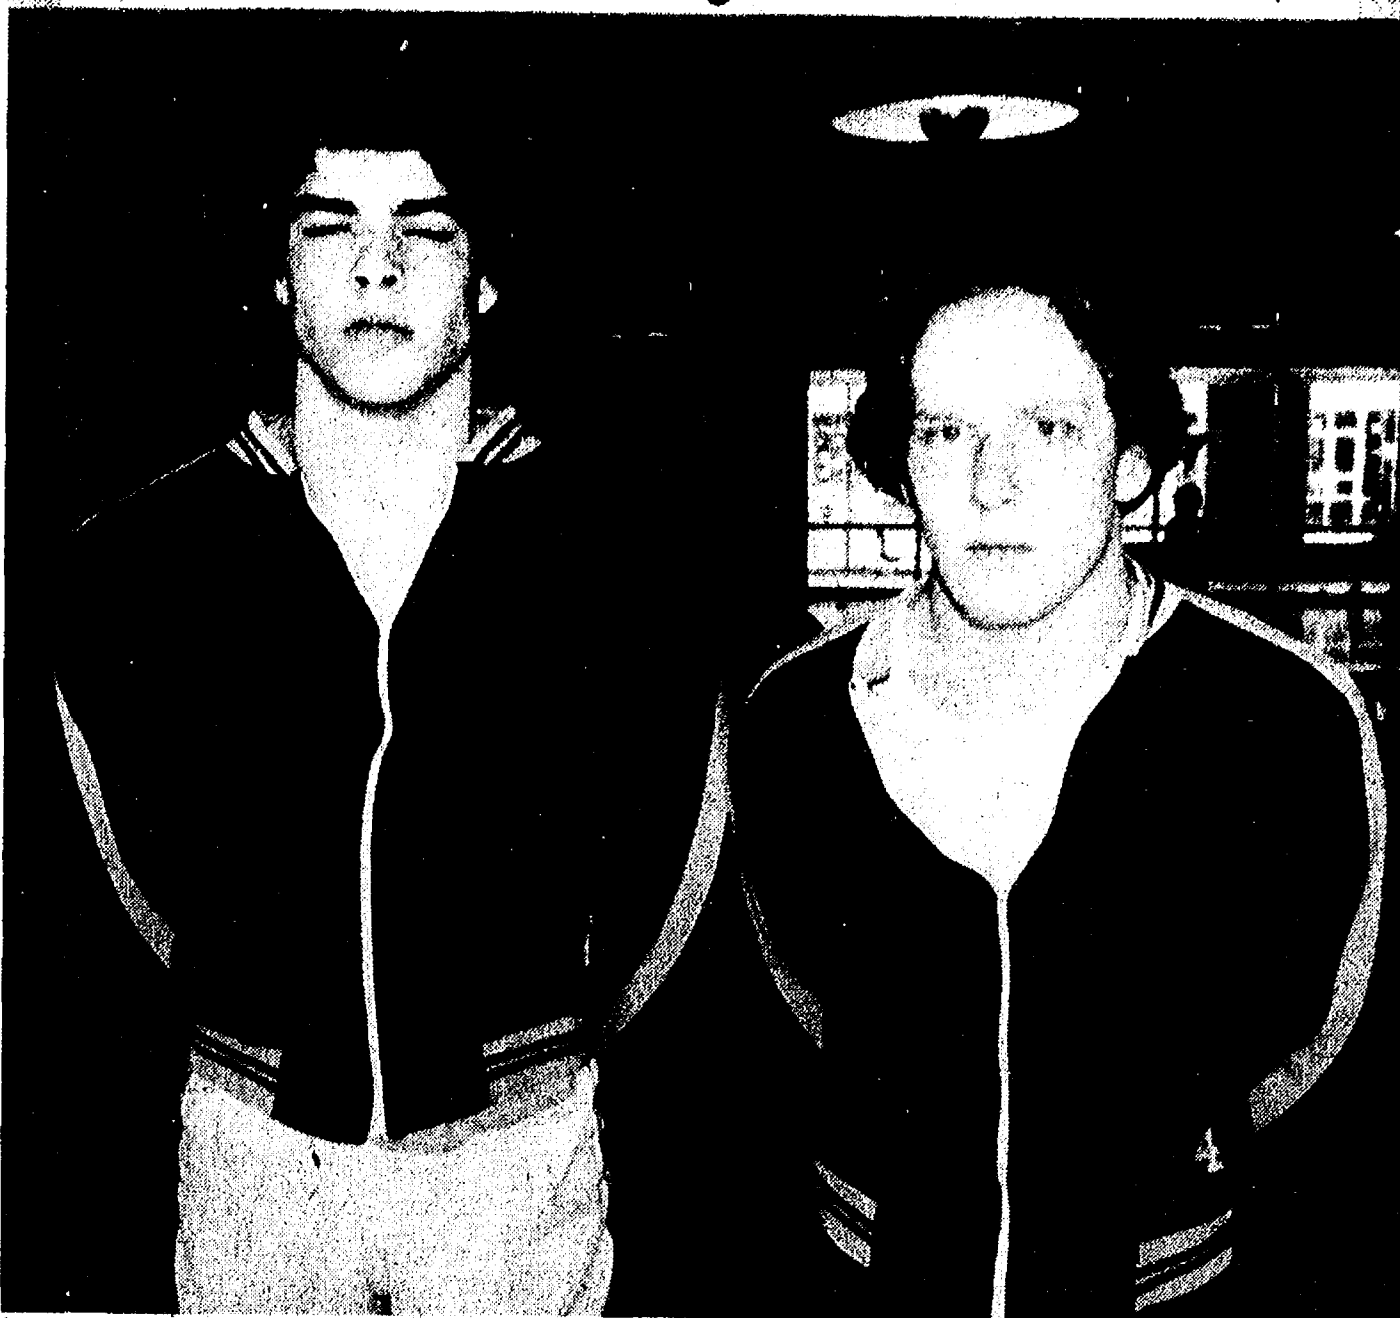

Though the first half was slow and ended in a 26-all tie, the Railsplitters roared through the second half, outscoring the hosts 24-11 in the third stanza to take a 50-37 lead into the final period of play.

Pacing Lincoln were Mark Kedroske and Dave Stasiak with 15 points apiece while Doug Phillips and Dan Johnson tossed in 14 each. For the losers, Jim Mussio led with 15 points while John Marx added 14 and Jim Phelps 12 for the Hornets, locked securely in the cellar of the Southeastern Conference.

On Saturday evening, Feb. 14, the Chelsea Kiwanis Club will present its 120th program of the "Travel and Adventure Series" at 8 p.m. in the Chelsea High School Auditorium.

Howard and Barbara Pollard, presenting "The Colorado Caper," both have backgrounds that are ideal for their adventurous life of travel film making. Howard, a native mid-westerner, studied engineering and filmmaking at Lawrence Tech. After a stint in the Army as a cameraman, Howard went into his own business of producing television commercials and short subjects. He has won many awards for his film work.

Barbara has studied voice and drama at the Detroit Conservatory of Music and also at the famous Interlochen National Music Camp. She attended the University of Miami where she majored in radio and television acting and theater. After graduation, her professional appearances included the Detroit Civic Light Opera, the Normany Players and involvement in summer stock.

With their usual insight Howard and Barbara have turned their talents to the State of Colorado. While enjoying the natural beauty of the area we will also get to meet some of Colorado's interesting and diverse inhabitants.

Enjoy the good life at the famous Broadmoor Hotel. This delightful vacation spot offers golf, tennis, swimming, figure skating, and gracious dancing
