MOBILE EMERGENCY MEDICAL SERVICES to enhance medical response time in the western Washtenaw county townships became available to the public March 1. Washtenaw County Sheriff's Deputies trained as Emergency Medical Technicians include, left to right, Deputies Sherrod, a paramedic, Pniowski and Yekulis, both EMT's. By upgrading vehicles with life-saving equipment, this trio will assist Fontana-Taylor Ambulance Co., contracted as the county's medical service.

Sheriff's Dept. Patrol Cars Equipped for Emergencies

It has long been the duty of law enforcement officers to "Protect and Serve." Inherent in the officers' responsibility has been to act as a first responder to medical emergencies. Too often, the law enforcement officer has been ill-equipped and/or trained to provide quality life-saving services.

Recently, medical studies have shown that the care a patient initially receives at the scene of an accident or injury may have a direct effect upon the patient's recovery.

In response to the concern over initial patient care, Sheriff Thomas R. Minick, under the supervision of the Washtenaw County Emergency Medical Services Commission and the Washtenaw County Board of Commissioners, has implemented a program to enhance medical response primarily in the western portion of Washtenaw county.

Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department currently employs three deputies, two of whom—Joe Yekulis and Rich Pniowski—are licensed as Emergency Medical Technicians (EMT's) and one—Ron Sherrod—is a licensed Paramedic. These deputies have received training in Emergency Medical Care and will work out of Sheriff Department patrol cars up-graded with emergency medical equipment.

The program was initiated in order to enhance medical response in the western townships where it has been difficult to respond to medical emergencies in a timely manner because of distance involved and the distribution of incident priorities. According to Commander R. J. Schebil, one of the deputies handles the area between Zeeb Rd. and US-23 while the other two, assigned to the Chelsea sub-station, will handle emergency calls in this area.

The Sheriff's Department has up-graded their training and equipment to provide this service in accordance with the Emergency Medical Services protocol.

The deputies involved will continue to provide law enforcement services during their regular patrol but will also be called upon to provide additional response and support during a medical emergency, working in co-operation with the Fontana-Taylor Ambulance Co. who is the county's current contracted medical service.

Since its inception as a supplementary medical service on March 1, no problems have arisen. If only one life can be saved by this program, Sheriff Minick feels the program will have been totally successful. Saving lives has always been the job of law enforcement and this program will help the deputy do the job with a greater degree of success.

Crocus Blooms Herald Approach Of Spring Weather

A sure sign of spring bloomed outside the home of John Wellnitz Saturday, March 14. In his yard blossomed a total of 41 crocus bursting with color. Of the 41 specimens, two were white, one purple and the remainder deep yellow.

A pleasant surprise, the colorful variety of early spring flower opened its petals to soak up the week-end sunshine.

team was dispatched to a residence on Oakridge Dr. to respond to a cardiac arrest.

On Friday, March 13, Chelsea firemen were summoned to the scene of a fire in a residence building at Cassidy Lake Technical School. This call was received at 4:18 a.m.; the fire was extinguished by 5 a.m. At 8:46 p.m., firemen responded to another fire on North Territorial Rd. and M-52.

Two grass fires were doused Saturday, March 14. The first call was received at 12:59 p.m. requesting assistance with a grass fire on Cavanaugh Lake Rd. Later, at 5:10 p.m., Chelsea firemen responded to the scene of another grass fire burning at M-52 and Sager Rd. Finally, at approximately 9 p.m., a rescue run was made to the VFW hall to assist with a person suffering from breathing problems.

Two grass fires were reported on Sunday, March 15. The first call received came at 9:03 a.m. from a location on Notten Rd. It took three fire departments, countless trips with water and the entire day to get the fire under control and finally, extinguished. The second grass or brush fire was reported at 1 p.m. to be burning on Trist Rd.

CATS Bus Will Be Continued

The fate of the Chelsea Area Transportation System (CATS) was decided late last month as all CATS board members gathered at Sylvan Town Hall to discuss additional funding alternatives. Following state funding budget cuts, of operating subsidies, the future of CATS service was in question.

The meeting was attended by Chelsea Community Hospital representatives who agreed to sponsor a fund-raising dinner to assist in the collection of additional monies required to maintain the present full time CATS services. The benefit dinner is tentatively planned for late

Beach School Bands Receive Superior I Ratings in District

On Saturday, March 14, the Beach Middle school 7th and 8th grade bands competed at District Festival at Milan. A total of four class D, nine class C and four class B bands competed as Chelsea's 7th and 8th graders returned home with straight superior I ratings.

Judged in five categories—tone, intonation, rhythm, interpretation and technique—Chelsea's 7th graders performed "Triumphant" by Holmes, "For Children" by Bartok and "Fantasy on a Fanfare," by Edmondson and, according to one judge, the group "achieved some very musical effects. A feeling for the music is important and you are feeling it... good musicianship on the parts of the director and players is very evident here."

The 7th graders were awarded a total of 13 A's and two B's for their efforts and were commended on the support given by parents and the other students all working together.

The 8th grade band performed a program including "March Heroic" by Herman, "Landmark Overture" by Claudill and "Wilderness Overture" by Spears, and received straight A-pluses. "Wilderness Overture must be a

Chelsea specialty, it was near-perfect," commented one judge. "You exhibit confidence, maturity,

The 8th grade band scored straight A's and A-pluses in the judged categories and one judge explained that while trying to be objective, his emotions were roused by the quality of music he was hearing.

Swim Team Places Third in State Meet

The 1980-81 Chelsea High school swimmers headed to Grand Rapids last week-end to participate in the Class B state meet where they won 15 medals, broke eight school records and finished third, missing first place by 14 points. East Grand Rapids won with 120 points while Battle Creek took second with 110 points, Chelsea finished with 106 points, Milan was fourth with 104, Cherry Hill fifth with 74, Harper Creek sixth with 73, Fenton seventh with 69, Ludington eighth with 60, Okemos ninth with 59 and Saginaw Douglas McArthur and St. Joseph tied for tenth place with 48 points.

Chelsea scored in nine of 11 events and broke eight school records and many personal bests. "We had a real chance to win and we swam great but we just couldn't get a break," commented Coach Reed. "In three events, we missed getting people qualified by less than one-tenth of a second, and we missed by one-half point in getting our diver qualified. The kids were a little dejected afterwards but I told them that four years ago, we were trying to beat the worst teams in the state and this year we were 14 points from being the best. That's quite an improvement."

Chelsea's performances were as follow. In the 200 medley relay, John Robbins, Dave Nicola, Dave Mason and Mike Mason finished with a seasonal best of 1:44.75 to place third. In the 200 freestyle, Sean Oxner finished at 1:52.89, .6 seconds from scoring while Phil Hoffman finished with a new school record time of 1:50.37 to place ninth.

In the 200 IM, Dave Mason set a new school record at 2:01.76 to place second while Tom Gaunt finished at 2:06.3 for a seasonal best and fifth place. In the 50 free, Dave Nicola set a new school record to place seventh at :22.72. Diver Craig Wirtz finished 13th with a total of 275.95 points while Dave Mason finished third in the 100 butterfly at :53.39, a new school record, and Kirk Hawks finished 19th at 1:00.04. In the 100 freestyle, Phil Hoffman set a new school record by placing 11th at :50.76 while Mike Mason moved from 28th seed to 13th and missed scoring by .05 of a second in a best time of :51.41.

In the 500 free, Sean Oxner, 13th, missed scoring by .7 of a second but set a school record at 5:06.13. In the 100 backstroke, John Robbins, at 1:02.4 missed scoring by 1.6 seconds and Tom Gaunt finished third with a school record time of :53.20.

In the meet's final event, the freestyle relay, Chelsea smashed the school record twice with a time of 3:22.72 and just missed winning. Dave Nicola had a :49.4 split on the relay while Phil Hoffman finished at :50.2, and Mike Mason at :50.0 completed their fastest times ever while Tom Gaunt had a lead off split that was the second fastest swim he'd ever made.

The 1980-81 Chelsea tankers ended their season with Coach Larry Reed being named the 1980 Michigan Class B Coach of the Year at Saturday's meet. As well, Chelsea won 13 meets and the Chelsea Invitational. The Bulldogs broke nine of 11 school records, three freshman records and finished third at the state Legislature To Consider Rolling Back State Pay

As the state's economy continues to decline, the legislature continues to look for ways to make revenues and expenditures balance.

With an apparent unwillingness to raise revenues with an increase in taxation, the expenditure side of the ledger is the most attractive.

The most recent means is a possible rollback or elimination of a 9 percent pay raise negotiated for civil service employees. The raise is set to take effect on Oct. 1, the beginning of the state's next fiscal year.

The Senate will soon take a vote on a resolution, offered by Appropriations Committee vice-chairman Bill Huffman (D-Madison Heights), which would cut the pay raise in half.

Adoption of the resolution by the required two-thirds vote in both the Senate and House would mean a general fund savings of approximately $42.5 million.

Meanwhile, Governor William G. Milliken said he will oppose any effort to rollback the proposed pay increase.

"I made my position clear in the budget message in which I recommended full funding of all pay increases, including those negotiated with state employee unions," he said in a letter to employee unions.

Milliken said he was proud of state workers who voluntarily reduced their pay or took unpaid leave time to help the state through the fiscal crisis.

"I recognize the employee willingness to help out in a time of crisis is based, in part, upon their labor agreements and expected wage increases. I remain committed to earlier wage agreements," the governor said.

Huffman said voting for the resolution should not be a difficult vote but a necessary one.

Suggesting the membership of the legislature doesn't know the seriousness of the state's budget problems, Huffman said adoption of the resolution could save as many as 3,000 state jobs in the near future.

Senate Majority Leader William Fausch of Westland agreed that it didn't make much sense to raise civil service pay and then be forced to make layoffs to balance the budget.

Fausch expressed interest in action taken at Michigan State University where the board of trustees declared a state of financial emergency thus allowing for the layoff of tenured faculty.

Fausch questioned whether the state couldn't take a similar action allowing layoffs to reach the older, higher paid employees rather than only bumping the young employees of the state payroll.

Senator James DeSana (D-Wyandotte) said it would be easier for him to vote for the resolution if the legislature could also vote to reject the 14 percent legislative pay increase slated to go into effect Jan. 1, 1982.

"We need to be consistent," he said.

A resolution was offered to reject the legislative pay increase but it was referred to committee and is expected to remain there.

Medics Discuss Reyes Syndrome at North School PTO Meet

A question and answer period followed during which Dr. O'Brien answered queries regarding Reyes Syndrome and also answered questions about other childhood diseases that some parents were concerned about.

Woman's Club Members Hear Program on History of Glass

The Woman's Club of Chelsea met on Tuesday, March 10 at the Collector's Item where owners Annabelle Gochanour and Gene Werdehoff discussed the topic, "History of Glass and China." Seventeen members of the club and one guest were present.

Gene Werdehoff spoke of Depression Glass, produced during the time of the Great Depression as well as throughout the 1930's up until 1960. It was manufactured by 14 companies and sets often contained as many as 300 pieces. One type of glass was called "oatmeal" and was given as a prize inside boxes of oatmeal.

There are many varied and intricate patterns of Depression Glass; a total of 109 known patterns were produced. It was made by machine for the most part although a few types featured hand molding. Today it is quite an accomplishment to find a complete set.

ABWA Members Plan Spring Enrollment Event

Chelsea Charter Chapter of the American Business Women's Association will hold a spring Enrollment Event Tuesday, March 24 at 7 p.m. at the home of Maxine Kuschmaul, 1451 Guenther Rd., according to Shirley Schneider, chapter president.

This year's theme, "Signs of Spring," will focus on meeting personal and professional goals through ABWA membership.

ABWA Enrollment Events are held semi-annually to introduce ABWA and the local chapter to businesswomen in this area. Similar events will be held by more than 1,900 ABWA chapters across the country.

ABWA's goal is to help women in business advance through education, to increase competence and to promote professional, educational, cultural and social advancement of the businesswoman.

Benefits acquired through membership will be emphasized in a skit by the Chelsea Charter members at the Enrollment Event.

The Association, founded in Kansas City, Mo. in 1949, currently has 100,000 members. Last year, ABWA chapters throughout the United States and Puerto Rico awarded more than $1,300,000 in scholarships to women students. In addition, the ABWA national scholarship fund, SBMEF (Steven Buffon Memorial Education Fund), awarded another $200,000 in scholarships to nine worthy recipients since its institution one year ago. One SBMEF grant has also been given to a local scholarship applicant.

Membership in ABWA is by invitation only. For further information, interested businesswomen may contact Mickie Quackenbush, membership chairman, at 475-1239 or Shirley Schneider, president, at 475-2972.

The owners of the Collector's Item did just that when they discovered a 92-piece set of Georgian Forebird at an estate auction in the Upper Peninsula. The set had been manufactured in 1931.

Depression Glass was often produced in clear glass called crystal, though pink, green and amber glass was also used occasionally. Other colors were rarely used including cobalt blue, bright green and black. Samples of all these colors may be seen at the Collector's Item.

The names of the many patterns are romantic and creative. Names such as "Diamond Quilted," "Doric and Pansy," "American Sweetheart," "Honeycomb," "Buttons and Bows," "Aunt Polly," and "Sweet Pear" are examples of this. The interesting names of patterns as well as the colors added to Depression Glass's appeal both in the past and presently.

The quantity of Depression Glass is steadily decreasing. As a result, the value is increasing. Several books have been written to assist the collector. "Depression Glass" by Gene Florence is important, listing the values of various pieces, accompanied with pictures. Collectors should be able to recognize "a find" when they see one. The first place to look is in an old attic, followed by flea markets, garage sales and estate auctions.

Annabelle Gochanour has a personal collection of 200 cream and sugar sets. Her goal is to collect 500 sets, one in each color and pattern. Nevertheless, the tops of the sugar bowls are her biggest challenge; they are often missing because of breakage.

There are reproductions of Depression Glass now being made and sometimes being sold as antiques to the unwary buyer. A law has now been passed which requires a date to be placed on the reproductions. It is important to examine by feel and texture as well as checking for signs of wear before making a purchase.

The club members enjoyed their visit to the Collector's Item; a charming colorful store filled with treasures that brought back many memories.

Following the program, a meeting was held and refreshments were served by hostesses Lila Pawlowski and Pat Scholz in the library meeting room.

Karate Class Offered By Community Ed

For the past two years, Chelsea Community Education has offered a karate class for both adults and youngsters interested in both fitness and protection. A branch of an Ann Arbor Korean karate club, The Academy, Chelsea's Tae Kwon Do course is both practical for self-defense purposes and a superb form of conditioning.

The Academy, located at 220 S. Main St., Ann Arbor, is owned by instructor Keith Hafner, 1980 U.S. Chung Do Kwon Association Black Belt of the Year. Having operated the facility for six years, Hafner has a total of 200 students who are afforded the opportunity of studying in the morning, afternoon or evening, seven days per week.

Running continuously in Chelsea, approximately 30 students are currently undergoing Tae Kwon Do training under the instruction of Robert Heskett, a first degree black belt. The group meets Tuesday and Thursday, between the hours of 7 and 9 p.m. at South Elementary school and training varies from introductory through black belt.

Students vary in age from seven-years-old through any age at the top end of the scale. The cost for the session is $20 per month. Karate is also taught as a part of the 1981 Super Saturday program. Under the instruction of Robert Hafner, first through sixth graders meet at 9 a.m. Saturday mornings at Beach Middle School.

SHEARED COMPETITION: Awaiting results in various events and their chance to glide through the waters are, left to right, Dave Mason, Kirk Hawks and John Robbins, three of the CHS swimmers who participated in a pre-meet head shaving session at Ricardo's. For their clean-shaven efforts, Chelsea ended their 1980-81 season by finishing third in the state.

Some interesting and helpful facts you may not know about your phone service.

ARTIFICIAL LARYNX: THIS SMALL INSTRUMENT IS FOR PERSONS WHO HAVE LOST THE USE OF THEIR LARYNX. IT SUBSTITUTES ELECTRONIC VIBRATIONS FOR THE NATURAL VIBRATIONS OF THE VOICE. CALL YOUR LOCAL MICHIGAN BELL BUSINESS OFFICE FOR MORE INFORMATION.

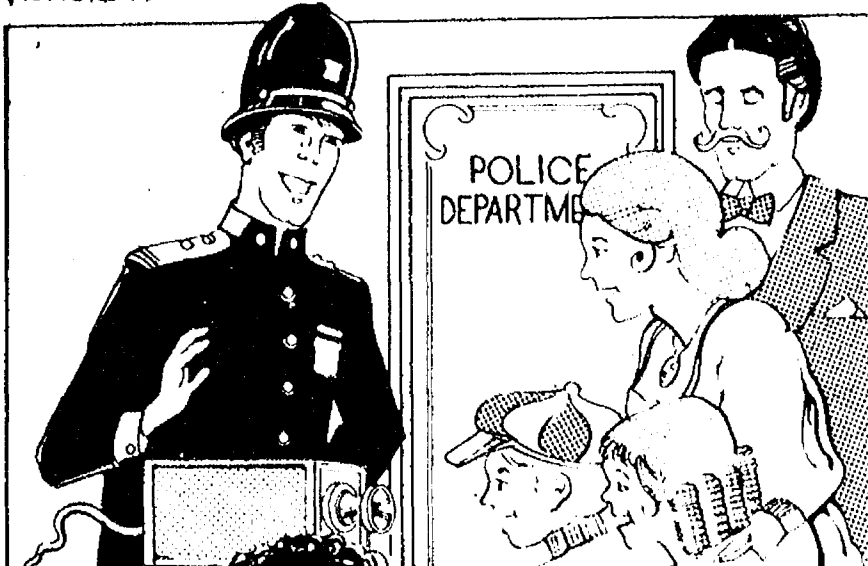

800 NUMBERS: Some out-of-town businesses provide an "800" number that you can dial without charge. For example, when you want to call out of town about reservations, look for "800" numbers provided in ads by hotels, motels, resorts, airlines and ground transportation.

MOVING? AVOID UNNECESSARY PHONE INSTALLATION CHARGES. PLAN HOW MANY PHONES AND WHAT KIND OF SERVICE YOU'LL NEED. THEN CALL AND TELL YOUR MICHIGAN BELL REPRESENTATIVE. REMEMBER, ONCE YOUR NEW SERVICE IS INSTALLED, EXTRA VISITS BY YOUR INSTALLER CAN MEAN EXTRA EXPENSES FOR YOU!

IN 1915, Michigan hooked up to the first cross-country long distance line and the first DETROIT-TO-SAN FRANCISCO call was made. It took 30 minutes to set up the three-minute call and cost the customer $16.70!

IN 1877, THE FIRST COMMERCIAL TELEPHONE LINE WAS USED BY A DETROIT DRUGSTORE. THE DETROIT POLICE DEPARTMENT WAS THE SECOND TO USE THE NEW BELL TELEPHONE. A NEWSPAPER ACCOUNT STATED THAT THE "TELEPHONE IN THE POLICE STATIONS CONTINUES TO AFFORD VISITORS AND ATTENDANTS MUCH ENTERTAINMENT."

Pioneer Craft Fair Scheduled Saturday

To paraphrase an old saying:
Spring is sprung
The grass is riz
I wonder where the fun is?
The fun will be at the Dexter High School gym this coming Saturday, March 21, when the Dexter Historical Society will present the 8th annual Pioneer Craft Fair. Hours will be from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Admission will be $1 for adults, 50¢ for high school students, all other children free.

Dexter Historical Society is emphasizing that the focus of this event is the demonstration of the arts and crafts rather than the selling of merchandise. The Society views this more as a community service than a money-maker, though all profits go toward the support of the Dexter Area Museum.

If you have attended one fair and thought that you had seen all it had to offer, be assured that each year the fair changes as new arts and crafts are added for your enjoyment. This year seven new demonstrators will be sharing their skills with the public.

Several of the craftspeople have also changed the type of crafts they will be demonstrating. Baskets have been around almost as long as mankind. They possibly evolved when primitive man wished to carry home some nuts, gathered up some weeds and wove a crude carrying pouch. Baskets or the remnants thereof have been found in archaeological diggings throughout the world. The pyramids yielded many fine examples of basketry. The North and South American Indians created, and continue to create, some of the finest examples of baskets in the world.

A very popular booth at the fair has been that of Therese Ohno. Mrs. Ohno became interested in basketry when the Plymouth, Michigan Council of Arts sponsored a series of craft classes. She has become both a teacher and lecturer of this ancient craft. She imparts her love of basketry to her pupils and those who hear her lecture.

Mrs. Ohno's baskets show a great deal of skill both in the design and workmanship. The "gizzard" basket that will be given as one of the door prizes was created by Therese. The term "gizzard" is used for this basket as when it is viewed from the bottom it looks like a chicken gizzard. Another popular term for this basket is buttocks basket, for obvious reasons. This basket is one of the most difficult to make and is the ultimate goal of every serious basket maker. Mrs. Ohno is always willing to help the beginner and loves to discuss the dying of material, techniques and much more. Stop by and talk to her if you have a desire to learn about baskets.

AN INTERESTING FEATURE of the Pioneer Craft Fair this week-end will be Therese Ohno who has become an expert demonstrator and lecturer in the ancient art of basketry. A number of new art and craft demonstrators have been added to the program which promises to be the best ever sponsored by the Dexter Historical Society.

Miniatures have become one of the fastest growing hobbies in the world. Most miniaturists work in a scale of one inch equals one foot and it has been very difficult to find china in such a small scale that is good and looks correct in a room setting or dollhouse. Sue Sherrill of Dexter is now filling this void with lovely, delicate china. Sue became interested in miniatures about five years ago. She tried her hand at several types of miniature making and then began to experiment with making china. All her work is done by hand, one piece at a time. It is molded, fired, painted and re-fired. All this takes time and each piece becomes one of a kind. Sue will be demonstrating some of the process at the fair. Stop and take a look at tea cups the size of a pencil eraser, tiny plates the size of a dime, and much more, all hand painted in authentic and charming designs. Many of Sue's pieces are now in collections throughout the United States.

The luncheon will again be prepared by the Dexter Heritage Guild. The hard-working kitchen crew will present a menu that will include knockwurst and sauerkraut, sloppy joes, hot dogs, baked beans, German potato salad, and home-made pies. All food is cooked at the school on the morning of the fair.

Entertainment will be provided by Percy "Mr. Bones" Danforth and three of his cronies. Judy Plester will be playing the fiddle while Matt Heumann will play an English Concertina and the penny whistle. This trio will begin at 11 a.m. They will be followed by the Cobblestone Dancers at 11:30. At 1 p.m. the "Cheerful Chimers" of Ann Arbor will entertain the crowd with bell ringing, followed by a young group of bell ringers, "Opus One." It will be a delightful time for everyone.

Tickets for the three door prizes are now available from Historical members or they may be purchased at the door on the day of the fair. A donation will purchase a ticket on your choice of a white braided nuthatch, a lovely rag rug or the "gizzard" basket. Prizes will be awarded at 4 p.m. and the winner need not be present.

Don't miss this fun-filled day. It will be another year before the opportunity presents itself again.

The first use of federal government contracts to restrict the employment of child labor took place in 1918, according to "Labor Firsts in America," a publication of the U. S. Department of Labor.

Stubborn Grass Fire, Winds Threaten Barn

It's grass fire season once again, a time of year when the winds are strong and the brush dry. A time of year when the slightest spark can send acres and acres of fields into flames, often ending in disaster.

On Sunday, March 15, the Chelsea, Dexter and Grass Lake Fire Departments were dispatched to the scene of a large grass fire reported to be burning near Notten and Hoppe Rds. Beginning at 9 a.m. and lasting until nearly 5 p.m., the firemen worked diligently and often without much success, battling strong wind gusts that sent the flames to within three feet of a barn owned by Clarence Harrison, 1992 Hoppe Rd.

Between 10 and 12 trips were made, transporting water to the scene of a fire ignited by a spark thrown from a passing train. The strong March winds carried the fire across a field and swamp area from its initial site to the edge of Hoppe Rd. and within a few feet from the Harrison barn. The fire's strength faded now and again with the speed of the winds that rushed across the open area.

But the fire departments were not without other problems. In the course of fighting the grass fire, access to the blaze was not always possible; one fire truck lodged in the marshy thawing ground. Transporting water also became a chore as firemen carried it by the container full.

The Harrison family was prepared to lose the barn and had removed all valuables from it. But, when the winds died down, firemen climbed into the barn's loft with their hoses and drenched the threatening flames, shooting the water down toward the smoldering brush.

It was not until nearly 5 p.m. that the last of the fire trucks pulled away from the scene, leaving behind water-soaked ashes and a barn.

Real Estate

TAX-FREE CASH AVAILABLE

There is no better source of cash than the equity (cash value) built up in your own home or investment property.

Take the case of the Campbells who purchased a 10-unit apartment house about five years ago for $100,000 with a mortgage of $80,000. As the rent checks came in each month, some went for running the building and some went toward paying off the principal and interest. They needed $10,000 for college expenses and to redecorate their own home. The equity in their property investment was the answer. Their money had grown as the property increased in value over the five years plus by the amount they had paid off the mortgage.

Mr. Campbell found that his own bank would refinance the mortgage for $90,000 ($20,000 over their balance due). So, with the check for $20,000 in hand, the Campbells not only had the $10,000 they needed but an extra $10,000 to reinvest in another property. And all of the cash was tax-free because there was no sale involved and no gain to report.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at FRISINGER REALTY CO., 935 S. Main St., Chelsea. Phone: 475-8881; evenings 475-2621. We're here to help!

Man Arrested On Property Damage Charges

Chelsea Police arrested Michael Alen Seyfried, 21, of Waterloo Rd., last week charging him with malicious destruction of property over $100, a felony.

The charges stemmed from a March 10 incident on the grounds of Chelsea Community Hospital where a vehicle allegedly driven by Seyfried pushed a $1,300 informational sign from its upright position to the ground.

Paint samplings were taken from the sign by Officer Richard Foster who conducted an investigation and matched the samples to the striking vehicle. Two persons were picked up by Chelsea Police, and through investigation made a statement implicating themselves.

Seyfried was arraigned before a magistrate in 14th District Court and was released on $2,000 personal recognizance bond. A warrant has been obtained for the other 19-year-old subject. His name is being withheld until he, too, is arraigned on similar charges.

Historical Society Membership Drive Is Now Underway

President Sally Rendell presided over the Chelsea Historical Society meeting held Monday, March 9.

During the meeting, it was announced that the annual membership drive is in progress under the direction of Mrs. Glenn (Olga) Wiseman. There is a great deal of interest to actively participate in the Historical Commission.

Mr. and Mrs. William Grimshaw of the Church of the Latter Day Saints in Utah expressed the willingness to teach a genealogy class on Wednesday and Thursday evenings. Those attending the class would learn how to trace their family history. This is no charge for the course and persons interested may contact the Grimshaws at 475-9697.

A request was received from psychologist Dr. Wieland who is looking for farmers who immigrated from the Schwaben area of Germany. These farmers, who lived in southwestern Germany on land owned and occupied since 400 A.D., left their land for various reasons. Some of the major Schwaben settlements in the United States have been in New York, Maine, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Iowa and Washtenaw County, Michigan. What happened to the Schwaben when they came to America? As immigrants and their children and children's children faced life in America, what parts of the Schwaben character endured; what parts bent and adapted; what parts have the Schwaben left? Professor Wieland may be reached at 665-9618 or written to at 820 Granger Ave., Ann Arbor 48104 if anyone has answers to these questions.

Originally from Boston, Mass., Mrs. Margaret Bradley discussed antiques. She and Ben Bower conduct a class on antiques at the Senior Citizens Center each Monday afternoon.

Many of the homes in the Boston area still have antiques brought here from Europe. Porcelain from England and France has some of the finest china dishes. Germany provided the glass, heavy leaded glass in the 17th century and frosted and cut glass in the 18th. Plated silver on metal was used to simulate the silver look.

Mrs. Bradley said that anyone traveling to the Boston area should be sure to take advantage of the historical information available.

Reminiscing further, she told of her voice studies and how she used to listen to the Boston Symphony and got to know and work with Arthur Fiedler. She said he was like a second brother and had a great sense of humor as well as being very serious.

Mrs. Bradley has lived in Chelsea for several years and is an avid supporter of the senior citizens activities as well as being interested in Chelsea history.

Three-Year-Olds Host Fathers at Dad's Day Event

On Saturday morning, March 14 North Lake Co-Op Nursery, located at 14111 North Territorial Rd., took on the atmosphere of a pizzeria as the three-year-olds in the Tuesday-Thursday session tossed their dough, spun their crusts and laden their Italian delicacies with lotsa mozzarella and other traditional pizza fare.

The scene was all part of Dad's Day at the nursery, a chance for the fathers to become familiar with a typical day in the life of a young gourmet. Following the pizza experience, the three-year-olds grabbed shoe polish and took to their fathers' shoes, giving them a shine only attributable to the hands of a tiny tot.

Mrs. Loree Stafford, teacher-director, made sure to be on hand to ward off disaster and guide the fathers through an exhaustingly enlightening morning.

SATURDAY WAS DAD'S DAY for the three- and four-year-olds at North Lake Co-Op Nursery. Showing off their papas and vice versa are, front row, left to right, Michael and Jeannine Moulleseaux; John Baker and niece, Christy Lonsky; Jim and Evan Knott; teacher-director Loree Stafford; Charles and Genevieve Bonsek; Craig and Dirk Wales; Doug Brown, Sr., and Nicole; middle row, left to right, Larry and Lindsay Gaken; Chuck and Eric Freitas; Jerry and Nick Kramer; Bob and Ben Culver; back row, left to right, Randy and Jason Fox; Carey Schiller and unpictured, Richard Schiller; Joe and Steve Okla; Ron and Jeffrey Montange; Mike and Jeremy Muha and Rod and Tom Payne.

National Ag Day Slated March 19

On Thursday, March 19, people all across the United States, will take time to recognize and salute the story of what agriculture means to America, according to Mrs. R. O. Burgett, Grass Lake, vice-president of Michigan CowBelles. Mrs. Burgett is also a director from Region I on the executive committee of the American National CowBelles.

"It's all part of the nation-wide 'Agriculture Day' observance which will unite volunteers in all parts of the country in a coordinated effort to communicate the message—'Agriculture: It's Your Heartbeat, America!'—to top decision-makers, the news media and urban audiences nation-wide," said Burgett.

Mrs. Burgett explained that for the first time since its beginning in 1973, Agriculture Day has been officially proclaimed a national observance. House Joint Resolution 560 designating March 19 as "National Agriculture Day" was passed by the U. S. Congress, and signed into law by the President Oct. 9, 1980.

Burgett pointed to the following facts illustrating the vital role agriculture plays in the U. S. economy:

- Nation's Industry—assets of $927 billion.
 - Nation's Employer—over 15 million people.
 - Nation's Inflation Fighter—productivity growth five times greater than non-farm business over past five years.
 - Nation's Exporter—$40 billion in 1980.
- "We are proud to be associated with a strongly united effort—the tremendous success story that modern agriculture has to tell," continued Burgett. "We firmly believe that by working together with a positive voice, we can build a better informed urban public."
- Burgett noted that a wide range of creative materials emphasizing the "Heartbeat" message including posters, bumper stickers, fact cards, postcards, IQ quizzes and announcements for media are available from the Agriculture Day Foundation. Anyone interested in participating, should write: Ag Day Foundation, P. O. Box 23421, Washington, D. C. 20024.

Chinese Scholars Tour C. Trinkle Dairy Farm

Seven scholars and administrators (in the field of population studies from the People's Republic of China) began a two-day visit at the University of Michigan Monday and Tuesday, March 16 and 17. The group arrived Sunday, March 15 after having visited higher education institutions in

New York, Boston and other parts of the Northeast. The delegation expressed interest in seeing a farm while in this country. Their first stop upon entering Michigan was the Charles Trinkle dairy farm, 9631 Trinkle Rd.

The University's Population Studies Center and sociology department are the final stops on the delegation's four-week U.S. tour, sponsored by the United Nations Fund for Population Activities and the International Division of the U.S. Labor Department.

"The Chinese scholars are interested in the organization of population and sociological training and research at the University and its relation to public policy development," according to Professor Albert I. Hermalin, director of the Population Studies Center. "Presumably we will also discuss opportunities for collaborative research and for the training of Chinese students here."

The delegation, which included three directors of population research institutes, one government representative from the Chinese Ministry of Education, two research scientists and an interpreter, come from Peking, Shanghai and other Chinese centers of learning.

Young Man Arrested on B & E Charge

Kenneth D. Lindstrom, 18, a resident of the Sylvan Hotel, was arrested and charged with breaking and entering an occupied dwelling with the intent to commit larceny and receiving and concealing stolen property over $100 last Friday, stemming from a Feb. 19 break-in at a home located in the Lanewood subdivision where a total of 63 silver coins and one piece of jewelry was stolen. He was arraigned on the felony charges over the weekend which if proved carry a combined sentence of 20 years or $2,500 fine or both.

The stolen goods were taken to a stamp and coin store in Ann Arbor on Feb. 20 and sold for a total of $700. Thereafter, the buyers notified the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department who, in turn, notified the Chelsea Police. The owners of the stolen merchandise were unaware of any missing belongings until contacted by Chelsea Police.

An investigation by Sgt. Lenard McDougall and officer Rick Walter, ensued and the pair presented the case to the county prosecutor from whom they obtained a warrant. Two juveniles, aged 14 and 16, were also involved in the breaking and entering.

Beach Students Participate in Academic Games Competition

Fifteen 6th and 7th graders from Beach Middle school competed Tuesday, March 10 at Eastern Michigan University in a Michigan League of Academic Games (MLAG) tournament. Three teams of five students competed for the first time and brought home second and fourth place wins.

The MLAG is a group of more than 60 schools which send teams of junior and senior high students to monthly competitions. Since October, the Chelsea competitors had been meeting after school one day per week to practice and prepare for the math game, Equations. The group had attended six monthly competitions at various schools in areas as far away as Lansing, Detroit and Garden City. The Beach school team, consisting of up to 20 members, has done extremely well in these meets and is currently ranked 7th among the 20 schools in their region, many of whom have participated in MLAG competition for 10 years.

The month leading up to the EMU competition was spent with the 15 team members selling cookies to raise the funds necessary to attend the tournament. Many long hours were spent drilling and preparing for the competition.

The MLAG also offers competitive games in English and social studies. The Beach teams, following their fine showings in Equations, are planning to learn new games in the upcoming months in anticipation for the 1982 MLAG competitions.

Views On Dental Health

By ROBERT A. BURNS, JR., DDS, P.C.

CHILD'S FIRST DENTAL VISIT

A child going to the dentist for the first time is often a handful of anxieties. Any dentist using the right techniques can transform the most terrified child into a cooperative patient who is no longer afraid—a child who will leave the office with a smile on his face.

The first thing a dentist must do is convince the child of his honesty. Children are smart. They are not easily fooled. If a youngster is promised that a particular thing will be done, the dentist had better be sure he does it.

Usually, the dentist begins with something easy. He says, "Today I am going to count your teeth." And, after that, come what may, he must count the teeth, using whatever means necessary. Remember this: The child often cries before anything is done to him (even a haircut). He is not hurt, and the dentist has to prove that he can be trusted to do exactly what he says he is going to do—no more, no less. The noise and hysteresis generally disappear after the first visit. If the dentist establishes his reliability and that he is trustworthy, there will rarely be any more trouble.

If you have dental health questions you would like to see answered, please mail them to the address below.

New Party Elects Clerk

Regardless of low voter turnout at the annual Village Election Monday, March 9, six candidates were elected to the ranks of village officials, as a total of 152 Village residents cast their ballots.

The newly formed Village Party, initiated by former councilman Walter Brown, elected candidate Evelyn Rosentreter to the office of village clerk as she defeated her Independent Party opponent by an 80-58 voting margin.

Three village council seats were filled as Independent incumbents Lyle Chriswell and John Popovich filled two positions with tallied votes of 97 and 114, respectively. Newcomer Jerry Satterthwaite, another Independent Party nominee, secured the third seat following 107 votes, cast in his favor. The Village Party nominee, Ishmael Picklesimer, received a total of 69 votes.

Two seats on the Library Board were also filled as Pat Chriswell received 106 votes from Chelsea electors while Anne Belser tallied a total of 118 votes.

The officials-elect will assume their elected duties following their completion of the oath of office at the Village Council meeting Tuesday, March 17.

The Juilliard String Quartet, widely acknowledged as the best in the world, became artists-in-residence at Michigan State University in the fall of 1977.

Pinckney Sports Center Opening for Public Use

The Pinckney Board of Education voted to allocate $12,000 in funds last week to open the school district's new community sports center, which has been plagued by a lack of funds, on a part-time basis. The facility includes an auditorium, a pool and a gymnasium and will be open to the community on a fee basis.

Pinckney superintendent of schools, Glen Corp, presented a plan to solicit donations from school staff and community residents so that none of the board guaranteed funds would be used. According to this plan, the facility will open in the late afternoon and evening for use by the community at large while it will remain closed during the school day. Daily use by students would be unavailable.

Upon building the complex there was no money to facilitate its opening. Nevertheless, allowing it to remain idle defeats its purpose as a viable community center. Through estimated donations from the staff, community and entrance fees, it is expected that the facility will open, initially on a part time basis. If these contributions—$2,000 from staff, $18,000 from community residents and $16,000 from user fees—are realized, the monies provided by the Pinckney Board of Education would be returned.

Plans also include a variety of special events including an open house to show local residents the community complex in full operation and a business day to exhibit the facility to area businessmen. The local administration anticipates that once the local area has the opportunity to view the new community facility, over-all community interest will be stimulated and, subsequently, their operational funding goals will be realized.

The final score was Muskegon 35, Washtenaw County 29. The team was coached by Darryl Wilson from High Point, a former player at Huron High and Ferris State.

The second game was between second string players from both counties. Chelsea defeated the Muskegon team, 28-14. Clarence Weiss was the most valuable player with eight points while Charlie Brown and Ryan Sweeney also added eight points apiece in the winning effort. Lori Brown

What's Agriculture All About?

What's agriculture all about? It's a business that adds up to one out of every five jobs in private enterprise in the U.S. Besides the 2.3 million farms, it requires 3 million people to provide its seeds, fertilizers and other supplies farmers use for production and family living. It's a business that used 191,000 miles of railroads, 3.2 million miles of intercity highways and 26,000 miles of improved waterways to get food—more than 400 million tons of it—to American consumers.

Creative Writing Class Offered

Turner Geriatric Clinic, 1010 Wall St., Ann Arbor, will present a program on creative writing for senior citizens on Thursday, March 19, from 1 p.m. until 3:30 p.m.

A film, "Life-Writing for Life-Living" that was made in the Lansing area, will be shown. The film was produced by Dean Linda Wagner and Professor Candida Gillis of the Department of English of Michigan State University, who will describe their experiences with the project.

A handbook, "Guidelines for a Life-Writing Project," will be available free of charge for those interested in starting groups in retirement homes, nursing homes and senior citizen centers.

After a coffee break, a panel of participants in the two Turner writing groups will discuss their experiences.

Good Things Growing In Michigan

By Margaret G. McCall

I think you would have found roast beef on the Sunday dinner table of half the homes in town when I was growing up in southwestern Michigan. (The other half would have been eating chicken.) Even then, beef was one of the good things growing in Michigan.

According to the Michigan Department of Agriculture, our state's farmers sold 682,000 head of cattle last year, which amounted to more than 500 million pounds for our dinner tables.

One of the nicest things about a beef roast is its versatility. Beef takes kindly to a great variety of flavorings and accompaniments. If you want to impress the boss, serve an elegant standing rib roast. The "king" of beef, a standing rib should be seasoned gently, so the lovely flavor is not masked. A crisp green salad, your choice of potatoes, and a simple dessert complete the menu.

Pot roasts can be family fare or special for company. Try simmering a pot roast with a little good red Michigan wine, which does wonders for the gravy. Add whole or sliced mushrooms a few minutes before serving, and company will applaud.

Remember that fruits marry well with beef. I like to brown a pot roast, then spread it with peach preserves. Add sliced onions, carrots and celery. Oven-browned potatoes are good with this. You might try adding stewed or chopped tomatoes to your pot roast, or blend a little sour cream and horseradish into the gravy for a tangy accent.

Samuel Johnson said it almost 300 years ago, "The feeling of friendship is like that of being comfortably filled with roast beef." I know just what he means.

The first union of federal employees was formed by New York City letter carriers in 1863, according to "Labor Firsts in America," a publication of the U.S. Department of Labor.

Ask the Governor

Question: I read of a study recently that showed Michigan's business climate to be the worst of any state in the country. Do you agree?

Governor: I do not agree. Although Michigan has desperately needed such forward steps as the recent reform of the workers' compensation and unemployment insurance systems, our state's business climate is certainly not reflected accurately by the study you refer to.

I am disturbed not only by the ranking given to us, but also by the factors used to determine the rankings. High labor union activity was considered a negative factor, for example, while no comparable points were awarded for the highly skilled labor force that such activity has produced. High wages were also accounted a negative with no compensating points given for the increased business activity stimulated by those wages. Relatively high state expenditures for education, again, were viewed as negative factors, but the resulting knowledgeable work force so necessary in industry was discounted. Most people would regard large expenditures for education as a desirable feature. A highly educated work force is especially attractive to high-growth, technology-based industries.

It comes as no surprise, considering these "negative" factors, that Mississippi ranked number one in that particular study while Michigan ranked last. Another major factor of advantage to Michigan which was not included in the study was the availability of water. All of the Sunbelt states which have recently become very attractive to business are encountering increasing problems because of lack of water—as do most of the parts of the nation except the Great Lakes.

While I do not mean to diminish our need for increased and diversified business activity, I do not believe this study accurately reflects Michigan's business climate.

Question: What ever became of the furlough days for state employees that were supposed to save so many layoffs and tax dollars?

Governor: The first of six layoff days took place on Jan. 2 and the next will be March 20. About 47,500 employees are affected and I am pleased by the cooperation they have shown as well as the willingness of Michigan residents to accept any inconvenience caused by the shutdown of state offices. As many as 200 jobs are retained by each one-day layoff, the first of which is estimated to have saved about $4 million.

In addition, state employees have participated in a voluntary pay reduction plan to such a large extent that nearly 10 percent of all employees are now enrolled at a savings in cash outlay of $13.9 million on an annualized basis.

Question: What is your view on casino gambling in Detroit as an effort to bring money into the ailing city?

Governor: I am firmly opposed to legalizing casino gambling in Detroit. I believe that casino gambling would worsen Detroit's problems, not help them.

The detrimental effects on Detroit could be expected to include increased crime, the potential for political scandals, and involvement of organized crime. Although new money would come into the city, much of it would have to be spent on increased police protection and other social costs that tend to accompany gambling. Las Vegas and Atlantic City can testify to these unhealthy side effects. If a bill to legalize casino gambling in Detroit receives legislative approval, I will veto it.

Expansion and diversification of Michigan's many industries and resources will help pull Detroit and the state out of its current financial troubles, not a "quick-fix" approach such as casino gambling.

Question: I live in Detroit and my children attend a Detroit public school. I have visited the school on several occasions and was shocked to find the violence and vandalism that occurs in broad daylight. I'm concerned for my children's safety at school. Why isn't anything being done to stop this?

Governor: The issue of school violence and vandalism has always been of high concern. In recent years, concern has increased as school districts across the country have spent more on costs related to vandalism than they have on textbooks.

I recently helped launch a New Detroit, Inc. project aimed at combating violence and vandalism. The project, called CASE for Clean and Safe Education is designed to improve Detroit schools through student, staff and parent involvement in the educational decision-making process.

Funded by a $860,000 grant from the Hudson-Webber Foundation, Project CASE will involve six schools: Mackenzie and Kettering high schools, Barbour and Noble middle schools and Courts and Rose elementary schools.

I sincerely hope that progress in reducing school violence and vandalism through project CASE, and the resulting improvement in the quality of education, will spread the commitment to fight these serious problems to other schools in Detroit and Michigan.

Project CASE evolved from my Task Force on School Violence and Vandalism which reported that the involvement of staff, students and parents in school life is the most effective tool against both violence and vandalism.

Professional Development Day Slated for Teachers

Chelsea public schools will be dismissed at 11:30 a.m. on Wednesday, March 18. The Chelsea teaching staff will be involved in a half-day Professional Development Program.

This is the second time this year that the Professional Development Committee of the Chelsea schools has planned such an afternoon. The committee is chaired by John Williams, Chelsea High school principal and is made up of principals Al Conklin, Bob Benedict and Sylvester Wojcik as well as Karin Fuller and Bill Chandler from the high school, Sandy Hamilton of South school, Sue Hull of Beach school and Alberta Steif of North school. Funds for the Professional Development activities have been provided by a combined state and federal grant.

The major presentation this Wednesday will be a two-hour lecture by Dr. Edward C. Pino of Colorado, regarding individualized teaching methods. Dr. Pino is a nationally re-known expert in this area; his lecture and demonstration should provide improved educational services for the students in the Chelsea School District.

Other options available to teachers will be visiting other school districts and examining academic programs or attending professional activities as organized by the Dexter School District. Chelsea and Dexter have coordinated their staff development activities this year so that teachers from either school district may attend those activities which interest them most. Dexter will be offering in-service sessions on Communication and Motivation in the Classroom and Alternative Careers for Educators.

In the State of Michigan, 75 percent of Michigan public school teachers have already been awarded masters degrees in their field of teaching. Statistics also indicate that the average number of years teaching experience is 10 to 12 and that many of these teachers will still be teaching by the year 2000. This indicates that many of the teachers in the Chelsea School District will not be taking any further course work at colleges or universities to upgrade their teaching skills. As a result, the Chelsea schools are committed to the idea of a continuing professional development program to assist instructors in further skill development.

Travel Film Features Tour of Scotland

ED & KATHY JILLSON

SCOTTISH LANDSCAPE

On Saturday evening, March 21, the Chelsea Kiwanis Club will present its 121st program in the "Travel and Adventure Series." The subject this week is "Bonnie Scotland" by Ed and Kathy Jillson, beginning at 8 p.m. in the Chelsea High school auditorium.

Ed Jillson was born in Rhinelander, Wis. He lived out most of his life on the West Coast, principally in Southern California. One of his occupations has been freelance photography, taking pictures for printed publications as well as film for television and commercial use.

For many years Jillson held various executive positions with large corporations in such varied fields as construction, manufacturing, boat building and retail sales. But throughout the years he has never been able to get very far away from his cameras.

His love of photography and travel led him to the travel and adventure filmmaking field. Through the medium of film, Jillson enjoys sharing the beauty and wonder of interesting places. Kathy Jillson was born in Glendale, Calif. She began her studies in journalism but soon turned her natural ability to oil painting, became a professional and subsequently taught classes in the subject.

Her love of beauty and her awareness of her surroundings led her to the field of interior decorating, in which she owned and operated her own studio for several years. Eventually, she taught classes in this field also.

Another interest is in children's literature. She has written children's stories which she has personally narrated into long playing record albums.

Because of her interest in the arts, Mrs. Jillson was always close to her husband's activities in photography. They soon decided to join each other in producing travel and adventure films.

Both Ed and Kathy have travelled extensively and have a great interest in people and places. While in Chelsea, they will be hosted for dinner by Dr. and Mrs. Clare Warren.

Kiwanians assisting with the Jillson's performance will be Al Fellhauer, emcee; Bill Bolt and Ken Lindow who will assist Jack Fowler in the projection booth; Luther Kusterer, usher captain and his assistants Paul Schaible, Jack Wellnitz, George Heydlauff and Clare Warren.

Next season's program will be announced and the 1981-82 reservation cards will be handed out. Individual tickets may be purchased at the door for "Bonnie Scotland."

It's Maple Syrup Time at Waterloo Nature Center

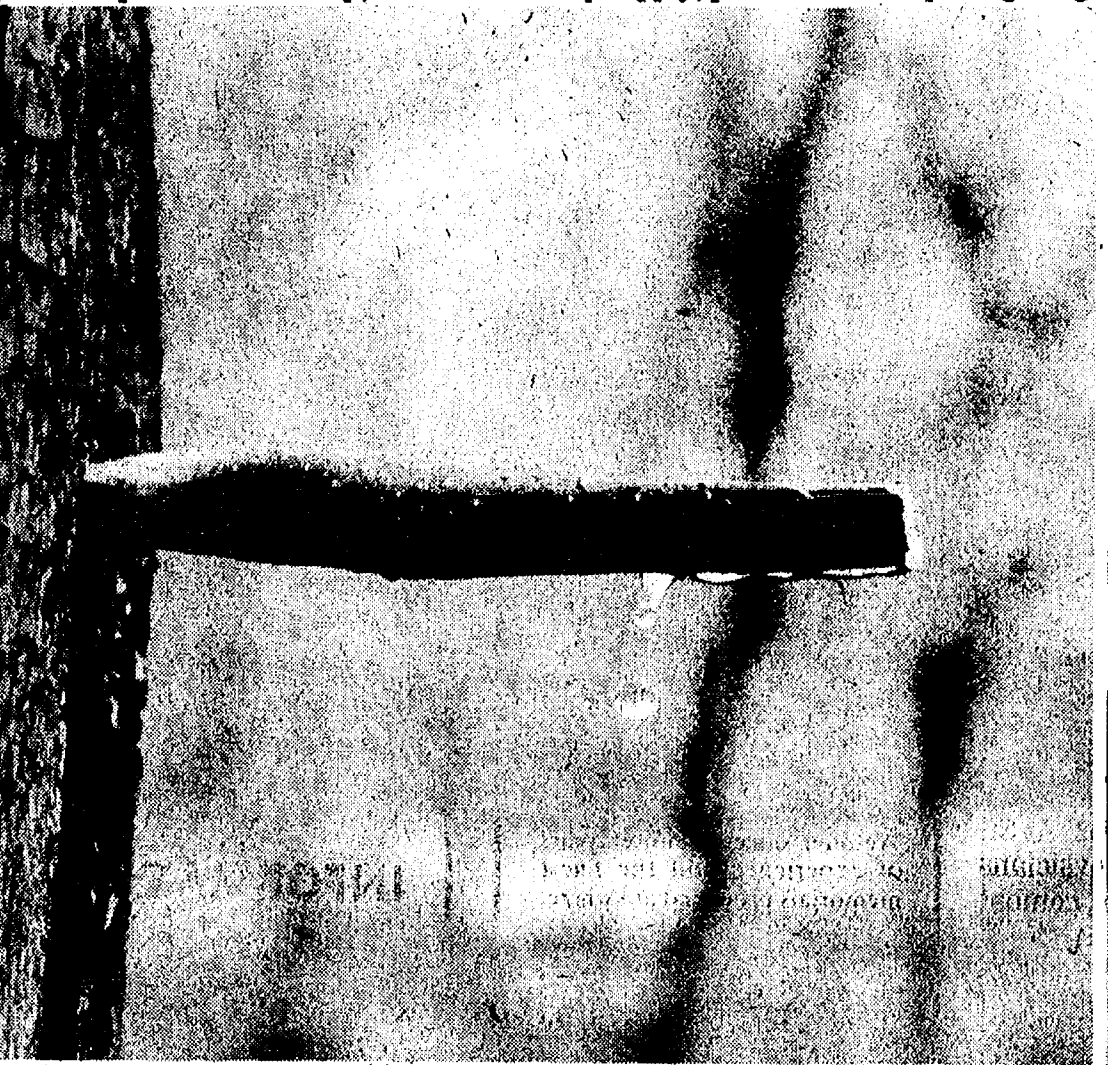

CAROL STRAHLER drills into the trunk of a rock or sugar maple in order to drive a spile inside and tap into the tree's sap supply, phase one of maple sugaring.

EMILIE POLENS collects gallons of maple sap that will be transported to the sugarhouse where all water content will be evaporated into sweet golden syrup.

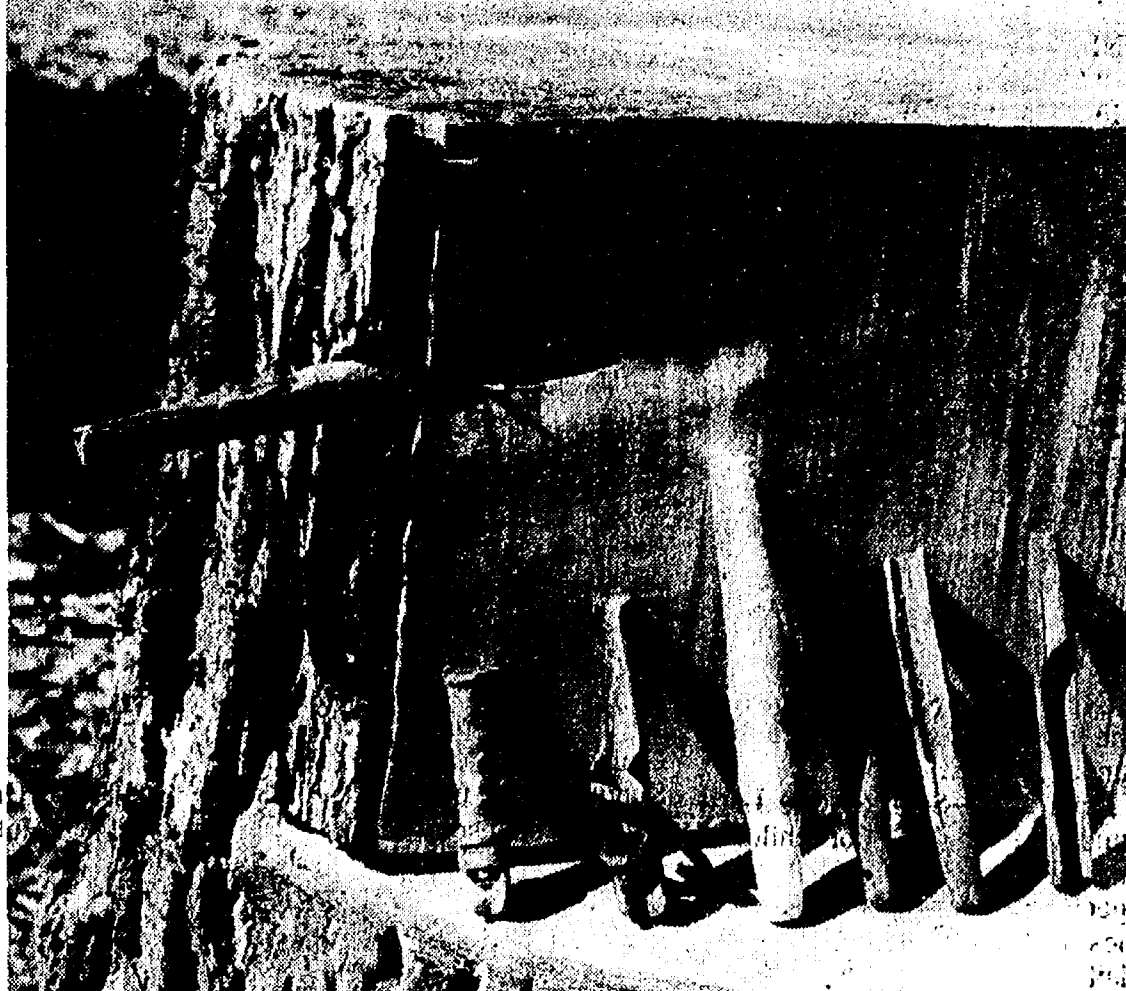

COLLECTED SAP is removed by the jug-full by Carol Strahler as Emilie Polens looks on. From this step, the sap is poured into large gathering containers and later placed in evaporating pans.

GLISTENING MAPLE SAP drips from the spout hammered into the tree's trunk. Fluctuating hot and cold Michigan temperatures and an abundance of sugar maple trees, place the state fifth in the country in maple syrup and maple sugar production.

EVAPORATING PANS filled with maple sap simmer gently over an open fire. As the water content evaporates, maple syrup is the result.

A VARIETY OF SPOUTS OR SPILES may be driven into the trunk of the tree in order to free the maple sap supply which is collected in jugs or buckets.

Maple syrup, native to North America, comes from the rock or sugar maple tree. Sap is collected in late February and early March when it runs swiftly or slowly according to weather conditions. The quantity collected depends on the amount of sunlight that reached the leaves the previous year.

Crisp cold nights and warm sunny days, accompanied by the subsequent alternation of freeze and thaw, make perfect "sugar weather." Prolonged cold will stop the sap flow while continuous warm weather will cause the swelling of buds and end the annual sap collection.

Maple syrup was first discovered by the Indians. Men, normally unaccustomed to "women's work," often joined in on collecting and evaporating maple sap that was stored in the roots. Indian children were often given the honor of tasting the first sugar of the season. Although their methods were crude, the Indians were very successful in harvesting the sap. Gashing the tree with a hatchet, they would catch the dripping sap in hollowed out logs or baskets. They would boil the sap by placing heated rocks in hollowed out logs. This process was repeated until the sap turned into sugar.

With the coming of the white man, iron pots became available. Placing these pots directly over the fire, early settlers simplified the water evaporation process. Through the years, other sugaring tools were improved; using hollowed out branches, the techniques of tapping the tree with spiles became a popular method for efficiently gathering the sap.

Sugar maples grow slowly and are seldom good sap producers before the age of 40 years and yield the greatest amount after 80 years. It is said that sugar maples planted by the Pilgrims in the 1620's are still yielding sap. Each tree produces an average of 10 gallons of sap, 97 percent of which is water. When boiled down, this sap results in about one quart of maple syrup; if the boiling process is prolonged, approximately two pounds of maple sugar results. Often, it takes as many as 50 gallons of sap to equal one gallon of syrup.

During the average month-long season, maple sap will run only about one half of the days. "Good runs" may occur on as few as two days, seldom more than five. It is then that the tree is tapped by drilling a hole approximately two inches deep in the trunk. A hollow spout, or spile is inserted into the hole and the sap emerges, drop by drop.

Collected sap is placed in large pans and boiled to evaporate the water. The boiled product is drawn off as maple syrup. It requires a great deal of patience to cook the syrup; a small amount of sap is placed in the evaporator at any one time. A constant watch is kept, using a thermometer and hydrometer to test for thickness. All impurities are strained through a felt matting and the finished product is canned quickly so as not to be soured by bacteria.

Today's "sugar bush" is a far cry from the esthetically pleasing wooden buckets and horse drawn sleds and wagons of the past. Plastic hoses often connects the tree directly to the evaporation site. While this method has considerably decreased the amount of manual labor associated with collecting sap, the process of producing sugar remains costly.

Today, pure maple syrup sells for approximately $25 per gallon and few people can afford the luxury of a stack of pancakes dripping with liquid gold. This specialty product is a 100 percent natural food and while perfect with hotcakes, waffles and french toast, it is not necessarily economically competitive with artificially flavored cane or corn syrups used for this purpose.

On Sunday, March 22, between the hours of 11 a.m. and 5 p.m., the Waterloo Nature Center will be offering a taste as well as interpretive program on maple sugaring. The program will include tree tapping, evaporation of the sap and a discussion of Indian and pioneer methods. A film will be shown and a number of Indian maple sugaring artifacts from the Museum of Anthropology as well as some pioneer sugaring equipment on loan from the Waterloo Farm Museum, will be on display. The cost to the public is 50 cents per person.

The Waterloo Nature Center may be reached by taking I-94 to the Pierce Rd. Exit (157). Travel north on Pierce Rd. until you reach Bush Rd. Turn left on Bush Rd. and one-half mile down, you will see the entrance sign. For additional information, you may contact the Nature Center at 475-8069. Office hours are 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., Tuesday through Thursday.

March of Dimes Luncheon, Fashion Show Scheduled

The 1981 March of Dimes Luncheon Fashion Show is scheduled for March 21, 1 p.m. at Weber's Inn, Ann Arbor. You may make reservations by calling the March of Dimes office at 761-6331. There is a donation of $15. A cash bar will be available at 12 p.m. with luncheon served at 1 p.m. Fashions will be presented by Goodyear's of Ann Arbor.

Models for this year's show include Sheriff Tom Minick, Dr. David Denzin, Sandy Young, Barbara Dew, Pauline De Lay and Avis Connellan of Ann Arbor; Paula Brostrom, Molly Meyer and Lindsay Schneider of Saline; Sonya Loader, Fofie Pappas and Mary Blake of Ypsilanti; Mary Ann Merkel of Chelsea.

Proceeds from the show will be used for research and education in the nation and the counties. More than 250,000 babies are born with birth defects each year. It is the mission of the March of Dimes to improve the outcome of pregnancy. There are about one million alcoholics of child bearing age and many of the same group are drug abusers—both of which can harm the fetus. The March of Dimes Birth Defects Foundation is dedicated to educating these people.

Film Scheduled Sunday Evening At Baptist Church

The film "A Stranger in My Forest" will be shown at the Chelsea Baptist church, 337 Wilkinson St., Sunday, March 22 beginning at 6 p.m.

The film is 75 minutes long. There is no admission charge. It is a service given to the community by the church. Recommendations have come in from many states and Canada praising the character of this film, that it is appreciated by both the church and the non-church people.

What does the future hold for the United States of America?

As a minister of the Gospel I predict:

1. that the future is filled with things, events that are ominous even though the Reagan Government is doing its best, Matthew 24:41—for then there will be great tribulation, such as has not occurred since the beginning of the world until now, nor ever shall;
2. there may be an apparent improvement, like a recessive cancer, only to worsen into a literal holocaust later;
3. that the growing technology, the pressure of political alliances, the drive for essential resources: of food, energy, raw materials; is bringing us into the position of 'who will survive.'

Among the millions of committed christians, we, I, see a future of peace and happiness, of justice and opportunity beyond imagination. Isaiah 9:7—"There will be no end to the increase of His government or of peace."

Today is the time to make our relationship to this future meaningful by confessing and forsaking a life style of sin (selfishness, materialism, failure, of ignoring and opposing the Lord Jesus Christ) and committing ourselves: spirit, soul and body, to the lordship of Christ in a life style consistent with the Gospel.

Which future are you choosing: the gloom filled future we see now or the indescribable future as promised in Christ?

You are invited to attend and worship with us at the Chelsea Baptist Church, 337 Wilkinson St. where we preach and teach this message of hope.

North School Parents Assist In Many Ways

Parents of North school children have had several projects this year that have benefited their children. They have assisted in the math lab, have tutored children in both classes and the reading room. One of the key projects that is almost completed is a stage, a group of four by eight portable platforms that may be connected or used separately to form a stage to be used for class plays or school assemblies.

Three parents, Sam Stoddard, Ken Schatz and Lorraine Schatz, constructed the platforms. Sam Stoddard drew up the plans for the stage after a discussion at the Parent-Teacher North meeting last fall and the project has been under his direction. The children and teachers at North school anticipate using the platforms for upcoming occasions.
