69th ANNIVERSARY: Palmer Motor Sales celebrates its 69th year, Wednesday, April 15. Opened as a Ford franchise in 1912 by Leigh G. Palmer, his son, George Palmer, has been in charge since 1972. Palmer Motor Sales is the oldest Ford Motor Co. dealership in Michigan and one of the oldest Ford distributors in the country.

Palmer Motor Sales Marks 69th Birthday With Optimism

Ford Motor Co. records indicate that Palmer Motor Sales was begun April 15, 1912. Therefore, as a Ford franchise, Palmer Motor Sales celebrates its 69th birthday tomorrow and is the oldest Ford dealership in Michigan as well as one of the oldest in the United States.

But, the history of Chelsea's Palmer Motor Sales, Inc. indicates that the business was originally established in 1910 by Leigh G. Palmer in a two-car garage at 130 E. Middle St. There, the Regal automobile was sold. In 1911, the business was moved to its present location at 222 S. Main St. At that time, a sub-dealership was obtained from Ford Motor Co. adding the Ford vehicles to the stock line as well as the EMF.

In 1912, a Ford franchise was awarded to L. G. Palmer and the Regal and EMF vehicles dropped from the line. In addition to selling Ford Motor products, Palmer Motor Sales also offered buyers the Studebaker between 1915 and 1917 and the Dodge car between 1915 and 1918.

In 1918, a two-story fireproof automotive shop was constructed on the rear portion of the Palmer building and the Fordson tractor entered into the line of vehicles sold until it was eventually dropped in 1927.

Lincolns were added to the available stock in 1920 and Mercury followed suit in 1938. Both models were sold by Palmer Motor Sales until 1942 when the Chelsea business became a total Ford-oriented business.

The present showroom was built in front of the old garage and office buildings in 1948, thereby uniting the two previously separated structures.

In addition to having the oldest Ford dealership in Michigan, L. G. Palmer, who served as president of Palmer Motor Sales for 60 years, was also associated with Standard Oil Co. since 1910, a tradition which remains today.

George Palmer, son of the original owner, began working at Palmer Motor Sales in 1943. He took over the business as president in 1972.

Following George Palmer's take over of the business, an off-site used car sales location was added on the corner of Old Manchester Rd. and M-52.

Palmer Motor Sales has continuously operated in the same location since 1911 and its acquired Ford franchise in 1912. Traditionally, the Palmers have seen to it that their facilities, parts and inventory have remained comparable to those of their competitors. Employing between 20 and 30 persons at any given time, the current economic slump has had its impact on Chelsea's Ford dealership which sells between 300 and 500 new units per year.

Nevertheless, George Palmer is "optimistic about the future of Palmer Motor Sales. We have maintained our dependability over the years and have never explored any other business alternatives or endeavors," explained the owner of Michigan's oldest Ford Motor Co. franchise.

Try-Outs Set for 'South Pacific' Cast

Plans are currently being made for the Chelsea Players' summer production of Rodgers and Hammerstein's musical "South Pacific," based on James Michener's Pulitzer Prize winning "Tales of the South Pacific." Jeannett Tracy Brock, who directed last summer's highly successful production of "The King and I," will again take the director's chair.

"South Pacific" is a beautiful and lively play with such unforgettable songs as "Some Enchanted Evening," "Bali Hai," "I'm Gonna Wash That Man Right Outa My Hair" and "Younger than Springtime." The action takes place on a South Sea island during World War II and centers on two love stories.

The first love story finds Nellie Forbush, a young Navy nurse from Little Rock, Ark. meeting and falling in love with a gallant, middle-aged French man, Emile de Becque, while the second centers around Joseph Cable, a handsome young marine who falls in love with a beautiful island girl, Liat.

Seabee Luther Billis and native Bloody Mary provide laughs with an intense rivalry in the souvenir market of grass skirts and shrunken heads.

Many roles are available in "South Pacific," ranging from nurses and seaboys to naval officers and islanders. Members of the community are invited to try out on Thursday and Friday, May 21 and 22.

Scripts and musical scores will be available from June Warren on Friday, May 1 by calling 475-8500. The play will be presented July 23, 24, 25 and 26.

'Bud' Hankerd Becomes Chelsea's New Fire Chief

The appointment of Chelsea's new Fire Chief, Paul "Bud" Hankerd, was approved by the Chelsea Village Council during their regular meeting, Tuesday, April 7. He had been elected by active members of the Chelsea Fire Department last month, upon notification of Jim Gaken's retirement.

Bud Hankerd joined the Chelsea Fire Department in November 1956 following his acceptance by other members of the department. He has served in various supervisory capacities within the volunteer department ranging from secretary-treasurer from 1967-1970 and second lieutenant from 1972-1975 to assistant chief from 1975-1981 and his present position as Fire Chief.

Hankerd is employed as an assembler at Dana Corp., where he has worked since 1963. Since his entrance into the ranks of Fire Chief of the Chelsea Fire Department, Hankerd has been busy preparing for his new role as an active volunteer and overseer.

Though the fire chief is usually the former assistant chief, the top official can be elected from any rank within the force. The most important qualification necessary for becoming the Chelsea Fire Chief, according to Hankerd, is being able to get along with the 20 active volunteers making up the department, one of whom is Hankerd's son, Matt.

Bud Hankerd anticipates no re-organization or major changes within the Chelsea Fire Department. "I hope it will continue to run as smoothly as it has for the 24 years I've been here," Hankerd explained. "It just takes a great deal of co-operation from the guys and their wives," he added.

Other firefighters elected into new offices were Larry Koch.

Girl Scout Association Dinner Set

"Girl Scouting, Then and Now" is the theme for the annual Western Washtenaw Area Association Dinner to be held Wednesday, April 29, beginning at 6:30 p.m. in the Chelsea High school cafeteria. It will be a gala evening where special tribute is given to the Girl Scout leaders and other volunteers from Chelsea, Manchester, Dexter and Saline, each of whom has made scouting possible for many girls in the area.

Chelsea is the town hosting the event this year. All volunteers—leaders, T.S.D., troop committee persons, cookie chairmen, troop co-ordinators, parent helpers, sponsors—and registered Girls Scouts age 14 or older are invited to join in this evening by calling Roberta Hinz at 475-8211 and placing a reservation by Friday, April 17. A $4 donation is necessary to defer expenses.

KIWANIS FLOWER SALE: Walt and Sandy Zeeb, owners of Chelsea Greenhouses, prepare for the 31st annual Kiwanis Easter Flower Sale. As in years past, the Zeebs grow approximately 5,000 flowering and green plants for the Easter season. The annual sale will be held at Heydlauff's, Friday and Saturday, April 17 and 18.

Kiwanis Club Prepares for 31st Easter Flower Sale

Chelsea Kiwanis Club will sponsor its annual Easter flower sale, Friday and Saturday, April 17 and 18 at Heydlauff's. The sale, in its 31st year, will be held between the hours of 8 a.m.-1 p.m. and 3-9 p.m. Good Friday, and from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday.

The flowers and plants sold during the event are supplied by Chelsea Greenhouse, which offers the Kiwanians a liberal commission, and many of them have been in the growing stage since last October in preparation for this year's sale. Included in the springtime fare will be flowering Easter lilies, tulips, cinerara, azaleas and mums. Cut flowers, single blooms, corsages, carnations, gardenias and green plants will also be available.

Chelsea Greenhouse, which is owned by Walt and Sandy Zeeb, grows approximately 5,000 flowering and green plants each Easter season, many of which are supplied to the Chelsea Kiwanis flower sale. Prior to Zeeb's purchase of the greenhouse in 1980, it was owned by Elvira Clark-Visel who also supplied flowers for the annual Kiwanis sales.

During the first Kiwanis flower sale, directed by Jerry Niehaus and held at Tom Smith's Red and White Grocery, $400 was grossed with a $50 profit going into the organization's civic budget. Later, the sale was held at Loeffler's Meat Market and Hilltop Plumbing, and then, at Heydlauff's where they are now held annually. Comparatively, the 1980 sale produced $1,000 in.

Auto Emission Standards Delayed By Legislative Committee

Proposed state administrative rules to implement the inspection and maintenance provisions of the auto emission control law were delayed by a joint legislative committee in hopes for changes in the federally-prodded program.

The Department of State complied with the request of the Joint Committee on Administrative Rules to withdraw the rules but a spokesman said the department would like the rules implemented and would resubmit them as soon as possible.

Phillip Frangos of the Department of State, the state agency responsible for implementing and enforcing the program, said the committee's action means the state could be set back in its ability to implement the emissions program by the Jan. 1, 1982 deadline set by federal officials.

The state is threatened with the loss of federal funds for a variety of programs and with denial of industrial construction permits if the program is not in operation by then.

Auto emission testing and maintenance is required in areas failing to meet certain air standards. It is expected to affect, for now, only Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties.

Both Governor William Milliken and Secretary of State Richard Austin have asked President Reagan to lift the emission requirements, saying the state could come into compliance with clean air requirements through other means.

In asking the department to withdraw the rules, the committee members indicated they wanted to see if any changes would come from Washington.

Officials in the federal administration have indicated they would want to make changes in the clean air requirements.

The committee members also said they wanted to tie their action on the auto emission requirements to action on the air and water pollution surveillance fees.

Frangos said the committee action showed a "reluctance to do something until some guidance from Washington."

The State Department rules deal with actual testing of motor vehicles in areas not found in compliance with clean air rules.

Under the act, which was approved partially to prevent the federal government from denying permits for the construction of new industrial plants in the tri-county area, the Department of Natural Resources will determine which areas do not comply with the clean air rules.

Motorists in those areas will then have to have their vehicles tested and if they do not comply with the clean air requirements, be adjusted by qualified mechanics.

House Minority Leader William Bryant (R-Grosse Pointe Farms) urged the rules not be adopted, saying he had no doubts the Reagan administration would scuttle the rules.

Frangos, however, said there was nothing definite from the administration that the rules would be struck.

The rules will now be reworked and be placed back before the committee for further consideration.

If the Reagan administration, meanwhile, scraps the regulations, the rules and the entire program will be placed on hold until they become necessary under the current administration or a subsequent administration revitalizes the program.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

With everybody of ever flavor demanding and gitting their own set of rights these days, I was special interested in this piece I saw in a daily paper recent. It told where this hefty wife kicked her runt of a husband out of the house, turned the garden hose on him, sicked the dog on him and when he was still whining behind a tree in the yard she laid into him with one of his golf clubs.

The pore feller went to court to get an order from the judge for protection to go in the house after his belongings. The item said the judge searched his books and allowed as how he couldn't find no law that keeps a man safe from his wife in his own house. The judge pondered the case and ruled that the feller better eat more spinach or he better not do nothing to git his old lady riled.

I got to thinking on that case, Mister Editor, and I sudden realized that my old lady has been about half hard to suit lately. I don't think it's somepun I done or ain't done, but these things allus are misteries. Could be the new woman that plays the church organ is wearing to much face paint or not enough clothes. Onct it was the preacher's shoes need-ed shining. Based on that judge's ruling, I'm fer setting what's wrong right, and I have learned that the church is the first place to look fer trouble. Among country folk, special wimmen, there's more talk about church than any other matter, excepting maybe other wimmen. I steer clear of all of this I can, cause I know a feller can't build hisself up by tearing the other feller down. It seems a heap of folks feel about the church the way the feller felt that said he would be uneasy in a club that would take members like him.

Fer these reasons, when my old lady turns the talk to doings at the church, I tell I'm to busy with matters in Washington and other trouble spots of the world to give her ideas the thought they need. And I'm careful not to ask any questions on account of not having the time it takes fer a answer. Just the other night, she said the world is set in its ways and nothing I worry about is going to change a thing. As fer Government, she was of a mind that folks have got to put up with the cackle if they want any eggs. I knowed then I needn't give her the news about the Reagan Administration taking the hen plumb off the nest and sending her over to the Defense Department.

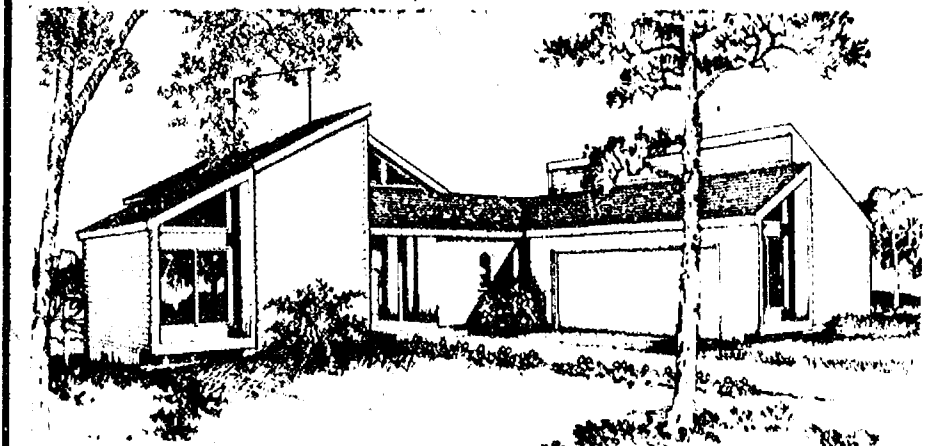

There ain't many shades of grey in my old lady's thinking. Fer instant, she is trying to cut back on my coffee drinking after seeing that report about it causing cancer, and no amount of talk about how being alive is hazardous to your health fazes her. She says she'll fight em one at a time and that's the end of that. I told her about this report where 36 percent of folks that go to the hospital get sicker from surgery or from catching what other patients have got. She said that just adds to her claim that we got to bring back the house call so more people can be sick at home cheaper and safer. Like I said, Mister Editor, I'm better off taking my case to the United Nations.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

violinist. The organist is Ed Workman.

The service is an adaptation of the ancient Tenebrae service dating from the 8th century. It commemorates the suffering and death of Christ. The literal translation of the Latin word "tenebrae" is "shadows," and the ceremony progresses from light to darkness. As altar candles are extinguished, they symbolize the fading loyalty of the disciples and friends of Jesus. It also portrays the fading light of the world as Christ was departing from it. The Great Candle on the altar, symbolic of life, appears to go out, but returns for a brief period, a reminder that Easter will soon dawn.

Those taking part in the service are Jim Stirling, Jr., narrator; Norman O'Connor, Jesus; Walt Hamilton, Peter; Larry Dietle, Pilate; Eldean Eisele, High Priest; Dennis Stoffer, Judas; Melvin Seitz, criminal; Diane Moller, maid; Tim Whitesall, Jr., candle bearer and acolyte; and, William Ackley, Ray Knickerbocker, Jon Schaffner and Gene Shoemaker, disciples. James Stirling, Sr. will sing the solo, "Were You There When They Crucified My Lord?"

St. Paul will celebrate Easter Sunday with a sunrise service beginning at 6:30 a.m. and featuring special music by Wynn Kanten and Chris Alber. Pastor Erwin Koch's sermon for the service is entitled, "God's Good Morning."

At 7:30 a.m., the Easter breakfast will be served, featuring egg souffles, sweet rolls and beverages. A free-will offering will be received. Mrs. Ann Schaffner is in charge of the breakfast with young people assisting.

The church school program, held in the sanctuary, will begin at 9 a.m. and will feature the children's choir, a slide presentation, and program led by Mrs.

Kathy Young and others. The Later Easter Service will begin at 10:30 a.m. with the Chancel Choir singing. Trumpeters are Willem vanReesema, Guy Gross and Tim Dmoch. The sermon will be entitled "God's Good Morning" and Holy Communion will be observed.

Faith Evangelical Lutheran church, located on North Territorial Rd., Dexter, will present a special Maundy Thursday service, April 16 at 7:30 p.m. Pastor Mark Porinsky has impersonated six characters involved in Jesus' death and will depict the seventh character, the thief on the cross, at the Holy Thursday service.

The Good Friday service will be a wrap-up of the previous services and will begin at 7:30 p.m. The title will be "Roll Call at the Cross" and it may be one of the most intense, challenging and unusual services ever held at the church. Worshipers will be forced to examine where they stand with the crucified Man ("Would you have stuck it out with Him? Which side would you have been on if you were alive in Jerusalem 19 and one-half centuries ago?").

On Easter Sunday, there will be two separate services. In the sunrise service at 6:30 a.m., Pastor Porinsky will portray St. Paul as he tells of his confrontation with the living Savior. This will be followed by Easter Breakfast, and a Bible Baseball game for all grade school-age children. The topic of the 10 a.m. service will be the glory of our resurrection from the dead.

Four Volunteer Friends Will Hike 3,000 Miles To Gain Support for SEVA Blindness Fight

Four Ann Arbor-based friends of the SEVA (Society for Epidemiology and Volunteer Assistance) Foundation, in hopes of raising $250,000 for the Nepal Blindness Program and publicizing the problem of the phenomenal number of persons suffering from disease-caused blindness, will undertake an extraordinary Sight Trek expedition along the Great Divide, beginning June 5.

The group will walk 3,000 miles from Canada to Mexico, taking five months to complete their course across the backbone of the Rocky Mountains which separate the great watersheds of the Eastern and Western United States. The group will wind through Montana, Idaho, Wyoming, Colorado and New Mexico, over granite peaks and snowfields, through flower-studded meadows, pine-covered valleys, rocky canyons and barren deserts, traveling at elevations of 4,000 to 14,000 feet.

Travel will be on uncharted mountain trails and cross-country, using maps and compasses. Backpacks will weigh between 40 and 60 pounds and will contain ice axes, ropes, tents, sleeping bags, layers of clothing and dry food. The pace of the trekkers will be at least 20 miles per day and some moonlight hiking will take place.

The trek will take nearly six months with departure from Waterton Provincial Park in Canada during the first week of June when there is still snow in the mountains. A projected time of arrival in Mexico is anticipated for late November.

The trek is intended to capture the attention of the American public and to direct it to the problem of disease-caused Nepalese blindness. It is also hoped that enough funds will be raised for the solution of this massive problem; enough to finance the doctors, equipment and supplies to furnish adequate nutritional, medical and surgical attention to both cure and prevent future blindness in this tiny Himalayan country where nearly 300,000 persons are without sight, nearly 10 times the prevalence of blindness in the United States.

The four person trek team is a total volunteer effort made up of many donated services and materials. Leading the expedition is Clarke Ball, 34, who completed half of this trip in 1972. His background is in history and, at one time, worked as a museum curator. In the past, he served as an associate director for a wilderness school he helped found and has led many wilderness survival courses. His past completion of the entire southern portion of the route, from Rocky Mountain National Park to the Mexican border, lend the planned Sight Trek credibility. Ball is a graduate of numerous survival courses and is a veteran of dozens of wilderness hikes. He is a candidate for a master's degree in experiential education from Mankato State University.

Hiker Patricia Hepburn, 26, is a former Chelseaite who graduated from Chelsea High School in 1973. She left the village in 1978 and moved to Ann Arbor. Hepburn, a hiking novice, will be the first woman to complete the rugged hiking expedition. She has taken a leave of absence from her secretarial position at the University of Michigan School of Public Health in order to participate in the trek.

Hepburn has mixed feelings toward her involvement in the expedition. "I'm excited about it but I'm also apprehensive," she explained from the A-frame SEVA office located on Spring Lake Drive. What do her parents think about her participation in this major expedition? "I haven't really told them," she said. "I've talked to my mother (Margaret Kearns of Pinckney) and she's excited but sad at the same time. My father (Thomas Ball of Whitmore Lake) doesn't know yet," she confided.

The third trekker is David Kahn, 21, a graduate of Outward Bound. "I don't know that I can do it," he explains, "it should prove to be a real challenge." Kahn is currently taking a year off from studying sculpture at Northern Michigan University to take part in the Sight Trek.

Stewart Merritt, 23, is the final hiker in this 3,000 mile journey to raise funds for the SEVA Nepal Blindness Project. He is a graduate of the National Outdoor Leadership School (NOLS) and has a degree in computer science from the University of Michigan. For Merritt, this sort of adventure has always been something done by other people. "This time, I'm an 'other people'."

Co-ordinator of the Sight Trek is Merritt's brother, Steven, 25, who has organized past volunteer and fund-raising activities for the SEVA Foundation. He has a degree in linguistics from the University of Michigan. According to Steve Merritt, "Some people say this can't be done, that everyone's basic needs cannot be provided for. We say you can." Staying back to co-ordinate the Sight Trek, Merritt is beginning to wish that he were taking part as well.

In addition to the aforementioned, approximately 100 volunteers are involved in the planning and execution of the expedition including commitments by individuals, foundations, corporations and businesses. Outward Bound and NOLS will provide logistical support while the Center for Fitness and Sports Research at the University of Michigan has donated its testing and training services to the expedition team. Yet others have donated the trek equipment or offered financial assistance.

Prior to the actual Sight Trek, trial runs will be held in the Smokey Mountains next month. Then, in June, the real journey will begin. If this group completes its intended journey, it will be the first group to have ever completed such an expedition; individuals have previously completed the sometimes treacherous course. At any given time, the four person team will be traveling across uncharted trails often scouting routes for proposed future park development. They will be two days from terrain and through all four seasons as they make their way from Canada to Mexico. Traveling at a rate of at least 20 miles per day, the group anticipates arrival in Mexico in late November.

injuries do result, planned evacuation routes have been developed and certain first aid materials—antibiotics, first aid books, medical kits—will be carried among the group.

The mentally and physically prepared expedition team is committed to complete this trek for SEVA's benefit as well as the motivation to participate in a rare, exhilarating adventure. A proposed budget of 10 percent of funds generated, up to $25,000, will be utilized to fund the expedition; all other collected monies will be donated to the SEVA office for the eradication of blindness in primitive Nepal where the Chelsea-based non-profit organization has joined the Nepal Health Ministry and the World Health Organization in a $4.5 million, six year program to prevent trachoma and blindness caused by malnutrition and to set up a nation-wide system of eye camps for surgical cataract removal and future prevention of reoccurrence.

Members of the SEVA Foundation are not funders. Instead, they comprise a support network of fund-raisers. Costs for the prevention and cure of blindness in Nepal range from 50 cents for antibiotic ointment to cure a case of trachoma to $5 for a cataract operation to restore sight.

Persons interested in supporting the Sight Trek are encouraged to send pledges to Sight Trek in care of the SEVA Foundation, 108 Spring Lake Dr., Chelsea 48118.

SIGHT TREK: Planning to hike across the Great Divide from Canada to Mexico, former Chelseaite Pat Hepburn will be the first woman to complete the 3,000 mile journey. Traveling with three others, Hepburn and her cohorts hope to raise $250,000 for the Nepal Blindness Program, a major project of the SEVA Foundation, home-based in Chelsea. The hike will begin in early June and last approximately five months.

Your Health Options

By Beverly Chethik
Director of Health Education, Washtenaw County Health Dept.

My 16-year-old sister was told by the school that she needed a shot to protect her from getting German measles. I am a 23-year-old woman and want to know if I need a shot too?

Before we give you an answer, there is some background information you should know. German measles (rubella) is a common childhood disease that's often overlooked or misdiagnosed because its symptoms vary. Some people think they had German measles, but they didn't. Others had German measles, but don't know they had it. In fact, 1 of 7 women of childbearing age is still susceptible to the disease, and probably doesn't know it. If you are susceptible, you definitely need a shot.

There are two ways to tell if you are susceptible to German measles. First, it is generally accepted that if you had a rubella vaccination you have protection against German measles and are not susceptible. Second, you may contact your physician or clinic and ask about having your antibody level test. Your antibody level will tell if you had some form of the disease in the past. After your titer is tested, you will know if you are susceptible, and if you are susceptible, you should be immunized.

Rubella is not a disease that typically causes severe complications in the person with the disease. However, a pregnant woman who develops rubella within the first three months of her pregnancy may give birth to a baby with birth defects. In order to prevent fetal infection and the birth defects that result, it's important to be properly immunized.

If you are vaccinated against German measles you as a woman of childbearing age will receive individual protection against rubella-induced birth defects and also help reduce the chance of epidemics.

YOUR HEALTH OPTIONS appears in this paper each month. If you have a health related question, please write to this paper, Attn: YOUR HEALTH OPTIONS or directly to the Washtenaw County Health Department, Health Education Office, Box 8645, Ann Arbor 48107.

Views On Dental Health

By ROBERT A. BURNS, JR., DDS, P.C.

GRINDING IN THE NIGHT

An estimated one in 20 adults and three in 20 children unconsciously grind their teeth at night. It is the sound of bruxism. While the noise may disturb spouses or children, it has a far more distressing effect on the sleeper.

Nocturnal grinding can exert thousands of pounds of pressure per square inch on the surfaces of teeth. It can be rough not only on teeth but on the supporting bone, the gums and jaw joint.

For many years, bruxism was attributed to the release of tension from emotional stress. However, many dental authorities today believe that the causes exist in the patient's mouth. Night grinding may be an unconscious effort to correct irregularities of the chewing surfaces of the teeth. Dentists term this a malocclusion. They grind away to eliminate a spot that is too high or to find a comfortable place to fit the upper and lower teeth together.

If you have this nightly grind problem, your first stop should be your dentist's office... before you do any serious damage to your teeth.

If you have dental health questions you would like to see answered, please mail them to the address below.

Season's Final Travel Film Set for Saturday

On Saturday evening, April 18, the Chelsea Kiwanis Club will present its 122nd program of the "Travel and Adventure Series" at 8 p.m. in the Chelsea High school auditorium.

Dennis Burkhardt was born in San Luis Obispo, Calif. While still in high school, he crossed the Pacific by cruise ship to live in Australia for a year. During his first travel-adventure, he developed an interest in photography which began with award winning photos in scholastic publications, expanded into studio and wedding photography and eventually led to publication in National Geographic Magazine.

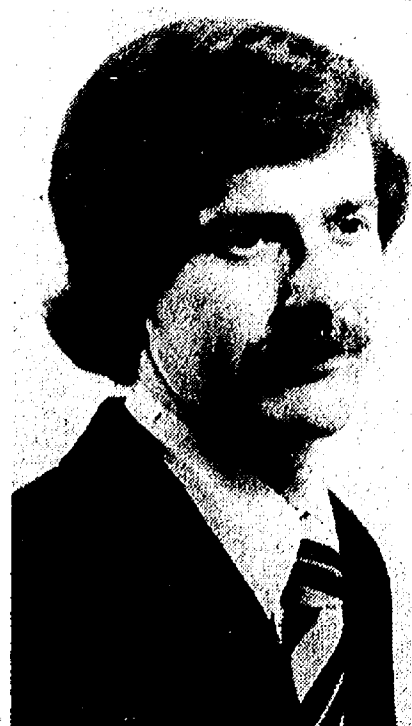

After attaining his degree in political science at Linfield College in Oregon, Burkhardt joined the U.S. Peace Corps as an agricultural officer in Kenya. Dennis spent five years in Africa and shortly before he left, he photographed the Indian Ocean reefs for the National Parks of Kenya, the National Museum and National Geographic Magazine.

Burkhardt has also worked for the U.S. National Parks Service as a naturalist ranger, acquiring precious experience in the wilderness. His two major interests, photography and the love of nature, have provided the direction for his active life. The choice of travel and adventure filmmaking was a natural evolution while his films exemplify his photographic skill and his deep interest in life in the wilderness.

Travel with Dennis Burkhardt to "Kenya" where "The African Dream" is becoming a reality. Dennis has both knowledge and affection for this country, since he spent Peace Corps years working in Kenya and traveling extensively there. He has found that Kenya is realizing its great promise while also retaining traditional African values. With a strong free enterprise system coupled with a Parliament, the average Kenyan has more freedom than most other Africans.

Explore the city of Nairobi, the bustling cosmopolitan capital of Mombasa where the Arab influence is in direct contrast with areas of the modern shipping point. National parks in Kenya are teaming with interesting wildlife.

Visit Mt. Kenya and enjoy the sport of rock climbing on the equator. See interesting lakes of Rift Valley. But most of all, meet African families eager to share their hospitality and style of living with the visitor.

Burkhardt is a filmmaker with a flair for uncovering that which is culturally interesting and distinctly human. He enjoys telling the story of a country through its people so that we can participate in the culture as well as the scenery.

While in Chelsea, Burkhardt will be hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Jack Fowler of Dancer Rd. Superintendent of Schools, Ray Van Meer will act as master of ceremonies. Jack Fowler, Warren MacArthur and Ron Walter will be assisting as projectionists. Ushers will be George Palmer, Allan Conklin, John Pierson, Luther Kusterer and Tony Nielsen.

This performance concludes the 1980-81 season of six outstanding travel and adventure shows. The Chelsea Kiwanis Club expresses sincere thanks to all persons who have supported this program.

Next fall, the Kiwanis Club will open its 21st annual season on Saturday, Oct. 24 with Walter Dodson presenting his exceptional film, "Bountiful New Zealand." Shows to follow will include Robert Brouwer's "Lure of the Great Lakes," Dec. 12; "West of the Badlands," by Romain Wilhelmsen, Jan. 16; Bob Ditta's "Byways of France," Feb. 6; "Quebec in the 80's" by Howard and Barbara Pollard, March 6 and "Southwestern Adventure" by Don Cooper, April 10.

Any Chelsea Kiwanian may be contacted for tickets. Tickets will also be available at a number of Chelsea businesses. Further information may be obtained by calling 475-1301.

Shot Heard 'Round The World

President Abraham Lincoln was assassinated April 14, 1865, as he sat watching a humorous play, "Our American Cousin," in Ford Theater, Washington, D. C. The red silk damask-covered rocker in which Lincoln was seated at the time is now among the collection items on exhibit in Henry Ford Museum, Dearborn.

CITED FOR EXCELLENCE in management under Michigan State University's Telford program, Chelsea's Dottie-O-Dairy Ranch, owned by Bill VanRiper and family, was one of 10 Michigan farms awarded the honor during MSU's Farmer's Week, March 23-27. Presenting a commemorative plaque to family partners of Dottie-O-Dairy is Washtenaw County MSU Extension Agricultural agent Joseph W. Ames. Accepting the honors are Bill and Cindy VanRiper and Linda and Gary White. Dottie-O-Dairy, a 30-year old family partnership, consists of a 152-cow herd that currently produces an average of 13,212 pounds of milk per cow and operates approximately 1,000 acres for the production of corn, wheat, oats and hay.

Attorneys Offer Free Consultation on Law Day

The Washtenaw County Bar Association, in conjunction with the Law Wives, is offering local residents free, 30 minute private consultations with practicing attorneys on Friday, May 1.

This program, No-Bills Day, is sponsored for the purpose of enhancing the relationship between the public and the Washtenaw County Bar Association in celebration of National Law Day. It is intended to give Washtenaw county residents access to attorneys in order to have their questions answered at no cost or obligation.

Attorneys will be available at three locations, Ann Arbor, Ypsilanti and Manchester. Appointments should be made in advance to reserve time and to arrange for consultation with an attorney who is knowledgeable in the area of law covered by personal questions. These areas include family law, landlord/tenant, probate and wills, real estate, consumer disputes and contracts, bankruptcy, insurance, tax, business, social security, civil rights, criminal law and personal injury. Though pre-scheduled appointments are preferred, walk-ins will be seen by attorneys as well.

Free literature will be available and will cover such topics as Small Claims Court procedures, tenant's rights, spouse abuse, real estate purchasing and sales information and wills.

Between 70 and 80 attorneys, who have volunteered their services, will be scattered in three locations on National Law Day, Friday, May 1 between the hours of 10 a.m. and 8 p.m. In Ann Arbor, attorneys will be located in the University of Michigan Law School, Room 200, corner of State and Monroe Sts. In Ypsilanti, persons interested in seeking legal advice, will go to Old Ypsilanti High school, Community Education section, 210 W. Cross St. while, in Manchester, attorneys will be located at Great Lakes Federal Savings and Loan.

Because law is becoming increasingly complex, persons are asked to make appointments with a lawyer specializing in the specific area of question. Appointments should be made from April 24 to April 30, including week-ends, by calling 994-4309.

Name Longer Than Invention

Stamford, Conn., gained an inventor on April 12, 1892, when George C. Blickensderfer was issued patent No. 472,692 for his portable typewriter. Typewriters ranging from early crude models to electric versions are part of the Communications Collection of Henry Ford Museum, Dearborn, including a tiny Blickensderfer portable.

Warm Spring Weather Means Tornado Season

With the warm April temperatures finally signaling the coming of spring, Chelsea residents should once again become aware that it is tornado season.

The name, tornado comes from the Spanish tronada (thunderstorm) which supposedly derives from the Latin tornare (to make round by turning). The most violent of atmospheric storms, a tornado is a powerful vortex or "twister" whose rotational speeds are estimated to be near 300 m.p.h. but may occasionally exceed 500 m.p.h.

A tornado is a small, extremely intense whirlwind formed by a severe thunderstorm. Making a noise like a jet squadron, a tornado descends as a funnel-shaped extension from its parent cloud. If it reaches the ground, its high winds and the sudden drop in air pressure as it passes causes almost complete destruction of everything in its path.

Michigan is situated on the fringe of the country's "tornado alley," and ranks third nationwide in deaths caused by tornadoes. In addition, five people were killed last year as a result of these storms; the state averages 17 tornadoes each year.

With their enormous power, tornadoes destroy billions of dollars of property each year. They have been known to break huge trees, drive straws into wood and lift cattle and even cars high into the air.

The months of April, May, June and July are particularly dangerous. Tornadoes can occur at all times of the year and at any time day or night but are most likely in the spring and summer and in the afternoon and early evening. They usually last only minutes and their damage paths are only a few hundred feet wide and a few miles long. However, some large tornadoes persist for hours with paths of up to a mile wide and hundreds of miles long. Usually the funnel moves along with the parent thunderstorm—in an easterly direction at speeds of up to 70 m.p.h. Tornadoes most often occur under conditions of high humidity in temperatures between 70 and 75 degrees.

Meteorologists issue tornado alerts when they recognize conditions that are likely to produce the unusually severe thunderstorms that spawn tornadoes. These conditions include warm moist air at low levels, with high winds and cold air at higher levels. Then, when observers see a funnel cloud, made visible as fine waterdrops condense in the region of low pressure, or recognize a characteristic "hooklike" echo on weather radar, warnings are broadcast for people to take cover.

Locally, the terms "watch" and "warning" are used to describe severe weather conditions. A tornado watch means that the conditions exist for a tornado to develop. Watches are usually announced for the entire southern part of the state and are designed to give residents time to prepare. A tornado warning is issued whenever a tornado and its accompanying severe thunderstorm has been sighted.

If the severe weather is reported in the immediate Chelsea area, residents are advised to seek shelter immediately. If the storm is not sighted in close proximity, persons are advised to keep a constant lookout for developing severe weather and stay near shelter. In the matter of shelter, the basement is the best place to go while mobile home dwellers should plan ahead for a place to seek shelter.

The first state to have inspectors enforce child labor laws was Massachusetts in 1867, according to a publication of the U. S. Department of Labor.

Easter Egg Hunt Set For Saturday

"...hippity, hoppity, Easter's on its way..." and so is the Easter Bunny who is planning to make his traditional fire engine ride through the village to the Chelsea High school athletic field, signifying the beginning of the annual Jaycees' Easter Egg Hunt.

Pre-schoolers, kindergartners, and first and second graders will gather on the football field at 11 a.m. Saturday, April 18 to begin their search for 120 dozen multi-colored hard-boiled eggs strategically placed by the infamous bunny's helpers. The children will be divided into age groups.

Prizes will be distributed to those youngsters who have gathered extra-special eggs placed here and there on the grounds and the Easter Bunny will distribute extra eggs to any child who might not discover any eggs during the hunt. All children are asked to bring their own Easter egg gathering paraphernalia.

No News Yet Regarding Rick's Market

Rick's Market, closed since October 1980, following the mis- or over-application of a patented chemical pesticide, remained closed as of Thursday, April 9. According to the legal counsel retained by owner Terry Rickerman, nothing new has developed.

The interior of the store is still undergoing tests and the clean-up continues. As yet, no day has been targeted as a reopening date which cannot be scheduled until there is proof that no possibility of recontamination could occur.

Three Petitions Filed For School Board Vacancies

Filing petitions for two available seats on the Chelsea Board of Education were three candidates, two newcomers and one incumbent.

Petitions were due in the Board of Education office by 4 p.m., Monday, April 6. Seeking a position on the Board were incumbent Earl Heller and Anne M. Combs, and Joseph M. Redding.

The election of school board officials will be held Monday, June 8 where the three candidates will vie for two four-year positions.

'Job Shadowing' Plan Helps Career-Seeking Students

As part of a funded project through the Intermediate School District, a number of Chelsea High school students are currently participating in a "job shadowing" program, a scheme related to career education.

"Job shadowing" provides educational training to students regarding the world of work, employment conditions, earnings and other valuable job-related factors. The program, coordinated at CHS by guidance counselor Chris Dimanin, provides 9th through 12th grade students with a real-life picture of an occupation in which they show particular interest.

Businesspeople volunteer their time at the site of employment and students visit that site to observe, ask questions and perhaps perform a number of job-related tasks. The idea of "job shadowing" was developed on the premise that it can be a rewarding experience for both parties, student and business person.

Prior to the "job shadowing" itself, Dimanin goes into the field to solicit likely business atmospheres. In appreciating that time is valuable, whatever an employer suggests is accepted; he is in complete control of the program. A "job shadowing" tip sheet, filled with pertinent information, is given to each adult prior to the genuine shadowing experience. Then, with the shadowing process, an accountability slip is completed by the employer which serves as proof that the "job shadowing" appointment was kept.

Students, too, go through conferences with Dimanin in order to develop a viable career goal; each participant must show both the ability and inclination to pursue a career they have chosen to shadow. Following the hour, half-of full-day of career orientation conferences are again held during which the student recaps all points of interest and information gathered during the experience.

The idea of "job shadowing" is nothing new and the system is currently developing with a snowball effect. Approximately 25 CHS students have shown the desire to participate in the career-minded program.

Two Chelsea High school senior girls, each interested in hotel and restaurant management, recently participated in an afternoon at the Briarwood Hilton. There, they were introduced to various management techniques and were given the opportunity to attain practical experience. Upon returning to Chelsea, the pair explained to Dimanin that the

Reception Planned for St. John's New Pastor

Since March 1, St. John's United Church of Christ, located on Waters Rd., has had the services of the Rev. Gary J. Kwiatek of Ann Arbor. While serving St. John's until September 1982, Pastor Kwiatek will be pursuing his academic interests full time and will also be assisting at Bethlehem United Church of Christ in a part-time basis as an assistant to the pastor.

The Rev. Gary J. Kwiatek was born and raised in Cleveland, O., where he was a member of the Brooklyn Heights United Church of Christ. He received a B.A. from Lawrence University in Appleton, Wis. in 1969 and a M.A. in history from the University of Michigan in 1972. Pastor Kwiatek attended Yale University Divinity School where he earned a M. Div.

He has served churches in New Haven and Brookfield Center, Conn. as a student pastor. In 1973, he began his ministry at First United Church of Christ in New Knoxville, O. as a student intern. After his ordination in May 1974, he was called to be an assistant pastor of the First United Church of Christ and, in January 1975, he became pastor of the church.

Pastor Kwiatek returned to Ann Arbor in September 1977 to conclude work on a Ph.D. in the Department of History at the University of Michigan. His wife, Kathy, is also a graduate student in the Department of Mass Communications.

Area residents are invited to join with the congregation for Sunday morning worship at 10:30 a.m. and meet the Rev. Kwiatek. Following the service on the first Sunday of each month, St. John's has begun having a coffee hour.

The new Sunday school got underway April 5 at 10:30 a.m. Plans are made for an Easter breakfast, April 19, beginning at 9:30 a.m. and tentative breakfast plans are being made for a Mother's Day and Father's Day breakfast get-together.

Wycliffe Banquet Celebrates 50 Years of Bible Translation

Wycliffe Bible Translators celebrated modern Bible translation's Golden Jubilee at a banquet at 7 p.m. on Saturday, April 11 in Ann Arbor at Holiday Inn East.

The program presented Wycliffe's evangelical ministry to the remotest tribes of the world; and featured the Panama-Pacific Priority, the current acceleration of the work to complete the remaining Bible translations in Panama, Indonesia, Malaysia and the Philippines.

Ken Jacobs, translator of the Chamula New Testament in Mexico, was the speaker. The evening also included dinner, an audiovisual presentation and opportunities for lay people to be partners in Bible translation.

Wycliffe Associates, the lay ministry of Wycliffe, sponsored the banquet.

Dr. W. Cameron Townsend (Uncle Cam), the founder of Wycliffe, presented his finished translation of the Cakchiquel New Testament to the President of Guatemala 50 years ago. This led to the formation of Wycliffe Bible Translators, which has grown to 4,000 members and has completed 120 New Testaments to date, but 3,000 language groups are still without the Scriptures.

Wycliffe translators are now developing the first written languages (including alphabets and dictionaries) for 700 tribal and ethnic peoples in 35 countries. Literacy teaching is also provided to these peoples as a necessary ingredient of translating the Bible into their own spoken language. Wycliffe's pioneering cross-cultural mission work has won UNESCO awards and is supported by governments, international agencies and Bible-committed churches.

Chelseait John Lingane 'Lost at Sea' on Titanic

Information regarding John Lingane is sparse. Born in Ireland and immigrating to Sylvan township, Lingane was bound for Chelsea following a visit to his Irish homeland. He was lost at sea April 15, 1912 as the Titanic, on her maiden voyage, struck an iceberg and sunk off the coast of Newfoundland.

John Lingane was born in 1851 in County Cork, Ireland. He came to Chelsea during the late 1880's as an immigrant in search of lands to farm. He found quiet, untouched acreage on the northwest outskirts of the village where he cleared the land, built a home and farmed the land. Because his was the first house on the road, it was given his name.

He later married Ellen Savage, who was born in August, 1843 and the couple raised five sons, Jeremiah, Patrick, James, Vincent and William. She died March 12, 1911 and was buried in Mt. Olivet Cemetery. It was then that Lingane, aged 62, made the decision to return to his homeland, to see it and his remaining kin one last time.

In the late fall of 1911, he traveled to New York City and boarded a ship bound for Ireland. There he stayed throughout the fall and winter, making plans to return home in the spring.

In a letter to his brother, Patrick, in New York, Lingane related the information that he would be returning to the United States as a second class passenger on a massive ocean liner that was designated to leave the ports of Southampton, England, April 10, 1912.

Bound for New York City, the Titanic of the White Star Line, was on her maiden voyage. The magnificent 883-foot, 46,328-ton, pride of the British merchant service was speeding through the icy waters off the coast of Newfoundland at 22.5 knots when she struck a massive iceberg shortly before midnight, April 14. It was at 11:40 p.m. that the "unsinkable" Titanic veered sideways to avoid the icy obstacle, slammed into it and ripped a 300-foot gash along the side of the hull.

Within two hours and four minutes after the impact, the world's largest, most luxurious ocean liner disappeared into the icy, shark infested depths of the North Atlantic. A total of 2,207 passengers faced the supreme crisis of their lives; only 705 survived as the sinking of the Titanic resulted in more casualties than any other marine disaster in peacetime history.

The Titanic was insured by Lloyd's of London, a firm which placed the probability of disaster at one chance in one million. White Star Line, so certain of the Titanic's unsinkability supplied only one-half the necessary lifeboats to adequately assist the 2,000-plus passengers. Officials aboard the Titanic, too, were confident of her near mystical ability to thwart disaster and, instead of heeding warnings to refrain from travel amidst the massive ice floes, pushed on.

Two additional ships were in the immediate vicinity as the disaster of the Titanic occurred. The first ship, the Carpathia, raced to the scene and pulled more than 700 survivors from the water. The second, the Californian, 10 miles away but in clear sight of flares being sent from the deck of the Titanic, remained there not risking the ice hazards.

And, aboard the Titanic, panicked women and children piled into the bulky lifeboats. Persons jumped over-board, shoved away from the sinking ocean giant with lifeboats half-full as the hours waned.

There is no record of the way John Lingane died nor the manner in which other immigrants, second-class passengers and common folk met their demise.

But, in copies of the passenger lists of those persons traveling aboard the Titanic enroute to New York City, the name John Lingane is clearly marked "lost at sea."

It is with special thanks to Bill Trembl and Kay Preston of The Ann Arbor News that this story is written. Mr. Trembl researched much of Lingane's life and presented it in a feature story which appeared in The Ann Arbor News Sunday, April 29, 1973.

Without his original work and without the location and duplication of his article by Ms. Preston on April 9, 1981, no additional story about this man could have been written.

REALTOR

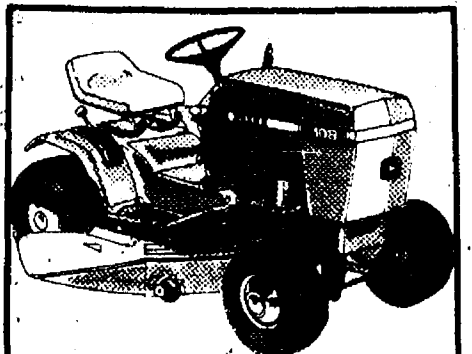

HOME LOAN CHEAPEST OF ALL

Home buyers who think the cost of mortgage money is high today may be interested to learn that they are receiving preferential treatment from lending institutions. The cost of financing a home purchase is lower than the cost of financing almost any other type of real estate. In fact, the U. S. Government and the highest rated state and local governments are about the only borrowers who can obtain long term money at a lower rate than today's home buyer.

There is good reason why home buyers enjoy preferential loan status. Despite the recession, they have developed a reputation for being a better credit risk than most real estate borrowers. Delinquency rates among home buyers continue almost as low as before the recession. On the other hand, delinquencies and defaults among buyers and developers of commercial properties have reached record highs. Since the risk is higher, loans for commercial long term investments carry a higher interest rate.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at FRISINGER REALTY CO., 935 S. Main St., Chelsea. Phone: 475-8681; evenings 475-2621. We're here to help!

Two-Year Registration Now Offered

Vehicle owners who travel outside of Michigan for extended periods or those who have trouble finding time in their busy schedule to register vehicles, may now purchase plates or tabs for two-year periods, Secretary of State Richard H. Austin has announced.

A new Michigan law, making such purchases possible, went into effect in January of this year. Previously, vehicle owners could only register cars for one year at a time.

Individuals purchasing cars who wish to register the vehicle for two years should notify the dealer at time of purchase.

Those who wish to renew an existing registration for a two-year period should make the request when they purchase plates at a branch office. To purchase a two-year registration by mail, send in a check for double the one-year fee shown on the prepared application received prior to expiration. Most passenger vehicle registrations now expire on the vehicle owner's birthday.

Austin said he promoted the two-year plan to make plate purchases more convenient.

Girl's Track Team To Open Home Season Thursday

After more than a month of hard training, the Chelsea High school girls track team opens its season with a home meet Thursday, April 16 at 4:30 p.m. against Saline. This meet should give a clue as to whether the lady Bulldogs can repeat last year's third-place tie in the Southeastern Conference.

Although only two runners were lost following graduation, they were key losses. Both Theresa Hoffman and Debbie Honbaum were in the top five in scoring and placed high in the league meet. They will be missed for their leadership, as well. Thus far, no one has come forward with the "spark" they provided last spring.

Several outstanding seniors do return for their fourth seasons, including Lorrie Vandegrift, Kathy Honbaum, Nancy Heller and Mary Boylan. Vandegrift was last year's top scorer and most valuable. She is defending regional high jump and league shot put champion and is the team's top 110 hurdler. Honbaum is the Bulldog's best sprinter and has had her best pre-season ever. Heller was second in the 880 last season and also runs the 440. Boylan is a two-time league discus champ and has finished second in the shot for two seasons. She has been one of the team's top scorers during each of her previous three seasons. Teresa Degener is the only other senior on this year's team. She is in her second year of track after a fine swimming career, but was injured much of last season.

Lisa Vandegrift and Tracy Bohlender are two experienced juniors on the team. Vandegrift will run in the relays and the quarter mile; she is capable of participating in almost any event. Bohlender is an outstanding 220 hurdler and also high jumps and runs relays.

The distance runners this season may be the best group of girls Chelsea has had. They will have their work cut out for them, the league is very strong in distances this year. Junior Nancy Hastings and sophomore Sandy Frame are strongest though Beth Heller, an experienced half miler and Kristin Thomas, Carol Warren and Wendy Wolfgang could make significant contributions.

Letter-winning sophomore Carolyn Chandler is an improved sprinter and freshmen Sue Young and Carrie Parkins will run there as well. Three sophomore newcomers, Julie Hunn, Sharon Glassford and Karen Knaggs, will help in the sprints and hurdles. Rounding out the team are junior Kathy Waldyke and freshmen Kay Bauer and Shannon Morseau, participating in the shot put and discus events.

The lady Bulldogs are coached by Bill Bainton who is currently in his fourth year as girls track coach.

Milan Is Favorite for SEC Girls Track Title

As always, the girls Southeastern Conference will be a balanced track league. The top two teams, Lincoln and Dexter, were hard hit by post-season graduations last year, thereby leaving Milan as this year's favorite.

The Big Reds have an experienced team led by sprinter Tracey Early and distance runners, Jennifer Pratt and Sheryl Sanch. With strong runners in all areas and outstanding depth, Milan will be difficult to defeat.

Newcomer Tecumseh should challenge Milan. Martha Hans finished third in the 110 hurdles in the 1980 state meet and, if she can avoid foot injury, could repeat her performance of last year.

Dexter's main strength lies with distance runners Kelly McKillen, Lisa Goltman and Cheri Sly. Graduation all but wiped out their field event possibilities.

Phyllis Jackson, returning for Lincoln, won the long jump and was second in the 100 last season. Also returning are Lori Robertson and Karen Wade who won the 400 and 200, respectively. The Railsplitters, however, lack the depth to repeat as champion.

Western has two fine distance runners in Debbie Kuntzelman and Heather Good and will be looking to move out of the cellar. While Saline had a poor 1980 season, shot put and discus thrower Vicki Wareing could be their outstanding performer.

Chelsea's strength is in the field events of Mary Boylan and Lorrie Vandegrift. The sprints and hurdles have been the Bulldogs' weaker events which are in need of improvement prior to anticipating a finish equal to that achieved in the 1980 season.

Boys Track Team Has 16 Lettermen Back

Chelsea High school boys track team sports a group of 43 members, the most participants in many years. Of the team, five contenders are returning seniors and a total of 16 returning letter winners are members.

The five seniors include Ken Bauer, a sprinter and relay man who was a 1980 state qualifier on the 400-meter relay team; Bob Beeman, a pole vaulter; Jeff Bradley and Brian Koepele, distance runners; and Bill Freeman, a discus thrower, shot putter and member of last season's 400-meter state qualifying relay team.

The 16 returning letter winners give balance to the Chelsea team. According to Coach Pat Clarke, in his third year, as the CHS boys track coach, the number of returning team members provides over-all team depth. There is no over-all weakness though Chelsea sports no "super outstanding runner like Lincoln's Derrick Tolliver."

"We're young and we're just coming into our own," explained Clarke. "We hope to be .500 or better this season and we're coming along well. When I began coaching, there really was no team. The first year there were three seniors on the team and none of them had previously scored," reflected Clarke.

The 1981 boys track season outlook points to Lincoln as the Southeastern Conference champion for the second consecutive season. Lincoln is one of the top five track teams in the state and they were the 1980 regional and league champs. Nearly all of their 1980 team is returning, led by sprinter Derrick Tolliver.

Defending co-champion in the 1980 Southeastern Conference, Saline should prove strong. The Hornets are led by junior sprinter George Tilt who ran the 100-yard dash at 10.1 last season.

Though Lincoln and Saline are clearly the favorites in the title race, the other five SEC teams, according to Coach Clarke, "will be like cats in a bag and it should prove to be a dog fight to place well in the league standings."

Chelsea's team looks strong particularly in the discus and shot put events. Participating in these two events will be senior Bill Freeman, juniors Todd Sprague, Ken Nicholas, Jeff Hager and Rick Poljan, sophomores Sheldon McCracken, Vaughn Mills and Wayne Branch and freshmen John Laraway and Gar Devoe.

Participating in the distance events, another Chelsea strong point, will be senior Jeff Bradley; juniors, Bob Benedict who is expected to have a good year, Bob Schleede who ran a 4:39 mile as a sophomore; sophomores, Mark Brosnan, a 1980 cross country sensation, Steve Catell, Brent Martin who was an all league cross country runner and Dave Kies; and freshmen Eric Green, Allen Cole, Kevin Wahr, Tom Nemeth and Jeff Morgan.

Leading the hurdle event will be junior high jumpers Ray Williams and Darrin Pierson as well as sophomores Matt McCallum, Mike Hitzgen and Jay Eibler. Freshman Mark Spade will round out the hurdle events.

Sprinting for the 1981 Bulldog track team will be seniors Ken Bauer and Bill Freeman; juniors Russ Ramsey, Herb Pearson, Toby Boyd who was a 1980 state qualifier, Mike Marshall and Dave Lange; sophomores Dave Weber, Dave Wojcicki who was a state qualifier last season, Kevin Richardson and Russ Harris and freshman key contender Scott Cooper.

The 1981 Chelsea High school Bulldog track team is anticipating improvement over their 1980 record. "Last year, we were the cellar dwellers, but no longer," admitted Pat Clarke.

Push, Hume Adding Punch to EMU's Winning Softball Team

By Don Newsted
Sports Writer, Eastern Echo

Nanette Push, a two-time All-State pitcher in high school for the Chelsea Bulldogs, is already making a name for herself in college softball, winning her first two outings and helping the Eastern Michigan Hurons open the 1981 season with five straight victories.

Following Eastern's 4-0 triumph over Fairleigh Dickinson (N.J.), in the season opener, Push united with ex-Chelsea batterymate Pattie Hume, and proceeded to dazzle Virginia's Liberty Baptist College, 3-0. The one-hit performance was aided by ex-Chelsea and SEC nemesis Linda Armstrong, of Milan, who had two hits, and garnered the winning hit against F-D with a two-run home run.

The Hurons reeled off two more wins at the expense of Seton Hall, 7-2, and Adelphi University of New York, 4-1. Ann Arbor Huron grad Jodi Ward picked up her second victorious decision in the Adelphi contest.

Hume, a 1980 all-league catcher and Chelsea team captain, was again in the lineup when Push faced East Stroudsburg State. She lifted her record to 2-0, but not before having to utilize her offensive abilities. With teammate Gail Oljace on base, Push unloaded a long home run that gave the Hurons the only runs they needed to hand Push her two-hit victory.

Eastern had its chance for a nine-game sweep of the school's initial spring trip in history, wiped out when persistent rain forced cancellation of the team's final four games at Columbia, S.C. Head coach Anne Johnston will now have to wait for the northern part of the schedule to get another look at the freshman sensation Push.

"Nanette is throwing very nicely. She has adjusted and adapted to college ball real fast," said Johnston. "But I expected good pitching from her and Jan (Boyd, sophomore pitcher). I wondered about her fastball that dominated everyone in high school and how losing might affect her. But after the first two games, she is just as stable and confident as she ever was in high school, and is going to be an excellent college player."

Johnston also had some plaudits for Hume, who is one of four top-notch catchers on the Huron roster, and who will be part of the current three catcher/pitcher rotation the coach has set up. Hume's experience with Push will put her behind the plate every time Push toes a pitching plate.

"Pattie and Nanette work well together. They know each other and think alike out there," Johnston explained. "Patti knows how to take charge of a game and does so in every situation. She is demonstrating the same leadership qualities as in high school. She is calling a good game every time out and has impressed the opposing coaches with her gritty and tough-nosed play despite her size (5-3, 105). She is living up to my expectations," concluded an enthusiastic Johnston.

Push and Hume are also among the team's top seven hitters. In addition to her game-winning home run, Push is second on the Huron squad with a .400 average, driving in two runs. Hume meanwhile, in part-time duty, is hitting .200 and has handled the backstop position flawlessly.

But softball games are won on the pitching mound, and Push's 0.50 ERA, 14 innings pitched, 11 strikeouts, three hits given up with no walks are all team-leading statistics.

Eastern will be on the road again to Muncie, Ind. for a March 28 doubleheader with a tough Ball State team, but will give the local fans their northern debut April 3 against Ferris State and the following day, Saturday, April 4 versus the University of Detroit. Eastern will play their entire home schedule for 1981 at Ann Arbor's Veterans Park, corner of

Jackson and Maple Rds. The Hurons also have a Washtenaw county flavor besides Push, Hume and Armstrong. Ward and Ann Arbor's Pioneer's Christa Dowty are on the team, in addition to Ypsilanti's Nancy Oestrike.

With these players and the other excellent athletes Johnston has filled her roster with, the 1981 version of Eastern Michigan softball should be an exciting team to watch.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor,

This letter is being wrote due to a letter that Mrs. Millie Warner wrote to you, that appeared in the Standard Feb. 17, 1981.

I grew up in Chelsea. I went to CHS and graduated last year. I am now in the Air Force, station in Arizona. I went to a lot of parties at the pines. And belive me that spot on Waterloo Rd. is not the paton place that she makes it out to be. Its just a party spot were teenagers go to listen to Rock and Roll as loud as they want with out someone calling in cops. So they go out there and have a good time. I think these kids have more brain that you give them credit for. I never knew any of us to go out there to look for love in a beer bottle or drugs. I think Mrs. Warner was wrong in discribing that spot on Waterloo Rd. that way.

Gas Tax Reduction
For Gasohol
Brings Price Down

The price of gasohol has come down, thanks to a state law that recently became effective. The law, passed last year, sets standards for gasohol production and lowers the state gasoline tax by five cents per gallon for gasohol.

The effect of the law has been to make the price of gasohol equal to or only slightly higher than the price of unleaded gasoline.

Social Security Beneficiaries Must Report on Earnings

Annual reports of 1980 earnings must be filed by April 15 by people receiving social security benefits who earned more than the annual exempt amount in 1980, Jose B. Vidaurri, social security district manager in Ann Arbor said recently.
 The 1980 annual exempt amounts were $5,000 for people 65 and over, $3,720 for people under 65 last year.
 People who received some benefits in 1980 who earned more than the exempt amount are required to file a report of those earnings by April 15.
 Those who received no benefits in 1980 are not required to file a report, but, Vidaurri said, those people should file a report to make sure that any benefits that might be due for the year are paid.
 A person who earned less than anticipated, for example, may be due some benefits. Vidaurri said the only way these benefits can be paid is if the person files an annual report.
 The general rule is that $1 in benefits is withheld for each $2 of earnings above the exempt amount. A person can have substantial yearly earnings before all benefits are withheld. For example, a 65-year-old person whose monthly benefit rate is $350 could earn $13,400 before all benefits for 1980 are withheld, Vidaurri said.
 People who are required to file an annual report should have received a copy in the mail. If they have not, they should contact the nearest social security office to obtain a copy. Those not required to file, but who wish to do so, can also get a copy of the form at any Social Security office.
 The 1981 annual exempt amounts are $5,500 for people 65 or older any part of 1981 and $4,080 for people under 65 all of 1981.
 More information about annual reports and the annual earnings test may be obtained at the Ann Arbor social security office.

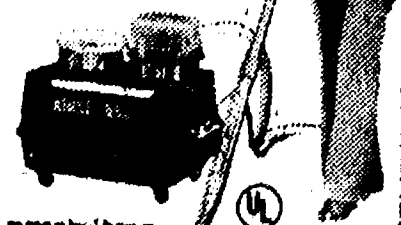

'Odd Couple' Presented at Black Sheep Theatre

Black Sheep Repertory Theatre of Manchester will be presenting Neil Simon's "Odd Couple," for three weeks, April 9-26. Performances are Thursday, Friday, and Saturday at 8:15, Sunday/Matinee at 4 o'clock.
 The "Odd Couple" is a hilariously funny play about two divorced men, one meticulous, the other rather slovenly, and their efforts to maintain their New York apartment lives.
 "Felix" will be played by Charles Stallman, who won the Actor of the year award in his home town of Ann Arbor for his portrayal of "Felix" several years ago. "Oscar" will be provided by veteran Black Sheep artist Mathew Thornton. Pat Rector, also of Ann Arbor, will be directing the season's opener.

IRS Lists Several Benefits In Filing Early Tax Returns

Last-minute tax return filers will find that filing before the deadline and not rushing will probably speed up the issuance of any refund due, lessen their chances of making errors, and increase the likelihood of finding all the deductions and credits for which they qualify, the Internal Revenue Service said.

Even filing a week or a few days before the deadline could make a big difference, especially as it relates to filing a complete and accurate return, according to the IRS.

Taxpayers who delay filing because they do not have their Forms W-2, "Wage and Tax Statements," should first contact their employers and request the statements. If the form is still not available, they should call the IRS.
