IPSCO Plant Closing

Since 1974, Industrial Plastics Specialties Co. (IPSCO) has been located at 300 Cleveland St., in a building owned by Six Mile Mount Elliot Investment Co. The product made at this location, as its name indicates, has been chiefly plastic automotive trim and parts. But, in this time of economic hardship, particularly in the automotive market, IPSCO, like Central Fibre before it, will close.

Owned by parent company, Trim-Trend, based in Clawson, gearing down of all operations has been going on for some time. IPSCO should be closed within two months; June 1 is the date that has been overheard in and around the village.

Late last year, only 35 employees were still working at IPSCO. As of the middle of last week, only eight employees remained on their jobs. Though the phase out of IPSCO will be complete by early summer, Trim-Trend itself will continue to manufacture metallic automotive parts in its five other subsidiary companies across the state, in Canada and in the southern U.S.

C. of C. Gathering Facts About Area

On Tuesday, April 28, the Chelsea area Chamber of Commerce met at the Chelsea Milling Co. auditorium for its first membership meeting. A total of 38 members and seven groups considering membership were in attendance.

Guest speaker, Mike Conboy, an economic development planner from the University of Michigan spoke on the different avenues a community can use to help itself in the promotion of a desirable business climate.

A panel, made up of Village President, Charles Ritter, Phil Hume of the planning commission, Dan Murphy of the economic development commission and realtor Paul Frisinger answered questions and offered suggestions to reverse the recent losses of Chelsea's economic base, and jobs.

Currently, the Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors meeting will be held Tuesday, May 12. It is anticipated that at this meeting, committees may be set up to begin exploring and seeking facts about Chelsea to assist in creating a receptive atmosphere for future business recruitment in this greater Chelsea area.

Questions needed to be evaluated will include whether or not Chelsea wants to replace those businesses which have left the community. Certain limitations, including zoning and sewage disposal problems, must be considered.

According to Chamber of Commerce President Sheridan Springer, "We have a great deal of ground work to cover."

Contract Talks Continue at Polly's

Despite rumors circulating through the village last week regarding the strike of workers at Polly's Market in Chelsea and Jackson following the expiration of their contract and failure to ratify a new contract, Polly's Market will remain open, at least temporarily.

Retail Clerks Union members had threatened a strike in Jackson and had recommended that the Chelsea employees follow suit. A vote of local union workers, held at Chelsea Fairgrounds Thursday evening, temporarily postponed the walk-out until further negotiations could be held.

Another meeting is scheduled to be held Thursday, May 7. But, according to Mark Kennedy, manager of the Chelsea store, a strike, if supported by the upcoming meeting, will be unable to occur prior to Friday, May 15 or two weeks following the original strike date.

If union workers and Polly's management are unable to reach an agreement, Polly's stores, according to Kennedy, could very possibly be liquidated and, reopened non-union and under a new name.

Though Thursday deliveries of perishables, foods and staples had been refused, Friday morning found truckers making their deliveries as usual.

Pre-School Screening Tests Offered

Chelsea Community Hospital is once again offering the program "Give Your Pre-Schooler A Head Start," on Saturday, May 9.

The program includes a series of brief screenings for children ages 2½ to 5 years in such areas as health, vision and hearing, speech, fine and gross motor and cognitive development. These screenings are brief tests given for the purpose of finding problems in the children. If any problems are found, a complete assessment will be arranged for another time.

"Give Your Pre-Schooler A Head Start" will be held this Saturday at Chelsea Community Hospital from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. and from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. Persons attending are asked to use the main entrance.

In addition to the screenings, general health, nutrition and parenting information will be available. There will be no charge and no appointment is necessary.

For further information, contact Shannon Miller at 475-1311, extension 225.

Spaulding Agency Back 'Home Again'

Spaulding for Children, which had been located in the former Chelsea Restaurant since early October following the beginning of farmhouse renovations, moved back into its original home on Waltrous Rd. in the cold, rainy darkness of Wednesday, April 22.

Assisted by the Chelsea Lions Club, approximately 20 people made up of Lions Club and Spaulding staff and board members, gathered on S. Main St. to load trucks and cars with office equipment which had been temporarily located in the former restaurant building.

According to Joan Nagy, development director at Spaulding, she and her cohorts are "just settling in and trying to get used to two floors of offices and other modern conveniences."

Nagy and others employed by Spaulding have been pleasantly surprised by the farm renovation. "We had a fair amount of fear that when we returned, there would be a modern feel to the house. We were relieved to come back and have it still look and feel like a farm house. It's got the balance and function of an office with a good feeling of history," commented Nagy.

A new twist to the renovations, outlined by Preservation Urban Design, an Ann Arbor firm and contracted to a Detroit construction company, was the discovery of the need for a new well and its installation. In addition, during the course of the transition, Spaulding employees removed a great deal of the old furniture in the Spaulding home and had it refinished and restored to its former condition.

Amidst all of the turmoil involved in the temporary office location, the renovation and the move back to the Waltrous Rd. Spaulding domain, the organization, specializing in the location of adoptive families for handicapped, older or groups of children, placed as many youngsters as it ever has.

Nevertheless, the move back to the original Spaulding for Children was "just like coming home again."

Mother's Day Is Very Special

By Beverly Wood

The celebration of Mother's Day began as a commemoration of a death. The second Sunday of May was designated to honor all mothers because of the labors of Anna Jarvis of West Virginia. It was the anniversary of her own mother's death in 1905.

Anna Jarvis described her mother's life as one of "care, anxiety, illness, sorrow and self-sacrifice." She genuinely and expressly loved her mother during life and seemed unable to let her go after death.

Anna set out to create a grand monument to her mother. In 1907 she persuaded the Andrews Methodist church in Grafton, W. Va. to hold a Mother's Day service to mark the second anniversary of her mother's death. She anonymously donated money for a memorial picture of her mother and for a table for the Sunday school, and she provided 500 carnations, her mother's favorite flower, for the mothers in the Andrews congregation. At her urging, several Philadelphia clergymen also preached on motherhood that Sunday in their own churches.

The following year, the Andrews Methodist church officially proclaimed the third anniversary of Ann Reeves Jarvis' death to be Mother's Day. Special music and sermons in honor of mothers filled Grafton churches. Grafton florists sold out of carnations. Anna donated 700 blossoms to the church, but she was not present herself.

She had been busy in Philadelphia for months, organizing a Mother's Day committee that included the editor of the Philadelphia "Inquirer," department store magnate John (Continued on page five)

The scouts will be hiking through the village residential areas, placing a packet of information on front doors. This packet will contain an information sheet, some window stickers and a return reply card to be completed by the resident and returned. Thereafter, the information can be compiled to reveal the total number of residents in each dwelling and the number (Continued on page seven)

Governor To Use Executive Orders To Balance Budget

Not long after the legislature put the finishing touches on the new budget for the fiscal year beginning in October, Governor William G. Milliken said he would issue an executive order to cut the budget if voters approve the property tax amendment.

With the uncertainty of the property tax amendment, the governor agreed the legislature acted responsibly and efficiently in handling the budget at an early date.

He added the legislature was correct in finalizing the budget by using his original figures.

The governor's original budget figures assumed a revenue loss to the state of $125 million if a property tax amendment were passed. The version placed on the ballot, however, provides for a revenue cut ranging from $200 million to $290 million, according to various fiscal analysts.

Milliken said if the amendment is passed, he would issue the budget cutting order in October. The order would then have to be approved by the House and Senate Appropriations Committees.

The governor said the exact impact of the amendment could be better assessed by the fall, but with the cut in property taxes and the replacement revenue created by the increase in the sales and use tax, the net revenue loss would be around the $250 million figure.

Meanwhile, the budget got more bad news when increases over January welfare figures of more than 3,000 in aid to families with dependent children and more than 4,000 in general assistance were recorded in preliminary caseload figures for February.

And based on first quarter year data, the Department of Social Services faces a potential deficit of $30 million due largely to the welfare increases.

If preliminary figures hold true, the GA caseload is already 4,000 cases above the appropriated levels for 1980-81 and ADC cases are less than 2,000 over the appropriated levels.

Department budget officials indicated, however, that cost saving measures would be implemented in April and an analysis would then be done to determine if a deficit is still likely.

State Hiring Freeze Imposed

In yet another belt-tightening move, a state-wide hiring freeze was imposed by the governor.

The order was issued after the governor met with departmental directors and he declared exceptions could only be granted with his personal approval.

"This is another notch in our belt-tightening process to bring the present year's spending into line with anticipated revenues," Milliken said.

Although projected spending still outstrips projected revenue by $80 million, Milliken said, "I still believe that if we continue prudent management of state operations through the remaining

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

The fellers at the country store Saturday night was general agreed that we ought to talk some more about that acting president idea that come up back when Eisenhower was sick fer weeks at a time. What we need, declared Ed Doolittle, is a stand-in President like movie stars have. You don't see a $1 million-a-picture star risking his neck, Ed said, when they can git a $300-a-week stunt man to do it fer him. We got to take care of the only President we've got, Ed went on, because fer sure we've got more invested in him than anybody could ever tie up in a picture show. We ought to do at least as much fer a President as we do fer a pritty young feller whose only contribution to the world is playing two cords on a guitar.

Clem Webster give the plan his bi-party support. Clem said he had thought the situation up one side and down the other, and he was of a mind there are too many loose nuts in this country fer us to keep letting our President run around loose. We need a stand-in President if fer no other reason than to keep all the crazies guessing, was Clem's words. Actual, this idea is not new, Clem went on. He recalled that Winston Churchill had at least two stand-in Prime Ministers during the war because he, his country and the Germans were full aware of his value. Clem said rulers down through history have used this trick to throw their enemies off their trail. It's good practice now, he said, to send out decoy cars and airplanes when you're moving big shipments of money or jewels. A President is mighty valuable cargo, Clem allowed.

General speaking, the fellers were strong fer a stand-in President, maybe half a dozen. Zeke Grubb noted that as science progresses we could clone as many as his schedule demands. We could keep the real one in Washington minding the store, Zeke went on, and put the others to such as throwing out the ball on opening day and greeting the mayor of Timbuctoo at the airport. It would be nice, Zeke declared, if the President could just be a regular feller, but he can't be for the sake of the country.

Furthermore, went on Zeke, the practice could spread to lower level politicians, and even editors. If the Governor can send his wife to crown the state Potato Princess, why can't he dispatch a stand-in Governor so his old lady can stay home and fix his supper, Zeke wanted to know. A editor could hire a stand-in, maybe a retired prize fighter, to set clost to the front door and greet folks that dropped by to take issue with the cost of the new hospital wing. This could work out all around, Zeke said, so the editor, the Governor and the President might have time to git some real work done.

Personal, Mister Editor, I'm fer the idea, and I think it ought to git as much attention as we can give it. We'll have to start somewhere besides the Washington Post, though, or folks won't take it serious. That was a real shame about that made up story, but I hear the paper has worked up a 18,000 word explanation of how it happened, and they're thinking of entering it in this year's Pulitzer contest in the artful dodge division.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

Ann Arbor Trust Reports Increased Earnings, Assets

Announcement of a 17.5% increase in earnings highlighted a message to shareholders from George H. Cress, president of the Ann Arbor Trust Co., covering the first quarter of 1981.

Total earnings for the first quarter of 1981 were $182,907 compared with $155,637 for the first three months of 1980. On a per share basis, this represents $.87 versus $.75, respectively.

Cress reported that assets as of March 31, 1981, stood at $98,509,093 as compared to $87,224,512 on March 31, 1980, an increase of 13%. Deposits totaled $89,716,806 on March 31, 1981 over $78,375,391 on March 31, 1980, for an increase of 14.5%.

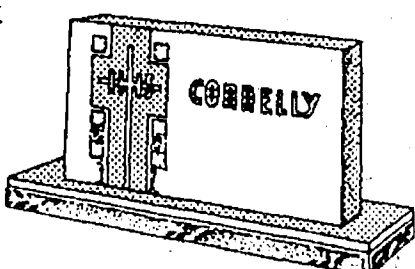

Outstanding loans at the end of the first quarter were $61,590,327, 11% above the level on March 31, 1980 of $55,427,188.

Trust assets under supervision totaled approximately $343,000,000, an increase of 8% over the level of one year ago of $318,000,000.

"Interest rates have eased somewhat since Dec. 31, 1980, but continue to remain extremely volatile," noted Cress. "We view the Federal Reserve as the primary influence over what happens to interest rates during the upcoming quarters. They have committed to achieving a 9% annualized growth rate in the money supply, and this target requires using high interest rates to promote economic weakness," he added.

Conservation Planting Described In MUCC Booklet

Planting trees and shrubs to provide the basic needs of wildlife while creating a better environment for humans is discussed in detail in a new booklet published by the Michigan United Conservation Clubs (MUCC).

Entitled "Conservation Planting," the booklet describes trees and shrubs that attract wildlife and offers tips on how they should be planted.

Also described are plantings that save energy and natural resources. "By carefully planning your lot and its orientation to prevailing winds, sun, and unusual land forms, you can establish a moderation of the natural elements," the booklet states. "By carefully selecting native plantings, a homeowner can also reduce consumption of scarce natural resources. Native plantings are naturally adapted for your area and therefore need less artificial care (i.e., watering, fertilizing, sprays). They will also come through unusual weather conditions better than non-native plantings. Less maintenance means money saved."

MUCC, a non-profit organization dedicated to conservation education, is making "Conservation Planting" available to the public at cost—$1 to cover postage and handling. Copies may be obtained by writing MUCC, Box 30235, Lansing 48909.

Views On Dental Health

By ROBERT A. BURNS, JR., DDS, P.C.

CHECKING DENTURES

Fortunately—or unfortunately—you no longer have any problems with your upper teeth. They were all removed some years ago and you now wear a full upper denture. Does this mean you can forget about visiting your dentist regularly? Not if you value your health and future comfort!

Regular appointments with the dentist are as important for denture-wearers as for people with natural teeth. The mouth tissue, bony ridges and gums that support dentures are constantly undergoing changes and may impair the dentures' proper function. Even such general health ailments as vitamin deficiencies, extended illness, drug therapy, weight loss, diabetes or high blood pressure can change the way dentures fit. Ill-fitting dentures can seriously damage the mouth, causing abrasions, bruises, inflammation and rapid destruction of the supporting bone. Prolonged irritation of this kind may result in the development of tumors.

It is important to have a dental checkup at least once a year to insure that your dentures are properly adjusted and that your mouth is in good health.

If you have dental health questions you would like to see answered, please mail them to the address below.

A public service with the aim of promoting a better dental health environment. From the office of: ROBERT A. BURNS, JR., D.D.S., P.C., Chelsea Professional Building, 1200 S. Main St., Chelsea, Phone: 475-9124.

Wanamaker, and Henry J. Heinz, the food manufacturer. That same afternoon John Wanamaker opened his massive Philadelphia auditorium for a special Mother's Day program. Anna addressed the crowd for more than an hour on the glories of motherhood and proposed that Mother's Day be celebrated universally.

A friend wrote Anna that she was "not at all surprised" that Mother's Day "met with universal approval. I trust that you will live to see the day observed in every church and mission in America and the world will be better for it, I'm sure."

Over the years Anna wrote thousands of letters to public officials eliciting support. Endorsements from politicians willing to become honorary vice-presidents of the movement flooded her home in Philadelphia. In 1910 West Virginia governor William Glasscock issued the first Mother's Day proclamation, asking that all West Virginians "attend church on that day and wear white carnations."

State after state joined the movement. "From the Atlantic to the Pacific," a London paper reported, "every man, woman and child will shortly be wearing a white carnation." The Pittsburgh "Gazette" said "White, black, and yellow, native-born and newcomer to the land joined the celebration." Mark Twain wrote, "I do not know how many more anniversaries of Mother's Day I will see, but on those that I have remaining I will wear a white flower, the emblem of purity and my mother's love."

Most politicians seemed willing to take a firm position in favor of motherhood, and on May 10, 1913, with no real debate the House unanimously passed House Resolution 103 stating that "the American mother is the greatest source of the country's strength and inspiration and does so much for the home, the moral uplift and religion that as a token of our love and reverence for the mother, the President and his cabinet, United States Senators, Representatives of the House and all officials of the Federal Government are hereby requested to wear a white carnation or some other white flower Sunday, May 11, in observance of Mother's Day."

And so began the yearly celebration of motherhood.

The mothers I have known either intimately or in passing truly deserve a day of distinction and recognition.

Having myself achieved this status I feel qualified to offer a point or two in comment.

There is an art to mothering. The job description is clear. The shift is 24 hours long. There are no vacations, no lunch hours, no breaks, no sick leave and no pay. It's the only position I know of in which you can be arrested for not showing up for work. The duties include everything it takes for the birth, maintenance and successful survival of the product.

The side-effects are numerous. During the first years there is a marked irrationality due to lack of sleep. The medical term is aphasia, meaning forgetfulness and lack of continuity. It's the only excuse I can think of for almost leaving the baby in the high chair overnight or putting the cleanser in the refrigerator.

Nature, however, provides mothers with a workable alternative. They can operate on automatic pilot, a continued state of semi-consciousness. I recognized this condition one day when I tied my shoelace in a double knot and began cutting my adult luncheon companion's entire infotiny, bite-sized pieces.

There are some fringe benefits to be included in a mother's job description. It provides excellent preparation and continued experience in humility. How often can one lose an argument with a two-year-old or walk around with cereal stains and tiny handprints on your clothes without experiencing some chagrin.

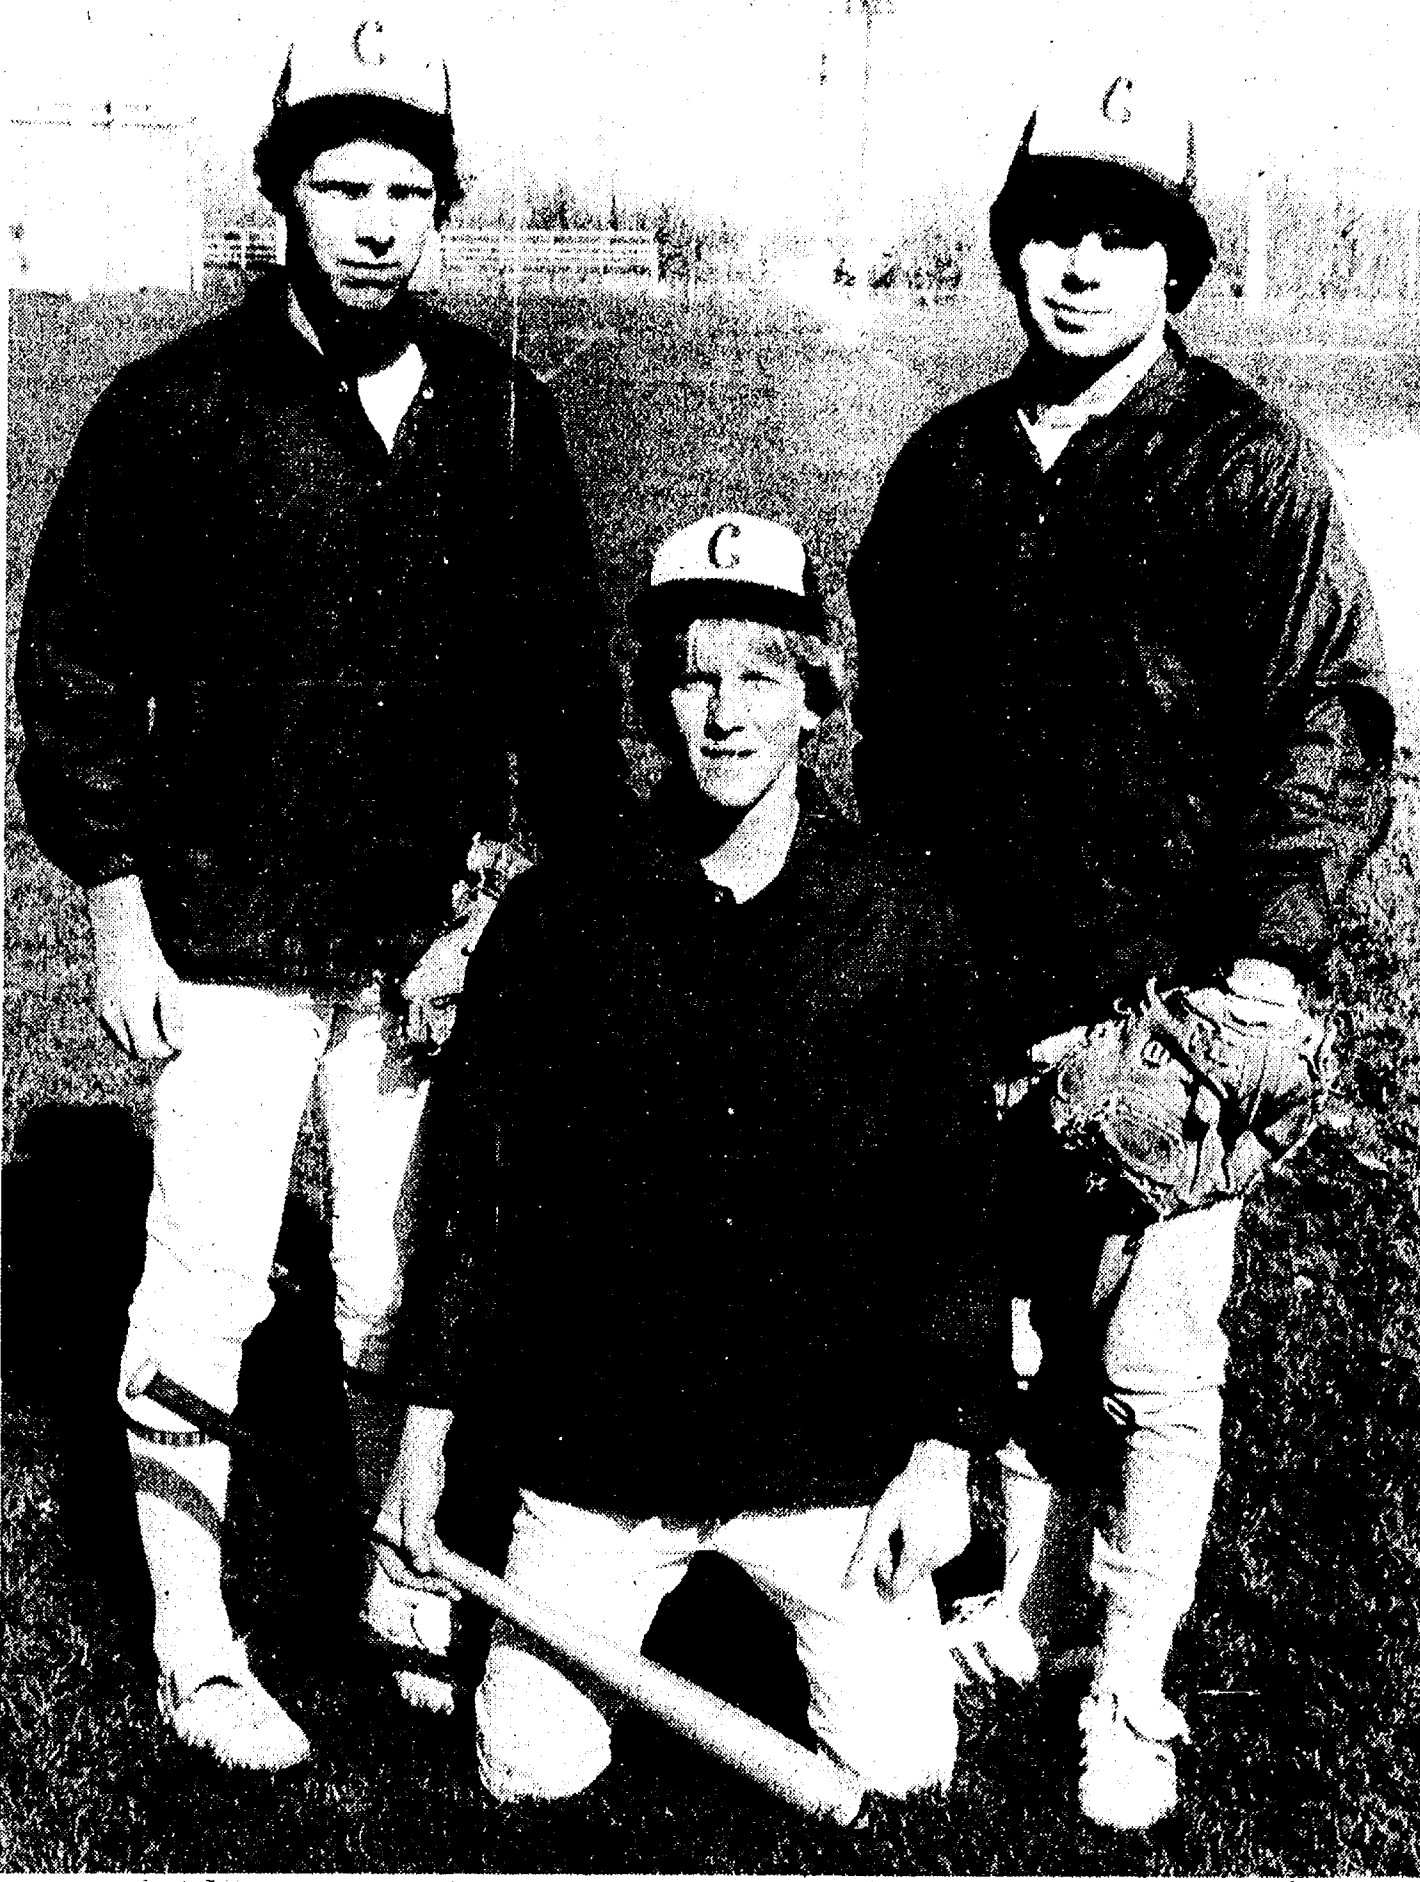

In my semi-conscious state, I acquired the ability to recite by rote immunization records, car-pool schedules and the entire repertoire of "Sesame Street" number and alphabet songs.

There is, however, a certain pride to motherhood. After I waded through the volumes of advice from "experts," dealt with the guilt and planned by my own mother's sanctioning rules, there remained an abiding and enduring love and commitment to my children.

I stayed up nights, I worried, I doubted, and I wondered but, all things considered, if given the choice again I would no doubt choose mothering.

Sluggers of the Week

STEVE GRAU, John Welton and Mike Wade are this week's featured baseball stars. Grau, left, is a junior right-handed pitcher in his first year on the varsity team. According to Coach Wayne Welton, "Grau has a good, live arm." With some mechanical practice, Grau has the potential to be one of Chelsea's best pitchers this season. In addition to baseball, Grau is both a wrestler and football player. Welton, center, is also in his first year on the varsity baseball team. A junior right-handed pitcher and infielder, Welton is the Bulldog's leading hitter and has pitched the team's only win. He is currently batting over .300 and has far exceeded his coach and brother's expectations. "He is a fierce competitor who likes to win," comments his brother, Coach Wayne Welton. In addition to baseball, Welton is a golfer and basketball player. Wade, right, is a senior catcher and outfielder. He is a second-year letterman and a golfer in the off-season. According to Welton, Wade works hard and will prove to be a key player in his senior year.

Kindergarten Registration Set Thursday

Kindergarten registration is Thursday, May 7, from 6:30 to 8:00 p.m. at North Elementary school in the cafeteria. It is important that your child be registered at this time so school officials can plan kindergarten classes for 1981-82.

A child must be five years old on or before Dec. 1, 1981 to attend kindergarten next year. The state requires that you show a birth certificate from the county clerk's office of the county of your child's birth. Please bring it in at this time. You will be given a medical form for a physical, immunization records and health history of your child. This year the State Department is requiring that immunizations have been given. The medical form must be returned by the beginning of the school year. Other information forms are filled out and turned in during registration.

Several employees of the school district who have responsibilities for kindergarten children will on hand to give information. Three Adrian College sophomore students were recently elected to the campus Student Government posts of president, vice-president of academic affairs and vice-president of records for the 1981-82 academic year. The trio shared a campaign pledge to bridge the communications gap which separated students, faculty and administration.

John Whitaker, the newly elected vice-president of academic affairs, is the son of Edson and Veretta Whitaker of Old US-12, Chelsea. He has served on the college's Academic Status review committee and has worked as program director of both WVAC, the campus radio station, and ACTC-TV, the Adrian College television station. Whitaker is also a dormitory resident assistant. He is a 1979 graduate of Chelsea High school.

Sheep to Shawl Contest Set at Cobblestone Farm

Cobblestone Farm Museum, Ann Arbor, has announced plans to sponsor a "Sheep to Shawl" contest.

Scheduled for the Farm's Spring Festival on May 17, (rain date, May 24), the "Sheep to Shawl" contest will pit teams of hand spinners and wool hand-crafters against the clock in a competition to determine which team can most quickly turn freshly sheared fleece into a finished garment—a shawl suitable for a woman to wear. Sheep will be shorn on the spot, fleece will be weighed, and an equal amount of fleece will be given to each team, which will spin it, then create the shawl.

"We are offering this special event to point up the wonderful versatility and quality of wool," says spokesperson Barb Mecouch of the Cobblestone Farm board, "and to offer an exciting medium for local hand-crafters to display their skills in the ancient crafts of spinning and wool work."

In the contest, each team will create the shawl in the fleece given, using any crafting method desired. If weaving is done, the loom must be warped with the yarn spun from the fleece given. No electrical devices are permitted, drum carders may be used.

All work will be timed, with the first team completing a shawl, the winner. Shawls will also be judged on merit. The contest is open to all spinners. If you are interested in competing, appoint a team captain, and have your captain call Barb Mecouch, 1-313-971-7614 for details. Each team is to have four people.

Cobblestone Farm Association was established in 1974 to restore the old Ticknor-Campbell farm on Packard Rd., Ann Arbor. Located next to Buhr Park, the farm sponsors several public events each year to show the public aspects of farm life a century and more ago.

Main entrance to United Methodist Retirement Home

Special Events Here Mark National Nursing Homes Week

National Nursing Homes week, May 10-16, is set aside to recognize the contribution made by the many health care and retirement facilities spread across the country. The Chelsea United Methodist Retirement Home is taking advantage of this time to celebrate its long history of support and involvement.

The Home opened its doors to the first retirees 75 years ago and, since that time, has served more than 1,200 residents. The Chelsea home has grown through the years, with the final additions being the M Apartments and medical facility in 1962 and the Garden Apartments in 1969. It is currently licensed for 173 residents, 62 nursing bed patients and 24 independent living apartments.

A medley of events is scheduled to take place at the Methodist Home during the celebration week. On Sunday, May 10, a tea and reception will be held for residents and families and friends are invited as well. Tuesday evening, May 12, following an ice cream buffet, Professor Howard McCluskey of the University of Michigan will speak on "The Potential and Opportunities for Learning for the Older Adult."

Wednesday afternoon, speakers will inform residents about opportunities in the local community for growth and learning. Jackie Rogers of the Community Education Department, will be present to outline the programs at the Senior Citizen Activity Center on W. Middle St. Carla Mandel, co-ordinator of classes for senior citizens at Washtenaw Community College and other learning institutions in the U.S., will relate opportunities for learning from the Community College.

The week-long festivities will conclude with a pancake supper shared by residents and employees of the Chelsea United Methodist Retirement Home.

JV Sluggers Lose Two, Win One

Chelsea's JV baseball team dropped a double-header to Milan on Monday, April 27. The first game ended 8 to 7, with Milan exploding in the bottom of the seventh inning to score five runs and take away a 7 to 3 Chelsea lead.

Ken Nadeau had three hits and Darin Rowe, Jay Marshall and Chris Seitz all had singles. The game was the JV's third consecutive one-run loss. Doug Pagliarini was the starting pitcher for Chelsea.

The second game ended in a 4 to 2 loss for Chelsea with Chris Seitz pitching a strong game. Jay Marshall, Darin Rowe and Matt Villemure each had singles.

The JV then traveled to Lincoln on Friday and snapped their losing streak with an 8 to 4 victory. A quick 2-0 lead on singles by Doug Pagliarini, Mike Neibauer, Randy Krichbaum and Ken Nadeau got the Bulldogs rolling.

Lincoln got five singles their first time at bat, scoring three runs. The lead changed hands again in the third inning when Randy Krichbaum, Chris Seitz, Matt Villemure and Jay Marshall got hits to score four runs. Randy Krichbaum hit a double in the sixth, and along with hits by Tom Headrick and Doug Pagliarini, moved the score to 8-3.

Ken Nadeau relieved starter Tom Headrick in the second inning and finished the game with an 8-4 win.

Catcher Eric Kruger was Chelsea's outstanding defensive player of the game, throwing out three Lincoln runners.

The junior Bulldogs are now 2 and 6 on the season.

Temperance High Senior Chosen White Cane Queen

Sheri Wells is a pretty 17-year-old senior who considers herself an all-American girl. She likes baseball, apple pie and boys. But Sheri is special. She has been named the 1981 Michigan Lions White Cane Queen and will reign over White Cane Week, May 1-10. As queen, Sheri will spend the next year travelling around the state making people more aware of what it is like to be blind.

Sheri has been blind since birth. Though doctors are unsure of the cause, they feel it is the result of an exposure to the German measles before Sheri was born.

As White Cane Queen, Sheri hopes "to let a few more people know that it's not nice to run down blind people on street corners. There is a Michigan law that states motorists must stop at least 10 feet from a person carrying a White Cane. But with the 'right turn on red' law, it makes it even tougher for us. It seems everyone's in such a hurry, they don't stop to look before they turn," she continued.

Sheri is a senior at Bedford High school near Temperance.

She maintains a 3.94 scholastic average and plans to attend Adrian College in the fall, majoring in psychology. She currently attends college courses in the evenings at Monroe County Community College to give herself a headstart. After graduation, Sheri would like to spend a few years in the Peace Corps, possibly in a German speaking country.

Sheri's favorite hobby is playing "Dungeons and Dragons," a spy game. She also enjoys roller skating, chess, science fiction, poetry, writing, singing and playing the piano. Sheri refers to herself as an "avant Trekkie," and hopes to attend the upcoming Star Trek convention in Detroit. To keep herself in shape, Sheri has just joined a hiking club and covered 20 miles in her first week.

Sheri is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Wells of Temperance. Her father is employed as a tool and die maker and her mother takes care of home chores, including reading to Sheri when Braille textbooks are not available. Sheri has three brothers, Keith, 26, Kent, 24, and Kurt, 20, all sighted.

During White Cane Week, more than 35,000 Lions from across the state will be selling miniature White Canes on street corners, at shopping malls and other heavily trafficked areas. Monies collected from the sale are used to support the many worthwhile projects and institutions of the Lions Clubs.

Thousands of Michiganders have already benefitted from the Leader Dog School, Rochester, Welcome Home for the Blind, Grand Rapids, the Michigan Lions Eye Banks, located on the campuses of Wayne State University and the University of Michigan, the Lions Care Program, Penrickton Center for the Multi-Handicapped, Taylor, glaucoma clinics, eye examinations and numerous local community services.

Special Events Set at Hospital For Nurses Week

In honor of Michigan Nurses Week, May 3-10, Chelsea Community Hospital has invited area nurses to attend a dessert buffet to be held in the Hospital's private dining room on Wednesday, May 6 at 7 p.m.

Helen Erickson, RN, MS, Coordinator of Undergraduate Curriculum, University of Michigan School of Nursing, will present timely issues regarding nursing practice and the latest developments in credentialing.

Persons interested in attending are asked to RSVP to 475-1311, extension 354.

The hospital will also sponsor an Open House on Tuesday, May 5 from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m. for area nurses to meet with Claudia Moore of the University of Michigan Completion Program, to discuss the necessary requirements for a BSN degree.

Special Activities Scheduled For National Hospital Week

National Hospital Week, May 9-16, is celebrated in nearly all of the more than 7,000 hospitals in the United States. The intent of the American Hospital Association in designating a single week toward hospital recognition is to draw attention to the hospital's role in the community, as a health care facility, an employer, a community servant and an educator.

"The hospital has more than the traditionally accepted one-dimensional role of health care provider," according to Will Johnson, administrator of Chelsea Community Hospital. "Within the past five or six years, we have been very involved in the community; it's been a steady process," continued Johnson.

As one of the largest employers in the community, Chelsea Community Hospital not only provides health care but also sponsors a vast array of outreach-type community programs. Chelsea Community Hospital invites civic groups into its dining room for dinner meetings, staffs a child care center at St. Paul United Church of Christ, provides informational lectures by guest speakers on timely topics, offers activities to children, senior citizens and the handicapped.

"The designation of National Hospital Week gives us the chance to re-emphasize our multi-faceted community role," explained Johnson. "It's a more intensive program which underscores that which is done during the entire year."

Chelsea Community Hospital, in its special week of activities, will encompass all of its primary service area which includes Chelsea, Dexter, Pinckney, Ann Arbor and Manchester. In addition to Chelsea, Women's Health Day will be held Saturday, May 9 at the Emanuel United Church of Christ in Manchester. Topics of physical, social and emotional health will be covered through lectures, films, displays and activities. Dexter will also be a center of activity during National Hospital Week as Chelsea Community Hospital sends representatives to Ann Arbor Bank Friday, May 15 for blood pressure screenings and CPR recruitment.

In addition to these activities, last week's issue of The Chelsea Standard lists dates, locations and synopses of the assorted community programs to take place during the week of May 9-16.

According to Will Johnson, "Chelsea Community Hospital believes it is mandatory to go outside the campus and meet with various sectors of the community(ies) which are served by the hospital staff." Even within the hospital, the non-institutional atmosphere is a welcome change from the typically imagined "hospital image." "We attempt to reinforce the fact that our hospital is an open, relaxed atmosphere and we invite the public in to help alleviate the trauma and fear often associated with the health care system," explained Johnson.

In addition to children's tours in school groups, children are rarely forbidden to visit with a friend or relative. "Both the social and psychological needs are necessary for a patient's physical recovery from illness," continued Johnson.

With the celebration of National Hospital Week, Chelsea Community Hospital will reinforce the external services it provides all year with a concentrated program schedule. Attempting to become more diversified and more involved with all groups in the community, all special services will be provided free of charge and with no need to pre-register.

OPEN HOUSE SATURDAY, MAY 9

Baseball Team Hands Milan Win With 7 Errors

Chelsea's varsity baseball team took on Milan's Big Reds Monday in a battle for Chelsea's second win or Milan's first. Despite an excellent first-inning, the Bulldogs came up with seven errors, four of which were committed at third base, and handed Milan their first victory of the season, 11-6.

In the first inning, Chelsea took to the field and scored five times. Starting off, Ross Murphy walked. Jeff Dils singled and Ross Stofflet doubled in the first two runs. Mike Bohlender, next at bat, singled in two more runs followed by Rod Robeson with a single and RBI. Such was the League-leading Lincoln met up with the Bulldog varsity baseball team Friday and came out losers, 4 to 3.

Ross Murphy singled home Mike Bareis with the winning run in the bottom of the seventh inning to give the Bulldogs the victory.

Playing key roles in the game were pitcher John Welton, shortstop Jeff Dils, and rightfielder Craig Olmsted.

Welton earned his second victory, (against one defeat), and Jeff Dils, Craig Olmsted, Mike Bohlender and Ross Murphy all hit well.

With the score tied 3-3 in the seventh inning, Mike Bohlender singled to left, and Mike Bareis was put in to pinch run. Murphy tried two sacrifice bunts, and with an 0-2 count Bareis' steal attempt led to a Lincoln balk. Then Murphy drove in the winning run with a single to right field.

The victory gives the Bulldogs a 2-3 league record and momentum going into next week's five important games. Varsity Coach Wayne Welton called the game a hard-earned victory for the Bulldogs and was pleased with his team's performance.

On Monday the Bulldogs travel to JC Western, meet Saline in Chelsea on Wednesday, go to Tecumseh on Friday and play Columbia Central in a double-header on Saturday in Chelsea.

Tennis Team Splits Two Last Week

The number one Chelsea doubles team of Steve Wilson and Craig Thams scored the only point in the Chelsea tennis team's 6-1 loss to Gabriel Richard Wednesday.

Wilson and Thams won their match in a three-setter over Bob LaRiche and Alan McMillan, 6-4, 2-6, 6-2. They now have wins over Saline, Jackson Northwest, and Gabriel Richard.

Doug Inglis beat Todd Seleray, 6-4, 6-0; Bill Merkel beat Steve Scharf, 6-0, 7-6; Mike Reid beat Julie Boos, 6-2, 6-4; Damon Mark lost to Jeff Toy, 6-2, 6-4 in a 6-1 victory over Stockbridge Friday.

All three doubles teams won. Wilson-Thams beat Hill-Alan, 6-3, 6-0; Eisenbeiser-Schumann beat Benson-Stone, 6-3, 6-2; Bentley-Moore won over Badash and Bathburn, 6-1, 6-2.

style of the first inning of play; the score remained 5-0 until the third inning when Milan was able to capitalize and bring in one run.

Chelsea, apparently confident with a comfortable lead, was unable to execute defensively, committing three errors in the fourth inning and allowing the Big Reds to advance four runners around the field and to tie the score at 5-5.

John Welton, pitching a fine game despite the eventual outcome, allowed only eight hits during the contest.

Nevertheless, the Bulldogs added their sixth and final run in the fifth inning but committed an additional three errors in the sixth inning to allow Milan a total of five additional runs to put the Big Reds up by four, 10-6. The Milan sluggers ended their assault in the seventh inning with a final run. (Continued on page 19)

Girls Track Team Wins Over Dexter, Pushes Milan

It took two days to do it, but the Chelsea girls track team defeated Dexter last week, 66½-56½. The Bulldogs then came right back and narrowly missed defeating SEC leader Milan. The score in that meet was 59-64.

The Dexter meet started Tuesday with the Bulldogs building a big lead with 1-2 finishes in all four field events. Mary Boylan and Lorrie Vandegrift placed 1-2 in the discus and shot put with Boylan winning the discus and Vandegrift the shot. Vandegrift also won the high jump with Tracy Bohlender second.

Sharon Glassford tied for third to earn the half point which would be very important later. Glassford was also second to Chelsea's Sue Young in the long jump. Chelsea led 32½ to 3½. Then came thunderstorms and a delay.

The meet was resumed Wednesday for the running at Dexter because of a junior high meet on Chelsea's track. Dexter's Tricia Elisele and Nancy Darlington started the running with a sweep of the 100 hurdles. Lorrie Vandegrift was third for Chelsea with her best effort of the season. Kathy Honbaum, who had the most productive day of her career, followed with a win in the 100 meters.

The 800 relay of Lisa Vandegrift, Nancy Heller, Carolyn Chandler and Tracy

Bohlender, was victorious with a season best time of 1:53.2. Dexter won the 400 relay, then Honbaum came back for her second win of the day with a :64.4 in the 400 meters. Tracy Bohlender won the 200 hurdles and two events later, sprinted to second in the 200 dash.

The best race of the day was the 800 meter run. Dexter's Becky Aten and Carolyn Virgne and the Bulldogs' Carol Warren and Wendy Wolfgang ran stride for stride the entire race. Aten edged out Warren by .02 to win, 2:29.4 to 2:29.6. Virgne outsprinted Wolfgang for third in 2:30.0. Wolfgang's fourth place time was a fine 2:34.0.

Dexter's strength in the distance was obvious as Kelly McKillen and Lisa Goltman ran 1-2 in both the 1600 and 3200. Nancy Hastings was third in the 1600 for Chelsea with a school record 5:34 and Kristin Thomas ran the fourth best 1600 ever with 5:44. Sandy Frame also finished third with a school record 12:13.5 in the 3200. Frame's point assured the Bulldogs at least a tie.

Kathy Honbaum concluded her outstanding performance by anchoring the winning 1600 relay. The foursome of Nancy Heller, Wendy Wolfgang, Carol Warren and Honbaum held off a strong Dexter challenge to win in 4:22.4, :0.5 ahead of the Dreadnaughts.

It was the girls first win over Dexter since 1977, but they didn't have long to enjoy it as they traveled to Milan for Thursday's meet.

Once again, the Bulldogs jumped to an early lead in the field events. Mary Boylan set a school record, winning the discus with 111'5¼" and a senior record winning the shot with 33'5¼". Lorrie Vandegrift was second in the shot and discus and won the high jump. Tracy Bohlender was third in the high jump and Nancy Heller was third in the discus. With Sue Young winning the long jump in 14'7" and Sharon Glassford second, the Bulldogs went into the running events leading, 31-5.

Only Lorrie Vandegrift could score in the first three running events as she continued to lower her 100 hurdle time. Nancy Hastings slowed the Big Red charge by finishing second in the mile with a 5:44.4. Kathy Honbaum and Nancy Heller finished first and third in the 440 to tie the score, 41-41. Tracy Bohlender won the 200 hurdles and finished third in the 220.

Carol Warren and Nancy Hastings ran 1-2 in the 880 and Sandy Frame and Kristin Thomas were second and third in the two mile. Going into the last event, the score was tied again, 59-59. Nancy Heller, Tracy Bohlender, Carol Warren and Kathy Honbaum gave an outstanding effort, but Milan had Tracy Early, one of the state's better quarter-milers, anchoring and that was too much. The Big Reds had the race in 4:19 and the meet, 64-59, to stay tied with Tecumseh in the SEC lead. Chelsea fell to 2-2 in the conference but the Bulldogs have faced each of the top teams and have only Western and Lincoln left.

"This has been a difficult week for us," said Coach Bill Bainton. "Not only did our performances improve, but it shows the character and heart these girls have to run teams the caliber of Milan and Dexter. They beat one and took the other to the last event. We got fine contributions from everyone on the team."

SOPHOMORE DONNA POPOVICH is the main stay of the JV pitching staff and has pitched in all but two of the JV games so far this year. Donna has a 5-0 pitching record this year, including a no-hitter.

Varsity Softball Team Wins 3 of 4

The Chelsea varsity softball team experimented with a new format for week-end doubleheaders on their home field Saturday, April 25. The lady Bulldogs faced Ann Arbor Pioneer first and Birmingham Groves second in back-to-back doubleheaders. This format is new to this area of the state but is common practice among competitive softball teams in the Detroit area. The four games in one day was a real test of the girls' endurance and competitive spirit and the lady Bulldogs came away from the ordeal tired and humble, but unbroken by the fierce competition.

The Chelsea girls managed to claim three wins out of four with good Class A softball teams. The Chelsea team took the first game of the doubleheader with Pioneer, 6-1, behind the excellent pitching of Amy Unterbrink.

Kim Boyd collected three hits in the first game, including a double, while Unterbrink aided her own cause with a run-scoring double of her own. Anita Powell, Ann Elisele and Molly Elisele also picked up base hits as Chelsea put the game away with four runs in the second inning.

In the second game of the doubleheader, the Chelsea girls fell victim to their first loss of the year as Pioneer came away with a hard-fought 5-3 victory in nine innings.

Volunteer Workers Cited for VA Medical Center Service

In the past year, 620 regularly scheduled volunteers at the Ann Arbor Veterans Administration Medical Center contributed more than 80,000 hours of service.

The volunteers, who include veterans service organization members, high school and college students and many senior citizens, were honored at a tea in the medical center's auditorium on Thursday, April 10, during National Volunteer Week.

Awards will be presented to 185 volunteers who have accumulated between 100 hours to 20,000 hours of volunteer service on Sunday, May 17, at the VA's 27th annual volunteer recognition dinner, which is being held this year at the Ann Arbor Moose Lodge, 309 S. Maple Rd.

Among those receiving awards for volunteer service this year are Kermit Sharp of Chelsea, who will receive a VA award for dedicated service of 7,500 hours. Sharp, who is the VA Voluntary Service representative for the American Legion at the medical center, devotes most of his volunteer service to patient visitation, especially in the hemodialysis unit.

Receiving a gold pin for 5,000 hours will be Ruth Criswell, formerly of Chelsea and currently of Ann Arbor, a VA Voluntary Service representative of the Ladies Auxiliary to Veterans of World War I and a member of the American Legion Auxiliary. She assists in the chaplain's office.

Bessie Sharp of Chelsea will receive a 1,000-hour certificate for her dedicated volunteer service and Lucy Platt of Grass Lake, will be awarded a 500-hour certificate for her hours of voluntary service.

Licensed Practical Nurse Day Slated

Governor William G. Milliken has declared Thursday, May 7 to be Michigan Licensed Practical Nurse Day, urging all citizens to acknowledge the contributions of the Licensed Practical Nurse and to support Michigan's 33 practical nursing programs to insure that nursing care needs of this state continue to be met.

This declaration has come following the dedication of the 36,000 Licensed Practical Nurses who are living up to the 1981 theme of "Turning Care Into Caring," as they work together with other members on the health care team to meet the needs of the citizens of Michigan.

Licensed Practical Nurses play a vital role in providing cost effective, high quality care in a time of nursing shortage. Practical nursing education programs prepare practitioners who, upon arrival at the work place, are able to assume duties in direct patient care and who have proven to be knowledgeable, skilled and dedicated to nursing.

Licensed Practical Nurse Day, May 7 has been set aside to promote practical nursing as a viable and much needed profession, to encourage young persons and adults to consider practical nursing as a career, and to reassure Michigan's 36,000 LPN's that they are an important member of the health care team.

A current proposal to eliminate the LPN, who has studied a one year program in practical nursing, and the Diploma Nurse, who has studied a three year program or diploma, has been proposed by the American Nurses Association, a registered nurse organization which represents only about 15 percent of the total number of RNs in the United States. Is creating much confusion and apprehension to nurses in the profession and to those considering entering nursing. ANA maintains that more education will prepare better nurses thereby improving the quality of nursing care. The Michigan LPN Association and others in the health care field maintain that the plan would only create a greater shortage of nurses, raise the costs of health care and limit entry for thousands of potential nurses who would not be able to afford the additional time and monies.

Bradley Glazier Is Finalist in Law Competition

Bradley K. Glazier, 575 Glazier Rd., was among four students in the University of Toledo's College of Law to be selected as finalists for the annual Charles W. Fornoff Intraschool Moot Court Competition held Saturday, May 2 at the UT Law Center. His selection was based on a month-long series of preliminary arguments.

Glazier and his cohorts argued a hypothetical legal case involving the question of whether the U.S. Constitution's Seventh Amendment, guaranteeing jury trial in civil cases, is applicable regardless of the complexity of the case. The panel of judges hearing the final arguments was composed of three members of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit.

The Fornoff competition is sponsored each year by the University's Moot Court Board, a law students' organization, and is a highlight of the College of Law's observance of Law Week each spring.

Dr. M. Green Named EMU Assoc. Dean

Dr. Mary Green, an associate professor in the Department of Health, Physical Education, Recreation and Dance at Eastern Michigan University, was appointed associate dean of the College of Education by the EMU Board of Regents at its regular monthly meeting held, Wednesday, April 22. She has been serving as acting associate dean since last May.

Green, 45, replaces Dr. Jose Lianes who left the University to accept a position with Abt Associates, a federal research contractor in Cambridge, Mass.

A Chelsea resident, Green earned her bachelor's degree from Eastern in 1958, a master's degree from the University of Michigan in 1965 and a doctorate from Michigan State University in 1975. She is a native of Pontiac.

Prior to joining the faculty at Eastern, Green taught in the Rochester Community School System and at Roosevelt school in Ypsilanti. Also, she served as a senior research assistant for the Programmatic Research Project in Physical Education for the handicapped at MSU for one year. In addition, she was an in-service consultant for day care training centers for the profoundly and severely mentally impaired for the Michigan Department of Education.

Since coming to EMU in 1969, Green has directed the University's Teachers of Adults Program and has taught in the Department of Health, Physical Education, Recreation and Dance.

As associate dean in Eastern's College of Education, Green will provide leadership in the development of academic programs for the College; provide information on programs, policies and procedures to students and instructors; and coordinate a variety of support services to students enrolled in the College.

Her appointment is effective immediately.

MICROWAVE COMMUNICATIONS, INC. president stands beside his satellite receiving parabolic Earth station, capable of receiving between 30-50 different television stations, including films, sporting events and other non-commercial entertainment from 11 satellites orbiting in space. This fiberglass antenna is located at his residence on Kalmbach Rd.

Earth Satellite TV Receiving Stations Available for Homes

Commercial black and white television got its start nearly four decades ago. Then came color programming. Since that time, cable and pay TV have become household commodities.

Now comes a whole new industry, destined to be inside 80-90 percent of all U.S. homes within the decade. Earth satellite receiving stations will have a profound impact on everyday American life, particularly upon the way Americans will be entertained at home in the future.

The first satellites were sent into space in the mid-1960's; there are currently 11 satellites orbiting overhead, between 22,300 and 22,500 miles above the Earth. With the installation of a satellite receiving dish antenna outside the home, a total of 40 to 60 television stations can be received. Commercial-free programming including sporting events, films and prime time entertainment from both the U.S. and North America as well as Europe can be picked up directly from satellite and relayed into the home equipped with the Earth station mechanism. This "space age" technology promises to satisfy the American public's unsatiable desire for additional sources of video and audio programs.

Earth satellite receiving stations are no new innovation, having been used by governmental agencies for many years. Still, as a means of entertainment, this technology is relatively new. In the southern and western United States, Earth station terminals are commonplace. But, in the Midwest, the practice of utilizing this type of technology is still in its embryonic stage.

Six months ago, Microwave Communications, Inc. got its start. Home-based in the Chelsea-Dexter area, the satellite receiving equipment organization is one of just a few scattered across the state. M.C.I. president James Hava, electronic technician Ed Barko and secretary Gwen Cameron make up the fledgling company that has begun installation of this satellite receiving equipment.

According to Barko, three pieces of equipment make up the Earth station. These include a parabolic or dish antenna made of either fiberglass or aluminum and mounted on a concrete slab, a receiver or television set and an LNA or lower noise amplifier which picks up the satellite signal and amplifies it 50 to 60 percent.

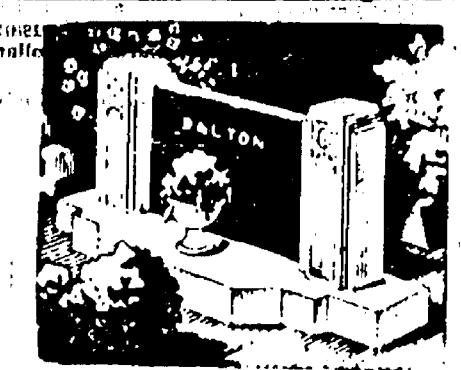

In Michigan, a dish at least 10 feet in diameter is necessary for picking up a clear signal. The power supply used to adequately relay this signal is equal to or no greater than the amount of power necessary to operate any typical household appliance.

A question of legality arises in a controversy that is brewing between network television and promoters of the Earth station receiving terminal method. The commercial networks charge that Earth station receivers are in direct conflict with programming copyrights. Nevertheless, the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) has not blocked the new technology and has gone as far as granting licenses in "noisy" areas that could potentially block a dish signal. The only illegality currently associated with satellite receiving stations is selling to a third party; the materials must be purchased through a dealer and maintained by the original buyer.

Ed Barko explains that there is no "cheap way" to acquire satellite receiving equipment. Nevertheless, he points to a current price reduction in equipment purchasing. The line of Earth stations Microwave Communications, Inc. offers did, in the past, cost as much as $1/2 million. Currently, M.C.I. can assemble and install an 11-foot satellite receiving dish antenna system for as little as $5,200 complete with a one-year maintenance/service contract. The most costly M.C.I. product, a 16-foot dish, costs approximately $13,500. With the system, owners are sent a monthly "Sat Guide" with program listings and times.

ODE TO MRS. OESTERLE...

From my observation—if qualifications could be met I wouldn't be a den mother for half the national debt. She must be an educator, a statistician, and financier. A lawyer, a cab driver and consulting engineer.

She started out with pine cone wreaths, bird houses and communications.

She made a yearly budget to meet the expectations. And, if like most all budgets, the income it exceeds. Then revision is in order to meet the Den I needs.

And though her patience off-times undergoes severest tests. Who left the glove last week—the story book—and also the bird nest?

Who forgot it was their week for treats and to wear their uniform? Who remembered their weekly quarter and to wear boots in the snow storm?

Remember the caroling hayride in Dec. that was so much fun. And also the circus and derbies and the Den I members that won. Remember winning "Cubby" at the blue and gold banquet. And also our two bowling outings and the nine boys that never sit!

Of one thing I am certain and I'm sure you will agree. A den mother never suffers from what folks call "ennui". And so Den I would like to thank you for all that you have done. For making 80-81 for us a lot of fun.

Happy Mother's Day, Mrs. Oesterle

Baseball Team Falters...

Chelsea made a total of nine hits and was led by sophomore Rod Robeson with a double and two singles; he was three for four at the plate. Ross Stoffel added a double while Mike Barels and Mike Bohlander each contributed a hit and John Preston slammed two.

A second game against Milan followed the devastating Chelsea loss but was called because of darkness. Chelsea was but two outs away from splitting the doubleheader.

According to Coach Wayne Welton, "We've worked so hard at practice here and in Florida. It's really sad to see the team unable to make the big play when necessary. We should be okay but the kids are beginning to second guess some of their abilities."

The loss dropped Chelsea's slate to 1-7 on the season.

Three Chelsea Boy Scouts Receive Ad Altare Dei Award

Sunday, May 3, three local boy scouts received their Ad Altare Dei award at St. Mary's Cathedral in Lansing. Officiating was a bishop of the Lansing diocese.

tism, penance, the eucharist, confirmation, marriage, holy orders and anointing of the sick.

The purpose of the Ad Altare Dei program is to help the scout develop a fully Christian way of life. The program is organized in a series of steps based on the sacraments and surrounding the premise that these encounters with Christ are one's best means toward spiritual growth.
