Choirs Plan Year-End Concert

Chelsea High school's SSA, SATB choirs and the Contemporaries are now planning their year-end concert to take place in the CHS auditorium on Thursday, May 28 at 7:30 p.m.

In a special tribute to the graduating seniors in the choir, the students will perform songs that they have enjoyed singing during the last four years. Centering around the theme "Memories," the music will range from Broadway and pop tunes to some "golden oldies." "Tomorrow," "Songbird," "Evergreen," and "Traces" are just a few of these selections.

The Contemporaries are also planning a slide show during their last two songs, depicting activities they have enjoyed in the past. There will also be a special appearance by the cast of "Me and Juliet" to perform a song written by Tamara Barbret, "It's Been a Long Time in Comin'." Directed by June Warren, the Chelsea Community Choir will be performing "Flying Free."

The public is invited to attend this concert. It promises to be an entertaining and exciting evening. In addition to paying tribute to the seniors, the students will be honoring their director, Tamara Barbret, who has now directed the Chelsea choirs for four years.

Heat Treat Firm Buys Buildings

In 1976, Harry Dodds opened Independent Heat Treat in a 35,000 sq. ft. series of three buildings located at 11850 Dexter Chelsea Rd. The buildings were leased from Stahl Manufacturing.

At the time of the initial business venture, Dodds agreed to rent the buildings for the first five years "to see if we could make a go of it." Thereafter, the plant would be purchased from Stahl. That purchase was made this year and the necessary paperwork was completed Friday, May 8.

Independent Heat Treat, appropriately named following its beginning in bicentennial 1976, heat treats approximately 80 percent of its steel for the automotive industry; the remaining 20 percent is treated for numerous other steel processors.

Nevertheless, the economic slump that has become a part of everyday life in Michigan and has made countless industries

LADY FIREMAN: Alexandra Ellenwood was given the opportunity to become Chelsea's first female firefighter last April and has since managed to answer 14 of 15 possible fire calls. A lifetime resident of Chelsea, Sandy has been given the total support of both her family and her fire department cohorts. Her husband Dan is a longtime member of the volunteer force. Why did she do it? "I believe in it," she explained.

First Female Member Joins Volunteer Fire Department

Monday, April 13 marked an innovative move in the Chelsea Fire Department's organization. It was that day that 33-year-old Alexandra Ellenwood became an active member of the fire-fighting force.

Despite some original protests about a woman taking a fire-fighting role, Sandy now feels that she is receiving total support from the other firemen.

"I only ask to be given a fair chance on the department. If I can't cut it, I'll bow out gracefully," she explains.

The Chelsea Fire Department is currently carrying 23 of 25 possible firemen. There's a definite need for available manpower on daytime duty, between 7 a.m. and 3:30 p.m. "Many people can't leave work in case of an emergency but I am available," Sandy says.

The route to becoming a fireman is rather long. Sandy joined the auxiliary last September. Monthly meetings are held and basic training takes place and other skills are learned. Then, as positions come up, nominations are made and all active firemen vote on the choices. In April, Sandy and two others were nominated and chosen to become the new recruits.

As rookies, members are kept on a six-month probation. After that period, their records are reviewed and a vote is taken again to determine whether or not the rookie has responded to at least 50 percent of all daytime fires and is an asset to the department. If the vote is positive, the rookie is placed on another year of probation, during which time he or she has no vote in any decisions to be made.

Voted into the department on April 13, Sandy Ellenwood made her first run at 4 a.m. April 14 though she hadn't received official notice of her acceptance. Since that time, a total of 15 fires and other emergencies have taken place. Sandy has missed only one.

Sandy Ellenwood's interest in firefighting stems in part from her marriage to Daniel Ellenwood, a member of the department for the past 13 years and president of the Fireman's Association. "I never liked being a fireman's widow so when Dan was called on a run, I'd go along and sit at the fire hall," Sandy explains. So why not become really involved? That's exactly what she has done.

Her parents, Al and Jo Eresten of Bradenton, Fla. and formerly of Chelsea, are "thrilled to say the least. My mom has even sent me some money to use toward the purchase of my own uniform," Sandy says. In addition, her husband and two sons, Daniel Jr. and Michael, have given her total support and encouragement in the endeavor.

But, how can the mother of two young sons take on the responsibilities of being a fireman? Sandy attributes her ability to do this to the level of maturity each of her boys have. "They're wonderful," she says, "and they have been given the opportunity to take on responsibilities at an early age." One of her sons has even been heard to comment in school about how proud he is of his mother, the fireman.

In addition to her fire department affiliation, Sandy has been a member of the VFW Auxiliary for 11 years. But, when she became a fireman, Sandy was forced to resign her post as treasurer of the women's group. "You can be involved in many activities but there's a point where you can not give your best to any of them," Sandy explains. "I don't want to do a poor job at anything."

Sandy is also a certified first aid and CPR instructor through the American Red Cross and has been a member of the local United Way board.

Now, as a member of the local volunteer firefighters, Sandy has become more than just a piece of the woodwork at the fire hall. "It was silly to just sit there when I could contribute my energy as well," Sandy explains.

Nevertheless, being a rookie fireman is not always all it's cracked up to be. "It's hard work but I love the hustle and bustle of it. It's a worthwhile cause and there's a great deal to learn," she says.

Continuing, Sandy Ellenwood elaborated on her duties and responsibilities. In her training, she is quite often a gopher, doing many menial tasks with a smile. "Why should someone with experience be forced to do clean ups? I'm perfectly capable of it. I'm an extra person just learning the ropes."

Life as a volunteer fireman is not glory filled but it is constantly changing and interesting. Still, "I must stand on a fine line, watching and learning without being pushy," Sandy explains. Still, she has entered what used to be considered "a man's domain" and trying to show her abilities is often quite taxing. But, according to the 5'11" female addition to the department, "They're a great bunch of guys."

Sandy is very happy to be a member of the Chelsea Fire department. "If I hadn't believed that I could do it, I wouldn't have gotten this far. It's a worthwhile cause and I love it," she continues. "Who knows, maybe I'll build my own fire hall some day!" Sandy Ellenwood just might do that.

Schools Seek Renewal of 20.5 Mill Levy

Chelsea schools will seek voter approval for a renewal of 20.5 mills on Monday, June 8. There will be two millage ballots: one calls for the renewal millage of 20.5; the second ballot indicates a 2.6 increase which no longer is needed by the School District because of the defeat of Proposal "A".

The Board of Education had prepared the second ballot to meet election timelines prior to the vote on Proposal "A" on May 29. District residents are urged to disregard or vote "NO" on the 2.6 increase.

The schools will be asking district voters to approve the same amount of millage for the 1981-82 school year that was available for the 1980-81 school year. There is no increase in the amount of millage requested. The Board of Education has appreciated the community support of the schools, and asks for continued support for quality education.

Lynwood Noah Is Memorial Day Featured Speaker

Beginning at 9:30 a.m. Monday, May 25, Memorial Day services got underway in the village. The streets were lined with veterans, school bands, officials and residents who filed onto the curbs and streets to commemorate deceased war veterans.

Parading through the village streets enroute to Oak Grove Cemetery, the participants were under the leadership of Parade Marshal Pat Merkel. The color guards of the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars led off the parade which followed the traditional route along Main, Park, East and Middle Sts. to its final destination. War veterans, a firing squad, bands, marchers and Memorial Day speakers followed behind.

Upon their arrival in the cemetery, memorial services got underway by Master of Ceremonies James Knott. An invocation and the placing of a commemorative wreath followed.

The day's speaker was Lynwood Noah, assistant prosecuting attorney for Washtenaw county. Following his address, the firing squad sounded, saluting those Americans who gave their lives in battle. The "Star Spangled Banner," taps and a benediction terminated the services.

Herbert J. McKune American Legion Post No. 31 was one of thousands of American Legion and Auxiliary organizations throughout the United States which led local Memorial Day observances. Similar services were conducted in American overseas military cemeteries.

Traditional Memorial Day activities got their start in Columbus, Miss. in 1866. From its obscure Civil War beginnings, the custom of decorating graves became a nationwide tradition in 1868 following General John A. Logan's proclamation calling for appropriate ceremonies including the decoration of the graves of dead comrades.

Since that time, Memorial Day observances have evolved quite often into days of personal family commemoration.

Supreme Court Okays Prisoner Release Policy

The State Supreme Court has cleared the way for the early release of about 1,000 inmates by upholding the constitutionality of the Prison Overcrowding Emergency Powers Act of 1980. The state's highest court rejected the claim of Oakland County Prosecutor L. Brooks Patterson that the law infringed on the governor's authority to commute prison sentences.

The law provides for reducing prison sentences by 90 days when the Corrections Commission determines overcrowding exists and the governor signs an emergency declaration. The 90-day sentence reduction would increase the number of prisoners then eligible for parole.

Chief Justice Mary Coleman, writing for the majority, said the law is merely used by the legislature to provide indeterminate sentences.

She said it makes no difference whether earlier provisions of indeterminate sentences are amended retroactively or whether the act simply provides for the release of persons imprisoned under such sentencing.

Justice G. Mennen Williams, the sole dissenter, said the law could not be constitutionally applied to persons in prisons prior to the effective date of the act, Jan. 26, 1981.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

The fellers was discussing news of recent days during the session at the country store Saturday night, and Ed Doolittle offered in evidence some items he said reminded him there's just no accounting for wimmen. One of his clippings reported where talking to yourself is good for you, one was pushing "Telephone a Friend Week," and another told where a woman tarred and feathered her ex-husband's girl friend. Ed allowed that when you think on these you git a different picture with each one.

Per instant, Ed said it wouldn't surprise him none if his old lady was named national honorary chairman of the telephone week, seeing as how she calls ever friend she's got and a few dozen total strangers ever week. Ed said he's convinced that she rings up some wimmen she's never seen or heard in her life just to hear what they sound like. Ed swears she's got this thing about numbers, and she just natural wants to know who's on the other end of em. What's more, he said, when she ain't talking to somebody else she's talking to herself. Usual, when she's in the kitchen she carries on a regular two-way conversation, asking questions and then answering em. And when she's in the middle of debating whether to take chicken salad or a casserole to the church supper she don't take kindly to a second party offering ideas on the subject.

As fer the tar and feathers, Ed said that don't fit at all. He figgers his old lady would more likely send the girlfriend a sympathy card. But that's why you can't figger wimmen in the first place, he went on. There are some that divorce their men, say good riddance to bad rubbish, and then git fighting mad if another woman shows any interest in him, Ed said, and he was of a mind the real reason is they can't stand the thought of the poor devil enjoying himself. What can you say to a woman that gripes that she gits pled to persons in prisons prior to the effective date of the act, Jan. 26, 1981.

That, he said, would infringe on the governor's powers to commute.

He, however, did agree with the majority that the law could be applied to all inmates sentenced after that date.

Patterson, in reaction to the decision, warned citizens to put bars on their windows, because "they're going to be coming out in packs."

The governor's office said a declaration of overcrowding would be made as quickly as possible.

Peter Ellsworth, the governor's legal counsel, said he is not sure the Corrections Commission needs to officially certify overcrowding, as it has already done so twice before.

"They're (state corrections facilities) still overcrowded," Ellsworth said noting the governor wanted to process the early paroles "very, very quickly."

Department of Corrections Director Perry Johnson said the Parole Board would begin to process parolees for release within two or three days after the governor issues the declaration.

While saying they remain steadfast in their support of the governor's exclusive powers to commute, the majority opinion said "The legislature, too, has a role in establishing the length of sentences, and it has not intruded on the governor's powers with this law."

The court noted the legislature has the power to provide indeterminate sentences and said the law falls under that authority.

"The statute is constitutional regardless of whether the release of prisoners under the statute is properly characterized as commutation. Whether it is sound policy to vest functional equivalent of the commutation power in the legislature, acting through the parole board, or whether it is sound policy to remedy prison overcrowding by releasing prisoners are questions which can be resolved only in the political forum."

The legal challenge was filed against the act after the courts ruled the prison facilities were dangerously overcrowded and steps were necessary to ease the problems.

The act providing for one declared emergency and if that is not sufficient to bring population in the right proportions, a second emergency could be declared with another 90 days taken off sentences to bring the next group up for parole.

Good Things Growing In Michigan

By Margaret G. McCall

Ah, the lovely tender green asparagus! Each year I watch and wait for the arrival of asparagus season. I'm tempted to follow the harvest from southwestern Michigan north along the lakeshore to prolong this all-too-brief season by a few weeks. Instead, I buy asparagus in quantities at our farmers' market and freeze it, so we can have a taste of spring with winter meals.

Asparagus is one of the good things growing in Michigan, and our farmers harvested 21,800,000 pounds in 1980 from 17,300 acres. The crop, valued at $11 million, was third largest in the nation, the Michigan Department of Agriculture reports.

A member of the lily family, asparagus is a "kissing cousin" of the feathery asparagus fern, the robust garlic, and the graceful gladioli. Asparagus has been cultivated for more than 2,000 years.

When choosing asparagus, look for fresh straight stalks with compact tips. Store your treasure in the coldest part of the refrigerator, and use as soon as possible. Rinse thoroughly to remove any clinging sand. Then cook briefly, to preserve the valuable Vitamin C and other vitamins and minerals contained in asparagus.

Asparagus should be cooked crisp-tender, and never, never over-cooked, or the bright green begins to fade.

Cookbooks say one pound will feed two or three people, but at our house, it barely suffices for two. We like it best served simply, with butter and milk. The milk holds the heat while you're getting the asparagus from stove to table.

Hot cooked asparagus spears are also delicious wrapped inside a plain or cheese omelet for breakfast or brunch. You may wish to create an asparagus and meat casserole or combine with cooked spaghetti, cheese and canned soups for an oven dish. Whatever your choice, the season is at hand!

SHERYL LYNNE DAULT, daughter of Gary and Kathy Dault of Conroe, Tex., formerly of Chelsea, will graduate from Conroe Independent High school, Conroe, Tex., Friday, May 29. She received her cosmetology degree in May 1980 from Conroe Area Vocational School. She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Stephens and the late Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dault of Chelsea.

Byrd on a Pole

On May 7, 1926, Richard Byrd and his pilot Floyd Bennett took off in a tri-motor Fokker monoplane from King's Bay, Spitzbergen, for a historic flight over the North Pole. The 15½ hour flight covered 1,545 miles non-stop. Byrd's plane, the "Josephine Ford," may now be seen in the Transportation Collection of Henry Ford Museum, Dearborn, along with many other famous aircraft.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

I am a 7th grade student at Beach Middle school, and I play in the 7th grade band. While in 6th grade, Mr. Bergman was our band teacher, and I thoroughly enjoyed it. I am very sorry to see Mr. Bergman leave. He is highly respected by all of his students and many other people. I know for a fact that all of his students will feel a great loss when he leaves.

Although Mr. Bergman was strict, I feel it made me appreciate my horn and music a lot more. He has made all of kids really appreciate being in the band and proud of our music program. I was really looking forward to having to learn under him, but since that is not possible, I wish him the best. I just hope that when the school board is looking for a new director, they will keep in mind the high standards Mr. Bergman has set for the Symphony Band and the rest of us, and choose a person who can live up to Mr. Bergman's quality. Thank you.

Views On Dental Health

By ROBERT A. BURNS, JR., DDS, P.C.

EARLY TOOTH OVERCROWDING

When should crooked teeth be straightened? As soon as they're detected! The old adage about an ounce of prevention is especially true in orthodontics, where crooked teeth can be prevented by early treatment.

Diagnosed at a sufficiently early age, an unusual trend can often be stopped in its tracks—and its effects completely erased. To ensure early detection, a child should have a checkup by the family dentist at intervals of about six months, beginning at 3½ to 4 years of age. Overcrowded and crooked teeth are most likely to make their entrance with the arrival of the four permanent incisors and the four permanent molars at around age six.

Prompt treatment is recommended when teeth are overcrowded. Some baby teeth may be removed ahead of their normal shedding time to allow nature to do a certain amount of tooth straightening. Known as interceptive orthodontics, it involves a one-by-one extraction in a well-planned sequence to make room for a better bite.

If you have dental health questions you would like to see answered, please mail them to the address below.

The fifth film to be shown in this series will be shown on Thursday, May 28, at 7 p.m. and the title of that film is "Preparing for Adolescence: Peer Pressure and Sexuality" which will focus on the physical changes and sexual changes, fear of abnormality, and conforming or not conforming to peer pressure that takes place prior to and during the early teen years.

The sixth and seventh films to be shown Sunday, May 31, at 6 p.m. will be "What Wives Wish Their Husbands Knew About Women: The Lonely Housewife" which will focus on sources of depression in women, low self esteem, fatigue, and time pressure, and absence of romantic love in marriage.

The final film is "What Wives Wish Their Husbands Knew About Women: Money, Sex and Children" which focuses in on materialism—a root cause, the major difference sexually, menstrual and physiological problems—Is life passing me by? and do I still appeal to somebody?

The public is invited free of charge and there will be supervised programs for children 1st through 4th grades, and nursery and toddler care will be available.

Episcopal Bishop At St. Barnabas

On Sunday, May 31, the Rt. Rev. H. Coleman McGehee, Jr., Bishop of the Diocese of Michigan will confirm the 1981 confirmation class at St. Barnabas Episcopal church.

This year's class is comprised of Laura Goderis, Margaret Lewis, Robin Settles, Kenneth Schatz, Joy Stacey and James Stacey.

Following the services, the Bishop will join the class and their families and friends for dinner at the church.

This is the first visit Bishop McGehee has made to Chelsea for some time. He has been VIII Bishop of Michigan since 1973; prior to that time, the Rt. Rev. McGehee served as Bishop Coadjutor, Diocese of Michigan.

Western Washtenaw Community Council Co-ordinates Services

Chelsea Community Hospital Social Services Department recognized a need for better co-ordination of community services for patients being discharged from the hospital. It was often difficult to arrange for service delivery to begin on the date of a patient's discharge. As a result, in March, 1979, the Social Services Department contacted various service providers from community groups in an effort to more clearly define what services were being currently provided and how could we better provide and coordinate services.

The group called itself Chelsea Area Community Services and three task groups evolved to work on community linkage, services for adults and seniors, and services for children. It was the consensus of the task groups that the community of Chelsea is currently depending upon Ann Arbor for certain services that can be provided by the community itself in a way that will be more responsive to the community's needs.

The group expanded to include Dexter and Manchester. In October, 1979, the group voted to change the name to Western Washtenaw Community Council and agreed that it will be in the best interest of the community to become a formal organization. Purpose of this organization is to enhance communication and provide linkage among direct service organizations, social service agencies, schools, law enforcement agencies and churches servicing the needs of Western Washtenaw area residents. In December, 1980, the group incorporated as a non-profit corporation and expanded to a membership of 43.

Today's economy is creating havoc for small communities such as Chelsea. In the last year and a half, 1,500 jobs were lost here; families are moving out which is hurting the town's economy. Those that are staying don't know where to turn to for help with unemployment, stress counseling, children's services, and so on. Western Washtenaw Community Council is a community organization that could help the community to help their residents with information and referral services, counseling, etc., and possibly attract new residents to this area.

To date, an information/referral system is being worked on in the Senior Citizen's Activity Center on Middle St. This system would give information and referrals to anyone who called needing assistance. Also, an alcohol/drug awareness program is being given to the fifth graders at North and South schools this year. These are only two programs being implemented so far, others are in the making.

To be successful, the community needs to be aware of such organizations and to participate in them. We welcome any interested community groups.

For further information, call Chelsea Community Hospital Social Services Dept.

Steven Lewis Memorial Established

It is Steven Lewis Memorial Day at the Chelsea Baptist church, 337 Wilkinson St., Sunday, May 31 at 6 p.m.

A memorial unit has been created in memory of Steven Lewis, son of Edward and Jean Lewis. It will be dedicated during the evening service.

The unit is made up of puppets, film strips and stories correlated into meaningful lessons of life. These teaching devices will be used in a special program developed from a popular song written by Barry McGuire and titled "Bullfrogs and Butterflies."

Junior church members are the puppeteers, the background music is taped and the instructors and aides keep the story moving.

The setting will be staged on the sanctuary platform with a special puppet stage. Directing the program is Dorothy Thodeson who will be assisted by the Sunday school staff.

The public is invited to enjoy the presentation.

Oral History Workshop Set By Dexter Museum

Dexter Museum will hold its Oral History Workshop on Saturday, May 30 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the Dexter United Methodist church on Central St., Dexter.

Oral history is the tape recording of reminiscences about which the narrator can speak from first-hand knowledge. It is important to learn how to interview, who and even what to do after the interview.

The speaker for the workshop is Flavia Reps, a teacher of history at Washtenaw Community College. In 1977 she initiated and conducted an Oral History Workshop for the Ann Arbor community. That same year, she developed an Oral History Project which is currently active on the Memoirs of the Willow Run Bomb Plant. She is currently planning the WCC Archives Project—the Oral History of the Founding and Early Years of Washtenaw Community College.

The workshop is open to all interested persons. The class size is limited to 30; a workshop fee of $6.50 and a luncheon fee of $3.50 are required. A battery operated tape recorder and a practice tape is all that is required for the workshop.

Persons interested in the Oral History Workshop are asked to contact Nancy Van Blaricum at 426-3341.

fold or move elsewhere has also affected Independent Heat Treat. Dodds explained, "We're doing better than this time last year, operating at about 60 percent of our capacity." Still, only 19 employees remain within the 35,000 sq. ft. of working space.

County 4-H Agent Part of Award Winning Team

Rodney Petteys, Washtenaw county 4-H Youth agent, is part of an area 4-H team that received one of three teams awards presented May 6 during Spring Extension Conference at Michigan State University.

The award, given annually by the Michigan Association of Extension 4-H Youth Staff, recognizes outstanding contributions to the 4-H program by an area 4-H team.

Petteys, along with Dyle Henning, Lenawee county 4-H agent and Linda Schafer, Monroe county 4-H program assistant, worked with the Smith-Douglas Fertilizer Co., of Riga, to organize the 4-H Junior Crops Production Program.

Purpose of the program is to involve young people in crop production and encourage accurate recordkeeping. Participants are involved in the entire process of planting, harvesting and marketing their field crops with advice and support from parents, 4-H leaders, Vo-Ag instructors, FFA advisers and Extension personnel.

The program includes a number of educational seminars, workshops, farm tours and an incentive award trip for youth maintaining outstanding crop records.

County Historical Society Group Plans Ohio Tour

The 1981 Washtenaw County Historical Society bus tour will go south of the (Ohio) border to visit Fallen Timbers and Fort Meigs battle sites Saturday, June 13.

The tour is open to all interested persons. The tour will also visit Wolcott House museum in Maumee and the 1828 Columbian House Restaurant in Waterville for luncheon.

Before Americans could settle Michigan or Washtenaw county, they had to battle Indians and British. Two of those actions were at Fallen Timbers in 1794 and Fort Meigs in 1813.

William Henry Harrison built and held Fort Meigs against siege by the British from Detroit. Harrison returned in 1840 when he was running for president and held the largest political rally ever held in Ohio.

Wooden-stockaded Fort Meigs has been restored. Harrison Rally Days will be held there that week-end with costumed reenactments of War of 1812 activities and building of a log cabin and pressing of cider recalling the "log cabin and hard cider" campaign of Harrison.

Ann Arbor historian Wylan Stevens will be tour guide. Bus boarding will be at 9:45 a.m. at Great Lakes Federal Savings parking lot at Washington and Division Sts. in Ann Arbor.

Prepaid reservations, due Friday, June 5, may be sent to: WCHS, 1931 Coronada Dr., Ann Arbor 48103. Tour fee is $22 per person.

Regents-Alumni Scholars Named

A total of 1,457 outstanding Michigan high school graduates, who have been admitted as freshmen to the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor this year, have been named by the U-M as Regents-Alumni Scholars.

Each year, the U-M selects Regents-Alumni Scholars for their "superior academic achievement and their potential contribution to the scholarly community of the University of Michigan."

A certificate for each Regents-Alumni Scholar has been sent to the scholar's high school. But, of the 1,457 scholars, 303 will receive a $500 merit award if they enroll at the University in September.

The "merit" award is for first-year students residing in Michigan and is not renewable. All Regents-Alumni Scholars were eligible to compete for the merit award; financial need is not a consideration in the selection.

Three Chelsea graduating seniors have been named Regents-Alumni Scholars. They include Elaine L. Meyer, 16 Chestnut; Sara E. Ullman, 20931 Island Lake Rd., Merit Award winner; and Mary K. Poljan, 13875 McKinley Rd.

Dexterite Dawn M. Kalis, 8130 Chamberlain Rd., was named both Regents-Alumni Scholar as well as Merit Award winner. Dexter High school student Douglas R. Martin, 4270 Eastgate Dr.,

Ann Arbor, was also given scholar honors.

A total of seven Saline High school students were awarded Regents-Alumni Scholarships. This group includes Timothy W. Foster, 477 Marpool Dr.; Jeanine M. Baisch, 2172 Mickey Rd.; Patricia A. Jedell, 8883 Austin Rd.; Alan W. Miller, 374 Eastlook Dr.; Merit Award winners Lisa J. Tiziani, 471 Marpool Dr., and Beverly E. Short, 3431 Clover Dr.; and Sharon Y. Cornell, 6149 Waterworks Rd.

Pinckney Community High school graduates earning honors as Alumni-Regents Scholars at the University of Michigan include Susan M. Bennett, 6505 Strawberry Lake Rd. and Steven A. Evans, 4955 Gallagher Rd., both of Hamburg; Merit Award winner Wendi S. Kroger, 6023 Strawberry Lake Rd., Whitmore Lake; and, Giovanna C. Mastroeni, 11009 Mapleview, Paul A. Reid, 9942 McGregor and Laura S. Badalamenti, 3482 Junior Dr., all of Pinckney.

Regents-Alumni Scholars are designated by the U-M admissions office and U-M alumni play an active part in the selection procedure. The candidates, chosen from all Michigan resident applicants for freshman admission, are referred to U-M alumni for interviews and recommendations. So 380 alumni participated this year.

Robert Sinn in Campus Show At Northwestern

Robert Christopher Sinn of Chelsea, a junior majoring in civil engineering at Northwestern University, was a member of the cast in the school's 50th Waa-Mu Show, "To the Memories." He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sinn.

He was selected from among 240 students who auditioned for parts in the show. There are more than 50 members of the performing cast.

Song and dance numbers and skits in the show focus on a fictional history of the Waa-Mu Show, celebrating its 50th anniversary. Written entirely by students, "To the Memories" played to sold-out houses, May 2-10.

A tradition at Northwestern, Waa-Mu evolved from separate events sponsored by the Women's Athletic Association (W.A.A.) and the Men's Union (M.U.). The annual spring revue involves more than 200 students including composers, writers, wardrobe and stage workers and performers.

The only private university in the Big Ten, Northwestern is composed of 12 undergraduate and professional schools with campuses in Evanston and Chicago, Ill.

JULIE PROHASKA

EMU Forensics Team Wins U. S. Title Again

Eastern Michigan University's forensics team won its sixth consecutive public speaking title at the National Forensic Association national championship in Bowling Green, Ky., Monday, April 27.

Eastern's forensics team, coached by Dennis Beagen, has won the national forensics championship seven times in the 11 years the national tournament has been held, placing second and third the other four times.

In winning this year's national championship, Eastern's squad placed five team members in the top 10 over-all speakers at the tournament.

During the tournament, Julie Prohaska placed in the semifinals for both rhetorical criticism and informative speaking. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Prohaska of Chelsea, and is majoring in political science and speech. Prohaska is a member of the Stic Society, works as a tutor in the EMU Political Science Department, and is the past recipient of an EMU Campus Leader Award.

EMU took first place with 409 sweepstakes points. Bradley University finished second with 303 points, Bowling Green State University was third with 240 points, Illinois State University was fourth with 236 points and Miami (Ohio) University finished fifth with 162 points.

Approximately 100 colleges and universities from throughout the United States competed at the National Forensic Association national tournament held at Western Kentucky University. Of the 27 members of the EMU squad, team members qualified for 50 quarter-final events and 31 semi-final events in winning the national championship.

Coach Dennis Beagen was honored at this year's national tournament with a special commendation from the National Forensic Association. The association cited Beagen for his outstanding contributions to competitive public speaking at the collegiate level.

There are about 11 million businesses, excluding farms, in the United States. Of these, 10.8 million are considered small businesses by SBA's size standards.

WCC Offers Credits for Some High School Work

1980 Dexter High school graduate Howard Sias is completing his first year at Washtenaw Community College and he didn't even have to start at the beginning.

Thanks to the Washtenaw County Articulation project, Howard was able to bypass some beginning course work at WCC and proceed directly to a higher level of learning.

Last spring, his vocational teacher at DHS informed the class about articulation and its advantage for college-bound graduates. For Sias that meant two important things. First, he didn't have to repeat skills already studied in high school; secondly, he was eligible to receive WCC credits at no cost for first-year courses he did not have to take.

Sias cited several advantages of articulation, at the same time giving high marks to the high school vocation program which enabled him to articulate.

"The course information in the first year at WCC is mostly the same as what I took in my high school vocational class so articulation saved me time. I didn't have to take the same things over again." That time saved allowed Sias to enroll in higher level courses to learn more skills which he will apply to farming.

According to Wendy Blackie, co-ordinator of the project, high school graduates from county vocational programs may apply for WCC credit in auto mechanics, office education, and welding. Next year electronics and food service will also be added to the list, plus three new areas yet to be chosen.

"Articulation gives the student a real boost," says Blackie. "It saves them time; it saves them money—they can receive up to 18 tuition-free credits for high school work; and it encourages them to continue their education in that they don't have to take several steps back before taking several ahead."

Anyone interested in articulation may contact Blackie at 973-3629 or write c/o WCC, 4800 E. Huron River Dr., Ann Arbor 48106. Students may also talk to their local vocational director or teacher who will be glad to answer questions.

Washtenaw County Articulation is directed by the county's vocational education committee

TRUCKS, TRUCKS AND MORE TRUCKS: John Klink of Klink Excavating explains the operation of his bulldozer to an interested group of South school students Thursday during the local elementary school's annual Truck Day event. Trucks, mind-boggling creatures for the average child, were the topic of both discussion and interest Thursday.

SOUTH SCHOOL TRUCK DAY: All sizes, shapes, colors and types of trucks rolled up to the doors of South Elementary school Thursday, May 21 for the annual truck day festivities. Classrooms full of students flocked outside to survey the motorized menagerie. Above, Dudley Holmes Jr. of Chelsea Milling Co. shows off one of the shiny Jiffy trucks used to transport products nationwide.

Science Classes Tour Sewage Treatment Plant

For the past 12 years, Mel Leach, manager of the Chelsea Sewage Treatment Plant, has conducted tours of this facility for the eighth grade science classes of Beach Middle school. Last Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, Leach offered the students insights regarding the treatment of waste water.

The spring quarter of the eighth grade science program consists of environmental studies. Water as a reusable resource is one major topic of study; the field trip is important in that it assists students in recognizing the importance of good waste water treatment, understanding the biological, chemical and physical processes used in waste water treatment and in becoming knowledgeable about the Chelsea facility.

The students, taught by Mrs. Nola Borders, Mrs. Jan Stevens and Mrs. Alice Steinbach, are frequently surprised to find that waste water treatment is not "gross" but, in fact, an interesting series of processes based on scientific information.

Varsity Sluggers Bomb JC Western

On Wednesday, May 20 Chelsea's varsity Bulldogs took on the Jackson County Western team in their final game of the season. The Bulldogs were victorious, 11-4.

Wayne Welton started all of the seniors on the squad and the Bulldogs took a 1-0 lead in the first inning on a walk by Olmsted and a stolen base. John Welton hit a sacrifice bunt, Dils walked and stole second and Stofflet singled Olmsted home.

Western came out in the second inning and scored three times on one walk and three hits but were unable to maintain their lead. Chelsea managed eight runs in the second inning to take a 9-3 advantage.

"We had several chances to beat them on the mercy rule," commented Welton.

The second inning found the Bulldogs with Dils hitting a two-run single while John Preston got a single and double. Bohlender and Welton each hit RBI singles and Jackson County Western was responsible for three errors and two walks which contributed to the big Chelsea inning.

Leading the Chelsea hitting attack were three sluggers with two hits apiece. They included Welton, Preston and Wade.

Adding hits to the Bulldog effort were Olmsted, Dils, Stofflet, Peterson and Bohlender. RBIs were added by Dils, Bohlender and Preston with two apiece while Welton, Stofflet, Peterson and Borels contributed with one each. Chelsea players were also walked 10 times.

Winning pitcher was John Welton.

The 1981 Chelsea Bulldogs ended their season more than respectably with an over-all slate of 8-14 and a Southeastern Conference record of 5 and 7.

Big Boy Drops Second Contest

Chelsea Big Boy restaurant lost its second game of the season Tuesday evening against Central Cafe of Ann Arbor. Final score of the game was 8-1.

Chelsea had taken an early 1-0 lead in the bottom of the first inning, as Randy Brier singled, stole second, advanced to third on a wild pitch and came home on a two out single by catcher Len Kozma. That was all the scoring Big Boy could muster as Butch Sakstrup, pitching for Central Cafe, allowed only one other hit for the remaining six innings.

Central tied the score in the second inning and went ahead for good in the fourth, scoring four runs. They also added a run in the fifth and two in the sixth.

Chelsea's defense didn't help pitcher Dick McCalla as the team committed some costly errors, especially in the fourth inning when Central Cafe scored their four runs. Ron Hodge pitched the final inning for Big Boy.

The team is still waiting for its power portion of the lineup to start scoring runs. The first two games have also seen two key ballplayers out of the lineup; this has had an effect on the defensive performance of the squad since they've had to jockey players around to other positions.

At this point, team members believe that once tournament play gets underway and their full squad is back on the field, things should fall back into place.

Meanwhile, Chelsea Big Boys will be sponsoring a slow pitch Class C and D tournament this week-end, May 29-31. The tournament will consist of 16 slow pitch teams from around the area.

The games will be played on three local diamonds; two at Beach Middle school and one at

There will be a refreshment stand at the Beach school diamonds. Chelsea Big Boy players will be working the fields, umpiring the games and running the tournament. South Elementary school. There will be three first round games Friday night beginning at 6:30 p.m., one game on each diamond. Then, starting Saturday morning at 8 a.m., games will continue all day until 9 p.m. Sunday morning, the tournament continues and the championship game should get underway at approximately 5 p.m. Trophies will be awarded following the game.

Chelsea Big Boy's next game in Ann Arbor will be against Portage Lake Hardware at 8:15 p.m. Tuesday in Vet's Park with Chelsea looking for its first win. Thursday, the team faces Wolverine Supply at 8:15 p.m.

Teams competing in the Big Boy Tournament will include, from Chelsea, Chelsea Milling, Heydlauff's, Federal Screw, Smoke and the Mark IV Lounge.

Manchester teams will be Ralph Mobile, Wacker Oil and Hoover Universal while Stockbridge will sport Stockbridge Merchants and Paul's Country Store. Ann Arbor teams competing in the tourney are Star Janitorial, BookCrafters and Goodtime Charlie's. Pinckney, Brighton and Hamburg will also be represented by Pinckney Door Sales, Brighton Travel Service and Brighton, respectively.

Track Team Places 8th In Regional

On Saturday, May 16 the Chelsea boys track team placed eighth with 22 points at the Class B Regional held in Jackson. "It was one of the better regionals in the state," said Coach Pat Clarke. "We had hoped to get more people to the state meet, but those are the breaks."

Two Bulldogs who did qualify for the state meet were shot putter Todd Sprague, placing second with a lifetime best toss of 51'6" and, distance runner Bob Benedict, who placed third in the 1600 M run at 4:24.9. Benedict's time broke the Chelsea school record by more than seven full seconds.

Other Bulldog placers at the regional meet included:

Discus: Ken Nicholas, fifth at 141'6".

100 M Run: Russ Ramsey, seventh at :11.5.

3200 M Run: Mark Brosnan, fourth at 9:53.0.

400 M Relay: Chelsea, sixth—Dave Wojcik, Toby Boyd, Ken Bauer and Russ Ramsey—at 45.0, a new school record.

Men's Softball Group Plans Another Pre-Season Meeting

Push Earns All-State Honors Bulldog 9 On EMU Softball Team

By Don Newsted
Sports Writer, Eastern Echo
Establishing a tradition of excellence is no simple matter in any sport. But for Eastern Michigan's freshman softball pitcher Nanette Push, accomplishing that feat has become a reality.

For the third time in as many years, Push has been accorded All-State honors by a vote of the seven SMAIAW division one softball coaches. Previously, the hard-throwing righthander had been named to the Class B All-State team for the 1979 and 1980 softball seasons. She was then a member of the Chelsea High school softball team.

Push was highly recruited out of Chelsea, but opted to stay close to home and chose Eastern. There she has led the Hurons, in only their second year as a varsity sport and coming off a 6-12-1980 debut season, to a very successful and surprising season.

With Push showing a 8-4 regular season slate and drawing every tough opponent and their pitching ace conceivable, the young Hurons piled up an impressive 21-11 mark. Push also showed a 1.30 ERA, 54 strikeouts, four shut-outs and only nine walks in 81 innings of mound work. All of those figures are Eastern Michigan school records.

Featured in the opening round of the SMAIAW state tournament May 1-2 in Ann Arbor, was an anticipated pitcher's duel between Push and fellow all-stater Linda Pagett from Central Michigan. Two weeks earlier in a Mt. Pleasant doubleheader, the two hurlers had hooked up in a classic 1-0 game with Pagett emerging victorious with a two-hitter. Push allowed only four hits.

In a bit of painful dejavu for Push, the duel was re-enacted one more time and entering the bottom of the seventh, the score was deadlocked at 0-0. Push walked the lead-off hitter and while making a throw to first on an attempted sacrifice, she threw the ball into rightfield, sending the runners to second and third.

After Push had induced her arch rival Pagett to fly harmlessly to leftfielder Tracey Keyton, Central coach Margo Jonkers revived one of sport's dying arts, the suicide squeeze. The move completely caught Eastern by surprise and the winning run crossed the plate unopposed.

Michigan's Wolverines were next for the Hurons in a second round losers bracket semi-final game. April 20 in Ann Arbor, Push had one-hit the Wolves for a 2-0 victory, and a split of their doubleheader. But this time, the outcome was different.

Ann Arbor sophomore pitcher Jodi Ward was given the start and after four innings had scattered four hits, holding Michigan to a 1-1 tie. Eastern coach Anne Johnston unexplainably then replaced Ward with the mentally exhausted and emotionally drained Push, who had only hours earlier lost the 1-0 heartbreaker to Central. She was not the same pitcher.

After getting by the fifth inning in good shape, disaster struck. Push entered the game having walked only nine batters all season, but following an inning opening single by Michigan's Diane Hatch and two outs, Push appeared tired. She walked a batter, hit opposing pitcher Laura Reed with a pitch and forced in a run with yet another walk. Wolverine outfielder Debbie Haines ended the game's scoring with a three-run double and the Hurons were eliminated, 5-1.

It was the second consecutive year that the Hurons would bow out of the fast-pitch classic in two games. A disappointing end to an otherwise brilliant year (21-13) for the Eastern Michigan softball program.

Sophomore catcher Kellie Rhodes (.381) and sophomore co-captain and all-state shortstop Mary Crecholo (.362) led the Hurons in hitting. Push finished fourth at .286 (4-14) with a home run and six RBI's. Chelsea's Pat Hume played in 20 games for Eastern during the regular season and hit .185. She also fielded her catching position flawlessly.

Several other area players also contributed to the success of the Eastern season. Milan freshman Linda Armstrong was outstanding defensively in centerfield, playing in every game and making countless sensational catches. She hit a disappointing .170.

Ypsilanti's Nancy Oestrike, daughter of Eastern's highly successful baseball coach Ron, played second base and hit .273. Ward was 6-4 as a pitcher and batted .208. She is a graduate of Ann Arbor Huron High school. Crosstown, Pioneer produced catcher Christa Dowty, who in limited action hit .500 (1-2, 2 RBI's) and was the team's leading vocal supporter along with Pinckney's Shelley Darrow, who was used almost exclusively as a pinchrunner.

With the nucleus of this year's team returning for several more years, the future looks very bright for Eastern Michigan softball.

Sluggers Split DH With Fowlerville

Tuesday afternoon, Chelsea played a double header with Fowlerville and split the two-game series, winning the first, 3-0 and losing the second, 5-2.

Chelsea began its scoring attack in the fifth inning with a single by Robeson and a stolen base. Ross Murphy was safe on an error and Welton singled him in. The Bulldogs took a 2-0 lead.

In the seventh inning, Rod Robeson singled again and moved up on an error to score the final run of the game.

Downs Lincoln

Monday, May 18 Chelsea's varsity baseball team took on the Lincoln Railsplitters in the final encounter between the two teams. The Bulldogs emerged victorious, 9-6, though Lincoln had taken a strong stand in the first half.

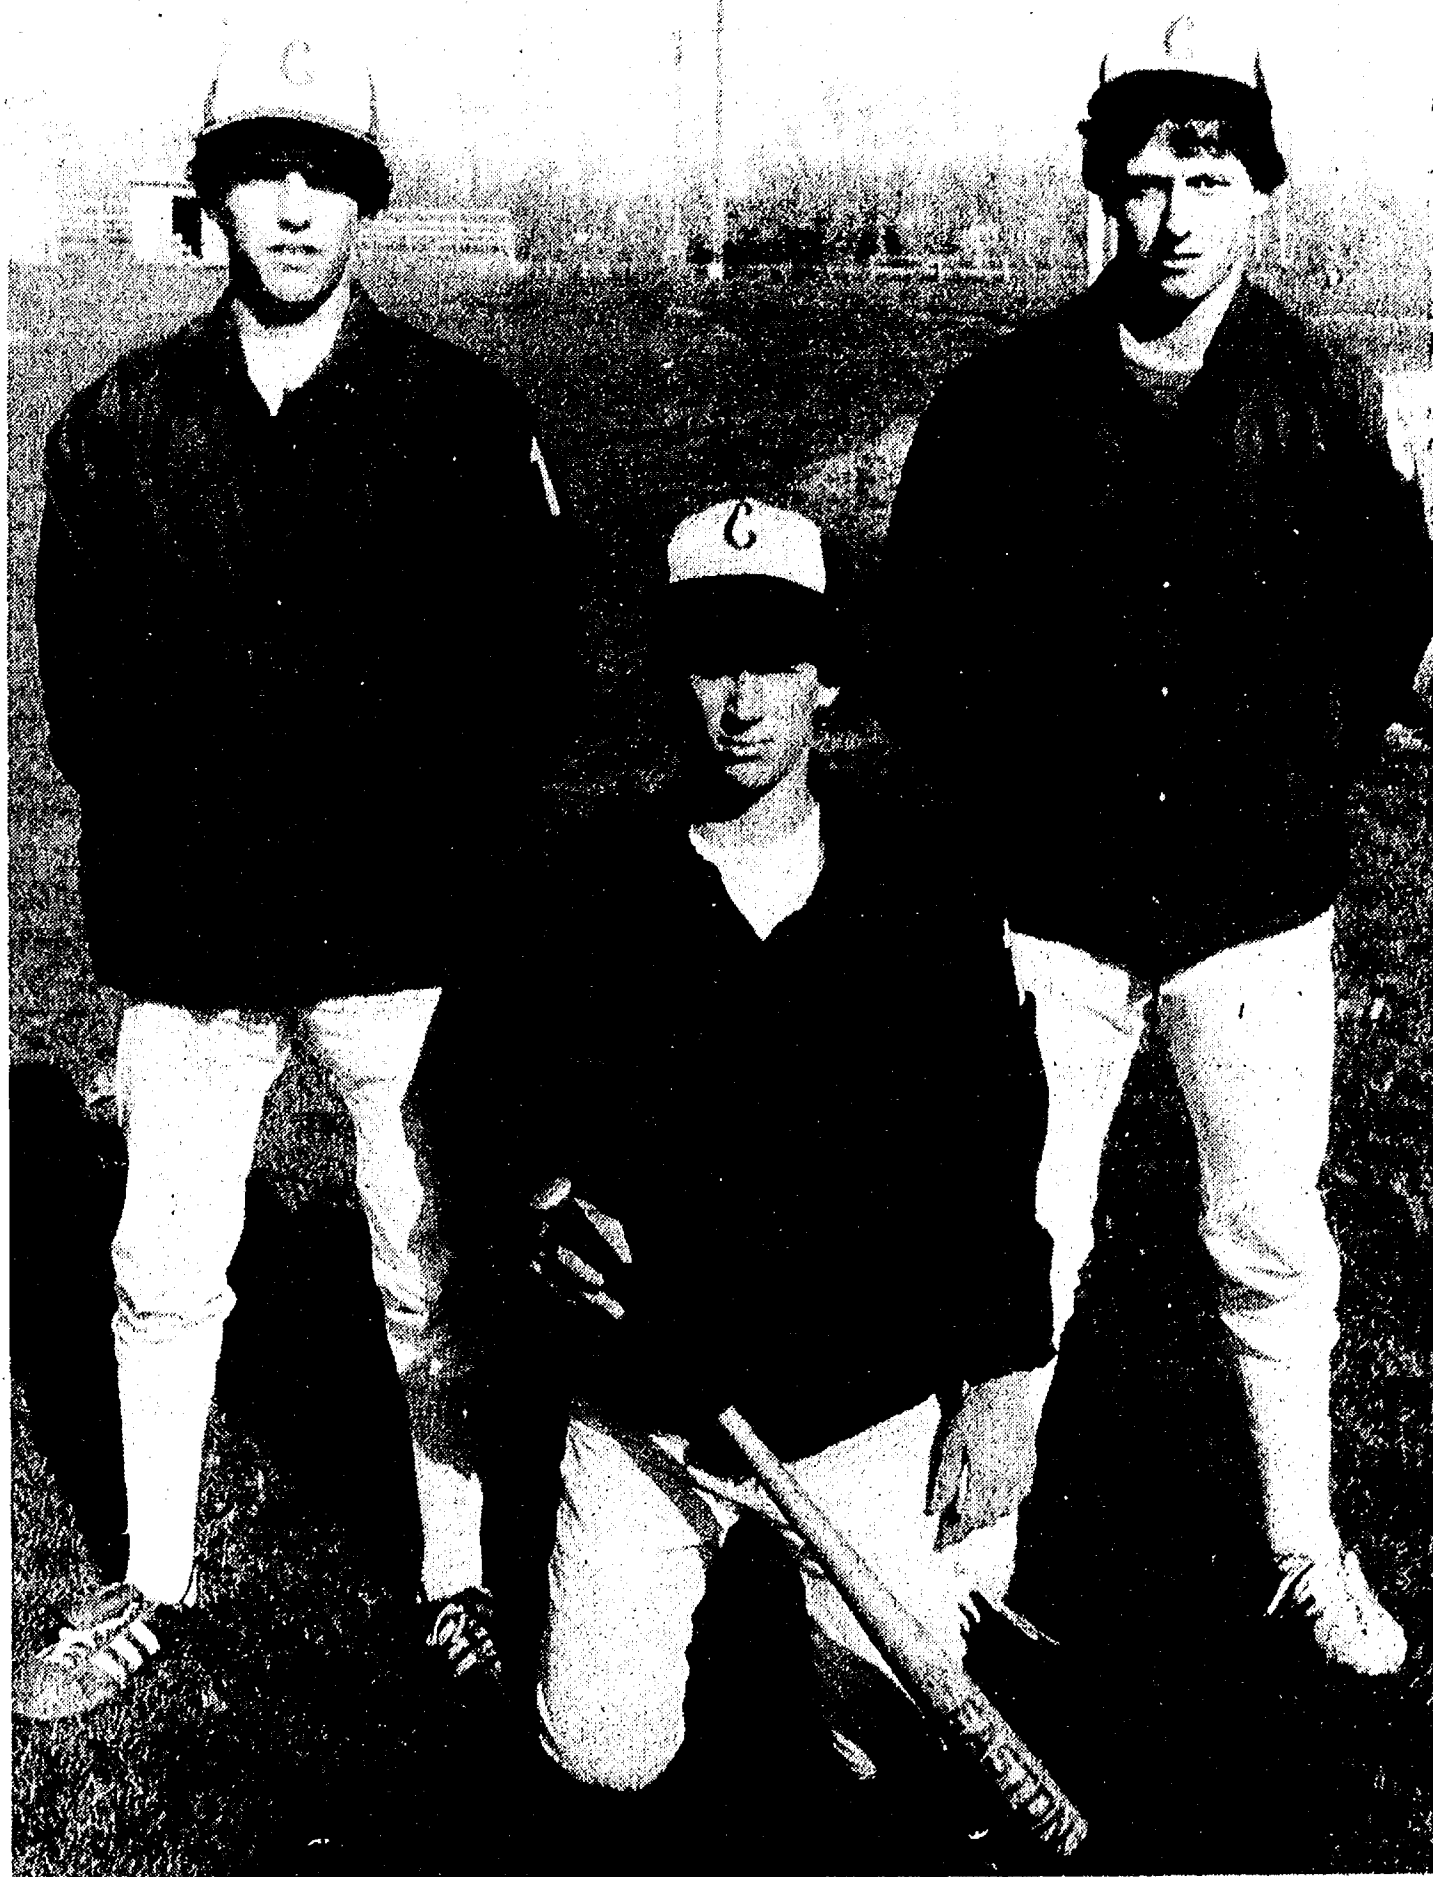

By the end of the fourth inning, the Railsplitters were ahead by a comfortable 4-0 score. Nevertheless, Chelsea came back to score eight times with two outs in the fourth inning. Chelsea's scoring opportunities were made possible with singles by Jeff Dils and Ross Stofflet. Mike Gipson hit into a double play while Mike Bareis drove in the first run with a single and Mike Bohlender singled. Craig Olmsted drove in another run with a single and Rod Robeson batted in two more runs with a single. Ross Murphy and John Welton singled in runs and Jeff Dils singled for his second hit in the inning. Ross Stofflet ended the Chelsea hitting attack with a double which brought two runs home. Chelsea took the lead, 8-4.

Lincoln came back in the bottom of the fourth to score twice and narrow the gap to 8-6 in Chelsea's favor. Lead-off pitcher Steve Grau was relieved by Sean Peterson in the fifth inning. Thereafter, Chelsea scored its final run on a Murphy single, stolen base and wild pitch; John Welton hit a sacrifice fly to bring his man home.

Steve Grau was the winning pitcher while Sean Peterson recorded an excellent save as relief pitcher.

The Bulldogs hit a season high 14 hits paced by Ross Stofflet who went 3-3. Getting two hits apiece were Murphy, Dils, Bohlender, Robeson while one hit was compiled by Welton, Bareis and Olmsted.

Sluggers of the Week

BOB TREVINO, Rod Robeson and Craig Olmsted are this week's featured baseball stars. Trevino, left is a junior infielder who Coach Wayne Welton describes as "valuable, versatile," and plays anywhere on the field, recently confining his talents to the second-base position. He is in his first year on varsity. Robeson, center, is a sophomore catcher in his first year on the varsity squad. "He should be tops in the league by the end of the season and we're looking forward to having him around for two more years," Welton said. Robeson also plays varsity football. Craig Olmsted, right, is a junior right-fielder who is rapidly improving. He's recently been starting and Welton is pleased with his "outstanding speed." He is a member of the varsity football team and is in his first year on the varsity baseball squad.

Sheriff's Dept. Receives Alcohol Enforcement Grant

The Michigan Office of Highway Safety Planning will award a $87,500 federal highway safety grant to the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department for a project entitled "1980-81 Alcohol Enforcement."

Of the total funds received, 75 percent or $65,625 will come from the state while the additional 25 percent will come from local sources and total $21,875. The grant period is effective from April 1 through March 31, 1982 and the project will be under the direction of Washtenaw County Sheriff Thomas Minick.

Project activities will include the hiring of three personnel and the purchase of three new radar units to increase alcohol enforcement by 210 hours per week. It is anticipated that, with these additions, alcohol-related citations and arrests will increase by 10 percent versus the 1978-79 average and alcohol-related casualties and crashes will be reduced by 10 percent in comparison to the 1978-79 period.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

The mens softball program is probably one of the oldest and most enjoyed programs existing in Chelsea. Participating in the summer softball league is one of life's true pleasures for many of those involved. In the past, it was not unusual to see both sidelines packed with yelling and cheering spectators from around the area, out to enjoy an exciting free evening in the fresh air, rooting for their favorite team.

However, for the past few years, the program has been sorely neglected. What was once a fine program that was both enjoyable to those involved and admired by the other surrounding communities, is now a vast disappointment to the players and coaches, and the laughing stock of the area.

For the past two years, since we were unceremoniously removed from the fields at the high school, which we had played on since who knows when, we have been forced to play ball on fields with 9 to 12 inches of loose sand on the infields, and nothing but holes, mud puddles, and irregular clumps of grass in the outfield. Now, no one expects to play in Tiger Stadium, but sprained ankles, broken teeth, and pulled muscles resulting from playing on these ridiculous and dangerous fields is quite another matter.

What is really infuriating is the fact that for the past two years the coaches have offered their help and that of their teams to supply the manpower to fix the fields just so we could have something decent to play on, but we have been given nothing but empty promises and the constant run-around for our efforts.

Not only that, but in the middle of the season the Chelsea JC's organized a week-end tournament and in the span of a few days, the JC's had the field in better shape than they had been all year long under the care of the Recreation Council. All it took was a little effort and organization. As a matter of fact, I think everyone would be a lot better off if the JC's just took the league over and ran it themselves.

Now this year, keeping true to form, I receive a flyer through the mail about all the summer programs, and it says Mens Softball meeting May 6. Now what does this mean to the teams waiting to participate. It means

No. 1. If for some reason they couldn't play in Chelsea's league, say because it had too many teams or not enough or whatever the reason, it would be by and far too late to enter any other league in the area. So, there's everyone's long awaited summer of softball down the drain.

No. 2. Because Chelsea is so late in organizing, it is hard to find qualified, or any other kind, of umpires since all the other leagues have already signed most umpires up already. It is also hard for the players to make any plans for the summer because you never know what days or times you will be playing; not to mention not knowing what the costs will be. And—

No. 3. Worst of all, it signifies another year of an uncaring attitude towards the concerns of the teams and players. Another year of Chelsea's recreational programs (at least this one) falling further behind neighboring communities instead of picking up ground and another year of dealing with, all things considered, a thoroughly disorganized organization. This whole situation can be summed up by the old saying: "Some days you get the elevator, but other days you just get the shaft."

Dear Editor:
Walking down the streets of Chelsea or any other community, sitting in a restaurant, riding in a carpool, one often hears complaints about schools, administrators and teachers. Unfortunately, teachers are especially subject to criticism because their job is highly visible and because parents and students are often too quick to notice small failures and too slow to notice large successes. We parents suggest that those who criticize take a closer look.

One teacher who has made a difference in our children's lives is Betty Cox, Beach school math teacher. Betty started Equations Club, a math games club this year. With her guidance students in the club learned the game of Equations, polished their math skills, devised strategies and competed in regional and state

Larcenies Reported To Police

Stolen from the vehicle was an AM-FM CB 8-track radio with an estimated value of $300, a digital clock with a value of $20, 8-track tapes worth $95 and a $300 tool box filled with a variety of tools.

Then, between the hours of 5 p.m. Friday, May 15 and 8 p.m. Saturday, May 16, three wire wheel covers with an estimated value of $180 were stolen from an auto parked in the lot at School House Apartments.

He Could Have Mass-Produced Igloos

Dr. John Gorrie, a resident of Apalachicola, Fla., came up with a solution to the warm climate with his patent on May 5, 1851, of a mechanical refrigerating device. Demonstrating his invention at the Mansion House in town, Dr. Gorrie served guests blocks of ice the size of bricks. Henry Ford Museum's Domestic Arts collection in Dearborn exhibits a number of examples of the development in refrigerating devices including an 1881 Leonard and a c.1925 "Icy-Ball."
