Youths Injured In Two-Car Crash

A two-car accident, involving an Ann Arbor doctor and two Chelsea youths, occurred Thursday, July 2 at approximately 9:45 p.m. at the intersection of Scio Church and Zeeb Rds. as the car, driven by the doctor, failed to stop at a stop sign and struck and totaled a car driven by Dane Tompkins, 16; Travis Rudd, also 16, was a passenger in the Tompkins automobile. The driver of the striking vehicle was cited for failing to stop.

Tompkins, the son of Orvel and Pat Tompkins of 3663 Chelsea-Manchester Rd., was trapped inside the car which had to be cut apart to remove him. Emergency rescue workers attended to him at the scene of the accident for approximately 25 minutes before he was transported to Mott Children's Hospital in Ann Arbor. He suffered a broken femur, cracked pelvis and facial lacerations. He remains on the sixth floor of Mott Children's Hospital.

Rudd, the son of Max and Sue Rudd of Loeffler Rd., suffered a cut elbow which required stitches before he was released from the hospital.

Persons interested in offering their best wishes to Dane Tompkins may do so by sending any correspondence to him in care of Mott Children's Hospital, sixth floor, Ann Arbor.

Beekeeping Workshop Slated at Nature Center

For thousands of years, man has been fascinated by the industrious honey bee. Cave paintings, at least 7,000 years old, have been found showing honey being collected from a bees' nest. Early Greeks were so impressed by the bee that they imprinted its image on coins over 2,300 years ago.

With nutritionists boosting the value of honey, beekeeping has increased in popularity in recent times. If you are interested in raising bees or just learning more about this fascinating insect, you are encouraged to take advantage of a special workshop on "Beekeeping" at the Waterloo Nature Center.

The workshop is being taught by Tom Hodgson, local apiarist and current director of the Dahlem Nature Center in Jackson. Among topics to be discussed are the social structure of the bee colony, working with the queen, fall and spring management, diseases and pests of the honey bee, and the extraction process.

The workshop will take place Sunday, July 29 between the hours of 1:30 p.m. and 3:30 p.m. at a cost of $2 per person. Members of the Waterloo Natural History Association will be charged $1. Class size will be limited and interested parties are urged to contact the Waterloo Nature Center at 475-8069, Thursday through Sunday, between the hours of 1 p.m. and 5 p.m. to make a reservation.

Professional Building Occupants Host Open House

Owner-occupants of the Chelsea Professional Building sponsored an open house Friday, July 10 in celebration of the completion of their business endeavor.

Construction got underway late last fall for the six-unit commercial condominium and investors began making their move into the one-story, brown brick facility during the late winter months.

Since that time, landscaping and other finishing touches have been undertaken and recently completed.

Housed in the Chelsea Professional Building, designed by an Ann Arbor firm and built by a Grass Lake contractor, are podiatrists Howard A. Reznick and Paul L. Tai, dentist Robert Burns, orthodontist Dick S. Dijkman, ophthalmologist William Hawks and Phil and Jerry Middlebrook of Huron Valley Optical.

ORGAN RECITAL HONORS: Mrs. Irma Grau sits at the Zion Lutheran church organ, where she accompanied church services from 1918 to 1967. Next Tuesday, she will be honored at an organ recital given in her honor during the annual ice cream social, which, according to her, has been an annual event since at least 1910.

Organ Recital Added to Zion Lutheran Ice Cream Social

During the annual Zion Lutheran church Rogers Corners ice cream social to be held Tuesday, July 21, the fourth annual organ recital will take place. There will be several featured organists as well as some vocal performances.

Guest organists will include Martin Jean, a student of Dr. Donald Williams of Concordia College, Ruth Sutton of Ypsilanti and Carol Meuhlig of Ann Arbor, associate organist and choir-master at Zion Lutheran church, Ann Arbor. Works to be played will include Bach, Handel and others.

Mrs. Meuhlig will also be accompanying Borghild Jacobson and Carol Brodbeck, who will be singing several hymns that Mrs. Jacobson composed regarding various periods of the church years, some of which have been and are being published.

This recital is being held in honor of Mrs. Irma Grau who served as the Zion Lutheran church organist between 1918 and 1967. Mrs. Grau, the daughter of the late Lydia Zahn, also taught Sunday school for nearly 40 years.

Zion Lutheran church was founded in 1865 when a number of members separated from St. Thomas Evangelical Lutheran church to form a western half of the congregation. During a meeting, it was decided to build a church which, after construction at a cost of $3,213.35, was dedicated in November 1867. During 1867, the Rev. Gebauer jointly served St. Thomas

Evangelical Lutheran churches. But, by August 1873, a complete separation was made and the Rev. John Baumann began his ministry at Zion. Twelve years later, he resigned and the Rev. P. Merz took over for three years. In December 1888, the Rev. H. Lemster accepted the call and served the congregation for more than 21 years. A new parsonage was constructed on the Emminger property in 1889 and in 1893, a new school for religious in-

Pat Merkel Joins Ann Arbor Trust

Pat Merkel will become head of the real estate department at Ann Arbor Trust Co. beginning Wednesday, July 15.

As real estate officer, Merkel, 39, will head the department under the trust division.

Prior to his appointment at Ann Arbor Trust Co., Merkel had been employed at Pierson and Riemenschneider Realty since 1974. Beginning as a salesman, Merkel leaves his position as general manager today.

Merkel had been assistant job superintendent at Weber Homes from 1972 to 1974; prior to that time he worked as a self-employed contractor.

Pat Merkel has attended the University of Michigan and is a Vietnam veteran, having served in the U.S. Army from 1966 to 1968.

His community activities have included his involvement as promotional director for the Chelsea Community Fair. He is a past chairman of the Chelsea American Legion building committee and is currently chairman of the child and youth committee of Herbert J. McKune Post 31, American Legion.

According to Merkel, he thoroughly enjoyed his involvement with Pierson and Riemenschneider Realty and sees his new position as a challenging step forward. Because he will be working in Ann Arbor, he has had to give up some of his community activities. The time involved in his new position will curtail his ability to be as community-oriented as he has been in the past.

Merkel is enthused about his new position and working for such a "fine firm with such an excellent reputation."

He will maintain his real estate broker's license as well as his contractor's license and continue his membership with the Michigan and International Realtors Associations.

AFTERGLOW PREPARATIONS: Denise Long, left and Anna Feeney sit poolside at the Feeney residence discussing plans for the afterglow to be held immediately following the July 23 opening night showing of the Chelsea Players' summer musical production, "South Pacific." Included with the afterglow will be a light dinner and the chance to mingle with the cast of the Rodgers and Hammerstein classic.

A vote on July 15 by 225 employees of Chelsea Milling Co., located on North St., resulted in the defeat of an effort to bring the union representation to the more than 75-year-old grain buying company. Had the vote been successful, the workers would have been represented by the American Federation of Grain Millers.

Rioting which began in Detroit early Sunday morning, following a police raid at an afterhours drinking spot, grew to such proportions Monday that Governor George Romney appealed to President Lyndon Johnson for federal troops to assist Detroit police and approximately 7,000 Michigan national guardsmen already on duty in an attempt to quell the disturbances. In Washtenaw county, liquor sales were banned indefinitely and guns and ammunition were removed from store shelves.

Legislature Looks To Fall For Tax and Business Issues

Legislative leaders are looking to the fall session to deal with the ever present issues of taxes and economic development as the summer session ended with little results in those areas.

Leaders, however, promised to continue working throughout the summer on business and other issues.

The first six months of the 81st session was marked by the development of the doomed Proposal A and a Detroit aid package. Leaders labelled the session a "difficult and frustrating one."

During the waning hours of the session, rumors filtered through the Capitol Building that a final push would be attempted to gain property tax relief prior to the summer recess.

House and Senate Republican and Democratic caucuses all had plans they thought were what Michigan citizens wanted and demanded.

A possible struggle in the House over the property tax plan did not develop as Democrats decided to appoint a special task force to work over the summer to recommend a property tax proposal for fall.

That task force will consist of just Democrats—the Democratic members of the House Taxation Committee and a cross-section of other caucus members.

House Speaker Bobby Crim called the session extremely frustrating and predicted the fall session could be difficult as well.

He said it was clear that any property tax reform would have to be done legislatively as the voters have consistently turned down the property tax issues on the ballot.

House Republican Leader William Bryant said despite the emphasis on property taxes, the legislative leaders must not forget an earlier commitment to spend the summer developing ideas to improve the state's business climate.

Governor William G. Milliken said he welcomes the legislative initiatives on taxes, without stating an endorsement of any of the tax packages.

He said a tax cut proposal "is an appropriate issue for the fall session. The most important issue is an economic growth package."

Milliken said he would have more to say on economic growth proposals as the legislature returns for the fall session.

New Tax Petition Drive Begins

A petition drive has been launched seeking a vote on an amendment to eliminate business taxes, cut income taxes while protecting funds for schools, local government and public and mental health.

Dick Jacobs of Grand Blanc, leader of the drive, said the amendment is needed in order to re-stimulate the state's economy. Because of the deep cuts in revenue and the restrictions against cutting appropriations in specified areas, the proposed amendment would probably mean dramatic cuts in welfare programs.

Other large spending areas not protected include prisons and natural resources.

The amendment would cut income tax rates from 4.6 to 4 percent while increasing the personal exemption by 40 percent and providing further increases in the exemption tied to cost of living increases.

Further the amendment would repeal the Single Business Tax and prohibit any successor taxes. Any new and increased taxes would have to be approved by a majority vote of the people.

Hikes in fees, tuition and user charges would be limited to any increase due to the rate of inflation.

Separate funds would be created for operation of K-12 schools, institutions of higher education and school retirement.

Monarch Butterfly Movie To Be Shown At Nature Center

The Monarch butterfly has once again returned from its Mexican winter home to lay its eggs on the milkweed plant and begins a new generation. It is one of the few butterflies in this country that migrates, often in huge aggregations.

The Waterloo Nature Center will be showing the award-winning movie, "Miracle of the Monarch" this week-end. Call the Nature Center at 475-8069 for show times.

The Nature Center may be reached by taking I-94 to Exit 157. Proceed north on Pierce Rd. to Bush Rd. Turn left and travel one-half mile to the entrance road. Admission to the building is 50 cents per person.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Ed Doolittle had a scientific question ready for the fellers as soon as they settled around the drink box at the country store Saturday night. He wanted to know whatever come of that dirt study Penn State got a $80,000 grant to do. Ed said he wasn't talking about dust in cotton or coal or asbestos, just plain dirt that makes rings around collars and sticks to ceilings.

An engineering professor at the college was special interested in ceiling dirt, Ed recalled.

The professor reasoned that a brick can't stick to a ceiling, so how come a speck of dirt can. He said science never has been able to full explain everthing involved in bonding small particles to a substrate, whatever that is, and he would use the private grant money to come up with some answers. Ed said it's been more than three months now, and he ain't heard any dirty reports from Penn State since they issued a finding on what dirt is. Dirt is more sand than anything, 22 percent, the student researchers found, and such as 16 percent clay, 12 percent hair and so on through a list of ingredients. But no answer to why it don't fall from ceilings, Ed said.

Clem Webster said he was surprised at Ed's interest in such matters. The only dirt Clem said he thought Ed cared about was the kind Republicans dig up on Dem-rats. Per his money, Clem went on, he was curious about findings of a recent $229,000 study done by the National Institute of Mental Health. After going through that money, institute researchers announced that juries don't understand judges. Clem said if the institute would have took his collect phone call he could of wrapped up that project and saved them a bundle.

The study paid by taxpayers found the average juror can't figure out no more than half what the judge is saying about charges and the jury's job, Clem said. It cost $229,000 fer the institute to recommend that judges instruct juries in plain English, without all the whereases, ipso factos and e pluribus unums. You'd do better proposing that the sun stand still so the judge could see how to read his notes, Clem declared, cause plain talk would do fer courts and lawyers in this country what curing all sickness would do fer undertakers, was Clem's words.

Actual, declared Zeke Grubb, 50 percent ain't a bad level of understanding by anybody anywhere about anything. Zeke said he'd give folks at his church no more than 15 percent on grabbing what the preacher offers, and 25 percent was the best he'd ever done in winding up where the feller said he would when he stopped along the road fer directions. Stuff you got to put together allus has "simple" step by step instructions in plain English, but he's gone through all four pages that come with his old lady's folding metal clothesline that looks like a umbrella frame in the picture on the box, and he ain't even got the pole part figured out.

The hard fact is, Bug said, and it's free fer the giving, you got to git a feller's attention before you can git him to understand anything.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

You can turn the ball of your pen for a lot less money, than the wheel of your car, when you pay bills by mail with a checking account.

Paying bills in person by cash is not the smart thing to do. There is the hassle of getting your paycheck cashed, driving all over town hunting for a parking place near the place you wish to pay a bill, then purchasing money orders for those out of town bills that can be paid only by mail.

It is much smarter to open a checking account at your locally controlled independent bank, that allows you to pay bills by mail for a lot less money, time and involvement. If you maintain the minimum balance requirements, you enjoy service charge free checking and your checkbook register gives you a complete record of all your transactions.

Pastor Mearl Bradley officiated the double ring ceremony and a reception followed in the church hall.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She carried a bouquet of white roses accented with pale pink flowers. She wore a gown of tiered lace with a cathedral train. She chose her sister, Linda Shaw, as her maid of honor. Bridesmaids were another sister, Jeanne Shaw and Roberta Garn of Charlotte. Rachel Rinn of Chelsea was flower girl. All the attendants wore gowns of pink chiffon, matching veils and carried pink baskets containing Victorian boy's quets. Similar floral arrangements adorned the altar and candles.

The mother of the bride wore a pink and lavender chiffon floor length dress while the mother of the bridegroom chose a burgundy dress.

Janice Robinson of Platteville, Wis., was soloist and sang "Treasures," and "He Has Chosen You For Me."

Wayne Saule of Clarkston was best man. Groomsmen were Howard Nourse of Danvers, Mass., and Geoffrey Shaw, brother of the bride. Ushers were Dennis Lee of Lansing and William Myers of Royal Oak.

Following a honeymoon in the Adirondack Mountains, the couple will reside in Ipswich, Mass., where the bridegroom is associated with Gordon College.

K. of C. Auxiliary Makes Plans for Busy Summer, Fall

The Chelsea Knights of Columbus Auxiliary is preparing for a busy summer and fall.

Preparations are currently being made for the annual fair booth at the Chelsea Community Fair to be held next month. Also, plans are underway to send the altar boys at St. Mary's church to Cedar Point sometime in August. The Auxiliary will contribute money toward sending them.

One of the ongoing projects of the K. of C. Auxiliary is the bingo concession which is held at St. Mary's school each Sunday. One-half of the profit from this project is contributed to the parish's CCD (religion) fund.

The popcorn, salt and oil used at the Trinkle Barn Dance were contributed by the Chelsea K. of C. Auxiliary.

In conjunction with St. Mary's Altar Society, the Auxiliary is planning a fall art auction. Plans are being made for the project and should benefit all those who attend.

CHELSEA COMMUNITY HOSPITAL WANTS YOU TO KNOW ABOUT...

Your Voice — Take Good Care of It!

By Kathleen Anderson

Director, Speech Pathology, Chelsea Community Hospital

Do you take your voice for granted? Many people use their voice all day every day without realizing that it needs special care. But when we have a cold or laryngitis, and use of the voice is limited, we quickly learn how profoundly the loss of voice can affect our lives. What can we do to care for our voices to ensure that they remain healthy and strong?

To answer this question it is important to discuss some basic information about the voice box (larynx) first. The voice box is made of cartilages and tiny muscles which are capable of very quick and complex movements. Together, they coordinate and alter the pitch, loudness and quality of our voices. The vocal chords themselves are tiny muscles located horizontally across the windpipe right behind the Adam's apple. When we talk, air comes up through the windpipe and sets these muscles into motion. Without air, there is no voice.

The vast majority of voice disorders that are not caused by disease are caused by excessive forcing of the voice box muscles. This results from such habits as talking while under emotional tension, frequent shouting, frequent talking above machine noise or other environmental noise, frequent throat clearing, talking for very long periods of time in occupations such as teaching or politics, and continuing to use the voice normally when you have a cold.

When the voice muscles are overused in these ways, they become exhausted so that they are unable to operate and react quickly. Like other muscles, they become tense during periods of anxiety or stress. The problems that can result are hoarse voice, soft voice, voice that tires at the end of the day, voice with reduced pitch range or voice that sounds "gravelly" at ends of sentences.

Other factors which may cause or contribute to these voice disorders are smoking, drinking alcohol, air pollution, allergies, sinus conditions and other conditions which may irritate or dry the voice box tissues.

In order to help ensure that your voice remains healthy and strong, follow these guidelines:

- 1) When you talk, try to bring your voice all the way up from your chest, rather than pinching it out from your throat.
- 2) Avoid shouting and straining your voice. Go to the same room as the person you're talking to rather than habitually shouting from another room. Limit talking when other loud noise is present, or ask the other person to come with you into a quieter room. Use a microphone if habitual, loud talking is necessary.

3) Be sure to renew your air supply frequently during talking. Don't talk on and on using one breath. Breathing should be done from the lower chest area, not from the shoulders.

4) Try to relax your voice and neck muscles when you are under emotional stress. Taking a few deep breaths or slowly moving your head around from shoulder to back to other shoulder to chest can help. Rapid tiredness of voice for no apparent reason can be a sign of emotional stress. Pay attention to this sign and seek ways of decreasing anxiety and tension.

5) Provide your voice with adequate rest. If you need to talk for a long period, limit other talking before and after this period of time. Try to get adequate sleep before and after days which require much talking. If you are a habitual "excessive talker," analyze when you can decrease talking, and do it.

6) Decrease talking when you have a cold.

7) Avoid breathing strong chemicals and pollutants when possible. Decrease or eliminate smoking and alcohol intake, particularly if weak or hoarse voice is noticed.

Above all, listen to your voice. It is talking to you. If you hear hoarseness, tiredness, any other changes, or if you have pain or soreness, take the above precautions. If symptoms persist, see your doctor. Voice changes can also be signals of disease. Your doctor may recommend changing speaking habits, seeing a speech therapist or medical treatment.

If you have any questions about voice disorders or speech therapy, contact Kathleen Anderson, Director of Speech Pathology, Chelsea Community Hospital, 775 S. Main St., Chelsea 48118.

Ice Cream Social

struction of children was constructed near the parsonage. The Ladies' Aid Society was organized in 1895 with officers Salome Grieb, president; Magdalena Schneider, secretary; and Maria Elsemann, treasurer. During this year, the young people furnished the church with a reed organ.

In 1906, a band was organized by the Rev. Lemster and three years later, additions were made to the church building, making room for the altar, sacristy and the organ. The church was decorated and furnace and stained glass windows were installed at this time. The Rev. Ernst Thleme took up his work at Zion in March 1910.

In 1917, the Golden Anniversary of Zion Lutheran church was celebrated on Sept. 16 after a tornado partially destroyed the church and parsonage and reconstruction took place. A new pipe organ was installed at a cost of $1,325.

In 1926, the Rev. M. W. Brueckner began his work on June 1. Two years later, property for a new cemetery was purchased from George Loeffler and in Feb. 1930, the first English service was conducted.

The Luther League was organized for young people of the church in 1932.

Ten years later, a revised constitution in English was adopted. German services were to be held twice monthly; all other services were to be given in English.

In 1948, the congregation voted for the building committee to proceed with the building of the Parish Hall, dedicated in 1949. The 50th anniversary of the ordination of the Rev. M. W. Brueckner was celebrated and the congregation presented him with a new car. Two years later, the Rev. Brueckner was honored for his 25 years of service to the Chelsea church.

Building of a new parsonage was voted in 1954. The Rev. Brueckner preached his retirement sermon on Aug. 1. He served the church until 1955.

The Rev. Robert C. Kaiser began his work in July 1955. Two years later, Zion Evangelical Lutheran church celebrated its 90th anniversary. Pastor Kaiser resigned his position in 1958 and the Rev. C. J. Renner of Castalia, O., took his place. In 1959, the pipe organ was rebuilt by Jerry Adams under the supervision of Robert Nohren, and in 1964 a scholarship fund for young men entering the ministry from Zion was set up by the Houck family.

Pastor C. J. Renner resigned in February 1967 because of ill health and the Rev. John R. Morris accepted the call, being installed on June 11.

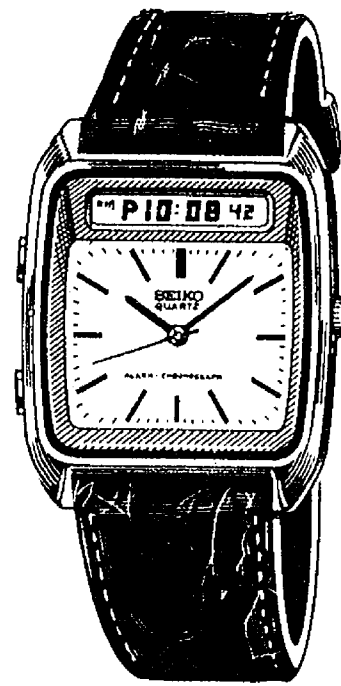

The next few years were spent in deliberations about constructing a new church facility. In 1972, a vote was taken regarding this plan. Groundbreaking ceremonies were held July 22, 1973 and on Sunday, Oct. 20, 1974, the congregation worshipped within the 107-year-old church for the last time.

Since that time, a number of other changes have taken place. At least one thing has remained constant. According to Mrs. Irma Grau, the annual ice cream social has been in existence since at least 1910. Again this traditional social gathering will be held at Zion Lutheran church, 3050 S. Fletcher at Waters Rd., beginning at 5 o'clock next Tuesday afternoon.

REALTOR

ON THE ROOF

If you are inclined toward the purchase of an old home, one or your prime considerations should be the condition of the roof. You can get a quick idea of the condition by a good look from the ground. For instance, are there any loose or missing shingles? Are some areas of different shades or texture indicating roof repairs? Is the metal flashing at junctions (where roof meets walls or chimneys) in good shape?

Are gutters and downspouts clean, rust-free and in good repair? Downspouts should discharge onto splash blocks directed away from the house, into drains or into an underground dry well.

How old is the roofing and what is it made of? Some types last longer than others. Asphalt shingle roofing is very common and usually lasts 15 to 20 years. It sometimes equals wood and asbestos cement in durability, though these generally average 30 years or so. Slate and clay tile normally have even longer lifespans and can remain in good condition 40 years or more.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at FRISINGER REALTY CO., 935 S. Main St., Chelsea. Phone: 475-8681; evenings 475-2821. We're here to help!

Chelsea Jaycees sponsored a men's class C and D softball tournament last week-end featuring 18 teams from Ann Arbor, Ypsilanti, Stockbridge and South Lyon. Two Chelsea teams, Smoke and Ricardo's also participated.

A good crowd came out to watch the two-game elimination tournament featuring 42 games played to produce winners Zuckie Lake Tavern of South Lyon in first place; Avengers of Ypsilanti, second; and, Local 735 of Ypsilanti, third.

The championship game began Sunday at 2:30 p.m.

Ricardo's defeated Smoke but was unable to qualify for the semi-finals, finishing in 10th place.

During the week-end of July 24 and 25, Chelsea Jaycees will sponsor a women's league class C and D two-game elimination tournament. An entry fee of $85 will cover balls and other equipment. Interested parties are encouraged to contact Jerry Martell at 475-1966.

Passenger Injured When Car Swerves, Strikes Tree Head-On

At 7:15 a.m. Tuesday, July 7, a personal injury accident was reported on North St. near Filmore St. when a car, driven by Lisa Gaye Scott, 21, of Old US-12, went out of control and struck a tree.

Riding in the car with Scott was 36-year-old Pat Montgomery of Grass Lake Rd.

According to the driver, who was traveling westbound on North St., she attempted to reach for a carton of eggs that had fallen between the seats of her AMC Spirit and, as she leaned over, she pulled the steering wheel to the right, lost control of the vehicle and struck the tree head on.

Scott's passenger's head struck the windshield and she was transported to Chelsea Community Hospital and treated for injuries.

No citations were issued.

Antique and Classic Car Owners

Here we go again--The Second Annual Classic And Antique Car Parade sponsored by the Chelsea Merchants Association.

For those of you that attended last year, we thank you and invite you back again. For those of you that didn't attend, we would like you to join in the fun.

This year we will again assemble at The Parts Peddler Auto Supply, Inc., 1414 S. Main Street, Chelsea, late Friday afternoon, July 31, 1981. The parade will start at 6:30 p.m. this year. This is a little later than last year to give those of you that need extra time to get here after work. We would like you to come as early as you wish to display your car in our parking lot.

We will parade through town and end up returning at Palmer's Ford Sales' parking lot for an after parade car showing.

Again this year, lunch will be served to all participants entering the parade. The lunch will be sponsored by The Chelsea Woodshed and The Parts Peddler Auto Supply.

Last year the parade was a fun time for all and we would like it to be bigger and longer this year. If you wish to attend, please return the slip from the bottom as soon as possible.

If there are any questions, please call me at 475-9106 or 475-1719. You may also call Mark Heydlauff for reservations at 475-1221

Area Students Earn Degrees At CMU

Students from this area were among those awarded degrees at Central Michigan University at the end of the winter semester in May.

In all, some 1,300 students received bachelor's degrees while more than 200 earned master's, specialist and doctorate degrees.

This CMU graduating class, like most, was comprised of students representing CMU's 10 bachelor's degree programs, 60 curricula leading to nine master's degrees and the nine curricula leading to three specialist degrees.

Among the graduates were Jennifer Lynn Rady of 840 N. Main St., Chelsea, who received a bachelor of science in education degree with magna cum laude recognition. She majored in English. Sheryl Ann Stivers of 9841 Huron River Dr., Dexter, was awarded a bachelor of science degree in business administration while Ceann L. Shipley of 11381 Hall Rd., Whitmore Lake, received a bachelor of science degree in business administration after having majored in international business.

Kenny, Wheaton, Tom Mull and Mark Steinaway. For the past month, the cast and crew of this year's production has worked diligently in preparation of their summer classic.

Manchester Chicken Broil Set Thursday

Manchester has a surprise for the 12,000 chicken eaters who will flock to the 28th annual Chicken Broil on Thursday, July 16. The United States Marine Band from Parris Island, S.C. will be at the big broil. This will be the first time the Marine Band will be in the Midwest.

The community is anxious to greet the visitors who will entertain during the broil. This has been made possible through the efforts of Dr. Eugene Thompson, superintendent of Manchester Schools.

Some 30 committees, involving more than 550 men and boys, work on the annual dinner to earn money for civic projects to benefit the youth of the village. Gene Bentschneider, general chairman, says all have tickets for sale.

Dinners are served from 4 p.m. to 8 p.m. and include a chicken half, done to perfection, potato chips, cole slaw, radishes, buttered roll and coffee or milk.

Broil headquarters at Gill's Gamble Store, the banks, and most merchants in town have tickets for sale. They are also available in many outlets in nearby communities.

A pre-broil session on Thursday, July 9 at the American Legion Hall provided everyone with final instructions.

Eight horse-drawn wagons and buggies will provide free transportation to and from the broil on the Athletic Field to the parking area at the high school. Wendell Reinhart has charge of this detail. Remember the broil date is Thursday, July 16.

Historical Society President Reports

The Chelsea Historical Society continued to be strong and healthy during 1980, according to the annual president's report of the society's condition.

Varied guest speakers enhanced the meetings of the group which anxiously asked questions regarding specific subject matter.

Barbara and Gabriel Cherem, representing the Interpretation Research Institute, requested the Society's endorsement for a project to be undertaken in Chelsea. The Society endorsed their proposal which would research life aspects in Chelsea.

At the March meeting, Doris Millemann brought a sample of her extensive plate collection and related historical information to it in giving her program, "History on a Plate."

Jean Storey worked with Cathy Abernathy in regards to a survey of township records by the Bentley Historical Library and the Michigan State Archives. Research remained ongoing for picture of Elisha Congdon, co-founder of Chelsea. A portrait sent from Florida proved to be that of his son.

Activities took place at the Chelsea United Methodist Retirement Home as well and in July, Katie Chapman and Otis Titus accompanied the Saline tour through Chelsea, giving anecdotal accounts of area history which were both informing and entertaining.

In August, Hazel Dittmar suggested having an old fashioned ice cream parlor during Sidewalk Days. She made all of the ice cream with help of additional committee members, Sally Rendell, Chris Wagner, Olive Wiseman, Mildred Collyer, Anne Bumpus and Marie Petsch. None of this would have been possible without the help of the local business community which assisted by donating the use of various necessities.

At the Fair, a larger space was enjoyed by the Society who's booth was very well received thanks to Chris Wagner and her committee.

Views On Dental Health

By ROBERT A. BURNS, JR., DDS, P.C.

FETUS FACTS

If you are a typical mother, don't ask where you went wrong if your infant is a thumbsucker. You are completely innocent. Thumbsuckers are born, not made. Medical pictures of the fetus show that many babies are already well into the habit of thumbsucking by the seventh month in the uterus. In fact, all kinds of preparations are going on before birth to get baby's mouth ready for its complex tasks.

Did you know that teeth are already beginning to form in the growing fetus just three months after conception? Indeed, some parts of the 20 primary teeth, (also called baby teeth) can be recognized at this early stage. The rest of the permanent teeth wait until right after birth to start forming inside the gums.

Sometimes, shortly after birth, parents or physicians may notice little white spots on the palate (roof of the mouth). These are little keratinized structures (keratin is a tough, fibrous protein found in nails, hair and teeth). They are not significant and normally disappear in 10 to 14 days.

If you have dental health questions you would like to see answered, please mail them to the address below.

A public service with the aim of promoting a better dental health environment. From the office of: ROBERT A. BURNS, JR., D.D.S., P.C., Chelsea Professional Building, 1200 S. Main St., Chelsea, Phone: 475-9124.

Harold Hannewald Home Becomes Centennial Farm

A farm owned by Harold A. and Louise M. Hannewald of 14886 M-52, Stockbridge, has been designated as a Centennial farm by the Division of Michigan History.

The farm, located in Waterloo township in Jackson county has been in the family since 1880. It was originally purchased on Dec. 6, 1880 by Carl Hannewald, grandfather of the present owners. The purchase was made from Nelson Powell, who had made his initial purchase of the farm from the government.

Residents of the Stockbridge area, Carl Hannewald and his wife, the former Charlotte Kassel, purchased the 80 acres of farm land and lived in a log house until the current farm house was constructed in 1886. There, the couple had four children, Ida, Aaron, Ezra and Reuban. Barn construction got underway in 1894.

With the other children moving away from the farm by 1916, Carl and Charlotte Hannewald handed over the farm to their son, Reuban, father of the present owner. The farm, then totalling 120 acres, was sold to Reuban Hannewald upon his marriage to Hanna Heydlauff.

After selling the farm, the original owners moved into the village of Stockbridge and additional land was purchased to increase the size of the Hannewald farm to 500 acres, the present amount of acreage. An additional farm house, facing Leeke Rd. was constructed in 1937.

Reuban and Hanna Hannewald had one son, Harold, the present owner of the farm. Harold married the former Louise Stanfield of Munith in 1947 and a third farm house was constructed near the original house. The young Hannewalds remained in the adjacent residence until 1954, when they purchased the Hannewald farm and moved into the original farm house to raise their family of four children, Garth, Rex, Nancy and Larry.

In 1963, the highway department demolished the Hannewald barns in order to make way for the extension of M-52. New out-buildings have been constructed and the remainder of the farm has stayed the way it was at the time of Reuban Hannewald's ownership.

Since that time, daughter Nancy, married and moved to Williamston. She is employed at the Attorney General's office in Lansing. Son Larry Lehman lives in Huron, Ind.

Sons Garth and Rex remain on the farm, living in the two smaller farm houses near the main residence. Garth's children, Carrie and Brad, also live on the farm.

Harold Hannewald and his sons operate the cash crop farm together, growing corn and hay as well as raising feeder lambs, the same crops as produced by the former Hannewald owners.

The Hannewald centennial farm is one of more than 4,000 Michigan farms certified as such since the Centennial Farm program was inaugurated by the Michigan Department of State in 1948.

Certificates are provided by the Division of Michigan History and large metal markers are installed by the Detroit Edison and Consumers Power Companies.

The Michigan History Division considers a centennial farm to be one which has been in continuous possession of the same family for 100 years or more. The farm must be either 10 or more acres having estimated farm product sales of more than $50 yearly, or less than 10 acres having estimated sales of at least $250 yearly. A centennial farm comprises only the land and not the farm buildings, which may be remodeled or even new.

The Veterans Administration is warning veterans to watch out for phony handbills labeled "Wampum from Washington." These flyers advise World War II veterans they can collect a non-existent insurance dividend on cancelled policies. VA urges veterans not to be fooled by these fraudulent flyers.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

On July 18, from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m., there will be a special car wash at Great Lakes Federal Savings, next to Polly's.

It will be a car wash for the boys at St. Louis School for Exceptional Boys. The boys will be doing all the washing, with a lot of help from their friends. A $2 donation is asked for each car. The money earned will be given to Fr. Joseph, director of the school.

So many wonderful people have put on different activities to earn money for the school. But this time the boys are doing it for the school. A sense of belonging and accomplishment is our goal — and a whole lot of fun, of course. The friends of the St. Louis boys are the St. Mary's Parish Family, all of us. Chelsea McDonald's will supply refreshments to all the workers.

The following writing is dedicated to these very special boys:

"They Call Me 'Exceptional'"

They call me "exceptional," I do not know why.

I tease, laugh, play, work and cry.

In my heart I have endless love.

For I too was created by our Father above.

Tho' I may not be so quick,

To think or speak;

Working with my hands is no trick.

A chance to prove myself, I seek.

There is a place here, I'm not weak.

So let me be me, indeed!

A chance to prove myself is all I need.

HUMIDITY AND YOUR CLOTHES

Humidity is a measure of the amount of water in the air in relation to the temperature. It is high on rainy or foggy days, and it affects the rate of moisture evaporation.

On a humid day, garments look "limp" and wrinkle easily. Fabrics hold a natural amount of moisture even though they do not feel wet, and when the humidity is high, a fabric will hold more moisture than usual. This causes the limp appearance.

To help avoid that "limp" appearance when the humidity is high, we advise that you bring your garments in to have them professionally pressed. Professional pressing will restore a fresh look to your clothes when the humidity is high.

"Occupations" was the theme for discussion and activities the first week of July. Following that, the children will learn about "Outer Space." The solar system, including planets, stars, and asteroids will be discussed. Art projects, science experiments and songs are a few of the methods used to present this theme to the children.

The third week in July brings the topic of "Machines." The children will learn about a wide variety of machines and how they are used to help people in day-to-day living. They will construct several small, simple machines in the class room.

During the last week of July "People from Other Lands" will be discussed. The children will learn about how children and families in other lands live each day; their customs, clothes, homes and foods. Several cooking projects are planned with the children so they may experience new tastes and flavors.

The Chelsea Community Hospital Child Care Center offers an educational program with the basic philosophy that each child is a unique human being with special talents and interests. It strives toward the healthy development of the total child; his or her social, emotional, intellectual and physical development.

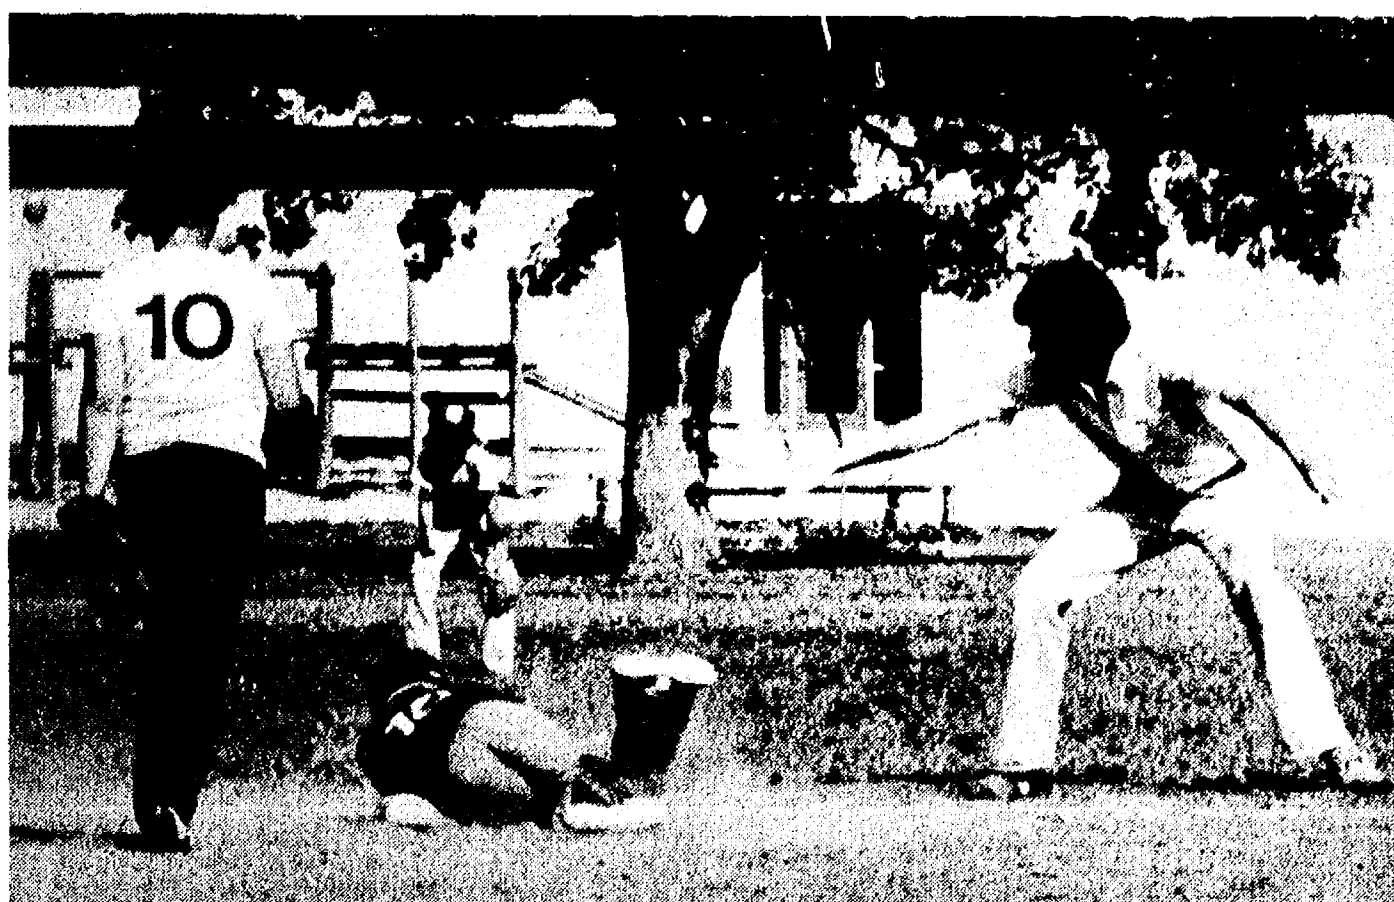

The Center is licensed by the State of Michigan to care for children ages 2½ to 8 years. Hours of operation are 6:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., Monday through Friday. There are current openings for the fall program. Please contact Corinne Childs or Cathy Youmans at 475-1920 if you are interested.

The center is located in the west wing of St. Paul's church, 14600 Old US-12.
