FERD MERKEL, the only remaining active charter member of the Chelsea Rod and Gun Club, was honored last week at a meeting of the membership. Above, Ferd sits in the place of honor with the total membership of the 45-year-old club.

Rod & Gun Club Honors Charter Member F. Merkel

More than 120 members of the Chelsea Rod and Gun Club were present at their last meeting to honor Ferd Merkel, the club's only remaining active charter member.

Many true tales of Ferd's past experiences and club activities were related by Rolly Spaulding as well as a review of the club's history for the benefit of the newer members.

The club was chartered in 1936 by a group of local outdoorsmen with a single objective best emphasized by the conservation pledge—"I give my pledge as an American to save and faithfully defend from waste the natural resources of my country—its air, soil and minerals, its forests, water and wildlife."

The club has grown, over the past 45 years from 23 original members to more than 200; from meetings in private homes, club rooms of various local clubs to a rustic brick club house situated on 60 acres of pines and hills on Lingane Rd., West of Chelsea.

This club house was built by the members in 1962 and four years later, realizing the need for such a facility by the community, the main room was doubled in size and the kitchen and restrooms were expanded.

A real highlight of the new addition was the creation of a stone-faced fireplace designated as a memorial fireplace with the fieldstone facing furnished by the widows and comrades of departed members.

Annually, Christmas trees are donated to local churches and organizations. The club house is rented as a community service for a minimal fee, well below the local rate.

Over the years, the club has provided a regulation trap shooting range, a rifle and pistol range, a special picnic area and more than one mile of nature trails among the pines for strolling and communion with nature. Ducks, rabbits, partridge and deer abound on the grounds.

It has become traditional for families to pick out and cut their Christmas trees from the plantings by members.

More than 700 boys and girls have graduated from the club's Hunter Safety classes held annually by qualified members. This is a required course before a hunter's license can be obtained and even more so acquaints young people with an awareness of the proper handling and respect for a firearm should they be exposed to one.

For the past 26 years, through affiliation with the Michigan United Conservation Clubs, the local club has sent more than 120 young girls and boys to a week of general camping, stressing conservation, wildlife management, outdoor appreciation and consolidated outdoor skills held at a MUCC-conducted camp on the pine dunes outside Ludington. For the past three years this outdoor camping experience has been moved to the local Mill Lake campsite for a more rugged outdoor experience.

High on the list of the many club activities is the annual pig roast which has become an outstanding event for those with the capacity to enjoy it and for those limited to two or three plates full. The showmanship of Reuben Lesser, Jr. and Bob Bauer and their crew is well worth attending.

The meeting was officially closed by club president Neil Grob with the promise to Ferd that a blue spruce from the club grounds would be planted in the yard of his Chelsea home in the coming week.

Unluckily, Ferd's voice had partially failed him the day of the meeting by his summation was very appropriate. "I'm proud of the Chelsea Rod and Gun Club—its accomplishments and general good fellowship and I'm sure my fellow charter members are as proud of it as I am."

'Good' Wheat Crop Harvest Progressing Throughout County

Local wheat harvesting is in full swing following good weather, according to county agricultural agent, Bill Ames.

Within Washtenaw county, approximately 18,000 acres of wheat is grown annually; white and red wheat are the primary crops. White wheat is the basic type grown in the Chelsea area while south of I-94, red wheat is raised.

Until the heavy rains began Sunday, Honegger's was in full operation, working 18 hours per day for two consecutive days to accommodate the good wheat yields of as much as 50 to 60 bushels per acre. Nevertheless, rains and winds have downed and shrunken some of the crops. Should rains continue, white wheat still standing could begin to sprout, Ames explained.

Moisture levels in this year's harvest range from 15 to 16 percent, a little higher than usual. As of Sunday, white wheat was selling at $3.36 per bushel; Friday's market revealed that the going price of red wheat was $3.89 per bushel and January futures ranged from $3.77 to $3.89.

Purchasing a majority of the local wheat crop is Honegger's

Weather permitting, the 1981 wheat harvest should be completed within two consecutive weeks; much of the total crop has already been cut. Should the rain subside, this year's crop could be completely harvested by the end of the week.

which, in turn, sells all of its white wheat to Chelsea Milling, which utilizes the soft wheat in its baking products. Red wheat is sent to the terminal market in Maumee, O., for nation-wide and world-wide sales and distribution.

Rezoning Requests Filed for Moving Chelsea Lumber

The planned relocation of Chelsea Lumber and the take over of the lumber company's facilities by Chelsea Milling is contingent upon an accepted rezoning request submitted last week to the Sylvan Township Board. Until a public hearing is held regarding this request and until a positive or negative decision is made by the township authorities regarding rezoning the plan remains just that.

During the week of July 6, all necessary paperwork was filed with the Sylvan Township Planning Commission, stating proposals and requesting a public hearing and other steps pertinent to the rezoning of land owned for many years by Robert Daniels and located on Old Manchester Rd. where the lumber company would like to be reconstructed.

The subject of a total relocation of the lumber yard to help meet the needs of both businesses has been discussed seriously for just a few months.

The paperwork filed and the future of the lumber company relocation request is now in the hands of the township and a number of legal steps must be followed. First, the township planning commission must schedule a public hearing to notify concerned parties of the businesses' intentions. Thereafter, the information is submitted for recommendation to the Washtenaw County Metropolitan Planning Commission. Then, recommendations arrived at by the county are re-submitted to the township for the final rezoning disposition. This process can conceivably take from two to three months.

If the Chelsea Lumber-Chelsea Milling proposal is approved, plans must then be drawn up, submitted and approved regarding architecture and the like. Thereafter, if all goes well and the rezoning is reapproved, construction of a new lumber yard north of Faist-Sprague Oldsmobile, could take as little as six months.

Sidewalk Days Are Next Week

Friday, July 31 marks the first of two days for the eighth annual Chelsea Sidewalk Festival. All types of painting, sculpture, graphics, ceramics, photography and crafts will be exhibited and sold from 8:30 a.m. to 8:30 p.m. Friday and from 8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Saturday.

Adding to the annual festivities will be a classic and antique car parade sponsored by the Chelsea Merchants Association. Begun last year, the annual event will begin at 6:30 p.m. Friday after cars have assembled at the The Parts Peddler, 1414 S. Main St. The parade will travel through the village and all cars will finish at Palmer Motor Sales for post-parade display.

Prior to the parade, all participants will be served lunch as sponsored by The Chelsea Woodshed and The Parts Peddler.

Persons interested in participating in the Classic and Antique Car Parade are encouraged to notify Richard Kolander at 475-9106 or 475-1719 or Mark Heydlauff at 475-1221.

Beekeeping Workshop Scheduled Sunday

The beekeeping workshop to be held at the Waterloo Nature Center will be held Sunday, July 26 between the hours of 1:30 p.m. and 3:30 p.m. at a cost of $2 per person.

Class size will be limited and interested persons are encouraged to contact the center at 475-8069.

4-H Youth Show Opens Tuesday

The gates will open for the 1981 4-H Youth Show on Tuesday, July 28, and continue through Friday, July 31, at the fairgrounds on Saline-Ann Arbor Rd., 4 miles southwest of I-94.

There is no admission charge for the four-day event, and the public is welcome to view more than 3,000 exhibits expected at this year's fair. 4-H youth have spent many hours preparing their animals and working diligently on their projects for exhibition. Performing arts, livestock, home economics, horticulture, safety, and demonstrations are a few of the areas being displayed.

The Horse Show will run all week. Equitation, Trail, Gymkhana, Fitting and Showing classes will be featured.

In celebration of the International Year of Disabled Persons, all handicappers are invited to visit the fair and see 4-H in action. On Wednesday, July 29 (rain date: Friday, July 31) from 2-4 p.m., a series of games, "Fun Galore," will be played. The games are designed to accommodate handicappers and T.A.B.'s (persons perceived to be Temporarily Able Bodied). Also other displays in the area of rehabilitation will be exhibited.

St. Louis School Blood Drive Nets 34 Pints

The blood drive sponsored by St. Louis School for Exceptional Boys and held Wednesday, July 15 between the hours of 2 p.m. and 8 p.m. resulted in the collection of 34 pints of blood, an additional four pints over the school's goal.

Brother Dean Fazekas was extremely appreciative and happy with the turn-out and was pleased to report the "over-collection" to the Red Cross. And, a number of potential participants were turned away and given "I tried" stickers for having given the blood donation a try despite their inability to participate.

'South Pacific' Opens Thursday Evening

"Her hair is blonde and curly . . . her curls are hurly burly!" These two lines from the bouncy song "Honey Bun" in this week's upcoming production of "South Pacific" seem to perfectly describe the transition that took place at Ricardo's Family Haircutting in Chelsea two weeks ago. At that time, Sue Williams, in preparation for the lead role of Ensign Nellie Forbush, had her short blonde hair transformed into a curly Mary Martin style by Ric Foytik, owner and operator of Ricardo's.

If some of his patrons overheard Ric humming "There's Nothing Like a Dame" while he was giving Sue her permanent, perhaps a word of explanation is in order. Ric will enact the role of enterprising Luther Billis in the Chelsea Players production, who leads the chorus of hard-boiled Seabees in their famous incantation of longing.

How certain stage effects are achieved is a mystery that often engages the attention of theatergoers, and none has aroused more inquiries than the scene in "South Pacific" in which Sue will sing one of the most famous songs of the show, "I'm Gonna Wash That Man Right Outa My Hair." It will be sung while she gives herself a thorough shampoo—first, under a shower, then in back of a shower curtain that is only shoulder high, and finally, downstage at the footlights, swathed in a terrycloth robe.

All through the New York run of nearly five years, theatergoers by the thousands wanted to know if the soap suds in the hair of Mary Martin, who played Nellie Forbush for the first two and one-half years of the run, were real. And, if real, how did she avoid getting soap in her eyes, and didn't such frequent washings—six evenings and two matinees a week—damage her hair.

The answer was that Miss Martin was prepared for the shampoo with a very short crew-cut of her hair, and that the lather was quite real soap that had gotten into her eyes only once throughout the period she was in the show, and the condition of her hair thrived under this treatment.

Similarly, Sue Williams is prepared for her hair-washing scene with a close-cropped hair-

BEFORE: Sue Williams, star of the Chelsea Players' summer production of "South Pacific" as Ensign Nellie Forbush, went through a major transition two weeks ago in order to fit her part. At that time, Sue had medium length, straight blonde hair, not quite apropos for her lead in the musical.

AFTER: Following an appointment with Ric Foytik, owner and operator of Ricardo's, Sue's straight locks were transformed into a short, curly style a la Mary Martin, perfect for her role in this week's theater production.

Inmate Discipline Charged In Recent Prison Riots
Inmate discipline, or the ability to demand it, was the most recurrent theme noted as the major cause of recent rioting at three Michigan prisons according to a preliminary report issued by the chairman of a special joint legislative committee investigating the riots.

The disturbances at Jackson, Ionia and Marquette gained national attention in late June and resulted in more than $9 million in damage and other costs.

In presenting the report, Representative Jeff Padden (D-Wyandotte), chairman of the joint committee and the standing House Committee on Corrections, said a final report would be issued prior to the opening of the fall legislative session. He added the final report would include specific recommendations for legislation to head off future disturbances.

The report cited several other factors, including the oft-mentioned unauthorized lockup by prison guards, the removal of the good-time provision from sentencing, the Department of Corrections inadequate budget, subtle racial tensions and overcrowding at the institutions.

Padden said there was no effective vehicle for enforcing prison discipline. He noted interviews of both prisoners and employees pointed out that the elimination of good-time credit (removed with voter approval of Proposal B in the 1978 general election) took away the most effective management tool of the department—that being removal of time credit for good and proper action during incarceration.

The report went on to say as a result of longer sentences and no good-time, a larger portion of the state's prison population is serving long, flat sentences.

It concluded that for persons in this category, there is no reason or incentive for them to adhere to institutional rules or refrain from assaultive predatory behavior.

Padden was very critical of the department's administration in their appearances before the legislative appropriations committees in gaining the necessary funding to properly run the institutions to protect the public as well as the prison employees and prisoners.

"It is not possible to underfund the prisons or the Department of Corrections without affecting the system," Padden declared.

He said the department's administration should have resisted in allowing the Department of Management and Budget to set the corrections budget figures. "There are times and situations which warrant breaking from the Milliken team in going for high, necessary budget levels."

Responding to the charges, department Director Perry M. Johnson declared the department had been "treated very fairly by both the executive office and the legislature" given the need to be extremely conservative in financial matters.

Johnson added the department has had to absorb fewer budget cuts than have many other state departments given the situation at the state's correctional facilities.

The corrections director countered with his own charges that the legislature did not fully fund his and executive office requests during the current fiscal year. He said the department budget request was $202 million, but the legislature saw fit to appropriate only $190.2 million.

Johnson also added the legislature forced the reduction of the department's salary and wage accounts at the prisons by $1.1 million during the current fiscal year and forced the transfer of funds from that account to a retirement account as part of a forced $2 million budget lapse.

"We have always clearly articulated our budget needs to the legislature and we have understood and accepted the reduced appropriations as the result of difficult economic times," Johnson responded.

★ MICHIGAN MIRROR ★

By Warren M. Hoyt, Secretary, Michigan Press Association

The preliminary report further said that while it was not a riot triggering factor per se, overcrowding continues to pose serious problems for the department, guards and prisoners. It indicated that overcrowding removes any flexibility in dealing with prisoners "in a safe and humane" manner.

Padden concluded the preliminary report attempted not to be an over-simplification of the issues. He said the committee was working toward an understanding before "plunging" ahead in making legislative recommendations.

He said the committee would be working for a co-operative effort by all parties involved for a mutually satisfactory resolution.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

I saw a item in the paper recent about the circus, and it said that Washington allus has the lowest attendance of any city in the country. In fact, one of the national touring circuses is going to skip the capital next year. The piece didn't say, Mister Editor, but I figger folks in Washington don't turn out fer touring shows because with watching the Federal Government in action they ain't interested in outside attractions.

The other day I saw where an old Congressman accidental called Ronald Reagan "President Carter." These cases of mistaken identity happen all over, I'm sure. I recollect from history that King George 3 of England once got out of his carriage in a London park to shake hands with a tree he mistook for the King of Prussia. But I can't help but wonder if the Congressman's slip of the lip wasn't brought on by the Attack Rabbit. About the same time he got his Presidents mixed, everybody was being confused by reports that the Carter Administration had left behind pictures of the rabbit that tried to do battle with that President during a fishing trip in Georgia. The puzzlement was not the report, but that the Reagan people wouldn't show the pictures, so the American people was denied whatever it was the rabbit photos was supposed to mean.

I mentioned the rabbit report during the session at the country store Saturday night, and Clem Webster was quick to declare there's more here than don't meet the eye. What that rabbit was, Clem said, was a red hering. Them pictures was brung up to draw attention from somepun else, like another on of Secretary

Haig's blunders. The secretary was in China at the time, Clem explained, and that's not the best spot in the world for Americans to be, much less to stick their feet in their mouths. It was Mr. Haig, Clem reminded, that said right before he left for China that Russia was spending $200 million a day to keep up Vietnam's war with Cambodia. Fer the next couple of days, his aids was busy whittling that figger down to "somewhere between $3 million and $6 million, less the tidy profit on gasoline Russia sells Vietnam."

The trouble is, Clem went on, we won't ever know what the rabbit pictures was covering. The Federal agencies make the news they want the papers to report, Clem said, and reporters that think they got a hand on the helm of the ship of state might as well be babies turning the little plastic wheels on car seats while their Pa does the steering. Actual, Clem said, today's crisis in Government may be tomorrow's solution, depending on which briefing the reporter goes to fer his handout. Fer instant, he went on, the papers said two weeks ago that New York City was in the black, and this week it's back on shaky financial ground.

Even Ed Doolittle give Clem high marks fer his speech. Ed said he wonders from day to day which crisis is coming around again. We ain't heard from El Salvador lately, fer one, and who knows if the Russians are still in Afganistan? Ed said he doubts the world's trouble spots clear up as fast as they disappear from front pages.

Yours truly,

cut and will use a real shampoo with water.

With a very talented group of directors, cast and crew, "South Pacific" promises to be one of the Chelsea Players' best efforts in an already long list of hit productions. This Rodgers and Hammerstein musical, throughout its 32-year history, has always given the impression of being about real people, rather than contrived characters. It preserves and presents all of the excitement, tension and urgency of that now distant war in the Pacific as few other works of the era have been able to do. And it meets perhaps the most important test of all musical stage works—it gets better each time one hears it.

Tickets may be purchased at Pierson and Riemenschneider Realty, 111 Park St., Chelsea. Reserved seats for the July 23, 24 and 25 8 p.m. shows are $5. General admission seats for the three performances are $4. The July 26 2 p.m. matinee tickets are $3.50 and are sold by reservation only. The limited number of afterglow tickets, which include the opening night performance and party afterward, are available to the public and are sold for $10. The afterglow will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Feeney, 666 Washington St., Chelsea. For further ticket information, call 475-9101.

Chelsea Students Attend Blue Lake Fine Arts Camp

Attending Blue Lake Fine Arts Camp for the second summer session were three students from the Chelsea area. They included Gary S. Callison, the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Callison; Shawn M. Quilter, the son of Mr. and Mrs. David Quilter; and David W. Mayer, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Mayer.

Blue Lake, which will host approximately 3,850 elementary through high school students this summer, offers instruction in a wide variety of fine arts.

Located 15 miles north of Muskegon in the Manistee National Forest, the 15-year-old summer school of the arts has grown to be one of the largest facilities of its type in the United States.

Students attending Blue Lake's second two-week session from July 7 through July 19, had the option to study art, band, dance, jazz-rock ensemble, orchestra or piano. The second session was primarily for junior high students.

Special Activities Slated for Students

During the weeks of July 20 through July 24 and July 26 through July 31, the Association for Creatively and Academically Talented Students (ACATS) will sponsor a number of special activities at North Elementary school.

Most of the classes are open to students who are involved in special projects at North and South schools or whose families are members of ACATS in Chelsea or similar groups in Dexter and Manchester. However, some of these activities are available and likely to appeal to other students.

Two of these are art classes taught by Julia Tomaro. There will also be a game room open at no charge for students in grades K through 8 who enjoy playing checkers, chess, Monopoly, Life and other board games.

This is an opportunity for students to learn new games or just enjoy playing an old favorite with others of similar abilities. Academic games—Equations, On-Sets and On-Words, etc.—will be available for students who would like to learn them or who already know them and would like to sharpen their skills.

The game room will also feature instruction and practice in playing Dungeons and Dragons. It is an activity open to participants ages 10 and up. If the mention of the game conjures up negative feelings because of its supposed connection with the disappearance of a university student a few years ago, read on and you will see that Dungeons and Dragons is not an ominous activity but, in fact, a game of fantasy and imagination. Meeting times will be between 11:30 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. daily.

Dungeons and Dragons is a unique game in which each player is randomly assigned a character to portray, using a roll of the die to determine roles. These characters may include a magic user, a wizard, a cleric, a thief, a monk or even a combination of these.

Upon determination of one's character, special powers and equipment are attributable to the role and will allow the participant to travel through a dungeon, facing challenging situations and acquiring treasure and new abilities along the way.

For further information, contact Judy Radant at 475-1457. Registration may be made by contacting the Community Education Office at 475-9830. Dungeons and Dragons is offered free of charge.

Detroit Boys Home Residents Visit Timberland Game Ranch

On Wednesday, July 15 Timberland Game Ranch and Campground was the location for a one-day excursion for 35 residents of St. Francis Boys Home in Detroit. Accompanied by five counselors from the home, the youths were treated to a day of picnicking, swimming, touring the game ranch and enjoying native Indian dances performed by the Morseau family of

According to Timberland owners Louie and Kathy Ruggirello, many of these boys have never left the confines of the big city and were amazed at the wide open green spaces, animals, farmland and the like that greeted them enroute to Dexter.

Kathy Ruggirello explained that inviting less fortunate youths to the ranch was the idea of a friend and "the looks on their faces" made it worthwhile for everyone concerned.

During their buffalo burger luncheon, the Morseaus of the Potawatomi tribe, explained their costumes and native Indian dances to the guests.

At approximately 4 p.m., the bus load of St. Francis residents pulled away from Dexter enroute to their inner city home.

Boaters Cautioned To Keep Wake At Safe Levels

Ann Arbor's Flotilla 17-03 of the U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary reminds you that when you are boating, you should watch your boat's wake. A boat owner is legally responsible for personal injury or property damage caused by waves from his boat.

Slow down to "no wake" speeds near swimming areas and boat landings. Even small waves can cause problems to swimmers, and make launching a boat extremely dangerous.

Beware of making sizeable waves near fishing boats, which are often loaded to capacity and therefore easily swamped or capsized.

Reckless or negligent operation of a power boat can subject the owner to a citation from law enforcement officers, which can result in a sizeable fine.

The first use of federal government contracts to restrict the employment of child labor took place in 1918, according to "Labor Firsts in America," a U.S. Department of Labor publication.

ON CHECKING ATTICS

If you are inspecting a house with an attic, do more than ask if there is one—get up there, walk around and inspect it. You can learn a lot with just a few simple checks.

For instance, you can check to see if the beams are really solid? If the point of a penknife sinks in easily, the wood may be either rotten or termite-infested. Timbers with ends embedded in masonry without proper air spaces are especially vulnerable to rot. Sight along the beams to see whether any have sagged or warped. Also, check the rafters or roofing boards for water stains.

Is there sufficient ventilation in the attic? At a minimum, it should have louvers in both gable ends, vents under the eaves or ridge vents in the roof. If the ventilation is inadequate, you can bet on wood rot—and there will be heat loss in the winter, heat retention in the summer, and bigger utility bills in both seasons.

How about insulation? An attic floor should have at least six inches of insulation plus a vapor barrier under the insulation.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at FRISINGER REALTY CO., 935 S. Main St., Chelsea. Phone: 475-8881; evenings 475-2621. We're here to help!

LETTERBOX

To the Editor:

Last February a majority of Republicans joined a majority of Democrats who voted for a $50 billion increase in the government debt ceiling. At the time they knew they were evading their congressional responsibility to support a sound fiscal policy.

Again in May a majority of Representatives voted to increase the national debt ceiling another $14.8 billion. The Senate will be voting on it sometime during the next few weeks.

Deficit spending by the federal government increases our cost of living. As the government goes deeper in debt, the higher it must raise the debt ceiling. In short, the FEDERAL GOVERNMENT, not business nor labor, causes inflation and its related problems. Congress can help solve the problem by refusing to approve any more increases in the national debt ceiling. The cry being heard increasingly across our nation is "No Trillion Dollar National Debt."

I would urge everyone to contact our Senators and urge them to vote no on the $14.8 billion increase which the House passed. It will be an important step toward fiscal responsibility.

Josephine Lutchka,
Grass Lake.

Views On Dental Health

By ROBERT A. BURNS, JR., DDS, P.C.

WHEN DENTURES NEED A CHECKUP

For most people, it takes a while to get used to wearing full dentures. Once they achieve a degree of comfort and appreciate their usefulness, some may think they no longer need help from their dentist. Far from true!

The tissues on which dentures rest are changing constantly. Sometimes the ridges that support dentures recede and shrink, causing them to loosen. When this happens, you will need help from your dentist to make the dentures fit properly again.

Dentures have to be kept clean and free of deposits or they can have an adverse effect on the health of the mouth. This is another reason for regular checkups. A minor irritation can cause infection and inflammation of the gums. And like any device that is subject to constant wear, it has to be properly maintained. Occasionally dentures may need to be relined, and if your mouth undergoes major changes, it may be necessary for you to be fitted with a new set of dentures.

Your comfort and health are important. Full dentures solve the problem of missing teeth, but they need periodic checkups, just like real teeth do. If you have dental health questions you would like to see answered, please mail them to the address below.

A public service with the aim of promoting a better dental health environment. From the office of: ROBERT A. BURNS, JR., D.D.S., P.C., Chelsea Professional Building, 1200 S. Main St., Chelsea, Phone: 475-9124.

Blue Belles Lead Midget League With 3 Wins for Week

Blue Belles 17, Jellybeans 10

It was the battle of the blues as the royal blue Blue Belles slammed 22 hits and the powder blue Jellybeans slugged 14 hits.

Hitting home runs for the Jellybeans were Kim Easton, Vanessa May and Lisa Park. Tammy Browning boomed a triple in the fourth inning but the Jellybeans failed to push her run across the plate.

Coach Lynda Longe reported an excellent defensive play by shortstop Kim Easton who snagged a sharp line drive and whipped it to first to catch the runner off and get the double play.

Blue Belles Alisha Dorow and Dena Stevens each slammed four baggers for their squad. Slugging doubles were Shawn Losey and Lucy Eisenbeiser. Leslie Manning boomed two singles and Laura Peterson and Laura Com-eau each received one single.

Jellybeans 11, Peppermint Patties 10

Coach Lynda Longe stated that good hits and excellent defense contributed to their victory. Jellybean Vanessa May boomed her eighth homer of the season. Tammy Browning slugged a triple. Jellybean singles were hit by Lisa Park, Lisa Taylor, Jill Koch and Becca Burkell.

Peppermint Pattie Tina Kimbler hit her first four bagger of the season. Debbie Urbanek slugged two triples. Heather Neibauer and Heidi Boyer each went three for three getting singles along with Julie Tobias and Beth Peterson.

Defensively, Debbie Urbanek caught a fly ball and converted into a double play by throwing out the Jellybean baserunner. A fly ball was caught by pitcher Kristen Bohlender to retire the side in the third inning.

The Peppermint Patties led the game by four runs at the end of the fifth inning. The Jellybeans pushed five runs across the plate in the top of the sixth to take a one run lead. Relief pitcher Kim Easton came in to retire the other side and preserve the victory for her Jellybeans.

Blue Belles 13, Bumble Bees 0

The Bumble Bees were flat as the Blue Belles took an easy victory. Bumble Bee Vicky Niethamer and Judy Barels each singled. Judy also made two fly ball catches but to no avail as her team fell apart.

The Blue Belles boomed 24 hits as Shannon Losey hit two home runs and Laura Unterbrink and Dena Stevens hit one homer apiece. Going three for three at the plate were Dena Stevens, Charity Strong, Lisa Unterbrink and Laura Unterbrink. Colleen Sharporn caught a pop-up for the second out in the last inning and Cela Murphy recorded two strike outs to retire the side and gain the victory.

Red Barons 10, Bumble Bees 8

It was an exciting game for all concerned as the Barons and Bees battled it out Wednesday. Hitting some of the Barons' 18 hits were Jeanene Rossi, Suzanne Cooper and Katie Giebel getting singles. Jennifer Rossi and Stacy Norris each doubled. Making an excellent catch in centerfield was Suzanne Cooper.

The Bees also hit well with singles by Judy Barels, Kasey Anderson, Teresa Lewis, Mary Kemp, Bree Michelson, Dianne Monroe and Maria Kattula. Heather Osinski doubled in the fourth inning. Sonya Osinski stepped up to the plate and knocked in her sister to tie the game.

With the score tied after five innings, Baron Jenny Smith and Sara Weiss each stepped up and homered to give their team the victory. Bee Coach Jim Ghent noted excellent defensive play by Kasey Anderson and Mary Kemp who each made two fly ball snags.

Blue Belles 13, Jellybeans 1

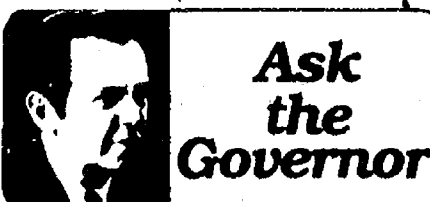

The Blue Belles are rolling as they took another easy victory. Dena Stevens slugged her fifth home run of the season. Going three for three at the plate were Lucy Eisenbeiser, Stacie Taylor and Charity Strong. Shawn Losey and Missy Brown each singled. Missy Brown also caught a pop up and made an unassisted double play in the third inning.

Ask the Governor

Question: I thought the new insurance law was supposed to make insurance fairer. How come my 17-year-old daughter's insurance has gone up so much?

Governor: The Essential Insurance Act which became effective on Jan. 1, 1981 may have raised your daughter's rates, but it also could have lowered the rates of other drivers in the family. For instance, if you have a son under 25 on your policy his auto insurance rate undoubtedly went down unless he has a poor driving record. In addition, if you shop around for your insurances, you may find substantial differences among various companies.

Prior to the new law, good drivers could be forced into a high risk insurance pool without being told why. The standards companies used in making these decisions—called underwriting rules—were not applied uniformly and often resulted in unfair rate discrimination.

The Essential Insurance Act requires all underwriting rules to be applied to everyone in the same way. It specifies the only factors a company may use in its underwriting decisions. These factors, such as a person's driving record, are objective and related directly to risk. Thus, there is increased competition among companies and rates will vary from company to company. The new law prohibits the use of arbitrary factors such as a driver's sex and marital status.

Although inflation continues to push rates up, impressive savings are possible for the typical adult driver if he or she will shop for the best insurance at the best price.

Question: How come, all of a sudden, state lottery revenue goes to a special "education fund" instead of the general fund?

Governor: There was a misconception at the time the lottery was established in 1972 that revenue would go directly to education rather than to the General Fund where about 31 cents of every dollar is spent for education. To clear up this confusion, the legislature passed, and I signed, a bill recently which earmarks all lottery profits for the State School Aid Fund. Last year, the lottery brought about $215 million into the General Fund; $238 million was awarded in prizes. By law, 45 percent of the lottery's gross must be distributed as prizes, 44 percent must go to the state and the remainder is spent for costs of the program, including payments to agents who sell tickets.

Nick McLeRoy, Florence Reamer, Heather Simmering, Ruth Richardson and Emily Goldsworthy. In addition to the rich, creamy festivities, the group enjoyed lunch with the Methodist Home residents and helped them in constructing pom poms.

Mariners Win First Two in T-Ball Action

Mariners 37, Indians 34

The Mariners finally broke out of their slump and clubbed their way to their first victory last week in T-ball action.

Chris Haugen just played excellent defense all over the field. Michelle Craft, Scott Larson and Steve Martin also played superb defense. Kelly Cross, Josh Machnik and Erin Schultz carried the big bats.

Rangers 33, Indians 31

The surging 'Tontos'—Indians, that is—scored 13 runs in the last inning but it was to no avail as the red hot "Lone" Rangers cut them off at the pass.

The Rangers got three hits from Jason "old one eye" Adams and super defense from Ed Waller and Alex Ham-merschmidt.

Twins 31, Royals 24

Jeff Holzhausen and Jason Johnson each had three hits to pace the Twins. Bobby Craft chipped in with four hits. Justin White was the big man on defense.

The Royals were led by home runs from Colten White and Mike Terpstra.

Rangers 23, Blue Jays 13

The Blue Jays got solid hitting from Ricky Clouse, Greg Garen and Duane Penhallegon.

Mariners 28, Twins 24

The Mariners stretched their winning streak to two games in a hard-fought battle with the Twins. Mercedes Hammer and Gabriel Bernhard sparked on offense while Paul Urbanek and Kelly Cross did the job on defense.

Kyle Erickson had two home runs for the Twins.

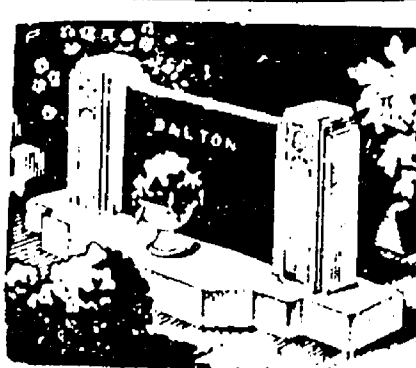

Blue Jays 19, Royals 17

The Blue Jays got two hits apiece from Dan Zatkovich, Sean Roiseu, Mike Eder and Kelly Bellus to get by the Royals, 19-17.

Tim Wild turned in a double play for the Jays.

Mill Pond Bakery Prospers With Emphasis on Quality

Getting back to basics, maintaining present standards, growing slowly while preserving quality. These goals appeared frequently in John Savanna's statement of goals and purposes, hopes and dreams of his fledgling family business, Mill Pond Bakery.

Located on Gorton Rd. in the Village of Waterloo, Savanna and his wife Colleen, have established a bit of yesteryear situated on the edge of Mill Pond. Within a small, primitive building, Mill Pond Bakery got its start. Opened now for one year, Savanna's 800-square foot success story was built around the desire to restore basic goodness and quality lost in recent years.

Both John and Colleen originally lived in Taylor. They have been married for six years, and have two children, Jessica and Jonah, ages five and one and one-half, respectively. Shortly after their marriage, the Savannas moved from Taylor to the Manchester area. They have lived on Waterloo-Munith Rd. since that time.

John attended Eastern Michigan University for a while but, realizing that he enjoyed cooking, he dropped out of EMU and became a cook at Indian Summer, where he worked for four years. Nevertheless, there's very little financial reward resulting from a superb hollandaise sauce or a flaky crusted fresh spinach and mushroom quiche. Baking became his niche in life.

John's baking got its start a few years ago. Knowing that he'd like to have his own bakery, John worked at the Dexter Bakery for two years where he learned various baking techniques. Then, while in Pennsylvania visiting with his wife's relatives, John stood outside a bakery in the early morning hours and watched an Italian immigrant prepare, roll, shape and bake his Italian bread. After days of gazing through a steamy window in the faint morning light, the baker invited him in and taught him his methods. The result, Mill Pond Bakery produces a fine Italian bread, old country bread with nothing added and nothing taken away.

It took the Savannas three years to accumulate the capital necessary to open Mill Pond Bakery. It was during this time that John became familiar with baking techniques, testing various breads and rolls, adding assorted ingredients, testing his products and revising his recipes as needed to suit his particular taste.

Finally, the Savannas located their "bakery," an empty building located at Mill Pond and owned by Ray Coltre. Renovations on the original Waterloo Store, began in February 1980. Plumbing, wiring and the necessary ovens and other equipment were installed. In June the rented Mill Pond Bakery was given an okay by inspectors and was, in essence, born.

During their first week of business, Mill Pond Bakery, which deals exclusively on an account basis as well as selling at both the Jackson and Ann Arbor Farmers Markets, logged a total of $70. Currently, $1,500 per week is the average income.

Accounts range from Appleose grocery in Ann Arbor to the Village Bakery in Chelsea. The Farmers Market circuit is traveled three times weekly. Wednesdays and Saturdays the events and is rated solely on the distance attained in the jump. At the recently held Liz Allen Super Stars Tournament held in Groveland, Fla., Marty placed second in the Boys division.

JUMPER MARTY STEINHAUER heads up the jump ramp and soars skyward enroute to a perfect landing. Jumping is the most dangerous and exciting of three tournament judged water skiing

Chelsea Youths Sparkle in Florida Water Ski Tournaments

Three Chelsea youths have recently returned from water skiing in Florida at the request of Florida water skiing officials. Scott Rowe, age 12 of Cavanaugh Lake, and Marty and David Steinhauer, ages 15 and 14, respectively, of Sugar Loaf Lake, spent part of the month of June skiing in Florida water skiing tournaments. All three youths, best of friends who ski together almost daily, are nationally ranked tournament water skiers.

Tournament water skiing consists of three different events. In slalom, each contestant is pulled by the tow boat through a series of six buoys located on alternating sides of the boat. The skier repeats the pass at increasing speeds and then at a shorter and shorter rope length. The skier's turn is ended when he falls or fails to round a buoy.

Tricking, the most intricate of the three events, consists of a skier performing as many tricks as possible in two 20-second passes before the judges. All tricks are prescribed in the rules with the more difficult having a higher point value.

Jumping, the most dangerous and exciting of the three tournament water skiing events, is judged solely on the distance attained in the air. Each skier is allowed three jumps over the jump ramp which is an inclined plane 14 feet wide, 24 feet long and five feet off the water.

Scott Rowe, a Beach Middle school eighth grader and son of Mr. and Mrs. Norris Rowe, broke onto the Michigan water skiing scene two years ago and surprised skiers throughout the Midwest with his trick and slalom skiing talents. Scott skis in the Junior Boy Division for ages 12 and under and last summer placed first in the trick event at the Michigan State Championships and fourth in the trick event at the 12 state Midwest Regional Championships and third in the Regional slalom event. He was invited this year to ski in the Junior All-American Tournament at Cypress Gardens, Fla. and placed first in slalom. The next week in Florida, Scott placed third in all three events at the McCormick Open.

David and Marty Steinhauer ski in the next age division, Boys, featuring skiers who are ages 13 through 17. These two boys, who have long dominated Michigan, Regional and National water skiers, are expected to continue their domination this year.

Marty and David were invited to ski in the prestigious Liz Allen Super Stars Tournament in June in Groveland, Fla. Marty placed second in the Boys Division at that tournament.

Last year, David was first in slalom and jump and second in tricks at the Michigan State Championships, first in slalom and jump and fifth in tricks at the Midwest Regional Championships and fourth in jump at the National Championships, all while skiing in the Junior Boy Division. This year, David moves into the Boys Division and continues to dominate along with his older brother, Marty.

Marty, over-all national champion two years ago in the Junior Boy Division, had no trouble last year while moving into the tougher Boys Division. He placed first in all three events at the Michigan State Championships, first in all three events at the Midwest Regional Championship, and sixth over-all at the 1980 National Championships.

Marty and David's older brother Philip, age 20 and a senior at Ferris State College, is coming back on the skiing scene from serious knee surgery. Injured while water ski jumping two years ago, Philip just placed first in jumping at the Wickes Open water ski tournament in Saginaw. Philip skis in the Men's 1 age division for men ages 18 through 25. His first place jump last week-end was a surprise to all and he may well prove to be the Michigan jumper to beat in his age group. Two other Steinhauers, Matthew, age 12 and Krystn, age 18, are accomplished water skiers but do not water ski competitively.

Skiers from throughout Michigan visit the Sugar Loaf Lake residence of the Steinhauers to learn and practice water skiing with the Steinhauer boys. It is a busy home in the summer, dedicated to working seriously on water skiing abilities. Week-ends throughout the season, for both the Steinhauer and Rowe families, are spent traveling to various water skiing tournaments.

Big Boy Softball Team 6th in Tourney

Chelsea Big Boy participated in a softball tournament during the week-end of July 3, 4 and 5 at Coldwater, finishing with a 2-2 record by Sunday.

In a field of 12 teams, Chelsea Big Boy ranked sixth in the tournament.

In the first game Friday, Chelsea lost to B and G Construction of Indiana by a score of 8-5. Al Augustine hit a three-run homer and Craig Houle added a home run and batted in another run to account for Chelsea's scoring.

In their second outing at the tournament, Chelsea defeated

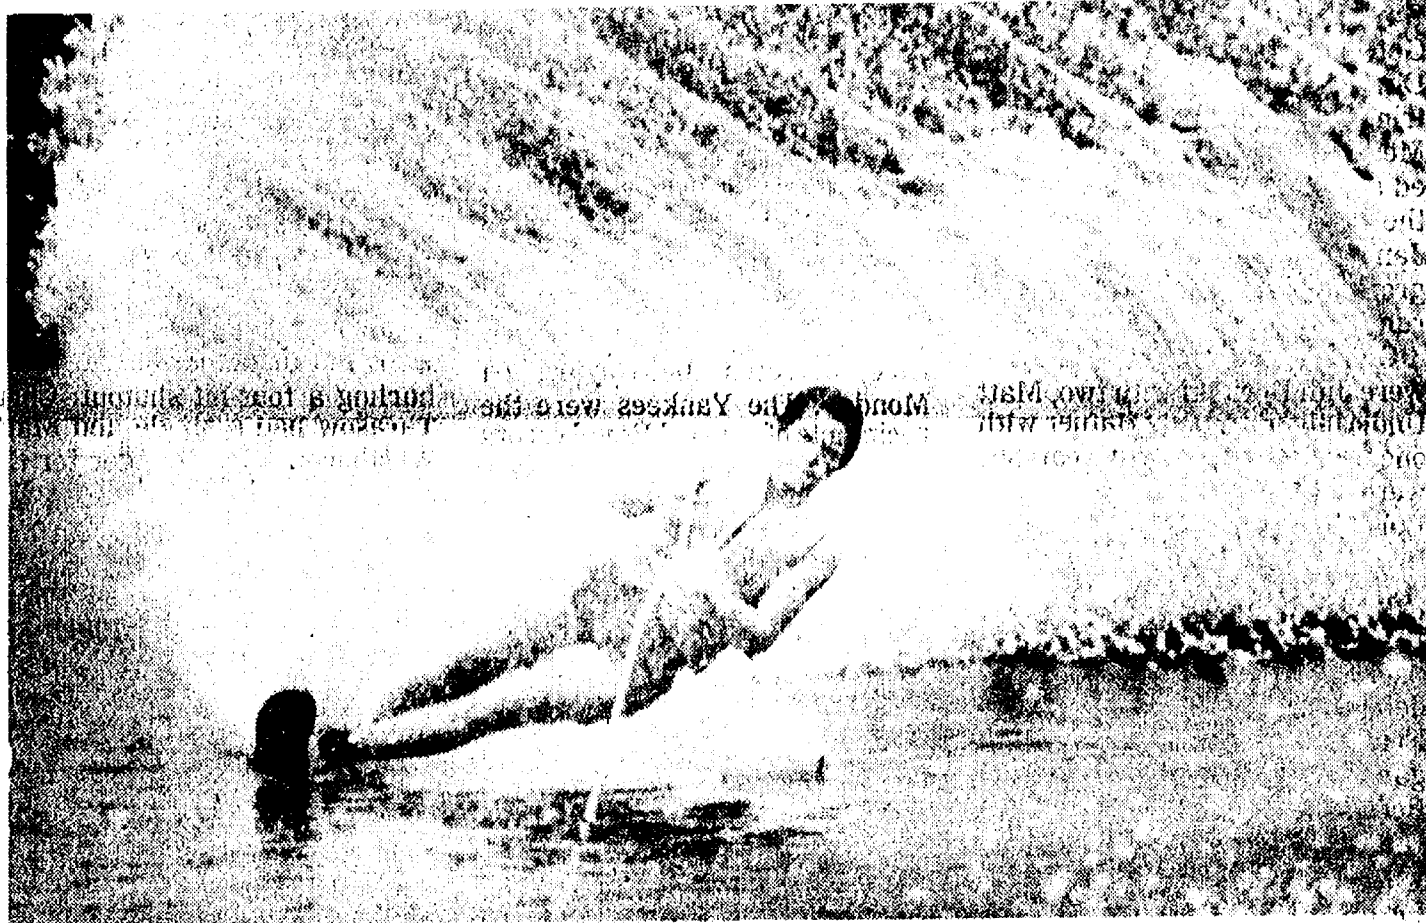

Miller Veal of Ohio with a 10-9 decision. Everyone contributed to the victory led by Wayne Welton with three hits, Mike Lauerman with two hits, Len Kozma with two hits and John Houle, Gary White and Craig Houle with hits.

Bucky's Tavern of Flint fell victim to a good Chelsea team effort, losing 1-0. Chelsea could muster only one hit by Craig Houle but held on to win the game which ended at 2:30 a.m. Sunday. Later Sunday, Chelsea Big Boy lost its final game to be eliminated from the tournament.

TRICK SKIING is the most intricate of the three tournament water skiing events as each skier must perform as many tricks as possible in two 20 second passes before the judges. Entering the water skiing scene two years ago, Scott Rowe has surprised skiers with his tricking talents, having placed first in that event last summer at the Michigan State Championships. At the McCormick Open, held last month in Florida, Scott placed third in all three events in the Jr. Boy Division.

ROUNDING ONE OF SIX BUOYS on the slalom course at Sugarloaf Lake, David Steinhauer, demonstrates the balance and concentration pertinent to championship water skiing.

Last season, David was first in slalom and jump at the Michigan State Championships and first in slalom and jump and fifth in tricks at the Midwest Regional Championships in the Jr. Boy Division.

JOHN GUSTAFSON of Mill Pond Bakery slides a tray of breads into a tiled hearth oven at the bakery last week. This method of baking on tiles produces faster, more intense heat and results in more evenly shaped and moister breads.

Mill Pond Bakery Growing Steadily

Savannas load their van and drive to Ann Arbor while Friday is their day to make the Jackson run (prior to their baking endeavors, the Savannas used to market garden for the Ann Arbor Farmers Market). Everything they bake is sold within hours of being produced and despite the high unemployment rate in Jackson, their load of fresh baked goods is inevitably sold within two hours of their arrival at the Farmers Market.

Between 12 and 15 types of breads are baked as well as cinnamon rolls, soft pretzels and other goods. All ingredients that go into Mill Pond products are natural. Whole milk, butter, fresh eggs, unbleached flours—the list is endless—go into each and every loaf, roll, bun or cookie. The Savannas hope to introduce fresh Danish to their line but, according to John, it takes time to work on a recipe that he's pleased with. Time is a precious commodity with this business endeavor; John spends nearly 18 hours per day, six days per week, baking, cleaning, purchasing ingredients and the like. Still, he enjoys it immensely.

Necessary ingredients are purchased from a variety of locations including Atlas Bakery for most baking supplies and Eden Foods for others. Fresh eggs and honey are purchased from a local farmer. Still, cost depends on the amount of time the product involves from start to finish and the number of identical products made. In general, a one-pound loaf of any of the dozen-plus breads, is offered to the conscientious consumer for a price ranging from $1.10 for whole wheat to $1.25 for Italian.

Working with Savanna is John Gustafson of Milan, who formerly baked at the Zen Center in San Francisco, and has shown the owner a number of baking variations he has come up with over the years. Expansion of the highly successful bakery is not even a consideration at this point; two bakers suffice despite long hours. A total of 10 loaves of bread can be baked at any given time, totalling between 800 and 1,000 loaves per week.

Though expansion is the natural course of a successful business, Savanna is concerned with making conscious decisions regarding his niche. "We want to grow slowly and develop a strong backbone without losing our character, perspective or quality," he explained.

Mill Pond Bakery looks as though it has a bright future. Its name connotes the milling of grains, something John, who entertains the idea of getting as close as possible to the basic components that comprise his wares, eventually hopes to do after farming his land.

In addition, the Mill Pond Bakery logo, with its rough almost primitive lettering and etching, offers the reader an Early American recollection of simpler

Upsets Prevail In Little League

Tigers 2, Yankees 1

The Little League had to make up games played Thursday night. Both games were won by 2-1 scores. The Tigers of Coach Finch beat the previously undefeated Yankees, 2-1. Pitching for the Tigers was Randy Perry who struck out 15 batters. Hitting stars for the Tigers were Jeff Steele and Rich Finch. Mark Molsinger continued his lousy hitting by crashing a long double. Tigers scored winning runs in the bottom of the sixth.

For the Yankees, Dwayne Elkins pitched a superb game but took the loss. Getting hits for the Yankees were Randy Dale and Jeff Garen.

Orioles 2, Indians 1

Coach Petsch took his undefeated chargers to battle against the Indians and won, 2-1. Mike Swaringer started for the Orioles and hurled three hitless innings. Sean Lausar took over and gave up only one Indian run. Matt Kemp came in in the fourth inning to shut down the pesky Indians, striking out five and saving the victory. Hitting stars for the Orioles were Mike Swaringer and Brant Snyder with singles. Jordan Gray had a triple and Rob Hubbell had a home run. The Orioles were tough defensively as Matt Kemp threw out two Indian runners trying to steal. Eric Frisinger picked up a hit ball in right field and cut down the Indian runner trying to make it to second.

For the Indians, Jr. Morseau pitched the last three innings, stopping the heavy hitting Orioles. The Indian defense was tough and never gave up. For the Indians, Paul Hedding got the only hit.

Royals 8, Tigers 1

The Royals cooled off the heavy hitting Tigers, 8-1. Getting singles for the winners were Kevin Bell, Ed Fleischmann, Dave Kvarnberg, Scott Reynolds, and Mark Larson. For the Royals, the pitching staff of David Adams, Scott Reynolds and Brian Coy kept the Tigers in check. Defensive play of the game was when Brian Coy snagged a hard liner for the game-ending out.

For the Tigers, Rob Finch and Jeff Steele got singles. Jeff Walldyke stroked a double. Several outstanding defensive plays were made in the outfield by Eric Weber, Pat Overpeck and Chris Burkel. For the Tigers, Jeff Marshall came in on relief and did an outstanding job.

Pirates 4, Orioles 3

The undefeated Pirates of Coach Murphy tangled with the unbeaten Orioles Friday. When the dust cleared, the Pirates barely escaped with a 4-3 victory. Bobby Clouse went the distance getting great defensive support while striking out 12 Orioles. Hitting stars for the Pirates were Bob Clouse, Kevin Flanigan, Brian Feldman and Brady Murphy. The big defensive play for the Pirates was Tyler Lewis cutting down the tying Oriole run at second trying to steal, to end the game.

For the Orioles, hitting stars were Mike Swaringer and Jordan Gray with singles and Jeff Prentice added a triple.

Indians 5, Dodgers 1

Coach Morseau's Indians led by assistant coach Bob Strong, claimed a hard fought victory over the pesky Dodgers, 5-1. The game was tight and hits were few. For the Indians, Jason Schutte and Jr. Morseau combined to pitch victory. Big hits for the Indians were a home run by Jr. Morseau and a triple by Jason Schutte.

For the Dodgers, Matt Minore pitched outstanding baseball but got little offensive help.

Yankees 7, Cardinals 4

Getting the three hits for the Yankees were Craig Maynard, Randy Dale and Ted Wheaton. The Cardinals, held in check offensively, had one hit.

Tigers 5, Pirates 4

Coach Murphy's unbeaten, well-oiled machine call the Pirates, came into Little League action Wednesday night. When the dust cleared Coach Finch's Tigers had taken care of the Pirates' winning streak, 5-4. Randy Perry took control of the Pirate sluggers, striking out 15 to get the victory. Hitting stars for the Tigers were Randy Perry, Rob Finch, Jeff Marshall and Mark Molsinger, all with singles. Mark Molsinger's single drove in the winning run. ## Ann Arbor Street Art Fair Returns

What brings 250,000 to Ann Arbor every July? The Ann Arbor Street Art Fair, Ann Arbor's oldest juried fair, taking place this year from July 22 to July 25, from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Wednesday through Friday and from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday.

Held each year on South and East University Sts. in Ann Arbor, this nationally-known art show draws artists from all over the country. It began in 1960 when local merchants approached the Ann Arbor Art Association about mounting a sidewalk show as part of their summer Bargain Day sales.

Then, 1,000 artists were contacted, 99 of whom showed up to hang their work on ropes strung between parking meters. A few years later, a jurying system was developed and artists were carefully chosen from the hundreds who applied. Now the fair is limited to about 250 artists, although about 800 apply every year. Each artist submits five slides of his or her artwork in March. Throughout April, juries of local artists carefully select those who will be appearing for the first time in the July show. In addition, on-the-street jurying takes place during the fair itself and is the basis for which artists will be asked back for the next year. For the past few years, local photographer Dale Fisher has offered his works to the public.

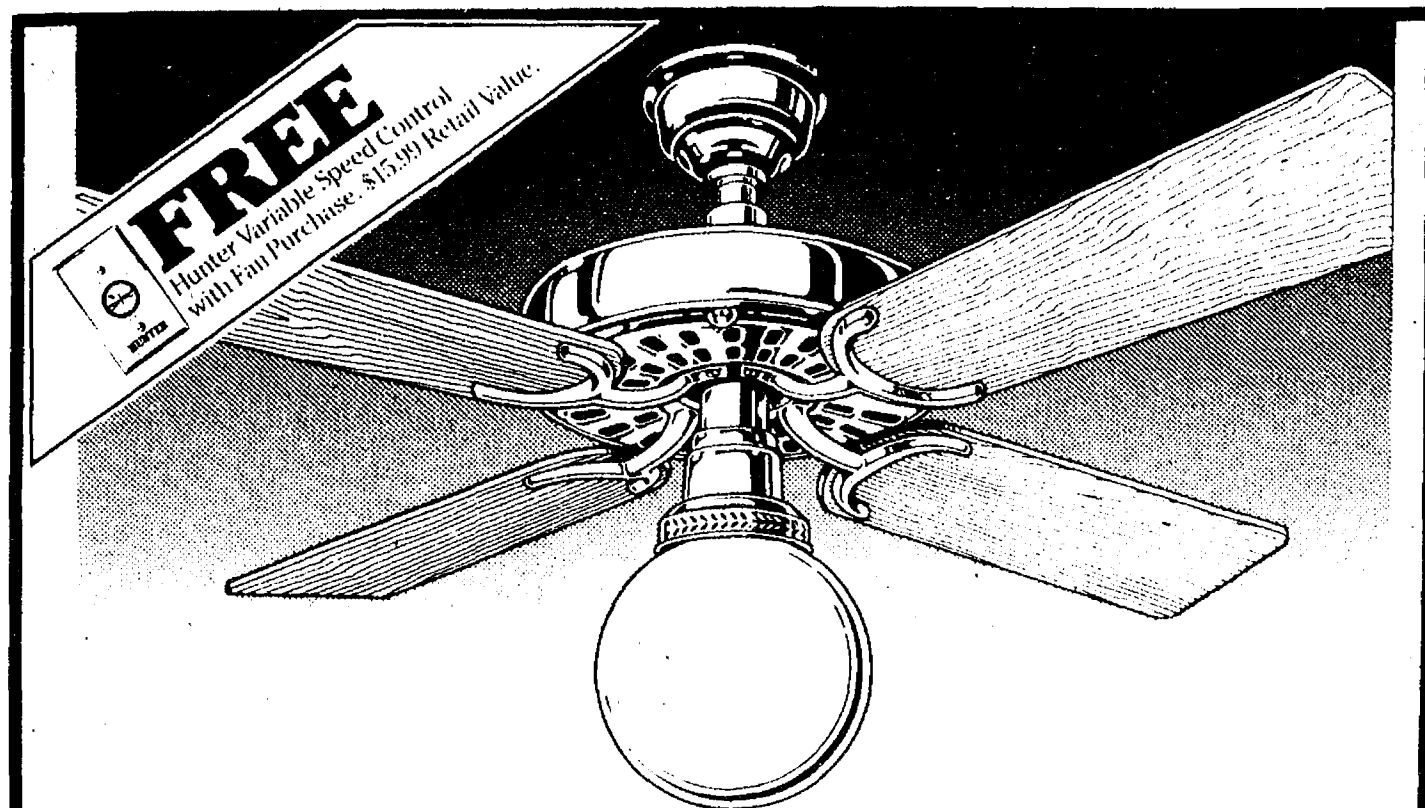

upset occurred as the Orioles defeated the Yankees, 4-3. After regulation six innings, the game was tied at 3-3. The suspense continued until the bottom of the eighth. Jordan Gray led off with a long triple and promptly stole home for the victory. Getting Oriole singles were Matt Kemp, Sean Lausan, Mike Swaringer and John Cattell. Oriole starter Mike Swaringer lasted two innings, Matt Kemp took over in relief and hurled six scoreless innings, striking out 10 Yankees. Defensive play of the game was Rob Hubbell's catch of a screaming liner.

For the Yankees, Dwayne Elkins pitched well but gave up the winning triple. Phil Patterson crashed a home run.

Another grass fire was reported at Cassidy Lake Friday. This call was received at 12:48 p.m. Then, at 3:20 p.m., a truck electrical fire was reported at Chelsea State Bank. This fire was extinguished and the request for assistance was cancelled.

At approximately 2 a.m. Sunday, July 19, a personal injury accident was reported on Stofer Ct. Then, at 5:32 p.m. the same day, a roll over personal injury accident was reported on Old US-12. Finally, at 2:04 a.m. Monday, July 20, another fire was reported at Cassidy Lake Technical School.

FOOD FREEZER

Fast, zero-degree food freezing.

Freezing coils on all four sides and the bottom make the entire food liner a "fast freeze" compartment. Keeps all foods solidly frozen to preserve their taste, color and texture.

Counterbalanced, self-aligning lid. Stays open by itself for easy food removal. Re-aligns automatically to maintain an airtight seal every time you close it.

Get more value from your food dollar, too. Stock up on food specials, meat sales, frozen food volume bargains. Freeze seasonal foods when they're cheap and plentiful. Store them all in your Amana freezer, and you'll get more value out of every food dollar.
