New ESS Ambulance Service Now Housing Vehicle in Chelsea

Coincidentally with the recent notification that Fontana Taylor Ambulance Service, which has the exclusive contract for emergency transport in Washtenaw county, is in deep financial trouble and is in danger of going out of business, a new ambulance company opened a station in Chelsea last week, providing Chelsea with, for the first time, emergency ambulance services within the village. Prior to this time, the closest ambulance station was located in Dexter.

Emergency Specialists Service (ESS) is home-based in Whitmore Lake and was started approximately two and one-half years ago by Dick and Kathy Mason. Both privately owned and privately funded, ESS and the Masons have been attempting to locate an ambulance on the west side of the county for some time. The new ambulance station, located at 521 S. Main St. near the recently constructed hospital entrance, will remain in Chelsea a majority of the time. "Most of the time is better than not having any ambulance in Chelsea," Mason explained.

Through providing good patient care, they grew to a total of five ambulances scattered throughout the county. ESS has an ambulance in Whitmore Lake on North Territorial Rd., in Ann Arbor on Carpenter Rd. north of Packard, in Ypsilanti in Depot Town and now in Chelsea. A fifth car works eight to 10 hours per day and transports hospital transfers.

According to Mason, Washtenaw county has the right to contract with anyone they prefer but regardless, free enterprise cannot be eliminated. "The county contracted for specific coverage of the west end of the county, something that has not been provided. We can provide that," he explained.

In addition to dealing with emergencies, ESS is also involved in non-emergency transports, handling a large number of hospital transports through Chelsea Community Hospital. According to Kathy Brubaker, director of nursing at Chelsea Community Hospital, ESS has been used for several years for transports to and from Ann Arbor.

"A large percentage of our critical patients are transported by ESS," she explained, "and we have been very pleased with their high quality of care. They've done a good job and are very responsive to our needs."

Brubaker explained further that both Chelsea Community Hospital and many citizens in the area have expressed the desire to see an ambulance located in the community. "We've felt the need for a long time," she said.

Dick Mason admits that the beginning of ESS was a struggle but it appears as though their success will inevitably continue. "We have good people working for us and by providing good patient care, we can't go wrong," he said. "Through municipal involvement and referrals, if a transition occurs regarding the Fontana Taylor situation, we are hoping to continue to provide a continuity in our care and would like any transition to be made as smoothly as possible," he concluded.

Instrument Listing Set By Boosters

The Chelsea Band and Orchestra Boosters have decided to have an "instrument listing." This will be a list of all instruments that are for sale and will be kept by a parent member of the Boosters.

Interested parties will have the opportunity to call and list an instrument for sale, offering information regarding brand, condition and suggested price. Persons interested in purchasing an instrument will be able to call and find out what is available and then contact the seller.

Persons having instruments that are no longer needed that they would like to sell may call Mrs. Alice Rawson at 475-9297.

The Band and Orchestra Boosters hope that this will provide an opportunity to purchase used instruments at a much more reasonable price than purchasing new or renting. It is also hoped that this will assist string players as they progress from half to three-quarters to full-sized instruments.

Chelsea Will Prepare Manchester Lunches

With the upcoming school year beginning in less than one month, Chelsea School District will begin preparing lunches for the Manchester School District. Nearly 400 noon meals will be prepared for Manchester each day and food service vans from the neighboring district will travel to Chelsea to pick them up.

According to Superintendent of Schools Ray Van Meer, Manchester has no kitchen facilities in their district. They are limited to serving facilities only. For a number of years, an agreement providing school lunches was reached with the Saline School District but, according to Van Meer, Manchester had decided on a change.

All lunches will be prepared at the high school and will be sent to Manchester via a Manchester food service van. Van Meer explained that because of a close working relationship between surrounding schools, including the vocational consortium in which Manchester and Chelsea are a part, the idea of providing school lunches for the neighboring district will perhaps further enhance their co-operative existence.

The cost has yet to be decided but will not be prohibitive to Manchester and will cover all costs for Chelsea's preparation of meals.

Man Dies Tuesday in Hit & Run

Michigan State Police out of the Ypsilanti Post began investigating a fatal hit and run accident Tuesday night near Parker Rd. in Lima township.

The body of Hill Bell Jr., 38, of 1131 Traver Rd., Ann Arbor, was found in the west-bound lane of I-94 near Parker Rd. at approximately 11 p.m. Tuesday.

On Tuesday, it appeared to troopers that Bell was a victim of homicide but it has since been ruled that he was a traffic victim.

According to information studied at the State Police Crime Lab in Northville, Bell apparently died instantly when he was struck while walking along the west-bound lane of I-94 near Parker Rd. The striking vehicle failed to stop and police are searching for both the car and driver involved in the fatal accident.

Upon discovering his body, officers called in the State Crime Lab after discovering a hatchet lying near the body and a gash on the top of Bell's head that appeared to have come from a weapon of some sort.

But, through investigations, it has been determined that Bell was carrying the hatchet in a holster attached to his belt and upon impact it was freed from its case. A distinct possibility is that Bell was thrown through the air when he was struck and landed on his head, thereby inflicting the head wound.

Chelsea Fire Department was requested to the scene to provide lighting for photographs of the Bell's body.

17-Year-Old Saves Pair in Burning Boat

An exploding gas tank on a 16 ft. outboard motor boat on Little Portage Lake last Thursday could have been disastrous if not for the courage of 17-year-old Jamie Carpenter.

Jerry Lee of Ann Arbor and his 11-year-old son, Kevin, were on the boat when the motor caught fire.

Onlookers both on the shore and in boats hesitated to approach the burning vehicle. Jamie, however, paddled up to the boat in a canoe. Kevin, wearing a life jacket, dove into the water.

Approaching the boat, Jamie retrieved Kevin to safety. Jamie called to Lee to jump in also. Lee, however, hesitated saying he couldn't swim. Jamie yelled again for him to jump in. Lee jumped into the water and, just as Jamie was pulling him into the boat, the gas tank exploded. The boat was completely destroyed and sank to the bottom of the lake.

Jamie, a resident of Portage Lake, is employed by Klave's Marina. He will be a senior at Dexter High school this fall. He is a certified scuba diver so he is familiar with the water. However, his courage and quick response is to be commended for saving what could have been a tragedy for the Lee family.

was Paul Tobias, in tie, the 1981 4-H king. Included among Chelsea buyers of livestock were McCalla Feeds, Farmers' Supply, Honegger's, Koenig Farms, Heller Electric and Paul Zahn.

Livonia Man Dies in Local Boat Crash

In a prelude to a water skiing show Saturday, Aug. 1, a Wayne county man was killed as two speed boats collided head-on on Half Moon Lake. Dead is Joseph W. Willis, 27, of Livonia.

According to Washtenaw county sheriff's deputies, the opening stunt involved a "thread the needle" tactic in which one boat was to cruise between two others that were approaching at a high speed. Willis' boat was selected as the boat to head between those approaching.

Inadvertently, Willis corrected his boat's position but moved almost directly into the path of a boat operated by Robert Metzner of Gregory. At speeds of 30 to 35 m.p.h., the two boats struck and Willis' boat was sliced on impact. He was struck in the head with a piece of debris from the accident. Metzner received no injuries.

Governor's Task Force Recommends Tax Base Sharing Concept

Tax base sharing has been revived as a recommendation by an executive Task Force on Small and Rural Communities.

The concept provides for spreading new revenues, derived from growth in the tax base in one area, with other communities in the region. The concept was proposed once by Governor William G. Milliken for metropolitan areas.

The original proposal was based on a successful model in the Minneapolis-St. Paul region, but got nowhere in Michigan in the face of opposition from areas with rapid growth from officials fearful of regional government.

Unlike the original proposal's mandatory provisions for sharing growth in property values in one community among all communities in the region, this proposal would empower local governments to agree to share both the increased value of new development, as well as the costs of providing services to the developed areas.

Greg Main of Escanaba, chairman of the task force, said the idea was raised by a township official as a way to deal with pressures of annexation.

"We would leave political boundaries where they are and the jurisdictions where they are, but let the people make agreements," he said announcing the recommendations of the task force.

The group said present annexation laws force adjoining jurisdictions into adversarial roles, with a city nibbling away at a township in which new development may choose to locate.

The task force further suggested development of suburban growth plans as a prerequisite for annexation or extension of public services. These plans would be written by officials from adjacent communities and would set guides for land use, extension services, etc.

On other local matters, the task force urged legislation to permit local units to impose new taxes upon voter approval, including sales and use taxes.

Other recommendations of the task force include: establishment of a rural regulation review board to review regulations that may be deterring job creation; development of an agricultural preservation strategy; increased funding for forestry; active state promotion of rural economic development.

Establishment of a rail use plan for rural areas; coordination of human services on a county-wide basis; expansion of rural extension services and development of pilot projects for nutrition education and family resources management.

After the report was released, Milliken said it will assist the state and local governments in understanding and managing the problems that accompany the shift of population into sparsely populated areas.

Congressional Tax Cut To Aid State Budget

The approval by Congress of a three-year $750 billion tax cut is very important to the Michigan economy, according to state Management and Budget Director Gerald Miller.

He said the state's economic forecasts and the 1981-82 fiscal year budget assumed passage of a sizable federal tax cut.

Without the tax cut, which begins with a first round Oct. 1 followed by another cut July 1, 1982, Miller said the state revenue forecasts for 1981-82 would have to be cut at least by $50 million.

"The key issue was getting it passed. The psychological effect is very important. On the basis that people know they will get a cut in October and another in July, they will be a little freer with what they do with their money," Miller said.

He added one possible use for some of that freed up money would be the purchase of automobiles, the Michigan economy's mainstay.

The first use of federal government contracts to restrict the employment of child labor took place in 1918, according to "Labor Firsts in America," a U.S. Department of Labor publication.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Zeke Grubb told the fellers at the country store Saturday night that it final had happened. A inmate in Texas not only was running the asylum, but doing a good job of it. This item Zeke saw told how a mental patient in a doctor's coat took charge in a Fort Worth hospital after flooding knocked out all electric power, and he was credited with "strong, effective leadership" during the emergency. The hospital manager said the patient just told the staff and volunteers what to do and they done it.

One thing he told em to do was round up ice from all over town to cool the hospital while the air conditioning was out. Zeke said when the power come on the hospital had a ton of bagged ice piled in the main lobby, but there was no mention of what happened to it. It might be, Zeke went on, that the patient talked the staff into turning up the air conditioning high enough to keep the ice from melting, so it could be packed down in the lobby and used for a skating party for all the other patients to celebrate the end of the emergency.

The fellers general took Zeke's report with some sideways glances, but Bug Hookum, fer one, said stranger true things has been happening. Fer instant, he said, he saw where this feller in Virginia mistook his mother-in-law for a raccoon and chopped her up with a hatchet. Bug said he recollected the old song about the cabbage head on the pillow where the husband's head ought to be, but the coon report puts the stopper in the jug. The mother-in-law was hit in the head 17 times in the feller's garage in the middle of the night, Bug said, which could be took to mean he didn't intend to lose any more sleep over a raccoon, no matter how big she was.

Nobody got killed, but the Air Force lost a $3.3 million airplane in the Gulf of Mexico recent in another case of mistaken identity, reported Bug. He had saw where one F-4 jet fighter was shot down accidental by another one. The plane went down in April, Bug said, and two weeks ago the Air Force finished its investigation. Bug said he can't help but wonder how long it would of took to figure out what happened if that fighter had been shot down by a Russian fighter. The Air Force said the flying target the five planes on the training mission were supposed to shoot escaped without a scratch.

Actual, declared Clem Webster, mistakes can be a real benefit if we're willing to look for the silver lining. Clem had saw where this feller in North Carolina was suing a beer company for $20,000 cause he found a mouse in his bottle. The sight and smell of the mouse, and the taste of the beer it was in got the pore feller so upset he can't drink beer any more. Clem figgers this feller is going to be hard pressed to find a jury anywhere that will agree he is $20,000 worse off. Fer sure, he said, there's plenty of wives that would pay the barkeep at their husband's favorite watering hole good money to slip a well-ripened rat into his next short one.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew

Steam Canners Not Recommended

Several brands of steam canners have appeared on the market and are being promoted as substitutes for water-bath canners. They consist of three pieces—a shallow pan which is filled with about two quarts of water, a perforated rack on which the jars stand, and a large dome cover. During processing, steam wafts around the jars.

Until processing times are determined specifically for steam canners, they should not be used.

Manufacturers of steam canners are recommending that acid foods, such as tomatoes and fruits, may be processed in steam canners using the time-tables established for processing acid foods in boiling water-bath canners.

A pilot study conducted at Pennsylvania State University showed that the water-bath processing times were not adequate for steam canning. Up to 19 additional minutes were required when processing tomato juice and applesauce in a steam canner.

Fortunately, spoilage of acid foods processed in steam canners would be obvious. The signs of spoilage include loss of seal, bulging lids, gassiness, mold, and off odor.

To prevent the loss of your home canned tomatoes and fruits, process them in a water-bath canner following up-to-date time schedules.

It may be old-fashioned, but it works.

Your Health Options

By Beverly Chethik

Director of Health Education, Washtenaw County Health Dept.

My daughter is 2 years old and I would like to buy a car safety seat for her. What's the best one?

The best child safety seat is one that you will use properly every time you put your daughter in the car. So, before you buy a restraint, try it out in your car with your child in it.

Then, ask yourself these questions. Is my child comfortable in it? Does it fit my car? Can I anchor it properly, according to the manufacturer's instructions? Is it convenient and easy for me to use?

If you answer "YES" to these questions, there is a good chance you will use the seat regularly and properly, and that means it is a good one for you.

Many parents are asking about seatbelts this summer. Perhaps they have heard Governor Milliken recently signed into law a bill requiring infants under 1 year to be restrained in an infant safety seat and children 1 to 4 years to be restrained in a safety seat in the front seat or by seatbelts when they are in the back seat.

The law goes into effect April 1, 1982. The penalty for not complying is a $10 fine. If a safety seat is installed before the court appearance, the fine will be eliminated.

To help parents purchase safety seats, the Washtenaw County Health Department will provide on request a shopping guide with a complete list of models and their wholesale prices. For the information, please call 973-1488.

To rent infant safety seats for $10 a year, please contact the Ann Arbor Jaycee Women, Superior Jaycees or the Ypsilanti Jaycee Auxiliary.

The Michigan Office of Highway Safety offers the following suggestions about car safety for children.

—Place the safety seat in the back seat if possible. The middle of the back seat is the safest spot in the car.

—If you find yourself without a restraint for your 1 to 4 year old, strap the child in with a lap belt, in the back seat. Pull the belt securely across the hips—not the tummy. The belt may give a better fit if you seat your child on a low, firm cushion, such as a boat cushion.

—On warm, sunny days the vinyl of the car and child seat and the metal on the lap belt and harness buckles may become hot enough to cause a serious burn on your child. To prevent this, cover the entire seat with a light colored blanket when it is not in use. Always feel the vinyl and metal before you place your child in the seat.

Never hold your child on your lap in the car. Studies done at the University of Michigan demonstrated that adults wearing seat belts, aware of when a crash would occur, could not prevent a 17 lb. "dummy baby" from being torn from their arms during 15 and 30 mph crashes—even though they held on to the "baby" with all their strength.

Seatbelts seem to improve the behavior of children too. Studies at the University of Kansas Medical School have shown that when children are buckled up, their behavior in the car is 95% better than that of unrestrained children. The result is a ride that is more relaxing and safer for everyone.

The leading cause of death of children and young adults is car accidents. Deaths occur when a child is thrown into the windshield, dashboard, some other part of the car, or into another passenger. Children may also be crushed by adults who are not wearing seatbelts or if they are thrown from the car.

When parents buckle up their children, they may prevent serious injury or death. Restraints reduce by 95% the probability of fatal injury to children in automobile crashes and at sudden stops too.

As an added benefit, the parent who begins each ride by fastening the child's belt or buckle may teach the child a safety habit that will offer protection for a lifetime.

"Your Health Options" appears in this paper each month. If you have a health related question, please write to this paper, Attn: "Your Health Options" or directly to the Washtenaw County Health Department, Health Education Office, Box 8645, Ann Arbor 48107.

MARJORIE HEPBURN, research supervisor at the Center for Human Growth and Development at the University of Michigan, has been an asset to Drs. Pierce and Midgley in laboratory testing and determinations of radioimmunoassays for the past 18 years. She is married to Max Hepburn and resides on Pierce Rd.

Marge Hepburn Cited For U. of M. Lab Work

Mrs. Max (Marjorie) Hepburn of Pierce Rd. has been an associate of Dr. Barry Pierce and Dr. A. Rees Midgley, Jr. at the University of Michigan Medical Center since 1962.

Along with other technicians, Mrs. Hepburn's experience has included assisting Dr. Pierce with the transplanting of cancerous human tissue into the cheek pouches of hamsters in an attempt to grow tumors for laboratory models.

The experiment terminated with the quick-freezing of the tumor tissue in a special media, and the storing of the models in liquid nitrogen. When the model is needed, the tissue is quickly thawed and transplanted to grow again in the hamsters.

Since mid-1965, Mrs. Hepburn has been working with an associate of Dr. Pierce, Dr. A. Rees Midgley, Jr., a professor of pathology. He has been working in the field of radioimmunoassay, a method used to determine the levels of human luteinizing hormone and human follicle-stimulating hormone in serum, and the effects of certain treatments on them. Dr. Midgley, assisted by his staff members including Mrs. Hepburn, was the first to develop the assay of the pituitary follicle-stimulating hormone FSH.

Doctors from universities here and abroad have visited the lab to study the techniques used by Dr. Midgley.

Mrs. Hepburn has also assisted medical students with research projects. Mrs. Hepburn has received acknowledgments in the publications derived from team work. Last year, she co-authored a paper with Dr. Midgley which appeared in Methods in Enzymology, entitled, "Use of the Double-Antibody Method to Separate Antibody Bound from Free Ligand in Radioimmunoassay."

On the recommendations of Drs. Pierce and Midgley and with the approval of the University, Mrs. Hepburn has gone through a series of promotions from lab attendant to lab technician to supervisor of the radioimmunoassay laboratory, a position she attained in 1970.

Working with Dr. Midgley, Mrs. Hepburn has assisted with his pioneering of a number of other radioimmunoassays to investigate the role of hormones in reproduction, maturation, growth and certain mental conditions. In 1972, Dr. Midgley became the director of the Reproductive Endocrinology research program at U-M.

Last November, Dr. Midgley was named director of the University of Michigan Center for Human Growth and Development, an administrative appointment of five years. In justifying the proposed budget for the Center, personnel profiles were submitted.

Two employees were profiled, including Mrs. Hepburn, who had worked in the laboratories for 18 years. She was praised for having done an excellent job as supervisor of the radioimmunoassay laboratory, being well versed and having acquired considerable expertise in the development, validation and performances of radioimmunoassays. She has trained many new personnel and students in ligand assay methodology and was praised as an important asset to the entire Center for Human Growth and Development.

Daytime Soap Operas Provide 'Perverse Kind of Stability'

Critics of American daytime soap operas may complain that the shows are slow-moving and shallow, but that's precisely why they're so successful says a Michigan State University researcher.

Ellen Serlen Uffen, also an assistant professor of American Thought and Language at MSU, says soap opera viewers want to be "titillated but not seriously touched."

The world of the daytime drama presents no surprises and conforms to the viewer's psychological expectations, she pointed out.

Uffen noted that repetitiveness of plot provides a certain "joy of recognition," a "perverse kind of stability" for soap opera viewers, who often see the shows as depicting real people involved in real conflicts. Soaps are the "ultimate in adult escapism," she says.

INVISIBLE BEVERAGE STAINS

Summer is the time for cool refreshing drinks. These drinks, such as fruit juices, soft drinks, beer and cocktails can cause ugly, brown stains on garments if not removed. Why? The sugar contained in these beverages is the culprit. When sugar remains in the fabric over a period of time, it caramelizes and turns brown.

CHELSEA CLEANERS and the International Fabricare Institute recommend:

1. After the spillage, gently flush the area with water. Do this as soon as possible. BLOT, don't rub.
2. Have the garment cleaned as soon as possible. Do not store in a warm closet because the heat can set the stains.
3. Be sure to tell us about the stains. Some of these stains are almost invisible when dry and we may not notice them.

School District Sets '81-'82 Goals

The Chelsea School District Board of Education has listed various academic goals that are anticipated for the upcoming 1981-82 school year. The six-part outline states, for all intents and purposes, sub-sections to illustrate the means of attaining each specified goal.

Beginning this fall, the Chelsea schools will continue a district-wide plan of curriculum review and will implement appropriate improvements. A committee of teachers and administrators will complete a review of the kindergarten through 12th grade science curriculum.

In addition, a committee will review standards of achievement and testing at all grade levels and will review all grade level, subject area course outlines and objectives.

The Chelsea schools will develop and implement a plan to increase student participation in all school activities, both academic and non-academic. This goal will be approached through the formation of guidelines to increase parental supervision of school activities, developed by the activity advisors and student council. Further, the school administrators will explore new ways of encouraging staff members to advise extra-curricular groups and student leaders will make the best possible effort to request various faculty members to chaperone various activities.

In light of high energy costs and the possibility of energy shortages, the Chelsea School District will study alternative approaches to building, transportation and program management. Means of attempting this study will include the athletic director studying the scheduling of events to minimize transportation costs and energy usage by January, 1982; the supervisor of buildings and grounds studying all buildings for possible energy savings including timers, controls on hot water heaters and lighting; reviewing of all routes and bus usage by the transportation supervisor for possible savings in fuel costs; and the studying of building usage and scheduling by all principals and directors to maximize energy efficiency. Student and staff input will be sought to provide ideas for energy savings.

The administration and Board of Education will develop and implement an award program to recognize exemplary employees, through the determination of criteria and procedure for selecting candidates by a committee of Board members, administrators, staff, teachers and student input. In addition, the same committee will establish the procedure for recognizing the selected employees.

The Chelsea School District will continue development and implementation of the district-wide staff development plan. In co-operation with the teaching staff and administrative staff, the Superintendent will form a task force to determine the adequacy of the current teacher evaluation instrument and suggest areas of improvement. Also, in co-operation with the appropriate staff, the Superintendent's task force will explore the possibility of placing greater emphasis on the recognition of, and evaluation of, staff participation in extra-curricular activities. The Superintendent will provide for a continuation of the current Professional Growth and Development program, in conjunction with all district employees in the Professional Development Committee which currently exists.

Finally, the Chelsea School District will continue to assess and be responsive to the attitudes of the community through convening a civic committee for the purpose of ongoing dialogue. Also, the Chelsea School District will work with a variety of community entities for the purpose of developing community-wide themes and a community logo.

Views On Dental Health

By ROBERT A. BURNS, JR., DDS, P.C.

WHY DENTAL INSURANCE?

Consider these statistics: Of children over fifteen, 75% have some form of gum disease and an average of 11 cavities. By middle age, 2 out of 3 people will have serious gum problems and be well on the way to losing all of their teeth.

Why should such a technologically advanced country as ours be in such a poor state of dental health? The answer is: neglect! Few Americans see a dentist as often as they should and many have NEVER seen one. There are many reasons for this and one of them is money. Now something is being done about it.

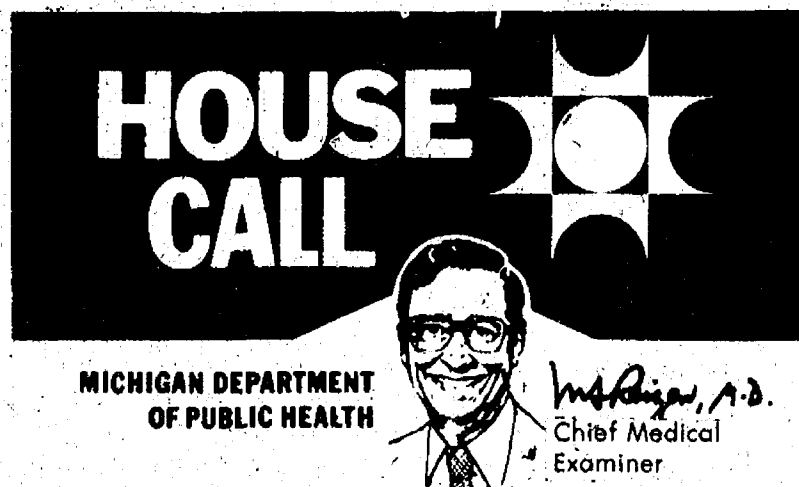

While most Americans have some kind of medical insurance, dental insurance has lagged far behind, but now dental coverage is growing by leaps and bounds. Today, some 65 million (3 out of every 10 Americans) are covered by some form of dental insurance and estimates are that coverage could increase to 95 million by 1985. Labor unions have been striving for wider dental protection and are responsible for much of this increase. In these times of inflation, the average American can use all the help he can get. If you have dental health questions you would like to see answered, please mail them to the address below.

A public service with the aim of promoting a better dental health environment. From the office of: ROBERT A. BURNS, JR., D.D.S., P.C., Chelsea Professional Building, 1200 S. Main St., Chelsea, Phone: 475-9124.

★ Rabies Protection Essential...

When everyone participates, preventive medicine is effective. When not only your local health department and physicians, but also you and others like you are aware of the cause of a disease, you can use methods to prevent or control the disease.

Perhaps one of the best examples to prove the success of citizen-professional participation in saving life lies with rabies. Michigan has not reported a single human death from rabies since 1948. One reason for this record could be the effective vaccine; but equally important could be your caution around wild and stray animals, and your reporting animals bites to the proper authorities.

Many people have learned that they must not touch stray, injured or sick animals, and to leave bats and skunks alone, since they have the highest incidence of rabies in Michigan.

Rabies is a virus found in the saliva of rabies-infected animals. If an infected animal bites your dog or you, the infection is transmitted and affects the nervous system. Even a break in the skin could absorb the rabies virus on contact with the infected saliva.

At one time, dogs were the chief link between man and the wild animals that carry the virus. They no longer are, thanks to state law requiring all dogs to be vaccinated against rabies.

Still, if you have a pet, be watchful of changed behavior. If your pet becomes nervous, vicious, or paralyzed, call the veterinarian. Some dogs become paralyzed without symptoms of excitement. That condition, too, requires attention.

If you are bitten by an animal, wash the wound thoroughly, get immediate medical attention, and report it to the local health department. The health department will have the animal kept under observation for 10 days. If no signs of rabies appear during that time, nothing further is necessary. However, if rabies symptoms appear, the animal will be destroyed, and its brain examined for rabies in the laboratory.

If you must kill an animal that has bitten you, do not shoot it in the head. The laboratory must have the brain undamaged in order to make the proper tests.

Caution toward animals, speedy reporting, effective vaccines, and enforcement of the state law and regulations by most communities have controlled this often fatal disease in humans. The fact that no person in Michigan has died of rabies in 33 years is quite a record. That's preventive medicine at its best.

Good Things Growing In Michigan

By Margaret G. McCall

The whole wonderful world of fresh summer fruits and vegetables has arrived, and a visit to the produce counter at your neighborhood grocery, or to a roadside market, is a feast of color for the eyes. Take some home and prepare a feast for the table.

Good things growing in Michigan right now are almost "too numerous to mention" but include carrots, cabbage, green and wax beans, cucumbers, tomatoes, early potatoes, peppers of all shades and strengths from sweet to hot, celery and lettuce.

And we haven't even started on the list of ripening fruits—cherries, blueberries, red and black raspberries (but hurry, they won't last long), early peaches and nectarines, with plums and pears arriving in another week or two.

The Michigan Department of Agriculture reports that fruits and vegetables were worth $273 million to growers in 1979, most recent year for which figures are available. Farmers received $158 million for fruits, $115 million for vegetables. Now consider the volume—there were 1,349,000,000 pounds of vegetables produced, 1,073,000,000 pounds of fruits. Yes, those are billions of pounds. Obviously, these figures vary from year to year, depending upon plantings, weather and other factors which influence production. But altogether, it's a bountiful harvest for Michigan citizens to enjoy.

Americans are becoming much more versatile in their food choices, and this trend I applaud. Over the years, Americans have adopted and adapted recipes from many different ethnic sources, and I think as a result we eat a greater variety of foods, especially vegetables.

Here's a recipe using several good Michigan vegetables which has a Spanish origin. Gazpacho is a chilled uncooked soup, and you'll find dozens of recipes. This is a basic one you can vary to your own taste, using different herbs and seasoning or different proportions.

Peel and seed 2 large tomatoes, combine with 1 large seeded green pepper, 1 peeled, sliced sweet onion, and 1 clove minced garlic. Chop together briefly by hand or in food processor. Stir in 1/2 cup olive oil, 3 tablespoons lemon juice, and 2 cups chilled consommé or beef stock. Add 1 cup peeled, seeded, diced cucumber, salt to taste, and 1/2 cup of minced fresh parsley, 1 teaspoon of chopped fresh sweet basil, and a little tarragon if you like. Chill the soup for several hours. Place one or two ice cubes in each bowl before filling with soup. Serves about six.

Eliminate the broth and you have a Gazpacho salad, dissolve and add unflavored gelatin for a beautiful molded salad. Combine ingredients in the blender for a different texture.

Parents Get Orientation

From MSU During Summer More than 3,000 parents of Michigan State University's new crop of fall freshmen are getting their own preview of campus life and dormitory living this summer.

MSU's Parents Orientation Program, initiated in 1972, offers parents a day-and-a-half sneak preview of the campus while their sons or daughters complete a separate student orientation program.

Parents learn about financial aids, undergraduate instruction, academic advising, placement testing and academic assistance programs.

The orientation program, which has received high marks from parents, includes a warning to expect changes—not only in their children but in themselves.

J. Boullion's Heroic Act Gains National Attention

John Boullion of North Territorial Rd., Dexter, was awarded a plaque last March for valor and community service by the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department.

He received the plaque at the March meeting of the Washtenaw County Law Enforcement Industrial Security Association at the Federal Correction Institution Training Center at Milan.

The award was given for courage and heroism displayed last fall when he pulled a man out of a burning car, saving him from certain death.

On a Saturday morning, last Nov. 1, John and his family were awakened by Mrs. George Speal of Portage Lake. Mrs. Speal had been driving along North Territorial when she saw a car in flames at the side of the road.

John Hepburn, also of Portage Lake and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Max Hepburn of Chelsea, had fallen asleep at the wheel and hit a tree.

John Boullion broke a window of the car and pulled Hepburn to safety. He was hospitalized, suffering multiple broken bones.

The Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department recognized the courage and quick-wittedness Boullion displayed, risking his own life when he saw a fellow human being in jeopardy.

The award commends Boullion for his actions as well as informing the community of his gallantry. Speal also received an award of commendation for her efforts.

The family of Hepburn donated the sum of $500 to the Dexter Knights of Columbus in John Boullion's name in appreciation of his actions.

Since that time, John Hepburn spent five months in the hospital, primarily because of a crushed femur in his right leg. He is still confined at home with a half-body cast but anticipates its removal later this month.

In a letter received last month, John Hepburn was sent a questionnaire from the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission regarding pertinent information surrounding the accident and rescue by Boullion.

Andrew Carnegie, industrial leader and philanthropist, established the Carnegie Hero Fund in 1904 for the purpose of recognizing acts of heroism. His primary intent in creating the fund was to establish a source from which monetary assistance could be provided for persons disabled in heroic acts or for dependents of persons who lost their lives while so engaged.

There must be conclusive evidence that the person performing the act voluntarily risked his own life to an extraordinary degree in saving or attempting to save the life of another person, or voluntarily sacrificed himself in an heroic manner for the benefit of others. The act of rescue must be one in which no direct family relationship or other full measure of responsibility exists between the rescuer and the rescued.

John Boullion, brought to the attention of the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission, is currently being considered for an award stemming from his successful life-saving efforts following the John Hepburn incident.

Directory Published For Historical Research

A directory that can put you in touch with more than 43,000 people who are involved in history? A directory that can put you in touch with your own historical past?

It's the Directory of Historical Societies and Agencies in Michigan published by the Historical Society of Michigan.

"We hope that this directory will prove beneficial in many ways, most especially as an inspiration to those who are involved in the work of local history," said Thomas L. Jones, executive director of the state-wide organization.

The directory lists historical societies and agencies throughout Michigan. Each entry gives the address, phone number, contact person, membership information, publications and major activities of each organization.

Containing information on more than 375 organizations, this directory is a valuable tool for libraries, civic groups, city governments and persons interested in pursuing the history of their own community.

"This publication is also a resource for those people who are interested, but not yet involved with their local community's historical efforts. We hope that they will use it to locate their local organization and then commit themselves to its support. Finally, for those readers who have moved, this directory might reintroduce them to their hometown society and thereby form a tangible link with their own past," added Jones.

The directory is $2.95 plus $2 postage and handling. It is also being offered free to anyone who joins the society.

For information about the Directory and other Society publications and membership information, contact the HSM office, 2117 Washtenaw Ave., Ann Arbor 48104, or phone (313) 769-1828.

The Historical Society of Michigan is the only non-governmental, not-for-profit, state-wide organization working to preserve and interpret Michigan's heritage. It is supported by nearly 6,000 members and serves as the major clearinghouse of information for more than 275 local historical and preservation organizations in Michigan.

The first complete wage scale was presented by the Franklin Typographical Society of New York City in 1799, according to "Labor Firsts in America," a U.S. Department of Labor publication.

Rattler Destroyed

History has a tendency to repeat itself. Five years ago, brothers Bob and Walter C. Gray discovered a Massasauga rattlesnake slithering around their house near Four Mile Lake. The creature was killed and donated to the University of Michigan for an ongoing study of the only rattlesnake native to Michigan.

Then, last week, Walter C. and his grandfather Walter F. Gray discovered another rattler in the same location as the first found five years earlier. This snake, apparently having crept from the marshy area in the McKinley Rd.-Four Mile Lake vicinity, was also destroyed.

MASSASSAUGA RATTLE snakes seem to find themselves at home in the marshes near the Jim Gray residence on McKinley Heights Dr. Five years ago, Gray's son Bob killed a rattler in their yard then, last week, Walter, above, and his grandfather, also Walter, found another rattler, the only sort native to Michigan, creeping near the side of the house. It, too, met its demise.

Some repairs and procedures were discussed and clarified. With the membership and help from others, there will be another successful fair beginning Aug. 25 and ending Aug. 29.

The next work bee will be held Thursday, Aug. 13. Anyone interested in helping will be welcomed.

Pewabic Pottery Severing MSU Ties

Detroit's historic Pewabic Pottery, operated as an education center by Michigan State University since 1965, will be transferred to a non-profit Detroit organization by early fall.

The Pewabic Society, a public foundation established in 1979 with historical and education objectives, will manage the facility and continue its preservation.

Legislator Seeks Tax Removal From Heating Bills

Twenty-third District State Representative Mary Keith Ballantine (R-Jackson) has announced at a luncheon meeting with area senior citizens that she will introduce legislation removing the state sales tax from home heating bills as soon as the Michigan House of Representatives reconvenes in September.

If approved by the legislature and the Governor, residential customers would receive the equivalent of a four percent cut in their heating bills.

Ballantine estimated that consumers would save an estimated $145 million annually at the current price of home heating fuel and that the savings would be more as the price increases.

Not Everything Causes Cancer

Sometimes it seems like almost everything you eat, drink or breathe causes cancer. Actually, very few substances are cancer-causing.

To help explain how the causes are identified, the Department of Health and Human Services has a booklet called Everything Doesn't Cause Cancer. For your free copy, write to Consumer Information Center, Dept. 580J, Pueblo, Colo. 81009.

Not every chemical causes cancer, but it's hard to identify which agents are the culprits, since suspected chemicals are tested on laboratory animals, not people, and high doses are often used. But when direct human exposure to cancer-causing substances occurs, exposed populations are studied. For example, we know that people exposed to tobacco smoke or asbestos develop a higher frequency of lung cancer than others. Scientists have identified about 30 agents that cause cancer in humans.

There is no one cause of cancer. Cancer is actually many different diseases with many causes. Most human cancers probably are caused in part by the environment, from man-made and natural chemicals found in the air, water, food and the workplace. X-rays, sunlight, and certain viruses are also carcinogens, that is, "cancer-causing agents." Sometimes, you are exposed to cancer-causing agents from your own actions, such as by smoking or by eating habits.

When people are exposed to several carcinogens at the same time, the resulting cancer rate may be higher than the risk of one added to the other. For example, cigarette smoking and asbestos exposure are both carcinogens. But, asbestos workers who smoke have a higher cancer risk than one might predict by adding the risk of smoking to the risk of asbestos.

Human cancers don't usually appear until 5 to 40 years after exposure. Cancers of the liver, lung or bladder, for example, may not show up until 30 years after a person is exposed to vinyl chloride, asbestos, or benzidine. This long latent period is one reason why it is so difficult to know what causes human cancer.

ACE PITCHER Amy Unterbrink discusses technique with Coach Charles Waller during practice Thursday at Chelsea High school in preparation for a double-header Friday night. Amy will be travelling to the A.S.A. National Championships in Santa Maria, Calif. this week in hopes of bringing home a victory with her pitching skills.

Amy Unterbrink Pitches Raiders to Regional Title

Fans attending the American Softball Association (ASA) 18-and-under Girls Great Lakes Regional Fast Pitch Tournament in Saginaw last week-end were treated to an outstanding display of speed and endurance on the part of Chelsea's ace pitcher, Amy Unterbrink.

Following in the tradition of excellent Chelsea pitchers such as Nanette Push and Anita Powell, Amy Unterbrink earned recognition this summer as one of the best pitchers in the state of Michigan, by pitching Saginaw township Schraders Raiders to the Regional Championship. Amy was picked up by Schrader's Raiders after the Chelsea team was eliminated during the State Championship Tournament.

Amy pitched four games on Saturday for the Raiders, winning three and losing one as she pitched the hard hitting Raiders to the Regional Championship. Amy took on Kanes Truck Parts from Waterford and tossed a two-hit shutout, to post a 2-0 win for her first victory of the day.

In the second game, immediately following the opening win, Amy faced arch rival Royal Oak Dondero. Amy dominated the game from the beginning as the Raiders scored four runs in the first inning and Amy gave up just two unearned runs as she pitched a strong four-hitter against one of the best hitting teams in the state. Schraders Raiders came away with a fine 7-2 victory to remain in the winner's bracket.

In the championship game against Holland who had been beaten by Dondero, 4-0, in their first game of the day, the Raiders failed to score and gave up four unearned runs as Schraders picked up their first loss in the Double Elimination Tournament. Holland and the Raiders immediately faced off with one loss each for the final game of the Regional. Holland jumped off to an early lead, 1-0, but the Raiders came back to tie the game and take a 2-1 lead. However, Holland was not done yet as they fought back to take a 3-2 lead into the top of the seventh inning. Now it was Schraders turn to rally and they tied the game and took a 5-3 lead into the bottom of the seventh inning.

Amy took the mound in the bottom of the seventh inning and struck out the first two batters and then put the game away as the last batter lifted an easy ball to right field.

Chelsea's Coach Waller remarked, "Everyone has always admitted that Amy threw well, but today she proved she has the stamina and can go the distance to win. If anything, Amy threw harder in the fourth game and proved that she has matured as an outstanding pitcher. Amy took the third-place team in the State Tournament and pitched them to the Regional Championship, proving that she was the difference."

Schraders Raiders also picked up Martha Rogers from the Richard team and her fine performance behind the plate in catching Amy all four games and her key hitting were major factors in the Schrader victory in the Regional.

The team is now preparing to go to the National Tournament in Santa Maria, Calif., which takes place Aug. 12 through Aug. 16.

Area Amateur Hockey Gets Boost for Season

A significant addition to the Ann Arbor area amateur hockey scene is under way for this coming season.

The AJL Midget Major Hockey Club has been assigned a franchise in the Michigan National Hockey League for the 1981-82 season. The MNHL is the top AAA Hockey League in the nation. During the 1980-81 season MNHL teams beat Canada's best at international tournaments in Canada and their championship team, Little Caesars, went on to win the USA nationals, then traveled to Finland and Russia to play and win against the best over there and achieve an unofficial world championship.

Including the AJL Club brings several benefits to the MNHL which has been a greater Detroit league until now. Many excellent players for whom it has been geographically impractical to consider the MNHL will now be able to play. MNHL hockey will gain exposure and support over a much broader area of Michigan. MNHL players will skate under the observation of U. of M. hockey coach, John Giardano, and MSU coach, Ron Mason, both of whom enthusiastically support the idea of an MNHL midget team playing in Ann Arbor and Lansing, and this should lead to more Michigan hockey players winning scholarships at our state universities. This also sets the stage for establishing a future Great Lakes Hockey League Junior Team franchise in Ann Arbor.

There will be 12 teams this season: eight from greater Detroit; plus AJL, Sarnia, Ontario; Windsor, Ontario; and Kent-Akron, Ontario.

The AJL team will be composed of superior players from the Ann Arbor area, Jackson, Lansing and Western Detroit suburbs. This spring the club played in the Plymouth Spring League, winning four of their last five games and finishing second.

Several of the players were selected as the one of the four best midgets in their district to attend the second annual U. S. Olympic Team School in Colorado Springs this August, a school established to help develop and select the next U. S. Olympic Hockey Team. The AJL team will be a skating club with emphasis on passing and a criss-crossing approach to moving the puck down the ice. They play a fast and exciting game for both team and fans. Home ice will be at Yost Ice Arena at U. of M. in Ann Arbor and Munn Ice Arena at Michigan State in East Lansing.

Fast Pitch Team Downs Dexter

Monday evening found the Chelsea team of the 16-18 Fast Pitch Softball League coasting to an easy 20-6 victory over its Dexter-oriented opposition.

Clinching the victory were 11 runs scored in the second inning. Karla Peterson boomed a big hit to kick off the rally.

Others contributing to the win was Beth Unterbrink, on the mound, with Kelly Hawker in relief. This win recorded Unterbrink's second victory of the season.

Circus Preview Offered in Grass Lake

The Grass Lake Lions Club will present a special preview Tuesday, Aug. 11 to the Franzen Bros. Circus performances to be held Tuesday, Aug. 25 at 6 p.m. and 8 p.m. The prelude to the circus will begin at 8 p.m. tonight at the Grass Lake Community Building on Union St.

Featured at the performance will be clowns, jugglers and all sorts of animals. Admission to this special preview of the Michigan-based circus troupe is free.

Boaters Should Know Common Distress Signals

Knowledge of common boating distress signals could save your life. The code of the sea requires that you render assistance to other boaters in distress, if within your capabilities to do so. Know what your capabilities are. If you can't handle the situation without endangering your boat or passengers, seek help from marine law enforcement officers or other trained rescue personnel.

Always carry a supply of Coast Guard approved hand held signal flares for use during day or night boating activities. Know how to use them. Aerial pyrotechnics are not approved for use in Michigan on inland lakes, due to the possibility of starting fires ashore.

Learn how to use a sun reflection signal mirror to attract attention from airplanes or from shore. They are inexpensive and effective during sunny days.

To attract nearby boaters, wave outstretched arms up and down rapidly. Do not just wave one hand casually. Pleasure boaters may think you are just being friendly. An orange life jacket held aloft on an oar is also a distress signal.

Blow a horn or whistle repeatedly—five or more short blasts.

To send an S-O-S with a flashlight, signal 3 dots, 3 dashes, 3 dots.

Stay with your boat. Don't panic. Many people who attempt to swim to shore for help drown, because they tend to underestimate the distance. Cold water shortens life expectancy of even good swimmers, due to hypothermia. If your boat is capsized or partially sunk, keep as much of your body out of the water as possible to prevent heat loss.

For more information, take a Coast Guard Auxiliary course in boating safety. Call Flotilla Commander Albert Chaffee, 313/994-4674, between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m.

Michigan sold more than 5,695,000 flats of bedding plants last year, ranking second to California in the industry. And, California's products result from two growing seasons, not one as in Michigan. The floriculture industry in our state earned $44.3 million to rank fifth in the nation.

Michigan Department of Agriculture plant industry inspectors want to make sure that when you buy plants or seeds you pay for healthy plants, not garden pests. Nursery licensing, seed and label inspection are among the consumer protection services offered by MDA.

One in every four Americans alive today will get cancer in his or lifetime. However, 45 percent of those people will survive at least five years after diagnosis and treatment. There are more than three million Americans alive today who have had cancer. When you have questions about cancer, call the Michigan Cancer Foundation's Public Response line at 1-800-462-9191.

Shortwave Radio Club Seeks Members in Area

Have you ever wished for a direct news broadcast from those very countries that make headlines everyday? How about a direct news line from Madrid, Spain offering an analysis of that country's recent turbulent news events?

Would a program about culture in China—direct from Peking—interest you?

Few people realize that up-to-the-minute information, in English, from around the world is available through shortwave radio.

The Washtenaw Area DX Club (WADXC), an organization exploring the world of international shortwave radio listening, will soon be holding its annual membership meeting.

WADXC members are primarily interested in receiving and analyzing international radio broadcasts. Its members do not broadcast radio signals and should not be confused with "ham radio" operators.

The club holds monthly informal meetings and discusses events, activities and publications dealing with international broadcasting. Unusual station receptions by members are noted, discussed and logged. Members share suggestions concerning the purchase of short-wave equipment and antenna construction.

A highlight of the meetings is the sharing of frequencies currently in use by such stations as the Voice of Vietnam, All India Radio, British Broadcasting Corporation, Radio Prague, Radio Cairo, Radio Madrid, Vatican Radio and Radio Moscow among many others.

The majority of foreign broadcasters feature English language programs to the U.S. You needn't be a linguist to enjoy international radio. Broadcasts provide an entirely different view of current news events from around the world allowing the listener to be truly informed. Programs also feature fascinating insights into a country's culture and people.

WADXC welcomes anyone interested in learning more about international shortwave radio regardless of age or previous experience with radio. For further information call 487-0220 before 5 p.m. or 434-6414 or 483-4162 after 5 p.m.

In the Traverse region are Boskydel on the Leelanau peninsula, Chateau Grand Travers on Old Mission peninsula, and Leelanau, south of Traverse City.

Schools Ticket Policy Announced

At the regular meeting of the Chelsea School District Board of Education held Monday, Aug. 3, a 1981-82 athletic ticket policy was adopted by Board members.

Individual tickets for Beach Middle school sports will cost 50-cents for both adults and students as will boys and girls basketball, wrestling and volleyball.

High school sports will carry a higher price tag; offered to adults and students at a cost of $1 for freshman and junior varsity sports and $2 for all varsity sports.

In school terminology, an adult is any person who is 18 years of age or older and is not currently enrolled as a regular full-time student at a secondary school. Students are any boys or girls currently enrolled as a regular student in grades one through 12.

In addition to single game tickets, coupon books are available for both adults and students. These books contain five tickets each and are redeemable at any regularly scheduled sporting contest. Such books are offered to the patron at a cost of $7 for adults, $4 for CHS and Beach school students and $2 for elementary school students.

Pirates Down Orioles For Little League Title

Pirates 4, Orioles 1

The 1981 Little League season came to a close Monday evening as the Pirates and the Orioles paired off for the championship.

Coach Murphy's Pirates capped a great Little League season, in which they were co-league champs with the Orioles, by defeating those same Orioles, under the leadership of Coach Petsch, 4-1, to win the double elimination tournament.

For the Pirates, Bobby Clouse and Greg Boughton each pitched three innings, shutting down the Oriole bats.

The Pirates got singles from Tyler Lewis with two, Greg Boughton with one, Larry Moore with three and Ted Lewis and Brady Murphy with one single each. Tyler Lewis also stroked a triple.

Pirate Tyler Lewis was also a nightmare on the bases as he stole three times and scored three runs.

For the Orioles, Matt Kemp went the distance, pitching a solid game. Nevertheless, defensive miscues opened the gates to Pirate scoring opportunities. The Oriole hits belonged to Mike Swearingen and John Cattell. Sean Lausar made a super catch in left field.

Learning By Doing 4-H Club Plans Fall Reorganization

On Tuesday, Aug. 4, the Lima-Scio Learning By Doing 4-H Club met at Mrs. Keith Bradbury's home and had a "blue ribbon" recipe exchange.

Other summer activities included measuring practice, cookie making, discussion of luncheon menus, soup and salad standards, a salad-making demonstration and a tasting party.

Members also brought to meetings for evaluation, samples of products from recipes tried at home. All members exhibited at the annual Washtenaw county 4-H fair.

In late September, it is expected that the club will reorganize for the fall-winter season. Perspective members may contact Mrs. Bradbury at 475-8316.

The automatic, 351 V-8 van will be purchased by the Chelsea School District for a total cost of $10,085 and will be used for the transport of foods to Beach Middle school and North and South Elementary schools.

The former food service van will remain with the District and will be used to transport furniture, janitorial supplies and the like throughout the school system.

Soil Sampling Service Now Available

Washtenaw County Soil Conservation District is now offering an Agricultural Soil Sampling Service. With this service, a district staff member will visit the property of interested landowners to take soil samples. Approximately 15 to 20 samples will be taken per 10 acres of land. One composite sample will then be made from these samples and sent to the Michigan State University Testing Laboratory for analysis. Charges for the service will be $1.50 per acre, with a 20-acre minimum required. This charge includes the MSU soil testing cost.

Following analysis, landowners will then receive a report, indicating existing available nutrients in the soil, recommendations on the amount of lime and fertilizer that can be applied, based on the type of crop to be grown on the soil; and the maximum potential yield expected from the soil type.

For further information about the Conservation District's Soil Sampling Service, interested landowners should contact the District office at 6101 Jackson Rd., Ann Arbor 48103. Telephone: (313) 761-6721.

The Sylvan Township Board at their regular meeting held Tuesday, August 4, 1981, unanimously adopted the following:

1. Delete definition of "Trailer Coach" in Article 2.
2. Delete existing Section 3.14 and replace with the following:

"SECTION 3.14—MOBILE HOMES

A. Purpose—This section of the zoning ordinance is designed to establish regulations under which mobile homes may be used as single-family dwellings on lots outside of mobile home parks. It is hereby recognized that other forms of manufactured housing, commonly referred to as prefabricated, modular, or sectional housing, among other names, are and have been permitted in Sylvan Township, on individual lots, in any zoning district in which single-family dwellings are permitted, provided such units comply with the adopted building code and zoning requirements. This section intends to treat mobile homes in a similar fashion, while recognizing the unique features of their construction. The regulations contained in this section are specifically designed to:

1. Insure compliance of mobile homes on individual lots with all zoning regulations applicable to all other single-family dwellings permitted in Sylvan Township.
2. Insure compliance with the Michigan State Construction Code and all Township codes, in addition to the zoning ordinance, for the protection of the public health, safety, and welfare.
3. To be aesthetically compatible with other single-family dwellings in the community.

1. The lot shall be located in a zoning district which permits single-family dwellings.
2. The lot and the mobile home shall comply with all regulations of the zoning district in which located.
3. The mobile home shall meet all requirements for residential mobile units, as provided in the Michigan State Construction Code.
4. The mobile home shall be placed on and anchored to a permanent foundation wall. The wall shall meet all requirements of the Michigan State Construction Code and shall completely enclose the area under the mobile home. The area so enclosed shall not be less than the ground floor area of the mobile home. The method of anchoring the mobile home to the foundation wall shall meet all State of Michigan requirements.
5. The wheels, tongue and hitch, or other towing appurtenances, shall be removed before attaching the mobile home to the foundation wall.
6. The mobile home shall be connected to public water and sanitary sewer lines, where available, according to Township standards and specifications, or to a well and septic tank, on the same lot as the mobile home, approved by the County Health Department.
7. The mobile home shall be aesthetically compatible in design and appearance with conventional on-site constructed housing, and other types of approved manufactured housing. Compatibility shall be determined by the following standards.

- a. Exterior walls shall be finished with natural or simulated natural materials, common to single-family dwellings such as, but not limited to, beveled siding, vertical siding, board and batten siding, or brick.
- b. Front and rear or front and side exterior doors.
- c. A roof drainage system which will collect, and discharge of, roof drainage, and will avoid roof drainage along the sides of the dwellings.
8. A building permit shall be required for construction of the foundation wall, for placement of the mobile home on the lot, and for any addition to the mobile home. A building permit shall not be issued until a health permit has been issued by the County Health Department, where applicable and until a certificate of zoning compliance has been issued in accordance with Article 58, herein, and is in effect. The mobile home shall not be occupied until a certificate of occupancy has been issued as provided in Article 58, herein, and is in effect. Any addition to a mobile home shall meet all requirements of the Michigan State Construction Code.
9. The mobile home, prior to any additions, shall have a minimum floor area of 1,000 square feet, a minimum exterior width of 24 feet for at least one side elevation, and a minimum floor-to-ceiling height of 7.5 feet.
10. Not more than one mobile home shall be used as a single-family dwelling on a lot, nor shall a mobile home be placed on any lot on which another single-family dwelling is located. A mobile home shall not be used as an accessory building in any residential district.
11. A mobile home shall not be removed from a foundation until a permit therefore has been issued in accordance with the Michigan State Construction Code.
12. A storage area shall be provided for a mobile home in a basement, closet areas, attic, or in a separate fully enclosed structure. Such storage area shall have an area of at least 15 percent of the interior living area of the dwelling, exclusive of storage space for automobiles.

SECTION 2. All remaining provisions of the Sylvan Township Zoning Ordinance and all prior amendments not inconsistent herewith be and the same are hereby ratified and reaffirmed.

SECTION 3. The within amending Ordinance shall be published and filed as provided by law.

Jaycees Sponsoring Magic Show Aug. 19

The Chelsea Jaycees will bring the magic of the Kevin James show to the village, Wednesday, Aug. 19. The single performance will be presented at 7 p.m. at the Chelsea High school auditorium.

Magician Kevin James was born in France and has performed his illusions for 11 years. He has developed his own style of performance, with the necessary qualities to keep you on the edge of your seat. According to James, magic is the most entertaining of the art forms when properly combined with the elements of theater.

"My main objective in my performance is not necessarily to fool the audience with a puzzle. That only reaches them on the logical level. I would rather totally entertain the audience to my fullest capacity as a performer and reach them on the emotional level as well. Magic is merely my tool or vehicle with which to entertain," he explained.

He prefers performing large illusions because of their versatility and potential entertainment value. "When I can combine magic with the elements of dance, music, lighting, and scenery, it is possible to achieve a level of entertainment not found in most magical shows. I am also trying break the mold of the stereotyped magicians. Top hat and tails just aren't my style. I feel that the magicians of today must have extensive backgrounds in music, dance and theater as well as magic."

James, a resident of Jonesville, has been studying dance and choreography at Jackson Community College for two years and will be attending Western Michigan University this fall as a dance and theater major.

In total, James explains, "If there is one thing that I could tell someone about the show, it would be that the magic they would see is something for the whole family, not just kids, not just adults, but specifically designed to be enjoyed by the whole family, truly a magical experience."

Tickets for this evening of mystifying entertainment will be available in advance at the Village Bakery and also at the door. Babes in arms will be admitted free.

mitted free to the two-hour performance.

All proceeds gathered will be utilized for community service. For further information, contact Don Davis at 665-9031.

Iran Continues Killing Members of Baha'i Faith

Wilmette, Ill. May 2, 1981—Three more members of the beleaguered Baha'i religion in Iran, Messrs. Yad'u'llah Vahdat, Ehsan'u'llah Mehdizadeh, and Satter Khoshkou, were executed by a government firing squad in Shiraz on Thursday, April 30, 1981 at 10 p.m. All three men were members of Baha'i institutions in Iran.

The families of the victims were barred from visiting the condemned men before their execution. The bodies of the victims were taken immediately to a cemetery by government officials, and only 40 mourners were allowed to attend the burial. Iranian officials, who feared a repetition of the outpouring grief that attended the death of Dr. Manuchehr Hakim in January, warned them against any demonstration. Thousands of Iranian Baha'is and non-Baha'is had mourned the death of Dr. Hakim, an internationally famous Iranian physician, after his shooting in January, 1981. The local Baha'i Community of Dexter township has expressed dismay at these incidents.

Baha'i officials in the United States have feared an escalation of the program directed against their co-religionists in Iran. In mid-March 1981, two other members of a local Baha'i governing body were executed in Shiraz after a High Court of Justice in Iran upheld both the sentence and verdict on these two men. Among the charges were teaching the Baha'i religion and membership in Baha'i institutions. In fact, before the news of these most recent executions reached the United States, the National Spiritual Assembly of the Baha'is of the United States had called upon the American people to join in the mounting outcry against the persecution of Iranian Baha'is. As recently as Thursday afternoon, at the very hour that the persecutions were taking place in Iran, James Nelson, chairman of the National Spiritual Assembly of the Baha'is of the United States, was warning at a press conference, "The Baha'is are experiencing a religious bloodletting in Iran evidencing systematic genocide. The governments and people of other countries have made their protest known. It is time for the American people to take a stand on the accelerating atrocity in Iran."

His remarks were made as the American Baha'i community held its annual Convention in Chicago.

Thursday night's executions in Shiraz were made more tragic by the circumstances surrounding the event. The daughter of Mr. Vahdat had gone to Tehran to obtain a letter from a high source interceding for her father. When local authorities in Shiraz learned of her return with this letter, she also was imprisoned immediately and barred from presenting the letter. Mr. Vahdat's wife has been in prison for several months, where she has suffered a massive heart attack and paralysis. She is still imprisoned in Shiraz.

Commenting on Thursday night's executions, Glenford Mitchell, secretary and chief executive officer of the National Spiritual Assembly of the Baha'is of the United States stated, "These latest murders in Iran add to the long list of atrocities directed against the Iranian Baha'i community by government officials. There can no longer be any doubt that the Baha'is are the innocent victims of a systematic, genocidal campaign. The modern world cannot tolerate silently, religious persecution any longer."

Mandatory Safety Belt Law Urged By Auto Club

The Automobile Club of Michigan today (July 29) proposed an all-out effort to make safety belt use mandatory in Michigan as a measure which could help reduce the state's traffic death toll by at least 50 percent.

Auto Club President Jack Avignone said the 1.3-million-member organization would direct an education program at the Legislature, Auto Club members and the motoring public in support of a mandatory safety belt use law.

"If a mandatory belt law had been in effect in Michigan, the lives of 423 of the 846 persons killed during the 1970-80 summer holidays could have been saved," Avignone said.

"Findings from our most recent traffic safety study show that drivers and passengers who buckle up could survive a traffic crash with minimal, or no injuries," he added.

The study—"Portrait of Michigan's 15-Year Effort to 'Bring 'Em Back Alive' on Three Major Summer Holidays"—was unveiled at a special meeting of Auto Club's "Bring 'Em Back Alive" Committee at Fairlane Manor in Dearborn.

A mandatory safety belt use law is part of the study's five-point program to significantly reduce traffic deaths in Michigan. The other recommendations include:

—Extending State Police "Operation CARE"—type traffic enforcement programs from freeways to two-lane roads.

—A crackdown on drinking drivers by police, prosecutors and judges.

—Legislation to revoke the licenses of persons who drive on suspended licenses.

—Legislation requiring motorcyclists to drive with headlights on to make them more visible as well as retaining the present motorcycle helmet law.

"Auto Club is concerned that federal studies now show only about 10 percent of drivers in the United States wear safety belts even though their effectiveness in reducing deaths and the severity of accidents has been well documented by research," Avignone said.

Auto Club Holiday News Service records show that of the 71 persons killed in vehicles during the six major summer holidays in 1979-80, 68 (96 percent) were not wearing their safety belts.

Avignone also cited a recent American Seat Belt Council survey which showed substantial savings in health and other accident-related costs in many of the 21 countries with safety belt use laws.

"In Sweden, where belt use rose from 8 to 85 percent in cities and from 33 to 90 percent on highways, fatalities and serious injuries dropped by 47 percent for drivers and by 67 percent for passengers," he said. "Ontario also reported significant reductions in serious injuries after a mandatory belt law was enacted."

Avignone praised the effectiveness of Operation CARE (Combined Accident Reduction Effort) and urged that state, county and local police expand the program to county roads, where 45 percent of Michigan's 1970-79 summer holiday fatal accidents occurred.

"Additional highway traffic patrols now appear in jeopardy because of the recent cutbacks in federal funding for Operation CARE, but they are urgently needed," he said.

In examining both drinking and high-point drivers, Auto Club's study found both to be major causes of fatal traffic accidents.

"We strongly encourage prosecutors and judges to work together in convicting drunk drivers of the original arrest charge, especially if it is a second or third drinking and driving offense," Avignone said.

Congressman
JIM DUNN
Reports from Washington

Washington, D. C. — In recent years, many Americans have become increasingly concerned about several aspects of the social security system. As benefits have increased and the working population has matured, the social security trust funds built up in earlier years have diminished. Many people, especially younger workers, have begun to question whether sufficient benefits will be available when they reach retirement age. In addition, older Americans, hard hit by inflation, have found their social security benefits, even when combined with other income, inadequate to meet their basic financial needs.

Generally speaking, three broad options are available for restoring financial stability to the social security system: (1) increasing taxes; (2) decreasing benefits; (3) extending coverage. I would be very concerned about any suggestions to raise the payroll tax. It already constitutes too heavy a burden on working people. Further increases in the taxable earnings base would also be highly inflationary. In addition, I would strongly oppose any effort to change the basic social security benefits on which so many Americans depend. Eliminating the annual indexing of social security benefits that helps retirees keep up with the cost of living is unacceptable.

Nevertheless, it is clear that Congress must act quickly to restore stability to the Social Security system. Without legislation to that effect, the system will shortly face serious financial difficulties. Recognizing the need to remedy 25 years of Congressional mismanagement, the President recently proposed a number of changes in the system which, in his view, are necessary to preserve the integrity of the trust funds. While many have criticized the President's proposal, it is important to remember that he has performed a valuable function in alerting the Congress and the American people to the system's problems.

A number of the President's proposals are designed to encourage workers to wait until age 65 to retire. For example, workers electing early retirement at age 62 now receive 80 percent of their full retirement benefits. The Administration's plan would reduce early retirement benefits to 55 percent of the maximum, thus encouraging employees to continue working until age 65.

The Administration would also phase out the current $5,500 annual earnings limit on those over 65. The figure would rise to $10,000 in 1983, $15,000 in 1984, $20,000 in 1985, until elimination in 1986. The Administration also favors ending "windfall" benefits for those workers who engage in social security-covered employment for a short time and qualify for benefits disproportionate to their contributions. Finally, the President would shift the payment date of the annual cost of living increase from July 1 to Oct. 1 beginning in 1982. The House recently rejected this change and kept the annual increase at July 1.

The Administration has also proposed the modification of certain "add-on" benefit programs, such as the social security minimum benefit and the student benefit program. The House has agreed to eliminate the $122 per month minimum benefit for new beneficiaries after January 1982, and current beneficiaries after April 1982. Student payments will be phased out at a rate of 25 percent per year over the next four years. Beginning in June 1982, no new beneficiaries will be added to the program.

While I recognize the good intent behind the Administration's proposals to stabilize the social security trust funds, I have serious difficulties with many of the changes. Older workers have based their retirement plans on current benefit levels. Before we reduce those levels, it seems to me that we should first examine some of the recommendations recently put forth by the National Commission on Social Security. These recommendations include inter-fund borrowing and the use of general revenues for activities such as the hospital insurance program.

Another area which deserves attention is extending coverage to those workers such as federal employees who are now exempt from the system. The inclusion of uncovered workers would eliminate certain inequities and produce an infusion of revenue.
