RAY VAN MEER, Superintendent of the Chelsea Schools, discusses educational processes in the People's Republic of China with a student at one of the country's many universities. Van Meer and 27 other Michigan educators traveled to China last July as part of the People to People program. During his two-week stay, Van Meer and his constituents met with various educators in the world's most populated country. During the Cultural Revolution of 1966-1976, intellectuals fled and schools closed. Now, however, there is a serious attempt to restore education to its status prior to the revolution.

Supt. Van Meer Finds China Renewing Interest in Schools

Last July, Chelsea Superintendent of Schools Ray Van Meer and a number of other Michigan educators traveled to the People's Republic of China for a two-week stay. The trip was made possible by the People to People International Travel Program. The purpose of the trip was to study China's educational system, meet with Chinese educators and visit schools to discuss development of education in the world's most highly populated country.

The group of 28 left July 11 from Los Angeles and landed in Peking 14½ hours later, following a momentary stop in Tokyo and crossing of the international date line.

Upon their arrival, the Michigan "delegation" was met with a national guide and interpreter who remained with them throughout the trip. In addition, a local guide met the group at each of the cities—Peking, Tientsin, Shanghai and Canton—they visited.

Everywhere the group visited, they investigated the educational system ranging from pre-schools to day care centers, middle schools to universities. The group met with the Minister of Education while in Peking and encouraged an exchange of people and ideas. It was, in Van Meer's terminology, a chance to provide American educators with the opportunity to get into dialogue with the Chinese people and educators in a country where education is revered.

During the Cultural Revolution from 1966 to 1976, teachers and other educators were persecuted and schools were closed. The Cultural Revolution was anti-intellectual and educators fled the country, but since 1976 the Chinese have attempted to restore education to the status it held before the revolution as a means of making up for the educational gap.

Education is very important and though not mandatory, 93 percent of China's school age children attend school. Upon graduation of high school, which lasts through the 10th grade, 97 percent of all graduates are assigned jobs which are possibly based on interests. Those who score well on the national examination for college-bound students total three percent. Therefore, of the seven to eight million high school students, no more than 300,000 enter China's 675 colleges and universities.

Of those selected for college, some are chosen to attend one of the 172 colleges for teachers. Of these, some 5,000 are sent abroad to learn Western techniques though what is taught and how it is taught is determined by the government.

The opportunities that are opened to the educated encourage attendance at school and intellectualism is evident everywhere beginning under a street light in the evening, where the Chinese gather to read while waiting for a trolley.

At the middle school visited by Van Meer and his cohorts, a total of 240 staff members taught 1,400 students who were divided into 30 classrooms. A total of 10 to 12 classes were taught per week and homework per evening ranged in the 1½ hour bracket.

In high school—which is completed at grade 10 though a move toward 12 grades is being made—students received approximately two hours of homework per night. Of the seven to eight million high school students in Chinese schools, only 300,000 or so enter college upon graduation.

China is also responsible for a major educational program for adults called "spare time education," which is similar to the Western Community Education pattern. In Tientsin alone, more than 600,000 persons are taking part in the program which, in and of itself, exemplifies the importance of education in the country.

In addition to the educational aspects studied, the Michigan "delegation" was able to sightsee and savor what few Westerners have been able to experience. According to Van Meer, the Chinese people are very friendly toward Americans and if he was alone and speaking in English to someone on a crowded street, he and his companion would often draw a curious crowd of 30 to 40 bystanders.

Accommodations were spartan though very adequate in Van Meer's opinion, complete with air conditioning. Food was varied, each province and group of people offering a different variation on the basic staple foods of rice, chicken, fish, prawns and vegetables. Eggs were served each day.

Throughout the country there was evidence of much construction of apartments in an attempt to convert the worst housing into liveable quarters. Nevertheless, there was still evidence of the Tientsin earthquake of 1976; the rubble of fallen buildings and temporary housing were still standing.

Work in China was observed by the American visitors. There, workers are on the job six days per week and vacations are rare. A number of factories were also perused by the group.

Health seemed to be important; people were seen doing rhythmic exercises on the streets and in the town squares. Occasionally, a jogger would be spotted.

Basic means of transportation were buses and bicycles and Van Meer commented that one time he saw a cyclist riding down the street with a couch perched on his bike. The few cars in the country are frequently used as taxis.

City streets were lined with many trees and much greenery abounded in the urban areas. Following a rabies epidemic a few years ago, just two dogs were spotted in the entire country.

In addition to these foreign ways of life experienced by the American travelers, it was explained that age is revered in the country and that there is deep respect for the elderly. Retired workers wear red arm bands and are given 62 percent of the income they made at their job for 10 to 15 hours per week of community service either directing traffic, sweeping streets or other more simple tasks.

Van Meer and his companions were treated to a visit to the Great Wall, which he explained as an emotional experience, learned to eat with chop sticks and became familiar with enough of the Chinese vocabulary to greet persons they met and each other in the foreign tongue.

Hospital Receives $75,000 Grant from Kresge Foundation

Chelsea Community Hospital has received a $75,000 challenge grant for its new Substance Abuse Residential Care Facility from The Kresge Foundation.

The new facility, a house-like structure located in a wooded area near the main Chelsea Community Hospital building, houses alcohol and drug abuse patients immediately following their stay in the Hospital's acute facility. The new facility, which opened recently, accommodates 12 patients, doubling the current capacity of the Substance Abuse Program.

The Kresge Foundation challenge grant brings the total of the fund-raising drive to $265,000, including a gift of land. The Hospital must raise $300,000 in order to qualify for The Kresge Foundation challenge grant.

The Kresge Foundation awarded 176 grants in 1981, totalling $33,354,000. There were 1,551 grant applicants.

The Kresge Foundation was created solely by the personal gifts of the late Sebastian S. Kresge. Since 1924, appropriations of more than $416 million have been made to institutions in the areas of higher education, health care and related services, the arts and humanities, social welfare, science, conservation, and religion.

Commenting on the Kresge challenge grant, Robert Thornton, Jr., chairman of Chelsea Community Hospital's Board of Trustees, said, "We are very grateful to The Kresge Foundation for its confidence in Chelsea Community Hospital. This challenge grant is extremely important to our fund-raising drive and we are certain will enable us to meet our $300,000 goal. The Substance Abuse Residential Care Facility adds significantly to the care offered by Chelsea Community Hospital to the people of Washtenaw and surrounding counties."

Library Association Makes Recommendations On State Library
Broad powers to plan activities for all Michigan libraries and adequate financing were among the recommendations for the State Library in a report from a special task force of the Michigan Library Association.

Frances Pletz, executive director of the association, declared that whatever can be done to improve the library's services to state government and other libraries should be done, even if it means making the library a separate state agency.

The report makes 22 recommendations for improving the library.

It, however, does not specifically endorse pending legislation in the state Senate which would take the library from the control of the State Board of Education, but added those bills could be necessary to insure "adequate authority, status and support."

Pletz said it would take over $4 million to run the library properly. Current funding is some $2.15 million, most of that coming from the federal government.

Pletz said that federal monies will be cut and the report recommends reducing the functions the library has if adequate funding is not forthcoming from the state.

The report was written by an 11-member task force, headed by Leo Dinnan, director of the Wayne/Oakland Library Federation.

A major recommendation suggests the state library provide service to the different branches of state government.

But the report says the library should have broad authority to plan activities for local and education libraries, including coordinating communications and interlibrary lending activities, gathering statistical data from the different libraries and creating co-ordinated information programs.

Future of Sports in Some Schools Uncertain in Light of Kelley Opinion

Many Michigan public schools are yet uncertain as to the effect an attorney general's ruling will have on the future of their sports programs.

Attorney General Frank J. Kelley recently ruled that public school could not charge a fee for students to participate in interscholastic sporting events.

More than 50 schools in the state began charging participation fees as a way to help fund and even preserve sports in their school systems in light of shrinking budgets.

Kelley said in his formal opinion that boards of education have only such powers as the legislature confers upon them. Among these powers was not the ability to set specific fees for students to participate in athletics.

Kelley went on to say that parents willing to financially support athletic programs may do so by making a financial contribution.

"Those parents may do so and school districts have the authority to accept contributions for that purpose. In addition, parents and others may form clubs or associations for the specific purpose of raising money to aid an interscholastic athletic program," he said.

Tom Farrell, assistant superintendent for public affairs for the Department of Education, said the department would contact all school districts and require the boards to contact all parents who have paid the fee that they are eligible for a refund.

He said the parents, at that time, would also be informed they could leave the amount with the school district as a donation.

Farrell said about 10 percent of the state's 529 K-12 school districts have instituted fees ranging from $10 to $150 per

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Remember the report where ever 45 seconds a jaywalker is knocked down by a car in this country? Somebody said that poor devil ought to go to the corner and wait for the light to change. The fellers at the country store Saturday night was of a mind that victim was trying to cross in the middle of the block to get his choking dog to the vet. They agreed there must be as many Dobermans with fingers stuck in their throats as there are injured jaywalkers.

The discussion got started when Zeke Grubb mentioned a report his old lady come home from church with Wednesday night. She said her circle was buzzing with what one of the members had heard at the beauty parlor in town. A friend of one of the regular customers said her neighbor's sister's cousin come home from work to find her dog gagging at the bathroom door. She took him to the vet, and the doc examined the dog and told her not to go back home, but to call the law. The vet had found parts of three fingers in the dog's throat. The police went to the house and found a man hiding in the bathroom about to bleed to death from the nubs of three fingers.

Zeke's report was like a match to dynamite. The feller that runs the store allowed a truck driver told him the same thing happened to a woman three states away. From there it went around the room, and practical everybody had heard the same thing happened at a different place. All the fellers knowed somebody that knowed somebody that had heard of somebody it happened to. Final, the fellers started wondering if it ever happened at all. After some discussion they come to agreement that somepurn like it probable happened somewhere some time.

Ed Doolittle went on to wonder if a lot of the news ever takes place. When Will Rogers allowed all he knowed was what he read in the papers, Ed said, he couldn't be sure about very much. Fer instant, Ed went on, he had saw where two American scientists are going to Africa to look fer a dinosaur. They held a news conference to announce pigmies in the Congo see a creature 35 foot long come out of a river ever morning to munch on leaves, and they said their description fits the brontasawus that ain't been seen anywhere in this world in 60 million year. Are these fellers fer real, ask Ed, and then he answered by saying they're ever bit as real as them that keep setting nets fer the Lock Nest monster, as real as them doctors in Australia that declared the other day men can have babies good as wimmen, with a few minor adjustments here and there, Ed went on.

Farthermore, broke in Clem Webster, he has trouble swallering the report from Vanderbilt University, where they have come up with a birth control nose spray fer men. And you got to figger, Clem said, if a feller is on the spray he needn't put in fer a job with the Colorado Health Department, where they're looking fer good smellers to enforce the state's anti-odor law. They give a test and a "odor certificate" that's got to be renewed ever year.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

Reading Specialist Available

Do you or your child need to improve your reading or language skills? National news reports indicate that thousands of people's careers suffer because of inadequate training in these skills.

A comprehensive developmental reading program is to be offered this fall in Chelsea through the Community Education Department. According to reading specialist, Susan Harris, this is an intensive 10-week program in which the student's senses are utilized in developing the proper association between sounds and printed symbols. This program has demonstrated a high rate of success with people of all ages, including non-readers and students with learning disabilities.

This phonics program is supplemented with related instruction in study skills and comprehension. Students will improve their capabilities in all areas of the language arts. Also, an interesting residual effect has been noted in improved math skills, although the reason is unknown.

Mrs. Harris taught primary grades for seven years in California where she first developed her interest in students with reading difficulties. After moving to Michigan she pursued this interest by researching specific reading programs and earning a Master of Arts degree in developmental reading at Eastern Michigan University. She has taught the subject in the Chelsea schools for the past three years.

Mrs. Harris feels that for many children who need it, extra help is not always available because of limited space and time in existing programs and most adult non-readers are unable to find any program offering to help them.

The program will begin after school Oct. 5 and continue Monday through Thursday for 10 weeks. Cost of instruction is $30 weekly. All children are required to attend one hour per day for the program to be effective. Convenient payment plans may be arranged at registration. Call the Chelsea Community Education Office for further information.

S. E. Michigan Tourist Hotline Has Answers

The Travel and Tourist Association of Southeast Michigan announces its new Traveline and Sno-line telephone number, 585-7233. Or, to remember it better, dial 585-SAFE.

Traveline and Sno-Line provide visitors and residents with a complete up-to-date listing of events in the 11 counties of Southeast Michigan. Information is given on things to see and so such as: Festivals and Fairs, Plays and Parades, Sports and Shows, Snow and Song; Food and Fun. All this information may be obtained calling 585-7233.

This service is available 24 hours a day, every day of the year. Events are up-dated each Monday and Friday during the summer, spring and fall. The Sno-Line is recorded each day and provides winter sports enthusiasts with current snow conditions in the area.

The Association suggests making a note of the new events number—585-7233—and to use it often. They point out that a dramatic rise in Michigan travel is occurring this year, much of it in close-to-home Southeast Michigan.

RESOLUTION RE: INTERGOVERNMENTAL SELF-INSURING POOLS
WHEREAS, Municipalities throughout the State of Michigan experience increasing difficulties in obtaining and maintaining adequate liability insurance coverage at reasonable premiums; and
WHEREAS, Governmental units are no longer protected by the doctrine of sovereign immunity from tort litigation, resulting in liability coverage which has, with greater frequency, caused municipalities to become targets for lawsuits; and
WHEREAS, there are a growing number of communities who have been unable to secure bids for renewal of policies or have had policies arbitrarily canceled, despite solid claims and low loss records and, thus, being forced into accepting whatever coverage was offered regardless of premium cost, or having to face the potential of calamity inherent in being uninsured; and
WHEREAS, the insurance carriers have indiscriminately categorized government as high risk class, primarily due to their lack on information and data on loss prevention and exposure identification, which if available would more accurately assess risk and equitably correlate to premiums. The lack of statistics, in view of the new legal climate, has made municipal insurance market appear hazardous leaving no avenue of defense for municipalities. Private sector agents can now freely dictate lesser line coverages, impose exclusions of vital coverages, and demand premiums that have become increasingly difficult to bear; and
WHEREAS, there seems to be no apparent relief from the uncertainty in the private market, and, because many of the cities, villages and townships affected are unable to provide the funds necessary to be individually self-insured.
NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Village Council of the Village of Chelsea wishes to go on record in strong support of the Michigan Municipal League's efforts to establish a mutual liability insurance fund to relieve the impact of the insurance crisis on municipalities; and

Cathy Guenther Heads St. Jude's Bike-A-Thon

Mrs. Cathy Guenther has agreed to the chairmanship of the St. Jude Children's Research Hospital Bike-A-Thon in Chelsea to raise funds to support the hospital, according to William J. Kirwen, Director of Development at the internationally recognized hospital.
 St. Jude Children's Research Hospital was founded by entertainer Danny Thomas. The institution opened its doors to the public in 1962 to combat catastrophic diseases which affect children. St. Jude's is non-sectarian, non-discriminatory and completely free of charge to all patients.
 At St. Jude, scientists and physicians are working side by side seeking not only better means of treatment, but also the cause, cure and prevention of these terrible killers.
 All findings and information gained at St. Jude's are shared freely with doctors and hospitals the world over. Thanks to St. Jude Children's Research Hospital, children who have leukemia, Hodgkins disease, sickle cell anemia, and other child-killing diseases now have a better chance to live.
 The funds raised in the Bike-A-Thons this fall will assure the continuation of the life giving work at the hospital.
 The concern which Mrs. Guenther has for the work being performed at St. Jude is greatly appreciated and the children hope that the citizens of the Chelsea area will support the upcoming Bike-A-Thon wholeheartedly.

Views On Dental Health
 By ROBERT A. BURNS, JR., DDS, P.C.
ADULTS AND ORTHODONTICS

Teeth-straightening braces, long associated with school-age children, are now becoming more popular with adults. The American Association of Orthodontists estimates that some 4 million Americans are undergoing orthodontic treatment. Out of this number, over 20% are over age 20.
 Why are so many adults subjecting themselves to the orthodontic regimen? There are several likely explanations. The development of braces that are less noticeable; the ability of many adults to pay dental fees that their parents, perhaps, could not afford; a wider acceptance of braces by an adult generation attuned to self-improvement; concern for good health, and naturally, good looks.
 Until the mid-1960's it was accepted wisdom in the field that braces were for kids. The theory was that orthodontics could be successful only if the patient was still growing. Now, it's generally agreed that, though growth is helpful, it's not always necessary for effective treatment. Today, you can produce the smile you've always wanted, as the circus announcers tout: "For kids of all ages."
 If you have dental health questions you would like to see answered, please mail them to the address below.

Gridders of the Week

GRIDDERS OF THE WEEK include Jeff Lantis, left, and Jeff Klink. Lantis is the Bulldogs' key receiver this season and was named all-region last year despite a poor season for the varsity Bulldogs. Coach Gene LaFave anticipates great things from the 6', 158-pound Lantis this year. He is a senior at Chelsea High school. His pictured cohort is Jeff Klink, a very solid player according to his coach. He will serve in the guard position this season. He is a 5' 9", 167-pound senior.

Selecting A Pond Site

By Clark A. Eacker, District Conservationist U. S. Soil Conservation Service

Perhaps you can envision a shimmering pond on your land but are not sure if you have a suitable site. Here are some places to consider:

1. Areas with a high natural ground water table (water within three feet of the ground surface). These are usually low, marshy areas that may have standing water in them during parts of the year. Typically, these may be wet in the early spring and late fall months.

2. Potholes that are situated so they collect water from the surrounding drainage areas. As a general rule of thumb, a one-acre pond usually requires a drainage area (watershed) of at least six acres to keep it sufficiently full. The surrounding watershed should have a high percentage of vegetative cover to prevent runoff from carrying silt into the pond. It is also desirable that the watershed and proposed pond area be entirely on your own land so that neighboring land uses will not adversely affect your water supply.

3. Land near springs or streams sometimes makes a good pond site. A scooped-out basin below an active spring makes an excellent pond if the soil will hold water.

4. Ravines can be converted to ponds by constructing dams across them. Select a narrow spot in the ravine to reduce the size dam needed. This will cut down on the cost of building the pond.

5. Where ideal conditions do not exist, it is still possible to build a pond by sealing the site with clay or using a vinyl liner and filling the pond with a well. These ponds are normally the most expensive to build because of the additional materials involved and installation costs.

If you have a pond site that meets one of the above requirements, here are some other things to consider:

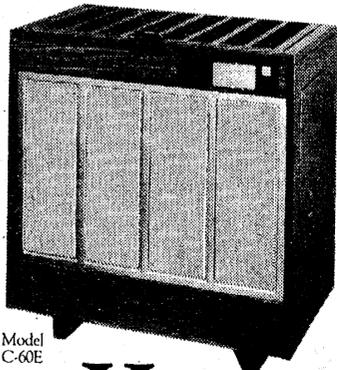

1. Are there any pollution sources near-by? Water draining from a barnyard could contaminate the water. Seepage from a septic field could be a pollution threat. Fertilizers, pesticides and silt endanger water quality.

2. Is the site large enough? Is there enough room to dispose of the soil removed during the excavation process? Unless the soil is to be hauled away, an area equal in size to the pond is needed to spread the excess soil.

3. What about the over-all location? A site near your home and buildings affords good visibility, fire protection and a possible source for livestock. Consider the wind direction. Locate beach areas on the prevailing wind side of the pond, if possible, to keep leaves and other debris from collecting there. Wind and wave action carries surface debris. Too many deciduous trees on the windward side of the pond will add to the leaf problem.

If, after taking all things into consideration, you are still uncertain of the feasibility of your pond site, contact the U. S. Soil Conservation Service Office at 6101 Jackson Rd., Ann Arbor, telephone: (313) 761-6721. A free checklist entitled "Steps in Building A Pond" is available upon request.

CLOSING COSTS

Prospective home buyers will sometimes figure out the costs involved in owning and buying a home, including mortgage payments, taxes, heat, insurance, etc. After all the figuring, they decide they can afford it, and proceed toward final negotiations.

Then... something comes up—something they either didn't know about or knew about and forgot. Closing costs. Even people who have heard about them sometimes don't know exactly what they are.

Closing costs are a number of necessary fees and costs involved in the sale of a home. They could include such items as title search and insurance; land survey, mortgage and transaction tax; bank charges; deed, title, and mortgage recording fees; legal fees; and home inspection.

It's always important to keep closing costs in mind when figuring out the cost of a home. We always make a point of keeping our buyers clients informed regarding them right from the beginning, so that there won't be any surprises when it comes to financing. When it comes to financing, the one thing you DON'T need is a last minute surprise.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at FRISINGER REALTY CO., 935 S. Main St., Chelsea. Phone: 475-8881; evenings 475-2621. We're here to help!

Rural Clean Water Projects Offer Pollution Problem Help

The Saline Valley Project is one of 21 Rural Clean Water Projects sponsored by the U. S. Department of Agriculture under the Rural Clean Water Program which was enacted by Congress in 1979 to provide solutions to the problem of water pollution from non-point agricultural sources. The success of these 21 scattered projects will, in part, determine the future use of similar projects at other locations.

The target of the Saline Valley Project is the sediment, fertilizer, manure and pesticides which run off agricultural land into the streams and rivers of the project area. The Saline Valley Project offers owners and operators of agricultural land in the project area technical and financial assistance for the application of water quality improvement practices. Total funding for financial assistance to Saline Valley Project participants is $2.4 million for cost-share to farmers, with a $50,000 funding limit per participant.

The Saline Valley Project is voluntary. It depends on the support and co-operation of those in the project area for its success.

One local family farm has cooperated with USDA and is planning a dairy manure storage pit to alleviate run-off problems. Staking of the land and excavating are scheduled to begin Wednesday, Sept. 16.

Dennis and Jerry Huehl, 3840 S. Fletcher Rd., are brothers who have been farming in partnership since 1975. Two Brown Swiss are kept in their 60 head Holstein milking herd as a reminder of the herd their father milked when they were boys. Through the Saline Valley Project, the Huehls are installing practices that will prevent polluted barnyard and cropland run-off from getting into the Grau drain of Mill Creek. The planned manure storage pit will, according to Dennis, "allow us to spread animal waste when soil conditions are right for incorporation, which will reduce run-off problems." The brothers also plan to control wash-outs on their farm by installing erosion control structures at three locations.

Chisel plowing, a technique untried by the Huehls, will be done on part of the farm to control cropland erosion.

The main problem to be controlled is water pollution from manure run-off. The Huehl farm, as well as others participating in the Saline Valley Project, will receive technical advice and financial assistance from the Saline Valley Project for the application of manure and erosion control practices. The farm will work with the Co-Operative Extension Service to develop fertilizer and pesticide management programs. The project is promoting regular soil testing and pest monitoring so fertilizers and pesticides are not used in excess of what is needed for productive crop growth.

Individuals need to be within the project area to participate in the Saline Valley Project which is located in Washtenaw and Monroe counties and totals approximately 200,000 acres in size. The Saline River, River Raisin, Macon Drain, Honey Creek and Mill Creek are the major drainage ways in the Project Area. Although not included in the project area, the Huron River is directly affected by activities on Mill Creek, which flows into the Huron River near Dexter.

Agricultural activities can result in increased amounts of sediment, nutrients and pesticides in streams, rivers and lakes. Water-carried sediment destroys fish habitat, fills river channels and reservoirs, and reduces water value for recreational, urban and industrial uses. Nutrients from fertilizer and manure such as nitrogen and phosphorous increases the growth of water plants to the point of hampering fish life and WILDCAT BLOCK: In an attempt to hold Chelsea scoreless, the Novi grid team succeeded in stopping this ball carrier during Friday night's non-league season opener for both teams. Assisting their teammate are Jay Marshall, 44, and Glen Prinzing, 54. Chelsea opened their season on a winning note, defeating the Novi Wildcats, 16-9.

Gridders Win Over Strong Novi Squad

The 1981 Chelsea High school varsity Bulldog football team opened its season on a winning note, overpowering Novi in a penalty-filled 16-9 decision at Chelsea Friday night.

A powerful Chelsea team kept the Novi squad off the scoreboard throughout the first half and scored two touchdowns in the second half with the help of junior quarterback David Wojcicki.

No score was recorded until midway through the third quarter when Wojcicki hit Jeff Lantz with a 15-yard pass to put the Bulldogs ahead, 6-0. A two-point conversion pass by Wojcicki to Jay Marshall upped the Bulldog score to 8-0.

Late in the third quarter, Novi was able to muster enough yardage to complete a touchdown during the first play of the fourth quarter.

Chelsea fumbled the kick-off, giving the Wildcats control on the Chelsea 15-yard line but Chelsea's defense held on. Novi was penalized for delay of game and the team's quarterback kicked a field goal to lead the Wildcats to a 9-8 lead with less than half the fourth quarter remaining.

Novi continued their rush but an interception was made void by another penalty call. Chelsea emerged with a first down on the 14-yard line. With just over two minutes ticking away at the clock, Wojcicki dropped back to pass, took off running and broke through a series of potential tackle attempts to score the winning touchdown.

Wojcicki was good for 14 of 21 passing attempts for a total of just over 130 yards. He led in rushing as well, dashing 70 yards on 10 carries.

A very satisfied Chelsea team will take on Jackson County Western in a battle of Southeastern Conference teams Friday, Sept. 18. Chelsea is, obviously, 1-0 and has a very good chance of doing well this year following their defeat of a powerful Novi team.

Lady Bulldog Cagers Open Season With Win

Chelsea's girls basketball team got its 1981 season underway on a winning note, defeating South Lyon, 49-27, Thursday.

Scoring for the lady Bulldogs were Amy Hume and Amy Unterbrink with 16 points apiece, Karen Kiel with 10 points, Missi Lazarz with four and Shelly Weber with three.

In addition, Unterbrink grabbed 18 rebounds and blocked nine shots while Kiel pulled down 11 rebounds. Amy Poljan grabbed nine rebounds, Missi Lazarz had six. Hume and Unterbrink combined for a total of seven steals with four and three, respectively.

Coach Jim Winter was "quite pleased" with his team's performance considering "it was the first game and the team is so young." Just three seniors are on this year's lady cage squad.

Unterbrink showed the type of player she is while Amy Hume had a marvelous game in her varsity basketball debut.

By the end of the first quarter, Chelsea was up, 12-8, but broke away to a 28-14 lead at the half. Unterbrink added 10 points in the first quarter while Hume had eight in the second. Their dual performances contributed to Chelsea's break away.

Despite some early sloppy moves, the lady Bulldogs regained composure and achieved their first win.

Girls Cross Country Team Wins First Meet

On Thursday, Sept. 10 the Chelsea High school girls cross country team defeated Jackson County Western, 24-34, to gain its first league victory ever.

"The girls showed a lot of heart and desire today. They really wanted to win this meet and establish themselves as a team," said Coach Pat Clarke.

The girls were led by co-captains Sandra Frame, 2nd at 20:53 and Lisa Vandegrift, 4th at 22:28. Both girls ran extremely well for their first outing. Playing an extremely important role in the victory was a trio of newcomers including Kim Boyd, 5th at 23:36, Kathy Degener, 8th at 23:48 and Wendy Wolfgang, 7th at 23:56.

Other Bulldog placers were Mary Ann Richardson, 9th at 24:29, Stephanie Grant, 11th at 25:07, Sharon Guinan, 14th at 25:35 and Maggy Sweet, 16th at 25:58.

JV Lady Cagers Open With Win

The Chelsea junior varsity girls basketball team opened its 1981 season Thursday with a win over South Lyon. Final score of the game was 43-25.

The JV lady Bulldogs started the game with a rush and led, 9-0, after three minutes. By the end of the first quarter, the score was 18-7.

In the second quarter, the teams played evenly, scoring eight points each. At the half, Chelsea led, 26-15.

The lady Bulldogs blitzed the Lions in the third quarter, making three consecutive baskets to lead, 32-15. This lead was increased to 39-21 after the third quarter.

The game slowed down in the fourth quarter as each team could muster only four points.

Leading Chelsea in scoring was freshman co-captain Beth Unterbrink with 27 points, four rebounds and five steals. Other scorers for Chelsea were Anne Weber with seven points, Kelly Hawker with four, Carol Warren and Jo Ann Tobin with two apiece and Rachel Schmell with one. Rebounding were Warren and Hawker with eight and Tobin with six.

The JV lady Bulldogs take on Jackson County Western Tuesday and Tecumseh Thursday. The next home game is Thursday, Sept. 24 against Milan.

Members of the 1981 JV cage squad are sophomores Carol Warren, co-captain, Jane Wood, Laurie Heller and Tanya Matloff and freshmen Laura Anderson, Samantha Collinsworth, Sarah Comeau, Kelly Hawker, Tina Paddock, Rachel Schmell, JoAnn Tobin, co-captain Beth Unterbrink, and Anne Weber.

Kicks Soccer Club Defeats Ypsi High

The Chelsea Kicks Soccer Club, coached by Bill Ackley and Dennis Petsch, opened its season Wednesday night, Sept. 9 with a 4-2 victory against the Ypsilanti High School Warriors.

The Kicks started the game, running fast and putting pressure on the Warriors' defense. Scoring goals for the Kicks were V. Salyer and D. Lange with two apiece. Giving assists were B. Schulz and J. Mitchell.

SEC ROUND-UP:

Rejuvenated Dreadnaughts Down Pinckney in Opener

South Lyon 16, Saline 7

In Friday night's opening game for both teams, a sluggish first half found Saline posting seven points. Nevertheless, following the halftime break and a "quarterback sneak," the South Lyon team mustered a 16-7 win over the SEC team.

The defending Southeastern Conference team attacked the Lions during the game's first two quarters. Despite the seven point lead at the half, Saline fell through on several scoring opportunities offered by South Lyon turnovers.

South Lyon's strong defense held Saline at the one yard line with four opportunities to score at the end of the first half.

By the third quarter, South Lyon was able to post two touchdowns, one on a 75-yard, 12 play drive and two-point conversion and the other on a 98-yard, 17 play effort.

Dexter 8, Pinckney 0

Following a 0-9 record last season, the Dreadnaughts opened their 1981 season on a winning note, taking a sloppy opening game win, 8-0 Friday night at Pinckney.

Penalties and mistakes abounded as neither offense could make a decent start. The Dexter touchdown came in the third quarter following a Pinckney turnover. Rob Knickerbocker, in combination with Tony McCoy and Rob Ianni, made the score and was also responsible for the successful two-point conversion bid.

Pinckney had an opportunity to tie the game in the fourth stanza and drove the ball toward the Dreadnaught zone before botching the attempt with a series of incomplete passes.

Grosse Ile 18, Lincoln 7

In the season opener for both teams, the Grosse Ile Red Devils took care of an initially strong Lincoln squad by handing the host team an 18-7 loss Friday night.

Grosse Ile ground down the Railsplitter team, wearing them out quickly. Nevertheless, the host team was able to muster a 75-yard march into the Red Devil zone near the beginning of the game. That was all the Railsplitters could accomplish; a second drive in the third quarter was stalled at the 29 yard line.

The Red Devils, predicted to win the Huron Conference, got their first touchdown in the second quarter on a three-yard run by Dom Greco. Following halftime, the Red Devils got their go-ahead scoring opportunity on a five-yard dash and, with less than a minute remaining on the clock, a third touchdown completed the Grosse Ile attack.

Statistically, Grosse Ile rushed 146 yards as compared to Lincoln's 144.

Lincoln takes on Dexter Friday night in the league opener for both teams.

Columbia Central 28, Milan 6

Milan dropped its season opener Friday night as the Big Reds played host to favored-to-win Brooklyn Columbia Central. And win the Golden Eagles did, scoring three second quarter touchdowns and defeating the SEC team, 28-6.

Columbia Central's college-sized squad proved to be the difference in the contest as the exceptionally large gridgers moved their way in and out of a failing Milan defense.

Despite the loss, Milan didn't come up empty handed. The Big Reds rallied in the fourth quarter and completed a 64-yard march into Golden Eagle territory to post six points.

Hillsdale 25, Tecumseh 6

In Tecumseh's season opener Friday night, the hosting Indians were upset by a powerful Hillsdale squad, 25-6.

Hillsdale Hornet Anoy Peggs, an outstanding and versatile senior aided his team in their season opening victory in non-conference play.

Tecumseh's starting quarterback was pulled in the third quarter and newcomer Steve Eardley was able to move the ball and assist Mark Van Buren for the Indians' only score in the game.

Still, the Hillsdale grid team was held accountable for seven points in the second quarter, 12 in the third and six in the final stanza to overpower a disappointed Tecumseh team.

In ancient Rome, snails were raised on ranches. They were fed with spicy soups to pre-season them for the table.

Michigan had more pleasure boats in 1980 than any other state, according to figures recently released by the U. S. Coast Guard, covering the 1980 boating season. The 617,723 numbered boats in Michigan represented an 8 percent increase over 1979.

The "typical" boat operator who caused a fatality was between 26 and 50 years of age, having 20 to 100 hours of operator experience but no formal training in boat operation.

CARD OF THANKS

We would like to extend a special thank-you to the following people for your help in making the 1981 Chelsea Fair Queen's Contest a success. Judges: Fran Coy, Rosanne Bloomer, Hank Pieter, Carl Cederberg, Master of Ceremonies: Art Stenaway, Dale Koch, Sam Vogel, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Bauer, St. Paul's Church, Marlene Kuhl Howe, The Chelsea Community Fair Board, Walt and Sandy Zeeb of Chelsea Greenhouse for donating all of the flowers for the pageant, contestants, judges and queen. Without everyone's co-operation, our task would have been much more difficult. Our thanks to everyone. Sincerely,
Superintendents,
Margot Koenn
and Cindy Bradbury.

THANK YOU

Boy Scout Troop No. 476 would like to thank all the Citizens of Chelsea. We had our first car wash Saturday, Sept. 12 at Great Lakes Federal Savings. Thanks to all of you, it was a great success. Look for us in the future. We will be having more. Thank again.
Troop No. 476.

CARD OF THANKS

Thank you seems so small a thing to say for the feeling I have for all my friends and neighbors who were so good to me while I was in the hospital and since I returned home. A special thanks to the Rev. Morris for his visits and prayers; also to Dr. Schneider and nurses, and Chelsea Medical Center for the flowers, gifts, cards and phone calls. God bless you.
Marie Horning.

CARD OF THANKS

The superintendents from the Home Economics Department of the Chelsea Community Fair would like to thank the following local merchants for their generous donations and support: Chelsea Hardware, Chelsea Milling, Gambles, Hackney Hardware, Needle-in-a-Haystack, The Country Craftware, The Dexter Bakery, The Sugar Shack, The Village Bakery, Vogel's.
Shirley Schempt.
Sue Van Natter.
Else Heller.

THANK YOU

A very special thanks to a Beach school 8th grader who rescued me from a long 7-mile walk with a broken bike. Jeff Staebler is a heaven-sent mechanic. His parents, David and Judy Staebler, should be very proud of his talent and attitude. My 10-speed suffered some tangled and wedged chain problems and I couldn't fix it myself. I have never nor will I ever hitchhike, so I was dreading spending the rest of my Labor Day walking a bike home. I saw Jeff and his father in their yard on Clark Lake Rd. and asked for some help. Boy, did I go to the right place! Jeff had his tools out in a second and was covered with grease and the bike was fixed in no time flat! Thanks so much to you Jeff and to your family for such kindness to a stranger. You certainly made my day!
Nancy Cooper.

Chief Executive Officer Visits

Local Dana Plant

On Thursday, Aug. 6, Gerald Mitchell, chief executive officer of Dana Corp. visited the local plant to meet with the employees and tour the facility.

During his visit, Mitchell spoke to the employees regarding the economic conditions of today's industrial market and, most important, the future of the Chelsea plant.

Mitchell toured the plant and met with all employees and discussed with them their questions and concerns regarding the facility. Upon leaving the facility, he explained that part of the purpose of his visit was to keep the employees updated on the direction of Dana in the future and to communicate with them.

Mitchell's visit will be followed by a visit from Stan Gustafson, president of Dana Corp.

Golf Team Wins Over Jackson NW

The Chelsea golf team started the 1981 season defeating Jackson Northwest 168 to 185. Leading the way for Chelsea were seniors John Welton who shot a 37 and Gary Van Meer who shot 40. Jim Ritter chipped in with a 44 and Troy Schiller shot a 47.

The JV's won their opening match of the year with a 185 to 213 win over Northwest. Leading scorers for Chelsea were Kurt Eisenbeiser and Phil Powers with 45. Mike Carrigan shot a 47 and Doug Otto, 48.

John Welton had an outstanding day with the putter, having just 10 putts in the match. Kurt Eisenbeiser had the outstanding shot, holing out a four iron on his second shot for a deuce on the par four, fourth hole at Inverness Country Club.

This week, Chelsea is on the road for four matches, at South Lyon, Lincoln, Tecumseh and Dexter.

Girls Varsity Tennis Team Loses First Two

The Chelsea High school girls varsity tennis team lost its two season openers, Wednesday to Pinckney, 0-7, and to Howell Thursday.

Chelsea has six girls beginning their second year of play after having started 10 girls last year. "We are still a very inexperienced team," says Coach Terry Schreiner, "This is only our second year of girls tennis."

"We are having a tough time getting girls to come out because of their inexperience. Girls must start tennis in the early elementary years in order to come up to a good level of play by senior high school. They must take lessons during the summer and then stay with it. Tennis is a lifetime sport, and parents and students should consider this with regard to other sports," Schreiner explained.

Playing number one singles for Chelsea this year is Carolyn Chandler, number two is Ann Eisele, number three is Sarah Wenk and number four is Molly Feeny.

Playing first doubles at present are Lisa Beeman and Joan Shonk. Second doubles is being played interchangeably by Nancy Weir and Margaret Merkel, Marie Sullivan and Kerry Parkins. One of the teams plays second doubles.

The girls played poorly against Pinckney with the exception of Ann Eisele who played very well but lost 6-4, 6-4.

The team played much better against Howell the following night. Three of the seven matches went to three sets. Chelsea had a chance for three points but dropped all three.

Chelsea won only 22 games in the first match against Pinckney but won 52 against Howell, quite an improvement. "We just need more experience," commented Schreiner. "Chelsea has no depth from which to draw having just 10

lowering water value for drinking. Pesticides are poisons, and can be damaging to plant and animal life when found in streams, rivers and lakes.

All the waters in the project area are muddied from eroded soil. Soil loss from wind erosion is a considerable problem in southeast Washtenaw county and Monroe county. More than 20 percent of the soils in the project area have the unhappy combination of steep slopes and erodeable soil texture which lead to excessive soil erosion rates. From data gathered by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, it is estimated that during one rain storm in March 1977, 900 tons of soil reached Lake Erie from the area which is now the project area.

Mill Creek, River Raisin and the Saline River all have shown nutrient levels high enough to be damaging to water life. Once providing good game fishing, the Saline River and River Raisin now supports mainly "trash" fish such as carp and suckers. The Saline River and Mill Creek have fecal coliform counts in excess of state standards. Fecal coliform counts are measures of the amount of untreated manure in water. Because of these high counts, full body contact of these waters is restricted by the Washtenaw County Health Department.

Sedimentation from soil eroded by wind and water, and animal waste run-off are the major sources of pollution in the Saline Valley Project. Nutrients and pesticides are largely associated with soil particles, so they can be controlled by controlling soil erosion.

Eleven conservation practices, called "Best Management Practices" are approved for federal cost-share assistance under the Saline Valley Project. These 11 Best Management Practices were chosen as the most practical and effective methods of controlling agricultural water pollution in the Saline Valley Project.

Individuals interested in participating in the Saline Valley Project can sign a "Request for a Rural Clean Water Program Contract" at their county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service Office at 6101 Jackson Rd.

To obtain more information on the project, persons should contact Ron Struss, Saline Valley Project Co-ordinator, at the Washtenaw County Extension Service Office, 4133 Washtenaw, Ann Arbor, 973-9510.

ject Area. The Best Management Practices included in the Saline Valley Project, and the rate at which federal cost-share assistance is available for practice application is as follows:

Permanent vegetative cover, 50 percent; animal waste management system, 75 percent; stripcropping system, 30 percent; diversion system, 75 percent; waterway system, 75 percent; cover crops and windbreaks, 50 percent; conservation tillage system, 60 percent; permanent vegetative cover on critical areas, 75 percent; sediment retention, erosion or water control structures, 75 percent; fertilizer management, 75 percent; and pesticide management, 75 percent.

Improved water quality in the project area will increase the water value for wildlife, recreation and urban uses. This is especially true with Mill Creek which enters the Huron River just upstream of Dexter-Huron and Delhi Mills Metroparks and the city water supply inlet for Ann Arbor.

Because of the soil conservation nature of most of the Best Management Practices, landowners can benefit directly from the Saline Valley Project. Applied Best Management Practices can protect valuable topsoil from erosion and assure the long-term productivity of farms. Saving soil while saving water is an important side benefit of the Saline Valley Project.

Three agencies are involved in the Saline Valley Project. The Cooperative Extension Service (CES) provides informational and educational programs and technical assistance on some practices. The Soil Conservation Service (SCS) provides technical assistance and the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) administers the project and manages the federal cost-sharing on Best Management Practices.

Individuals interested in participating in the Saline Valley Project can sign a "Request for a Rural Clean Water Program Contract" at their county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service Office at 6101 Jackson Rd.

To obtain more information on the project, persons should contact Ron Struss, Saline Valley Project Co-ordinator, at the Washtenaw County Extension Service Office, 4133 Washtenaw, Ann Arbor, 973-9510.

Dwelling, Single-Family: A detached building or structure designed for or occupied by one family only, having a dwelling area of no less than 1,000 square feet.

Amendment to Article XXIII, Supplemental Regulations, addition of Article 23.11-Mobile Homes, as follows:

A. PURPOSE. This section of the zoning ordinance is designed to establish regulations under which mobile homes may be used as single-family dwellings on lots outside of mobile home parks. It is hereby recognized that other forms of manufactured housing, commonly referred to as prefabricated, modular, or sectional housing; among other names, are and have been permitted in Lyndon Township on individual lots, in any zoning district in which single-family dwellings are permitted, provided such units comply with the adopted building code and zoning requirements. This section intends to treat mobile homes in a similar fashion, while recognizing the unique features of their construction. The regulations contained in this section are specifically designed to:

1. Insure compliance of mobile homes on individual lots with all zoning regulations applicable to all other single-family dwellings permitted in Lyndon Township.

2. Insure compliance with the National Mobile Home Construction and Safety Standards Act of 1974 (Title VI of PUB. L. 93-383, 88 STAT. 700, 42 U.S.C. Section 5401, et seq) and all State and County codes, in addition to the zoning ordinance, for the protection of the public health, safety, and welfare.

3. To be aesthetically compatible with other single-family dwellings in the community.

B. STANDARDS AND REQUIREMENTS. A mobile home may be used as a single-family dwelling on a lot outside a mobile home park, if the following standards and requirements are met. These standards and requirements shall not apply to a mobile home located in a licensed mobile home park.

1. The lot shall be located in a zoning district which permits single-family dwellings.

2. The lot and the mobile home shall comply with all regulations of the zoning district in which located.

3. The mobile home shall meet all requirements for residential mobile units, as provided in the National Mobile Home Construction and Safety Standards Act of 1974 (Title VI of PUB. L. 93-383, 88 STAT. 700, 42 U.S.C. 5401, et seq).

4. The mobile home shall be placed onto a permanent foundation wall. The wall shall meet all requirements of the Michigan State Construction Code and shall completely enclose the area under the mobile home. The area so enclosed shall not be less than the ground floor area of the mobile home. The mobile home shall be anchored and meet all State of Michigan requirements.

5. The wheels, tongue and hitch, or other towing appurtenances, shall be removed before attaching the mobile home to the foundation wall.

6. The mobile home shall be connected to public water and sanitary sewer lines, where available, according to Washtenaw County standards and specifications, or to a well and septic tank approved by the County Health Department.

7. The mobile home shall be aesthetically compatible in design and appearance with conventional on-site constructed housing, and other types of approved manufactured housing. Compatibility shall be determined by the following standards:

a. Exterior walls shall be finished with natural or simulated natural materials, common to single-family dwellings, such as but not limited to beveled siding, vertical siding, board and batten siding, or brick.

b. Front and rear or front and side exterior doors.

c. A roof drainage system which will collect, and concentrate the discharge of, roof drainage, and will avoid roof drainage along sides of the dwelling.

8. A building permit shall be required for construction of the foundation wall, for placement of the mobile home on the lot, and for any addition to the mobile home. A building permit shall not be issued until a health permit has been issued by the County Health Department, where applicable, and until a certificate of zoning compliance has been issued in accordance with Article XXV, herein, and is in effect. The mobile home shall not be occupied until a certificate of occupancy has been issued as provided in Article XXV, herein and is in effect. Any addition to a mobile home shall meet all requirements of the Michigan State Construction Code if the addition is of conventional construction (stick built). If the addition is constructed by the mobile home manufacturer, then it shall meet the standards in Subsection 3 above.

9. The mobile home, prior to any additions, shall have a minimum floor area of 1,000 square feet, a minimum exterior width of 24 feet for at least one side elevation, and a minimum floor-to-ceiling height of 7.5 feet. Expansion rooms are considered additions for the purpose of this ordinance.

10. Not more than one mobile home shall be used as a single-family dwelling on a lot, nor shall a mobile home be placed on any lot on which another single-family dwelling is located. A mobile home shall not be used as an accessory building in any residential district.

11. A mobile home shall not be removed from a foundation until a permit therefore has been issued by the building official, in accordance with the Michigan State Construction Code.

12. Outdoor storage shall be prohibited. Written comments concerning the above Amendments will be received at 620 Island Lake, Chelsea, Michigan, 48118, by regular mail or between the hours of 5:00 and 8:00 p.m.; Monday through Friday.

Playing number one singles for Chelsea this year is Carolyn Chandler, number two is Ann Eisele, number three is Sarah Wenk and number four is Molly Feeny.

Playing first doubles at present are Lisa Beeman and Joan Shonk. Second doubles is being played interchangeably by Nancy Weir and Margaret Merkel, Marie Sullivan and Kerry Parkins. One of the teams plays second doubles.

The girls played poorly against Pinckney with the exception of Ann Eisele who played very well but lost 6-4, 6-4.

The team played much better against Howell the following night. Three of the seven matches went to three sets. Chelsea had a chance for three points but dropped all three.

Chelsea won only 22 games in the first match against Pinckney but won 52 against Howell, quite an improvement. "We just need more experience," commented Schreiner. "Chelsea has no depth from which to draw having just 10

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

Last month you carried an article on the air traffic controller's job action and there are several points that I do not believe are factual and need further discussion.

First, I would like to point out that I am a professional pilot and fly daily in both the U.S. and foreign Air Traffic Control systems. Safety is, and will be, our prime concern at all times—remember we ride in the front end. But, unfortunately, not everything that has been released on the air traffic control dispute has been factual, specifically:

1.) The current system is not unsafe. Safety can never be an absolute value. We set standards under which we operate in everything we do. The ATC system in the U.S. is, and remains, the best in the world. If it wasn't, we would not fly. However, to insure that that is not compromised, the volume of traffic has been reduced. Unfortunately, the general public bears the brunt of this because of reduced or delayed flights as well as those families of persons who have been forced to be laid off because of the strike.

2.) The supervisors are qualified to handle traffic. I know many ATC supervisors and they were not promoted because they could not handle the stress. In fact, just the opposite is true—they are working long hours and, in some cases, relocated from their families to make the system work. The professionalism and courtesy displayed by the supervisors and controllers who remained has not been displayed in a long time. It reflects a real desire to cooperate and this has been missing at times in the past.

3.) A personal observation—much has been written about the stress and unfavorable working conditions within the FAA. Since I am an outsider, I am not qualified to judge, but much of the controllers' credibility was lost when they elected to violate United States law. It is not surprising that they feel that they are working under constant stress when they (1) think their supervisors are all unqualified and (2) feel that they have the right to violate a written oath and a direct order of the President of the United States. I suspect that it is really a blessing in disguise that the system is being rebuilt now before it failed on its own. Nothing can succeed without some form of management and supportive employees.

4.) In conclusion—The ATC system today is safe and when you are delayed don't be upset with the ATC system. It will take time to rebuild it and to make it an even better and more efficient system for the future. The delay is to insure our safety.

Many thanks to the dedicated controllers who are giving of themselves to make it safe for all of us.

John M. Miller

To the Editor:

In the last Jerry Lewis M.D. Telethon, many corporations gave millions for this great cause. It makes one awe at the concern of so many for the needs of these stricken with M.D. and for the driving desire to find, with the grace of God, a cure. Mr. Editor, do you recall the story in the Bible of the people who gave from their wealth and abundance, then along came the poor widow who gave of her only coin? Well the story is lived over a thousand times during a National Drive such as M.D. It is of one such group I wish to share with you.

With much pride we are able to say, $218 was raised by 94 young men, who are residents of Cassidy Lake Tech School. Even though these young people are serving time for something they did in the world, they have not forgotten what it means to care about others who are hurting. All who contributed shall share in a treat furnished by Chelsea McDonald's. The men were not told of this extra joy until after the drive was ended, so that their giving was, pure giving.

Thank you, Mr. Mann, treatment director, and Mr. Staton, superintendent, for approving of same. Thanks McDonald's... "My cup runneth over..." God Bless one and all.

Mrs. Millie Warner, Acting Catholic Chaplain.

Folk Song, Dance Festival Slated

Traditional music will be featured at the Third Ann Arbor Festival of Folk Song and Dance, to be held Sunday, Sept. 20 (rain or shine), from noon until 11 p.m. It will take place on the grounds of Cobblestone Farm, 2781 Packard Rd., Ann Arbor.

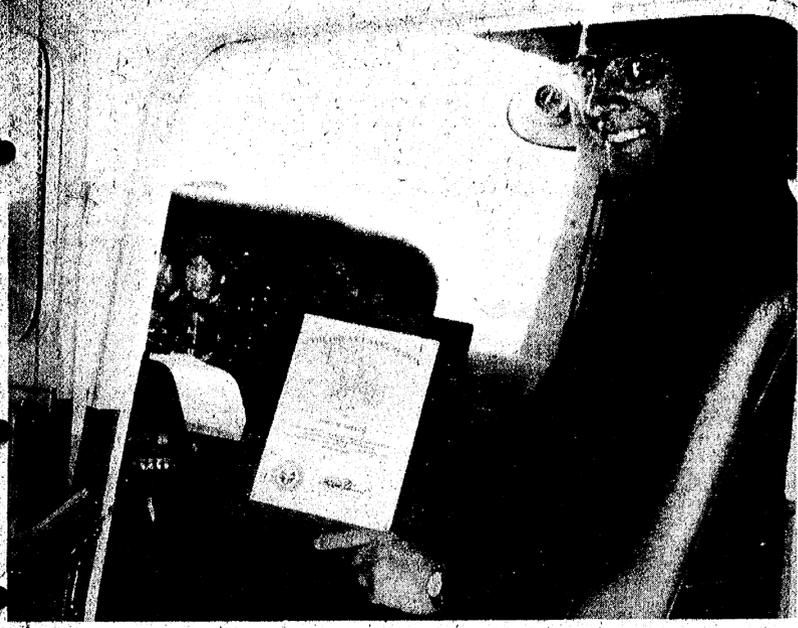

During the day, local musicians and dance groups will present concerts, as well as workshops in which the audience will have a chance to learn more about various aspects of traditional music. Everyone is invited to participate in a square and contra-dance in the evening.

Advance tickets are available for $3 at Schoolkids Records, Herb David's Guitar Studio, and Discout Records in Ann Arbor, and at Elderly Instruments in East Lansing. Admission at the gate will be $4, with children under 12 and senior citizens admitted free. There is ample free parking and food and beverages will be available at the festival site.

The festival is a non-profit event in which all performers volunteer their time.

Ann Arbor has for many years had an active community of traditional musicians and dancers, and the Festival is an opportunity for the performers to share their enthusiasm for folk music among themselves and with the public. A great variety of traditions will be represented. Dance styles will include Morris, Appalachian clogging, Scottish and American country dance, and international folk dance. Old-time country music, ballad singing, and international folk dance. Old-time country music, ballad singing, original songs, string band music, and Sacred Harp singing will also be featured.

The Festival is sponsored by the Ann Arbor Council for Traditional Music and Dance (AACTMAD), which was formed in 1979 by several organizations which share a common interest in traditional arts.

The 4-H Challenge leader orientation session will be held Sept. 18-20, at Kettunen Center, the state's 4-H leader training facility near Cadillac.
