DIAL-A-PRAYER: First United Methodist church has begun a program of pre-recorded telephone messages offering the caller inspirational thoughts which change weekly. This was made possible

Methodist Church Offering New Dial-A-Prayer Ministry

A new form of outreach ministry will soon be implemented at First United Methodist church, according to the Rev. Marvin McCallum. Beginning Monday, Sept. 14 a dial-a-prayer type of ministry will be available for use by the congregation and Chelsea community.

Called "Inspiration Line," this outreach program will provide a 24-hour communication line of inspirational messages and special prayer needs. By dialing the "Inspiration Line" number, a person will hear a recorded message of scripture. Scripture will be chosen that provides encouragement and assurance of God's love and presence. Special prayer concerns will also be included as part of the recorded message. An example of a special prayer concern would be a request for prayers of healing for a hospitalized person.

It is expected that "Inspiration Line" will be of special value to those persons who are unable to attend church regularly. The recorded scripture will also be helpful to any person who called the "Inspiration Line."

The cost for this ministry has been provided for by funds raised separate from the church's general operating budget. The United Methodist Men's group raised funds to provide for the ongoing expenses associated with the program such as the telephone company expense. The machine which provides the recorded message was donated to the church by Mr. and Mrs. Donald Cole. The project was developed and co-ordinated by the Evangelism Committee, chairperson Jim Lorenz.

The "Inspiration Line" service will not be a recorded message. It is designed to provide up to 60 seconds of recorded message. The recorded message will be updated five or six times per week by the minister or a layperson, the telephone number for "Inspiration Line" is 475-1852.

Fireman's Ball Kicks Off Fire Prevention Week

The first week of October signifies the beginning of Fire Prevention Week and the first Saturday in October has, for the past nine years, signified the date of the Chelsea Fireman's Ball. This year, the Chelsea Fire Department will present its ninth annual Fireman's Ball, Saturday, Oct. 3 between the hours of 9 p.m. and 1 a.m. at the Chelsea Fairgrounds.

Seventy-five percent of the proceeds from the Fireman's Ball will be donated to the University of Michigan Burn Center; the remaining 25 percent will be used to cover expenses brought about by the event.

Lions Club Holds Bowling Meet for Special Olympians

The Chelsea Lions Club sponsored a local Special Olympics bowling afternoon for more than 70 handicapped children and young adults from Chelsea, Manchester and St. Louis school on Saturday, Sept. 26 at Chelsea Lanes.

Nancy Cooper, special education instructor for the Chelsea School District, co-ordinated the event, assisted by Darrell Jacob. Prize ribbons were awarded to all participating bowlers, with trophies going to the winners of each competitive class. Winners were Mike Stermer and Mark Stitt.

The bowling event is part of the Chelsea Lions' ongoing program of community involvement. A "pumpkin face" contest for local children will be the Lions' next program during their annual pumpkin and cider sale to be conducted on Oct. 17 and 18 and again on Oct. 24 and 25. United Way Campaign Starts Wednesday With Goal of $47,850

The 1981 Chelsea United Fund Drive will begin Wednesday, Sept. 30 with a kick-off dinner at Chelsea Community Hospital for all volunteer workers in this year's campaign. At the opening event, guests will be shown a film regarding the United Fund and hear a guest speaker, Robert G. Forman, executive director of the Alumni Association of the University of Michigan.

Honorary chairman of the 1981 fund drive is Chelsea Superintendent of Schools Ray Van Meer while the general chairman is Donald Peck of the Springer Agency.

This year's United Fund goal is $47,850 up from $42,100 last year. Nevertheless, this year's agency request totals $44,100, up just five percent over its 1980 request, ascertained, in part, via the local budget committee chaired by James Stacey.

Four local agencies directly benefit from the United Fund campaign including the Chelsea Recreation Council, the Chelsea Home Meals program, Chelsea Social Services and Chelsea Area Transportation Service (CATS). This year the groups combined have requested a $15,000 allocation or 31 percent of the projected goal.

Nine other non-local agencies are readily available to serve the Chelsea community through financial assistance by the United Fund. These agencies include the Salvation Army, Catholic Social Services, Huron Valley Child Guidance, Washtenaw Association for Retarded Children (WARC), Child and Family Services, Cystic Fibrosis, Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts and the American Red Cross. Their monetary requests from the Chelsea area drive total $23,100 or 48 percent of this year's anticipated goal.

In addition to individual contributions to the aforementioned agencies, the Michigan United Fund, which supports 25 other agencies including Leader Dogs for the Blind, has requested a total of $6,000 from this year's local campaign. This comprises a total of 13 percent of Chelsea's projected goal.

Finally, administrative costs will use four percent of the projected total or $1,950 for liability insurance for each volunteer and other campaign expenses. $1,800, another four percent, will be used revenue for collection losses.

During the course of the four-week campaign, weekly meetings to log progress will be held. The final day of the campaign is Friday, Oct. 30.

Homecoming Frenzy Hits High School

This week is Homecoming Week at Chelsea High school and students are busily preparing for the Homecoming football game and the culmination of the week's special activities. And, special activities there are.

Beginning on Monday, a week of dress-up days got underway. Monday was Crazy Day, Tuesday through Friday looks something like this: Tuesday is Fifties Day, a day to dress up in bobby socks and grease back that slick DA. The Urban Cowboy syndrome takes over Wednesday as Western Day begins followed by the "spy look" on Thursday as students don their hat and glasses for "Hat 'n Glasses Day." Friday, in preparation for the big football game against Milan and the half-time Homecoming festivities, Chelsea High school students will dress in their blue and gold school colors.

The Homecoming Parade beginning at 6 p.m. Monday evening began the chain of extra-curricular events to fill the week. At approximately 7 p.m. the freshmen and seniors battled it out in a powder puff football contest followed by a similar match-up featuring the juniors and sophomores. A tug of war and tricycle races took place between the two contests.

Tuesday will feature a second evening of powder puff football. The losing teams of the first night will take to the fields followed by Monday's winners when the action gets underway at 6 p.m. Between these two contests, a Volkswagen stuffing contest will lead the half-time activities, followed by a watermelon eating contest and a water balloon toss.

The week of Homecoming frenzy will subside until Friday when a pep rally will be held at the high school. Other activities taking place will be a pyramid building contest, a bubble gum blowing and pie eating contest and class skits.

During the intermission at Friday night's football game, the 1981 Chelsea High school Homecoming Queen will be announced and the powder puff football game winners will be introduced.

A Homecoming dance will be held immediately following the game and will continue until midnight. In addition, an Alumni Gathering will be held in the cafeteria following the Chelsea-Milan game. All Chelsea High school alumni are invited to attend.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

By Warren M. Hoyt, Secretary, Michigan Press Association

Reaction Mixed to Milliken Economic Proposals

Governor William G. Milliken's special message to the legislature drew mixed and restrained reaction from legislative leaders and some labor leaders.

Local government spokesmen, meanwhile, were the most critical and business representatives heaped praise on the proposals.

The governor, speaking before an unusual joint convention of the legislature as the fall session opened, offered a yearly $300 million economic stimulus package, coupled with a three-year property tax reduction totalling $1.2 billion.

Milliken asked the legislature to solve in about 90 days problems in workers' and unemployment compensation that have been stalemated for years.

"I am absolutely determined that Michigan will emerge from this fall session in a position to compete across this country and across the world. Anything less is unacceptable," he said.

The governor placed primary emphasis on the workers' compensation system where many changes, negotiated last December are scheduled to take effect January, 1982.

His proposals for workers' compensation changes account for about $100 million of the $300 million in business breaks, and compares to proposals by legislative Democrats to save businesses about $200 million through changes in the insurance regulations.

Unemployment compensation changes would save $99.8 million a year and single business tax changes would save businesses $105 million a year, with all the figures calculated for calendar year 1982.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

The world is full of isms, nymms and nomics, Mister Editor, but don't ever get the idea you've heard em all, not even in your line of work. Bug Hookum come to the session at the country store Saturday night with a new one. He had saw "ergonomics" in a toothbrush ad in the paper, and he wanted to know if it's somepun you catch, gargle with, or maybe a new way to fight inflation. Even Ed Doolittle was throwed fer a loss with that one, but the feller that runs the store had happened to see it in one of his catalogs. He said the word means the science of fitting the work to the worker.

Bug allowed that weren't much help, so the store feller went on to explain it's such as designing scissors to fit the natural curve of the hand, and toothbrushes with a angle to reach back teeth better. He said it got started when new ways to do everything were needed in the space program, and scientists and engineers had to come up with tools and machines that fit the job. Now ergonomics are moving into furniture, cars and everthing folks use. The feller said a ergonomicker probable will be the one to final build that better mousetrap everybody is waiting to beat down the door to buy.

General speaking, the fellers were happy to move on to greater things. Ed said he liked the kind of ergonomics that feller worked out in North Dakota this summer. He had saw where George Heiser in Dickinson cooled his house with three junked car radiators. Now that, Ed said, is matching the tool to the job. George linked the radiators together, run water through em from his deep well and then blowed air through em into the house. He said 100 degree air cooled to 55 degrees passing through, and that he wouldn't trade his $40 rig fer any store-bought air conditioner. Ed was of a mind a ergonomicker wouldn't of touched the project without a

Other economic proposals include a $10 to $12 million a year promotional effort, a development fund to provide business capital and a $25 million high technology fund.

The property tax plan would provide an eventual tax cut of 20 percent for residential and agricultural property.

House Speaker Bobby Crim (D-Davison) said the tone and rhetoric of Milliken's speech was good and there were areas left open for compromise. He added, however, he wished the governor would have been more specific on areas of the state budget that could be cut to provide the tax changes.

Rep. William Ryan (D-Detroit) chairman of the House Taxation Committee, said Democrats were unenthusiastic about the speech because it was quite imbalanced.

"The only real burdens were put on the workers who have been the victims of the recession," Ryan said. "They are the ones who will have to pick up the taxes that businesses will be spared."

Senate reaction was generally negative, but as expected, favorable comments came from members of the Republican caucus.

Senate Minority Leader Robert VanderLaan (R-Kentwood) praised the governor for presenting "specific" proposals that get "right to the heart" of Michigan's economic problems. VanderLaan said he believed the governor would act as the needed catalyst to accomplish his goals.

Senate Majority Leader William Faust (D-Westland), however, said most of the proposals have been before the legislature during the past several years. He said the only difference this time is the fact the governor is expressing a willingness to work with the legislature.

Frank Garrison of the United Auto Workers, expressed outright opposition to portions of the plan. "We're going to analyze this carefully. He (the governor) is still dealing with perception more than anything and it is perception he has helped create," Garrison warned.

Both James Barrett of the Michigan State Chamber of Commerce and John Thodis of the Michigan Manufacturers Association expressed optimism over the proposals. They both said the governor has offered a significant economic recovery package.

Regardless of the reactions of legislative leaders and representatives from special interest groups, all agree something must be done during the fall session of the legislature.

The tone is now set. When history records this period, this should prove to be the most valuable working session for the membership. It is all important for the future of Michigan as a place to live and work.

When writing, Ernest Hemingway often subsisted for days at a time on a "moveable feast" of crackers, raw green vegetables, and peanut butter sandwiches.

Woman's Club Hears Program on Historical Home

The Woman's Club of Chelsea met on Tuesday, Sept. 22 at the McKune Memorial Library at 8 p.m. The theme for the meeting was historical homes in Chelsea.

After a short business meeting was conducted by president Pat Scholz, the members and guests were treated to a very enjoyable and entertaining program. Karen Bean of Ann Arbor was guest speaker and brought many slides of homes in the community. She explained the many beautiful and priceless buildings in the town. Bean is well qualified in the field, having a graduate degree in architecture from Eastern Michigan University. She spent last summer in Chelsea, doing a survey on the historic buildings in the area.

Since this meeting stressed the bringing of guests, many were pleasantly surprised to see pictures of their homes included in the presentation.

Members of the Woman's Club learned that Chelsea has a complete and intact 19th century downtown main street, something which is not at all common in these days of renewal and change.

At the close of the meeting, a warm and friendly fellowship hour was enjoyed, with Edith Hoffman and Kay Glazier serving as hostesses.

Genealogical Society Elects Officers for '81-'82

Suzuki Music Students Perform

Chelsea Suzuki students started the year with a "play-in" at St. Paul's United Church of Christ on Sunday, Sept. 27. Students of Kevin Miller, Betty Rasmussen and Pat Stirling performed various musical numbers from the Suzuki literature.

In the winter of 1980, the Chelsea program was started by Rasmussen and Stirling with a small group of students. Recently, Miller joined the staff, teaching violin, while Rasmussen and Stirling continue teaching piano and violin, respectively.

The Suzuki method differs from traditional methods in that it is planned for beginning children at an early age, usually between the ages of three and five years. Just as a young child learns to speak the "mother tongue" by imitation long before he or she can read the language, a child is taught to play an instrument by imitation before he or she learns to read music.

Parents and children interested in knowing more about the Chelsea program are welcome to attend a meeting on Tuesday, Oct. 13 at 7 p.m. at the Methodist church where the teachers will be preparing to start a new class of beginners.

Waterloo Farm Museum Pioneer Day Slated Oct. 11

Fall festivals are as numerous as red and gold leaves fluttering from maples and oaks across Michigan. But, the Waterloo Farm Museum's Pioneer Day, held this year on Sunday, Oct. 11, from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m., offers more than most fall celebrations.

The grounds of the museum, located in Jackson county at 9998 Waterloo-Munith Rd., are a cornucopia of activity, crafts and treats.

The Realy House, fully furnished with period artifacts, is open for tours during the afternoon. The visitor will have the opportunity to experience life as it was on Michigan farms during the mid-1800's.

The other buildings of the museum are open and will contain demonstrations and activities depicting pioneering life. Spinning is done before the fireplace in the log house. In the milk cellar, the visitor may taste cool, smooth churned butter. From the brick oven in the bake house, hot molasses cookies are a perfect accompaniment to fresh cider. The hot coals of the forge in the toolshed provide comforting heat while the blacksmith shapes horseshoes. Herbs and autumn weeds hang from the hand hewn beams of the barn.

Craftspeople sit beneath the vibrant trees, weaving, spinning, hooking rugs, carving, weaving baskets and braiding rugs. Over open fires, soap boils in an open pot, vegetables bubble for dyeing wool and tallow cooks for hand-dipped candles.

The First Michigan Civil War Regiment sets up camp on Pioneer Day and fires their muskets across the swamp.

Children will enjoy the horse drawn wagon rides while adults look at displays of crafts or antique corn planters.

No one can leave Pioneer Day hungry. Tables laden with homemade bread, cookies, pies, jellies, and relishes spread across part of the lawn. Doughnuts and cider are available near the restored Perkins windmill. A fall harvest of produce—squash, gourds, pumpkins, beets and cabbage—clutter another table.

All this offers the visitor a barrage of autumn's splendor at the Waterloo Farm Museum's Pioneer Day.

WHAT'S YOUR LIFESTYLE?

When you start looking for a home, consider carefully your lifestyle and your family's lifestyle. What does that mean? It means simply the things your family and you like to do and the way you spend your money. In other words, think about your hobbies, sports, interests, and leisure-time activities. This sounds quite obvious, yet many families sometimes tend to overlook these considerations.

For example, you might look at a home with a beautiful swimming pool. Swimming pool... an almost magic word! If your family loves to swim and spends a lot of time in the water, it would be an ideal home for you. But... suppose your family enjoys ping pong, dancing, playing pool and parties, and there's another home available with a huge rec-room? Maybe that one would be better suited for you.

Don't be dazzled by great features that really won't fit in with the way your family lives; instead choose a home that's "tailor-made" to your family's lifestyle. Remember, pictures are for display. Homes are for living! There's an excellent chance that we have a home that fits!

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at FRISINGER REALTY CO., 935 S. Main St., Chelsea. Phone: 475-8881; evenings 475-2621. We're here to help!

Letters to the Editor

Dear Sir:
A horse is being treated and suspected for Eastern Equine Encephalitis on a small horse farm near Mushbach and Cavanaugh Lake Rds. Two veterinarians were treating this horse Monday evening, Sept. 21. The horse was found that afternoon with a common EEE symptom, leaning on a fence.

I, myself, rode this horse 10 miles less than 24 hours before it became ill. We rode in the 4-H Horse-A-Thon charity ride.

This horse is dying, not because the owner wanted to save the $10 vaccination fee, but because of a fear of side effects from the vaccine. Actually, the vaccine now used against EEE is not only free of side effects but is also very effective in preventing EEE if injected before the virus is transmitted by a mosquito.

Dear Editor:
On behalf of the 225 mentally impaired students served at the High Point Center in Ann Arbor, we would like to express our sincere gratitude to Miss Sonie Eisele, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eisele of Dexter, for her most generous donation of a pony named "Champ."

"Champ" is hopefully just the beginning of our farm project through which our students will develop responsibility, proper work habits and attitudes that may lead to productive employment.

Thank you Sonie and Mr. and Mrs. Eisele for your help in getting our farm project moving. Your thoughtfulness has given our special students a chance to learn and a chance to grow.

Dear Editor:

Last Saturday, Sept. 26, 75 mentally impaired children and adults had a great time at a bowling tournament because of the generosity and time donated by the Chelsea Lions Club. I would like to thank the Lions and Lionesses who kept score including David and Val Scriven, Adamain Michelson, Gari Feldman, Al White, Carolyn White, Paul Erickson, Daryl Farr, Jim Nicola, Helen and Dave Prohaska, Dick Cole, Dave Quilter, Vince Spade, Ron Kosegi, and Mr. Likavec. Many of the children of Lions members also helped and deserve recognition.

A special thank you to Dr. Jim Peggs, Dave Dawson, Pam Gray, Jordan Gray, Kelly Thayer, Darrell Jacob and John Knapper who also kept score but are not members of the Lions Club.

Thanks also to Chelsea Lanes, Ed Greenleaf, and Vicki Wurster for their patience, help and kindness.

All of you helped to make a very special day for some very special people.

Views On Dental Health

By ROBERT A. BURNS, JR., DDS, P.C.

ADULTS AND ORTHODONTICS

Teeth-straightening braces long associated with school-age children, are now becoming more popular with adults. The American Association of Orthodontists estimates that some 4 million Americans are undergoing orthodontic treatment. Out of this number, over 20% are over age 20.

Why are so many adults subjecting themselves to the orthodontic regimen? There are several likely explanations. The development of braces that are less noticeable; the ability of many adults to pay dental fees that their parents, perhaps, could not afford; a wider acceptance of braces by an adult generation attuned to self-improvement; concern for good health, and naturally, good looks.

Until the mid-1960's it was accepted wisdom in the field that braces were for kids. The theory was that orthodontics could be successful only if the patient was still growing. Now, it's generally agreed that, though growth is helpful, it's not always necessary for effective treatment. Today, you can produce the smile you've always wanted, as the circus announcers tout: "For kids of all ages."

If you have dental health questions you would like to see answered, please mail them to the address below.

Persons who wish to apply for Social Security retirement or survivor benefits may do so by telephone, according to Jose B. Vidaurri, manager of the Ann Arbor Social Security office. This can save a wait, as well as the gasoline needed to visit the office. Individuals who wish to apply may simply call the office between the hours of 9 a.m. and 4:15 p.m. on weekdays. If the application cannot be taken over the phone right away, a phone appointment will be set up. A representative will take the necessary information and mail the forms for signature. Any needed proofs may be mailed to the office with the application, Vidaurri explained.

The number to call in the Ann Arbor office for the teleclaims service is 668-2134.

Encephalitis Threat Found In New Area

Eastern Equine Encephalitis (EEE) virus activity has spread to another new area in the state. The Michigan Department of Public Health and the Mid-Michigan District Health Department has announced that eastern Clinton county has been added to those areas in which residents are strongly urged to take personal precautions against being bitten by mosquitoes. A probable horse case of EEE in eastern Clinton prompted the addition of the new area.

"It appears that all residents of southern Lower Michigan living near marshy places or adjacent to any of the designated areas of concern would be wise to adopt anti-mosquito protection measures until after the onset of frost," said Dr. Bailus Walker, Jr., Director of the State Health Department.

The personal precautions recommended by the Department include the use of mosquito repellants; the wearing of long sleeve shirts or blouses, long slacks or pants, and stockings and shoes; plus making certain the home is adequately screened. The specific designated areas of the state for which these precautions are strongly urged are, in addition to eastern Clinton county; Livingston county, southwest Genesee, eastern Ingham, northern Washtenaw, rural southwestern Oakland, rural northwestern Wayne, northern Branch, northeastern Cass, eastern Jackson, northern St. Joseph and southern Kalamazoo counties.

Walker reminded again that mosquitoes most likely to be carrying the EEE virus are more commonly found in marsh areas and in places near lakeshore or river banks where reeds and cattails grow. Mosquitoes are most active in the evening hours.

A. Feeney Re-Elected President of County School Board Assoc.

School board members as directors, representing the various Boards of Education met on Thursday, Sept. 17 at the Crystal House Restaurant in Ann Arbor. This was their Annual Organization Meeting in planning for the coming school year.

Chelsea's Ann Feeney was re-elected president while Evelyn Kern of Willow Run was re-elected vice-president. The new secretary/treasurer is Gail Barnard of Ypsilanti. She has been on the Board of Directors in previous years. Mrs. Barnard replaced Donna Wegrn of Ann Arbor who served in the post during the past year as secretary/treasurer.

The Board of Directors is made up of one member from each of the local boards and they meet three to four times during each school year. Each director brings many ideas from the boards relative to their needs.

There are informational programs planned. The program scheduled for October will focus on micro-computers. Another project of the School Board Association is co-sponsored with the Superintendents' Association of Washtenaw county. They are co-operatively planned with the State Representatives. Such sessions are usually held every other month.

Later in the school year, there will be an occasion when the Superintendents and the School Board members sponsor an Annual Dinner Meeting. This highlights an outstanding speaker and a program sponsored by the host local district. These Annual Dinner Meetings have been going on for nearly 12 years and prove to be very effective methods of bringing administrators and board members and their spouses together for an enjoyable evening.

Several topics will be covered through the year, usually involving programs and sessions on policy-making and adoption. The Michigan Association of School Boards publishes a Journal that provides many helpful articles to its members. One unique feature of the Washtenaw School Officers' Association is the outreach that it has had in working with the Washtenaw Community College and from the Livingston Intermediate School District. The very interesting topic chosen for

Both Cross-Country Teams Second in Jackson Invitational

Both of Chelsea's cross country teams placed second at the prestigious Jackson Invitational held Saturday, Sept. 19. The boys team was second with 97 points while the girls took the second-place position by scoring 148 points.

Winning the 14-team boys competition was Sturgis with 69 points. Other placing teams were Lumen Christi, third with 104 points; Grand Rapids Christian, fourth with 136 points and Jackson Northwest, fifth with 158 points.

The Bulldogs were led by junior Mark Brosnahan who won the meet with a first-place time of 15:43. Senior captain Bob Benedict enjoyed a fine day, finishing seventh at 16:23. Junior Brent Martin ran his best race of the season to finish 11th at 16:30. Other Chelsea placers were Dave Kies, 28th at 18:52; Allen Cole, 50th at 17:33; Eric Green, 58th at 17:40; and Kevin Richardson, 75th at 18:14.

"The boys ran very well and are improving rapidly," said Coach Pat Clarke. "I was really pleasantly surprised by the girls' performance. They really work very hard and truly deserve all of the awards they win this year," Clarke concluded.

Taking first place in the 7-team girls competition was Lumen Christi with 47 points and Chelsea nosed out Grand Rapids Christian for the second-place trophy by just one point.

Sandra Frame led the girls with a 7th place finish at 19:33.

Girl Harriers Squeak Past Jackson NW

Chelsea's girls cross country team evened its season record by downing Jackson Northwest, 28-29, while losing to top-ranked state power, Jackson Lumen Christi, 20-35.

"The girls ran real well in not ideal conditions," said Coach Pat Clarke of his young ladies. "We ran without our number two girl, Lisa Vandegrift, who was ill, but our younger girls performed like troopers to give us the win," Clarke concluded.

Freshman Stephanie Grant was the heroine for the Bulldogs by tying the meet in passing the fifth Northwest girl in the last 150 meters. She then won the meet by being Chelsea's sixth place tie-breaker.

"Stephanie's efforts just illustrates the never say die attitude of our girls team this season," commented Coach Clarke.

Other lady Bulldogs placing were Sandra Frame, first at 20:52; Kim Boyd, fifth at 22:32; Mary Ann Richardson, sixth at 23:08; Wendy Wolfgang, seventh at 23:20; Kathy Degener, ninth at 23:35; and Stephanie Grant, 10th at 23:39.

The most outstanding performance for the lady Bulldogs, however, was turned in by freshman Mary Ann Richardson who ran over a minute faster than her previous best time to place 36th at 21:43. Other lady Bulldog placers were Lisa Vandegrift, 31st at 21:30; Kim Boyd, 33rd at 21:36; Kathy Degener, 41st at 21:55; Wendy Wolfgang, 45th at 22:03; and Stephanie Grant, 57th at 22:36.

Athletic Boosters Elect 12 Board Members

The Chelsea Athletic Boosters elected a board of officers Wednesday, Sept. 16 during a meeting in the Chelsea High school audio-visual room.

Six husband and wife teams were elected to the board including John and Darla Bohlender, Gary and Joan Richardson, Jim and Barb Krichbaum, Larry and Toni Hawker, Bob and Diane Dentling, Joe and Janice Brosnan, Tom and Joan Vandegrift and Mike and Emma Neibauer. The sextet of two-person teams will combine in voting situations and submit one vote per couple.

In addition to the newcomers, four returning members remain with the board of officers. These incumbents include Ted Wilson, Elise Heller, Arlene Grau and Pat Robards. The total number of persons holding positions on the board of officers now totals 12.

The next meeting of the Athletic Boosters will be held Wednesday, Oct. 21 beginning at 7:30 p.m. in the Chelsea High school health room. The new board will elect officers at this time.

Vitamin C, what many experts refer to as the "glue" that holds the body together, is water soluble, and cannot be retained in the body for further use. It must be "reapplied" every day.

CHELSEA'S FINAL SCORING OPPORTUNITY came late in the fourth quarter. Above, the Bulldogs move the ball forward in an important drive toward the Tecumseh end zone. Clinging to the ball is John Preston while David Wojcicki (12), Rick Poljan (70) and Jeff Lantis (30) crowd in. Chelsea emerged from the game with a perfect season record of 3-0 over-all and 2-0 in the Southeastern Conference.

Gridders of the Week

CHELSEA'S FEATURED FOOTBALL STARS are seniors Tim Whitesall, left, and Mike Marshall. Whitesall is a starting offensive tackle who was injured as a junior. This year, he is back in outstanding form at 5'9" and 175 pounds. According to Coach LaFave, "He is a good leader and works hard during the season, if not year-round." At 5'10" and 165 pounds, Marshall also works diligently and is seeing more playing time as a defensive end and wide receiver than he did one year ago. He is one of the most popular members of the 1981 Bulldog team and has shown dramatic improvement.

Varsity Gridders Rally in Second Half To Down Tecumseh

Friday night proved to be a real test for the Chelsea High school varsity football team and the Bulldogs came away with an "A-plus," defeating the Tecumseh Indians, 22-20. Despite a half-time deficit of 14-6, Chelsea made some important adjustments and got on the right track. Both offensively and defensively, the Bulldogs worked effectively with the football. The Indian attack was shut down early in the second half, a trend that pervaded until the end of the game. The Bulldogs played well and worked hard to gain their third win of the season and second win in the conference. Despite Tecumseh's pre-season favored status, Gene LaFave explained that Tecumseh will play without the help of five of the team's six best players for the remainder of the season following injuries in Friday's contest.

Chelsea had to give everything it had to secure the victory. Despite a 22-14 lead late in the fourth quarter, the Bulldogs were unable to put the game away. Still, they hung on to remain undefeated in the league, sharing that position with Salline and Lincoln. Offensively, the Chelsea team was led by outstanding performances by Tom Headrick, John Preston who gained 98 yards and David Wojcicki. The team was in control of the football. On defense, Headrick was a standout while Todd Sprague played his best game of the year. The entire defense responded well and other highlights were Rick Poljan and Mike Niebauer. Too, Russ Harris showed improvement. As a whole, the Bulldogs could have scored more, according to their coach. Nevertheless, they played hard, won and are looking forward to their Homecoming contest with Milan's Big Reds Friday.

JV Gridders Defeat Tecumseh

The Chelsea JV football team played inspired football and defeated the Tecumseh Indians Thursday, 20-8. The Bulldogs were led defensively by Chris Gallas with 18 tackles and Dan Pennington with two fumble recoveries. Offensively, Marty Steinhauer had two touchdowns and 76 yards rushing while Scott Cooper had one touchdown and one extra point and Dave Walter had four receptions for 87 yards. The Bulldogs opened the scoring in the second quarter with a

8th Grade Girl Cagers Win Over Lincoln

The eighth grade girls basketball team opened their 1981 season with a 27-24 victory over Lincoln last week. The game began slowly, showing a great deal of defense on both sides which ended the first quarter with a 2-2 tie. The Bulldogs opened up their offense, taking a 13-9 lead into the locker room at the half. The scoring in the second quarter was spread between Jackie Boosey, Kelly Fletcher and Jenny Cattell to present a balanced offense. Lincoln started the second half in a fired up fashion and while Chelsea re-adjusted itself, the Rallsplitters took a one-point lead heading into the final quarter. The Bulldogs had some fine passing in the fourth quarter, setting up some good defensive drives and winning the game, 27-24. (Continued on page 12)

"The guys knew that their season was on the line and they performed like true champions," said Coach Pat Clarke of his harriers' efforts. Anyone interested in the diving program should come to the Cameron Pool at Beach Middle school this week on Wednesday or Friday. High school age divers practice will be held between the hours of 3:30 p.m. and 5:30 p.m. and junior high and under divers will practice during the 6 p.m. to 7 p.m. or 7 p.m. to 8 p.m. sessions. The fees for joining are the same as for the swim club: one diver, $35; two divers, $50; and three or more divers, $60. There is no non-resident fee charged for this program.

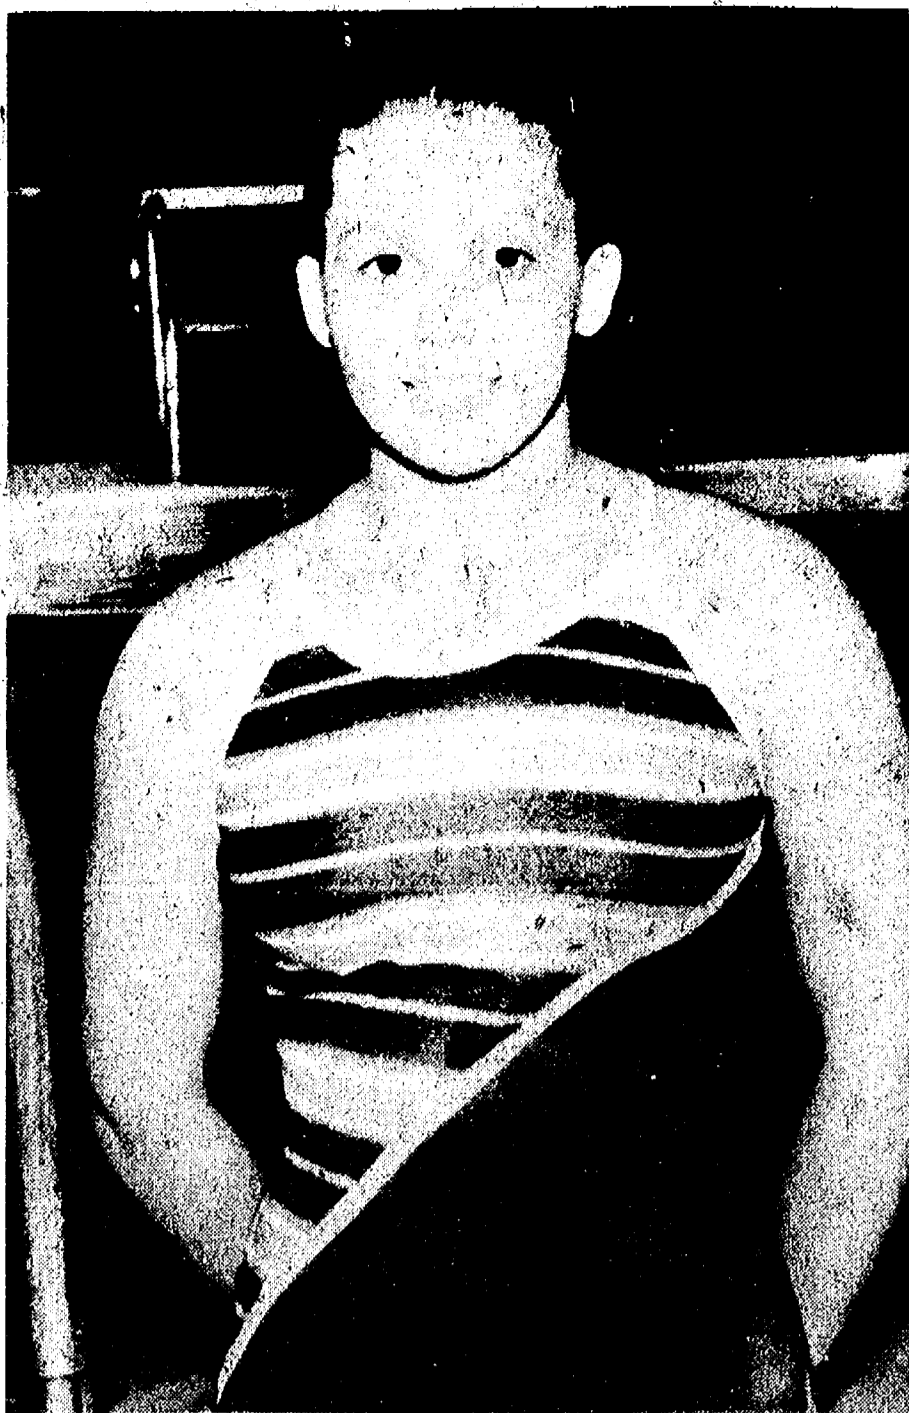

Pool director Larry Reed is the coach of the diving group, aided by Craig Wirtz and Chris Seufert.

Craig is a Chelsea High school diver, having qualified for the State Regionals for four years and has also qualified for the State meet the last three years. Chris is a former U.S. Olympic Team member, a former U.S. National High Point Champion and is ranked in the top 10 divers in the world, having won titles in Europe and the United States. She is presently working with Dick Kimball, the 1980 U.S. Olympic diving coach.

A mid-October exhibition by Dick Kimball's University of Michigan diving team is planned and will be open to the public. The team will put on a serious diving demonstration as well as a clown diving exhibition. Exact date and time of this exciting event will be announced later. It is hoped the schedule and other events will encourage more participants in the Chelsea Diving program.

DIVING EXPERTISE: Chris Seufert, former U.S. Olympic Diving Team member, former U.S. National High Point Champion and ranked as one of the world's 10 best divers, is assisting this year's Chelsea diving program. She is spending time with budding young Chelsea divers and demonstrating many of her own techniques. Chris trains with Dick Kimball, the 1980 U.S. Olympic diving coach and present diving coach at the University of Michigan. Assisting Seufert is Craig Wirtz, state regional and state meet qualifier at Chelsea High school. Chris and Craig are working with pool director Larry Reed in hopes of improving the Chelsea diving program.

MISSY YOUNG is this week's featured swimmer. She is a freshman at Chelsea High school and, according to Coach Dave Johnson, "she is a hard-working individual who is believing in her capabilities more each day." Missy swims all strokes for Chelsea High and is working toward securing a spot on the Chelsea state meet team.

'Swimmin Women' Defeat Jackson

This past week, Chelsea's "swimmin women" increased their dual meet record to 1-2 with a sound defeat of Jackson High school.

The Bulldogs swam to 11 first place finishes against the Vikings and also had two 1-2 combinations, giving them the edge in scoring. Those combinations

SEC ROUND-UP:

Lincoln, Saline, Chelsea Still Undefeated in League

Saline 15, Dexter 6

Saline emerged as one of only three teams in the Southeastern Conference to remain unbeaten Friday, recording its first win against the Dexter Dreadnaughts at Dexter. The Dreadnaughts now drop to 0-2 in the league.

The Hornets buzzed up and down the field, battling it out with the host team and heading back to Saline with a 15-6 victory.

Saline took an early 7-0 lead in the first quarter and by half-time, Dexter had narrowed that lead to one point. Still, late in the third quarter, the Hornets came back to score another touchdown and clinch their win. A two-point conversion frosted their victory.

Saline rolled up a total of 217 yards, 184 of which were gained on the ground.

Lincoln 33, Milan 12

Lincoln's Rallsplitters traveled to Milan Friday night where the visitors racked up their third win of the season to remain unbeaten in the Southeastern Conference.

Traveling across the Big Red field to tally 235 yards on the ground and 17 through the air, Lincoln headed home with a decisive 33-12 victory over the falling Milan team.

Despite Lincoln's early second half lead of 27-0, Milan's James Taylor scored both of the Big Reds' touchdowns and gained 121 yards on 28 carries. The Big Reds, posting an 0-3 over-all slate head to Chelsea for Homecoming Friday. Chelsea is 3-0 over-all and 2-0 in the SEC.

Chelsea 22, Tecumseh 20

Despite their pre-season favorite status, Tecumseh's Indians traveled to Chelsea Friday night and headed home with a 20-22 loss to the Bulldogs and injuries to a quintet of key players.

Though Chelsea headed into the half with a 6-14 deficit, the Bulldogs made a comeback to outscore, outthrust and outplay the favored-to-win Indians in the second half.

Both teams looked good, playing strongly in the first half as Tecumseh gathered its yardage on the ground and Chelsea combined footwork with air travel to gain its first half yardage.

CHELSEA COMMUNITY HOSPITAL WANTS YOU TO KNOW ABOUT...

Minerals Needed For Good Health

By Julie Say,
Director of Community Nutrition
Chelsea Community Hospital
Humans require 28 or more minerals to remain healthy. Minerals perform a variety of functions in the body. Most are needed in minute amounts. Let's take a look at the minerals we need, how much we need of them, and why.

MAJOR MINERALS
CALCIUM is the most abundant mineral in the body. The average size male contains about 2½ pounds of calcium, 99% of which gives strength and structure to bones and teeth. The remaining 1% assists in blood clotting, is needed for muscles to contract and relax normally, and is used by the nervous system to work properly.

In the United States, milk is the most important dietary source of calcium. Two cups of milk, or an equivalent amount of cheese or other dairy products except butter, go a long way toward supplying the calcium an adult needs for the day (800 milligrams).

From the age of 9 the diets of girls and women may lack as much as 25-30% of the calcium they need. Teen-agers and pregnant and lactating women need 1,200 milligrams of calcium daily.

Other good sources of calcium include sardines and salmon with bones, collard, kale, mustard, and turnip greens.

PHOSPHORUS works very closely with calcium in creating strength and hardness to bones and teeth. 80%-90% of the 1½ pounds of phosphorus found in the average sized man is in the bones and teeth. The remaining 10%-20% is distributed in every cell of the body, for it is needed in the utilization of energy.

Adults require about 800 milligrams of phosphorus daily. Teens, pregnant and lactating women require 1,200 milligrams. Phosphorus is more widely distributed in foods than is calcium. The average diet is therefore less likely to be deficient in phosphorus. Poultry, fish, meats, cereals, nuts and legumes, as well as milk and milk products are all good sources of phosphorus.

POTASSIUM, SODIUM and CHLORINE are the minerals necessary in keeping a normal balance of water in the body. Sodium and chlorine, well known because they occur together in table salt, are found chiefly in fluids that circulate outside body cells. Potassium is present mostly in fluids inside body cells. Sodium and potassium are also needed for proper functioning of nerves and muscle contraction.

The sodium and chlorine intake of Americans has been estimated to be between 3 and 7 grams per day which is more than adequate for usual body needs.

Potassium requirements have not been established, but an intake of 0.8-1.3 grams per day is estimated as the body's minimum need. Potassium is widely distributed in foods, and a potassium deficiency is most unlikely in the healthy individual. Certain diuretics may cause potassium depletion if efforts are not made to replace potassium in the diet.

Good sources of potassium include legumes, meats, and certain fruits and vegetables such as leafy green vegetables, baked potatoes, winter squash, tomato juice, vegetable juice cocktail, oranges, bananas, and prunes.

SULFUR is found in every cell of the body. It contributes structure to proteins and also is an important component to energy metabolism. A dietary allowance for sulfur has not been proposed. Sulfur is found in most food proteins, so it seems safe to assume that the sulfur needs of the body will be met if the protein intake is adequate.

MAGNESIUM. The average adult contains somewhat less than one ounce of magnesium. This is a sharp contrast to the nearly 3 pounds of calcium and 1½ pounds of phosphorus that are present. Magnesium is used to form bones and teeth, aid digestion, and it also helps maintain the muscles and nerves.

The recommended dietary allowance for magnesium is 300 milligrams daily for women, 350 milligrams daily for men, and 450 milligrams daily for pregnant and lactating women.

Magnesium is widespread in nature. Whole cereal grains and nuts are the richest sources. Milk, meats, fish, eggs, and green vegetables provide moderate to small amounts.

People eating a varied diet are reasonably certain to obtain the magnesium they need. However, individuals, especially adult males in the United States who select diets with overemphasis on meat, eggs, and dairy products, and with small amounts of legumes and whole-grain cereals, may have inadequate amounts of magnesium.

TRACE MINERALS
TRACE MINERALS are needed in tiny amounts to maintain normal health. These minerals can be deadly poisons if taken in large doses.

IRON. This best known trace mineral is needed for building red blood cells. The recommended dietary allowance is 10 milligrams per day for men and 18 milligrams per day for women. The average diets of girls and women of childbearing age have been found to be one-third below the recommended dietary allowance for iron. Good sources of iron include organ meats, lean meats, legumes, dark green leafy vegetables, dried fruits, eggs, and whole grain and enriched breads and cereals.

COPPER is an essential mineral. It appears to be necessary for the normal absorption of iron and the development of red blood cells. Deficiency of copper leads to such problems as anemia. No specific dietary level of copper has been set, but most diets exceed needed amounts. Meats, particularly liver, shellfish, nuts, raisins, and dried legumes are excellent sources of copper.

IODINE is needed by the thyroid gland to regulate metabolism. Iodine deficiency causes an enlarged thyroid gland (goiter).

The recommended dietary allowance for adults is between 100-140 micrograms, depending on their age and sex. Since sea water is iodine-rich, seafood and plants grown near the coast are good sources of iodine as is iodized salt.

The National Academy of Sciences recommends that everyone should use iodized salt in the home.

ZINC is a component of essential enzymes needed for the body to function properly. A deficiency causes loss of appetite and failure to grow. The recommended dietary allowance is 3 milligrams during the first six months of life, 10 milligrams for children, and 15 milligrams for adults, with an extra 5 milligrams during pregnancy, and an extra 10 milligrams when nursing.

The best way to get enough zinc is to eat a varied diet. Meat, liver, eggs and seafood are good sources, followed by milk and whole grain products.

FLORINE helps prevent tooth decay. Several studies also suggest that florine may play a role in the maintenance of bone structure. Fish, tea, and wine contain appreciable amounts of florine. It is the florine added to water that we rely on for increasing the hardness of tooth enamel.

MANGANESE is needed for normal tendon and bone structure and is part of some enzymes. Manganese is abundant in many foods, especially bran, coffee, tea, nuts, peas and beans. A deficiency in humans is unknown.

COBALT is itself not essential in the body but it is a part of Vitamin B-12. Vegetarians who do not eat any meat, eggs, or dairy products can become B-12 deficient because it occurs only in trace amounts in plants.

CHROMIUM, acting with insulin, is required for glucose utilization. A deficiency can produce a diabetes-like condition. Much remains to be learned about this mineral. Good sources are dried brewer's yeast, whole grain cereals, and liver.

MOLYBDENUM. No recommended intake has been set, nor a deficiency been found in humans for this mineral. Good sources include dried beans, organ meats, and whole grains.

SELENIUM performs some of the same functions as Vitamin E. A variety of problems occur in selenium and Vitamin E deficient animals. No dietary requirement has been determined for selenium.

NICKEL, TIN, VANADIUM, and SILICON have been discovered in animal tissues in recent years. Studies have shown that all four minerals are necessary in minute amounts for optimum growth, development, and reproduction.

Meeting Mineral Needs

We can meet our mineral needs by simply following the guidelines outlined in last month's nutrition article which focused on vitamins. The guidelines are these:

First, try to eat a variety of foods, and second, include in your daily food choices four or more servings of enriched or whole grain breads and cereals, two 3-oz. servings of meat, poultry, or fish. Dried beans and peas, soy extenders and nuts combined with animal protein or grain protein may be substituted for a serving of meat.

Four or more servings of fruits and vegetables should be chosen daily. Include a citrus fruit high in Vitamin C and a dark leafy green or deep yellow vegetable every other day (for Vitamin A). Two 8-oz. servings of milk should be part of the daily intake for adults. Cheese, cottage cheese, or foods containing milk may be substituted for part of the milk allowance. Children require three 8-oz. servings of milk daily. Teenagers require four 8-oz. glasses of milk.

If these guidelines are followed, most people will receive essential minerals in the right amounts. We not only need minerals in certain amounts but we need a certain balance of essential minerals. For these reasons receiving mineral needs from foods is best. If one wishes to take a common mineral supplement, this should be done in moderation.

As noted, trace minerals are needed in minute amounts, and can be toxic if taken in large amounts. A mineral supplement should never be substituted for a varied diet.

Next month's nutrition article will discuss FOOD ADDITIVES. Send your questions about nutrition to Julie Say, R.D., Community Nutritionist, Chelsea Community Hospital, 775 S. Main St., Chelsea 48118.

For the sweetest cherries look for dark red color. It should range from deep maroon to almost black for the richest flavor.
