ONE HUNDRED-TWELFTH YEAR—No. 26

CHELSEA, MICHIGAN, TUESDAY, DECEMBER 1, 1981

Pages This Week Supplement

CHAINED TOGETHER, the 21 persons arrested in Freedom township Saturday and charged with either operating or frequenting a dog fighting ring, were led from Sheriff's Department vans into 14th District Court on Monday, where six faced felony charges and the remaining 15 were arraigned on misdemeanor charges. Just one of those charged was from Michigan; the others were from Ohio and Wisconsin.

ENROUTE TO FELONY AND MISDEMEANOR CHARGES, Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department transported the 21 persons arrested with two juveniles on Saturday in the basement of a Freedom township home where a dog fighting bust was made. Using pit bull terriers in the fights, those arrested were charged with frequenting dog fights, a misdemeanor, or operating a dog fighting ring, a felony carrying a maximum prison term of four years. Just one of those apprehended is a Michigan resident while the others are from Ohio and Wisconsin.

CATS Bus Run Slated for Seniors

Before the relocation of the Chelsea Senior Citizens Activity Center became reality, active members voiced their concerns regarding transportation to the fledgling North school location. Now, after a consultation with the Chelsea Area Transportation System (CATS) board of directors, a special daily bus route to North school has been designed. The new CATS bus route will run Monday through Friday, with the exception of Thursday. It will leave each day at 12:30 p.m. and stop at six designated stops: the Chelsea United Methodist Home and the Crippen Building; the Porath Apartments on W. Middle St.; Bushnell Apartments on Wilkinson St.; the Chelsea Municipal Building; School House Apartments on Park St.; and North school. Persons planning to ride the bus should be at the stops promptly at 12:30 p.m. The bus will return 4 p.m.

Cost for CATS transportation to and from the new Senior Citizen Activity Center will be 50 cents.

Daily activities at the center include, Monday—Bingo and stained glass; Tuesday—Euchre; Wednesday—Fitness, sewing and knitting; and Thursday—Bridge and pinochle.

Community Choir Concert Set Monday

The Chelsea Community Choir, under the direction of June Warren, will hold its Christmas concert on Monday, Dec. 7 at 7:30 p.m. in the Beach Middle school auditorium.

The choir, organized through the Community Education Program, has grown to a membership of more than 30 persons in its second year of existence.

The program to be presented ranges from sacred to secular songs and ends with audience participation in the singing of Christmas carols.

Featured on the program will be a male chorus, a female chorus and a ladies' sextet. Soloists featured will include Sue Williams, Karol Morris and Harland Wood. The community is invited to hear and enjoy this fine group which draws membership from Chelsea, Dexter, Ann Arbor and Gregory.

Dog Fighting Ring Cracked; 29 Arrested In Freedom Township

The first dog fighting arrests in Washtenaw county were made Saturday, Nov. 28 as 29 people—18 males, three females and two juveniles—were taken into custody at approximately 3:30 p.m., arrested at a house located on Renz Rd. near Waters Rd. in Freedom township, near Chelsea.

The arrests culminated a six-month investigation involving the Michigan State Police, Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department and the Huron Valley Humane Society as well as two out-of-state humane societies from Ohio and Wisconsin.

Upon arrest, the suspects were taken to Washtenaw County Jail, awaiting arraignment Monday afternoon at 14th District Court, Chelsea. Of those persons arrested, six were charged with engaging with dog fighting/operating a dog fighting ring, a felony carrying a maximum prison term of four years and a $5,000 fine. The remaining 15 suspects were charged with the misdemeanor of frequenting a dog fight; as spectators, they could be charged with one year in prison. The juveniles apprehended could be charged with delinquency.

Of those persons charged, just one of the suspects is from Michigan while the remaining 20 are from Ohio and Wisconsin.

Similar charges in relation to Saturday's goings on may be made at a later date.

Arrested in a house leased by the Huron Valley Humane Society and staked out as a possible location for a dog fight, a staff member of the Humane Society posed as a host of the event which featured American Pit Bulls fighting in a pit and biting each other to determine which can inflict the most damage and pain to the other. As the animals maul each other, onlookers place bets on which animal will win.

The Humane Society used more than $10,000 of its own funds to finance the investigation and, as area state police troopers and sheriff's department deputies swarmed the house, the Humane Society followed, removing a total of nine dogs, two of which were sent to Wisconsin in the custody of the Wisconsin Humane Society. The other seven pit bulls were sent to the local Humane Society to be treated for head and neck wounds; all are expected to live.

According to the Huron Valley Humane Society, dog fighting is on the increase partially because of the economy and is looked upon as an extreme form of cruelty to animals.

Bumper Corn Crop Reported

Following this year's bumper crop of corn, local feed mills are literally up to their ears in the yellow grain. Honeggers and Company, Inc., located on Dexter-Chelsea Rd., is finally able to see daylight in their huge warehouse. That follows five weeks of 24 hour a day, seven day a week schedules to try and meet the storage needs of some 300,000 bushels of Michigan corn.

Michigan's 1981 crop is equal to the bumper crop harvested last year and long, hard working days will be in store as farmers bring the crops in and Honeggers ships them out to various nation-wide destinations.

Corn farmers who live and farm within a 20-mile radius of the feed mill are those most apt to sell their wares at Honeggers.

Prices have dropped considerably from last season. According to Jerry Heydlauff, manager, "This year we are paying $2.27 per bushel. That's 80 cents less than last year."

Heydlauff explained that an average acre of cropland will yield 90 to 100 bushels of corn. "This year, we've got farmers talking in the 150 bushel per acre range," he continued.

Moisture content for this year's harvest began with moisture in the high 30s but, this late in the season, the average moisture content is approximately 21 percent.

From the time the corn is dropped off, it is immediately transported to one of two areas in the country. By rail, with each car transporting 3,500 bushels, most of Honeggers' corn supply will be sent to New England. And, transporting 1,000 bushels of corn per load to Toledo, truckers deposit their loads for re-sale at the Toledo Market and eventual export.

Suspected Marijuana Dumped at Landfill

At 12:30 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 12, Chelsea Police Department received a telephone call from a village employee at the Chelsea landfill who said that eight neatly packaged and sealed boxes, each weighing approximately 20 pounds, were dropped off there.

One of the boxes was cut open to find it packed with a leafy green substance believed to be marijuana. Chelsea Police administered a chemical field test and determined that the substance was, indeed, marijuana. The boxes were confiscated by Chelsea Police who informed the employees to call if a similar incident should reoccur.

Later in the afternoon, the suspect returned with eight more boxes and Chelsea Police were provided with a description of the truck and its license number. Chelsea Police made contact with the suspect on Main St., just south of the village. They retrieved the eight boxes just dumped at the landfill and conducted another field test with similar results.

The 28-year-old suspect was questioned and released pending issuance of a warrant from the prosecutor's office and the nearly 190 pounds of suspected marijuana was sent to the State Crime Lab in Northville for testing and contents verification.

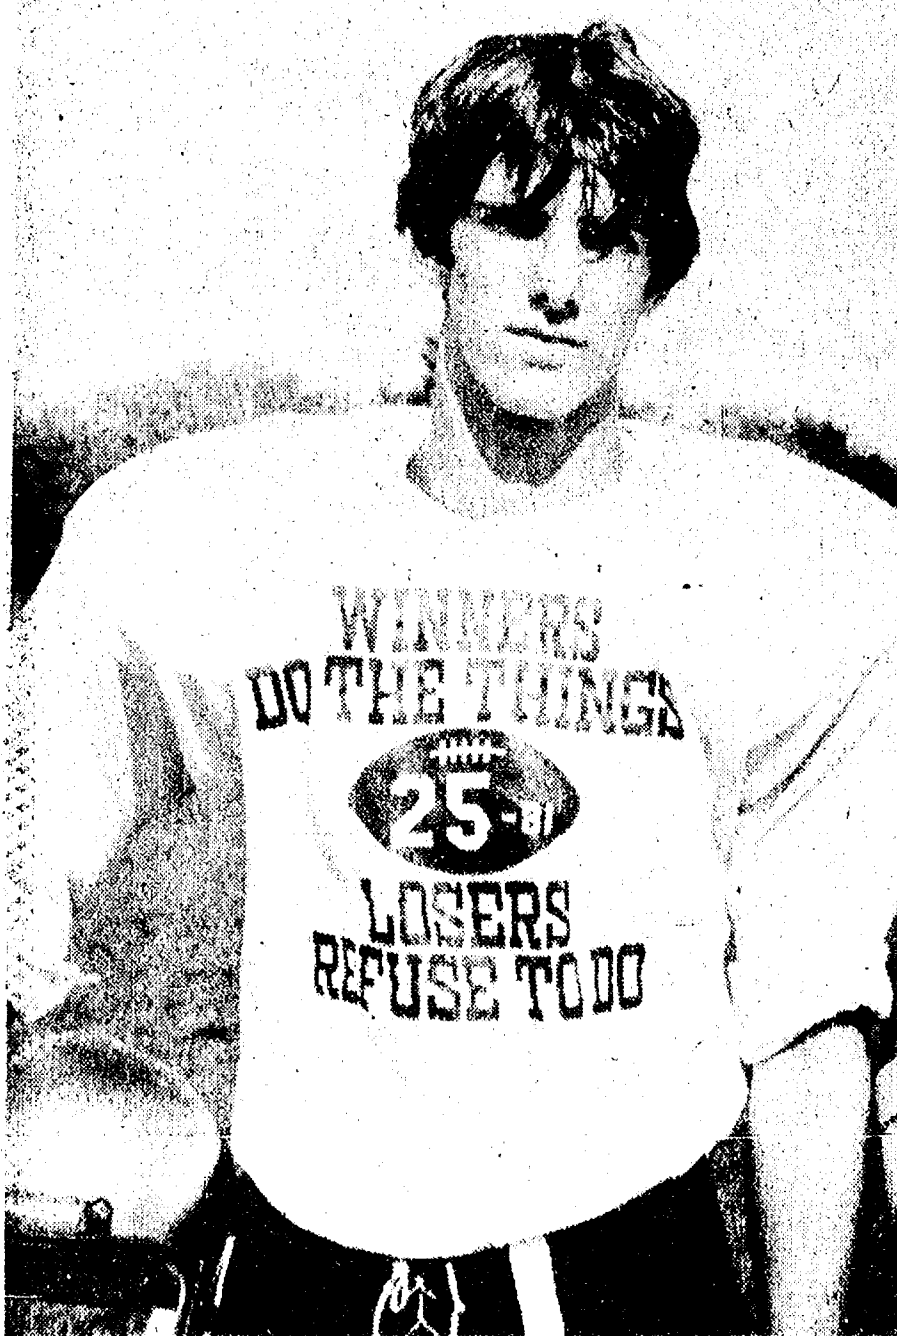

Since the discovery of the suspected drugs, the Federal Drug Enforcement Agency, the Internal Revenue Service and the

ALL STATER AND METRO WEST FIRST TEAM offensive end, selected by the Associated Press and the Detroit News, Chelsea's Jeff Lantis, chosen from a field of all Class B high school football players in the Detroit metropolitan area and state wide. This season, the six-foot, 165-pound senior caught 51 passes, good for 805 yards and 10 touchdowns. Being selected to the All-State team is Lantis' reward for his four years of hard work. Though not characterized by his speed, Lantis executes his pass patterns with expert precision. Having developed into a fine player, his leadership skills are an asset to the entire Bulldog team. Too, Lantis spends more time than most preparing, especially during the off-season. As an All-Stater, Jeff Lantis holds every Chelsea receiving record but one, the most receiving yardage in any one season, a record set by former teammate Jeff Dils. Still Lantis holds the Chelsea record for most career yardage at 1343, most career catches at 94, and most catches in any one season, 51. Prior to his being named to the Class B All-State team, Jeff received all-metro first team status. Teammates receiving all-metro honorable mention for their efforts on the 1981 Bulldog squad were lineman Rich Poljan, quarterback David Wojcicki and back John Preston.

CORN HARVESTING is nearly finished for the 1981 season, with crops equaling if not surpassing the 1980 crop. According to Jerry Heydlauff of Honeggers and Company, Inc., some farmers are reporting as much as 150 bushels per acre. Still, the 300,000 bushels stored at Honeggers and shipped to numerous national locations is being purchased at $2.27 per bushel, down 80 cents from the previous year. Above, Richard Bollinger operates a combine on the Reuben Lesser farm.

State Library To Receive Higher Priority Under Transfer
The Michigan state library and law library could get a new breath of life under a proposal to transfer its control from the Department of Education to the Legislature.

The state facility has been suffering over the years as it has become a low priority item for the Department of Education's budget.

With this in mind, Senate Majority Leader William Faust (D-Westland), a long-time friend of the library system in Michigan, spearheaded legislation that would place the library under the control of the legislature where it would receive a greater priority.

The library would be under the direction of a board of trustees comprised of members of the legislature, representatives from offices of the governor, attorney general, secretary of state, the chief justice of the Supreme Court, a representative of the Michigan Library Association and four members of the general public.

The board would be responsible for making recommendations to the Legislative Council—the governing body of the state legislature—regarding the services of the library, the library's budget and other matters of general policy.

Under the legislation, the state library would be organized similar to that of the U. S. Library of Congress.

The transfer from education to the legislature is seen as a first step in long range plans to establish a comprehensive computer information system linking the state library with the Library of Congress, the Legislature Service Bureau, the House and Senate fiscal agencies and various computer information services.

In a related matter, the legislature gave final approval to a new lottery game for charities and earmarking no less than $2 million of the revenues for the construction of a new state library.

Although no specific plans have been made for the facility, it would have to be located within a one-mile radius of the state Capitol Building in Lansing.

State To Get $77 Million In Federal Energy Aid

The state will receive at least $77 million for several energy assistance programs for low income families with $19.2 million already on its way to the state. Congress is still finalizing the exact amount that will be distributed nationwide and Michigan's share under earlier action was as high as $103 million, compared to $107 million received last year.

The Reagan administration is pushing a program that would leave the state with funds closer to the $77 million mark, although the state plan which federal energy officials have approved was based on the higher $107 million figure.

The state's program includes home heating assistance for low-income families not on welfare through energy tax credits, special heating allocations for families on general assistance or aid to families with dependent children programs, an emergency needs program to deal with such things as utility shutoffs or furnace breakdowns and Department of Labor programs for home weatherization assistance or crisis intervention.

Last year the state served about 520,000 families, about evenly split between those on welfare and those with low income but not on welfare.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

You got to be thinking ever minute to stay alive in the business world in the best of times. These times, verily, are not the best. Like the feller that runs the country store said Saturday night, if you can keep your head while all about you people are going busted there's a good chance you got a defense contract. He was talking about how the small businessman is being squeezed to death while the Reagan Rescue Co. goes about cutting income taxes, paying off the national debt, balancing the budget and giving the Defense Department a unlimited expense account.

Before Ed Doolittle could come to the aid of his party, the store feller went on to say he is worried some when the President talks about the U.S. and Russia picking Western Europe as a neutral field for the first and last Nuclear Bowl; and it bothers him that the only President he's got thinks a big grin solves all problems, but that young feller Stockman scared the living daylights out of him. He said he don't know nothing about economics and he gets that mixed up, but he knows about old Jeremiah, and he can't help but wonder if David Stockman ain't the Jeremiah of Reaganomics. He had to know he was kicking over a house of cards when he told that magazine writer the Reagan Administration's plan wasn't working and couldn't work. What the store feller said he wants to know, will history call Stockman the prophet of economic doom.

While the store feller had the floor he went on to say this country has got to make some hard choices, like the truck farmer that sets up shop beside the store two mornings a week. All summer and into the fall, he said, the gardner was there with fresh produce. He done a good business and some folks who stopped at his stand come on in and bought cold drinks, so it worked out all around. The other morning when he come to open up, the feller and his truck were there. He was bundled up against the cold and he had a new sign that read "Garden Fresh Frozen Food." The store feller said he won't be surprised to see him out there in the dead of winter, offering jars of his old lady's preserves. When you got a good thing going, it's hard to give it up, was the store feller's words.

A customer come in the store, and Ed got a chance to say we've been crying so long about giveaway Government til we don't know how to quit. Ed said weaning folks off Government hurts more than taking them off dope, but when you think about where this country was heading you got to give this new course a chance. Fer instant, Ed went on, it might be that all these private outfits taking over our hospitals are the only way out of socializing medicine and we can't stop griping about bureaucrat waste long enough to see it.

Personal, Mister Editor, I got to admit that I don't see much of what's going on. I saw by the paper where two African countries, Senegal and Gambia, joined to form Senegambia. Before there was a Senegambia, I had no idea there was a Senegal or a Gambia.

Yours truly,
Uncle Lew.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Henry Newhouse

Loffis-Newhouse Vows Spoken at Chelsea Congregational Church

Linda Sue Loffis and Paul Henry Newhouse were married Saturday, Nov. 7 at the First Congregational church of Chelsea. The Rev. Carl W. Schwarm officiated at the 6 p.m. candlelight ceremony uniting the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Allen of Stockbridge to the son of Henry Newhouse of Stuart, Fla. and Betty Houston of Chelsea.

The bride wore an ivory floor-length gown featuring a lace bodice and sleeves. Her fingertip veil was accented by embroidered flowers and seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white gardenias and coral stephanotis accented by English ivy and baby's breath.

Joan M. Allen of Stockbridge and Todd Newhouse of Chelsea, the bridegroom's brother, served as honor attendants.

Flower girl was Kimberly Allen, the bride's niece, of Stockbridge, while Michael Loffis, son of the bride, served as ringbearer. Gale Allen, the bride's brother, and Daron Allen, the bride's nephew, both of Stockbridge, served as ushers.

Immediately following the wedding, a reception, catered by Timothy's, was held at the Chelsea Rod and Gun Club. Music was provided by Bootleg. Attending the guest book were Cindy Arnett and Lee Ann Allen, nieces of the bride from Stockbridge.

The couple is at home in Chelsea. The bride is employed by Foxy Lady while the bridegroom is employed by the Village of Chelsea.

Widow to Widow Group Will Hear Guest Speaker

The Chelsea area Widow to Widow group will have its December meeting on Monday, Dec. 7 at 10:30 a.m. at North school.

The Rev. Robert Weikart from the Chelsea Family Practice Center will be the featured guest. He will discuss the natural difficulties encountered by all widows during the holiday season. In addition, participants will have an opportunity to share experiences and solutions to mutual problems. The educational program will be followed by a pot-luck luncheon and "white elephant" exchange.

Since last June, the Widow to Widow group has been attempting to contact every new widow in the village. There goal is to offer the new widow an opportunity to talk with one who has been through a similar experience. They are available to share practical tips, information, and referrals as well as to help the new widow identify normal feelings she may be experiencing.

The group is open to new members. For further information about the group or the December meeting, please call the Chelsea Senior Citizen Center at 475-9242.

ABWA Members Hear Talk By Co-Op Nursery Teacher

The Nov. 24 meeting of the Chelsea Charter Chapter of the American Business Women's Association was held at the Wolverine Lounge with 21 ladies present. Guests were Cindy Colvin, Maureen Bohl, Kathy McClendon and Loree Stafford. Loree Stafford of North Lake Co-Op Nursery was the guest speaker who enlightened the group on the work at the nursery. This organization reaches entire families, not just children. In its 18 years of existence, the nursery has reached 500 children in the communities of Chelsea, Gregory, Pinckney, Grass Lake and Stockbridge. The school is located at St. Barnabas Episcopal church and has 68 children, plus four extra referrals from the public schools and state and federal agencies. This school serves a diversified group of families working in various fields within the communities. The vocational speaker for the meeting was Nancy Morgan who is a manager with Stanley Home Products.

Judy Durgan, president, gave a short talk on the educational aspect of ABWA. She pointed out that ABWA is a firm believer in the advancement of education of women. Chapter-sponsored scholarships and the Stephen Bufton Memorial Educational Fund are tangible evidence of the belief that education is the key to helping women help themselves advance in the business world. Chelsea Charter Chapter's goal for the scholarship fund is $1,000 this year.

Micky Quackenbush, hospitality chairman, reported that all members planning to attend the Dec. 15 Christmas party should contact her. All members are asked to bring a new coffee mug wrapped and a small donation of $2 each to the Dec. 15 meeting which will be turned over to the Kinship Homes for the Mentally and Physically Handicapped.

Black Sheep Theatre Presenting Ann Arbor's Comic Opera Guild

The Black Sheep Theatre of Manchester will present the Comic Opera Guild of Ann Arbor for one week-end only, Thursday through Sunday, Dec. 3-6. They will be performing selections from Leonard Bernstein's "Candide" and a zarzuela (a one-act, Spanish operetta) "The Festival of the Dove." Performances are at 8:15 p.m. Thursday through Saturday with a 4 p.m. matinee on Sunday.

Bernstein's "Candide," based on Voltaire's satire on the optimistic philosophies of his time, opened on Broadway in 1956. The music, as well as the lyrics by Richard Wilbur, are witty and vibrant. Bernstein spoofs operatic musical standbys and works in modern forms such as the tango.

"The Festival of the Dove" by Thomas Breton was written in 1894 as a zarzuela, the national operetta form of Spain. It is a story of young lovers' misunderstandings and their eventual resolution. The feeling of the play and its music is at once complex and yet appealing in its unaffected nature. This English language version, as rewritten by the Comic Opera Guild, will be the first in this country.

Call 428-9280 for reservations and further information.

CAR POOLING EXPANSIONS are underway in Chelsea as well as other places in the area. The public car pool parking lot, located at I-94 and M-52 was in the process of being doubled in size last week, a move made to accommodate the steadily growing number of cost conscious, fuel efficient commuters enroute to Ann Arbor, Jackson, Dearborn and Detroit throughout the week.

Pinckney Youth Completes Navy Basic Training

Navy Airman Recruit David W. Heath, son of Michael D. and Shirley J. Heath of 217 Mill St., Pinckney, has completed recruit training at the Naval Training Center, Orlando, Fla.

During the eight-week training cycle, trainees studied general military subjects designed to prepare them for further academic and on-the-job training in one of the Navy's 85 basic occupational fields.

Included in their studies were seamanship, close order drill, Naval history and first aid. Personnel who complete this course of instruction are eligible for three hours of college credit in Physical Education and Hygiene.

A 1979 graduate of Pinckney High school, he joined the Navy in June 1981.

In December 1969, the Bakery and Confectionary Workers, expelled from the AFL-CIO in 1967, returned to the federation by merging with the American Bakery and Confectionary Workers' International Union (AFL-CIO), according to a publication of the U. S. Department of Labor.

Pair Charged In Attempted Forgery Case

On Friday, Nov. 13, Chelsea Police were summoned to the main branch of Chelsea State Bank in reference to a forgery.

According to Police Chief Robert Aello, at approximately 3:45 p.m., two males and one female entered the bank branch office at the corner of Old US-12 and M-52 and cashed a forged stolen check in the amount of $500.

Thereafter, the trio headed to the main branch where one of the male suspects attempted to cash a second forged check for the same amount. A teller, familiar with the owners upon whose account the cash was being drawn, became suspicious and notified CSB President Paul Mann. Mann, in turn, called the account holders and was informed that they did not issue the check for $500 which was being cashed. Holding the suspect, Chelsea Police were called.

The 19-year-old male suspect was taken into custody while his counterparts fled. Their names were obtained from the apprehended suspect and two warrants have been obtained, charging the 17-year-old female with forgery and charging the 19-year-old male with uttering and publishing a forged instrument, both of which are 14-year felonies. The second male is not being charged.

Successful Deer Herd Management Is 100-Year-Old Problem in Michigan

The year 1981 marks a 100-year anniversary since the first important state law protecting Michigan's deer herd was passed.

It was 1881 when the state legislature passed an act making illegal the shipment of deer carcasses out of the state and in so doing cut off the lucrative Chicago, Indiana and Ohio markets for Michigan venison. Since most of this meat had to travel by train, and railroad companies were reluctant to openly defy the law, the outstate shipments dwindled steadily during the 1880's. However, that proved to be only the first of many steps in the struggle for public control of wildlife, a struggle that began in the 1880's and continued to the 1920's.

The two major groups facing each other in this argument were the increasing numbers of recreation-minded sportsmen, led by a group of public-spirited men who saw the need to manage the deer herd and other wildlife as a resource belonging to the people. Wildlife, was, they argued, a public resource and should be controlled and managed by the state. As late as the 1870's most state lawmakers and the public at large held the view that wildlife never had protection and therefore would never need it. Anyone could go anywhere and take any amount of wildlife they wanted at any time of day or night, using guns, nets, traps, deadfalls, dogs, dynamite or any other means of capture.

The first real impact came in 1881 when the law prohibiting outstate shipment of venison was passed and market hunters were put on notice that their trade was in jeopardy. Passage of that law came about through the efforts of a small band of Michigan sportsmen who organized themselves into the "Michigan Sportsman's Association" in 1875 at Grand Rapids. By 1881 the group had gained enough strength to propose the market hunting law and members presented it to the legislature. One member, Henry Roney, had collected a mass of evidence which showed that 70,000 deer were killed in 1880 with large volumes of the total being shipped out of state.

This and other arguments were enough to see the bill passed into law. The law also restricted methods of hunting such as deer could not be taken when in red or spotted coat or while in the water. Pits, pitfalls and traps were outlawed as well. But passing a law and getting the public to support it were two different matters. Except for the railroads' reluctance to ship deer out of state, the new law saw little support and it wasn't until 1887 that the first game warden went to work.

The passage of that first act in 1881 gave the members of the MSA the wedge they needed to press for other laws. In 1887 they successfully stopped the use of lights and dogs in the taking of deer. That year they also got the season shortened to the months of October and November. By 1890, public views were changing steadily, and in 1891 the legislature reflected this by further restricting the season.

The most significant change came in 1895 when the legislature imposed the requirement that anyone who hunted deer would first have to buy a state hunting license. In so doing, the people, the legislature and the courts recognized for the first time that wildlife was a publicly owned state resource to be protected by all the powers of state government. No longer would local sheriffs, local prosecutors and local juries be able to freely ignore local poachers. It was not until the state required this new state deer hunting license that wardens could take offenders to court for prosecution.

The turn of the century saw dozens of counties in Michigan closing their lands for periods of five to 10 years, while state law soon restricted all deer hunting to the month of November. In 1900 the bag limit under a state license was five deer per hunter. In 1901 the bag limit was dropped to three deer, in 1905 to two deer and in 1915 to one deer.

The key piece of legislation came in 1925 when the Conservation Commission was given discretionary power over management of the deer herd. Many who supported this act did so because they believed the Commission would now be able to close the season entirely as a way of storing up greater numbers of deer. At the time, that's what the idea of Conservation meant and through the 1920s and 1930s the wave of county closings and

Important changes at this time were taking place in the deer herd and the range on which it survived. Logging and massive fires were the two key elements that brought rapid, major changes to the herd. From about 1870 to 1920 all the big stands of old-growth virgin timber were removed from the state and most of that work was completed before 1900. Almost nothing was spared. There was no planting to replace trees, there was no selective cutting, the forest cover that had developed here since the end of the glacial period 10,000 years earlier was simply removed in 30 to 50 years. Deer herds increased in large numbers as a result of this change. The deer couldn't chew on the tops of trees that stood 150 feet, but when the big timber was removed, the soil was readied for development of a whole new forest. By 1940, the deer herd had already multiplied to a point where it was beginning to over-eat and destroy its range.

Another change had also surfaced at this time. Scientific game management in the early 1920's was an attempt to determine how animals such as the white-tailed deer lived, what they ate, how many young they had and other basic factors. Their resulting studies determined that given the right conditions the whitetail will steadily increase its population to the limits of the range foods available by which time the range foods begin to suffer from overuse and then in the next severe winter pinch period, starvation beats numbers back to a far lower level. There were two solutions to the problem, to feed the deer artificially during the winter or to eliminate numbers to reasonable levels through hunting.

Both solutions were tried but only on a limited scale. Feeding proved to be fruitless because all it did was carry more deer artificially in an area until numbers grew beyond the ability of people to feed the animals. By 1950, Michigan's northern forests were carrying dangerously large numbers of deer and starvation was taking large tolls in some winters totalling 75,000 to 100,000 deer. The deer that survived such winters suffered from poor health and low reproduction as well as food plants in the deer yards having been killed by overbrowsing.

In August of 1952 a seven-member Conservation Commission met to set deer regulations at the Conservation Training School on the north shore of Higgins Lake. The deer story throughout Michigan proved that deer numbers were high. Range foods were suffering. Continued starvation was all that could be expected if hunting wasn't liberalized. Does and fawns had to be included, as well as bucks, in the total hunting picture.

A number of proposals were offered. The commission finally agreed upon a three-day open any-deer season tacked on to the end of the regular buck season. That fall hunters took a total of 162,000 deer from Michigan woodlands. Until then, the public had been accustomed to seeing hunters take a modest 65,000 to 75,000 antlered bucks each year. They did once again that fall but in the last three days another 100,000 deer, most of them does and fawns, were captured.

The public was outraged at this and became completely convinced that the deer herd had been completely wiped out.

But as time proved, the deer herd survived strongly and came back healthier, in better balance with its range, and just as productive as in years past. There are fewer deer in the Upper Peninsula where maturing forests provide less and less food, but the Northern Lower Peninsula probably has as many deer today as it had 30 years ago prior to that first big open season. The southern Lower Peninsula has far more deer than ever before.

As agricultural practices change in the region, more and more farmland has gone out of production and is now turning to bushy low growth lands ideal for deer.

Michigan in general now boasts a thriving herd of a million or more white-tailed deer, a number that has grown steadily through the 1970's under a composite approach that uses controlled hunting and range improvements as the basis for careful growth.

Hunters will take home about 150,000 deer this fall. The range is carrying the deer and the deer are surviving and reproducing enough young each year to handle this level of harvest.

Safe Food Hearings Again Postponed

Joint Senate Committee hearings on pending food safety legislation have once again been postponed, this time until after the first of the year. The controversial food safety legislation would substantially revise current food safety laws to incorporate the concept of risk assessment into regulation of food additives and other food ingredients.

Lake. The deer story throughout Michigan proved that deer numbers were high. Range foods were suffering. Continued starvation was all that could be expected if hunting wasn't liberalized. Does and fawns had to be included, as well as bucks, in the total hunting picture.

A number of proposals were offered. The commission finally agreed upon a three-day open any-deer season tacked on to the end of the regular buck season. That fall hunters took a total of 162,000 deer from Michigan woodlands. Until then, the public had been accustomed to seeing hunters take a modest 65,000 to 75,000 antlered bucks each year. They did once again that fall but in the last three days another 100,000 deer, most of them does and fawns, were captured.

The public was outraged at this and became completely convinced that the deer herd had been completely wiped out.

But as time proved, the deer herd survived strongly and came back healthier, in better balance with its range, and just as productive as in years past.

There are fewer deer in the Upper Peninsula where maturing forests provide less and less food, but the Northern Lower Peninsula probably has as many deer today as it had 30 years ago prior to that first big open season. The southern Lower Peninsula has far more deer than ever before. As agricultural practices change in the region, more and more farmland has gone out of production and is now turning to bushy low growth lands ideal for deer.

Michigan in general now boasts a thriving herd of a million or more white-tailed deer, a number that has grown steadily through the 1970's under a composite approach that uses controlled hunting and range improvements as the basis for careful growth.

Hunters will take home about 150,000 deer this fall. The range is carrying the deer and the deer are surviving and reproducing enough young each year to handle this level of harvest.

Safe Food Hearings Again Postponed

Joint Senate Committee hearings on pending food safety legislation have once again been postponed, this time until after the first of the year. The controversial food safety legislation would substantially revise current food safety laws to incorporate the concept of risk assessment into regulation of food additives and other food ingredients.

CHIP SHANKLETON of Crooked Lake poses with a nine-point buck, killed at approximately 1 p.m. Thanksgiving Day just north of Chelsea. The animal, estimated by the Conservation Department as being approximately two and one-half years old, weighed in at 190 pounds and was killed with a 12 gauge shotgun.

Views On Dental Health

By ROBERT A. BURNS, JR., DDS, P.C.

DENTURES - HANDLE WITH CARE

When is the most dangerous time in the life of dentures (sometimes called false teeth—but not by dentists)? The most dangerous period is when your dentures are out of your mouth!

Dentures should be handled carefully when they're out of your mouth. Dropping them even a few inches into a washbowl can break them. Hold your dentures over a towel or basin half-filled with water. Then, should they slip from your hand, there will be a cushion to help prevent damage.

When your dentures are out of your mouth for any length of time, they should be placed in water or a cleansing solution. If they become dry, they can warp. Dentures should not be placed in boiling water. Very hot water can warp the plastic.

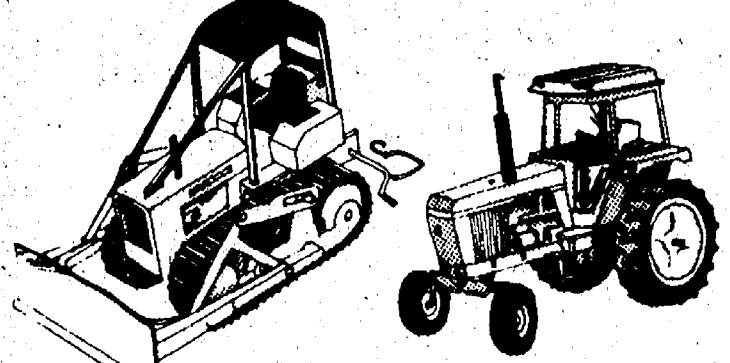

If your denture does break, do not try to put it together yourself. Solvents found in some glues can damage denture plastics and irritate your mouth. Instead, it is best to see your dentist that will have the denture repaired by re-processing the acrylic in the area of the break so it will be adequately strong and not irritate the tissues.

If you have dental health questions you would like to see answered, please mail them to the address below.

Juveniles Drive Away Parked Truck

At approximately 3:30 p.m. Friday, Nov. 13, a flat bed truck, owned by a Salline cable television company was stolen by two juveniles from where it was left running on Washington St. east of East St. The truck, with its yellow flashers oscillating and surrounded by cones, was being used as a warning device while workers laid cable in the area.

According to police reports, the two juveniles, ages 14 and 15, jumped into the truck and sped away with it. Chelsea Police were called and Chief Robert Aello searched for the vehicle in the direction in which it was last seen traveling. At the intersection of Trinkle and Freer Rds., skid marks were seen in the gravel and a section of pipe and a lineman's belt were discovered.

Approximately two miles outside of the village, Chief Aello saw two youths walking toward Chelsea. Stopping them and questioning them in regard to the stolen truck, they admitted their part in its disappearance. Officer David Dettling later located the missing vehicle in a field.

Both apprehended youths were lodged in juvenile detention for the night because of their past histories and are being petitioned to Juvenile Court.

Disabled Train Blocks Railroad Crossings

A freight train heading west-bound through Chelsea Tuesday morning punctured an airhose at approximately 8:15 a.m., at which time all brakes on the lengthy freight transporter locked, stopping the locomotive in its tracks and thereby disrupting traffic for nearly 45 minutes as the train stood idle while Conrail employees worked to correct the situation. Traffic was backed up at every crossing and major artery in and out of the village as angry car and truck drivers waited impatiently at their usual point of crossing. According to Chelsea Police, the only open crossing in or around Chelsea was at Freer Rd.

UNITED WAY CHECK PRESENTATION:
Honorary chairman Ray Van Meer accepts a hearty donation from Thomas Green, Dana plant manager, following the conclusion of the local firm's employee campaign. The check for $1,200 ups the local pledges to $42,873.69, or 90 percent of the total goal of $47,850. Dana contributions totaled $5,745, doubling last year's contributions. Nearly $5,000 is specifically earmarked for the Chelsea campaign.

Blood Clinic Scheduled

Chelsea area residents will have the opportunity to spread the Spirit of Christmas by donating blood when the American Red Cross Bloodmobile comes to Old St. Mary's school, 400 Congdon St., on Saturday, Dec. 12, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. This annual event is sponsored by the Chelsea Area Jaycees.

"The ongoing need for blood becomes especially acute during the holiday season when emergencies and accidents increase," said Wendell Wagner, this year's co-ordinator for the blood drive. "In order to help save the lives of patients in the area hospitals, we need the support of every person in our community to donate blood. There is no other source, except people who care."

Persons who are in good health and between the ages of 18 (17 with parental consent) and 66 are urged to donate blood. For an appointment to share your gift of life, please call Wagner at 475-2571.

Galens Tag Day Slated Dec. 4-5 in Ann Arbor

On Friday and Saturday, Dec. 4 and 5, members of the Galens Medical Society will once again take to the streets of Ann Arbor for the traditional Tag Day Drive to raise money for projects aiding sick and needy children.

Clad in the familiar red ponchos and carrying buckets, Galens members will request that area residents help make this drive as successful as past ones by making a donation to help support projects such as Christmas parties for young people hospitalized at the University of Michigan's Medical Center, St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, and the Mott Children's Hospital Workshop. Red and green tags will be passed out with each donation by Galens members stationed on street corners throughout campus and the downtown area as well as major shopping centers. All money raised is used exclusively to help the children.

Nowhere is the holiday spirit more evident than at the annual Christmas parties sponsored by Galens with the help of all the holiday-spirited donations. These parties brighten the holidays for children who are in a strange environment away from home and family.

The Galens Society was founded in 1914 and is a service organization of full-time University of Michigan medical students. Since 1928, it has supported the Galens Workshop, a special place for learning and laughter for thousands of young patients over the years at University Hospital and, more recently, at Mott Hospital. Tag Day contributions for books, tools, equipment, and instructor salaries help fulfill Galens' long-term commitment to support the workshop.

St. Joseph Mercy Hospital's children's unit, called the Galens Pediatric Unit, has received 60% of a $100,000 pledge from Galens for providing a modern setting for the care of children and adolescents. In addition, Galens has supported programs at and the remodeling of the Children's Psychiatric Hospital at The University of Michigan Medical Center.

Pets Need Extra Care for Winter

Here comes the winter and cold weather. The winter of 1981-82 will undoubtedly be as cold as previous Michigan winters. So when you think about winterizing your car or adding insulation to your home, please also think about your pets' special winter care needs.

Dogs and cats that are outside for even a few hours each day during the cold months need up to 50 percent more food than during the summer. Keeping warm requires extra energy. Doghouses can be made warmer by putting them on cinder blocks to get them off the ground, putting a thick layer of straw inside, and hanging a piece of plastic or blanket over the door. You can pick up free straw from the Humane Society of Huron Valley at 3100 Cherry Hill Rd., just off of Plymouth Rd. in the village of Dixboro. Also, make sure your dog knows or is shown how to get in and out of the doghouse after you put the plastic or the blanket over the door.

Another winter danger to pets is anti-freeze. Pets are attracted to the smell of anti-freeze and will lick up any they find. It is poisonous, even in very small amounts. If cats walk through anti-freeze and then lick it off their paws, they will suffer kidney failure or death. If an accident does occur be sure to get your pet to a veterinarian, or to our county's Emergency Veterinary Clinic, immediately.

Many cats are injured because they sleep under the hoods of cars looking for warmth. When the owner starts the car, the cat is caught in the fan belt and is severely injured. Prevention is easy. Just give a beep on the car horn before you start your engine, and a cat will quickly run away from the car.

Last but not least, let your pets sleep indoors on especially cold nights. Many animals and particularly cats, suffer from frostbite because the tips of their ears freeze easily. Remember: roaming pets cause regrets, in more ways than one.

Winter is hard on animals, but there are simple, considerate things we can do to help them get through the winter happily and healthily.

Fire Dept. Practice

departments will take part. They are Chelsea, Manchester, Dexter and possibly, Saline.

Locating deserted buildings to be used for practice and training is nearly impossible but Chelsea Fire Department approached Bob and Jim Daniels in reference to the former farm located on the future site of Chelsea Lumber Co. Approval for the burn was granted (the buildings had to be removed prior to construction) and both parties' interests were well-served.

After the outbuilding burning, the house will be burned Sunday, Dec. 13.

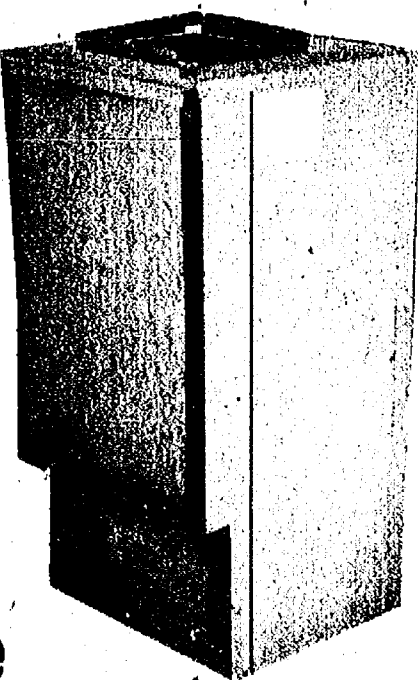

Hospice Informational Meeting Scheduled

Hospice of Washtenaw is an agency which provides supportive services to terminally ill patients and their families. Volunteers are needed to perform a variety of tasks ranging from patient and family care to public speaking to administrative and organizational duties.

Interested individuals with or without backgrounds in health care are encouraged to attend an informational meeting on Dec. 7, at 7:30 p.m., at 2530 S. Main, Ann Arbor.

Please call 995-1995 if you would like more information.

Pure natural ground water can heat and cool
your home

A ground water heat pump system can heat and cool your home with less than one-third the energy of a traditional furnace/air conditioner system.

The heat pump system is nearly twice as efficient as an air-to-air heat pump. You owe it to yourself and your family to fully explore this ingenious system.

It's not too good to be true. It's too good to ignore.

Fire Dept. Receives 5 Calls for Help

Chelsea Fire Department made a total of five runs last week, regarding two fires and three rescue calls.

On Tuesday, Nov. 24, at 12:17 p.m., Chelsea firemen were summoned to the scene of a truck fire on M-52 at Werkner Rd.

On Wednesday, Nov. 25, at 6:31 a.m., a rescue run was made to a residence on Trinkle Rd.

A rescue run to a residence on Adams St. was made at 2:56 p.m. Friday, Nov. 27.

On Saturday, a fire run was made to the Chelsea United Methodist Retirement Home at 10:35 a.m. and, at 9:41 p.m., a rescue run was made to the Cassidy Lake Technical School.

Unpaid Parking Tickets Can Now Be Expensive

Chelsea Police Chief Robert Aeillo explains that, as of March 31, 1981, an ordinance came into being whereby six or more outstanding parking violations issued by a city, village or township where the ticket is payable at a violations bureau and has not been resolved will automatically result in the issuance of a civil infraction for each outstanding violation.

The civil infraction is sent via registered mail and, at that time, ticket holders must respond to court to pay the fines with a $15 court cost attached. Failure to pay will result in the suspension of one's driver's license and, if that should occur, an additional $10 driver's license reinstatement fee will also be charged.

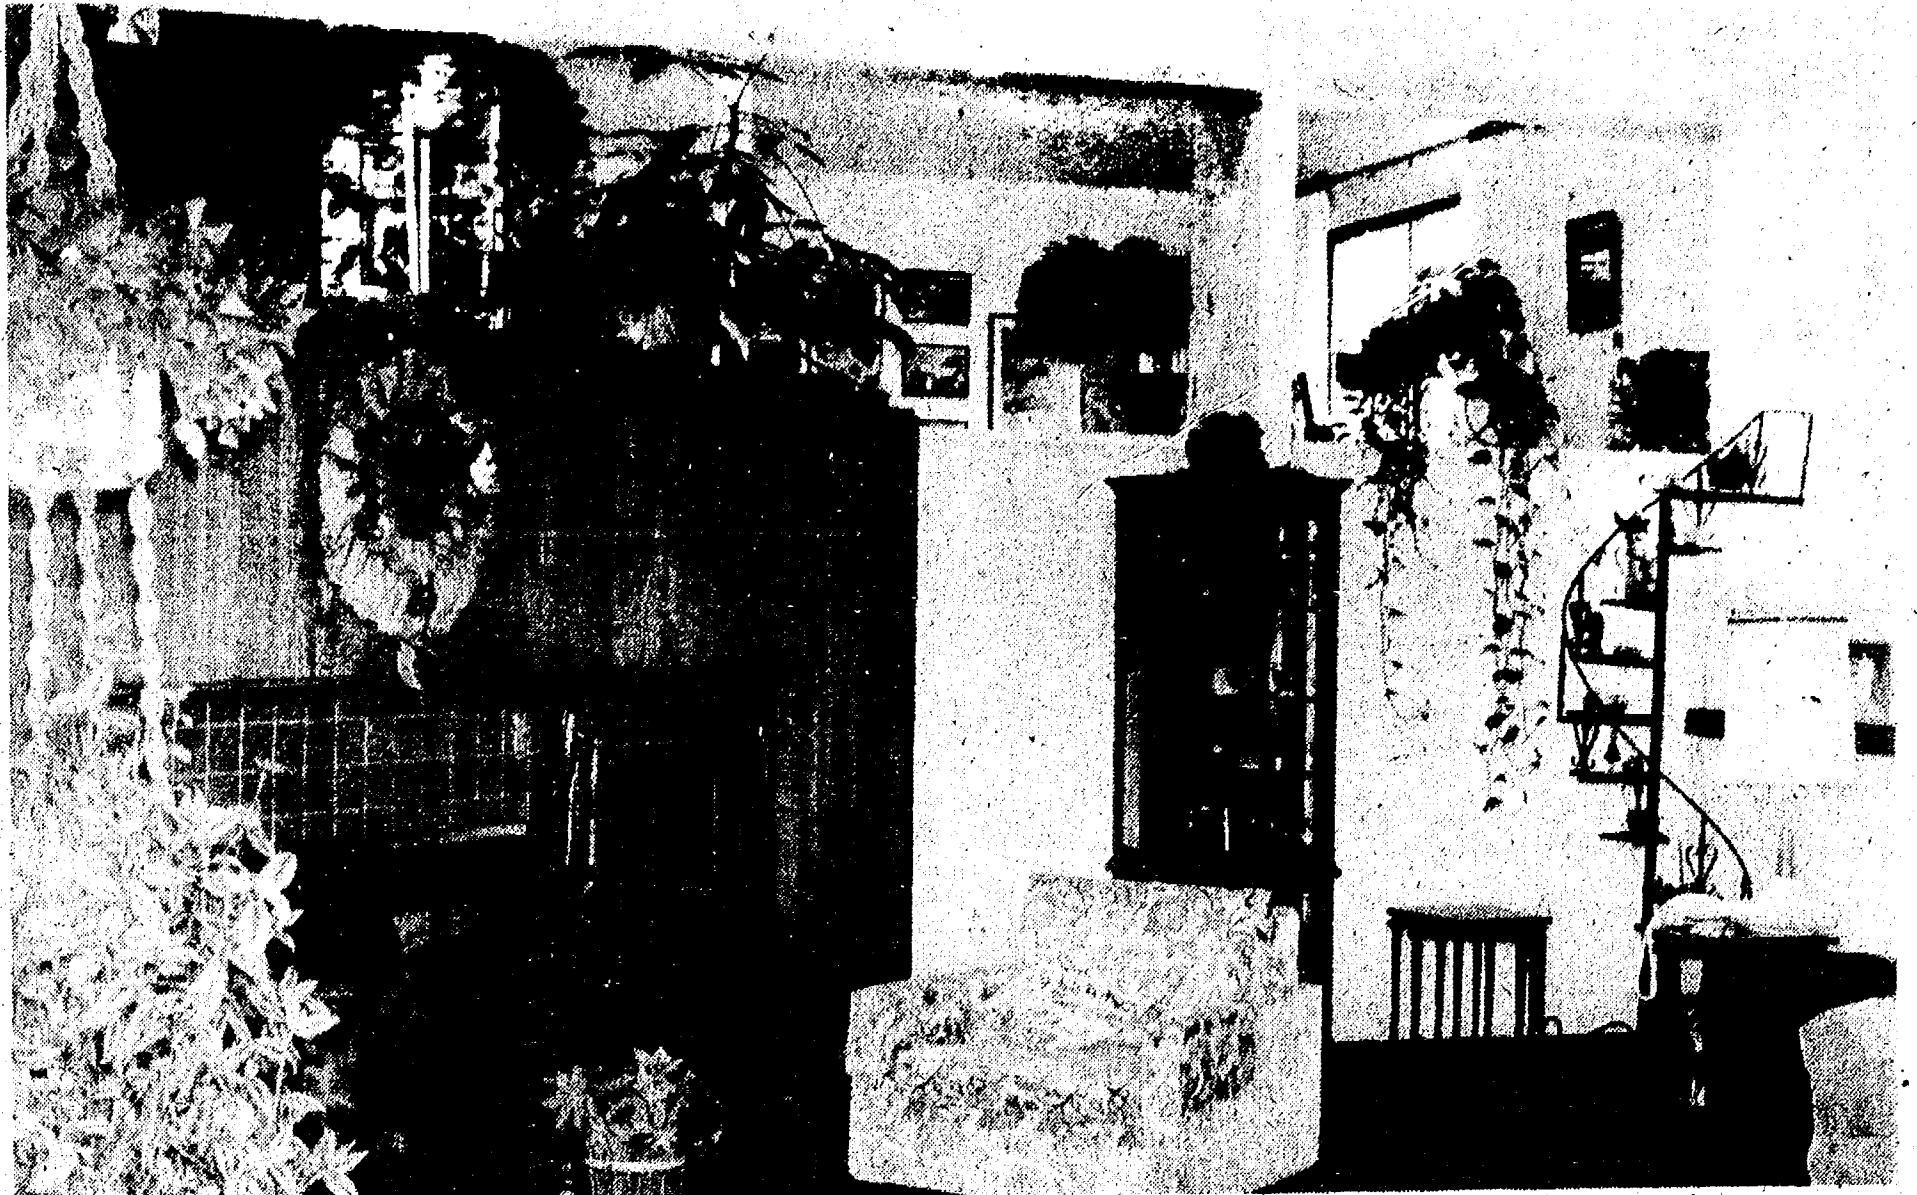

Hence, a Chelsea parking violation charging $1 if payment is received within 24 hours and $3 in payment is received after the specified length of time could ultimately cost the violator $25 should a civil infraction and driver's license suspension occur.

A FIREPLACE of ceramic tiles surrounded by oak is a focal point in the triangular living room at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Siegel of 11150 Trinkle Rd., one of the six homes to be toured during "A Christmas Walk," sponsored by the Chelsea Community Hospital Auxiliary. Other architectural delights to be visited will include the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Duane Branch, Mr. and Dr. Gene LaFave, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Daniels, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Flintoft, and Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Feeney.

'Christmas Walk' Features 6 Outstanding Chelsea Homes

Six homes will share their Christmas spirit with all who take "A Christmas Walk" on Sunday, Dec. 13 from 4 p.m. to 8 p.m. Sponsored by the Chelsea Community Hospital Auxiliary, proceeds will go to those many projects which include community health services; health field scholarships and functional and aesthetic gifts and services to the hospital and its communities.

Enjoy a glimpse into the homes of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Feeney, 666 Washington St., and Mr. and Mrs. William Siegel, 11150 Trinkle Rd.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Feeney
666 Washington St., Chelsea

An oriental atmosphere prevails in the foyer of this rambling, brick, ranch style home. The wall covering borrows its palette of blues, metallic gold and jade from a dominant Japanese 14th century print by Chigo-Daisho, "The Priest Cobo Dalshi As A Child."

Tucked around the corner is a cozy "morning room," a quiet retreat filled with the Michael Feeney family mementos and furniture from earlier decades.

One is treated to a most pleasant surprise upon entering the family dining area. At one end is a relaxed furniture grouping around a fireplace with stained glass Christmas angels and flickering votives adorning its mantle. Ahead is a garden room of white wicker and blues which is a step away from the gardens, tennis court and pool. Commanding a pivotal spot in this room of glass is the "fun" Christmas tree. The dining area is a sensational profusion of contemporary shapes and angles. A striking ensemble by designer Paul Campbell consists of an uneven rounded table of heavy glass majestically resting upon pedestals of hewn ash and nine matching contempo chairs, each an original and each a little different. The table, set with Spode's white and lacy jewel pattern, is awaiting the Feeneys and their six young adult children for Christmas dinner. Each diner is treated to an exterior view either through multi-SCOPE windows or reflected in a smoky mirrored recess housing an African bubanga wood buffet table. Separating the dining and family areas is an open room divider/etagere, again designed by Campbell, displaying a selection of artifacts and plants.

There is a peaceful Far Eastern influence in the living room which is dominated by striking flexible modulars which have a stylized bamboo silhouette design woven into the fabric. Neutral pairing of light walls and carpeting establishes a tranquil atmosphere for the tasteful touches of oriental artifacts.

The master bedroom, with its own access poolside, is bright with oriental blues, rusts and accessories. A traditional table and navy and white large plaid loveseat provides a reading or breakfast area. The absence of drapes affords fresh air and a serene view while privacy is provided by thin-slat Venetian blinds. A bit of scheming with prints and color pulls this roomful of diverse styles together with flair.

The large study is another quiet area of this household which was built by the Dillon Wolvertons who operated a nursery on the site. The landscaping includes hundreds of varieties which were planted in 1946 and carefully planned to bloom, change color and afford a repast for the birds throughout the year.

Bulldog Cagers May Surprise Some League Favorites Before Long

"Two keys to a successful season for us will be rebounding and defensive pressure," explains varsity basketball coach Robin Raymond. "If we can dominate the boards and keep the pressure on, we'll do well. Offensively, we're balanced and better than adequate," he continued.

Nevertheless, this year's team is inexperienced on the varsity level and very young. Just four players are returning with varsity experience. They are seniors Mike Bareis, Toby Boyd and John Welton. Only one starter, David Wojcicki, is returning to the Bulldogs.

Twelve players comprise the 1981-82 Bulldog cagers. In addition to the aforementioned seniors, senior Daren Pierson will play his first year on varsity. Juniors include David Wojcicki, Andy Krichbaum, David Mann, Matt Villemure, Carl Pate and Ken Nadeau and sophomores David Kiel and Marty Steinhauer.

Following the conclusion of the winning 1980-81 season, the Bulldogs lost a number of fine players including Jeff Dils, Jeff Price, Sean Peterson, Jon Riemenschneider, Chris Tobin and Mark Steinhauer.

Raymond expects this season to begin much like last year's season. Inexperience will show prior to Christmas and there is a need for leadership on the court from the returning lettermen.

Pre-season hopefuls for starting positions include Wojcicki and Welton as inside guards with Villemure serving as good back-up. Up front, Bareis, Kiel, Steinhauer, Mann and Boyd look to be the players in the race for starting positions. Valuable back-up assistance at forward will be Nadeau, Pate and Krichbaum while Pierson will back-up at guard.

In the league championship race, Dexter and Lincoln look to be the schools to chase. Milan, Tecumseh and Saline have good athletes and consistently good programs each season. Jackson County Western, on the other hand, should hold down the league cellar. Pre-season standing for Chelsea finds the Bulldogs somewhere in the middle of the pack though the team is fundamentally strong and could prove threatening.

Chelsea opens its season against Brighton on Friday, Dec. 4 and the league season begins at home on Tuesday, Dec. 8 against Western. Then, before Christmas, the Bulldogs will take on Milan, Tecumseh and Dexter and is anticipating a strong showing.

The 1981 Bulldogs are fundamentally sound which affords the group to perform more team-oriented drills prior to the beginning of the season. Though there is no real height advantage, and little height at center, Chelsea will be forced to provide better balance at the forward position in order to compensate. The Bulldogs have a strong guard position and two of their three front court positions are well manned.

Through intense work-outs in both the on and off seasons, the 1981 Bulldogs have, as Raymond explains, "made themselves into good players."

Buhr Park Ice Rink Opens Today

The Department of Parks and Recreation, Buhr Park Ice Rink will begin the 1981-82 outdoor skating season Tuesday, Dec. 1. Public skating sessions will be held each day throughout the week both in the afternoon and evening. Special season pass rates are available for individuals and families.

The ice rink is located at 2751 Packard Rd., Ann Arbor.

Hockey Team Loses, 2-3, to Hillsdale

The Chelsea Merchants hockey team lost a tough game on Sunday, Nov. 22, falling, 2-3, to Hillsdale College.

It was a very close game with just one goal in the first period, scored by Greg Hastings, set up by Tim Gunton.

Hillsdale scored twice in the second period to take a 2-1 lead into the third period.

In the third period, Hillsdale and the Merchants each scored to lead Hillsdale to a 3-2 win. The Merchants' goal was again scored by Greg Hastings, assisted by Duane Tryone.

The Chelsea team played a good solid game against the league powerhouse and, according to Coach Steve Schanz, "The team is playing good hockey but is in need of some breaks."

The Merchants game, played Sunday, Dec. 6 at the Jackson Sports Arena, got underway at 11 p.m. Results were unavailable at this printing.

Swimmers of the Week

SWIMMIN' WOMEN qualifying for the state meet to be held in Grand Rapids on Dec. 4 and 5 include this trio as well as one other Chelsea High school swimmer. The qualifiers are, from left, Dawn Borders, Kristin Thomas, Margie Rawson and, not in photo, Liesel Culver. The quartet surpassed their previous swimming accomplishments to take their starting competitive positions on the 1981 Bulldog squad at the Michigan state meet.

Chelsea Swim Team Wins Their Own Invitational Meet

Thursday, Nov. 19, the Chelsea Charles S. Cameron Pool was the site of the fifth annual Chelsea Girls Swimming Invitational. Eight teams participated in the meet. They included: Chelsea, Dexter, Erie-Mason, Novi, Riverview, Lincoln, Monroe St. Mary's and Dundee.

Final results had Chelsea winning its second consecutive invitational, topping the field with 255 points. Runner-up went to a much improved quality Dexter team with 246 points. Other scoring went as follows: Novi 177, Riverview 173, St. Mary's 122, Erie-Mason 120, Dundee 97 and Lincoln 39.

Those scoring in the meet for the Chelsea Bulldogs included a seventh place finish for the medley relay team composed of Mary Bacon, Missy Young, Cinda Thornton and Nancy Hastings. Highlighting the three heats of the medley relay was an invitational record-setting relay team made up of Chelsea's Dawn Borders, Margie Rawson, Becca Lee and Pam Spayd.

The 200 freestyle had Janine Hoffman swimming faster than ever, dropping five seconds off her previous best time and also, Liesel Culver maintaining her second place seed with an excellent time of 2:07.8. This time qualified her for the state meet in that event.

The 200 individual medley showed sophomore Margie Rawson showing her talents as she broke her own invitational record by 5.2 seconds while swimming the event in 2:21.8. Becca Lee, also in the 200 IM, swam to her best effort with a 2:39.0 clocking while taking fifth place.

In the 50 freestyle, Chelsea's Sandy Young had the best timing of the year, winning her heat in a time of :34.3. Nancy Hastings swam to a :31.8 clocking while Dawn Borders stunned the crowd by almost touching out the meet's top 50 seed, Julie Pena of St. Mary's, while swimming to a :26.7 timing.

The diving event showed to be exciting with many top competitors. Karla Goltman of Dexter won the event handily while Mary Bacon of Chelsea dove well to place herself to second place in the competition. Karen Moore and Vicki Hamill, newcomers to Chelsea this year, placed 14th and 18th, respectively.

The butterfly event was a big one for the Bulldogs as three of their swimmers placed in the top 12. Cinda Thornton went six seconds under her fastest time and placed 11th, Missy Young placed sixth, even though she was seeded 13th going into the meet and Kristin Thomas "an outstanding butterflyer" paced the field with a 1:04.9 clocking.

In the 100 freestyle, Vicki Harrell lowered her time by four seconds while Liesel Culver swam to a varsity record :58.3 and placed second in the event.

The 500 freestyle was exciting for the Bulldogs as Janine Hoffman, Becca Lee and Kristin Thomas placed sixth, third and second, respectively.

Sandy Young and Dawn Borders swam quite well in the 100 backstroke. Borders cruised to a 1:08.3 clocking which qualified her in that event at the state meet and also earned herself a meet and varsity record.

Margie Rawson swam to a third place finish in the breaststroke. Rawson's time was a Chelsea varsity record.

Concluding the meet, Chelsea's relays, composed of Thornton, Hoffman, Hastings, Bacon, Spayd, Young, Thomas and Culver went 11th and second, respectively.

The Bulldog team will now take all their talent to Grand Rapids on Thursday, Dec. 3 to compete in the state championships Dec. 4 and 5.

Girls JV Cagers Close Out Good 10-9 Season

Chelsea's junior varsity girls basketball team closed its season by splitting its final two games, losing, 39-37, to Lincoln and defeating Novi, 36-27. Their season tally resulted in a 10-9 over-all record and a 5-7 Southeastern Conference slate.

Against Lincoln, the ladies fell behind, 23-10, at the half. Nevertheless, they fought back to take a 35-32 lead late in the game but they couldn't hold the lead and fell, 39-37. Freshman Samantha Collinsworth dominated the second half as she scored 14 points to rally the Bulldogs. She led all scorers with 17 points.

Then, on Tuesday, the girls traveled to Novi and came away with a hard-earned 36-27 win. The game was close after the first quarter as the Wildcats led, 7-6. Chelsea went ahead, 18-11, at the half as the ladies outscored Novi, 12-4, in the second quarter. Chelsea finally pulled away to a 36-21 lead with three minutes to go. Samantha Collinsworth once again led Chelsea as she scored 18 points on seven of 12 tries, shooting 58 percent from the floor and four of five for 80 percent from the free throw line. Kelly Hawker and Karla Peterson led in rebounds with eight points each. Karla Peterson also had 12 steals and Anne Weber had six.

On the season, Karla Peterson led all scorers and made the most steals while Carol Warren was the team's leading rebounder.

Letters were presented Friday, Nov. 20 to freshmen Samantha Collinsworth, Kelly Hawker, Sarah Comeau, Michelle Parmer, Tina Paddock, Rachel Schnell, Joann Tobin and Anne Weber; sophomores Laurie Heller, Tanya Mattoff, Karla Peterson, Carol Warren and Jahe Wood.

Special awards presented went to the team as a whole for setting a JV record for the most wins in one season with 10. Also, the group set the JV record for the most points in any one quarter with 18 against South Lyon and 18 against Ann Arbor Pioneer.

Most Valuable Player honors went to Karla Peterson while the Most Improved Player was Tina Paddock. Jane Wood and Laurie Heller were given the Team Spirit Award.

Lady Cagers Defeated In District Tourney

On Monday, Nov. 23, Chelsea's girls basketball team took on Tecumseh in the district semifinals to defeat the opponents, 39-29. Scoring were Amy Unterbrink with 16 points, Beth Unterbrink and Amy Hume with six points each, Missi Lazarz with five points, Shelly Weber with four and Karen Kiel with two.

In the contest, Chelsea was behind for most of the game, playing close and defensively well though offensive execution was lacking. Tecumseh was up by three at the half, 17-14, and in the third quarter, Unterbrink scored six of Chelsea's eight points. By the fourth quarter, Chelsea was behind, 27-22, with five and one-half minutes left. Then, the lady Bulldogs attacked, outscoring their opponents, 17-2, in a rousing game of inspired basketball.

Then, on Wednesday, Chelsea took on another semi-finalist, Columbia Central and lost to their opponents, 43-37.

Scoring were Beth Unterbrink with 10, Amy Hume with nine, Missi Lazarz with eight, Shelly

ENJOY A GLIMPSE into the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Feeney, 666 Washington St., pictured, during "A Christmas Walk," a multi-house tour sponsored by the Chelsea Community Hospital

Auxiliary to be held on Sunday, Dec. 13 from 4 p.m. to 8 p.m. The Feeney home is one of six homes in the Chelsea area to be visited that day.

FAR EASTERN INFLUENCE is obvious from the decor in the Feeney living room which is dominated by striking flexible modulars which have a stylized bamboo silhouette design woven into the fabric. Light walls and carpeting establish a tranquil atmosphere for the tasteful touches of oriental artifacts.

Ann has borrowed greens, pinecones, boxwood, berries, vines, holly and other gifts from her botanical garden for her many Christmas craft projects which include a great grapevine wreath at the front entrance.

This large candlelit home softly reflects how, in a close, active family environment, an effective balance can be created between the quiet corners and retreats and the busy areas which add up to a dramatic, meaningful atmosphere.

Mr. and Mrs. William Siegel, 11150 Trinkle Rd., Dexter

Twinkling holiday lights from around windows and balconies beckon the visitor from this northern perch across a bog above Trinkle Rd. The approach up and around the country lane brings the bi-level home of the William Siegels into closer perspective.

Designed and built in 1977 by Tom Simon, this home is full of prizes and surprises and allows the contemporary to join the traditional with feeling. Entering across a deck brightened by Christmas lights and color, one cannot help but notice the striking contrasts in the modern entry which soars two stories to a slanted ceiling and skylights. The magnificent antique leaded and beveled glass windows beside and above the equally old glass paneled front door are all from the former Nichols' residence in Ann Arbor; and they seem surprisingly at home alongside garden platforms which are open to all three levels. An antique coat rack and school desks intermingle warmly with the clearly defined combination of electric blue carpeting and white walls and ceilings.

On the entry level is the game room which sports a novel wall collection of antique car prints and amenities of bar, game table and chess table and which also becomes a balcony overlooking the triangular living room. A fireplace of ceramic tiles surrounded by oak becomes a focal point of the living room while a traditional tree decorated with an ornament collection much loved and added to year after year commands a spot before the sliding glass doors to the balcony. A tall, stately lighted curio cabinet exhibits a collection of family antique china and crystal plus a 78-year-old baptismal slip; and a circular staircase stand holds Diana's "favorite things." A sleek, contempo wall shelf displays a bell collection and a most unusual ball-bearing timepiece.

The dining table is set for a family Christmas and birthday (Mrs. Siegel's) brunch in a room which also opens to the balcony well-planned and directed to a lovely view of fields and woods. The cozy corner kitchen is bright with patterned carpeting, red and white checked priscilla curtains and red appliances which spark the woody tones of oak cabinets. An eating/working island reflects a Christmas mood and an old, large cast aluminum tea kettle dominates the stove top under a swing-out range hood.

Blue and brown Italian tile coordinated with patterned paper add splash to the corridor guest bath and its open door proudly boasts antique scrolled metal hinges which are prevalent throughout this home. The stairway area back to the foyer is floored with Indian prints, arrowheads and a Navajo weaving.

Diana loves to decorate for the holidays and uses many handcrafted and unusual items made by herself, her mother and others. This spacious new home, lauded for its handling of traffic and abounding with holiday accents, is an eclectic mixture of modern and antique furnishings emphasized by track lighting and color. The Siegels have combined a "tomorrow" atmosphere with nostalgic remembrances of yesteryear to create a background suited to their interests and habits.

Also to be viewed will be the decorated homes of Mr. and Mrs. Duane Branch, 234 Washington St.; Mr. and Dr. Gene LaFave, 430 East St.; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Daniels, 665 Washington St.; and Mr. and Mrs. Peter Flintoft, 415 Washington St.

Tickets at $6 each may be purchased at the Chelsea State Bank, Chelsea Pharmacy, The Arbor Nook at the Chelsea hospital, and at each home during the tour.

The Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, which regulates all private sector pension plans, and to a more limited extent, all private sector welfare plans, was signed by the President on Labor Day 1974, according to a U. S. Department of Labor publication.

South School PTS Sponsoring Santa Shop

The South school PTS is sponsoring a Santa's Shop on Saturday, Dec. 5, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., and Santa Claus will be there, direct from the North Pole, from 10 a.m. to 12 noon to visit with the children. Even with his very busy schedule, Santa has managed to find the time to come to the special shop for a couple of hours. He will have to leave around noon.

Some of the classes will be busy making Christmas decorations for the gym, in anticipation of Santa's visit. Mrs. Thornton's first grade class will be decorating a large paper Christmas tree for the wall; Mrs. Thodeson's first grade class is making red and green chains for the display tables; Mrs. Daniels' third graders are making a Snoopy and Woodstock 12 Days of Christmas mural; Mrs. Prohaska's third graders are doing illustrated stories and Mrs. Lopez's second graders will also be contributing some original Christmas art.

Santa's Shop offers the children a unique opportunity to "shop" by themselves for gifts for everyone—brothers and sisters, friends, grandparents, moms and dads, aunts and uncles, and teachers. There will be a large assortment of useful and fun gifts priced just for the children's budgets. Gifts will range from 25 cents for little felt finger puppets for toddlers to around $1.25 for such things as sewing kits, lipstick holders, shoe horns, round playing cards, bending animals, belt buckles and so on. They will be on display in the show case from Dec. 1-4 to allow the children to window shop and plan their budget. Santa's helpers will be on hand all day to help with appropriate selections.

Santa's Shop will also offer gift wrap and a variety of note cards and stationery.

Looking for Very Special Kind of Christmas Gift?

Looking for a very special gift? A gift that truly reflects the holiday season of Christmas and Hanukkah? Consider making a donation of blood that could mean another chance at life for someone who is sick, or has had surgery or been involved in an accident.

Blood may be donated by anyone between the ages of 17 through 65 in good general health. Parental consent is required for 17-year-olds to donate. A donation of blood takes an hour and includes a free mini-physical and iron blood count.

A special holiday blood drive will be held in Chelsea on Saturday, Dec. 12 at old St. Mary's gym, 400 Congdon St. between the hours of 9 a.m. and 3 p.m. Appointments may be made by calling 475-8184 during blood drive hours.

Drama Class Play Tickets on Sale Today

The members of the 1981 stage and drama class are continuing to work hard to make their production of "The Teahouse of the August Moon" a success.

Beginning this week, the students are staying after school to build sets and to practice the play itself. Director Phil Powers is very optimistic and he urges the public to come and see the play on Dec. 16 at 8 p.m. in the Chelsea High school auditorium.

Tickets will go on sale Tuesday, Dec. 1 and will be available at the Chelsea Pharmacy. All tickets will be general admission and may also be purchased at the door the night of the performance.

Nearly one out of every 14 American women will develop breast cancer. Monthly breast self-examination can help discover a breast abnormality or breast cancer while it is still small. When you have questions about cancer, call the Michigan Cancer Foundation's Public Response line at 1-800-462-9191.

Christmas Decorations Adorn Shopping Area

It was beginning to look a lot like Christmas in Chelsea as village employees worked like Santa's little helpers Tuesday morning to deck the streets with boughs of holly and wreaths in expectation of the upcoming holiday season. Nevertheless, temperatures rose to the 50s by Thanksgiving Day, putting a welcome damper on the typical Michigan pre-Thanksgiving and Christmas weather highlighted by snow, ice and sub-zero wind chill factors.

In 1971, five postal unions merged to form the American Postal Workers Union (APWU) having nearly 300,000 members. The five unions included the United Federation of Postal Clerks, National Association of Post Office and General Services Employees, National Federation of Post Office Motor Vehicle Employees, National Association of Special Delivery Messengers, and the National Postal Union (Ind), according to a publication of the U.S. Department of Labor.

A SPECIAL THANKS

I would like to express a special thanks to my family and friends for the gifts, cards and kind thoughts during my stay at Chelsea Hospital. I would like the Physical Therapy Unit at Chelsea

Hospital to know my appreciation for the encouragement to my recovery. The support you have given me cannot be expressed enough and certainly not ever repaid. I thank my children for their love and devotion through all my illness.

Mrs. Raymond (Elhona) Canine.

We would like to thank Bob and Jim Daniels for responding so quickly to our request for the use of their property for fire training purposes. We appreciate their attention so that we could do our burn and smoke training before bad weather sets in. Thanks again.

Wrestling Team Opening Season

Chelsea's varsity wrestling team begins its 1981 season today against Columbia Central. Thursday, the team takes on Stockbridge and Pinckney and Saturday, the group will face off in an eight-team tournament.

Coach Tom Fletke is looking forward to a fine season and hoping to improve on the team's 11th place state finish last season.

Returning to the line-up this season are seniors Rick Poljan, 198 lbs., and fourth in the state last season with a 38-3 record; John Preston, league champion as a sophomore and weighing in at 155; and Steve Grau, who won 20 matches last season.

Outstanding juniors returning are Ernie Bristle, 98 lbs., who placed second in the league last year and Travis Rudd, 132 lbs., second in the league as well. Both Bristle and Rudd placed fourth in the district tournament during the 1980-81 season. Bill Hanna, at 105 lbs., rounds out the junior grapplers.

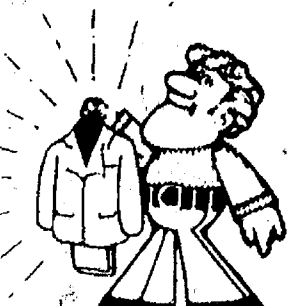

Jeff Morgan, 112 lbs., will lead the sophomores. As a freshman last year, Morgan ended his season at 17-4, taking fourth in the districts.

Other starters on the 1981-82 Bulldog wrestling team are Steve Snyder at 118, Scott Dault and Mark Bulick at 128, Eric Stofflet at 138, Bill Lamb at 145, Todd Sprague at 185 and heavyweight Bob Schleede.

Can You Believe It?

The bureaucracy is becoming more squirrely. The manufacturer of a well-known rat poison was asked to remove the red dye from the formulation. It was found to cause cancer in rats!

Girl Scout Troop Camps Out in Waterloo Area

Girl Scout Troop 689 and their leaders, Carol Hoffman and Phyllis Munger, spent an enjoyable camping outing at Cedar Lake in the Waterloo Recreation Area the week-end of Nov. 13-15.

All meals were prepared by the scouts on an open camp fire. A bog walk hike was taken, and a deer hunt game was played with sixth grade scouts playing the part of the deer, leaving clues in the woods for the rest of the troop to track and discover the "deer."

Lynda Longe, Carole van Reesema, Barb Urbanek and Nadine Koch assisted the group.

In 1918, the first distinct and separate United States Employment Service was created within the Department of Labor; in 1933, the Wagner-Peyser Act replaced the old service with a new employment service created by matching federal funds with state funds, according to a publication of the U. S. Department of Labor.
