Economic Gains Seen for Mid-Year

End-of-Year Recession Will Change to Steady, Though Modest Gains

By Babson's Reports, Inc.

Wellesley Hills, Mass.

Economic conditions and the status of public sentiment in the closing weeks of 1981 stand in stark contrast to those of late 1980. A year ago, over-all business was still trending upward. Moreover, there was hopeful expectancy that the change in the nation's leadership would lead to an alleviation—and ultimately a resolution—of problems which had been gnawing at the core of the economy. Now, as 1981 gives way to 1982, the economy is gripped by a recession and there is a rising tide of anxiety that the Reagan prescription will produce further harsh dislocations.

Deep Pessimism Not Warranted

The staff of Babson's Reports feels it is premature to summarily dismiss the Reagan Administration's efforts to shore up the foundation of the economy. It must be remembered that not all of the provisions of the Economic Recovery Tax Act of 1981 are yet in effect. In addition, pessimism with respect to fundamental and long-term considerations is not justified when one gives due weight to the fact that at least some progress has already been made in slowing inflation and lowering interest rates. Yet much more improvement must be attained on both fronts before their dangers are genuinely subdued, and this is a task which undoubtedly will take a good deal of time—and dogged persistence—to accomplish. The backlash on both counts in 1980 attests to the absurdity of band-aid type solutions.

The true severity of the current recession can also be better evaluated by taking into account the postponement of business capital equipment investment as soon as it became evident that the benefits of liberalized depreciation under the tax legislation would not commence until Jan. 1, 1982. During the hiatus, this important element of industrial activity has been kept on a subpar basis. Hence, it is only reasonable to assume that we shall have some catch-up buying as 1982 progresses. Of course, the high level of interest rates also served to stifle business equipment demand, but these promise to be a less inhibiting factor in the year ahead. Indeed, interest rates have already worked down to levels that are appreciably less prohibitive to borrowers.

1982—From Recession to Expansion

Judging from the behavior of various key economic indicators, the last quarter of 1981 will prove to be the low point for the year's business performance. After an unexpectedly vigorous advance in the first three months, the economy softened a bit during the ensuing two quarters and then slumped sharply to close out the year immersed in a genuine recession. Thus, we have slipped into recession twice in consecutive years. Yet, unlike 1980's credit-restraint-fostered economic drop, which began and ended within that year, the recession of 1981 will likely carry over into early 1982. Even so, due to the severity of the nosedive during the past three months and given the decline in interest rates, there may be only a downward shading of economic activity during the first 1982.

FROSTY BEWARE! Following last week's sizeable snowfall, Elizabeth and Melissa Williams, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. John Williams, rounded up some friends and rolled this creation in their yard on Howard Rd. until he was just right. After adding the finishing touches, the group made the rounds through the neighborhood with their rousing Christmas carols.

Special Election Slated

A special election will be held Tuesday, Jan. 5 to give Chelsea voters the opportunity to cast their ballots in favor of or against the issue of changing the village charter in order to provide for the nomination of elective officers by petition and general election in the village, thereby discontinuing nomination by caucus.

The polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. at all precincts in the village. Voters are encouraged to cast their ballots in regard to this charter amendment proposal from caucus nominations to general election nominations of village office candidates.

In addition, an accuracy test of the computer to be used for the ballot tabulation of all votes cast in all precincts will be held at 3 p.m. on Thursday, Dec. 31 in the office of the Washtenaw County Clerk, County Building, Ann Arbor.

Stained Glass Classes Planned in January at Senior Citizen Center

Stained glass classes at the Chelsea Senior Citizens Activity Center will resume in mid-January. In order to determine the number of classes to be scheduled, a general informational meeting for new class members is set for 1 p.m. Monday, Jan. 18 at the Center.

Senior Nutrition Site Moves to North School

As a convenience to local senior citizens, the Chelsea Nutrition Program for the elderly and the Chelsea Senior Citizens recreation group have come together to share space and facilities at North Elementary school. The co-operative and mutually beneficial agreement became effective as of Sunday, Dec. 20.

Each program will continue to be administered and operated as in the past with the exception of the combined use of the facilities.

The Chelsea Nutrition Program for the elderly is one of more than 600 Title III-C congregate meal programs operating in the state of Michigan. It is funded by Title III-C of the Older Americans Act as administered by the area Agency on Aging, I-B.

Eligibility requires that a person be at least 60 years of age. Nevertheless, spouses are automatically included regardless of age.

Purpose of the nutrition program is to provide senior citizens with one-third of their daily nutrition requirements by offering a hot, dinner-type meal once daily and in a pleasant environment. An important part of the pleasant environment is the presence of recreation, education and entertainment.

In the village, these activities take place at the Chelsea Senior Citizens Activity Center, newly re-located on McKinley St., and beginning its daily activities at 10 a.m. each week-day morning. The hot meal is served at 12-noon, Monday through Friday with the exception of Thursday, when serving takes place at 11:45 a.m.

The controversy over possible transportation problems after the move from the W. Middle St. location has also been cleared up as CATS bus is available to pick up seniors at their homes and drop them off at North school each day at 10 a.m., returning for them at 1 p.m. Reservations for both the noon meal and the CATS bus system should be made one day in advance.

The nutrition program provides a vast array of pre-luncheon activities and there is no income requirement to take part. Too, there is no charge for the programs that precede or follow the meals. Nevertheless, donations are always accepted and appreciated.

Further information with regard to the Senior Nutrition program may be obtained by calling Arlene Larson, 475-9242, mornings.

Drugs Taken In Pharmacy Break-in

Between the hours of 9 p.m. Wednesday, Dec. 16 and 8 a.m. Thursday, Dec. 17, person or persons unknown, forced entry into Chelsea Pharmacy, using a pry bar to open the store's rear door.

Prescription drugs, valued at more than $1,000 wholesale, were taken from the pharmacy cabinets, also forced open with the same tool used to gain entry to the store. Included among the list of stolen drugs were codeine sulphate, demerol and assorted amphetamines and barbiturates.

Apparently, during the same evening, a similar attempt to break into a drug store was made in Dexter while later that evening, burglars gained entry into a Tecumseh pharmacy where someone saw them.

According to police reports, nothing else in the Chelsea store was disturbed and there were no attempts to remove any merchandise, cash or other articles there.

The case remains under investigation.

TURNING IN HER BOOKS: After 20 years as head secretary and bookkeeper for the Chelsea School District, Fran Manzel turned in her books, her typewriter and her calculator last Tuesday when she resigned her position with the school.

system. Her plans now include spending more time with her husband who retired on the same day, Dec. 22, one year earlier, and catching up on all the things she's missed in the past two decades.

Fran Manzel Retires from School Bookkeeping Position

After 20 years in charge of the books, Fran Manzel has resigned her position with the Chelsea School District.

Initially, Mrs. Manzel hired in to assist and help write student excuses. Two years later, she was given the responsibility of maintaining the full payroll for the school system.

In December 1971, Irene Claire, Mrs. Manzel's forerunner, retired and Fran was offered the position of Charles Cameron's secretary in addition to maintaining her bookkeeping responsibilities. She held her dual position until Cameron's retirement as Superintendent of Schools. Then, a part-time secretary was hired to work for Ray Van Meer and Fran became manager of all of the books in the school system.

Of her job, Fran explains that she took the job initially to help finance her children's future college educations. With children ages 10 and 15, her hours and works coincided and there was no work in the summer. Until the time of her retirement, Fran's job became a full-time, year-round position.

Fran explains that her 20 years with the school system were very rewarding and that she thoroughly enjoyed herself there.

Much of her satisfaction stemmed from a helpful camaraderie between her and her co-workers, as well as a very fine relationship with the administration.

Mrs. Manzel chose this Christmas break as a time to retire for a number of reasons. According to her, the biggest job comes at the beginning of the school year but now, the payroll system is on the computer. The transition from one bookkeeper to another should now be smooth.

Following her retirement, Fran and her husband Ray, who retired last year from the Chrysler Introl plant after 33 years, will be busy doing all of the things they haven't done for the past 20 years. In addition to visiting their children, Jerry, an industrial engineer for General Mills in Lodi, Calif., and Karen, a business education teacher in the Walden School District near Hudson, the Manzels hope to travel in the United States as well as visit the 1982 World's Fair.

In addition, Mrs. Manzel anticipates spending more time with her 92-year-old mother and remaining active in the Extension Club and Zion Lutheran church, Rogers Corners.

Recommendations Made By Prison Riot Committee

A joint legislative committee has issued a list of 76 recommendations for improving Michigan's prison system, including a plea to adequately fund the system to improve safety.

The committee was charged with investigating three riots in the system last spring and make recommendations to improve the system.

Representative Jeffrey Padden (D-Wyandotte), chairman of the special committee, said the recommendations do not fundamentally disagree with those issued last August by the citizens' task force appointed by the governor.

But the legislative committee, he said, had the luxury of more time to completely review the current corrections system and reflect on what changes are needed to prevent future riots.

Corrections Director Perry Johnson said he appreciated the fairness of how the issues were treated by the legislative committee.

"We acknowledge many of the problems and concur with many of the recommendations," he said.

Like the report issued last August, the legislative committee pinpointed situations such as overcrowding, lack of good time, racism on the part of prison employees and inadequate training as contributing to the tensions.

These broke into riots at the Southern Michigan Prison at Jackson, the Michigan Reformatory at Ionia and the Branch Prison at Marquette on May 22 and 28.

The legislative report put particular emphasis on the department's personnel policies, especially the inability to adequately pre-screen applicants to excuse potentially unsuitable workers, the lack of employee evaluations and inadequate training, as a leading cause of the riots.

Padden said those personnel problems have crept up into the middle management who occasionally would not implement department policies.

The committee also called for corrections financing to receive a "higher priority" in the appropriations process, said the department should base its budget requests on "need and not solely on the state's budgetary limitations or political considerations."

The legislature should also review the department's original budget request, not simply the recommendations issued by the governor's office.

Padden said he might personally favor cutting other programs if necessary to increase corrections funding to an acceptable level.

Other recommendations made by the special committee include greater affirmative action in the hiring of prison staff, the breaking down of Jackson prison into smaller autonomous prisons, implementation, by the Legislature, of recommendations made by the 1980 prison overcrowding task force and the enactment of a modified form of good time allowing time off a prisoner's sentence, for good behavior.

Michigan voters eliminated good time with the passage of a ballot proposal in 1978.

Director Johnson said the plans are already underway to improve employee training and defend department employee policies and practices.

He also agreed with the proposal to divide Jackson into four facilities, saying it could go a long way towards restricting violence.

Johnson said a more detailed response to the proposals would be made in early 1982.

New Beginnings Offers Solace to Grieving Persons

Grief at the loss of a loved one through death is a common reaction. Now, the Chelsea Family Practice Center, 775 S. The group will meet on the first and third Wednesdays each month, between the hours of 7:30 p.m. and 9 p.m.

In view of the emotions surrounding the holidays, a special session will be held on Wednesday, Dec. 30. Persons interested are welcome to attend and there is no cost involved in the program.

New Beginnings is a part of a nation-wide network of grief support groups. In an informal setting, the group discusses any thoughts and/or ideas that come to mind. Coffee, tea and hot cocoa are provided.

No registration is necessary and the group meets continually throughout the year.

1982 Business Forecast

quarter, followed by a flat performance in the spring weeks.

This scenario may not be impressive, but it is far less disheartening than the pessimistic predictions which have prevailed of late. Moreover, scattered signs of improvement should be emerging before long, though perhaps not in sufficient quantity and intensity to spell large-scale over-all business gains.

Around midyear, however, the economy should be moving ahead in concert, and we expect the final half of 1982 to feature distinct upside progress even though the summer weeks may be more robust than the fall season. By autumn new growth in demand for credit may begin to take hold. This should make for some braking influence, though not enough to prevent a definite business uptrend for the year's final two quarters.

More Sober Expectations
Early months of 1981 were filled with mounting anticipation that the new national leadership would revitalize the economy and restore some luster to America's role in international affairs. However, the actual scope and magnitude of the nation's problems have brought home to the public the fact that there are no easy solutions. Nevertheless, this does not mean that no progress will be made. As the initial public ebullience when the Reagan Administration took office was probably unduly optimistic, so also the current swing to disillusionment is undoubtedly excessive and somewhat myopic.

No doubt there will be more give and take between the White House and Congress in 1982. Out of this may come some combination of additional spending cuts, deferral and down-sizing of selected outlays, and the raising of fresh revenues. If our expectation that the bulk of the recession occurred in the fourth quarter of 1981 turns out to be true, estimates of federal budget deficits in this and succeeding fiscal years may prove to be unrealistically high. Also, in view of the steepness of the recession, we would not be surprised to see some of the critics of the tax cuts shift position again and press for the second phase of the tax reduction for individuals to be moved up from mid-1982 to some point earlier in the year.

Help from Economic Tax Recovery Act of 1981
The recent damaging revelation by Budget Director David Stockman that he doubts the viability of the Administration's economic and fiscal proposals provided additional fuel for the arguments of opponents as the economy slid into recession. However, the potential benefits of the Economic Recovery Tax Act of 1981 have not been given adequate credit. When all of the provisions of the legislation are fully operative, these benefits should stimulate the economy. Later, their cumulative effect may have an even more positive influence. Taken individually, the tax benefits are far from large, but their collective impact on private capital formation—over a period of time—will be quite positive and widespread.

These incentives for individual savings will help replenish private capital reservoirs: The tax exemption on income from the dividend reinvestment plans of qualified utility companies and the broader concept of Individual Retirement Accounts (IRA) even though both these devices have annual limitations. Also, cash flow of corporations will be enhanced by the lower tax rates on profits and more liberal depreciation schedules for capital investments. The latter should spur the modernization of U.S. productive facilities, make us more cost-competitive in foreign markets without compromising quality.

Gross National Product
Despite the sharp slump in the fourth 1981 quarter, real gross national product (the aggregate value in 1972 dollars of goods and services produced) registered quarter-to-quarter changes averaging about 4% on a seasonally adjusted annual basis. This was due to the astounding 8.6% upsurge in the initial quarter. Although the range of quarterly changes in 1982 will not be as wide as in 1981, and the generally flat first half will not contribute much uplift to the economy to begin with, strength in the final two quarters can make for about a 2% average rate of advance in real GNP for the year.

Industrial Production
Monthly figures on the physical volume of industrial production early in 1982 are not likely to be impressive. The abrupt business slump has shaken confidence, and it will take some time for optimism to return. However, industrial output should trend upward in the spring and thereafter. With basic industries already so deeply depressed, further improvement in monetary conditions could revive the housing, auto, and consumer durables markets more rapidly than now seems possible. This would add to the strength that has been maintained in the fuel and energy-related fields. Military business should be a primary source of vitality too.

Business Inventories
Heavy inventories of autos, trucks, and farm equipment are the primary trouble areas right now, with suppliers to these industries forced to curtail output because of soft demand. Elsewhere, however, there should be early need for inventory accumulation in anticipation of a quickening business tempo as 1982 progresses.

Business Capital Outlays
Although low rates of capacity utilization and listless business early in 1982 will tend to restrain capital equipment demand, purchases that were deferred in 1981 pending the more liberal depreciation rules of 1982 will have some bolstering effect. We confidently expect this important source of economic vitality to become more of a factor as the tempo of business picks up. Moreover, capital outlays will be an important component of the business uptrend going into 1983 as well.

Interest Rates, Money Supplies
Short-term interest rates have retreated from their peak earlier in 1981. Softening business eased borrowings, causing interest rates to slide downward. Though the bulk of the downturn has already occurred, short-term interest rates could shade a little lower—to around 14% for the prime lending rate of major commercial banks—in the early part of 1982 before bottoming out. When the anticipated business upturn is well under way, however, interest rates will undoubtedly be marked up. But enhanced cash flow for businesses, as a result of lower corporate income taxes and accelerated depreciation allowances, should prevent a quick return to oppressively high rates. Hence, money and credit availability should be adequate for businesses and consumers in the year ahead, though far from abundant.

After backing down a little from peak levels, long-term interest rates firmed recently in reflection of heavy Treasury and corporate financings. Pent-up demand for long-term funds will not permit more than irregular downward shadings for a while, but easing of inflation is helping to keep long-term rates from rising.

The average increase in the Consumer Price Index for full-year 1981 was probably a shade below 9% on an annual rate basis. We look for further increasing in the inflation pace during much of the winter and spring of 1982 but firm-to-higher tendencies should rule thereafter. For the full year we expect an average increase of 8%.

Prices generally should be little changed for primary commodities well into 1982, reflecting abundant supplies and slack demand. However, prices at the point of consumption will be moderately higher owing to labor and transportation cost increases. Expect some primary industrial commodity quotes to rebound when demand quickens.

Building
New housing starts are expected to rule modestly higher in the year ahead compared with 1981. While our estimates are only 1.3 million units as compared with 1.1 million, a substantially stronger showing than that is unlikely. Though somewhat better situated at present, both mortgage interest rates and mortgage money supplies must improve quite a good deal before building activity can materially surpass our expectation.

Employment, Personal Income
Despite spreading work force cutbacks in recent months, employment remains in a historically high range. While further small-scale furloughs are likely this winter, employment should recover thereafter. The unemployment picture is less reassuring. It will be nip and tuck as to whether the jobless rate can be kept from a double-digit high sometime this winter. For the record, however, we are hopeful that the jobless pool will not surpass 9% of the civilian labor force before easing in response to a quickening business pace. The unemployment rate will average around 8% for 1982 as a whole, only marginally below that of 1981. Yet the problem of a sizable hard core of jobless workers will remain a critical issue.

Personal income will trend higher in the year ahead. However, only an upward bias will be seen during much of the first half because layoffs will partially offset wage increases. When hirings resume, the income advance will be more noticeable. The climb of disposable income (take-home pay) will be accentuated after midyear by another stepdown in federal personal income tax rates. The Social Security tax rate will be higher next year but the income tax reduction will leave most consumers with more to spend. Though 1982 will be a big year for major labor contract renewals, the odds are against long and disruptive tie-ups in the pattern-setting basic industries. Like it or not, labor leaders are finding that they must tread softly in enterprises beleaguered by foreign competition and where work forces have been trimmed. However, once the economy regains its forward momentum, labor's stance can be expected to stiffen.

Immunization, Well Child Clinic Schedules Change Jan. 1

Beginning Jan. 1, according to the Washtenaw County Health Department, Immunization and Well Child Clinic schedules will be changed, and all Saturday clinics will be eliminated. As before, there will be no charge for services.

The following clinics have been retained.

Immunization Clinics—

Who: For all county residents/especially children 2 months-18 years

When: 1st, 2nd, 3rd Wednesdays of each month, 1:30-4:30 p.m. No appointment necessary.

Where: 1st Wednesday—Health Department-Service Center, 4101 Washtenaw, Ann Arbor; 2nd Wednesday—Health Department-Eastern Subcenter, 555 Towner, Ypsilanti; 3rd Wednesday—Health Department-West Stadium Annex, 2355 W. Stadium, Ann Arbor.

Cost: No fee.

Well Child Clinics—

Who: For all county residents, especially pre-schoolers.

Cost: No fee.

Where and When: (1) Ypsilanti Well Child Clinic, Eastern Subcenter, 555 Towner, Ypsilanti, Tuesday, AM and PM, by appointment only. Call 482-9710. (2) Whitmore Lake Community Clinic, 138 Barker, Whitmore Lake, 1st Monday, 1:30-3:30 p.m., 3rd Monday, 1:00-4:00 p.m., by appointment only. Call 448-2033.

Clinic changes have been made necessary by budget reductions. During the next months, as the health department studies the health needs of the county, additional clinic sites may be identified.

During hard economic times, clinic services become especially important to many families who do not use the services of a private physician unless their child is ill.

Community resources, physicians, and school nurses often refer families to one of the health department clinics. Parents, on their own, may also bring their children to the clinics.

Well Child Clinic staff see children only for routine well child care. They counsel parents about normal growth and development, such as eating or sleeping patterns, and refer all identified health problems to the child's physician.

Views On Dental Health

By ROBERT A. BURNS, JR., DDS, P.C.

TETRACYCLINE STAINED TEETH

Tetracyclines—a group of infection-fighting antibiotics—can produce staining of children's teeth if they are given during the time when the primary or permanent teeth are forming. According to the National Institute of Health, if tetracycline is given to a woman during her last trimester of pregnancy, or to an infant during the first three months of life, discoloration of the dentin of baby's teeth could occur. The resulting stains are then visible as soon as the baby's teeth erupt. The sensitive period of tetracycline-induced staining of the permanent teeth occurs between the ages of 3 months and 8 years. These stains may not become visible for several years.

Although the stains are permanent, the enamel of the teeth is seldom weakened, and therefore, the teeth function well. It is not a health hazard and if properly cared for, teeth—stained or not—can last a lifetime.

There are some cosmetic treatments for tetracycline-stained teeth, however, the best treatment is prevention. Parents should discuss with their doctors the use of alternative drugs during late pregnancy or early childhood. If you have dental health questions you would like to see answered, please mail them to the address below.

1982 Business Forecast

Consumer and Government Spending

Though early 1982 retail trade will be dampened by uneasiness over business and employment prospects, consumer sentiment will eventually respond favorably to the betterment in disposable income that will result from recovery in employment and a further reduction in federal income tax rates. Hence, consumer buying can be expected to top that of 1981 by a comfortable margin, with the third and fourth 1982 quarters chalking up the best gains. The economy will also benefit from higher government expenditures. After midyear, for example, defense outlays will be noticeably on the upbeat.

Corporate Profits, Dividends
Business profits in 1982 will be up compared with 1981. During the past year corporate earnings were adversely affected by the deterioration in the tempo of business. There should be better profits showings virtually throughout 1982, and on progressively improved year-to-year comparisons with each passing quarter. The reduction in the corporate profits tax rate will be an important factor in increases at the "bottom line."

Though brighter prospects for corporate profits augur well for increases in dividend rates in 1982, hikes in payouts will tend to be of moderate size in most instances. Corporate liquidity needs to be reinforced and this will take time.

Agricultural Outlook

It is difficult to make a case for any substantial betterment for the beleaguered agricultural segment of the economy in 1982. There are gluts in supplies of major products that militate against any large-scale boosts in farm prices. Unless adverse weather patterns over large sections of the nation's growing areas threaten a significant alteration of supply-demand balances at crucial points in the crop year, farm quotes will not improve appreciably. Therefore, no substantial recovery in over-all farm income appears to be in the cards for 1982. It is likely, however, that exports of agricultural products will top 1981 shipments.

Foreign Affairs

Current prospects do not indicate that any major breakthrough is in the offing with respect to the resolution of critical international problems. So it appears that 1982 will see more talk than genuine progress on issues involving the Middle East and Central America. The same is true with regard to Soviet-American relations, particularly negotiations over strategic arms limitation and U.S. and Soviet military involvement in Europe.

Stock and Bond Outlook

Except for takeover situations, 1981 was not a banner year for the stock market. After an early upthrust, stock prices again fell victim to unacceptable high interest rates and worries over the size of the federal budget deficit. Late months of the year saw some gradual revival of optimism, although investors' moves frequently mirrored their uncertainty. Nevertheless, there was some response to the large supply of undervalued stocks and to the favorable implications of lower interest rates. To some extent, the stock market was also discounting the business upturn that was still several months distant.

Allowing for spells of uneasiness, we feel that 1982 will be more beneficial to investors. With so many important industries long depressed, and with the Administration encouraging the upgrading of productive facilities, the projected uptrend in business may well generate more momentum than now seems possible. Stocks in virtually all categories and quality are trading at exceedingly reasonable multiples of normal profitability and historical prices. So it is not difficult to visualize a burgeoning of investment interest. For the record, we forecast that the Dow Jones industrial average will fluctuate within a range of 1,100 on the upside and 800 on the downside in 1982.

Although the bond market has already scored encouraging gains in recent months, nominal further upside progress can be expected early in the new year.

VET BILLS

Farmers in California led the nation in the amount they paid to veterinarians, according to a recent census report. Based on 1978 figures, the latest for which such figures are available, they paid out $220 million for agricultural veterinarian services that year.

Wages Buy More

Wages earned by Americans have increased at a faster rate than food prices since 1950. An average factory worker, for example, can now buy four times more eggs and three times more chicken from an hour's work than he could 30 years ago.

Urban Farmers

Food gardening as a hobby in the U.S. now outpaces jogging, tennis and golf, reports the USDA. An estimated 34 million people and 43% of all households across America have backyard food gardens.

Ypsilanti Hospital Seeks To Replace Monitoring Equipment

Beyer Memorial Hospital, Ypsilanti, has asked the state to approve replacing the facility's cardiac monitoring equipment in the special care unit.

The project calls for replacing eight monitors in the eight-bed special care unit, as well as the central monitoring station.

The equipment would monitor electrocardiogram, temperature, respiration, and pressure.

Costing approximately $125,000, the project would be completed in April.

In keeping with state and federal regulations requiring state approval and action by the local health systems agency board prior to capital expenditure, Beyer Memorial Hospital has applied for a certificate of need. The application is on file with the Michigan Department of Public Health, Division of Health Facility Planning and Construction.

New Tax Law Expands Retirement Benefits

Expanded eligibility for Individual Retirement Arrangement (IRA) plans and increased ceilings for Keogh plans are among a number of tax changes affecting retirement savings beginning in 1982, the Internal Revenue said.

For the first time, workers who are already covered by company pension plans may qualify to set up an IRA or to make voluntary tax-free contributions to the company plan. Under the old law only non-covered taxpayers qualified.

An IRA is a savings program that allows participants to set aside money for their retirement. Contributions to an IRA are tax deductible and the earnings accrued are not taxed until they are distributed, generally upon retirement when income is lower.

Under the new tax law, both covered and non-covered employees will be able to contribute 100 percent of their compensation, up to a maximum of $2,000 to an IRA. The old requirement limited the contribution to $1,500.

Another change increases the tax-free amount allowed for an IRA and spousal IRA from $1,750 to $2,250; however, under the new law, contributions are no longer required to be equal for husband and wife. A spousal IRA allows married taxpayers to set up an IRA for themselves and a separate one for their non-working spouses.

The new law has also doubled to $15,000 the deduction for yearly contributions to a Keogh plan. Under a Keogh plan, self-employed persons such as doctors, architects, farmers and the like, can set aside money for their retirement. Contributions to it are tax deductible and savings accrued by the plan are exempt from tax until they are distributed, generally upon retirement.

Under the old law, self-employed taxpayers could deduct 15 percent of their earned income to a maximum of $7,500. Now they can deduct 15 percent of their earned income to a maximum of $15,000. Special rules apply if income in excess of $100,000 is used to determine the contribution.

In addition, the new law allows a penalty-free correction of an excess contribution to a Keogh plan if the excess is withdrawn before the return-filing due date. Previously, such a grace period was available only to IRA contributors.

Complete information on taxation aspects of IRA's and Keoghs can be found in IRS Publication 590, "Tax Information on Individual Retirement Arrangement," and Publication 569, "Tax Information on Self-Employed Retirement Plan," respectively. To obtain them, write the IRS or call the IRS Forms/Tax Information number listed in the telephone directory under U. S. Government.

Nursing Home, Housing Manuals Offered Seniors

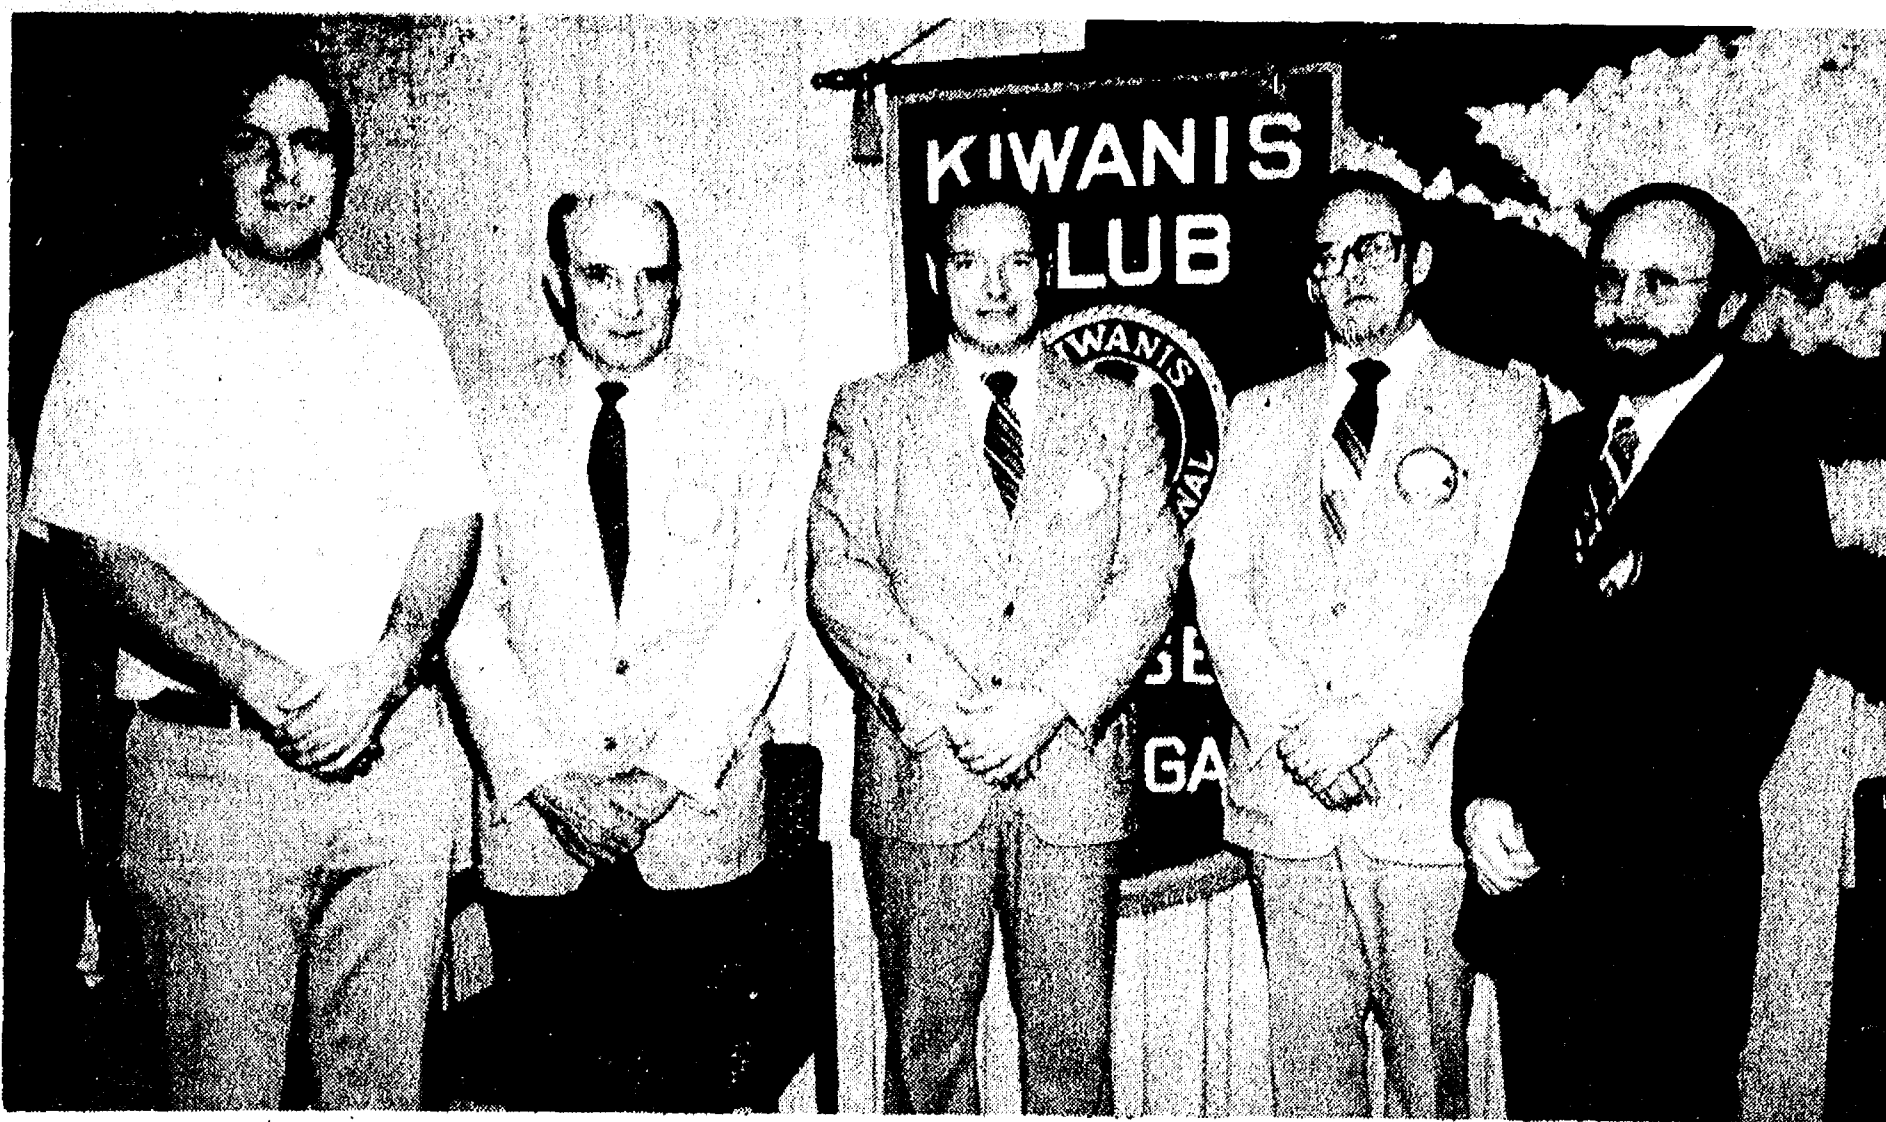

There are two new manuals available free to Senior Citizens which may be picked up at the Turner Geriatric Clinic at 1010 Wall St., Ann Arbor.

The "Guide to Nursing Homes in Washtenaw County" describes services provided by nursing homes in general, and specific information about nursing homes in this area.

The second manual is called "Guide to Housing in Washtenaw County." This booklet is an answer to the housing needs of the senior population. It details residences for semi-independent living; explains the various retirement homes in our area; and concludes with a section on independent apartment living.

If anyone wishes the manuals mailed, please enclose $1 to cover the cost of postage.

Printing of these manuals was made possible through a generous contribution from the Ann Arbor Chapter of the Kiwanis Club.

Walter, 2nd vice-president. This quintet was elected last fall and assumed their duties at that time.

Michigan Congressman Named to House Ag Committee

The president of the state's largest farm organization today (12/21/81) sent congratulations to Congressman Donald Albosta for his recent appointment to the House Agriculture Committee.

"Congratulations for being the first Michigan Congressman in at least 20 years, and perhaps the first ever, to be appointed to the House Agriculture Committee," Elton R. Smith, Caledonia dairyman who heads the Michigan Farm Bureau, told Albosta.

"I hope you will feel free to establish and maintain close communications with Michigan Farm Bureau on issues you will be working with as a member of the Agriculture Committee," Smith wrote the congressman. "We will make a strong effort to keep you informed of our views on appropriate agricultural legislation and respond fully to any inquiries you may direct to us on agricultural legislation."

Ride Sharing Program Offered Lansing Workers

Capital Area Transportation Authority (CATA), Lansing, has been awarded a $82,500 grant from the U.S. Department of Transportation to set up a ride sharing program for General Motors employees in the tri-county area, Congressman Jim Dunn (Mich.-6) announced today.

The ride program, designed to help GM workers living in Ingham, Eaton and Clinton counties, will be set up by CATA through the use of computers, Congressman Dunn said.

According to the plan, the mid-Michigan Congressman said, GM will provide CATA with information pertaining to the residences of GM employees who work in Lansing. CATA officials will take the information and feed it into a computer to establish ride opportunities for the auto workers, he said.

"The workers will be encouraged to use the ride sharing program," Congressman Dunn said. "It has been designed to promote energy conservation and save the workers transportation money."

CATA originally applied for the grant money in April.

U.S. FARMER BEST

One American farm worker annually produces an average of 375,000 lbs. of food. A Russian farm worker, on the other hand, manages to produce only 33,000 lbs. of food, reports the USDA.

Elmer Lindow in 26th Year As Bus Driver Without Accident

VETERAN BUS DRIVER Elmer Lindow has driven a bus in the Chelsea School District for the past 26 years, missing just two days and arriving late just once during his year-round job. Driving the special education bus to and from High Point Center and Chelsea, Elmer works 10 hour days and has recently received a commendation from High Point Center for his dedication and ability to communicate with the children on his bus.

Elmer Lindow began driving a school bus for the Chelsea School District on Sept. 12, 1955. Now, 26 years later, Lindow is still going strong.

Formerly of what is now known as Livonia, Lindow moved to Chelsea in 1928. He began farming, growing corn and raising pigs on his Freer Rd. farm. He was approached in 1955 and asked if he would drive a school bus part time, transporting special education children. He agreed and the rest is history.

When asked of his reasons for driving the year-round bus, Elmer comments, "I like kids," and, according to bus superintendent Ralph Brier, "The kids like him."

Last summer at the annual driver's dinner for which Elmer donated a pig for the pig roast, Elmer was given an award for his 26 years of faithful service. He has been, in the words of both Brier and assistant superintendent of schools Fred Mills, an excellent and highly dependable driver with a perfect driving record. He has missed just two days of work in his 26 years and was late for work just once.

Elmer works 10 hours each day, transporting Chelsea children to High Point Center and then transporting High Point children during the balance of the day. He has never had an accident and there have been few, if any, complaints about his handling of his bus riders.

In addition to his school district commendation, Elmer also received an award from High Point Center for his ability to deal with handicapped children.

The average life span of a school bus is approximately five years. Driving at least 25,000 miles per year, Elmer is on bus number five and the school district is seriously considering retiring the number "8"—the number of Elmer's bus—when he retires.

Brier sums up Elmer's ability to get along with others by jokingly commenting, "If you can get along there (the bus garage), you can get along with anyone." And Elmer does.

Travel Bureau Expands Toll Free Information Lines

The Travel Bureau, Michigan Department of Commerce, has expanded its toll free telephone information service. Two new lines, each bearing a recorded message, will provide the winter sports enthusiast with up-to-date, state-wide information on snow conditions and the weather.

These lines will be in operation 24 hours a day, seven days a week on a year-round basis. The recorded message will vary with the season of the year. The number to call from within Michigan is 1-800/292-5404 and it is 800/248-5708 from other eastern and midwestern states.

"The goal of the Travel Bureau is to provide the best possible information to Michigan travelers," stated Jack S. Wilson, bureau director. "The addition of our 24-hour toll free conditions report lines strengthens our capability of maintaining that goal."

Travelers who need more detailed information or information not covered in the recorded message should call the Travel Bureau's regular WATS numbers. Operators are on duty Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 4:50 p.m. EST. Michigan residents may call 1-800/292-2520. Callers from other states should use 800/248-5700.

Cross Country Ski Trails Open at Independence Lake

With extremely good snow conditions, the new cross-country ski trails at the 312-acre Independence Lake County Park will be open each week-end beginning Saturday, Jan. 2. No attendant will be on duty.

Two trails of approximately two miles and three miles each take skiers over gently rolling terrain, through secluded natural areas, to the shore of the beautiful 200-acre lake, into wooded areas and onto high ground with outstanding winter views.

Skiing at the park this winter is limited to week-ends from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. There is no admission charge. Snowmobiles, horses and pets are not permitted and parking is restricted to the lot and roadside just inside the entrance gate. A map at the Independence Lake gatehouse shows the locations of the trails and the new winter park rules.

Independence Lake County Park is located in Webster township, five miles north of Dexter. Park visitors should exit US-23 on 6-Mile Rd., go west on 6-Mile Rd. to Whitmore Lake Rd., turn left on Whitmore Lake Rd. and follow signs to the park.

Manchester Man Faces Driving Charges

On Wednesday night, Dec. 23, a 31-year-old Manchester man was arrested for driving under the influence of intoxicating liquor following the hit and run of two cars in the village.

According to police reports, a car, operated by Beverly J. Slater of Cedar Lake Rd., was stopped at a red light at the intersection of Main and South Sts. when it was rear-ended, causing approximately $1,000 in damage. Slater later complained of pain. Two witnesses reported that the striking vehicle drove away from the site and continued along Main St. Then, a car, driven northbound by Nancy O'Toole of Boyce Rd., was forced off the road and side-swiped in the back left section of the vehicle. Apparently, the driver of the striking vehicle crossed the center line near Lincoln St. to cause the accident.

In the meantime, the victim of the first hit and run went to the Chelsea Police Department with a description of the striking vehicle, its license number and direction of travel. The Chelsea dispatcher notified the Manchester police that the vehicle was heading toward their village. Chelsea police spotted the vehicle heading south on Main St. toward Manchester and gave pursuit, making several attempts to pull him over. Approximately five miles south of the village, Chelsea police pulled their car in front of the vehicle, forcing him to stop.

The subject was arrested for driving under the influence of intoxicating liquor and for leaving the scene of a personal injury accident.

DNR Seeks Input On Timber Thefts

The state Department of Natural Resources is looking for information from farmers and other landowners who have had walnut, oak or other valuable species of trees stolen from their woodlots.

"The Department really doesn't have much data on how serious this problem is, and they'd like to assess the problem to see if perhaps some special legislation is needed," according to Ken Nye, commodity specialists for Michigan Farm Bureau.

"If someone has had logs stolen from their property, they should contact the DNR and provide the location where the theft occurred, the year it occurred, the number of trees or logs stolen, and the owner's name and address," he says. The DNR is especially interested in finding out more about the theft of high quality logs in the southern half of the lower peninsula.

The information should be sent to the Forest Management Division, Department of Natural Resources, Box 30028, Lansing 48909.

In 1942, the President established the National War Labor Board to determine procedures for settling disputes, according to "Important Events in American Labor History," a publication of the U.S. Department of Labor.

Mutual Help Groups Listed in Free Fact Sheet

For many human problems, there are no easy answers or solution, but there is an alternative to coping alone. "Mutual-help groups," ranging from Parents Without Partners to the National Federation of the Blind, offer supportive environments where people can talk out their problems and learn new ways of dealing with them.

According to the National Institutes of Mental Health, there are about half a million mutual-help groups in existence today. For an overview of what's available, plus information about what to expect from an organization of this sort, send for the free fact sheet, Mutual Help Groups. Write the Consumer Information Center, Dept. 609K, Pueblo, Colo. 81009.

The ability to adjust to a difficult situation or life change often depends not so much on sympathy as on empathy—on someone else's understanding just how it feels, because they've experienced it themselves. Who, for example, can fully understand what it's like for a woman to undergo a mastectomy, except another woman who's had one? Hence the need for a group like Reach to Recovery, which specializes in problems associated with breast surgery.

Other lesser-known groups include the Theos Foundation, for the widowed; Parents Anonymous, for parents of battered children; and Make Today Count, for cancer victims and their families.

However divergent the problems they focus on, most mutual-help groups share some common characteristics. They usually hold meetings on a regular basis—in church halls, public buildings, and other facilities that can be had for little or no rent; or if the group is small enough, in a member's home. Programs for the meetings typically include discussions, study groups, and visiting speakers.

Since new members tend to be nervous or uncertain about what to expect, more experienced members usually take the initiative to start conversations, provide introductory literature, or otherwise help them feel more at home and at ease. Confidentiality is an unwritten rule, as is respect for each member's dignity and privacy.

The booklet contains mailing addresses for a sampling of self-help groups, plus information on how to locate others.

And, when you order Mutual Help Groups (free), you'll also receive a free copy of the Consumer Information Catalog. Published quarterly by the U.S. General Services Administration, the Catalog lists more than 200 free and low-cost publications of general consumer interest.

Productivity Expert

Even with the U.S. farm population on the decline, farm productivity continues to rise. Productivity growth in farming has been five times greater than the non-farm sector over the past five years. One American farm worker now supplies enough food to fill the needs of 68 people around the world.

Stress Workshop Sessions Slated at Chelsea Church

Chelsea Church Women United and the Family Practice Center are sponsoring a workshop on stress. The Rev. Robert Weikart, pastoral counselor on the staff of the Family Practice Center, will lead the workshop.

The content of the workshop will cover the spiritual, mental, physical, emotional, and social aspects of the total person.

Sessions will be held on Thursdays, from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m., starting Jan. 21, and running for four consecutive weeks, ending on Feb. 11. Workshop sessions will be held in the Educational Building of the Chelsea United Methodist church, located on Park St.

The cost will be $15 per person, or $20 for couples or two or more from a family, for the entire workshop. Scholarships are available if needed.

To register for this workshop, contact Mrs. Joanne Weber, 19990 Ivey Rd., Chelsea, at 475-2741. Forms to mail in your registration may be found at the Family Practice Center or the Chelsea Hospital.

Catholic Social Services Needs Volunteer Help

This holiday season, why not give a long-lasting gift that will keep helping others? Give yourself as a volunteer. Catholic Social Services of Washtenaw county needs your help.

Volunteer receptionists are needed in both the Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti offices. Volunteers work on Wednesdays (morning and afternoon), answering phones and greeting clients. Receptionist work offers a good opportunity to brush up on your skills and learn about community resources.

Volunteers are continually needed to help with older adults. Many older adults are isolated and homebound; some postpone medical appointments because they have no transportation. These needs are particularly crucial in Ypsilanti and other areas where public transportation has been cut or eliminated. Volunteers are needed to provide rides and/or companionship. You can help once or on a continuing basis.

If you would like to volunteer, call Catholic Social Services at 662-4534. Catholic Social Services is a Washtenaw United Way agency.

North Sharon Church Plans New Year's Eve Watchnight Service

A Watchnight Service will be held Thursday, Dec. 31, beginning at 8:30 p.m., at North Sharon Bible church, located at the corner of Sylvan and Washburne Rds., Grass Lake.

The film, "John Hus," will be shown and centers around this great 15th Century man of God who greatly influenced Martin Luther and died singing in 1415, burned at the stake for his testimony.

There is no admission charge and nursery care will be available.

Persons needing transportation to North Sharon Bible church should call 428-7222 and the public is cordially invited to attend this special evening.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Mr. Editor:

Christmas is only hours old, and we have before us a New Year! It has always puzzled me thru my growing up years, why people go through such lengths to celebrate New Year's Eve.

Our track record in 1981 was not so good. The release of the hostages from Iran. The glory of their coming home warmed us. The world has now replaced them with the people of Poland. There the Polish people are resisting Communist oppression. They are sacrificing all, some their very lives for the freedom of press, religion, speech, their food, their very homes and homeland. Would we ever trade places with them, Mr. Editor?

Here more folks are out of work than ever before since the BIG depression. Food costs higher, like almost everything. It's harder to be elderly, and try to keep a home, as well as oneself. Families who had everything anytime they wanted it, are doing with less or turning to welfare for aide. The rate of abortions, the very taking of an unborn life is exceeding millions.

Street crime is up... it's easier to take from someone who has worked a lifetime for what they have, than to earn it yourself. The drug trade is at its highest... age has no limits here, they are even hooking grade school students in places now. Alcohol too, has its claim without age limits. On the other hand, jobs are more scarce.

Everyone demands more benefits, and pay increase until it forces companies, large and small, to move out, or just fold up, rather than to give into one more demand of the working man. You know it costs more to lick a postage stamp these days.

When your child goes off to school each day, if they are not in a private school, every property owner pays for that child's education if they like it or not, thru their taxes. A question please. What, have you or I done, or each one of us in this community, and our own families to make it a better place to live in?

Maybe that is why we all look forward to a New Year... to make a new effort to be sure that this world we live in is a better place because we are in it. Alive with God's gift of life. With those we love around us. We cannot shut out the past but we can grow from it, and because of it. We can learn from our mistakes and grow wiser because of them. We can re-evaluate ourselves and our priorities. We are bound by more than government legislation, we are bound by a code of Christian ethics. Take a moment to look at your family in this light.

"Who in your family is 'hungry' for understanding? Who is 'thirsty' for attention? Who feels like a 'stranger,' lost in the family pack? Who feels 'naked' and needs a covering of an understanding embrace? Who is 'ill' with the pain of not feeling forgiven? Who 'feels' imprisoned by their role or position in your family?"

Then make all those beautitudes live in you and your family, and make them come alive in the family of our Chelsea community. Have we reached the plateau of apathy—to stay their forever?

What 1982 holds for all of us, only One knows, God, Himself. Each day is a gift from Him to us, what we make of it, is our gift back to Him. He gives us His keys for each New Day of 1982, Faith, Hope, and Charity, we need but use them... a Blessed New Year to all.

Mrs. Millie Warner.

Missing Marriage, Birth Certificates Not Necessary

Veterans who can't locate a birth or marriage certificate can still apply for Veterans Administration benefits.

Gordon Clowney, director of the VA regional office in Detroit, said that some veterans don't apply for benefits to which they may be entitled because the VA previously held these documents essential.

VA will accept certified statements from applicants in instances where documents needed to establish eligibility for benefits are lost or unavailable.

Clowney said that in the case of a marriage, this policy applies only to the first marriage for each partner, and there must be no contradictory information on file with the agency.

Only recently has the agency accepted a certified statement regarding the birth of a child or as proof of age and relationship in disability cases.

Clowney said the policy affects all claims for compensation and pension, and education benefits for veterans, widows and orphaned children.

Food Bills

The weekly "food" shopping bill reflects price increases not only for food, but for non-food items as well. In fact, the USDA reports that one grocery bag in three brought home from the supermarket is filled with non-food items.

WASHINGTON, D.C. — In celebration of the 50th anniversary of Michigan's Hiawatha National Forest, a 65-year-old, 53-foot high white spruce pine was selected from the forest to be the U.S. Capitol Christmas tree. Members of Michigan's

Cong. J. Dunn Nominates 19 for Service Academies

Congressman Jim Dunn (Mich. 6th) announced this week that he has nominated 19 mid-Michigan young people for appointment to the Army, Navy and Air Force service academies.

Nominees were chosen from among 70 applicants, who were screened by a review board during the past month, Congressman Dunn said, adding that more nominations could still be made and that applications will continue to be accepted until Jan. 15.

Of those nominated, Shawn R. Fleming of Pinckney has been nominated for the Army, Navy and Air Force service academies.

Ask the Governor

Question: As a welfare recipient, I received help to pay my heating bills under a special state plan last year. Will I be able to get assistance this coming winter?

Governor: Yes, I am pleased to report that a large number of needy Michigan families will receive help in coping with rising energy costs during the coming winter.

The U.S. Department of Health and Human Services has agreed to fund Michigan's Low Income Energy Assistance Plan. The federal government has approved a first grant award of $19.2 million; it is expected that the state will receive between $77 million and $103 million in the current fiscal year.

Last year, some 600,000 low-income families received assistance under the state's plan which includes home heating assistance for low-income families not on welfare, special heating allocations for families on General Assistance or Aid to Families with Dependent Children, emergency assistance and home weatherization assistance.

Question: I read that Flint will use a new law to finance a face-lifting of the city. Is this law going to assist other cities in Michigan?

Governor: Yes. The bill I signed in special ceremonies with Mayor James Rutherford of Flint was intended to be an important source of financing for revitalization projects in Flint and other cities as well. Flint and its AutoWorld Museum are expected to be major beneficiaries of the new law.

The state's Downtown Development Authority (DDA) Act encourages central cities in Michigan to conduct revitalization projects and to finance the projects with revenue bonds.

Good News for Hot Dog Lovers

A National Academy of Sciences committee recently had some good news for lovers of bacon, bologna and hot dogs. The Committee on Nitrite and Alternative Curing Agents in Food has issued the results of a study to determine the health effects of nitrate and nitrite in foods. The committee found that neither nitrate nor nitrite directly causes cancer in animals. The report concluded that evidence of nitrate's and nitrite's potential for causing human cancer is "largely circumstantial" and that studies have not provided sufficient evidence to conclude that these agents are carcinogenic.

The committee pointed out that nitrate and nitrite can cause the formulation of nitrosamines, which are known carcinogens and recommended that the level of nitrite in cured meats be reduced "to the extent that protection against botulism is not compromised." However, nitrosamines may also come from a variety of other sources,

Good Things Growing In Michigan

By Margaret G. McCall
Parties are a pleasant part of the holiday season, greeting old friends, meeting new ones. Brunch has become a popular event, since it fits into most people's schedules and can be as elaborate or as simple as you prefer.

There are about 50 commodities among the good things growing in Michigan, so we are especially blessed with ingredients for the best-ever parties.

The secret to a successful brunch is advance planning, so that most of the dishes can be prepared ahead. Choose your favorite recipes and include as much variety as you like.

Here are some suggestions for brunch menus, for small groups or crowds.

For a small group, you might begin with assorted juices—apple, cherry, tomato. Sliced baked ham will keep warm in the oven while you welcome your guests. Serve with scrambled eggs, quick to fix, which may be livened up with sour cream and chives. Homemade coffee cakes or muffins, prepared a day ahead, can be reheated in foil. The conversation piece could be a big pan of beautiful baked apples, accompanied by a bowl of sweetened whipped cream, flavored with vanilla and freshly ground nutmeg.

For a large buffet, switch from scrambled eggs to quiche. The pie shells are best when pre-baked, the filling can be mixed the night before and refrigerated. Then all you do is put your choice of minced meats or vegetables into the shell, pour in the filling and bake. Allow about 45 minutes for baking and your quiches will come out of the oven as your guests come in the front door.

Double or triple the quantity of baked apples and serve warm or at room temperature. Top each apple with a maraschino cherry, complete with stem, for a colorful addition to the buffet table.

Serve sliced ham, but add sausage links, too. Meatballs I find that many people enjoy, desserts for brunch, so I usually prepare a spectacular cake, such as a Black Forest torte, or perhaps a trifle. Either can be made ahead and refrigerated until serving time.

Fruit and nut breads are also popular for brunch, as are chicken or turkey salad. Molded fruit salads are light and colorful, adding eye appeal to the table.

Table service, too, can be as simple or elegant as you desire. With today's attractive plastic and paper products, you don't have to get the family silver out of storage or hunt for matching goblets.

The larger the crowd, the more different dishes you add. It's simple arithmetic, and as much fun for you as for your guests.

Simmering in a creamy mushroom sauce, assorted cheeses and crackers, will stretch your buffet to meet demands.

Chelsea Community Hospital Wants You To Know About . . .

Prescriptions Involve More Than Price

By Lorraine Perkins
Director of Pharmacy

Chelsea Community Hospital
With the cost of living increasing and our wallets shrinking, it's no wonder that we live in a cost conscious society. However, one cannot afford to look solely at price when purchasing medications. Professional services that a pharmacy provides should also be considered.

Here are some important questions for determining if your pharmacy meets your individual health care needs:

1. Can you discuss your medications with your pharmacist as you like?

Researchers are learning more about diseases and how to treat them. Along with this knowledge, new drugs are being developed and marketed. A pharmacist is trained to be familiar with the multitude of medications used in the treatment of illness. He must complete at least five years of college to obtain a pharmacy degree and successfully complete a state board examination before becoming licensed to practice. A pharmacist can and should provide you with valuable information concerning your medications. Some pharmacies have an area where you can talk privately with the pharmacist. The concept of having a private area for patient consultation is relatively new and many pharmacies do not have enough space. However, it is still possible for the pharmacist to talk with you privately in an area not heavily trafficked in the pharmacy.

Your pharmacist should be willing to discuss with you medication information over the phone as well as in person. A simple phone call can clear up many questions or misunderstandings which you may have about your medication. Your pharmacist may provide you with printed information about your disease state or medication. Some pharmacies provide free education materials for you to read while in the pharmacy or at home. Your pharmacist may put special reminder labels on your prescription bottle such as "take on an empty stomach" or "may cause drowsiness," reinforcing verbal instructions he has given.

If you have a question about your medication or if you are noticing a side effect, ask your pharmacist.

2. Does your pharmacist keep a record (patient profile) of all the medications you use?

A patient profile is a record of all prescriptions you have had filled at any one pharmacy. It may be written or computerized and can include your address, allergies, chronic illnesses, or other information. From the patient profile the pharmacist can determine if all your medications are compatible and do not interact with each other in a harmful manner. It is to your advantage to let the pharmacist know of any non-prescription medications that you take. These are called over-the-counter (OTC) drugs. Some OTC drugs contain ingredients that you should avoid taking in certain conditions. Possibly a safer product or alternatives to medication could be recommended. Your pharmacist is trained to help you select the best OTC product for your health problem. He knows what questions to ask to determine if it is necessary for you to see a physician. Do you ask your pharmacist about OTC drugs, and if you do ask, does he take the time to give you advice about them?

3. Does your pharmacist talk about the use of generic drugs for filling your prescriptions?

A generic drug is a medication that is produced by more than one manufacturer and distributed under different brand names. The active ingredients in generic drugs are the same; however, their appearance may be different. Although they all contain the same active drug, there may be a cost difference between the various brands. Michigan law allows the pharmacist to "select and dispense the lower cost, quality brand" (unless the doctor specifies one particular brand). The pharmacist, in turn, passes on the savings from this selection to you. Not all prescription medications are made by several manufacturers. Many are made by just one company and marked under one brand name. Ask your pharmacist about using a lower cost, quality brand product to fill your prescription, if one is available.

4. Does your pharmacy provide such services as getting you emergency prescription medication even at a time when it's closed or delivering medications when you can't pick them up? The phone book or a call to the pharmacist should inform you of the services a pharmacy provides.

Remember, you want to go to the pharmacy which best meets your health care needs. Consider services as well as prices before selecting a pharmacy. Once you have decided, it is to your advantage to purchase both prescription and OTC medication from the same pharmacy. The pharmacist will then be able to keep accurate records of all medications you are taking and help you to better care for yourself.

The Michigan Pharmacists Association (MPA), in cooperation with the Michigan Office of Services to the Aging and the Michigan Office on Substance Abuse Services, has developed a checklist which will help you to evaluate the pharmacy services you receive, by asking the questions we have addressed and others that are equally relevant. They have also developed a slide tape program titled "Caution, Your Pharmacist May Be Habit Forming," which describes available pharmacy services. If you are interested in scheduling the program for your group, please send your request to the Michigan Pharmacists Association, 815 N. Washington, Lansing 48906.

If you have any particular questions about pharmacy services, call Lorraine Perkins, R.Ph., or Nancy Mason, R.Ph., at Chelsea Community Hospital, (313) 475-1311 Ext. 479.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

The Lima Township Planning Commission will hold a Public Hearing to discuss proposed changes to Article XII of the Lima Township Zoning Ordinance—Administration and Enforcement of the Ordinance—to be held Tuesday, January 19, 1982 at 8:00 p.m. at the Lima Township Hall.

Copies of the proposed changes are available through the office of the Lima Township Clerk, 10411 Dexter-Chelsea Rd., Dexter, during office hours.

LIMA TOWNSHIP PLANNING COMMISSION

Jeanne Herrst, Secretary

NOTICE OF RIGHT TO REFERENDUM ON BECOMING A CHARTER TOWNSHIP

Official certification has been received from the Michigan Secretary of State indicating that the township of Sylvan has a population of 5,000 or more and the township board has the right to exercise one of three options concerning status as a charter township under the provisions of Act 359, Public Acts of 1947, as amended:

1. Adopt by majority vote a resolution opposed to incorporation as a charter township.
2. Adopt by majority vote a resolution of intent to approve incorporation as a charter township.
3. Adopt by majority vote a resolution to place before the electorate at the next regular or special township election the question of incorporation as a charter township.

In the event option 2 is adopted by the township board, the citizens of the township have the right to file a "Right to Referendum Petition." This petition must be filed within the 60 days which must lapse between passage of a resolution of intent to incorporate and final passage of the resolution to incorporate as a charter township.

The petition will follow, in general form, the nominating petition form as prescribed in the Michigan Election Law, and in the heading will indicate "disagreement to intent to incorporate as a charter township." The petition must be signed by not less than 10% of the registered voters of the township based on the vote cast for all candidates for supervisor at the last election at which a supervisor was elected.

If the petition is successful, the question of incorporation will be placed on the ballot at the next general township or special township election.

Published by order of the Secretary of State

New SE Michigan Winterfun Guide Ready

The Southeast Michigan region of the state is getting ready to host one of its most spectacular seasons—Winter—with a variety of exciting things to see and do.

Paced by the enthusiasm surrounding the impending Super Bowl Game in January at the Pontiac Silverdome, the 11-county area will offer skiing, both downhill and cross-country, skating, sledding and tobogganing, snowmobiling and a full agenda of indoor and outdoor events.

The complete gamut is described in a new publication entitled, "Winterfun in Southeast Michigan," available free from the Southeast Michigan Travel and Tourist Association.

"Everything from fine dining establishments to how to reach your favorite resort is described in our new publication," said Sidney L. Baker, president of the regional tourist association. "We have included a special section on the Super Bowl Game itself, featuring both it and the associated events taking place because of the game. Special package plans being offered by area lodging facilities also are described."

DNR Seeks Input On Timber Thefts

The State Department of Natural Resources is looking for information from farmers and other landowners who have had walnut, oak or other valuable species of trees stolen from their woodlots.

"The Department really doesn't have much data on how serious this problem is, and they'd like to assess the problem to see if perhaps some special legislation is needed," according to Ken Nye, commodity specialists for Michigan Farm Bureau.

"If someone has had logs stolen from their property, they should contact the DNR and provide the location where the theft occurred, the year it occurred, the number of trees or logs stolen, and the owner's name and address," he says.

The information should be sent to the Forest Management Division, Department of Natural Resources, Box 30028, Lansing 48909.

The Association executive observed that one key to the good winter tourism business traditionally experienced by the region is its proximity to major downhill ski resorts.

"Our region has come into its own because of our excellent downhill facilities, many of which are very sophisticated," Baker said. "They offer conditions of appeal to both the beginner and the advanced skier and are constantly adding new runs, equipment and service. We also have excellent cross-country facilities."

County Council on Aging Offers Help To Senior Citizens

Among the many services offered by the Washtenaw County Council on Aging is an information and referral service to older adults in Washtenaw county. The Information and Referral Service puts older adults in touch with different social agencies within Washtenaw county that can best serve their needs. Though most of the contacts are by telephone, 683-6600, the Information and Referral Service also provides a walk-in service.

The Information and Referral Service is located in the Social Security Office in the Federal Building, in downtown Ann Arbor. Because of its location, Jane Diehr, co-ordinator of the service, sees many older adults referred from the Social Security Office on a walk-in basis. So far this year, the Information and Referral Service has responded to 1,700 phone call and walk-in queries.

Some frequently asked questions are: Where can I find senior housing in the area? How can I find legal assistance? Jane Diehr will give them the name and phone number of a service that can help or will supply the needed information herself.

The Washtenaw County Council on Aging, a United Way agency, also provides other services for older residents of the county, including health screening, tax aid, the Senior Reporter newsletter and education programs.

Ambulance Service Created To Serve Washtenaw County

Upon the recent completion of conditional sales agreements with Fontana-Taylor Ambulance Service, Inc., and Emergency Specialties Service, the Catherine McAuley Health Center (CMHC) has established "Huron Valley Ambulance, Inc.," a unified service to be operated by CMHC in collaboration with other area hospitals.

"Huron Valley Ambulance resulted from a collaborative effort to ensure the continuance and stability of high quality, fiscally sound community service," said CMHC President Robert E. Laverty.

Laverty said CMHC's purchase of Fontana-Taylor, the largest ambulance service in Washtenaw county, was necessitated by that firm's near financial collapse in August.

He said the fact that ambulance service has continued without interruption, despite Fontana-Taylor's severe financial problems, is a direct result of "community teamwork" among many organizations and individuals.

The troubles at Fontana-Taylor surfaced last summer when the firm notified the Washtenaw County Board of Commissioners that it could not continue operations unless the county's $50,000 annual payment for transport of indigents and county jail inmates was raised to $181,000. The commissioners refused to consider this major contract renegotiation until Fontana-Taylor had demonstrated a complete restructuring of its financial management and a viable plan for long term financial solvency.

To ensure the continuance of ambulance service to the community, CMHC entered into an agreement with Fontana-Taylor that called for the Health Center to immediately assume financial management responsibilities once certain contingencies were resolved and a second agreement to allow the Health Center to purchase Fontana-Taylor outright. After examining this arrangement, the Board of Commissioners voted further expenditures of $70,000 for county ambulance service.

William J. Fileti, associate administrator at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, a CMHC unit, leads the management team which has reorganized the two area firms into Huron Valley Ambulance, Inc. Fileti said that fiscal management, cash flow, and budget planning for the ambulance service are being steadily improved, but the "inherited" financial problems remain severe. The financial support provided by National Bank & Trust Co. of Ann Arbor and the Washtenaw County Board of Commissioners has enabled the ambulance company to continue to provide services while the financial problems were unraveled and addressed, he said.

He said that Senator Carl Levin, Congressman Carl Pursell, Washtenaw county and Ann Arbor City Administration have also actively participated "in the urgent and complex difficulties surrounding the ambulance crisis." Their efforts combined with expert legal and consulting assistance here enabled the complete financial reorganization of Fontana-Taylor.

Fileti said steps are being taken to ensure that the management of Huron Valley Ambulance "maintains a constant awareness of area needs and realities."

"We have established an Ambulance Service Advisory Committee that will consist of two representatives from each of the five hospitals with emergency services in Washtenaw county," he explained. They are Beyer Memorial Hospital, Catherine McAuley Health Center (St. Joseph Mercy Hospital), Chelsea Community Hospital, Saline Community Hospital, and the U. of M. Medical Center.

Also advising the new ambulance firm will be the Emergency Medical Services Medical Committee appointed by the Washtenaw County Board of Commissioners. The committee sets standards and assures the delivery of high quality professional emergency medical care and includes representatives from Washtenaw County Medical Society, all hospitals in Washtenaw and Livingston counties, and the Washtenaw County Health Department.

Another Board-appointed advisory group, the Emergency Medical Services Commission, oversees issues related to emergency care and includes representatives from law enforcement, fire control, public safety, consumer protection, and public health.

Fileti said Huron Valley Ambulance is a crucial component of the new Advanced Life Support (ALS) program the hospitals in Washtenaw and Livingston counties have developed and are preparing for implementation.

"ALS is an improved communications system that will extend the critical care capability of hospitals in Washtenaw and Livingston counties. It allows physicians in emergency rooms to communicate directly with ambulance personnel in the field, and also to monitor the patients in transit," said John McCabe, MD, vice-chairman of the Emergency Medical Services Committee and director of St. Joseph Mercy Hospital Emergency Services.

McCabe said the creation of Huron Valley Ambulance now permits ALS to move forward.

"Serious questions about local ambulance service have delayed this first-rate development in emergency care, but now we anticipate that it will soon be implemented," McCabe said.

The collaborative ALS project involves the emergency rooms at Beyer Hospital, Chelsea Hospital, McPherson Hospital in Howell, Saline Hospital, University of Michigan Hospital, and St. Joseph's.

Huron Valley Ambulance will retain the emergency phone number previously in use: 994-4111. Business phone and address: 994-5959; 2200 S. Industrial Hwy., Ann Arbor 48103.

Announcing the formation of

Huron Valley Ambulance, Inc.

A Community Answer to a Community Crisis

A few short months ago ambulance service in Washtenaw County was on the verge of collapse.

That the collapse never occurred and lifesaving ambulance service has continued without interruption is a tribute to many concerned, dedicated individuals and groups within our community. Through their cooperative efforts, Huron Valley Ambulance, Inc. has been created.

Serving all of Washtenaw County, Huron Valley Ambulance, Inc. was formed by a collaborative effort among area hospitals which enabled the Catherine McAuley Health Center to purchase the firms of Fontana-Taylor Ambulance Service, Inc. and Emergency Specialties Service (ESS).

In conducting its lifesaving work, Huron Valley Ambulance, Inc. will be guided by the advice and recommendations of three key local groups representing concerned constituencies from our community.

The Emergency Medical Services Medical Committee appointed by the Washtenaw County Board of Commissioners sets standards and assures the delivery of high quality professional emergency medical care. It includes representatives from Washtenaw County Medical Society, all hospitals in Washtenaw and Livingston Counties and the Washtenaw County Health Department.
